The International Relations Club will hold its annual entrance examinations on October 5 at 7:30 p. m. The quiz is made up of questions taken from news events of the past weeks, and determines membership in the organization. President Robe Eshbaugh urged all interested students to take the exam.

For 59-60

Faculty Committees Given

The following faculty committees were released from the President's office Thursday:

Absence — Profs. John Glover, chairman; George Clarke; and Col. A. J. Thackston.

Academic Advisory — Dean Bellingrath, chairman; Profs. Carter, Fraser, Glover, Halsall, Martin, and Stevenson.

Athletic — Profs. Martin, chairman; Baker, Harris, Jones; Col. Barnett, Ben Hammet, Ed Campbell.

Discipline—Dr. Whitelaw, chairman; Col. Thackston; Coach Veren; Profs. Stump and Scott.

Graduate Study—Dr. John Stevenson, chairman; Drs. Scheele, Carter, and Whitelaw.

Guidance — Dr. Pope, chairman; Vic Spooner, Profs. Ford and Stump.

Fraternities—Profs. Baker, chairman; Hodges; Howard; King.

Lectures and Entertainment—Dr. John Stevenson, chairman; Prof. Campbell, Col. Thackston.

Library — Prof. Jack Durant, chairman; Profs. Cannon, Erwin, Madden, McIntyre.

Placement—Col. Thackston, chairman; Dean Bellingrath; Clyde Ehrhardt.

Religious Activities—Profs. Stallworth, chairman; Adams, Fraser, Gettys, Gray.

Student Activities—Ben Hammet, chairman; Col. Barnett; Ed Campbell; Profs. Howard and Patte.

Living Endowment Over Half-Way Mark

The Presbyterian College Living Endowment for 1959 now stands at over $12,000.

He said that over 400 alumni and friends have contributed this total during the past four months to PC's annual giving program for alumni and friends.

A goal of $20,000 has been set for the 1959 Living Endowment, which was renewed this year after being suspended for the three-year pledge period of the recent development program.

WELCOME
to
THE COLLEGE CANTEEN
DOUGLAS HOUSE
See the New Stadium King
Top to Toe Wind and Rain Protection Guaranteed
P. C. T-SHIRTS — Sizes 2, 4, 6, 8
P. C. LIGHT JACKETS — Sizes 4, 6, 8
PENNANTS — TOYS — JEWELRY
SUNDRIES — FOUNTAIN
P. C. MEGAPHONE FREE WITH PURCHASE

Bean Selects Staff

Bob Bean, Editor-in-Chief of the 1960 PaC-SaC, has announced the members of his staf.

Assisting Bean and Cliff Stovall, Business Manager, will be Scott Reed of Dunedin, Fla., as Associate Editor.

Editors for the various sections are: Billy Hatchett of College Park, Ga., Class Editor; Jack Crandall of Orlando, Fla., Activities Editor; Pete Beckman of Columbia, Fraternity Editor; Frank Richbourg of Pinewood, Military Editor; Bryan Carr of Fayetteville, N. C., Sports Editor; Ed Minus of Greer, Copy Editor; and Bo Jeanes, of Easley, Snapshot Editor.

BROADWAY
Monday and Tuesday, October 5-6
BUT NOT FOR ME
Clark Gable, Carroll Baker, Lilli Palmer, Lee J. Cobb
Wednesday, October 7
THE OREGON TRAIL
One Day Only
Fred MacMurray
Thursday, Friday, Saturday, October 8-9-10
THE BIG CIRCUS
Victor Mature, Red Buttons, Rhonda Fleming, Kathryn Grant

PICK - A - WINNER

Okay, bring out the crystal ball. Here's another chance to win a free pass to the Broadway Theatre. Last week's prize went to Stewart Harvin.

Name _____

Dorm _____

PC	( )	WOFFORD	( )
Lenoir Rhyne	( )	Newberry	( )
Clemson	( )	Georgia Tech	( )
Furman	( )	Chattanooga	( )
USC	( )	Georgia	( )
Citadel	( )	Davidson	( )
U. N. C.	( )	N. C. State	( )

I predict that _____ points will be the winning margin in the PC-Wofford game.

RULES

1—Entries must be turned in to The Blue Stocking office by noon Saturday. Just slide them under the door.
2—Entries must be on the above printed form.
3—Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4—In case of ties the contestant most nearly guessing the margin in the PC-WOFFORD game will be the winner.
5—No member of The Blue Stocking staff is eligible.
6—Decisions of the judges will be final; winner announced in next week's paper.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE!
They said that bullfighting was strictly for men, and a woman couldn't do it. But pretty Pat McCormick, while a student at Texas Western College, ignored the scoffers, and became the first American girl to win international acclaim as a torea-Dora.

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment – less tars and more taste – in one great cigarette.

©LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO., 1959

Danforth Lecturer Here Next Week

Sir Frederick James, O.B.E., Chevalier de l'Orde de Leopold I, will be on the Presbyterian College Campus as a Danforth Visiting Lecturer on October 12, and 13. Sir Frederick is a native of Nottingham, England.

He completed his education at London University, served in the First World War, and thereafter spent twenty-five years in India in the fields of social service, business, and politics.

The Danforth Lecturer will have his first lecture in Monday's chapel. His topic will be: "The Renaissance in the East." On Monday evening, at eight, there will be a student reception in the Douglas House. On Tuesday he will address the History 355 and 201-c clases in the chapel at 8:55. At 11:20 he will speak to the Political Science 301 class in the chapel.

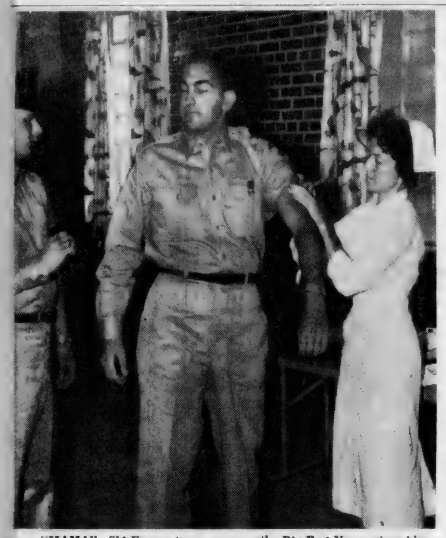
The visit of Sir Frederick James to Presbyterian College is made possible by a project sponsored jointly by the Association of American Colleges and the Danforth Foundation.

The purpose of the program is to "strengthen the intellectual, the religious and the cultural aspects of liberal education in the United States".

From 1929 to 1941 Sir Frederick was adviser to British commercial and planting interests in South India, and in 1941 joined the Tata Industrial group. During the last war he held official posts in the government of India, and since returning to London in 1947, he has paid regular visits to India and Pakistan.

SIR FREDERICK JAMES

Sir Frederick was a member of the Council of the Duke of Edinburgh's Study Conference on the Human Problems of Industrial Communities within the Commonwealth (1954-56), and also a member of the Council of the Industrial Welfare Society. Industrial relations has been one of his studies and he has frequently spoken and debated with Trade Union leaders on various aspects of that subject. International affairs and the development of the British Commonwealth are also topics in which he is specially interested and on which he has lectured.



For many years, Sir Frederick has been a member of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, Chatham House, and was one of the founders of the Institute of India, which subsequently became the Pakistan Institute for International Affairs.

He has frequently written and broadcasts, and spoken on India and Pakistan and other subjects connected with South East Asia, both in the United Kingdom and on the Continent, and is one of the visiting lecturers on those countries at the Royal Naval Staff College at Greenwich.

The current tour of Sir Frederick as a Danforth Visiting Lecturer will take him to ten other outstanding colleges and universities.

The Blue Stocking

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., October 9, 1959 No. 3

"MAMA"—Sid Faress turns away as the Big Bad Nurse gives him a flu shot. The vaccine was given free of charge to students on a voluntary basis earlier this week.—(Hawkins Photo)

Blue Sock Rated All-American By Associated Collegiate Press

Paper "Excells In News Work"

The Blue Stocking has been rated All-American for the second semester of 1958-59 by critics of the Associated Collegiate Press. The ACP is recognized as the best judge of college journalism today. Last semester's rating marks the fourth consecutive time the student publication has been awarded the highest stamp of approval; and the fifteenth time in the history of the publication.

Out of the schools in the class of schools under 750 enrollment with weekly papers five made All-American. Ratings are divided into five classes as follows: All-American (superior), first class (excellent), second class (good), third class (fair), and fourth class (honors).

Criticism was divded into three general departments. They were coverage, content, and physical properties. In the first division the Blue Stocking received 820 points, the second 660, the third 540 points. Altogether the paper gathered 3610 points. The total needed for the top rating was 3300 points.

Out of a possible 23 "Superior" ratings in regard to the different aspects of publication, the newspaper gained seven. The next category, "excellent," had eleven, while the third category, "Very good," had five.

All of the papers in the class of the Blue Stocking were judged by Mr. Duane Andrews of the Public Relations staff of the Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator Company. He is a former staff member of the Minneapolis Star-Tribune.

Andrews accorded particular praise to the variety of news the brightness and imagination in the feature articles, the editorial page, and the headlnies. Mr. Andrews' final comment was, "Congratulations; you excel in all major facets of newspapering."

Members of the staff at the time were as follows: Evin Varner, Editor Maurice Schwartz, managing editor; Bill Hatchett, news editor; Graham Edmunds, feature editor; and Martin Chitty, sports editor.

News staff included Don Kay, Don Dunlap, Fred Meade, Bob Smith, Pen Neil, and Paul White. Jinks Harrill, Worrell Kurtz, and Read Clark were feature staff members. Sports staff members were Bob Stevens and Ed Loring. Alice Watkins was secretary, while Lamar Hawkins served as photographer.

Twelve Added

IRC Gives Exam For New Members

President Robe Eshbaugh announced today that twelve students became members of the International Relations Club. The new members became eligible for membership after successfully completing the IRC entrance exam.

Those added to the organization's rolls include: Max Walker, Bill Bartee, Don Dunlap, Ann Walker, John Donaldson, Whit Jordan, Donald Lohman, Bobby Piephoff, Loren Eagles, Alice Watkins, Rebecca Earnest, and Griffin Helwig.

The first program of the year is set for October 12, at 7:30. A record dealing with the events leading up to and during World War II is scheduled for the meeting.

Class Officers Elections Will Be Held Wednesday

• Council Posts Race Also

Nominations for class officers and freshman student council representatives were held this Wednesday. Elections for these various officers is set for Wednesday, October 14, according to student body president Bob Waters.

The following were nominated:

Senior Class: president—Billy Hagood and Jack Crandall; vice-president—Dick Wood and Larry Wood; secretary—Stacy Coker and Ebby Mayfield; treasurer—Ed Jackson and Dave Magee.

Junior Class: president—Paul Ard and Billy Betchman; vice-president—Bill Wilkes and Tom Collins; secretary—Maurice Schwartz and Dougald Clark; treasurer — Doug McDougald and Harrison Clayton.

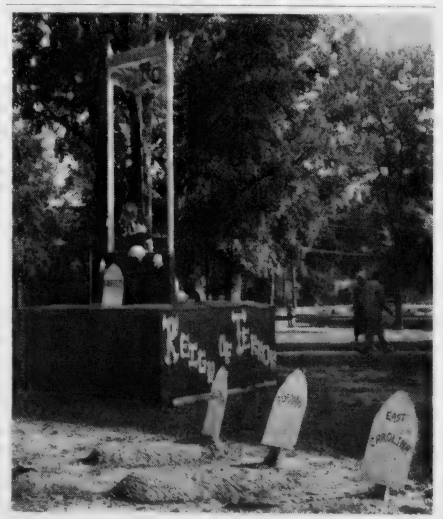
Sophomore Class: president — Frank Sells and Joe Davis; vice-president—Joe Nixon and Bob Joiner; secretary—Sonny DuBose and Dicky Carr; treasurer — Bland Quantz and Bill Mathews.

Freshman Class: president—Bill Bryan, Owen Ravenel, Joe Harvard, and David Strickland; vice-president—George Ragan and Tommy Estes; secretary—Anna Graves and Julia Gray; treasurer—Bobby Piephoff, Charles Copley, Mark Glenn, and Steve Craig.

Nominated for freshman student council representatives were Joe Harvard, Tom Estes, Bill Bartee, and Lloyd Gray. Two of this slate will be selected.

The student council also nominated three men to run for the vacant Junior Class student council post. The nominees are Maurice Schwartz, Marion Lee, and Dick Faulkner.

Bank Gives Magazines



The Bank of Clinton has recently donated a reading service to the college student center. Nearly thirty top magazines have been placed in Douglas House as a gift to the college. Also included in the presentation is a rack to hold the publications.

Stevenson Named Blue Key Adviser

Dr. John W. Stevenson has been named faculty adviser of Blue Key honorary fraternity, it was announced today.

Dr. Stevenson is an honorary member of Blue Key. He was tapped by the Presbyterian chapter in 1956. Honorary membership in the organization was bestowed upon him for unselfish devotion to the interest of the institution aside from his official capacity.

An alumnus of Wofford College, where he received his BA, Dr. Stevension received hns MA and PhD degrees from Vanderbilt University.

"Reign of Terror" was the Homecoming display that won first place for Pi Kappa Alpha. The guillotine fell on Wofford that night after a day that saw hundreds of alumni attending the annual festivities.—(Shields Photo)

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

And Rots.....

Two weeks ago we wrote an editorial entitled "A Tradition Rots." Since that time we have not heard of any action to preserve the Bell Tower.

At the risk of repetition, we would like to discuss the issues involved. As a tradition and a symbol of Presbyterian, we feel the Bell Tower is important. Since the days when the bell signaled class changes, the aging structure has been used as PC's victory herald and as a summons for Freshmen "rats". Today, the tower is not only an eyesore, but a safety hazard.

We feel that, in consideration of the progress of the physical plant in recent years, the tower's condition is a slam on the school and its administration. This is especially true in view of the relative minor cost of restoration and maintenance.

It is definitely not the students' place to supply funds for the project. But the structure has reached the point that unless immediae action is taken, a student campaign might be necessary.

Must we dig out our tin cups?

Ultra - Casual

The appearance of the shower slippers and similar sloppy dress around the campus and classrooms and particularly in the dining hall is a disgrace upon ourselves that we do not deserve. The sight of dirty feet and sweat shirts in the dining hall is not conducive to good appetites.

Visitors that frequent our campus certainly should not see a student body of stuffed shirts, but it seems as if we have gone too far with our "PC Informal" philosophy.

Sunday dinner is the only meal students are asked to wear coat and tie. It seems we could forget comfort once a week and think of appearance. In fact, a little more thought toward personal appearance would be healthy for many PC "men".

"Clothes do not make the man"—but neither do the lack of them.

The Plaza Obstacle Course

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

Wednesday afternoon I was motoring up the plaza obstacle course headed for my room in my hot Chevy. I crossed over the first obstacle, a ditch, in front of the new auditorium. Next I managed to get over the speed bumps in front of Bailey. Then It happened—there sitting in the middle of the road in front of Douglas House, was a big blue and white convertible type car obstacle. I stopped to look the situation over and found that this vehicle was too wide for me to pass by. Looking across the Plaza, I saw Percival Crudely staggering in my direction.

"What's the matter, G. B.?"

"Just a little trouble here, P. C. I can't seem to get by."

"Where have you been?"

"Oh, I've been up town bartering with the natives at Howard's Pharmacy."

"Well, G. B., whose possession is this here big Oldsmobile?"

"Oh, you know, it's the Big M's."

"Who?"

"You know, the guy who runs this casino on the corner."

"Oh, yeah."

"But say, P. C., what's the matter with you? You look run down and depressed."

"I am. I've been playing a game of hysterics!"

"What kind of game are you referring to?"

"You know, 20 questions."

"That old game? Who you been playing with?"

"Dr. Harris—it's Wednesday, you know."

"Yeah, I almost forgot."

"G. B., what night is this week's Montgomery Presents Presentation?"

"I don't know, P. C., but I think I'll take ot in. He really does have some topflight professional entertainment."

"Yeah, he does."

"P. C., how did you enjoy the past weekend?"

"Oh, G. B., I had a great time!"

"Did you like your date?"

"I'll say!"

"What does she rate?"

"G. B., she rates a Kings Man!"

(Continued on page four)

Opinion Poll

Students Speak On Rotting Tradition

by BOB SMITH

Over the past three years, outstanding progress has been made in the physical plant of PC. One "sore thumb", however, stands out—our bell tower. A general sampling of opinion reveals that students would like to see something done about the "rotting tradition".

Dick Wood: "The tower represents something far more significant than most of us realize. It's present condition fails to symbolize a Presbyterian victory for which it was designed. It is not only dangerous for the freshmen that are required to ring it, but its dilapidated condition dose not enhance the beauty of our campus. It seems that with little expense the college could restore it so that it could be used for is original intent and purpose".

THE BELL TOWER . . . from an old line drawing.

Bob Williams: "I think the tower is as much a part of this campus as any of the buildings — especially since it has a special meaning to all of us. All schools have traditions and the bell tower is one of ours. It reminds us of our first year in college—rat season mainly, and it also sounds good to hear the bell ring out another victory for the Blue Hose. I think that if the school doesn't unlertake the project, the students should do something about this".

Frank Forbes: "I think it would look a lot better if all the bushes were torn down and a new bell tower was built that would stand out".

Ben Donaldson: "The historic bell has been abused in recent years to the point that it is definitely a hazard. Due to its significance, to remove it from the campus would take away a little of what PC has meant to many of our alumni. To alter the tower in position or appearance is, in my estimation, not the best solution. A few nails here and a brace there would not only make the tower once again completely safe, but would not destroy any of its historic significance. Therefore, the better plan would be to strengthen it and be sure it is maintained, so it can serve its purpose in the future and maintain something of a pleasant memory to each man who graduates from this school".

Bill Bartee: "I agree that it is in pretty shoddy condition as I have climbed up it several times to ring the bell and wondered if it would be necessary for me to come down under my own power or if the tower and I would arrive on the ground at the same time. Since it does represent a tradition on campus, I think something should definitely be done to remedy its condition. However, I think this project should be undertaken by the school and not be left to students to raise the funds".

Jack Crandall: "The present condition of this structure is a disgrace to the campus. It may be tradition and and even thought by some to be lovely with its every entanglement which serves more as a support than as an attribute to our fair campus. This remembrance of these "hallowed halls" may cost some "new boy" a broken limb if it is not soon repaired, or better still, replaced".

The Blue Stocking

Rated All-American by ACP

Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association
Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR ..... EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MAURICE SCHWARTZ
NEWS EDITOR ..... BILLY HATCHETT
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... SID FARESS
Sports Editor ..... Martin Chitty
Feature Editor ..... Graham Edmunds
Associate Editor ..... Paul White
Photographer ..... Lamar Hawkins

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

A B Γ Δ E Z H Θ I K Λ M N Ξ O Π P Σ T Υ Φ X Ψ Ω

THETA CHI

Miss Nancy Jo Layton of Spartanburg was named Chapter Sweetheart of Beta Psi Chapter at their regular meeting Tuesday night. At their Open Social on Wednesday night, she was honored with a gift of a dozen red carnations — the fraternity's flower.

The chapter is happy to announce that Mike Jarrett has been awarded the Jacobs-Shields Scholarship for Pledges.

SIGMA NU

Congratulations to Martin Chitty and Arnold Sharpe. They were invited into the brotherhood.

B. S. Plair performed at our party Saturday night. With this background noise, the party was a great success.

At the meeting Tuesday night, improvements were planned for the house. These improvements will be added to those already made. Our grass is growing.

Plans were made for the open social.

PI KAPPA PHI

The Beta Chapter was honored by the presence of Brother Paul Perry, national representative of the fraternity, and Brother Earl Halsall, fraternity adviser. Don Price was welcomed into the fraternity as a new pledge.

Congratulations are due to all who made the homecoming dance and display a success.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

At the weekly meeting of Mu Chapter, final plans were completed for the staff supper that was held Wednesday night. Brothers Frank Sells and Pat Malone and their committee members were especially congratulated for their work on homecoming.

Brother Bobby Jobson was also congratulated on his recent pinning.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi were honored at the meeting to have as their guest, Ted Freeman, President of the Alumni Association, accompanied by Ben Collins, the fraternity advisor.

The brotherhood made tentative plans for Parents Day, a stag supper to be given in the near future by the advisor, Ben Collins, and for the fraternity Open Social to be held on Tuesday, October 27, rather than Wednesday, the 28th.

Saturday night's after the game dance was made a success by the "Debonaires."

Empty stands mean an open date, the PC cheerleading squad finds. Doleful at the prospect of having no cheering section are (left to right): Carl Latham, Judy Bolton, Harrison Clayton, Wayne Godfrey, Larry Wood, Anna Graves, and Dicky Carr. The topnotch yellers look forward to next week's clash with Elon. —Hawkins Photo.

PC Ranked Third in U.S.

Singing The Blues

Quote: Sports Editor, Davidson College "Davidsonian":

"Some thirty-three Wildcats left for Charleston this afternoon, a little worse for the wear from last week's loss to a hopped-up, hard-hitting Presbyterian College Football team."

The Davidsonian goes on to say that their loss to the Hosemen was no fluke. He credited Bobby Pate with being possibly the best halfback in the state and ranks Waters among the top quarterbacks in South Carolina.

Statements of this type lend proof to the fact that the Hosemen are being recognized for the brand of team that they are.

The experts think so too, as the PC'uns were picked for the No. 3 spot among the small colleges in the nation.

Last week marked the first time this season that the Blue Hose haven't posted a player as state "Back of the Week." This title is really an honor when you consider the troop of fine backs in the state this season, including Harvey White, Doug Cline, and George Usry of Clemson, and Phil Lavoi of USC.

Looking past a rugged schedule, many commentators are visualizing a PC debut in the Holiday Bowl. Another prediction has Bobby Pate as Little All-American. Any way you look at it there are still six rough games to go. There's not a real breather on the schedule, but one can't help that wistful air.

Another bright point is the showing of several freshmen on the PC gridiron. We were impressed by the showing of halfback Ronnie Hampton among others in the homecoming classic.

One of Coach Jones' big worries at the season's beginning was his lack of a capable second unit. However, this group has come into its own, both offensively and defensively.

A leg injury has sidelined speedy halfback Dave Morgan for an indefinite period. He was carried to a Greenville hospital Sunday morning with a bruised muscle. Meanwhile, Billy Benton will hold down the right halfback slot, moving up from the second unit.

OFFBEATS—Two of the best fakes we have seen all this season were demonstrated by third string QB Joe Nixon in his brief appearance against Wofford . . . They can really be called the "Cardiac Kids" now . . . Note to the dining hall: Be prepared for more ulcer cases!

FUTURE RECORDS—So far we're six right and none wrong. Newberry over Carson-Newman by 8 . . . Furman over William and Mary by 3 . . . Clemson over NC State by 12, and USC over UNC by 8.

PICK - A - WINNER

Bobby Mobley was last week's winner. Try your luck on these for that free pass to the Broadway Theatre.

Name _____

Dorm _____

USC	( )	UNC	( )
Duke	( )	Pittsburgh	( )
Furman	( )	William and Mary	( )
NC State	( )	Clemson	( )
Wake Forest	( )	Maryland	( )
Newberry	( )	Carson-Newman	( )

I predict that _____ points will be the winning margin in the Newberry-Carson-Newman game.

RULES

1—Entries must be turned in to The Blue Stocking office by noon Saturday. Just slide them under the door.
2—Entries must be on the above printed form.
3—Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4—In case of ties the contestant most nearly guessing the margin in the NEWBERRY-CARSON-NEWMAN Game will be the winner.

NAIA Poll Selects Hose

The Presbyterian Blue Hose moved up a notch in the NAIA grid poll to take over third place with 149 points, according to press releases yesterday.

The Hosemen sport a 4-0 record, having defeated two Southern Conference teams in compiling this average.

Lamar Tech of Beaumont, Texas, with 194 points, holds down second place, while East Texas State leads the list with 211 points. Both teams are undefeated, East Texas in three, and Lamar in four.

The Lenoir-Rryne Bears have a firm grip on the fourth slot, with 130 points. Rounding out the list are Hillsdale of Michigan in fifth, McMurray of Texas and Western Illinois tied for sixth. Lincoln University of Missouri is in eighth. Southern University of Lauisiana is ninth, and Northern Illinois is tenth.

The contestants for the NAIA playoffs, leading to the championship Holiday Bowl game, will be chosen from the list of top-rated etams at the end of the season.

PiKA, KA Lead Intramural League

During the second week of intramural play, only six teams saw action on the field. The week began with the KA nine overpowering the independent Shros 34-19. Th game was highlighted by a Pate-like run from halfback Larry Wood on a 78-yard kickoff return for the KA's.

The second game placed the strank PiKA team over the Golden Rats in a 32-0 runaway.

An upset by the Golden Rats over the Sigs in a 13-6 effort ended the week's competition.

Thus for the season, the league standings are:

PiKA	2	0
Kappa Alpha	3	0
Golden Rats	1	1
Sigma Nu	1	2
Pi Kaps	0	2
Shros	0	2

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
IN LAURENS
Laurens, S. C.

Hose Rest On Laurels; Prepare For Elon Clash

• Four Down, Six to Go

Undefeated Presbyterian gridmen, headed toward an open date this weekend after four torrid engagements, today reviewed an impressive array of statistics.

The Blue Hose have made a total of 94 points in sweeping past East Carolina (18-13) Furman (24-23), Davidson (25-21) and Wofford (27-19) on successive Saturdays. That is an average of 23.5 points-per-game for the explosive wing-T of Coach Frank Jones.

Almost every point has been needed as the Hosemen have snatched each victory in stirring second-half comebacks. The combined opposition has accumulated 76 points, for an average of 19 per game.

Bobby Pate, running for Little All-American honors at halfback, paces the PC attack. He is not only the top rusher with 286 yards in 45 carries for an 6.4 per-carry average. Pate also heads the scoring parade with 42 points registered on seven touchdowns, and he stands as the leading pass-receiver on six receptions, totaling 124 yards.

Quarterback Bob Waters shares the offensive spotlight. His combined operations as runner and passer have netted a total of 287 yards for Presbyterian. The rugged signal-caller has completed 12 of 23 attempted passes for 206 yards and has made an accuracy mark of 52 percent. He has added 81 yards on the ground, averaging 4.6 per carry in 18 tries.

Other individual rushing statistics show: Fullback Bill Hill with 181 yards in 45 carries for a 4 yards-per-try average; and Halfback Dave Morgan, 150 yards in 32 tries for a 4.7 average.

Second unit Quarterback Nat Dole has demonstrated tremendous passing accuracy during his moments of action, having completed five of six aerial attempts for 48 yards and one touchdown. That's an 83.3 per cent completion record.

Next to Pate among the pass-receivers stands End Jimmy Kolb, who has caught four tosses for 68 yards and two touchdowns. End Paul Chastain has three receptions for 34 yards.

Homecoming Thriller

Socks Send Terriers Home With Smarting 27-19 Loss

Those "scare your fans to death" Blue Hose, after giving up 19 points in the first period, scrambled back for three second half touchdowns to stun Wofford 27-19 here Saturday night.

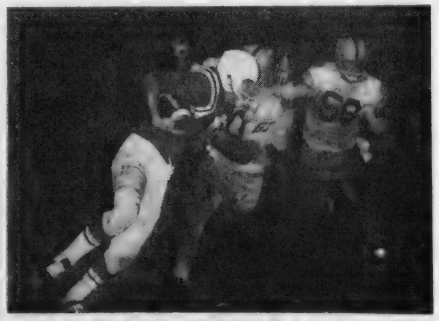
The Hosemen won the toss and couldn't move after Waters had returned to the 340. Vastine punted to the ten.

Terrier halfback Drawdy then electrified the huge homecoming crowd by reversing his field and racing 91 yards to pay dirt. The try for the point failed.

Weber kicked off and Pate returned from the 10 to the 25. Pate streaked for 16. Jones dropped Waters for a 10-yard loss and Vastine punted to the Wofford 30. The Terriers couldn't go and Whitlock punted out on the PC 32.

After a penalty, Hill came up the middle and fumbled. Whitlock caught it in mid-air to scamper 28 yards for a 12-0 lead with 5:05 left.

Weber again kicked off and Pate tak it on his 20, ran it out to the 35 where he fumbled and Whitlock received for Wofford at the PC 45. The Methodists moved the ball to the 22, Whitlock and Martin connected on a 20-yard pass to the two. Benson then scored from the one.



Late in the second quarter third string QB Nixon intercepted a pass and returned to the Wofford 45. Benton got five and Stanley eight for a first down at the 32. Cole fired a perfect peg to Kolb at the two and the little end went into the end zone. Sease booted the point and it was 19-7 at halftime.

Wofford fumbled after the kickoff to start the second half and Vastine recovered at the Wofford five. Hampton gained three, but Pate was stopped at the two. Cole attempted a pass, but Harris dropped him at the five before he could get it off. On the fourth down, Pate fired a strike to Kolb in the end zone for the TD. Sease missed the extra point—Wofford 19, PC 13.

Late in the third period a Terrier fumble was recovered at the midfield stripe. A 37-yard Waters to Pate pass carrying to the four set up the next TD. Pate went over from the four, Sease split the uprights and PC took the lead 20-19.

Early in the fourth Abee intercepted a Wofford pass and returned it 19 yards. Wofford drew a 15-yard penalty and PC had a first down at the Terrier 31. Two plays later Waters found Pate in the open and threw a 21-yard pass, giving PC a first down at the 11. Hill got four, then Pte went off right tackle for seven yards and the score. Sease connected and it was PC 21-Wofford 19.

The entire PC team played an outstanding game; however, the Blue Hose second unit proved themselves to be of age as they stopped the Terriers cold during the anxious first half.

The Blue Hose slam through the Terrier line to chalk up another PC victory.

Dick Wood, president of the PC Student Christian Association, escorts Miss Anne Fowler of Greenwood, this year's homecoming queen.

Cornwall Re-Elected Head Of Walter Johnson Club

J. J. "Peck" Cornwall, of Clinton was re-elected President of the Walter Johnson Club and Alumni Association President. D. F. Kirven of Sumter, received the 1959 Alumni ServiceAward during PC's homecoming activities last Saturday.

These actions were included in a full program which found hundreds of alumni returning to the campus for the occasion.

Dr. P. J. Manson, outstanding orthopedic surgeon fro mMiami, received the AlumniGold P Award on schedule at the Alumni Luncheon attended by 150 persons.

The alumni crowd grew from this point as the day progressed, with approximately 500 on hand for supper and many hundreds more among the ranks which swelled the 5,500 for the football game that night.

Harry Hicklin of Rock Hill was elected vice-president to serve with Cornwall in directing the affairs of the alumni athletics organization. PC athletic director Frank Jones was re-named secretary and treasurer.

The alumni board of directors met on Saturday morning. Among its decisions was the selection of D. F. Kirven as recipient of the alumni service award for his outstanding contributions to the association during his past year as president.

Two New Sergeants Join College ROTC

Two new sergeants have come to PC this year as assistants in the Military Science department. S-Sgt Marvin Dunbar is the new supply sergeant, replacing Sgt. William Simpson. Up in the administrative department, M-Sgt. John Daniluk has assumed the responsibilities that were previously handled by Sgt. Steven Gilbert.

Sgt. Dunbar, a native of Raleigh, N. C., is a veteran of 12 years service. He is married and is the father of four children. Among his medals and ribbons are the United Nations Service Medal, Master Parachutist's Badge, and Korean Unit Citation.

Sgt. Daniluk, a 15 year veteran, from Canton, Ohio, is married and has a son. He holds among others, the Bronze Star Commendation Medal with an Oak Leaf Cluster, Purple Heart, Good Conduct Medal with four additional awards and the Parachutistal badge.

Dr. Josa Addresses Methodist Students

Dr. Charles L. Josa, a Hungarian refugee, spoke to the members of the Methodist Student Movement Monday night.

The student group was told of the major differences between present day Hungary and the Hungary Dr. Josa is familiar with.

A surgeon at Whitten Village, Dr. Josa and his wife have been naturalized citizens of the United States for five years. They left Hungary in 1949 to escape the threat of the Communists.

After the meeting, Mrs. Don Creighton served coffee and pie. Notice of future meetings will be posted and everyone is invited to attend.

Episcopals Sponsor Supper Each Sunday

All Saint's Episcopal Church is sponsoring a weekly Sunday-night Waffle supper. The Women of the Church, who are in charge of the benefit for the church, will serve the supper from 6 to 9 o'clock, every Sunday night.

A serving of waffles is fifty cents; with bacon, 75. Coffee and milk will be available. A spokesman for the group stated that they hoped college students would enjoy the suppers. The parish house is at the corner of Calvert Ave. and Holland Street.

Crudely . . .

(Continued from page two)

"Boy, she's right at the top of the list, then isn't she?"

"Yep, she is. How come you didn't have a date?"

"I couldn't line anyone up, P. C."

"What kind of after shave lotion you been using lately?"

"Old Stag—why, P. C.?"

"That explains it then, G. B."

"P. C., we gotta hurry up and get this car moving."

"How come, G. B.?"

"It's gonna rain—you can tell—just look at all those fellows with umbrellas."

"G. B., it ain't gonna rain, they're just trying to be casual and be ivy league."

"Oh well, what's that black ominous cloud hanging over the belfry on Neville?"

"That's no rain cloud, G. B. That's just headquarters for all those flies, gnats and mosquitos that have been around here lately."

"There sure has been a lot of them here this year, P. C."

"I know it, G. B., and they're even more pesty and more numerous than all those wasps we had last year."

"I guarantee you that. Well, hop in, P. C., and let's back up and move on—I've got to shine up."

"What's the occasion?"

"I'm on guard duty tomorrow."

"You mean orderly?"

"Yep."

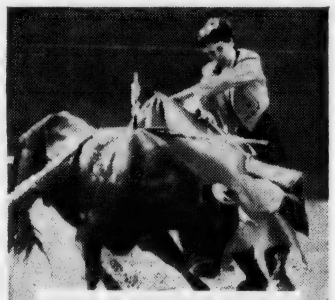
Navy Team to Visit

The Navy's Aviation Informa Team will visit the campus on O 16. During their visit, they will in view students who desire to be Naval Officers and at the same wear the Navy's "Wings of Ga

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 12-13
John Paul Jones
Robert Stack, Marisa Pavan

Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 14-15
The Jayhawkers
Jeff Chandler, Fess Parker, Nicole Maurey



Friday and Saturday, Oct. 16-17
The Three Stooges
Charles Coburn, Erin O'Brien

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 449
"Open All Night

J. C. THOMAS JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

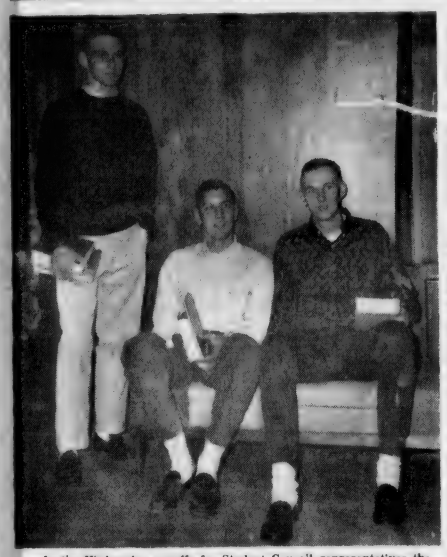
THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE! They said that bullfighting was strictly for men, and a woman couldn't do it. But pretty Pat McCormick, while a student at Texas Western College, ignored the scoffers, and became the first American girl to win international acclaim as a torea-Dora.

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tars and more taste—in one great cigarette.

PACK OR BOX



LIGHT INTO THAT LIVE MODERN FLAVOR!

©LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO., 1959

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., October 16, 1959 No. 4

In the Wednesday runoffs for Student Council representatives the three pictured above were selected. They are (l. to r.): Bill Bartee, Maurice Schwartz, and Joe Harvard.

Scabbard And Blade, IFC Aim For Top-Notch Band.

• Final Decision Comes Tuesday

In an effort to obtain a big-name band for the Military Ball, Scabbard and Blade Military Fraternity and the Inter-Fraternity Council aimed at a co-operative program this week.

Carl N. Gibson, Military Ball Chairman of Scabbard and Blade, issued the following proposal to the IFC earlier this week.

"1. The Scabbard and Blade has planned a complete Military Ball weekend which will consist of a dance on Friday night, March 4, 1960, featuring a headline name band and a dance on Saturday night, March 5, 1960, featuring a local combo.

"2. Each military man will be assessed $7.00.

"3. The IFC will assess each nonmilitary man $7.00 or pay to the Scabbard and Blade the equivalent of this amount.

"4. Military men will wear class A uniforms with white shirt and black tie. Nonmilitary men will wear dark suits. All ladies will wear evening gowns.

"5. There will be no other assessment by the IFC other than the above mentioned figure applying to non-military fraternity men."

According to Harvey Wittschen, first semester IFC president, final action will be taken on the proposal at next week's Council meeting, pending approval of the fraternities.

PC Steakhouse Opening Set

PC students have a surprise in store for them in the very near future—possibly next Wednesday if the weather improves and makes it possible for the sealing of the floor. The "Charcoal Cellar" in the basement of Douglas House will be opened on time; however, if the present weather prevails the opening will be delayed several days.

This is another of the student conveniences which the school is providing for the students, faculty, and friends. Charcoal broiled steaks are the main feature of the menu. The steaks will be offered in three types —10 oz. Delmonico, one-half pound filet mignon, and 5 oz. filet mignon. Also, charcoal hot dogs will be offered.

There will be a Coke, Pepsi, and cigarette machine available and coffee will be served in the "cellar." Self-service will be used and will be to the student's advantage in that it will save them approximately twenty cents per purchase.

Thomas H. (Tommy) Rice will be chef at the "Cellar." Tommy has an outstanding record of experience. In addition to being a former first chef here at PC, he was first chef at Emory University, first chef at Montreat, and first chef at Ridgecrest.

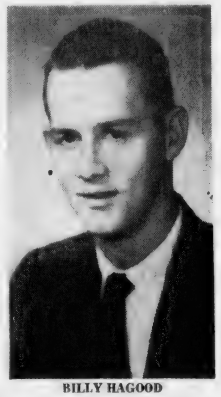
Stevenson Speaks At S. C. Teacher Meet

Dr. John Stevenson, head of the English department, will represent Presbyterian at the South Carolina Council of Teachers of English. The Council will hold its Fall conference at Converse College in Spartanburg tomorrow. Dr. Stevenson will speak on the Freshman English program of PC.

The speakers this year are teaching freshman English in their own colleges or universities. In addition to these speakers, Dr. Harry Warfel, professor of English, University of Florida, and former president of the College English Association, will address the members of the Council on a luncheon on "New Perspectives in English Teaching."

Hagood, Betchman, Davis, Harvard Voted To Class President Posts

• Student Council Posts Filled



Elections Wednesday placed sixteen students in class officer positions and named three representatives to the Student Council. Student balloting, which was light, selected the winners from a slate nominated by the student body the previous Wednesday.

Heading the Senior class is Billy Hagood of Easley. Backing him up in the vice-president's office is Larry Wood of Moss Point, Miss. The new secretary is Ebby Mayfield of Greer; and Ed Jackson of Clover, is the senior class treasurer.

President of the Junior class for this year is Billy Betchman of Summerton, and serving as vice-president is Bill Wilkes of Duncan. Dougald Clark of Fayetteville, N. C., is taking the secretary's post, and treasurer of the junior class is Doug McDougald of Anderson.

Joe Davis of Lawrenceville, Ga., was elected to the Sophomore class presidency. Chosen as vice-president was Bobby Joiner of Macon, Ga. Filling the secretary's office is Sonny DuBose of Sumter. Bill Matthews of Macon, Ga., won the race for sophomore treasurer.

In the freshman class president's race, Joe Harvard of Columbia won out of a field of four. George Ragan of Gastonia, N. C., was the victor in the vice-president's race, and Anna Graves of Bradenton, Fla., was elected as secretary. The freshmen chose Bobby Piephoff of College Park, Ga., as treasurer.

BILLY HAGOOD

For the vacant seat on the Student Council Maurice Schwartz of Laurinburg, N. C., won out over two other juniors.

In the freshman race for Student Council Joe Harvard and Bill Bartee of Atlanta, Ga., were elected on a student-wide vote. All Student Council representatives were voted on by all voters in the student body.

In senior elections seventy-nine voted, in junior elections sixty-two seventy-three sophomores voted, and eigthy freshmen cast ballots.

Old Bell Tower To Be Restored

G. Edward Campbell, Business Manager, announced Wednesday that the plans have been made for restoration of the college bell tower. He stated that work will begin as soon as the Wisteria around the tower has died down enough to permit work on the structure.

"The basic foundation is sound," he said. "We hope that we can restore the present tower." If restoration is not practical, a new structure will be erected.

Another improvement announced by Campbell was the addition of a brand new dish washer in Judd dining Hall. This equipment, bought at some expense, is very modern and quiet in operation.

New Business Club Gives Officer Slate

An Economics club for Business Administration and Economics majors was formed this week here at PC. At the organizational meeting last night Will Wallace of Mooresville, N. C., was elected the first president of the club.

Other officers included Bob Bean of Marietta, Ga., as vice-president, and Bobby Jobson of Atlanta, Ga., as secretary-treasurer. Professor John L. Madden of the Economics Department was chosen by the group as advisor.

Besides the electing of officers, the club also approved a constitution and by-laws to govern the organization. Four objectives were set up as follows: to encourage effective investigation and free discussion of the various topics and issues in the fields of economics and business; to promote and maintain high standards of accomplishment in business, research and teaching by fostering study, writing and contacts which contribute to this end; to stimulate objective analysis and discussion of existing and proposed economic policies and programs; and to create and promote fellowship among majors of economics and business administration and the departmental staff of economics.

Students Choose Varied Religions

Presbyterian College students are a varied group, as was proven by a recent break-down of their religious affiliations.

Presbyterians lead the list with 293 students, while the Baptists with 120 are second. There are 59 Methodists and twenty-one Episcopal students.

Catholic students total six. There are four Lutherans, three members of the Christian Church, two ARP members and two of the Bethel Temple.

The following denominations have one each: The Church of God, Church of Christ, Jewish, Holiness, Greek Orthodox, Christian Science, Seventh Day Adventist, Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints, Revival Center and the United Brethern.

Of the total, two people are listed as having no denominational preferences.

Graham Edmunds, Gay Maddox, Sir Frederick James, and IRC President Rohe Eshbaugh discuss world affairs at a reception given in Sir Frederick's honor Monday night. The foreign dignitary, who has seen much diplomatic service in India, visited the campus as part of the Fine Arts Program to lecture about the problems of the Far East.—(Hawkins Photo)

Patte Assigned To Redstone Arsenal

First Lt. Chris Patte, Class of 1956, has joined the USA Ordnance Missile Command at Redstone Arsenal.

He has just reported for this new assignment after attending a five-week orientation course at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. Prior to that, Lt. Patte spent two years with the crack 101st Airborne Division.

The PC alumnus, son of sociology professor Dr. Edouard Patte, was presented his "senior parachutist" Wings before leaving the 101st Division last July.

Library Schedule

Miss Marian Burts, Presbyterian College Librarian, announced the schedules for the library and the music room this week.

The Music Room schedule is as follows: Mondays through Fridays, 3:30-5:30 and 7:30-9:30; Sundays, 3:00-5:00. The Music Room will not be open on Saturdays.

The library will be open at 8:30 Mondays through Fridays and will close at 10:00. On Saturdays the hours will be 8:30-5:00, and on Sundays they will be 2:00-5:00. During holidays and semester examinations, the schedule will vary but these variations will be posted at the library.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Empty Ballot Boxes

Results in Wednesday's elections revealed widespread apathy among students towards the choosing of class officers. Approximately forty per cent of the student body failed to vote.

Notice of the elections was given widespread publicity, so ignorance cannot be an excuse. Some students cited a "crowded race" between two factions in some races as a reason not to cast their ballot—that their vote would be useless. Nothing could be further from the truth, for in several instances, as few as two votes decided the victor. We cannot find a concrete reason for this situation—unless it is laziness.

An individual's interest in [illegible] should warrant [illegible] habits developed here will follow us through life, is, however trite, nevertheless true.

[illegible] is the first step in degra-

An Editor's Notebook

[illegible] the publication [illegible] to [illegible] to be [illegible] to be given away!

WE COULD say that it was an observation test, but the [illegible] upside down in last week's paper only be[illegible] of these nasty little imps who cause all newspaper er-

A TIP OF THE HAT to the cheerleaders, who continu[illegible] a position [illegible] thankless.

BE PATIENT [illegible] and Se[illegible] can remember when . . .

AND TAKE ABOUT [illegible] Anne's Uni[illegible] Chapel is [illegible] can be remember when . . .

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

[illegible] Psi Omega announced [illegible] their meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Martha Glasure. Plans [illegible] a dance [illegible] to be held [illegible] Weisner was welcomed back into [illegible]

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi began to make definite plans at the last meeting concerning the fraternity's open house to be held Tuesday, October 27.

The Fraternity would like to take this opportunity to congratulate one of its Brothers, Evin Varner, for his outstanding work as Editor of the Blue Stocking, which received a rating of All-American by the Associated Collegiate Press.

PI KAPPA PHI

Final plans were made for the Open Social on Wednesday of next week. A discussion was held on the IFC and the Scabbard and Blade proposal for the Military Dance Weekend. Brothers and pledges will have a party in the fraternity room Friday night.

THETA CHI

Beta Psi Chapter discussed plans for a Stag Supper in the near future. Parents' Day plans were also discussed

SIGMA NU

[illegible] plans were made for Parents' Day and the coming Open Social. Opinions were voiced on the IFC [illegible] and Blade proposal for the Military Ball.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Plans were made at this week's meeting for Parent's Day to be held at the end of this month. Present at the meeting was alumnus councilor Tom Sallworth. Brothers of the week were Joe Nixon and Don Dennis.

(Continued on page four)

RISE AND SHINE!

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

[illegible] morning at about 7 o'clock my alarm went off. At approximately 7:15 my roommate's [illegible] and Henderson Thornton, [illegible] clock went off. Then it was at 7:30 that Percival Crudely's alarm clock went off and finally [illegible] up. P. C. [illegible] over to drill.'

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] professors sure do have a bad case [illegible]

[illegible] this week that you've ever seen."

"Where?

"Tiger, Georgia."

"Where's that?"

"Oh, it's up in the hills of Georgia somewhere."

"Never heard of it, G. B."

"He must have been raised on Dragon milk."

"Dragon milk. What kind of milk is that?"

"It's the kind that comes from [illegible] cows."

"Oh! G. B., what do you think of [illegible]"

"Even to [illegible] pretty tough [illegible]"

"Yeah, the next thing you know they'll have those landscape contractors planning for a drive-in window."

"Yes, I can see it all now. After the drive-in window comes curb service."

"Yes, then there'll be S&H Green Stamps. And then there'll be a mail order division added."

"Yes, and finally, P. C. will reach the peak. We'll become the greatest small college in the South. We'll have Secret Roosevelt [illegible]

"Oh yeah."

Later—headed for Jacobs . . .

Crudely Speaking

[illegible]

Evolution is what makes the mon[illegible]

[illegible] most of them are scoundrels like yourself.

Drinking and driving don't mix. [illegible]

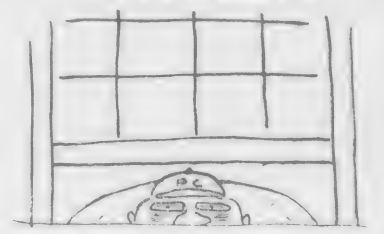
They said it couldn't be done, so I didn't even try.

[illegible] game of [illegible]

"I don't know. He's probably got [illegible] Scott is passing out."

"What's the occasion?"

"He's got a new little boy in his family—says he's gonna be a Citadel graduate."



"No joke!"

"Yeah, G. B., and he also told me [illegible] coming in a perfect cadence of quick time."

"Yeah! Well, I guess that's Standard Operational Procedure, isn't it, P. C.?"

"I reckon, G. B. Who's that freshman over yonder putting his collar stay in by the numbers?"

"That's Clem Smith from Tiger, Georgia."

Sir Frederick James

Profile Of A Visitor

By PAUL WHITE

India's representative to the historic League of Nations, Sir Frederick James, was as inquisitive as the students to whom he spoke. During the discussions with students, he exemplified an earnest and sincere desire to understand the college campus. His attitude and appearance were positive proof of his convictions that the West and the East had to work in harmony to achieve world cooperation and understanding.

Sir Frederick spoke of his experiences in India during the past thirty-five years as one who had discovered a great future for the over-populated, economically poor nation.

The Englishman, under the auspices of the Danforth Foundation, stated in his first address that India was making positive progress in these two fields today through the help of the West. The population of India has been increasing at the rate of twenty-seven million per year, and while health education is now being stressed, Indian religious beliefs and customs keep progress here pretty static.

Money from taxes, investments, and loans are being put into use in an effort to improve the economic conditions. Machines are being acquired and men are being taught to operate them in another effort to raise India's standard of living.

India is competing with China for leadership in the East, and though the problems of each nation are similar, there are distinct differences; differences which seem to favor India. In China the people serve the state and it is increasingly becoming a dictatorship enforced with power. By contrast, India is a democracy reinforced with tradition; a state serving the people.

When the student body met Sir Frederick at the reception and in his visits around the campus, they discovered a man who had not lost contact with the modern world while he was working in India, but a man who was well-dressed in the fine materials of England, a fine wool mixture created in the new Continental style. As he stood answering the varying questions of faculty and students, he looked comfortable and like one enjoying himself. Occasionally, he would pause to refill his punch cup, immediately inviting more questions. Throughout the informal reception, he was humorous and expressed a desire to know the student's opinions of some of the questions he was asked.

He was shown dormitory rooms and fraternity rooms and remarked favorably of them, showing interest in all the phases of student life.

Members of the student body have expressed favorable opinions of the distinguished gentleman. He has been described as "stimulating", "an engaging personality," "a man of extremely high intelect but possessing the ability to converse on an informal, student level," "most impressive."

It is difficult to unite this man of simplicity and informality with the advisor to Nehru and Ghandi. Yet these are the personalities of a single man—Sir Frederick James of Great Britain.

The Blue Stocking

Rated All-American by ACP

Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association
Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR MAURICE SCHWARTZ
NEWS EDITOR BILLY HATCHETT
Associate Editor Paul White
Sports Editor Martin Chitty
Feature Editor Graham Edmunds
Copy Edior Allen Freeman
News Staff Don Kay, Fred Meade, Bob Smith, Mike Saunders, Bill Craig, Becky Earnest, Don Lohman, Robert Kendall, Gerald Pitts, and Murray White.
Photographer Lamar Hawkins
Sports Staff Ed Loring, Bob Stevens, John Craig, David Strickiln
BUSINESS MANAGER SID FARESS
Circulation Phil Bell, Marshal Jones

Presbyterian's Blue Hose stars Bobby Pate and Bob Waters, get warmed up for the Elon clash after a long two weeks' rest. Both players have been responsible for many of the scores that have given the squad an unbeaten season.

Singing The Blues

by MARTIN CHITTY

[illegible] Elon [illegible] ad[illegible] he[illegible]

[illegible] for the first time in Presbyterian football history that the Blue Hose have reached the 4-0 record. That history dates back to 1915.

They are rolling now. If they continue to play this same brand of ball, there is no reason why they can't go all the way. This could be the year! Ke[illegible]

The intramural season rolls on. Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Alpha remain undefeated.

[illegible] season gives way to what looks to be an even more successful one this year. This is the chance for students who aren't able to participate in a varsity sport to "do their stuff" and brother they do it.

[illegible] Spirit [illegible] George Blue. George was not very fast, nor was he tremendously large. However, Blue possessed three intangible qualities: hustle, spirit, and a determined will to win. He fought for every yard and kept up his desire to win, no matter what the score. Needless to say Blue was the Captain and [illegible]

The '58 and '59 Presbyterian basketball teams established two of the finest records in the annals of a distinguished PC basketball history. On the team during those two years was a five foot, 10 inch guard by the name of Bill Toole. Bill was the playmaker on offense, and he was also one of the finest defensive men that Leroy Springs Gymnasium has ever seen. The little guard's greatest asset, however, was his ability in spark plugging and taking charge of the team.

The two men became student body presidents. It is not so important, however, as to what these men were. The thing that is important is the quality they stood for and exemplified. You might call it true PC Spirit.

From records:

Presbyterian over Elon by 12; the Hosemen continue to move
Georgia Tech over Auburn by 2; they're playing at Granite Field.
UNC over Maryland by 12; the Tarheels begin to click.
Tampa over Wofford by 12; it's a bad year for the Terriers.
George Washington over Furman by [illegible]; the Purple Hurricane bow to superior power.

Ye ole record stands at 9-1. Those Gamecocks let us down last week.

PICK - A - WINNER

O. K., experts, here's a real test of skill. This week features some real tough ones. Better get busy, too, because Co-ed Christine Wilson beat all of you' masculine prophets last week.

Name [illegible]

Dorm [illegible]

Georgia Tech	( )	Auburn	( )
UNC	( )	Maryland	( )
NC State	( )	Wake Forest	( )
Notre Dame	( )	Michigan State	( )
California	( )	UCLA	( )
Duke	( )	Army	( )
Wofford	( )	Tampa	( )
Furman	( )	George Washington	( )
PRESBYTERIAN	( )	ELON	( )

I predict that [illegible] points will be the winning margin in the PC-Elon game.

RULES

1—Entries must be turned in to The Blue Stocking office by noon Saturday. Just slide them under the door.
2—Entries must be on the above printed form.
3—Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4—In case of ties the contestant most nearly guessing the margin in the PC-ELON game will be the winner.
5—No member of The Blue Stocking staff is eligible.
6—Decisions of the judges will be final; winner announced in next week's paper.

Blue Hose Head For Bears With Unbemished Grid Record

• Shooting for Number 5

Those "come from behind" Blue Hose put their unbeaten record on the line this week as they prepare to meet Elon Saturday.

The Hosemen travel to Burlington Saturday to face an improved "Bear" squad. Despite a poor record the Elon club has shown improvement with each game. They are also one of the heaviest squads the Presbyterians will face this season.

Two first unit injuries will handicap Coach Jones' squad. Halback Dave Morgan suffers from a severely bruised leg, while tackle Cecil Morris has an ailing knee. Otherwise the club seems in good shape and high spirits.

Elon will be trying to even a series which now stands 2-1 in favor of PC. Last year the Hose celebrated [illegible] by a 34-6 margin.

The Hose plan a change for a T formation which could resort to passing in case the ground attack bogs down.

Line Fills Vital Part of Sock Power

[illegible] considered "team" can not should give a great deal of credit to its line. The Presbyterian forward wall proves no exception.

PC's flashy and exciting backfield is deeply indebted to the hard-hitting Blue Hose linemen.

Time and again this fall, the Hose strong men held firm within their 10-yard line. A better group in the clutch cannot be found.

Co-Captain Paul Chastain and Jon Vastine have often made futile the attempts of the opposition to run [illegible]

[illegible] doing [illegible] jo[illegible]

[illegible] fielded almost no yards this season.

[illegible] the big question mark during preseason practice, but in more ways than one they can be given a large victory.

[illegible] ters Waters has had fine assistance [illegible]

The [illegible] attack will feature Eddie Al Conaway, Co-captain Bob Pate, who [illegible] plenty of help from redhead Jim Hite. Billy Benton is a probable [illegible] starter in place of hurt Dave Morgan.

The probable starting Blue Hose at ends, Schofill and Ledbetter at [illegible]

Wolfe Surges

[illegible] Church will serve waffles, bacon, coffee or milk. The Parish House of the church is located at the corner [illegible] Street.

Morgan's Fleet Feet Fit Blue Hose Well

Presbyterian gridmen have found a proper running mate for Halfback Dave Morgan.

Morgan, [illegible] at right end, [illegible] The Blue Hose [illegible] it special [illegible] of PC [illegible] and proved [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

DR. JOHN McNEILL

Ministerial Club Hears Song Writer

Dr. John McNeill, composer and evangelist, addressed the Ministerial Club Thursday afternoon. The holder of the Academy Award for his composition of the theme of "The Bridge Over the River Kwai," and author of "Now is the Hour," played his compositions for the group.

He also played the entrance march that he composed for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth.

A native of Glasgow, Scotland, and holder of numerous degrees, Dr. McNeill drew his topic from Revelation: "I Am Alpha and Omega," likening Christ to the alphabet.

Science Foundation Awards Fellowships

The National Science Foundation has announced recently that they will award approximately 1100 graduate fellowships during the 1960-61 academic year. Open to all citizens of the United States, and awarded solely on the basis of ability, the fellowships may be applied to advanced work in almost any scientific field.

All applications must be in by January 1, 1960. For further information write the Fellowship Office, National Academy of Science, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, NW, Washington, D. C.

Students at Conference

The South Carolina Student Christian Association Conference opens today at Camp Long near Aiken. Most every school in the state will be represented at this conference which is held twice yearly.

Representing PC will be Bill Francis, Edd Collins, John Roberts, and Jack Crandall. The theme for this fall's gathering will be "Adam to Adam." The conference is scheduled to end Sunday.

The GREEKS

... Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

(Continued from page two)

KAPPA ALPHA

We would like to thank all non-fraternity men, co-eds and faculty members for making our social very successful.

Brother Donaldson read a congratulatory letter from the administration concerning the past homecoming display.

All Greeks material must be turned in to the Fraternity Editor by 5 o'clock Wednesday. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

A gangster rushed into a saloon, shooting right and left, yelling, "All you dirty skunks get outta here."

The customers fled in a hail of bullets—all except an Englishman, who stood a tthe bar calmly finishing his drink. "Well?" snapped the gangster, waving his smoking gun.

"Well," remarked the Englishman, "there certainly was a lot of them, weren't there!"

ACPS Announces Second Anthology

The American College Poetry Society has announced its second annual anthology of outstanding college poetry. Students interested in having their work published should submit no more than five poems not exceeding 48 lines each. Send them to the society, Box 24463, Los Angeles 24, Calif. The deadline for entries is December, 1959.

The Albert Schweitzer Education Foundtion invites PC students to submit essays on the general topic, "The Challenge of Albert Schweitzer."

Registrations giving name, address, and classification must reach the Foundation at 55 E. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., by Nov. 10, 1959. The essays are due December 10.

The Blue Stocking is exceeded in circulation by only 5 million other newspapers

BROADWAY Theatre

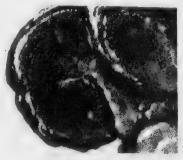
Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 19-20
It Started With A Kiss
Glenn Ford, Debbie Reynolds

Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 21-22
That Kind of Woman
Sophia Loren, Tab Hunter

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 23-24
Rogers and Hammerstein's
South Pacific
The Entertainment World's Most Wonderful Entertainment

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night"

Sunshine Cleaners
W. Florida St. — Phone 436
Quality Cleaning and Shirt Laundry
We Offer a "Fluff Dry" Bundle
WE REPAIR SHOES



McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC HEADQUARTERS IN LAURENS
Laurens, S. C.

58
Shopping Days Till Christmas
LET US HELP YOU
S-T-R-E-T-C-H
YOUR SHOPPING DOLLAR
Our Catalogs Are Loaded With Gifts of Every Type
. . . So Check Our Price Before You Buy
THE COLLEGE CANTEEN
Douglas House

Presbyterian College Announces
A New Convenience for • STUDENTS • FACULTY
• FRIENDS
As Part of the College Canteen
Opening Wednesday P. M.
Featuring Boneless Delmonicos and Tenderloin Come on Down To . . .

The Charcoal Cellar
Douglas House
BROILER: 8 to 10 P. M.
Hot Dogs - Sandwiches - Juke Box
SELF-SERVICE FROM CANTEEN

Now Open!
WHITE ROSE
E. Carolina at Woodrow St.
92 Octane Regular
ONLY 29 9/10 C
99 Octane Premium
ONLY 32 9/10 C
SPECIAL
ALL CIGARETTES
ONLY
25c Pack

Who's Who Selects Eight Campus Leaders

• Chosen for Outstanding Work

Eight prominent members of the Presbyterian College senior class have been selected to the national Who's Who in American colleges and universities.

The students recognized in Who's Who each year are nominated from approximately 700 colleges and universities. Campus nominating committees are instructed to consider, in making their selections, the student's scholarship; his participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities; his citizenship and service to the school; his promise of future usefulness.

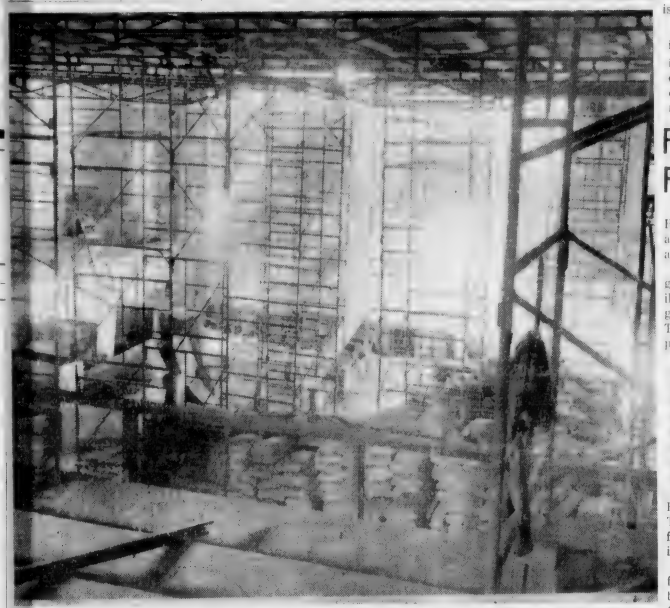
The following men were nominated by the faculty for outstanding merit in their fields of endeavor during their respective college careers: Bob Bean of Marietat Ga.; Billy Hagood of Easley; Joe Hardin of Greenwood; Ebby Mayfield of Greer; Cliff Stovall of Mullins; Bob Waters of Sylvania, Ga.; Tom Wise of Thomasville, Ga.; and Dick Wood of Greer.

Bob Bean is editor of the 1960 PaC-SaC, past member of the SCA Cabinet, former assistant business manager, and class editor of the PaC-SaC, former editor of the Knapsack, and a member of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Billy Hagood is a charter member of the Sophomore Scholastic Honor Society, vice-president of Blue Key, president of the senior class, president of Pi Kappa Alpha, has been a class officer for two years, and was managing editor of the Blue Stocking.

Joe Hardin is Battle Group commander, a member of Blue Key, Senior Student Council Representative, chairman of the freshman control board, a member of Scabbard and Blade and was Military editor of the PaC-SaC, and is a member of Sigma Nu. He was an officer on the IFC last year.

Ebby Mayfield is President of Blue Key, vice-president of the SCA, president of the Methodist Student Movement, vice-president of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, treasurer of the IRC, and is secretary of the senior class.



Cliff Stovall is president of the Robert Choir, business manager of the PaC-SaC, battle group staff member of Scabbard and Blade, and is treasurer of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Bob Waters is president of the student body, on the battle group staff, a member of Scabbard and Blade, captain of the football team, and is a member of Blue Key and Pi Kappa Alpha.

Tom Wise is vice-president of the student body, serving his fourth year on the student council.

(Continued on page four)

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress
Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., October 23, 1959 No. 5

Blue Sock Photographer Lamar Hawkins climbed up into the unfinished balcony of the Belk Auditorium to get this shot of interior work. Scaffolding towers into the heights of the huge strucure as extensive work is begun inside the building. The photograph looks down towards the stage designed to hold almost any type of production and across the floor which will hold seats to accommodate 1000 persons. Work continues also on the three-storied Fine Arts building, which backs up the stage.

Full Program Set For Parents Day

Reservations for the third annual Parents Day totaled 300 Thursday as preparations for the event hit a high pitch.

The annual event brings parents, guardians and the immediate families of students to the campus as guests of the college for the day. Tentative plans as announced today point to a full program.

Registration will begin at 2 o'clock, with the members of Alpha Psi Delta sorority assisting. The Blue Key Honorary fraternity will conduct campus tours from two until three o'clock. A program in the chapel at three includes a welcome from President Marshall W. Brown.

A faculty reception in Douglas House will follow at four o'clock. The evening meal will be served from 5:30 in Judd Dining Hall and in Leroy Springs Gym.

Highlight of the day will be the football game on Johnson Field between Presbyterian's Blue Hose and Catawba Indians. Halftime ceremonies will feature PC's military band and the crack drill platoon.

Following the gridiron clash, open houses will be held in Douglas House and in the suites of the six national social fraternities on campus.

Plans are being made for a display to be presented by the Military Department and possibly by the Science Department.

Parents will be given guest tickets in the North stands. Included in the reservation envelopes will be an extra ticket so that students can sit with heir families.

BSU Plans Social

The Baptist Student Union is planning a social with Greenville Nurses' Home on Thursday, Oct. 21, at 6:30. The party is tentatively set for Peck's Mary Lou Ranch.

All Baptist students are invited to attend, according to Roscoe Lindsay, BSU president. Those planning to attend are asked to contact Carl Lathem.

Tau Phi Pi Plans For Coming Year

Tau Phi Pi, Honorary Scientific Fraternity, mapped plans for the year at a recent meeting. This year meetings wil be bi-monthly—on second and fourth Thursdays.

Advisors this year include Dr. Whitelaw, Dr. Stump and Mr. Howard.

A demonstration team has been appointed with Mike Brown as chairman along with Jack Taylor, Ted Hentz, Sid Farress, Pen Neil, and Al Stevenson as committeemen. The PC chapter plans to exchange visits with several other schools in the area.

Tau Phi Pi is open to all science majors who have completed 12 hours of lab science ,maintaining a "C" average.

Scabbard And Blade Proposal For Military Ball Approved by IFC

• Big Name Band at Last

Final action was taken this week on the IFC-Scabbard and Blade proposal to have a big-name band for the Military Ball this March. The Inter-Fraternity Council by a 5 to 1 vote decided to accept the proposal of the Scabbard and Blade Military Fratrenity and gave them the green light in securing a top-notch band.

A majority vote was all that was necessary for the proposal to be passed. The proposal which has now been accepted consists of five parts.

"1. The Scabbard and Blade has planned a complete Military Ball weekend which will consist of a dance on Friday, March 5, 1960, featuring a headline name band and a dance on Saturday night, March 5, 1960, featuring a local combo.

"2. Each military man will be assessed $7.00.

"3. The IFC will assess each non-military Fraternity man $7.00 or pay to the Scabbard and Blade the equivalent of this amount.

"4. Military men will wear class A uniforms with white shirt and black tie. Non-military men will wear dark suits. All ladies will wear evening gowns.

"5. There will be no other assessment by the IFC other than the above mentioned figure applying to non-military fraternity men."

Carl Gibson, Military Ball Chairman of Scabbard and Blade is working with several agencies to obtain a band. At present no bands have been contracted. It has been learned, however, that a good many bands are available for March. Some of these are Ray Anthony, Count Basie, Sauter Fennigan, Jimmy Dorsey, Ray Eberly, the Glenn Miller band, and Sara Vaughn.

Also there has been some discussion of a possible concert Saturday afternoon and the feasibility of the Military Ball being held on Saturday night.

PC Graduate Directs Birmingham Library

Fant Thornley, a 1930 PC graduate, is director of the Birmingham, Ala., Public Library. As such, he has charge of the largest public library facilities in the South. It boasts of a 526,000 collection of books as well as a broad range of services.

Records show an increase of one million books checked out per year from 1952 to 1957. This shows the remarkable capabilities of a PC alumnus listed in "Who's Who in America."

Freshman Cabinet Named By SCA Senior Group

The Student Christian Association Senior Cabinet announced Wednesday night the selection of the SCA Freshman Cabinet.

Those chosen include: Bill Bartee of Atlanta, Ga.; Everett Connelly of Charlotte, N. C.; Lloyd Gray of Cedartown, Ga.; Allen Freeman of Atlanta, Ga.; Christine Wilson of Monroe, N. C.; Grif Helwig of Tampa, Fla.; John Gettys of Union; Butch Sain of Fort Mill; Charles Kirkland of Miami, Fla.; and David Harrill of Gaffney.

Tom Collins, a junior from Pageland, was named advisor for the group.

The Freshman Cabinet assists the Senior group in carrying out the various activities of the SCA. The Student Directory, issued near Christmas holidays, is also a project of the Freshman Cabinet.

Religious Emphasis Week plans were discussed, and a special meeting of the group is set for next week to make decisions concerning the event. The cabinet voted down a proposal to affiliate with the National YMCA.

Tom Collins explains the various duties of the SCA Freshman Cabinet to this year's group. They are (l. to r.): Bill Bartee, Allen Freeman, Grif Helwig, David Harrill, (back row) Everett Connelly, "Butch" Sain, Christine Wilson, Charles Kirkland, and Lloyd Gray. The Cabinet selections were made earlier this week by the Senior group.—(Hawkins Photo)

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

The System: Re-examine, Revitalize - or Reject

In recent weeks students have expressed dissatisfaction with Presbyterian's Honor System. This is not unwarranted, for there is no honor system at PC—merely a token . . . a name in publications. The Presbyterian College Honor System lacks student co-operation and any responsible form of enforcement. There are even varying attitudes among faculty members. Recent functioning of the Honor System supports these facts.

While a shame that a church-related school cannot maintain an honor system—it is no sin not to have one. It would be better to do away with our 'system' completely than to continue being hypocritical.

The time has come for a decision—a student decision, totally divorced from administrative influence. The responsiblity for finding the wishes of the Student Body should be given to the Blue Key, acting in the capacity of a student public relations committee. This body, composed of a cross section of the school's top leaders, is best qualified to conduct an impartial survey.

The results of this survey should be clean cut, yes or no, for or against the Honor System.

If the answer is no, the Honor System should be completely discarded and discipline administered by the faculty and administration. This would entail the end of the judicial function of the Student Council.

If yes, the Blue Key, in co-operation with the Student Council, should set out to re-examine and re-vitalize the system. If necessary, contacts with schools who have successful sytems should be made—so the benefit of their experience can be applied.

Particularly, a line should be drawn between the responsibilities of the administration and the student government in administering discipline. It should be determined what an effective honor system will demand of students and faculty members. Also an effort should be made to curtail social pressures which color Student Council decisions and destroy student confidence in the system.

Above all, the Student Council should be made aware of their responsibilities—not to individuals—but to themselves as gentlemen and to Presbyterian College and its students.

Re-examine—then revitalize or reject—it's up to you.

(Next Week: A further examination of problems in Student Government)

Letters To the Editor

Students Blast Honor System

All letters must be signed: names will be withheld by request, under special circumstances. Letters must be short, not malicious, and concerned with student afairs. Letters do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the editors.

"Perpetual Lie . . . "

Dear Sir,

What is truth? This, people tell me, is a question that requires a relative answer. As for my own feelings, this is something that must be found in one's own philosophy. There is one thing that I feel deeply about—this is the signing of a perpetual lie upon registration in this institution. This lie states in effect that, "I will abide by all rules and regulations of this institution and the student constitution." As everyone, I am sure, knows, the student constitution (A Euphemism) declares that " a student who matriculates . . . shall deal honorably with his fellow man. Specially not being given to lie to cheat or to steal . . ." These words have been spoken to every freshman class since I have been here, and with this I find no particular fault since flowery words and honorable intentions seemingly tend to impress a newcomer.

But when, on the heels of these flowery words comes a blatant renunciation of them by the men to uphold them, I feel that the time has come for action.

By whom! The student who is constantly aware of this crookedness and falsehood? The Administration—who appear to have hidden their heads in the sand and convinced themselves that an honor system looks good to the Trustees and to the prospective suden?

All I ask is that everyone stand back, view his career at PC and take stock. I ask these students—do you want an honor system or had you rather go on living this perpetual lie? I know not what others think but to me this is something that deserves the attention of every member of the academic community.

Yours very truly,
LONNIE LOVE

"Time for action . . ."

Dear Editor:

I feel that it is time for action and for words concerning our Honor System. I have been told the old pun about the students having the system and the professors the hon or . . . and certain students have shown me that this is far from a joke—it is true.

If we cannot have a true honor system, let's get rid of it completely —I'm not sure that I want to cal a school my Alma Mater that lives a lie. Something should be done

Please print this letter.

(Name withheld by request)

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I JUST HEARD A HORRIBLE RUMOR—THAT THE TRUSTEES WILL REQUIRE ALL PROFESSORS TO PASS TH' ENTRANCE EXAM."

PARADISE REGAINED

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

Thursday afternoon, I was sitting at my desk brooding over the loss of Percival Crudely as a roommate and friend. I was simply miserable and couldn't get my mind on my work. In fact, I hadn't done any studying since he'd left about five days ago. I was really sorrowful over his being kicked out for low grades. Suddenly I heard cheers in the hall, and then as if a dream had been answerend, in walked my old buddy, Percival Crudely.

"P. C., how you doing? It's great to see you."

"Thanks, G. B. You know, you don't realize how much you miss this hole until you're away for a while."

"Gee, I really missed you, too, P. C. But say, how long you gonna be here?"

"For good I guess, G. B."

"For Good?"

"Yep!"

'But I thought you got a letter from the Adiminstration saying that your grades were beyond all possible hope and they kinda requested that you drop out."

"Yeah, that's what the letter said."

"Well, what are you doing here?"

"Well, you see I looked on the outside of the envelope and it said, 'Return In Five Days To Presbyterian College, Clinton, South Carolina,' so here I am."

"Oh, I see. By the way, what were your grades?"

"Oh, five E's and a D."

"Gosh, did you speak to your advisor?"

"No, I didn't say much to him. but he had a few words for me."

"What'd he say?"

"He said I was spending too much time on one subject. "

"Well, P. C., at least you got some mail—I don't even rate a note from my advisor."

"G. B., I noticed coming up the Plaza today that the hole in front of the new auditorium is getting washed out again."

"Yeah, this doggone South Carolina monsoon season is really getting to it."

"Wonder why they don't pave over that spot?"

"Cost money I guess, P. C."

"Yeah, and I know how much they cherish money around here."

"P. C., we've got all kinds of new developments around campus since you left."

'Yeah, like what?"

"Well, that Charcoal Cellar will

(Continued on page four)

The Blue Stocking

Rated All-American by ACP
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association
Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR . . . EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR . . . MAURICE SCHWARTZ
NEWS EDITOR . . . BILLY HATCHETT
Associate Editor . . . Paul White
Sports Editor . . . Martin Chitty
Feature Editor . . . Graham Edmunds
Copy Edior . . . Allen Freeman

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Brohers made final plans concerning the Open Social to be held on Tuesday, the 27th.

Congratulations to the following new brothers who were formally initiated into the Brotherhood at the last meeting: Mike Brown, Glenn Gibson, Billy Ray Ladd, and Ted Taylor.

KAPPA ALPHA

Arrangements were made for the bus trip to Citadel and plans for the open house for Parents' Day were discussed.

PI KAPPA PHI

Pi Kappa Phi welcomes into the fraternity new Pledges Hardy Ledbetter, Dave Morgan, and Bruce Barnes.

SIGMA NU

Congratulations to Leland Vaughan ant Jim Caddell for pledging Wednesday night.

Elise Whetsel was elected sponsor for this year. Elise is a junior at Converse College.

Cars were lined up to get "feminine" companionship for the Open Social .

THETA CHI

At the regular meetnig of Beta Psi Chapter on Tuesday night, further plans were discussed concerning Parents' Day, October 31.

The Brothers and Pledges discussed the Stag Supper which is to be held in the near future.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Mu Chapter would like to recognize several of its outstanding football players who have played fine ball so far this year. They are Bob Waters, Joe Nixon, Jimmy Kolb, Gordon Stanley, and Bill Hill.

At this weeks meeting Bobby Hodge, Billy Hagood, Harry and Hexie McDonnald, and Jack Taylor were elected Brothers of the Week.

New Series Slated

Beginning next week in The Blue Stocking: A series of articles entitled "Frontiers of Education."

"Frontiers of Education" will examine Presbyterian's educational program in its various phases. It will show weaknesses, strong points and present a crystal ball of plans and aims.

IRC Sets Election

On October 25 the International Relations Club will hold elections for vice-president. A program dealing with the events leading up to the Second World War will be presented. The time and place are 7:30 in the Douglas House Meeting Room.

Singing The Blues

With MARTIN CHITTY

A year ago the Blue Hose gridsters were promised a plane ride to Tampa if they could go into the game undefeated.

This season there was no promise to that effect, and the Blue Hose are undefeated. Tough luck

It's a long way to Tampa and although the next best thing to a plane trip was done by leaving on Thursday, still valuable class time will be missed by the ball club.

We appreciate the need of playing Tampa there for financial reasons, but we wish it were possible to find a more convenient way to travel.

Two bowls sent out "feelers" to Coach Jones last week. The Tangerine Bowl, sixth in the nation in size, and the Holiday Bowl have more than a passing interest in the undefeated Hosemen.

HOW COME 'BLUE HOSE'?

Although the reasons have been stated before, many people are still puzzled and make inquiries as to how Presbyterian athletic teams came to be known as the Blue Hose. No one really seems to have an exact answer

Many think that the term Blue Hose refers to the blue stockings worn by the Scottish Presbyterians. The late Walter Johnson said before his death that early PC teams wore blue stockings. This practice was dropped for various reasons until last season when the Blue Hose resumed the wearing of their leggings.

At one time the school was in the transition period of acquiring a new name. Several names such as the Fighting Christians or Parsons were thought of until a final decision of Blue Stockings was made. Perhaps a form of laziness on the part of some writer shortened the well-known nickname to Blue Hose.

FUTURE RECORDS

In hopes of redeeming ourselves after a miserable past week-end, we're off again. 10 wins and 5 misses give us a percentage of .750. PC over Tampa by six—The Florida squad is tough at home, but will go with Frank Jones' spirited bunch. Furman over Citadel by 3—Heck! We don't know, but we can guess. East Carolina over Newberry by 12—The East Carolina squad should rebound after a bad week against a strong West Carolina squad. East Tennessee State over Wofford by 8—The Terriers still need reserve strngth.

Perhaps . . .

Is This PC's Greatest Team?

Pausing at mid-season after five straight victories, Presbyterian College's undefeated 1959 gridmen are being rated among the all-time great PC football teams.

Their claim, as they prepared to invade Tampa University for another stubborn test this weekend, could readily be staked on:

1—Five wins without a loss so far this season, including impressive triumphs over Southern Conference members Furman and Davidson.

2—National ranking among the top three small colleges in the nation, according to official ratings of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

3—South Carolina's only remaining undefeated college team and one of the select group in the country.

4—A colorful, well-balanced team, built around Little All-American Candidate Bobby Pate on the attack, a stubborn defense and a blazing spirit which refuses to acknowledge defeat.

Even with all of this, Coach Frank Jones and his staff are convinced the team has not yet realized its full potentialities. A mixture of explosive offensive ingredients has the Blue Hose averaging 24 points per game on 121 total points. In some games the long run has stood out; in others, such as last Saturday against Elon, it was passing. Both of these PC weapons are equally dangerous, but they have not yet been combined effectively in a single game.

Presbytreian fans are looking forward to the day when this attack

(Continued on page four)

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC HEADQUARTERS IN LAURENS
Laurens, S. C.

PICK - A - WINNER

The winner of last week's free pass to the Broadway Theatre for winning the PICK-A-WINNER contest was Billy Piephoff. So gaze into your crystal ball and see if you can do it.

Name _____

Dorm _____

PC	( )	TAMPA	( )
Citadel	( )	Furman	( )
Newberry	( )	E. Carolina	( )
E. Tennessee	( )	Wofford	( )
Mississippi	( )	Arkansas	( )
Northwestern	( )	Notre Dame	( )
Texas	( )	Rice	( )
Southern Cal.	( )	Stanford	( )
Auburn	( )	Miami	( )
Ga. Tech	( )	Tulane	( )

I predict that _____ points will be the winning margin in the PC-TAMPA game.

RULES

1—Entries must be turned in to The Blue Stocking office by noon Saturday. Just slide them under the door.
2—Entries must be on the above printed form.
3—Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4—In case of ties the contestant most nearly guessing the margin in the PC-TAMPA game.

Unbeaten Hosemen Head South; Fla. Opponent Underdog In Battle

• Bowl Interest Grows for Hose

An undefeated Blue Hose squad, ranked number three in the nation, heads South to face a strong Tampa eleven.

Tampa, always a fierce opponent on their home turf, is expected to give a PC club, rated by many as the school's greatest ever, a big test.

The PC'uns appear in somewhat better shape than the club which defeated Elon last week. Head Coach Frank Jones stated last week that, as usual, he expects Tampa "to be up" for this game.

Underdog Wofford knocked off the Floridians last week, and nothing would please them more than to knock off their conqueror's highly-rated neighbor.

Boasting an extremely heavy squad, Tampa will outweigh the Hose by a considerable amount. However, past records place PC in the favorite's role.

Last week's game featured several freshmen, with halfback Ronnie Hapton in the spotlight as he scored his first college touchdown. These freshmen bring needed aid to the Hose reserve list.

The probable starters for the Hose will be Chastain and Vastine at ends, Schofill and Ledbetter at tackles, DuBose and Ogden at guards, Copeland at Center, Waters at quarterback, Pate and Benton at the halfback posts, and Hill at fullback.

PC-Tampa Game To Be Broadcast

The PC-Tampa game tomorrow, October 24, will be broadcast over a leased wire from the field, according to an announcement by W. C. Hogan, manager of radio station WLBG.

The play by play will be broadcast directly from Tampa through public address speakers at Johnson Field and in Leroy Springs gymnasium. There will be no local radio broadcast since the station is off the air at this time of the evening.

The broadcast will begin at 7:30 with the kickoff at 8 o'clock. Narrators will be Mr. Hogan on play by play and Larry Gar, color.

Blue Stocks Whip University of Florida

PC's gup-totin' atheletes, the rifle team, outdrew the University of Flordia team in a postal match last Thursday, Oct. 15, by a score of 1839 to 1833.

Firing from four positions—prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing—the PC'uns were led by Powers with a score of 374 out of a possible 400. Other scores were Forbes, 372; Butler, 372; Smith, 371; and Mitchell, 350.

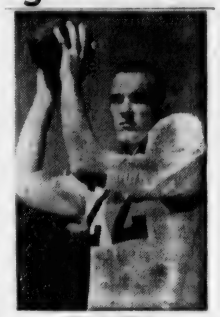
The next scheduled match will be fired postally the week of Oct. 30 against Davidson. On Nov. 6, the team will travel to Greenville for a three-way shoulder match involving PC, Clemson, and Furman.

Elon Tastes Defeat From Sluggish Blue Hose

• 27-6 PC Victory Results

Victory number five came when fullback Bill Hill sprinted 32 yards for one touchdonwn and plunged over from the one for another as the Hosemen defeated Elon 27-6 before 1500 Elon homecoming fans.

The Blue Stockings got their TD's on four long drives, the first of them an 87-yard journey in the first period which ended in Hill's 32-yard run.



The Christians threatened on four occasions when they drove to the Presbyterian seven, four, eight, and eleven-yard lines. The single Elon touchdown came early in the first period when quarterback Charlie Maidon completed five successive passes to power a 65-yard drive. Maidon plunged over from the one-yard line for the score while a pass for the extra points failed.

The Hosemen got two in the second period when Hill plunged one yard to climax an 81-yard drive and another when Bobby Pate ran five yards with 20 seconds remaining in teh half.

Freshman Ronnie Hampton raced 26 yards off left tackle to pay dirt for the final Presbyterian score after 10 minutes of the fourth period.

The PC'uns now rate third in a national poll behind Lamar Tech and Lenoir-Rhyne.

Presbyterian	7	12	0	8	—27
Elon	6	0	0	0	— 6

BOB WATERS

Deadly Arm

Aerialist Waters Totals 416 Yards

Quarterback Bob Waters' deadly passing arm added 140 yards to his record last week to put him ahead in total offense department of Presbyterian College's undefeated Blue Hose.

Statistics released today show the rangy Sylvania, Ga., signal-caller with 416 total yards gained in five games to date, an average of 83.2 yards per game or 6.5 yards per play on 64 running and passing attempts.

The aerial game has been Waters' big gun. Thus far he has hit his target 21 times on 41 passes for 346 yards, 2 touchdowns and a 51.2 per cent accuracy mark. Rushing has added 70 yards in 23 carries for a 3-yard average.

Bobby Pate, Presbyterian's Little All-American halfback candidate from Fitzgerald, Ga., also enhanced his offensive record in the recent 27 to 6 triumph over Elon. He rushed 63 yards from scrimmage in 14 carries to increase his total ground yardage to 349 in 59 tries for an average of 5.9 yards per try.

Pate also continues to hold the

(Continued on page four)

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

Sunshine Cleaners
W. Florida St. — Phone 436
Quality Cleaning and Shirt Laundry
We Offer a "Fluff Dry" Bundle
WE REPAIR SHOES

"That horn-blower behind me got my goat . . ."

Even good drivers can be forced into accidents! A hill-climbing truck ahead and a parade of honkers behind can try your patience. A tailgater with blazing lights can make you boil. But don't let them push you into a rash move. Traffic accidents killed 37,000 people last year. Who knows how many died because some good driver let another pressure him into taking a foolish chance? Don't let anger force you to risk lives—yours or others!

Published in an effort to save lives, in cooperation with the National Safety Council and The Advertising Council.

Foundation Announces New Fellowship Program

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation announces its 1959-60 program of 1,000 fellowships in the humanities, and in the social and natural sciences, to encourage undergraduates in their senior year to undertake graduate work in order to enter the college teaching profession.

Students who receive a Woodrow Wilson National Felowship will be paid $1500 plus tuition and dependency allowances for a year of graduate study at a university of their choice in the United States or Canada. Students being detached from the armed forces before September 1960, are also eligible. Fellowships will be held over for those who must perform military duty before entering graduate school.

Candidates may not file applications directly, but will be sent application forms after personal nomination by a member of the faculty. Any student may learn more of the details by consulting Dr John Stevenson.

The deadline for receiving nominations for the 1960 Fellowships is October 31, 1959. Application blanks will be mailed directly to the student on receipt of a faculty nomination. Only students who have a sincere interest in entering college teaching, whose records are superior, and who will do graduate work in the humanities, or the social or natural sciences, should request nomination. The program does not award fellowships for graduate work in law, medicine, education, business administration, or engineering.

Crudely . . .

(Continued from page two)

he opening soon.

"Where is the Charcoal Cellar?"

"You know, it is located over there under the Canteen."

"Oh yeah. What else is new?"

"Well, good old MWB is sporting a Cadillac."

"He'll have to go back to the college presidents' conferences more often, won't he?"

"Yeah, and guess who else is getting a new set of wheels."

"Oh, who?"

"Mr Ducant."

"No joke?"

"Yep, I understand he's getting a rumble."

"That's the He had a few rattles at last time one."

"He did that, all right. Tell me, what's new with you, P. C.?"

"Nothing much."

"You don't know any news?"

"Well, there is one thing."

"What's that?"

"Aw Like as some but gossip."

"Yeah, Yeah, what is it, P. C.?"

"Well, guess who I saw standing in town on the corner by the Earline Shop staring at that display case on the side."

"Who?"

"I don't think I'd better say."

Aerialist . . .

(Continued from page three)

potential really hits on all cylinders. They hope it will be soon for the one-game road ahead is almost as rugged as the one behind: after Tampa this weekend will come Catawba, the Citadel, Appalachian, and Newberry in that order.

Great as they are now, the Hosemen will have more to offer when they rally shift into high gear on all counts.

Greatest Team?

(Continued from page three)

pass-receiving lead with eight receptions good for 151 yards. And he added six more points to his touchdown parade to jack up his scoring total to 48 points.

Over-all team statistics give the Hosemen 1,259 total yards in 253 offensive plays during the five games —an average of 252 yards per game or almost 5 yards per play. Broken down, these figures show 843 yards on 201 rushes from scrimmage and 416 aerial yards on 28 completions in 52 attempted passes.

Among the other individual offense leaders are: Fullback Bill Hill —210 yards in 55 carries for a 3.9 average; Halfback Dave Morgan—150 yards in 32 carries for a 4.7 average; Quarterback Nat Cole—6 passes completed in 8 attempts for 56 yards and 1 touchdown; End Jimmy Kolb—6 pass receptions for 104 yards and 2 touchdowns; and End Paul Chastain—5 pass receptions for 56 yards.

BROADWAY Theatre
Mon. - Tues. - Wed. - Thur.
Oct. 26-27-28-29
South Pacific
Rossana Brazzi - Mitzi Gaynor
Friday and Saturday,
Oct. 30-31
Return of the Fly
Vincent Price - Brett Halsey
—Plus —
Alligator People
Beverly Garland - Bruce Bennett

WANTED: CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE by the COLLEGE RECORD CLUB to earn $100 (or more) in spare time
Write for information College Record Club, P. O. Box 1193, Providence 2, R. I.

PiKA and KA Tie, Rematch Set Monday

The only intramural game of the week pitted the undefeated PiKA against the KA's who also have a defeatless record. Four plays after the opening kickoff, fleet-footed Ed Jackson carried the ball 75 yards to give the PiKA's an early lead. The PAT was also made by Jackson.

In the middle of the second half, Larry Wood carried the pigskin 37 yards to tally for the KA's, with Heywood Nettles scoring the PAT.

Billy Hagood played outstanding defensive ball for the PiKA's while Bill Norman was outstanding for the KA's.

Who's Who . . .

(Continued from page one)

a member of Blue Key, was a the SCA for three years, a mem ber of the Sophomore Scholastic Honor Society, and chairman o the Honor Court, and is an officer in the Kappa Alpha Order. He a so is a member of the choir.

Dick Wood is president of th SCA, company commander in th ROTC, a member of Blue Key an Scabbard and Blade Honor Frate nities, was vice-president of h class for two years, a past membe of the PaC-Sac and Blue Stockin staffs, former secretary of the SC had held offices in the Pi Kappa A pha Fraternity.

Now Open!
WHITE ROSE
E. Carolina at Woodrow St.
92 Octane Regular
ONLY 29 9/10 c
99 Octane Premium
ONLY 32 9/10 c

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE! They said that bullfighting was strictly for men, and a woman couldn't do it. But pretty Pat McCormick, while a student at Texas Western College, ignored the scoffers, and became the first American girl to win international acclaim as a torea-Dora.

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tars and more taste—in one great cigarette.

PACK OR BOX

LIGHT INTO THAT LIVE MODERN FLAVOR!

©LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO., 1959

Blue Hose Accept Tangerine Bowl Bid

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., October 30, 1959 No. 6

Visitors Will Hit Campus Tomorrow For Third Annual Parents Day Event

Officials Expect High Attendance

Reservation tallies yesterday indicated that a record attendance might be reached tomorrow as parents and other guests pour into the campus for the third annual Parents Day festivities.

Over 700 people are expected to attend the program, which was inaugurated three years ago and has met with continuing success. Parents and immediate families of all students are invited to the campus as guests of the college.

Registration will begin at 2:00 p. m. in Douglas House. The girls of Alpha Psi Delta sorority will assist. Blue Key honorary fraternity will direct campus tours, starting from Douglas House, from 2 until 3 o'clock.

A program of welcome has been planned for 3 o'clock in Neville Hall auditorium. Dick Wood, SCA president, will give the invocation; Dean George Bellingrath will preside. Joe Hardin will greet the guests, and Ebby Mayfield, Blue Key president, will speak on campus activities.

Dr. Marshall Brown's message will be followed by various musical selections. These selections will be presented by the College Choir Double Quartet, Harry and Hexie McDonald, and by the PC Band, newly formed musical group.

A faculty reception in Douglas House will follow the program at 4 o'clock. Supper will be served in Judd Dining Hall and in the gym. The Blue Hose and Catawba clash will follow on Johnson Field at 8:00.

Open Houses in all fraternity suites and in Douglas House will conclude the official program at 10:30 p. m.

Plans have been made for dis-plays by the Military and Science departments.

Tickets for guests for the game and supper will be held for them at the registration desk.

Following the announcement of the Tangerine Bowl bid, interest in tomorrow night's game has picked up considerably, and a large crowd is expected. Entertaining the grid-iron fans at halftime will be the PC ROTC band and the crack drill platoon.

Members of Blue Key Honorary Fraternity make final plans for the approaching Parents Day. They are (l. to r.): Billy Hagood, Ebby Mayfield, Cliff Stovall, Joe Hardin, Dick Wood, and Tom Wise.

Schedule

2:00 P. M.—Registration in Douglas House, Alpha Psi Delta assisting.

2:00-3:00 P. M.—Campus Tours, directed by Blue Key.

3:00 P. M.—Program of Welcome in Neville Hall auditorium.

4:00 P. M.—Faculty Reception in Douglas House.

5:30 P. M.—Supper in Judd Dining Hall and Leroy Springs Gym.

8:00 P. M.—PC vs Catawba, Johnson Field.

10:30 P. M.—Open Houses, Douglas House and Fraternity suites.

Scabbard and Blade Society Adds Four New Members

• Ceremonies Held This Morning

Four new members were tapped this morning into the Presbyterian Chapter of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade honorary military society. The four, all senior cadets who were chosen on the basis of outstanding leadership and proficiency in military, are Bobby Brown of Fort Mill; Ben Donaldson of Blackshear, Ga.; Carl Latham of Rock Hill; and Gene McKethan of Fayetteville, N. C.

Officers of the local chapter, known as Company K, 10th Regiment, are Jim Bennett, Capt.; Dick Wood, 1st Lt.; Cliff Stovall, 2nd Lt.; Dave Magee, 1st Sgt.; and Carl Gibson, Military Ball Chairman.

At the last regular meeting of the group, Cadet Lt. Dave Magee was selected to represent Company K, 10th Regiment, at the national convention of the society at Pittsburgh, Pa., on November 19-21.

Magee, 1st Sgt. of the local chapter, will vote for Company K at the convention. His expenses will be paid by the National Society.

Tickets Honored By Other Groups

Presbyterian College students, members of the Clinton Community Concert Series, may use their tickets for other events in the areas listed below.

Anderson College auditorium, Anderson, 8:15 p. m.: Nov. 17—Beaux Arts Trio of New York; April 26—Columbus Boy Choir; and Jan. 29—The Medleys.

Municipal Auditorium, Greenville, Corner E. North and Church Streets, 8:15 p. m.: Sept. 25—Jerome Hines; Oct. 24—Opera "Rigoletto"; Jan. 13—Philadelphia Orchestra, Thomas Brockman, soloist; March 1—Chicago Ballet.

Greewood High School auditorium, Greenwood, 8:00 p. m.: Nov. 9—Eugene Conley, tenor; Jan. 28—The Medleys; March 8—Atlanta Symphony.

Greer Senior High School auditorium, 8:15 p. m.: Dec. 4—The Chanticleers Quartet; March 21—Joseph Battista; and Jan. 11—Archer and Giles.

Chapel Absences

Those students who wish to check on their Chapel Absences are asked to do so on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2 until 4 o'clock. James Woodward, head chapel checker, will be in the Administration building between those hours to meet with students.

The Charcoal Cellar recently opened in the Douglas House has met student acceptance. The Cellar is a favorite spot for evening meditations. Here, meditating, we see (l. to r.): Sonny Ross, Dick Wood, and Ebby Mayfield.

Alumnus Scores With Second Book

by ALLEN FREEMAN

Douglas Kiker, who graduated from PC in 1952, has recently published his second novel which follows an unusually successful first work. The Southerner, a well narrated story about public school desegregation, was published in 1957 and received fine critical notices.

"Strangers On The Shore," Kiker's latest work tells about Lieut. Tom McCullough and his relations with his wife, family and lover. The Navy is shown as a system of power, combining force and prestige. The great contrasts of family life and Navy life are "dramatized brilliantly."

The New York Times said in a recent review, "The fact is, at 29, Mr. Kiker is a very good novelist and observer, in the O'Hara style, with plenty of drive, pace and story sense."

Douglas Kiker, who was an outstanding student writer and editor during his undergraduate days at PC, served as a reporter on the "Spartanburg Herald" and "Atlanta Journal," and spent some time as a Navy lieutenant. He is now an instructor at the Navy Officer Candidate School in Newport, Rhode Island, where he has good opportunities for writing.

All reports seem to indicate that Kiker has a very promising future as a popular writer.

SCA Freshman Group Chooses Officers

The Freshman Cabinet of the Student Christian Association met last night to discuss plans for the coming year and to elect officers. The fo lowing were elected: Lloyd Gray, Cedartown, Ga., president; Butch Sain, Fort Mill, vice-president; and John Gettys, Union, secretary-treasurer.

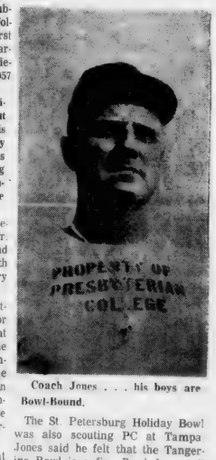
The major project of the freshman cabinet at present is the publication and distribution of the student directory.

At the state SCA conference held recently, Edd Collins, a sophomore from Pageland, was elected treasurer of the South Carolina Student Christian Association. Present at the meeting were 132 members from schools all over the state. Other officers are Vici Smith, University of South Carolina, president; James Rembert, Citadel, vice-president; and Emmy Smith, Clemson, secretary.

Jones Boys Head South on Jan. 1

This was the big moment. The Blue Hose accepted a bid to appear in the Tangerine Bowl football game on January 1, 1960.

Grady Cooksey, commissioner of the Elks Lodge Tangerine Bowl Commission which sponsors the annual charity game for the benefit of the Harry-Ana Crippled Children's Home in nearby Umatilla, said the bid was offered Saturday night after the Hosemen defeated Tampa 27-0. Coach Frank Jones accepted the bid.



Thus far the opponent remains to be named. The game will be played in the 12,000-seat municipally owned stadium, starting at 8:15 p. m.

This is the 14th annual Tangerine Bowl contest. Last year East Texas State defeated Missouri Valley 26-7.

Athletic Director and Head Coach Frank Jones expressed pleasure that his Blue Hose were selected to appear in one of the better bowls.

Jones said he wanted to wait until more games were played before making the announcement, but that the Orlando bowl committee was insistent after the romp over Tampa.

Coach Jones stated that he could not give much thought to the bowl now. He said, "Our big thought in Catawba, who beat Elon 21-8. We're liable to lose two or three games, but I hope we don't from here on out."

Coach Jones . . . his boys are Bowl-Bound.

The St. Petersburg Holiday Bowl was also scouting PC at Tampa Jones said he felt that the Tangerine Bowl is a fine Bowl for small colleges.

Response to the announcement of the Blue Hose's first Bowl trip has brought about a great deal of response. Plans are being made in Clinton for a special train, composed of townspeople, to make the January 1 trip. Alumni reaction has also been very good.

Ticket reservations may be made through the Athletic Department. The cost of the seats will range from $3.00 to $5.00.

Team headquarters while in Orlando will be the San Juan Hotel. The squad will head for the vacation land state some five days prior to the bowl clash.

BSU Holds Social

The Baptist Student Union held a social Thursday night at Peck's Ranch. Guests of the group were student nurses from the Greenville Nurses' Home BSU.

The Greenville deputation brought a short devotional program to the PC organization, which was followed by the party. Halloween was the theme of the event.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Trials: Public vs Closed

Ours is a small campus—and like small towns, prone to gossip. This has been epecially evident in actions of the Student Council. Without exception, closed trials of the council have bred mis-conceived rumors.

Every student hears a version of the proceedings, adds his own views and prejudices, and passes the story on. The truth, hid behind the closed doors of the court room, is often distorted and mistreated.

As a solution to this situation, we propose open trials whenever possible. We realize that such an action would present problems ,but we feel that the results would be well worth the effort. However unpleasant the truth might be, it is better than gossip-colored conjecture.

Opening trials would present a challenge to the council, and especially to the prosecutor. The proceedings would have to be conducted in an orderly fashion, after the manner of regular courts, without influence of the gallery.

The accused, appearing before his peers, would be able to openly prove or dis-prove his innocence. Students attending the trials could see their student council in action and be sure that justice was being administered.

Again—there will be problems, but there will also be an end to mis-informed whispers and rumor resultant from the mystery of the closed court room.

Blue Sock's Policy

Frequent questions on the policies of The Blue Stocking in the printing of letters to the editor makes us feel that perhaps this is a good time to reiterate our editorial policy.

The Blue Stocking has received fifteen All-American citations by the Associated Collegiate Press. It is our firm intent to maintain this tradition by complete, accurate, and unbiased news and sports coverage, supplemented by entertaining and enlightening features. We also propose to continue an equitable editorial policy, with opinions reflecting those of the staff.

We shall support programs which we consider helpful to the school and student body and oppose those contrary to the best interests of the same.

As for letters, we will withhold, for good reason, the name of a reader who wishes to express his views on a controversial topic, although we much prefer to publish the names and we think the conscientious student should allow himself to be identified. He should not be ashamed of his views. We discourage petty gripes, and encourage constructive thinking that is free of malice and libel.

The GREEKS

... Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Psi Chapter was happy to play host to freshmen, non-fraternity men and faculty at their Open Social Thursday night.

The Fraternity will welcome guests to the campus this weekend with an open house tomorrow afternoon and a dance following the PC-Catawba clash.

SIGMA NU

Orders for mugs were taken by Melvin Sloan . . . everyone that ordered one please get your money in! We discussed our trip to Charleston. The paddle was swung several times.

Congratulations to Brother Joe Hardin who made the Who's Who in American Colleges. Buster Rollins was made Sigma Nu intramural player of the week.

THETA CHI

Plans were made for an open house in the fraternity suite Saturday afternoon and night. All freshmen and non-fraternity men are invited to attend with their parents.

PI KAPPA PHI

Pat Shuman has been selected as this year's fraternity sponsor. The fraternity suite will be open Saturday from 2 till 12 o'clock.

The Blue Stocking

Rated All-American by ACP

Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association
Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR MAURICE SCHWARTZ
NEWS EDITOR BILLY HATCHETT
Associate Editor Paul White
Sports Editor Martin Chitty
Feature Editor Graham Edmunds
Copy Edior Allen Freeman
News Staff Don Kay, Fred Meade, Bob Smith, Mike Saunders, Bill Craig, Becky Earnest, Don Lohman, Robert Kendall, Gerald Pitts, and Murray White.
Photographer Lamar Hawkins
Sports Staff Ed Loring, Bob Steveus, John Craig, David Stricklin

PC GOES TO THE COUNTRY

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

This past weekend was one of the most memorable in the eventful life of me and my old buddy, Percival Crudely. This was the weekend that we went home to the farm of Clem Baker, a hallmate of ours from Briar Fork, Georgia.

We left Saturday after classes and arrived in the metropolis of Briar Fork about 2:15. Briar Fork is a thriving community with one Texico filling station and restaurant combined where you could eat and get gas, and one general store which also housed the post office. These two businesses serve almost fifty-seven townsmen.

After we had taken the thirty-five cent guided tour of the big city, we headed for Clem's farm and on arrival there met Mr. and Mrs. Baker. Having met our hosts, Clem proceeded to show us over the acreage.

"Clem, you sure do have a lot of property here!"

"Yeah we do, G. B. We've got about 180 acres."

"And you've got a big house to go with it, too."

"It's not too large for a farm, though, G. B."

"It's not half as big as the one I heard about out in Texas, G. B."

"Who's house, P. C.?"

"I don't know who's it was, but it was so big that the owner had Burma Shave signs between the bedroom and bathroom."

"That's pretty big, alright, P. C. Say, Clem, what's that running through those bushes?"

"Nothing to worry about, G. B. It's just a rabbit."

"One of those stupid things?"

"Wait a minute, G. B., you're talking about my sport now. Those rabbits may not be able to add and subtract, but they sho' can multiply."

"I'm sorry I mentioned it, Clem."

"That's alright, G. B., but we'd better go get on our plow boots and get to work."

"Wait a minute, what's this work jazz? When do we eat?"

"Well, P. C., you're on a farm now and this place was meant to be busy. As for food, we might can round up some cold 'coon, greens, and spuds. Here we are at the house, fellows, just make yourselves at home."

"Thanks, Clem."

"What'd he say about food, G. B.?"

"He said turnip greens, potatoes, and something. Shh! Here he comes.' '

"Here, you go, fellows, put on these Brogans."

"Mine don't fit, Clem. They're too long."

"The trouble there, P. C. is that your toe nails are too short."

"Oh!"

"Let's go look over the South Forty."

"OK, Clem, lead the way."

"You all watch out where you're steppin' or you're liable to find your foot in a gopher hole."

"Right, Clem."

"Ah, look at that beautiful sight, looks like we're gonna have a bumper crop this year."

"Yeah, but say, Clem, who wants bumpers?"

"Oh, P. C., you know what he's talking about. Say, Clem, this crop makes you real happy, don't it?"

"About as happy as a bucket full of red ants in a barrel full of molasses."

"And that's happy, too, G. B."

"I know it, P. C."

"G. B., what do you think of our herd of cows there in the pasture?"

"They look like good heifers Clem."

"My grandmother had a cow on her farm but had to sell it because they couldn't get any milk."

"What was the cow's name, P. C.?"

"Fred."

Well, that's about all I remember about our excursion expcept that we sure did have to get up early that Sunday morning to go hear the Circuit Rider before he went on to Gravel Switch, another of those thriving Georgia communities.

I never will forget Ma and P. Baker. Broadly speaking, they are two of the nicest folks that I've ever met. They remarked when we left that if it hadn't been for Clem, P. C. and I being with them that week end that they'd have been as lonely as a bull in an empty dairy.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"SO I FINALLY HAD TO DRAW TH' LINE!"

Frontiers of Education:

Teachers For Tomorrow

(The first of a series on Presbyterian College's "Frontiers of Education")

Those students who belong to the class of '62 and are planning to enter into high school education will be the first to receive full benefits from the new program now being planned for teacher education.

Dr. Bellingrath and the other members of the Academic Board, along with Mr. Ford, Instructor of the Education Department, are now co-ordinating their plans and ideas into a program that promises to be unique in the state.

These plans are as yet uncompleted and there are several technical problems involved, but there awaits another promising improvement in the scope of Presbyterian College. Once these plans are completed and all the minute stumbling blocks are removed, those seeking a teacher's certificate from PC should be able to find the best means possible to help obtain such credentials.

At present, the students have been doing their observing during the first semester of their senior year—in addition to carrying the regular academic load. In the spring, four months after their observing has been completed, they go into their weeks of practice teaching. The new educational program will strive to improve on this situation by having the potential students take all their educational courses in the second semester of their senior year. Their last semester will be divided into three six-weeks periods. The first period will be occupied with study and concentration on two courses on principles and methods of education. The second will be a time where the students will do their observing and directed teaching without having to carry other classroom courses of study. Once the students have received their practical experience, they will spend the last six weeks of the semester on the subject of child growth and development. This will include courses in child and adolescent psychology as well as educational psychology.

(Continued on page four)

Bobby Pate and Bill Hill, two of the backfield threesome that includes Quarterback Bob Waters. The trio leads the Blue Hose attack for us. With outstandnig gridiron records they will play an important role in the Catawba-PC clash.

Blue Hose Go on Indian Warpath In Third Home Field Engagement

• Might Be Second Sell-Out

A Parents' Day gathering will witness the undefeated PC'uns as they attempt to make the Catawba Indians victim Number 7.

Although the Indians sport a rather poor record, the Hosemen still remember a stinging 14-14 deadlock last season at Salisbury.

Catawba is led by freshman fullback Joe Arahill and halfback Jean Worthington. Arahill is considered one of the best prospective fullbacks in his area. He is currently averaging 4.4 yards per carry.

Arahill also scored two touchdowns against Elon last weekend. He stands 5'10" and weighs 205 pounds.

Worthington is noted for his speed to the outside and is always a TD threat when he gets into the defensive secondary.

The Blue Hose will depend on a team effort centered around a flashy backfield of Bobby Pate, Bob Waters, Bill Hill, and Billy Benton who replaces an injured Dave Morgan.

The Hose have played 16 games against Catawba, having won 9 and lost 5, with two ending in ties.

The North State opponents are considered one of the most improved ball team in North Carolina. The Indians depend heavily on freshmen and sophomores, who are just now hitting their potential.

Coach Jones will probably start Vastine and Chastain at ends, Schofill and Ledbetter at tackles, Ogden and DuBose at guards, Copelan at center, Waters at quarterback, Pate and Benton at halfback, and Hill at fullback.

Joe Arahill, Catawba's linebusting fullback from Cliffside Park, N. J. A freshman, he averages 4.4 yards per carry, and scored two TDs gainst Elon last weekend.

Socks Strangle Florida Team 27-0

A big second half did the trick as the "Bowl Bound" Blue Hose downed Tampa 27-0 last Saturday in a Florida slaughter.

The Hosemen couldn't go in the first quarter as Jay Gould's quick kicks pushed them back. In the latter part of the first period Bob Waters punted out of bounds at the 50. Tampa's quarterback, Ron Perez, ran 11 yards, and halback John Mitchell gained 12 to the 27, but Waters intercepted a Percy pass at the two to stop the threat.

In the second period the Hosemen roared back 75 yards to score. Waters got 21 on two passes. Hill ran 14, and Benton picked up 13 which put the ball on the 17. Hill scored from the four. Sease converted.

Another 75-yard drive in the fourth accounted for a second score. Waters threw to Pate for 25 yards and to Chastain for 22, and Pate scored it from the eight.

Midway in the last period, Presbyterian took over on the Tampa 32. Waters passed to Chastain for the touchdown. Chastain caught the pass on the ten and streaked into the end zone. Waters passed to Hill for two points making it 21-0.

A short 12-yard punt by Jay Gould gave the Blue Hose possession at the Tampa 30 late in the quarter. Nat Cole passed to Dave Parrish to the 16 and Bruce Barnes scored from 16 yards out.

Hill, Pate, Waters

Threesome Highlight Hose

Sweeping along on its undefeated streak of six straight victories, Presbyterian College prepares this week to entertain Catawba in PC's final home game here Saturday night.

The Hosemen appeared to gather added momentum with each game. They trounced the Univiersity of Tampa by an impressive 27-0 count last weekend for their most explosive combination of passing and running attack this season.

Once again it was the backfield threesome of Bobby Pate, Bob Waters and Bill Hill leading the attack forces. And they continue to dominate the cumulative individual statistics released today.

Pate, the race horse halfback from Fitzgerald, Ga., pushed his six-game rushing total to 493 yards in 83 carries for an average of almost 6 yards per try. He also added another score to push his point production to 54 points thus far, and his 10 pass receptions for 174 yards gives him the leadership in this department, too.

Quarterback Waters, a needle-threading Sylvania, Ga., aerialist, continues to hit on 50 per cent of his passes. He has accounted for 440 yards and 4 touchdowns on 29 completions in 58 attempts. And he has added 74 yards rushing to bring his total offensive figures to 514 yards by land and air.

Fullback Hill, meanwhile, provides the inside running punch for the Blue Hose attack. He has smashed his 205-pound way to 337 yards in 74 carries for a 4.7 yard average, and he runs second in team scoring with 36 points.

End Paul Chastain of Central follows Pate in pass receptions with 112 yards on 10 catches, and end Jimmy Kolb is next on the basis of 6 receptions for 104 yards.

Singing The Blues

With MARTIN CHITTY

And history was made.

That's the way the 1959 football season will go into the record books.

On Monday it was announced that the Blue Hose will make their first bowl appearance in Orlando at the Tangerine Bowl.

Two years ago Frank Jones and his staff came to PC. He had not had the advantage of spring training and had done very little recruiting. The Blue Hose suffered a dismal season, losing 10 games. The only bright spot of the entire season was the scoreless deadlock with Lenoir-Rhyne.

Then the drought ended. Jones did it the quick way by importing some excellent material from junior colleges. In this group came Pate, Schofill, Morris, Cole, and Morgan, plus the arrival of an unusually fine group of freshmen. The Hosemen won 6 games and Jones was South Carolina and District NIAA "Coach of the Year."

From there you know the story. Six straight wins, number three ranking in the nation and a bowl bid.

A tip of the hat to Frank Jones, a man who does his job and does it well.

Ken Webb, former PC star, is still making good in the pro circuit. Sunday he scored a touchdown from his fullback post to aid in the 17-7 upset of the Detroit Lions over the Los Angeles Rams.

In the midst of football excitement, a group of athletes begin the long road of pre-season practice rather unnoticed. New Basketball Coach Merlyn Veren put his roundballers through a rugged week of running in an attempt to get the squad in physical shape.

OFF BEATS—The Citadel's star basketball center, Bob Blackledge, quit the squad because of academics . . . students are already making plans to take in the bowl in Florida.

FUTURE RECORDS—PC over Catawba by 12; Newberry over Guilford by 16; Davidson over Wofford by 7.

PICK - A - WINNER

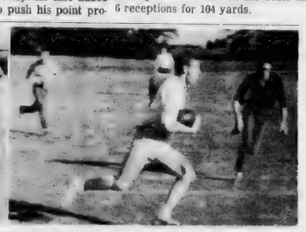
Last week's contest resulted in a tie between Loren Eagles and Billy Piephoff. Now, here's your chance to PICK-A-WINNER.

Name _____

Dorm _____

PC	( )	CATAWBA	( )
Wofford	( )	Davidson	( )
Newberry	( )	Guilford	( )
Clemson	( )	Rice	( )
USC	( )	Maryland	( )
LSU	( )	Mississippi	( )
Citadel	( )	William and Mary	( )
Duke	( )	Georgia Tech	( )
N. C. State	( )	Wyoming	( )
North Carolina	( )	Tennessee	( )

I predict that_____points will be the winning margin in the PC-CATAWBA game.



RULES

1—Entries must be turned in to The Blue Stocking office by noon Saturday. Just slide them under the door.
2—Entries must be on the above printed form.
3—Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4—In case of ties the contestant most nearly guessing the margin in the PC-CATAWBA game.
5—No member of The Blue Stocking staff is eligible.
6—Decisions of the judges will be final; winner announced in next week's paper.

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

YOUNG'S GULF STATION
Road Service - Accessories
Tires - Tubes
N. Broad St. Phone 1515

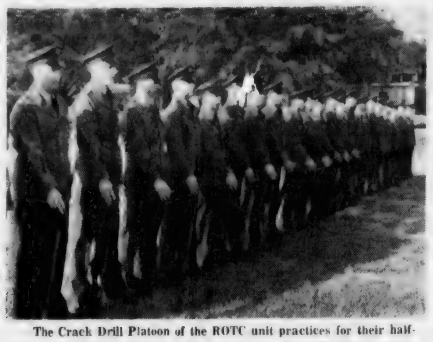
Pictured above is some of the action that is automatically accompanied with the various intramural games. At left Jerry Chitty is being stopped by an aggressive opponent. At right Ed Jackson gains yardage to help the PiKA's in their tie game with the KA's.

Intramural Football Nears Season Finish

The week's only game was contested between the forces of Pi Kappa Alpha and Sigma Nu. The fast moving PiKA's held their place in the undefeated ranks by crushing the Sigs 32-0. Speedy Ed Jackson and Billy Hagood showed masterful receptive form in snagging passes from Don Denning. The PiKers also displayed several tricky reverses in their victory.

Dougald Clark was the bright spot in the Sigs' losing effort as he played a rugged defensive game. Jerry Chitty shone offensively as he made several nice runbacks of kick-offs.

It was another hard fought intramural game, but the Sigs just couldnt' get their offense to click. Well timed interceptions by Hagood, Segrest, and Jackson stopped the sig drives at the very time when it seemed that they were rolling.



The football championship now lies between the KA's and PiKA's. Last week both teams seemed a little off as they played to a hard fought 7-7 tie. Other teams in the league are the Golden Rats, Shroes, Freshmen, and PiKaps.

Something new bolsters the already interesting intramural program. Mr. Montgomery announced today that all those interested in forming a soccer team, please turn in their roster to him by next week-end.

He also asks that those who are still in the ping pong tournament to finish their playoffs.

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

The Crack Drill Platoon of the ROTC unit practices for their half-time appearance tomorrow night at the Catawba-PC gridiron clash. The unit, now in its second year, has proved a valuable addition to ROTC at Presbyterian.

Glover Elected To Association Post

PC's Mr. John S. Glover was elected president of the South Carolina Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese at their meeting recently held in Douglas House. There are two meetings each year—in the Spring and Fall. The association is open to teachers in high schools, colleges and universities throughout the state. Mr. Glover is the third president of the three year old organization.

The chapter seeks to promote interest in the study of Spanish by organizing each Spring, under the auspices of the national organization, a competition among high school students. As a result of the chapter's efforts in this direction, a number of high school students may receive small scholarships. These scholarships are sponsored by the local chapter and are not aided by the national organization.

Teachers

(Continued from page two)

is a potentiallity that all these subjects will be united into one classroom. Child psychology may, in the future, include a plan for each student to have an opportunity to observe a particular child for a certain period to gain further practical experience.

Should the program be adopted many problems will be destroyed and improvements will be made to offer the student better preparation for future educational service. Perhaps the greatest improvement will be that the students will not have to carry other courses of study while they are doing their observation and practice teaching. This will relieve the pressure from them as well as removing the problem of slowing down classes until they return. They will also be able to carry on their practice teaching immediately after they have completed their observation.

Opinion Poll

Cellar Finds Approval!

by MURRAY WHITE

Presbyterian College students were favorable on the opening of the new student hangout, the Charcoal Grill, as reflected by a student poll this week.

Mike Brown: I think that it is a very much needed addition to the PC campus. The canteen certainly filled the gaps, but a hangout of a somewhat more informal nature has been a fulfilled need.

Carl Latham: I think that it was a very good idea. It could develop into one of the most useful places on the campus. A hand of applause to the one who thought of it.

Tony Gavalas: One of the greatest things that has happened since I have been here.

Byron Hollingsworth: Finally, someone is to be congratulated for daring to defy tradition. The Charcoal Cellar has started the wheel rolling.

The canteen serves its purpose, but when students need a place to take their dates, they will now think of the cellar. I hope that it will be felt necessary to broaden the menu.

Dick Faulkner: It is a good idea and it has an atmosphere that is hard to find.

Gay Maddox: It is a good place to take our parents and friends when they visit our campus. We have needed such a place for a long time.

Paul Campbell: I think that it is a good idea. It has a different atmosphere and is quieter. It also gives a change in eating places. I think that it has good possibilities.

Frank Sells: I seriously think that it is a good thing, but a bit too expensive. It should be left open to visitors. Why don't they serve tangerine juice"

Mr. Powell: It was a lot of fun to set up and so far as I can tell every minute of my time was well spent because of the kind remarks and pleasant expressions on the faces of satisfied customers. Any organization that would like to have their banner or pennant put up in the cellar, we will be happy to have them. The place is not designed to make a killing and I hope that the present trend for filling a need for a place for beef and bull sessions will continue.

BROADWAY Theatre

Mon.-Tues., Nov. 2-3
Ask Any Girl
Rod Taylor, Claire Kelly

Wed.-Thur., Nov. 4-5
The Man Who Understood Women
Leslie Caron, Henry Fonda

Fri.-Sat., Nov. 6-7
Yellowstone Kelly
Clint Walker, Edward Byrnes

WHITE ROSE
E. Carolina at Woodrow St.
92 Octane Regular
ONLY 29 9/10 c
99 Octane Premium
ONLY 32 9/10 c

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tars and more taste—in one great cigarette.

Four field goals in one game by a man who'd never kicked one before! Bobby Conrad himself said, "I never kicked a field goal in high school or college. In fact, I never even tried." But the amazing Texas A&M back broke two All Star records by booting four three-pointers, including one for 44 yards, as the 1958 college stars upset the Detroit Lions, 35 to 19. Conrad is now a Chicago Cardinal.

Light into that Live Modern flavor!

©1959 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Dr. and Mrs. Carter, PC's only husband and wife team, pose as they prepare assignments for the chemistry labs.

Seniors Pick Superlatives; Choose Eight Standouts

PC's senior class has chosen their senior superlatives for 1959-60. Elections were held recently during a class meeting at which the class nominated a slate of candidates and then voted on them.

Superlatives for this year are as follows: Bob Waters, Sylvania, Ga., Best All-Around; Jack Crandall, Orlando, Fla., Most Likely to Succeed; Ebby Mayfield, Greer, Most Popular; Billy Hagood, Easley, Most intellectual; Paul Chastain, Central, Most Athletic; Gen "Lacey" McKethan, Fayetteville, N. C., Wittiest; and Cliff Stovall, Mullins, Best Dressed.

These seniors will be spotlighted on a special page in the 1960 PaC-SaC, as the Senior Superlatives of past years have been. The election of senior sperlatives to appear in the PaC-SaC is one of tradition that stems back several years.

Faculty Members Attend Conventions

Five professors from Presbyterian College attended the annual South Atlantic Modern Language Association meeting held last week in Atlanta, Ga.

Dr. John Stevenson, Instructors Durant and King repesented the English Department, and Irwin and Adams were delegates for the French and Spanish Departments.

Dr. Stevenson addressed the large delegation during the final portion of the program. His subject was A. E. Housman, a modern American poet. Dr. Stevenson's address was part of the work he has completed toward his study and analysis of Housman which will appear in book form some time next year.

Next week, John Madden will represent the Economics Department at the annual convention of economics professors in Southern colleges and universities. The convention lasts four days and Madden will be Presbyterian's first representative in recent years.

Dr. Stevenson will also be away next week, representing Presbyte-

(Continued on page four)

IRC Meets Monday; Bean Chosen Veep

The International Relations Club held its regular meeting Monday, November 9. Bob Bean was elected vice-president to replace resigning Tony Gavalas.

Captain Scott was the guest speaker and delivered an address on the American soldier in Europe.

Plans were made for the State and Southeastern Regional Conventions to be held December 9-12. The conventions are to be held at the University of South Carolina.

Pope Announces Guidance Benefits

The Presbyterian Guidance Center is open to PC students of all denominations who wish to take advantage of its testing and counseling service. Appointments can be made with Mrs. Goldsmith, secretary, in the general reception room from 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., Monday through Friday, and until noon on Saturdays. Time, work, and interest are the only fees for the tests of vocational interests, abilities, and personality traits.

All test results or problems discussed with Dr. Louis B. Pope are highly confidential, and are not reported to administrative officers or professors. Counseling is given in a number of fields, including business, pre-law, pre-medical, preministerial and teaching. It is now possible to get the teacher certification requirements of various states.

The counseling room also contains undergraduate and graduate college catalogs that are essential in planning a higher education.

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress
Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., November 13, 1959 No. 7

New SCA Proposal for RE Week Adopted By Faculty Committee

Blue Sock Shown At National Meet

Issues of The Blue Stocking of last semester form a special display at the convnetion of the Associated Collegiate Press in New York City this week.

In this manner, The Blue Stocking will be recognized as a consistent All-American honor rating holder. Representing the Presbyterian College student newspaper is Editor Evin Varner.

The convention, held in the Hotel New Yorker, began on Wednesday, and will end this weekend.

The ACP, largest organization of its kind, is recognized as the top authority on the collegiate press today. Norman Cousins, vice-president and editor of Saturday Review, will headline the list of eminent speakers. Workshops will be held in the various phases of newspaper production.

The delegates will have the opportunity to talk with people who are considered "tops" in the field of journalism and receive criticism and suggestions about how their papers may be improved.

Many outstanding editors, newspaper men ,and magazine writers from New York publications are also featured on the program.

First Concert Has Violinist As Star

The first of four attractions of the Community-College Concert series has been set for Friday, Nov. 20. Eric Friedman, violinist, will appear at Thornwell Orphanage Auditorium next Friday at 8:15 p. m.

Due to the limited number of seats available to students until the completion of Belk Auditorium, the Dean's office will distribute what tickets are available on a first-come-first-served basis.

Eric Friedman, one of the most exciting violin "discoveries" of recent seasons, possesses a "rare power for musical communication." Even before his trumphantly successful New York debut in Carnegie Hall last season, he had appeared extensively with various orchestras. He is currently making his first national tour.

The registrar requests that all students who obtained applications for changing to the new method of academic study, to please turn them into the registrar's office immediately.

Guest Speaker At WF Sunday Night

Westminster Fellowship welcomes guest speaker Dave Robinson Sunday night. Dave, a student at Davidson College, will speak to the fellowship on the subject of opportunities for Christian service in New York and his experiences at a church-sponsored work camp in Europe.

• Students Given Attendance Choice

This year, Religious Emphasis Week will follow a new schedule which has been worked out by the Committee on Religious Activities and the SCA Cabinet. This schedule, which is a revision of last year's, was devised as a result of interest shown by the students.

In order to give the student a choice in Religious Emphasis Week the following schedule has been proposed:

A. The regular schedule of classes will be followed.

B. Seminar classes (as last year) will be held at 9:30 (to 10:30) and 11:30 (to 12:30) on Wednesday and Thursday mornings of RE Week.

C. A student will choose to attend his regularly scheduled classes or the seminar classes. He will sign in if he attends a seminar class. These lists will be cross-checked with professors' absentee lists or rolls and if a student's name does not appear on the seminar list and is on the absentee list, he will be given an unexcused absence from the regular class or classes missed.

D. Non-compusory night chapel programs will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights of RE Week. The Thursday night program will conclude RE Week.

E. Afternoon classes and labs will be held as scheduled.

Religious Emphasis Week will be held March 9-11, 1960. Presently plans are being made for a minimum of four speakers who will arrive on campus Tuesday, the ninth. Following the Tuesday night service, there will be an SCA Reception in the Douglas House for speakers, administration, faculty, and students. Fraternity discussion groups will follow the Wednesday evening service, and all non-fraternity men will be invited. No plans for religious activities will be made for any afternoon other than individual appointments with speakers.

Robed Choir Posts Schedule And Breakdown of Sections

The Presbyterian College Robed Choir will present its first program of the season when it journeys to the Mullins Presbyterian Church on November 22. On the same date the Choir will also sing at the Bennettsville Presbyterian Church.

This is the first weekend trip of the season. The Choir is due to make numerous other weekend trips throughout the year. Those will include trips to Atlanta and Athens, Ga., December 6; Greenwood and Spartanburg, January 10; Thomasville, Ga., Moultrie, Ga., and Abbeville, February 7-8; Darlington and Great Falls, February 21; Easley and Union, February 28.

In March the gleesters present concerts in Charleston and Columbia on the 13th. April 24 the Choir will be in Greer and on May 1 they will sing in Sumter.

In April the Robed Choir will embark on its annual Spring Tour, traveling to Washington, D. C., for three engagements in that area and presentations in several cities throughout South Carolina, North Carolina, and Virginia.

The program this year is built around the theme of "Christ the Lord," and is based upon scripture readings and sacred musical selections. Again this year, spirituals and chorales highlight the concerts.

The Choir is under the direction of Dr. Edouard Patte, who is in his thirteenth season as conductor of the group, and will feature, in personnel, a double quartet which will sing four numbers, and four readers who will introduce each choral rendering with a selection from the Bible.

This year's group is composed of 31 men and includes in the first tenor section: Frank Sells, Lonnie Love, Roy Autry, Rollin Butler, and Charles Kirkland. Singing in the second tenor section are Bill Stubbs, Cliff Stovall, Rohe Eshbaugh, Ben Vincent, Charlie Cook, Mark Glenn, Bobby Piephoff, Wirt Skinner, and Richard Stanford.

First Basses are Dick McGaughey, Tom Wise, Billy Piephoff, Paul Layton, Tom Cook, Griff Helwig, Johnny Dickerson, Karl Bosserman, and Jerry Howington. Second Basses include Hal Roberts, Gra-

(Continued on page four)

Dr. Patte and Robed Choir prepare for this season's tour.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

As Others See It...

(The following editorial appeared in The Appalachian, student publication of Appalachian State Teachers College, of Boone, N. C. The editorial was entitled "Tired of Hypocrisy." Although written on and about another campus, we feel that the following bears thoughtful reading by the Presbyterian Student Body.—The Editor)

Honor. Everywhere we turn there it is. People write about it, talk about it, make fun of it, judge by it, and yet everyone tries to attain it—in one way or another.

The committee appointed to devise and study an honor system or code for Appalachian (almost every college and university has some type of system) has spent months planning and writing a code, while the ideal situation would be to have an unwritten code. That is, perhaps, too idealistic.

The failure of the present code, which is hyprocritical, that has appeared in print in the college catalog and student handbook for several years lies with the students, for honor must be part of our unwritten rules and ideals. Thus, no amount of planning and writing will insure success.

Reportedly, several years ago the Student Council attended a faculty meeting, there asking that all infringements on the honor code be reported. That action turned the code into a farce, as it was a clear-cut request for proctoring.

Yet, the decayed honor system was and supposedly still is the foundation of student government at Appalachian. Complete hypocrisy!

But where must the blame be placed? (In a situation such as this, we must blame someone, as that is the usual procedure.) Can we blame the administration this time? This writer thinks not. Our hypocrisy has been tolerated far too long already. Then, the fault must lie with the students.

It has been suggested that the new honor system (if it is accepted, it will certainly be new) be started with underclassmen, who will be required to nurture it (honor) and get it on its feet. And, after all, upperclassmen, who are at the threshold of the professional world, have little need for such a virtue. At the same time, however, we know we must be realistic; that is, how many upperclassmen could untimidly "tell" on another student when a large group have probably been dishonest at one time or another. And, at the same time, we also know it is a sad state that upperclassmen cannot leave the legacy of which Shakespeare wrote so highly.

Before a system is adpoted, we should be set up for each infringement in order to avoid partiality. Circumstances in various cases will differ, but, nevertheless, an infringement is an infringement.

Perhaps we aren't completely hyprocritical, though, for several are carrying the load for which many others are responsible.

HALL RECREATION PARLOR

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

By GRAHAM EDMUNDS

Wednesday afternoon I was returning from cleaning my gun for Friday's inspection. As I approached Smyth C, I could hear a small commotion. When I entered this high rent district, the noise had turned into a riot—and it was all coming from my room, too. I keyed the door and as I opened it a dart-type missile with a point on it, breezed past my head. I pulled out my white handkerchief (which, in case you're interested, is 60% Dacron), and waved it vigorously. From inside I heard my roommate, Percival Crudely, shout, "Cease fire. Come on in, G. B."

I got up off the floor and entered. 'What's going on, P. C.?"

P. C. shut the door and locked it again. "Let's go in the other room, P. C."

Week's Best Time

Breakfast	2:07
Lunch	3:34
Supper	3:68

"What's the crowd gathered for?"

"Well, ever since we got the dart board in here, this is the rcreation parlor for the hall."

"I'll buy that."

"Where you been, PC.?"

'Oh, over in the canteen grabbin' a Pepsi."

"But I thought you were broke."

"I bought it on the lay-away plan."

"Say, that's a good idea."

"No, really, P. C., I've been down to Belk's Bargain Basement—meditating over our first loss."

"Where?"

"The new auditorium."

"Oh. There's nothing to meditate about. We might have lost, but we did it in good sportsmanship, and all those games we won we at least didn't have to paint up a campus to do it."

"You're right there, PC."

"Well, G. B., what did you think about Parents Day?"

"I think we had a good turn out for it, but did you notice how certain ones put on the dog for our guests?"

"How do you mean, G. B.?"

"Well, I was on the second floor of Douglas House and noticed that all the doors were unlocked and standing open—this is something that never happens."

"Now that you mention it, G. B noticed something, too."

"What's that, P. C.?"

"Well, I noticed that they h clean shower curtains at the end the hall in the 24-hour washeteria.

"Yeah, I saw that, too! Say, P C., when you gonna change yo uniform and put on some decen looking clothes? After all, it 3:15!"

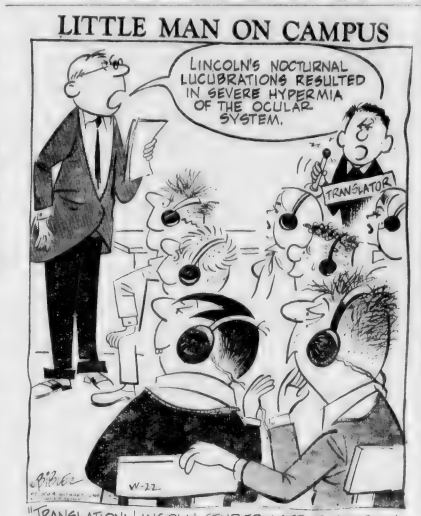
"Well, I was just trying to be li that advertisemen."

"What advetrisement, P. C.?"

"You know ,the one that say 'Look like a page out of Esquir wear your Army greens to class'."

(Continued on page four)

Letter To the Editor



Editor
The Blue Stocking
Presbyterian College
Clinton, S. C.
Dear Sir:

Just in case there is any doubt, I wanted to write this letter to let the football team and coaches know that all of us are proud of the team and the fine game they played at Charleston.

Our thin blue line defied the greater depth of the Cadets and we all feel that the Blue Hose are still the great champions of 1959. Anyway, who else in South Carolina has a bowl bid?

Sincerely,
ED KENNEY,
Aiken Standard and Review

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"TRANSLATION: LINCOLN STUDIED LATE AT NIGHT AN' HIS EYES BECAME BLOODSHOT."

The GREEKS

... Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

The Brothers and Pledges of Alpha Sigma Phi were delighted to have as a visitor the past week, Jim Ferreao, field representative of this area. Jim made many compliments concerning Presbyterian College and its system of fraternities.

The Brothers also made final plans for a stag supper, which will be held on November 20.

The Pi Kappa Phi pledge class elected the following officers: president, Jim Rakestraw; vice-president, Bruce Barnes; secretary, Desie Durden; treasurer, Dave Morgan; and sergeant at arms, Ron Price.

Beta Psi Chapter of Kappa Alpha discussed plans concerning the Christmas Dance weekend. A Tea Dance will be held on Saturday afternoon and a combo will play at the fraternity house Saturday night.

Warmest congratulations were extended to Brother Tom Wise on his recent engagement to Miss Dottie Henderson of Charlotte.

Brother Jack Crandall was congratulated for being selected a senior superlative.

Plans for the upcoming Smoker

(Continued on page four)

The Blue Stocking

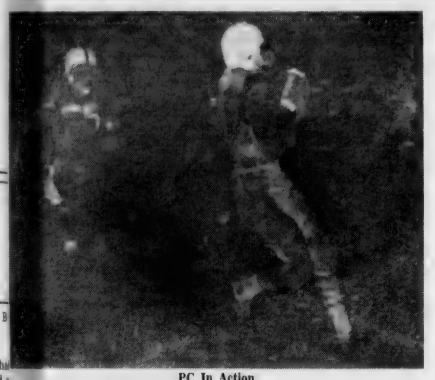
Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR MAURICE SCHWARTZ
NEWS EDITOR BILLY HATCHETT
Associate Editor Paul White
Sports Editor Martin Chitty
Feature Editor Graham Edmunds
Copy Edior Allen Freeman
News Staff Don Kay, Fred Meade, Bob Smith, Mike Saunders, Bill Craig, Becky Earnest, Don Lohman, Robert Kendall, Gerald Pitts, and Murray White.
Sports Staff Ed Loring, Bob Stevens, John Craig, David Stricklin
Photographer Lamar Hawkins

Frontiers of Education

Graduate School: A Chance



How many of Fresbyterian College's more able students have considered going into graduate study for the purpose of becoming college level teachers? Statistics aren't available but the number would seem to be relatively quite small in proportion to our total number of students. This situation—which is not unlike that of many schools—has educators worried about the future of American higher education. The demand for competent college teachers has been and is on the increase, but appallingly the supply just cannot fulfill this need. As a consequence, classrooms often are headed by below par professors.

Basically, the case is this: There are many talented students who ought to consider college level teaching, but for one reason or another, just have not.

Perhaps one of the major obstacles in the path of teaching is the comparatively low pay of the profession; but this is not so much the case now as it has been. Realization of the importance of procuring and retaining topflight professors has been a great impetus to the raising of faculty salaries throughout American colleges and universities. Also, there are innumerable intangible benefits as any college teacher will readily testify. There is a certain amount of prestige connected with the scholar, along with the personal satisfaction of seeing a young mind develop.

But where will these additional teachers come from? A simple question—a simple answer: from the present day college students. For PC students interested in becoming college teachers, there are many ways in which they can obtain the necessary preparation. Every day brochures about fellowships in every field of graduate study from American Literature to Zoology are received by heads of the various departments. Besides these specialized fellowships, many general grants such as the Woodrow Wilson Fellowships and the Carnegie Grants are available for students of high promise.

Through the past years, many of our graduates have received such fellowships for their post-graduate study. Men such as Bill Toole in English, Ralph Chambers in Chemistry, Andy Howard in Math, and Pete Hay in Theology are fine examples of how PC graduates have continued their studies in the interest of higher education.

PC In Action

Parents See Power

Blues Take Catawba Easily

Undefeated Presbyterian uncorked a flashy aerial attack to rout Catawba 35-14 before a Parents' Day crowd of 3,100. It proved a wet finale to Presbyterian's home season, and both squads were soaked in mud at the end of the game.

The Hosemen used second and third strings throughout the second half. PC scored four times in the first half and coasted in with reserves, picking up a fifth touchdown in the last quarter.

Second unit halfback Gordon Stanley tallied twice, on a ten-yard reception from Nat Cole and a one-yard plunge.

The other three Blue Hose touchdowns were scored in this fashion. 2nd Jimmy Kolb on a 12-yard pass from quarterback Bob Waters midway in the third quarter. Halfback Bobby Pate on a four-yard end sweep in the second quarer, and halfback Ronnie Hampton on an eight-yard sprint in the dying seconds of the first period.

Guard Bill Sease kicked all five concersion attempts.

Catawba scored its two touchdowns in the second half against the PC reserves.

Indian quarterback Ronnie Hall intercepted a flat pass thrown by PC quarterback Bobby Joiner on the Blue Hose 49 and raced untouched into the end zone. The other Indian score came on a second half drive climaxed by quarterback Ball sneaking the pigskin over from the one.

Singing The Blues

With MARTIN CHITTY

"You know, I almost drowned out there."

These were the words of the Citadel quarterback, Jerry Nettles, and it just about summed up the condition of the Citadel's Johnson Hagood Stadium.

The only thing "shown" by this supposedly exciting classic was that backs fumble and that it's impossible to pass on that kind of field.

We aren't poor losers and we would have surely accepted the victory had it gone our way, but it's just a heck of a way to lose a ball game. No use crying over spilled milk, though.

Halfback Bobby Pate has claimed another honor as he was the only football player in the state to be nominated for All-American honors. Despite being "laid for," no team has been able to stop the shifty senior this season. Of course, the mud made going practically impossible last Saturday as Pate netted only ten yards in ten attempts.

We feel that the terrific spirit of the student body deserves mention. Around three quarters of the students braved wind and rain at Charleston to support their team in an exceptionally boring game.

According to reports, a fairly sizeable group intends to follow the squad to Boone tomorrow.

FUTURE RECORDS—Presbyterian over Appalachian by 6. The Hose rebound if the field is dry.

Newberry over Wofford by 6. Seastrunk and company make for an exciting Bronze Derby classic.

Clemson over Maryland by 12. Looks like South Carolina's going to have two bowl clubs.

South Carolina over NC State by 8. Warren Geise's club has a scare but pulls it out.

Basketball Schedule Announced

The PC roundballers began preseason practice two weeks ago. Forwards Mickey Long and Bob Stratton returned from last season's fine squad to lead the Hosemen. Schedule:

Dec. 1—Citadel at Charleston.
Dec. 4—Mercer at Clinton.
Dec. 5 — Georgia Teachers at Statesboro.
Dec. 17-19—Christmas Invitational Tournament at Parris Island.
Jan. 7—Pembroke at Pembroke, N. C.
Jan. 9—Wofford at Clinton.
Jan. 15 — Georgia Teachers at Clinton.
Jan. 16—Newberry at Newberry.
Jan. 23—Belmont Abbey at Belmont, N. C.
Jan. 30—Erskine at Clinton.
Feb. 6—Pembroke at Clinton.
Feb. 9—Erskine at Due West.
Feb. 10—Mercer at Macon, Ga.
Feb. 12—Newberry at Clinton.
Feb. 16—Wofford at Spartanburg.
Feb. 19—Belmont Abbey at Clinton.
Feb. 26-27—Little Four Tournament at Greenville.

Coach Merlen Veren has hopes that this squad, suffering from the loss of five first-stringers, will be bolstered by the addition of several promising new men.

The Blue Hose are again expected to be heavy contenders for the Little Four Championship, which will be decided at the Little Four Tournament in Greenville, February 26-27.

Rain And Mud Aid Citadel In Presbyterian's First Loss

• Appalachian Next Foe

A fumble in the Presbyterian College end zone in the dying moments of Saturday's game gave The Citadel an 8 to 0 victory on a rain-soaked field.

It was the first defeat for the Tangerine Bowl bound Blue Hose after seven straight triumphs.

The great Citadel end, Paul Maguire booted the muddy football 60 yards to the Presbyterian seven-yard line.

After two plays had failed to gain, PC end Jon Vastine, dropped deep into the end zone to punt. The pass from center was good enough, but the wet ball got away from Vastine. Citadel center Garrison pounced on it and for all purposes, that was the ball game.

The Blue Hose quick-striking attack, built around speed merchant Bobby Pate and the passes of quarterback Bob Waters, was completely nullified throughout the game by the impossible playing conditions.

The Citadel, with the more powerful running game, moved the ball with some consistency. But the Bulldogs only managed 165 yards rushing, and they threatened only one other time during the afternoon.

PC backs picked up just 40 yards groundwise and the air attack of both teams was grounded.

There was a total of 17 fumbles committed by both teams during the afternoon. Presbyterian dropped the ball eleven times and the Citadel dropped it on six occasions.

The Hosemen had two scoring opportunities, but neither jelled. The first one came within minutes after the opening kickoff. A ball went over the head of Maguire, back in punt formation for the Bulldogs, and PC took over on the Cadets' 13. Two straight fumbles placed the Jonesmen back to the 25, and the threat died there.

Then on the first play of the third quarter, end Jimmy Kolb pounced on a Citadel fumble at the Bulldog 20. Pate and Hill carried to a first down at the Citadel ten-yard line. But a fumble gave the ball back to the Citadel.

This was about it, excitementwise. The entire game was played around midfield with the squads swapping fumbles.

PC vs ASTC

The "Jones Boys" seek to rebound this week from mud and defeat at the exepnse of the Appalachian Mountaineers.

The Hosemen expect another rugged test here in their attempt to go into the Tangerine Bowl with a respecable record.

The North State contenders have a fine 6-2 record and are expected to be "out for blood" after the humiliating 42-0 shelacking they experienced last fall at the hands of the Blue Hose. It was this overwhelming victory that started the Blues on their way to nine straight victories, recently interrupted by the rain and cadets of Charleston.

The Apps have a hard-running attack built around highly rated halfback Ansel Glendenning. Glendenning will be out to match honors with PC's Bobby Pate.

The Mountaineers will attempt to even their series record with the Hosemen. In seven games played, the Blue Hose have come out with honors four times.

The coaching staff has expressed fear of another bad field, as snow is possible in Boone for the weekend.

Jones' squad came out of the Citadel game in good shape and is expected to be sound for the Boone affair. Jones will probably start the same group which has been in at the opening gun in the previous tilts. This group consits of: Vastine and Chastain at ends; Schofill and Morriss at tackles; Bridges and Ogden at guards; Copeland at center; Waters at quartreback; Pate and Morgan or Hampton at the halves; and Hill at fullback.

HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Visit Our Store On the Square

PC Rifle Team Scores Two Wins

Presbyterian's sharpshooters proved slow on the draw recently when they went down twice to the Davidson College rifle team 1866-1865 and 1872-1868 in two posted matches.

In other contests the PCun's proved their worth by taking a shoulder match in which Furman and Clemson were the opponents. The score against Furman was 1378-1374 and against Clemson it was a 1374 tie. By virtue of the highest total score, PC was declared winner.

With Pika's 59 Champs Intramural Play Ends

The PiKAs defeated the KAs in a playoff game Monday, November 2, by a score of 20-6.

Leading the hard-rushing PiKA line was Bland Quantz, while Billy Hagood and Al Stevenson played heads-up ball in the PiKA defensive backfield.

The fine punting of Ed Jackson left the KAs with their backs to the goal time and again.

Outstanding spirit and a "never say die" attitude was shown by pugnacious Larry Wood as he led the offense of the KA team and anchored the defense. Jack Crandall and Bill Betchman played fine defensive ball for the losing KA eleven.

Don Denning threw the ball all over the field as he repeatedly flooded first one zone and then another with his sure-fingered receivers.

As always the Intramural season featured many teams but the KAs and PiKAs seem to stay undefeated until that long awaited and dreaded day when the hardest played and most spirited game of the

(Continued on page four)

Pat "The Grunting Runt'" Malone evades the diving antics of KA's Pat Griffin in the PiKA win over the previously unbeaten KA squad.

PICK - A - WINNER

Last week's contest was won by Loren Eagles. Now here's your chance to PICK-A-WINNER.

Name _____

Dorm _____

PRESBYTERIAN	( )	APPALACHIAN	( )
Wofford	( )	Newberry	( )
The Citadel	( )	VMI	( )
Clemson	( )	Maryland	( )
Georgia	( )	Auburn	( )
Alabama	( )	Georgia Tech	( )
Mississippi	( )	Tennessee	( )
Texas	( )	TCU	( )
Wisconsin	( )	Illinois	( )
Northwestern	( )	Michigan State	( )

I predict that_____points will be the winning margin in the in the PC-APPALACHIAN game.

RULES

1—Entries must be turned in to The Blue Stocking office by noon Saturday. Just slide them under the door.
2—Entries must be on the above printed form.
3—Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4—In case of ties the contestant most nearly guessing the margin PC-APPALACHIAN game.
5—No member of The Blue Stocking staff is eligible.
6—Decisions of the judges will be final; winner announced in next week's paper.

Southern Lit

Big Thursday is only a memory now, but Mrs. Fredda Caldwell, the county office clerk of the Farmers Home Administration in Gaffney, still recalls with anger the note that was left on her desk the day after the game. Mrs. Caldwell is an unwavering South Carolina fan and to add injury to insult this note came:

"Dear Miz Home Farmers Wumon:

"I is in diar needs. Jist evathing has went rong this weak. Hit started Mundi when mie wife mate jist up an lef me fur a travel man. She lef mee three smal yungins and to pigs which she sai she thinks is mind. Tusedy mie onlie sun I think he is got aholt of sum pousan likker en he aint around too doo the chores noe moore. Winsdy mie oldist dotter eelooped with a colich ejukated lawer atterney which wuz awfull. I jist had mee a nervis brokedown rite then and thar. Butt this haint aul. At 22 atter une oklok eggzackly on Thirsday mie chickuns aul jist started a dying. At 22 minits atter fore mie las ol rooster turned up his tows and axpard. I jist kante figger what kawsed this catastrophee kin you. Thay tells me yuns lens muny plees rush me twenti dollers and no sents rat awai sos I kin berri mie chickuns kawse thay shore d o o stink."

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

Intramurals . . .

(Continued from page three)

season pits one against the other.

The first contest of the '59 season ended in a tie ball game 7-7. Due to excess soreness on behalf of both teams and rain, the next playoff was scheduled two weeks later.

This time the PiKAs opened fast to score early in the game and once again before the half ended, with the PiKAs ahead 14-0. The second half was not as one-sided as both teams struggled up and down the field. Hard rushing and good defense forced punt after punt, but both teams mustered one touchdown and the game ran out 20-6, with PiKA winning the '59 intramural football season and KA placing second.

Choir . . .

(Continued from page one)

ham Edmunds, Paul Woodall, Payton Morrison, Paul Robinson, and Allen Freeman.

This afternoon the Choir staged a dress rehearsal in the First Presbyterian Church for its initial performance next weekend. After the practice, the singers were entertained for dinner and fellowship in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Patte.

Officers are Cliff Stovall, president; Lonnie Love, vice-president; Billy Fiephoff, treasurer; and Frank Sells, custodian. Readers for the season include Tom Wise, Paul Layton, Hal Roberts, and Richard Stanford. Harvey Wittschen serves in his fourth year as organist for the group.

The GREEKS

Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

(Continued from page two)

were discussed at the Tuesday night meeting of Theta Chi. Mr. Bob Hellams, chapter adviser, is returning from the Texas oil fields next week.

The Brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha extends congratulations to Dick Wood, Bob Bean, Billy Hagood, Ebby Mayifeld, Cliff Stovall, and Bob Waters on being named to Who's Who.

Brothers of the week were Collins, Ard, Schwartz, and Hagood.

Congratulations to the intramural footbal team on winning the football title.

Tuesday night's joint meeting of Sigma Nu Brothers and Pledges was utilized in planning for the approaching smoker.

The members of the fraternity would like to commend the football players of Sigma Nu for the excellent job they are doing on the gridiron thus far. They are Bill Schofill, Sonny DuBose, Nat Cole, and Cecil Morris.

Crudely . . .

(Continued from page two)

"Yeah, I've seen that."

"Come on, G. B., I want to go over to the canteen and see if I can get me one of those drinks on the lay-away plan."

"O. K., but I hope we can fight our way through the game room."

"What's the sweat?"

"Well, all those people on Ping Pong Scholarships are always in there practicing up for the season."

"Oh."

Convention . . .

(Continued from page one)

rian in a new program begun by the Board of Higher Education of the the Southern Presbyterian Church. The program is an attempt to develop a closer cooperation between Presbyterian colleges for improving the quality of education.

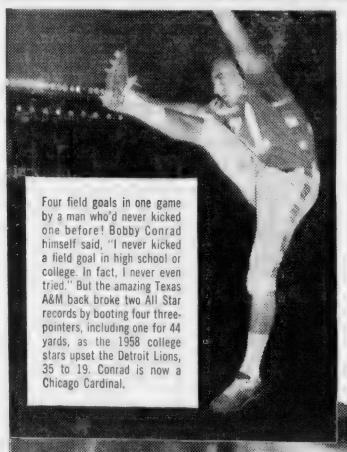
Agnes Scott, Austin, and Southwestern at Memphis will be the visited colleges. Professors, deans, and presidents compose the three teams of visitors which will spend the five days observing procedures and methods of the three schools. Stevenson is one of five men going to Southwestern at Memphis.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 16-17
A Hole in the Head
Frank Sinatra, Edw. G. Robinson
Eleanor Parker, Thelma Ritter

Wednesday (One Day) Nov. 18
The Two-Headed Spy
Jack Hawkins, Gia Scala



Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Nov. 19-20-21
Hound Dog Man
Starring Fabian, Carol Lynley

WHITE ROSE
E. Carolina at Woodrow St.
92 Octane Regular
ONLY 29 9/10 c
99 Octane Premium
ONLY 32 9/10 c

Murrah's Barber Shop
ENTERPRISE ST.—BACK OF COMMUNITY CASH GROCERY
All Haircuts.....75 Massage.....75

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

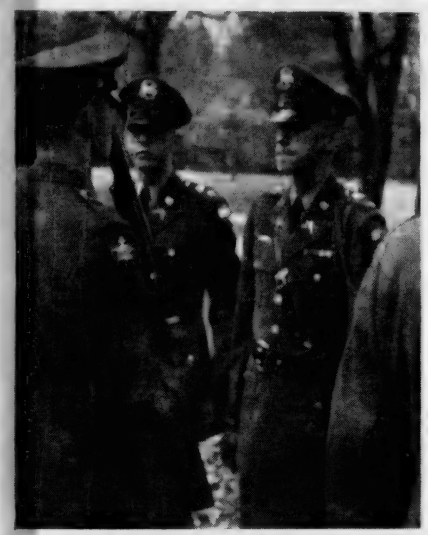
THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

Four field goals in one game by a man who'd never kicked one before! Bobby Conrad himself said, "I never kicked a field goal in high school or college. In fact, I never even tried." But the amazing Texas A&M back broke two All Star records by booting four three-pointers, including one for 44 yards, as the 1958 college stars upset the Detroit Lions, 35 to 19. Conrad is now a Chicago Cardinal.

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tars and more taste—in one great cigarette.



Light into that Live Modern flavor!

©1958 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., November 20, 1959 No. 8

Contemplating some words to express his feelings about a draftee's dirty brass, Joe Hardin, Battle Group Commander, summons all his patience. The scene took place at a recent inspection. Looking on is Frank Richbourg. The photographer didn't stay long enough to hear the final sentence.—Hawkins Photo.

Rush Scheduled After Holidays; Smokers Will Begin December 2

• Fraternities Can Pledge 140

Rush week for the 1959-60 year officially gets underway December 2, following Thanksgiving, and will continue until pledge day, December 10, as six national social fraternities vie for pledges.

Kappa Alpha has the initial smoker on December 2, followed by Sigma Nu December 3, Pi Kappa Alpha December 4, Theta Chi December 7, Alpha Sigma Phi December 8, and Pi Kappa Phi, December 9.

This year marks the second time that rush week has been held during the first semester of the school year.

Eligibility for pledging depends upon having a grade standing of at least 10 quality points at midsemester. At press time, reports were that the list of those eligible to pledge would not be released until November 30.

Quiet period begins at midnight Wednesday, December 9, and will continue until Thursday afternoon, December 10, at 4:44 p. m. when pledging ends.

Pledging will take place from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. in the classroom of Kenneth Baker, chairman of the faculty committee on fraternities.

The six fraternities will be able to pledge as follows: Alpha Sigma Phi, 24; Kappa Alpha, 14; Pi Kappa Alpha, 12; Sigma Nu, 21; Pi Kappa Phi, 32; and Theta Chi, 37.

Under the present system, each individual fraternity is limited to ten per cent of the male enrollment of the college. A provision of the IFC Constitution provides, however, that if the enrollment of a fraternity already exceeds this number, then they will be allowed to pledge 12, regardless of the present size of their organization.

A system of strict rules governing rush week activities is provided for under the constitution of the Inter-Fraternity Council. These rules are outlined in a separate article on page four of this paper, at the request of the IFC.

Falcons Signed For Christmas Dance

Inter-Fraternity Council plans are now complete for the Christmas dance week-end. Set for December 11 and 12, the weekend's big dance coming on Friday night, the 1th.

The dance will feature The Falcons and Roscoe Gordon's Orchestra. Admission will be four dollars per couple and the dress is PC formal. The dance will be held at the Clinton Armory, and will last from 8 to 12 p. m.

Saturday night, dances and parties will be held at individual fraternity suites.

Collections to Start

Collections for Military Ball will begin during chapel next week and continue until spring. The assessment can be paid in installments of as little as fifty cents a week. It is urged that payments be completed as early as possible in order to aid yourself. The band will be announced within the next two weeks.

Gifted Violinist Will Visit Friday

Friday night, PC students will have an opportunity to see and hear an outstanding young violinist who is considered one of the finest new talents to come along in years. His name is Eric Friedman. The performance will begin at 8:15 p. m. at the Thornwell Orphanage Auditorium. Sixty tickets have been made available to the student body that may be obtained free at the administration office.

Friedman has an interesting background. Though he showed great promise at a tender age, he was not treated as a child prodigy.

ERIC FRIEDMAN

He had a normal school life and participated in many sports, especially tennis. He enjoys reading philosophical works and he also has a natural flair for drawing.

When he made his triumphant debut at Carnegie Hall, The New York Times said, "He is quite a violinist. Mr. Friedman played with confidence, instrumental security and good musicianship . . . secure intonation, an utterly dependable bow arm, and a serious view of the music. He is a very gifted violinist and should have a fine career before him."

Allen Hughes of the New York Herald-Tribune said, "The debut was a success. Mr. Friedman played with the assurance of a veteran . . . with the persuasive power of a mature interpreter. He has accomplished extraordinary things, and there is no reason to doubt that he can handily finish the course he begun so handsomely."

Hose Face Newberry In Thanksgiving Day Clash

• Bronze Derby Is At Stake

Presbyterian looks to a rugged battle on their annual Thanksgiving Bronze Derby classic with rival Newberry next week. The Indians are sporting a 7-2 record and have scored 243 points in nine games, giving them a 27-point average and one of the highest scoring offensive units in recent years.

Fullback Richard Seastrunk of Newberry claims 114 points and quarterback Taylor has totaled 49.

Seastrunk has bulled his way for 19 touchdowns to lead the state in scoring. He has rushed for 727 yards on 160 carries giving him a 4.5 yard per carry average.

Taylor, a senior, has been the sparkplug of the Newberry double wing. he has kicked 23 PATS in 26 attempts and scored four touchdowns.

PC will attempt to counter this with a high-scoring threesome of Bob Waters, Bobby Pate, and Bill Hill.

The Hosemen on their sweep to the Tangerine Bowl have picked up 216 points to date.

as substitutes were given the opportunity.

This credits the Hosemen with an average of 24 points per game, thus fair, in spite of the mud-bogged 8-0 shut-out against the Citadel the previous week. Opposition has managed only 118 points against a stout Presbyterian forward wall.

Halfback Pate leads rushing, even though high scores in recent games have cut down on his playing time tunity to see action. The amazing PC ball carrier has accumulated 630 in 116 carries for a 5.4 yards per carry.

The passing quarerback, Bob Waters, gives balance to the PC Wing-T offense. He has completed 40 of 75 aerials for 620 yards, five TDS and an accuracy mark of 53.3 per cent.

Newberry Blue Key Entertains In Chapel

The Presbyterian chapter of Blue Key presented a chapel program this morning at Newberry College. Glen Gibson led the devotions. Julia Gray, accompanied by Ann Gettys, presented a solo.

Ebby Mayfield, Blue Key president, made the introductions. Bob Waters and Bobby Pate delivered short talks.

Newberry chapter of Blue Key presented a chapel program to the Presbyterian student body Monday. The program featured four numbers by the College 'N Band Combo.

WF Plans Panel

This Sunday Westminster Fellowship will feature a panel discussion. Members of the panel will be Judy Bolton, Beverly Butler, Bob Waters, and Evin Varner. The topic of the discussion is "Alcohol—A Campus Problem." All members of the student body are invited. The program is set for 6:45 Sunday night.

Many Talents

Dr. Patte: PC's 'Man of Music'

At some time during this year's concert series of the Robed Choir Dr. Edouard Patte will celebrate his five hundredth performance as director. The event will be another milestone in the career of PC's distinguished and personable choir director and professor of sociology.

Dr. Patte is from Geneva, Switzerland, where he has received degrees in theology, sociology, and letters at the College de Calvin and the University of Geneva. This impressive list of degrees was made possible because he had already achieved his B.A. degree at the age of 18.

As a result of his varied interests, he became associated with the YMCA. It was this affiliation that brought Dr. Patte to America. During the Second World War, he served as YMCA representative, who visited prisoner of war camps throughout the Southeastern United States. His nationality from a neutral country helped him to secure this position.

DR. EDOUARD PATTE

After the war, he established a new Presbyterian church at North Augusta. When he was asked to accept a posotion on the faculty of PC, he did so because of his liking for young people.

Anyone who has been in the choir will eagerly tell you about Dr. Patte's lovely wife. Mrs. Patte has endeared herself to them by her faithful attendance on the choir trips.

Mrs. Patte explained that he sketches scenes when they go on their vacations, and later copies them in oils. Dr. Patte's latest interest is in abstract art.

Dr. Patte says that painting helps him to relax and take his mind off those occasionally disappointing choir rehearsals.

Dr. Patte, Mrs. Patte, and their son, Chris, became American citizens in 1950. Chris is now in the army, stationed at Redstone Arsenal. A graduate of PC the younger

(Continued on page four)

Blue Sock Presses Stop Rolling Today

The Blue Stocking presses stop rolling today for the annual Thanksgiving vacation. The next issue will be published Friday, December 4.

According to the publications organization, The Blue Stocking is published weekly during the school year, except immediately before and after holidays and final examinations.

Thanksgiving holidays begin at the close of classes next Wednesday, November 25, and end Sunday evening, November 29.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

At Least, A Choice

Last week the Student Christian Association announced a new, faculty-approved plan for the 1960 Religious Emphasis Week. The announcement followed a great deal of work on the part of the SCA cabinet and the Religious Activities Committee of the faculty. The new plan gives a student a choice between attending REW seminar classes or regularly scheduled classes. Voluntary programs will be held at night.

The faculty, using attendance figures as their criteria, felt that it was necessary to abolish the utopia of all REW plans as experimented with for the past two years. This plan featured complete dismissal of classes and complete voluntary attendance. Apparently the faculty found that the student body was not mature enough for utopia.

The recently announced plan is a very good compromise. While it is a good plan, it will not be without problems. Students possibly will not attend REW classes because of the fear of missing something in their regular classes. The SCA has a fine example in the calibre of speakers of the past years. Most important, a responsibility rests with the students. The faculty is giving the student body a last chance, a final reprise of stuffing REW down unwilling throats. At least, there is a choice—it is up to the students to make the most of it.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Brothers will enjoy a stag supper tonight in Woodruff, as guests of Ben Collins, chapter adviser.

Plans were made for Brotherhood initiation and for the Annual Smoker.

SIGMA NU

This week we had an informal visit by Brother Vance, Regional Commander. He talked with us of the position that national fraternities hold on the campuses.

Smoker plans were made at the regular meeting. Anybody for a fruit cake?

The executive committee gave its report on the examination of the by-laws.

Congratulations to Brother Dougal Clark for making first team intramural football and to Brothers Joe Davis, John McIntosh, and Pledge Chitty for making second team and honorable mention on the team.

PI KAPPA PHI

We welcome Mike Dawkins into the Brotherhood. The initiation was held Tuesday. Brother John Holland Hunter, Brother Halsall and other alumni attended the initiation.

Party time Friday night!

Dick Faulkner and Tommy Middleton have been honored by appearing in the December issue of the "Star and Lamp."

KAPPA ALPHA

The Brothers decided that The Hearts would entertain at the two parties to be held Christmas Dance Weekend. The afternoon tea-dance at the Mary Musgrove Hotel will be closed, and the dance Saturday night at the Kappa Alpha Lodge.

Brother Dave McGee was congratulated for being selected the Scabbard and Blade representative at the National Convention in New York City.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR . . . EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR . . . MAURICE SCHWARTZ
NEWS EDITOR . . . BILLY HATCHETT
Associate Editor . . . Paul White
Sports Editor . . . Martin Chitty
Feature Editor . . . Graham Edmunds
Copy Edior . . . Allen Freeman
News Staff . . . Don Kay, Fred Meade, Bob Smith, Mike Saunders, Bill Craig, Becky Earnest, Don Lohman, Robert Kendall, Gerald Pitts, and Murray White.
Sports Staff . . . Ed Loring, Bob Stevens, John Craig, David Strickln
Photographer . . . Lamar Hawkins
BUSINESS MANAGER . . . SID FARESS
Circulation . . . Phil Bell, Marshal Jones

PLAZA BOWL FOOTBALL GAME

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

Thursday afternoon after I finished cleaning my gun for Friday morning's militia training, I checked into the crowd practicing for the next day's Squad Competition type show. As soon as they did the finale, I took off running across the now dangerous plaza. I entered the high rent district and opened the door to my room. When I did, I saw my roomo, Percival Crudely, packing his suitcase.

WEEK'S BEST TIME

This week the prize for the least amount of time spent in his office while employed by Presbyterian College goes to Creeper No. 1.

"What you packing up for this time, PC?"

"Oh, just a little trip I'm taking."

"They didn't kick you out again because of your mid-semester quiz grades, did they?"

"No, not quite, G. B."

"Then where are you going?"

"Oh, I'm just getting ready for our first weekend scrimmage with the P. College Blue Throats."

"You know, the gleesters have a rule against packing before 12:00 on Saturdays."

"Yeah, but I just can't wait to get rolling on the ole Greyhound."

"You luv it."

"Yep, I sure do. Say, where did you get your clothes all dirty and torn?"

"Oh, I had to cross the plaza coming over here and they had the Plaza Bowl Football Game going and I got caught in the middle of a pass interception and got knocked on my books which I was carrying."

"Say, G. B., you been to chapel lately?"

"I've got to go. I've got six cuts, but I don't mind 'cause I've been getting a little studying done over there."

'Well, good. I'm glad you're happy."

"You know what I saw Wednesday, P. C.?"

"Where?"

"In chapel!"

"No, what?"

"Well, while that missionary was speaking, I just happened to glance up at the ceiling and I saw a wasp."

'A wasp?"

"Yeah, I sure did, P. C."

"Well, what about Monday's program?"

"You mean those characters w ducks. pegged pants and chains, who played dance music a seated audience?"

"Well, it was entertaining, G.

"Yes, it was so entertaining three of our professors got up left."

"Well, G. B., did you see all th Deals walking around today?"

"Yeah, and I hope they got straightened out, too."

"P. C., do you reckon they them the same thing we had eat?"

"I certainly do hope so."

Ten Rules

How To Make An "A"

Appearing in the Tennessee Tech Oracle and reprinted by Pageant Magazine—"10 ways to get through college without trying," is something everyone should know, especially the freshmen.

1. Bring the professor newspaper clippings dealing with his subject. If you don't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.

2. Look alert. Take notes eagerly. If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievably and shake it.

3. Nod frequently and murmur, "How true." To you this seems exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective.

4. Sit in front, near him (applies only if you intend to stay awake).

5. Laugh at his jokes. You can tell if he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has told a joke.

6. Ask for outside reading. You don't have to read it—just ask for it.

7. If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the hour. It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left you and you sit there alone, dozing.

8. Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course. If you do Math in Psychology class and Psychology in Math class, match the books for size and color.

9. Ask questions you think he can answer. Conversely, avoid announcing that you have found the answer to a question he couldn't answer, and in your younger brother's second reader at that.

10. Call attention to his writing. This produces an exquisitely pleasant experience connected with you. If you know he's written a book or article, ask in class if he wrote it.

These suggestions, incidentally, were put down by a professor, Robert Tyson of Hunter College.

Opinion Poll

Students Speak on REW Pla

In the last issue of the Blue Stocking, the students a faculty of PC were presented with a new schedule for R ligious Emphasis Week by the SCA and the Committee Religious Activities to be held March 9-11, 1960. In regar to this, the staff of the Blue Stocking has tried to get a cross-sectional view on the subject of this change. from some of the students. The question was asked: "What do you think of the new change in schedule for RE Week?" The following opinions are the answers that we received.

CRANDALL: "I am in favor of the new program. It's too bad we have to force people to take advantage of a program like our REW, but such is the case."

SPANN: "I think the new REW will probably be more worthwhile because those who are truly interested may receive guidance as in the past, whereas those less interested studnts will not be requi to miss two days of classes."

RAINS: "It's good that they h the REW schedule in this way cause it does not require all pe to attend. But then, it's a sha that more of us do not."

A SENIOR: "I haven't heard thing about it."

A RESPECTED SENIOR: "D quote me, but to quote some else: 'It is a tale told by an id full of sound and fury, signify nothing.'"

TAYLOR: "Nothing in the has been effective. The cha seemed to be necessary, and it lo like a good plan."

OTHERS: "It's pointless. Na ally everyone's going to REW."

"I don't know anything about

"There are some classes tha cannot afford to miss. Chapel sho either be extended or classes d away with for REW. If you w to have it on a voluntary ba have it in the afternoon and nigh on the student's free time, not academic time."

Public Notices

A notice spotted by a summ school student on the office door the university president: "This fice closed for the summer. anything important see the janito

Notice in the Red Lake Fa Minn,. Gazette: "St. Joseph's Oak Grove cemeteries will be cl ed November 15 for the winter. R idents should take due notice govern themselves accordingly."

Mid-Semester Woes

By KURT

"No, no, you can't be out of drop slips, Prof!"

Singing The Blues

With MARTIN CHITTY

The Bronze Derby classic! So called because a Newberry student once stole a PC student's derby. To avoid fighting, the suggestion was made that the derby be covered with a bronze coating and after each athletic contest that it go to the victor. Since then it has been changed to the effect that the winner of the Thanksgiving Day football game would become possessor of the hat.

Well, so the story goes anyway.

WHAT SOME PEOPLE WON'T do for publicity. Some of our state college schools (someone should turn as red as an Indian at this) even go so far as to run up huge scores against under-manned opponents just so they may be the top scoring school in the state. But they aren't just satisfied with this; they pick out one player who's a fair ball player, just fair though, and they run him to death, especially down close to the goal and then they have the highest scoring individual player in the state. Oh well, it'll take more than the "duck tail kids" to stop the Hosemen on Turkey Day.

THE BRONZE DERBY

FUTURE RECORDS—PC over Newberry by 14; Wofford over East Carolina by 6; South Carolina over NC State by 13; and Clemson over Wake Forest by 8.

RATINGS: PC has been rated 16th in the nation according to United Press International's Football rating. Bowling Green rated number 1 this week, replacing Delaware whom they defeated 30-8. Mississippi Southern was second and PC's Tangerine Bowl opponent, Mid-Tennessee State, held a lofty third place.

Lenior-Rhyne of North Carolina was tied for the number 11 spot.

With Other Schools

Intramural Council Selects Top Ten; Looks For Matches

The annual All-Intramural Ten was selected by the Intramural Council Tuesday. The Intramural Council has made plans for the All-Star squad to play at least one other college squad in the future. Several colleges have been contacted. Among them are Wofford, Newberry and Erskine.

The results of voting are as follows: First team—Ends, Don Segrest, PiKA, and Bill Francis, KA. Guards, Al Stephenson, PiKA, and Jack Crandall, KA. Centers, Dougald Clark, SN. Quarterback, Larry Wood, KA. Halfbacks, Dave Magee, KA, and Billy Hagood, PiKA. Blocking Back, Ed Jackson, PiKA.

Second Team — Ends, McIntosh, SN, and Charles Howard, KA. Guards, Joe Davis, SN, and Bland Quantz, PiKA. Center, Bill Betchman, KA. Quarterback, Don Denning, PiKA. Halfbacks, Pat Malone, PiKA, and Wayne Godfrey, PiKA. Blocking Back, Ed Loring, KA.

Honorable mention went to: Ends, Dorn, KA; Shawn, Shros; Taylor, PiKA; Russell, Shros. Guards, Donaldson, KA; Brown, PiKA; Faulkner, Pi Kappa Phi. Ceiters, Rockstroh, Shros; Hodge, PiKA. Quarterbacks, Rice, Shros; Chitty, SN; Middleton, Pi Kappa Phi. Halfbacks, Rakestraw, Pi Kappa Phi; Jobson, PiKA; Nettles, KA. Blocking Back, Mitchell, Golden Rats.

The Intramural Council wishes to commend all participants for their support in the 1959 football season and their excellent efforts to make the season successful. The Council looks forward to the All-Star game to be played against another school in the near future. Details will be announced in the next few days.

BARBER SHOP
GALLMAN'S
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU
FOR YOUR BUSINESS

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

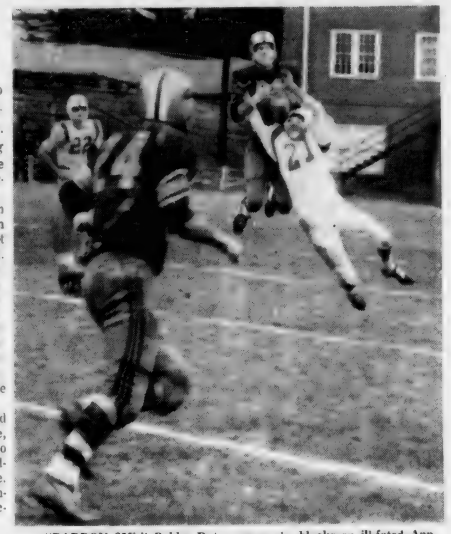
HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Visit Our Store On the Square

Murrah's Barber Shop
ENTERPRISE ST.—BACK OF COMMUNITY CASH GROCERY
All Haircuts .75 Massage .75

Hose Crush Appalachian

Score 34 Points For Eighth Victory

The Blue Hose romped to a 34-0 victory over Appalachian Saturday afternoon. Bill Hill started the scoring parade with an 11-yard thrust in the first quarter. This was all the scoring in the first half.



But the Hose started roaring in the second half as Pate scored from one yard out after the play was set up by the pass interception of Hill.

Later on in the quarter the small PC gathering was thrilled to a 95-yard pass interception touchdown of PC freshman halfback Ronnie Hampton. Then Billy Benton, Joe Nixon, and Gordon Stanley each had a touchdown apiece in the third quarter romp.

Bill Sease kicked four out of five conversion attempts.

The Blue Hose forward wall led by Mac Copeland and Jim Vastine, proved almost an impossibility to penetrate as the Mountaineers seldom got past the mid-field stripe.

Pate and Hill led the day's rushing with 55 and 49 yards, respectively.

"PARDON ME," Bobby Pate says as he blocks an ill-fated App pass in Saturday's game, intended for Bob Butler (No. 80). Jack White (No. 24) and Bob Waters watch the action. The game ended in a victory for the Blue Hose, chalking up number eight in the win column.—Flowers Photo, Boone, N. C.

X's And O's Fight To Hard 20-20 Tie

Two intramural teams were formed earlier this week by individual players who wanted to play an additional game. Players drew X's and O's from a hat to form the teams.

Larry Wood was chosen to lead the X's and Don Denning the O's in the game Monday.

The opening kickoff was taken by Ed Jackson who streaked 70 yards for the TD. Both teams played hard and the half ended with the X's ahead 14-7. However, the O's came back fighting and were leading with two minutes left in the game.

With Wood's pin-point passing, the X's made the score 20-20 as the final whistle sounded.

Middle Tennessee State Will Meet PC in Tangerine Bowl

One of the nation's top-ranked and "scoring-est" small college teams was tapped to face Presbyterian College in the Tangerine Bowl with the selection of Middle Tennessee State of Murfreesboro last Monday.

This team, roaring along undefeated after nine straight victories, has scored 282 points for an average of 31.8 points per game. It is ranked third nationally in the United Press International rating of small colleges which lists Mississippi Southern in the number one spot.

Power ratings currently rank Middle Tennessee—a school of 2,500 enrollment—as much as ten points stronger than the Blue Hose, who sport a record of eight wins and one loss.

Caoch Charles Murphy directs this Tennessee squad of the Ohio Valley Conference. He has compiled an impressive record during his long stay there. His 1957 team, for example, won ten straight without defeat, and last year he won eight while losing just two.

Like Presbyterian, Middle Tennessee will finish its regular season against an old rival on Thanksgiving Day. While PC battles Newberry on this afternoon, its Tangerine Bowl foe tangles with Tennessee Tech.

Here's the Middle Tennessee State victory string against 1959 opposition:

Austin Peay, 36-0; Jacksonville (Ala.) State, 21-20; Western Kentuck, 27-2; Eastern Kentucky, 14-6; University of Chattanooga, 28-0; Moorehead State, 27-0; Florence (Ala.) State, 34-26; Murray State, 55-0; and East Tennessee State, 30-6.

Thursday is Last Game For 9 Senior Lettermen

• Outstanding Players Will Be Missed

Nine seniors will play their last regular season football game against rival Newberry. These men have been the core of the Tangerine Bowl bound Blue Hose club this season and will be sorely missed in the future.

Bob Waters, quarterback, has served as team co-captain and has been one of the state's most outstanding quarterbacks this season. His work as passer has been particularly effective.

Halfback Bobby Pate, nominee for Little All-American, has highlighted Blue Hose play. An outstanding back in the Little Three, Pate was last season's top rusher. He plans a coaching career.

Paul Chastain, end, is co-captain. This Navy veteran has proved a valuable asset to the team. A holder of three previous football letters, Chastain is interested in entering business.

Center Mac Copeland of Athens, Ga., also plans to enter the business world. Rough and rugged, he has shown good technique. Bill Schofill hails from Fort Valley, Ga. A top tackler, he started in his first season last year. Schofill plans to coach.

(Continued on page four)

PICK - A - WINNER

Winner of last week's contest was Ernie Redd.

Name _____

Dorm _____

PC	( )	Newberry	( )
Wake Forest	( )	Clemson	( )
Georgia	( )	Georgia Tech	( )
Duke	( )	UNC	( )
USC	( )	NC State	( )
West Virginia	( )	Citadel	( )
Davidson	( )	Furman	( )
Wofford	( )	East Carolina	( )
Navy	( )	Army	( )
Middle Tennessee	( )	Tennessee Tech	( )

I predict that_____points will be the winning margin in the in the PC-NEWBERRY game.

RULES

1—Entries must be turned in to The Blue Stocking office by noon Saturday. Just slide them under the door.
2—Entries must be on the above printed form.
3—Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4—In case of ties the contestant most nearly guessing the margin PC-NEWBERRY game.
5—No member of The Blue Stocking staff is eligible
6—Decisions of the judges will be final; winner announced in next week's paper.

From Constitution

Rules Listed Covering Rush Activities

An extensive system of rules is provided for in the Constitution of the Inter-Fraternity Council to cover Rush Week activities.

Those portions of the Constitution that pertain to rushing are printed below.

Without the permission of the IFC, no other fraternity will be permitted to have any organized function during the time assigned to the fraternity giving an open social or smoker.

Each fraternity will have one smoker beginning the First Wednesday after Thanksgiving and continuing through Friday of the same week. The remaining smokers to be held, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of the following week.

Quiet period will begin at midnight of the final smoker and continue until 6:00 p. m. on Pledge Day. The last fraternity having a smoker will be granted permission to give out bids under supervision of the IFC.

Pledge Day will be Thursday following the last smoker and pledging will be from 2:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m. at a place designated by the IFC.

Mid-semester grades will determine the eligibility for pledging of first year men. A total of ten (10) quality points is required for pledging for regularly enrolled students.

The Faculty Committee on Fraternities will approve at the first of each semester a list prepared by the registrar of old students who have eight (8) quality points and eligible at any time thereafter for pledging and those who have a "C" average and eligible for initiation, according to rules of the constitution.

Pledges may go to the fraternity room of their choice after they have cast their pledge ballot, and after casting their ballot they will fall under the rules for quiet period established by the council.

After any pledge has cast his pledge ballot for one fraternity and after that ballot has been counted by the Faculty Fraternity Committee, he may not change his pledge without the written permission of the President of that fraternity to which he first gave his pledge.

Freshman means a non-fraernity man who has not been at Presbyterian College one term.

No fraternity man is permitted to discourage any freshman from attending socials or smokers of other fraternities. He is not to carry him off or keep him, in any way, from another social or smoker.

No freshman will be allowed in any fraternity room during the hours of open socials or smokers (8:00-12:00) except in the fraternity suite scheduled to have its social or smoker on that night.

Only brothers and pledges of that fraternity, having the smoker shall be permitted at the smoker. Brothers and pledges of other chapters of same fraternity are permitted to attend.

No freshman will be allowed in any fraternity room during quiet period. After he has cast his ballot to pledge he may go.

No fraternity man will be allowed in, on, or around the Science building, Spencer, Plaza, Douglas House, or Bailey between the hours of 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock on pledge day except those who have classes or live in the respective buildings. As soon as their classes are over, they must leave this area without talking to freshmen.

No fraternity man will be permitted to have skits, stunts, or group singing, etc., outside of their fraternity room during quiet period.

No pledges will be permitted to influence freshmen who have not signed up or cast their pledge to join a particular fraternity. The fraternity shall be held responsible for the action of its new pledges.

During quiet hour no fraternity man is permitted to:

a. Eat with freshmen anywhere, including the dining hall.

b. Take a freshman to a show.

c. Take a freshman to the Beacon, Charlie's, etc.

d. Offer rides to and from town, Laurens, Joanna, or anywhere else.

e. Fraternity men shall not accept rides from freshmen.

f. Fraternity men shall keep out of the freshmen's rooms unless he lives there.

g. In other words, do not associate with the freshmen in any way.

Penalties:

Maximum—Closed for 6 weeks and or $50.00 fine.

Minimum—Closed for 1 week and or $25.00 fine.

Man of Music

(Continued from page one)

Patte's interests are in physics and mathematics.

The past summer he spent in Geneva, studying the writings of Calvin and restoration music. Five hundred more concerts are in order ofr the fine gentleman of music at Presbyterian College.

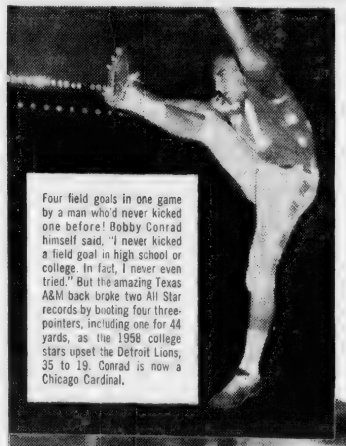
McGEE'S
DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

Seniors' Last Game

(Continued from page three)

David Morgan, halfaback from Greenville, has been the fastest man on the team who could go the distance on any play. Also a trackman, he plans a business career.

Gordon Stanley of Rock Hill, has been a hard runner for his size. Serves as middle distance man in track. A married man, he may teach or enter business.



Tackler Cecil Morris of Hazelhurst, Ga., is another former South Georgia Junior College player who saw plenty of action last year. A fast and strong player, he plans to coach.

Hailing from Natchez, Miss., Nat Cole has played at quarterback. A good passer and ball handler, he also plays baseball. He plans to enter the public relations field.

BROADWAY Theatre
Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 23-24
I'll Give My Life
The Picture Everyone Is Talking About
Wednesday and Thursday November 25-26
Seminole
Starring Rock Hudson and Hugh O'Brian
Friday and Saturday November 27-28
The Hound of the Baskervilles

WHITE ROSE
E. Carolina at Woodrow St.
92 Octane Regular
ONLY 29 9/10 c
99 Octane Premium
ONLY 32 9/10 c

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tars and more taste—in one great cigarette.

©1958 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., December 4, 1959 No. 9

New members of the Blue Key Honorary Fraternity are being congratulated by old members during Monday's chapel period induction. They are, left to right: Bob Bean, Jim Bennett (face partially hidden), Ben Donaldson, Ebby Mayfield, Billy Hagood, Dick Wood, Jack Crandall, Bob Waters, and Joe Harden. (Hawkins photo)

Blue Key Adds Four In Fall Tapping Ceremonies

• Student Leaders Recognized

Blue Key Honorary Fraternity added four new members at its annual tapping ceremony in chapel Monday. The new members, selected on the basis of their leadership, service, and character, include: Jack Crandall, Ben Donaldson, Bob Bean, and James Bennett.

Bob Bean, Pi Kappa Alpha, from Marietta, Ga., is majoring in business administration. Editor-in-chief of the 1960 PaC-SaC, he is Vice-President of the Business Economic Association and is on the SCA cabinet. This year he is also Vice-President of the IRC.

A native of Blackhear, Ga., Ben Doladson, Kappa Alpha, is seeking a BS degree. He is a member of Scabbard and Blade and is president of his fraternity. He serves as an an ROTC company commander and is proctor chairman this year.

James Bennett, of Ludowici, Ga., is a Biology Major. A member of the PaC-SaC staff, Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, he serves as president of Tau Phi Pi science fraternity, ROTC company commander and as commander of Scabbard and Blade.

A Kappa Alpha from Orlando, Fla., Jack Crandall is majoring in history. He is a member of the Ministerial Club and is a dormitory proctor. Crandall is also a senior superlative.

Dr. Brown Elected New SCFIC Chairman

Dr. Marshall W. Brown, president of Presbyterian College, has been elected chairman of the South Carolina Foundation of Independent Colleges for the coming year.

He was named to this post by fellow trustees attending a recent meeting of the Foundation in Spartanburg.

Powell Named

L. V. Powell has been named county campaign director of the '60 March of Dimes, set for January, according to announcement by Howard Watkins, county chairman of the National Foundation.

Rush Activities Highlighted As Fraternities Vie For Pledges

Quiet Period Begins Wednesday; 97 Men Have Grades to Pledge

Kappa Alpha Fraternity kicked off this year's Rush Week Wednesday night as they held the first of six smokers that are the highlight of rush activities on the campus. Sigma Nu Fraternity followed last night as they entertained rushees.

Pi Kappa Alpha has the third smoker tonight as they vie for pledges. Theta Chi is slated for Monday night, and will be followed on Tuesday night by Alpha Sigma Phi, and Pi Kappa Phi on Wednesday to wind up the week's affairs.

The grade list released this past week from the Registrar's office lists some ninety-seven freshmen and transfer students who are eligible to pledge. This group comes from the approximately 160 new male students.

Quiet period begins at midnight, Wednesday, December 9, and will continue until Friday afternoon, December 10, at 6:00 a. m.

Pledging will take place from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. in the classroom of Kenneth Baker, chairman of the faculty committee on fraternities. Men who have received bids will go to Baker's office and write on the form provided the name of the fraternity of their choice. They can then go to the suite of that fraternity to be welcomed by the waiting members.

The six fraternities will be able to pledge as follows: Alpha Sigma Phi, 24; Kappa Alpha, 14; Pi Kappa Alpha, 12; Sigma Nu, 21; Pi Kappa Phi, 32; and Theta Chi, 37.

Under the present system, each individual fraternity is limited to ten per cent of the male enrollment of the college. A system of strict rules governing rush week activities is provided for under the constitution of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

IFC-Military Sign Glenn Miller Band

The Military Ball Committee and the Inter-Fraternity Council announced earlier this week that the Glenn Miller Band had been signed for the Military Ball for next spring.

Assessment of seven dollars is being made of all military men for the March 4 event. Three-fifty is due before January 10 and the balance a month later.

The formal dance is the result of co-operative work between the IFC and the Military Ball Committee of the Scabbard and Blade. After many attempts to bring a top-name band to the PC dance weekend, the two organizations decided to co-sponsor this event.

The cheerleaders look over the new mascot, a monkey named Did-he-bite-you? Standing are Larry Wood and Wayne Godfrey. Seated are Harrison Clayton, Did-he-bite-you?, and Carl Latham. (Hawkins photo)

New 30-Hour Major Program Will Graduate First Seniors

This year, for the first time since the founding of the college, freshmen will not be required to have a "major-minor" when they graduate.

The new 30-hour "areas of concentration" program, announced last year, applies to this year's freshman class and all transfers. It is optional to sophomores and juniors. The program requires 30 hours for a major and 18 additional hours of study in related fields.

A division was also made in the curriculum: the humanites, social studies, the sciences, and military.

Requirements for majors are found in the 1959-60 catalog. In most departments elective courses to complete the major and to meet the required related hours must be approved by the head of the department.

Seniors, the first to graduate under the program, include Bob Bean, Johnny Granger, Lonnie Love, Arthur Smith, Don Clark, and Jim Glenn. Five juniors and eighteen sophomores are also under the program. In all, some 180 students are now completing degrees in "areas of concentration."

Those students interested in going under the system, should contact the registrar's office as soon as possible.

Plans Begin Shaping For PC's Tangerine Bowl Trip

Tangerine Bowl tickets move quickly out of the athletic department ticket office as Presbyterian College supporters make their plans to follow the Blue Hose to Orlando on New Year's Day.

Coach Frank Jones indicated today that his office already has sold more than 800 tickets to this small-college bowl classic which will pit PC against Middle Tennessee State. And Tangerine officials advise that almost 75 per cent of the Orlando stadium already has been sold out. Sixty-two per cent went before the Tennessee squad was announced as Presbyterian's opponent.

The PC athletic department received 1,200 bowl tickets, so approximately 400 remain at the two price levels of $3 and $5 each. Fans seeking tickets are urged to direct their requests to the athletic department as soon as possible.

Coach Jones plans to bring his players back on the practice field for at least ten days of workouts prior to Christmas. The PC squad is scheduled to arrive in Orlando on December 28 for pre-game practice sessions and to remain through the night of January 2, when the Tangerine Ball is to be held.

Students Represent Many Varied States

Fourteen states, two foreign countries, and the District of Columbia are represented by the students of Presbyterian College, a recent tabulation shows.

South Carolina leads with 273 students. Georgia is second with 108, and there are 72 from North Carolina. Forty-seven students hailing from Clinton make it the town with the largest number of PC'uns.

Florida students total twenty-eight. There are fourteen from Virginia, four each from Kentucky and Pennsylvania, and three from Alabama, three from New York and two from Mississippi.

The following states have one each: Tennessee, Rhode Island, West Virginia, and Ohio. There is one student from Washington, D. C., one from Bermuda, and one from the Republic of Korea.

Basic Recognition

ROTC Seeks Pershing Rifle Company

Efforts to bring a company of the National Society of Pershing Rifles to the Presbyterian College campus hit a new high this week following a visit from Regimental officers.

James Scott, Fourth Regimental Commander, of Clemson College, recently visited the campus. Scott talked with key cadets and Military Department personnel about the formation of a company.

Since his visit, the PC Battle Group has been engaged in further work to make it possible to bring this organization to campus. According to informed sources, faculty and PMS&T approval are the only formalities left before a charter can be petitioned for.

Pershing Rifles began in 1892 at the University of Nebraska. Lt. John J. Pershing, struggling for military recognition and precision with a small drill unit, selected his best men to serve as a model for the quality of drilling he wanted. Today, the 150 companies throughout the country, form the basis for efficiency and precision in basic ROTC drill.

The organization is open to freshmen and sophomore cadets. The main proposed requirements being a "C" average in military and one semester's work at PC. Recognition would be given through membership to the basic program participant for his interest and ability.

The organization of Pershing Rifles would bring with it national recognition to the school for its military progress, through drill meets, rifle matches, and social functions.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

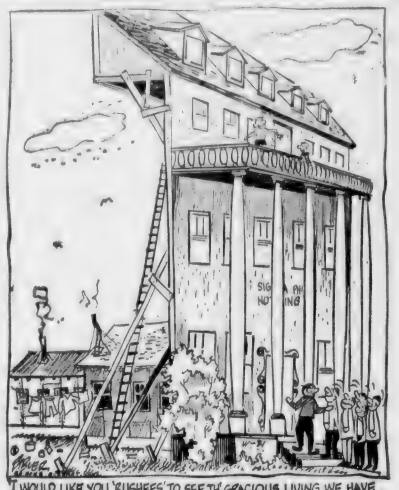
Editorials : Features : Humor

Paint Brushes And Pigskin

In the pigskin fever that mounted last week prior to the Bronze Derby classic, evidence of paint brushes abounded. Some Presbyterian students retaliated with the burning of the Newberry football field. In spite of warnings of serious consequences by the respective administrations, the vandalism continued.

The last visit of Newberry, we feel, was "too much.' Vulgarity and destructiveness were coupled in a display of ignorance in the art of spelling.

Perhaps a trophy such as is exchanged with Wofford would prove useful between Newberry and PC. Some negotiations should be made with the students on that nearby campus . . . or else we shall continue to have colorful columns.



A High School Editorial

The cycle is complete. During those long-ago High School days, we remember writing an editorial on this same subject: The Alma Mater. The words and tune were different; the problem the same.

After the well conceived and planned pep rally prior to Thanksgiving, the chapel-attending portion of our student body was asked to stand and sing the Presbyterian Alma Mater. To borrow a collegiate term, it was sick. Students evidenced a lack of knowledge of both words and tune.

This we feel points up a need for a more extensive use of our Alma Mater. Students not familiar with the words should make an effort to learn them. Perhaps the school's song could be sung following the secular chapel services.

We do not mean to be insipid—the Alma Mater is part of a tradition, and traditions play a vital part on the progressive campus.

California Senator

Seeks Fraternity Ban

Though the following material applies directly only to California fraternities, it could have implications for Greeks all over America. From the University of Southern California's Daily Trojan:

California State Senator Fred S. Farr (D-Monterey) is evidently quite concerned with fraternity and sorority systems at state universities and colleges. In fact his concern is so keen as to cause his disregard for fundamental civil liberties guaranteed to the State's citizenry.

If a bill proposed by Senator Farr is passed by the legislature next year, all freshmen at state colleges and universities will not be allowed to join fraternities or sororities. While the intent of this bill has some merit, we consider it truly "Farr-fetched." Does the senator think it in the historic spirit of the United States Constitution to arbitrarily bar a certain group of people from admittance to a legally established organization? Does not such action suggest clear discrimination?

Senator Farr has said that his bill would give new students time for "mature judgment" of the fraternity-sorority system, cut down the number of freshmen who quit school when they are not pledged and help eliminate irresponsible hazing practices. It appears that the senator

(Continued on page four)

Artist Draws Rave Review

PC students and the people of Clinton were well entertained Friday night, November 20, when Eric Friedman, promising young violinist, performed at Thornwell Auditorium.

Friedman thrilled his capacity audience with a genius' touch on the violin and proved to be entirely winning as a stage performer. The highlights of the concert were "Variations on a Corelli Theme," by Tartini-Franescatti, "Poeme," by Chausson, and "Tzigane," by Ravel. Responsive listeners enjoyed three encore selections.

The magnificence of the artist and his accompanist, the variety of musical compositions, and the response of the audience, added together, brought about one of the most successful concerts Clinton has known.

"Life At Smyth" Or 2-3 of A Pun

by RICHARD STANFORD

A few nights ago I was placidly studying when out of the corner of my eye I glimpsed what seemed to be a glowing fireball. Chills passed through my veins. I got my courage up and crept to the window.

"Hi Richard," smiled Garlic Chopley's voice from above.

At this point a fiery piece of toilet paper threatened to re-eneact the Chicago fire upon me. Only now do I realize that the fireball was only a sacrificial ceremony involving the use of "facial quality tissue."

"Hey Garles, what's all the jazz?" I shouted.

"Looks like somebody dropped the match, maybe," Garles mumbled.

"Sure hope Bonnie Glove doesn't find out about this. I hear Al wants him to get tough."

"Bonnie doesn't tingle my shin. Just feed him and he suffers loss of memory. Cobb Woodenarrow, Bonnie's disciple, is the one to be clear of. Heard he actually picked up two people at once."

"How about that, Garles. I've seen that look in his eyes—couldn't figure out whether he was having trouble breathing or was trying to be fierce, though."

"Makes one happy that Cobb's a proctor even though the old shin might be a little quieter."

(Continued on page four)

REST IN PEACE

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

It was Monday morning and the coldest day of the year so far—or it seemed. Since I had just returned from a very nice Thanksgiving Holiday and for those days I had been used to sleeping late, I thought nothing of my alarm clock going off at 7:00. I just continued sleeping. The bed was so warm and comfortable, as compared to my frozen nose which was sticking out of the covers. In fact, I was resting so peacefully that I thought nothing of my roommates', Percival Crudely, clock going off at 7:30. It was about 7:45 when I was finally awakened by the cheerful voice of Crudely, calling,

"GET UP, G. B., WE HAVEN'T GOT BUT FIVE MINUTES TO GET DRESSED AND DRAW OUR RIFLES."

Immediately I began to rally. The room began to buzz with action and excitement, and in no less than 37 seconds flat, I had raised my head off the pillow and said,

"What?"

"We ain't got but four and a half minutes to get to drill."

"They gonna have drill this cold morning?"

"Heck yeah."

"I'd better get to it, then."

Soon we were in our class D uniforms and headed across the plaza to the arms room.

"You know what, G. B.?"

"No, what?"

"These long underwear don't feel bad at all, do they?"

"No, they sure don't, P. C."

"G. B., you reckon we'll have an inspection this morning?"

"If we do, you'll probably get gigged, cause you need a haircut something awful."

"I just got ten demerits yesterday for that."

"Just cause you needed a hair cut?"

"Well, not entirely. You see, they told me my hair needed cutting and there was no reason for it being so long."

"Maybe so, P. C., but that's not grounds for 10 demerits."

"I guess it is. You see, I gave them a reason."

"Oh. What was that?"

"Well, I just told them that George Washington wore his hair long and he was a great leader and a military genius and I was just following his example."

"I believe that's ground enough, all right."

"Hey, G. B., here comes Mr. Durant in his little car."

"It's a small car, ain't it?"

"Yep, sure is. Wonder what it'll be when it grows up?"

"I don't have any idea. It's just beautiful, ain't it, P. C.?"

"You still talking about the car?"

"No, I'm talking about the sun and how beautiful it is as it comes up in the morning."

"Mercy!"

WEEK'S BEST TIME

Pick A Winner
(Fill in the blank)

_____ gets the prize for this week's best time, because (he, she) has taken the longest time on record to name (his, her) baby (?) boy.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR ..... EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MAURICE SCHWARTZ
NEWS EDITOR ..... BILLY HATCHETT
Associate Editor ..... Paul White
Sports Editor ..... Martin Chitty
Feature Editor ..... Graham Edmunds
Copy Edior ..... Allen Freeman
News Director ..... Murray White

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

THETA CHI

The Brothers and Pledges of Beta Psi made plans for a pledge supper on Thursday night. Plans were discussed for the Christmas Dance Weekend.

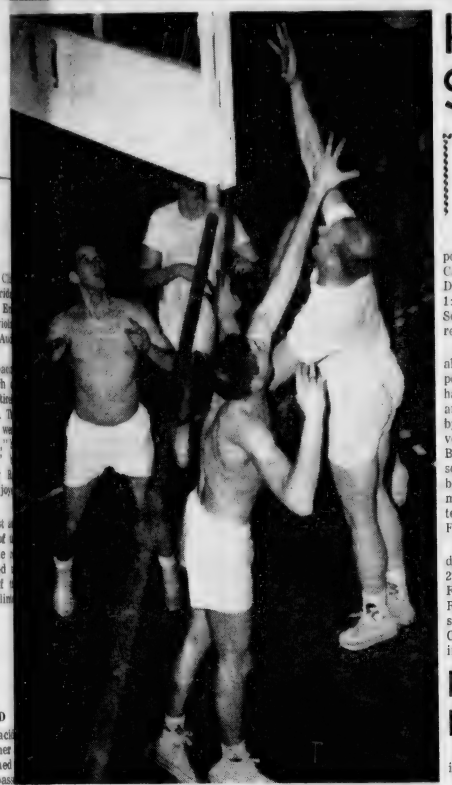
Mr. "Bob" Hellams, our adviser, has returned to PC for the Christmas Holidays.

PI KAPPA PHI

Final plans have been made for the Smoker to be held Wednesday the 9th. A "Combo" from Charlotte is scheduled for Saturday night for the Christmas Dance Weekend. The dance Saturday will be held at "Peck's."

SIGMA NU

Plans were made for the Smoker and Christmas Dance Weekend.



Stacy A. Coker won with Nancy this week. Congratulations to Brother Martin for batting .850 in the football predictions. Keep on Singing the Blues, Martin.

Our congratulations to Bill Schofill, Sonny DuBose, Cecil Martin, and Nat Cole for completing a fine senior season with the Blue Hose.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Plans were completed for the Smoker to be held December 4th. The pledge night stag supper and the Christmas Dance Weekend were discussed.

(Continued on page four)

Several members of the Hose Roundball team hustle during intersquad workouts this week in preparation for the Mercer home opener tonight. The Blue Hose hope to come back following a smarting defeat at the hands of the Citadel. (Hawkins photo)

Hose Open At Home Tonight Seek First Victory Over Mercer

• Citadel Gives Smarting Defeat

Presbyterian College will open its home basketball season against a strong Mercer University quintet here Friday night. The tip-off is set for 8:00 p. m. in LeRoy Springs Gymnasium.

It's the second engagement for the Blue Hose, who met 40-93 defeat at the hands of the powerful Citadel Bulldogs in Charleston Tuesday night.

Coach Verlyn Veren expects Mercer to present another tough opponent. The Bears appear well experienced, with eight lettermen back, and they operate with a fast, sharp-shooting attack. Captain Doug Harris, a four-year letterman at forward, leads the Mercer invasion.

Presbyterian, on the other hand, is in the midst of a rebuilding project after the graduation sweep of four starters. Veren has appointed Forward Bob Stratton of Lawrenceburg, Ky., the only regular of last year who is back, as the team captain for this game. He averaged 14.5 points per game last season and, despite a pre-season ankle injury, pitched in 11 points in the opener against the Citadel.

Forward Mickey Long of Greenville, pairs with Stratton at the other starting forward position. He combines a good eye and rebound ability with valuable experience gained as a second-stringer last year.

Also having moved up to take over first-unit assignments but with little seasoning behind them are Paul Ard of Atlanta, Ga., and Billy Ray Ladd of Junction City, Ky., at the two guard posts.

Brightest spot of the current season has been the play of Center Joe Harvard of Columbia. He has moved right in as a freshman and demonstrated his ability to take over the number one pivot position.

Blue Stocks Aim At Davidson Win

Rifle team preparations hit a high point today for the coming Western Carolina Conference match against Davidson. The match will begin at 1:30 p. m., Friday, on the PC range. Sergeant McCarson says that PC really intends to win.

Twice Davidson has won in postal matches with PC, once by one point and the other by four. We have lost to Wesminster by 13 points and to the University of Tennessee by 25 points, but Florida State University, Clemson, Furman, Wofford, Boston University and East Tennessee have fallen pray to the team's bull's eye accuracy. In shoulder matches PC has won twice. The team lost once by four points to Furman.

Top firers have the following daily averages: Matthew Smith, 279.2; Johnny Powers, 276.1; Frank Forbes, 276; Rolen Butler, 270; and Robert Bethea, 267.2. Sgt. McCarson rates Rolen Butler, Robert St Clair, and Kent Mitchell as the most improved members.

Professional Team Drafts Waters, Pate

Post-season honors keep pouring in for PC gridiron men.

Guard Billy Ogden secured a spot on the Little All-American third team. Bobby Pate, Bob Waters and Mac Copeland received honorable mention on the same squad.

Four professional teams have shown their knowledge of the talent of Waters and Pate. The San Francisco 49'ers led by drafting Waters on the seventh round, and Pate on the nineteenth. Later Los Angles also drafted Pate, and Boston drafted Waters.

Intramural Teams Begin Basketball

Next week the tip-off for the '59-'60 intramural basktball season begins.

With six fraternity teams and as many independent teams already on the roster, a repeat of last year's fine season is expected.

Defending champions, the Kappa Alpha Gray Ghosts and Pi Kappa Alpha, are anticipated to be the leading teams. But with the Sigs, led by John MacIntosh, and the Rebels with top shooter Worrell Kurtz, the competition will be sharp.

PC Coaches, Squad Honored Tonight

A supper-dance honoring the coaches and players of Presbyterian College's Tangerine Bowl-bound football team will be staged by alumni and friends of Clinton and Laurens Friday night.

The occasion is set for the Hotel Mary Musgrove, starting at 8:00 p. m. Lynn Cooper, Jr., of Clinton, and Tommy Todd of Laurens, serve as co-chairmen.

After a buffet supper Bill Hogan of Clinton, will act as master of ceremonies during a brief program, to be followed by dancing to the music of the Debonnaires of Greenville.

PC Coach Frank Jones, his assistants and their wives, and the football players and their dates are invited as special guests. The occasion is designed to pay tribute to these sportsmen for their outstanding 1959 record of nine victories and one defeat, to be climaxed by a Tangerine Bowl appearance on New Year's Day.

PC Teams of 1930, 1959 Rated Best In History

Football memories of Presbyterian College fans turn back 29 years in trying to assess the position the Tangerine Bowl-bound squad of 1959 should occupy in PC gridiron history.

The current Blue Hose edition wrapped up a bright 9-won-1 lost record with the 20 to 6 Thanksgiving Day victory over Newberry.

It represents the best season mark since 1930, when the late Walter A. Johnson led his Hosemen to nine wins and just one defeat while playing an unusually rugged schedule.

Comparisons are hard to make—especially in football, where time has wrought its changes on both the style of play and the quality of the opposition. But most fans agree that these two teams, vintage 1930 and 1959, are the most outstanding in the 46-year history of football at Presbyterian College.

The great SIAA champions of 1930, led by Quarterback Jimmy Green and End Ross Lynn as captain, bounced back from an opening loss to Clemson to win nine straight. The last seven of these were shut-out triumphs, including in a 15-day period victories over The Citadel (6-0), North Carolina State (2-0) and Wake Forest (12-0).

There have been many fine PC teams since that season, but only the 1959 squad of Coach Frank Jones has presented a record to challenge that 1930 outfit. Its schedule also has presented a weekly hurdle.

Whereas defense received greater emphasis in 1930, with the Hosemen averaging 14.6 points-per-

(Continued on page four)

Singing The Blues

With MARTIN CHITTY

Probably most students realize it, but we've just finished a regular season, featuring what could have been the greatest PC team in history. Certainly it was the most exciting, this team with its come-from-behind victories and spectacular offense which won the support of practically all who saw them play. They were the example of a true PC spirit.

Now the Hosemen face the toughest of all—the Tangerine Bowl game with a rugged Mid-Tennessee, a school of over 2,000 which, in one of the power ratings a few weeks ago, was rated 4 points over Notre Dame and even with the University of North Carolina.

Well, no matter what their ratings, the Blue Raiders from Tennessee will know they have been in a game.

IN A VERY SHORT time the All-State teams will come out. This column urges sportswriters to give strong consideration for such Hosemen as Halfback Bobby Pate, who should be a cinch, Guard Billy Ogden, QB Bob Waters, and FB Bill Hill.

We also feel that if there were a freshman of the year, then that man should be our own halfback, Ronnie Hampton.

AND SPEAKING of post-season honors, Ogden has been named to the AP Little All-American third team. This hard-hitting guard has been a bulwark in the PC line all season.

NAIA RANKINGS last week showed the Hosemen in the number six slot with Lenoir-Rhyne again leading the pack. Incidentally, we noticed in the last LR romp where Farmer, who started the game, was in at the last. Stassavich, is this the way you want to get your ratings?

DON'T COUNT the PC roundballers out yet. Remember those PC teams of the past who pulled many shockers. It may take a while, but remember most of these guys are inexperienced.

OFF BEATS—Loren Eagles finished the Pick-A-Winner season with a victory last week. An interesting sidelight was that all the Pick-A-Winner contestants saw Duke over NC . . . Bobby Pate was runner-up to Clemson QB Harvey White for Player of the Week honors in the state this week . . . Pate is a previous two-time winner.

Frank Jones, head football coach and athletic director at Presbyterian College, has been named to the program committee of the American Football Coaches Association.

He will confer with other committee members in Philadelphia this Sunday to arrange for the program of the annual meeting of the Association, scheduled for next January in New York.

One of Notre Dame's famed Four Horsemen was an unexpected visitor to the Presbyterian College parctice field this week.

Don Miller, former star halfback for the Fighting Irish under the late Knute Rockne, stopped off to see PC's Tangerine Bowl squad while enroute from Greenville to Columbia filling speaking engagements. He is now a Cleveland attorney.

Miller spoke highly of the Blue Hose during his campus visit.

Season Wrap-Up

Newberry Win Gives Hose 9-1 Record

Quick-thinking Bobby Pate's lateral to Ronnie Hampton proved the key play in PC's 20-6 victory over Newberry. Quarterback Bob Waters fading back to pass at his 40 found Pate in the slot at the mid-field stripe and flipped a pin-point pass to him.

Pate was immediately hit by three Indian defenders, but the alert halfback lateraled to Hampton, who was coming up after following the play, and the speedy freshman streaked over the goal. This proved to be the back-breaker for Newberry, making the score 13-6.

The Hose scored first in the first quater, when Guard Billy Ogden intercepted a lateral at the Indian 15 and carried to the 10. Two plays later, Pate went 9 yards around end for the score. Sease converted to make it 7-0.

Neither team could get their offense rolling, and the half ended with the score 7-0.

A spirited Newberry rolled back in the second half, with HB Jimmy Lawndes and Fullback Richard Seastrunk carrying for the big yardage. Seastrunk scored from the two. A pass for two points was intercepted.

The Indians kicked off and Hill fumbled, but the Hosemen immediately recovered a Newberry fumble. Shortly thereafter Waters, Pate, and Hampton shocked the crowd with their beautiful play. Sease converted, making it 14-6.

In the fourth period, Bill Hill rolled off 50 yards in 3 plays, one of them going for 40 yards to the Newberry 5. From this point Pate slashed between guard and tackle for the score. The try for the point failed, and the final score was PC 20, Newberry 6.

Thanksgiving wrapped up the most successful PC gridiron season since 1930 when Walter Johnson's Hosemen soared to a 9-1 record.

The PC'uns began the 1959 season in a mass of thrills with squeaker victories over East Carolina 18-14, Furman 24-23, Davidson 24-21, and Wofford 27-19.

The Blue Hose defenses began to tighten and the Jones boys romped over Elon, Catawba, Tampa, Appalachian, and Newberry. The only mar of the season was the muddy 8-0 loss to The Citadel.

Aside from cheering the team, PC fans had individual heroes in the form of Bobby Pate and Bob Waters, the now famed halfback-quarterback combination.

Team captains for the evangelistic teams discuss plans at a recent meeting. They are Larry Wood, Dick Curnow, Chairman Paul Reid, Joe Pickard, and Pat Griffin. (Hawkins photo)

To Carolinas Georgia

Club Offers Church Services

Six members of the Ministerial Club have recently been elected to serve as chairman of the Evangelistic teams for the spring semester. These men are Jack Crandall, Larry Wood, Pat Griffin, Joe Pickard, Paul Reid, and Dick Curnow.

This function of the Ministerial Club has developed into one of the finest channels for experience and development in the past four years. Under the direction of Paul Reid and the faculty advisor, the individual teams plan a program or programs to present to the church that has invited them.

The types of programs may vary from a youth meeting to a program for the Men of the Church. Sunday school classes, Sunday morning worship services, evening services, all phases of the church calendar, have appeared on the schedule for the evangelistic teams.

While time and distance usually confine the area of visitations to nearby towns, the teams have carried programs to all parts of this state as well as to Georgia and North Carolina. The project is planned, not only to give the students practical experience, but also to give supporting churches evidence of the work of the school.

Life at Smyth . . .

(Continued from page two)

"Yeah, Garles, I guess you have to admit you can't beat Bonnie for a pretty darn good proctor. A real inspiration to his boys. I'm sure he doesn't drink, smoke, or cuss. I understand he does a little gambling every once in a while, though. I just wish I could be a proctor and gamble."

Falcons Highlight Christmas Weekend

Final plans for the Christmas weekend were released today by the Inter-Fraternity Council. The annual dance will be held at the Clinton Armory on Friday, December 11, from 8 to 12 p. m. Admission will be four dollars per couple, and the dress is PC formal. Music by the Falcons, who are noted for their popular record, "So Fine," and by Roscoe Gordon's Orchestra, will be featured at the dance.

On Saturday night, December 12, the fraternities will have dances and parties at their respective suites, climaxing the Christmas dance weekend.

One of the Best . . .

(Continued from page three)

game, Coach Jones has thrown a wide-open offense at his opposition this year. His attack, sparked by Halfback Bobby Pate and Quarterback Bob Waters, has rolled out 233 points for a 23.3 points-per-game average. Opponents averaged 13 points each contest.

Rushing has been the main team weapon this season, as the Hosemen produced 1,579 ground yards for a 157.9 game average. Passes added 893 more — averaging 89.3 each game—for a total production of 2,472 yards in ten games.

The GREEKS

Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

(Continued from page two)

Brothers Bennett and Bean were congratulated on their tapping into the Blue Key. Chosen as Brothers of the Week were Bean, Bennett, Waters, and Reed.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Entertainment, decorations, and menu for the Smoker were decided upon during Alpha Psi's last meeting.

Plans were made for the Christmas Dance Weekend and the Alpha Sig Christmas party.

Season's greetings were extended to Alpha Psi Chapter from the Perdue University chapter.

Seeks Ban . . .

(Continued from page two)

is so enthusiastic over his "deferred rushing" proposal that he has inadvertantly deferred consideration of an equally important issue—the citizen's right to run his life within socially and legally acceptable boundaries.

We offer the suggestion that Senator Farr, co-author of the bill outlawing hazing on college campuses that ironically went into effect hours after Richard Swanson died in a Kappa Sigma initiation, let the fraternity-sorority systems on the various campuses in the state set their own rushing qualifications.

We applaud the senator for his interest in the problems of the college student, but we must admonish him for failing to respect our civil rights. (ACP)

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 7-8
No Name on the Bullet
Audie Murphy, Joan Evans

Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 9-10
Career
Dean Martin, Anthony Francis, Shirley Jones, Carolyn Jones

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 11-12
Walk Into Hell
Thrilling Jungle Adventure

BARBER SHOP
GALLMAN'S
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU
FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Murrah's Barber Shop
ENTERPRISE ST.—BACK OF COMMUNITY CASH GROCERY
All Haircuts .....75 Massage.....75

McGEE'S
DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE!
They said that bullfighting was strictly for men, and a woman couldn't do it. But pretty Pat McCormick, while a student at Texas Western College, ignored the scoffers, and became the first American girl to win international acclaim as a torea-Dora.

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tars and more taste—in one great cigarette.

PACK OR BOX

LIGHT INTO THAT LIVE MODERN FLAVOR!

©LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO., 1959

Rush Week Ends As New Greeks Pledge

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., December 11, 1959 No. 10

Class Schedule Revision Not Official; Plan Awaits Revamping or Scrapping

Changes Expected As Best Solution Sought

A proposed devised timetabel and class schedule for use when the new chapel-auditorium is put into operation much discussed and widely rumored on campus, had not found rejection or approval this week.

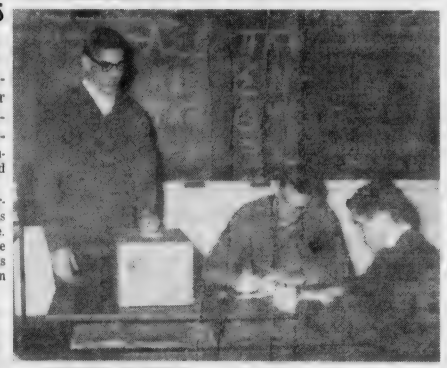
The revesion was discussed during a faculty meeting earlier this week, but no decision was made. Modifications are expected in the class schedule before final word is given on the proposal. The decision will be an Administrative one.

A special committee on class scheduling composed of faculty members are looking for the best schdeule to meet the changes brought about by th future opening of Belk Auditorium. Possibly other plans will be constructed.

For information of students, the following points of the current proposal was made available to The Blue Stocking.

1—Classes will begin at 8:00 a. m. and run continuously until 1:30 p. m. All classes will be 50 minutes in length, beginning on the hour.

2—There will be no 1:00 p. m. class on Saturday.



3—Drill will be held once a week on Monday afternoon from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock.

4—It is anticipated that athletic practice will not begin until 4 o'clock p. m. on any day of the week.

5—Labs will be held from 1 until 4 p. m., Tuesday through Friday.

6—Military Science classes (Bas-

(Continued on page four)

DECISIONS, DECISIONS . . . and plenty of them were made scraped and made again during the hectic days of Rush Week. Making and casting their ballots on Thursday were Marshall Jones, Sigma nu; Roe Galloway, Alpha Sigma Phi; and George Ragan, Pi Kappa Alpha.—(Hawkins Photo)

Committee Submits Proposal Concerning Cheating Problem

A new resolution on cheating found faculty approval Wednesday night. The Special Committee on Cheating, composed of Dr. Neil Whitelaw, chairman, and Mr. Andy Howard and Mr. Tom Stallworth, made the recommendations.

The resolution, which becomes part of the faculty rules, is aimed at clearing up a previously hazy point, according to Chairman Whitelaw.

The following are the three recomendations:

1. In cases in which there is material evidence of cheating such as examination papers, term papers, etc., that the evidence be referred to the Student Council for decision.

2. In cases in which the evidence is observational, that the professor be free to make a decision as to whether he will handle the case himself or refer it to the Student Council for decision.

3. Any decision made by the professor under (2) above may be appealed by the student to the Discipline Committee of the Faculty which shall in this case include the Academic Dean.

Student Center Open

Dance weekend schedule for Douglas House, as announced by Irvin Montgomery, Director of Student Activities, has the student center open on Friday night until 2:00 a. m., Saturday until 1:00 a. m., and on Sunday from noon until 7:00 p. m.

Cut Checking

Chapel adsences may be checked with Butch Woodard in the Administration building from 2 to 4 p. m. on Tuesday and Thursday, students are reminded. Regular class cuts may be checked with Miss Iona Blakely at the desk Monday-Friday, 1:30 until five only.

Rush End Spotlights

Long History of PC's Fraternities

"Doc, you gotta do something—Rush Week is over, and I can't stop smiling."

The close of annual Rush yesterday spotlights PC's six national social fraternities. Fraternity history at PC dates back to 1890 when Mu Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha was founded. Except for the brief period of inactivity from 1912-24, during a national anti-Greek movement, PC has had an active fraternity system.

Alpha Sigma Phi came to PC in 1946 when that fraternity and Alpha Kappa Pi voted to merge at their separate conventions. PC's AKP chapter became Alpha Psi of Alpha Sigma Phi.

Beta Pi of Kappa Alpha was chartered here on December 29, 1929. The rooms were on third floor Neville until after World War II when the chapter moved to its present location.

Pi Kappa Phi, founded at College of Charleston, chose PC as the school to form its second chapter, and Beta was chartered here on March 9, 1907.

Alpha Lambda Tau came to PC in 1927. The group became a local during post-war years and in 1951 became Zeta Theta Chapter of Sigma Nu.

Organized at PC on December 5, 1942, Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi joined this fraternity after several years as Beta Kappa local.

Holidays

Announcement was made earlier this week of extended Christmas Vacation Classes have been suspended for next Saturday, with the holidays slated to begin officially on Friday at 6:00 p. m.

Classes begin again on Tuesday, January 5, with final examinations following close behind, January 25-29. A longer break between semesters is set than in previous years.

The Blue Stocking presses stop rolling today for the holidays, with the next issue on the publication schedule set for January 8.

Christmas Dinner Scheduled Monday

PC's annual Christmas dinner will be held Monday night, December 14, at Judd Dining Hall, according to L. V. Powell, dining hall manager.

The menu includes turkey with all the trimmings, ham, green beans, asparagus, frozen whole kernel corn, spiced apple, congealed Christmas salad, sliced tomatoes and lettuce, tea and lemon, milk, rolls, butter, assorted pickles, apples and oranges, tangerines, nuts, and candy.

Copies of the SCA student directory will be passed out to all students.

Alumni Establish Three Scholarships

Three new scholarship funds have been established at Presbyterian College, according to announcement by President Marshall W. Brown.

Alumni figure in the three gifts currently announced:

Dr. Plumer Jacobs Mason, '18, of Miami, Fla., orthopedic surgeon, has transferred to PC $10,000 in bonds for the establishment of a fund.

T. A. Leonard, Jr., of Leonard Brothers Transfer and Storage Co., of Miami, through his friendship for Alumnus Joe Eaton, '47, sent a $1,500 gift to establish the "Joe Eaton-Leonard Brothers Scholarship Fund."

Joseph L. Barnett, '19, of Gastonia, N. C., recently inaugurated his scholarship fund with a $550 contribution from the Clyde Foundation.

Figures supplied by Business Manager G. Edward Campbell, show that Presbyterian College is granting scholarships to 216 students enrolled for the 1959-60 session. Included in this program are: 22 Founder's scholars, each receiving from $200 to $500 annually on awards made competitively; 31 ministerial candidates with yearly grants of $250 each; and 18 sons of ministers, each receiving $250 in aid. High school valedictorians also qualify for $250 grants and there are numerous other scholarships given in recognition of leadership and merit in various fields.

Three Fraternities Tie With Thirteen

Anuual Rush activity was climaxed yesterday as sixty freshmen and new men cast their ballots for the fraternity of their choice. Ninety-seven freshmen had grades necessary to pledge. Some seven men who are not freshmen or transfers also pledged.

Three fraternities gained thirteen pledges: Theta Chi, Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Nu. Pi Kappa Alpha follows with twelve, Alpha Sigma Phi with ten ,and Pi Kappa Phi with seven.

Those pledging Theta Chi are: Marin Whitemire, Al Weinberg, Max Walker, Robert St. Clair, Paul Robinson, George Reaves, Thomas Mitchell, Donald Lohman, Mark Gleen, and Ted Elders. Also Del Buttrell, Max Cliburn, and Mathew Smith.

Sigma Nu pledges include: Marshall Jones, Vince Brown, C. J. Ray, Everett Conneley, Alex Bosserman, Pete Yearout, Lawton Rice, and Bill Ripley. Also John Elrod, Lamar Williams, Tommy Estes, Mike Saunders, and Stuart Caldwell.

Added to Kappa Alpha ranks were: Bill Bartee, Billy Bryan, Joe Harvard, Grif Heiwig, Whit Jordan, and Bill Simmons. Also included are Richard Wansley, Henry Gordon, Charles Copley, Mac Copeland, Bill Ogden ,and Bob Smith.

Pi Kappa Alpha listes Rollin Butler, Mike Gryder, George Ragan, Keith Richardson, Tony Wilson, Bill Russell, Rick Saunders, Edd Collins, Dave Harrell, Jim McGuire, Billy Degnar, and Sammy Clayton.

Pledges of Alpha Sigma Phi are Bobby Piephoff, Wirt Skinner, Billy Eberhardtt, Bob Arrowood, Allen Freeman, Murray White, Paul Woodall, Roe Galloway, Jack Crider, and Dave Greenslade.

Pledging Pi Kappa Phi were Gary Brown, Steve Craig, Ken Davis, John Dickerson, John Donaldson, Wayne Fowler, and Edsell Hiatt.

BARBARA KLINGBEIL

Berlin Lass Named Miss Tangerine Bowl

Barbara Klingbiel, an eighteen-year-old hazel-eyed brunette of Berlin, Germany, was selected as the 1960 Tangerine Bowl Queen recently at Cypress Gardens, Fla. She will reign over the festivities in the game on New Year's night at Orlando.

The members of her court include: Marty Cameron of Florida Southern University, Karon Lots of Titusville, Fla., Pat Cossin of Orlando, Nancy Channel of Kissimmee, Suzy Morris of Winter Park, and Vivian Thompson of Eustis.

Tangerine Bowl fever hit a high pitch this week as the holiday event draws nearer. The sports page of The Blue Stocking highlights the Bowl game today. See page four.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Rush Week Blues

To say that this past week has been hectic would be an understatement. Rush Week, with its demands of time and energy, unfortunately fell during a quiz period, adding to the troubles of the PC fraternity man and rushee.

The PC fraternity system involves well over half of the student body. When a group of students this large takes a scholastic beating, a problem of large proportions evolves.

The faculty committee on fraternities has shown their willingness to co-operate to the good of the student in the switch of rush to first semester. We feel that the time has come to examine the dates of rush more extensively.

The period between Thanksgiving and Christmas finds professors in something of a paradox: they do not want to give quizzes too close to mid-semesters, or too close to Christmas holidays, so test week falls in the middle—which is during rush.

We feel that the Inter-Fraternity Council could work with the faculty in finding a better time for Rush Week, possibly prior to Thanksgiving holidays. The result of such an action would undoubtedly result in more sleep and better grades for everyone.

The Young Turks

Newsweek magazine publishes a "Responsibility Series," a program of public service messages intended to "nudge Americans" back to their basic responsibilities. The following is an example of the provocative messages.

"Where is that traditional young American who takes the 'Boy Wanted' sign out of the window and says to the boss, 'I'm your boy'? You know the lad I mean, the bell-ringer, up with the sun, last to leave, sweep the floors, learn the line, get to know the territories, up off the canvas shoot for the moon, watch-my-dust! We've had our bellies full of the play-it-safe boys. Where is that enterprising youth who's willing to stick his skinny neck out and make decisions? 'He only has to be right 51% of the time to be a success,' says Bruce Barton. America needs more Young Turks. (And Old Turks who know how to recognize the Young ones). The kind of man who parachutes into darkest Africa—and opens a chain of super-markets in sixty days!"

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR MAURICE SCHWARTZ
Sports Editor Martin Chitty
Feature Editor Graham Edmunds
Copy Edior Allen Freeman
News Director Murray White

'Twas The Night Before Pledging

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

'Twas the night before pledging, when all through the dorm
Not a creature was stirring, not one single form;
The clothing was hung by the bed with care,
In hopes that fraternity men soon would be there;
The rushees were nestled all snug in their beds ,
While visions of pledge bids danced in their heads;
And roomo in his PJ's, and I in my briefs,
Had just settled our brains for our usual short sleep,
When out in the hall there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the door I flew like a streak,
Tore open the lock what did I meet.
The noise in the hall of the very top floor,
Gave an air of mystery to myself in the door;
When what to my wondering eyes should I see,
But a crowd of about 30, headed for me,
With a little old leader, so sleepey and barren,
I knew in a moment he must be Rush Chairman.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled, and shouted and called them by name:
'Now Tom! now Dick, now Harry and Stu!
On, Paul, on, Jim! and the IFC too!
In through the door, light up a smoke!
Now, dash away, dash away, and begin telling jokes!'
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So, into my room the coursers they flew,
With a handful of bids—and the Rush Chairman, too.
And then in a twinkling as they sat on the floor
Pawing and knocking was heard on my green door.
They were all wondering, you see, just who it could be,
And when the door opened, it was me.
When the thirty had charged into the room,
I was left in the hall—in the dark and gloom.
So, as I started to enter and was turning around,
Down the banister the Chairman came with a bound.
He was dressed all in Orion from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all full of smoke and soot;
A bundle of bids he held behind his back,
And he looked like a guy, ready for the sack.
His eyes how bloodshot! his dimples how sagging!
His cheeks were like moon-pits, his nose, it was dragging;
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke he was blowing, circled his head like a wreath;
He was chubby and plump—a right ugly old elf;
So, I laughted when I saw him spite of myself.
A slap on the back, and a twi his head,
Soon gave me to know I had ing to dread.
He spoke not a word, but wen straight to his work,
And gave me a bid; then out with a jerk.
And raising his arm, the group a song.
And they all shook my hand, t was almost gone.
He sprang out the door, to his g gave a whistle,
And away the troops flew like down of a thistle;
But I heard them exclaim, as disappeared in the night,
"We'll see you Thursday, and pecially that night!"

Rush Week Review

Carolers Sing Yule Joys

Anything, December 2-9, 1959—3:23

My roommate, Percival Crudely, and I were resting in peace in a couple of those lovely beds which P. College furnishes us for such rare occasions which seldom arise. All of a sudden we were awakened by what seemed like a stampede of Texas long-horned steers in the hall outside.

"What's all the noise, G. B.?"

"I guess another smoker is over and the brothers are spreading good tidings of great joy. Say, P. C., what did you think of Rush Week this year?"

"Well, G. B., I thought it was one h . . . of a week. On top of the smokers, I had four quizzes co iently to fall within the week On my math I made a flying two."

"This is bad?"

"Well, for some it might be sidered good. Take Reginald, fo stance, he made a thirty-three, this raised his average to a tw seven."

"These profs have a habit of ing quizzes during smokers an the fraternity activities, they?"

"Yeah, G. B., they sure d happens every year."

"Yep."

"G. B., have you seen that

(Continued from page four)

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

THETA CHI

At the regular meeting of Beta Psi Chapter, plans were completed a stag steak supper at Wade's in Spartanburg Thursday night.

The brothers and pledges were thanked for a successful smoker. G speakers were Mr. Tommy Hollis and Mr. Bob Helderman.

Plans for Christmas dance were rounded out with closed socials b planned for Friday and Saturday nights.

KAPPA ALPHA

Final plans were completed for the Christmas Dance Weekend closed party will be held Saturday afternoon for the brothers and pled of Beta Psi at the Mary Musgrove Hotel. This will be followed by an party Sautrday night at the fraternity lodge. On both occasions music be proveded by the Hearts. This past Thursday night a party was at Smith's Ranch for the pledges.

PI KAPPA PHI

Local alumni and guest speaker, Dr. Purcell, and Dr. Ratliff of vidson, were present at the smoker Wednesday night. Peck's will a be the site of dance weekend parties, on both Friday and Saturday nig

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The brothers welcomed their new pledges with a party last night lowing the pledge ceremonies.

Activities for Christmas Dance Weekend will include a sweater d Saturday night, and the Annual Christmas Party with Santa Rede special guest.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

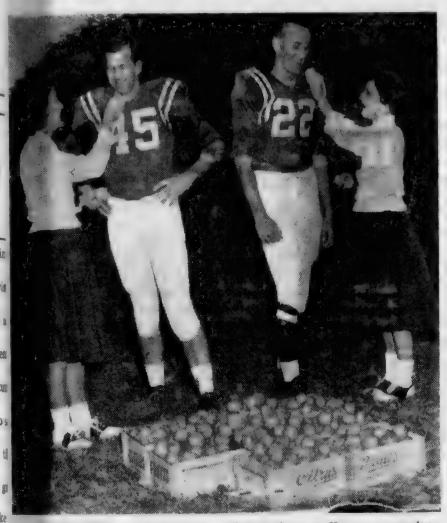
At the Tuesday night meeting plans were completed for the Thurs night Stag Supper, Saturday afternoon party at Thornwell, and the urday night closed social at which the Royal Sultans will play.

Brother Pat Malone was chosen pledge master.

Congratulations were extended to everyone for the successful sum Brothers of the Week were Reed, Sells, Malone, Brown, and Collins

SIGMA NU

A joint meeting was held this week. Final plans for pledging and Dance Weekend were made, and for a party on Thursday night.



Work is being done on the Christmas decorations.

Coach Hope says his team is under-rated in the recent sports aro We wish to extend congratulations to all our new pledges.

—In The RIT Reporter

Blue Hose Aim At Tangerine Bowl Win

HAVE SOME . . . getting a taste of tangerines are Hose cop-captains Paul Chastain and Bob Waters. Cheerleaders Anna Graves and Judy Bolten serve the fruit.

• Socks Resume Practice Sessions

Presbyterian College gridmen resumed practice sessions this week in preparation for their Tangerine Bowl engagement on New Year's Day.

Coach Frank Jones brought his squad back in uniform Tuesday afternoon for ten more days of workouts before they scatter for the Christmas holidays. He plans to continue the afternoon sessions through next Friday and then dismiss the players for a week's vacation.

They are scheduled to return to the PC campus the day after Christmas, in time for the trip down to Orlando, Fla., on December 27. Coach Jones said he will leave early that morning in order to make the trip in one day.

The Blue Hose plan to have four days of workouts immediately leading up to the Tangerine Bowl clash. Their first practice on Florida turf is scheduled for December 28, and sessions will be continued daily through December 31. Headquarters for the team during its Orlando Presbyterian, boasting a record stay will be the San Juan Hotel.

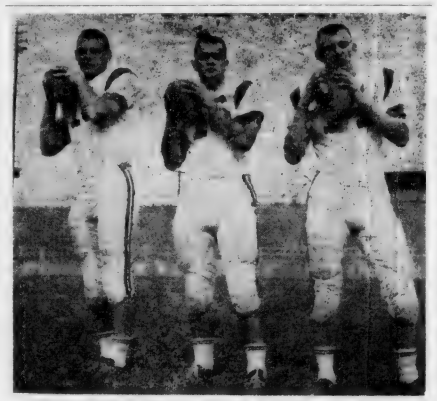
of nine wins and one loss for its best season since 1930, will meet Middle Tennessee State of Murfreesboro, in this 14th annual Tangerine Bowl classic. Middle Tenessee won nine and tied one during its regular season play.

The Tangerine engagement, sponsored by the Orlando Elks Club for the benefit of charity, is scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m. on January 1.

MTSC has been rated third in United Press International's Coaches' selection. This small college rating had PC as number 16. Latest power fatings give PC's opponent a four-point edge.

Bowl tickets must be picked up before noon tomorrow at the athletic department. Remaining tickets are to be returned to Orlando.

The Fourteenth annual Tangerine Bowl seems to be aiming at attendance records as last reports indicate 80 per cent of the tickets sold.



Holiday Game Will Be 'Well Covered'

Presbyterian gridders will be "well covered" during their initial Bowl efforts January 1.

Bill Hogan, of WLBG, heading up the "PC Network," will be broadcasting the Tangerine Bowl play-by-play to stations across the state.

Some ten radio stations are signed to carry the game. Among them are: WSPA Spartanburg, WIS Columbia, WFIG Sumter, WRHI Rock Hill, WANS Anderson, plus other stations.

Leading newspapers of South Carolina, Tennessee, and Florida will be represented in the press box, along with the major wire services.

GETTING THE GRIP on the pigskin for the Tangerine Bowl clash with PC are Middle Tennessee's top quarterbacks. Left to right, they are: Whit Watson, Jerry Bailey, and Jack Pearson.

Orlando Plans A Rousing Reception For PC Squad

The Florida-bound PC gridiron squad will receive a royal welcome and equally deluxe treatment during their stay in the sunny state.

The team will be met on the Florida State line and escorted into Orlando by the Highway Patrol. In Orlando a rousing reception awaits them. PC will serve as the host team, and will welcome MTSC later.

Saturday night after the game the annual Tangerine Ball is scheduled. Both teams will be honored guests for the ball and presentation of awards and trophies.

Every member of both squads will receive a Longines-Wittnauer watch as a souvenir. Sightseeing tours and other special events have also been set.

Included in the agenda for the PC students will be various fraternity parties. Plans have also been discussed for an all-school party in Orlando for New Year's.

Blue Stocks Fall To Davidson Squad

PC's last rifle duel turned out to be a loser as the Blue Stocks lost by twenty-five points to a sharp-shooting Davidson rifle team last Friday afternoon.

This week the team will fire Thursday afternoon in the 39th Wilam Randolph Hearst ROTC match against the teams in the district.

On Friday the opposition will be Clemson, whom the PC'uns defeated by only three points in the last meeting.

Singing The Blues

With MARTIN CHITTY

Sometimes we wonder as to the partiality of sports writers upon selections for the past season's "All This or That."

Bobby Pate, after gaining 670 yards rushing this season, scoring 78 points, some on runs of as much as 90 yards, and even passing for one score, received only honorable mention on the Little All-American squad.

It is not as if he wasn't on a winning squad, because the Blue Hosemen were ranked sixth in the final NAIA ratings. It certainly was not lack of publicity as he was one of the most publicized backs in South Carolina.

And then, insult was added to injury as the District 26 of the NCIA completely ignored Pate in their selection for Back of the Year. However, this is rather understandable in light of the fact that the North State Conference dominates this district.

While on this subject, why is it that we defeat all teams played in the North State and the Little Three and then only place on player on the squad. One of the teams defeated by the Hosemen placed third.

Once again congratulations and thanks to the Intramural Council for an excellent job. The new flag ball enacted this season proved much better than the old method of tag.

Another feather in the council's cap is the arrangement of the All-Star game with Erskine. If this practice is followed in future years, it should do a great deal in inciting the participants.

Intramural basketball looks to enjoy another banner year. From the looks of the participating teams, it should be a battle royal right to the end. Undoubtedly our intramural basketball is as fine as can be found anywhere, small or large colleges.

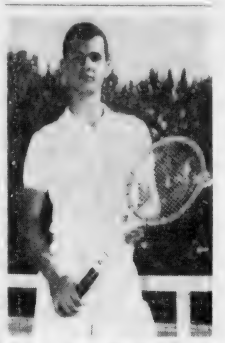
OFFBEATS—Haven't heard anything about next season's grid schedule . . . Many students wish to see Lenior-Rhyine added . . . Furman plans to lighten the schedule, dropping Carolina, Chattanooga, and George Washington, but they'll still open with the Hosemen.

Middle Tennessee Boasts Long, Impressive Record

Middle Tennesee's State College, PC's Tangerine Bowl opponent, with nine wins and a tie with Tennessee Tech, has one of the most impressive records of any small college in the nation.

In the past five years they have lost to only four teams: Vanderbilt University, 1956 (23-13); Sam Houston State, 1956 Refrigerator Bowl (27-13); University of Chattanooga, 1958 (18-7); and Tennesse Tech, 1958 (14-0).

The team was Ohio Valley Conference Champions in 1956, 1957, and shares the championship with Tennessee State for this year and last by virtue of ties.



MTSC football organization is a three-deep afair that has staged numerous second half rallies. The starting contingent is composed almost entirely of seniors while the second unit has five senior members. The third unit is composed of two seniors and nine sophomores and juniors. In the Tennessee State game, MTSC rallied from twenty points behind in the third quarter to a 27-27 tie.

Head Coach Charles Murphy is an alumnus of MTSC where he was an outstanding back in the 30's, winning Little All-American honors and playing on the first undefeated team in the school's history. He took over the MTSC head coaching job in 1947 and in 12 years has compiled an 87-30-6 record.

Ga. Teachers Defeat Weak Hose, 86-56

Georgia Teachers College defeated the PC Blue Hose by a score of 86-56 last Saturday night in Statesboro, Ga.

GTC used a full court press to conquer PC's ball control play early in the game and led at halftime 47-26. Twelve GTC players scored, with Chester Curry getting 18 points and Connie Lewis scoring 12. High man for PC was Ladd with 14 points, followed by Stratton with 13.

TONY WILSON

Tony Wilson Shines In Tennis Prospects

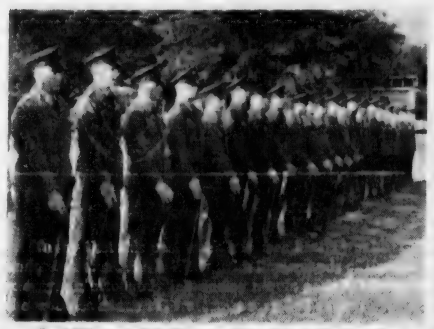
One of the brightest tennis prospects to come to PC in recent years is Tony Wilson. Born in Los Angeles, California, Tony has lived in the West, North, and Northeastern sections of the country. After leaving Los Angeles, Tony's family moved to Youngstown, Ohio, and then on to their present residence in Searsdale, N. Y.

Tony had his start in tennis five year ago at the age of 14 while living in Youngstown. He had taken several lesons from coaches other than his father; however, he feels that his father taught him everything he knew about tennis before his arrival at PC.

Starting net tournament play at 15, Tony had a rough time his first time out—he was defeated in the first round, 6-0, 6-0. However, in a short time Tony came a long way. As a junior (18 and over), Tony was one of the outstanding young players in the east, being ranked Number 3 in the east. Last year Tony played in the Western Junior Championship in Kalamazoo, Michigan, along with many other lesser tournaments. His first tournament while a student at PC will take place at Pompano, Florida, December 21. Tony and Harry Hoffman will be the only two from PC at the tournament.

'Mural Round Ball Slate Announced

Next week begins the intramural basketball season. Thus far twelve have entered the race: Sad Sacks, Pi Kappa Alpha, Falcons, Alpha Sigma Phi, Chinese Bandits, Independents, Beacon Bandits, Raiders, Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Confederates, and Sigma Nu.



Cliff Stovall and Dave Magee will schedule the season. Irvin Montgomery, Director of Student Activities, announced that once the schedules are set, no changes will be made.

The season will end with the traditional Big Four Tournament of the four teams compiling the season's top records.

The intramural council announced that the spring sports this year will consist of track, swimming, volley ball, softball, and tennis.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

The ROTC crack Drill Platoon, which will probably form the nucleus for the PC unit of the Pershing Rifles. Faculty approval this week paved the way for the chartering of a company of the national organization at PC. Plans are being made prior to petitioning the national group.

Carolers Sing . . .

(Continued from page two)

exchange student we've got?"

"No, who's that, P. C.?"

"You know, the guy who rakes leaves."

"How do you classify him as an exchange student?"

"Well, I heard that we sent a leaf raker over here and they sent one over here."

"I don't think so, P. C., but say, did you see the dignitaries that we had here at the first of the week?"

"Yeah, I did see them here—you reckon they got things straight this time?"

" I hope so."

"Well, G. B., I guess I'd better get up and go over to Beatty Hall. I've got to get Mr. Beatty to build me a few things."

"Well, where is Beatty Hall?"

"Aw, G. B., you know—the maintenance shed."

Plan Not Official

(Continued from page one)

ic) will now meet twice a week, advanced classes four times a week.

7—A full hour is scheduled on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays for the general compulsory assembly of the Student Body for appropriate purposes.

8—The corresponding hour in the TTS schedule is devoted to regular class work.

In releasing the information, emphasis was placed upon the fact that this is purely a proposal, lacking official stamp, and pending modification and possible new plans.

Murrah's Barber Shop

ENTERPRISE ST.—BACK OF COMMUNITY CASH GROCERY

All Haircuts.....75 Massage.....75

Second Year

Pate Named 'Back-of-Year'

For the second successive year Bobby Pate has been named Little Three "Back of the Year." A teammate, center Mac Copeland, tied for "Lineman of the Year" honors with Newberry's pivot man, Conley Jumper.

Each of the nine voters, three coaches from each school, were asked to name two men for each honor and they were counted on the basis of five points for a first place vote and three for a second place nod. Each school was asked to name two men for each honor and they were counted on the basis of five points for a first place vote and three for a second place nod.

Copeland and Jumper both compiled 24 points to beat out Ron Dibuno, Wofford guard, and Bill Schofill, the Blue Hose tackle. Dibuno got 15 points and Schofill nine.

Pate, who ran for 670 yards and caught passes for another 267 during the season, rolled up 39 points out of a possible 45 in the "Back of the Year" balloting. Teammate Bob Waters was next with 18 points. Newberry fullback Richard Seastrunk got 15.

FIRST TEAM

End—Jimmie Graham, New.	33
End—John Hudgens, New.	30
End—Paul Chastain, PC	30
Tackle—Bill Schofill, PC	45
Tackle—John Temles, New.	37
Guard—Ron Dibuno, Woff.	45
Guard—Bill Ogden, PC	33
Center—Conley Jumper, New.	39
Back—Bobby Pate, PC	45
Back—Richard Seastrunk, New.	45
Back—Bob Waters, PC	45
Back—Gary Whitlock, Woff.	39

SECOND TEAM

End—Jon Vastine, PC	18
End—Don Jones, Woff.	18
Tackle—Fleming Harris, Woff.	24
Tackle—Gene Hendrix, New.	11
Guard—Roland Rosier, New.	24
Guard—Standly Ross, New.	24
Center—Mac Copeland, PC	24
Back—Wyman Taylor, New.	27
Back—Jack Drawdy, Woff.	18
Back—Jimmy Lawder, New.	18

TB Drive Held

The Laurens County TB Association recently placed Christmas Seals in PC students' mail boxes. It is hoped that the students will make wide use of these seals for all their holiday packages and letters.

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday and Tuesday Dec. 14-15

Day of the Outlaw

Robert Ryan, Burl Ives, Tina Louise

Wednesday and Thursday Dec. 16-17

Sign of the Gladiator

The Screen Explodes in a Wond Colorscope Spectacle

Friday and Saturday Dec. 18-19

The Littlest Hob

London, the Dog, and Fleecie Lamb, with Buddy Hart, an Wendy Stuart

Welcome

To

The Charcoal Cellar

Douglas House Basement

Steaks - Shrimp - Hot Dogs

COME AND BRING YOUR FRIENDS

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE! They said that bullfighting was strictly for men, and a woman couldn't do it. But pretty Pat McCormick, while a student at Texas Western College, ignored the scoffers, and became the first American girl to win international acclaim as a torea-Dora.

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tars and more taste—in one great cigarette.

PACK OR BOX

LIGHT INTO THAT LIVE MODERN FLAVOR!

©LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO., 1960

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., January 8, 1960 No. 11

LOOKING A LOT different for its former self is the Presbyterian Bell Tower. The structure, a long standing tradition of the school, had fallen into bad repair, until action over the holidays by Mr. Beatty and his maintenance crew.—Hawkins Photo.

Revised Class Schedule Approved; Goes Into Effect Next Semester

• Drill Set for Afternoon

Final approval of a revised class schedule for next semester was announced this week. Approval came after a month of study and work on the plan. Highlighting the new schedule are 8 o'clock classes and military drill once a week.

The main innovations, as taken from a memo from the special committee on class scheduling are:

Classes will begin at 8:00 a. m. and run continuously until 1:50 p. m. All classes will be 50 minhour.

There will be no 1:00 p. m. class on Saturday.

Drill will be held once a week on Thursday afternoon from 2:00 until 4:00 p. m.

It is anticipated that athletic practice will not begin until 4:00 p. m. on any day of the week.

Labs will be held from 1:00 through 4:00 p. m. Tuesday through Friday.

Military Science Classes (Basic) will now meet twice a week, advanced classes four times a week.

A full hour is scheduled on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays for the general, compulsory assembly of the student body for appropriate purposes.

The corresponding hour in the Tuesday-Thursday-Saturday schedule is devoted to regular class work.

The schedule change forces revamping of the lunch hour, which will be served from 11:30 until 1:00.

Construction of the new chapel-auditorium has brought about the change. In commenting on the plan earlier this week, Dean George Bellingrath said, "We believe that making an hour available for chapel gives opportunity for more meaningful services.

"The action makes military more academic," he stated further. The Dean also commented that the change in lab hour will make it possible for pre-med students to participate in sports.

Automatic Exclusion Rules Are Announced

Announced this week in connection with the grade point ratio change, was the adoption of new rules concerning automatic exclusion.

These new rules go into effect next semester for the entire student body.

The following excerpts from the new college catalog explain the new plan.

After one semester of residence—the freshman student who fails to achieve a quality point ratio of 1.00 will be placed on probation. At the discretion of the Admissions Committee such student may be required to withdraw from college.

After two and after three semesters, those students who fail to achieve a quality point ratio of 1.00 will be excluded for one semester. A student who does not have a quality point ratio of 1.30 at this time will be placed on probation.

After four and after five semesters of residence—those students who fail to achieve a quality point ratio of 1.30 will be excluded for one semester. A student who does not have a quality point ratio of 1.50 at this time will be placed on probation.

The student who incurs a second exclusion under these regulations will not be permitted to re-enter Presbyterian College.

After six semesters, or more, of residence—those students who fail to have a quality point ratio of 1.50 will be permanently excluded.

In calculating semesters of residence, semesters spent in other colleges will be counted in exactly the same manner as for the same time of residence at PC. A summer session will be counted as a proportional part of a semester.

Exam Schedule

First Semester, 1959-60

Monday, January 25
9:00-12:00	TTS	11:20
2:00- 5:00	MWF	11:20
Tuesday, January 26
9:00-12:00	TTS	12:15
2:00- 5:00	MWF	12:15
Wednesday, January 27
9:00-12:00	For. Langs.
2:00- 5:00	MWF	8:35
Thursday, January 28
9:00-12:00	TTS	9:50
2:00- 5:00	MWF	9:50
Friday, January 29
9:00-12:00	TTS	8:55
2:00- 5:00	MWF	2:00
Saturday, January 30
9:00-12:00	TTS	2:00

Choir Prepares New Record Release

This weekend will culminate a busy week of rehearsals for the choir. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights were spent polishing up numbers in preparation for recording secessions on Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Chris Patte is taping the secessions. RCA-Victor is handling the job of pressing the record. This afternoon, a majority of the songs were recorded in Neville Hall. The balance will be taped in Greenwood tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church, using the organ.

The choir will return to Greenwood Sunday to sing for the morning service. Sunday night they will sing at the Second Presbyterian Church in Spartanburg.

Dr. Brown Attends Boston College Meet

President Marshall W. Brown is in Boston this week where he is representing the South Carolina Foundation of Independent Colleges at the meeting of the Independent Colleges of America, a recently organized national group. He is president of the South Carolina organization.

QP Ratio is Changed; 4 - Point System Adopted

• Classification Ruling Revamped

The second major change in a year in a continuing improvement program for Presbyterian's academic program was announced today by Academic Dean George C. Bellingrath. The announcement concerned requirements for degrees, changing PC's Quality Point ratio.

The new plan features four quality points for an A (Superior), three for a B (Good), two for a C (Average), one for a D (Poor and unsatisfactory), and none for an F (Failure).

To qualify for a bachelor's degree from Presbyterian a student must sucessfully complete the general education courses required of all students, satisfy the requirements within an area of concentration, and earn a minimum of 130 semester hours with a quality point ratio of 1.8.

A student's scholastic average is determined by dividing the number of quality points that he has earned by the number of semester hours for which he has registered. Withdrawal Passing and F's are not counted.

The new plan changes ruling for classification. Students are classified once a year, in September, within class groups according to the number of hours and quality points earned. Sophomores must earn 24 semester hours and a quality point ratio of 1.40, Juniors 54 hours, including all required freshman courses, with a quality point ratio of 1.60. To be classified as a senior, the student must accumulate 90 hours, including all required freshman and sophomore courses with a quality point ratio of 1.60.

Changes have also been made in requirements for honor graduates: Summa Cum Laude, 3.75 or more, Magna Cum Laude, 3.5 but less than 3.75, Cum Laude, 3.2 but less than 3.5.

Payments Due

Carl Gibson, Military Ball chairman, reminds all ROTC cadets that money for the Military Ball will soon be due and that this money must be paid. Payments can be made at the dining hall and during announced chapel periods.

Two Decades for PC

Fabulous Fifties ... And Soaring Sixties

By BILL BARTEE

The past ten years have been ones of progress in many fields for Presbyterian College. The first signs of physical improvement came in 1955, with the completion of Bailey Hall. Soon after, ground was broken for the new Student Union Building. Dedicated in 1958, the new student center was built at a cost of a quarter of a million dollars. The building was named Douglas House in honor of past president Davison McDowell Douglas.

The year 1958 also saw groundbreaking ceremonies for the now soon to be completed Chapel-Auditorium. Expected to be completed in early spring, the Belk Chapel-Auditorium will have a seating capacity of 1,200.

Great academic strides have also been made by the college. It was in the nineteen-fifties that the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board was added as part of the entrance requirements. In 1957, a study was made of the college by the Synods of Georgia and South Carolina. Recommendations were made resulting in the new Area of Concentration Program being adopted as well as the revision of our quality point system. Presbyterian College in 1955 celebrated its seventy-fifth birthday. In commemoration of this, a Diamond Jubilee was held in which the Synods of South Carolina and Georgia were asked to raise $750,000. The campaign was put well over the top with more than $1,000,000 being contributed. Since 1950 the College endowment has increased to nearly two and a half times its previous size, thus enabling more and better scholarships to be offered. The waiting list for PC has grown so long that in the past three years, only one-third of the applicants have been accepted.

Athletics have played no small part in the recent past of the school. Excellent teams in Football, Base-

(Continued on page four)

By STAFF WRITER

With a look backwards at a decade filled with development, Presbyterian College faces the '60's—an era which holds progress for the school and the nation.

Highlighting the sixties will probably be a considerably enlarged coed program. If endowment and building funds are available, the student body will grow, aiming at the ultimate 600 men and 300 women. A curriculum geared to the female students will result. Definitely in the decade: a Director of Religious Education major, possibly coming next year.

1960 1960

The administration feels, according to Dr. Marshall W. Brown, president, that the greatest need in the decade is to increase endowment. Since $426 is spent for each student in additoon to fees by the student, an increase in endowment income will be necessary before hoped for expansion can be made. It is hoped, Dr. Brown stated, that present land holdings are sufficient to offer sites for a new science hall, fine arts additon, and dining hall.

If additional endowment and land should be made available to the campus, it is believed that the church will sponsor another capital funds campaign which will utilize additional space and make possible the increase in students.

Also included in the plans for the decade is extensive renovations.

Work done last year by a landscape artist on the campus will begin to show fruit. Belk auditorium will open its doors this year to an enlarged program of student activities. Continued progress will be made on the school's academic program as a result of an extensive survey during the sixties.

PC, after seventy-five years of ups and downs, matured during the fifties, and prepares to come into its own as it enters the "soaring sixties."

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

That 'Week of Grace'

(Reprinted by request from the May 1, 1959, issue of The Blue Stocking)

Final Examinations are drawing near, a fact which we are sure needs no emphasizing to the student body. Finals are, to say the least, trying and important. Their importance and the great amount of work necessary in preparation for them justifies a student's outcry as quizzes are assigned right on through the week before exams.

Many schools give their students a "day off," in which to prepare, without classes, for finals. This would be heaven . . . we would not aspire to such heights, rather we advocate a "week of grace." This simply would mean no quizzes the week before exams, unless absolutely necessary. The week would also call for the co-operation of the students, by planning no social events or meetings during the allotted time.

It is simple, but not silly. A "week of grace" could well mean better grades.

PC - And The 60's

At the close of one decade and the dawning of another is a good time indeed for reflection.

Presbyterian College has prospered during the fifties, and during the last five years made impressive growth and improvements. Looking into the crystal ball of the sixties, one can see ten years of great promise for the college.

As students, this means two very simple things to us. First, a challenge to take full advantage, in every way, of the improvements offered us . . . to make improvements on the student level. And then, as we become citizens of the sixties, to look with interset at our alma mater during its greatest era.

For Colleges

What's In A Name?

Anent a name—an official one, that is—for the new Consolidated Presbyterian College now under construction near Laurinburg, N. C., a Tar Heel newspaper offers these thoughts:

"Isn't it about time the college gets a name? No one seems to hope the college can be named after the three institutions it will incorporate: Flora Macdonald, Peace and Presbyterian Junior. But unless someone comes up with a name soon, the new institution seems doomed to be called Consolidated Presbyterian.

"Headline writers already use 'CPC' which we're sure the Presbyterians down at Clinton, S. C., won't care for."

Darned right, PC'uns don't like it. And to add insult to injury there's a new school going up in St. Petersburg, Fla., which is currently dubbed Presbyterian College, and abbreviated FPC. PC . . . CPC . . . FPC . . . help, somebody, come up with some names quick!

Letters

Thanks to Team

THE EDITOR
The Blue Stocking
Presbyterian College
Clinton, S. C.
Dear Sir:

We would like to take this o tunity to express our thanks t coaches and players connected the 1959 edition of the Blue Ho

The team has done much to m en that "PC spirit" in many ala who may now take greater inte in all college functions.

Everyone was proud of the Hose in the Tangerine Bowl though the victory went to Ma Tennessee. It really takes a winner to be a good loser.

—Aiken-Augusta Alumni

Less Midnight Oil

Dear Editor:

Well, get set Mr. Editor and all fellow students also bec now comes that wonderful tim the year. Now you might say I'm talking about exams. Well, way I am, but mostly about week just before those dre days. You see, with the end of semester coming, along with come term papers. Now this isn bad by itself, it's just that du that last week all professors s how seem to team up on the dents and try to sneak one a hour quiz in—so that they can another grade in their books.

Now some professors were so as to assign their term papers being due the day Christmas idays began. This was all fine good except that during this w before the holidays and in all Christmas rush, these same p along with most of the others, th in a Merry Christams hour qui that we wouldn't forget all w learned over the recess perio which probably wasn't a bad i

Getting another grade in the

(Continued on page four)

A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

Monday night I was comfortably snug in my bed back in good old 132 Smyth C after a long holiday at home. With one eye I was catching up on all the sleep I missed while away from the books. With the other eye I was watching time go by on my new Christmas watch which glows in the dark. It was about 2:15 when I heard a loud commotion outside. Soon the loud commotion was in my room no less.

"Wake up, everyone, Happy New Year."

Before I could say Rumplestiltskin the room was flooded with lights from all directions. When the pupils of my eyes shrunk to normal, I peeked out from under the covers, where I had retreated, and saw the one GE 60-watt bulb glowing at me from the ceiling.

" G. B."

I looked around and there in the middle of the floor was my roomo, Percival Crudely.

" P. C., why all the noise?"

"Aw, G. B., I have returned, ain't that reason enough? And besides, it's a new year."

"Come on, G. B., get in the spirit of the season."

"Evidently, P. C., you enjoyed the holidays."

"Yep, sure I did: how about you?"

"Yeah, I guess I had a pretty good time also. You know, it seems to me like you still have some of the holiday spirit inside."

"Yeah, and it sure was good. I'll have to remember how to mix that eggnog again next year."

"You'd better write it down."

"Right, G. B. Say, what time did you come in today?"

"Oh, about 3:00."

"3:00, huh? Well, you must know some news—what's been going on around here?"

"Well, I've only seen one person since I've been back, and that was Dr. Stevenson."

"Oh, what did he have to say?"

"Well, he said that Santa Claus was nice to him."

"What did he get?"

"He received a lifetime subscription to his favorite magazine—the Reader's Digest. Say, P. C., was Santa good to you?"

"Yep, he sure was, and I received some lovely gifts."

"Oh, like what?"

"Well, I got a box full of damp facial tissues."

"Damp facial tissues—what are they for?"

"Instant spitballs, what else?"

"Oh, and what else were you lucky enough to receive?"

"I got a copy of Richard Nixon's new book—Suddenly It's 1960, and one by Luther Burbank entitled, I Earned Millions In Graft."

"Mercy."

"And I got an album of Dinner Music for people who aren't hungry."

"Wow, you really had a big Christmas."

"Yeah, I sure did, G. B. But say, what did you get?"

"Well, I had a pretty big Christmas also. I got some dirty looks, five tootsie rolls, a case of flu and a six-pound wedge of Batchmallie's Batcharonie Cheese."

"You might say you had a very eventful holiday."

"Yeah, you might say that."

"Well, G. B., I hope everyone else had a good Christmas."

"Me too, P. C."

"In fact, I hope several people received a couple of cartons of cigarettes from good old Santa."

"Why is that, P. C.?"

"Well, if everyone got plenty of cigarettes for Christmas, they'll stop bumming them from me."

(Continued on page four)

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR ..... EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MAURICE SCHWARTZ
Sports Editor ..... Martin Chitty
Feature Editor ..... Graham Edmunds
Copy Edior ..... Allen Freeman
News Director ..... Murray White
News Staff ..... Don Kay, Fred Meade, Bob Smith, Mike Saunders, Bill Craig, Becky Earnest, Don Lohman, Robert Kendall, Gerald Pitts, and Murray White.
Photographer ..... Lamar Hawkins

The GREEKS

... Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

SIGMA NU

All the brothers returned to school in good spirits—even after the t to Orlando and Albany.

Big brothers were assigned aind plans were made for a party w the Delta Chapter at South Carolina.

Congratulations to Brother Martin. He was pinned over the holid to Sylvia Land, a junior at Winthrop.

THETA CHI

At the regular Tuesday night meeting of Beta Psi Chapter, plans a stag supper were discussed.

Plans were made for a social following the Wofford game Saturda

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Psi Chapter was honored to have Brother George Worthing from the Grand Council to visit the chapter. He spoke to the Brotherh about the fraternity's expansion.

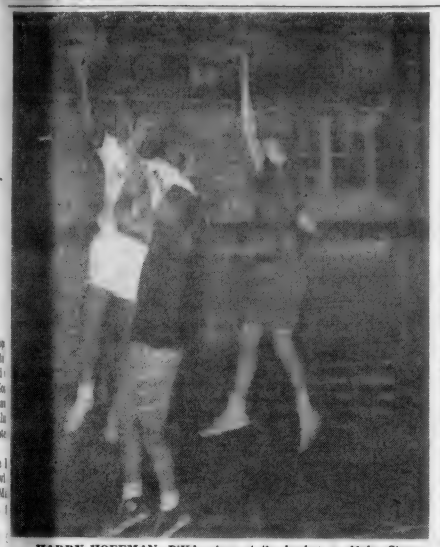
The chapter will have a closed dance Saturday, January 16.

Congratulations to our new plege officers: President, Bobby Piephe Vice-President and Social Chairman, Roe Callaway; Secretary, Al Freeman; Song Leader and Chaplain, Paul Woodall. The pledges ha decided to renovate the fraternity's kitchen as their pledge project.

PI KAPPA PHI

Congratulations to new pledge, Don Pavlov. A party is planned January 15 in the fraternity room.

PI KAPPA ALPHA



Tuesday night, congratulations were extended to Brothers Tom C lins and "Pecker" Latham, who were married during the holidays, to Frank Sells, who was pinned.

Plans were discussed for the annual Barefoot Ball to be given for pledges at the beginning of second semester. Brothers of the Week we Collins, Latham, and Sells.

KAPPA ALPHA

At the last meeting of Beta Pi Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order, tesi tvie plans were made concerning a "Wild West" party to be held second weekend in February.

Pledge officers were elected as follows: Bob Smith, President; Ow Ravenel, Vice-President; Bill Bartee, Scretary; and Joe Harvard, Tre urer.

HARRY HOFFMAN, PiKA, aims at the basket as Alpha Sigma Phi teammates Mike Brown and Britt Spann try to stop the score. The action took place last night during one of the first games of the full intramural roundball season.

Final Stastics Released on Intramural Football

Final statistical reports for the 1959 intramural football season were released this week. Leading in the passing department was Don Denning of the Pi Kappa Alpha team with 88 completions. Following was Larry Wood of the Kappa Alpha team with 62 completions and Lawton Rice of the "Shroes" with twenty-nine.

The Pi Kappa Alpha squad also led in the receivers department with Billy Hagood pulling in 27 passes. Close behind was Bill Francis of the Kappa Alpha team with 26 catches and Don Segrest of PiKA with 25.

In the scoring side, Bill Francis of KA, aided by fine passing of QB Larry Wood, led with 46 points. Billy Hagood, PiKA, followed with 42 points, and Don Segrest, also of PiKA, with 31 points. Both were aided by the passing arm of PiKA QB Don Denning.

Leading the important league of pass defenders in interruptions was Dave Magee of KA with eight and followed closely by teammate Larry Wood who collected 7. Tied for third place were Billy Betchman, KA, and Billy Hagood, PiKA.

The season ended with Pi Kappa Alpha in first place, Kappa Alpha in second, and Sigma Nu in third.

Hoffman Winner of Tennis Invitational

Harry Hoffman added another victory to his long list of tennis honors by winning the Rose Bowl invitational tournament at Pompano Beach, Fla.

The power of the nationally-ranked PC team was verified as Hoffman won in the finals over teammate Tony Wilson by an 8-6 and 6-3.

The fact that the top two contestants in the tournament were from Presbyterian is indeed a feather in the cap of Coach Jim Leighton and his squad.

Singing The Blues

With MARTIN CHITTY

We lost, but it was still a good day. For once the loser entered the record books. Bob Waters joined Tangerine immortals as the most valuable player with year-long cohort Bobby Pate runner-up. The Hosemen proved that they were well in the game as they won the battle of statistics.

And in typical Blue Hose fashion, they spotted the Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee two touchdowns and then roared back to throw a big scare into their heavily favored opponents.

The Tennesseeans claimed in a rather conceited manner that they expected a tough game; they got it.

True, it's hard to lose but no one should be ashamed. From beginning to end it was a great football season . . . the best in Presbyterian College history. To Frank Jones, his staff, and above all to that band of never say die gladiators who wore the Garnet and Blue—Thanks.

* * * * * * *

Now to Basketball.

Coach Verlyn Veren and his Blue Hose roundballers are having their knocks, but there's still hope.

Good reason for this hope can be fuond in the person of big center Jack Williams, a sophomore, who has shown improvement with every game.

Then there are veterans Mickey Long and Bob Stratton who should soon hit their potential, especially with several home games soon coming up.

The starting guard positions have been taken over by Billy Ray Ladd and Paul Ard. Both are becoming better ball handlers as the season progresses.

* * * * * *

OFFBEATS—Mrs. Ben Hay Hammet was shopping in an Orlando store when she was asked if Presbyterian was a Baptist school . . . after all, what is in a name!

Charlie Gallagher and Carl Short of the Newberry College basketball squad have made themselves tops in the Little Four as they are both sporting better than 20-point averages.

Hose Put Up Good Bowl Fight But Lose To Middle Tenn. 21 - 12

• Largest Crowd Sees Game

Presbyterian College lost its Tangerine Bowl game January 1, 21 to 12 to Middle Tennessee, but the Blue Hose returned home with much of the applause of Orlando ringing in their ears.

Quarterback Bob Waters brought back the "outstanding player" trophy for his great passing performance which almost pulled the game from the fire in the second half. And Halfback Bobby Pate was runner-up to him for the trophy, awarded by a vote of sports writers covering the game.

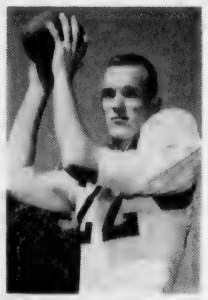
Never before in the 14 year history of this post-season classic has the losing team provided the top two contenders for this trophy.

Presbyterian entered the game as the underdog among the oddmakers but as a strong sentimental favorite of the Orlando fans. Officials of the Tangerine Bowl Commission and of PC's San Juan Hotel headquarters joined others in praising the Presbyterian players as "the finest group of young men ever to represent a college in the Tangerine Bowl."

The occasion produced other superlatives. The 12,500 attendance was the largest in the history of this bowl game, and the 1,500 persons who followed PC there represented the largest group of supporters. All of which meant more money than ever before to the Harry-Anna Crippled Children's Home of Umatilla, Fla.

Thrilling game action left even the staunchest PC fan pleased with the Blue Hose' play. Bad kicking set the stage for two early Middle Tennessee touchdowns, but the Hosemen roared back to dominate play in the final half and come within a shade of victory. Presbyterian won the battle of statistics.

Middle Tennessee had grabbed a 14 to 0 lead by the middle of the second quarter. Halfback Bucky Pitts took a short, low punt from Waters on his own 47 yard line midway the first period and streaked down the right sideline untouched to score the first TD. His running mate, Ray Purvis, swept around right end on a fourth-down pitchout play to go five yards for the second touchdown with 8 minutes remaining in the second quarter. A wobbly 2-yard punt by End Jon Vastine had given Middle Tennessee the ball on the PC 48 a few minutes earlier.



After Tackle Ralph Adams had booted his second extra point, the tide of battle immediately changed to Presbyterian. Starting on his own 34, Quarterback Waters opened up with a series of passes. He threw seven and completed five in a 66-yard scoring drive climaxed just one minute and three seconds before halftime. The scoring play was an 11-yard toss to Pate.

Waters set up the second PC scoring with a pass interception at the Blue Hose 35 midway the third period. Presbyterian then sailed 65 yards in just four plays—the final one a 43-yard toss to Pate, who had outrun the opposing secondary.

A fumbled pass from center broke up PC's first extra-point attempt, and the effort to gain a game-tying two points after the second TD failed when Waters' pass into the end zone fell incomplete.

Presbyterian then marched 74 determined yards to the Middle Tennessee ten in an effort that almost brought victory. Waters' passing and a 38-yard run by freshman halfback Ronnie Hampton paced this drive, which died on the second play of the fourth quarter when Guard Bill Sease's fourth down field goal attempt sailed off to the right.

The final Middle Tennessee score was a gift after PC gambled on a last chance pass for victory and gave the opposition the ball on the Hose 32.

Bob Waters . . . PC co-captain, who as a member of the losing squad in the New Year's Tangerine Bowl, broke records when he was presented with the Most Valuable Player's award. Teammate Bobby Pate was runner-up for the award.

Oops!

The Blue Hose basketball squad participated in the annual Christmas Invitational tourney at Parris Island during the holidays. As the PC team took the floor, a bag of "basketballs" was emptied by the manager. To the amazement and chagrin of the PC group, footballs rolled crazily about the floor.

The crowd decided that with a Tangerine Bowl gridiron squad, PC just had football on the brain!

Rating System Names Pate All-American

Presbyterian Halfback Bobby Pate has been named to the first team All-American selection of the Williamson National Football Rating System, it was announced today.

The brilliant sparkplug of PC's Tangerine Bowl squad was the only player in the Southeast chosen for the first unit. It came as the highlight of numerous post-season honors for Pate.

The Willilamson Rating System annually selects the All-American squad from the large middle bracket of colleges whose football teams rank high in the power ratings but whose schedules do not qualify them for listing as major college teams. Selection is based on the concensus opinion of the nation's college athletic departments polled for this purpose.

Halfback Pate, who already has been named All-South Carolina as the state's "back of the year," shares the first unit All-American team with players from these schools: California Poly, Mississippi Southern, Montana State, Idaho State, Bowling Green, Miami of Ohio, Louisiana Tech, East Texas, West Chester, and Los Angeles State.

Two PC'uns Appear On Chemical Roll

Presbyterian College has placed two of the five players from both Carolinas to appear on the 1959 All-Chemical All-American Football Honor Roll selected by the American Chemical Society's official publication.

Blue Hose Guards Billy Ogden of Macon, Ga., and Bill Sease of Clinton, are among those players cited for prowess in football and chemistry by the "Chemical and Engineering News."

Totals 26

Jones Names Lettermen

Twenty-six players and three managers have been awarded football letters at Presbyterian College, Coach Frank Jones announced recently.

He praised these gridmen for producing Presbyterian College's most successful season in history—one in which they won 9 and lost 1 in regular play before losing a close contest to Middle Tennessee in the Tangerine Bowl Jan. 1.

The roster of 1959 lettermen includes nine seniors, eight juniors, six sophomores and three freshmen. They are:

Seniors—Halfbacks Bobby Pate of Fitzgerald, Ga.; David Morgan of Greenville; and Gordon Stanley of Rock Hill; Quarterbacks Bob Waters of Sylvania, Ga.; and Nat Cole of Natchez, Miss.; Tackles Bill Schofill of Fort Valley, Ga.; and Cecil Morris of Hazelhurst, Ga.; Center Mac Copeland of Athens, Ga.; and End Paul Chastain of Central.

Juniors—Guards Don Bridges of Decatur, Ga.; and Bill Sease of Clinton; Ends Jon Vastine of Danville, Pa.; and Jimmy Kolb of Sumter; Center Don Abee of Greenville; Tackle Hardy Ledbetter of Ridgeland; Fullabck Bill Hill of McKeesport, Pa.; and Halfback Billy Benton of Atlanta.

Sophomores—Guards Billy Ogden of Macon, Ga.; and Sonny DuBose of Sumter; Center Alex Mills of Sylvania, Ga.; End Dave Parrish of Statesboro, Ga.; Quarterback Joe Nixon of Carrollton, Ga.; and Fullback Bruce Barnes of Concord, N. C.

Freshmen — Halfback Ronnie Hampton of Kannapolis, N. C.; Tackles John Gettys of Union; and Keith Richardson of Chester.

The three members receiving letters: Charles Alford of Charlotte, N. C.; Marshall Jones of Atlanta, Ga.; and David McIntosh of Summerville.

McGEE'S
DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday and Tuesday, January 11-12
The Best of Everything
Louis Jourdan, Joan Crawford

Wednesday and Thursday, January 13-14
The FBI Story
James Stewart, Vera Miles

Friday and Saturday, January 15-16
It's A Dog's Life
Edmund Gwenn, Jeff Richards, Dean Jagger

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Turner of Clinton, take a snapshot of Guard Bill Sease during the event-filled days at the Jan. 1 Tangerine Bowl. See page 3 for story.—(Photo Courtesy of United Press International)

MSM Hears Scott

Capt. Joseph Scott of the Presbyterian Military Staff, told of religious opportunities in the armed services and the duties of the chaplain at the meeting of the Methodist Student Movement Wednesday night.

During the business meeting plans for the annual Christian Action Seminar to be held next month in Columbia were discussed.

Rev. Joel Cannon of the local church was present for the meeting.

Clearance Slips

Statements showing second semester charges were mailed Thursday, January 8, according to G. E. Campbell, bursar, and many students are expected to secure clearance slips from the business office well in advance of registration day.

Clearance slips for the second semester will be mailed to the students as payments for the second semester are received. One must have a clearance slip in order to get the proper forms from the Registrar's office for second semester registration

PC Alumni Assn. Elects New Officers

New officers and directors have been elected to head the affairs of the Presbyterian College Alumni Association.

Frank Hay, of Charleston, owner of the Hay Oil Company, is the newly elected alumni representative to the PC board of trustees. He joins two other alumni representatives, each serving alternate three-year terms.

Dill D. Beckman, of Columbia, chief of the South Carolina Vocational Rehabilitation Service, steps into the newly created position of president-elect of the association. And Dr. Delmar Rhame, Clinton surgeon, takes over as vice president. Both will serve for one year.

The Alumni Association, by earlier ballot and at Homecoming, approved a change to increase the number of directors from two to eight. Chosen to fill these positions were:

Directors for South Carolina — (one-year terms) William H. Stevenson, attorney of Sumter, and Sam B. King, Charleston insurance and real estate man; (two-year terms) George W. Dunlap, Rock Hill bottler and Federal Savings & Loan general manager, and Hugh S. Jacobs, co-owner of a Clinton printing concern.

Directors from Georgia — (one-year term) the Rev. Eugene T. Wilson, pastor of Atlanta's Peachtree Road Presbyterian Church; (two-year term) Joseph E. Patrick, associate of the John H. Harland Company of Atlanta.

Directors from North Carolina—(one-year term) George Wilson of Fayetteville, co-partner of the Highland Lumber Company; (two-year term) S. Cater Ligon, vice president of a Charlotte printing concern.

Letters . . .

(Continued from page two)

is not such a bad idea because most students benefit by this—but the week before exams is a bad time to be benefitted. While many are being benefitted by this extra grade, many also are being deprived of fully preparing themselves for the up-coming exams. How? Well, for most professors the exam counts a whole lot more than a one-hour quiz. So what about the student who decides to go all out on the exam and make an extra big effort to maybe raise his grade a letter so that he might make the Dean's list, or raise his grade to make an average satisfactory to himself, or hang on to his grade or even to pass the course so that he won't have to take it over? When does he study? Certainly not the week before exams because he's busy studying for hour quizzes in hopes of maintaining his pre-exam grade.

As suggested in an editorial which appeared in the Blue Stocking last May, why don't the profs grant a "Week of Grace" the week immediately preceding exams and in which there would be no quizzes. This would enable the student to better prepare himself for those 3-hour exams and would do away with much of the "midnight oil."

—Name Withheld By Request

Fabulous Fifties

(Continued from page one)

ball, and Track have been the rule season after season. In the past decade, the Tennis team, with victories over such power schools as Harvard, Yale, and Miami, has gained national fame. It is indeed fitting that the Footfall team should climax this fine record in athletics with an appearance in the Tangerine Bowl.

These fine records of advancement, combined with the immediate plans for the future, indicate that the next ten years will bring even more than the last.

Blue Stocks Compet In Hearst Match

PC's rifle team competed ag against Furman, with the la squad favored. Next Friday team will fire against Wofford.

Scheduled next week is com tition for the Third Army Inter legiate match.

The following first team sco are from the William Rando Hearst match, fired December Powers—183; Smith—188; Forbe 191; Butler—181; and St. Cla 185. The first team scored 928 of a possible 100, and the sec team 873.

The winner of the Hearst com tition has not been announced.

Crudely . . .

(Continued from page two)

"You've got a point there, P

"G. B., you know what I gave girl for Christmas?"

"No, what?"

"A pair of stockings."

"Oh, what's so special abou pair of stockings, P. C.?"

"Well, these were Rockefe Stockings."

"Well, what in the Sam Hill Rockefeller Stockings?"

"You know, the kind that ad tise—they will not run."

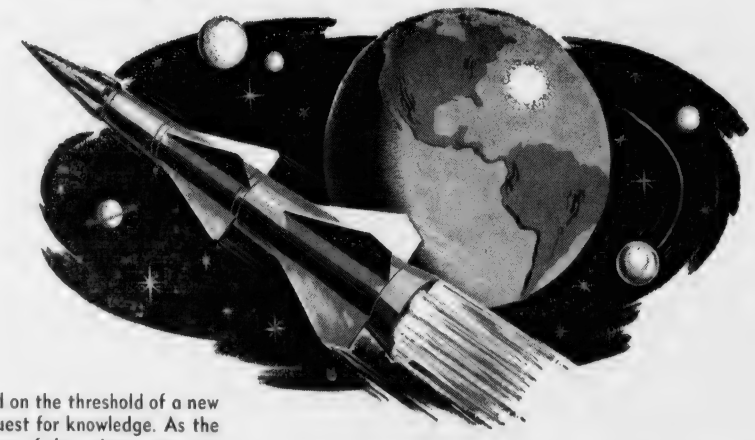
"Oh, yeah."

"Say, G. B., how long is it Sausage Day?"

"Sausage Day?"

"Yeah; it's the second of F ruary, ain't it?"

"No, that's Ground Hog Day C."



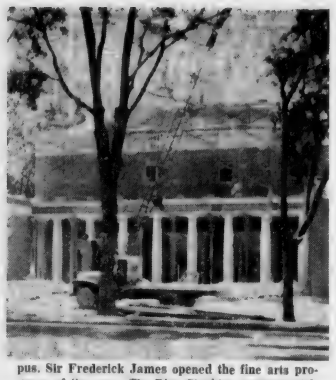
"Well, that's what sausage ain't it, G. B.?"

"What?"

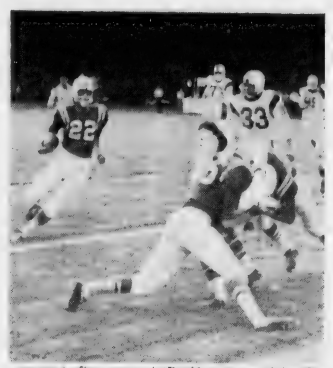
"Ground hog."

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

the challenge of



TOMORROW



Today we stand on the threshold of a new era in man's quest for knowledge. As the long kept secrets of the universe are, one by one, unlocked, who can foretell what momentous changes may be wrought in the lives of many now living? For the younger generation, especially, the future holds possibilities for adventure and achievement that were but a dream yesterday, and even today are only glimpsed. May we all take inspiration from the opportunity which we share to shape the future to the finest aspirations of mankind.

Published as a public service to the Citizens of the Sixties by . . . . The Blue Stocking

THIS WAS FIRST SEMESTER AT PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE: First came registration, and soon afterwards, the joys and delights (to upperclassmen) of ratting. Hardly had classes begun before Homecoming was upon students with its myriad problems. Work progressed nicely on the Belk Chapel-Auditorium, the newest addition to the campus. Sir Frederick James opened the fine arts program of the year, The Blue Stocking captured All-American honors, campus elections were held, plans were finally made to bring a big name band in for Military Ball. Suddenly, it was Parents Day, and greeting the folks, was the announcement that PC was Tangerine Bowl bound . . . the Hose downed opponent after opponent (Davidson game pictured) in a bright gridiron season. Rush began, and somehow ended. Then, in a heyday of changes, the Revised Class Schedule, Automatic Exclusion plans and new QP Ratio, were announced. Then, exams were right around the corner . . . this was first semester at Presbyterian College.—Hawkins Photo.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., January 15, 1960 No. 12

L. V. Powell receives the $20 gift for the March of Dimes promised him by the Rev. Bill Moreau, pastor of the Lydia Presbyterian Church, for walking from Joanna to Clinton yesterday. Powell's Parade for the Preacher emulated a march across the state by a trio of Marines in an attempt to raise money for the charity. Powell, county drive chairman, ended the six-mile walk pulling his golf equipment to "make it seem like fun."—Hawkins Photo.

"Benefit for Everyone"

Students Favor New Schedule, Poll Reveals

A recent sampling of a ten per cent cross section of the C student body has revealed that the general opinion of udents is favorable toward the revised class system heduled to go into effect second semester. Of the students olled, 82% were in favor of the new stem, 5% didn't like it, and 13% d nor particular opinion.

The new program ,it will be remembered, calls for classes to be n at 8:00 a. m. and to run every ur through 12:00. Drill will be ld on Thursday afternoon for o hours, basic military classes ll meet twice a week, and adnced military classes will be held ur times a week. Labs will begin one and run through four. Chapel ll be held for one hour three times a week at ten. The corresponding period on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday will be used for regular classes.

Pen Neil says that "The change in schedule will benefit everyone on campus. Starting classes earlier in the day will mean that we will have longer afternoons in which to study. This will certainly help students who take lab sciences."

According to Stewart Caldwell, ". . . The arrangement will be a

(Continued on page four)

Revised Class Schedule Brings Changes For Chapel, Military

• Drill Period Is Revamped

With the announcement last week of the new revised class schedule, changes in various departments of the college were made necessary. This week, as first semester draws nearer, plans for these various changes are being made.

The new Chapel-Auditorium is one of the main reasons for the change. Although the new building will not be completed until some time during the first of the new semester, the new rulings will go into effect. The time for chapel has been increased to sixty minutes for the Monday, Wednesday and Friday schedule.

At present, Monday chapels are planned for programs other than those directly pertainnig to religion, according to Professor Thomas Stallworth, chairman of the religious activities committee. The main worship service, he says, will be held on Wednesdays, probably lasting fifty minutes and very closely resembling a Sunday worship service. Fridays will be reserved for stu-

(Continued on page four)

Piano Duo Team Set For Concert Series

The Medleys, "the outstanding two-piano team in the United States," are scheduled as the second event in the College-Community Concert Series. The performance is set for Monday, January 25, at 8:15 in the Thornwell auditorium. Tickets may be picked up at the

The pianists gathered high honors at the University of Tulsa (Okla.) and later studied with Luboshutz and Nemenoff. They have served as Artists-in-Residence on two college faculties.

Using their own $12,000 matched instruments, the artists wil bring a varied program including "Danse Macabre," by Saint Saens, "Scarmouche," by Milhaud, and "Variation on a theme by Hayden," by Brahams. Works of Bach and Chopin are also featured on the program.

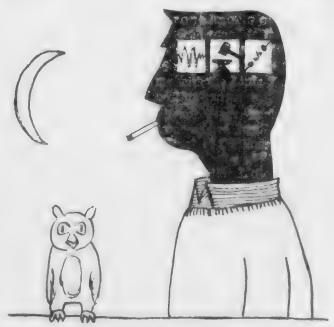
Registration Plans Given for 2nd Term

Second semester registration has been set for Friday, February 5. As in previous years, the Blue Key Honorary Fraternity will help, controlling entrances and admitting students only acording to the schedule announced this week.

Seniors will register from 8:30-9:15; Juniors X and Sophomores X, 9:15-9:45; L through P, 9:45-11:00; H through K, 11:00-12:00. Lunch is set for 11:00 through 12:00.

Registration will resume for the R through S group from 1:00 until 2:00; T through Y, 2:00-2:45; A through C, 2:45-4:00; D through G,

(Continued on page four)



Changes Listed For 1960 PaC-SaC

Bob Bean, editor of the PaC-SaC for '60, has announced the tentative date for the dedication and distribution of the yearbook as being May 2. This date is approximately a month earlier than the PaC-SaC has ever come on campus.

Progress on the book has been made at a rapid rate so far this year. Before Christmas three of the six sections went to press and work on the remaining three is well underway, so the printer's deadline of March 1 will be met.

Several changes have been made in this year's book. Instead of a beauty section the center of the book will be devoted to a sponsor section. Those people on campus holding offices have been asked for and have submitted sponsors for their organization. An attempt has been made this year to include all organizations on campus in the activity section.

Final Exams: 'Tis the Season

Get out the texts, stock up on midnight oil, NoDoz and coffee . . . it's exam time again. Professors turn into fiends, beds go unused and grades have a way of dropping a letter grade. The Blue Stocking staff, in order to partake fully in the season, takes a break after this week's issue. The next issue is scheduled for February 12.—(Kurtz Cartoon)

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

And We Quote . . .

"Evidence shows that one student in three cheats," Jerome Ellison says in an article, "American Disgrace: College Cheating," in the January 9 edition of The Saturday Evening Post. Feeling that the article is of interest to readers, The Blue Stocking loosely quotes parts of the work:

Students say: "The main trouble is we are afraid to talk for fear of losing standing with other students; we are against it in principle, but do nothing" . . . "the whole atmosphere is so short on intellectual stimulation that nobody is inspired to do more than go along with the crowd ---or leave" . . .

Educators say: "There have been cases when school officials hush them up for reasons having to do with politics and the good university name. They are skeptical about methods of apprehending offenders." "Over-emphasis on grade-exam procedures and a widespread student tradition of tolerance toward the practice."

One Dean rates the cause of cheating in this order: "Lazy students, lazy professors, importance of grades over knowledge, pressure to get into professional schools."

Those campuses that produce superior graduates and have a high academic morale are those where the students "have a high regard for their college education and do not cheat," and where "the touch of the institution's special influence has been felt."

The author of the article suggests that a school ought to stand for something; those that do boast an effective honor system give short shrift to cheaters and faculty members are not reprimanded or reversed on appeal, when they deal firmly with them.

Ellison continues: "The first step in a school concerned about its cheating should be to ask itself what it stands for. Does it rest its reputation on fielding the best fooball team . . . offering the best variety of courses . . . None of these things, I suggest, offer the kind of challenge required. The school must assign itself some inspired goal, some lofty set of aims, which has won the passionate loyalty of a dedicated faculty. These aims, whatever may be their specific nature, should have their roots in an undeviating allegiance to the truth."

AMEN.

GETTING IN SHAPE

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

Wednesday night about 1:15 I breezed through the large double doors of Smyth C section in quest of my room and the old sack. I had been over in Neville studying for a quiz. This week has been a pretty hectic one, what with quizzes and all, and I was tired and ready for the hay. Well, as I walked toward my room, I heard a little clamor inside. Opening the door, I saw about sixteen boys gathered around my roommate, Percival Crudely, and they were all yelling at him.

"What say, Babe?"

"Oh hello. P. C., what's going on?"

"I'm just flipping this quarter here trying to get in shape."

"In shape for what?"

"Why exams, of course, G. B."

"Exams! How's that little ole coin gonna help you with exams?"

"Well, G. B. if I take an exam and can't decide if a question is True or False or if A, B, C, D, or none of the above is correct, I just pull out my lucky quarter, flip it and right there is the answer."

"Well, I'll be darn."

Pretty soon everyone decided it was time for bed and all went to their rooms.

"Well, G. B., what do you think good?"

"Not a thing, P. C. How about you?"

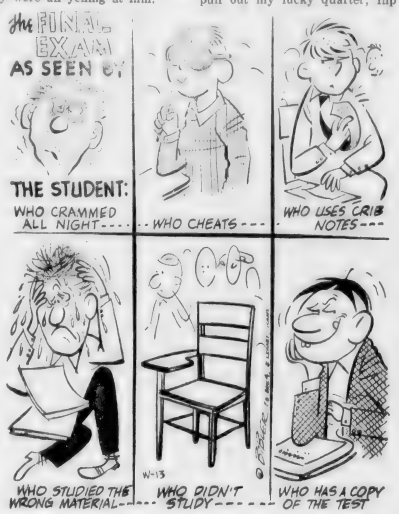
"Guess who's pinned."

"No thanks, I'm trying to guess."

"Oh, come on, render just a guess."

"No thanks, I've heard already."

"You have, huh?"



"Yep."

"Say, how did you enjoy the trip this past weekend?"

"Well, P. C., to be honest with you, I thought it was very educational."

"Educational! What did you learn that was so educational?"

"Going over to Spartanburg yesterday afternoon I learned that

WEEK'S BEST TIME

Who spends more time Limestone College than in his fice in First Floor, Doug House?

actually grow peaches right he South Carolina."

"You don't say."

"Yep. Ain't that amazing?"

"Remarkable. Where you f anyway?"

"Georgia."

"I should have known."

"P. C., have you been down Belk's 'On the corner' lately?"

"No, I haven't. Are they about get it finished.?"

"They're moving along pr well with it."

"I hear a nasty rumor that the going to assign all the profes seats, too."

"That sure is nice, ain't it?"

"Yeah, but there's only one th about that plan."

"Oh, what's that?"

"There's going to be a lot of th profs cutting out, I'm afraid."

"Tough break. Say, what's book you got there in your han

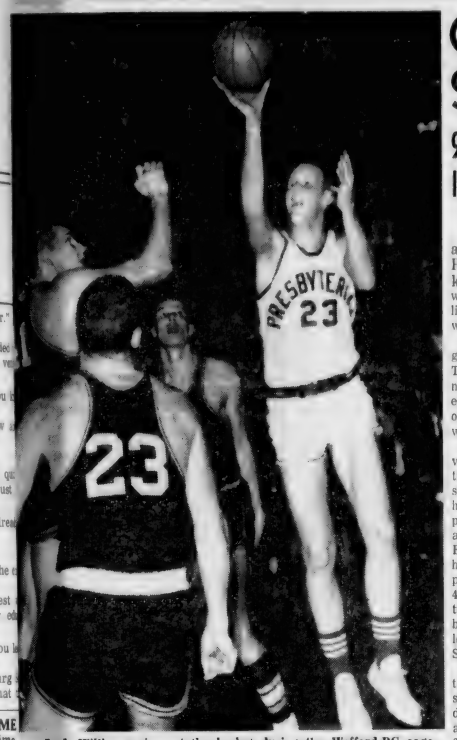
"Why, that's my Heavenly Sights Hymn Book." I only paid a lar and thirty-five cents for it."

"Well, just what do you plan do with it?"

"Sing, man, sing."

"You are?"

"Yeah, and you see it's almo time for Wayne Ramey and all family to come on the radio sing, and I didn't want to miss on any of the good songs."



"Big deal."

Letters

Dear Editor:

Douglas House, among o things, was closed Sunday af noon. I have a word for the sit tion, and it starts i-n-c-o-m-p-e-t

—Name withheld by requ

Jack Williams aims at the basket during the Wofford-PC cage clash which ended in a close Hose defeat.

PC Linksters Make Plans For Busy Spring Line - Up

The Presbyterian College golfers are preparing for the spring season under the coaching of Dr. John Stevenson.

Returning from last year's successful squad will be Max Clyburn, Frank Sells, Johnny Granger, Harry and Hexie McDonald, Jack Shawn, and Larry Ford. These linksters will form the core of this spring's linksters.

This lineup of veterans should give the Hosemen an experienced team, as they prepare for a rugged schedule which will include such teams as Wofford, Furman, and the University of South Carolina.

Blue Stocks Aim At Wofford Squad

The PC rifle team met a strong nd improved Wofford squad this fternoon in a shoulder match. The arrier group has tasted defeat nce this year by the Blue Stocks.

Earlier this week, the PC team red the first of three parts of the hird Army match, the section on rone work. The group dropped 28 points, giving a 972 total of a possible 1000.

The two remaining sections of this atch, kneeling and standing, will e fired on successive Wednesdays.

BROADWAY Theatre
Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 18-19
The Nun's Story
Audrey Hepburn - Peter Finch
Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 20-21
The Bat
Vincent Price - Agnes Moorehead
Friday and Saturday, Jan. 22-23
Pillow Talk
Rock Hudson - Doris Day

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Visit Our Store On the Square

Flight Instruction — Rides — Charter Service
SHEALY FLYING SERVICE
NEWBERRY, S. C.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

THETA CHI

Three new Brothers, Jim Hughes, Mathew Smith, and Milton Mayes, were welcomed in the Brotherhood. Plans were made for a stag supper Saturday night.

New Pledge Officers are: President, George Reeves; Vice-President, Paul Robinson; Secretary, Don Lohman; and Treasurer, Ted Elders.

Congratulations were extended to Bill Haselden who was married during the Christmas holidays.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Alpha Sigs will end the semester's socials tomorrow night. A sweater dance will be held in the fraternity suite.

The Brotherhood welcomed Charles Kirkland as a pledge.

A committee of three brothers went to Columbia Wednesday to discuss Fraternity Extension with Ralph Burns, Alpha Sigma Phi's National Executive Secretary during his special visit to the state capitol

PI KAPPA PHI

Plans were made for the pledge party February 20. Congratulations to Bill McElderry who was pinned, and to Ron Price who became engaged this Christmas.

SIGMA NU

At the joint meeting final plans for the party were made. It will be a closed party beginning at 7:30.

The Pledges elected Lawton Rice, President; John Elrod, Vice-President; Pete Yearout, Secretary-Treasurer; and Alex Bosserman, Sentinel.

KAPPA ALPHA

Final plans were made for the Wild West Social to be held February 6. Several of the Brothers and Pledges will attend a banquet and dance in Spartanburg on Saturday night, honoring some of our outstanding alumni. The late Mr. P. S. Bailey, charter member of Kappa Alpha, will be among those who are to be honored.

Warmest congratulations are extended to Pledge Chris Hunter on his marriage Saturday, January 4, to the former Miss Martha Curtis of Burlington, N. C.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Officers recently elected for the pledge class are Edd Collins, President; David Harrill, Vice-President; Rollin Butler, Secretary- Treasurer.

Brothers of the Week are Wood, Stratton, Collins, and the new officers.

For Leap Year

"Seven Ways To Woo!"

Politics and women? They said it couldn't be done, but nature has far surpassed anything man has ever thought of, and created 1960. OK, so we got 1960, now what's this got to do with politics and women, you say. Well, dividing 1960 by 4, we come up with 490 and with nothing left over, too. Therefore, this year, first of all, is election year; and second, this year is also leap year. Now on our campus there are 467 eligible males and some 23 eligible females. This makes for some pretty tough odds for leap year, so, fellows, before the leap has lept, we present to you seven ways to woo a woman.

"Women may not be much," said Will Rogers, "but they're the best opposite sex we have." Unfortunately they know it. Your job: Make 'em feel special. All it takes is showmanship, and there are seven winning ways.

Say the right thing. Telling her she's beautiful isn't always the right approach. An 18th century connoisseur, Lord Chesterfield, in a letter to his son, pointed out that the "starry eyes, pearly teeth" gambit won't work on girls who are pretty or homely in the extreme. The real beauty knows how she looks, he said, and the homely one will know that you're lying.

Know who to woo. Pretty single girls know you're interested, homely single ones imagine that you are, and wives—pretty or not—are never completely sure. So don't worry about paying attention until after you're married; then, 'steal' admiring glances at her when she knows you're looking.

Advertise your aching heart. Get crowds of people to tell the gal how deeply you adore her. Have her hear about your love at meals, at work, on the bus.

Use dollars and sense. The dollars are yours—use them, at unexpected times, to buy her one-dollar gifts for no reason at all. The sense is hers—her sense of song—use it by dubbing a tune "our song." Music not only soothes the savage beast, but wisely used may get you a home cooked feast.

Put words in her mouth. To you, it's expensive cake and coffee. To her, it's a visit to a smart restaurant she can brag about to all her girl friends. If you ask her to hold the restaurant pack of matches for you—then forget to ask her for them—and she'll have heavenly Proof of her "meal" (she wasn't . . .

(Continued on page four)

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR ..... EVIN VARNE
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MAURICE SCHWARZ
Sports Editor ..... Martin Chi
Feature Editor ..... Graham Edmu
Copy Editor ..... Allen Freem
News Director ..... Murray Wh

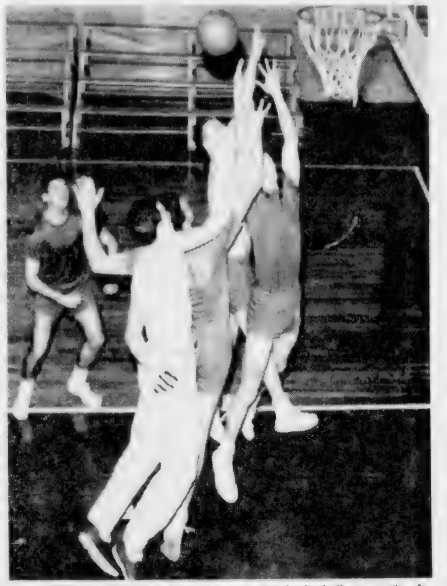
Cagers Meet Georgia Southern; Seek Second Win of Dry Season

92-90 N. C. Victory Is First of the Year

By DAVE STRICKLIN

Forward Bob Stratton sets a fast scoring pace with the Presbyterian College basketeers, and the Blue Hose will need all points possible in tangling with two strong opponents this weekend.

Presbyterian will entertain Georgia Southern (formerly Georgia Teachers) in Leroy Springs gymnasium on Friday night before traveling to face Newberry down there on Saturday evening. Both games will start at 8:00 p. m.



Stratton, the stocky sure-eyed PC veteran, has been the one big attraction in Presbyterian's worst season in more than a decade. He has hit the basket for 186 total points in eight games to date, for an average of 23.3 points per game. Even more impressive, however, have been his performances in the past two games. Stratton tossed in 47 points in leading the Hosemen to their lone victory, against Pembroke last Thursday, and then followed with 30 against Wofford on Saturday night.

Center Jack Williams, a new addition from Sumter, rides second to stratton among PC scorers. He has dumped in 71 points for a 10.1 average. Guard Harvey Blanchard has 65 and an 8.1 average; Guard Paul Ard, 6 0and 7.5 average; Forward Joe Harvard, 34 and 5.7 average; and Forward Mickey Long, 43 points and 5.4 average.

The Georgia Southern squad, which invades Clinton for the Friday night game, has won five out of its six games played this year. The Professors are led by Little All-American Forward Whitey Verstrate.

Last week at Pembroke, N. C., the Hose won an overtime decision against Pembroke. Bob Stratton took offensive honors by scoring 47 points in the wild, freely played 92-90 Blue Hose victory.

In their first outting against a Little Four Conference opponent, the Hose lost a close, well played decision against the Terriers of Wofford, 66-57. Taking over the offensive honors again was Bob Stratton, pumping in 32 points against the Terriers. Mickey Long amazed the fans with his rebounding ability.

GETTING ALL IN A TANGLE over that basketball are parts of the squads of the PiKA's and Sad Sacks vieing for a score. The game was one of several played during the past few days of intramural activity prior to advent of finals.—Hawkins Photo

Intramural Roundball Sees Spirited Opening Week

As this week comes to a close, likewise does the first week of intramural basketball. Only five games were scheduled, but more action has been slated for the next seven days.

The season's opening game contested the strong Gray Ghosts (KA) against the Independents. Led by guard Dave McGee the Ghots quickly won, 63-32. The following game pitted the Raiders and Beacon Bandits together. Jim Kolb's high score of 19 points led the Raiders to a victory of 64-47. Fielding the same team as last year, the Falcons overpowered the Alpha Sigs 41-17, with Mike Brown the high man for the Alpha Sigs. The fifth game brought the Chiniese Bandits and the Sad Sacks to the courts, with the Bandits winning 51-32. A surprisingly low scoring game was played when the defending champion Gray Ghosts beat out the Confederates 25-10. The week's last game pitted the PiKA and the Raiders in a fast-moving contest. The PiKA's won out by the margin of 57-49.

Sports Editor Looks at '60 Gridiron

(The gridiron was the big sports story of last year at PC. Although a little premature, Sports Editor Martin Chitty looks at this year's Hose squad as coaches begin recruitment and plans start developing.)

A look into the rather far future to next year's Blue Hose squad. From appearances the crying need of the 1960 Blue Hose will be a quarterback. The graduation of Bob Waters leaves Bobby Joiner and Joe Nixon as their apparents to the field general job. However, both have to prove themselves as they have been in the shadows of Waters and his second unit cohort, Nat Cole, who also goes via the graduation route.

Billy Benton and freshmam sensation Ronnie Hampton look to be the two top halfbacks with Bill Hill returning for his third year of varsity play.

Paul Chastain leaves, but three experienced flankmen will return in the form of Jon Vastine, Jimmy Kolb, aad Dave Parrish.

Tackles may be a little weaker, suffering from the loss of Bill Schofield and Cecil Morris. The picture brightens though when it is remembered that Hardy Ledbetter, a first stringer a good part of the season, and freshman John Gettys and Keith Richardson return.

The guards suffered no losses and the Hosemen wil have Sonny Dubose, Don Bridges, Bill Sease, and Little All-Amreican Billy Ogden back to make this position potentially the strongest on the squad.

The loss of Mac Copeland may make center another question mark. Alex Mills may move up to the pivot starter.

All in all, the Hosemen should be tough again next fall.

Singing The Blues

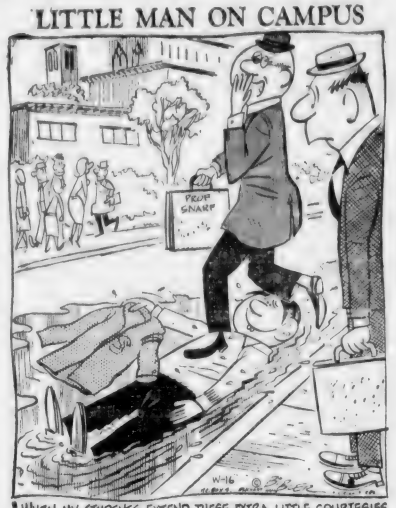
With MARTIN CHITTY

What were the five top sports events of the past five years? One could probably find varieties of answers; however, our personal opinion rates them in the folowing order.

Very obviously the number one sports event of the year was the bid and acceptance of the football squad to the Tangerine Bowl. This was the first Bowl bid in Presbyterian College history.

A close runner-up was the second consecutive Little Three Championship of the Blue Hose gridders. Along with the Little Three title goes the exciting 20-6 victory over arch rival Newberry.

The honors won by Head Coach Frank Jones, Backs Bobby Pate and Bob Waters rate third place. Jones was named South Carolina "Coach of the Year." Pate was South Carolina Back of the Year, Little Three Back of the year, Little All-American, and All-District 26 NAIAA. Waters was honored as All-Little Three, Honorable Mention Little All-American, and he was voted outstanding player in the Tangerine Bowl. Both Waters and Pate were drafted by the professional San Francisco 49'ers.



Another exciting event and good enough for fourth place was the surprising upset of last year's basketball squad over Belmont Abbey by a 54-51 score. The previously undefeated Abbey squad defeated the Presbyterians earlier in the year by twelve points.

Closing out the top five events is the change in the coaching staff. Vic Spooner replaced Lonnie McMillian as track and also moved in to handle the ends in football. Another addition was Merlyn Veren who took over the reins as basketball coach succeeding Courts Redford.

Coach Frank Jones and Bobby Pate were honored this week at the Easley Jamboree as Coach and Back of the Year in South Carolina.

A humorous part of the Jamboree was the handing out of certain "gifts" to football coaches. Citadel coach Eddie Teague was given a shovel and sprinkler, thus he would be able to keep Johnson Hagood Stadium wet and plowed. Jones was the recipient of the record "Tennessee Waltz."

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Revised Schedule Brings Changes

(Continued from page one)

dent activities, such as pep rallies, etc.

Times for meals, especially lunch, will be changed and the schedule will be announced later. Contrary to popular rumor, there are now no plans for Sunday night vesper programs.

Revamping of the Military Department schedule is also in the process. Joe Hardin, Battle Group Commander, said Thursday night that the new system will ". . . give more consolidated time for training, in which a finer peak of performance can be reached in one drill period. It will allow for field problems.

These field problems include attack, defense, road marches, Interior Guard, and Battle Drill. The first few weeks of the semester will be devoted to weapons training, with the two-hour drill allowing for more practical exercises and application of the principle in these classes.

"Class time has been decreased on the average," Hardin went on to say, "because there will be no classes, with the exception of weapons training, during drill. Under the present system the cadet attends the average of two class periods a week during drill.

FOR SEMESTER

Pika's and Pi Kapps Elect New Leaders

Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity recently re-elected Billy Hagood of Easley to the office of President for the second semester. Replacing Eby Mayfield of Greer as Vice-President is Jack Taylor, also of Greer. Taking over the office of Treasurer is Harry McDonnald of Asheville, N. C., who replaces Cliff Stovall of Mullins. Billy Hatchett of College Park, Ga., will assume the job of Secretary, formerly held by Herb Hammett of Hogansville, Ga. Bobby Brown of Fort Mill, replaces Byron Carr of Fayetteville, N. C., as sergeant at arms.

Two new executive council members were also chosen. They are Joe Nixon of Carrollton, Ga., and Maurie Schwartz of Laurinburg, N. C. Frank Sells of Johnson City Tenn., will serve the fraternity at chaplain.

New officers for Beta of Pi Kappa Phi were installed for next semester: Archon, Ed Wells; Treasurer ,Tom Elliott; Secretary, Ralph Durham; Historian, Frank Forbes; Warden, George Lane; Chaplain, Mike Dawkins; and Pledge Master, Tom Middleton.

Registration Plans

(Continued from page one)

4:00-4:45; and latecomers, 4:45-5:00.

If any student has a legitimate reason for not registering at the given time, it will be necessary to obtain a signed slip from the Registrar by noon, January 30. Students who do not come at the proper time will not be allowed to register until 4:45, according to the Registrar.

Registration materials may be secured from the Registrar's office between 3:30 and 5:00 on Thursday, February 4. Students who plan to graduate in August must fill out Senior Information Blanks before completing registration.

Montgomery Named Campus Drive Head

The appointment of Irvin Montgomery, Director of Student Activities, to the post of Campus Chairman for the current drive of the New March of Dimes for 1960 was announced today by L. V. Powell, Drive Chairman for Laurens County.

Mr. Montgomery is to be in charge of the solicitation of the faculty and staff, the college employees and will work closely with all student groups participating in the New March of Dimes.

Students Favor

(Continued from page one)

benefit for everyone, with special emphasis for atheletes. It will give science and pre-med students a better chance to participate in sports . . . It is also agreeable with the students who have just one drill a week."

Lace McKethan: "I am in favor of the new schedule because more classes can be offered and less drill is required. In the past drill has been over-emphasized but I'm afraid the extra military class period may conflict.."

Others say: "It is a great stride forward for the school . . . Perhaps the new drill will cause more interest in advanced military . . . It's OK, I guess."

White Speaks at WF

"Are You Fit To Be Tied?" will be the topic of Sunday night's Westminster Fellowship at 6:45. Chaplain O. Z. White, Sociology and Bible Professor of the Erskine College faculty, will present a short talk, and then lead an open discussion.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

Calendar Dates Need

Jim "Cricket" Lowery requ this week that dates for the student calendar for next se be turned into him or slid unde door of the SCA office in Da House. The calendar is an an publication of the SCA.

Way to Woo

(Continued from page two hungry for anything else) a posh eatery.

Be scent-sational. Anoint head: not just the top, but the h part, too. It may make her lose head. When Mark Antony calle
Cleo, his hair was perfumed marjoram, his arms with mint jaws with palm oil, his neck ground ivy essense. Result: on history's spiciest love affairs.

Woo with a "wow." Be excite everything about her—and surp ed at nothing. This is the diffi part, as the Roman poet, Vergil to 19 B. C) wrote 2,000 years a Varium et Mutable semper fe
(A fickle and changeful thing woman ever).

GALLMAN'S
BARBER SHOP
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU
FOR YOUR BUSINESS

McGEE'S
DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tars and more taste—in one great cigarette.

They said it couldn't be done... until the Wright Brothers flew this plane for 59 seconds in 1909. Today flying is so much a part of modern life that 40 American colleges offer regular flying courses, many of them for degree credit.

©1958 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII · Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., February 12, 1960 · No. 13

FOR THE FIRST TIME in 40 years, PC students head, bleary-eyed, to classes when the clock strikes eight. The recent class schedule change brought PC'ans to listen sleepily to early-bird lectures. —Autry Photo.

Chitty, Smith Nominated For Top Blue Stocking Positions

• Election Set Thursday

Single nominees for the top Blue Stocking posts were the recommendation of the student newspaper staff on Wednesday night. The staff nominated Martin Chitty as Editor and Bob Smith as Business Manager. Student Body confirmation of the nominations will come in a Student Council-managed voting on Thursday, February 18.

Both nominees have had extensive experience on the student publication. Chitty, a junior from Denmark, has served as sports editor of the past year's edition, while Smith, a junior from Atlanta, has worked on the news staff.

The election will fill posts vacated by Editor Evin Varner and Business Manager Sid Faress.

The Student Council urged students today to participate in the confirming vote on Tuesday. The ballot box will be placed in the Douglas House lounge. The returns editor explained today that the paper staff serves as a nominating committee to assure choice of the best qualified candidates.

During the interval of editorships next week, Blue Key honorary fraternity will edit and publish The Blue Stocking, president Ebby Mayfield serving as editor.

Editor S. L. Latimer Addresses Students

S. L. Latimer, Jr., editor and publisher of The State, Columbia, addressed the student body this morning in observance of the Fortieth Anniversary of The Blue Stocking.

A veteran of South Carolina news experience, Latimer has served The State since the days of A. Hemphill. South Carolina Press Association president, Latimer serves as a civilian aide to the Secretary of the Army. Last year, his "Across The Editor's Desk" was named best column in the South.

EDITOR LATIMER

Following Mr. Latimer's address, a drop-in in Douglas House honored him and The Blue Stocking staff. The Chaorcoal Cellar was later the scene of a special luncheon.

Other honored guests were alumni Rev. Whitherspoon Dunlap, George Dunlap, and Bernie Dunlap, all relatives of the speaker.

In his speech Mr. Latimer pointed out the responsibility of the press and emphasized the need for capable leadership in the critical world of today.

Pope Represents PC At N. C. Inauguration

Dr. L. B. Pope, Conference Center Director, represented PC last week at the inauguration of Dr. Wendell M. Patton as president of High Point College. Dr. Pope is an alumnus of that institution.

Daily Drill Ends; Program Since 1919

Daily morning drill period, a part of the ROTC program at Presbyterian College since its inception in 1919, is being mustered out of service under provisions of the revised class schedule.

The faculty and military department cooperated in revamping the PC schedule to provide for 8:00 a. m. classes and a single two-hour afternoon drill period. Changes became effective at the start of the new semester.

Rolls of Presbyterian College students, numbering in the thousands over the 40-year history of this ROTC unit, have tumbled into morning formation for the Monday-through-Friday drill sessions since January, 1919. That's when PC became one of the first colleges in the country to go under the ROTC program newly approved by Congress. It replaced the war-time Student Army Training Corps, established in the emergency of World War I, of which PC also was a part.

Fourteen Complete Degree Requirements

Fourteen Presbyterian College seniors completed requirements for their degrees with the close of the first semester of the 1959-60 session.

The group includes:

Bachelor of Arts—Alvis Glenn Coble, of Columbia; Gerald Wood Crawford, of Gray Court; Allard Tribble Douglass, of Whitmire; Davis Rutledge Holland, Jr., of Clinton; Alan Robert McKie, of Alexandria, Va.; Warren Fenshaw Rollins, III, of Decatur, Ga.; Arthur Donald Sumner, of Enoree; and James Earle Woodward, of Graniteville.

Bachelor of Science—James Henry Bradford, of Charlotte; William Paul Chastain, of Central; John Everia Gossett, Jr., of Pauline; Johnny Bagwell Granger, Jr., of Lexington, N .C.; Donald Hutchinson Segrest, of Tukegee, Ala.; and Nak Hyun Sohn, of Seoul, Korea.

Clemson Professor Speaks to B. E. A.

Dr. George Hubert Aull, chairman of Clemson's department of agricultural economics and rural sociology, addressed Presbyterian College students last night at the monthly meeting of their Business and Economics Association. He spoke on the general field of taxation.

Dr. Aull, an outstanding leader in his field, has served on the Celmson faculty since 1921 and in his present capacity since 1936. He was a consultant to the Farm Credit Administration in Washington at one time and served as a U. S. delegate to the United Science Conference on Conservation and Utilization of Resources in 1949. Dr. Aull was named "man of the year for service to agriculture" in 1945.

REW Committee of 50 Listed By SCA Cabinet

• Two Speakers Announced

Dick Wood this week announced the Committee of Fifty which will plan the 1960 Presbyterian College Religious Emphasis Week. Thirty-four of these fifty were selected by the senior cabinet of the SCA, which comprised the remainder of the committee. The thirty-four selected to assist the senior cabinet are: Charles Kirkland, John Gettys, Chris Wilson, Joe Harvard, Butch Sain, Bill Bartee, David Harrill, Lloyd Gray, Allen Freeman, Grif Helwig, Everitt Connelly, Rollin Butler, Bobby Joiner, Edd Collins, Graham Edmunds, and Joe Nixon.

Also selected were Larry Kirven, Charlie Cook, Dick Faulkner, Don Dunlap, Bill Wilkes, Paul Ard, Pat Malone, Herb Hammett, Maurice Schwartz, Glen Gibson, and Bob Waters.

Also included were: Ben Donaldson, Ed Wells, Dick Cushnie, John McIntosh, Dougald Clark, Billy Hagood, and Judy Bolton.

Two of the speakers secured for this year's program are the Rev. Glen Dorris, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Anderson, and the Rev. Lawrence Stell, pastor of the Trinity Presbyterian Church of Charlotte.

Fines Are Changed

Miss Marian Burts, Librarian, announced this week that overdue book fines have been increased to 2c a day. This action came from the faculty library committee, raising the old penny-a-day rate. The change is below the average of most collegiate libraries, Miss Burts said.

RETIRING EDITOR Evin Varner and Business Manager nominee Bob Smith look over the first issues of The Blue Stocking, a recent gift to the college by the paper's founder, Rev. C. W. McMurray. —Autry Photo.

40 Colorful Years

Blue Sock Celebrates Anniversary

By BOB SMITH

The Blue Stocking first rolled off the presses at PC in 1920 under the editorship of Carl W. McMurray, now pastor of the Marion (N. C.) Presbyterian Church. It has served up the campus news ever since, except for a three-year break during World War II.

Rev. McMurray tells of the founding of the paper in these words: "When I returned to PC for my senior year after having been in the Navy, I decided to undertake this project concerning which I had given much thought during the first few weeks after the term opened. After surveying the financial problem and canvassing the merchants for advertising, I decided to assume personal responsibility for the financial success of the venture.

"Then I selected the most capable men I knew to serve on the staff with me, and I pledged them to secrecy so that the first issue might appear on the campus as a surprise. The secrecy worked, and few of the students and none of the faculty knew about it until they were confronted with the fact."

In speaking of his staff, he says, 'Their enthusiasm was as great as mine and together we started The Blue Stocking on its way not knowing whether it would survive the year much less for longer years that have followed.

The paper was printed twenty years before any major change took place in its makeup. On February 5, 1940, the last issue of the paper was printed using the original style and make-up, featuring an Old English nameplate. Under the leadership of Tucker Irvin, the paper acquired a new look.

In his first editorial, "We Dare To Be Different," editor Irvin explained the change as an effort to streamline the paper and keep abreast of the times. Under his editorship the present nameplate was first used on the November 15 issue.

The following year, 1941, the first All-American rank came under the editorship of Charles B. MacDonald, '42, now with the U. S. Department of History. The second semester, Editor Mac Don-

(Continued on page four)

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

With A Backward Look . . .

As a tenure of administration for the newspaper comes to a close, we think it is well to look back over the editorial policies of The Blue Stocking over the past year.

Much editorial space has been devoted to PC's propped-up honor system. The Blue Stocking has sought a forward look for Presbyterian in fine arts and improved curriculum. We have also sought the maintenance and continuatoin of campus traditions.

We have fought apathy in student elections, stressed the efficient use of every bit of PC's physical plant to the advantage of the student, and we have lauded improvements as they came.

We have expressed ourselves on the Religious Emphasis Week problem. Above all, our editorial columns sought a strong, efficient student government.

We have never straddled any fence. Our views have been definite. Our aim has been to serve you as your voice. We hope that we have succeeded.

. . . . Many Thanks

The Blue Stocking, as a student newspaper, is a product of many hands. This editor would never have lasted the rigorous year without much assistance. The whole staff deserves acclaim for their efforts for the paper. They were a good-humored, coffee-drinking, cussing, cigarette-smoking crew!

Maurice Schwartz has managed . . . although we have never figured out particularly what. Billy Hatchett has written news, Martin Chitty has sung the blues, Paul White added intellect while Graham Edmunds turned out endless copy on a character named P. C. Special credit goes to a fine freshman staff. The Chronicle staff, "Lang," "Cat," James and Mr. Layton have somehow gotten the "Sock" on the flat-bed press and off before supper every Friday. And you, the reader, have once or twice written a letter or made some comments.

It's been quite a year—a nice one really. Thanks. And 30.

—Evin Varner

An Editor's Note Book

A FACE THAT WILL be sorely missed by Presbyterian College students is that of Miss Iona Blakely's . . . we cannot but hope that situations could change so that she could return.

ORCHIDS TO THE staff of the Registrar's Office for getting class schedules and registration materials out early this past semester.

FROM WHENCE CAME, we wonder, that enormous flag that drapes at least a half of the plaza flagpole.

OUR SPECIAL THANKS to Mr. and Mrs. James Oeland, Mr. L. V. Powell, Mr. Ben Hay Hammet, and Mrs. Harriet Ballard for their help in making The Blue Stocking's anniversary celebration a success.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR — EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR — MAURICE SCHWARTZ
Sports Editor — Martin Chitty
Feature Editor — Graham Edmunds
Copy Editor — Allen Freeman
News Director — Murray White
NEWS EDITOR — BILLY HATCHETT
Associate Editor — Paul White
News Staff — Don Kay, Fred Meade, Bob Smith, Mike Saunders, Becky Earnest, Don Lohman, Robert Kendall, and Gerald Pitts
Sports Staff — Ed Loring, Bob Stevens, John Craig, David Strickiin
BUSINESS MANAGER — SID FARESS
Circulation — Phil Bell, Marshal Jones

THE MILITARY BOWL

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

January 15, 1960

"Good afternoon sports fans, this is Percival Crudely, sports voice of the PC Radio Network.

"Today's Sports Spectacular presents the mid-season Military Bowl played at Johnson Colosseum located at Plaza Memorial Park in the heart of Clinton, South Carolina. This year's contest features the Twelfth Army Corps 'Inspectors' against the underdog Presbyterian College 'Modern Army, Green Horse'."

"It's a perfect and beautiful day for a ball game. The sky is blue and clear with not a single cloud in sight. The sun is shining brightly and, according to the weather bureau at the airport here, the temperature is right at 70 degrees. The wind is from the Southwest at 5 miles per hour and shouldn't have too much effect on the outcome of today's competition. It hasn't rained recently and therefore the field is in good condition for today's Military Bowl activities. Located in our broadcast booth high above the Colosseum we can see the skyline of beautiful Clinton in the heart of Piedmont District. Looking to my, Green Hose, and S. C. T[ech] the Inspectors. While we're get the starting line-ups together switch to the Modern Army, Gr Hose dressing room and our on-spot reporter Terance R. Marlow

"This is Terance R. Malowk the Modern Army Green H dressing room and right now standing next to Marvin Dun coach of this fine Presbyte team. Coach, knowing that Modern Army, Green Hose, ar ing to the oddsmakers, are un dogs; what do you think are chances for a victory out ther day?

"Well, Terance, the team is in shape and everyone is dressed for the game. We've been doi lot of intense practicing, the s is up and I believe my boys wil out there and win."

"That's good, coach. Tell about your offensive set-up.

"We have a set-up sort of LSU's in that we have three u The first string has as its quar back a great signal caller and whom we think is destined t All-American and that's Joe din."

'Oh yes, I've heard of him

"Joe makes good calls, and does them with confidence and thority. And, too, the boys res him and take his orders as if were commands. Next we have B unit with quarterback Jim Benett of Ludiwici, Geor They're a great bunch and one can depend on if the first st lets us down. They're the pass unit. Our third team is a relati new bunch. They were organ as a surprise group especially this game in case the other teams couldn't pull through. The under a very capable signal ca —a boy whom we brought up fr the lower ranks and who has b performing wonderfully for us i Carl Gibson and we're really pr of him. We think that he might get the All-American also for

(Continued on page four)

"THOSE FELLOWS IN TH BUSINESS DEPARTMENT WILL STOP AT NOTHING TO BUILD UP THEIR ENROLLMENT."

PC Transfers

Last Call To Breakfast

Thursday afternoon I returned to the campus after the semester break and walked into my good old room in Smyth C section to settle down and get some rest after the holidays. When I entered the back corner establishment, I found, much to my surprise, that my roommate, Percival Crudely, had already returned. Another surprising thing was the fact that he was busily taking the sheets off his bed—a rare spectacle indeed.

"PC, how in the world are you?"

"Oh, pretty good, GB, and my holiday was OK also. Since no one else was home, I simply planted myself by the TV set every day and watched such good programs as: As The World Turns, From These Roots, The Verdict Is Yours, Young Doctor Malone, Queen For A Day, Search For Tomorrow, The Secret Storm, Huckleberry Hound, and Peter Gunn.

"Wow! You really had a very exciting time."

"I sure did. How was your holiday?"

"Well, I had a fairly good time also between the TV set and the sack. Say, I see you're taking the sheets off your bed. Changing them for the new semester, I guess"

"No. I hate to tell you this, GB, but I'm taking them off to pack. I'm gonna transfer."

"Transfer!"

"Yep."

"Where on earth to?"

"Oh, I thought I'd transfer to the Kenneth N. Baker School of Business Administration for the Conservation and Preservation, Care and Cleaning of IBM Machines."

"Why?"

"Well, I think IBM Machines are

(Continued on page four)

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Joe Pickard

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Final plans were made for a sweater dance tomorrow night. P[lease] remember—something different.

This semester's financial report was given and the new budget approved. Plans for the Black and White Ball were discussed.

KAPPA ALPHA

The brothers of Beta Pi were happy to welcome back Jukie Blak[e].

Final plans were made last night concerning the Old South Ball to be held March 18th and 19th.

SIGMA NU

Congratulations to Brother Cloffeller. Charlie pinned Sissy Zam[bo] of Limestone College. Brother Raven (Coach to his associates) is gre[atly] disturbed with the mediocrity of the basketball team. "Profound" [is] nerly is learning—give him a chance.

Pledge trips were assigned and a special meeting was called for pledges next week. A financial report was given. You are cleared Brot[her] Stacy!

THETA CHI

Final plans for a closed social on Saturday night were made on Tu[es]day night at Theta Chi Fraternity's regular meeting. The Pledges [have] completed arrangements for the purchase of a new ping pong table [and] other equipment for the fraternity suite.

Singing The Blues

With MARTIN CHITTY

Previously this year we have made mention of the "PC Spirit." This spirit was quite prevalent during the wining football season, but it has disappeared completely for basketball. The attendance has been practically nil.

Last season's coach, Courts Redford, stated before the Little Four Tournament that he credited the excellent support of home games by the student body for his team's amazing success on the home court.

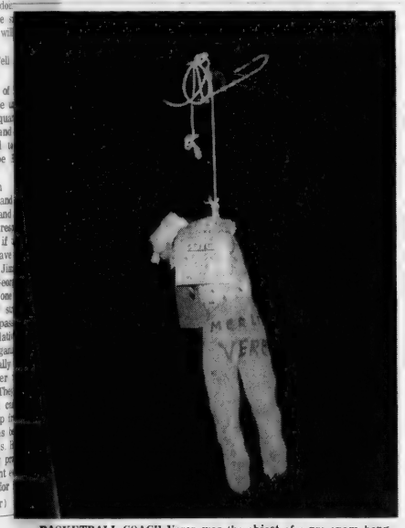
This year, when the team has needed more support than ever, we have failed them.

It is not the "PC Spirit" to support a winning football team and then drop the basketball squad, which is hindered by inexperience.

Let's make an effort to go to the gym this last half of the season and give Coach Veren's team incentive to pull a few "out of the fire."

Mr. Montgomery announces that the swimming pool will probably be opened within the next month. An attempt has been made to have the pool open for all year use; however, due to various conflicts this has not been done.

It is hoped that with enough interest shown by the student body, the pool can be opened next fall and continue being used for the entire school year.



We believe that there are enough students to make this possible and that these students will make good use of the pool if given the opportunity.

A swimming team next year poses another possibility, and again swimmers are requested to show their interest.

There seems little reason to doubt that another outstanding tennis team here, is in the making.

The experience gained by last year's freshmen, the appearance of an outstanding newcomer, Tony Wilson, and the fact that Harry Hoffman seems set for a big finale, all point to an exciting season on the courts.

This is where the small college becomes the giant, and steps into the major college circuit. A schedule containing such foes as Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth, and Miami, impresses in itself.

BASKETBALL COACH Veren was the object of a pre-exam hanging in protest of a dry raindball season. Opponents continue to prove too formidable, for the most part. However, Hose fans look for home-court magic as the PC squad meets strong Newberry tomorrow night.

Will Meet Newberry

Hose Drop One To Fleet; Gain Win Over Pembroke

Despite a thirty-point effort by Bob Stratton, Erskine won its sixth straight basketball game at Due West Tuesday night stopping Little Four rival Presbyterian 68-57.

The game was close throughout the first half, and ended in a 29-29 halftime deadlock. Stratton counted 23 of his team's 29 points during the initial 20 minutes, but failed to score a field goal in the last half.

PC-PEMBROKE GAME

Bob Stratton continued his high-scoring ways as he led the PC Blue Hose to a 71-60 victory over Pembroke Saturday night.

PC led most of the game and held a 34-32 edge at halftime.

Freshman Joe Harvard followed Stratton in the scoring with 23 points. Bill Smith paced Pembroke with 22 points.

PC'S basketballers dropped a close 79-77 decision to Mercer Wednesday night.

Bob Stratton again led the Hosemen with a 37-point effort.

The Blue Hose return home and meet a strong Newberry five here Saturday night for a Little Four engagement. The Indians are led by its formidable twosome of Carl Short and Charlie Gallagher.

This poses as a 'must" game for the Newberry squad, after dropping to Wofford last week.

Blue Hose Netmen Look Towards Stronger '60 Season - Leighton

• Tough Schedule Announced

"Our team spirit should be better this season. One of our goals will be to eliminate bad losses such as George Washington last spring," stated Coach Jim Leighton as he makes plans to begin a rugged schedule.

"We didn't have a bad record last season, considering the number of freshmen. Of course, it wasn't as good as our previous seasons, but we were inexperienced," continued Leighton. "This season we should be stronger although will miss Jim Shakespeare."

Shakespeare was the only player lost to graduation last season. However, freshman Tony Wilson has progressed to such an extent under the coaching of Leighton that he may well make amends for the loss.

Leighton can't say enough about Wilson. "Wilson has great potential, as much or more than any player I've had here. Of course he lacks in match experience."

Leighton also had words of praise for senior Harry Hoffman, who has been elected captain of the 1960 netmen. "Harry is one of the outstanding team men and workers that I've seen in my twelve years of coaching," stated Leighton.

"Our doubles teams will be stronger this year. Remember, we still aren't of the calibre of some of our opponents. A win over teams like Yale, Miami, and Harvard would definitely be an upset," he continued.

The number one doubles team will probably consist of Hoffman and Wilson, while number two doubles may feature Dave Greenslade and Tom Elliott.

Others returning from last year's squad include Beansy Frampton, Ed Caviness, Bill Stone, and Ronald Wright.

This season's fine schedule lists ten home games.

Florida State, there, March 14.
University of Florida, there, March 16.
Miami, there, March 18.
Clemson, here, March 22.
Dartmouth, here, March 24-25.
Davidson, here, March 26.
South Carolina, here, March 29.
Wofford, here, April 1.
Harvard, here, April 7-8.
Miami, here, April 14.
Georgia, there, April 18.
Georgia Teach, here, April 25.
Furman, here, April 28.
Yale, there, May 5.
Princeton, there, May 7.
Duke, there, May 9.

There is also a game scheduled with Amherst, however, dates were not available at press time.

HARRY HOFFMAN
TENNIS TEAM CAPTAIN

Hose Baseball Sets 19-Game Schedule

Don't let those overcoats fool you, because it's only around a month until the crack of the bat will signify the opening of the baseball season.

A nineteen-game schedule has been announced for the 1960 Blue Hose squad. The Hosemen will open the season here against Catawba College March 6, and will appear before home support nine more times during the spring.

Wed., March 16, Catawba, Clinton
Sat., March 19, Belmont Abbey, Clinton.
Wed., March 23, Erskine, Clinton
Fri., March 25, Piedmont, Clinton
Sat., March 26, Catawba, Salisbury, N. C.
Thurs., March 31, Newberry, Clinton
Wed., April 6, Davidson, Clinton
Thurs., April 7, Piedmont, Demorest, Ga.
Mon., April 11, Belmont Abbey, Belmont, N. C.
Wed., April 13, Newberry, Newberry.
Mon., April 25, Erskine, Due West
Tues., April 26, Newberry, Clinton
Thurs., April 28, Wofford, Clinton
Sat., April 30, Erskine, Due West
Mon., May 2, Pembroke, Clinton
Tues., May 3, Pembroke, Clinton
Thurs., May 5, Newberry, Newberry
Sat., May 7, Wofford, Spartanburg
Tues., May 10, Erskine, Clinton
Home games 3:00 p. m. during the week; 2:30 p. m., Saturdays.

Intramural Council Announces Changes

Larry Wood, intramural chairman, has announced the Council's unanimous approval of a new point system which is aimed at eliminating cancellations and forfeits and to increase interest in the competition for over-all points. The new system will be explained in chapel Monday, February 15.

Other projects include an All-Star basketball game to be played on the PC campus between the PC All-Intramurals and the Erskine College All-Stars. Another highlight will feature the All-Intramurals and the PC faculty. Students are urged to watch for announcements concerning these games.

As the basketball season goes into the last few weeks the Intramural Council is planning ahead to the other major sports and the vast number of problems that face the council. It will present the SCA cabinet in the near future with a written constitution that will cover every phase of intramural activities. The constitution will mark the third major reorganization project of the council in the past year in its efforts to retain a 90-plus per cent participation which was highest in five southeastern states last year.

42 Work Out

Spring Gridiron Practice Begins

Presbyterian Coach Frank Jones has issued the call for off-season football drills to begin Friday afternoon, and 42 candidates are expected to answer the summons.

The practice sessions will extend until mid-March, following a daily afternoon schedule from Monday through Saturday. Afternoon science laboratories will influence the starting time of some sessions, but most drills are expected to extend from 3:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Eleven players will be missing from the 1959 roster which swept PC to its outstanding 9-1 season and an appearance in the Tangerine Bowl last New Year's night.

Headed into the professional football ranks after this session will be such top-ranked stars as Halfback Bobby Pate and Quarterback Bob Waters. Their departure poses a real problem in efforts to prepare a high-geared offense for next year.

And the impending graduation of Tackles Bill Schofill and Cecil Morris and of Center Mac Copeland deplete these positions to a low ebb. In addition, End Paul Chastain and Halfback Dave Morgan are former starters who will be sorely missed, as will be second-stringers Gordan Stanley at halfback and Nat Cole at quarterback.

Of the 42 candidates who will begin spring practice Friday, 35 are squad members returning from last season. The remaining seven are new students who enrolled at PC last week for the second semester of the 1959-60 session. Coach Jones hopes that they may be able to help plug the graduation gaps.

Hoffman and Wilson Compete In Tourney

Coach Leighton's stars, Harry Hoffman and Tony Wilson, gave it the old college try in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., during the semester break the week of January 31-February 7, in the Pepsi-Cola-sponsored Austin-Smith Tennis Tournament. This international tournament drew its participants from all over the free world. Harry advanced to the third round of the singles, but as luck would have it, lost this match 3-6, 3-6, Love-6. Tony, hampered by a touch of the flu bug, lost his opener to a local player. Harry and Tony came back strong in the doubles and advanced to the quarter finals. Experience was the big factor, for our two flashes of the courts when they met the team of Mulloy and Robiniew, losing 8-6, 6-2. Mulloy, one of the senior champions of the doubles at Wimbledon two years ago and his partner playing in the 45 and over class, proved that skill in tennis comes with time.

Linksters Forecast Strong Appearance

PC golfers forecast a stronger appearance on the greens this year.

Under the direction of Dr. John Stevenson, the Blue Hose linksmen already have a week of practice under their belts.

Only two members of last year's squad were lost via the graduation route, while experienced men in the form of Frank Sells, Max Clyburn, Harry and Hexie McDonnald form the core for this spring's squad.

Added help can be expected from such newcomers as Owen Ravenel, Ken Acker, Skip Saverance, Logan Porter, C. J. Ray, Edison Fairey, and Alan Pitts.

GALLMAN'S BARBER SHOP
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

HARRY LAYTON

REV. C. W. McMURRAY

Printer, Parson Play Important Sock Roles

Over the years, two individuals have been outstanding people servers to The Blue Stocking. The first, of course, was founder Rev. C. W. McMurray. Through his own personal efforts the publication was born forty years ago. Not [illegible] picked the succeeding editor and [illegible]

[illegible]

Layton hands were first smudged with printer's ink at nine in the Pearwell Orphanage Print Shop. Not too many years later he joined the staff of The Clinton Chronicle where he still directs the mechanical department. His association which he describes as the most enjoyable part of my work," now totals thirty-eight years.

Reminiscing over the formidable list of editors whom he has known, Harry Layton can name many who have gone into journalistic fields, a mute testimony to his understanding cooperation and fine inspiration.

Last Call . . .

(Continued from page two)

here to stay and I'd like to know all about them."

What brought the sudden transfig[illegible]ation?"

"Well, I'll tell you, GB. I looked at the new class schedule and I could not find any possible way to fix it so I would have a 9:00 free period any day of the week."

"Well, so what. What's so important about a 9:00 free period?"

"You don't realize the importance of a 9:00 free period?"

"Nope. None whatsoever."

"Look, GB. No 9:00 free period means that I can't listen to The Breakfast Club, with Don McNeil, and I just can't do without that."

"Don't take it so hard, PC, just think about me and my hardships."

"Oh, what's your troubles?"

"I've got all 12:00 classes."

"Yeah, so you're so busy you don't have time to hear Don McNeil."

"That may be so, but I miss Paul Harvey and the News, and I think that's even worse."

"Oh, no!"

"Yeah, come on and stay, PC."

"Nope, I've done made up my mind, and besides I'm all packed."

"You are?"

Yep, all I got to do is throw it in the car and motivate."

Looking around the room, I noticed that Percival had all his belongings packed in suitcases and boxes.

Later . . .

"Well, GB, I've got it all in the car. I reckon I'll be moving on to new and better heights."

"OK, PC. I hate to see you go."

"Goodbye, GB."

"PC, we are gonna miss you—everybody sends their love."

And so as the sun sets slowly in the west, Percival Crudely, in his putrid pink convertible with grungy green fenders, drives out of sight—maybe never to be heard of again.

The Military Bowl

(Continued from page two)

[illegible] elected [illegible] is a rookie in the signal calling department. We call this third unit the PR's."

"The PR's?"

"Yes, the Percival Ripples. Do you know that there's a point in their attack plan where they actually run circles around the opposition?"

"Mercy. Well, coach, it's been nice talking to you. We'll move right along and interview some of the team now and let you get back to work."

"Thanks, Terance."

"Excuse me. Are you Jimmy Bennett, signal caller for B unit?"

"Yes, sir."

"Tell me, Jimmy, when your B unit gets into the game, what sort of passing offense will you employ?"

"Well, we expect to use only one pass play and that will be the pass in review. Excuse me, the team is leaving the dressing room and I'm afraid I must follow."

"Thank you, Jimmy Bennett. Moving right along now we have before the 'mike' Bobby Hodges, line coach of the Modern Army, Green Hose. Coach, tell me, how is your line shaping up?"

"Allrighteey, we've been working with the boys this week real hard and we even worked out in some extra practice sessions, and I believe we've got things straight now. Before this extra practice, it suffices to say, the upshot of the thing was a gosh awful mess."

"It suffices to say."

"We're in top shape and we expect to win. I'm sure my line can take the worst the Inspectors have to offer."

"Thank you, Coach Hodges. And now back to Percival Crudely at the Colosseum."

"Thank you, Terance. Hello again, fans. The crowd is filing in very rapidly and it shouldn't be long until kick-off time which has been scheduled for 1530 hours. Both teams have been on the field going through some warm-up exercises and a few last minute drills, but are now off the field and gathered around their benches. Right now below our booth high atop the Colosseum we see the captains of the two teams, and the officials, meeting in the center of the field for the toss of the coin.

(Continued next week)

Paper Boasts Colorful History

(Continued from page one)

ald's paper achieved an even higher honor, All-American Pacemaker, as one of the ten best in the nation.

Ben Hay Hammet, '43, now public relations director at PC followed with two All-Americans in 1942, with one semester's publications honored as All-American Pacemaker, among the seven best in the nation.

Since 1942, eleven more All-American ratings have been bestowed upon the publication, the latest being garnered for last semester's issues.

"I salute The Blue Stocking," founder McMurray states, "and I wish it many more years of success in its career of usefulness and noble influence on the campus."

Collegiate Opinion

Opposing Views on Disarmament

Disarmament is one of the central discussions of our times. The following opposing collegiate opinions are timely and interesting. The first is from the Duquesne University DUKE, Pittsburgh, while the second comes from the Rollins College (Fla.) SANDSPUR. —The Editor.

Disarm — Or Disintegrate

"Did you know that every glass of milk in this country contains traceable amounts of strontium 90?

(Radio-active substance created by nuclear explosions.)

"Do you realize that there is now in existence a bomb that has twice as much destructive power as was dropped on every city ever bombed by air? Just imagine the destruction unleashed upon London and Berlin, Hiroshima and Nagasaki, double it, and the picture is staggering.

"Looking at these two facts, it's apparent that atomic energy is going to kill us, either slowly through radiation poisoning, or swiftly, in one huge burst of energy. We're doomed unless we act quickly to eliminate the danger of atomic death.

"Don't say the Russians don't use any atomic war.

Probably correct—but Wars can start by accident.

"For example, just a few weeks ago a French officer, his ire aroused no doubt through reading the news-papers, ordering the bombing of an Algerian village. Now what would happen if some Russian officer did the same sort of thing?

"Imagine a Russian sub commander, wearied from months of patroling the American coast line. His sub houses a launching platform for an atomic war-headed missile. His nerves are on edge—he cracks—he launches the missle. Boom. We're invaded.

"We retaliate. The Russians retaliate. Pretty soon there are more missles whipping through the atmosphere than turnip termites in the invasion of Dogpatch. And everybody's dead.

'And remember, the above war wasn't desired by anybody, except for one crazed sub commander.

'Here's another conceivable means of initiating the Final War without any party desiring it: We have, up North, a strong radar detection system. Any unidentifiable object appearing on our screens causes atomic weapon bearing airplanes to head for the Russian border. When these planes reach a distance of 200 miles from Russia, they turn back to their bases, unless they get a confirming order to continue.

"The Russians, too, probably have a similar defensive system.

"Not too long ago, a huge flock of geese showed up on US radar screens. They looked just like airplanes to the radar watchers, and our planes started towards Russia. Fortunately the error was corrected in time.

"We were lucky on the outcome of that episode. It could have had a different ending: A flock of geese sends US bombers winging towards Russia. Russian radar detects hte US planes. Rusian planes head for the US. US radar screens now detect the Russian planes, and therefore order our planes to continue to Russia and drop their bombs. Russia does the same—and we're all killed because of a flock of geese.

"As long as atomic weapons remain in existence ,there is too much chance that an earth-consuming war can start—even if neither side wants it. As long as atomic testing is continued, radiatoin will cover our planet like an invisible, but potent killer.

"It's apparent that disarmament is necessary, as quickly as possible. We are inclined to think of Russian disarmament plans and atomic bans as pure propaganda. This is unfortunate thinking. We have to realize that both sides must take proposals for atomic disarmament seriously—before it's too late for the whole world.

Back From the Brink

"The current American 'party line' is that Communism is mankind's greatest enemy and that freedom as we know it must be preserved at all cost, including nu clear war.

Some of our outstanding scientists, educators, clerics and businessmen see the future differently. To them, the dangers of atomic war outweigh the dangers of Communism. Their argument is that large scale use of nuclear weapons in World War III would definitely wipe out the entire human race.

"The point is rarely put bluntly, but it is this: Human freedom would re-emerge quicker from a dictatorship of men than from heirarchies of reptiles and fishes. If forced to choose, survival under the Soviets is preferable to race suicide.

"The blast effect of hydrogen bombs which could easily raze all cities less than 20 miles in diameter and quickly kill millions of p[illegible] is terrible to contemplate. But nothing compared to the lon[illegible] after effects of radioactive fa[illegible] Blast-created isotopes [illegible] deadly gamma rays will ris[illegible] the stratosphere and be blow[illegible] high altitude winds to all corn[illegible] the earth.

"The US Atomic Energy Com[illegible] sion has admitted the fallout [illegible] ice in its release, trying [illegible] imize the present genetic and [illegible] kemia dangers from a few [illegible] tests. It has never denied that [illegible] nuclear war threatens man[illegible] continued existence on the pla[illegible]

"Our atomic Frankenstein, [illegible] ever, is not the only men[illegible] Others are wishful thinking [illegible] romantic ideas. 'It can't hap[illegible] to us.' 'If atomic weapons are [illegible] dangerous they will not be u[illegible] World government will save [illegible] 'I'd rather die a free man t[illegible] live a slave.' 'Only cowards ne[illegible] to fight for their beliefs.' And on. What many seem to fo[illegible] is that ICBMs wit hatomic w[illegible] heads now make it impossible [illegible] a modern soldier to defend [illegible] family, his country or his rel[illegible] by blasting the enemy.

"Since both alternatives ar[illegible] tastrophic, we need some w[illegible] avoid both. But what is it? [illegible] we try to convince the Russia[illegible] living in a world dominated by [illegible] italistic countries would m[illegible] worse than death to all man[illegible] That seems such an obvious [illegible] but the iron curtain may pro[illegible] penetrable.

"If this generation is not [illegible] mankind's last, a road back [illegible] the brink must be found, and [illegible] quickly."

Dr. Whitelaw Marks 25 Years of Teaching PC Students

For twenty-five years one of the primary reasons for Presbyterian College's successful science department has been Dr. Neill G. Whitelaw, professor of physics. From his office and lab in the bottom of Jacobs have come many students well grounded not only in science, but somehow influenced by the personal magnanimity of this man.

A dedicated and determined teacher, Dr. Whitelaw has been in the field of teaching since receiving his Doctorate from the University of Wisconsin in 1933. He taught mathematics for a year at Wisconsin and then came to PC in 1935, here to teach math again for a year before returning to his field of physics.

Although he was sought by the Oak Ridge project to do atomic research during the second World War, Dr. Whitelaw chose to remain at PC.

As a tribute to his ability as a teacher is the fact that since Dr. Whitelaw began teaching there has been no year when he has not had former students holding graduate fellowships and teaching assistance ships at leading universities

NEIL G. WHITELAW

Sunshine Cleaners
W. Florida St. — Phone 436
Quality Cleaning and Shirt Laundry
We Offer a "Fluff Dry" Bundle
WE REPAIR SHOES

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

BROADWAY Theatre
Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 15-16
They Came To Cordura
Gary Cooper, Rita Hayworth, Van Heflin, Tab Hunter
Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 17-18
Seven Thieves
Edward G. Robinson, Rod Steiger, Joan Collins
Friday and Saturday, Feb. 19-20
The Warrior and The Slave Girl
Maria Canale, Georges Marchal

Blue Key Anniversary Edition

BEAN WISE WATERS MAYFIELD CRANDALL WOOD BENNETT STOVALL DONALDSON GIBSON

Mediator

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., February 19, 1960 No. 14

HARDIN

HAGOOD

Blue Key Requests Aid From Students

In the next few days the halls of Neville and Science will have an added fixture. Though geometrical square, they will have a great purpose in serving the Student Body. The new features are SUGGESTION BOXES.

The Blue Key has as its major role, relation work between the Faculty and Students. In order to increase the effectiveness of the work carried on and to give greatest attention to the matters of importance, the Suggestion Boxes were put to action.

What purpose could these boxes serve? Some very interested and concerned students may have ideas which will solve a problem of the Student Body. These engrossed students may not be of the fearless type and conserve their opinions. Thus, another idea, solution or suggestion is left by the wayside. On the other hand, if the thoughts of the students were dropped into a Suggestion Box then they would be of valuable use in improving the school.

The Blue Key plans to take the suggestions left in the boxes and present them to the College Administration. The Administration has the power to act upon all matters brought before them, but most of the time, matters are not carried to the proper place and left in the Chow Hall or in the Dorm after a discussion has taken place. All matters will not concern the Administration alone and will be directed to the attention of student organizations. In either case, the information will get into the proper hands for action.

All suggestions left will be studied by the Blue Key and presented in an appropriate way as to give the maximum results. The Blue Key urges you to give your opinions seriously an dnot comically. Your riously and not comically. Your thoughts may solve many problems; so use your rights and make suggestions.

Students Say Yes To Proctor System

The Blue Key found, through the poll it sponsored at second semester registration, that the students of Presbyterian College are overwhelmingly in favor of keeping the present Proctor System in practice. 701 students answered the questionnaire provided by the Blue Key. In the questionnaire questions were asked that were believed to evaluate the Proctor system in all aspects. Below are listed the questions asked and the answers received:

Question No. 1—Has dormitory conduct improved?
85% of the students said YES.
15% of the students said NO.
Question No. 2—Has dormitory maintenance improved?
79% of the students said YES.
21% of the students said NO.
Question No. 3—Have you benefited from the system?
80% of the students said YES.
20% of the students said NO.
Question No. 4—Would you recommend its continuance?
92% of the student said YES.
8% of the students said NO .

It was noted in the survey that the mapority of dissatisfaction came from Bailey Hall, while the most satisfied students live in Smythe Dormitory. The most presistent gripe of the students was that concerning maintenance. Below are listed some of the frequent comments.

(Continued on page four)

Latest Dean's List Honors Thirty-Six

The Dean's List for first semester, 1959-60, was announced this week by the Registrar's office. Due to the new quality point system of the college, this list was computed a little differently than has been done in the past. The grade ratios of the seniors have been figured on the old three-point system, while those of the underclassmen have been figured on the new four-point system. Two students, Alan Robert McKie and Brenda Gay Maddox,

(Continued on page four)

Blue Sock Nominees Win Posts In Uncontested Student Election

Chitty, Smith Named Thurs.; Will Take Office Next Week

Martin Chitty of Denmark, and Bob Smith of Atlanta, have been elected to the offices of Editor and Business Manager of The Blue Stocking, respectively.

In the election on Thursday, students were requested to either register their approval or disapproval of the unopposed candidates.

The Blue Stocking staff selected their own nominees, feeling that this was the best possible method of securing qualified candidates. It is the opinion of the staff that the performance of the two men in their new positions will vindicate its choice.

Chitty, a rising senior, received first-hand experience having been a member of the Blue Stocking staff for two years. He served the staff during the two previous semesters as sports editor. He also worked for the PC Public Relations Office, where he assisted in sports publicity. Chitty is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Smith, also a rising senior, for the past year has worked on the Blue Stocking news staff. He transferred to Presbyterian from Georgia Tech and is a pledge in Kappa Alpha Order

The new Editor and Business Manager will assume their duties next week. Other members of the staff will be announced in the following Blue Stocking.

JOHN STEVENSON

Dr. John Stevenson Is Blue Key Adviser

Dr. John Weamer Stevenson, professor of English, serves as faculty advisor for the Blue Key Honorary Fraternity. In this capacity he has show undying interest in student problems and has been a tremendous asset to Blue Key. He supervises the work of the fraternity and gives valuable professional advice.

Dr. "Steve," as he is affectionately known by students, was made an honorary member of Blue Key in 1956. Honorary membership in Blue Key may only be held by men who have shown unselfish devotion to the interests of the institution aside from their official capacities or regular duties.

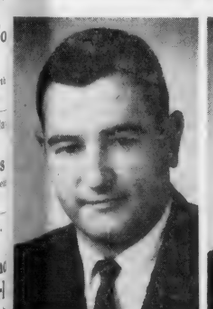
Dr. Stevenson is an alumnus of Wofford College where he received the BA degree. He received the MA and Ph.D degrees from Vanderbilt University .

He devotes much of his time to the school in his capacity of chairman of the faculty committee on graduate study.

Chemist to Speak To Tau Phi Pi Tues. .

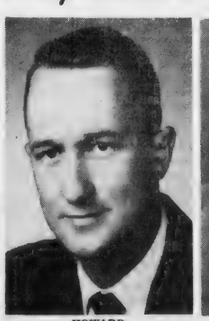
Dr. Philip S. Baker, head chemist of the Stable Isotopes Division of the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) National Laboratory, will be at Presbyterian College next Tuesday to present a program to all science students and any others who may be interested. The program, to be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Science Hall lecture room, will deal with the various aspects of Dr. Baker's work at the National Laboratory; to be included are several demonstrations of radioactive isotopes and their use. He will also include a discussion of both Stable and Radioactive Production Programs at Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

In 1952 Dr. Baker began work at the Oak Ridge National Laboratories as Head Chemist of the Stable Isotopes division. At present, he is also superintendent of the Isotopes Sales Department.



In conjunction with this scientific lecture, Jim Benett, President of Tau Phi Pi science society, reminds all sopohmores who have completed twelve hours of laboratory science that they are eligible and are invited to become members of the society.

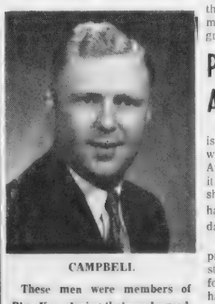
Planning Begins For Annual IRC Week



The International Relations Club is making plans for the annual IRC week to be held some time in April. At present, plans are indefinite, but it is thought that the speakees should be the most outstanding that have participated in the week to date.

Plans are also being made for programs during the semester to stimulate interest in the realm of foreign affairs. The club hopes to have at least one outstanding speaker and several programs worked up by the members themselves.

Blue Key Leaders of The Past . . . .



STALLWORTH

HOWARD

HAMMET

CAMPBELL

These men were members of Blue Key, during their undergraduate years at PC.

THE BLUE KEY PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Golden Opportunity....

The Blue Key has a tremendous responsibility in promoting intellectual attainment and serving the best interests and progress of the college. To accomplish this task we must be recognized as the coordinating group between the administration and the students. We officially have this power by the preamble to our Official Code which states that "Student problems are studied and student life is enriched" through the efforts of the Blue Key.

We have served the college in various ways during the past semester, but most of our accomplishments have been made due to suggestions brought forth by the administration. The Blue Key played a vital part in Parents Day, registration, and other activities to benefit the college, but these objectives were fulfilled by direct requests from the administration. We urge the students to take advantage of the new suggestion box or speak directly to a Blue Key member in order that we can study your problems, propose remedies, and present them to the administration. It is a golden opportunity to have your voice heard which you are now letting slip through your fingers.

We believe that the Blue Key is qualified to act in this capacity for, indirectly, the student body has elected us to this honored position by choosing us as leaders in other fields which is a prerequisite to membership. This honorary fraternity represents a cross-section of campus affairs. Our members are the leaders in every element of campus life, be it extra-curricular, scholarship, military, athletic, or social and religious activities. However, we are only twelve out of five hundred and can serve you only if we know your opinions on campus problems.

We hope to serve you more directly in the future as an agency of liaison between the students and administration and we invite you as independents, fraternity men, coeds, or day students to talk with any Blue Key man about the problems which confront our campus.

—William M. Hagood

The GREEKS

... Have A Word

ΑΒΓΔΑΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Plans were also made for the houseparty at OD this summer, with Joe Nixon and Wayne Godfrey being named as co-chairmen. Brother of the Week and Pledge of the Year were Ebby Mayfield and George Ragan.

We want to deeply thank every fraternity that offered help last night after our misfortune.

SIGMA NU

Congratulations to Bill Stone and Joe Clark. They were pledged Wednesday night. Plans were made for the Division Conference to be held at UNC. Brother Flash learned his lesson.

Military Ball money can be paid to Brother Dougald by Tuesday.

KAPPA ALPHA

Beta Pi Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order held its weekly meeting Wednesday night. The brothers were glad to receive news from Brother Paul Arrington, who is now at George Washington School of Law and working part time for IBM.

PI KAPPA PHI

Congratulations to new pledges Bobby Pate, Dave Parrish, and Jack Williams. This weekend, Peck's will be the site of another of Pi Kap's parties. This is in honor of the year's pledges. It won't be long before the fraternity room will look like new. Brothers and pledges have been working together to tear down the wallpaper before a new covering is put up to replace it.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The pledges have recently begun painting the kitchen of the fraternity room as a beginning toward their pledge project for this semester.

The brotherhood discussed plans for the Military Ball. Also, favors were selected for those who have dates.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

CO-EDITORS ..... EBBY MAYFIELD, BILLY HAGOOD
Assistant Editor ..... Bob Bean
Sports Editor ..... Bob Waters
Sports Staff ..... Cliff Stovall, Dick Wood
Feature Staff ..... Tom Wise, Joe Hardin, Ben Donaldson, Jim Bennett and Glenn Gibson.

Honorary PC Keymen . . .

KENNETH N. BAKER

JAMES S. GRAY

L. V. POWELL

Founded 1925

Honorary Boasts Colorful Past

In 1924 the University of Florida was bracing itself for the annual Dad's Day and Homecoming, which was expected to exceed in attendance all former gatherings at the school.

Dr. A. A. Murphee, then president of the University, called on Major B. C. Riley to correlate and coordinate all the plans for the entertainment of guests on the campus.

Major Riley, in turn, selected twenty-five outstanding student leaders who held places of prominence in the student body. Homecoming went off well, as was expected.

Afterwards, they decided to meet regularly and discuss other ways of improving student life. The progress and results obtained by the group were amazing. With the idea of cooperation with other schools, Riley passed the idea along, and in 1925 phenomenal growth of the Blue Key began.

Blue Key has been active at Presbyterian College since 1932. In 1931, President Marshall W. Brown, then Dean, along with Colonel R. E. Wysor, Jr., PMS&T, and C. W. Grafton, English professor, established an honorary fraternity on the campus called the Archons.

The Archons joined another honorary socity and received a charter from Blue Key in 1932.

Religious Itinerary Given By Groups

Various religious groups on campus are planning a busy spring schedule. The Baptist Student Union is planning to send several students to its Spring Retreat held at Greenwood.

Ken Gardner, Dave Morgan and Roscoe Lindsey were delegates recently attending the Christian Action Seminar at the University of South Carolina. Future program plans include a stag supper and a deputation. Miss Anita Heekle, State Associate Secretary, recently visited the group.

The Westminster Fellowship, under the leadership of its first lady president, Miss Gay Madox, is proud of its attendance this spring. Credit is due to Bob Smith, vice-president and program chairman, for the fine programs provided this semester. Recent meetings have included a program on marriage led by Mr. O. Z. White, professor at cusion concerning the matter of segregation.

Westminster Fellowship is looking forward to its annual conference to be held at Camp Harmony. Harry Smith of the University of North Carolina and Lacy Harwell of the University of Florida, will lead the conference. Anyone interested in attending should contact Gay Maddox.

Members of the Ministerial Club have had the privilege of being participants on several evangelistic teams, and they hope to make many more team trips this spring. The club's meeting time has been changed to 6:45 on Thursday nights this semester. All students interested in a Christian vocation are invited to attend.

Blue Key Stresses Leadership; Service

Forty thousand student leaders, since 1924, have been honored by Blue Key with the privilege of union for organized effort so that in American colleges and universities belief in God will be perpetuated and intensified; the United States government will be supported and defended; established institutions of society and the principles of good citizenship will be preserved.

Through the inspiration of Blue Key, intellectual attainment and a desire to serve their college and fellows are fostered among students; student problems are studied and student life is enriched; an institution's progress and best interests are stimulated and promoted.

Blue Key is a general honor fraternity for outstanding students with potential for development into active citizens, community leaders, and loyal, informed alumni.

The fraternity recognizes upperclassmen from every division of an institution for their meritorious campus performance and honors them with leadership training in a continuing program of service and public relations.

Ultimately, the Fraternity's ideals and purposes are more fully realized as the student body, through its members in Blue Key, serves as co-planner and works with the faculty and alumni on those major objectives essential to institutional progress, wholesome student-faculty interaction, and the general academic and social welfare. Its plan of operations is approved by the college administration.

Because Blue Key is a leadership fraternity seeking the cooperation of everyone on the faculty and in the student body, it differs from the general pattern for honor societies. It has no secret work and is not a Greek letter fraternity; it is free of the sponsorship of or affiliation with any other organization.

MARSHHALL W. BROWN

NEIL G. WHITELAW

Continued

The Military Bowl

by GRAHAM EDMUNDS

The referee for today's contest, William "Woody" Barnett, a capable man who's been in business a long time. Captain the Modern Army, Green Hose Joe Hardin, quarterback and American candidate whom we heard. Coach Dunbar speak of Representing the Inspectors Brawny Bill Bowen, another field general and second choice for the Pentagon Giants fessional Ball Club. The coin the air and the toss is won by Presbyterian team who have elected to kick off. The captains hands and return to their be for final instructions from coaches. The game will soon derway. And now ladies and men, our National Anthem."

. . . Much time has passed. "Well fans it was a great fought out there today between these two well matched teams Modern Army, Green Hose hard to overcome a 7 to 6 and come out on top 9 to 7 excellent play of the third Perching Ripples, who provided field goal for the winning

SPEAKING of SPORTS

By BOB WATERS

Two years ago, the Blue Hose basketball team lost only five games ing regular season play. Last year, even though we had only a 10-8 ord, we had a very fine basketball team. They won six of their eight mes and we the students were proud of the team.

For the past number of years Kentucky has been somewhere in the five teams in the nation. They have been respected and idolized for ir fine basketball play. This year they are finding the winning road a le tougher. Is it because Adolph Rupp is a poor coach? Was he hanged effigy? Do you think the "Wildcats" are having a bad year (for them) cause the players are not trying? For the two years prior to '59 Army s been in the top seven football teams in the nation. In the '59 season y won only four games. Every athletic team has its bad years: but, his a bad year for the Blue Hose or would it be more properly called ebuilding year. Why don't we help them in this rebuilding stage by pporting them and giving them the confidence they need.

Any and all athletes want to win. Our basketball players are athletes. However, the opposing teams have athletes, too. The extra drive to win and needed confidence to win could possibly be obtained by better support and less "ribbing" by the students. Friday night, the Blue Hose play a strong Belmont Abbey team. Let's all support and let the Blue Hose know we are still behind them.

DIAMOND PROSPECTS

When the Blue Hose nine open its regular season on the diamond in arch, it will be sparked by returning lettermen "Butter" Raeford, Ed ckson, Ken Gardner, Wayne Godfrey, and Bill Sease.

Godfrey has been near the top in the batting average department for past two seasons as a slick fielding second baseman, while his partner hird, Sease, has been a power threat at the plate.

With the return of fireballing Ken Gardner to the mound corps, his department should be strengthened. With Raeford, who uses primarily a dancing curve and a tricky change of pace, these two veterans should present a formidable duo to hurl against the Hose's strong opponents. Senior Bill Dobbins will be returning to further strengthen the pitching department.

Senior Ed Jackson combines speed and finess at the plate to insure ach Clyde Ehrhardt of an experienced outfielder who has had three rs as a regular.

The over-all picture of this year's diamond squad is brighter than last ar's and the team should be interesting to watch.

TENNIS TEAM SHAPING UP

Coach Leighton has had his tennis players out every good day all year g. Everyone is looking for another good season, with Miami being the stumbling block for a perfect season. Harry Hoffman is still the big , Tony Wilson, a freshman from New York, will probably be in one the top positions. Other freshmen are George Turner and Harold Hope, ve Greenslade, Ed Caviness, Tom Elliott, Beansy Frampton, Billy Ha od, and Hal McGirt are all returnees from last year. The school is hind you, wishing the team the best of luck.

3 Candidates

Spring Football Toils Begin As off Season Pace Quickens

Forty-three football candidates hustle through workuts this week as the pace of off-season gridiron activity icks up momentum.

They started the sessions under Head Coach Frank nes last Friday, and the daily actice will continue through mid-arch.

The group includes nine ends, six ckles, seven guards, five centers, o quarterbacks, nine halfbacks, d five fullbacks. They are:

ENDS—Jon Vastine of Danville, a.; Jimmy Kolb of Sumter; David Parrish of Statesboro, Ga.; Billy Eberhardt of Dublin, Ga.; Tommy Odom of Portsmouth, a.; Phil Jackson of Atlanta; Jerry Hammock of Moultrie, Ga.; Dave Harrill of Gaffney; and Fred Cook of North Augusta.

TACKLES — Hardy Ledbetter of idgeland; Keith Richardson of hester; John Gettys of Union; Edl Hiatt of Mt. Airy, N. C.; Stewrt Caldwell of Royston, Ga.; and ave Cromer of Cross Hill.

GUARDS—Billy Ogden of Macon, a.; Bill Sease of Clinton; Sonny oBose of Sumter; Don Bridges of ecatur, Ga.; Paul Love of York; n Seddath of Greer; and Don aylor of Struthers, Ohio.

CENTERS—Don Abee of Greenville; Alex Mills of Sylvania, Ga.; Phil Smith of New Holland, Ga.; Henry Owens of Brunswick, Ga.; and Tommy Barrentine of McCarley, Miss.

QUARTERBACKS—Joe Nixon of Carrollton, Ga.; and Bobby Joiner of Macon, Ga.

HALFBACKS — Billy Benton of Chamblee, Ga.; Ronnie Hampton of Cannapolis, N. C.; Bob Sherrell, Glynn Gorman and Stacy Burton, all of Atlanta; Wayne Fowler of Manchester, Ga.; Larry Madden of Hickory Tavern; Bill Simmons of Charleston; and Dan Powers of Andrews.

FULLBACKS—Bill Hill of McKeesport, Pa.; Bruce Barnes of Concord, N. C.; Harold Beaford of Fayetteville, N. C.; Edison Fairey of Orangeburg; and Norman Snellgrove of Tampa, Fla.

Officers Named

Pershing Rifles Presents Bid To Presbyterian to Join Ranks

Presbyterian College is very fortunate to have received a hearty invitation into the fourth regiment of the Pershing Rifles and be given the green light for the establishment of a company. Permission has been received from the college officials, and also we have qualified according to the specifications as set forth by the National Headquarters of the Pershing Rifles. The fourth regiment, of which we will be a part, finished first last year over all other Pershing Rifles regiments throughout the United States and we join such schools as the University of Georgia, Georgia School of Technology and Furman University to further strengthen the already superior regiment. The National Society of Pershing Rifles dates back to 1894 and since that time, has excelled in honorary circles in many ROTC units and military institutions. Presbyterian College should be proud of this step forward not only for the ROTC unit but for the entire college.

The following cadets have been tentatively approved and deemed qualified pending final qualifications, to become Pershing Riflemen and also to be a charter member of the company here at Presbyterian College:

Joe Hardin, Commander; Cadet Captain.

Cliff Stovall, Executive Officer, Cadet First Lt.

Jim Bennett, S-1, Cadet Second Lt.

Carl Gibson, S-3, Cadet Second Lt.

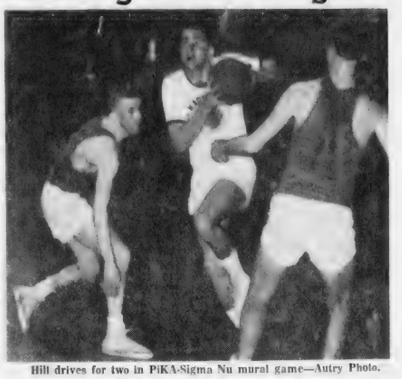
Ben Donaldson, S14, Cadet Second Lt.

Also approved:

Harry McDonald, Pat Malone, Doug McDougald, and Tom Middleton.

Ted Abernathy, Robert Beddingfield, Gary Brown, Jim Caddell, Dick Carr, Jerry Chitty, Joe Clark, Everett Connelly, Steven Craig, Joe Davis, Frank Forbes, John Harrill, Byron Hollingsworth, Jerry Howington, Donald Lohman, Dick McGaughey, and Joe Nixon.

Also, George Ragen, Hal Roberts, Clifton Saverance, Phil Smith, Bob Stevens, and John Williams.



Intramural Basketball Season Moves Into Stiring Final Stages

PiKA Undefeated After Eight Games

The intramural basketball season will head into a tremendous climax within the next two weeks. Five teams are currently fighting it out for the league lead; six of the thirteen teams are playing .500 per cent or better ball. Leading the league is undefeated Pi Kappa Alpha, 8-0, followed by Sigma Nu, Raiders, and Falcons, who are in a three-way tie for second place with 6-1 records. Kappa Alpha follows with a 5-1 record while the Chinese Bandits boast four wins and two losses. The Beatniks, who are playing an even .500 per cent ball with three wins and three losses, round out the first division teams. In the second division are: Sad Sacks, 3-5; Confederates, 2-4; Pi Kappa Phi, 1-5; Beacon Badits and Alpha Sigma Phi, 1-7 ;and the Independents, 0-7.

Unoffiial statistics that are available show that a number of players boast averages in the double figures. The top five players are Bobby Joiner, Kappa Alpha, whose 14.1 average leads the league; Bill Hill, pace-setter for Pi Kappa Alpha at 12.8; and Jimmy Kolb, 12.5; Bobby Collins, 12.4, and John Gibson, 11.8, all of the Raiders. The highest team point production has been by Kappa Alpha who defeated the Sad Sacks 75-31 early in the season. Joiner and Turner have dropped in 22 points each in one game to top that department.

Intramural basketball, other than scheduling, has been capably handled by J. C. Watts, on the most part, and much credit must go to him for a successful season.

Hill drives for two in PiKA-Sigma Nu mural game—Autry Photo.

PC Rifle Team Fires Ninth In Field Of 75

Presbyterian College riflemen fired ninth in a field of 75 teams competing in the Army William Randolph Hearst ROTC Matches within the Third Army Area.

Firing on the Presbyterian College ROTC rifle team were: Frank Forbes of Decatur, Ga.; John Powers of Bennettsville; Matthew Smith of Fayetteville, N. C.; Rollin Butler of Coral Gables, Fla.; Bob Bethea of Louisville, Ga.; Bob St. Clair of Fort Mill; and Kent Mitchell of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Sgt. Alfred M. McCarson of the ROTC department staff serves as coach of the PC rifle team, and Capt. Joseph Scott, assistant PMS&T, is advisor to the group.

Terriers Humble Blue Hose

Riding on the laurels of Bill Barbee and Trap Hart, who hit 32 and 30 points respectively, Wofford showed championship form and looks like top contender for the Little Four title. Jimmy Cluff, a playmaker and defensive specialist for the Terriers, gave the additional spark to an already sparked Wofford five.

Through the first half Wofford hit slightly over 50% of their shots from the floor. Wofford had a halftime lead of 11 points, during which Bob Stratton scored 18 of his 23-point total. At the closing minutes of the game, the second teams played and PC's second team outshone that of Wofford.

The game was played in the new Spartanburg High School gymnasium which seats approximately 2,500 people. The final score of the game was 110-71 in favor of the Terriers.

Last Saturday night Newebrry subdued a fourth period PC drive to win over the Hose 82-71. Joe Harvard, entering the game in the waning minutes of the second half, gave Newberry a rough time with his pinpoint accuracy from the outside corners. Harvard ended up with 13 points for the night. Bob Stratton with his usual fine game of outside and driving shots took honors as PC's high scorer with 25 points.

PC basketballers close their regular season here Friday night, with hopes of upsetting a strong Belmont Abbey quintet.

The Blue Hose then will devote the next week in pratice preparation for the annual Little Four tournament scheduled for Greenville on February 26-27.

Forward Bob Stratton continues to dominate the PC attack with a scoring average of 23 points.

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team. U.S. Air Force

MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY
AVIATION CADET INFORMATION
DEPT. SCO2
BOX 7608, WASHINGTON 4, D. C.

I am between 19 and 26½, a citizen of the U. S. and a high school graduate with ____ years of college. Please send me detailed information on the Air Force Aviation Cadet program.

NAME _____
STREET _____
CITY _____
COUNTY _____ STATE _____

KILLER BIRDS—This carrier-launcher, mounted with three U. S. Army HAWKS, helps to give the Army's hunter-killer air defense missile its great mobility. The deadly accurate, highly-maneuverable HAWK can be moved swiftly from storage area to launching site. An inert version of the Army's low-altitude interceptor missile is featured in an official U. S. Army progress exhibit to be shown here on February 25.

Feb. 25

Display Will Spotlight Army Progress

A U. S. Army exhibit, depicting the Army's progres in meeting the challenge of the nuclear age and featuring an actual HAWK missile, will be unveiled at Presbyterian College February 25, it was announced today.

Coming to Clinton from Washington, D. C., the Army's "Cavalcade of Progress" exhibit shows some of the end products of the military's research and development program with emphasis on operational combat equipment. Purpose of the official exhibit is to point up some of the truly significant military developments often overshadowed by the dramatic impact of guided missiles and satellite launchings.

Spotlighted in the exhibit is the U. S. Army HAWK—a fantastic surface-to-air guided missile that can swoop down and destroy enemy aircraft at tree-top level. The Army's sleek 16-foot, low-altitude killer is ringing American cities as a fixed installation weapon complementing the existing high-altitude aerial defense now provided by the Army's famed NIKE system.

The exhibit dramatically illustrates America's rapid technological advances with an array of military developments including a belt radio, flame thrower, the Army's new rifle and the world's smallest light bulb —one-tenth of an inch in length.

Utilizing original presentation techniques developed by the Army, the exhibit denotes America's progres in mobility, firepower, communications, and human resources.

University students and visitor get a chance to see and he such Army experiments a space adventures of monkeys and Baker, as well as other making events.

A pictorial display reviews NASA space endeavors, and size replica of space monkey prepared for his 10,000 mile hour trip in the May, 1959, missile shot is a feature attr A color motion picture wi some of the Army's more ad weapons, including scenes of missile firings.

U. S. Army information sp ists will be on hand to answer tions posed by the public sion is free of charge.

PROCTOR SYSTEM

(Continued from page one)

"Have stricter enforcement of quiet hours."

"Proctors don't use enough authority."

"Proctors should be obtained that hold more student respect."

"Proctors are never available when needed."

The students, through their comments, showed that they are willing to be subjected to increase discipline from the proctors. The Blue Key urges the students to give the proctors their full support in order to make this system a success. We must remember that the Proctor System is in infant stages and should not be expected to be perfect, but through all of our combined efforts we can strive for perfection.

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Visit Our Store On the Square

There's Better Service at Joe's Esso Service
Try Our Soda Fountain
Cars Greased in the Moto-Sway Way

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

BROADWAY Theatre
Monday and Tuesda
Feb. 22-23
The Miracle
Carroll Baker, Roger Mo
Walter Slezak, Katina Pa

Wednesday and Thurs
Feb. 24-25
The Gene Kru
Story
Sal Mineo, Susan Kohn

Friday and Saturd
Feb. 26-27
Third Man O
the Mountai
Michael Rennie, James Ma
Janet Munro

Dean's List Honors Thirty-Six

(Continued from page one)

received all A's, thus earning a 3.00 and a 4.00 average, respectively. Those seniors earning a 2.8 average or better were: Mitchell Lewis Flynn, Ann Schirmer Gettys, William Milliken Hagood III, Edward Saunders Pinckard, and Elizabeth Richardson Wilburn. The following earned a 2.6 or better: James Linear Bennett, Allard Tribble Douglass, Jesse Eugene Johnston, and Thomas Roy Wise. Mary Virginia Neil and Francis L. Richbourg made a 2.4 average.

Under the new quality point system in order for a student to qualify for the Dean's List, he must have at least a 3.20 average. Those underclassmen having this average were Edwin Caldwell Hentz, Jerry Wayne Howington, James Harper Leighton, Mary Jean McDaniel, Hexie Key McDonnold, Douglas C. McDougald, John William McIntosh, Richard John Shawn, William Wirt Skinner.

Anumber of students had a 3.50 average and will receive unlimited cuts—David Thomas Boriand, Anne Macdonald Lee, William Singleton Ogden, Mary Jo Sistrunk, Emmett Britton Spann, and Mildred Christine Wilson. Eight underclassmen had a 3.75 or better, and will likewise receive unlimited cuts: Jane Jenkins Hammet, Edward Donnell Johnson, Wayne Donald Kay, William Marion Littlefield, Harry Gruver McDonnald, Robert Pressley Piephoff, Sanders Glover Read, Maurice Edward Schwartz.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

They said it couldn't be done... until the Wright Brothers flew this plane for 59 seconds in 1909. Today flying is so much a part of modern life that 40 American colleges offer regular flying courses, many of them for degree credit.

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tars and more taste—in one great cigarette.

Light into that Live Modern flavor!

©1958 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress
February 26, 1960 Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., February 26, 1960 No. 15

DR. PHILLIP S. BAKER, head chemist of the Stable Isotopes Division of the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) National Laboratory, discusses his display equipment with Paul Robinson (L) and Miss Walker. This following his appearance Tuesday night before Tau Pi Pi science honorary and guests. The program dealt with Dr. Baker's work at Oak Ridge and included several demonstrations.—Autry Photo.

Group Lifts Membership Total; Fraternity Limit Increased to 65

• IFC Vote Only A 'Token'

Mr. Kenneth Baker, Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Fraternities, announced Tuesday at the IFC's weekly meeting that the comittee at their last meeting had made this new ruling concerning fraternity mmbership: "No fraternity shall have as brothers or pledges, whether inactive or not, a membership which exceeds sixty-five [illegible] of the fall enrollmen (men only) or fifty (50), whichever i greater.

Provided further, that a fraternity whose membership is greater than ten per cent (10%) or fifty (50), shall be allowed to pledge twelve (12) in order not to skip a year with no pledges and be ineligible to compete for senior honors, etc."

This automatically cancels the ruling in effect last semester which limited membership to 10% of the fall enrollment, or fifty students.

The IFC representatives will voice their approval or disapproval of this new ruling by taking a token vote. but the result will not affect the ruling which has already been put into effect by the Faculty Committee on Fraternities.

The limiting rule was passed in an attempt to equalize the power of the fraternities in campus elections and to help the smaller Greek organizations.

Protest concerning the faculty committe eaction has been evidenced, according to a member of the IFC.

Miller Band Coming For Military Ball

A full dress parade at 4:30 Friday afternoon will initate the festive Military Ball Weekend. The parade will include the entire battle group units. It is in honor of the dates of the cadets.

The Military Ball is slated to begin at 9:00 Friday evening and last until 1:00 a. m. The dance, sponsored by the Scabbard and Blade, will feature the music of the Glenn Miller Orchestra.

Dress for the Military students will be Class A uniforms with white shirts. For the non-military students dark business suits are the announced dress. The dates are asked to wear evening dresses.

Tickets at $7.00 are now being sold by Scabbard and Blade members for the two-part event. The second night a small band will be featured, with informal dress in order.

Tuition Hike Announced; Effective Next Term

• Increase Totals $80

An increase in fees, totaling $40 per semester, is announced by Presbyterian College for the start of the 1960-61 session next September.

Under the revised schedule which adds $30 for tuition and $10 for board, the total semester cost will stand at $597.50 for tuition, room board, and college fees.

The new rate for a day student will be $330 a semester.

President Marshall W. Brown, in an announcement letter sent to parents last Friday, said:

"Because of the soaring costs in all phases of our operations, the Presbyterian College Board of Trustees has approved a change in college fees for next year. The new rates will become effective with the fall semester beginning September 12, 1960."

Presbyterian, thus, is forced to join other colleges throughout the country in stepping up fees to help offset mounting expense of operation. A check of announced hikes by other institutions indicates that PC has held its increase down below that of msot others.

Dr. Brown, in his letter, explained the move in these words:

"We sincerely regret the necessity for increasing fees, but believe that we have kept this necessary increase to a minmum. Mounting costs have hit Presbyterian College and al lother institutions of higher education—in the same measure as they have hit individuals and business concerns everywhere—and it is essential to meet this problem, if we are to maintain a high quality of training for our young people."

President Brown told The Blue Stocking that he has been gratified by his letter's response, in which all parents writing have indicated a sympathetic understanding of the problem.

Don Dunlap Named Alpha Sig President

Don Dunlap, a rising senior from Charlotte, was elected this week as president of Alpha Sigma Phi social fraternity. Chosen to serve with him as vice-president is Robert Jeanes of Easley.

Others elected included: Pen Neil of Marion, recording secretary; Graham Edmunds of Decatur, Ga., corresponding secretary; Jim Lowery of Great Falls, treasurer; and Rohe Eshbaugh of Louisville, Ky., as IFC representative.

Jimmy Thompson of Manning, was chosen as house chairman; Dave Waters of Charleston, as marshal; and Evin Varner of Bennettsville, as editor.

Members-at-large of the Prudential committee are Varner and Mike Brown of Atlanta.

RIGHT CAMPUS . . . Wrong pew—temporarily at least. The old First Presbyterian Church organ resides in disorder in the PC gym as it awaits the completion of the new Belk Auditorium. The instrument, a gift of the local church, will be repaired and renovated when it is installed in the new structure.—Autry Photo.

Editor Appoints Blue Sock Staff

Graham Edmunds of Decatur, Ga., has been appointed as Managing Editor of The Blue Stocking, Editor Martin Chitty announced this week.

Edmunds previously served the staff as feature editor.

John Craig of Charlotte was named to the associate editor position, moving to this position from the news staff.

Selected to be Sports Editor was Bob Stevens of Orangeburg. Stevens gained first-hand experience as a member of the sports staff last semester.

Replacing Edmunds as feature editor will be "Flash" Gordon of Waynesboro, Va.

The important job of News Editor has been handed to Murray White of Fort Mill. He will be assisted by John Elrod, news director.

Allen Freeman of Atlanta, will continue as copy editor.

Students watch as the U. S. Army Cavalcade of Progress display set up shop late Wednesday afternoon. Nearly 1500 people, including area high school students, viewed the exhibit during its one-day stand at PC.—Autry Photo.

Housing Movement

Repercussions Felt After Fraternity Suite Blaze

The Presbyterian College campus reverberated this week with repercussions from the recent blaze in the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity suite. The February 18 "Beatnik Ball" suddenly ended in minor tragedy when a concrete pot filled with sand and burning alcohol exploded. Six persons received burns. According to doctors' reports the burns were of a minor nature. Quick thinking at the time of the fire by several present prevented more damage to life and property.

One of the walls was ignited and the Clinton Fire Department and the fraternity members quickly ripped out the covering and extinguished it. This action brought to view a mass of naked live wires. The fire chief stated that the wiring was some of the worst he had seen and was amazed that it was not the cause of the fire.

Campus Maintenance supervisor Baety tore out the wiring the next day and condemned the suite due to the ceiling which he described as being in a stage of near collapse.

Pi Kappa Alpha president Billy Hagood said today that the Administration has been "most understanding" in the matter. "The fire has pointed up the need for examinations of our fraternity housing problem and the Administration is making steps in that direction."

Hagood went on to say that his fraternity does not plan to reoccupy the suite, but to hold their meetings elsewhere on campus temporarily.

The IFC this week set up a committee on housing, which is headed by Hagood. "A meeting of representatives of all fraternities will probably be held the first of next week on this matter," he stated.

A reflection of campus opinion shows renewed hope for better fraternity housing. Most fraternities on campus have expressed a desire in working with the school's administration in arriving at a workable plan.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

The Lack of Democracy

Fraternities are a student organization.

True, it is necessary that they come under the jurisdiction of the faculty; however, it seems that when an important matter concerning the function of the fraternities is brought up for decision, the two groups of their representatives should make the decision or at least have some voice in the matter.

This week the Interfraternity Committee on Fraternities decided to raise the ban on membership from fifty to sixty-five. The Inter-Fraternity Council was not consulted in this, nor learned of the matter until in time to inform their representative organizations.

It should be obvious to the committee and to those who support the ban before them, that participants in any decision must be in judgment than a mere observer.

The title "advisory" could certainly denote an advising and counseling capacity. Looking at the situation from the student's view, and in the light of the decision, it seems that the purpose of the committee was forgotten.

The fifty member limitation was put into effect last year with the purpose of strengthening smaller fraternities. This purpose was being realized, but as yet it has not had time to attain complete success. Fifteen additional members to these smaller organizations would do much to equalize the heretofore unbalanced situation, but this increase in the larger fraternities will only serve to strengthen an already out of proportion political clique.

We feel that before it is too late, that the faculty committee should rescind its decision and place the matter in the hands of the IFC for consideration.

Misfortune Gives Hope

Quite often a misfortune brings about an improvement.

It is now time for the fraternities themselves to realize their responsibility in taking the necessary safety precautions and to formulate necessary fire escape facilities.

The Clinton Fire Department was emphatic in pointing out the fact that faulty wiring was not the cause of the recent fire scare; however, it would be foolish to assume that fraternity housing is ideal. We feel confident that this situation has been given more thought by those in a position to do so. Perhaps now there is hope.

With Plans - A Salute

A students' publication containing the necessary facts of interest is the plan of the new Blue Stocking staff. We realize the responsibility which has been placed upon us. It is our goal to fulfill this obligation and to retain the long respected tradition of this publication.

To retiring Editor Varner and his staff we heartily extend a well deserved pat on the back. Theirs was a job well done as their All-American paper certifies. They have set the pace; our aim is not to falter.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR — MARTIN CHITTY
MANAGING EDITOR — GRAHAM EDMUNDS
Associate Editor — John Craig
Sports Editor — Bob Stevens
Feature Editor — Howard Gordon
Copy Editor — Allen Freeman
News Editor — Murray White
News Director — John Elrod
Intramural Sports Editor — Jerry Chitty
News Staff — Don Kay, Dick Curnow, Don Lohman, Fred Mead, Robert Kendall, Dave Stricklin, Mike Saunders, Bill Bartee, Gerald Pitts, and Christine Wilson.
Business Manager — Bob Smith
Assistant Business Manager — Marshall Jones
Circulation Managers — Ted Hentz, Charles Copley

Shades of Freud

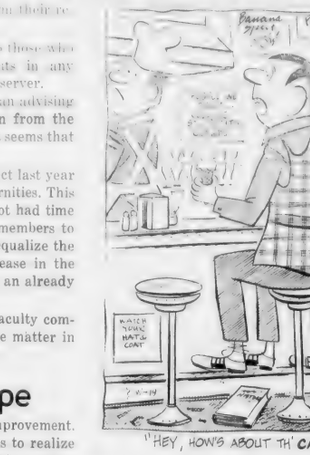
Prophetic Visions of Pagan's Progress

Mother of Miseries." I said to myself as I lay in bed with the bad Asiatic blues. "Fever in the morning, fever all through the night."

My mama mixed me a "Terpin Hydrate on the Rocks," which I drank while crunching some of Miss Bob's delicious capsuled aspirins. Soon I was asleep and in the midst of a feverish nightmare, or maybe it was a prophetic vision.

In this dream I lay in a hospital bed suffering. I had been plagued by attendants so much that whenever someone knocked on my door, I shouted in delirium, "Friend or Enema?"

Meanwhile, back in the dream, I was having my sheets changed by a beautiful nurse who had recently shafted me. As she pulled the sheets out from under me and stood them up against the wall, she fl... out of the bed onto the fl... dentally.



The impact caused ... relapses, ruptures, and ... bunch of other medical ter... wiped my blood off for ... as I lay dying, she ... cously. I smiled bravely ... coly said, "You have ... life. Go. I forgive ... groomed, laughted ... pired.

After death I rode down ... narrow highway in a ... bus. Along the road ... "Jesus saved." The sign ... was Death," and "Eternity ... Then there was a road marke... ing, "Fort Benning on the ... Hell one and one-half miles ... Hell was across the River Styx ... Benning, but actually they ... incorporated. Anyhow, we ... Hell.

As he drew nearer we s... boards along the highway r... "Go to Hades, located in th... hills of the beautiful Appa... Mountains," and "For the f... liberal sins training, attend ... We followed a "One-Way" s... entered.

On the left was the Adm... tion Building, where bald ... men stood on the steps and ... ridiculously. Further along ... vided highway that led thro... institution was the Science H... Spencer Inferno. At the en... long strip (Margo's) of gra... Nausea Hall, with several ... buildings located around it.

After this unfortunate dre... awoke to find myself in ... Smyth B section. Learn from ... rible experience dear sinn... REPENT!!

"HEY, HOW'S ABOUT TH' CATSUP?"

An Invitation

Chimney Height In Writing

With a new administration there is always a turnover in personnel. So it is with the Blue Stocking. This column hopes to appeal to the leisure reader. We can't promise what will be in it but we will try to please the reader. Many times in the course of the day on any college campus there will be events that would be great material for satire, personal essay, and short fiction. All these things go unnoticed or, to be more precise, go unused. This column wants to use these things, for each of them may very well be "once-in-a-life - time" happenings. Therefore, to use good editorial langauge, we will hold this column open for anyone who feels he has something to say in a literary way.

The title of this column was taken from a letter that Hawthorne wrote in which he said the writer must not be in the clouds nor in the streets, but at chimney height where he can use the freedom of fiction to express life.

Now here is a threat. If there are no takers for this space it will be filled with the things that are written at this desk and the desks of my staff. Here is the chance for those who have condemned the feature writers of the past to see if they are as good as their criticism. We hope that we may find some literary talent and help to give experience to this talent.

LIFE IN SMYTH

A Handful of Haiku

i

The dorm is as warm
as the womb, as removed as the tomb from the storm.

ii

Each suite
(10 square feet) though unmeet is complete with aesthete and athlete, quasi-beat.

(Continued on page four)

Daft Definitions

A COORDINATOR is a ... brings organized chaos out ... mented confusion.

A CONFERENCE is a ... men who, individually, can ... ing, but as a group can ... decide that nothing can be ...

A STATISTICIAN is a ... draws a mathematically ... line from an unwarranted ... tion to a foregone conclusion.

The GREEKS

... Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Following election of officers this week, the Brothers of Alpha ... Phi recognized past president and alumnus Roger Sumner. The Br... discussed the social plan for the second semester.

THETA CHI

With the Military Ball Weekend coming up March 4-5, Beta Pi's ... plans for several parties during the weekend of the dance. The pl... are working toward the completion of the pledge project.

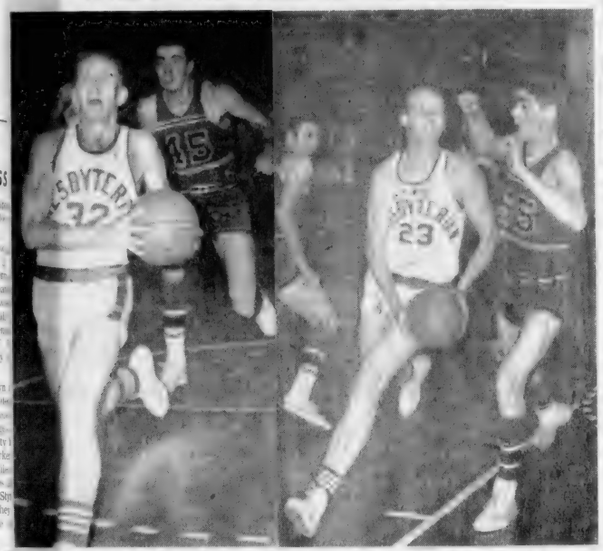
SIGMA NU

Reports of the pledge trips were given. The boys that went to ... Carolina sure did have a pleasant trip.

The intramural team seems to be picking up much to Coach ... liking. We're looking for great things from these boys.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

At the regular meeting Tuesday night final preparations were ... for the Military Ball Dance Weekend.



Congratulations were extended to our new pledge, Lovell Smith. ... congratulations were voiced to our basketball team for their fine ... up to now.

KAPPA ALPHA

At Beta Pi's weekly meeting some dicussion was given to the ... pledge party which will be held some time in the near future. Also ... interest was stimulated in proposals contributed by Brother Jack ... dall.

Many thanks are expressed for the support of Coach Wood and ... Ghosts during their intramural season. Much thought and consid... were placed on parties for the Military Ball Weekend.

Where The Heck Is The Basket?

That elusive net seems to have disappeared by the expressions on the faces of these Blue Hose roundballers. At left, Billy Ray Ladd open-mouthingly starts for the basket, while a little later, Jack Williams bites his lip and shoots for a score in spite of a Belmont Abbey guard.—Autry Photo.

Little Four Play Slated Tonight; Greenville Courts Site of Action

• Hose Will Meet Flying Fleet

by Sonny BuBose

It's all over! All over but the tournament shouting, that is, in South Carolina's Little Four Basketball Tournament, being staged in Greenville this year for the first time. It begins tonight and runs through tomorrow night in Greenville's new Memorial Auditorium.

Wofford clinched the pennant without a loss in the conference and goes into the tourney with a 19-5 over-all season record. The Terriers, with their best chance to reach the NAIA national finals at Kansas City in 11 years and playing the role of defending tourney champions, will definitely go into the tournament as the favorite. Newberry and Erskine tied for second with 3-3 records in loop play while our own Blue Hose draw up the rear with no wins and six losses in league play.

In tonight's opening round the Flying Fleet of Erskine and the Indians of Newberry clash in the first game at 7:30 with Woford meeting Presbyterian at 9:30 in the second game.

All four teams advance to the finals tomorrow night with tonight's winners clashing for the tourney title at 9:30 and tonight's losers playing at 7:30 to determine the third and fourth place finishers. The tourney winner goes on to District 32 NAIA play against a North Carolina small college team. The goal will be a berth in the NAIA National Tournament at Kansas City.

Wofford's Terriers, guided by veteran coach Gene Alexandre, a man noted for turning out top-notch basketball aggregations, have alread placed Bill Barbee and Trap Hart, both senior forwards, on the All-Little Four 1959-60 team selected by a vote of its coaches.

Barbee leads the Terriers with 468 points for a 21.2 average. He has also picked off 12.7 rebounds per game. Hart has tallied 367 points for a 16.6 average. Hart, Terrier captain from Greenwood, has 14.5 rebounds per game.

Newberry's Indians, coached by Tom Quinn, have an over-all 12-11 record and could prove the biggest threat to Wofford's defending champions.

The Indians' big scoring guns, Carl Short and Tom Gallagher, were named to the All-Little Four first team.

Erskine's Flying Fleet, under the leadership of Coach Red Myers, has come along fast in recent weeks to show a 14-3 mark.

John Keenan and Frank Blanton, Fleet co-captains, were named to the All-Little Four second team.

Forward Bob Stratton, averaging 24.1 points per game, sparks the Presbyterian Blue Hose, who go into the tourney with a 3-14 over-all record. Bob was named to the All-Little Four first unit.

Netmen Prepare For Rugged '60 Lineup

"The team is working much harder than last year and the over-all spirit is high."

These were the recent words of tennis coach Jim Leighton. "Our doubles are shaping up much better and, as a group, the boys have made more improvements over this period of two weeks than at any other time."

Those vieing for net positions are Hoffman, Wilson, Greenslade, Elliott, Stone, Caviness, Frampton, Hope, Hagood, Turner, Waters, and McGirt.

Throughout the 1960 season the netmen will face many of the country's top-rated teams.

Clyde's Boys

Horsehide, Hickory Limb Men Swing Into Spring Workouts

by Leland Vaughn

As the baseball season ... to a close this weekend it will once more be time for the PC Blue Socks to take to the field.

The Blue Socks in facing a tough 19-game schedule will be out to improve their 5-11 record of 1959.

One of the main problems of this year's team will be trying to fill the positions left by the hard-hitting keystone combination of Paul Chastain and Tony Benson. Graduation also cost the services of first baseman Ted Leahy and center fielder Ray Hodge.

The nucleus of this year's team will be formed around the returning lettermen, but several new faces in the lineup will be counted upon heavily when the "horse hide and hickory limb" swing into action on Young Field.

The pre-season lineup finds the infield basically sound with at least two capable players at each position, battling it out for a starting berth in the lineup. At third base, we find hard-hitting Bill Sease, who will be backed up by talented Jimmy Rakestraw.

Harold Raeford and Harvey Blanchard will be counted on to share the duties at shortstop. Raeford ended the 1959 season with a .390 batting average and was the second leading batter in the Little Four.

Wayne Godfrey will be expected to take over the duties at second base. At first base we find Charlie Howard and southpaw Jerry Chitty vieing for the initial sack.

Ed Jackson will return to his job of "fly chasing" in the outfield. Freshman outfielder, Edison Fairey is expected to see plenty of action in the Blue Sock lineup. Other members of the squad who can be counted on for outfield duty when needed are Harvey Blanchard, Harold Raeford, Paul Love, and Bill Sease.

The pitching corps this year is expected to be much stronger than last year's hard luck pitchers. Re-

(Continued on page four)

Run... Of the Hose

Bob Stevens, Sports Editor

In the coming year this sports staff will attempt to bring to your, our readers, a thorough and full coverage of all sports events concerning this campus. Our purpose is that we may bring to you the sports you want to read.

Memorial Auditorium in Greenville will be the site of the Little Four Basketball tournament this year. In this splendid gymnasium we pick the Wofford Terriers to repeat their championship performance of last year. The Newberry Indians will square off against the Flying Fleet of Erskine at 7:30 Friday, the 26th. We will have to go with the Indians in this one since they have previously defeated the Fleet twice in regular season play.

The hustlin' Blue Hose, with a record seven wins, two losses, ... tangle with the number one seeded Wofford Terriers. We ... hoping for the PC'ians, let's face it, the Terriers have got it.

Saturday night we will go with Wofford over N... and pull for the Blue Hose in an upset over Erskine.

Let's support our team at Greenville on Saturday. The games ... at 7:30 both nights.

Comments have been made previously that the ... swimming pool. It seems a shame that the ... much of the school year.

If granted use of the pool a swimming team could be formed. Show your interest in this idea by contacting Mr. Irvin Montgomery.

The intramural basketball league is drawing to a sizzling close. The Pi Kappa Alpha's are still on top, but they've won a couple of close ones.

The KA's, Sigma Nu, and the Raiders should be the cause for a very exciting tournament. With only one or two more games for each team, the tournament is just around the corner.

Bob Stratton and Mickey Long will take the floor for the Blue Hose their last time this weekend. Both have been very valuable to our roundball team. Stratton's excellent shooting eye has made him consistently one of the stop scorers of the state. Mickey's versatility at all positions has made him a real asset to the team. Both players will be sorely missed next season.

Top Teams Listed

Intramural Squads Battle For Top League Standings

The 1960 Intramural Cagers are battling it out right down to the wire.

With 25 games remaining, tourney time will be made up of the top four teams. The first round action will see the first and fourth placed teams clash in the first double-header. The second games of the first round will consist of the second and third placed teams.

These top four places are being held as of now by Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Nu, the Falcons, and KA.

Pi Kappa Alpha remained undefeated as they outclassed the Kappa Alpha five, 39-27.

The Sigma Nu's had their work cut out for them as they downed Bob Collins and his Raiders, 33-25. The Raiders and the Chinese Bandits remain a whole game out of fourth place, held by the Falcons. Each team has approximately two games left and anything may happen.

The standings for the 1960 Intramural squad are as follows:

Team	W	L
PiKA	9	0
Sigma Nu	7	2
Kappa Alpha	7	2
Falcons	6	3
Raiders	5	3
Chinese Bandits	5	3
Sad Sacks	4	4
Beatniks	3	5
Pi Kappa Phi	3	6
Confederates	2	6
Alpha Sigma Phi	2	7
Beacon Bandits	1	10
Independents	0	8

Linksters Expect Improved Season

Behind the coaching of Dr. John Stevenson and the scoring of Max Clyburn, captain of the 1958-59 golf team, the 1960 linksters expect to improve last year's record.

Returning from last spring's squad are Logan Porter, Max Clyburn, Frank Sells, and Harry and Hexie Mellonoid. A number of new prospects including Owen Ravenel, Ken Acker, Allen Pitts, C. J. Ray, and Cliff Saverance are warming up their putters in hopes of a hot season this year.

The 1960 season is not yet complete, but some of the opposition for the tea mwill be provided by Wofford, The Citadel, Furman, and the University of South Carolina.

WPCC
Your Music and News Station
Clinton, S. C.

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

J. C. THOMAS JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Visit Our Store On the Square

What happens after you shove the tray through. The first step in the dirty dish's trip through the dishwasher.—Autry Photo.

"What—again?", Belton Jackson seems to be saying as Don Hendrix and Don Dunlap calmly dish out more.

Dual Role at Judd

Students And 'Domestics'

The words of the beatnick poem seem to fit the job that about twenty students do every day. "Watching humanity walk by in all their curious shoes." These students are those employed in the ancient and honorable food service, "hired help." Few students realize what goes into the easy job of working either on the line or in back on the dish-washing machine.

At 6:30 the faithful servant of the student (few students, for very few show up for breakfast) climbs out of peaceful repose and dons the costume of the domestic. They do not gripe nor do they want to hear gripes at 7:30 in the morning. Bob Smith, the bearded sage of the lunch time, put this wish into very good words. This is a quote. "I would enjoy working behind the lunch line if it were not for the complaints. (Bob is being polite in calling what he hears complaints). We don't cook the food, we only serve it."

There is the leader among the hard-working class. This is the checker who sits at the head of the line and looks disinterested. We will quote one of these "workers," Neil Barnett. "The regularity of meals is very boring, a bigger room worker." There is a question raised here. Is the checker a lunch room worker? Of course we are joking because if it were not for the checker there would be no one to serve the food, no one to make sure the line opens on time and no one to count the money.

If it were not for the garbage men the world would be full of garbage. This ancient axiom is true about the students who work in the back. Please have a little consideration for these men. For boys do not remain boys very long under the conditions that are present in the back. It is not an enjoyable evening to have trays thrown at you from 5:30 to 7:30, says Roy Autry ,one of the men that work in the hard-working team. "The lunch room staff works as a team behind the line."

Top Ten Intramural Players Are Listed

Hill, PiKA	13.4
Joyner, KA	13.0
Keith, Raiders	12.1
Gibson, Raiders	11.8
Sain, Beatniks	11.6
Acker, Independents	10.7
Nettles, KA	10.6
Bennett, PiKA	10.4
Collins, Raiders	10.3
Parker, Owl Snacks	10.1

Horsehide, Limb

(Continued from page three)

turning to the mound are Bill Dobbins, Jimmy Howell, Jerry Chitty, Ken Gardner, and Harvey Blanchard. Newcomers Paul Love and Eddie Hall are being touted upon arrival as top flight prospects and needed help during the tough schedule.

The catching duties will be handled this year by Sonny DuBose, with Leland Whitaker and Bobby Hafner.

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

YOUNG'S PHARMACY
N. Broad Street
Phone 19 - We Deliver

There's Better Service at
Joe's Esso Service
Try Our Soda Fountain
Cars Greased in the Moto-Sway Way

Living Endowment Totals 1959 Giving

Annual giving produced $38,104 as a Living Endowment for Presbyterian College during 1959, President Marshall W. Brown announced today.

He said that 763 alumni and friends had joined in contributng this amount, which is the equivalent of an annual interest on an annual investment of more than $760,000.

A total of 663 alumni donated $26,370 to PC last year in a giving effort which more than doubled their highest figures of any previous year. One hundred non-alumni parents and friends added $11,734.

The donors represented just over 20 per cent of Presbyterian's total alumni group, and this mark also formed a new record.

Blue Stocks Firing In Carolina Match

The Blue Stocks fired today in the Western Carolina Little Four Conference against Wofford, Furman, and Davidson. PC won the match last year, but Davidson was expected to win.

A trophy is to be awarded to the team with the highest win-loss average and one to the individual with the highest yearly standing average.

Last fall, the coach predicted the average of the team to be 247 by this time of the school year. The team average now stands at 275.6. The squad rates an 8th slot in a field of 75 colleges.

Chimney Height

(Continued from page two)

iii

The fi is as hi as the moon and the tune
(M J Q)
is as blue as the sky.

iv

The roof is no proof against rain in the main,
but good gin will let in little pain.

v

A roach may encroach now and then
(so may sin).
What the hell?
All is well until then.

"I was fighting mad . . ."

Too often the innocent suffer when temper's at the wheel! When another driver burns you up—cool off! Losing your head can cost you control of your car, make an innocent party a victim of your spite. Last year traffic accidents brought death to 37,000 people, painful injuries to hundreds of thousands more. Too many were innocent victims of good drivers who momentarily let emotion blindfold judgment. When all your mind's on driving, you'll be a safer driver.

Published in an effort to save lives, in cooperation with the National Safety Council and The Advertising Council.

Fifth Edition

Choir Presses New Albu

Gloria Deo, the choir's new recording, will soon be available in the canteen to the student body at a special reduced rate. This fifth edition of choir recordings is the latest in a series that began ten years ago. Dr. Patte says it is the finest.

Tapes were made by Chris Patte, in association with WPCC. Chris Patte taped the numbers in the choir room and at the Greenwood Presbyterian Church. The PC choir room was designed by Dr. Patte for good acoustics. RCA-Victor Custom Record Division pressed the record.

Copyrights have been secured, and the record will be sold at Presbyterian book stores and record shops throughout the southeast. The first side consists of serious sacred numbers. This is backed with a side of rousing Negro spirituals.

In April the Choir leaves for its annual spring tour which will include concerts in South Carolina, North Carolina, and Virginia, and with three in the Washington, D. C., area. While spending the three days in Washington, the group expects to visit many national government sights and historical monuments. Dr. Edouard Patte is in his thirteenth year as conductor of the PC group which is well known throughout the South, and in Arlington, Va., the choir will be under his direction for the five-hundredth time.

Two previously tentative dates are now officially scheduled. They

Dr. Edouard Patte examines one of the first copies of the PC Choir album. The record goes on sale this week in stores throughout the South. Auditions to include a morning presentation April 24 in the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Greenville, and a evening engagement on May 1 at the Broad Street Methodist Church in Clinton.

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 29-Mar. 1
The Gazebo
Glenn Ford - Debbie Reynolds

Wednesday and Thursday, March 2-3
The Last Voyage
Robert Stack - Dorothy Malone
George Sanders - Edmond O'Brien

Friday and Saturday, March 4-5
The Mouse That Roared
Lou Haven't Laughed Till You've Seen This!

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator, flying officer on the Aerospace team. he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and excitement opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required ; however, one or more years of college are also desirable. Upon completion of program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. The program includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree (three months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a commissioned officer in the Air Force. Or write and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

U.S. Air Force

MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY
AVIATION CADET INFORMATION
DEPT. SCO2
BOX 7608, WASHINGTON 4, D. C.

I am between 19 and 26½ years of the U. S. and a high school graduate with ____ years of college. Please send me detailed information on the Air Force Aviation Cadet program.

NAME_____
STREET_____
CITY_____
COUNTY_____ STATE_____

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress
February 26, 1960 Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., March 4, 1960 No. 16

Religious Emphasis Week Begins Tuesday; Annual Event Features Seminar Classes

Four Top Speakers To Highlight Observance

Miss Ina McDonald, member of the SCA Cabinet, announced this week the final plans for the 1959-60 REW at Presbyterian College. The speakers this year are Dr. Lawrence I. Stell, Charlotte; Rev. Glenn Dorris, Anderson; Chaplain O. Z. White, Due West; and Rev. William R. Stevenson, Tryon, N. C.

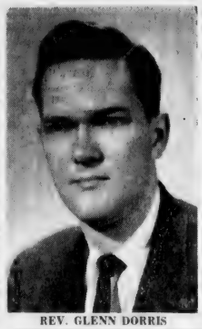
Religious Emphasis Week will be held March 8-10, and the theme of the program will be "Choose Ye This Day."

Dr. Lawrence I. Stell will open the days of religious thought with a talk in the chapel in Neville Hall on Tuesday night, March 8, at 7:30. Following this talk, there will be a reception in Douglas House open to the students. This is to offer an opportunity for everyone to meet the speakers.

On Wednesday night the Rev. Dorris of Anderson's Central Church will speak in the chapel at 7:30. On Thursday night, Chaplain O. Z. White of Erskine College, will be the speaker at the evening program.

Seminar Classes will be conducted on both Wednesday and Thursday. On Wednesday they will begin at 9:30 and run until 9:30, and from 11:30 until 12:30. Thursday's seminars will be from 8:30-9:30 and 10:30-11:30.

Following the Wednesday night talk by the Rev. Glenn Dorris there will be fraternity discussion groups led by the speakers. Mr. White will meet with Pi Kappa Phi and Theta Chi; Dr. Stell with Kappa Alpha and Sigma Nu; Rev. Dorris with Pi Kappa Alpha; and Rev. Stevenson with Alpha Sigma Phi. Non-fraternity men are welcome in the fraternity suites to listen to the speaker of their choice.



NOTICE!

All seniors interested in signing up for job placement interviews contact Charles Howard or Bob Bean.

Manassas, Va., School Board, March 8.
Deering-Milliken, March 10.
Belk-Hudson, March 16.

The faculty has been requested to keep class work at a minimum, so students who attend the seminars won't fall behind in their work. The

(Continued on page four)

REV. GLENN DORRIS

REV. WILLIAM R. STEVENSON

SCA Selects Candidates; Ard, Smith, Varner Chosen

• Election Set for Thursday

Evin Varner, Bob Smith, and Paul Ard were named this week by the Student Christian Association Cabinet as nominees for SCA president. Elections have been set for Thursday, March 10. The ballot box will be located in the Douglas House lounge from 8 until 2.

One of the three nominees will step into the shoes of Dick Wood, senior of Greer. Nominations and election of the remaining officers of the SCA will follow next week.

Evin Varner, of Bennettsville, has served as publicity chairman of the SCA Cabinet. Past editor of The Blue Stocking, he holds office in Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity.

Bob Smith of Atlanta, a pledge of Kappa Alpha Order, has been active in Westminster Fellowship, serving as program chairman this past year. Currently Business Manager of The Blue Stocking, he is a member of the Ministerial Club.

Paul Ard, also of Atlanta, is a member of the Blue Hose varsity basketball squad. A member of Pi Kappa Alpha, he has held class offices.

Soulima Stravinsky In Concert Here

Soulima Stravinsky, concert pianist, will visit Presbyterian College next Friday, March 16. Mr. Stravinsky ,who made his first debut at the age of twenty, was born in Lusanne, Switzerland, and studied piano and composition under such eminent teachers as Alexander Napravnik, Isidore Philipp and Nadia Bonlanger.

The European engagements of Mr. Stravinsy have covered most of the continent. In this country and Canada, he has appeared with major orchestras and has played numerous recitals. It's hardly necessary to mention that he is the foremost exponent of the piano music of his father, the noted composer Igor Stravinsky.

Mr. Stravinsky has always been interested in teaching and is a permanent member of the music faculty of the University of Illinois.

In addition to being a concert pianist of interneational standing, Mr. Stravinsky's professional activities have naturally led him to lecturing. Whether performing at the piano or giving illustrated lectures, his programs present to his audiences cultural enlightment as well as the immediate pleasure of the performance.

IFC Favors Raise Of Fraternity Limit

In the recent vote as to whether the fraternities at PC should have a maximum membership of 65 or not, the IFC voted 4-2 in favor of this plan.

The IFC will not sponsor a Spring Dance this year as has been done in the past. Most fraternities will have their respective dances as of the present on the second weekend of May. The reason the annual dance is not scheduled is because many non-fraternity men did not come to the dance. so the fraternities believe it will be cheaper and more reasonable to have their individual dances at this time.

This weekend the Douglas House is cheduled to be open during the intermission for refreshments. On Saturday night, of course, the fraternities will have their respective dances and it will be according to each fraternity as to whether the dance will be open or closed.

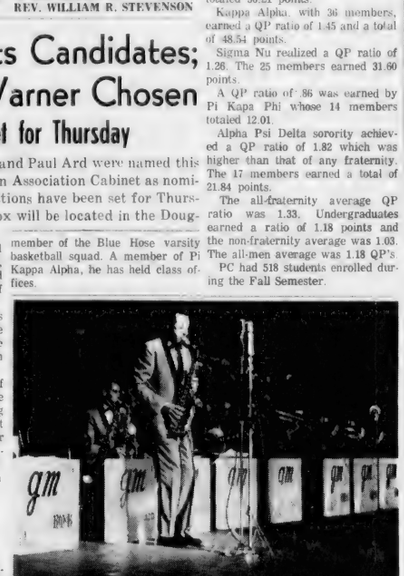
Theta Chi Average Leads Fraternities

Theta Chi fraternity achieved an average quality point ratio of 1.62 for the first semester of 1959-60, thereby leading the five other national fraternities which are represented on campus in scholastic standing. Having 13 members, brothers and pledges, Theta Chi's earned a total of 21.10 points.

Next in line was Pi Kappa Alpha with a QP ratio of 1.47. A total of 76.65 was earned by the 52 members.

Coming in third, Alpha Sigma Phi compiled a QP ratio of 1.39. With a membership of 26, the Alpha Sigs totaled 36.21 points.

Kappa Alpha, with 36 members, earned a QP ratio of 1.45 and a total of 48.54 points.



Sigma Nu realized a QP ratio of 1.26. The 25 members earned 31.60 points.

A QP ratio of .86 was earned by Pi Kapa Phi whose 14 members totaled 12.01.

Alpha Psi Delta sorority achieved a QP ratio of 1.82 which was higher than that of any fraternity. The 17 members earned a total of 21.84 points.

The all-fraternity average QP ratio was 1.33. Undergraduates earned a ratio of 1.18 points and the non-fraternity average was 1.03. The all-men average was 1.18 QP's.

PC had 518 students enrolled during the Fall Semester.

The Glenn Miller Orchestra, under the direction of Ray McKinley, will be appearing tonight at the Military Ball. Lenny Hambro is the featured saxaphone player. This is the first appearance of a big-name band at PC in many years.

Snow Fails to Stop Snow As Miller Band Plays On

Whether Glenn Miller's music and band plays in a crowded night club or within the bleak walls of a brick armory, it still retains the warmth, and its haunting melodies still linger, just as they did thirty years ago.

Miller was always obsessed with the idea of having his own band and in 1937 he took his first band on the road. By the following January it had disbanded, and by April, 1938, he was on the road with his second band. This one lasted. In the summer of 1939 he opened his own club, The Glenn Island Casino, but from his April recordings of "Moonlight Serenade" and "And the Angels Sing," it was acknowledged by all that Glenn Miller was the high priest of jazz!

The war came and Miller disbanded his civilian band to organize an Air Force Band. From this band came the new military march music with a swing. Perhaps the sobbing audience which packed the house for his last performance had a premonition of the 1944 Christmas headlines: "Major Glenn Miller, director of the Air Force Band, is missing on a flight from England to Paris; it was announced today . . . no trace of the plane has been found." The Glenn Miller U. S. Air Force Band went on the air as scheduled on Christmas afternoon, led by one of Miller's closest friends, Ray McKinley.

For the people who remembered Miller from the war and the new followers of the high priest, the Miller Band had to come to life again. Ray McKinley was the only man to organize it and take it to the people.

Mrs. Chapman At WF Sunday Night

Mrs. Fountain I. Chapman, well known on the PC campus, returned last Thursday as guest speaker to the Ministerial Club. This was the first of five visits planned to take place during this semester.

On Sunday, March 6, Mrs. Chapman will speak to the Westminster Fellowship at the First Church. Perhaps it is of some significance that this meeting comes on the eve of Religious Emphasis Week, for it was through this medium that students first became aware of Mrs. Chapman. During the weeks she was here for this program in '58 and '59, she became personal friends with several of the students and has, through them, kept in continuous touch with the college.

MRS. FOUNTAIN I. CHAPMAN

The remaining three visits will be a continuation of the discussion which she began with the Ministerial Club. While these dates are not yet set, they will be planned this weekend.

As an assistant to two of Charlotte's eminent psychiatrists, her duties and capabilities take Mrs. Chapman to the many hospitals and churches of Charlotte as well as conducting various discussions and programs to organizations of her vicinity. It may be of interest to PC'uns that she is one of the six speakers to be at the South Carolina Student Christian Association Retreat to be held this spring at Camp Harmony.

Having received her education at the University of Chicago, Mrs. Chapman has now been in medical work for twenty-two years.

Along with the many responsibilities of her work, Mrs. Chapman also serves as president of the Charlotte Family Life Council. This is the largest division of the national organization in the southeast and Mrs. Chapman is the youngest president in the history of the entire organization.

In some unexplainable way, Mrs. Chapman has found the talent and opportunity to include the challenge of marriage and motherhood into her busy life—in a quite successful manner.

Her two daughters, Rebecca and Suzan, will also be guests of PC during the Military Ball Weekend.

Chemistry Award

The 1959-60 Freshman Chemistry Award has been awarded to Bobby Piephoff of College Park, Ga. The award, given annually to the freshman with the highest numerical average, consists of The Handbook of Chemistry and Physics published by the Chemical Rubber Company.

Ted Heintz of Anderson, received a semester award by virtue of his having the highest average of all freshmen and sophomores enrolled in General Physics.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Only Opinions Expressed

Editorials are opinions. The Blue Stocking editorials are the opinions of its staff. We will as much as humanly possible try to confine our opinions to the editorial page, and you as intelligent readers should regard all other parts of the paper as factual reporting of news.

We felt it not necessary to explain our editorial policy, as it would soon become evident in our writings.

However, due to the furore caused by last week's editorial, we will explain our stand.

As we write our editorials, we will keep foremost in mind Socrates' statement, "Let the speaker speak truly and the judge decide justly. . ."

The Blue Stocking does not claim to make any judgement for you. We state our own views and hope that you, the student, will think seriously about the issue in question and then decide for yourself.

We consider this an obligation which if fulfilled will do a small part in promoting an attitude which will benefit you, the student, now and also in later life.

Be Active ... Vote

There is an adage which says "Anything worth doing is worth doing well."

During the next week the Student Christian Association officers for the coming year will be elected.

In past campus elections the Student Council has been appalled at the lack of voting interest shown by the students.

The American college is a looking glass of our society and culture. It is a gathering together of many persons with different outlooks on life, different backgrounds, different hopes and plans. These people are fused together and from this body emerges the leaders of tomorrow.

We have a duty to perform to ourselves, to our school and to our nation. We must cultivate the good, reject the bad and come out better citizens.

We must be serious and take an active part in the things which affect us and our way of life. We need to participate more zestfully in campus elections.

In the light of this we urge that every student use his privilege to vote in the coming spring elections.

Locking Unnecessary

The Presbyterian intramural program has become one of the South's best.

Lately, however, the participants in this program and its spectators have found the gymnasium door locked and thus have been forced to climb into the windows.

We can find little excuse for the practice of locking this door and whether it is intentional or the result of carelessness we urge that for the benefit of the students, some arrangements be made for their entering the gymnasium.

A View From

Chimney Heights of Hollywood

By the time this article appears, the rush, the sweating and the dreading will be upon us. Tell me, how does it feel to get past Friday afternoon without getting a negative reply to the third try at getting a beauiful girl to come to the dance weekend.

I hope that blind date turned out alright. But you know those blind dates work both ways. My sympathy to the girls.

A Washington and Lee student once described a dance weekend as a trial marriage, he might have something there! I hope you enjoy the weekend and the music of Glenn Miller's band. I understand they are flying in—hope they make it.

This week, when all the queens are on the campus we thought it appropriate to have someone write on the land of queens, Hollywood. Malcolm McHargue has done a very good job with this topic. We hope that if anyone is of a different opinion they will write a rebuttal or if they have some other burden they wish to air they would contact the newspaper office in care of Chimney Heights. We will be more than glad to publish your works.

I have absolutely nothing against Hollywood. In fact, the local movie house is one of the few diversions in this town. What causes the bad taste in my mouth is the bombastic publicity that pelts the poor movie goer.

Someone once said of Hollywood, "It isn't a place, it's a state of mind." But I supose someone has said that about a lot of other places, too. Hollywood is, however, a place unto itself, oblivious, for the most part, of the rest of the country. If part of the U. S. was bombed by Russia or Italy, the only way Hollywood would ever find out would be by the falling off of movie attendance. The citizens of ol' "Tensil Town" are much more concerned with whose divorce is being finalized, and who will marry the divorcee when it is, or perhaps who jumped into a pool naked during a soiree.

Not all of the inhabitants of Hollywood are so publicity conscious. Some of them still refer to themselves as actors instead of "stars." Of course, there is much charity work done in Hollywood which is very laudable, but that does not wipe away the "Stars" and their actions.

Never traveling any farther west than Phoenix City, Ala., I had to get my information second hand. There are lying around my house, several copies of a slick-paged magazine with the catchy title of "Modern Screen." My personal bias also helped a great deal.

I suppose everyone has at one time or another read something concerning the highly publicized Eddie-Debbie-Liz affair. There were headlines such as "Why did Liz wreck Debbie's home?" Others such as "Liz breaks up perfect couple." It seems to me that any red-blooded American boy, and probably the rest of us, will agree that it is none of their business. In fact, made the obvious statement that there is no love between the two. I agree that Debbie Reynolds is not unattractive, but beside Miss Taylor she looks like what like Little Orphan Annie.

You really don't have to read movie magazines, it's much cheaper. Pick up a copy of some local newspaper and read Winchell's column. In one of his masterpieces of long ago he abbreviated the whole ing little vignette. It seems that Kim Novac, whom we all know, rented the greater portion of a New York apartment building for the sole purpose of housing a stay in that city. The two cats. Maybe it's my Scotch blood, but that does seem a little extravagant. But Miss Novak this isn't enough. This apparently had to have a view so that her little predatory monsters could look out and see the East River.

Something for the teenage boy, and probably the

(Continued on page four)

Letters to the Editor

Lack of Democracy?

(All letters to the editor must be signed; names will be withheld on request. Letters do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the editors.)

Dear Editor:

The editor of last week's editorial, improperly headed, "THE LACK OF DEMOCRACY," certainly would not have written it in the light that he did if he had analyzed the concrete facts behind the decision. Neither the IFC, as a whole, nor the Faculty Committee on Fraternities was asked by any member of the paper staff to give their reasons or opinions concerning the change in the membership quota. The editorial staff should have looked before they leaped.

The Pi Kappa Alpha Fra of which I am a member that there are some rights dividual fraternity has should not be infringed up the IFC or the Faculty Co
tee. We became a member
IFC hoping to better the re ship between fraternities, so doing, we did not forfei diction over such matte membership. This is a to be left up to the individu ternities.

If the IFC voted 4-2 to dis fraternities on campus with a bership of less than 40, two fraternities would violently this action—and rightly so,
IFC would have over-stepped risdiction.

Going on the assumption
Inter-Fraternity Council ob powers directly stated or to it by each individual frat one can readily see that me ship could only be regulated higher group. The Faculty Co tee on Fraternities can hand more of an unbiased de whereas the IFC represents must place the interests of the spective fraternities first.

We agree wholeheartedly w
editor that this Committee not intervene unless it is abso necessary. Three semesters a Committee felt that the membe must be limited in order t the smaller fraternities. They ed a ruling restricting the nu of brothers and pledges to fifty IFC had no determining part matter.

We begged the Committee t consider their decision, feeling they were trying to aid the sm fraternities at the expense o larger ones. Our fraternity als it was a lack of democracy letting a boy pledge the fraterni his choice if the fraternity w him, and if he had the req grades.

To justify their actions,
Committee constantly studied problem and lisened to our p ances and proposals. After semesters they realized the was not accomplishing its ori purpose. It was merely hin the larger fraternities. Mem ship in fraternities had dro

(Continued on page four)

The GREEKS

... Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

PI KAPPA PHI

The Brothers and Pledges of Beta Chapter have spent quite a bit of time and energy redecorating the room in anticipation of this weekend. Friday and Saturday nights the Pi Kapps will be having parties at Peck's Mary Lou Ranch, with only couples being admitted.

THETA CHI

The Brothers and Pledges of Beta Psi Chapter were happy to meet Mr. Lawton Daughtry, an alumnus, at their regular meeting on Tuseday night. Final arrangements were made for the Military Ball Weekend.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Officers of Alpha Psi Chapter for 1960-61 were formally installed this week by retiring leaders. The Brothers discussed plans for a meeting on extension next week with National Executive Secretary Ralph Burns. Two closed socials will highlight this Military Ball Weekend.

SIGMA NU

Congratulations to Dan McQueen, Jerry Chitty, Sonny Bubose, Hal Roberts, and Jack Fallow who were initiated into the brotherhood. Plans for the pledge party, Military Ball Weekend, and spring beach party were discussed. The Pledge project was given an extra boost by Brother Dougald

KAPPA ALPHA

Miss Lee Myers was elected KA Rose to represent Beta Pi Chapter at the Old South Ball March 18 and 19. Lee is the pinee of Brother Bill Norman. The Pledge Class has decided to make several improvements to the house as their project. Proposals were brought to the Brothers' attention to the effect of future jovial functions.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Welcome to new Pledges Allen Pitts, John Henderson, Bobby Collins, and Billy Piephoff, who were formally pledged Tuesday night. More congratulations to the tremendous effort of the basketball team, who remain undefeated with undisputed league leadership.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR — MARTIN CHITTY
MANAGING EDITOR — GRAHAM EDMUNDS
Associate Editor — John Craig
Sports Editor — Bob Stevens
Feature Editor — Howard Gordon
Copy Editor — Allen Freeman
News Editor — Murray White
News Director — John Elrod
Intramural Sports Editor — Jerry Chitty
News Staff — Don Kay, Dick Curnow, Don Lohman, Fred Mead, Robert Kendall, Dave Stricklin, Mike Saunders, Bill Bartee, Gerald Pitts, and Christine Wilson.
Business Manager — Bob Smith
Assistant Business Manager — Marshall Jones
Circulation Managers — Ted Heatz, Charles Copley

Run... Of the Hose

Bob Stevens, Sports Editor

No sportswriter can resist the temptation to pick an all this or that.

Well, we'll conform and come forth with our choice of an All-State basketball quintet.

UEC's Art Whisnant leads the group, being the key figure in the Gamesocks' most successful season in many years. Bill Barbee, leading scorer and playmaker for the Wofford Terries, secures a post on the quintet as a member of the state's winningest team. Furman places Dag Wilson on our All-State team. Wilson was a consistent high scorer and rebounder for the Paladins. Citadel's graduating "Whiz Kids" put Art Musselman aboard our team. Musselman has been the key player for The Citadel during the past four years. Our own Bob Stratton, leading scorer in the state, finishes our All-State five. Stratton led the state with a 24.1 average.

We pick Art Whisnant as player of the year in the state. Whisnant led South Carolina to win over such tough opponents as N. C. State, Duke, and UNC.

Coach of the year must go to Bob Stevens, new mentor of the South Carolina Gamecocks.

Action in Greenville this weekend wasn't quite as we expected. The Blue Hose lost a close one to Erskine after leading most of the game.

Congratulations to Bob Stratton, Mickey Long, and Jim Rakestraw on making the all-tournament team this year.

Wofford seems headed for Kansas City and the NAIA National finals. The Terriers defeated Catawba last Tuesday night.

Big news—the word is out that the swimming pool will be open as of March 16. Get out your trunks, boys, it's time to hit the water.

Intramural season is steadily drawing to a close. The season schedule will wind up next week, to be followed immediately by the tournament. Tournament play will be the same as last year—the top four teams in a double elimination playoff.

Several of the football players are on the injured list. Coach Jones is very skeptical about spring football practice.

Wofford Tops In Little Four; Fleet Edges Hose for Third

• Rakestraw, Long Lead Hose

Wofford's Terriers continued their mastery of all Little Four competition, but had to come from behind in the second half to overcome a very determined Newberry team. The Terriers downed the Indians 63-55 in the finals of the Little Four tournament.

Outstanding for Wofford were center Bob Waldrop of Taylors, and guard Boyce Berry of Spartanburg. Waldrop hit for 19 points and Berry followed with 16.

Wofford took the lead 53-51 with eight minutes remaining. Berry ringed two consecutive two-pointers which sealed the victory and put the Terriers out front, 57-53 with five minutes to go. Wofford then slowed the game down and made the win decisive.

Newberry trailed going into the second half 35-31. The Tribe had been behind by as much as seven points at times in the first 20 minutes.

Newberry's Charlie Gallagher sparked the Indians with an 18-point performance and brought excitement to the crowd of 1,500 as they closed in early in the second half, then went ahead 42-41 with 14:32 showing on the clock.

Later Carl Short stole the ball and went in for a layup to make it 47-all, and it began to appear an upset might be in the making. Wofford Coach Gene Alexander then sent Trap Hart back into action, however. Hart had been on the bench since midway in the first half because of four fouls. Hart returned with 8:30 left in the game. This seemed to give the Terriers the needed lift.

FLEET DEFEATS HOSE

Coming from 14 points behind in the last seven minutes, Erskine's Flying Fleet prevented an upset with an 80-78 victory over Presbyterian's Blue Hose in the last 10 seconds on John Keenan's push shot from the corner.

By defeating the PC'uns Erskine was able to wrap up third place in the Little Four Tourney.

Presbyterian took the lead with 2:07 left in the first half and jumped out to a 45-39 advantage at the intermission.

Erskine couldn't hit the first five minutes of the second half, and the shooting of Mickey Long and Jim Rakestraw had the Hose out front 63-49 with 7:18 left in the game.

The Fleet, then, went into a full court press. Ronnie Rice struck twice and reserve Mike Jordan connected on straight goals to give the Fleet a 74-74 tie as 2:52 remained on the clock. Keenan hit for Erskine and McGuire dropped one in for PC before Keenan tossed in the winning bucket with 10 seconds to play.

Frank Blanton and Rice, with 16 each, spearheaded the Fleet scoring along with Bill Ohlendorff, who hit for 15. Keenan finished with 13.

Jordan and Rice tallied 10 each and Blanton nine in the Fleet's second half rally.

Rakestraw led the Blue Hose with 20, and Long followed with 19

Hose Cinder Squad Looks to Good Year

Spring is coming soon and track season will be underway. There are high hopes for a successful season. Positions will be filled by:

Dave Morgan—100, 200 dash, Dick Shawn—440 dash, Belton Jackson—880, mile, broad jump, Bobby Beddingfield—100, 200, low hurdles, Bill Bartee—high hurdles, and Phil Jackson—high hurdles, 440 dash.

Also on the squad will be:

Billy Benton—pole vault, 100 dash, Gordon Stanley—discus, Ed Browder—shot put, Jon Vastine—javelin, Bobby Pate—100, 220 dash, Ronnie Hampton—440 dash, and Dave Parrish—high and low hurdles.

Filling out the ranks are:

Billy Ogden—shot put, Billy Eberhardt—440, broad jump, javelin, Bill Hill—high jump, Robert Sherrill—100 and 220 dashes, Ernie Redd—440 dash, and Billy Ray Ladd—880 dash.

Coach Vic Spooner starts his second full season at PC with the above squad. Fingers are crossed for a season with better results than last year's as a more experienced squad hits the cinders.

Pika's Ed Jackson zeros in the basket as KA's Nettles attempts to block.

Snow Gives Rest

Seniors Leave Grid Gap; Jones Seeks Fall Stars

"Let it snow!" That's been the cry of the Presbyterian grid squad now in the process of spring practice. However, it's far from the cry of head coach Frank Jones as the troubles continue to pile up on the Blue Hose squad.

Jones was having enough trouble trying to fill the gaps left by outgoing seniors, before the snow set in. Almost four weeks have passed since the first day of spring drills and Coach Jones finds that he has been outside only eleven days.

Filling the shoes of quarterback Bob Waters and halfback Bobby Pate, both headed for the professional ranks, is a mean backfield order. The loss of center Mac Copeland and tackles Bill Schofill and Cecil Morris presents problems also in the line.

Added to those headaches, a series of ailments to returning candidates has further depleted the practice situation.

Star fullback Bill Hill suffered a campus injury that will probably prevent his taking part in future spring drills. Guard Bill Sease, facing a minor operation, also is out. Freshman tackle Stewart Caldwell is out with a back injury.

As a result, halfback Ronnie Hampton of Kannapolis, N. C., who broke into the starting lineup in his freshman season last fall, is the only first stringer currently running in the backfield, and some key personnel shifts have taken place in the forward wall. Guards Bill Ogden and Sonny DuBose have been moved in the line and end Jimmy Kolb is getting a shot at a halfback slot.

Several newcomers are among the Hosemen this spring. Among the leading candidates are halfbacks Stacy Burton and Dan Powers, and end Jerry Hammock.

Coach Jones has given particular emphasis to quarterback work. He had drilled sophomores Joe Nixon of Carrollton, Ga., and Bobby Joiner of Macon, Ga., constantly on their passing techniques in hopes of having them ready.

Weather Fires Curve To Blue Sackmen

With the ever existing problem of hazardous weather, the baseball outlook seems to be somewhat snowed in at present. The weatherman plays a very important role during the early spring workouts. With the opening game less than two weeks away, the team is in dire need of batting practice and fielding practice. At present only one outside practice has been held because of the weather conditions and the reworking of the infield and pitcher's mound. The team and catchers have been working out daily and the pitchers should be ready to take to the mound when the Catawba Indians visit the Blue Socks on March 16.

The opening day of practice found six freshmen candidates seeking positions on the team. They include infielders Butch Sain, C. J. Ray, and Phil Smith, along with outfielders Milton Fulton, Jack Crider, and Edison Fairey.

Howard Smith (left), and J. W. Abrams present the new intramural trophy to Irvin Montgomery, Director of Student Activities.

Intramural Trophy For Top Participant

Student Activities Director Irvin Montgomery announced this week that an intramural trophy will be given to the outstanding participant in intramural sports over his four-year stay at PC.

This award will not be obtained by participation alone, but also by the work of the individual in all phases of the Intramural Program. Howard Smith and J. W. Abrams will donate this award and make it possible annually to an outstanding senior.

Director of Student Activities, Mr. Montgomery, makes this challenge, "We sincerely hope this trophy will generate more interest in our Intramurals here at PC. Every individual has a chance of winning this trophy, so start now and work hard; maybe you will receive this notable award."

Tournament Time Nears; PiKAs Holding Lead

Tournament time is right around the corner in approximately two weeks. The top four teams will clash in what seems to be PC's best intramural tournament. Right now the top four teams are made up of Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Nu, and Raiders.

This week's action saw Kappa Alpha and Sigma Nu winning by large margins. The Raiders took a one-point thriller from the Sad Sacks to almost assure them a tournament berth

Scoring records fell this week on two occasions. Butch Sain of the Beatniks pumped 33 in, but the following night his record was broken by Pat Hall. Hall hit 41 points, hitting on jump shots from all around the key. Pi Kappa Alpha got their spirits lifted this week as "Big Bill" Hill seems as if he will be able to participate in 60's Big Four. Sigma Nu coasted along over Ken Acker's Independents, led by Stone and "Country" Vaughn. Vaughn hit 25 points while Stone sank 16

GALLMAN'S BARBER SHOP
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS

YOUNG'S PHARMACY
N. Broad Street
Phone 19 - We Deliver

J. C. THOMAS JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

Practicing for the big weekend dances, George Ragan, Julia Gray, Chris Wilson, and Billy Hagood make good use of the Charcoal Cellar.

Panic Button Blues

The Weekend Approaches

The weekend is here. The work and struggle that has led up to this shows its fruit. Now I'm not calling your date a fruit, but after trying six different girls, what do you expect? This Friday is the longest day of the year for me, because most of it was spent in the Post Office, waiting for that "Dear John" that usually plagues the day of the dance, but with luck it didn't come. Now from 4:00 to 7:30, the time my date arrives, comes the big sweat. What does she look like? I was a little under the weather when I met her several weeks before and all I could remember about her looks was her black dress and pointde teeth. I started asking some of my fraternity brothers that were with me the night I met her, what she looked like, but they had been too busy snaking on each other to remember. That did give me a hint, because as well as I could remember no one had tried to snake on me. Oh well, Charlie and Gene will always be there to boost my spirits if they run low.

I just remembered that I haven't gotten her a place to stay. I'd been too busy getting a date that I just plain forgot. I thought of Dr. K. A. Pink, blessed of the order, spiritual leader of the wayward student. He should be able to tell me of someone who would keep my date. I went to his study to ask him about this and he met me with upturned palm and was saying something about money. I immdeiately began to look for a way out when the train whistle blew and the good doctor shut his eyes and looked toward Heaven as if to gain strength against this worldly intrusion, so I quietly slipped out. I needed money more than he did, anyway. That was the last hope, guess I'll have to keep her in a motel. Now why didn't I think of that before.

Seven-thirty is coming closer, I kind of wish I hadn't gotten this date. I could have had much more fun with Old Grandma. I guess I was rushed into this by what you might call a Don Juan. You know, one of those boys that goes around bragging about all the girls that he had made love to, when you know that it is al talk. That old hymn, "Everybody that talks about Heaven, ain't going there," fits this guy perfectly.

I don't think I'll take a shower —self defense against her bad breath, anyway I got the word that the masculine smell attracts the the women. Well, H-Hour is here and I have to make the last minute preparations—die on straight, handkerchief, comb, cigarettes and the like. A good lover never goes unprepared.

Hope you have better luck than I do. I never seem to need these preparations. Well, there's always the refuge that many great men before me have used—the kind, gentle, wonderful gift of Bacchus.

Letters

(Continued from page two)

from 70% of the student body to 50% in 18 months. Consequently, the ruling was changed to sixty-five which was somewhat of a compromise for we still believe each fraternity should have the right to limit its membership as it sees fit.

Our fraternity feels that under the new ruling fraternities themselves will now have the right to choose their brothers. That's democracy, not the lack of it. The IFC has never had the power in such matters and, we hope, never will, without the consent from all fraternities.

WILLIAM M. HAGOOD,
President of Pi Kappa Alpha
IFC Representative

Cellar Adds Music For Ball Feasting

Underneath the canteen there is a small thriving business. The Charcoal Cellar that opened this last October, was the brainstorm of Mr. L. V. Powell. Operating exclusively for the student, the food is priced from twenty cents for a Happy Hot Dog, Fun in a Bun, and coffee for ten cents, to a Chef's Choice Tee Bone, Big and Beautiful for $2.50.

Chef Tommy was asked how business was and he said that though business was occasionally slow, a student, when he has the money, will come down for a leisurely meal.

The waiters are students and to quote the menu, "Don't insult our waiters . . . help is hard to find." These boys spend their evenings down in the cellar waiting on all types of customers—from members of the Board of Trustees to girls from town.

The Charcoal Cellar is available for parties, specializing in Birthdays and Anniversaries. Contact anyone in the Cellar if a reservation is desired.

Preparing for the Military Ball weekend, Mr. Powell plans to have a jukebox installed and a large amount of steaks on hand for heavy-eating dates.

RE Week

(Continued from page one)

faculty will, however, meet classes and call the roll. Those who are not there and who are not attending REW seminars will receive cuts. The night sessions are purely voluntary.

Dr. Stell was born in Dallas, Texas, and received his AB degree from Austin College and BD from Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va. His DD degree was conferred upon him by Austin College. He is now the pastor of Trinity Presbyterina Church in Charlotte and conducts a radio program over WBT each week entitled "Across the Minister's Desk."

Rev. Glenn Dorris received his undergraduate education at Emory University, and also received his BD degree from there. He holds a ThM degree from Union Theological Seminary. He is presently pastor of Central Presbyterian Church in Anderson, and writes a daily column for several newspapers in South Carolina and Georgia. Rev. Dorris is married and has three children.

Rev. William Stevenson was born in Pittsburgh, graduated from Maryville College and received his MA from Cornell University. He has a ThB degree from Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary. In 1947 he changed his ministerial standing to the Congregational Christian Churches from the Presbyterian Church.

Miss Roberta Chandler (left), and Miss Ruth Hawkins wi sponsors of Battle Group Commander Joe Hardin and Scabbar Blade President Jim Bennett.

Chimney Heights

(Continued from page two)

dents. One day while waiting for the Broadway (Clinton Broadway) to open, I was loitering in a local drug store. Not intending to buy anything I sauntered over to the magazine rack. After thumbing through the better publications I was down to GOOD HOUSEKEEPING and some movie magazines. Not wanting to look effiminate I picked up the latter. The first thing I read was the world-shaking announcement' "What you don't know about Rick Nelson." I thought probably I could go through life without knowing that, so I picked up another magazine. When I opened it, I read, "What you don't know about Dave Nelson." Looking for the nearest exit I saw the quizzical face of Ozzie Nelson peering at me from the cover of another magazine and under the picture read, "What I don't know about my two boys." I suppose there are many things under the sun unknown to man.

Some will continue to fill their appetites for trash by reading those movie magazine, but most of us won't. We will sit quietly munching our popcorn and gaze attentively at the big, big cinemascope screen while across it parades the Monroes and the Mansfields, the cut gowns winning the m of men and babies alike. The the Teenage Werewolves various other under-age m We feel a lump as the kid in the gut while the Marx John Wayne take the lea sneicker as the sophisticate and the sophisticated wom how much sophisticated s logue they can get by the But most of all we gasp 'Adult" movie really gets more out of life, see a mov

BROADWAY Theatre
Monday and Tuesday
March 7-8
Libel
Olivia De Havilland, Dirk B
Wednesday and Thurs
March 9-10
The Tingler
Vincent Price, Judith Eve
Friday and Saturday
March 11-12
Gulliver's Trav
Also
Susannah of th
Mounties
Shirley Temple, Randolph

WORLD FAMOUS
THE GLENN MILLER ORCHESTRA under the direction of
RAY McKINLEY

Playing in the GLENN MILLER TRADITION With the authentic MILLER arrangements
RCA VICTOR RECORDS

Welcome
to
The Charcoal Cellar
Steaks - Shrimp - Hot Dogs
Music in Hi-Fi
Dance Weekend:
6 - 12 P.M. Friday
6 - 11 P.M. Saturday

Bob Smith Elected New SCA President

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., March 11, 1960 No. 17

Four Honorary Degree Recipients Named By Board of Trustees

• June Commencement Ceremonies

Presbyterian College will award honorary degrees to U. S. Senator J. Strom Thurmond, two ministers and a distinguished attorney at its 79th June, President Marshall W. Brown announced today.

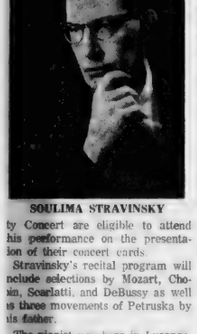
Senator Thurmond is to receive an honorary doctor of laws degree as part of the June 5 program. J. Graham Miller, PC alumnus and corporation attorney of New York City, also will be given the doctor of laws.

Honorary doctor of divinity degrees will go to the Rev. Allen McSween, pastor of the Starmount Presbyterian Church of Greensboro, N. C., and a Presbyterian College alumnus, and to the Rev. William I. Howell, assistant pastor of Atlanta's First Presbyterian Church.

Selection of the honorary degree recipients was made by the college board of trustees at its annual spring meeting on the campus.

President Brown pointed out that Thurmond, junior senator from South Carolina and former governor of the state, has been a close friend of Presbyterian College for the past decade. He has had an outstanding career in military service and politics, and carried four states as the 19481948 presidential candidate of the States' Rights Democratic party. A graduate of Clemson and a practicing attorney since 1930, Strom Thurmond served as a state senator for six years (1933-38) and then as circuit judge until his election to a four-year term as governor of South Carolina in 1947. He was elected to the U. S. Senate as a write-in candidate in 1954 to fill the unexpired term of Burnet Maybank, Sr., resigned according to promise in 1954 to place the office in a primary and was reelected without opposition.

Senator Thurmond served as an officer with the 82nd Airborne Division in World War II. He was awarded five battle stars and 16 decorations during five years of service, and he has remained active in the Reserve Officers Association since that time. He recently was promoted to the rank of lieutenant-general in the U. S. Army Reserve.



Graham Miller, who received his degree from Presbyterian College in 1924, is an outstanding lawyer who served as New York Assistant attorney-general under Tom Dewey in 1936-38 and again in 1943. He also has held the position of assistant U. S. attorney in the southern district of New York. He was associated with the law firm of Donovan, Leisure, Newton and Lumbard of New York for nine years and has maintained his own practice since 1946. Miller received his law degree from Columbia University in 1930; a doctor of laws, from New York Univer-

(Continued on page four)

Famous Pianist To Perform Here

Concert Pianist Soulima Stravinsky, son of noted composer Igor Stravinsky, will give a performance on Clinton next Wednesday under the auspices of the Presbyterian College Fine Arts program.

The concert is scheduled for the Thornwell Orphanage Auditorium at 8:30 p. m. All persons holding membership in the Clinton Commun-ty Concert are eligible to attend his performance on the presentation of their concert cards.

SOULIMA STRAVINSKY

Stravinsky's recital program will include selections by Mozart, Chopin, Scarlatti, and DeBussy as well as three movements of Petruska by his father.

The pianist was born in Lusanne, Switzerland, and studied under a series of eminent teachers before making his debut at the age of 20. His European engagements have covered most of the continent. Since his arrival in America, he has appeared with major orchestras, and has played numerous recitals throughout this country and Canada.

Soulima Stravinsky is widely recognized as one of the foremost interpreters of Mozart and Scarlatti. His French background and his familiarity with the great masters of that country give him equal authority in all matters pertaining to French music. It is hardly necessary to mention that he is the foremost exponent of the piano music of his

(Continued on page four)

Fraternity Houses Future Possibility

Fraternity houses for all six fraternities may be a strong possibility in the near future.

Dr. Marshall Brown stated yesterday, "I mentioned to the Board of Trustees that there was some dissatisfaction over the present condition of the fraternities."

Dr. Brown also said that he felt confident of the Board's taking action on this matter, although nothing was definite.

The original plans of the school call for the fraternity houses to be built on the campus as it now stands. These plans show the houses situated in groups of threes.

Additions of land to the school are also expected in a long-range plan; however, these additions will not affect the fraternity housing.

Administrative officials have expressed definite interest in this problem and state that they are giving as much aid as possible.

Earlier in the week fraternity presidents met with the administration and were told the details of the setup as it now stands.

Tucson Boys Chorus Sings Here Tonight

The Tucson Boys Chorus will appear at the Thornwell Orphanage Auditorium on Friday, March 11. This will be the third performance of the season in the Community Concert series.

Chorus director, Eudarso Caso, native of England and graduate of Westminster School, has taught at some of the best private schools in England.

Mr. Caso first came to the United States in 1930 to follow a singing career, but in 1937 he was forced to retire to Arizona to regain his lost health. It was while in Arizona that he started a boys chorus. Today his boys travel to all parts of the United States. In 1955 the chorus made its first foreign tour and its second tour is planned for this spring.

During the summer the boys attend a session at the Little Outfit Cattle Ranch in Southern Arizona. There they got musical training for the next season and take part in full routine of ranch life. All the boys are accomplished horsemen. In last year's annual Tucson Rodeo the chorus won a special award for the best organized riding group. Thier first year participation brought them the grand prize.

White Closes '60 REW; Attendance Termed Good

Using the parable of the talents, Chaplain O. Z. White brought the 1960 Religious Emphasis Week to a conclusion last night in Neville Chapel. "Why did our Lord put the one talent man on the spot?", he asked, "Usually he is the hero." The answer lies, he said, in the fact that bigness many times is far from enough and the little man often has large possibilities. God is tremendously concerned with the little man who often hides behind his littleness. Removing the "halos" of the Biblical saints, one can find men who began as little men but, with the grip of God, they became the greatest heroes of all time, the Erskine counselor went on to say.

Wednesday night, Rev. Glenn Dorris of Central Presbyterian Church, Anderson, spoke on "Our Religious Boom." "America has witnessed a tremendous upsurge of interest in Religion," he said. "But there are many criticisms of this interest." Citing the danger of a movement that has created a "folksy, unholy God" with a highly egocentric man-centered faith, he asked if our country is undergoing a revival of Religion or a revival of interest in Religion.

"Don't ask about Christianity until you are ready to stand up and be counted," was the challenge Dr. Lawrence I. Stell presented to students in the opening night service on Tuesday. Under the title, "Christianity and my Convictions," the Charlotte minister asked: "What is your belief about God, about Jesus Christ, about man?" And, what difference do these beliefs make, anyway."

Saying that God can be defined as "something of supreme value," he continued that we all have something of supreme value and are constantly choosing this. "Our choice," he said, "cannot be objective—therefore it is subjective. How can we

(Continued on page four)

Chaplain White cracks a "Funny" as Dick Curnow, Speedy Reed, John Gettys, and Harold Hope compliment with laughter. Chaplain White was one of the speakers during RE WEEK.

Senior Placement

Seniors, contact Bob Bean or Charles Howard Monday, Wednesday or Friday 10:00-11:00 in the canteen for job appointments for placement interviews.

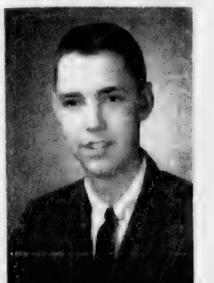
March 14—Deering-Milliken.
March 16—Belk-Hudson.
March 22—Craftsman Printing Co.
March 23—Springs Cotton Mills.

Maurice Schwartz Receives Honor

A Presbyterian College junior has been chosen for the summer student trainee prgoram at Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Dr. Nolan Carter, chairman of the PC chemistry department, has announced.

The student is Maurice E. Schwartz of Laurinburg, N. C. He will be assigned to the chemistry division of Oak Ridge National Laboratory, where he will be associated with a research project under the direction of a laboratory scientist for ten weeks this summer.

Schwartz, a Dean's List student at Presbyterian, is majoring in chemistry. He also serves as a laboratory assistant under Dr. Carter in analytical chemistry.



Remaining Offices Decided Monday

Bob Smith of Atlanta, was chosen to serve in the next year as president of the Student Christian Association.

Smith, a rising senior, defeated Paul Ard in a runoff election. The original voting eliminated Evin Varner; however, neither of the other candidates received a majority of the votes cast, thus another voting was required.

A total of 343 ballots were cast, representing the largest turnout to the polls in many years.

Stepping into the shoes of Dick Wood, this year's SCA president,

BOB SMITH

Smith gained his experience through Westminster Fellowship service.

The newly elected president also serves as Business Manager of THE BLUE STOCKING, and vice-president of the Westminster Fellowship. A pledge in Kappa Alpha Order, Smith plans to enter a seminary upon graduation.

Candidates for the remaining top offices of the Student Christian Association were announced today by Dick Wood, retiring president, from nominations made by the SCA senior cabinet.

Running for the vice-presidency will be Don Dunlap, a rising senior from Charlotte, and Dick Foulkner, a rising senior from Henderson, N. C.

Frank Sells, rising junior from Johnson City, Tenn., is in the race for SCA secretary against Christine Wilson, a rising sophomore of Monroe, N. C.

Nominated for treasurer of the organization are Jim Lowry, a rising junior of Great Falls, and Donald Kay Vess, rising senior from Anderson.

Ballots will be cast for this race on Monday, March 14. The voting is to be held in the main lounge of Douglas House from eight until two.

Procurement Team To Be On Campus

A Naval Officer Procurement Team from Columbia will visit Presbyterian College on March 15 as part of their annual spring college visitation program, it was announced recently by Lt. Commander L. R. Steinmeyer, USN, officer in charge of the South Carolina Recruiting District.

The purpose of the visit will be to acquaint the student body with the various officer programs and the opportunities available in the U. S. Navy. Vacancies exist in most officer programs but particularly in the Officer Candidate School Program and the Aviation Officer Candidate Program.

Prospective graduates are invited to contact the team to obtain full details. Veterans are also urged to contact the team for information pertaining to inactive reserve commissions. While on the Presbyterian campus the team may be contacted in the Douglas House.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

A Suggestion

Quite often a job can be done well and there still may be room for improvement.

We find this to be the case in the matter of school dances. It appears that the IFC would function more to the benefit of the fraternities were it required only to serve as a governing body over the Greek organizations.

It is in this light that we make the following proposal. We suggest that a School Dance Association be organized. This association should consist of ten members with no more than one member elected from any one fraternity. There could be two methods of raising funds; the sale of tickets and a specified amount collected from the matriculation fee and placed into an account for the association. This fund would be drawn upon as deemed necessary by the association.

We would further propose that a faculty advisor be voted upon by the student body after nomination by the association.

Not only would an organization of this type serve to the advantage of fraternities, but it would assure the independent students a voice in the campus social activities.

Ideas Due Meditation

The seminar classes of the Religious Emphasis Week have brought forth an abundance of ideas to the students.

These active discussions were very naturally interesting as several different points of view on various religious subjects were presented.

Very little benefit has been derived, however, if these ideas are forgotten upon departure from the discussion. A very essential purpose of Religious Emphasis Week is to make the student more conscious and more thoughtful toward his religious views and needs. You, the student, are the sole accomplisher of this purpose, and your own ideas may best be formed by a thorough consideration of the theological opinions of others.

Consideration Please

Whoever said "all's fair in love and war" failed to mention politics.

Thus we find the use of both glass partitions in the Douglas House for campaign posters of only one candidate to be rather inconsiderate of others vieing for the same office.

Nor can the blame be placed entirely on the candidate. The law of "first come, first served" has become outdated. We recommend that in the future equal spaces be allotted to each candidate for poster campaigning.

Dear Son, Your father and I think you are spending too much time on chemistry.

Looking From Chimney Heights

At Apathy

"So What"? Could this be the secret password of the American College student? Where is the spirit that once was prevalent on the college campus? Now I admit I am only going on hearsay and that is dangerous, but the spirit of the South American college student puts the apathy of the more collegiate, more sophisticated student of the most progressive country to shame. The drive that has made this country, of necessity, was developed on the college campus. What movement is being started on the campus now? The movement toward conformity for comfort, toward receiving a "sheep skin" so that for the rest of their lives we will not have to worry about a job? Could it be that we are afraid to think? Is it that we are conforming to a curriculum that has developed for the indifferent "student"? As the chapel speaker of a few weeks ago said, our minds are being filled not formed. Once we are out of this sheltered society and are working for a living we will not have time to question, will not have time to develop our minds. This time is now!

I guess I have been stump preaching, but there seems to be this growing indifference to anything off campus of national importance or of international importance. We will live in this country for the rest of our lives and to use an oft repeated phrase, we will be the leaders of this country, but where will we be headed with this total unconcern for anything but number one and his secure future?

This past week seemed to be an emphasis on the KA beards. In every seminar I attended there was something said about the beards.

This week Ben Vincent, a bearded brethren, has written a poem that raises quite a question. Where are the American college students? In Eisenhower's recent trip to South America the college students made themselves known. Of course it was on the wrong side possibly but they did say what they felt. Possibly the American college student could let it be known how much security he wants or how much he loves the big corporations that allow him to work without conforming.

So What!

Last month it was Kruschev, today
it's sit-down strikes,
The students on campus won't broaden their scope.
But for crucial problems like fraternities and water-fights,
To find a solution there's always a hope.
To hell with Afghanistan, put on your dark glasses,
The problems on campus just haven't been solved.
Worry only about your schedule of classes,
In foreign affairs don't dare get involved.
Read only that which is required by the profs,
That college diploma is all you need Trips to the library lead only to scoffs.
It contains just the food on which book-worms feed.
The world is in constant turmoil and trouble.
But we won't debate the national affairs.
Lest our passive state be burst like a bubble.
And conflict engulf our nonchalant airs.
So don't be alarmed, we won't raise a hand
But completely stick our heads in the sand.

Many Thanks

I would like to express my appreciation for the support given me on Thursday. The number who made use of their right to vote was very gratifying .Perhaps we are looking towards the day when elections at PC will begin to transcend trivial partisanship. My congratulations and best wishes to the new SCA president.

EVIN VARNER

Blue Thro... Lowdow...

The choir members load ... gage, the well-dressed ... dent, Clip Standup, calls ... rector, Dr. Pitty, and his ... their seats, the bus driver ... big gray bus, and the P... Throats" are on the road. ... is smiling. The bridge table ... one's suitcase) is set up in ... A couple of no-trumps are ... even a yes-trump finds its ... A few of the singers stud... few of the scholars sing. T... long, but at last the destin... reached and as the boys ... Lump Load goes into the ch... fice to assign each boy to ... How Lump Load manages ... himself to the home with ... looking daughter is beyon... body, even Lumpy.

After an excellent home... meal. (indeed a rarity ... PCun's life) a most enjoya... ing of television is in store ... hours are bad on one's voice ... off to bed early, for it is to b... day tomorrow.

The next morning at ei... o'clock the choir meets. All ... freshed and ready to sing ... Whichend gooses the organ ... times and the Hammond ... sounds like the organ at St. ... Cathedral. The Parke-Davis ... pills are passed and Saul A... takes six or seven to put ... mouth when his solo come... Rowing Escapade gives Dr. ... the-ahead and the concert b... It is truly a wonder how the ... of thirty men can inspire a c... full of people. Even more won... is the way Pail Laysum can ... seven girls in one hour just by ... ing at them.

Quotable Quotes

Destruction of game room ... ties must cease, acording to ... Beaty, Maintenance Superinten...

The misuse of these machine... brought forth the threat of cl... the room to night users.

"Cigarette, candy, and drink... ders were placed in the game ... at great expense to the college ... repair bills here have been o... proportion and this will necess... the closing action if continu... stated Beaty.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C. Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR ..... MARTIN CH...
MANAGING EDITOR ..... GRAHAM EDM...
Associate Editor ..... John C...
Sports Editor ..... Bob Ste...
Feature Editor ..... Howard Ge...
Copy Editor ..... Allen Fre...
News Editor ..... Murray W...
News Director ..... John E...
Intramural Sports Editor ..... Jerry Cl...
News Staff ..... Don Kay, Dick Curnow, Don Lohman, Fred W... Robert Kendall, Dave Stricklin, Mike Saunders, Bill Bartee, Ge... Pitts, and Christine Wilson.
Business Manager ..... Bob Sc...
Assistant Business Manager ..... Marshall J...
Circulation Managers ..... Ted Hentz, Charles Co...

The GREEKS

... Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

A B Φ Δ Σ Γ Θ Ξ Κ Λ Μ Ν Ο Π Ρ Σ Τ Υ Φ Χ Ψ Ω

THETA CHI

The Brothers and Pledges of Beta Psi Chapter were very happy to welcome Sammy Rochester into the membership of the fratrenity as a new pledge on Tuesday night. Everyone enjoyed the fraternity discussion led by Chaplain O. Z. White on Wednesday night.

KAPPA ALPHA

Congratulations were extended to Brother Chuck Alford for his pinning of Miss Clair Smith this past weekend. Congratulations were also given to Brother Howard Bumgardner upon his recent acceptance to dental school at Memphis. His absence will be greatly felt by the chapter.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Brother Dick Carr was extended congratulations on his pinning of Miss Bonnie Golston over the Military Ball weekend. Plans were made pertaining to Greek Week May 13-14

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Psi Chapter welcomed National Executive Secretary Ralph Burns of Delaware, Ohio, Thursday night. Speaking before a joint meeting, the national officer described extension plans and the housing formula for Presbyterian's Alpha Sig Chapter. The Brothers and Pledges later enjoyed a social hour with their honored guest. Earlier in the week, plans for the Greek Week were discussed. Recognized for pinnings were Bob Forbis and Bob Besence.

SIGMA NU

The chapter has begun new reforms that were brought back from Raleigh. Plans for the pledge project were discussed as was the coming party.

PC's indoor swimming pool prepares to open

Run... Of the Hose

Bob Stevens, Sports Editor

Tournament time. The Wofford Terriers advanced to the ational Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament after de- ating Appalachian for district honors.

The Terriers met Oakland City in the first round of the tournament on Monday afternoon of this past week. Wofford led most of the way, but was forced into a double overtime due to a strong rally by Oakland City. Wofford ended up on the top side of an 86-85 thriller.

The Terriers defeated Findlay of Ohio in the second round of the tourna ent. Wofford definitely has the potential of going all the way. Good ck, Terriers.

Two area teams have secured berths in the Regional NCAA Basketball Tournament. Duke and West Virginia, both nationally ranked teams, will square off against St. Jospeh's and NYU in Charlotte this weekend. We predict Duke over St. Joseph's, and West Virginia over NYU in a close one. Jerry West and his Mountaineers should take the Regional from Duke without much trouble.

Both Duke and West Virginia have advanced from wins over Prince and Navy.

Two of PC's basketeers are playing in the Textile Tournament in ...ceenville. Bob Stratton and Mickey Long have joined Dunean in the ...gh 37th Annual Textile Tournament.

PC's net men take a trip into sunny Florida this week to meet some of their toughest competition of the year. Coach Leighton and team will do well, we predict.

Big Four Tournament again. Four tough teams will battle it out for e honors.

Baseball is in the air. All major league teams have started spring actice. Anyone care to pick the pennant winners?

The Presbyterian Blue Socks have not been able to take the field yet e to old man winter, but are looking forward to a much better season an last year.

ntramural Tourney Play ...Will Open Next Week

The 1960 basketball Intramurals will come to an end ...iday night, depending largely on a victory by the fourth ...eded Raiders. In case of defeat for this independent team, e Sad Sacks, their Friday night opponents, will be in a ...for fourth place. These two teams ...yed previously, with the Sad ...cks being edged out by a one- ...int margin. This game became ...official, however, after a protest ... the defeated. In case the Sad ...cks win this game Friday night, ...layoff between these two will be ...d. This playoff will probably take ...ace on Monday, March 14 in order ...t the tournament may get under- ...y Tuesday.

The tournament is expected to ...ovide some of the best Intramu- ...s ever witnessed at PC. The ...me will consist of the number 2 ...rd 3 placed teams meeting in one ...me of a double-header, and the ...e-tournament favorites, PiKA's, ...d the fourth placed team which ...mains unknown. The Pi Kappa ...ha's seem to be the favorite, ...ving an undefeated regular sea- ...n. The KA's and Sigma Nu's will be battling it out in the tourney's first game, which should determine 80's Number 2 team. The fourth place team will definitely be strong, as both contenders, The Raiders and The Sad Sacks, have fine ball handlers. Anything can happen in this double elimination affair.

The intramural committee requests a large turnout, as excitement begins to mount

Spring (?) Sports

Spring sports get underway next week as the tennis team journeys to the sunshine land of Florida.

Despite the snow Clyde Ehrhardt's baseballers plan to do battle with Catawba Wednesday

The Blue Hose netmen will return to the campus on Saturday, the 19th of March. The following Tuesday the locals will meet Clemson in their first home match of the season.

Sunshine Cleaners
W. Florida St. — Phone 436
Quality Cleaning and Shirt Laundry
WE REPAIR SHOES
We Offer a "Fluff Dry" Bundle

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

Swimmers Urged to Show Interest As Pool Opens For Spring Use

• Tank Team Possible

By LELAND VAUGHN

Swim anyone?

Director of Student Activities Irvin Montgomery announced yesterday that the pool will open this week, March 16.

Supervision of the pool will fall in the hands of Mr. Montgomery with student assistance from Robe Eshbaugh and Bob Stevens.

Plans are now in effect for the pool to be opened three hours a day. Tentative hours fall from 2:00 to 5:00.

Montgomery feels that with good use of the pool and enthusiastic participation of the student body, many possibilities may be opened.

There looms a chance that the pool could be opened every day of the week.

In the past a swimming team has been formed on the campus. The feeling is that there are enough qualified swimmers to reorganize a team.

Interested students are urged to take part in the life saving courses which will be taught later in the spring.

Dependent upon student participation more of these activities could develop.

The pool opens to everyone. Montgomery appeals to the students to show interest, thus providing the possibilities of many worthwhile swimming activities. He stated that this pool represents one of the finest of its kind in this state and only through student participation can full advantage be taken.

Students have been requested to bring forth any ideas on the pool which they feel will be of assistance to the program. These ideas may be given either to Montgomery or the student assistants.

Linksters to Open With Hurricanes

PC's golfers make hurried preparation for their opener on March 18, against Furman.

The linksters work under the direction of Dr. John Stevenson.

Those boys who will be returning for the Blue Hose squad are Max Clyburn (Captain), Hexie MacDonald, Frank Sells, and Logan Porter.

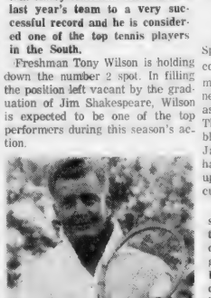
Backing these veterans are newcomers Kenneth Acker, Allen Pitts, Owen Ravenel, C. J. Ray, and Robert Saveraance.

The Hose golfers will meet teams from Georgia, South Carolina, and North Carolina, including Woffrd, The Citadel, University of South Carolina, Mercer, and Belmont Abbey.In addition to these matches, they will also participate in the State Golf Tournament in Hampton.

Netmen Florida Bound As Rugged Season Opens

The PC tennis team will be the envy of the entire student body during the coming week. The Blue Hose will leave Saturday afternoon for an entire week in Sunny Florida.

On the first trip of the season, the team will clash with three powerful Florida teams. Monday will find the locals meeting Florida State University in Tallahassee. The team then travels to Gainesville and a match with the University of Florida on Wednesday.



The highlight of the trip comes on Friday when the Blue Hose netmen encounter the very powerful team from the University of Miami at Coral Gables. Miami is rated as the top team in the nation in the preseason polls. The last two seasons have found the Miami team compiling a perfect record and they possibly will be the toughest opponent that the Blue Hose face this season. Miami is led by the one-two combination of John Skogstead and Roger McCormick.

The Blue Hose will be expected to make a strong showing on the Florida trip regardless of the fact that they have had little practice because of the continuous problem of bad weather.

Coach Leighton is taking a 10-man squad in hopes of returning from Florida with a perfect record.

In the pre-season lineup, the number 1 position is filled by captain Harry Hoffman. Hoffman led last year's team to a very successful record and he is considered one of the top tennis players in the South.

Freshman Tony Wilson is holding down the number 2 spot. In filling the position left vacant by the graduation of Jim Shakespeare, Wilson is expected to be one of the top performers during this season's action.

COACH LEIGHTON

Tom Elliott is at present in the number 3 position but is followed closely by Greenslade. Beansy Frampton, Bill Stone, and Ed Caviness round out the top 7 players.

Leland Vaughn and Jerry Chitty find the going rough as they warm up for the baseball season. The Blue Hoses's first game will be at home against Catawba, Wednesday, March 16.

Coaches Moan to Sad Tune As Backfield Presents Woes

By SONNY DUBOSE

When will it end? Maybe never! Spring practice has almost been completely stopped by the weatherman, and thus far the outlook for next year's football squad is almost as black as the weather picture. The squad this spring hardly resembles the Tangerine Bowl team of January. The graduating seniors have left monstrous gaps in the lineups—gaps which will be very difficult to fill by next fall.

The quarterback position presents a major problem as both the number one and number two quarterbacks of last year are gone. Sophomore Joe Nixon and Bobby Joiner are being drilled daily, as Coach Jones hopes to have them ready for the opener next season.

The halfback situation is almost as bad as the quarterback position. However, the Hose have two players at this position in Billy Benton and Ronnie Hampton. Hampton was the leading ground gainer for the Hose in the bowl game against Middle Tennessee. There is the problem of depth at halfback and this lack of depth will have to be eliminated for a successful attack.

The fullback spot is the only strong position in the backfield. With all of last year's fullbacks returning, the Hose have power, speed, and depth.

The line seems to be in better shape than the backfield, with the ends, guards, and tackles as the strongest points. The only weak spot in the line seems to be the center position. If this hole is plugged next year's line could equal the line of the past season.

The Hose squad of next season may not be as bad as some people think. If the newcomers and the old hands of last year can come through, Coach Jones and his staff can mold a team which will have plenty of surprises for the opponents and thrills for the spectators.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

Mike Schneider learns of the opportunities in the U. S. Navy as two tiny tots sample the ice cream in the Canteen.

Canteen Caters to Student; Record Albums Next

The PC Canteen, under the management of L. V. Powell, is striving to meet the needs of the students. In the past few months, the stock has been increased as new merchandise, which the students have requested, has been added. "Our motto," says Mr. Powell, "is 'If the student wants something, get it for him'."

As a result, the Canteen has grown into a College Store. For example, a collection of thirty-tix different record albums, which will be offered at the popular price, is expected within the near future. This will be in addition to the PC Choir Album which is being sold at below the retail price.

Besides the addition of new items, the Canteen is growing by increasing the articles already in stock. The supply of cosmetics has doubled, and almost three times as many brands of pipe tobacco are now being sold. A number of new paper-back books has been ordered, ranging from Sam Jonson to Charlie Weaver.

The students have also played a big part in the growth of the Canteen. Without their aid, the goal of cleanliness and service could not have been reached. Their suggestions of and acceptance of new articles is a must if the Canteen is to continue to grow and if the motto of the Canteen is to be carried out.

Econ. Club Visits Bank Wednesday

The Business Economic Association of Presbyterian College will hold its first regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, March 16, at 7:30 p. m. at M. S. Bailey and Son, Bankers. The speaker will be James Von Hollen, vice-president of the bank. He will conduct a tour of the bank, explaining the various functions of the different departments. Several members will be at the Douglas House at 7:15 p. m. with cars for anyone who will need a ride.

Flying Saucers?

Several PC students spotted a fiery object in the sky last Monday night. This cigar-shaped object had a long flaming tail and traveled in a southward direction.

A space scientist reporting to the "Charlotte Observer," said that it probably was the dissolution of Russia's Lunic III. If it wasn't, "it's a remarkable coincidence," he stated.

He also said that since people spotted it from Lake Erie to Key West that it wasn't someone seeing things, and if it was a meteor it would have to be a rather large one for the distance it covered.

ROTC Releases Student Promotions

Forty-one Prsebyterian College ROTC cadets were involved in promotions and re-assignments, according to a release by the PC Military Department this week. Headlining the list was the promotion of Cadet Major Alva V. Hardin to Cadet Colonel, of Cadet Captain Robert Waters to Lieutenant Colonel, and of Captain Cliff Stovall to Cadet Major.

Those promoted to Cadet Captain included:

Cadet 1st Lt. James L. Bennett, Cadet 1st Lt. Donald L. Denning, Cadet 1st Lt. Sidney M. Faress, Cadet 1st Lt. Jesse F. Johnston, Jr., Cadet 1st Lt. Carl I. Latham, Jr., Cadet 1st Lt. John V. Workman, and Cadet 2nd Lt. Robert A. Brown.

Promotions to Cadet First Lieutenant are:

Cadet 2nd Lt. William P. Beckman, Jr., Cadet 2nd Lt. William C. Dobbins, Cadet 2nd Lt. Robert E. Elmore, Cadet 2nd Lt. Carn N. Gibson, and Cadet 2nd Lt. Robert G. Jobson.

Also Cadet 2nd Lt. David Magee, Cadet 2nd Lt. Eugene L. McKethan, Cadet 2nd Lt. William S. Norman, Cadet 2nd Lt. Richard W. Rhymer, and Cadet 2nd Lt. Mathew W. Smith.

Promoted to Cadet Second Lieutenant are:

Cadet M|Sgt. William W. Francis, Cadet M|Sgt. Roscoe Lindsay, Jr., Cadet M|Sgt. Charles M. Malpass, Cadet M|Sgt. Edward W. Mayfield, Cadet M|Sgt. Claude A. Vaughan, Jr., and Cadet M|Sgt. Williamson N. Wallace.

SFC Marion B. Lee, Jr., was promoted to Cadet Master Sergeant, while Corporal David L. Waters was named Cadet Sergeant.

Some seventeen cadets were affected in an organization revamping and re-assigned to various tasks throughout the battle group.

Editor Picks

Top Ten News Stories

Ten stories are seen by ex-editor Evin Varner as the top events reported in the pages of The Blue Stocking during the year of his editorship.

The first of the announcement on February 20, 1959, of the new 30-hour program with areas of concentration leading to degrees at PC, doing away with the old major-minor system.

The March 13, 1959, announcement of the reviving of Sigma Kappa Alpha as the honorary scholastic fraternity on campus. The first members were tapped the next week.

April 24, 1959, was the date that the new Dormitory Proctor system was formulated after extensive efforts from Blue Key honorary leadership fraternity.

A Big-Name Band for PC! That was the cry on October 23, 1959, when the Glenn Miller-Ray McKinley Band was secured for the Military Ball through the efforts of the Scabbard and Blade and IFC.

"PC accepts bid to Tangerine Bowl" the banner head over page one read on October 30, 1959, as plans were made for the Southern Trek against Middle Tennessee State that made Presbyterian one of the most-talked-about schools in the South.

A new proposal for Religious Emphasis Week proposed by the SCA was adopted by the faculty in November of 1959.

Probably the biggest news story of the year was the announcement of the new Revised Class Schedule with elimination of morning ROTC drills.

Rounding out the remaining of the ten top stories was the consistently winning of the Blue Hose Gridiron, annual Rush Week and pledging for PC's six Greek fraternities and the most successful Parents Day held to date.

Honorary Degrees

(Continued from page one)

sity in 1933. As an active churchman, this PC alumnus is on the board of trustees of New York's West Park Presbyterian Church and is a past president of the Council of Presbyterian Men in the Presbytery of New York.

The Rev. Allen McSween has been pastor of Greenboro's Starmount Church since 1953 and has been a leader in the Presbyterian youth program throughout his ministry. He currently serves on the board of education of the Presbyterian US General Assembly and is a former trustee of Presbyterian Junior College. He was a chaplain for four years in World War II. After graduation from Presbyterian College in 1938, he received his bachelor of divinity degree from Union Theological Seminary in Richmond in 1941. Before going to Greensboro, he held pastorates in Forest City and Lincolnton, N. C.

Howell, the fourth honorary degree recipient, serves as assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Atlanta.

Stravinsky

(Continued from page one)

father, Igor Stravinsky.

Soulima Stravinsky, always interested in teaching, has been a permanent member of the music faculty of the University of Illinois since 1950. His functions as a teacher, however, have not interrupted his activities as a concert pianist. In 1956-57 he toured Europe and North Africa, appearing with various symphony orchestras as well as in recitals, radio and television programs in England, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Austria, Spain, Switzerland, and Algeria.

Sophomore Academic Names New Members

The Sophomore Academic Honor Society announces its new members for the fall semester of 1959. They are: Jean McDaniel (Avg. 3.47), Ted Hentz (3.50), Sanders Read (3.79), and Bill Ogden (3.65).

The society is a project of the PC chapter of the Blue Key, and has as its objective the recognition of academic achievement among the members of the Sophomore class. Requirements for eligibility include enrollment at Presbyterian College for at least three semesters, a grade point ratio of 2.4 or better, and evidence of leadership and character.

REW

(Continued from page one)

know Christianity is worth following?", he surmised, "we can't, except by following!"

Four seminar classes held during the two-day period were "well-attended," according to announcement last night by Dick Wood, SCA president.

In his seminar group, Rev. William Stevenson of Tryon, N. C., discussed "How Does God Speak To Me." Talk centered on the Bible, how it can speak to the individual and the spirit with which one should read the Bible.

Rev. Glenn Dorris, in an open question-and-answer seminar, led his groups to discuss Christianity in Democracy. He spoke of religious apathetic individuals who he called "Ethical Seculars."

"The Christian in the Family" was the topic of Chaplain O. Z. White's seminars. He enumerated the qualifications that must be achieved before marriage.

Rev. Lawrence Stell asked his seminars, "What is Real Christianity? There is nothing without Faith," he said. "Faith is not believing in spite of evidence," Stell concluded, "it is believing in spite of the consequences."

Autry Camera W... For Organizatio...

Wherever the flash b... there you will find Roy ... freshman from Dunwoody ... has made himself indispen... the use of his camera. A... pictures for both the Pa... the Blue Stocking regular... as occasional pictures for ... sack and Greenville New... appointed official photogr... the ROTC unit.

Majoring in chemistry h...

ROY AUTRY

Roy, for he has had to mak... the equipment that is fou... makeshift dark room.

Working in the dark ro... thankless job. Roy deser... thanks of the entire stud... for his tireless efforts ... this campus more "picture...

Vance Remains ... Head of Trustee...

Robert M. Vance, Clinto... and industrialist, has been ... ed to his third term as ... of the Presbyterian Colleg... of trustees.

Fellow trustees named ... serve for another year at ... of their annual spring meet... on the campus Tuesday.

They also elected Georg... Atlanta businessman, as v... man succeeding the Rev. ... Phillips of Decatur, Ga.; ... elected J. Ferdinand Jacob... ton advertising executive, ... other term as secretary ... board.

Vance is president of M. S... and Son, Bankers, and of ... ton-Lydia Cotton Mills. Jacob... the Jacobs List, religious ... ing firm.

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday and Tuesday
March 14-15
The 3rd Voice
Edmond O'Brien, Julie Lo... Laraine Day

Wed. - Thur. - Fri. - ...
March 16-17-18-19
The Big Fisherman
The Story of Simon Peter ...
With Howard Keel, Susan ... John Saxon, Martha Hy...

There's Better Service at Joe's Esso Service
Try Our Soda Fountain
Cars Greased in the Moto-Sway Way

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

YOUNG'S GULF STATION
Road Service - Accessories
Tires - Tubes
N. Broad St. Phone 1515

WPCC
Your Music and News Station
Clinton, S. C.

GALLMAN'S BARBER SHOP
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
ON THE SQUARE

Patronize Your Advertisers

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII | Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., March 18, 1960 | No. 18

MAJOR GENERAL CLARKE

JAMES H. WEBB

International Relations Club Presents Outstanding Speakers

• Annual Event Opens Monday

The International Relations Club has designated the week of March 21 through 25 as International Relations Week. Featured during the IR Week will be Mr. James H. Webb, Jr., and Major General Christian H. Clarke, Jr.

Mr. Webb is an Inter-American Affairs specialist on Latin America, having spent 12 years in Central and South America as Public Affairs and Cultural Affairs Officer for the Department of State and the United States Information Agency. Mr. Webb, a graduate of the University of Virginia, Tulane, and George Washington University, has written on the staff of the New York Times and for Americas, the official publication of the Organization of American States, and for Bulletin, the Pan-American Union Publication.

While here, Mr. Webb will give the chapel address on Monday, March 21, on the subject, "Two Centuries of Inter - American Thought." Later Mr. Webb will speak to the 11:00 International Law Class in the chapel on the subject, "Aspects of Intervention as a Concept of International Law With Respect to the United States and Latin America." All members of the student body that wish to attend may do so. At 8:00 p .m., under the auspices of the IRC, Mr. Webb will lead a discussion on Latin America. This meeting will be held in the Douglas House Meeting Room and is open to all members of the student body.

Major General Clarke, Command ing General of Fort Jackson, has had extensive service as an Infantry Officer in all parts of the nation as well as in Washington on the General Staff. During the invasion of Normandy in World War II, he commanded a battalion of the 38th Infantry Regiment, 90th Division throughout the fighting in France across the beaches. He later became

(Continued on page four)

Scabbard and Blade Taps New Members

Company K of the 10th Regiment of the Scabbard and Blade National Honorary Military Fraternity held a tapping service during the drill period Thursday to take in junior members.

The new members taken into the organization are: Harrison Clayton of Marietta, Ga.; Bill Sease of Clinton; Tom Collins of Pageland; Paul Ard of Atlanta; Marion Lee of Hemingway; and Tommy Middleton of Jefferson.

Eco. Club Features Account Executive

The Business Economic Association of Presbyterian College will hold its second regular monthly meeting on Thursday, March 24, at 3:30 p. m. in room 107 Neville Hall. The speaker will be Mr. L. Wilson Foster, Account Executive, with Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner, and Smith. His lecture will be concerned with transactions on the stock exchange and other areas and will be followed by a student discussion.

All business and economic majors are urged to attend this meeting and the meeting of the BEA to be held on Thursday, April 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the same room. This meeting will be concerned with the election of officers for the coming school year and changes in the constitution and by-laws.

Senior Placement

Seniors contact Bob Bean or Charles Howard Monday, Wednesday or Friday 10:00-11:00 in the canteen for appointments for job placement interviews.

March 22—Craftsman Printing Co.

March 23—Springs Cotton Mills.

ppa Alpha Elects ilkes As Prexy

Kappa Alpha Order social ... nity recently held elections for ... ers for the coming year.

... y Wilkes, a rising senior from ... anburg, was elected to succeed ... Donaldson as president of the ... r. He will be assisted by Sam ... of Charlotte, who replaces ... Crandall, retiring vice-presi... Douglas McDougald of Ander... will take over the secretariat ... from Tom Wise. Chosen to ... as representative to the Inter... nity Council was Billy Betch... Hailing from Summerton, he ... in the shoes of Harvey Witt...

... remaining officers will be ap... d by Wilkes in the near future. ... lation of officers will take ... sometime in April.

aulkner, Sells, Lowry hosen for SCA Offices

... Faulkner, Frank Sells, and ... owry emerged as the winners ... Student Christian Association ... ns held last Monday to name ... vice-president, secretary, and ... rer for the school term 1960-... an election-day turnout of lit... er half of the student body at ... lls a run-off resulted since ... winner had only one challen... The total official number of ... cast was 259.

... ted vice-president was Dick ... er, a rising senior from Hen... , N. C.. He is a member of ... ppa Phi fraternity, and is a ... president of that organization. ... eated Don Dunlap of Char...

Frank Sells, a rising junior from Johnson City, Tenn., was elected secretary over Christine Wilson. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and has been active in the Westminster Fellowship since coming to Presbyterian College. Mr. Sells also is Custodian of the Presbyterian College Choir.

The treasurer of the SCA for the coming year will be Jim Lowry, a rising junior from Great Falls, who won out over Donald Kay. He is an officer in the Ministerial Club and treasurer of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity. For the past two years he has been Student Christian Association Calendar Chairman.

...ly-elected SCA officers Dick Faulkner, Frank Sells, Bob Smith and Jimmy Lowry discuss plans for the coming year.

Weersing To Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon

• Set for June 5

The Rev. Marc C. Weersing, pastor of the Spartanburg First Presbyterian Church, will preach the baccalaureate sermon on June 5 as part of Presbyterian College's 1960 commencement exercises.

President Marshall W. Brown in making the announcement today, pointed out that Dr. Weersing is one of the outstanding ministers of the state and a trustee of Presbyterian College.

The 79th commencement program at PC will feature the Sunday morning baccalaureate sermon of June 5 and the final graduation exercises on Monday, June 6. President Brown said he will announce the name of the commencement speaker in the near future.

Dr. Weersing, a trustee of PC for the past four years, has served as pastor of the Spartanburg First Church since 1956. He went to Spartanburg after ten years in the pulpit of the Central Presbyterian Church of Jackson, Miss. Prior to that he had been pastor of the Elberton (Ga.) Church from 1938 to 1942 and then the Decatur (Ga.) Oakhurst Presbyterian Church until 1946.

A native of Grand Rapids, Mich., Weersing received his BA degree from Calvin Theological Seminary and earned his Master of Theology from Columbia University in 1938.

Dr. Weersing has been an active leader on both state synod and General Assembly level, especially in the field of world missions, and he is a popular speaker at church conferences.

Blue Sock Editor Plagued by Disease

According to an Associated Press News Bulletin dated March 13, Martin Chitty, editor of The Blue Stocking, weekly newspaper of Presbyterian College, is at home after a severe attack of an unknown disease. The bulletin was received in the Blue Stocking office located on the second floor of Douglas House by means of the news service teletype machine .

It was announced by acting editor Graham Edmunds, who in official capacity is managing editor of said publication, that Allen Freeman, a rising sophomore from Atlanta and copy boy for the campus-wide newspaper, tore the news release from the machine while it was still running and handed it to the editorial board for further study.

Mr. Chitty, who thought last week that he was taking a bad cold, left the campus Saturday in a state of ill health and is presently at his home in Denmark, S. C.

It is not known exactly what the All-American candidate type editor has but it is believed that he managed to capture a case of glandular

(Continued on page four)

Captain Hodges briefs Joe Hardin, Battle Group Commander, on plans for next week's Federal Inspection.

Military Department Plans For Annual Inspection

On Thursday of next week, March 24, the PC corps of cadets will have its annual Federal Inspection. The inspection will begin at 8 a. m. in the Military Department classrooms. These inspections will be to evaluate the training procedures. All cadets are required to year Class A uniforms throughout the day.

The drill period in the afternoon will be divided into two parts. The first hour by an open ranks inspection of corps by the visiting officials. The cadets will be inspected on general appearance, neatness, and alertness. The second hour of drill will feature a mass battle group parade on the football field. The parade, led by battle group commander, Cadet Major Alva V. Hardin, will be reviewed by the visiting dignitaries.

Lt. Col. W. W. Barnett, Jr., PMS&T, stated that the public is cordially invited to observe this inspection.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Our Thanks

We extend our thanks to the one responsible for the placing of the sign in the canteen setting up rules concerning campaign posters to be followed by future nominees. We hope that this will lead to more equal elections without discouraging active campaigning among candidates.

An Observation

It should be noted that the hole located in front of Belk Auditorium and extending two-thirds of the distance across the street, was dug some seven months ago and has not been filled in and paved to this day. We have observed no one using this obstruction for purposes of construction for the past six months and therefore we feel that there is no reason for its dark depths. At present, it is exactly four inches deep and if anyone misses his little foreign car, he might look in the cavern for it.

Why Coalition

It is no secret to any PC student that in practically every election that is held, there is a coalition formed. Too often is the case that this group is formed for the purpose of defeating the best qualified candidate.

Fraternities are naturally the ones involved in this bloc voting. They bargain with one another for campus offices. The old maxim: "an eye for an eye. . ." is antequated as the trading of offices is medieval also. Bargaining for positions is about as childish as are boys trading a frog for a twenty-seven-inch piece of string belonging to another, and as ridiculous as one diplomat's saying to another: "I'll give you the Cuban crisis for the Israeli border dispute."

Some vote with the coalition because they have fraternity spirit and want to help out their organization. But there are others who typify studpidity—they try to pull a fast one, thinking that an upset would be sneaky. They think they're smart and being funny. Their stupidity is exemplified when the candidate for whom they voted gets elected and fails to do his job, which ends in his ridicule.

This is spring and it's the season for elections. These elections are for offices in activities and the fraternities are not connected with these activities in any way. Upon the officers elected rests the future of the student organizations; and since these organizations are for the students' benefit, we should think of the future. We should vote for one not because he has a good personality or because he is a member of a certain fraternity, but we should elect him for his qualifications.

Let us not be greedy and try to get all the offices for our fraternity, but let us think of the student body as a whole.

If one is not capable of deciding who to vote for himself, and if he has to have someone tell him to vote for, we suggest that he not vote.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

SIGMA NU

The brotherhood received a report from the pledges as to the party that will be held this weekend. Fourteen will not be too many! We hope that Pledge President Lawton Rice will quickly recover from the injury sustained in the intramural tourney.

The pledges put the finishing touches on their party. Good luck, profains.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Psi Chapter was honored to have as its guest Brother Ted Freeman, President of the Alumni Association, at its weekly meeting. Following the get-together, Brother Freeman showed an educational film.

Plans were discussed for the annual Black and White Ball to be held in Raleigh on April 9.

Congratulations were extended to Brother Penn Neil on his recent pinning of Miss Lucretia Siewers.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Congratulations are extended to Paul Ard on his recent pinning of Miss Susan Foster and likewise to Harrison Clayton on pinning Miss Judy Dunston.

Plans were made for PiKA weekend in April and for a stag supper in the near future. Congratulations to the basketball team on their victory over the KA's last night.

KAPPA ALPHA

Initiated into the brotherhood of Beta Pi Chapter on Thursday night were Ed Loring, Medford Rockstroh, and Skip Saverance. Plans were made for a party with the Sigs on Friday night of Greek Week. After much anticipation Old South finally arrived . . .

PI KAPPA PHI

The Pi Kapps initiated Dessie Durden of Columbia, into the brotherhood last night. Wednesday, the two rooms in Neville were repapered. The brothers officially "presented" the pledges with their paddles at the meeting Tuesday. We also want to thank Brothers Bill McElderry and Dick Faulkner for their extra work with the Pi Kappa chapters at Wofford and Furman.

My Neighbors

"Arrest that woman for petit larceny...she stole my husband!"

A PROFESSOR is a man whose job it is to tell students how to solve the problems of life which he himself has tried to avoid by becoming a professor.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR — MARTIN CHITTY
MANAGING EDITOR — GRAHAM EDMUNDS
Associate Editor — John Craig
Sports Editor — Bob Stevens
Feature Editor — Howard Gordon
Copy Editor — Allen Freeman
News Editor — Murray White
News Director — John Elrod
Intramural Sports Editor — Jerry Chitty
News Staff — Don Kay, Dick Curnow, Don Lohman, Fred Mead Robert Kendall, Dave Stricklin, Mike Saunders, Bill Bartee, Gerald Pitts, and Christine Wilson.
Business Manager — Bob Smith
Assistant Business Manager — Marshall Jones
Circulation Managers — Ted Heniz, Charles Copley
Photographer — Roy Autry
Typists — Julia Gray, Gay Maddox, Christine Wilson

Looking From Chimney Height At the Facu

The college professor is undoubtedly a strange breed. This might because they deal with even a stranger breed, the college student. The week we will look at two of these things called professors. These satires were written by two people that would know best what they talking about. They are business majors. (names withheld for obvious reasons, for you know how democratic professors are).

All kidding aside, if it were not for the fine men we have at this we would not be getting the fine education that is made available by the dedication. (logical) When college days are through we won't remember too much about the dormitory or some of the courses we took, but lives will be the producs of these men.

This set of satires is printed so you can compare these two men see where in their greatness lies.

As I entered the Administration building, I got a very odd feeling for this was the beginning of my days as a busines major. I started as a man of the cloth, but the fourth semester Bible course was too much

I found an arrow with the word Business written over it and followed as good as I could. Some poor soul told me by all means to get Dr. Rekab and so I did. I really do not know what hit me, for the next thing I remember is walking back to the dorm and looking at my card only to find out I was signed up for Accounting I and II, Business Law, and some form of English course. Who cares, my first big step was complete.

My expectations were high as I bounced up the side steps of Jacobs Hall, and quickly ducked into the rear classroom. Entering, I noticed some funny little tables arranged in linear fashion and at once my mind flashed back to the third grade. I located an out-of-the-way seat, took my place, and found myself facing an odd-looking little cloud of smoke. I decided to likewise burn incense to the Great god Nicotine. As I lighted up, a voice came out of the smoke saying, "Smoke when I smoke," and at once a pipe hit the table. Very disgruntled, I tossed one and one-half cents out the window.

"Today," said Dr. Rekab, "we shall study the ledger." "Well, when I got my first job, I had to change trains twice to get there, etc., etc." "Are there any questions on the ledger?"

"If not," he continued, "the Journal is another very important part of accounting records." . . . "right over there in Greenwood, I saw him lose and make 20 million dollars in one day . . . Oh, Yeah, true story." "Are there any questions on the journal . . . do you have a question?"

"Dr. Rekab," I said, "just what is a Journal?"

"Broadly speaking, it is a . . . Oh, no . . . . read your book . . . it's right there, black and white . . . that is meat and bread."

Finally the class was over and Dr. R. slothfully eased into a hole in the wall on the other side of the room. I sat there, looking over my notes and discovered that I had just visited Greenwood, Newberry, and Chicago . . . made 5 million dollars on income tax returns . . . held 25 different jobs . . . had taught in ten different schools . . . and was three places the same summer . . . I gathered up my $3.95 practice set and my $7.00 textbook and ambled toward the dorm. In spite of it all my spirits were high for my decision to get a BS (Bachelor of Stories) had been a wise one, for now I would be able to take over the world . . . a Rekab product!!!

Everyone was seated and a nervous calm settled over the class as the eight o'clock bell rang. At this precise moment, the door burst open and into the Ivory Tow thrashed Professor Gaylen in all spastic glory and grandeur. Throwing his academic preparations on the day on the lactern, he proceeded, with wild gyrating motions, to remove his overcoat and derby, then called the roll expressing his elucidations as to the whereabouts of certain students on the first day of class, all of which were careful and discreetly contrived from his own witty brain.

"Gentlemen, and I use the term loosely, I am professor Gaylen A.B., B.S., Ph.D. and will be addressed as such. For those of you who have been unfortunate enough to have never taken a course under me, I will tell you something of myself, my policies and procedures. First, and of utmost importance, I am a graduate of Cow Palace A&M."

Upon uttering this sentence, Professor Gaylen faced northwest, bowed three times with consecrated reverence. Amid shouts and laughter of students could be detected a strange chanting, obviously in an unknown tongue, though strangely enough, one could almost ascertain the sounds emitting from Professor Gaylen to be the tune of a popular song, which sounded vaguely similar to Tiger Rag.

Completely oblivious to the laughter, which was a result of Professor Gaylen's paying homage to the Holy Place, he continued, "We will have forty quizzes this semester, and one exam. Let me remind you that I didn't sign up for this course, you did. Therefore, I want no griping about tests. If you do, the only consolation you will get from me is the sound of the world's smallest phonograph playing 'My Heart Bleeds For You.' To continue, the only outside work which I will demand is that each Saturday, all of you will be required to tune in on your wireless and listen to Frank's subsidized animals, pardon me, atheletes defeat opponents."

At this point Professor Gaylen again performed his ritual.

"Some Saturdays I will depart my Fisher body, and give them personal support. However, even we don't meet class, you are responsible for the day's content and will be liable for test questions on it. In view of this, I suggest you all listen. Furthermore, at the end of each five weeks, you will have to turn in on a three by five card your parallel listening. On this your name, course number, name of contest, score, and a short summary on the front and back."

Professor Gaylen, at this point had worked himself into a high state of excitement, and in his confusion, packed the lit end of his cigarette. "This wouldn't have happened," he explained, "if farmers didn't raise tobacco, and farmers wouldn't raise tobacco."

(Continued on page four)

iKAs Leading Intramural Play s Tourney Enters Second Round

• Raiders Drop Out

he 1960 tournament is in full swing and the thrills are e a dozen. This year's tournament, as expected, is one e best ever witnessed at Presbyterian. Games have ght many celebrities to the scene, such as Mr. and Mrs. Thackston and Dr. Brown.

first round games, witnessed appa Alpha downing a cold Nu five, 45-36. Bobby Joiner ave Magee paced Kappa Al- ushing through 16 and 12, re- riely. "Flash" Gordon led the rious Sigma Nu's with 17. ond game of the night's twin matched the presently unde- Pi Kappa Alpha five, facing Rakestraw's Raiders. The alf ended with the Raiders by a 17-15 margin. The Pi- ame on to prove themselves in t frame to win a 41-29 affair. hrew nine through the hoop losing Raiders while Mickey econd round of 60's big four acked onlookers.

first game saw Sigma Nu aiders. Leland Vaughn and cIntosh snaked 14 and 12, re- for the victors. John Gib- d Bob Collins sank 8 apiece losing Raiders. The second saw the first round winners A, putting on steam in the sec- lf, left the record unblemish- they defeated a hustling KA team 41-38. Bobby Joiner led the losers bucketing 15 for the KA's. Bill Hill and Mickey Flynn sank 17 each for PiKA.

The windup of this season's Intramural basketball tourney will conclude depending on the outcome of the game to be played next week. The Raiders, eliminated after two hard-fought defeats, narrows the tourney's teams down to three. Monday night's game between KA and Sigma Nu will determine the opponent for PiKA. Considering the winner of Monday night's game defeats PiKA Tuesday night, a remaining game would have to be played, due to the double elimination rule. This being the case, the winner of the following night's game would be the tourney victors.

The talent is here and anything may happen, so we urge everyone to back his favorite five.

All teams wishing to enter a softball team in this year's Intramural League are requested to have a roster in by March 25. Rosters will be turned in to Mr. Montgomery, Jerry Chitty or Pat Griffin. Also, those who wish to participate in tennis this spring, sign the rosters on the bulletin board in the Game Room of Douglas House by March 23.

un... f the Hose

Bob Stevens, Sports Editor

his sports staff comes forth with its selection of a ma- llege All-American Basketball Quintet. This has been d year for basketball and the outstanding players are ers.

ding out A-A team are two of the most outstanding basketeers in tory of the game: Jerry West and Oscar Robertson. West led the irginians to the finals of the Regional NCAA Playoffs. West and ny went down to defeat at the hands of NYU, which will play in the al Finals in Kansas City.

fabulous "Big O" has kept Cincinnati the number one or two team in the nation the entire season. Robertson combines excellent ding and ball handling with a fantastic eye to literally dazzle the nts.

er Kaiser, Georgia Tech star, lands a berth on the team after Tech to a successful season and two wins over Kentucky.

homore Jerry Lucas holds down the fourth position after finishn season with a scoring average of over 25. Lucas is an expert on nding out the quintet is the defending champion California Golden Darrall Imhoff. A 6'-10" senior who has done a great deal to keep ars in contention for the number one spot in the nation, his consistrounding and mixture of shots have made him a definite choice for erican honors.

cking ahead to the big game of the NCAA semi-finals on Friday We pick the Bears to defeat Robertson and Cincinnati.

it isn't snow, it's rain." This is the comment of many of our baseayers. The weather has forced two games to be called off this week, er, a full schedule is planned for next week. Work is developing on ield and it should be in shape for the encounters next week.

have the potential of a good baseball team—so come on down and t your team at home games.

's netmen keep up that winning tradition—as they defeated two of a's teams to date.

Intramural tournament is coming to a close. Two games were Monday night. This action saw the KA's defeat the Sigma Nu's e Pika's take a win over the Raiders. More good action expected.

ns are being made by the Intramural council for a full schedule of sports.

swimming pool opened on Wednesday—looks cold but inviting. ool is in fine shape and again we ask the participation of the stuin pool activities so that we might enlarge our present program. A le as to when the pool is available has been posted in the dining y pool manager, Rohe Eshbaugh. "Go down and take a dip, fellas." gratulations to Mickey Long. Mickey made the All-Tournament in the Greenville Textile Tournament last week.

WPCC
Our Music and News Station
Clinton, S. C.

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night"

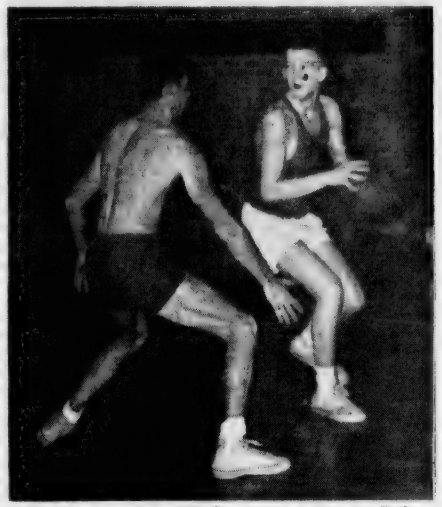
Relays Highlight Cinder Schedule

Participation in three track relays dominates the 1960 Presbyterian College cinder schedule announced today by Athletic Director Frank Jones.

With bad weather having forced cancellation of a meet slated against Catawba this Saturday, the Blue Hose have only two dual engagements set for this spring. One is a night affair against Furman here on April 6.

Coach Vic Spooner, hard pushed to find practice time amid prevailing conditions of the past three weeks will send his PC track squad into this 1960 schedule:

March 26 — Florida Relays at Gainesville; April 6—Furman at Clinton (night); 14—High Point at Clinton; 16—Piedmont Relays at Greenville; 30—High Point Relays at High Point, N. C.; May 6-7—State Track Meet at Columbia.



Rifle Team Ready For State Match

Regular matches of the Rifle Team have been brought to a close and all that remains is the state match to be held on May 7.

The Blue Stocks brought up the rear in the Western Carolina Conference Match, losing to Davidson by 11 points, to Wofford by 5, and to Furman by 4 points. The team however, is especially proud of Matthew Smith who won third place in the conference with a 279.6 yearly average.

The season total now stands at 14 wins against 13 losses. Only three of the losses were by a difference of over 11 points.

Sergeant McCarson pointed out that Ben M. Solius a new member from the University of Virginia, is expected to strengthen the team.

Sigma Nu forward Leland Vaughan prepares to drive past Raider "Hoot" Gibson in Big Four Intramural Tournament action.

Cancelations Forced; Opening Game Here Wed.

• Good Season Sought

The unseasonable weather, throwing the first curve ball of the year across the Presbytreian College plate, has caused postponement of the scheduled baseball opener against Catawba here Wednesday and the second game against Belmont Abbey on Saturday.

This means Coach Clyde Ehrhardt is pushing his curtain-raiser back until the following Wednesday, when Erskine invades Clinton. Ehrhardt explains:

"The snow caught us in the middle of trying to get our infield into shape, and the whole thing is one big glob now. It's impossible to play on."

Although he has had little opportunity for pre-season workouts, Coach Ehrhardt hopes to field a better baseball team this season. Improved battery work on and behind the plate and better hitting are expected to make the difference.

If Jerry Chitty of Olar, fills the need at first base, the PC infield also may shape up well. It already has three experineced players in Wayne Godfrey of Fort Mill, at second base, and Bill Sease of Clinton, at third, and Harold Raeford of Fayetteville, N. C., at shortstop.

These latter three are among the squad's top hitters, with Raeford the defending champion on the basis of his .390 average of last year.

The return of Ken Gardner of Greenville, to the mound corps adds strength to last year's group which includes Bill Dobbins of Joanna, Harvey Blanchard of Fayetteville, N. C., and Jimmy Howell of Greer, and Raeford. In addition, there are two likely looking newcomers in Edsel Hiatt of Mt. Airy, N. C., and Paul Love of York.

Sonny DuBose of Sumter, appears to have the inside track to take over catching duties, although he is pressed by Leland Vaughan of Greenville.

Senior Ed Jackson, a two-letter center fielder from Clover, heads the Blue Hose outfield crew. When not pitching, Blanchard and Howell are the number one choices to fill the other positions in left field and right field, respectively.

Presbyterian Netmen Down Two Florida Opponents

By BILL RIPLEY

Presbyterian College Tennis Team defeated Florida State University Monday night in their season opener to the score of 7-2.

The results of singles matches were as follows: Rebel Bellamy, FSU, defeated Harry Hoffman, 6-3, 2-6 6-2; Tony Wilson PC, defeated Gordon Smith, 5-7, 6-2, 6-2; Dave Greenslade, PC, defeated Howard Levy, 6-2, 6-4; Tom Elliott, PC, defeated Eddie Fasula, 3-6, 6-4, 7-5; Beansie Frampton, PC, defeated Buddy McClain, 10-8, 6-8, 10-8; Ed Caviness, PC defeated Alex Sutor, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Frampton, PC, defeated Montana-Lang, 7-5, 6-4; Fry-Morrill Hay, Florida, defeated Caviness-Greenslade, 6-3, 6-4.

On Friday, the PC net men will see action against possibly their toughest opponent University of Miami. The Hose will return home this weekend and will see action next week against Clemson, Dartmouth, and Davidson on their home courts.

Scores of double matches were as follows: Hoffman-Wilson, PC, defeated Bellamy-Smith, 6-3, 6-2; Elliott-Frampton, PC, defeated Fasula-Levy, 6-4, 8-6; McCan-Sutor, FSU, defeated Stone-Caviness, 6-3, 6-2.

In the second game of their Florida tour, the Blue Hose netters handed Florida its first defeat of the season after two victories. The score was 5-4. Although the team split singles, PC rallied to take two out of three doubles.

Tony Wilson, PC, defeated Francisco Montana, 8-6, 6-4; Tom Elliott, PC, defeated Roy Lancy, 6-4, 6-3; Art Surloff, Florida, defeated Dave Greenslade, 6-1, 6-3; Del Moser, Florida, defeated Beansie Frampton, 6-3, 8-4; Ed Caviness, PC, defeated Lynn Fry, 6-3, 6-0. In doubles, Hoffman-Wilson, PC, defeated Shaffer-Surloff, 6-1, 6-3; Elliott-

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
ON THE SQUARE

Reviews

Fine Arts: A Concert And A Variety Show

by EVIN VARNER

Presbyterian College students, over the past ten days, have had an opportunity to see two very outstanding performances of the PC fine arts series and the Community-College concert association series.

Soulima Stravnisky Wednesday night gave a recital program whose difficulty was easily met with ability. Mr. Stravinsky somehow brought forth very good tones from a piano of an unfamiliar make and was several feet shorter than a grand, which an artist usually plays.

In spite of a flawless interpertation of Mozart's Sonata in D major, K.576, the highlight of the program was the exceptional presentation of four Scarlatti sonatas. Fine lyrical moments were heard in Three Movements of Petrushka by the artist's father.

The program was versatile and well balanced. With excellent structural performing, the artist gave the audience a musical lecture on contrasting styles bridging several centuries of music.

A somewhat rude audience reprieved itself by bringing the artist back for two very well-earned encores.

In contrast to the great dignity and masterful technique that Stravinsky displayed in his PC appearance, was the performance last week of the Tuscon, Arizona, Boys Chorus.

To call the event a concert would be a misnomer; variety show would perhaps be more appropriate. With the interjection of slapstick, the Chorus lost its identity as a concertizing group; as performers, Director Eduardo Caso, a showman if nothing else, displayed a group of well-trained young men with a well-developed sense of timing.

The program hit a low point with an ear-drum-piercing display of high notes that were sent "Over The Rainbow" several times too many. The boys displayed a fine blend of young voices in Shubert's "Ave Maria." The high point of the evening was the beautifull-sung Negro Spirituals and the suite of cowboy songs arranged by Director Caso. It was quite apparent that the pint-sized performers felt most at home in the latter group.

A TALK WITH STRAVINSKY: The son of Igor Stravinsky, during his stay on the PC campus, proved to be a gracious, down-to-earth person, as well as an accomplished artist.

A naturalized citizen of the United States, the pianist has been in this country since 1948. At the University of Illinois, he divides his time between teaching 15 private pupils, holding seminars, preparation of several weeks of touring a year, plus the inevitable practicing.

Comenting on his famous father: "Although the environment of music helped, the choice of becoming a musician was my own. "America's musical youth go into teaching today," he observed. "They must eat, and are happier with a permanent position with occasional concertizing."

On music: "You cannot be a civilized man and not enjoy music." And asked what he thought of the current Rock and Roll craze, he replied: "I don't think anything—it is up to this generation to decide the music they want."

Concerning the Cloister in Clintian Dedicated to Minerva

Plinnius to Julius Nase

You had asked me to investigate this monastic settlement and it proved to be of the utmost interest. Located among the tall pines and a quagmire of sand and red substance called clay there are five hundred and thirty-two devoted neophites under the tutelage of some forty-five priests. These are governed by the high priests who reside among their volumes of useless manuscrip's and pecuniary assets. These men seem above the rest and are surrounded by a cloud of indifference.

The Supreme Pontiff, for such the highest priest is called, is often seen wandering around the grounds with his hands behind his back always willing to tell his stories of his vast experience in this world. This Supreme Pontiff has two assistants. These are called Potentates. One of them, Thaextus, (SPQR, ret.), is in charge of the chastisement of the apostate student. The other, Bellus Graethus is the keeper of the cloisters academic chronicle. It is Graethus' duty to insure that only accredited novices remain at the convent.

The teaching priests are of the upmost intellect. These devoted apostles of Minerva, for some reason known only to Zeus, conform to the stupidness of the existing curriculum. I tell you, Julius, it is an unsual group with many unexplainable mannerisms. These are possibly constructed because of the pressures that are placed upon them by the inquisitive mind of the student.

There is one group of priests, that I wish to tell you about, Julius, before I begin with the neophites. These are the priests found in the back of the campus who are in charge of the sacrifices. Dressed in a peculiar garb of white cloaks and a gown of white papyrus they offer to the gods three burnt sacrifices a day. Also found with this group of priests is a sect that is in charge of the temples that dot the grounds. The symbol of their office is often seen. There is no mistaking the mark of their restorative work upon the oldest of the temples. In fact, Julius, it is difficult to discern between the rebuilt and the needed repair.

The young men that are studying in the service of Minerva are indeed a strange group. Their loyalty seems to be divided between Bacchus and the Greeks. There is a small group that is dedicating their lives to a new deity that seems to have forsaken the worship of Minerva and the Empire and have withdrawn from the body of neophites and go their own way. There are those who in the daylight pay token homage to Minerva but at the end of the day they make their way to a small secretive temple that is dedicated to Bacchus. This temple is governed by the lesser gods of Bud, Fal and a new one called The Colt descended from the land of pleasant living. But this is of a different matter, Julius, my friend, so I will close this epistle. If there are futher questions about this interesting cloister, please do not hesitate to ask.

At tu, Julius, destinatus abdura,
Plinnius

IRC Week

(Continued from page one)

Regimental Commander and led it and Germany. After the war he served in General Eisenhower's headquarters during the occupation of Germany. In Korea, he was Chief of Staff of the First US Corps.

There will be a reception at 9:30 a. m. in the Douglas House for General Clarke. It will be attended by Dr. Brown and his staff, the IRF officers, and the ROTC Cadet Staff.

Gaylen

(Continued from page two)

the thirty-second president hadn't subsidized agriculture, they would still be raising cotton. Well, I won't keep you any longer today, since it is the first class. So you can all now proceed to your fraternities and play ball."

As I made my exit from my first clas under Professor Gaylen, comments from fellow students gave rise to a few thoughts. Perhaps a better title fo this course would be "Degradation," 'and the text An Ideal Institution, by Gaylen.

Editor Sick

(Continued from page one)

fever. He is expected to be re from the newspaper professio a period of two to four week

Special doctors from Swede been called in on the case fo sultation and one of them, th able Dr. P. D. Area, said, "E thing is going fine and my ass ates and I expect to make a man out of him." When asked a the dangers concerning glass fever. Dr. Al Cohol said, "It highly infectious disease but highly contagious."

Seniors . . .

WHAT ARE YOU LOOKING FOR IN A CAREER?

- Top Pay
- Security
- Advancement
- Prestige
- Satisfaction

YOU can get all FIVE as an ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE with

Craftsman Printing Company
Charlotte, N. C.
Fastest Growing in Carolina's Largest City

For Personal Interview on Presbyterian Campus
Tuesday, March 22

CONTACT
COL. THACKSTON
DEAN OF STUDENTS

THE EVENT: Grand Prix of Endurance for the Amoco Gold Trophy

THE PLACE: Sebring, Florida

THE DATE: March 26, 1960

COMING UP...

The big day for sports car enthusiasts!

It's the Date of the Year—seeing the sports cars of the world in a day-and-night test of mettle for men and machines at Sebring!

Amoco, as usual, is the sponsor. And powerful, unleaded Amoco-Gas—also as usual—is the sole fuel chosen for the spectacular performance every driver expects to turn in.

Come on down! If you drive, come the smart drivers' way. Stop at Amoco stations en route. Fuel up with premium Amoco-Gas that leaves no lead deposits on plugs, valves or combustion chambers—saves overhaul costs. Or if you use regular, buy American, best of the regulars because it's precision-refined to burn clean.

See you at Sebring!

AMOCO

Economy starts here

Our 50th Anniversary
1910 Famous for Quality 1960

BROADWAY Theatre

Mon., Tues., Wed., Thur., Fri., Sat.
March 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26

WALT DISNEY'S
Toby Tyler
Starring Kevin Corcoran,
Henry Calvin, Gene Sheldon,
Bob Sweeney, Richard Eastham

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., March 25, 1960 No. 19

Alpha Sigma Phi President Don Dunlap accepts the REW attendance trophy from retiring SCA President Dick Wood.—(Autry Photo)

SCA President, Smith Announces New Cabinet

On Wednesday of this week, the SCA officers for 1960-61 selected their cabinet. Replacing Ted Burn in charge of Dorm Discussions is Don Dunlap and John Henderson. Jerry Chitty and Lawton Rice will handle Intramural ports. John Elrod and Gay Maddox ere appointed to direct the SCA hapel programs. Publications for he SCA will be under the auspices f Evin Varner, past Blue Stocking ditor, and Allen Freeman. Assistng Dave Waters on the publicity ommittee for the second year will e Charles Kirkland.

The position of Correspinding Secetary was given to Christine Wilon. Mike Jarrett was designated hairman of the Personal and Camus Affairs committee and will be assisted by Sammy Clayton and lan Pitts. Special speakers for the CA programs will be part of the hristian Faith and Heritage proram handled by Edd Collins, Joe Garvard, and Harold Hope. Billy Hatchet and Bill Bartee will be in harge of Public Relations, while ill Matthews and Ken Davis handle Community Relations. Music for the SCA productions will be supervised by choir members Griffin Helwig and Paul Woodall.

With this larger than ever before cabinet, the Student Christian Association has already begun planning for the coming year. The spring picnic, tentatively set for May 4, will have, among other things, a Fraternity sing with the possibility of intramural points to the winners. Replacing the traditional skits, the singing competition promises to be one of the high spots of the outing.

As a service project, the SCA is planning to sponsor a Blood Donation drive on campus. Bill Matthews and Ken Davis are formulating the plans and there are hopes

(Continued on page four)

Workmen begin the big push for the May 1 completion of Belk Auditorium.

Textile Executive Will Deliver 1960 Commencement Address

• Event of June 6

Dr. Marshall W. Brown, president of the college, announced this week that Dr. Wayne J. Holman, Jr., president of the Chicopee Corporation, New Brunswick, N. J., will be the speaker at the commencement exercises this year.

Dr. Holman, a very prominent textile executive, will address the graduating class and their friends in Belk Auditorium at 11:00 a. m., Monday, the sixth of June.

Chicopee Corporation has been headed by Dr. Holman since 1954, and this year he is celebrating his 20th anniversary with this outstanding organization.

The commencement speaker is a native Southerner, having been born in Huntington, Tennessee. Dr. Holman is a graduate of the Georgia Institute of Technology and received his BS degree from there in 1928.

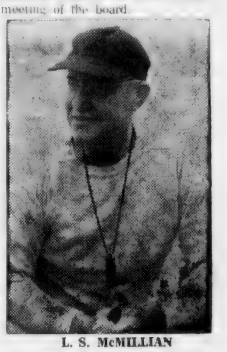
Yale University awarded him his MS degree in 1930, and Dr. Holman also holds a degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He received his Ph.D from New York University in 1949.

As announced previously, Dr Marc C. Weersing, pastor of the Spartanburg First Presbyterian Church, will preach the baccalaureate sermon on June 5 as another part of Presbyterian College's 1960 commencement exercises.

Senior Placement

Seniors contact Bob Bean or Charles Howard Monday, Wednesday or Friday, 10:00-11:00, in the canteen for appointments for job placement interviews.

March 29 — Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond.



March 30 — School District of Greenville County.

March 31—South Carolina National Bank.

McMillian Selected Director Emeritus

Lonnie S. McMillian, who retired last spring after 36 years of active coaching at Presbyterian College, has been made athletic director emeritus by special action of the PC board of trustees.

McMillian, after his coaching retirement, had continued his college affiliation for six months as canteen manager but withdrew from these duties last fall. Trustee action, naming him athletic director emeritus with lifelong status as a PC staff member, came at the recent annual meeting of the board.

L. S. McMILLIAN

McMillian, who at the time of his retirement had the longest service record on the PC staff of any living man, coached four different sports at various times. Track and football were his specialties. He produced every cinder team until last year, and he served for 13 seasons as varsity football coach (1941-54) after many years as freshman coach and varsity assistant to the late Walter A. Johnson.

A star athlete as a student at Presbyterian College, McMillian joined the coaching staff in 1923 and his tenure continued without interruption until 1959. He won five state track championships, carried one PC basketball team to the finals of the SIAA tournament and produced an array of colorful football teams. It was Coach Lonnie Mac who introduced the popular T-formation offense into the southeast through his 1941 Blue Hose squad.

An Analysis of IRC Week: "Latin America Today"

With the recent developments in Latin America manifested in Fidel Castro's revolt and reforms and President Eisenhower's trip, Latin America with its proximity and problems, is again the focal point of national interest. In an attempt to understand the problems of Latin America, the International Relations Club chose "Latin America Today" as its theme for International Relations Week.

Although the speakers, James Webb, Jr., international studies specialist on Latin America, and Major General Christian Clarke, Commanding General at Fort Jackson, met physical and material obstacles which tended to distract from their talks, it is felt that much was gained from their visit toward a better understanding of Latin America.

Mr. Webb pointed out the immediate lack of American understanding lies in the inadequacy of newspaper coverage of Latin affairs. Only the spectacular and the sensational reach the American public. Our inter-American relations are based purely on convenience and not on friendship nor interest. But far more important are the things the Latins see first hand: our clandestine attitude while in their country and our indifference and contempt for what they hold sacred and dear.

Both Mr. Webb and Gen. Clarke agreed on the larger, purely Latin, problems facing Latin America. Theirs is a "one product" economy. Where industry has developed and/or the government has taken over, a bourgeois has developed, but on the whole there still remains a vast class distinction. As Gen. Clarke pointed out, ". . . as the economy goes, so goes the nation."

The Latin governments are not founded upon stability and self-rule as are those of Europe and the United States. From the Castro movement will come new thinking in Latin America and we must learn to deal with it as it arises. Our greatest asset will be an attitude of friendship, equality, and humility.

May 1 Completion - We Hope!

"We are working toward May 1 as the completion date for the Belk Auditorium," recently announced Mr. Ed Campbell, PC business manager. To all appearances this schedule should be met for workmen are certainly bustling in the "Belk barn." Many students have dropped by to kibitz and sidewalk superintend the construction during the year and now their effrots will soon come to fruition. Those unfortunate enough not to have had a chapel seat now will be pleased to learn that there are an ample 1,200 seats in the new building, padded metal opera chairs at that. No longer will the PC student freeze in chapel in winter and parboil in summer. An efficient, modern air conditioning system will coddle him with comfort. Paint work throughout the building will be plain green with white trim except for the balcony rails which will be dark mahogany. Noise will be at the minimum even at PC with sound-proofed ceilings.

The huge stage is provided with a system of counter-balanced pulleys for raising and lowering stage lights, backdrops, etc., at will. A catwalk is visible high up near the shadowy back-stage ceiling. There are no cats on it though; perhaps a squirrel could stand the altitude.

The first of three floors at the back of the auditorium contains two large dressing rooms and two smaller ones. Also, there are two beautifully tiled rest rooms which, with the two in the lobby and the three in the left front wing form a total of seven. On the second floor are a number of music practice rooms and a glass-walled director's office. A large choir room occupies the third floor save for one utility room. Doors open on the stage from each floor. Why they do so remains to be seen because that first step is a doozy.

About the only major work to be done is the laying of tile in the lobby and installing of seats in the auditorium. Carolina bluestone will be used, bordered by pattern-laid brick walkways. Terraza has already been put down in the lobby and marble slabs are on the balcony stairs. Asphalt tile reamins to be laid on the floors. The organ has not yet been installed but the loft is almost ready for it. A molded plaster lattice screens each of the two lofts flanking the front of the stage. Acoustically, the auditorium should be perfect.

The Wyatt Chapel, bearing the name of Mrs. May H. Wyatt of Chickamauga, Ga., forms the right front wing of the structure and will provide a small sanctuary for limited worship services. The left wing houses mainly a trustees' meeting room.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Dance Committee

The Dance Committee which was an editorial subject two weeks ago is an idea which should not be left to die.

The committee would greatly aid the social life of the school. Its work would become the most important social function on the campus. It is our sincere recommendations that this matter be taken into consideration soon, so as to go into effect next year.

A Word of Praise

A word of praise is due the administration for their genuine interest in the fraternity housing situation.

They have offered their aid and have pledged assistance in all ways possible. Thus, we may feel assured that the PC student is not the "forgotten man."

We Propose

It is not difficult to realize that the elections on the PC campus are conducted with a rather lackadaisical attitude.

There are no political platforms upon which the candidates state their views and no speeches. Of course, speeches are not necessary as long as the candidates uphold no views and no platforms.

Possibly, there is not a particular need for a statement of future plans in any of the elections excepting the student council, but here, the line should certainly be drawn. The students should know for what they are voting. Chapel speeches would aid greatly in the function of enlightening the voter.

It is rather absurd to conduct an election with the candidates mute. The students walk to the polls and vote without once hearing the voice of the person for whom they are going to vote.

We urge that for more interest in the Student Council elections, for the benefit of the school, and the students themselves, that this matter be placed in the proper hands, and that candidates be required to make a statement of their plans for office, preferably in the form of chapel speeches.

Looking From

Chimney Height

Before I start with the introduction of this week's contribution I want to tell you about an incident that happened as I began to write this article. I ran out of typing paper and was looking for a substitute when I went into the rest room and discovered a brand of paper that makes cast iron look and feel soft. It is going to be awful hard to sit through a fifty-minute class after using that stuff. Please, a little mercy, Mr. Beatty!

It seems that whenever college satire is going to be written there will be a sitire written on the professor. After last week's insight into the business department we will look at a member of the philosophy.

At Mo

language, psychology, and part-time member of the English department. Don Hendrix has written an amusing satire on the most nerve wracking mannerism that a professor can have, that of lighting a match and holding it until you have completely forgotten the lecture and are watching the match burn toward the fingers of the beloved instructor.

Professor Graymatter stepped into the classroom, closed the door and said, "Well, gentlemen, I'm only thirty minutes late, so let's begin class. Today we will discuss Hercalitis and his firey idea of the universe.

In my usual fashion, I sat there in the same seat that I had ears in an attempt to listen to think of the reasons why taking that deep philos course. After thinking for finally decided that the only I was receiving was an em of good sleep.

Professor Graymatter gan his lecture with great asm and all of a sudden "Has someone got a "weed?" One imported re student who sat in back class answered, "Yeah, D Professor Graymatter weed and began searchi pockets for a match. A was puffing away on his we as a result he had two fingers for holding the match too long.

Midway of Professor ter's lecture H. P. Shorty hand and asked a question sor Graymatter, just what think of Hercalitus' idea of t

(Continued on page

Letters to the Editor

Speaker Vs. Attitude

(All letters to the editor must be signed; names will be withheld on request. Letters do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the editors)

Dear Editor,

There comes a time when one must voice his feeling on the part of public speaking or possibly I should say the art of "picking" public speakers.

One is limited in his choice of speakers to those suited, those available, and those willing, and after compiling the above three groups into one, he must choose. Not having "Speaker of the Month Reviews," or "Previews of Coming Attractions" from which to judge the group, he must pick the speaker according to the fame and the status his field has awarded him. Then the judge must burn the incense, worship the relics, and make alms to the departed spirits to intercede with the gods. But if the judge's sins outweigh the intercessions, the gods may look down upon him and send the personification of absolute "nothingness."

On occasion the gods are merciful and the public speaker is a man of worth. Now it becomes the public's place to accept him. But if the sicks' agonized cough, the spastic's fitful foot shuffle, and the tse-tse's infectious buzz should reach a point where it exceeds the final ritual of the hand—jive, once again "nothingness" prevails.

The point I wish to raise is whether "nothingness" is the fault of the judge, the speaker, or the public?

Editor Chitty Does It Again

A jovial cry was heard on campus last Sunday when a Blue Stocking staff member spotted Martin Chitty, Sock Editor, entering the chow hall. The staff was very much relieved to see his return and were glad to give all the headaches back to him.

Unfortunately, Mr. Chitty did it on the staff's heads. This was accomplished Monday morning when he was admitted to Doyle Infirmary with the renewal of his case of strep throat.

The GREEKS

... Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

PI KAPPA PHI

Tuesday night, at the regular meeting, the Pi Kappa Phi Fra started making plans for their softball team to be entered in SC mural competition. Further plans were also made for the Sto Ball in May and for the beach party immediately after school i June.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Mu Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha will attend the annual Founde Banquet this Sunday at Wofford College with Nu Chapter. The are taking their pledge trips to other chapters during the coming ends.

Congratulations are extended to Brother Don Denning and h Toni, upon the birth of their daughter, Lori Lynn.

Brothers of the Week were Denning, Collins, Clayton, Ard and

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

At the Tuesday night meeting, Alpha Psi Chapter made pla the upcoming Black and White Ball to be held in Raleigh on M Preparations were begun for a house party in June immediate school is out.

Jimmy Thompson was named Gripper of the Week.

THETA CHI

Plans were made for Greek Weekend on May 13-14 at the meeting on Tuesday night. Max Clyburn and Al Weinberg were co-captains of the intramural softball team. Everyone was glad t Mr. Harold Bates, the field secretary on his recent visit to the c

SIGMA NU

Congratulations are in order for the pledges. They did a tremd job on the party. Brother Jack and Pledge Pete won. They both what they got. Pledge Joe certainly can't pick them.

Greek weekend plans were made along with plans for a pledge softball game.

Our congratulations and condolences are given to Coach Raw his team. Wait'll next year.

KAPPA ALPHA

The Brothers of Beta Pi Chapter congratulated Brother Jack C and committee on their excellent job of the arrangement of Old which all agreed was a very enjoyable weekend. Remember (recently elected Best Dressed Kappa Alpha) YOU DRESS RIGHT

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR — MARTIN CHITTY
MANAGING EDITOR — GRAHAM EDMUNDS
Associate Editor — John Craig
Sports Editor — Bob Stevens
Feature Editor — Howard Gordon
Copy Editor — Allen Freeman
News Editor — Murray White
News Director — John Elrod
Intramural Sports Editor — Jerry Chitty
News Staff — Don Kay, Dick Curnow, Don Lohman, Fred Mead, Robert Kendall, Dave Stricklin, Mike Saunders, Bill Bartee, Gerald Pitts, and Christine Wilson.
Business Manager — Bob Smith
Circulation Managers — Ted Hentz, Charles Copley
Photographer — Roy Autry

Run... Of the Hose

Bob Stevens, Sports Editor

The Roundball season comes to a close. The NBA Tournament is all that is remaining.

Eastern Division's regular season champions, the Boston Celtics, are ahead in their series with Wilt's Philadelphia Warriors. The Lakers, led by Elgin Baylor, are giving the champion Hawks a tough go of it. It's the opinion of this column that the Hawks and the Celtics will take top honors and that the Celtics will take the NBA title.

Bradley won the NIT by defeating Providence 88-72.

Ohio State's talented young basketball team surprised everyone by defeating last year's champion California Bears in the NCAA finals. The sharp-shooting basketeers from Columbus demolished California 75-55.

Jerry Lucas, All-American and Buckeye pivot man was named the tournament's most valuable player. Lucas sank 16 points in Ohio State's winning effort last Saturday night.

Cincinnati, with All-American Oscar Robertson tallying 32, trounced New York University 95-71 in the consolation game for third place.

Fabulous "Oscar," 6-foot-5 sharpshooter from Indianapolis, totaled 841 points in 88 games surpassing the 2,587 set by Dick Hemric of Wake Forest.

Robertson's 33.8 scoring average for his three-year career eclipsed the 32.5 average held by Frank Selvy of Furman. Oscar's 1,052 goals topped Hemric's old mark of 956.

John Benjamin Penland, better known to sports fans as "Jake," was voted South Carolina's Writer of the year.

Penland, a former PC student and sports editor of the newspaper, was selected by the National Sports Writer-Sports Caster Committee in all 50 states.

Jake Penland came to Presbyterian on a boxing scholarship. The school dropped the sport but he stayed, and became a campus leader. Among his accomplishments at PC were Sports Editor of the Blue Stocking for three years, and Sports Editor of the PaC-SaC for two years.

Congratulations to a veteran writer, Jake Penland.

Again this sports staff brings forth an All-Star team.

Intramural basketball is over and here is our selection of an All-Star quintet.

We put Bill Hill, PiKA, and John McIntosh, Sigma Nu at the forward positions. Bob Collins, Raiders, fills the position at center. At the guard position go Jimmy Kolb, Raiders, and Bobby Joiner, KA.

Our second five is composed of Dave Magee, Ed Jackson, and Jim Bennett, PiKA, Leland Vaughan, Sigma Nu, and Dave Morgan, Raiders.

Our congratulations to the PiKA's and the rest of the basketball teams for a very exciting season.

Our thanks also to the students for their backing of favored teams.

The water was heated up considerably down at the pool, so we remind you again to "go down and take a dip."

DuBose: "I'm trying, Clyde, but they just ain't long enough."—(Autry Photo)

Hosemen Sink Flying Fleet n Home Diamond Opener

by SONNY DuBOSE

The Presbyterian College baseball team unleashed a powerful hitting attack on Wednesday and opened the 1960 season on a winning note as the Hose sank the Flying Fleet of Erskine, 11-9. The Blue Hose of Wednesday hardly resembled the team of 1959, as more hustle was displayed and more team desire shown than any shown by a recent PC squad.

Presbyterian jumped into a 5-0 lead during the first three innings but found themselves three runs behind after three and one-half innings of play. Erskine scored big runs in the fourth as they sent Sock starter, Ken Gardner, to the showers. Bill Dobbins came in from the Hose bull pen and put out the fire.

The Hose kept pecking away at the Erskine lead and finally went ahead to stay in the fifth inning.

Wayne Godfrey led the vicious hitting attack of the Blue Hose with three singles in four trips, while Bill Sease, Harold Raeford, Harvey Blanchard, and Sonny DuBose had two apiece.

Gardner, Dobbins, and Edsel Hiatt shared the mound duties for the victorious Hose. Dobbins was credited with the victory.

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

PiKAs Capture Intramural Title; Sigs Downed in Close Contest

• KA Takes Third

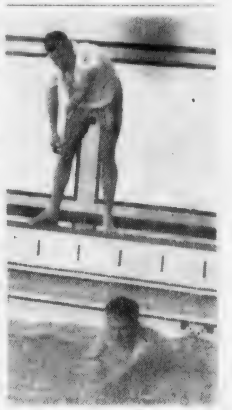
The Big Four finally ended on Wednesday night with the PiKA's handing the Sigma Nu's their second defeat. This year's tourney, as witnessed by spectators, was thrilling to the very end. PiKA was the only undefeated team during the regular season, and kept this record unblemished in tourney play. The final placing for this year's Big Four ended as follows: PiKA, Sigma Nu, KA, and Raiders.

Tuesday night began this week's tourney action. One game was played clashing the KA five and Sigma Nu. Previously defeated by the KA's in first round play, the Sigs kept their chances alive with a 44-37 victory. The game was a see-saw affair with each team holding one- and two-point leads at different intervals during the game. John McIntosh, Bill Stone, and Leland Vaughn led the Sigs in their cause, hitting 12, 14, and 11, respectively. Dave Magee paced Kappa Alpha with 14 points.

Wednesday night spelled the finals of the '60's Intramural basketball tourney. The game saw the undefeated KA's and Sigs in at what one time seemed a runaway for the KA's. The PiKA's, up 17 points at the half, fought off a desperate fourth quarter comeback to win 53-51. Thrills and chills were at peak at the conclusion of the game. The Sigs, Down 53-11 and with only approximately 10 seconds left, saw Bill Stone sink a 30-ft. jumper, only to be nullified because time had run out. Stone hit 15 for the Sigs while Old Reliable "Country Vaughn" sank 13. Bennett and Jackson sank 22 and 16, respectively, for the winners.

To be eligible to participate in the following sports, softball, volleyball, track, and swimming, rosters must be in no later than Thursday, March 31. These rosters may be turned over to any of the following four: Mr. Irving Montgomery, Jerry Chitty, John Watts, or Leland Vaughn.

Linksters Tee Off Today With Wofford



Presbyterian College golfers will open an eight-match 1960 schedule this Friday afternoon when they meet Wofford College in home engagement.

The Blue Hose linksmen are paced by Max Clyburn of Kershaw, who serves as team captain this year. Other veterans from last year are: Hexie McDonnold of Asheville, N. C.; Frank Sells of Johnson City, Tenn.; and Logan Porter of High Point, N. C.

They are assisted by newcomers Owen Ravenel of Charleston, C. J. Ray of Denmark, Ken Acker of Pickens, Allen Pitts of Langley, and Cliff Saverance of Hemingway. Dr. John Stevenson, chairman of the PC English Department, serves as coach.

Athletic Director Frank Jones today announced this schedule of golf matches to follow the Wofford contest.

March 29—University of South Carolina at Clinton; April 2—South Carolina at Columbia; 6—Furman at Clinton; 12—Belmont Abbey at Clinton; 22 — Wofford at Spartanburg; 25—Mercer at Clinton; 30—State Tournament at Hampton; May 2—Belmont Abbey at Belmont; 9—Mercer at Macon, Ga.

Life guard Rohe Eshbaugh offers advice to swimmer Floyd Fuller. —(Autry Photo)

Racketeer Season Opens With Two Home Victories

by Bill Ripley

The Presbyterian College tennis team made an exceptionally good showing this week in the first two matches of the season on their home courts.

By dropping only two sets, the Hose romped to an easy 9-0 victory over Clemson here Tuesday.

The scores were as follows: Wilson (PC) defeated Burns, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5; Elliott (PC) defeated Cooper, 6-3, 8-6; Frampton (PC) defeated Lynn 6-0 6-2; Stone (PC) defeated Nutt, 6-1, 6-1; Wright (PC) defeated Jones, 9-7, 6-4; Hope (PC) defeated Sikes, 6-0, 6-1. In the doubles matches, Elliott-Frampton (PC) defeated Burns - Cooper, 6-3, 6-4; Wright-Hope (PC) defeated Doyon-Nutt, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2; Heard-Caviness (PC) defeated Holroy-Williamson, 6-4, 6-0.

Dartmouth College arrived at PC on Wednesday and both teams had stimulating workouts that afternoon. On Thursday afternoon PC defeated Dartmouth to a score of 5-4.

The singles scores: Hoffman (PC) defeated McCluny, 6-2, 6-0; Picket (Dartmouth) defeated Wilson, 6-2, 7-5; Briggs (Dartmouth) defeated Elliott, 6-1, 6-3; Herrick (Dartmouth) defeated Greenslade, 7-5, 7-5; Frampton defeated Aydelott, 6-1, 6-1; Caviness (PC) defeated Meyers, 6-2, 6-3.

The doubles scores: Hoffman-Wilson (PC) defeated McCluny-Picket, 7-5, 6-2; Biggs-Aydelott (Dartmouth) defeated Elliott-Frampton, 6-8, 7-5, 6-4; Greenslade-Stone (PC) defeated Herrick-Holden, 6-3, 6-3.

The Blue Hose netmen will again face the Dartmouth team on Friday afternoon.

In speaking of the recent tour of Florida, Coach Leighton says that he is well pleased with the team spirit and the teamwork which was so well exemplified in their matches.

Athletic Director Names Lettermen

Ten Presbyterian College cagers earned letters for their play during the 1959-60 basketball season, Athletic Director Frank Jones announced today.

He said the monograms, awarded on recommendation of Coach Verlyn Veren, will go to these players:

Seniors, forward Bob Stratton of Lawrenceburg, Ky. who paced the Hosemen with a 24-point scoring average, and Mickey Long of Greenville.

Juniors, guards Paul Ard of Atlanta, and Ernie Redd of Columbia.

Sophomores, forward Jimmy Howell of Greer, guard Billy Ray Ladd of Junction City, Ky., guard Jimmy Rakestraw of Atlanta, and center Jack Williams of Sumter.

Freshmen, forward Joe Harvard of Columbia, and guard Jimmy McGuire of Washington, D. C.

This is the B-52. Advanced as it may be, this airplane has one thing in common with the first wargalleys of ancient Egypt...and with the air and space vehicles of the future. Someone must chart its course. Someone must navigate it.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards... as a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. A high school diploma is required, but some college is highly desirable. Successful completion of the training program leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant...and your Navigator wings.

If you think you have what it takes to measure up to the Aviation Cadet Program for Navigator training, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Or clip and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

U.S. Air Force

MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY
AVIATION CADET INFORMATION
DEPT. SCL03
BOX 7608, WASHINGTON 4, D.C.
I am between 19 and 26½, a citizen of the U.S. and a high school graduate with ____ years of college. Please send me detailed information on the Aviation Cadet program.
NAME _____
STREET _____
CITY _____
COUNTY _____ STATE _____

Dr. Pope gives placement counseling to senior Bob Bean.—(Autry Photo)

Pope Urges Use

Guidance Center Offers Advantages to Students

During the present school year, more than 175 students have taken advantage of the Guidance Center, which is located on the second floor of the Douglas House. The Center is under the direction of Dr. L. B. Pope, a trained counselor who holds a doctorate in this field.

How does the Guidance Center help the student? Through a series of tests, the student is able to learn his interests and aptitudes. No certain number of tests are required and the student decides for himself which ones he will take.

Interviews also compose an important part of the guidance routine. "The entire program is conducted in an atmosphere of complete confidence," Dr. Pope emphasizes. "I must have the confidence of the individual in gaining information necessary to advise him properly, and I, in turn, honor this trust." Of course, Dr. Pope cannot tell a student what vocation to follow. He does, however, help to interpret the results of the tests. He also has access to the results of the tests which a student takes upon entering PC and will discuss them with the student.

The students seem to be taking the Guidance Center very seriously. Very few appointments are ever broken. However, Dr. Pope would like to see more students taking advantage of the program. Faculty members are cooperating by sending students to the Center. Seniors may use the program to get in shape for the testing of employers after graduation. Dr. Pope would like to see more freshmen who are undecided as to their choice of a vocation. Students who have not yet developed good study habits can be helped to read better and comprehend more by the program.

Continued counseling at intervals through college gives additional confidence and balance to the individual as he prepares to enter his vocation. Any worthwhile work can become a Christian vocation if a person seeks to find and use his talents where God needs them most and can use them best in the world of work.

SCA Cabinet

(Continued from page one)

that this will be a community as well as a campus-wide drive. There is hope that a spirit of inter-fraternity competition will prevail.

Long range plans for the SCA include modifications on the Freshmen Orientation Program. This program, one of the most important of the year, will be improved to help the coming freshmen adjust to PC life.

President of the Student Christian Association, Bob Smith, has outlined revisions in the structure of the SCA constitution. Beginning with the creation of new cabinet committees and the revision of many of the old ones, the basic format of the SCA will be improved to better serve the campus.

Stevenson Speaking At English Council

Dr. John W. Stevenson, chairman of the Presbyterian College English department, will deliver the keynote address at the fourth annual meeting of the South Carolina Council of Teachers of English this Friday afternoon in Columbia.

He will speak to the group on the subject, "What Is the Left Hand Doing?", toward better coordination of high school and college English programs.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 2:30 p. m., Friday, in the Columbia High School auditorium and has as its theme, "Four Basic Issues in Teaching of English." This council is a department of the South Carolina Education Association.

At Matches

(Continued from page two)

burning universe?"

Professor Graymatter answered, "cool, man, cool."

I thought to myself what a "brain" this professor was . . . of how smart he was in answering "on the spot" questions. Every campus is not blessed in having a man like Professor Graymatter. Can you think of any other professor who would toss all the test papers up in the air and when the the first one hits the floor it gets grade A, and the last one to fall gets grade D? Certainly not! We must be thankful for having a man like Professor Graymatter because he is definitely for the student, especially if the student carries loads of "weeds" to class.

I don't know if this article qualifies to be a satire or not, but I do think it contains a serious note. "Please, fellow PC students, if you are ever in doubt as to whether your cigarette is lit or not, try a match, but be careful . . . matches burn and are very painful. Jusk ask others about it, especially some of the professors."

—DON HENDRIX

Jack Webb Stars

Chapel - A Producti

It was Monday.

All was quiet in Neville Sound Stage, Chapel Se

It was a big day—the star was there, ready to

Some technical difficulties had presented themselv

it had been decided to continue with the telecast—"Dragwet!"

"Pum-Ge-Fum-Wum . . ."

The theme rang out and the audience sprang to attention to sing, accompanied by the eighty-eight-piece piano.

Jack Webb, the star, stepped to the stage. He was introduced as making the special appearance due to Iarey Week.

Hardly had the program gotten underway than a cloud of fog drifted up and Dr. M. W. Murkey, chief of the program's Board of Directors, stood up. "Camera one," he shouted. "Throw in a little of the green arc and see if that will aid the picture."

The cameraman, head of the technical crew, as denoted by the five stripes on his arm, obeyed. The experiment failed, as was signified by all 397 vice-presidents in charge of criticism. Director Murkey crossed his hands behind his back and sat down.

The program continued.

"I was on the examination squad in Lower America," star Webb said.

Just then a swish of wings was heard and a brightness floated up the aisle. ("The director of special effects," someone whose halo was seen to cross the adjust the flow of the heavenlight shades.

In a twinkling of harp s haloed figure disappeared suddenly stopped speaking found his lecture notes replaced by a book ca Critical Life."

Both audio and visual p the program were bad, to TV columns the next da cough pattern was excell wiring was blamed for whispering and talking th how slipped into the broad

A small stampede was following "Dragwet."

Only a smaller statio the later appearance of S —as an educational featur tor M. W. Murkey continues on the visual part, only t the projection interrupti not necessary due to the they were only on Radio

The rest of the day, Je got to know the program Directors, as they dema time in caucus meetings Student tried to meet him stand a chance.

Howard's Pharmacy

Your Rexall Drug Store

ON THE SQUARE

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

There's Better Service at
Joe's Esso Service
Try Our Soda Fountain
Cars Greased in the Moto-Sway Way

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

BROADWAY Theatre
Mon. and Tues., Mar. 28-29
Sink the Bismark!
Wed. and Thur., Mar. 30-31
Cash McCall
Fri. and Sat., April 1-2
Goliath

THE EVENT: Grand Prix of Endurance for the Amoco Gold Trophy
THE PLACE: Sebring, Florida
THE DATE: March 26, 1960

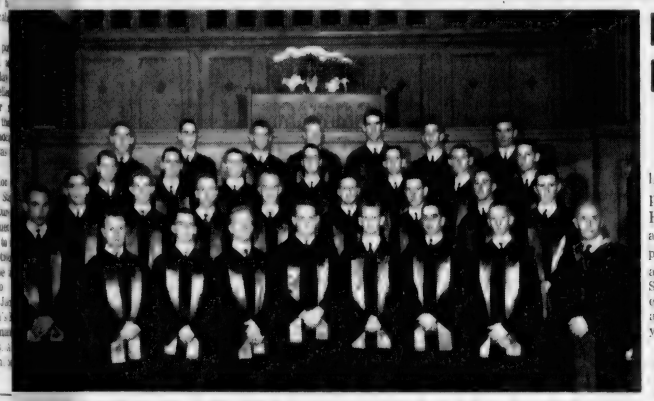
COMING UP...
The big day for sports car enthusiasts!

It's the Date of the Year—seeing the sports cars of the world in a day-and-night test of mettle for men and machines at Sebring!

Amoco, as usual, is the sponsor. And powerful, unleaded Amoco-Gas—also as usual—is the sole fuel chosen for the spectacular performance every driver expects to turn in.

Come on down! If you drive, come the smart drivers' way. Stop at Amoco stations en route. Fuel up with premium Amoco-Gas that leaves no lead deposits on plugs, valves or combustion chambers—saves overhaul costs. Or if you use regular, buy American, best of the regulars because it's precision-refined to burn clean.

See you at Sebring!



AMOCO
Economy starts here
Our 50th Anniversary
1910 Famous for Quality 1960

APRIL FOOLS' EDITION

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., April 1, 1960 No. 20

Presbyterian College's famous Robed Choir departs tomorrow for the cold fronts of the North on their annual spring tour. The height of the tour will be a trip to the Filibuster Manufacturing Co.

Presbyterian Robed Choir Departs Tomorrow for Annual Spring Tour

• Patte Conducts 500th Concert

Next week will be a big one for e Robed Choir. They are leaving morrow afternoon for their tour ough Virginia, to Washington, D. , coming back through North rolina, and returning to PC on ril 10.

Danville and Waynesboro, Va., ll be the first shops on the way Washington. April 4, the Choir ll give a program at Central Ave- e Presbyterian Church in Wash- gton. While in Washington, the ual tourist sights will be high- hted.

On April 5, the five hundredth per- mance of the PC Choir under Dr. louard Patte will be given at Westminster Presbyterian Church, Alexandria, Va. This will be a big occasion for everyone connected with the Choir.

From Alexandria, Falls Church in Arlington is to be visited. Proceeding homeward, concerts will be given in Roanoke Rapids, N. C., Fayetteville, N. C., Charlotte, and Rock Hill.

"Christ the Lord' 'is the theme of this year's program. Serious numbers as well as Negro spirituals will be introduced by appropriate scripture passages read by Readers Richard Stanford, Tom Wise, Paul Layton, and Hal Roberts. The birth, childhood, ministry, crucifixion, and resurrection of Christ are presented through the songs.

After the Spring Tour, the Choir has planned four concerts in this area. April 24, programs will be given in Greenville and Greer. The final concerts are to be performed in Sumter and Clinton on May 1. The Clinton presentation will be at Broad Street Methodist Church for an evening service.

Soloists for the choir are Lonnie Love, Paul Woodall, and Bill Stubbs.

Officers are Cliff Stovall, president; Lonnie Love, vice-president; Graham Edmunds, secretary; Billy Piephoff, treasurer; and Frank Sells, custodian.

The choir travels approximately 5000 miles each year and is completely self-supporting. They are well known and appreciated throughout the southland; from Washington, D. C., to Florida, and from North Carolina to Louisiana.

r. Newton Jones o Return Here

Dr. Newton Jones will return as ofessor of history at Presbyterian llege after spending the past year the faculty of Furman Univer- y, President Marshall W. Brown nounced today.

He said Dr. Jones will assume his mer position at PC at the start the 80th session next September. Dr. Jones first came to Presbyte- n College in 1950, shortly after ceiving his doctorate in history m the University of Virginia. He d earned both his BA (1941) and MA (1946) degrees from Emory iversity. Four fellowships were arded him during the period of aduate study.

Dr. Jones is a regular contributor publications in the field of his- y, and he has received a number grants to finance research proj- ts leading to publication. He is a ember of the South Carolina His- rical Association, Virginia Histori- l Association, Southern Historical ssociation and the American His- rical Association.

A native of Rome, Ga., he is mar- d to the former Catherine Wing Atlanta, and they have a young ughter.

Help!

Scholarship Finalists Visit Campus Next Week

Sixteen high school seniors have reached the finals in competition for the coveted Founder's Scholarship awards at Presbyterian College, Dean A. J. Thackston announced today.

He said ten of this group will be selected to receive four-year grants to attend Presbyterian College, beginning next September. The scholarships, ranging up to $2,000 each, will provide from $200 to $500 per year to students qualifying on the basis of intellect, leadership and character.

The 1960 finalists are:

James W. Harris and Vivian L. Taylor, both of Laurens; Francis R. Hood, DuPont P. Smith, Jr., and Russell L. Strange, Jr., all of Decatur, Ga.; Marion B. Boozer of Gaffney; Jack W. Bowling of Smyrna, Ga.; Ponce DeLeon Bullard of Bainbridge, Ga.; Ronald E. Collins of Rock Hill; Charles L. Evans of Iva; Harry A. Lofton of Ninety-Six; Janet E. Maddox of Spartanburg; James L. Owens of Greenwood; Edward L. Pender, Jr., of Columbia; John B. Whisnant, II, of Lexington, Va.; and Ellen V. Wilson of Savannah, Ga.

These students will visit the Presbyterian College campus on April 8-9 for the Founder's Scholarship finals. They will be entertained at a banquet in the college dining hall on Friday night, to be followed by special tests and interviews the next day. Ten winners emerge from the performances on this campus visit.

The finalists in the Founder's program were selected from a large field of applicants through preliminary tests administered at the local high school level.

Dean Thackston pointed out the 1960 awards mark the sixth year the Founder's Scholarship program at Presbyterian College. During this time, the program has attracted hundreds of outstanding high school seniors to compete for the grants.

Hammett, Jeanes Named For Top PaC SaC Post

• Election Set for Thursday

On Thursday of next week, the elections for editor and business manager of the PaC-SaC will be held on PC campus. Vying for the position of editor, now filled by Bob Bean, will be Bo Jeanes and Herb Hammett. Worrell Kurtz and Marion "Snooky" Lee will compete for the office of business manager presently held down by Cliff Stovall. After taking office, the new editor and business manager will appoint their staff for the coming year.

These candidates are well qualified for the office of Editor as Hammett has had much experience in the Public Relations Office of the College and Jeans was Editor of his High School annual.

The ballot box will be located in the Douglas House between the hours of 9:00 and 2:00, under the watchful eyes of the study body officers. It is hoped that a record number of students turn out at the polls, because the candidates really need the votes.

Bob Bean announced today that the PaC-SaC for 1959-60 will be released to the campus on May 13. Rumor has it that the annual will contain many new slants on campus organizations.

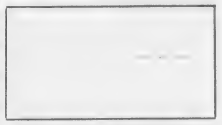
College To Match Aid For Athletes

Presbyterian College trustees have adopted a matching "dollar for dollar" policy to finance scholarship aid to qualified athletes, it was announced today.

Alumni and other friends of intercollegiate sports at PC are asked to provide one-half of the scholarship cost through annual gifts to the Walter Johnson Club.

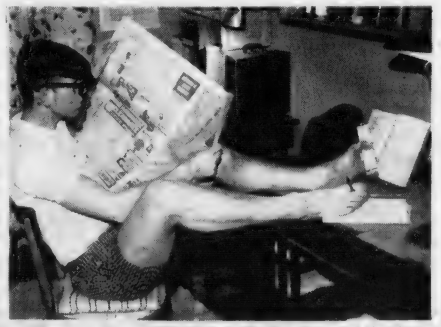
Mounting deficits in the athletic program were cited as the reason for this move taken by the Presbyterian College board of trustees at its recent spring meeting. Action came upon recommendation of a special trustee committee which has studied the situation for the past year.

The report pointed out that, to continue the sports program at its present level at PC, it would be necessary for supporters to raise $31,000 annually. Three years is to be allowed in which this annual goal can be met, but efforts will be reviewed annually by the trustees.



Recognized as having one of the broadest small college athletic programs in the nation, Presbyterian College fields teams in six intercollegiate sports, with special emphasis given to football, basketball and tennis. Blue Hose net teams have dominated tennis in winning 19 consecutive state championships and ranking high nationally, and PC gridmen played in the post-season Tangerine Bowl game last New Year's night.

Linksters Actually Win Link Match



PC linksters, after dropping a match to Wofford 23-4, defeated the University of South Carolina here Tuesday. Medalist was Max Clyburn, who had a two-under-par 71. Owen Ravenel was close behind with a 75. Frank Sells, Hexie and Harry McDonald, and Logan Porter all fired 78's. The team travels to Columbia on Friday for a return match with the Gamecocks.

The scoring: Flynn (SC) defeated Porter, 2½-½; Ravenel (PC) defeated Marin, 3-0; Clyburn (PC) defeated Price, 3-0; Harry McDonnold (PC) tied Garrey, 1½-1½; Hexie McDonnold (PC) tied Smith, 1½-1½; Sells (PC) defeated Gordon, 2½-½.

Also, Flynn-Marin (PC) defeated Porter-Ravenel, 2½-½; Harry McDonnold - Clyburn (PC) defeated Price-Garrey, 3-0; Hexie McDonnold-Sells (PC) tied Smith-Gorden, 1½-1½.

Side view of nasty French postcard.

Here we see one of PC's Kentucky Wonders displaying his talents as an educated toe artist. Note the dignity with which he holds his slide rule and the grace with which he clutches his pencil. He says that his toes are the chief cause of his exceptional grades.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

A Mess : A Big Mess : A Very Big Mess

Scholarship Rumors

(See news story, "Aid to Athletes"—Editor)

This week on our campus there have been various rumors to the effect that the Board of Trustes decided that all athletic scholarships would from now on be designated for football and none for any other sport. There was also a story that two tennis scholarsips have been done away with and given to football players.

The Blue Stocking Staff, knowing the possible outcome of such stories, has done much research on the subject, including talks with administrative officials, and found that this is pure rumor with no backing.

In one such interview it was disclosed that the outcome of the trustee meeting was as follows: If the athletic program is to continue on a basis comparable to that of past years, the general budget of the college cannot withstand the responsibility. This responsibility is now partially passed to the alumni and the college will simply match their donations to the Walter Johnson Club.

In another "talk" it was explained that if the cost of the athletic program continues to rise, there will be a decrease in the over-all number of scholarships with no partiality being shown any sport. The number of scholarships for each sport will be decreased in equal proportions.

It was also pointed out that the college will increase as much as possible. The number of academic scholarships—which we could use being as how college is for increased learning.

Odds And Ends

We would like to thank the nice workman who took time out of his busy schedule to fill in the famous hole in front of the new auditorium—with asphalt, no less.

Up until Tuesday the fact that the college had hired some landscape architeots last fall was to be an editorial subject. However, we discovered that at long last the workmen arrived for a much needed project. Too bad it rained.

One student suggests that a sidewalk be constructed across the plaza directly between Spencer and Douglas house since everyone trods the present path there now. Another comes up with the idea of a sidewalk out to the Spencer parking lot.

A complaint was received this week that the conduct at tennis matches was not becoming to the sport. Tennis is a "gentleman's" game and one is not to applaud the opposing team when the player misses a shot. This is pure rudeness on the PC student's part and not proper sportsmanship.

And another . . . It was suggested that the faculty members, at student meetings and discussions, try not to take command of the situations and display their knowledge to visiting guests.

It should also be mentioned that for some strange reason the lights surrounding the plaza have become dim something terrible!

(Tennis Court Episode—Page 4)

Looking From Chimney Height At the Choir

In view of the upcoming Bowl Tour of the Choir to Washington where they will appear in the Diplomat Bowl, we have decided this week to reprint an old article and let Percival Crudely ride again. It should also be noted that we needed a space filler.

I was sitting in my room last Thursday afternoon doing some last minute studying before taking off for the week-long Washington tour with the P College Blue Throats.

Percival Crudely walked into the room carrying a bunch of packages under his arm and giving a few last Tra-La-Las before departing. He dropped his packages on his desk and sat down.

"Hey, Roomo. What's in all those packages you've got there?"

"Oh, just a few items I picked up at Adair's and Howard's to take on the big trip."

"Who do you think you're going to impress up there?"

"You never can tell. I'm liable to meet some big wheels on Capitol Hill."

"Yeah, provided they're not busy filibustering."

"Have you packed, yet?"

"No, man. We still got two days."

"Well, I think I'll get started. How about coming in here and checking the items off the list as I pack them."

"O. K., PC." I walked into the other room and found all kinds of curious goods lying on the bed and floor.

"Here's the list, G. B.—ready?"

"Shoot, PC!"

"Throat sprayer."

"Check."

"Game uniform."

"Check."

"Roulette wheel, cards, pair of dice and three rolls of dimes. That's in case I run into some dumb Yankees who want to play a round or two."

"Check."

"Portable ice machine, Ginger Ale, Lemons, Four Roses, Three Brown bottles."

"Check—say, PC, what's in the three bottles?"

"Milk!"

"Oh, alright, continue."

"Sun glasses, pipe, cigar box."

"Say, Crudely, what's in that cigar box?"

"Jelly Beans, of course, what else?"

"Check."

"Soda straws."

"Check."

"Golf clubs and caddy cart, in case I want to play golf with Ike. Monopoly board in case I don't."

"Check."

"Blue Stocking press card, Chinese gem back scratcher and I Like Ike button."

"Check."

"A change of underwear in case I get to bathe in the next eight days, and two 5-day Deodorant Pads in case I don't."

"Check."

"Throat pills."

"Check."

"Razor and shine cloth."

"Check."

"Ear muffs in case it's cold up there, and an electric fan in case it's not."

"Check."

Two pocket novels—Washington: Confidential, and No Room in the Inn, by Nelson Rockefeller."

"Check."

"Well, GB, I guess that about gets everything for the big tour."

"I think so, PC. What time do we pull out?"

"Commander Stovall said 12:00, so 12:10 it will be."

"Hey, how about sitting on this suitcase while I shut it."

"Sure thing."

"There."

"Ready to go, now?"

"Don't believe so, yet. I've got to motor up town and pick up some clothes at Sunshine's."

" O. K., PC. Say, how about passing me the throat spray, I might as well get in shape."

"Oh say, GB, don't you dare let me forget that address book that that past choir member and faculty member gave me."

Get Up and Go

Why My Get Up And Go Has Got Got Up And Went

How do I know my youth is spent?
Well, my get up and go has got up and went.
But, in spite of it all, I'm able to grin
When I think of where my get-up has been.
With my ears in the drawer, my teeth in a cup,
My eyes on the table until I wake up.
Ere sleep dims my eyes I say to myself
"Is there anything else that should lie on the shelf?"
I am happy to say as I close the door,
"My friends are the same—perhaps even more."
When I was young, my slippers were red.
I could kick my heels right over my head.
When I grew older, my slippers were blue,
But still I could dance the whole night through.
Now I am old my slippers are black,
I walk to the store and puff my way back.
The reason I know my youth is all spent—
My get up and go has got up and went.
But I really don't mind, when I think, with a grin,
Of all the grand places my get-up has been.
Since I've retired from life's competition,
I busy my self with complete repetition.
I get up each morning and dust off my wite,
Pick up the paper and read the "obits."
If my name isn't there I know I'm not dead,
So I eat a good breakfast and go back to bed.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

A B Γ Δ E Z H Θ I K Λ M N Ξ O Π P Σ T Υ Φ X Ψ Ω

SIGMA NU

We wish Brother Martin Chitty a speedy recovery. I'm sorry, Martin, we can't get past Miss Bob to see you.

Plans for the softball game and the party after Easter were completed .The date for the beach party were decided upon. The pledges should be congratulated for finishing the pledge training in such a fine manner. The pledges also gave a very good skit.

KAPPA ALPHA

The date for the annual pledge function was set for April 13 as was another party planned for April 23. The latest on the Finch episode was discussed at some length . . . . .

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Jimmy Thompson won out as Griper of the Week in a close race with Rone Eshbaugh. Brothers Brown and Spann were nominated as Evangelists of the Week.

PI KAPPA PHI

The PiKapps met Tuesday night and discussed further the plans for the Beach Party. Beta Chapter wishes to thank Brother Bill McElderry and Dick Faulkner for going to Furman to help Delta Chapter with their pledge training. Several of the brothers and pledges plan to go to the District IV Conclave at Myrtle Beach this weekend.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

After much planning PiKA Weekend begins tonight with closed parties Friday night, Saturday afternoon and Saturday night. Charlie Miller and the Joy Jumpers will be on hand for the Jamaica Holiday Friday and at Lake Greenwood Saturday. The pledges have been working on the decorations for the weekend.

Brother Paul Ard was elected Delegate to the Pi Kappa Alpha National Convention and Pat Malone was elected as alternate delegate. Nine brothers are planning to attend the convention this summer in Miami.

Congratulations to Herb Hammett on his pinning of Miss Julia Gray, and to Bobby Hodge on being chosen best dressed of Pi Kappa Alpha.

TRY
Leo's Lightning Service Luncheonette
Located Left of Laurens Dorm

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR . . . MARTIN CHITTY
MANAGING EDITOR . . . GRAHAM EDMUNDS
Associate Editor . . . John Craig
Sports Editor . . . Bob Stevens
Feature Editor . . . Howard Gordon
Copy Editor . . . Allen Freeman
News Editor . . . Murray White
News Director . . . John Elrod
Intramural Sports Editor . . . Jerry Chitty
News Staff . . . Don Kay, Dick Curnow, Don Lohman, Fred Mead, Robert Kendall, Dave Stricklin, Mike Saunders, Bill Bartee, Gerald Pitts, and Christine Wilson.
Business Manager . . . Bob Smith
Assistant Business Manager . . . Marshall Jones
Circulation Managers . . . Ted Heath, Charles Copley
Photographer . . . Roy Autry

IT'S OUR OPINION . . .

That The Untouchables—should bathe

Faculty Salaries Will Be Raised

Presbyterian College will raise faculty salaries an average of 5 per cent at the start of the 1960-61 session next September, President Marshall W. Brown announced today.

He said the PC board of trustees had authorized the increase at its recent annual meeting.

President Brown pointed out that an average increase of 20 per cent had been made two years ago. This hike and the newly announced raise mean faculty increases of more than 25 per cent since 1958.

The president indicated that it has been the established policy in recent years to review the salaries of all college personnel every two years.

Spring Sports Season Sends Students Shrieking From Studies

This is a pretty good headline, But
This is the Intramural Article!
This comes from last year's Sock

"Schedules and activities are developing nicely for spring sports," says Irvin Montgomery, Intramural Director.

Softball will begin next week down at the field. "The interest is high," says Coach Mont. gomery. "There are four more teams competing this year than there were last year." The PiKA's—last year's champs—will be out for the title again. From what we understand, the competition will be keen.

"The intramural track meet will be held at Johnson Field on April 11th. Field events will get under way at 4:00 p. m. to be followed by track events at 4:15.

This past week saw Jerry Chitty, new intramural Chairman, and Coach Montgomery have worked out the rough draft of the council for a superb job these past two years. Larry's interest and hard work have made our intramural system one of the best in the south. Larry and Coach Montgomery have worked side by side to develop this fine program. We thank them for the services that they have rendered to the PC student body.

Jerry and his new council hope that renewed interest will be shown by the students so that even a better program can be developed in the coming year.

Jerry has selected the council for next year. They are as follows: he job of scheduling games for all sports will be filled by Leland "Country" Vaughan. Bob Stevens is in charge of statistics and records. ing contact man is Lawton Rice. The fall junior manager will be Pat Malone. John McIntosh will be in charge of football next semester. Wayne Godfrey will handle soccer.

Jerry Chitty, rising junior from Olar, has taken the top post for the coming year. Jerry, a sports enthusiast, is looking forward to a year with intramurals.

Jerry has selected the council for

Alumnus Telford Given Fellowship

A recent Presbyterian College graduate has been awarded a Woodrow Wilson fellowship for further study at Harvard University, it was announced today.

He is the Rev. George B. Telford, Jr., who received his BA degree here in 1954 and currently serves as Presbyterian minister to the students at Auburn University. Telford was the top honor graduate at Columbia Theological Seminary before assuming his present position.

The PC alumnus plans to enter the Harvard School of Arts and Sciences next September. He will study in the department of religion, working toward a doctor of philosophy degree in the field of religion and ethics.

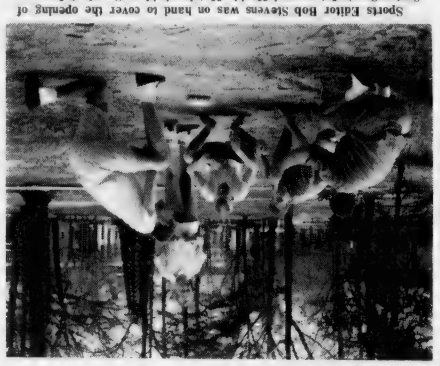
Telford's father is also a PC alumnus and now a Charleston, W. Va., chemist. His late grandfather, the Rev. George M. Telford, served as pastor of the Abbeville Presbyterian church for 23 years until his retirement.

Hose Racketmen Defeat Two More

By BILL RILEY

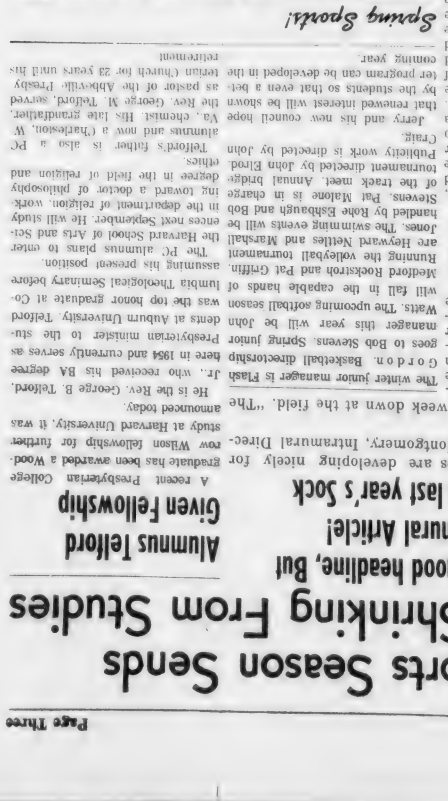
After winning the previous day's match by the same score, the Presbyterian College Tennis Team dropped the first match of the season on their home courts to Dartmouth to the score of 5-4. In the singles matches, Harry Hoffman (PC) defeated Elliott and Pickle (D) defeated Elliott and Fearnham (PC), 6-3, 10-8. Hendrick (PC) defeated Greenslade 6-3, 6-2; Tony Wilson (PC) defeated McClumy (D), 6-4, 6-1; Tom Elliott (PC) defeated Hendrick (D) 6-2, 8-6; Hoffman (PC) defeated Greenslade 8-1, 2-6, 6-3 (D) defeated Fearnham (PC), 6-4, 6-4; Aydelott (PC), 6-3, 6-2; Meyer (D) defeated Fearnham (PC), 6-4, 6-4; Aydelott (D) defeated Caviness (PC), 6-4, 1-6, 6-2. In doubles: Hoffman and Wilson defeated Biggs and Aydelott (D), 7-5, 6-4; McClumy and Holt (D), 7-5, 6-4; Hoffman and Wilson defeated Orslade and Fearnham (PC), 6-4, 6-4; Tony Wilson (PC) defeated Lee, 6-0, 6-0; Tom Elliott (PC) beat Broom, 6-0, 6-0; Dave Greenslade (PC) beat Sherrill, 6-2, 6-1; and Ed Caviness (PC) defeated Snead, 6-1, 6-2.

Hoffman and Wilson defeated Orslade (PC) beat Sherrill, 6-2, 6-1; and Lee in the doubles, 6-1, 6-4; Ron Wright and Greenslade beat Broom and Sherrill, 6-3, 10-8; Bill Stone and Harold Hope defeated Young and Snead, 6-1, 6-2.



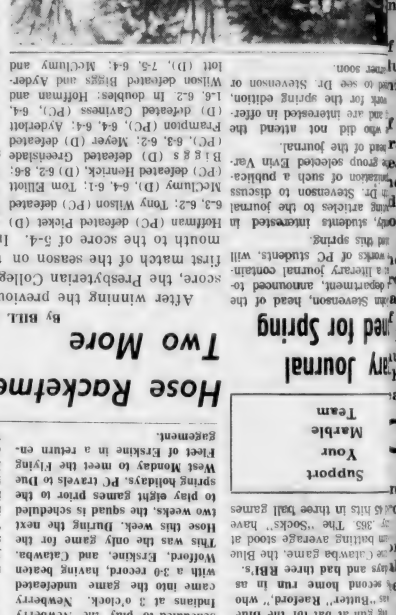
In the Presbyterian - Amherst match, which PC won to the score of 8-1, Hoffman (PC) beat Walter, 6-3, 6-1; Wilson (PC) defeated Mclen, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3; Elliot (PC) defeated Weiant (A) and Allen, 6-3, 6-1; Walter and Seelnick (A) defeated Wright and Greenslade, 6-2, 2-6, 6-2; Stone and Caviness (PC) beat Guest and Neely, 6-3, 6-4.

Coach Lapilson says that he is very pleased with the support and attendance of the student body. He further says that this support means very much to him and all the boys on the squad.



Run . . . Of the Hose

Bob Stevens, Sports Editor



Sports Editor Bob Stevens was on hand to cover the opening of Spring Sports Intramural Marble Matches held on the plush Laurens Dorm Marble Ring.—(Autry Photo)

Spring Sports!

Intramural Sports Director Jerry Chitty is shown getting all the facts about his job as incoming chairman Larry Wood and Student Director Irvin Montgomery.—(Autry Photo)

THIS IS A SERIOUS PICTURE. Newly appointed Intramural Sports Director Jerry Chitty has selected his council for the coming year. Shown above are, left to right, Jerry Chitty, Bob Stevens, Jerry Chitty, Jerry Chitty, Jerry Chitty

SLEEP WELL . . . . . . YOUR OD IS ON DUTY!

More Trash

The most complained about occurrence on the P College campus this week—from a survey of students and faculty—goes to: the trash pile in back of Douglas House.

This seems to be the object of no one's affection and of everyone's rejection.

This trash pile is disgraceful—in the middle of the reasonably new surrounding buildings. The smell of it did not seem to bother anyone until spring sprung and tennis began. This unsightly mess is located right where students gather to view the center of the tennis action.

The editorial research board of the Sock met with the Sock Advanced Planning Committee for College Projects recently and came up with the following plans for construction of a proper "display" case for the trash. It would be built right on the memorable spot where the trash now stands.

We suggest that a concrete footing be poured 2 feet, 6 inches by 11 feet, 6 inches and 6 inches in depth. This is two-thirds of a yard of concrete and at $15 a yard, amounts to only $10. The garbage cans could conveniently be placed on this concrete base.

Surrounding these beautiful green cans would be a concrete block wall 40 inches high. This height is 5 blocks, and figuring the number of blocks for this height, length and width, we came up with 67½ blocks. At 20 cents apiece this amounts to only $13.50. The cost of mortar to hold the blocks together would run approximately $4 and the labor would be about $18. The total cost would therefore be $45.50, which would be no strain to anyone's pocketbook when comparing the wonderful service it would render.

The over-all length of 11 feet and 6 inches would allow ample space for 3 or 4 garbage cans and the very ugly drink crates.

It should be pointed out that some of those complaining of this pig pen are the same ones who go around bringing destruction in places like the game room and Bailey lounge. thereby causing them also to look like pig pens.

Howard's Pharmacy

Your Rexall Drug Store

ON THE SQUARE

Grid Team to Play At Home Next Year

Presbyterian College gridmen will play a nine-game schedule during the 1960 football season Athletic Director Frank Jones announced today.

He pointed to three changes as compared to the 1959 slate which culminated in PC's Tangerine Bowl appearance last New Year's night.

Lenoir-Rhyne's top-ranked small college team returns to the Blue Hose schedule, after a year's absence, and will serve as the home opener on September 24. Disappearing from the lineup of PC opponents next season are Appalachian and the University of Tampa, after rivalries dating back over the past several campaigns.

The colorful Presbyterian College eleven, again delivering the wing-T offense of Coach Jones, will open its 1960 schedule against Furman in Greenville on September 17. The finale will be against Newberry in the annual Thanksgiving afternoon battle, played this year on the Clinton turf.

Other home games for the Hosemen are a Homecoming clash against Davidson on October 8 and a Parents Day encounter with Elon on November 18. Both are night engagements.

Senior Placement

Seniors, contact Bob Bean or Charles Howard Monday, Wednesday or Friday, 10:00-11:00 in the canteen for appointments for job placement interviews.

April 4—Carnation Milk.

April 7—I. B. M.

These companies all stress as their main point to the seniors—graduate.

Notice!

ALL SENIORS—Day and boarding students: Class meeting Monday, April 4, during chapel period in Meeting Room of Douglas House. VERY IMPORTANT—GRADUATION INFORMATION.

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP

An election will be held this Sunday night at WF for the four executive officers. The nominating committee has met and made a tentative slate of officers, and other nominations will be taken.

Want Ads

NOTICE — Laundry work done at very reasonable price by experienced personnel. Contact Cecil Morris and Bill Schofill, Laurens 202.

Maid Wanted: Apply Tom Wise, Smyth C-133.

Nursemaid: To care for invalids. Live in. Contact Lawton Rice or Jerry Chitty, Laurens 206.

GO TO Chapel

(it's required)

WATCH THIS SPACE it shows your mentality

CHICKEN of the OCEAN SARDINES Are Packed Tight
(SEE BELOW)
Sardines Sardines Sardines

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Who Lives in the Past?

A learned man must readily admit that he should know the facts before he leaps.

College students are in an attempt to become men of judgment and wisdom. They represent the future of our nation, and as they mingle with different types of human nature, and as college entrance regulations are more demanding that any time at any other period of history, the student should be more understanding of the nations' problems, and more intelligent than could be expected of the average person.

In recent months the National Student Association has carried lists and articles of the different northern universities who have in our opinion made a foolish spectacle of themselves in objecting to segregation.

The Rochester Institute of Technology newspaper made front page news of the fact that some of their students picketed a national chain store, bcause one of the southern stores refused Negroes a seat at lunch counters. Our college mates of the north, you have lowered yourselves and the standing of the college student in our country.

Northern students have said that we who live in the South are living in the past. Perhaps, but is it modern and even mature to parade up and down a street with signs, resembling bohemians of a past age.

The South, and we use this term with pride, will work out its own problems. The most intelligent minds of the day are approaching answers to this situation. However, let us remember that rabble rousers, and it is with shame that we must include some northern students in this category, will solve nothing.

The northern college student has spoken, but we suggest that for the future of our country, that he begin to seriously study situations before staging demonstrations and the like.

As this publication is sent to several northern universities and colleges, we hope it will not fall on deaf ears.

Salute to a Staff

We hope we can be forgiven a small personal word of gratitude.

It has generally been campus knowledge that the editor of this publication was ill and thus forced to miss three weeks of classes.

Despite this, the staff continued to publish the news, giving an excellent account of themselves.

For the remainder of the semester they will do much of the work which would normally be done by the editor.

It is with sincere thanks that this is written. Entire credit must now be given to an excellent staff.

—MARTIN CHITTY

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR MARTIN CHITTY
MANAGING EDITOR GRAHAM EDMUNDS
Associate Editor John Craig
Sports Editor Bob Stevens
Feature Editor Howard Gordon
Copy Editor Allen Freeman
News Editor Murray White
News Director John Elrod
Intramural Sports Editor Jerry Chitty
News Staff Don Kay, Dick Curnow, Don Lohman, Fred Mead, Robert Kendall, Dave Stricklin, Mike Saunders, Bill Bartee, Gerald Pitts, and Christine Wilson.
Business Manager Bob Smith
Assistant Business Manager Marshall Jones
Circulation Managers Ted Hentz, Charles Copley
Photographer Roy Autry

Ten Easy Lessons On How to Pass

The ten rules below are nothing original with the Blue Stocking, but it is rare when they fail to give rise to laugh when read for the first time. The author of these rules for staying in school is Robert Tyson. With exams only a few weeks away, they are particularly pertinent.

(1) Bring the professor newspaper clippings dealing with his subject. If you can't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in any clippings. He thinks everything deals with his subject.

(2) Look alert; take notes eagerly. If you must look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievingly and shake it.

(3) Nod frequently and murmur, "How True!" To you, this seems exaggerated. To him, it is quite objective.

(4) Sit in front, near him. (Applies only if you intend to stay awake). If you're going to all the trouble of making a good impression, you might as well let him know who you are.

(5) Laugh at his jokes. You can tell: if he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has told a joke.

(6) If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of an hour. It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing.

(7) Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like the book from the course. If you do math in psychology class and psychology in math match the books for size and color.

(8) Ask for outside reading. You don't have to read it, just ask.

(9) Ask any questions you think he can answer. Also, avoid announcing that you have an answer to a question he could not answer, and in your little brother's second grade reader at that.

(10) Agree with his views. If he is a staunch Republican, refrain from asking him why the Democrats have won so many elections.

Attitudes, Attitudes, What's An Attitude?

Boston, Mass. (IP)—Safeguards to prevent the inclusion of any discriminatory clauses in the constitutions of new Bost on University organizations and proposals to fight discriminatory attitudes have been brought before the Student-Faculty assembly on this campus.

The bill, proposed by the Human Relaitons committee, is part of an effort to curb alleged discrimination in university organizations, by demanding that all campus groups remove discriminatory clauses by June, 1960.

The Committee pointed out that although there is a ruling now affecting new organizations after 1954, there is no legislation concerning those groups established prior to that date.

It was stressed by the committee that there were no existing discriminatory clauses in any campus ogranization's constitution or by-laws. However, it was claimed that alleged additional discrimination did exist. In addition to the legislation, it was recommended by the committee to establish a board to investigate individual complaints of discrimination.

The recommendations of this board would attempt to determine what type of action was needed and if the group involved should be denied recognition by SFA. Beside having the power to suggest the withdrawal of SFA recognition of an organization, the preamble to the

Continued For Attiudes Page 4

Spring Madness Tips

As the year draws to a close and the "Spring Madness" begins to set in around the school, Yourick O. Why feels that it is time to write of things more constructive than in the past. Now please don't get the idea that he is a "party pooper" because he is not; in fact, he's seriously contemplating going into the business of manufacturing a handy container for holding water, and for the dispersion of said water upon the heads of lesser individuals.

The Why Manufacturing Co., with that astute financier and dollar-worshipper, Stacy Armstrong Coker, as business manager, has come up with a new line of goods that is sure to revolutionize the water battle.

You may remember some months ago, Mr. Why placed before the Student Body a body of recommendations for the dormitories here at P College; well, he has another that he would like to add to the list.

It is called The Little Jim Dandy Water Squirter. Now this handy device comes in a variety of styles; there is the small trial size, that contains only the bare essentials for a good water fight—a trash can (without holes in the bottom), a complete instructions for use. But to gain best results, the large& economy size, or the package deal, is to be preferred.

This large deal comes to its buyers complete with a three hundred foot section of two-inch fire hose, to be attached to the nearest fireplug; a high-presure nozzle, to wash any intruders (student council members, proctor, professors, cops) down the stairs; a slicker and boots; and last but certainly not least a Mercury Mark Outboard engine and a racing shell to provide the utmost in enjoyment of the soaked halls of the dormitories.

The last item will be extremely attractive to persons who, after having flooded the building, wish to continue the fun on into the night. Spencer River would have made an excellent site for speedboat races Tuesday night. There was just enough water around on the floor to float a light hydroplane. For the real dyed-in-the-wool thrill seekers, added excitiement could have been provided by shooting the rapids down the stairs in a canoe. If the items produced by the Why Manufacturing Company bring in enough money, has been asured by the Why Company of the concern that there will be a armada scheduled in the near future.

Now, in view of the fact that is upon us tonight and tomorrow night, Yourick O. Why is going to publish his column with some of the advice garnered from the above mentioned volumes of the Blue Stocking disrespectable advice:

". . . I think I'd better give you a few rules for the boys here at P College:

"1. Everyone must wear some kind of clothing.

"2. Cellophane G String are prohibited.

"3. If you go as a baby be sure to have milk in the bottle.

"4. It's too close to exam time old.

These comments were made several years ago by Lawton Rice upon being initiated into the Brotherhood Wednesday. The Blue Baby, son of Hi sire of True Blue, and grandson of Y. O. Why. Happy Dave's Pledge-Brother softball game has been set for Friday, the 22nd whom Lou Wrote, had the Congratulations also to Pete Yearout who was chosen outstanding pledge published May 9, 1952. So respects to Dave, and other tables, we hereby submit More discussion plans for Greek Weekend and houseparty. "Ye as a professor. ried people can go on the Beach Party." Grand Convention plans discussed.

"5. There will be no outdoors or raisin cookies allowed. Our deepest sympathy to Jim Caddell upon the recent death of his father.

"6. All animals, with the exception of pink elephants and wolves, will be prohibited. Elections next Monday!

"7. Fan dancers and bubble dancers must have fans and bubbles.

"8. Please don't go as especially professors, the party."

Well, that's that. We'll back into the moth-eaten tions of the Blue Sock do Burts Art Museum to di for you.

Editor's Note: Due to the of our Feature Editor, "Flat don, our feature ran short th Thus the staff "panicked" gan a speedy search of old STOCKING editions. The these volumes did quite a damage to John Craig's ar he croaked a joyous sou finding Drayton Cooper's on Spring Madness.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

SIGMA NU

Congratulations to Pete Yearout, Stewart Caldwell, Vince Bro Lawton Rice upon being initiated into the Brotherhood Wednesda

Pledge-Brother softball game has been set for Friday, the 22n

Congratulations also to Pete Yearout who was chosen outs pledge.

More discussion plans for Greek Weekend and houseparty. "Ye ried people can go on the Beach Party." Grand Convention plan discussed.

Our deepest sympathy to Jim Caddell upon the recent death father.

Elections next Monday!

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Our congratulations to Brother Herb Hammett on his electio editorship of the PaC-SaC.

Also, the Brothers wish to give most hearty thanks to the Pledg past dance weekend. They did an excellent job on the decorations

THETA CHI

Officers were elected for the 1960-61 school term at the regular ing on Tuesday night. Max Clyburn was elected president; Al We vice-president; Donald Kay, secretary; and Ronald Kay, treasurer brothers and pledges enjoyed a Founder's Day supper at Cas Greenville Thursday night.

KAPPA ALPHA

Beta Psi Chapter wishes to welcome Brother Dick Shawn in brotherhood after his initiation Tuesday night. The final date of t nual pledge stag party was set for Wednesday, April 13.

Run... Of the Hose

Bob Stevens, Sports Editor

NBA finals will come to an end next week. To date the Celtics are ead in games 3-2. In the first game the Celtics, led by Cousy and Russ ll, trounced the Hawks 141-114 to set a tournament record. The second me saw the Hawks come back to revenge their defeat by downing the eltics 113-103. Bob Petit's 35 points provided the margin of victory.

The Celtics have picked up the pace and now have the Hawks in a pinch. This next game will be do-or-die for the Hawks. If the Hawks win this one, the last game will be played in St. Louis Saturday night. This sports staff continues to go out on a limb—and pick the Hawks to win the title from the invincible Boston Celtics.

A real "thank you" to retiring intramural chairman Larry Wood, who r the past two years has done an excellent job on the intramural sys m. Mr. Montgomery, Intramural Director, praises Wood for his sincere fort in developing a higher caliber intramural program.

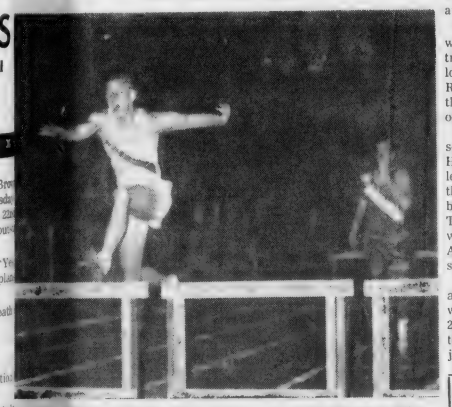
Montgomey also feels that Jerry Chitty, who will fill the shoes of ood, will do a fine job as new intramural chairman.

Good luck, Jerry

Coach Spooner is working his boys hard for upcoming track meets. e team is shaping up and should give a good representation in future eets.

A look at next season's football schedule shows that we only have four home games. Well, it's one more than last season, but couldn't something be done about a few more home encounters.

"We have hopes of starting a life-saving class after the holidays," says vimming pool manager, Rohe Eshbaugh. It's a good idea, let's take ivantage of it.



The Blue Socks, having a little bad luck, have lost a couple of close ones. More student support would help a lot for a winning baseball team.

Major league teams are working hard for season openers. A wild rediction is that Milwaukee and New York will lead pennant hopefuls.

A full week of intramural action is planned for next week.

Bob Forbis, Alpha Sigma Phi second baseman, raps one to center field. (Autry Photo).

PC's "Hondo" Jackson shows winning form in the 220 low hurdles against Furman. (Autry Photo).

YOUNG'S PHARMACY
N. Broad Street
Phone 19 - We Deliver

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night"

Hose Netmen Ride Win Streak; Upset Strong Harvard Spuad

• Wilson, Hoffman Hot

The Blue Hose netmen had no trouble in defeating the Wofford tennis team to the score of 9-0.

In the singles matches Frampton (PC) beat Beleas, 6-2, 6-2; Caviness (PC) defeated Mull, 6-1, 6-0; Stone (PC) downed Shumaker 6-0, 6-0; Hope (PC) beat Treadway, 6-0, 6-1; Hagood (PC) beat Station, 6-4, 6-4; and Turner (PC) defeated Guy, 6-1, 6-2.

In doubles, Stone-Caviness (PC) beat Beleas-Mull, 6-0, 6-1; Greenslade-Hope (PC) beat Shumaker-Treadway, 6-1, 6-1; Frampton-Turner (PC) beat Station-Guy, 6-0, 6-2.

The Blue Hose added another victroy to their credit by defeating Presbyterian Junior College 9-0.

In singles Greenslade (PC) defeated Heath, 6-0, 6-2; Frampton (PC) beat McSwain, 6-0, 6-1; Stone (PC) beat Coleman, 6-0, 6-1; Wright (PC) beat Daughtery, 6-1, 5-7, 6-3; Turner (PC) beat Kelbrough, 6-3, 6-0; Gordon (PC) beat Clark, 7-5, 61. -

In doubles Greenslade-Hagood (PC) beat Heath-McSwain, 6-4, 6-2; Wright-Hope (PC) beat Coleman-Daughtery, 6-1, 6-0; Turner-Gordon (PC) beat Kelbrough-Clark, 6-1, 6-3.

In furthering their victory list, PC chalked up another win against Harvard to the score of 5-4.

In singles, Hoffman (PC) defeated Bowdetch, 7-5, 6-1; Wilson (PC) defeated Gallway, 6-4, 6-3; Gemann (H) defeated Elliott, 6-2, 6-1; Greenslade (PC) beat Smith, 6-4, 6-3; Briggs (H) defeated Frampton, 6-1, 2-6, 8-6; and Woodburry (H) defeated Caviness, 6-4, 6-4.

In doubles matches, Wilson-Hoffman (PC) beat Gallway-Bowdetch, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4; Elliott-Frampton (PC) defeated Gemann-Moore, 9-7, 6-3; Smith-Schwartzman (H) defeated Greenslade - Stone, 6-1, 8-6.

PC Trackmen Meet Meet LR Bears

Presbyterian College trackmen, after delaying their cinder opener until this past Wednesday, will follow with their second dual meet in three days when they entertain Lenoir-Rhyne here Saturday afternoon.

Field events are scheduled to get underway at 2:30 p. m. on Johnson Field, with running events to start at 3:00 p. m.

Coach Vic Spooner and his team went against the seasoned Furman trackmen on Wednesday night and lost by a 91 to 40 score. Lenior-Rhyine is not expected to present the same degree of well-balanced opposition as did Furman.

Bobby Beddingfield, a sophomore sprinter from Columbia, paced the Hosemen in their opener. He collected 11 points with a first place in the 100-yard dash and seconds in both the 220 and the broad jump. The only other PC first that night went to freshman Phil Jackson of Atlanta in the 220 lo whurdles. Jackson ran second in the high hurdles.

Other top performers emerging among the Blue Hose trackmen were: Dick Shawn of Aiken, in the 220, 440 and hurdles; and Jon Vastine of Danville, Pa., throwing the javelin.

GALLMAN'S BARBER SHOP
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Spring Buds Softball As Intramurals Vary

Softball is underway as spring and bad grades enter the scene. Things were officially started Tuesday as Monday's games were rained out. Tuesday's games saw the Sigma Nu's down the Alpha Sigs, and the Pi Kappa Phi's down the PiKA's, defending champions. Blackwelder's Bums and the PiKA's were victorious Wednesday. Thursday saw the Falcons downing the Sigma Nu nine, 12-11, in a wild affair. The second game saw Raven Hope and Stacy Armstrong Coker's team losing 13-12 to the Kapa Alpha diamondmen. Fireball Schofill was the losing pitcher in a real heart-breaker.

Next week is a short but jam-packed week for Intramural participants. Volleyball is slated to start on Monday and the annual Intramural Track Meet is set for Wednesday. The field events will get underway at 4:00. These events will consist of the high jump, broad jump, and last of all, the shot putt. The running events start at 4:15 and will be made up of the 100-yard dash, 220, 440, and 880 and the 440 relay. Mr. Montgomery cordially invites all the faculty and students to this meet.

The All - Intramural basketball team was picked this week, made up of eleven very capable cagers. The first six is made up as follows:

(1) Bobby Joiner—Kappa Alpha.
(2) Leland Vaughan—Sigma Nu.
(3) Bill Hill—Pi Kappa Alpha.
(4) Dave Magee—Kappa Alpha.
(5) Ed Jackson—Pi Kappa Alpha.
(6 Jim Bennett—Pi Kappa Alpha.

The second five, as picked by the Intramural Council, consist of:

(1 Bob Collins—Raiders.
(2) Jerry Chitty—Sigma Nu.
(3) John McIntosh—Sigma Nu.
(4) Mickey Flynn—Pi Kappa Alpha.
(5) Jimmy Kolb—Raiders.

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

YOUNG'S GULF STATION
Road Service - Accessories
Tires - Tubes
N. Broad St. Phone 1515

Sunshine Cleaners
W. Florida St. — Phone 436
Quality Cleaning and Shirt Laundry
WE REPAIR SHOES
We Offer a "Fluff Dry" Bundle

WPCC
Your Music and News Station
Clinton, S. C.

Tennis Team Captain Harry Hoffman warms up for coming match with Miami.

Cindermen Bite Furman Dust

Furman's well-balanced track squad defeated Presbyterian College, 91-40, here Wednesday night.

Furman showing unusual strength in distance events, was paced by Thad Tolley, who amassed 15¼ points for individual high scoring honors.

Tolley won the 440- and 880-yard runs, tied for first in the pole vault and anchored the winning one-mile relay team.

Bobby Beddingfield led the Blue Hose with 11 points on a victory in the 100-yard dash and second place in both the 220 and broad jumps. Ed Browder took second place in the shot putt, while "Hondo" Jackson won the 220 and low hurdles and took second in the 120 and high hurdles with Bill Bartee taking fourth in the 120 high hurdles.

Bill Hill was second in the high jump with Billy Benton doing as well in the pole vault.

Furman entries won 13 first places in facing their sixth opponent of the year. Presbyterian, opening its track season, gained first only in the 100-yard dash and 220 low hurdles.

Dave Segal, Furman's freshman sprint star from Britain, ran unattached (his points did not count) and won the 100, 220--yard dashes, turning in times of 9.9 for the century and 21.8 for the 220.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

Patronize Your Advertisers

BROADWAY Theatre
Mon. - Tues. - Wed. - Thur.
April 11-12-13-14
On the Beach

Friday and Saturday,
April 15-16
The Angry Red Planet

Rivers Chapel Speaker

Mr. Stallworth said today that the Reverend John Rivers, the new Episcopal priest, will speak to the student body Wednesday, April 13. Mr. Rivers was supposed to have spoken this past Wednesday, but was unable to get to the college in time for the chapel period.

Prof. John Glover will introduce Rev. Rivers.

Mr. Stallworth said that Mr. Rivers will definitely be here this Wednesday.

HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Visit Our Store On the Square

Internal Revenue Seeks Employees

The Internal Revenue Service is recruiting on a nationwide basis for Special Agents at a starting salary of $4980 per year. Duties involve investigating alleged violators of Federal tax statutes to develop evidence for prosecution. Qualifications: a bachelor's degree with 12 semester hours in acounting and a grade average of "B" or class standing inthe upper 25 per cent of the clas. Students desiring further information may contact the Personnel Office, Internal Revenue Service, 901 Sumter Street, Columbia, South Carolina, or telephone AL 4-7661, Ext. 206.

Seniors Plan Gift

The class gift of Presbyterian College graduating seniors will be a contribution to the 1960 Living Endowment, according to Billy Hagood, senior clas president from Easley.

This project was adopted by the seniors at a special class meeting last Monday. At this time, they also received information about graduation invitations and other commencement details.

Hagood said donations will be obtained from individual members to make up the total class gift. He emphasized that participation in the program, rather than the size of the contribution is the important feature. The names of all contributors (but not amounts) will be carried in the Living Endowment Honor Roll, published in conection with the program.

Attitudes

proposed bill would give the board power to suggest needed legislation to carry out its educational program.

The committee stressed that education was the prime factor in the removal of restrictive attitudes. Legislation could only provide the needed environment in which the educational process could take place.

BEA Elects

The Business Economics Association held elections for officers for the coming year at its regular meeting on Thursday. Those elected were: President, Doug McDougald of Anderson; Vice-President, Paul Ard of Atlanta; Secretary and Treasurer, Harrison Clayton of Marietta, Ga.

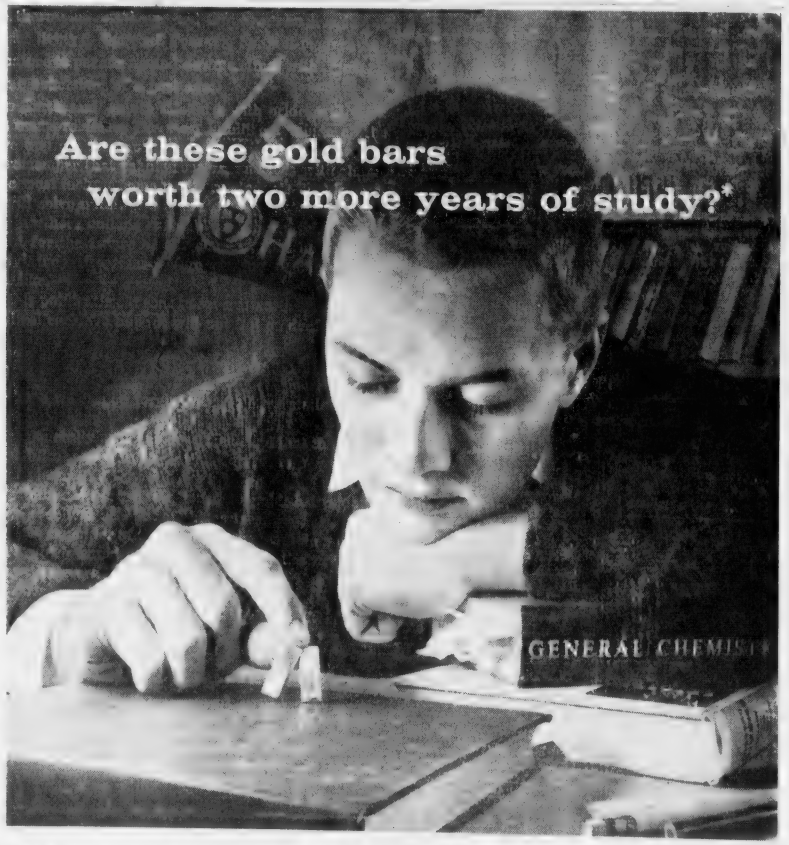
Living Endowment

"Although we are making adjustments in our salary both the trustees and the administration recognize the desire giving further increases as funds are available. At costs price many qualified school seniors out of the market, we also are faced ing to assist more of these young leaders with their ha cation through scholarship We turn to our friends and students for help in this ef

The opening phase of the ing Endowment is underw the mailing of personal lett President Brown to all con of last year. A general ma other alumni and friends w shortly, and later efforts clude additional mailings solicitations within areas agent letters.

PC's Living Endowment back enthusiastically, a 1 being suspended for the pledge period of the colleg development campaign. T of support given last yea alumni directors to expre dence in establishing its goal for 1960.

Dr. Harris



list more than 400,000 forme bers scattered throughout tion.

One of the major features Beta Club is its educator which provides low interest aid students with their high cation. Since its establish 1940, this fund has made 150 loans totaling $163,418 recipients of these loans every institution of higher in the state.

The Beta Club office also such services as a monthly zine, program materials and state conventions. The Beta Club Journal is pu monthly during the nine school year and distributed member while he is in high Dr. Harris points out with the fact that this Journal peared every school month it was started in 1934, without ing an issue.

In addition to his teachi Beta Club work, Dr. Harris ented amateur photog Among his services in this ca in recent years has been the of action movies of all PC's games.

Dr. Harris is married to mer Mary Moss of Orangeburg they have three daughters graduates.

As a college sophomore, you're nearing the mid-point. Halfway through college—halfway through Army ROTC. Now you face a major decision: Are the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant worth two additional years of study in advanced ROTC?

That question is yours to answer now—before you register for your junior year. As you explore the facts, carefully weigh the traditional responsibilities and rewards of serving as an Army officer . . .

1. Traditional responsibilities. To meet the command responsibilities of an Army officer, you apply the leadership principles absorbed during advanced ROTC training. And your executive potential grows as you gather leadership experience. That's why employers often prefer men who served as commissioned officers. These men already have proven their capacity to shoulder executive responsibility.

2. Traditional rewards. In every organization, greater responsibilities mean greater rewards. Thus the traditional responsibilities and prestige of an Army officer are matched by material advantages. For example, if you plan to marry soon after graduation—an officer's salary can be a distinct advantage. A married 2nd Lieutenant earns a minimum of $355.68 per month—plus substantial fringe benefits.

Need more information? Check with the Professor of Military Science and Tactics at your college or university. He'll be glad to discuss your decision with you.

Last year, 14,436 sophomores answered "yes" to this question—and entered advanced Army ROTC.

Alumni Banquet

Graduating seniors will be guests of the Presbyterian Alumni Association at a highligiting the newly adopted ni Reunion program on June Former PC students are so ed to return to the campus time for class reunions and activities. Their evening program will include the welc of the class of 1960 into the Association.

Presbyterian alumni last fa ed to move most of the alum tivities formerly held at Hom ing to the Commencement This was done to give more sis to the reunion feature, vide a broader program and mit use of dormitory faciliti overnight accommodations.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., April 29, 1960 No. 22

Belk Chapel's new look, the name and seal of Presbyterian.—(Autry Photo)

Council Election Set For Tuesday; Top Candidates Vie For Posts

Student body nominations held yesterday resulted in seventeen men being nominated for Student council posts.

Selected to run for the three senior representatives were Maurice Schwartz, Paul Ard, Dick Faulkner, Lawton rice, Doug McDougald, and Rohe Eshbaugh.

Junior candidates are Bobby Joiner, Frank Sells, Bob Stevens, Joe Nixon, Dick Carr, and Jimmy Thomson

Yearout, John Henderson, Joe Har-

Sophomore nominees are Pete vrad, Bill Bartee, and David Harrill.

The three senior representatives who are elected will be voted on again to determine the student body president and vice-president. The runner-up in this election will hold the position of vice-president.

The junior candidate receiving the largest number of votes will serve as council secretary. Two other juniors will represent this class on the student council.

Two candidates will be elected sophomore representative

Elections were originally scheduled for today, however, since between 45 and 50 men were absent from the student body the elections will be held Tuesday, May 3. The student body president election is dated for Thursday, May 5. The absence of the great number of men is due to the fact that a large majority of Junior and Senior ROTC cadets are visiting Fort Jackson.

Tennis Cut Recommended; Verdict Slated For December in an effort to settle the various mors spreading over the campus garding the future of the Presbyrian College athletic program, re are the facts:

1—There is a definite financial oblem involved in the soaring sts of thep rogram. The board of ustees ,through a special committe which studied the problem for ore than a year, emphasized this int in calling for increased supt through the Walter Johnson ub.

2—Future action by the trustees dependent upon the response of hnson Club members toward asuming one-half of the financial cost athletic scholarship aid (That are currently would be $31,000).

3—Most parties involvedJtrustees, umni, and students — want as oad a progra mas possible. There the reality of paying for it, however, and the trustees will review e situation next year to see what rogress has been made toward ringing the problem under control.

4—The executive council of the alter Johnson Club—elected representatives of this alumni group hich is called upon to finance one-alf of the program—was presentd the trustee report by three board embers. In accepting the report, ey urged that some portion of the hole program be trimmed to reuce total costs and to help assure ontinued subsidization of the main ortion.

y of opposing teams faced by PC 5—With consideration for the qual- various sports in this area, the xecutive council pointed out that oth football and basketball need eir present scholarship quotas to compete. It recommended that some of the tennis costs be reduced gradually, with no existing scholarship affected. Baseball, golf, and track would continue as presently.

6—Johnson Club efforts are now being directed toward securing more funds to help solve the athletic program's financial problem as directed by the board of trustees. Final results of the drive will not be known until that time, but members are encouraged by the currnet response that is running well ahead of last year at this time.

President Marshall W. Brown summarizes his views on the overall athletic program in these words:

"The administration believes that the present policy of offering the most extensive sports program of any college of similar size in the area has been one which has had real values in student development. It is our intention to continue as broad a sports program as is possible without detriment to the general progress of the college.

"No scholarship already promised will be adversely affected. The aomunt of future scholarship aid will depend upon funds made available by alumni and friends. If the offer of future scholarships is somewhat less, the alumni council wishes to continue football and basketball scholarships, because a larger number of spectarors are interested in these sports which are partially self-supporting through admission fees.

"In any case, it is the definite plan to continue to have competent coaching in all sports now offered on the campus, so that students nerolled may continue to benefit from our athletic program."

Dubose to Serve As Sigma Nu Commander

Sonny DuBose of Sumter, was recently elected to head the Zeta Theta Chapter of Sigma Nu.

DuBose took the leadership reins from John McIntosh, and will serve as Commander for the 1960-61 session.

Lieutenant Commander for the coming year will be Bob Stevens of Orongeburg. Stevens, also a rising junior, succeeds Will Wallace.

Flash Gordon of Waynesboro, Va., replaces Malcolm McHargue as Recorder, and Joe Davis of Atlanta, moves in to the treasurer's post succeeding Stacy Coker.

Martin Chitty of Denmark, will serve the fraternity as IFC representative. Dougald Clark was last year's representative and IFC president.

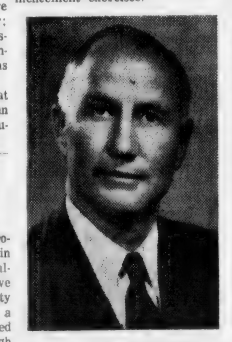
Lawton Rice was selected to be hte new chaplain, and Vince Brown assumes reporting duties.

Directing the pledge activities as new pladge marshall is Dan McQueen.

Jerry Chitty was voted the new athletic director, and Jack Fallow Sentinel.

Also serving as new officers are Hal Roberts as Assistant Recorder; Dick McGaughey, Assistant Treasurr; and Vince Brown, Alumni Contact; with John Elrod serving as his assistant.

The new officers were oriented at the clooe of the election and begun at once to perform the various duties of their office.



Thurmond To Speak At Alumni Banquet

Senator Strom Thurmond will deliver the main address at Presbyterian College's Alumni Banquet on June 4, President Marshall W. Brown has announced.

The banquet, scheduled for the PC dining hall that night, will be the mgnight of the newly inaugurated Alumni Reunion program at Presbyterian College. Class reunions and other alumni activities previously held during the fall Homecoming are being shifted to the commencement season, beginning this year.

As announced earlier, the schedule of PC's 1960 graduating exercises call for the baccalaureate sermon on June 5 and final commencement program on June 6.

Presbyterian alumni will arrive on the campus one day early, on Saturday afternoon, for the Alumni Reunion program. Some are expected to remain over for the commencement exercises.

SENATOR THURMOND

Senator Thurmond, junior senator from South Carolina, former governor and a close friend of PC for the past decade, will be awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree at the college's 79th commencement program in June. He has had an outstanding career in military service and politics, and he carried four states as the 1948 presidential candidate of the States' Rights Democratic party.

Crawford Addresses Chemistry Students

Chemistry received the main emphasis at a Presbyterian College dinner to which high school teachers and students of the area were invited Thursday of this week

Dr. H. Marjorie Crawford, professor of chemistry at Vassar College and prominent in the field of organic chemistry, was the main speaker of the occasion. It was held in the Presbyterian College dining hall.

DR. MARJORIE CRAWFORD

President Brown said invitations had been extended to the heads of high school chemistry departments of the area and through them to their most outstanding chemistry students.

The program was sponsored jointly by the PC chemistry department, headed by Dr. K. N. Carter, and the student Science Club.

Durant Interprets Williams Play

Monday night Jack Durant, by student request, delivered a symbolic interpretation of Tennessee Williams' play, "Suddenly Last Summer." Mr. Durant based his atlk on the play theme that all creation is based on a system of interdependence, but these dependencies are mistaken for mutual exploration, and as long as this exploration exists there is danger of self-destruction.

The poet, Sebastian, was a god-like image, a user of people, who associated himself with the average concepts of life. Because of these concepts he was doomed to self-destruction. Whereas Catherian Holly who said, "the truth's the one thing I have never resisted!", was his opponent and the cause (truth) of his doom.

From these aspects, Mr. Durant took applicable portions of the play to exemplify the universality of the theme.

Since the student interest was high, possibly in the future similar programs will be presented.

IRC Elects Officers Monday

The International Relations Club will hold elections for officers and members at large Monday night at 7:45.

These officers wil take charge of the IRC for the 1960-61 year. Included in this are program for the year, International Relations Week, and the IRC banquet to be held late next year.

PCuns Say Keep Tennis Strong

Question: The Walter Johnson Executive Council has recommended that if any sport on campus has to have its funds cut, that tennis would be the most logical—What is your opinion of this recommendation?

Harry Hoffman: "It is really ironic in that every other college in the state is stepping up their tennis program and at PC, long noted for being a tennis power, we are de-emphasizing the sport.

Why should the one sport which has literally put PC on the map and has done more good for PC than any other athletic team is doing or veer will do, be virtually eliminated.

Bob Smith: "It is very evident that we have a problem in paying for athletics at PC, because most schools finance their entire program through money brought in by their football teams. This is almost an impossibility here as we are not located in a town or city large enough to make football a paying sport. This was evidenced this past year when—even though we had a 9-1 record and went to the Tangerine Bowl—the stands never came close to being filled, even on Parnts' Day when our families were given free tickets.

"Since football is not able to support the other sports, be they considered minor or not, I do not see any reason to de-emphasize minor sports, but I believe we should attempt to have a well-rounded program even if it would mean taking

(Continued on page four)

Muarice Shwartz: "It seems to me that the athletic program should be for the benefit and enjoyment of the studentb ody. Now if any one sport here has been supported by the students, tennis is that sport.If this, perhaps the favorite sport of the campus, is to be done away with, then why not abolish the whole system, since it apparently will not be serving its purpose."

Joe Harvard: "PC has long been noted for its fine, well-rounded athletic program, especially for its tennis teams. It is truly a shame that this fine program is meeting such a drastic ending."

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Aid Needed

The best student bodies are the interested student bodies. For this reason we are exceptionally pleased with the wholehearted and justified interest of the student body in the athletic policy. We feel that the administration and alumni will see that this interest is healthy to the school.

The editorial staff of this publication has made as thorough a study of the existing problems as possible. We realize that a definite problem of fiance has arisen. We are also acutely aware of the fact that the Walter Johnson Executive Council has made a study of the problem.

We point out this, however. There are almost five hundred future alumni on the campus. These alumni to be are in closer contact with the school than anyone else, except the administration, of the school. Remember that these students have a right to voice their opinions on the school happenings. After all, they are the school.

The Walter Johnson Executive Council has recommended that if any sport has to be cut that tennis seems to be the most logical. Under the present state of conditions it seems very logical that this recommendation will be followed.

This announcement has caused a general uproar of the student body. It can be easily understood when recalled that tennis has become a PC tradition. This tradition has brought national recognition to a small school, a school which will never be able to gain notice in any major sport. Tennis has given the students of this institution a pride in his school.

Tennis is often called the "Gentleman's Sport." A school which emphasizes this sport to the extent that it becomes a national power must necessarily be recognized as a school of quality.

In light of this we cannot help but feel that a de-emphasis of tennis would bring a loss to PC that could never be recovered in any other field of athletic endeavor.

We beg that this view of tennis, the students' view, be presented before the Walter Johnson Club, the Board of Trustees and Alumni groups.

To all PC men, present and past, let's work together and do all that's possible to keep the "Gentleman's Sport" predominant in a school which strives to produce first of all—gentlemen.

Its Yours - You Make It

A school is first of all what it's students make it. Small instances make the large.

We have become somewhat dismayed at the amount of trash, drink bottles and other miscellaneous items which accumulateover the campus. This causes an eyesore which does not aid in a first impression of the school.

That a straight line is the shortest distance between two points is a very truthful statement; however the little paths cut all through the campus give the appearance of a southern cotton field.

A use of the trash can and a few extra steps on the sidewalk would do a great deal toward improving the appearance of the campus.

There is no possible way to enforce such matters. It is entirely up to the student. Pride in something shows in small points. Remember, PC is what we make it. In the world of today's competition, we could very well be what it makes us. Thus what we do herewillvery probably affect us in the future.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR — MARTIN CHITTY
MANAGING EDITOR — GRAHAM EDMUNDS
ASSOCIATE EDITOR — JOHN CRAIG
Sports Editor — Bob Stevens
Circulation Managers — Ted Hentz, Charles Copley
Feature Editor — Howard Gordon
News Editor — Murray White

Once Again-"Lets Hear It:'

The election of the Student Body President often raises many questions among the students.

In our student handbook, The Knapsack, we are simply told that if any member of the student body, who can meet the qualifications—those of having a C average and not having a failing grade the preceding semester, can run for office.

It is our suggestion that nominees for this office be given the oportunity to express his views on present school policies and present a proposed platform for the coming school year.

Since the election of the Student Body President will take place Thursday, it is our suggestion that Wednesday's chapel period be devoted to thoser unning for this office. W eare of the opinion that if the members of the Student Body are given the oportunity to view and evaluate the nominees for such a high position, the choice of their leader can be made more easily.

PC Alumni Chapters Schedule Meetings

Four chapter meetings of Presbyterian College alumni are scheduled for next week as part of a full spring season, Alumni and Public Relations Director Ben Hay Hammet, announced today.

The slate next week calls for local chapters of the PC Alumni Association to assemble in Spartanburg on Monday, Rock Hill on Tuesday, Charlotte on Thursday, and Anderson on Friday. All are evening engagements.

Alumni meetings already have been held in three localities recently —in Dillon, Sumter and Darlington —and three others are scheduled for later in May. The Atlanta chapter is set to meet on May 10; Columbia on May 12; and Charleston, tentatively on May 20.

PC Choir Sings At Broad Street

The Presbyterian Colle choir will present a progra cred music and worship night at Clinton's Broa Methodist Church. The s begin at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Edouard Patte, co the widely acclaimed cho recently directed the Pres College choir in its 500th co der his leadership over a p riod. The two appearances day will mark the 500th with Dr. Patte as the PC

He has developed his cu gram around the theme, " Lord." Setting the mood for sentation is a dynamic and opening number entitled by Vivaldi.

Thes two appearances the regular 1959-60 concer for the Presbyterian Colle Since the season opened

Looking From Chimney Height At Big Bu

The little factory was very industrious-looking. Smoke was pouring out of the smokestacks and trucks were busily being loaded. This little factory was destined for great things. The product was slowly but surely being brought up to the standard of Grade A.

It hadn't always been this way. At one time the little factory had been running in the red. They couldn't find a market for their product. The men in the front office felt that the product w a little work and dedicat lives to developing a pro would make the pliable material into a resilien product that everyone would and feel a place for in their zation.

To do this, the admin worked hard and develop that would shape the produ perfectly. They discovered that used many varied There was one set of pres made the product able to material and to allow it to at the right time and amount. Another phase of cess made it able to resist and tear of the world and made it to look happy and

There was another proc as important and just as ne This process just about ru factory. It seemed that this was a favorite of a small the front office and thye this step in the total prepara more important than any others. Of course they didn to do away with the other es but they felt that they co just a good a product if it di through the other steps. Th man of that section agreed ed them to try and do so so that they could enlarg process. They were able to that section of the factory, three years more they enla until it became so large th factory began to run in the

The idea of running in the scared the whole front offic they took drastic action. Th the large section down so muc it became almost ineffectua hurt the product. In order t tain the high rating, it had t the proper balance of the system. The product became Of course it was strong in tain way but what had mad product sell in the years befor the well-rounded process of ing the finished product. Th tory suffered, for the produc not making profits to return school and no one wanted t their raw material to this litt tory because of the weak final uct. The raw material it co was o finferior type and this els and less sales. Finally th tory went out of business.

Moral: Too much or not of one thing will ruin the business.

Letters to The Editor

National recognition is something all colleges—large and small—strive for. The large universities, such as Clemson and Carolina. This comes easy, for they are known through the northeast as football powers—yet little else. Small schools, such as PC, have little to fall back upon for this fame except, perhaps, high academic standards. Yet here Presbyterian falls below even the ranks of schools of similar size because of the mock honor system that prevails —year after year. But we do have ont thing that swells each student with pride—a tennis team that is capable every year of defeating any and all colleges—Yale to Miami.

A small school trying to be a major football power with no more financial prospects than PC has is foolish and foolhardy. In truth, the present athletic director and staff have done much to place us in an honor position—in football in competition with Small Colleges. But yet, the sacrifice of this comes from two sources: 1) too few scholarships; and 2) football coaches trying to coach sports they are seemingly unfamiliar with. And now this week comes the announcement that Tennis scholarships will be discontinued —and the probable loss of the best tennis coach in the South.

There is only one way to summarize this situation—it's a shame! Nothing will ever take the place of tennis on the PC campus.

Name Withheld By Request

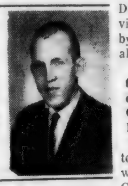
Dear Editor:

This letter is concerning the proposed cut of tennis scholarships. I don't believe there would be any argument as to who is responsible. The argument is why tennis? Whoever made this ruling is wrong. Where else do you find a school of 500 competing with the University of Miami, Yale, Harvard, Princeton, and other big universities. Tennis has six full scholarships. Is this expenditure too large for this national recognition for our college? This past fall our football team received much national recognition for playni gand defeating schools with enrollments of two or three thousand students. Many people were proud of this achievement. Why can't the tennis team also be allowed to continue to receive this recognition? It's unfair if this policy is to be followed.

For the past 20 years, Presbyte-

(Continued on page four)

PC Netmen Are Champs, Again; No. 21 Goes Into The Records



Presbyterian College is represented by another South rolina Collegiate Tennis Champion in Harry Hoffman, tain of the 1960 Blue Hose netmen. Harry won his title ril 23 at the State Collegiate Tennis Tournament held at nson. Some of the winners of les matches at the tournament e Hoffman, Greneslade, Çavi- and Stone. In the doubles ches Greenslade teamed up with man to win their match.

iami defeated PC for the second e of the season when they met Although the final score of this ch was 8-1, the Blue Hose sets very close ones. In singles, man was defeated by Skogstad Miami, 7-5, 7-5; Cokell (M) de- ed Wilson, 2-6, 6-1, 6-3; McCor- ke (M) defeated Elliott, 6-1, 6-2; ick (M) defeated Greenslade, mpton, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4; Caviness defeated Kooler, 2-6; 6-4, 6-1. the doubles matches, Skogstad- ell (M) beat Hoffman-Wilson, 0-6, 7-5; McCormick-Kooler beat Frampton-Elliott, 6-3, 6-3; Minick-Bassong (M) beat Wright-Stone, 6-2, 8-6.

JC journeyed to the University of Georgia to hand them an 8-1 defeat and then to Georgia Tech where they defeated the Yellow Jackets 6-3.

The Blue Hose beat Georgia Tech a second time on the PC courts. The score of this match was 5-4. Hoffman defeated Neely 6-3, 9-7; Thompson (GT) beat Wilson 6-1, 6-2; Greenslade beat Averluck, 6-2, 6-3; Peake (GT) defeated Elliott, 3-6, 6-3, 8-6; Frampton defeated Metz, 6-1, 6-3; Peasall (GT) beat Caviness 6-4; 6-3. In doubles matches, Hoffman - Greenslade defeated Neelly-Thompson, 6-4, 17-15. This was the first time this Georgia Tech combination had been beaten in two years. Frampton - Elliott defeated Averluck-Metz, 7-5, 4-6, 6-3; Peake-Peasall (GT) beat Caviness-Stone, 6-2, 6-1.

Run . . . Of the Hose

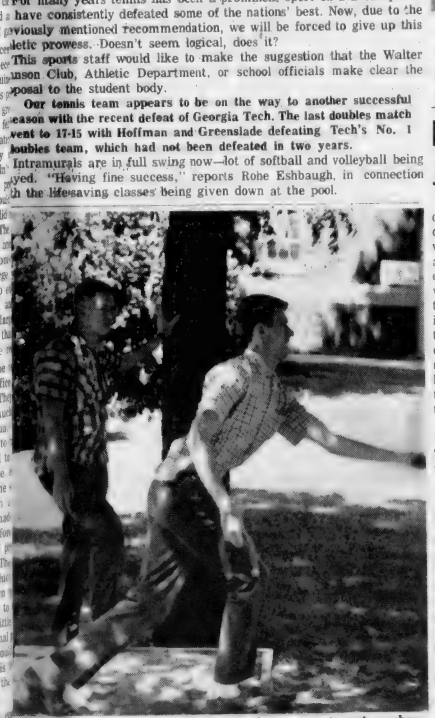
Bob Stevens, Sports Editor

"Hey, Son! Where do you go to school?" "PC—Oh, that's the school t puts out those great tennis teams."

Among PC students and alumni this is an old experience. Upon meeting a person from out of state, we are usually asked which ool we attend. Invariably upon mention of PC the out-of-stater makes tatement concerning the nationally renowned Presbyterian College net ad.

In this sport the little man steps into the big boy class and defeats Harvard, Georgia Tech, and Dartmouth, and wins the 21st consecutive tate Championship.

Even more pride should be noted because tennis is the "Gentleman's ort." A school which strongly supports tennis invariably meets the lic eye as a school of high quality.



The executive council of the Walter Johnson Club has made the recommendation that if any money heed be cut from the athletic policy that tennis would be the logical place to cut. It is generally assumed that there have to be a cut. So—

For many years tennis has been a prominent sport on this campus—have consistently defeated some of the nations' best. Now, due to the eviously mentioned recommendation, we will be forced to give up this letic prowess. Doesn't seem logical, does it?

This sports staff would like to make the suggestion that the Walter nson Club, Athletic Department, or school officials make clear the posal to the student body.

Our tennis team appears to be on the way to another successful eason with the recent defeat of Georgia Tech. The last doubles match went to 17-15 with Hoffman and Greenslade defeating Tech's No. 1 oubles team, which had not been defeated in two years.

Intramurals are in full swing now—lot of softball and volleyball being yed. "Having fine success," reports Rohe Eshbaugh, in connection th the lifesaving classes being given down at the pool.

Loosening up for a possible intramural tournament are horseshoe pitchers Guy Hancock and Pat Hall.—(Autry Photo)

Cindermen Surprise At Newspaper Relays

The Presbyterian College track team made an excellent showing last week at the News-Piedmont Relays held at Furman University. The team placed third behind powerful Florida State and the host team, Furman. In gaining a total of 34 points, the PC cinder team won first place in the small college division of the mile and the 440-yard relay. The locals also took second place in the 880-yard rerlay and third in the sprint medley.

In winning the mile relay, the team set a new small college record for the News-Piedmont Relays (the winning time was 3:31.4) and the relay team was made up of Billy Eberhardt, Phil Jackson, Ernie Redd, and Dick Shawn.

In the major college division, Phil Jackson won fourth place in the hgih hurdles and Gordon Stanley took fifth place in the discus throw.

Lynn Gorman, Phil Jackson, and Dick Shawn proved to be the individual standouts for Presbyterian by each bringing home three medals.

The PC track team journeyed to Georgia for a dual meet Thursday and will travel to Davidson College Saturday to enter the High Point Relays.

The track season will be brought to a close next Friday and Saturday with the annual State Meet held in Columbia.

Coach Leighton congratulates Dave Greenslade and Harry Hoffman after their victory over the Georgia Tech No. 1 doubles team in the nation.—(Autry Photo)

Even Horseshoes Join Intramurals

Sports activities are numerous all over campus as school draws to a close. Students have to be careful when they leave Judd Dining Hall as horsshoes are flying everyeverywhere. Volleyball got underway this week as softball reaches the half-way mark. The Intramuralists also are getting underway with the Tennis Tournament during idle days of Coach Leighton's fabulous netmen. The annual Swiming Meet has no definite date as of yet, but the date will be set in the near future.

This year's Intramural Track Meet turned out to be a real thriller. The first place was occupied by two teams, Kappa Alpha and the Falcons. Sigma Nu took second place, followed closeily yb Pi Kappa Phi. Individual stars were Larry Wood, Kappa Alpha, Stacy Burton, Falcons; Joe Davis and Bob Salyer, Sigma Nu.

Softball seems to be the center of sports activities as the end of the season draws closer. Each team has approximately five games remaining and anything can happen. The first place spot is being held by Pi Kappa Phi, followed closely by pa Alpha is presently holding down Poochie Blackwelder's nine. Pi Kaphird place, and Sigma Nu, Kappa Alpha and the Falcons are all tied for fourth place.

Dobbins' One-Hitter Paces Hose Victory

Bill Dobbins hurled a magnificent one-hit shut-out against Wofford's Terriers yesterday to snap a long Blue Hose losing streak. The Hose lost two games earlier in the week, one to Erskine by a 10-9 score, and the second to the Indians of Newberry, 7-2.

Dobbins, the only Presbyterian pitcher to win this year, now has a 2-1 record for the year. The only safety for the Terriers was a bloop single in the second inning. From then on, Dobbins had almos tcomplete control and received near perfect backing from the Hose defense, which featured three swift double plays.

Presbyterian scored two runs in the first inning off Wofford's Bob Crews, but was unable to muster any more runs until the eighth when they scored the final tally.

Presbyterian's leading hitter was second baseman Wayne Godfrey, who banged out a pair of triples.

The Blue Hose now have a 1-1 record in conference play with a game tomorrow afternoon at Due West against Erskine. Four games are scheduled for next week with two slated for the home field.

PC Students Vary In Religious Choices

Two hundred and forty-five students are earning BA degrees while one hundred and seventy-eight seek BS degrees. Of those who aspire to BS degrees, 94 are Business Administration majors.

The five fields which head the major studies are Economics, History, English, Biology, and Mathematics. The corresponding quintet in the minor studies is Bible, History, English, Mathematics, and Physical Education.

The student group embraces eighteen religious denominations which includes:

Presbyterian	284
Baptist	112
Methodist	52
Episcopal	18
Lutheran	4
Catholic	4
Christian	3
Non-Denominational	2
Church of Christ	1
Pentecostal Holiness	1
A. R. P.	1
Church of God	1
Seventh Day Adventist	1
Reformed Jewish	1
Greek Orthodox	1
Reformed Church of Germany	1
Evangelical-Reformed	1
Church of God of Prophecy	1
Christian Science	1
No Preference Given	2
	492

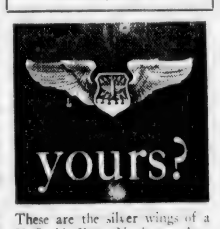
Three hundred and thirty-one have chosen 37 fields for preferred life work. These fields, with ten or more subcribers, are: Business (76), Ministry (51), Teaching (49), Law (27), Coaching (15), Medicine (14), and Dentistry (14). One hundred and sixty-one students are undecided.

YOUNG'S GULF STATION
Road Service - Accessories
Tires - Tubes
N. Broad St. Phone 1515

BROADWAY Theatre
MONDAY AND TUESDAY, MAY 2-3
The Wind Cannot Read
WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY, MAY 4-5
Around the World In 80 Days
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, MAY 6-7
Killers of Kilimanjaro

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

Golfers Prepare For State Meet



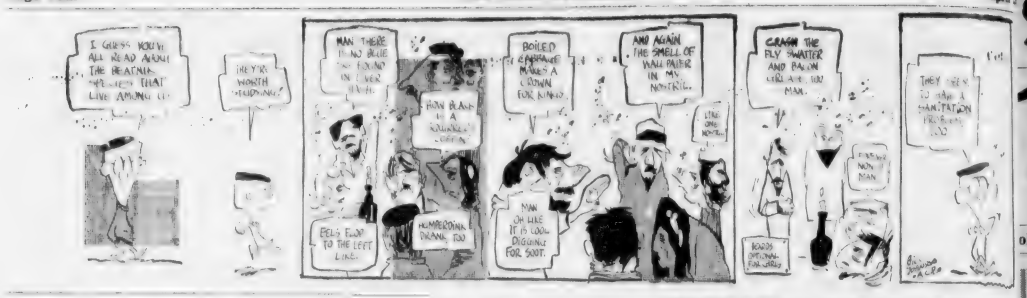
PC linksters have been stepping up the pace for the State Tournament by winning three out of their last four matches.

The Presbyterian golfers defeated Wofford 17-10, with team captain Clyburn firing a 71 for medalist honors. Harry McDonnold got a double-eagle.

Belmont Abbey fell victim to the PCun's 14-4. Clyburn again was medalist with a 73.

This past Tuesday PC out-fired Mercer by a score of 13½ to 4½. Medalists were Ravenel with a 71, and Clyburn with a 72, one under par.

The team leaves on Friday for the State Tournament at Hampton. Those making the trip are Max Clyburn, Owen Ravenel, Logan Porter, Harry McDonnold, Hexie McDonnold, and Frank Selis. It will be a two-day tournament. According to team captain Clyburn the PCun's have a good chance to bring home the trophy, although Clemson will be the team to beat.



These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team. U.S. Air Force

MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY — Dept. AVIATION CADET INFORMATION SCL-05
BOX 7608, WASHINGTON 4, D. C.
I am between 19 and 26½, a citizen of the U. S. and a high school graduate with ____ years of college. Please send me detailed information on the Air Force Aviation Cadet program.
NAME _____
STREET _____
CITY _____
COUNTY _____ STATE _____

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

ΑΒΡΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Bob Arrowood was named recipient Tuesday night of the Pledge Cup presented annually by Province Chief Ben L. Collins.

The Brotherhood welcomed into its membership this week: Wirt Skinner, Bobby Piephoff, Bob Arrowood, Allen Freeman, Jack Crider, and Murray White.

The annual Black and White Ball, jointly sponsored by the chapters of the Province is set for this weekend. Brothers and Pledges of Alpha Psi will head towards Pinehurst tomorrow for the gala formal affair.

THETA CHI

Further plans for a Greek Weekend party with Furman University's Theta Chi Chapter were discussed on Tuesday night. The brothers and pledges are happy to welcome new pledge Dave Stricklin into the fraternity.

PI KAPPA PHI

Congratulations to John Dickerson, Steve Craig, Ken Davis, and Jack Williams who went into the Brotherhood Friday night. Also, thanks for those three runs in the last inning Thursday to give us our third victory. At the meeting Tuesday night, final plans for the Rose Ball at the University of Georgia Saturday night.

KAPPA ALPHA

New officers were installed for the coming year at our last meeting. Those installed included Billy Wilkes No. I, Sam McGee, No. II, Douglas McDougald No. III, Pat Dorn No. IV, Pat Griffin No. V, Ben Vincent No. VI, Ted Hentz No. VII, Bobby Joiner No. VIII, Bill Mathews No. IX. Congratulations were extended to Ed Loring on his recent pinning of Miss Sue Lane. KA is happy to receive it's most recent pledges, Bob Wylie and Ed Brailsford. Both brothers and guests enjoyed our party this weekend.

SIGMA NU

Our congratulations to new officers Sonny DuBose, Commander; Bob Stevens, Lieutenant Commander; Flash Gordon, Recorder; and Joe Davis, Treasurer.

Also our sincerest thanks to old officers, Mac, Budda, Malcolm, Stacy, and Raven, for their fine contribution.

Final plans were made for the party this Saturday.

The fraternity was glad to welcome Bob Miller into the pledge class.

Fun was had by all at the Brother-Pledge softball game.

Sigma Kappa Alpha Taps Three Seniors

Ann S. Gettys, William Hagood, and Thomas R. Wise were tapped into Sigma Kappa Alpha (senior honorary society) today during chapel. The elected students must have earned a 2.4 quality point ratio over seven semesters under the old system in order to enter the society. Sponsored by the dean's office, the society was reactivated last year by the Blue Key Fraternity.

At the same time, the Sophomore Honorary Society took in Edwin C. Henty, Mary Jean McDaniel, William S. Ogden, and Sanders G. Read, Jr. A 2.4 average also is required of them for three semesters.

The chapel speaker was Dr. James T. Stewart, associate professor of English at Furman University and currently Piedmont Area president of Phi Beta Kappa. Dr. Stewart spoke in honor of these students and praised them for their academic achievement, noting that such excellence justifies the fundamental function of the college.

SCA Picnic

Final plans are being made for the Spring picnic sponsored by the SCA. The outing will begin at 3:30 with a bus leaving at 3:15 for students without transportation. The main feaure of the program will be the fraternity sing with a plaque going to the winner. A new rule has been added stating that each group must sing as a unit rather than having one portion serve as a background for another. The picnic promises to be one of the big events of the year.

Ed Minus Granted Graduate Study Aid

Ed Minus, a senior from Greer, was informed last week that he has been granted a full fellowship to Hollins College, near Roanoke, Va.

Ed plans to accept this grant and continue his education in the graduate school of writing and Contemporary Literature.

While here at Presbyterian College, as an English major, he has shown the uutstanding characteristics which constitute a good writer.

Ed has contributed both to the Blue Stocking and the Literary Journal 131 in his college career.

At Hollins he plans to study the many phases of writing—particularly the writing of fiction and plays.

Sunshine Cleaners
W. Florida St. — Phone 436
Quality Cleaning and Shirt Laundry
WE REPAIR SHOES
We Offer a "Fluff Dry" Bundle

GALLMAN'S BARBER SHOP
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Ten Students Get Founders Aid

Ten high school seniors from South Carolina and Georgia have been selected to receive 1960 Founder's Scholarships to Presbyterian College, Student Dean A. J. Thackston announced today.

Marion B. Boozer, of Gaffney, and Ellen V. Wilson, of Savannah, Ga., will receive the top awards, each granting $2.000 for the four years of study.

Other winners of the competitive scholarships, to begin with the start of the fall semester next September, are:

James W. Harris and Vivian L. Taylor, both of Laurens; Russell L. Strange, Jr., and Francis R. Hood, both of Decatur, Ga.; Ponce De-Leon Bullard, of Bainbridge, Ga.; James L. Owens, of Greenwood; Edward L. Pender, Jr., of Columbia, and Janet E. Maddox, of Spartanburg.

These students were chosen from among a larger group of finalists who visited the Presbyterian College campus earlier this month. Selection was made on the basis of character, intellect and leadership after a series of tests and interviews.

The 1960 competition marks the sixth year of the Founder's Scholarship program, which started in 1955.

Letters

(Continued from page two)

rian College has won the state tennis championship. With the de-emphasis of our tennis program, we can expect to compete with Wofford, Erskine, and the College of Charleston for the poorest team in the state.

I think that the person or persons responsible for this decision should review his or their reason and decide if the $6,900 of scholarships is worth this tremendous recognition for our institution.

—E. C. HENTZ

WPCC
Your Music and News Station
Clinton, S. C.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

YOUNG'S PHARMACY
N. Broad Street
Phone 19 - We Deliver

Dave Morgan, Belton Jackson, Hondo Jackson, and Ern warm up for News-Piedmont Relays.

Chapel Features Honors Day Program

Presbyterian College spotlighted some of its most outstanding students in a double-feature Honors Day program today.

The morning chapel exercise was the occasion for awarding certificates to newly elected members of the Senior Honor Society and the Sophomore Honor Society and to nominees for current listing in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

This evening the annual Dean's List Banquet will honor those 53 Presbyterian College students who have been included on the roll of academic excellence during the past two semesters.

Two speakers have been scheduled for the program. Dr. James T. Stewart, associate professor of English at Furman University, addressed the Friday morning chapel exercises in the Neville Hall auditorium. This evening the main address will be given by Dr. Curtis W. R. Larson, academic dean of Queens College. It's set for 8:00 p. m. in Judd Dining Hall.

Patronize Your Advertisers

Opinions

(Continued from page

some of the football schol order to cut down on the n ber of athletic scholarship

"It has been recommen the tennis scholarships be to go. To me, this woul greatest mistake that made, because first of all to PC as football is to Non Georgia Tech, their outstan letic team. And secondly, is well known and ranked —something football will able to achieve."

Evin Varner: "If we are have subsidized athletics, have all of them subsidized at all.

Walter Johnson's ideal wa rounded, well-balanced program at PC; perhaps lost sight of that idea. T seems to be one sport, oth profiting at the expense o ing the balanced program

Joe Hardin: "Why sho take away scholarships tennis team which in the pa ty years has brought th national recognition, becaus big name schools which pete with."

There's Better Servi
Joe's Esso Servi
Try Our Soda Foun
Cars Greased in the Mod Way

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

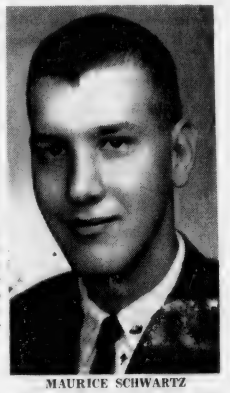
Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
ON THE SQUARE

Schwartz Voted New Council Prexy

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress
ol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., May 6, 1960 No. 23

Dick Faulkner To Be Vice-President

A hotly contested election between Maurice Schwartz and Dick Faulkner for Student Body President ended in victory for Maurice Schwartz.



A total of 387 votes were cast in the election. Schwartz polled 218 and Faulkner, 152. Rice, who withdrew the evening before, received 17 votes.

Since transferring here from Catawba College, Schwartz has maintained a Dean's List average. As a chemistry major, he became eligible and was awarded the Oak Ridge Scholarship for summer study. Schwartz has been managing editor for the Blue Stocking, IFC representative for PiKA fraternity, and received student council experience as junior representative last year.

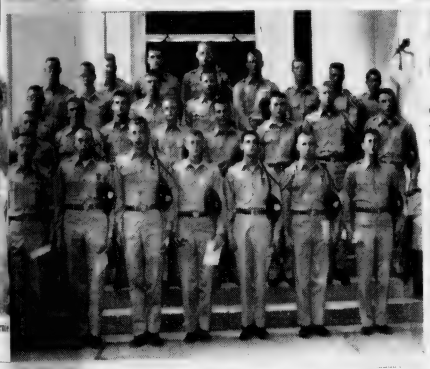
Dick Faulkner, second runner up, has served as Sophomore Class vice-president, SCA vice-president, and officer in Pi Kappa Phi fraternity.

Lawton Rice will be senior class representative.

Nine votes separated the candidates for secretary as Bobby Joiner received 197 to Bob Stevens' 188.

MAURICE SCHWARTZ

Bob Joiner is vice-president of the Sophomore Class, number eight in the Order of Kappa Alpha, and a football letterman.



Jimmy Thompson will be junior Class Representative. Joe Harvard and John Henderson will be the Sophomore Class Representatives.

The Freshman Class Representatives will be elected in the fall of the 1960-61 year.

Tau Phi Pi Elects

Tau Phi Pi Science Society has elected its officers for the coming year. They are Mike Brown, president; Don Mobley, vice-president; and Mike Dawkins, secretary-treasurer. These men are all chemistry majors and replace Jim Bennett, Mike Brown, and Pete Beckman.

Plans for reorganization and appointment of new committee heads are planned for the next meeting which will be held in the near future.

Newly installed members of the PC Pershing Rifles.—(Autry Photo)

Pershing Rifles Are Officially Formed

Presbyterian College has added a Pershing Rifle organization to its highly regarded ROTC unit which ranks among the oldest in the nation.

The Pershing Rifle unit was officially formed in a spec- ceremony on Wednesday night designated Company A of the urth Regiment of the National So- y of Pershing Rifles.

Col. James Scott of Clemson, di- ted the ceremonies and initiated charter members into the Pres- terian group.

The national organization, founded 1892 by John C. Pershing, then a utenant at the University of Ne- aska, has as its purpose to perfect ill and military efficiency. It is w represented at 150 colleges roughout the country.

Newly elected officers of Presby- ian's Company A of Pershing fles are: Joe Hardin of Green- od, comander; Cliff Stovall of illins, exective officer; Jim Ben- t of Ludowichi, Ga., S-1; Harry McDonald of Asheville, N. C., ; Carl N. Gibson of Greer, S-3; n Donaldson of Blackshear, Ga., ; and Tom Middleton of Jeffer- n, 1st sergeant.

Students Object To Tennis Proposal

Banners fluttered from classroom windows, signs were displayed by determined students, tennis rackets were being waved victoriously and anxious classmates gathered around Neville Hall as the campus victory bell sounded the signal for the latest student rally held last Friday on the Presbyterian College campus.

The obviously well organized rally was the result of an administrative announcement of the possibility of a cut in tennis scholarships, a sport that Presbyterian has dominated in Southeaestern states for a score of years. Much effort for a successful rally in defiance of the newest administrative policy had gone into the planning as was evident by the gentlemanly manner in which the students gathered and conducted themselves.

Outstanding student leaders served as guest speakers and all were greeted with appreciative applause from the attentive crowd numbering over 200 students. The majority of speakers expressed a sincere desire to have the tennis program continue as in the past sucessful years. No specific suggestions were made as to the solution of the pressing problem. Many of the student and campus leaders also expressed hope that there might be some effort made to have the administration and the student body meet the problems involved face to face and thus eliminate the possibility of developing rumors to the extent of extreme exaggeration. However, the majority of the speakers appeared concerned over the whole athletic program in view of the decreasing interest in the minor sports. The general opinion was that no sport be emphasized to the extent that it was detrimental to other minor sports. Several speakers were interrupted during their discourse by student applause when they called for immediate and appropriate action.

Dr. Brown Addresses Chapel on PC Sports

Dr. Marshall Brown spoke Monday in chapel explaining administration views toward the recent tennis dispute.

Dr. Brown began his speech by telling of a childhood game which he used to play. In this game someone would start a story and this story would travel around a room from person to person and soon the original story would be distorted.

Reminiscing, he recalled that the same flagpole which was flying the pro-tennis banner at the time, had in 1936 flown the student protest against the proposed tennis power program.

After the controversy of tennis is over, there will of necessity be an analysis of the problem made to see in what manner we may continue subsidizing, Dr. Brown continued.

He then stated that Presbyterian always maintained a varied athletic program, but that there is a difficulty in supporting this program. Dr. Brown then told the student body that one of its leaders had brought forth the idea of a poll of tennis versus football.

Dr. Brown recalled that two years ago this same idea had been brought before the alumni. However, they had only thought in general terms of the entire athletic program and not of one indivdual sport. Dr. Brown further stated that it was fine for the students to meet, but more were at the student meetings than were at the tennis meets.

On the subject of football Dr. Brown stated that each football coach had come here accepting a reduction in salary.

He emphasized that there would be no reduction in the scholarships already given.

Again going back to the subject of football, he said that a cut in football would be in itself defeating. All opponents which we play at the present time are strong enough to require us to remain at our present subsidization level in football.

Knapsack Job Begun With Varner Editor

This week work was begun on the 1960-61 edition of the Knapsack.

The Knapsack, a publication of the student Christian Association, has for many years been a handbook designed to familiarize the freshman class with the organizations, activities, and regulations of the school and to provide the upperclassman with a compact reference book about the school and its activities.

The Knapsack staff under the editorship of Evin Varner, hopes to make next year's edition more useful for the freshmen and a more thorough reference for the upperclassmen.

Allen Freeman has been chosen managing editor, and Buddy Harper will direct the sports highlights in the new edition.

Pen Neil will cover the campus activities including religious and fraternity functions. The art work will be under the direction of Ted Burns, and Don Kay will handle the composition for the handbook. Other staff positions will be filled within the next few days.

Varner asks that any organizations desiring to change or add any new information to its write-up, see a member of the staff as soon as possible.

Endowment Returns Are Ahead of 1959

Presbyterian College Living Endowment returns for 1960 are running well ahead of this period last year, when alumni and friends set a new record for their annual giving program.

A total of $7,122.65 has been contributed in the first month of the current drive, the PC alumni office announced today. The gifts have come from 153 donors, for an average of $46.55 per gift.

The program moves out in quest of the $50,000 goal set for this year by the board of directors of the Alumni Association. This total compares to the 1959 record of $38,644 contributed through 766 gifts.

Major emphasis in the appeal this year goes to the pressing need of additional funds for faculty salary increases and for student scholarships. Contributions to the Living Endowment are used as a means of helping Presbyterian College meet the heavy burden of its current operating expenses.

The Living Endowment is designed to underscore the importance of numerous smaller contributions, given annually, to the sound financial operation of PC. Through this program, the donor gives a sum which represents the annual interest on a larger investment.

SCA Picnic Success As Fraternities Sing

On Wednesday of this week, the SCA held its annual spring picnic at Lake Greenwood for the student body. Beginning at 3:30 the picnic included such activities as swiming, softball, horseshoes, and boating. The high point of the evening was the fraternity sing. On hand to judge the various groups were Dr. Stevenson, Mr. Gray, and Mr. Stallworth. The prize, an attractive gold plaque, went to Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. Opening their part of the program with "What Made Maggie Run," the Pi Kappa Alpha chorus then sang "In the Evening By the Moonlight," followed by a parody on "Silver Threads Among the Gold," satirizing the Judd Dining Hall. In conclusion the Pikas sang their sweetheart song, "Dream Girl."

The picnic, one of the few outings sponsored for the entire college, was its usual success.

The Blue Stocking Asks President About Athletics

1. Can PC keep up with even state schools who are increasing their tennis programs if tennis subsidization is cut, Dr. Brown.

Subsidization now given makes it possible that PC will have superiority for several years. The situation three or four years from now will depend upon our fun-raising efforts and the emphasis placed on this phase of the program by the large institutions.

2. If the Walter Johnson Club does not meet its goal, what will be the next step concerning tennis? Will the recruiting with scholarship offers be stopped immediately or will the Board of Trustees meet first?

Policies of the college are fixed by the Board of Trustees, and administrative officers work in accordance with these policies. As indicated in The Blue Stocking releases of April 1 and April 29, the trustees made a prolonged study of athletic policies and expect to review developments once or twice annually.

3. Are we running a football team that is costing more than any other school our size can support?

I know of no small college which maintains a good competitive team from college funds unaided by special alumni gifts. The stabilization of any athletic program depends much on special gifts, and many of our alumni have indicated a desire to contribute more substantially to football during the next few years.

(Continued on page four)

Carr to Head IRC; New Plans Are Made

Dicky Carr, a rising junior from ffney, was elected president of e International Relations Club at e regular meeting on Monday ght.

Carr succeeds Rohe Eshbaugh o will take office as ex officio adser. Fred Meade, from Beaufort, ll take over the position of vice- esident from Bob Bean. Gerald tts will take over IRC finances om Allen Pitts, and Bobby Piepff will handle the books. Don Lohan and Becky Ernest, both rising phomores, were elected members large.

Earl B. Halsall, professor of poical science and economics, will ntinue as faculty adviser for the oup.

Carr has already begun work toard revision of the constitution. lans are being made for a freshan reception next fall and an IRC nquet to be held next spring. A t of possible speakers is also be- g drawn up.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

The Voice Acts

The commendable student body meeting Friday evening and the repercussions which followed this demonstration have made it necessary for THE BLUE STOCKING to take an even more definite stand on this issue.

We recommend that in the light of the recent student developments and action, that the Walter Johnson Club Executive Council further discuss their decision and bring the matter before various alumni groups. A full report of student opinion should be given to the Executive Council and the Board of Trustees.

In making this report it should be noted that tennis has become to the PC student as football is to Notre Dame. The very action of the Presbyterian students should prove just how important this sport is to them.

We would like for it to be known that if any report made to the Executive Council of the Walter Johnson Club, stating that there was little interest at PC concerning tennis was completely erronious. The Miami match which was held the same day on which spring holidays began was witnessed by an excellent turnout of students. The match with Georgia Tech was viewed by practically the entire student body.

This past week a telegram was sent to the tennis team prior to the Yale match wishing them luck. Payment for this telegram came entirely from the student body and at the last account well over one hundred names were on the list.

If after reconsideration, it is still the decision to drop tennis if anything need be dropped, then every possible effort should be made from the student body, the administration, the Walter Johnson Club, and the alumni to raise the amount of money needed to keep the sport with which "PC" is associated, powerful here.

Again let it be remembered that the true voice of any school is its student body.

This voice of Presbyterian College has demanded a hearing.

A Big Hand

Loud applause to this year's student council is at least breaking age old tradition and bringing forth something new.

The speeches by the student body presidential candidates were well presented and created a new interest in the elections.

Perhaps next year this idea can be carried to even greater heights.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Member of the South Carolina Collegiate Press Association

EDITOR — MARTIN CHITTY
MANAGING EDITOR — GRAHAM EDMUNDS
ASSOCIATE EDITOR — JOHN CRAIG
Sports Editor — Bob Stevens
Circulation Managers — Ted Hentz, Charles Copley
Feature Editor — Howard Gordon
News Editor — Murray White
Executive News Editor — Fred Meade
Copy Editor — Allen Freeman
News Director — John Elrod
Intramural Sports Editor — Jerry Chitty
News Staff — Don Kay, Dick Curnow, Don Lohman, Fred Mead, Robert Kendall, Dave Stricklin, Mike Saunders, Bill Bartee, Gerald Pitts, and Christine Wilson.
Business Manager — Bob Smith
Assistant Business Manager — Marshall Jones
Photographer — Roy Autry

Looking From

Chimney Height

At the Republic

The year 2060 will always be vivid in my memory. Up to that year life had been quiet and almost bordering on a rut. You don't realize this monotonous life is tiring until its too late to change. The government had been in power for a good while and the populace who at first had taken an interest in it to see if it would function as they wanted, saw that it would and had slowly taken their eyes off it and let it go its own way without expressing their opinions or taking any sort of interest in it.

It was April and the citizens were taking advantage of the reappearance of the sun and had forgotten that the Sachem had just levied forty-one more dollars in taxes. It would be all-right. The Sire could always be asked for more. With the people lounging in the sun worrying about nothing more than where they would go the next weekend, thebomb was dropped.

Now I don't usually get carried way, but when the bomb was dropped and the people began to ask the Sachem for help, they quickly realized that they had lost their voice. They were tongueless slaves by their own doing.

At first there no official releases that would allow them to know just what destruction the bomb had done. All the news that they had were rumors. These flew thick and fast.

"We have lost all!"

"The Shoats have taken over. We have lost everything that we have worked for."

Everything we have worked for! From my position as a free lance writer I tried to observe humans from a distance and not to allow my emotions to enter in, but when I heard that statement, I had to laugh "all we had worked for." They hadn't worked for anything. They took what was given them and returned no thanks. The populace had given their power for an easy life. This indifference had carried over intotheir work. None of the citizens were now conscientious.

Finally a few of the people real-

(Continued on page four)

Fulbright Aid Is Available For Graduate Study Abroad

About nine hundred Fulbright scholarships for graduate study or pre-doctoral research in 30 different countries will be available for the 1961-62 academic year.

In addition to the Fulbright Awards, scholarships for study in Latin America under the Inter-American Cultural Convention are also offered for 1961-62.

Applications for both the Fulbright and IACC Awards will be available on May 20, the Institute of International Education announced today. IIE administers both of these student programs for the U. S. Department of State.

The Fulbright scholarships cover travel, tuition, books and maintenance for one acedemic year. Countries participating in the program include Australia, Austria, Belgium and Luxembourg, Brazil, Chile, Republic of China, Colombia, Denmark, Ecuador, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, India, Iran, Italy, Japan, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, Peru, Philippines, Spain, Sweden, Turkey, Thailand, the United Kingdom, and the United Arab Republic. Awards for study in Ireland are also available under an arrangement similar to that of the Fulbright program.

The IACC program makes one or more awards available for graduate study in the following Latin American countries: Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, the Dominician Republic, Ecuador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguary, Peru, and Venezuela. IACC scholarships cover transportation, tuition, and partial to full maintenance.

General eligibility requirements for both categories of awards are: 1) U. S. citizenship at time of application, 2) A bachelor's degree or its equivelanet., 3) knowledge of the language of the host country sufficient to carry out the proposed study project and to communicate with the people of the country, and 4) good health. A good academic record and demonstrated capacity for independent study are also necessary. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age who have not previously lived or studied abroad.

Applicants will be required to submit a plan of proposed study that can be carried out profitably within the year abroad. Those who plan to take dependents may be asked to submit a statement of their financial ability to provide for their round-trip transportation and maintenance.

Applications for Fulbright and IACC scholarships for 1961-62 will be accepted until November 1, 1960. Requests for applications must be potmarked before October 15. Interested students who are now enrolled at a college or university should consult their campus Fulbright advisers. Others may write to the Information and Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th St., New York 21, New York or to any of IIE's regional offices.

Krushchev Rece... Ideas On Relie...

Silvania, Nort... United States... May 1, 1960

Mr. Nikita Kruschev
The Kremlin
Moscow
Union of Soviet Socialist...

Dear Mr. Kruschev:

On this May Day of ... think of the gay celebrati... must be taking place thro... bounds of your vast Com... main, I offer the followin... ion as to how to relieve t... conditions in Siberia. ... the land of ice and sno... crowded under your crue...

My solution is this: sen... innocent humans, who quit... tantly wore a red lie an... shirt with a blue suit, ... boys' school of which La... course they would not be a... fer from intense cold m... year, but you may rest as... they would have to live a... est of dormitories in th... These dorms are also equ... an infinite number of incu... usually found only in less... houses of lodging.

Their real chastisement ... would be administered in ... hall, sometimes called the ... Parlor. Here, an endless ... totaes (powdered), hambu... green beans are served a... meeting the students' need... ishment. You need have no fear that their joints becoming cream... fore impairing their output... tor parts, for an abundance ... cant is supplied with the ... imagine those who partic... athletics receiving only ... of milk per day.

However, these disadvan... more than offset by the ... which anyone who meets ... sical qualifications may ... football scholarship. Of co... are subject to threats of ... behind on bowl trips a... months of hard practice if ... not among the first four ... Should you have an interest... suing this matter further, ... be glad to supply you with ... tion as to how to contact the ... of admissions, Col Ajax ... Ret.).

Sincerely,
COMRADE

The GREEKS

... Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧ

SIGMA NU

Congratulations to Student Council Representatives: Lawton ... Senior Representative, and Bob Stevens, Junior Representative.

The fraternity was glad to welcome John Elrod into the broth... and Charlie Hopkins into the pledge class.

Additional plans were discussed for Greek Weekend and beach ... party. The fraternity would like to thank Mr. Montgomery for cli... ing at the party Saturday.

Also congratulations are due to Brother Dougald Clark for his ... ance at Wake Forest Law School.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

At the last regular meeting the final plans were made for Greek ... end, May 13 and 14. The dance will be held at the Laurens Shrine ...

Congratulations to Maurice Schawrtz, newly elected president ... student body, and John Henderson, sophomore representative.

KAPPA ALPHA

Final plans were completed for Greek Weekend, April 13 and 14 ... thanks are extended to Brother Skip Saverance for his efforts in ... us obtain a house for our beach party at Ocean Drive.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Pai Chapter was happy to welcome Field Representative ... Adams for a visit last week. The Brothers welcomed Dr. Edouard ... to his first Brotherhood meeting. Congratulations were offered to ... er Jimmy Thompson upon his election to the Student Council. Pe... was named Most Gullible Brother of the Week. Plans for the Greek ... end parties were discussed.

Run... Of the Hose

Bob Stevens, Sports Editor

In last Sunday's State, Jake Penland, Sports Editor of the paper, commented extensively on our own present tennis situation. For those of you who had no opportunity to read this column, the following is a direct quote from his column:

"The year was 1936 and the 300 students at Presbyterian College were heatedly debating the decision of their president, Dr. W. P. Jacobs, to develop a big tennis program at the Clinton institution. Doctor Jacobs had intended to build modern tennis courts on the campus, organize clinics, bring topflight instructors in to conduct them, hire a coach of topmost quality and give scholarships to talented preppers.

The students were pretty well divided. The football players were almost solidly against it. Our roommate, a seatback, protested that this silly business would change Presbyterian College inot a "Tennis Tech." Eventually, like most of the other football players, he feared that emphasis on tennis would result in reduction of benefits then enjoyed by the glamorous greats of the gridiron. As sports editor of the college weekly, The Blue Stocking, we applauded Doctor Jacobs' tennis plans. After assuring the athletes on major sport scholarships that Doctor Jacobs did not intend to weaken those established programs on iota, we pointed out that Presbyterian would never be able to go big time in football, basketball, baseball, but that the college could gain considerable national attention and prestige through tennis.

So, it was with interest that we read a dispatch from Clinton Friday night that reported student demonstrations at PC "against an announced administration policy which would reduce the cost of its tennis program." It was interesting to note that among the student leaders criticizing the decision was Billy Ogden, standout football guard. Sonny DuBose, another footballer, was master of ceremonies for the rally. The PC'uns of 1936 fought against big-time tennis. The students of 1960 wan the sport to remain big. This column, fully realizing that Presbyterian College is doing an admirable job on limited funds with its well-rounded sports program, is not going to criticize President Marshall W. Brown or the college executive council for its action. But let it be pointed out that in tennis alone the Blue Stockings have been and continue to be the big frog in the little pond."

The efforts of the tennis team come to a close this week as they finish their northern tour. The netters will wind up one of PC's most successful seasons on the courts.

Years ago Walter Johnson started the State Track Meet with the intention of developing the sport throughout the state. This has become an annual event. It was Coach Johnson's intention also that the meet be held in a different school each year. If this be the case, then why is this the second year in succession that the track events are being held at the University of South Carolina?

PC Trackmen Preparing ...or State Meet at U.S.C.

The finest track athletes South Carolina has to offer will converge on the University of South Carolina today for the 33rd running of the State Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet.

Five teams are entering the event, which is shaping up as a battle between The Citadel and Furman for first place.

Defending champion South Carolina, Clemson, and Presbyterian are the other teams participating.

Friday's activities will involve freshman finds and varsity qualification trials.

The sensation of the day could easily be freshman Dave Segal of Furman. The British star, who ran a sizzling 9.5 100-yard dash last week in Tennessee, is one of the finest prospects in the nation and is conceded a good chance of making England's olympic team.

However, even if Segal betters his time and does the 100 in 9.4, he will merely tie the old records held by Duke's Sime. Sime set the record at the South Carolina track two years ago.

The world record in the 100-yard dash is 9.3 and the state freshman 100-yard record is 9.8 seconds, held by South Carolina's Tommy Woodlee.

Your family's future is secure when you insure in the company with the strength of Gibraltar.

See

Lawrence E. Young
Insurance Broker

Life Insurance • Sickness and Accident Protection

THE PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA
a mutual life insurance company
200 N. Broad St. Clinton, S. C.
Phone 610

Clyde's Boys Whip Stout Pembroke Nine

By LELAND VAUGHAN

Pembroke College of Maxton, N. C., sporting a respectable 11-4 record, was handed two defeats this week by the ever-surprising PC Blue Socks.

Ken Gardner pitched his best game of the season on Monday by holding the Pembroke team to seven scattered hits and retiring twelve batters via the strikeout route.

PC opened the game in fine fashion by pushing across five runs in the first inning. The rally was sparked by the key hits of Jimmy Howell and Sonny DuBose. Wayne Godfrey had two doubles later in the game. The final score of Monday's game was 7-6.

On Tuesday, the locals came from behind and edged out Pembroke by the score of 8-6. Southpaw Edsel Hiatt, in recording his first win of the year, allowed Pembroke only two runs after coming in to relieve Harvey Blanchard in the third inning. PC was led at bat by Harold Raeford and Jimmy Howell with two hits each. Jimmy Rakestraw and Bill Sease also contributed key hits in the game.

Bill Sease sparked the team defensively by making an outstanding catch in the fifth inning which robbed the batter of a home run.

The PC baseball squad traveled to Newberry Thursday for its third Little Four Conference game. The teams winning streak was halted at three games by the Indians who won the lopsided contest by the score of 16-4. Sore arms and errors seemed to again plague the Blue Socks who recorded their second conference loss of the season. The only bright spot of the day for the locals was Jimmy Rakestraw who collected three hits in four trips to the plate.

Presbyterian will invade Wofford on Saturday and will return home on Tuesday against Erskine in the final game of the season.

Blue Socks rightfielder Bill Sease slams one to center.

S.C. Athletic Hall of Fame Lists Walter A. Johnson

The late Walter A. Johnson, longtime athletic director at Presbyterian College, has been selected as one of the three members of South Carolina's first Athletic Hall of Fame.

Selection was made by a special "old-timers" committee of the S. C. Association of Sportswriters and approved by virtually the entire group. "Outside" members were Dutch McLean, former Newberry coach, Col. D. S. McAllister of The Citadel, and Jake Todd, former Erskine football coach; and four sportswriters—Red Canup of the Anderson Independent, Jake Penland of The State, Ed McGrath of the Spartanburg Journal, and Warren Koon of the Charleston Evening Post.

The announcement was made Saturday by Bill Rone of The State, chairman of the Hall of Fame's governing committee.

The other two men named to the Hall of Fame were David G. (Dode) Phillips, football standout from Erskine, and Clemson's Banks McFadden.

Johnson was head football coach at Presbyterian from 1915 until 1940. He continued as PC's athletic director until his sudden death in 1958.

Under his athletic direction, PC developed a well-rounded sports program. PC's tennis teams are perennially the state's collegiate champions.

It was Johnson who conceived and directed the state track meet. For years he was director of the Palmetto boys state, a citizenship program held annually for South Carolina High School seniors.

THE LATE W. A. JOHNSON

Leighton Thanks

Coach Leighton wishes to say: "I want to thank the Student Body for its recent demonstration of interest in the Tennis Program, and to congratulate them on the decorum and maturity with which they handled a feeling of aparent depth, breadth and sincerity."

Linksters Capture Little Four Title

By BILL RIPLEY

Presbyterian College captured the Little Four title Saturday at Hampton in the South Carolina Intercollegiate Golf tournament with an aggregate of 622.

Clemson defended the over-all championship successfully and Bill Hinds of The Citadel won the individual title.

Hinds beat Gene Beard of Clemson in a playoff. Both shot 142, two under par, and started again. Hinds won with a birdie on the sixth hole.

Following Beard and Hines were: Norman Flynn of USC, 147; Bill Townsend of Clemson, 148; Pete Richter of USC, 148; Dick Horne of The Citadel, 148; Graham Smith of USC, 148; Bob Moser of Clemson, 149; and Nick Clark of Clemson, 149.

Also, Bob Gerring of South Carolina, 150; Ed George of Clemson, 150; and John Reynolds of The Citadel, 151. Reynolds was the defending champion.

Followng Clemson and South Carolina in the team scores were The Citadel, 596; Furman, 614; Presbyterian, 622; and the College of Charleston, 666.

Spring Intramural Sports Approaching Close Finish

With softball approximately a week away from finishing, rivalry is growing. The season has progressed very well, due to good weather.

Volleyball also is in the Intramural spotlight. Increased interest has been shown this season. Each team has many games left and as of now are not known, as the winners of this week's games have not been turned in.

The softball standings are still seen with a deadlock in first place between Poochie Blackwelder's Bums and the Pi Kaps. Kappa Alpha moved into third place this week with two victories. Keeping pressure on the Kappa Alpha nine are the Pi Kappa Alpha diamondmen. Falcons, Sigma Nu, Snakes and Alpha Sigma Phi make up the remaining four consecutive. With only a game and a half in third place, anything can happen.

Next week will be the scene of Presbyterians' annual swim meet. The meet will be held Thursday, May 12, at 4:00 p. m. Due to talented swimmers on each prospective team, it should really be a thriller. Mr. Montgomery and the entire Intramural Council cordially invite each student and faculty member to attend.

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 449
"Open All Night

BROADWAY Theatre
Monday-Tuesday, May 9-10
BECAUSE THEY'RE YOUNG
With Dick Clark
Wednesday-Thursday, May 11-12
COUNT THREE AND PRAY
With Van Heflin
Friday-Saturday, May 13-14
Randolph Scott in COMANCHE STATION
and
MASTERS OF THE CONGO JUNGLE

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
ON THE SQUARE

PC soon to be commissioned officers Joe Hardin, Bill Norman, and Budda Wallace, are shown receiving instructions on their recent visit to Fort Jackson.

Tennis Most Popular Sport Say PC'uns

The results of the Blue Key questionnaire concerning the student views on the athletic situation showed tennis to have a slight edge over football in popularity. Next ranking was basketball, followed by track, baseball, and golf.

Sixty-one per cent of the student body would like to see a proportional de-emphasis of all sports rather than a de-emphasis of one.

If a particular sport was to be decreased, 18% were in favor of cutting baseball and 15% wanted a cut in football. Seven per cent were in favor of cutting track, and 5% wanted a basketball or golf cut. Only 3% were in favor of cutting tennis.

Administration recognition of student opinion was favored by 32% of the students, and many of the student comments were to the effect that the administration does not recognize that these students will one day be alumni. The amount of their support depends on their final attitude toward PC.

These results will be given to Dr. Brown with the Blue Key suggestions in hopes that a satisfactory answer can be found.

Blue Stocking Asks

(Continued from page one)

4. Would it help if students contacted alumni concerning financial aid ot tennis? How would you like for us to go about this?

It is the general experience of alumni organizations that solicitations coming from several sources for the same institution in the same calendar year tend to build up resistance and cause an over-all reduction in donations. This indicates that special pleas for one phase of a progra mfrequently tend to reduce disproportionately support for other causes. Living Endowment contributorsare always offered the opportunity to specify the specific cause for which the contributor's money will be spent. Student volunteer work in solicitation, especially that made on an individual basis by graduating students, can be of effective assistance if coordinated through the public relations office.

Deadlock Is Seen In IFC Election

Inter-Fraternity Council elections ended today practically before they were begun with a three-way deadlock developing for the office of president

With no immediate sign of a compromise ,the meeting was adjourned until next Monday when the elections will start anew.

Under the present policy, four offices will be filled, those of President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer. Dougald Clark is the retiring president.

The new members of the IFC are Billy Betchman, Kappa Alpha; Maurice Schwartz, Pi Kappa Alpha; Martin Chitty, Sigma Nu; Donald Kay, Theta Chi; Rohe Eshbaugh, Alpha Sigma Phi; and Ralph Dunham, Pi Kappa Phi.

PC Students Hail From Many States

Four hundred and fifty-three men, and thirty-nine women enrolled at PC this semester. These 492 students represent a decrease from last year's Spring enrollment of 508.

The roll call of states includes:

South Carolina	251
Georgia	106
North Carolina	70
Florida	27
Virginia	10
Alabama	5
Pennsylvania	4
Kentucky	4
Mississippi	3
Ohio	2
Illinois	2
New York	2
District of Columbia	1
Rhode Island	1
Tennessee	1
West Virginia	1
Bermuda	1
Germany	1

Thurmond to Speak To PC ROTC Officers

Senator Strom Thurmond, a major general in the United States Army Reserve, will deliver a brief message to the 27 newly commissioned officers on June 6 at 9:00 a. m.

The Senator, who recently received his second star, will be presented with an honorary Doctor of Law degree from the college during graduation exercises on June 4. Later in the evening he will deliver an address at the alumni banquet, held in honor of the old and newly graduated alumni.

BSU Elects Officers

The PC Baptist Student Union has recently elected its new officers for the coming year. They are: Ernie Redd, President; Bruce Barnes, Vice-President; Jean McDaniel, Secretary-Treasurer; Wayne Godfrey, Social Chairman; Stacy Burton, Deputation Chairman; Joe Nixon, Christian Action Chairman; Ann Walker, Publicity Chairman; and Bugs Allen as the Sunday School and BTU representative.

Both the old and new councils will have a banquet together this Monday night.

Chimney Heights

(Continued from page two)

ize that the populace had a right to know and they released the first official statement. It was a beautifully written piece of officialdom. It said nothing definite except that bomb had been dropped and that ized that something had to be done and a rally was called. The news of this rally made the Sachem realthere may or may not have been casualties. After this the Sachem felt there should be an explanation of the release. This was beautiful rhetoric that was marred by the disrespectful people in the crowd. Like I said the rhetoric was beautiful and beneath this rhetoric there was a meaning. Only those that did not think thought that it was noting. Actually as an observer it appeared that the Sachem does not have a good answer to the problem, but then who does?

I feel that this is a good start toward regaining the voice in the Sache mand being given some consideration in any action taken. All we hvae to do is co-operate with the Sachem and maybe some day we will again be able to call this country ours.

Ready or Not!

The announcement of the second semester examination was made this week.

Of course, to PC'uns this only means one thing, and that the time draws near.

Friday, May 27—
9:00-12:00 TTS 11:0
2:00- 5:00 MWF 1

Saturday, May 28—
9:00-12:00 TTS 12:0
2:00- 5:00 Foreign L

Monday, May 30—
9:00-12:00 MWF 12:
2:00- 5:00 TTS 8:0

Tuesday, May 31—
9:00-12:00 TTS 9:0
2:00- 5:00 MWF 8:0

Wednesday, June 1—
9:00-12:00 MWF 9:0
2:00- 5:00 TTS 10:0

Griffin Elected Ministerial Prexy

Pat Griffin, a rising senior from Montgomery, Ala., was elected to take the place of Glenn Gibson, of Reddick, Fla., as president of the Ministerial Club for the coming year. John Gettys, a rising sophomore, was selected as vice-president Harold Hope, also a rising sophomore, was named the new secretary. Both Hope and Gettys are from Union. The treasurer of the club is George Reaves, a rising sophomore from Alcolu.

The remaining officers of the club are Jerry Puckett, Evangelistic team chairman; Dick Curnow, Chaplain; and Don Dunlap, Historian. All three are from Charlotte.

The adviser for the comnig year is Dr. Gettys.

PC Summer School To Open On June 14

The 1960 summer school at Presbyterian College will open on June 14, Academic Dean George C. Bellingrath announced tdoay.

Students will register on this date and begin classes on June 15 for the nine-week session which will extend through August 13.

Dr. Bellingrath said PC will offer 19 courses in these seven departments during the summer session: economics, English, history, mathematics, philosophy, psychology, and Spanish.

Fred Meade Gi... Mendenhall Tro...

Fred Meade, vice-pre... the International Relation... will receive the F. H. M... Memorial Plaque for w... work in the field of bet... standing of international ... He will receive the plaq... commencement exercises ...

The plaque, a memorial ... the late F. H. Mendenhall ... Ga., by his family, is ... jointly by the history and ... science departments of Pre... College. The award, given ... ing junior or senior, is ... tion of the outstanding w... by an International Relat... member as chosen by the ...

KA Province In Session Here

The fifth biennial session ... Temple Graves Province, K... pha Order, was called to ... Province Commander Ken... Baker in the Beta Pi chapte... Presbyterian College, Frid... noon. Julian S. Bolick is ... secretary.

Representatives were pr... from Wofford College, Fur... University of South Caro... Presbyterian College.

An officers training scho... fraternity will be held Aug... at Wake Forest College, ... Salem, N. C.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

McGEE'S
DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

YOUNG'S
GULF STATION
Road Service - Accessories
Tires - Tubes
N. Broad St. Phone 1518

WPCC
Your Music and News Station
Clinton, S. C.

Patronize Your Advertisers

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

Wasson & Wasson, Inc.
Hickory Tavern, S. C.
Well Drilling
and
Well Boring
Water Guaranteed—and all work guaranteed. Call collect, telephone: Laurens Rural:
2721 — 2725 — 2720

GALLMAN'S
BARBER SHO...
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU
FOR YOUR BUSINE...

Sunshine Cleane...
W. Florida St. — Phon...
Quality Cleaning &
Shirt Laundry
WE REPAIR SHOE...
We Offer a "Fluff Dry"...

There's Better Servi...
Joe's Esso Servi...
Try Our Soda Foun...
Cars Greased in the Mod... Way

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., May 13, 1960 No. 24

Here we see the results of the Blue Key egg roll held on the plaza Wednesday afternoon, with Bob Bean getting it "done on his head." (Autry Photo)

New Blue Key Members Named In Annual Spring Tapping Monday

• Ard Elected President

On Monday morning ten rising seniors were tapped into the Blue Key National Honorary Fraternity. These men were chosen on the basis of their leadership, achievement, and character.

ARD

Paul Ard, from Atlanta, Ga., is a past officer of the Executive Council of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, Sophomore class president, vice-president of the Business Economics Association, member of the student council and president of the Seabard and Blade. Ard is a three-letter man in basketball and an officer in the "Block P" Club.

ESHBAUGH

Rohe Eshbaugh, from Louisville, Ky., is past president of the International Relations Club and an officer rin the Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity. He has served as president of the freshman class, treasurer and vice-president of the Ministerial Club, Student Christian Association Cabinet member, Spring intramural chairman for the SCA, and has been a member of the Knapsack staff. During the coming year he will act as Inter-Fraternity Council President and Choir President.

FAULKNER

Richard Faulkner, past president of Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity, and sophomore class treasurer, hails from Henderson, N. C. Faulkner is a member of the Business Economics Association and is student body vice-president and vice-president of the SCA in charge of Religious Emphasis Week.

HAMMETT

Herb Hammett, a member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, is from Hogansville. He has served as the secretary of his fraternity and treasurer of the Westminster Fellowship. Hammett will be the editor of the PaC-SaC for next year.

LEE

Marrion Lee has served on the SCA for the past three years, was a member of the Student Council ris sophomore year. He is treasurer of the Scabbard and Blade and business manager of the PaC-SaC for next year. Lee comes from Hemingway.

McDOUGALD

Douglas McDougald, from Anderson, is past secretary of Kappa Alpha fraternity and president of the junior class. McDougald will be president of the Business Economics Association for the coming year.

RICE

Lawton Rice, a transfer from Lees-McRae Junior College, where he was the president of the SCA and served on the advisory council for their national publication, "Going To College Handbook," which is sponsored by the Presbyterian Church. Rice is Sigma Nu chaplain, senior class representative on the student council and IFC representative. He is from Kinston, N. C.

(Continued on page four)

Eshbaugh Chosen Robed Choir Prexy

Rohe Eshbaugh of Louisville, Ky., was elected president of the Presbyterian College Robed Choir last week succeeding Cliff Stovall of Mullins. Eshbaugh is a rising senior and a three-year member of the group.

Rounding out the slate of officers chosen for next year are Ben Vincent, a junior from Danville, Va., who moves up to the vice-presidency to replace Lonnie Love of McColl; Hal Roberts, a sopohmore from Atlanta, who takes over the office of treasurer from Billy Piephoff; and Paul Woodall, freshman from Whiteville, N. C., who becomes custodian replacing Frank Sells of Johnson City, Tenn.

Also last week the choir held its annual banquet in the Charcoal Cellar. After a lovely roast beef dinner, Dr. Patte gave his evaluation of the past season, stating that it was a success both in the quality of performance and financial results. Dr. Patte thanked all the seniors for their splendid four years contribution to the choir. He further announced that Bobby Piephoff, freshman from Atlanta, will serve as secretary, taking over the position from Graham Edmunds; Dick McGaughey of Marietta, Ga., will replace Tom Wise as chaplain of the group; and Paul Woodall will be in charge of the secular music.

Wednesday morning in chapel the singers presented the program which included five of their spirituals and two cowboy songs arranged by Norman Luboff.

The last scheduled appearance of this year's group will be at the meeting of the Synod of South Carolina in Charleston on Tuesday.

McDonald Chosen As Pi Kappa Alpha Head

In its semi-annual elections, the local chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha selected Harry McDonnald to fill the office of president during the fall semester of 1960. McDonnald, of Asheville, N. C., succeeds Billy Hagood of Easley. Billy Hatchett of College Park, Ga., replaces Jack Taylor of Greer, as vice-president, and Harrison Clayton of Marietta, Ga., takes over the office of secretary from Hatchett.

Elected to the position of treasurer was Hexie McDonnald, also of Asheville, N. C., taking over from his brother, Harry. Pat Malone of Atlanta, takes over as Sergeant-at-Arms from Bobby Brown of Fort Mill, and Larry Kirven of Sumter, is the new chaplain filling the post vacated by Bobby Jobson of Atlanta. Maurice Schwartz was previously elected to serve as next year's Inter-Fraternity Council representative.

The new Executive Council will be composed of all the new officers plus Paul Ard of Atlanta, who will be the chapter's official delegate to the National Convention, and Rick Saunders, of Decatur, Ga.

PaC-SaC Arrives Today; Martin Receives Honor

"A man of quiet, genuine kindness, and apparently in...ite patience, whose soft-spoken, easy-going manner ...newhat belies an extremely quick and wide-ranging ...ind. Your presence on campus, as friend and professor, is ...dispensable; and the staff of the PaC-... for '60 is pleased to dedicate ... book to you on behalf of all ...ur students."

These were the words spoken in ...apel today dedicating the '60 PaC-... to Stephen Taylor Martin, Pro...sor of Mathematics and head of ... department at Presbyterian.

The PaC-SaC was given out today ...er chapel. This marked the end of ...ong hard struggle that began last ...ptember with the taking of pic...es.

Bob Bean, the editor of the PaC-..., said that this was the earliest ...at a PaC-SaC has been out in prob...y ten years. He also said that the ...ff stayed within the budget set ... the first of the year.

Looking back over the year and ...hardships, Bean said, "I would ...e to thank the student body, fac...y and administration for the co...eration they gave in making this ...blication possible. Also a special ...anks to Bryan Carr for his unti...g efforts and assistance through... the year."

Thus a year of hard work for the ...C-SaC staff has ended; and con...tulations for a job well done.

IFC Breaks Deadlock President Chosen

The old and new IFC representatives from the six national fraternities on campus met Monday, and, surprisingly to many, new officers for the organization were elected without the slightest hitch. Elected to head the 1960-61 IFC was Rohe Eshbaugh of Louisville, Ky. He is the Alpha Sigma Phi representative. Billy Betchman, representing Kappa Alpha, was elected vice-president, and Donald Kay, Theta Chi's IFC member, was elected secretary. Pi Kappa Phi's Ralph Dunham is the new treasurer.

New Department Planned; Begins Operation in Fall

Presbyterian College will broaden its service to the Church by adding a department of Christian Education, beginning with the 1960-61 session next September.

The program is designed to fill a two-fold purpose: 1—To help meet the shortage of trained church workers by producing associates in Christian education for the Churches of Georgia and South Carolina; and 2—To give the technical training necessary for more effective lay leadership as teachers, superintendents and department chairmen.

Dr. Bellingrath, in discussing the program further, said: "The heart of this new department will be a study of the Bible, of Christian doctrine and of the serice the program of the church is rendering to the world today. It will include the organization of the local church and the methods of teaching the Bible, primarily to young people."

He pointed out the program should have particular appeal to the women students and to many young men who want to go into full-time Christian service other than that for which seminary training is necessary. It also will offer to young graduates going into the business and professional world certain techniques that will make them more effective lay leaders in the churches they attend.

Academic Dean George C. Bellingrath said this department will be coordinated with the PC Bible program which each year sends a number of graduates to the seminaries as ministerial candidates.

A recognized expert in the field of young peoples' work will head the new department of Christian Education at Presbyterian College. He is Robert E. Fakkema, who will join the faculty next fall as associate professor of religious education.

Fakkema, known throughout the General Assembly for his ability as a director of recreation, will receive his master's degree in June from the Presbyterian School of Christian Education in Richmond. He holds a BA degree from Duke University. His experience since serving in the U. S. Navy in World War II has included more than three years in industrial relations with the Bethlehem Steel Company and eight years as recreation director in several large Presbyterian Churches.

C Presents Case t Synod Meeting

Presbyterian College has been giv... a special place on the docket of ... Synod of South Carolina when ... meets next week in the First ...cots) Presbyterian Church in ...arleston. The first business fol...wing the opening devotional and ...ganization of synod will be the ...ecial program at 11:30 Tuesday ...rning, on the survey and needs ... Presbyterian College.

A group of educators in 1957 made ...survey of the work and needs of ... college, recommending that the ...ilities be expanded to care for ... students, and that the co-educa...nal feature of the college be de...loped. Presbyterian College's ...esident, Dr. Marshall W. Brown, ...ll be in charge of the program at ...nod, which will explain in detail ... need for the college's expansion ...ogram. The over-all goal provides ... the addition of $6,000,000 in en...wment, and $4,000,000 in capital ...provements.

New Student Body President Maurice Schwartz receives congratulations from retiring president Bob Waters.—(Autry Photo)

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Be Informed

It never behooves us to become too interested within ourselves.

Within the next year a new President will be chosen to occupy the nation's highest post for the next four years.

The times of today are trying indeed. The recent crisis of the American plane shot down in Russia is enough to emphasize this. A choice for President must of necessity be a very wise one.

Many college students will be able to vote in this coming election; however, their lackadaisical attitude has left doubt as to their capabilities.

This attitude is inexcusable. We should now be of age to want to form our own opinions.

An unbiased opinion can only be formed through informative and an interested study in current events.

Let us as PC men do our part in keeping abreast of the times and know what is happening.

Constitutional Change

It appears as though the administration or the athletic department has done it on our heads again for the coming year.

As it stands, Homecoming festivities are slated for the weekend of September 30-October 2. This is exactly two weeks after school begins. Last fall, if we remember correctly, the same thing occurred and everyone rushed around trying to get dates and prepare the decorations for the occasion. These decorations were exceptional considering the amount of time there was to spend on them—and so were the dates.

Next season, however, presents a somewhat different problem because of a few days time element. The Constitution plainly states that elections for Homecoming Queen will be held two weeks prior to the Homecoming event. This means that next year the very same day we register is the day we vote. Can the student council and the student body get here in time to get organized for an election? Will the new green freshmen know what's going on? At present, this remains to be seen. But we suggest that since the date of the football game cannot be switched, a constitutional change is in order.

We don't feel that we can complain too much about this, however, for after all, we are playing a game at home!

Clean Up

Around the beginning of June a group of alumni will be visitors here.

We suggest that a cleanup of rooms be made and that possibly the proctors look into the situation and lead this cleanup.

The condition of dormitory rooms after exams is usually not very appealing as a place of abode, even for a week. (These alumni will stay in the dormitories.)

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR — MARTIN CHITTY
MANAGING EDITOR — GRAHAM EDMUNDS
ASSOCIATE EDITOR — JOHN CRAIG
News Editor — Murray White
Executive News Editor — Fred Meade
News Director — John Elrod
Sports Editor — Bob Stevens
Intramural Sports Editor — Jerry Chitty
Feature Editor — Howard Gordon
Copy Editor — Allen Freeman
News Staff — Don Kay, Dick Curnow, Don Lohman, Fred Mead, Robert Kendall, Dave Strickiin, Mike Saunders, Bill Bartee, Gerald Pitts, and Christine Wilson.
Business Manager — Bob Smith
Assistant Business Manager — Marshall Jones
Photographer — Roy Autry

Looking From

Chimney Height

At War and

Good afternoon, sports fans, this is your favorite sportscaster, I. M Shellshocked, bringing direct to you the first Annual Presbyterian College War Games, between the Lee Blue Group and the Gibson Red Aggressors. It suffices to say, we are expecting a humdinger of a contest. As the scrimmage is about to begin, we overhear General Robert E. "Snooky" Lee giving the critique to his gladiators.

"All righty, men, we are about to meet the aggressor. Let's form two lines and march down the road to the battlefield. And remember, watch out for low-flying aircraft.'

"And they're off. There they go, down College Street. They look all primed and ready. But what's this? It seems that Stonewall Stovall is driving a truck right down the middle of our lines! And what's that in the truck! No! It can't be! But it is—the aggressors!

'Don't worry, men,' "Jarring Joe" Hardin speaks out. 'I've never seen an aggressor force that didn't ride.'

"That seems to have calmed the men down, fans. Yes, I can see some of them sticking their heads out from the canteen where they ran for cover.

"Now to the battle and our ace reporter, I. V. Flack."

"Hello, out there. From my tree-top advantage, I can see that the excellent timing of the Lee Blue Group has brought them to the scene half an hour ahead of time. They seem to be readying themselves for a fierce attack. I see one 'gung-ho' cadet, dressed in fatigues, boots, white dress shirt, and field jacket reaching for—a pack of salted peanuts? Well, as we leave this cadet, we can see the troops on the move, jumping across a creek. Oops! You should have joined the Navy, Guy.

"As we move to the left, we can see 'Bullet' Bob Arrowood, of the Red Aggressors, surrounded by three of the opposition.

'Bang! Bang! Bang!'

'You're dead, Arrowhead.'

'You missed me.'

'No, I didn't.'

'Yes, you did.'

"Oh well, fans, so it [goes] in the heat of battle. War is hell.

"As the battle comes to [a close], we can see 'Woody' Wa[ll]nett wiping the sweat off [his brow] as he cheerfully laugh[s].

"We hope that next year's [War] Games will be better. We [are looking] for developing Intramural Games, and later we may [have] the Little Four Tournament, the winner being invited to season Militia Bowl, play Turkey-Russian border lin[e].

"I do wish that our founding fathers had been a little more in their choice of names."

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

PI KAPPA PHI

For Greek Weekend, Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi, is planning its annual Shipwreck Ball at Peck's Ranch Friday and Saturday night. Friday night there will be a record dance, but Saturday is a different story. Decorations will consist of fish nets, and even a mermaid—not a real one of course. Everyone will have a costume and will dance to the music of Larry Roshts.

SIGMA NU

Final plans for Greek Weekend were made. Congratulations to the softball team who finished a good season.

Congratulations to the new pledge officers: Joe Clark, president; Bill Ripley, veep; and Everett Connelly, secretary-treasurer.

THETA CHI

Tonight there will be a dance in the fraternity suite, and Saturday afternoon the members and their dates will have a blanket party and picnic at Horseshoe Falls, a well-known local attraction. Saturday night a Bermuda Ball will be held.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Plans for Greek Weekend begin Friday night with the Hearts at the Laurens Shrine Club on Lake Greenwood.

Saturday night, the party will resume at 8:00 at which time the Joy Jumpers will be on hand to provide music for Saturday night.

KAPPA ALPHA

Plans for the Greek Weekend are centered around the party Saturday night, with Sam Cooke entertaining. Preceding this event there will be an afternoon gathering at Lake Greenwood. KA's and their dates will also enjoy a party at the house Friday night.

The Brothers wish to extend congratulations to the newly initiated Brothers: Joe Harvard, Bill Bartee, Ricky Wansley, Whit Jordan, Billy Ogden, Bob Smith, Henry Gordon, and Mac Copeland.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Brothers and Pledges of Alpha Psi will enjoy their annual closed social, "Hawaiian Holiday," tonight, followed by an open social Saturday.

Brother "Cricket" Lowry has been named delegate to the National Convention in Ohio this fall, With Brother Evin Varner serving as alternate.

Rules for Week[end] By Popular Dem[and]

Well, it's that time a[gain] weekend our campus will [be] with those lovely creatur[es] as "women." From [what] it seems that a few [rules] der.

So here goes:

1. Non-daters must be [in] ing hall no later than 5:[30] expect a good seat for the

2. Girls who have never PC before may expect [much] clapping, stomping, whistling and sneezes.

3. Boys must act natural[ly] their normal "homely" [self]. No one will be permitted [to] hand in his lap while eating.

4. Males, and some fem[ales] not expected to recognize [girls] after 11:45.

5. Stags must leave the [dorm] room no later than 12:00. [Will] be on duty in the dorms to show fellow students "the way home."

6. And for some students, leave you cellophanes in yo[ur]

Letters to the Editor

Chronicle Article Unfa[ir]

Dear Sir:

In last week's Clinton Chronicle was an article, obviously originating from the college admniistration relative to the student protest on de-emphasis of tennis that I would like to take to task.

"PC students met prematurely without consideration for the full facts . . ." the article begins. The "full facts" were given too late, and the article given to The Blue Stocking really said nothing concrete.

"A large group of studen[ts] excited and some merely [curious]" the article described. And then: "Some students when approached earlier to part in the protest, refused [to] something I do not know [the] facts about'." There was not [an] individual who was asked [to] at the rally who refused to [sign].

These charges, unfair to [the] dents and their purpose, [go] answered.

—Name withheld by r[equest]

"Poochie" Blackwelder shows off his "Bums" trophy for winning the intramural softball contest.—(Autry Photo)

Mural Softball Season Ends With 'Bums' Clinching Title

With school soon coming to a close, Intramurals also [end] ar their annual finish. Poochie Blackwelder's Bums handed the Kappa Alpha nine a 13-4 licking to cinch the softball [title]. The Bums finished the season, posting a classy 7-1 [rec]ord. Fine pitching by Poochie [Blac]kwelder and sharp fielding by [Wil]bur Douglas and Pat Hall helped [the] Bums' winning cause considerably. Second place and third place [are] still open, with Pi Kappa Phi, Pi [Kap]pa Alpha and the KA's fighting [it] out till the finish.

The 1960-61 Intramural Council met Monday of this week and chose what seems to be one of the better All-Star Softball Teams rated at PC. The lineup is made up as follows:

Catcher—Dan Powers, Falcons.
First Base—Bill Russell, Pi Kappa Alpha.
Second Base — Wilbur Douglas, Bums.
Shortstop—Pete Yearout, Sigma [Phi].
Third Base—Pat Hall, Bums.
Left Field—Robert Sherrell, Falcons.
Center Field—Shuman Parker, Pi Kappa Phi.
Right Field — Bob Stratton, Pi Kappa Alpha.
Pitcher — Poochie Blackwelder, Bums.
Pitcher—Mike Brown, Alpha Sigma Phi.

The annual swiming meet took place this week and participation was very pleasing. Robert Sherrell's Falcons took the number one place, with Pi Kappa Alpha being a very close second. Alpha Sigma Phi gained the title of number three position. Individual stars such as Fish Mobley, Pi Kappa Alpha, Robert Sherrell, Falcons, Fred Smith, Falcons, and Rohe Eshbaugh, Alpha Sigma Phi, kept the atention of enthused spectators.

Mr. Montgomery and the entire Intramural Council wish to ask the Intramuralists of PC for their interests in the Cross Country Run to be held Wednesday of next week. It will be run from WPCC Radio Station to the Flagpole in front of Neville.

Run . . . Of the Hose

Bob Stevens, Sports Editor

STATE TRACK MEET

The State Track Meet, which was held in Columbia last weekend, saw many existing records broken and tied.

The Citadel with two dramatic first-place finishes in the final two events won the meet with a score of 55.

The University of South Carolina was close behind with 50. Furman faced third with 32½ points.

Coach Dellastatious' athletes tied a state record in winning the mile relay to clinch the meet. USC up to that time was holding on to a one-point lead. Tom Metsker won a first place in the pole vault to increase the final margin to five points.

South Carolina's Charlie Bradshaw was the meet's high point man with 11¾ points and Furman's Ken Garrett broke the existing state shot put record with a heave of 55 feet, 1[1] inch for the top individual performances of the day.

The Gamecocks won first place in six of the day's 15 events, but with the superior depth of the Bulldogs netted them their first state track win under Coach Dellastatious.

In addition to Garrett's record-breaking shot put performance, two state records were tied. South Carolina's Richard Brown nipped The Citadel's Jim Pugh in a much-heralded 100-yard dish duel with a record time of 9.7. The Citadel's mile relay time of 3:20.7 equalled Clemson's 1958 record time.

PC's high jumper, Bill Hill, collected the team's only score in the state meet.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The last tennis tournament of the season is underway. The Sunshine Memorial Tennis Tournament, backed and conducted by Ron Wright, will finish up court activities for this year. You netters keep your eye on when you are supposed to play as there is a time limit on matches. The winner will receive two cans of tennis balls; runner-up, one.

Intramurals are in the finishing stages this week. The swimming meet was a big success.

Congratulations to Coach Leighton and team on a very commendable season.

The tennis team returned from their northern tour with a win over Duke and losses to Princeton and Yale. The team, hampered by injuries, gave an excellent representation throughout the tour.

By the way, Venetian Way won the "Derby Classics."

Racketeers Return to Southland; End Successful Season At Duke

• Record Stands at 14-5

By BILL RIPLEY

The Presbyterian College tennis team rounded out its 1960 season with an exceptional 14-5 record. On their recent trip to the North country, PC lost to Yale, 8-1, and Princeton, 7-2, and defeated Duke 5-4. Hoffman 6-0, 6-3; Scott (Y) defeated Wilson 6-4, 6-4; Wood (Y) beat Greenslade 6-0, 6-0; Neelly (Y) defeated Elliott 6-0, 6-0; Frampton (PC) beat Wallace 6-4, 6-4; Hopkins (Y) beat Caviness, 6-4, 6-4. In doubles, Dell-Wallace (Y) beat Hoffman-Greenslade 6-0, 6-1; Scott-Howe beat Wilson-Elliott 6-4, 6-2; Neely-Wallace (Y) beat Stone-Wright 6-2, 6-3.

In Princeton match, singles: Nobeis (P, beat Wilson 6-2, 6-4; Williams (P' beat Elliott 7-3, 7-3; Ackley (P) beat Greenslade 8-6, 6-0; Anderson (P) beat Frampton 6-1, 6-3; Caviness (PC) beat Cartier 6-4, 6-2. In doubles: Nobeis-Anderson (P) beat Hoffman-Greenslade 7-9, 6-3, 6-0; Richardson-Williams (P) beat Wilson-Elliott 3-6, 6-3, 6-4; Caviness-Frampton (PC) beat Carspecken-Smith 6-2, 7-5

At Duke, Hoffman (PC) beat Katz 6-1, 6-1; Gaston (D) beat Wilson 9-7, 7-5; Griffin (D) beat Elliott 6-3, 7-5; Greenslade (PC) beat Barton 6-4, 12-10; Frampton (PC) beat Graham 3-6, 6-4; Ruben (D)beat Caviness 6-3, 10-12, 6-2. In doubles, Gaston-Katz beat Hoffman-Greneslade 7-5, 7-5; Wilson-Elliott (PC) beat Graham-Ruben 6-8, 6-4, 6-3; Caviness-Frampton (PC) beat Griffin-Hyde 7-5, 6-4.

One of the prime factors in the success of the team this season, as well as in the past years, has been the excellent work of team managers. Ronald Wright, the season's manager, assisted by Bill Francis, and a very competent ground crew, have kept the courts in ideal shape for all home matches. Another of Wright's important jobs has been acquiring callers for the home matches. Coach Leighton wishes to express his thanks to Ron and the group for the excellent jobs they have done this season. Coach Leighton says of Wright: "He is an excellent worker and one of the best managers I've had during m ystay at PC."

Coach Leighton commends the team for their never-dying spirit in an up-hill win against Duke

Erskine Downs Hose In Season Finale

By LELAND VAUGHAN

By pushing across 3 runs in the top of the 11th inning, Erskine College was able to sneak by PC 7-4 here Tuesday in the final game of the season.

PC took the lead in the first inning when Harold Raeford smashed a lining double into the right field hedges scoring Ed Jackson from second base.

The locals held the one-run lead until the Flying Fleet unloaded for 4 runs in the 5th inning. Three fielding errors and two extra base hits proved costly to southpaw Edsel Hiatt and he was relieved in the fifth by Ken Gardner.

Presbyterian scored 2 runs in the 7th inning when Edison Fairey lined a single to centerfield with two men in scoring position. The score was knotted at 4-all in the bottom of the ninth when pinch hitter Harvey Blanchard singled to center scoring Bil Sease from second.

PC missed a scoring opportunity in the 10th inning when the Erskine centerfielder made a beautiful catch of a long drive off the bat of Ken Gardner.

Erskine wrapped up the game in the 11th with the aid of two walks and two extra bast hits which pushed across 3 runs and enabled Erskine to take second place in the Little Four final standings.

McCarson Reflects And Predicts Season

The Blue Stocks improved greatly this year. Both the scores and the standings were raised in almost all matches. In the Third Army Area Intercollegiate match the team placed 21 out of 40, with a 265.6 average. Last year a 259.2 average gave them a standing of 20, out of 46 teams.

In the Third Army William Randolph Hearst Match the team is especially proud of being placed 8th out of 75 teams with a 972 average. The University of Tennessee came in first with a 962. Last year they only placed 31 out of 81 with an 893.

The State Match, held last Friday, was their last contest. Although the team only placed fifth out of six teams, they showed definite improvement over last year's sixth place. Wofford won over us by a mere 7 points and Clemson by four.

This year it was 11 wins to 6 losses while last year the ratio was only 7 wins to 9 losses.

In shoulder matches the ratio is somewhat less spectacular.

Sargeant McCarson, at the first of the year, predicted the average to be 274 by the end fo the year .The average now stands at 273.9. Next year the team will lose three valuable men; they are Frank Forbes, captain; Matthew Smith and John Powers. The following shots will be counted on for next year: Rollin Butler, Robert St. Clair, Kent Mitchell, Ben Margolius, Marian Whitmire, Bob Bethea, Don Lohman, Ted Taylor, Jack Fuller, Rohe Eshbaugh, Dick Faulkner, and Bob Beddingfield. Other additional Juniors who fired expert on trainfire will be relied upon. They are Williams, Smith, Hentz, Gorman, and Godfrey.

Sargeant McCarson is quoted as saying, "Next year the average will climb to 280. We already have three good rising sophomores who are shooting in the 280's. They are Kent Mitchell, Rollin Butler, and Robert St. Clair. We have outstanding potential for next year and I am well satisfied with this year's team. They fired well all year."

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

Correction

The Blue Stocking wishes to correct an error occuring in the article, "Tennis Most Popular Sport. Say PC'ans" which appeared in last week's paper. The poll showed 82% of the student body was in favor of administration recognition of student opinion, not 32% as printed. The Blue Stocking regrets this error and any misunderstanding it may have caused.

President Davis: Stress Scholarship

If the press and the public are more interested in football and beauty queens than in scholarship, the colleges themselves are partly to blame, Dr. Charles S. Davis, president of Winthrop College, told a Clemson College audience Tuesday night.

"If the general public is not interested in the intellectual side of college life, perhaps we of the administration and faculty have been at fault for not being willing to put first things first.

"If so, how can we expect the public to have a different view?," Dr Davis asked.

The Winthrop president pointed out that the time has come for thoughtful and concerted action to combat the anti-intellectual [trend] on campuses everywhere.

"We must encourage, [if] sible means a deeper appreciation of intellectual activity on the part of students at every level in our educational system, and, whenever possible, on the part of the public in general," Dr. Davis said.

The Winthrop president pointed out, however, that the impossible should not be expected of education.

"It is not a panacea for all the ills, but our future way of life well depend upon those decisions with re-

Pitts Men's Shop
THE LATEST COLLEGE FASHIONS
IN SLACKS, SHIRTS, AND BERMUDAS

GRADUATION SPECIAL

From a selection of proofs, four economy-priced offers for cap and gown portraits

william m. shields

See them on display in our window
Jacobs Bldg. Telephone 747

As this year's calendar comes to a close we see three glimpses of what is in store for Greek Weekend. Paul Woodall and Billy Eberhardtt decorate for the Alpha's Phi Hawaiian Holiday. Brothers Melvin Sloan and Stacy Coker give Ted Burns advice on how the Sigma Nu house should be for their Senior Cruise. Hardy Ledbetter Parrish, and Steve Craig toil over how things should be for their Pi Kapp's Shipwreck Ball.—(Autry Photo)

High Lighting... The Greek Year

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

This has been a year of many highlights for Alpha Psi of Alpha Sigma Phi. The chapter has been honored over the year by visits by several outstanding members of the Fraternity. George Worthington, celebrating his golden anniversary as a Brother by serving in extension, visited the Chapter as did National Executive Secretary Ralph Barnes and several Field Representatives.

Pledges remodeled the kitchen of the usite, which with extensive renovation of last year and of the first of the current term placed the Fraternity's physical property in top shape.

Socials were the order of the day—with outstanding parties held in conjunction with IFC-sponsored events and many other socials and stag parties sandwiched between.

KAPPA ALPHA

We began the school year with a very successful rush program, highlighted by Dr. McLeod Frampton speaking at our "closed smoker." Following pledge day, we honored the new pledges at a banquet at Smith's Ranch.

Our main activities for the year began with Homecoming. The "No Notes" from Greenville, played at the Mary Musgrove Hotel Saturday afternono, and followed with entertainment at the American Legion hut after the football game.

Christmas Dance Weekend followed, and we had another afternoon combo at the Mary Musgrove. The "Hearts" played 2 until 5 o'clock, and we had dancing in the fraternity suite afterwards.

our "Old South Ball' in Columbia in conjunction with the KA chapters at Furman, Wofford, South Carolina, and Davidson. The "Old South Ball" and the "Secession Ceremony" culminated the weekend.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Mu Chapter began the year in September with plans for a more successful year than ever before.

We began the Rush Season with Homecoming, with two dance bands at the Legion Hut. In conjunction with Homecoming we placed first in the Homecoming Float Contest. The first social event was a success. Then came the Open Social, a tremendous success.

The rush season was carried on all through the first quarter and was culminated by our Smoker.

We had our annual Parent's Day program for the visiting parents, including a tea and entertainment consisting of a singing group from the fraternity.

During the Military Ball Weekend, after enjoying the Glenn Miller Orchestra at the Armory Friday night, we had the Joy Jumpers, a combo from Greenville, on Saturday night.

Then came PiKA Weekend, one of the biggest social events of our calendar. On Saturday night, we again had the Joy Jumpers, making the weekend one of the best yet.

PI KAPPA PHI

Beta Chapter's return to campus this fall found a total of thirteen members. In six months ttime its size has more than tripled.

Its pledging work began with a homecoming blast at Peck's Ranch followed by the open social and smoker.

Christmas Dance found double the number enjoying the music of The Flames from Charlotte. Then came the pledge party and Military Ball Weekend at which Beta had The Flames again. Of course Beta had its usual Friday night parties to break the monotony of studying.

After school Beta is heading enmasse to Ocean Drive for a little relaxation. They might even find time to party a little during their week's stay there.

This year Beta was able to help two chapters with their pledging, pledge training, and initiaion. As a result the two chapters have grown tremendously.

SIGMA NU

The Zeta Theta Chapter of the Sigma Nu Fraternity has enjoyed a very successful year for the '59-'60 session.

The fraternity opened the social year with a party Homecoming Weekend, and followed with a stag barbecue-pig roast at Peck's. Following the Blue Hose to Charleston for the Citadel game, the fraternity enjoyed a houseparty at Folly Beach for the weekend. Next on the social calendar was the open social with the Five Kids providing the music.

The year's pledges were indoctrinated under a new system which is set up to make the fraternity mean more to the new pledges. The pledges had to obtain a certain number of points a week and had certain pledge projects to complete.

The social year will close out with a beach party at Cherry Grove and the Greek Weekend parties. The theme for this party is a Senior Cruise with special attention to South Sea scenery. There will be a combo at the house Friday and Saturday nights.

THETA CHI

This past year has been a very successful one for Theta Chi and much progress has been exhibited. It has been a meaningful year for the fraternity and it has gained strength over previous years.

During the past season fifteen new pledges have come into the chapter.

For the third straight year Beta Psi Chapter ranked first among fraternities on campus. Also, for the fifth consecutive year, Beta Psi received a silver certificate from the national office for outstanding work in Region 5 which is composed of eight chapters.

The Pi Kappa Phi Trophy Cup was presented to Sanders Read for outstanding scholarship as a freshman.

Beta Psi has sponsored seven dances this year. Also, the members held two stag dinners. The fraternity has made plans for a houseparty at Myrtle Beach the week after exams.

Local Fraternities Have Varied And Colorful Past

Fraternity history at PC dates back to 1890 when Mu Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha was founded. Except for the brief period of inactivity from 1912-24, when there was national anti-fraternity movement, Presbyterian has had an active and vigorous fraternity system. Local chapters are proud of their histories, which we hope will prove to be of interest to all PC students.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Sigma Phi came to PC's campus in 1946, when Alpha Kappa Pi Fraternity and Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity voted to merge at their separate conventions. The AKP chapter at Presbyterian became Alpha Psi Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi. Earlier, the fraternity suite was located above Belk's, but is now located on Broad Street in a comfortable suite of rooms.

KAPPA ALPHA

Beta Pi of Kappa Alpha Order was chartered on December 29, 1929, with charter Joe Finney Mason, P. S. Bailey, Porter H. Bomar, Benjamni F. Knoles, William O. Player, Jr., and Thomas M. Robinson. The chapter room was located on the third floor of Neville Hall, and at the close of the Second World War, the charter was moved to its present location behind Laurens Dormitory.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Mu Chapter ranks as the oldest chapter on the campus, having first been established here in 1890. Fraternities were outlawed at PC in 1912 and Mu went out of existence until it was re-founded in 1924. It has had a continual existence since that time. Mu has continually ranked among the top chapters of Pi Kappa Alpha and twice in the past ten years it has been judged the top chapter in the fraternity.

PI KAPPA PHI

At the first meeting of Pi Kappa Phi at the College of Charleston, the first Pi Kappa set as their goal to become a national organization. Andrew Kroeg was elected the "Supreme" Archon in 1906. At this time PC was the only school in the state that did not prohibit fraternities. By dint of much personal effort on the part of Kroeg, through contacts made by members of the mother chapter while visiting Presbyterian for athletic and forensic competition, a group of men became interested in affiliating, and on March 9, 1907, the Supreme Chapter received its first application for a charter, and Beta came into being.

SIGMA NU

Iota Chapter of Alpha Lambda Tau was organized on the PC campus in 1926 as a local club, called the Rapier Club. It affiliated nationally in 1927. The strength shown by Iota Chapter during the war years enabled it to maintain a place of leadership in the post-war preiod when five other fraternities were reactivated on the campus. In 1950, after again becoming a local group, Iota declared themselves a local chapter of Sigma Nu, and in 1951 were installed as a national chapter.

THETA CHI

Organized at Presbyterian College on December 4, 1942, the Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi Fraternity was chartered with twenty-two members. Prior to its charter it was known as Beta Kappa. Bill Shields served as the first President, while the alumni advisor was William P. Jacobs, III.

Notices

All organizations who wish to have their meeting time put on next year's SCA calendar, see Paul DeBernier Woodall, Jr.

Any organization wishing to be represented in the Knapsack is asked to see Evin Varner.

Blue Key

(Continued from page

SCHWARTZ

Maurice Schwartz, from burg, N. C., is a memb Kappa Alpha fraternity, served as managing edit Blue Stocking, member freshman control board, dent council rpereseata has maintained Dean's Li for the past two years act as student body presi IFC representative for the year.

SEASE

Bill Sease from Clin Dean's list averages hi year. He is a member o bard and Blade and the Club. Sease is a three-le in baseball and football.

VARNER

Evin Varner, a member Sigha Phi Fraternity and m of the Blue Stocking and tional Relations Club presi edit the Knapsack and liter nal .Varner is a past membe SCA and a member of the Paul Ard was elected presi Blue Key Honorary Fraterni nesday night following th zation's annual banquet.

Dean Philip S. Covington ford College, was speaker f casion, introduced by Dr. Stevenson, Blue Key advise cussed leadership, saying is no concrete definition of "Whatever it is," he "use it to the best of your

Following the banquet, members of the organiza ped in chapel services were formally initiated.

Other officers elected Bill Sease, vice-presider Varner, secretary; and Hes mett, treasurer.

Sunshine Cleane
W. Florida St. — Phon
Quality Cleaning a
Shirt Laundry
WE REPAIR SHOE
We Offer a "Fluff Dry"

Hotel Mary Musgrov
+
Catering to All PC Social Functions

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

L. XXXVIII Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., May 20, 1960 No. 25

Speakers for Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises are: Dr. Wayne J. Holman, Commencement, and Rev. Marc C. Weersing, Baccalaureate.

Hagood, Bean, Wise Receive Gold P Awards

Three outstanding Presbyterian College seniors will receive the Gold P, the institution's highest stamp of approval for students, at the 80th commencement exercises on June

It was announced today that Billy Hagood of Easley, Bob Bean of Ma- tta, Ga., and Tom Wise of Thom- ville, Ga., have been cited by the ulty for "outstanding meritorious vice in extra-curricular activi- s other than athletics."

Both Hagood and Wise rank at the d of their class scholastically. In dition, Hagood is president of the nior class, president of his social ternity, vice-president of Blue y leadership fraternity, former naging editor of the student news- per, a member of the Sophomore d Senior Honor Societies and o's Who Among Students in Uni- rsities and Colleges.

Wise also serves as vice-president the student body and chairman the Honor Council, is a member the Senior Honor Society, Blue y, Who's Who, Student Christian sociation Cabinet and was a stu- nt councilman for two previous ars.

Bean served as editor of the 1960 a-CaC, student yearbook, after rving as assistant editor and as- stant business manager the past o years. He also has edited the udent handbook, the directory, d is a member of Blue Key, Who's ho and the SCA Cabinet, vice- esident of the International Re- tions Club and vice-president of e Business and Economics Asso- ation.

Forbes New Archon Of Pi Kappa Phi

Frank Forbes of Decatur, Ga., was recently installed as Archon of the Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi.

Forbes, last semester Historian, took over the gavel from Ed Wells. He also serves as captain of the varsity rifle team.

Re-elected treasurer was Tom Elliott of St. Petersburg, Fla. Ken Davis of Hamlet, N. C., was picked to serve the Pi Kaps as secretary. Davis, a member of the SCA cabinet, replaces Ralph Dunham.

Jack Williams of Sumter, took over the position of Warden from Tommy Middleton. Williams is a starter on the Blue Hose basketball squad.

Replacing Forbes as Historian is Steve Craig of Atlanta, John Dickerson of Blair, succeeds Mike Dawson as Chaplain, while Ralph Dunham remains as Inter-Fraternity Council representative.

These men have already taken office and will serve through the first semester of next year.

The new IFC representatives gather to begin making plans for next year. They are (l. to r.) Maurice Schwartz, PiKA; Don Kay, Theta Chi; Rohe Eshbaugh, ASP; Billy Betchman, KA; Ralph Dunham, PiKap. Not pictured is Sigma Nu Representative Martin Chitty.

Senior Graduation Candidates Prepare For June 6 Departure

• Weersing, Holman to Speak

Approximately 114 seniors will receive diplomas at Presbyterian's 80th commencement exercises on June 6 at the soon to be completed Belk Auditorium. Other activities for the weekend include the baccalaureate service Sunday morning also at the new auditorirm

Speakers for the occasion are the Rev. Marc C. Weersing, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Spartanburg, baccalaureate sermon, and Dr. Wayne J. Holman, president of the Chicopee Corporation of New Jersey, graduation address.

Tony Lee Benson, Clara Eloise Montgomery Butler, Sara Belle Christy, Stacy Armstrong Coker, Nathaniel Ray Cole, John Raymond Crandall. Richard Churchill Cushnie, Donald Lewis Denning, Robert Earl Elmore, Jr., John Henry Firby, Robert Lee Forbis, III, William Workman Francis, Kenneth Marshall Gardner, Anthony Nick Gavalas, Ann Schirmer Gettys, Glenn Gibson, Jr., and Barry Keith Gray.

Also John Franklin Hanks, Jr., Donald Ray Hendrix, Harry Robert Hoffman, Jr., Charles Grandison Howard, James Malcolm McHargue, Eugene Lacy McKethan, Jr., David Wells Magee, Milton Cooper Mayes, III, Edward Richelieu Minus, John James Brockington Montgomery ,Royce Cecil Morris, Pickard, Mary Virginia Neil, and Joseph Lee Pickard.

Also Bobby Franklin Pierce, Henry Miller Pigg, Edward Saunders Pinkard, Lee Scott Reed, Herbert Paul Reid, Nancy Elizabeth Sharpe, William Clarence Sistar, Jr., Pauline Stevenson, William Peele Stubbs, Roger Campbell Sumner, Francis Rudolph Tollison, Jr., James Samuel Walker, Jr., Robert Lee Waters, Elizabeth Richardson Wilburn, Joseph Samuel Wilson, Thomas Roy Wise, and Lawrence Avera Wood.

Candidates for Bachelor of Science degrees are as follows:

George Neill Barnett, Robert Lee Bean, Jr., William Peter Beckman, Jr., James Linear Bennett, Alvis Bryan Carr, Jr., Donald Vinson Clark, Benjamin Lewis Donaldson, Sidney Mikell Faress, Mitchell Lewis Flynn, Charles Larry Ford, Carl Nolan Gibson, and James Wardlaw Glenn, Jr.

Also William Milliken Hagood, III, Alva Joe Hardin, Jr., Eleanor Hudgens, John Edward Jackson, Robert Grier Jobson, Pesse Eugene Johnson, Jr., Carl Ingram Latham, Jr., Charles Curtis Lindner, Roscoe Lindsay, Jr., Lonnie Alfred Love, Edward Wells Mayfield, and Medford Rockstroh.

Also Melvin Hall Sloan, Arthur Owens Smith, Matthew Moody Smith, Jr., Rayburn Clifton Stovall, Robert Franklin Startton, Jack Vaughn Taylor, Claude Abram Vaughan, Jr., Victor Gay Verdi, Williamson Newell Wallace, Jr., John Harvey Wittschen, Jr., Richard Haynes Wood, Jr., John Vernon Workman, and Ronald Patrick Wright.

Bob Waters Cited By American Legion

The annual American Legion award will go to Bob Waters of Sylvania, Ga., at Presbyterian College's 80th commencement exercises on June 6.

It is given each year by the Legion's Department of South Carolina to a graduating senior "in recognition of usually high qualities of honor, courage, scholarship, leadership, and service."

Waters has served as president of the PC student body for the past year and as executive officer of the ROTC battle group. His military honors also include being a "distinguished military student," a member of the Society of Scabbard and Blade, and the winner of the Hudson military award for academic excellence in this area as a junior.

He was co-captain of PC's outstanding 1959 fotball team and was voted the "most valuable player" in the New Year's Tangerine Bowl game. Watres also is a member of Blue Key leadership fraternity and is included in the current issue of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Mrs. George Taylor To Return to College

Mrs. George W. Taylor will return as a member of the Presbyterian College staff next September after spending several years as a missionary to Brazil, President Marshall W. Brown announced today

He said Mrs. Taylor, who served in the PC business office from 1943 until 1956, will become hostess of the Douglas House student center.

She is to succeed Mrs. E. H. Hall, who has retired after 17 years of gracious service in this capacity Mrs. Hall joined the college staff in 1943.

Mrs. Taylor came back to this country last summer from three years' work with the Bible School at Garanhuns, Pernambuco, in Brazil. Since that time she has been serving the Presbyterian Board of World Missions as a lecturer before various church groups.

MRS. GEORGE W. TAYLOR

Here recent work marked Mrs. Taylor's second tour of duty in Brazil. She first went to the mission field with her husband, the late Dr. George W. Taylor, in 1919. After his death in 1943, she returned to this country and joined the staff of the PC busines office. Here she spent the next 13 years, most of them as college bursar, and saw all four of her children and two sons-in-law attend Presbyterian College.

Then in 1956, the missions board prevailed upon Mrs. Taylor to go back to Brazil to help meet the critical emergency there. She spent the three years as dietitian and business manager of the Bible scrool.

Mrs. Taylor has been closely tied to Presbyterian College through the years, through her own work and her family. Her husband attended PC as did these children: Dr. Aiken Taylor of Asreville, N. C., now editor of the Southern Presbyterian Journal; Mrs. Frances Roberts of Orangeburg; Mrs. Betty Copley of Aiken; and Mrs. Julia Cushman of Knoxville, Tenn.

Closing Parade Features Citations to Students

Nine PC cadets were honored with special awards at the ROTC unit's final dress parade Thursday.

The parade began at 2:30 p. m. on the baseball field behind Johnson Stadium, with Cadet Colonel Joe Hardin of Greenwood commanding the battle group. An extra feature of the occasion was a precision marching performance by PC's best-drilled platoon.

Robert Piephoff, a freshman from Atlanta, received two awards at that time. He was the winner of the superior cadet ribbon for the top military scholastic average in the first-year class, and he won the Robert E. Wysor III medal as the best-drilled freshman cadet .

Two other students were honored for scholastic excellence in military —Frank R. Sells of Johnson City, Tenn., for the sophomore class; and Thomas C.Middleton, Jr., of Jefferson, for the junior class. Middleton also received the Scabard and Blade medal as the best-drilled cadet in the entire battle group.

Harry G. McDonnold of Asheville, N. C., received the Association of the United States Army medal awarded to a junior cadet who has displayed exemplary leadership characteristics; Marion B. Lee of Hemingway, the Reserve Officers Association of South Carolina medal for leadership in ROTC and extra-curricular activities; and Robert E. Beddingfield of Columbia, the South Carolina Society American Revolution medal to the best trained sophomore cadet.

The "best company" award went to Company B, commanded by Cadet Captain James Bennett of Ludowici, Ga.

Notice

The BLUE STOCKING presses stopped rolling with today's edition.

The next issue will be printed during the first week of the fall semester.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Barbarity?

And across the plaza raced smiling faces.

The reason for this rush was the obvious glee resulting from the pain of first year lettermen being forced to receive rather sadistic treatment from their fellow athletes, who have suddenly found that their hunger for revenge has endowed them with bohemian tendencies. This unmerited punishment is required of all men, before they may be allowed to wear letters already earned by hard work in a varsity sport.

We ask the question. What lasting good is derived from this treatment of mature men? It is certainly humiliating to those forced to receive such physical violence. It is not an action which should take place in a school of supposedly high standing, and it certainly isn't fun for some of the participants.

Granted, tradition should be respected—sometimes. But when this tradition becomes disgusting and even vulgar, then it should be disposed of.

Perhaps this edtiorial is a little belated, but we urge that the new officers of the Block P Club find new and more useful methods of initiating its members.

What is Honor?

We are not trying to be idealistic, but we would like to offer a suggestion to our newly elected Student Council. It is our opinion that the Honor System at Presbyterian be either strictly enforced or else done completely away with. In the fall new students will come to our campus and in their three days of orientation be told of our Honor System, which to use is a farce. Let us not be hypocritical toward this important matter. For once we must face the cold facts, an honor system has to be desired by the students and enforced by the students.' If the new freshmen see an honor system in action it will be much easier for them to believe in and follow their upperclassmen. Upon entering PC the new student is told to read and practically memorize the Knapsack, which speaks of how PC was founded upon the Honor System, and how it is the job of each and every student to uphold this code of honor. We ask you, what is honor? Does fear of ridicule on the part of those who witness cheating remove any of the shame and dishonor from any of us. We are more guilty than those who cheat for we are in a position to help not only ourselves but also those who follow in our footsteps. Has the integrity of the PC student body dropped so low that a handful of ingenious craftsmen in the field of dishonesty can wreck the very foundations on which Presbyterian College was founded.

—J. W. C.

Remember - Frat Housing

It would definitely be beneficial to all fraternity men and for the school to not let the fraternity housing proposal fall into obscurity.

This year is drawing to a close, but next year this matter should be put into consideration immediately.

For years the fraternities have been expounding their sorrows on the fraternity housing situation. Now is the time for action on their part and a chance to make the fraternity lodging fully satisfactory.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR	MARTIN CHITTY
MANAGING EDITOR	GRAHAM EDMUNDS
ASSOCIATE EDITOR	JOHN CRAIG
Sports Editor	Bob Stevens
News Editor	Murray White
Feature Editor	Howard Gordon
Business Manager	Bob Smith
Photographer	Roy Autry

Hungry?

Hungry, my friends?
Want something to eat?
Let's go to a place I know.

You walk in the door
With hope in your heart
Because you are about to starve
Law of averages, my friend
You'll never win
With a hamburger that just won't carve.

From the kitchen hot
And the icebox chill
We get half the mess we can hold.
Our hearts don't lift
It must be a gift
For certainly it couldn't be sold.

Twenty minutes of work
With a hacksaw and fork
And you realize a little too late
Potatoes are gluey
The beans taste screwy
And the spinach has crawled off your plate.

Strict cadence for all
In columns by twos
They march with a rhythm exact.
Worry about them
We CAN do without them.
Foreign creatures they are for a fact!

Straight acros the plate
Over carrot and bread
I hope that they leave none for me.
I'll count my money
And go see "Honey."
For I sure can't get food there for free.

I paid room and board
And thought I could eat.
For it seems hopeless at PC.
Forward I look
After ruler and book
When my mom can cook something for me.

Campbell Featured

Featured in the recent Alumni edition of The Appalachian of Appalachian State Teacher's College, Boone, N. C., is Paul N. Campbell, PC Assistant Professor of History. The story tells of Campbell's return to education following a long absence in Boy Scout and YMCA work.

A CONSULTANT is an ordinary guy who is a long way from home.

Looking From Chimney Height

Since this is the last issue of the year I wish to express my thanks to those who contributed to this column. We hope that next year we will be able to improve the caliber of fiction that appears under or upon the chimney heights.

This week we wish to give the seniors a farewell idea. Unlike Byron we will not revel in our farewells but to say goodbye and take some heed to the advice of T. S. Elliott and Saunders Reed.

ARE WE THE HOLLOW MEN?

This is the way the world ends
This is the way the world ends
This is the way the world ends
Not with a bang but a whisper.

These four lines, the closing stanza of T. S. Elliott's "The Hollow Man," reflect the tone and the theme of the poem. The tone is one of despair which supports the theme—that society is doomed as long as it is spiritually indifferent. The poem speaks of human life as [illegible] death's other kingdom, living death because mutually dead. Man cannot [illegible] thing to fruition: he is [illegible] This is reflected in the [illegible] above. Because of his [illegible] difference, the world [illegible] with man unable to do [illegible] whimper.

Does such an analysis ap[illegible] world today? Man, for [illegible] made great gains in sci[illegible] true, but is his spiritual li[illegible] up with his intellectual? [illegible] discoveriees will be used [illegible] for destructive purposes; [illegible] get out of hand. Then, wh[illegible] not stop the terible force [illegible] has set in motion, he wi[illegible] only to whimper at his [illegible] take.

This may apply to the col[illegible] pus. Is the average studen[illegible] placent? Does he leave e[illegible] up to the campus leaders t[illegible] Is he indifferent to the out[illegible] if he does have conflictin[illegible] is he too timid to express [illegible]

Perhaps, if it would n[illegible] much trouble, we should [illegible] take stock of the situation [illegible] even take a little action.

Think about it.

Proctors

Col. A. J. Thackston, Dean of Students, has requested all students interested in jobs as dormitory proctors to submit their request as soon as possible.

The basic requirements are, first, and most important, an earnest desire to serve Presbyterian College; second, a C average and, last, leadership ability.

Col. Thackston said that at the present time there are still several vacancies for the 1960-61 school year.

WHY PROOFREADERS GO GRAY DEPT.: the following are misprints that have appeared in collegiate classifieds across the nation:

Missouri: Houstrailer, 15-foot, sleeps two. Perfect for bachelor. California: 1958 Mercury, $2,195. Convertible Coupe, radio, heater, overdrive. Washington: Two young working ladies desire apartment on bus. South Carolina: Wanted, women to cook and do general horsework. Illinois: Two unfurnished rooms. For adults only.

Student Defense Lo[illegible]

Students who expect to [illegible] a National Defense Stude[illegible] for 1960-61 are urged to [illegible] this loan before the end of [illegible] mester. Loan blanks are [illegible] at the Business Office.

The college will make appl[illegible] for funds to be used in th[illegible] gram and just as soon as [illegible] lege has a commitment [illegible] government headquarters, [illegible] dents who have applied [illegible] given ananswer on their or[illegible] plication. According to [illegible] ment sources, this answer [illegible] be available about Augus[illegible] considering the application [illegible] college will take many factor[illegible] consideration including a st[illegible] needs, academic accomplish[illegible] to date ,his proposed [illegible] leadership possibilities, etc[illegible] recent regional meeting, [illegible] pointed out that the student[illegible] not rely completely on the[illegible] dent Loan, but should make [illegible] effort to finance his colleg[illegible] gram and then use a loan [illegible] means of college financing [illegible] not possible. While loans [illegible] made for as much as $1,000, [illegible] believed that students shou[illegible] be encouraged to borro[illegible] much except in unusual case[illegible]

Freshman Control Boo[illegible]

Sonny DuBose, chairman [illegible] Freshman Control Board for [illegible] semester, announced yesterda[illegible] list of those students who w[illegible] sist him in "controlling the [illegible] men" in September. Those wh[illegible] help Sonny on the board ar[illegible] Nixon, Bobby Joiner, Douglas [illegible] Dougald, Paul Ard, Evin Vi[illegible] and Ralph Dunham.

The purpose of the Freshman [illegible] trol Board is primarily to disc[illegible] the freshmen to college life a[illegible] provide a means for the o[illegible] classmen to become more q[illegible] acquainted with the new studen[illegible]

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

PI KAPPA PHI

The Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi welcomes into its midst the following new pledges: Tom Barrentine, Fred Brown, Lynn Gorman, Jerry Hammock, Johnny Hope, Alex Mills, Joe Pracht, Harold Raeford, Ralph Schnoebelen, and Robert Sherrell.

Last Wednesday the brothers went to Delta Chapter at Furman University to help with the intiation of several new brothers.

KAPPA ALPHA

All the brothers enjoyed Greek Weekend very much. Most of the brothers felt the combo Saturday was one of the best parties of the year. Newly initiated Brother Billy Ogden wasted no time in pinning Miss Lou Gray. Also, Brother Harvey Wittschen pinned Miss Lois Payne. A supper with both brothers and pledges is planned for this Tuesday night.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Recognition was given Tuesday night to the chapter's graduating seniors. The Brothers were guests of Dr. Edouard Patte last night for dinner at his home. The social committee was complimented for a terrific dance weekend. The chapter began to formulate plans for the next academic year.

SIGMA NU

Congratulations to Sonny DuBose and Marshall Jones for earning their Block 'P's at the recent initiation.

The Greek Weekend parties were termed a sucees and the music was especially enjoyable Saturday night.

Our sincere congratulations go to Brother Melvin Sloan on being named Brother of the Year. His contributions are appreciated by all. Also, congratulations to Brother Vince Brown who pinned a girl recently with Brother Holingsworth's pin.

The fraternity wishes to thank Mr. King for chaperoning for the party Saturday night.

[illegible]Run... Of the Hose

Bob Stevens, Sports Editor

As another year appears on the horizon, it's a good time to review the [illegible]rts scene of the past year.

[illegible]n many ways it was a good one, in others—well, let's be fitting with [illegible]old adage and say "win some, lose some."

Coach Frank Jones and the Blue Hose gridders are to be highly com[illegible]ded for PC's best season yet on the football field. A great quantity [illegible]ard work and extra practice sessions went into the team's efforts [illegible] past fall. The Blue Hose, a second half team the entire season, con[illegible]ally defeated stouter opponents. No one individual or conch can be [illegible]ted out as the deciding factor of the team's success.

[illegible]t was a team effort all the way. PC's first bowl team traveled to Or[illegible]do and gave a very creditable account for themselves in the Tangerine Bowl, being defeated by a much larger school to a score of 21-12. Bob [illegible]e and Bob Waters, two of the team's standouts, were drafted into pro [illegible]. Both were selected by the San Francisco 49'ers.

Waters was also voted the Oustanding Player in the bowl game. Hon[illegible] were given to many others of the team members. Our sincere thanks [illegible]he senior members of the team who have spent four rugged years on [illegible] gridiron.

Coaches Spooner and Verene, new mentors this past season, must be [illegible]amended for their contributions to the team's success.

Verene also took over the basketball reins replacing Coach Redford. [illegible] Blue Hose lack of experience caused them to have a mediocre season, [illegible] we were always tough on the home courts. Due to a good freshman [illegible]up which gained experience, hopes are high for an improved squad [illegible]t season.

Coach Leighton and his netters had their usual good season, winning [illegible]and losing only 5. Possibly the highlight of the season was Hoffman [illegible]t Greenslade's defeat of the Georgia Tech doubles team in a long 17-15 [illegible]tch. PC again dominated all state opponents and easily won the state [illegible]rnament for the 20th year consecutively. The team should be strong [illegible]in next year as their only loss by graduation is Senior Captain Har[illegible]Hoffman. A great deal will be expected of freshman Tony Wilson, [illegible] stepped into the No. 2 position this year.

The track and golf teams made considerable progress this year as [illegible]far bettered their records of last year.

[illegible]C Netmen Post 15-5 Season [illegible]im's Men Still SC Champs

By BILL RIPLEY

Faced with a schedule of exceptionally experienced opnents, the Presbyterian College Tennis Team again came [illegible]rward as victors.

The following schedule of matches and scores for the [illegible]9-60 season amply exemplifies the [illegible]perience and winning form shown the players and Coach Leighton. [illegible]Florida State was defeated 7-2, [illegible] the University of Florida defeat[illegible]-4.

[illegible]lemson was defeated 9-0; Dart[illegible]uth, 5-4; Davidson, 9-0; Amherst, [illegible] and Wofford, 9-0. PJC was de[illegible]ed 9-0; Howard, 5-4 and 5-4; [illegible]ege was also defeated 5-4.

[illegible]sses for the Racketeers were at [illegible] hands of Dartmouh, 5-4; Miami, [illegible] and 8-1; Yale, 8-1; and Prince[illegible]. 7-2.

[illegible]ll of the state opponents were de[illegible]ed and the Blue Hose copped the [illegible]th Carolina State Tournament for [illegible]0th consecutive year.

One of the outstanding highlights [illegible] the year came when Harry Hoff[illegible]n and Dave Greenslade defeated [illegible]ely and Thompson of Georgia [illegible]ch, who are the No. 1 doubles [illegible]m in the nation. They were de[illegible]ted in two sets, 6-4, 17-15.

[illegible] the string of matches with Mi[illegible] five of the matches went to [illegible] sets which could very well be [illegible]promising sign of things to come [illegible] following season.

[illegible] credit is due to Harry Hoffman [illegible] has been our number one singles [illegible] in for the past two seasons and [illegible]o to Tony Wilson, a freshman, [illegible]o jumped to the number two posi[illegible]n this season.

GALLMAN'S BARBER SHOP

183 N. Broad St.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Tough Luck Blamed For Baseball Record

By LELAND VAUGHN

In reviewing the rather dismal 4-12 record that was posted by the Presbyterian Blue Socks this season, it comes to mind that many "hard luck" factors along with injuries, bad weather and loose fielding contributed to the worst baseball record for PC in several years.

During the early spring the team managed to get in only two outside practices before the first game, due to the snow and unseasonable weather which forced the first three games of the season to be cancelled. The team was also plagued somewhat by injuries this year. Southpaw pitcher, first baseman Jerry Chitty, was lost for the entire season due to a fractured arm.

The brightest spot of the season for PC was when the locals won two games in a row from strong Pembroke College of Maxton, N. C. Later in the same week, PC took a 3-0 decision from Little Four rival Wofford in one of the most exciting games of the year.

PC was led at bat this year by the hard-hitting shortstop, Harold Raeford. Raeford ended the season hitting .375 and led the team in home runs, and RBI's. Other big guns in the lineup were Bill Sease, 3nd Wayne Godfrey who both hit well above the .300 clip.

The pitching staff was led this year by Bill Dobbins who posted a 2-1 record. His best performance of the season was a 5-hit shutout against Wofford in the only conference victory of the season.

The team will only lose three players via graduation. They are centerfielder Ed Jackson and pitchers Bill Dobbins and Ken Gardner.

Successful Mural Season Closes With Volleyball Finals Next Week

Receiving his trophy from Intramural Chairman Jerry Chitty is Robert Frierson who recently won the cross country.

Records Were Established As 'Go Go' Hose Bowled

By SONNY DUBOSE

The Presbyterian College Blue Hose came from behind twice to defeat the East Carolina College in the 1959 season opener.

The Blue Hose forward wall held East Carolina three times in the ball game, once on the Hose 16-yard line, once on the 2-yard line and once on the 4-yard line.

The offensive show for PC was almost strictly Pate, Waters, Hill, and Morgan.

Final score: PC 18, E. C. C. 13.

In what many people term "the football game of the year in South Carolina," the Blue Hose upset Furman 24-23 by scoring every way possible.

Pate, Morgan, Sease, Waters, and Hill were the offensive stars of the night.

In the third game of the season for PC, the Blue Hose came from behind to defeat the Davidson Wildcats 25-21.

Bobby Pate scored twice, Bill Hill and Bob Waters each scored one apiece for the Blue Hose.

After a dismal first half, during which time it looked as if the Hose would be handed their first defeat of the year, PC turned on one of the finest offensive shows of the year to down Wofford College 27-19.

An inspired effort by the Blue Hose reserve sent the Terriers reeling and later the Big Blue first unit never allowed them to recover.

Offensive show had usual stars plus Joe Nixon, Nat Cole, and Jimmy Kolb.

The Battlin' Blue Hose routed Tampa University and Elon College in their next two ball games, beating Tampa 27-0 and Elon 27-6 to remain undefeated and ranked 5th among all NAIA schools in the country.

Before a Parents Day crowd of 3500, PC broke loose to a 28-0 halftime lead and with the regulars sitting the second half out, the reserves added another TD and held the Indians of Catawba to two touchdowns.

Another offensive star appeared on the scene for Presbyterian, Freshman halfback, Ronnie Hampton.

PC was defeated by The Citadel 8-0 in the state's first "Mud Bowl Game." In weather suited mostly for nothing to be outside, the Blue Hose and the Cadets waded around with the score remaining 0-0 until the final 3½ minutes of the game.

The Citadel finally fell on a waterlogged ball in the Blue Hose end zone to break the 0-0 tie.

The Big Blue proved to be champions of the year in the hearts of Blue Hose supporters as they bounced back off the floor in the 9th game of 1959 to defeat Appalachian 34-0.

This victory was made possible by the alertness and outstanding play of the Hose line.

On Thanksgiving Day, PC brought home the Little Three Championship and the Bronze Derby.

The highly talented fullback of Newberry fizzled out in the second half as the Blue Hose caught fire to rack up two more TD's and wrap up the ball game by a 20-6 score.

And at the end of the 1959 season the Blue Hose squad recalled a prayer, given by the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Clinton, that had been answered. The Bronze Derby was resting in the halls of Neville!

This game ended the regular season play for the Blue Hose, but being ranked 5th in the NAIA poll, they were chosen to be the host team in the Tangerine Bowl on January 1, 1960.

On January 1, 1960, the Presbyterian College Blue Hose put on one of the most determined rallies in Tangerine Bowl history. The fighting Hose fought back from a 14-0 deficit to a score of 14-12 in the last quarter. But with time running out and the Hose gambling and losing the ball, Middle Tennessee scored the clinching touchdowns with less than three minutes remaining in the game.

Bob Waters received the Outstanding Individual Player trophy for the game and Bobby Pate was second in number of votes received.

The Blue Hose team of 1959 may never be equalled again but two of the outstanding players of that squad are ticketed for stardom in the pro ranks, Quarterback Bob Waters and Halfback Bobby Pate, both property of the San Francisco 49'ers.

Frierson Wins Cross Country

This week's games concluded another very successful year in Intramurals on the Presbyterian College campus. Participation has been excellent in each sport. Due to this participation, more spectators have witnessed the athletic events of the PC Intramuralist.

Wednesday, May 18, was the annual Cross-Country Race. Participants ran this grueling run from WPCC Radio Station to the flagpole on the Plaza. The first four places for the 1.7 mile run were as follows: Robert Frierson, Alex Bosserman, Bruce Barnes, and Stacy Coker. Frierson's time for this run was 9:40 and Bosserman, who placed second with a time of 10:15.

Softball officially closed it's season Wednesday with a thrilling 12-11 victory by Pi Kappa Alpha. The Pi Kappa Phi nine were the losers of this contest. Pi Kapa Alpha also won their game Tuesday over the Falcons, to take second place. Pi Kappa Phi finished third and the winners of the 1960 Softball League were Poochie Blackwelder's "Bums."

Volleyball hasn't yet finished, as there is a three-way tie for first place. Pi Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, and Sigma Nu all have completed 6-1 records. The winner should be officially decided Monday.

After a prosperous season for PC Intramurals the final standings are as listed below. The sport and the first, second and third teams, respectively.

FOOTBALL—
1. Pi Kappa Alpha
2. Kappa Alpha
3. Sigma Nu

BASKETBALL—
1. Pi Kappa Alpha
2. Sigma Nu
3. Kappa Alpha

TRACK—
1. Falcons
2. Kappa Alpha (Tie)
3. Sigma Nu

VOLLEYBALL—
Undecided

"I would like to thake this opportunity, as Intramural Chairman and on behalf of the Director of Student Activities, Mr. Montgomery, to thank each participant in the 1959-60 Intramurals for their helpful cooperation. I would also like to commend the entire Intramrual Council for their assistance."

—JERRY CHITTY,
Intramural Chairman

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.

415 W. Main St. - Phone 449
"Open All Night

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

WPCC
Your Music and News Station
Clinton, S. C.

Pitts Men's Shop
THE LATEST COLLEGE FASHIONS IN SLACKS, SHIRTS, AND BERMUDAS

Those receiving honorary degrees are: Senator Strom Thurmond, Rev. Allen McSween, Mr. J. Graham Miller and Rev. William I. Howell.

Billy Hagood Selecte As Outstanding Sen

Billy Hagood of Easley will receive Presbyterian College's 1960 "outstanding senior" award at the June 6 commencement exercises, it was announced today.

He was chosen by a vote of his classmates and by the PC faculty for this honor, given annually by the Charlotte chapter of the Alumni Association. It recognizes those qualities which "most approximate the institution's ideals for young manhood."

Hagood, who recently was chosen to receive one of three Gold P awards given for meritorious service in extra-curicular activities, has been a leader throughout his four years at Presbyterian College.

Besides ranking at the top scholastically, he is president of his social fraternity, and vice-president of Blue Key leadership fraternity. His honors also include being former managing editor of the student newspaper, a member of the Sophomore and Senior Honor Societies and Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. He earned three letters in two sports at PC.

As the "outstanding senior," Hagood will receive a key award and his name will be carried on a special plaque, along with the names of previous winners.

Chalabie Gets Award

The annual award, given as recognition to the freshman who has shown the most progress in the mathematics field, was bestowed upon Andrew R. Chalabie for the academic year 1959-60. The award, a copy of "Standard Mathematical Tables," donated by the Chemical Rubber Company, was presented to Chalabie by the Mathematics Department staff. His work in this area has consisted of an accelerated algebra and trigonometry course first semester, and now he is completing analytical geometry and advanced college algebra.

Pi Kappa Alpha Holds Annual Fa

On Wednesday, April [illegible] Kappa Alpha Fraternity h[illegible] ond annual "Favorite Facu[illegible] quet. The affair, held at t[illegible] Musgrove Hotel, honored [illegible] members of the facu[illegible] were chosen by the fratern[illegible] "Contributions to higher s[illegible] standards, better faculty-[illegible] understanding, and personal[illegible] in the individual student."

Recognized this year by t[illegible] ternity were Dr. James G[illegible] Alexander Stump, Mr. Kenn[illegible] er, and Mr. Tommy Stallwo[illegible] recognized were these facult[illegible] bers who were chosen la[illegible] Dr. John Stevenson, Dr. Ne[illegible] law, Dr. Louis Pope, Mr. Jo[illegible] er, Mr. Taylor Martin, P[illegible] Harris, and Dr. Newton Jo[illegible]

Speaker at the banque[illegible] Louis G. LaMotte, president [illegible] byterian Junior College, P[illegible] nus, and former president o[illegible] chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha[illegible]

THE MEN'S SH[illegible]
PC
HEADQUARTER[illegible]
Laurens, S. C

BROADWA[illegible]
Theatre
Monday-Tuesday M[illegible]
YESTERDAY'S ENE[illegible]
Wednesday-Thursday M[illegible]
WAKE ME WHEN [illegible]
OVER
Friday-Saturday M[illegible]
13 FIGHTING ME[illegible]
THE MARK OF ZOR[illegible]

Synod Approves Development Plans

The Synod of South Carolina Tuesday approved Presbyterian College plans for another capital gifts campaign and future long-range development, with the Synod stewardship committee directed to recommend the best year for the campaign at the 1961 meeting of Synod.

Action came at the afternoon session after a report by the committee on higher education, headed by Dr. W. Redd Turner of this city.

Presbyterian College had presented an hour-long program at the Tuesday morning sesion.

President Marshall W. Brown preside dover this program ,which featured four short talks about the college and four selections by PC's 32-voice robed choir. Two students, Ben Donaldson of Blackshear, Ga., and Brenda Gay Maddox of Spartanburg, told of student life on the campus. Charles Plowden, Summerton banker formerly prominent in South Carolina politics, spoke as an alumnus and as a strong advocate of what the private colleges mean to this state. And Dr. Marc Weersing of the Spartanburg First Presbyterian Church, spoke in his dual capacity as a pastor and as a trustee of PC.

Hammett Names Staff For 1960-61 PaC-SaC

Herb Hammett, newly elected editor of the 1961 PaC-SaC, gave the Blue Stocking his choice for next year's annual staff. According to Hammett, Billy Hatchett will be associate editor, with Billy Piephoff as assistant editor. Rick Saunders will replace Billy Hatchett as class editor and Mike Jarrett will cover the activities on the campus in conjunction with Billy Betchman, fraternity editor. Pat Malone will handle the sports highlight for the coming year and Julia Gray will add color to the annual with her art work. Hexie McDonnold will be military editor.

The staff plans to release a conservative annual. The tentative date for release has been set for May 1, 1961

There's Better Service at Joe's Esso Service
Try Our Soda Fountain
Cars Greased in the Moto-Sway Way

Evangelistic Teams Headed By Puckett

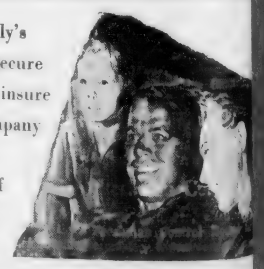
Each year the Ministerial Club sponsods five evangelistc teams under the direction of the Chairman on Evangelism and five team captains. Speedy Reed was the chairman on Evangelism during the past year and he was assisted by Larry Wood, Jack Crandill, Pat Griffin, Joe Pickard, and Dick Curnow, who were the team captains. Club members were assigned to the team of their choice and were given assignments as invitations arrived from churches in Georgia and the two Carolnias.

The assignments usually included conducting youth services, teaching Sunday School, and directing worship. This is an invaluable experience for the ministerial students and renders a constructive service to the churches. This year's team visited Orangeburg, Camden, Greenville, Manning, and Charlotte.

Sometimes the teams get unusual opportunities. In Manning the morning worship service was broadcast over the local radio station to an estimated audience of 6000. In Charlotte,the team visited some of the inmates of the Mecklenburg County Prison.

Two weeks ago at the club elections, Jerry Puckett was elected Chairman on Evangelism for the 1960-61 team.

Howard and Durant Go Back to School



Next fall two Presbyterian College instructors will enter graduate school for advanced study in their respective fields. Both Mr. Howard of the Mathematics Department, and Mr. Jack Durant, instructor of English, plan to receive their Ph.D.'s within the next two to three years.

Mr. Howard, a PC graduate in the class of '54, came to this institution as an Assistant Professor of Mathematics in 1957 after earning his Master's Degree from Clemson in 1956. In pursuit of his Doctors Degree, he plans to accept a Research Assistantship at Florida State University in Tallahassee, Fla. Completion of his work in the field of Atmospheric Physics will be in the spring of 1963; at which time he plans to return to college level instruction.

Mr. Durant has spent the past two academic years here at Presbyterian College. After graduating from Maryville College in 1953, Mr. Durant directly entered the University of Tennessee where in 1955 he obtained his Masters Degree. Returning from two years active duty in Europe he pased the 1957-58 year as an English instructor at Maryville College. From that point he has been a member of our English Department. Mr. Durant now intends to return to the University of Tennessee on a Teacher Assistantship to complete his work toward his Doctorate. Mr. Durant plans to continue college level teaching after receiving his Ph.D.

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
ON THE SQUARE

Your family's future is secure when you insure in the company with the strength of Gibraltar.
See

Lawrence E. Young
Insurance Broker
Life Insurance • Sickness and Accident Protection
THE PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA
a mutual life insurance company
200 N. Broad St. Clinton, S. C.
Phone 610

27

Blue Stocking

1960-61

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXIX | Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., September 23, 1960 | No. 1

"And you definitely believe that Judd is no better," says Hexie McDonnold to Dr. John Stevenson. Dr. Stevenson is seen here on an inspection tour of Ft. Benning's summer camp.

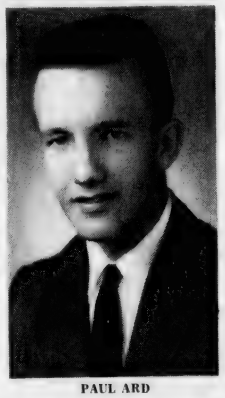
College Announces $10,000,000 Development Program Campaign

• Culminates With 1980 Centennial

A $10,000,000 program of development, culminating in Presbyterian College's 1980 centennial, has been announced by President Marshall W. Brown.

Church leaders of the South Carolina Synod have given approval to the 25-year program. From this decision PC will emerge somewhat larger with an expanded curriculum. The student body will increase to 900. College officials submitted to the Synod an outline entitled "Presbyterian College's Quickening Quarter-Century." This program encompasses the Diamond Jubilee campaign (1955-57) as the first phase and projects campus requirements 20 years into the future. With $1,250,000,000 already achieved, it would mean a total of $8,750,000 needed by PC's 100th anniversary.

Six million of the ten million dollar sum is endowment and four million is earmarked for plant additions.



The goal would be achieved in four stages. The stage, now complete, has provided Presbyterian College with three new buildings—Bailey Hall dormitory, Douglas House student center, and the Belk Auditorium.

The second stage would put major emphasis on endowment to provide for more academic scholarships and faculty salary increases. Additional land, new dormitories, another science building and a new dining hall get priority billing among the campus needs.

A definite date for the start of this second phase awaits the decision of the South Carolina Synod at its 1961 meeting.

The final two stages of this extensive development project are tentatively scheduled for the early 1970's. Here again, endowment funds would be the principal objective. The plant requirements to be secured during this decade would include two more dormitories, student-faculty apartments, a new infirmary, expanded library facilities, and a field house for girls.

This is the blueprint for the immediate future as envisioned by President Brown. The plans may be adjusted as the program moves forward. Expansion of the program and increases in enrollment will be accomplished gradually as adequate equipment and financing become available.

PAUL ARD

Paul Ard Selected Battle Group Comm.

The Presbyterian College ROTC Corps of Cadets officially began their 1960-61 year with a meeting in Belk Audtiorium Thursday afternoon, led by the Battle Group Commander, Paul Ard. After the introduction of the staff and officers the corps heard a brief message from the cadet commander.

This year's corps is the largest in PC's history, with a total of 310 cadets.

The cadet staff is composed of the following cadets: Cadet Lt. Col. Paul O. Ard, Jr., Battle Group Commander; Cadet Major Marion B. Lee, Jr., Battle Group Executive Officer; Cadet 1st Lt. Hexie K. McDonnold, S-1; Cadet 1st Lt. James G. Monroe, Jr., S-2; Cadet Captain Harry G. McDonald, S-3; Cadet Captain Fred D. Clark, S-4. The company commanders are Cadet 1st Lt. James W. Sease, Co. A; Cadet 1st Lt. Douglas C. McDougal, Co. B; Cadet 1st Lt. Patrick D. Malone, Co. C; Cadet 1st Lt. Charles H. Clayton, Co. D; Cadet 1st Lt. Thomas C. Middleton, Headquarters Company.

The remaining cadet officers are William P. Betchman, Wayne E. Godfrey, Robert N. Jeanes, and Orion R. Perrell, all first lieutenants.

Also Thomas A. Collins, Michael R. Dawkins, Walter P. Dorn, Jr., Richard E. Faulkner, Otto V. Ferrere, Jr., Herbert V. Hammett, John W. Gibson, Carlisle P. Griffin, Gordon S. Mobley, III, John E. Parker, and Leslie A. Williams, Jr., all second lieutenants.

Blue Key Chapters Exchange Programs

Members of the Presbyterian College chapter of Blue Key national honorary fraternity traveled to Wofford College yesterday to present the annual chapel exchange program. Wofford's Blue Key men will reciprocate on Monday.

The program at Wofford featured a quartet composed of Hexie and Harry McDonnold, Guy Hancock and Pat Malone. Also entertaining were Paul Woodall and David Perry. Jimmy Kolb and Bill Hill, Blue Hose co-captains, appeared on the program.

Paul Ard, president of the local chapter, reminds students of Blue Key's function as intermediaries between the student body and administration for complaints and suggestions.

IRC Plans Special Freshman Program

Presbyterian College chapter of the International Relations Club will hold a special program for all freshmen and transfer students on Sept. 26. The meeting will be held in the meeting room of the Douglas House at 7:30 p. m.

The IRC has striven to stimulate student interest in international affairs. Students interested in joining will be given a competitive exam at a later date.

Blue Stocking Staff Features Change-Over

Due to health and academic strain, Martin Chitty resigned this week as editor of The Blue Stocking. The paper is being edited this week by former editor Evin Varner.

A shift in staff positions was begun this week also, with Leland Vaughan taking over the reins of the sports department. Many new names will appear in the credits within the week as the staff is organized for the semester.

Full Slate Of Activities Set For Homecoming

Many plans are already underway for homecoming festivities October 7-8. Boosting the big weekend into full swing will be the Homecoming dance under the direction of Rohe Eshbaugh, and the Inter-Fraternity Council. The dance will be on Friday night from 9:00 until 1:00, and the music will be supplied by The Key Notes and Sammy Cook.

Dress for the dance will be "PC Formal," consisting of a dark suit for boys, and a party or cocktail dress for girls.

An admission fee will be charged and the amount will be posted at a later date.

All of the fraternities will hold drop-ins during the intermission.

The football game will begin at 8:00 Saturday night. The highlight of the weekend will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen during the halftime.

Students interested in entering a girl in the competition for Homecoming Queen should contact Bobby Joiner. A student body election will be held next week to determine the winner.

The fall meeting of the alumni directors will be held at 11:00 Saturday morning, and the Alumni Reception will be held in Douglas House at 3:00. The Walter Johnson Club, which supports the athletic events at Presbyterian, will meet at 5:00.

Chapel Choir Formed; Membership Given

Forty-one men will compose the new Presbyterian College Chapel Choir this year, according to Dr. Edouard Patte, Minister of Music. These students were chosen on the basis of voice and technical tests given during the first of the week. Dr. Patte anunnounced that the Robed Choir, which will be chosen from the Chapel Choir, will sing in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama.

First Tenors are: Frank Sells, Charles Kirkland, Phil Smith, Richard McFadden, Tom Currie, Jan Rhodes, Stew Barnes, and Dan Powers.

Second Tenors are: Wirt Skinner, Mark Glenn, Rohe Eshbaugh, Bobby Piephoff, Karl Bosserman, John Neal, and Tommy Braswell.

Also, Bill Frye, Marvin Moore, Billy Carmichael, Lewis Edge, Gary Millwood, and Art DeYoung.

First Basses are: Dick McGaughey, Richard Stanford, Billy Piephoff, Paul Layton, Tom Cook, Johnny Dickerson, and Grif Selwig.

Also, Jack Greenwood, John Varn, Hugh Wilson, Lynn Hudgins, Brad Campbell, and John Stratman.

Second Basses are: Paul Woodall, Allen Freeman, Graham Edmunds, Bob Morris, Marion Boozer, and Tom Knox.

Orgonist: David Perry.

Teachers From Thailand Visit Campus; Tour Country

Two visitors on campus this week stared in wondermont and amusement at freshman "ratting" activities. They were Sunthon Sŭanchai, of Pothong, Angthong, Thailand, and Chatrchai Arananant, of Utaradi, Thailand.

The two men are touring the United States under the sponsorship of the International Cooperation Association.

Sunanchai, a principal in a primary school, studied last year at the University of Nebraska, while Chatrchai, a teacher, attended Sol Ross State College of Texas. They are good friends since college days at Prasanmitr College of Education in Bangkok.

After completing their studies in education, they have been traveling extensively in this country. They came to PC from Washington, Ga., where they had the "delightful" experience of staying with an American family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hodgsons, of Washington, Ga.

The visitors are Buddist, and both have served a short tenure as monks, a common practice of their country.

Education in Thailand is compulsory only up to the fourth grade level. Students seeking to go higher must take an entrance exam to get into the secondary level for six more

(Continued on page 4)

The question as to whether Bob Smith is courageously stealing or repentantly giving back Mr. Blassingame's hat in this revealing picture can be best answered by observers Sunthon Suanchai of Angthong, and Chatrchai Arananant of Utaradit, Thailand, respectively. Those two gentlemen were recent visitors to PC in a teachers' exchange program.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

The Fourth Year

Every four years the United States is plunged into a period of heated discussions, strong partisanship, and important decision in the circus-like atmosphere of election year.

The college campus does not escape the fever. The collegiate vote is important enough to campaign headquarters of presidential aspirants to warrant the expenditure of thousands of dollars in publications and organization of youth-for clubs.

Presbyterian students share in this fever of the fourth year and professors also have been inflicted. Those students from Georgia are given the privilege of voting at age eighteen; many of those from other states have reached their majority. "America is a land where a citizen will cross the ocean to fight for democracy—and won't cross the street to vote in a national election," Bill Vaughan says in the VFW Magazine. It is unfortunate that a spirit of apathy in voting exists, and we urge those who can to exercise their privilege and obligation.

And further, while The Blue Stocking will not support any candidate, we welcome signed letters to the editor from students concerning the national election. The Blue Stocking is the voice of the students; use it at this important time.

Lend An Ear . . .

Blue Key Honorary Leadership Fraternity has offered its services to the student body to serve as a channel of student complaints and suggestions to faculty and administration. This method often produces a more favorable result. Boxes are in Neville and Jacobs for serious—not silly—suggestions. Need we say more?

Next week, the International Relations Club will hold its annual test for membership, not a hard test, but to determine interest. As the cliche goes, in these troubled times, students would do well to avail themselves of the learning this organization offers.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

PI KAPPA PHI

The brotherhood would like to congratulate Joe Pracht on his initiation last night.

Beta Chapter is going to have its Homecoming Weekend at Peck's Ranch. Plans have been made for a blast. We have also begun preparations for our Open Social October 12.

KAPPA ALPHA

At the meeting of Beta Pi Chapter last Tuesday all Brothers were welcomed back to campus after a most enjoyable summer.

Tentative plans were made for the upcomnig Homecoming Weekend including an afternoon Tea Dance on Saturday, with Sam Cook providing the music.

Congratulations are extended to our newest pledge, Doug Miller, who was inducted last Wednesday.

THETA CHI

Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi met last Tuesday night to discuss plans for the coming social Saturday night after the game. All non-fraternity men are invited. It was decided to invite the Theta Chi's from Lenoir-Rhyne. Plans were also discussed for the coming Homecoming Weekend

PI KAPPA ALPHA

At the first meeting of Mu Chapter plans were discussed for Homecoming Weekend and a drop-in to be held after Saturday night's game with Lenoir-Rhyne. Brother Paul Ard reported on the National Convention held this summer in Miami, Florida.

Congratulations were extended to newly married Hexie McDonnold, and newly pinned brothers Pat Malone and Walt Ferrene.

The chapter welcomes Professor Tommy Stallworth back as our alumnus counselor. Also congratulations are extended to our new pledge, Mike Jarrett.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Don Dunlap, Cricket Lowry, Allen Freeman, and Evin Varner reported to Alpha Psi Tuesday night on the 1960 National Convention of ASP held in Marietta, Ohio, to commemorate the 100th anniversary of Delta Chapter.

Plans were discussed for the party to be held in the Fraternity suite after the game Saturday. All freshmen and non-fraternity men are cordially invited to attend. Discussion was also held concerning Homecoming Weekend.

SIGMA NU

The Zeta Theta Chapter of Sigma Nu met Tuesday night. Final plans were made for the Open Social to be held Wednesday night, October 28, at 7:30 p .m. All non-fraternity men, Freshmen and faculty members are cordially invited. Tentative plans were made for Homecoming Weekend. All the brothers and pledges of Sigma Nu wish Bill Stone a speedy recovery.

Greeks on Campus . . .

Look At Fraternity Housing

by BILL BARTEE

The fraternity system at Presbyterian College has reached its lowest ebb numerically in many years. One of the primary contributing factors to this decline is lack of fraternity housing. Brought tragically to mind by the unfortunate fire in the Pi Kappa Alpha lodge this past winter, the inadequacy of fraternity housing cannot go unchecked much longer. It is unforseeable that the administration can ignore this growing problem. At present ,the fraternities are scattered in nearly a mile radius of the campus, and housed in such corners as attics and tool sheds. It is indeed unfortunate no fraternity has been able to construct a fraternity house under the existing provisions. Leaders from the various fraternities have offered comments on the housing situation.

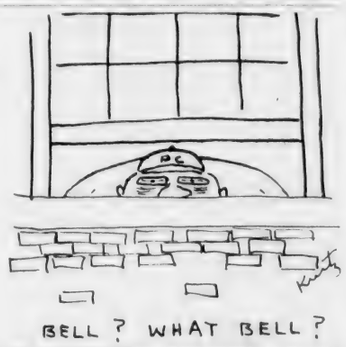
Max Clyburn, Theta Chi: "At present the situation is bad. More students will be pledging fraternities and it will come to the point where we will have to have better housing. The longer it is put off, the worse the situation will become. The quicker it's done, the less trouble it will be for all concerned. The facilities now are just too limited."

Bill Wilkes, Kappa Alpha: "Everyone can see and realize the need for new fraternity housing. Since this will be for the fraternity men, it should be left to them as to what type fraternity house they want. I'm sure that a nice fraternity row would be a definite asset to the PC campus and I would like to see some action along these lines of new fraternity housing. I'm also sure that the national offices of the various fraternities will aid the construction of fraternity housing."

Bob Stevens, Sigma Nu: "It would definitely improve the fraternity system as well as the college if each fraternity had a fraternity house. At the present time the situation is desperate, and houses would go a long way toward solving the problem. I definitely feel that it is the responsibility of the administration to look into the problem and reach a solution as soon as possible."

Paul Ard, Pi Kappa Alpha: "I'd like to see houses very much. I feel that some solution could be worked out better than the proposal that's been offered. I feel that a system similar to the one at Davidson could be worked out. Fraternity houses would add a lot to the school both from a fraternity standpoint and also for attracting students."

Evin Varner, Alpha Sigma Phi: "Alpha Sigma Phi has a National Housing Corporation and the National Fraternity is anxious that all chapters have adequate housing. A solution to the Greek housing problem would bring PC new spirit, better fraternal orders and therefore an improved school."



Ralph Dunham, Pi Kappa Phi, wrote this searching letter to the Editor: "Last year fraternity housing seemed to be over the near horizon. Fire struck a suite of one of our fraternities bringing about an emission of comments and agreement on the necessity of adequate housing. After one meeting the representatives of the fraternities and the administration, it seems the drive hit the customary lag that has been experienced by similar proposals in the past.

"There must be strong leadership in this effort, such as was experience at the University of Arizona, where the excellently supported Inter-Fraternity Council was able to obtain a fraternity row. Under their Fraternity Row Housing Plan, a Federal Housing loan was procured by the Board of Regents. The chapters purchase the property in payments over a forty-year period at 3% per cent interest. Thus given Arizona's fraternities new homes and reasonable financing.

"This was accomplished with strongly-backed IFC in a cooperative effort with the school administration.

"Study has been made on a plan similar to that used at Davidson College. Whereby the college will finance the construction of a fraternity row and the chapters would rent the house from the school. The houses would pay for themselves over a prescribed period of years. If a chapter should fail for any rea

(Continued on page 4)

"Dear Freshmen": Sage Wisdom From Our Abbey Fiveyearman

Dear Freshmen, here you are at college. Many of you are probably awe-struck and wonder if you'll ever get used to these professors who seem to be men and women of another world. Don't be afraid of any of them. They are all quite nice at heart, and want to help you.

One of my favorites is concerned with an English professor no longer in our midst. Dr. Davenport, as we'll call him, had been instructing his freshman classes for almost a month when he decided the time had come for the students to hand in a theme. The day he made the assignment, he met with the first section of the class, but neglected to attend the meeting of Section B.

The days wore on. No one mentioned to Dr. Davenport that he had missed a class, and likewise he was silent. The other section had handed in their themes and gotten them back. Still the good doctor made no mention of themes to Section B. Finally, about two weeks later, he told the class that he still had their themes, but wanted to read through them again before grading them. He promised to return them the next week.

The appointed day arrived. He walked into the room, but with no themes in his hand. "Class," he mumbled, "I've reconsidered your themes and have decided that they aren't good enough to be put in the grade book. I'm not going to return them but next class I'll tell you what was wrong with them." Section B was having a hard time keeping a straight face even before this and now a ripple of laughter unnoticed by Dr. Davenport, went through the room.

"Class," began Dr. Davenport, when the class next met, "your themes showed fairly good knowledge of grammar, the trouble was in the content. You just didn't say anything." At that, the old building began to shake and if you should see an upperclassman laughing to himself, the chances are that he was in Section B that day.

Towards the end of January there is usually not much glee on campus as final exams approach, but one year there was great joy for about twenty-five students. They studied hard, as all students do, of course, for a final in one of the favorite courses in school. They went into the classroom, primed and ready. The bell rang—no professor appeared. Five, ten, fifteen minutes passed as the students anxiously awaited the arrival of the professor .Finally, at the exact moment of 9:15 a. m., they could stand it no longer; so they left. Upon investigation, it was learned that the good professor had been sure that the exam was to be at 2:00 o'clock that afternoon.

Dr. Kaye, as we'll call him here was once seen approaching the steps

(Continued on page 4)

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR . . . EVIN VARNER
BUSINESS MANAGER . . . BOB SMITH
MANAGING EDITOR . . . GRAHAM EDMUNDS
ASSISTANT EDITOR . . . MARTIN CHITTY

JIMMY KOLB, Halfback
Co-Captain

BILL HILL, Fullback
Co-Captain

Hill, Kolb Selected As PC Gridiron Co-Captains

Co-captains newly elected to lead Presbyterian College into the 1960 football campaign are Fullback Bill Hill of McKeesport, Pa., and Halfback Jimmy Kolb of Sumter.

Their teammates tapped these two outstanding senior performers for the positions of leadership held last year by the now-graduated Quarterback Bob Waters and End Paul Chastain.

Hill, who presently runs half-speed while recovering from a broken hand, was the squad's second leading ball-carrier and scorer of last year. He romped for 490 yards in 106 carries for an average of 4.6 yards-per-try in ten regular-season games, scoring 44 points in the process. Hill throws a rugged 205 pounds into his line-plugging and defensive assignments.

Kolb has just recently been shifted to left halfback, to help solve the backfield problems, 'after playing end for the Blue Hose the past three seasons. Comparatively light at 175 pounds, he has nevertheless starred defensively and as a pass-receiver on offense. And it was his running displays after catching passes that caused Coach Frank Jones to move him into the backfield. Kolb registered 18 points on receptions last year while catching 12 aerials for a total fo 217 yards.

LELAND VAUGHAN

Behind The Blues

As the scene opens on another year of collegiate activity, the sports staff of The Blue Stocking will attempt to bring you the most complete coverage possible of all PC athletics.

As the sports action opened during the first week this year all eyes were turned toward Greenville and PC's important game with rival Furman.

All PC supporters liked what they saw at the game even though the Hose came out on the short end of a 20-12 score. PC outgained Furman rushing and the aerial attack spearheaded by quarterback Bobby Joiner equaled that of the Purple Hurricane. Individual standouts for the Blue Hose were tackle Billy Ogden and Guard Sonny DuBose who baffled the Furman charges with their fine blocking. Fullback Bill Hill, playing the game with a cast on his broken right hand, led the offensive drive by 69 yards in 17 carries.

The explosive type of football that PC plays plus the hustling and spirited team that Coach Jones fields this year, offers nothing but plenty of exciting action ahead for the remainder of the season.

The team as a whole is to be commended for the fine game against Furman and we are looking forward to breaking into the victory column with a win over Lenoir-Rhyne this weekend.

* * * * *

Lenoir-Rhyne, after finishing last season undefeated, opened their schedule last week with a resounding 30-6 victory over Wofford. Lenoir-Rhyne had been unable to best the Blue Hose in six previous meetings. Let's all back the team Saturday night and make it seven straight over the fighting Bears from Hickory.

In closing out the football picture this week we also notice that Little Three rivalry Newberry fell victim to Citadel by a 19-0 score.

* * * * *

In taking a quick look at the pennant races in the major leagues, it looks like the Yankees have done it again. With a four-game lead at present, Casey Stengel's boys are virtually sure to meet Pittsburgh in the World Series. The Pirates, who haven't won a pennant in 33 years, sport a six-game lead over second place St. Louis. The World Series, which will start in two weeks, should provide plenty of exciting action for the baseball fans this year.

* * * * *

During the latter part of August, more than 50 sport fans attended the annual Football Jamboree here at PC. Ten civic clubs from Laurens County participated in the program which was highlighted by films of the Tangerine Bowl plus a barbecue meal served by Mr. Powell. Coach Jones reviewed the outlook for this season and introduced all members of the 1960 squad to the visiting guests.

* * * * *

Football teams from six Georgia high schools visited the Presbyterian campus to hold pre-season workouts during the last two weeks of August.

Schools participating in the workout program were: Feuthen County High of Soperton; Screven County High of Sylvania; and Warren County High of Warenton; also Jenkins High of Millen; Jackson High and Thomson High.

* * * * *

We rgeret to say that the long-time dean of PC athletics, Coach Lonnie McMillian, is seriously ill in the Veterans Hospital in Columbia. The sports staff would like to send their best wishes for a speedy recovery to this great man.

Hose Will Meet Bears Tomorrow In Johnson Field Season Opener

Clash Hailed NAIA 'Game-of-the-Week'

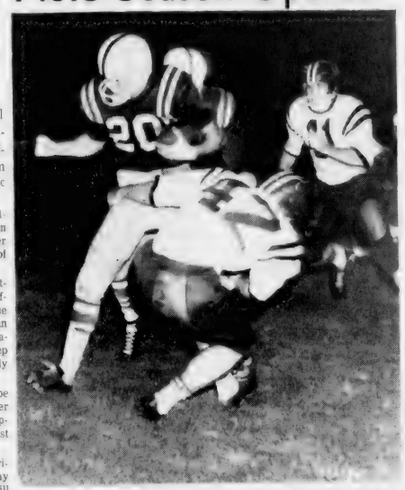
by BILL RIPLEY

Two bruising football powers will clash in the nation's small college game-of-the-week when Presbyterian College entertains Lenoir Rhync here Saturday night.

A near-capacity crowd is expected for this 8 p. m. engagement on Johnson Field. It's the home opener for PC and the second game of the year for both squads.

The spotlight centers on this Saturday's clash as the NAIA game-of-the-week. From it could emerge the team most likely to succeed in small college competition this season. Certainly the winner will step closer to the top of the weekly NAIA ratings.

The Lenoir-Rhyne Bears will be seeking their first football win over the Hosemen when the nation's top-ranked small college team of last season invades the PC campus.



There'll be three Little All-Americans on Johnson Field Saturday night. PC tackle Billy Ogden will pit his stout defensive ability against the high-scoring offensive thrusts of Tailback Lee Farmer and End Dick Lage of Lenior Rhyne.

Farmer, who paced the Bears over Wofford last Saturday, scored 116 points in rolling up 1,386 yards in 1959. He also threw most of the 23 passes Lage caught for five touchdowns last year. Lage was hurt somewhat in the Wofford tilt, but is expected to play against PC.

The Bears, who annually dominate North State Conference play, have yet to score a victory over the Blue Hose in six previous meetings. This is a sore spot with Lenoir Rhyne Coach Clarence Stasavick—one he is determined to remedy this season with his driving single wing offense.

Both teams have served notice they expect to make a battle of it. Lenoir Rhyne with almost all lettermen back in the fold from 1959's championship team, clobbered Wofford by an impressive 30-6 score last Saturday. PC lost to the rebuilt and renewed Furman forces, 12 to 20, but not before the Hosemen had moved the ball even more on offense than their opponents.

With the Hosemen spirit running high and a strong rivalry resting on their shoulders, the clash Saturday night will surely be action-packed.

Presbyterian halfback Ronnie Hampton drives for yardage against Furman in last Saturday night's action-packed contest.

Socks Falter 20-12 Before Blast of Furman Hurricanes

A spirited group of Presbyterian College gridmen emerged from the Furman defeat and pointed toward Lenoir Rhyne, convinced that this Blue Hose eleven will make its mark this year.

PC supporters are enthusiastic, even in the face of the 12 to 20 defeat by Furman, because they like what they saw in that opening game.

They expected good line play, and they found it in the sharp blocking and rugged tackling, both surprisingly crisp and accurate for an opener. Ends Jon Vastine and Jerry Hammock, Tackle Billy Ogden and Guard Sonny DuBose stood out especially—Vastine and Hammock in sealing the flanks defensively, and Ogden and DuBose with their blocking.

The backfield had raised a series of question marks throughout preseason preparations. Many of these doubts were answered affirmatively last Saturday night.

Fullback Bill Hill, for example, had to play with his broken right hand in a cast. Would it slown down his slashing line plunges of last year? The 205-pond Hill replied with 69 yards in 17 carries to lead PC ball-carriers—and a hand no worse for the wear.

And what about Halfback Ronnie Hampton? Would this freshman star of last year's varsity continue to shine or would the absence of Halfback Bobby Pate as his running mate make a difference. Hampton clipped off 60 yards in 13 carries and scored one touchdown in playing a total of 55 minutes of the ball game.

Perhaps the biggest question of all centered around quarterback. All hoped that Bobby Joiner would start moving toward replacing the graduated Bob Waters, and he took big strides in that direction against Furman. Although he had not seen enough previous game action to earn a letter, Joiner handled the team well and completed six of ten attempted passes for 60 yards. Under his driection, the PC total offense actually outgained Furman, 228 yards to 223.

Intramural Football Starts on October 2

The 1960-61 Intramural Council met Wednesday, September 22, discussing plans for the coming year. Mr. Ed Campbell and Professor Fakkema were present. Professor Fakkema will lend his helpful services to the Council this year, due to the loss of last year's Director of Student Activities. Mr. Irving Montgomery. Mr. Campbell, along with the entire Administration, have been very instrumental in getting things rolling again for this year.

The 1960 Intramural football season will get underway Monday, October 2. All team rosters must be in by Wednesday, September 28. These rosters must be turned in in order that teams may participate. Participants may be turned in to Jerry Chitty, Leland Vaughan or Lawton Rice.

Yarborough
Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

Pick - A - Winner

O. K., here's your chance to win a free pass to the Broadway Theater. Just pick the winners of the following football games.

Name _____

Dorm _____

			Tie
Presbyterian	( )	Lenoir-Rhyne	( ) ( )
N. C. State	( )	N. Carolina	( ) ( )
Duke	( )	S. Carolina	( ) ( )
Clemson	( )	W. Forest	( ) ( )
Wofford	( )	Davidson	( ) ( )
Catawba	( )	Newberry	( ) ( )
Appalachian	( )	W. Carolina	( ) ( )
Georgia	( )	Vanderbilt	( ) ( )

I predict _____ points will be the winning margin in the PC-Lenoir-Rhyne game.

RULES

1—Entries must be turned in to The Blue Stocking office by noon tomorrow. Just slide them under the door.
2—Entries must be on the above printed form.
3—Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4—In case of ties, the contestant most nearly guessing the winning margin of points scored in the PC-Lenoir Rhyne game will win.
5—No member of The Blue Stocking staff is eligible.
6—Decisions of the judges will be final. The winner will be announced in next week's paper.

L. B. POPE

Dr. Pope Named Association Head

Dr. L. B. Pope, director of the Presbyterian College guidance center, is the new presdient of the Presbyterian Guidance Center of the Presbyterian Association of the South.

He was elected to head this group at the organization's annual meeting held recently at Montreat, N. C. He had served the previous year as vice-president of the section.

Dr. Pope came to PC in 1957 to head the guidance program conducted jointly on the campus by Presbyterian College and the Synod of South Carolina. In addition to these duties, he serves as associate professor of education on the PC faculty.

Sunshine Cleaners
W. Florida St. — Phone 436
Quality Cleaning and Shirt Laundry
WE REPAIR SHOES
We Offer a "Fluff Dry" Bundle

Two Return

Seven New Faces On College Staff

Two former associates return to the college staff this fall, as five newcomers make their first faculty appearances here at PC.

One of the former associates is Mrs. George Taylor, Hostess of the Douglas House. Mrs. Taylor, who served in the PC business office from 1943 to 1956, returns after spending the past several years as a missionary to Brazil. She succeeds Mrs. E. H. Hall, who has retired after 17 years of service.

The other is Dr. Newton Jones, Professor of History. Dr. Jones comes back to Presbyterian to resume direction of the history department after a year's absence. He first joined the PC staff in 1950, shortly after receiving his doctorate in history from the university of Virginia.

James R. Suttle, a Presbyterian College honor graduate, comes back to the campus to succeed Alumnus Andrew S. Howard, '54, in the mathematics department.

A summa cum laude graduate, with a BS degree in the class of 1958, Suttle recently received his master's from Duke University. He is continuing his graduate work toward his doctorate at Florida State University.

Robert E. Fakkema joins the faculty to help establish and direct a new department of religious education. He is a recognized expert in the field of young people's work, especially church recreation.

The new department of Christian education will be coordinated with the regular program at PC and aimed at producing more church workers and lay leaders.

Assistant Professor of English, Neal B. Prater, moves here to succeed Dr. John W. Harris, who recently retired. He joins the faculty directly from Vanderbilt University, where he is a candidate for his doctorate in English.

Donald M. Boyd, Instructor in English, begins his teaching this fall as a replacement for Jack Durant, who has a teaching fellowship at the University of Tennessee to complete doctoral studies.

This young instructor comes directly from Emory University, where he has completed requirements for his master's degree.

Charles Musslewhite joined the athletic staff of PC as Head Basketball Coach this summer. He received his BA at Georgia State Teachers College in 1958.

Frank Jones, now PC head coach and athletic director, once coached Musselwhite at Cordele (Ga.) High in 1949-50.

Fraternity Housing

(Continued from page 2)

son to meet its obligation, the house could be converted into many uses. This includes the possibility of a new fraternity being chartered in the plans of future expansion of the student body. Careful planning can eliminate most of the chance involved.

"Now is the time for constructive thought on a plan for our fraternity row. A place which will show its value in usefulness, beauty, and as a place of further alumni-student relations. Make this the year for action, let's find the elements necessary for a successful end to this project. Don't let this drive lag again, give your support."

Abbey Fiveyearman

(Continued from page 2)

of Neville just before his 9:00 o'clock class met. Stopping to light his pipe, he turned around to get protection from the wind. After lighting the pipe, he neglected to turn back around, and walked off in the direction of home.

The story is told of one of our professors who allegedly remembered, while on his way to school, that he had left his watch at home. Whereupon he looked at his watch to see if he had time to go back and get it.

You see, dear freshmen, these professors, though they be a little above man and a little below the gods, do have some fallibilities. So, be patient with them ,and they will be so with you.

As ever,
Abbey Fiveyearman

Teachers Visit

(Continued from page 1)

years, and again for the two-year pre-university course. The few colleges and universities are all state-supported.

Sunanchai marveled at the progress on a national basis in this country. Many areas of Thailand today are without modern conveniences.

Sunanchai explained the Communist situation in his native land. The Revolutionary Government set up in 1958 placed the country under marshal law. Communism has been completely suppressed within the country, yet there are still tensions. "Without SEATO protection, I don't know what we would do," he commented. From old Siam to a modern Thailand is the goal today.

Traveling gives one certain desires Chatrchai wryly says. Happiness, he feels, would be to have, in Thailand, an American home (he especially likes the modern kitchen), Chinese food, and an obedient Japanese wife!

ROTC Places Fifth

Presbyterian College finished fifth among the 36 colleges and universities of the Southeast with cadets competing in the 1960 summer ROTC camp at Fort Benning, Ga.

The military students competed on an individual basis, and their total scores were compiled to form the institutional score. They were rated on all forms of activity and on leadership ability in carrying out assignments during the six-week training period.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Your Rexall Drug Store
ON THE SQUARE

Pitts Men's Shop
Style Mart Clothes - Jantzen Sportswear
Nunn Bush and Jarman Shoes

STATIONERY – SCHOOL SUPPLIES
+ FOUNTAIN
+ SUNDRIES
+ TOBACCOS
SPORTWEAR – RAINWEAR
+ PAPERBACKS
+ SOUVENIRS

The College Canteen
Douglas House

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., September 30, 1960 No. 2

As part of the Wofford-PC Blue Key exchange program, the Wofford chapter of the Honorary Fraternity visited the PC campus last Monday and presented the chapel service. Entertaining the PC student body are (l.-r.) Pierce Arant and Bill Whetsell. The two rendered several solos and a duet.

Board of Visitors Organized; Will Assist College, Trustees

• Outstanding Laymen Selected

Fourteen prominent leaders of the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida comprise the newly-formed Presbyterian College Board of Visitors, announced today. The group will visit the campus on October 11 and 12. Their function will be an advisory one to the Board of Trustees and administration in an effort to improve the service of the college.

Serving voluntarily, they will assist the college in recruitment, public relations and development.

A full schedule has been mapped for the group during their two-day stay, including a tour of campus and meeting with student leaders.

The board includes Mr. Thomas Belk, Belk Stores, Charlotte, N. C.; Mr. James A. Chapman, Jr., Spartanburg; Mr. Dowse B. Donaldson, Atlanta; Mr. Sam L. Latimer, Jr., The State, Columbia; Mr. John W. Marbut, Marbut Company, Macon; Mr. Richard R. Nash, Bothwell and Nash, Architects, Marietta, Ga.; and Mr. Charles N. Plowden, Bank of Summerton, Summerton.

Also, Mr. Carter L. Redd, General Electric Company, Atlanta; Mr. Joe H. Robinson, Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., Charlotte; Mr. W. Henry B. Simpson, Belk Simpson Co., Greenville; and Mr. H. Robert Woods, Jr., Chester Drug Co., Chester.

Three women, outstanding leaders of church work round out the list: Mrs. J. M. Thompson, Olanta; Mrs. Taylor H. Stukes, Manning; and Mrs. T. Emmett Anderson of Tampa, Fla.

Members of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees will be on campus during the same period for their semi-annual meeting.

Belk Auditorium Dedication Scheduled For October 31

Presbyterian College will dedicate its new auditorium in memory of William Henry Belk in special ceremonies scheduled for October 31, President Marshall W. Brown announced today.

He said the occasion also will honor Mrs. May Henderson Wyatt of Dalton, Ga., for whom the adjoining chapel is named.

President Brown had announced last spring that the $500,000 auditorium would be named in memory of the nationally known mercantile leader who founded the great Belk organization and who served the church generously throughout his lifetime.

The structure was completed just in time for June commencement exercises, but dedication exercises were delayed until this fall so that the full PC student body might attend.

Hundreds of friends and alumni of Presbyterian College are expected to join the students for this dedication program. They will include the family and business associates of the late Mr. Belk, and Mrs. Wyatt and her four children, who have given the chapel in her honor.

The chapel-auditorium incorporates three principal facilities. The main auditorium, air-conditioned for comfort and with organ and beautifully appointed stage, offers a seating capacity of approximately 1,000.

The chapel provides a reverent atmosphere for smaller worship groups of 100 persons. And a fine arts division forms the rear portion of the building, rising three stories high with music rooms, studios, and dressing quarters.

This latest addition to the Presbyterian College plant stands on the western edge of the campus, directly across the plaza from the library, adjacent to Bailey Hall dormitory on one side and Clinton's South Broad street on the other. Its colonial Georgian design, with large limestone columns, is in keeping with the architectural theme of the campus.

Rifle Team Coaches Conduct Meet Here

A meeting of the rifle coaches of the Western Conference is being conducted on the PC campus today. Besides the Presbyterian team, other members of the Conference are Wofford, Furman, Davidson, and Clemson.

This yearly conference is called by the coaches to arrange the schedule of matches for the school year 1960-61. The first match in which PC will participate will probably be during the first week of November.

IFC Talks Housing, Sets Display Sites

Fraternity housing was discussed this week at the Inter-Fraternity Council's Tuesday meeting. The IFC plans to meet with the faculty and Fraternity Committee to work on this matter and determine proper action.

Homecoming display sites were chosen as follows: Sigma Nu, plaza (near Adair St.); Theta Chi, Neville Hall; Pi Kappa Alpha, Spencer Dormitory; Pi Kappa Phi, plaza (near Broad St.); Kappa Alpha, Douglas House; and Alpha Sigma Phi, Science Hall.

Prizes are offered by the College Alumni Association for the first three places, at twenty-five, fifteen, and ten dollars each, respectively.

Sigma Nu Fraternity opened the Open Social season last Wednesday night, to be followed on successive nights by five other Greek social fraternities on campus. The events, open to freshmen and transfer students, are desgined to give new students an idea of fraternity life.

Alpha Sigma Phi's open social is set for next Wednesday, with this schedule for following weeks:

Pi Kappa Phi, October 5; Kappa Alpha, October 12; Theta Chi, October 26; and Pi Kappa Alpha, November 2.

Queen Elected

The results of the Homecoming Queen run-off election were announced today by Maurice Schwartz. Chosen as this year's reigning queen was Robi Ann Robinson of Greenville and a freshman at Furman University. She was sponsored by Robert Perry.

BSU Meeting Will Feature Top Speaker

Joe Burnette of Columbia, outstanding youth leader and speaker, will headline a mass meeting of the Baptist Student Union next Thursday evening. A former top football player, Burnette will present a program under the general theme of "Introducing BSU."

All Baptist students on campus are invited to attend the meeting, set for 6:45 in the Douglas House meeting room. Refreshments will be served.

Organ Available For Student Use

Through the generosity of the Clinton First Presbyterian Church, a fine Wurlitzer organ was installed in the new Belk Auditorium last spring. Entirely rebuilt, and with the splendid acoustics of the Auditorium, it will prove invaluable to the college program ,says Dr. Edouard Patte, Minister of Music.

In order to enable competent musicians to use the organ and to prevent any misuse of it the following regulations have been adopted by the administration:

1. The organ is available for all convocations, services and concerts in the auditorium .

2. The organ may be used by the minister of music, the official organists of the PC Choir, and also by any qualified person—faculty member or student—whose application will have been accepted by the Qualifying Board (Dr. Edouard Patte, Prof. Don M. Boyd, Mrs. Ferdinand Jacobs).

3. Application blanks may be secured from the Business Office; an hourly fee of 50 cents will be charged students and non-members of the faculty for their use of the organ.

Concert Association Offers Varied Talent

Presbyterian College students will receive membership in the Community-College Concert Series again this year.

Besides four performances held in Belk Auditorium, several neighboring towns are also to be scenes of the distinguished presentations. Students can attend these attractions on their local series tickets. Schedules of other series will be published later.

In addition, anounced this week in the college Fine Arts Series, is the appearance on March 21, 1961, of concert pianist Theodore Ullman.

Jack Trails 'Way Behind

Nixon is Student Choice in Poll

Republican Presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon received a substantial margin over Democratic nominee, Senator John F. Kennedy, in yesterday's Blue Stocking poll.

In the breakdown of classes, 21 freshmen were in favor of Kennedy, 43 for Nixon, and 11 undecided. The Sophomores were in favor of Kennedy, with 15 undecided. In the third year gorup there was 1 undecided, while 12 cast their vote for the Senator, and 36 for Nixon. The graduating class gave the Vice-President 34 votes and Kennedy 7, while 3 were undecided. This gives a total of 161 for Nixon, 62 for Kennedy, and 40 undecided.

Out of the ones polled there were 183 happy with the running mate of their preference, and 57 unhappy over the Vice-Presidential nominees.

There were 121 who are able to vote in the upcoming election. From this group there were 84 for Nixon, 28 for Kennedy, and 9 undecided. Another student, who was able to vote, wrote in the name of Herman Talmadge for President, his reason being, "my Georgian upbringing."

In the over-all vote, those able to vote and those unable to do so, there were 16 persons who were in favor of Nixon because of his opponent's religion. Also concerning religion, three students favored Kennedy because of his beliefs.

Various other views as to reason for voting one way or the other were given. Among these were opinions about the platforms, running mates, experience, and the minimum wage bill. It, too, was obvious that many people watched the "Great Debate," as comments were also made on this matter.

The total number polled was large enough to make a statistically correct poll, properly reflecting student opinion at this time.

The Blue Stocking will conduct a similar poll closer to the November election, and it is hoped by the staff that student interest and cooperation will be as good then as it was in yesterday's vote.

PC students enjoyed their second full day of drill yesterday with Paul Ard, Battle Commander, and these 10 officers responsible for the entertainment. The first row includes those men on the immediate Battle Group Staff, and the second row is composed of the Five Company Commanders.—Photo by Autry.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Orchids and Brickbats

Orchids to Mrs. George Taylor, new Douglas House hostess, who, with the co-operation of the College Dames and faculty members, is keeping the student center open on Sunday afternoons. They offer soft music in the main lounge, friendly smiles and greetings to visitors. A key to the new auditorium will be available for those wishing to tour the structure. This is a situation, often the subject of our ire, which has been well remedied.

Orchids to those in charge of summer improvements on campus. New grass, paint jobs, water fountains, re-paved roads all add up to a better campus.

Orchids to the South Carolina Legislature, which recently revoked the law that South Carolinians must treat Clemson men as gentlemen.

Orchids to whoever can show us ". . . the great variety of trees and rare shrubs" that "are arranged to assure grounds of beauty throughout the year," as described in the catalog.

Brickbats to the City of Clinton on its economic drive in turning off campus lights at eleven o'clock at night. Students have the nasty habit of wandering around at all hours of the night, and it's pretty embarrassing to meet a tree head-on in the middle of the plaza.

Brickbats to snitchers of magazines from Douglas House.

Orchids to anyone who will see to it that every classroom gets a pencil sharpener and ash trays.

Orchids to Ware Shoals High School band for the spirit with which they appeared at the Lenoir Rhyne game. Their cheering, their friendliness and the special effort to learn our Alma Mater is worthy of commendation.

A Change for Chapel

It was evident this past Wednesday that many changes have taken place in regard to chapel. These changes take both good and bad forms.

The new chapel Choir, under the direction of Dr. Edouard Patte, is to be commended for its efforts in making the first Wednesday worship chapel a success, in spite of many limitations. The new approach to chapel at the mid-week service is refreshing in contrast to services in former years in the old chapel.

Negatively, we feel that the new cut regulations for chapel are perhaps too strict. The old six cut rule would have been very satisfactory, but students are faced with a reduction of cuts, and unduly severe penalties for over-cutting. The Blue Stocking feels the faculty would do well to re-examine these new rules. If not, then let them set an example by regular attendance—since they so harshly require this of the student body.

Politics: 1960

Candidates Aim U. S. at Socialism

(Editor's Note: The following was written by Tom Anderson, editor of Farm and Ranch Magazine.

Outspoken and strong in his statements, Mr. Anderson presents a thoughtful examination of an important facet of contemporary American politics.

Socialism is defined as the situation in which a substantial portion of a country's economic production machinery is governmentally owned and operated.)

Southern Conservatives and American patriots anywhere who stay in the Democratic Party remind me of the two skeletons in the closet. One turned to the other and rattled: "What are we doing in here?" "I don't know," the second skeleton replied, "but if we had any guts we'd get out!"

John Kennedy is a ruthless, cold and cocky kid trying to buy the office with his daddy's money. (Presidential elections have been bought before, but not by one family.) I am a Methodist, and if Kennedy were a poor, mature Methodist Bishop from Mississippi, I wouldn't vote for him for dog-catcher because I'd be afraid he'd either socialize the kennel or give it to some foreign country. I think less of Johnson, an all-American hypocrite of such unusual ability he's a modern American menace.

The issue is not Republican vs Democrat. The issue is not segregation vs integration. The issue is freedom. Both parties are moving toward an all-powerful international Socialist dictatorship. A centralized welfare state brings slavery, not freedom. Property rights is the very basis of "human rights." The right to self-determination of associates is the essence of "human dignity." Forced equality is not democracy but dictatorship. Equal men are not free and free men are not equal.

Nixon and Kennedy are young opportunists on the make, riding the Socialist wave as far as it will take them. Neither has the necessary character — but then we haven't had that in any President since Hoover.

Creeping Brinksmanship

I have been a little unfair at times in the past, saying the difference between the Democrat and Republican Parties is merely "which twin has the Toni?" There is a difference, particularly now that John Kennedy has taken over. But the difference is not enough to get my vote. I don't believe in creeping Socialism any more than I do in creeping integration.

Depend on Nixon-Lodge to save this country from the international Socialists? Nixon reminds me of the airplane pilot who, with both motors on fire, donned his parachute and soothingly purred to the passengers: "Don't anybody panic! I'm going for help now." Nixon is a politician. Politicians can't save this country. They brought it to this brink of disaster and defeat.

Norman Thomas, who should know, has said that we've made more progress toward Socialism under Eisenhower than even under Truman. Facts support this statement. Norman Thomas got 267,420 votes for President in 1928 and a little more than half that in 1948. Thomas now says that both candidates are satisfactory to him.

Nixon is the lesser-of-evils. Less-

(Continued on page 4)

Letters To the Editor

Davidson's Housing Plan --Worthy of Emulation?

Dear Editor:

In the discussion between the representatives of the fraternities and the administration last year, the program found to be most favorable was that of Davidson. In the Spring of 1957 a program initiated by the Davidson Faculty Committee on Fraternities and the IFC was presented to that school's administration. Within a year the plan was developed. Twelve fraternity houses were built at a cost of $500,000.

The cost per house with about 3,700 square feet of floor space was around $40,000. This included the installation of the necessary utilities. The houses have a living room, card room, basement, chapter room, bathroom, and two rooms not needed on our campus, a dining room and kitchen. The houses are designed of the same architecture used on our campus.

The fraternity pays the rent each semester. The fraternity chapter includes the expense in their regular dues. Davidson used endowment funds for the houses; therefore the college receives interest as if the school had made a regular investment of the money. The same arangement can also be used if the college borrows the necessary funds.

Each house has one-half acre of land which was landscaped beautifully. The school maintains the grounds and the exterior of the house while the fraternity is responsible for the upkeep of the interior.

Analyzing the plan, the total cost of the houses at Davidson would be cut in half since we have only six fraternities. The exclusion of the dining area and kitchen will also cut the expense. The college will finance the building, contract the construction, keep the books of amortization, and maintain supervision.

The Davidson system is ideal for our campus. It would be of benefit not only to the fraternities, but also to the campus. Go on a campus

(Continued on page 4)

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR — EVIN VARNER
BUSINESS MANAGER — BOB SMITH
MANAGING EDITOR — GRAHAM EDMUNDS
ASSISTANT EDITOR — MARTIN CHITTY
News Editor — Murray White
News Director — John Craig
Sports Editor — Leland Vaughn
Feature Editor — Howard Gordon
Copy Editor — Allen Freeman
Intramural Editor — Jerry Chitty
Picture Editor — John Neal
Photographer — Roy Autrey
Typists — Howard Bell, Tom Currie
News Staff — Don Lohman, Don Kay, Jan Rhodes, Robert Perry, Arthur DeYoung, Beverly Boyer, Linda Traynham, and Becky Earnest.
Feature Staff — Bobby Piephoff, Tom Morrison, Sander Read, and Gerald Pitts.
Sports Staff — Bob Stevens, Bill Ripley, Buddy Varn, Leon Bullard, Ford Henley.
Copy — Ed Goodloe

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

SIGMA NU

Good time was had by all at the Chapter's Open Social Wednesday night. Music was provided by the Archers. Final plans were made for the Homecoming Weekend. The weekend will be highlighted by a Cocktail Dance at the Mary Musgrove Hotel.

Congratulations to Brothers Bob Stevens, Hal Roberts, and C. J. Ray, all of whom have been recently pinned. Special congratulations to Brother Dan McQueen who got married before coming back to school.

The Chapter cordially invites all alumni and friends to visit the chapter during Homecoming next week.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Psi Chapter would like to extend a cordial welcome to all freshmen, transfer students, faculty members, and co-eds to the Open Social, which will be held Wednesday night, Oct. 5, at 8 p. m.

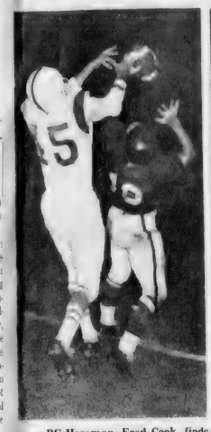
Plans for Homecoming Weekend were made and a date was set for the stag supper.

Brother Varner announced that the Alpha Sig Alumnus, one of the three chapter publications, would be sent this week.

KAPPA ALPHA

K. A.'s, freshmen, and non-fraternity men will be guests of Mr. Tom Addison, a Kappa Alpha alumnus, for a Saturday afternoon "Tea Dance" at the Laurens-Clinton Country Club from 2:30 to 5:30, with Sam Cooke providing the music. Also plans have been made for a party after the tilt Saturday night at the Kappa Alpha lodge.

Congratulations are extended to Stewart Harvin who was pledged Wednesday night.



PI KAPPA ALPHA

At the regular meeting on Wednesday night the Brothers and pledges discussed plans for the Homecoming Weekend. Plans were made for the annual Tea which will be held the Saturday of Homecoming.

Congratulations to Guy Hancock and Bob Collins on being elected President and Vice-President of this year's pledge class.

Brothers of the week are Harry McDonnold and Walt Ferrone.

Ballet on the Gridiron . . .

PC Hoseman, Fred Cook, finds the pigskin greased in last week's tilt with Lenoir Rhyne. His girations in trying to catch the illusive sphere present ballet-like glimpses to the stilled eye of the camera.—Autry Photo.

Statistics Fail to Spell Victory Against LR Bears

Despite an all-out effort which ended in a statistical victory for the Presbyterian Blue Hose, the final whistle found the PC'uns behind Lenoir Rhyne's Bears 8-0.

Lenoir Rhyne's Little All-American tailback Lee Farmer scored the only touchdown of the night with three minutes and 50 seconds left in the first half when he went over from the 8-yard line. Fullback Robert Kemp ran the two-pointer over after the TD.

Leading the PC attack was Fullback Bill Hill, who rushed for 79 yards in thirteen carries. Quarterback Bobby Joiner was accurate with his passes, connecting on 15 of 26 attempts for 180 yards.

With this serving as a background, the Blue Hose rolled up 18 first downs to 10 for the Bears. However, Lenoir Rhyne ground out 176 yards via rushing while the Blue Hose gained 102 yards on the ground. But the passing of Joiner enabled the Hosemen to lead in the total statistics department.

PC threatened near the end of the third period as they moved from their own 10 mostly on Hill's running to the Bears' 21, but the drive fizzled.

In the final period, the Bears advanced to the PC four, but could go no further against the sturdy Hose line.

PC took the ball with a minute left and moved from their 20 to the Bears' 10 as the game ended in nine plays.

Lenoir Rhyne scored its touchdown on an 82-yard sustained march in the second period. The Bears took over at their own 18 after a PC drive had failed to climax. Kemp and first unit fullback Tom Simmons supported by Farmer gained the majority of the yardage.

The staunch Hose line was bulwarked by Billy Ogden, Hardy Ledbetter, and Sonny DuBose.

Pick - A - Winner

Tom Elliott copped the pass to the Broadway Theatre last week with a winning entry in Pick-A-Winner. Broadway again this week tempts gridiron experts with a pass—try your luck!

Name _____

Dorm _____

			Tie				Tie
Presbyterian	( )			Wofford	( )	( )	( )
Lenoir Rhyne	( )			Newberry	( )	( )	( )
Clemson	( )			VPI	( )	( )	( )
South Carolina	( )			Georgia	( )	( )	( )
Florida	( )			Georgia Tech	( )	( )	( )
Auburn	( )			Kentucky	( )	( )	( )
Alabama	( )			Vanderbilt	( )	( )	( )
Davidson	( )			Citadel	( )	( )	( )

I predict _____ points will be the winning margin in the PC-Wofford game.

RULES

1—Entries must be turned in to The Blue Stocking office by noon tomorrow. Just slide them under the door.
2—Entries must be on the above printed form.
3—Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4—In case of ties, the contestant most nearly guessing the winning margin of points scored in the PC-Lenoir Rhyne game will win.
5—No member of The Blue Stocking staff is eligible.
6—Decisions of the judges will be final. The winner will be announced in next week's paper.

Spartanburg is Scene of Annual Blue Hose, Wofford Terrier Clash

• Socks Seek Initial Win

Wofford's defensive musclemen, who partially redeemed themselves in the 6-0 win over Davidson, face a stiff challenge this Saturday night against the Blue Hose of Presbyterian.

Terrier line Coach Jim Brakefield feels that his forward wall made a big comeback against the Wildcats after yielding 30 points to Lenoir Rhyne the week before. And he believes that another top effort against Presbyterian will just about put his men up front "over the hump" defensively.

Davidson managed only 52 yards rushing against the Terriers.

Quarterback Tommy Ellis of Anderson, is pacing the Terriers in total ofense with 104 yards in two games. He has passed for 82 and rushed for 22 additional markers. Halfback Tyson Leonard of Swainsboro, Ga., is the leading Wofford ground-gainer with 78 yards in 19 tries for a 4.1 average.

Behind him is Paul Davis of Darlington, with 53 yards in 12 tries, and Jim Benson of North Charleston, with 38 in eight attempts.

A big crowd is expected as this is the first meeting of the Little Three schools.

Two Coaches Added To Athletic Staff

Two student coaches have been added to the Presbyterian College athletic staff to assist in a part-time capacity.

They are Billy Tiller of Mayesville, and Mac Copeland of Athens, Ga.

Tiller, who received his degree from PC in 1956, returns this fall to take several courses in education.

Copeland, who will complete his degree requirements during the first semester, starred at center for the Blue Hose for the past three years.

Intramural Football Playing Rules Given

The 1959-1960 football intramurals get underway Tuesday, October 4. There will be approximately ten teams entering this competition. Rules for this year's competition are very much the same as last year.

(1) No player lettering in football, previous to this year, may participate.

(2) There will be only nine participants on the playing field.

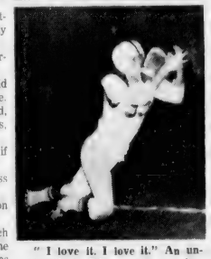
(3) There will be no downfield blocking; only on line scrimmage.

(4) The flag system will be used, each player will have two flags, one on each side.

(5) Penalties will be inflicted, if tackling results.

(6) Five men are eligible for pass receiving.

(7) There will be no blocking on the kickoff.



These and a few more which each participant will be told before the opening game, make up the rules that each team must abide by. Schedules will be posted each Monday in Judd Dining Hall.

Team Members Hail From Five States

Presbyterian College football fortunes this year are almost exclusively in the hands of players from the two Synods of South Carolina and Georgia which support the college.

The latest hometown survey shows 52 members of the 59-man roster hailing from these two states.

Georgia leads with 30 football candidates among the Blue Hose. South Carolina has 22. Only three other States are represented: North Carolian, with four: Pennsylvania, with two: and Florida, with one.

" I love it. I love it." An unidentified PC squad member seemingly embraces the football as he intends to keep it from the paws of the Lenoir Rhyne Bears.

New Boys on PC Gridiron Bring Many All-Star Honors

In describing the freshman football players and transfer students who will be striving for recognition on the Blue Hose squad this season, Coach Frank Jones says, "The best looking group of newcomers we have recruited at Presbyterian College."

All-star honors are tremendously numerous among the newcomers, who include five participants in the South Carolina All-Star contest, five in the Georgia North-South game, three other Georgia All-State selections, and two Shrine Bowlers.

Ends—David Harrill of Gaffney; Jerry Hammock of Moultrie, Ga.; Mike Lay of Winder, Ga.; Charles May of Bainbridge, Ga.; Louis Ridinger of Atlanta, Ga.; and Larry Poppell of Albany, Ga.

Tackles—Robert Jones of Charleston; Frank King of Valdosta, Ga.; Jimmy Stack and Howard Turner, both of Atlanta, Ga.

Guards—Wayne Deas of Hazelhurst, Ga.; Randy Fitzpatrick of Atlanta, Ga.; and James Lee of Fitzgerald, Ga.

Centers—Ron Burriss of Anderson; and Bill Duen of East Point, Ga.

Quarterbacks — Arthur H. McQueen, Jr., of Loris; Bill Rowland of Cayce; Bill Tyson of Bainbridge, Ga.; and Art Williams of Cairo, Ga.

Halfbacks—Richard Alderman of East Point, Ga.; Charles Barnwell, Jr., of Barnwell; Clyde Branham of Blythewood; Bill Kitchen of Hickory Tavern; Toni Singleton of Greer; and Byron Gentry of Morganton, N. C.

Fulbacks—Everett Blackburn of Athens, Ga.; and Paul Stewman of Jonesboro, Ga.

Leland Vaughan . . .

Behind The Blues

"To heck with the moral victories, let's score more points." These were the dejected words of Coach Frank Jones after PC lost to Lenoir Rhyne last Saturday night.

Defeat always seems most bitter where the opponent emerges victorious after having been outgained and outplayed on the field.

For the type of football that the Blue Hose have played in the first two games, thier record serves only to misrepresent the fine team we have this year.

As the victory-seeking Blue Hose invade Wofford Saturday night, they will open defense of the Little Three Crown which PC has dominated for the past two years. If Coach Jones can find the extra psychological boost and scoring punch that is needed, the yet spirited Blue Hose should be on their way to another Little Three Crown and a successful season.

* * * * * *

In other local action this weekend, the Newberry Indians will pit their forces against the Lenoir Rhyne Bears who will try to make a clean sweep of Little Three opponents this year.

* * * * * *

Harry Hoffman, who graduated from PC last June, teamed up with his father earlier in the summer to win the National Father and Son tennis championship. Hoffman, who captained the team his senior year, was an outstanding performer for PC during his four years of tennis action.

* * * * * *

Quarterback Bob Waters, who led the Presbyterian football team to a very successful season last year, is reported to be one of the most promising rookies in the professional ranks this year. He was drafted by the San Francisco 49ers along with Halfback Bobby Pate, who is now playing with Boston.

* * * * * *

As the World Series opens next week, the baseball fan will get his last chance for action on the diamond this year. This year's series between the Yanks and the Pirates should prove to be the most exciting in many moons. After having been a loyal Pittsburgh fan for several years, I would like to go out on a limb and pick the Pirates over the Yanks in a seven-game series.

* * * * *

Harrison Clayton, newly elected head cheerleader, announced his staff today. The new members include Charles Hawkins, Janet Maddox, and Ellen Wilson. Old members returning from last year are: Judy Bolton, Wayne Godfrey, Guy Hancock, and Dicky Carr.

Yarborough
Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras · Film · Processing

HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Your Rexall Drug Store
ON THE SQUARE

Spring Semester

Dean's List Recognizes 36; Two Perfect Records Scored

Thirty-six Presbyterian College students made the Dean's List for scholastic achievement during the second semester of the 1959-60 session.

Ten of this number made the honor roll as seniors and were graduated at commencement exercises on June 6. The remaining 26 are back to continue their work at PC.

Only two scored perfect records with all-A grades for the semester: Billy Hagood, a senior from Easley, now headed for law school; and Bill Littlefield, preministerial candidate from Woodruff, who is a rising senior.

Those graduating seniors making the Presbyterian College Dean's List were: Ann Gettys and Bobby Pierce, both of Clinton; Mitchell Flynn, Jr., of Greenville; James W. Glenn, Jr., of Summerville. Billy Hagood of Easley; Glenn Gibson, Jr., of Reidick, Fla.; Curtis Lindner of Homeland, Ala.; George Harold McGirt of Maxton, N. C.; E. Saunders Pinekard of Moultrie, Ga.; and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilburn of Union.

The 26 students among the freshmen, sophomores and juniors cited for academic distinction include:

Edward D. Johnson, Herbert F. Adair, Mrs. Jane J. Hammet, Mrs. Anne M. Lee, and Jean McDaniel, all of Clinton; Martha Monroe and Fred D. Clark, both of Laurens; David T. Borland and Robert Piephoff, both of Atlanta; Harry McDonnold and Hexie McDonnold, both of Asheville, N. C.

Brenda Gay Maddox of Spartanburg; Beverly Butler of Bradenton Fla.; Thomas Elliott of St. Petersburg, Fla; Clara Fusell of Rose Hill, N. C.; John H. Gettys of Union; Don Kay of Anderson; Bill Littlefield of Woodruff; John W. McIntosh of Cayce; Mrs. Doris Nelson of Gray Court; William S. Ogden of Macon, Ga.; Orion R. Perrell of Waxhaw, N. C.; Sanders G. Read of McClellanville; Maurice Schwartz of Laurinburg, N. C.; Mary Jo Sistrunk of Jacksonville, Fla.; and Christine Wilson of Monroe, N. C.

PC Enrolls 518 For New Session

Another capacity enrollment of 518 students is buckling down to the opening work of Presbyterian College's 81st session.

They recently registered for the fall semester of the 1960-61 school year, and this week marks the first full week of the regular schedule.

College officials earlier had reported that the mass of student applications had caused the maintenance of a waiting list of qualified applicants since last spring.

The present student body of Presbyterian College is composed of 478 men and 40 women, most of the latter group attending as day students.

With the start of the fall semester, students can look forward to two full months of academic activity before they reach the annual Thanksgiving holidays on November 23-27. Christmas vacation also will break into the first semester routine, from December 16 to January 2, and the semester is scheduled to close next January 28.

BROADWAY Theatre

MON.-TUES., OCT. 3-4
Operation Petticoat
Cary Grant - Tony Curtis

WED.-THUR., OCT. 5-6
The Crowded Sky
Dana Andrews - Rhonda Fleming

FRI.-SAT., OCT. 7-8
House of Usher
Edgar Allen Poe Story

SAT., OCT. 8 - 10:30 A. M.
All Cartoon Show

Davidson Housing Plan

(Continued from page 2)

with houses and notice how well kept they are. They are a point of pride. The effect on Campus would be stronger fraternities, more fraternity men due to better and expanded facilities, and lasting relations of students with the school. Fraternity houses have proved themselves to be an asset in alumni relations. The house would be a place to return to see friends of undergraduate years at PC.

We have the necessary elements on this campus for such a project. Our Faculty Committee on Fraternities is capable and interested. The IFC needs only a chance to act effectively, but the backing of the fraternities is needed to show that it is the voice of the majority. The Administration has shown interest in the plan. There must be a cooperative effort between the fraternities and the Administration for success. This must be the year for a united drive.

Sincerely,
RALPH DUNHAM

Dr. Brown Attending Special Conference

Dr. Marshall W. Brown, president of Presbyterian College, this week attends a special conference on the financial support of higher education after representing South Carolina at the recent annual meeting of the Southern Regional Education Board.

BEA Sets Meeting

The Business and Economics Association wil hold its first meeting Thursday night, October 6. All those interested in Business and Economics are urged to be present. Seven-thirty in the Douglas House meeting room is tentatively set as the time and place. A notice will appear on the dining hall bulletin board at the first of next week.

Adair's Men's Shop
Complete Showing of Puritan Sportswear

U. S. Aimed at Socialism

(Continued from page 2)

ser-of-Evils is a wasted vote. Voting for lesser-of-evils is an endorsement of evil. There is no way to win, voting for lesser-of-evils. You are silencing your voice, disinfranchising yourself if you vote for lesser-of-evils.

I'm not sure a Kennedy victory would be catastrophic. Just like I'm not sure the nation wouldn't have been better off if Norman Thomas had been elected in 1932, or Stevenson in 1952. These candidates are for what they call "human rights," the brotherhood of man, the welfare state.

They are for international Socialism, although some haven't the courage to call it that. If Thomas, Stevenson, or their like should get a chance to install their all-powerful federal state, then the people would have a choice. An opposition party would rise. (Of course, we might never be able to unscramble the Socialist egg.) As it is, there is no real opposition party. Both major parties are infiltrated, dominated and owned by Socialists, one-worlders, welfarers and fellow travelers.

Installment Plan Surrender

We can save America by dragging our feet to slow down the Socialist toboggan. We can't win by choosing lesser-of-evils, by giving in a little at a time, by surrendering our freedom piecemeal, by defaulting each succeeding skirmish as it occurs. In fact, it may be better to join full-scale battle now—win or lose—than to surrender on the installment plan. Otherwise, there'll be no final major battle to win. Just the firing squad.

I believe in staying in any organization—and that includes my church—only so long as there is a chance to save it. The Democrat Party is not even worth talking about saving. Evidently Senator Goldwater thinks he can save the Republican Party. A party owned by Nixon, Dewey, Percy, Rockefeller, Lodge, Keating, Rogers, Javits—can't be saved from Socialism. Goldwater has as much chance of returning the Republican Party to Americanism, Constitutionalism and States rights as Neville Chamberlain had at Munich.

A platform is worth no more than the man who runs on it. And that makes both platforms virtually valueless. A platform is like a wedding dress: used only once, and even then it sometimes flies false colors.

I went to both conventions. Delegates at both had this obvious characteristics. The Party comes first. Many of them would support a Castro-Cyrus Eaton ticket if it would get them the most votes. The delegates of both parties are primarily self-seeking politicians, influence peddlers and limelight junketeers without the integrity or the courage to buck the tide. Letting these people decide who should save our country in these times is like letting Beverly Aadland be Housemother in a boys' dormitory.

Don't Waste Your Vote!

In some states it is relatively easy to get somebody to vote for on the ballot—an independent candidate or unpledged independent electors. Your clean-cut dissent in this way makes your voice heard.

If Kennedy or Nixon can be kept from getting a majority in the Electoral College, the election would be thrown into the House of Representatives.

There could be 57 free electors from the South. It takes 269 electoral votes to elect a ticket. In 1948, if those 57 votes had been taken away from Truman, he'd have been 20 votes short. In that event, The House could have elected Strom Thurmond President. Unlikely? Yes. But there is a small chance. And I'll take that, however small, in preference to voting lesser-of-evils.

Some people say a Third Party can't be successful. That's not true. The most successful political party in this country is the Socialist Party. It hasn't lost an election since 1932.

McGEE'S
DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

STATIONERY – SCHOOL SUPPLIES
+ FOUNTAIN
+ SUNDRIES
+ TOBACCOS
SPORTWEAR – RAINWEAR
+ PAPERBACKS
+ SOUVENIRS

The College Canteen
Douglas House

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress
Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., October 7, 1960 No. 3

Homecoming Features Dance, Game

Council Posts, Class Officers Nominated; Elections Scheduled Next Wednesday

Thirty-Three Chosen To Appear on Ballot

Nominations were held this past Wednesday to select officers to represent the Freshman, the Sophomore, the Junior, and Senior Classes. there were also nominations for Student Council Representative in the Freshman class. The results showed that thirty-three were nominated for the different offices that are open.

Students may only vote for classmates in class elections. However, all students may vote for the Freshman Student Council Representatives. Elections will be held next Wednesday in the Douglas House after chapel until 3 o'clock.

The nominations were as follows: Freshman Class: President—Jerry Blasingame, Buddy Varn, Robert Elrod, and Robert Walkup. Vice-President—Dick Dillingham, Tommy Williams, and Creighton Likes. Secretary-Treasurer — Eddie Pender and Janet Maddox. Treasurer—Bill Gillespie, Gordon Mayhugh, and Bill Walkup. Freshman Student Council Representatives—Leon Bullard, Ed Goodloe, Robert Elrod, Tom Johnston, Buddy Varn, and Robert Walkup.

Sophomore Class; President—Gary Brown, Joe Harvard, Bobby Piephoff, and Bill Russell; Vice-President — Bill Bartee, Paul Woodall, Sammy Clayton. Secretary—Wirt Skinner, Owen Ravenel, Mike Gryder. Treasurer—Allen Freeman, Grif Helwig, Fred Brown, David Harrill.

Junior: President—Bobby Joiner, Joe Davis, Joe Nixon, Jimmy Thompson, and Bobby Sherrill. Vice-President—Tom Elliott, Bill Matthews, John Elrod, and Dickie Carr. Secretary—Ted Hentz, Leland Vaughn, Mike Jarrett, and Dave Waters. Treasurer—Bill Ogden, Byron Hollingsworth, Fred Cook, and Jim Lowry.

Senior: President — Bill Wilkes, Pat Malone, Bill Sease, and Rohe Eshbaugh. Vice-President — Bill Betchman, Jimmy Kolb, Don Dunlap, and Frank Forbes. Secretary—Evin Varner, Harrison Clayton, Tommy Middleton, and Sam McGee. Treasurer—Pat Dorn, Hexie McDonnold, Dick Faulkner, and Mike Brown.

Miss Robi Anne Robinson—1960 Homecoming Queen

Visitors Board to See Campus, Meet Leaders

• Two-Day Program Planned

Fourteen outstanding laymen of four states, comprising the new Board of Visitors will be on campus Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The group, announced last week, will assist and advise the trustees of the college and help toward the accomplishment of long-term objectives for the school.

The Board will assemble in conjunction with the annual meeting of the executive committee of the trustees.

A program has been planned to give the visitors a working knowledge of PC in a short time. They will tour the campus on Tuesday, followed by dinner at Judd. That night student leaders will present a program on the extra-curricular activities. A drop-in for faculty, student leaders, and visitors has been planned after that meeting.

Wednesday morning the board will be guests of students for breakfast. They will spend the rest of the day in meetings with administrative officials, who will show the visitors the present status of PC, and its plan for the future.

The group will attend chapel services on Wednesday.

Before closing, members of the board will elect officers and make plans for the continuation and expansion of the program for 1961.

Harold Hope, advisor from the SCA Cabinet, meets with the newly elected members of the Freshman SCA Cabinet.

Among their projects for the year will be the publication of the members of the PC student body and their addresses to be used during the Christmas season.

Freshman Cabinet Appointed by SCA

Thirteen students have been named to the Freshman Student Christian Association Cabinet. Those selected are: Jerry Blassingame — President; Eddie Pender — Vice-President; Ellen Wilson—Secretary-Treasurer; Leon Bullard, Robert Walkup, Russell Strange, Tom Dixon, Tommy Currie, Tom Morrison, Keith Robinson Buteh Smith, Tommy Johnston, and Janet Maddox. Harold Hope will serve as advisor to the group from the Senior Cabinet.

The freshman Cabinet is responsible for compiling both a student directory and a calendar for future school events.

Students Organize Nixon-Lodge Group

Following in the tradition of college student movements in years of presidential elections, some fifteen PC students and two faculty members organized a Youth For Nixon-Lodge group last Monday night.

Headed by Frank Forbes as Chairman, Ben Margolius as Vice-Chairman, and Fred Meade as Secretary-Treasurer, the group made plans for projects. These include a booth at the Laurens County Fair.

Frank Forbes reported on a College Youth for Nixon Convention which he attended in Atlanta this summer. Campaign issues also were discussed at the meeting.

Faculty Approves New RE Week Plan

Faculty approval for a new Religious Emphasis Week plan came last Wednesday night. The event is set for March 7-10 with the first service on Tuesday, March 7, at 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday REW will begin with a speaker for chapel. Later that afternoon at 3:00 p. m. there will be a voluntary discussion group. Vesper services will be held, followed by fraternity and non-fraternity discussion groups.

Thursday all classes will be dismissed at 10:00 for a special chapel service at 3:00 p. m. All military students will be excused from drill fi they attend the discussion. Vesper services will be at 7:30.

Freshmen and sophomore Bible classes will be turned over to discussion leaders.

Dr. John Leith, Professor of Systmatic Theology at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., and Dr .J. Shepard Rice, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Columbia, will be the two main speakers for the week.

Religious Emphasis Week will end Friday with the regular chapel service.

Communism Theme of Special Wed. Chapel

An address on the "Disease of Communism" will be delivered to Presbyterian College students next Wednesday morning by Dr. Frederick C. Schwarz, executive director of the Christian Anti-Communist Crusade.

Dr. Schwarz has toured the world six times lecturing against the evils of communism, and in 1957 appeared to this effect before the U. S. House of Representatives Committee on Un-American Activities. A native Australian, he was graduated in medicine and surgery from the University of Queensland Medical School and has practiced in Sydnew and New South Wales. He also serves as a lay preacher for the Baptist denomination there.

Among his other appearances Dr. Schwarz last year spoke before the Texas state legislature. The Christian Anti-Communism Crusade, active in America, Australia, and other parts of the world, has its headquarters in Long Beach Calif.

Alumni Return For Reception, Meetings

Several hundred alumni are expected to converge on the campus tomorrow for annual homecoming events. They will be feted at a reception at 3:30, a meeting of the Walter Johnson Club, dinner in the dining hall, and the annual clash between PC and Davidson on Johnson Field.

A meeting of the Alumni Association Board of Trustees is also planned.

Activities for undergraduates get underway tonight with a dance at the local armory, featuring the music of Sam Cook at nine. Fraternity parties are scheduled at intermission, after the game, and tomorrow night following the game.

Mrs. George Taylor, hostess of Douglas House, will hold open house during the intermission of the dance, with refreshments being served.

Fraternity decorations will put the campus in a festive mood tomorrow, as the six Greek groups vie for honors.

At halftime of tomorrow night's game, Miss Robi Anne Robinson of Furman University and Greenville, will be crowned as Homecoming Queen, as she appears with her court in ceremonies under the direction of Blue Key.

N. Y. Concert Trio To Appear Here Wed.

The New York Concert Trio, which plays here on Wednesday, October 12, at William Henry Belk Auditorium under the auspices of the College-Community Concert Association, is a unique ensemble in the world of music today. It brings to its audiences the seldom-heard combination of harp, flute and cello —chamber orchestra in miniature. "The effect of this combination," according to the critics, "is beautiful indeed."

Adyth Alton, cellist, hailed for her intelligence, taste, and discriminating music-making, was born in Iowa and educated as a scholarship student at both the Oberlin Conservatory and New York Juilliard School fo Music, where she did graduate work. Among her teachers was Felix Salmond, with whom she studied for five years.

Paul Boyer, the young Philadelphia-born flutist of the New York Concert Trio, was introduced to the world of music by his mother, a professor at the Curtis Institute of Music. He himself won a scholarship to that school, and studied the flue there with William Kincaid.

Cynthia Otis, the lovely harpist of the New York Concert Trio, is a splendid example of an artist born and educated entirely in America. Born in Conecticut, she was eight years old when she began the study of her chosen instrument. When she was only sixteen, she was selected to appear as soloist with the People's Series in Carnegie Hall. Her teacher during the intervening years had been Lucile Lawrnce, who nurtured Miss Otis' exceptional talents at the Mannes College of Music.

Next week's concert is the first of four to appear here during the current season.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

A Word to The Board

The Blue Stocking extends to the new Board of Visitors a most hearty welcome. This group will undoubtedly be of great importance in the future development of Presbyterian College. The men and women who compose its membership are fortunate choices. They represent a crosssection of leadership in four states.

A program has been planned to show them exactly how PC stands today, what its greatest needs are, and what the school plans for its future.

If we may offer a word of advice to the Board: talk candidly to the students, they will talk candidly to you. Meet other stuents than those 'leaders' who will speak before you. Presbyterian is her students—they are her heritage and her future.

Elections: Local Scene

Wednesday of the next week will be election day—the first for the current school year. It is an important ballot that will be distributed, especially those freshmen representatives to the student council.

We urge students to make use of their privilege to vote. We hope that the fanfare of a national election year will make campus voters aware of the necessity of voting for the men who can best represent them. The slate is large, the leadership there . . . the vote is yours.

A National PC Week?

We would like to advocate a National PC Week. Why not? Everyone is doing it. Take this month, for example. There are the following observances: Housewares Festival, Cheese Festival, Cranberry Time, PTA Membership, and Let's Go Hunting Month; Better Living Week, Fire Prevention Week. International Pizza Week. National Fish 'n Seafood Week. National Flower Week, and National Honey Week. And Hallowe'en, of course, Oct. 31.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Psi made final plans for the successful Open Social which was held on Wednesday. Final plans were also made for the Homecoming parties and display.

All freshmen and non-fraternity men are cordially invited to visit Alpha Psi for the Homecoming Weekend. Friday night's party will be held in the Fraternity suite on Broad Street. Saturday night following the ball game the party will be at the American Legion Hut in Clinton. The Five Kids combo will furnish the music.

THETA CHI

On Tuesday night plans were completed for the Homecoming Weekend. All freshmen are invited to the fraternity suite during intermission on Friday night and after the game on Saturday.

Congratulations are extended to Miss Betty McLinn who was chosen Theta Chi Fraternity for the year

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The brothers and pledges would like to welcome all returning Pi Kappa Alpha alumni and invite them to the fraternity suite for our alumni tea that is being held this Saturday.

Congratulations to Sammy Clayton, Bill Russell, Mike Gryder, Alan Pitts, Fred Cook, and Jimmy Kolb, all of whom were initiated into the brotherhood Tuesday night. Congratulations are extended to Jimmy Howell who recently pledged.

All non-fraternity men are invited to the Legion Hut Friday night for our Homecoming party.

SIGMA NU

The chapter was prvileged to have Mr. Moe Littlefield form the National Organization give an interesting talk to the fraternity about the ideals of Sigma Nu.

Plans have been completed for Homecoming and the Chapter extends a warm greeting to all new students and alumni to visit the fraternity during the weekend.

Congratulatoins are in order for Leland Vaughn who came into the brotherhood; and Ernie Redd, who has pledged this week.

Get well wishes are extended to Bob Miller who is sick in the Charlotte Presbyterian Hospital.

KAPPA ALPHA

Another big weekend has been planned by Beta Pi Chapter which includes an intermission party and a party after the dance Friday. Highlights of the weekend feature a Tea Dance Saturday afternoon at the Laurens-Clinton Country Club from 2:30 to 5:30 and a party after the game, with Sam Cooke providing the music for both functions. All freshmen and non-fraternity men are extended a cordial invitation to all Kappa Alpha festivities.

Congratulations are extended to Pat Kelly who was pledged Wednesday night

PI KAPPA PHI

The Pi Kapps have a very big weekend planned for homecoming. There will be a party Friday night after the dance at the armory and also a big blast is planned for Saturday night at Peck's after the ball game.

Letters to the Editor

Campbell Explains Frat Housing Problem

October 5, 1960

To the Editor
The Blue Stocking
Presbyterian College
Clinton, South Carolina
Dear Editor:

The articles in last week's paper and the excellent letter written by Ralph Dunham for the paper which came out on September 29 have expressed the fraternity housing project in a very wholesome manner. The letter that Ralph wrote indicated that the program at Davidson had many wonderful aspects, and I believe that most of the people who have given any thought to the project would agree.

I am sure that the students and alumni who are interested in adequate fraternity housing would agree that it would be necessary to have sufficient funds available for this work. It also should be remembered that we will need adequate space for these houses with additional space for any future houses that might at some later date be needed for new fraternities. The administration has already made an overture to the property owners of the land needed by the College and has explained the importance of our securing additional land for the future development of the College. We plan to use our present playing fields east of Holland street for buildings and move these playing fields east of Liberty Street. In the next phase of this program now being developed we plan to build a science hall, a girls dormitory, a boys' dormitory, and a dining hall along with the necessary fraternity housing. The expansion plan outlined in the paper on September 22 really included the idea of adequate fraternity housing for the good of the College and the individual fraternities. In reaching these goals, the administration will seek the assistance of the fraternity men on campus as well as interested alumni of each fraternity. Possible solutions will be welcomed but in making these suggestions, we want each one to keep the overall program of the College in mind

Yours very truly,
G. Edward Campbell
Business Manager

Terrifying Experiences Of Distraught Freshman

Words of a great PC freshman are now going to unfold those most terrifying experiences occasioned upon recently distraught newcomers to this otherwise pleasant campus. To commence, let there be echoed what are undoubtedly the words of all unfortunate sufferers. "Where in blue blazes did that catalogue even hint at my almost immediate mutation into a messenger boy, shoe shiner, janitor, cheerleader, maid, idol worshipper, head waiter, combination rodent-insect-night owl, etc."

To realize how horrifying the plight really is, let us briefly summarize a thirteenth grader's average day. First, the individual places on himself both his too small cap and a precisionly cumbersome sign. The latter is a duo of vile, nasty cardboard fixtures hung around one's neck which announce the bearer's cognomen and such, his lowly rattish state, and the very same words which are spoken rather loudly at an upperclassman's command of "Gin, freshman!" Such orders must be answered immediately with a leap into mid-air while the victim's vocal chords quickly announce for the self-appointed commander to beat that week's football opponent, afterwards addressing him with the quite unfitting title of "Sir."

Freshmen constantly carry away their elders' trays. One unlucky boy has been unable to get out of Judd Dining Hall since four days ago.

Further action is also received at various ungodly hours in the form of being forced to one's back, cockroach style, or to one's corn plasters because of hot and frequent pursuit after invading monsters.

Yes, there are many other regulations, but their fantastic qualities cause them to be omitted here for fear that an outside reader might otherwise have our mixed-up college forcibly changed into an asylum for both the mentally and criminally insane.

• Around Campus

Chemistry Lecture completely disrupted by vicious fighting between huge duck and tiny dog just outside the door.

* * *

Freshman receiving menacing stares from upperclassmen as he almost walks up Neville's paved drive.

* * *

Students running halfway up ivy-covered tree in the middle of the plaza, grabbing a handfull of leaves as they fall to the ground.

* * *

Seen—The loss of several freshmen, and the addition of several strange-looking coeds.

* * *

Faculty member attempting to hit people below his classroom window with lit cigarettes.

* * *

Many lonely coeds requiring love letters from Freshmen.

Words From Alumnus

Aiken Standard & Review
Monday, October 3

Editor, The Blue Stocking
Presbyterian College
Clinton, S. C.

The Aiken-Augusta Alumni Club sends its congratulations to the 1960 Blue Hose for their fine victory over the Methodists and great efforts against the Baptists and Lutherans.

While the Presbyterians must remain united, we extend our support for a Presbyterian (southside) victory over the Presbyterians (northside) Saturday night.

Sincerely,
Aiken-Augusta PC Club
Ed Kenney, President

(Students and faculty members are encouraged to participate in the student forum through letters to the editor. They must be typewritten, brief, and signed by the writer.)

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR . . . EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR . . . GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER . . . BOB SMITH
ASSISTANT EDITOR . . . MARTIN CHITTY
News Editor . . . Murray White
Sports Editor . . . Leland Vaughn
Feature Editor . . . Howard Gordon
Copy Editor . . . Allen Freeman
Intramural Editor . . . Jerry Chitty
Picture Editor . . . John Neal
Sports Staff . . . Bob Stevens, Bill Ripley, Buddy Varn, Leon Bullard, Ford Henley.
News Director . . . John Crain
Photographer . . . Roy Autrey
Typists . . . Howard Bell, Tom Currie
News Staff . . . Don Lohman, Don Kay, Jan Rhodes, Robert Perry, Arthur DeYoung, Beverly Boyer, Linda Traynham, and Becky Earnest.
Copy . . . Ed Goodlee

Presbyterian Fullback Bill Hill leaps over for the first of three PC scores against Wofford in last week's annual clash between the two colleges. Hill's score ended a two quarter drought for PC and brought the game to a 7-6 status in favor of the Terriers.

Wofford Game Referees Play "Drop-The-Hankie" on PC

By LEON BULLARD

This writer would like to recommend four officials to the National Handkerchief Dropping Hall of Fame on the basis of their performance Saturday night in Spartanburg. He thinks they should be recognized for their uncanny ability. Every young lady in the stands could have learned at least two different ways to drop their hankies.

The various methods observed at the PC-Wofford game came under three categories: These are: (1) The Baseball Delivery—this method is started by the removal of the flag from the back pocket; after winding up and pitching the rag into the pile, the official follows through and points out the player who supposedly committed the dastardly deed. (2) The Parachute Throw—in this maneuver the referee pulls the flag and throws it in the same motion high into the air—and get this—behind his back!! (3). Old Maid Method—This is for the official that is to slow to get out of the way of downfield blockers. As he is smothered by a 230-pound tackle, he drops his hankie to distract the fans' attention until he can get back on his feet. Remembering that if he throws a flag down that he has to penalize someone, he picks up the ball and marks off fifteen yards against the offensive team.

Surely everyone knows that there is a need for referees. But brother do they seem to louse up things at times in the most unpredictable ways.

Leland Vaughan . . .

Behind the Blues

The sweet taste of victory brings back to PC students that spirited feeling of renewed confidence in our football team.

After a somewhat slow start in the Wofford game, the Blue Hose came back in the second half to give the Terriers a real taste of the offensive punch that was lacking in the first two games.

Seems Coach Jones has found a new sparkplug for his backfield forces in Halfback Jimmy May, who transferred here from Clemson. The shifty runner gained 52 yards in 10 carries against Wofford to spearhead the offense.

After last week's action all Little Three teams held identical records of one win against two losses. The action this weekend will find the Newberry Indians meeting Wofford in what should prove to be a real thriller.

As the Davidson Wildcats visit Johnson Stadium this Saturday night, they will have one and only one thought in mind; that of spoiling our Homecoming game with an upset victory. We who make up the student body of PC owe it to our football team the assurance of our all-out support in every way possible. No one actually realizes how much time the football player spends each week in practice and and "skull sessions" not to mention the many injuries, bruises and other disappointments he takes as a result. Let's show our appreciation by demonstrating the true PC spirit this Saturday night.

* * * * * * *

This week opened another season of Intramural athletics on campus. Nine teams are entered in the football programs and the competition will be rough and ready throughout the schedule. An Intramural program is a necessity to every college campus because it gives the non-varsity participants a chance to enter in and enjoy sports activities.

* * * * * * *

Wonder if Dr. Redd Turner is going to predict the outcome of this week's game with Davidson? Some have mentioned the idea of false prophecy after his prediction of the Furman game.

Pitts Men's Shop
Style Mart Clothes — Jantzen Sportswear
Nunn Bush, Jarman Shoes

G. A. Copeland & Son
Paints - Hardware
Sporting Goods -:- Electrical Supplies

Sunshine Cleaners
W. Florida St. — Phone 436
Quality Cleaning and Shirt Laundry
WE REPAIR SHOES
We Offer a "Fluff Dry" Bundle

Yarborough Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

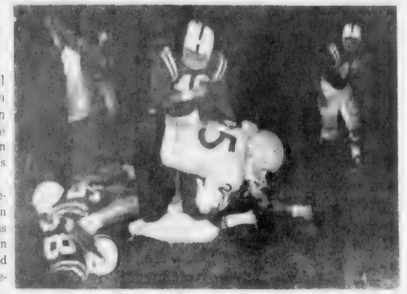
Annual Battle of Presbyterians Vies Blue Hose Against Wildcats

Coach Dole Revamps Davidson's Line-up

Homecoming alumni will return to the Presbyterian College campus Saturday in hopes of seeing the Blue Hose pull even with Davidson in this tightly fought series known as the "Battle of the Presbyterians."

In 18 previous encounters between the two rivals, PC has won eight games while Davidson has captured nine and one has ended in a tie. So a triumph this weekend will lend added spice to the Homecoming program.

The Hosemen knocked off the Wildcats, 25 to 21, in a thrilling second-half comeback last season. And through the years, this contest has always emerged as one of the most spirited of each campaign.



The rivalry is older than the number of games played would indicate, dating back to the series opener which ended in a scoreless tie in 1919. Game action between the two schools was continued until 1926, when the intensity of play caused a suspension of the series. Davidson held a decided edge in the record of these early years, winning five of the eight games and tying one.

In 1949 the series resumed and has been played annually since that date, except for the influenza cancellation of 1957. Presbyterian College gave indication of the changing tide to expect by whipping the Calvinists from North Carolina, 27 to 7, in the first game of the revival. For, of the ten PC-Davidson engagements since '49, the Blue Hose can boast of six victories to four for the opponent.

As Coach Jones drilled his team through several bruising practice sessions this week he stated the difficulty in producing a sound defense against Davidson Coach Bill Dole's lineup which has been completely revamped between the Wofford and Citadel games. The Wildcats looked very impressive in their close loss to Citadel last week. The team outgained the opponent aid drove right the field to score.

Fullback Bob McAllister is one big man among the Wildcats that PC defenses will be watching. He's expected to pace Davidson's sloshing fullback of their own in Bill Hill who leads all PC ball carriers with 186 yards in 42 rushes for a 4.4 average in three games to date. Hill also has caught seven passes for 84 yards and scored two touchdowns to lead in these departments.

Other statistical leaders among the Presbyterian backs are Quarterback Bobby Joiner with 20 total passing yards on 23 completions in 39 attempts for a 60 per cent accuracy mark; Halfback Ronnie Hampton, with 118 yards in 30 carries and four pass receptions for 31 more; , and Halfback Jimmy Kolb, with 92 yards in 16 carries for an impressive 5.7 yards-per-try average.

An unidentified Wofford player gains yardage against PC in last Saturday night's action in Spartanburg. His efforts were in vain, however, as PC went on to win 21-7.

Socks Down Terriers 21 - 7 For First Gridiron Victory

By BILL RIPLEY

A strong and spirited Blue Hose team emerged victorious over the Wofford Terriers on Terrier ground last Satuday night to cap their first Little Three Conference win.

Presbyterian did not roll up impressive yardage against the big Wofford defense. The 227 total yards gained that night only equaled PC's offensive effort against Furman and was less than the 280 yards registered against Lenoir Rhyne. But the difference this time lay in the ability to cash in at the touchdown register. And although two scoring oportunities were muffed within the Wofford ten-yard line in the first half, the Hosemen made three others pay off in the 21 to 7 victory wen they finally gained was terrifically marred by the numerous penalties which occurred throughout the game.

PC fans were encouraged to see Halfback Ronnie Hampton of Kannapolis, N. C., bounce carries for a 5.4 per-carry- average and two pass receptions for 17 more yards. His most impressive run, a 45-yard touchdown jaunt, was erased by penalty.

The stands delighted in the performance of Clemson transfer student, Jimmy May, Greenwood sophomore halfback, who took full advantage of his first real chance as a ball-carrier. He skipped for 52 yards in ten carries for a 5.2 average, scored the second PC touchdown and then added a winning two-pointer.

Fullback Bill Hill slowed down on his yardage production—gaining just 38 in 12 plunges—but he struck for gold on two occasions with rugged one-yard smashes for scores.

Coach Frank Jones summed up his feleings in these words: "Boy, it's great to be back in the win column. We needed this one, and the boys turned in a fine effort against a good Wofford team to get it. We were all tired of those moral victories of the past two weeks."

Rifle Team Lists Season's Schedule

The 1960-61 schedule for PC's rifle team has been approved by the Western Carolina Conference. On the opening date of November 4, Furman is visited; Wofford travels here November 18 in one of the three local contests; another being held December 2 against Clemson; Davidson is met on both December 9 and January 13, the first of which is held on its own home ground and the latter at Wofford; PC moves to Clemson February 17, and comes back February 24 as host to Furman; the all-important state match is going to be held March 11 of next year at Clemson; to end the schedule on March 17 is a four-way match with Davidson and Wofford at Furman.

Pick - A - Winner

So you think you know a little about football teams. Prove to us that you do, and you'll win two passes to the Broadway Theater that will be good any time.

LAST WEEK'S WINNER—Don Fowler

Name _____

Dorm _____

			Tie				Tie
Presbyterian	( )			Davidson	( )	( )
Clemson	( )			Virginia	( )	( )
Florida	( )			Rice	( )	( )
L .S. U.	( )			Ga. Tech	( )	( )
North Carolina	( )			Notre Dame	( )	( )
Furman	( )			Wm. & Mary	( )	( )
Newberry	( )			Wofford	( )	( )
Maryland	( )			N. C. State	( )	( )

I predict _____ points will be the winning margin in the PC-Davidson game.

RULES

1—Entries must be turned in to The Blue Stocking office by noon tomorrow. Just slide them under the door.
2—Entries must be on the above printed form.
3—Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4—In case of ties, the contestant most nearly guessing the winning margin of points in the PC-Davidson game will win
5—No member of The Blue Stocking staff is eligible
6—Decisions of the judges will be final. The winner will be announced in next week's paper.

Full Time Beta Now

Dr. John Harris Retires After 20 Years Service

Dr. John W. Harris has retired as professor of English at Presbyterian College, but he still operates dynamically as the founder and directing force of the National Beta Club.

When Dr. Harris reached retirement age this spring, he stepped down after 20 years on the PC faculty. He took with him from the campus the appreciation of his colleagues and of former students for two decades of warm friendship and sympathetic understanding. During his years here he moved constantly back and forth between the driving pace of his business world and the more contemplative academic life. Through it all, however, he scorned no job as too small to undertake for PC and gave of his balanced judgment in counsel.

President Marshall W. Brown, in announcing his retirement, said: "John Harris is a remarkably efficient organizer who had a sympathetic interest in the welfare of every individual student. He was a faculty colleague whose wide experience and constant loyalty continue to contribute much to the tradition of this institution."

Standing as a monument to his organizing ability is the Beta Club, a national high school organization now in its 27th year. Dr. Harris established the Beta Club in 1933 to promote scholarship and a sense of community service among high school students. Since that time, it has spread to 18 states of this country and ranks among the fastest growing groups of its kind anywhere. Each year some 80,000 select boys and girls hold memberships in more than 2,500 individual clubs. Beta Club alumni rolls total almost 500,000 former students.

Today, the National Beta Club has the support and endorsement of leading secondary school educators, many of whom serve on its governing councils. Although his organization staff has expanded greatly through the years, Dr. Harris continues as the guiding light in his position as executive-secretary with headquarters in Spartanburg.

DR. JOHN W. HARRIS

John W. Harris, thus, has devoted his life to education in various forms. A 1916 graduate of Wofford College—and Ph.D. with Phi Beta Kappa honors from the University of North Carolina—he gained his first teaching experience as an Air Force instructor in World War I. Later he joined the Wofford faculty to serve in the English department there from 1920 to 1933.

He came to Presbyterian College in 1941, all the while maintaining his direction of the Beta Club activities. Clinton became home for the family.

The Presbyterian College board of trustees, in accepting Dr. Harris' retirement at its recent meeting, designated him as professor emeritus of English with these special words of resolution:

"That we record in our permanent records our abiding appreciation of Dr. Harris for his scholarship, his efficiency in instruction, his personal interest in the welfare of every student, his generous donations to the institutional program, his loyal cooperation with the administration at all times, and his utilization of his wide prestige among educators and superior secondary students to advance the good name of Presbyterian College."

Intramural Play Opens to 3 Games

By JERRY CHITTY

Football for 1960 got well underway this past week. Three exciting games were witnessed by Intramural fans. Tuesday afternoon saw the Cyclones clash with Pi Kappa Phi. The Cyclones, led by Bob Bedding field, downed the Pi Kap's by a 13-7 margin. The second game on Tuesday, saw the spirited Ramblers playing a determined Goof-Off nine. The sharp passing of Tommy Williams, and receiving of Buddy Barnwell proved to be too much for the Goof-Offs. The final outcome saw the Ramblers winning 20-0. Wednesday's only game saw Jim Rakestraw's Doctors clashing with the KA's. Howell and Rakestraw proved to be too much for the opposing KA's, as they took the game by a 19-0 margin.

A full slate of games will be played next week. A schedule will be up Monday, so each participant can check the Bulletin Board in the dining hall.

MSF Sets Special Wednesday Program

Miss Mary Hewitt, assistant to the pastor, First Methodist Church, Laurens, will speak to the Methodist Student Fellowship Wednesday night at 7:00 in the meeting room on the second floor of the Douglas House. Her subject will concern the recent trip she has made to Russia.

All students are invited to attend this interesting talk. Students are reminded that the meeting will conclude in time for the Community Concer in Belk Auditorium at 8:00 and the Pi Kappa Phi Open Social.

Wilson Fellowship Program Available to PC Students

An election campaign promising rich rewards for the successful candidates gets underway today as tousands of faculty members from universities and colleges in the United States and Canada begin to nominate college seniors for Woodrow Wilson graduate fellowships.

Designed to reduce a nation-wide shortage of qualified college teachers, the program annually awards 1000 fellowships for first year graduate study at any university of the recipient's choice in the United States or Canada. Candidates are elected only after rigorous screening and personal interviews by one of fifteen regional committees of ducators. Each elected fellow receives a $1500 stipend for living expenses plus full tuition and family allowances.

The program is open to college graduates mainly in the humanities and social sciences. Both men and women are eligible, and there is no limit on the age of the candidate or on the number of years he may have been out of college. Those who receive awards are not asked to commit themselves to college teaching, but merely to "consider it seriously" as a possible career.

The program, designed to encourage college seniors of outstanding ability to study for davanced degrees with faculty jobs as their goal, is administered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation under a $24,500,000 five-year grant from the Ford Foundation.

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation does not accept applications directly from students. Every candidate for the award must be nominated by a faculty member. Nominated students are invited to declare themselves active candidates for the award by sending the necessary application forms to the chairman of the selection committee for the region in which the prospective candidate is now located.

There's Better Service at Joe's Esso Service
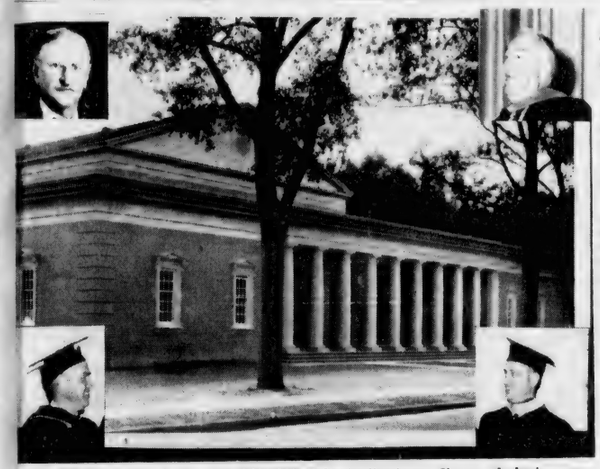
Try Our Soda Fountain
Cars Greased in the Moto-Sway Way

BROADWAY Theatre
MON.-TUES., Oct. 10-11
Chartroose Caboose
Molly Bee, Ben Cooper, and Edgar Buchanan
WED.-THUR., Oct. 12-13
Edna Ferber's
Ice Palace
The Motion Picture Giant of 1960
FRI.-SAT., Oct. 14-15
Double Feature
Dinosaurus!
— Plus —
S. O. S. Pacific
Seven Terrified Strangers Trapped On an Island Marked for Destruction
Eddie Constantine, Pier Angeli

YOUNG'S GULF STATION
Road Service - Accessories
Tires - Tubes
N. Broad St. Phone 1515

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"



HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Your Rexall Drug Store
ON THE SQUARE

STATIONERY — SCHOOL SUPPLIES
+ FOUNTAIN
+ SUNDRIES
+ TOBACCOS
SPORTWEAR — RAINWEAR
+ PAPERBACKS
+ SOUVENIRS
Election Year Specials On . . .
Our Platform: Low Prices
The College Canteen
Douglas House

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., November 4, 1960 No. 4

Pictured above is the new $500,000 Belk Auditorium. Shown clockwise are Senator Sam J. Irvin, main dedication speaker, Mr. William Henry Belk, Sr., for whom the building was named, Mr. Robert Vance, chairman of the Board of Trustees, and Mr. Irwin Belk, son of William Henry Belk, Sr.

Auditorium Dedicated; Senator Ervin Speaks

On Wednesday, October 31, Presbyterian College dedicated its new auditorium in honor of William Henry Belk, Sr. It will serve as a memorial to a native South Carolinian who matched his achievements as "merchant of the South" with strong purpose as a Christian Philanthropist.

With the dedication of this structure, Presbyterian College completes the phase of its development program for which $1,000,000 was subscribed in the recent Diamond Jubilee campaign. The new building is of colonial Georgian design in keeping with the architectural style of the campus. It incorporates a main auditorium with a seating capacity of approximately 1,100, a chapel for small worship groups, and a three-story fine arts division to the rear.

Robert M. Vance, Clinton banker and chairman of the board of trustees, presided. The Reverend W. R. Turner of the First Presbyterian Church, Clinton, and the Reverend H. K. Holland, PC trustee and pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Marietta, Ga., led the liturgy of dedication.

The main speaker was United States Senator Sam J. Ervin, Jr., of North Carolina, a close friend of the Belk family, who said that the William Henry Belk Auditorium will stand as a monument at Presbyterian College to a man who realized the 'American dream' through free enterprise achievement and who left a legacy of philanthropic giving which continues to undergird the work of religious and educational institutions.

Born on the family farm in Lancaster County on June 2, 1862, young Henry Belk grew up in the dark days of Reconstruction. His family moved to Monroe, North Carolina, when he was 11. At the age of 14, he started his business career as a $5 per month clerk; only twelve years later to open his own store. In 1893 the Belk enterprises had expanded to two stores.

As time stores emerged, they formed the pattern of Belk's special contribution to American business: a loosely joined system sharing in the mass buying of merchandise, but with no central control of management and finances to stifle initiative of local associates.

By the time of his death at almost 90, Henry Belk had blazed a trail across the Southern business world. The "merchant prince of the South" had created out of nothing the giant Belk mercantile organization totaling 385 stores in 18 states.

Henry Belk often expressed his conviction that, "Next to being good Christians, there is nothing better for young people than good educations." A devout Presbyterian Elder, he contributed generously to Christian colleges and orphanages, and to other agencies of the church.

Of Henry Belk, Senator Ervin said 'Henry Belk was a free enterpriser in the finest sense of the term. Life and religion impressed him that a man of integrity is God's noblest creation. As a consequence, he believed supremely in the dignity and worth of the individual. He believed that the interests of society as well as those of individuals are best served by the individual industry, which are the chief characteristics of the free enterprise system . . . He believed, moreover, that every individual is accountable to society and to Almighty God for the use of his talents and possessions.

Greenwood Editor IRC Guest Speaker

J. E. Chaffin, editor of the Greenwood Index-Journal, will talk to the International Relations Club on November 7 at 7:45 p. m. in the Douglas House Meeting Room.

Mr. Chaffin recently returned from a tour of several European countries and Russia, and will center his talk around impressions and experiences gained on the trip.

Mr. Chaffin, a native of Chapin, attended public schools there. He later received the AB degree in journalism from the University of South Carolina. He has also done graduate work at the University of California in Berkley.

Following graduation, he taught French and history at Chapin High School, and mathematics in grade school.

The speaker came to Greenwood in 1937 as a reporter on the Index-Journal. He left the paper in 1940 to become a Railway Mail Service clerk, and remained at that job two years. He entered the U. S. Army in 1942, remaining four years in the infantry. He was discharged in 1946 as a staff sergeant, after seeing duty in Texas and Japan.

Mr. Chaffin returned to the Index-Journal in 1946 as managing editor. He became editor of the paper in 1956. He is now serving his second term as secretary of the South Carolina Press Association, and is past president of the South Carolina Associated Press News Council.

Chapel Schedule

Monday, Nov. 7—PiKA Devotional.

Wednesday, Nov. 9—Chapel Worship Service, sermon by Mr. Stallworth entitled, "When Job Saw God."

Friday, Nov. 11—Devotional, KA.

Monday, Nov. 14—Sigma Nu Devotional.

Wednesday, Nov. 16 — Chapel Worship Service, speaker to be announced.

Friday, Nov. 18—Newberry deputation of Blue Key to be here.

Class Officers Elected Varn, Walkup Reps.

The theory of "fraternity coalition" elections was destroyed with the election of Bill Sease, a non-fraternity man, as senior class president. Sease is a four-year letterman in football and baseball. The outcome was reached only after three run-offs that brought about an all-time high in student body participation. Harrison Clayton of Marietta, Ga., will serve as vice-president, and Bill Betchman and Pat Dorn, from Summerton and Anderson, respectively, were elected secretary and treasurer.

President of the Junior Class for this year is Robert Sherrill of Atlanta, and serving as vice-president is Bill Matthews of Macon, Ga. Mike Jarrett of Toccoa, Ga., is taking the secretary's post, and treasurer of the junior class is Bill Ogden of Macon, Ga.

Joe Harvard of Columbia, was elected to the Sophomore class presidency. Chosen as vice-president was Paul Woodall of Whiteville, N. C. Filling the secretary's office is Griffin Helwig of Tampa, Fla. Wirt Skinner of Decatur, Ga., won the race for sophomore treasurer.

In the Freshman class president's race, Jerry Blasingame of Monroe ,Ga., won out of a field of four. Tommy Williams of Pensacola, Fla., was elected vice-president and Eddie Pender of Columbia, was chosen secretary. The freshmen chose Bill Gillespie of Newport News, Va., as treasurer.

Robert Walkup of Columbia, and Buddy Varn of Sylvania, Ga., were elected on a student-wide vote in the freshman race for student council.

Sgt. Joins Staff

The ROTC administration announces the addition of a new NCO to the staff. He is Sgt. Richard Barnhardt and replaces SFC Alfred McCarson as comunications sergeant and rifle coach. Sgt. Barnhardt, a native of Salisbury, N. C., is a veteran of twelve years. He is married and has one daughter.

Parents Day Plans

Below is the program for the fourth annual Parents Day to be held on November 18. Over 700 persons attended Parents Day ceremonies last year and an even larger crowd is expected this year.

The parents and friends of the students will be the guests of the College for supper on Friday.

2:00 p. m.—Registration and Campus Tours. Register at Douglas House.

3:00 p. m.—Program of Welcome in Belk Auditorium.

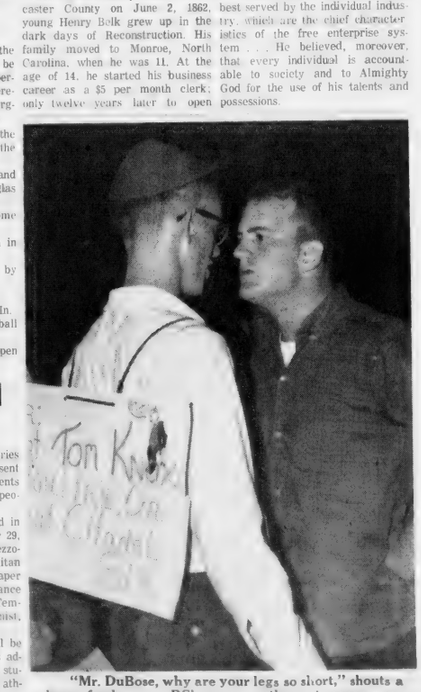
4.00 p. m.—Faculty Reception in Douglas House.

5:00 p. m.—Retreat Parade by ROTC unit on baseball field.

5:15 p. m.—Supper.

7:00 p. m.—Fraternity Drop-In.

8:00 p. m. — PC-Elon football game.



10:30 p. m. — Fraternity Open House.

Variety Emphasized In Concert Series

The Community Concert Series for the 1960-61 season will present a varied program for the students of Presbyterian College and the people of Clinton.

The next concert will be held in Belk Auditorium on November 29, featuring Beverly Wolff, a mezzo-soprano from the Metropolitan Opera. On February 3, Paul Draper and Company will present a dance group, and on March 17, Alec Templenton, blind composer-pianist, will appear.

The time of the concerts will be 8:15 p. m., but the audience is advised to be seated by 8:00. PC students will be admitted on their athletic tickets at home, but must pay admision to out of town performances.

"Mr. DuBose, why are your legs so short," shouts a brave freshman as PC'uns see another rat season,, under the very capable leadership of Sonny DuBose, come to a resounding close.—(Staff photo by Autry)

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Editorials

Impressive Dress

The administration would like to commend the student body for its behavior at the dedication of the Belk Auditorium. They were particularly happy to see the manner in which the students dressed and conducted themselves. Several comments have been made to this staff concerning the possibility of students improving their dress during the week. We feel that, in order to take true pride in our school, students must be conscious of its appearances at all times. It is agreed that PC students dress above the average for football games, dances, dates, etc. But, will PC really become collegiate?

Exercise Your Rights

The days are numbered. Within one week, the future of America will be decided. Who will make this decision? You—the American voter. We, the members of the Blue Stocking staff, do not wish to show a preference as to presidential candidates. Rather, we urge each student to consider them for their platforms and not their party. We want a government that realizes the need for a strong defense policy and a high level of state and local problems. This administration must also be aware of excess spending that will make our country weak and result in heavier taxes and increased inflation.

If we have to have these politics in our government, we must all take an active part in politics. Politics, to the majority of Americans, is limited mainly to voting. That is why we must exercise our right and VOTE. If your vote was the one which would decide the coming election, who would you vote for?

Publish Your Thoughts

The thoughts of you, the student, whether good or bad, are of the utmost importance to this, your school. The staff wishes to invite all students to vent their opinions through the "Letters to the Editor."

Space will be given to anyone that wishes to make some constructive criticisms or make his thoughts known. Letters for this purpose must be given to the Editor. All letters must be signed; however, at the request of the writer, names will be withheld upon publication.

This is your newspaper—make use of your rights.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR JOHN CRAIG
BUSINESS MANAGER BOB SMITH
MANAGING EDITOR BYRON HOLLINGSWORTH
Associate Editor Norma Jean Weisner
News Editor Fred Meade
Sports Editor Leland Vaughn
Feature Editor Howard Gordon
Copy Editor Bob Waterman
Military Editor Jim Monroe
Intramural Editor Jerry Chitty
Fraternity Editor Bill Matthews
Photographers Roy Autry, Richard Stanford, Bill Carmichael
News Staff Beverly Boyer, Arthur DeYoung, Rebecca Earnest, Bill Gillespie, Gerald Pitts, Dupont Smith, Tom Griffin, Raymond Humphries, Lewis Edge, Howard Bell, Tom Currie and Ford Henley.

Looking From

Chimney Heights

At Paper Cups

The paper cup has now reached a level of cultural status that it can no longer be ignored. It is ubiquitous in modern society. Who invented the cup and in that matter, has anyone ever given the cup praise? Pericles said that "Where the worker receives a reward, there is the hardest worker." I believe this. In order to get the best service from paper cups, I have taken upon myself to become a kind of Clarion call for the honoring of the institution of paper cup.

The life of the paper cup is as short as a fire cracker. There is the burst of glory as the selfless cup quickly yields its precious gift. After serving its life's calling, is there any thanks? Only the trash basket and the fire of Gehenna never to be resurrected is its ending.

If the umbrella, fraternity pin, and short hair are the standard symbols of the college student, then the symbol of attaining this status is achieved by the paper cup. Where two or three are gathered together there is also the paper cup. Take for example, the class room. Here in the very seat of academic life the cup serves its larger purposes. When the professor, carried away with the sound of his own voice, drones on, all a student has to do to ease the pain is to raise his paper cup and crunch it on the remnants of a Pepsi. There is also the problem of the ash. Where does one dump ashes? In a paper cup, the drowning struggle of a cigarette makes a pleasing hiss and the association of the cigarette and the professor is the "stuff dreams are made of."

Aside from the invention of the can and the no deposit bottles, the cup is the greatest boon to the discreet drinker. Had the wine biber Omar, seen the paper cup he would have added it to his list, along with book, jug, loaf of bread, thou, and the tree. Wherever Omar now is, I am sure he blesses the cup because have you ever seen a paper cup that didn't leak or spill just a little on the ground.

The fine Christian PC student, nestled in the foothills of the Appalachians, should be grateful to the paper cup. The paper cup has gained position on the campus. A bronzed image of it should be placed in the room where the disciplinary committee meets, so that all who look upon it would reminisce and be thankful or sad depending upon whether he had used the aid of the paper cup.

All fraternities should incorporate the cup into the ritual. More of the initiated follow that symbol than the others set up in the ritual. The pendant should be in the shape of a cup. Though the Bible and such are the symbols who really understands them? The only living symbol is the cup. Their sweethearts should be Dixie or Sweetheart or the other names that appear on the side of paper cups. The brothers probably fondle the cup more tenderly than Casinova ever fondled his loves.

To note in history the treatment of drinking cups one has only to look at mythology to see the cup's importance. In Valhalla, the gods would not drink from wooden cups, but had to have golden cups to hold in their Norse hands. To the ancient Greek there was no more honorable gift than that of a golden cup. At the end of his long trip Ulysses had quite a collection of cups. The cup is also honrable to the modern Greek. Proof of this just

(Continued on page 4)

Tradition Dies On Our Campus

By Saunders Reed

During the past few weeks there have been many strange occurrences on the campus of Presbyterian College.

Rat season got off to a good start with the closing session of the annual fall SCA picnic. When directed to do so, the freshmen appeared in proper hats and signs. There were frequent rat rallies, countless shoes were shined, rooms were swept, and errands were run. Trays were carried for upperclassmen in the dining hall. Fruitful visits to other schools yielded many different colored rat hats on campus.

But the spirit of rat season did not last long. This year's rats were never too careful about showing proper respect for upperclassmen. They complained about being worked and ratted too hard. Their cooperation in doing "favors" for upperclassmen dwindled. Signs showed improvement in their design and execution, but soon they were worn less than often enough. Rat hats became scarce items.

Bo-Rat season came, but there was practically no cooperation got ten from the Bo-Rats by the freshmen. After Bo-Rat season, the freshmen evidently declared themselves independent, as evidenced by the almost total absence of rat hats and signs. Doubless, the attitude of the Bo-Rats took much of the spirit out of the rats. The freshmen Control Board cracked down requiring a reappearance of hats and signs, which request was not ideally satisfied. Another good rat rally, complete with April Showers was staged. However, attendance was not at its peak, and there were many complaints from freshmen not wholly without good reason about being wet in rather cool weather.

Since this last rally, not a hat nor a sign has been seen, although the

(Continued on page 4)

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

ALPHA PSI DELTA

The sisters and pledges of Alpha Psi Delta met at the home of newly elected pledge mistress, Eleanor Kennedy. Plans were completed for a closed social to be held at Lake Greenwood November 19. Plans were also discussed for a Christmas party. Initiation for the new members will be held some time in the near future.

President Frances Estes announced that there will be a short meeting immediately following chapel services Monday.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Plans were made for a party to be held tonight in the fraternity suite. The Brothers and Pledges entertained children from Thornwell Orphanage last week with a special Hallowe'en party. Recently held was a very enjoyable stag steak supper.

KAPPA ALPHA

At the meeting of Beta Pi Chapter plans were discussed for the annual drop-in Parents Day. Congratulations were extended to Brother Billy Wilkes on his pinning of Miss Eleanor Sharpton and to Brother Heyward Nettles who recently pinned Miss Nancy Thackston.

PI APPA ALPHA

A letter of welcome was sent to our new district president, William H. Flannagan.

Final plans were made for the Open Social Wednesday night, also plans were made for a tea Parents Day and a dance with a combo the following Saturday night.

Congratulations to Robert Kendall who was pledged Tuesday a week ago.

Brother of the week is Sammy Clayton.

PI APPA PHI

During Homecoming, Beta Chapter had as its special guest Col. Ben L. Covington, who is an alumni of PC. He has recently been elected National Secretary of Pi Kappa Phi.

Congratulations to our newest pledge, Jim Ballard, and to our new brothers, Bill Benton, Fred Brown, Gary Brown, Edsel Hiatt, and Bob Sherrill.

Congratulations to Brother Dick Faulkner who pinned Miss Pat Shuman, and to Tommy Middleton who recently married Miss Phyllis Bodie.

Congratulations to our football team for the fine showing they made during a tough intramural career.

SIGMA NU

The Brothers and Pledges enjoyed entertaining the freshmen and transfer students at a barbecue at Peek's Friday, October 21. Congratulations to Brother Martin Chitty on his recent engagement to Miss Sylvia Laird.

The Fraternity football team is currently enjoying first place in the Intramural standings with a record of 5-0, thanks to a team effort.

The Fraternity was glad to see Bob Miller out of the hospital and to learn that he will be back at school for the second semester.

House improvements were planned and are now underway. Also final plans for the Closed Smoker were laid.

THETA CHI

On Tuesday night at the regular meeting of Beta Psi Chapter, plans were made for an Open House in the fraternity suite on the Friday of Parents Day. All freshmen and transfer students are cordially invited to bring their parents.

JON VASTINE

BILL HILL

Blue Hose Go Down To Rabid Bulldogs

The Bulldogs were too much for the Blue Hose last Saturday as the PC'uns never got their offense rolling. Citadel blasted the Hosemen 27-0.

Quarterback Bill Whaley scored the first touchdown from the one, end Henry Mura sped 23 yards after recovering a blocked punt in the air and quarterback Jerrry Nettles threw 36 yards to end Bill Allen for the third Citadel score.

Halfback Early Eastburn raced 82 yards for a touchdown, second longest run from scrimmage in Citadel's football history.

Presbyterian's only threat came in the third period when the Hose got the ball on Citadel's 14 after recovering a fumble. Four plays later the Citadel regained control on its 18.

The first two Citadel scores contrasted sharply. The initial Bulldog tally, by Whaley, climaxed an 82-yard drive that required 16 plays. The record score resulted from Eastburn's 82-yard gallop.

Jon Vastine's punt for PC was blocked in the second period by John Roff. Mura then grabbed the ball in the air and sped 32 yards for a touchdown. End Bill Gilfo then missed his first conversion of the season after 12 successful boots.

Presbyterian's best first half advance was to the Citadel's 47. The final touchdown ,in the third period, came in a hurry. A four play drive carried 66 yards. Sixty-four of the yards came on three of Nettles' pass completions.

Eastburn, with 90 yards in six carries, led the ball carriers. PC's best was Billy Benton, with 26 yards in seven rushes.

The Citadel picked up 21 first downs to 4 for Presbyterian and balanced its attack effectively. The rushing game netted 185 yards and 13 pass completions. In 20 attempts they added 212 yards. The Citadel brought its record for the season to 5-1-1 with a convincing performance that netted 397 yards against 77 for the Blue Hose. Coach Eddie Teague used four teams in rolling up the 27-0 victory.

Intramural Football Nears Season Finish

By Jerry Chitty

The 1960 Intramural football season draws near to the much awaited climax. This year's gridiron has even proved better than the '59 campaign. This improvement is largely due to the increased number of independent teams participating this fall.

Many exciting games have been witnessed by Intramural enthusiasts with another thrilling week of action left. At present, Sigma Nu holds down the number one position, boasting a 5-0 record. Pete Yearout's consistency in every game has carried a large part of the load for the Sigma Nu's. Joe Davis' line play along with John McIntosh's deadly pair of hands at the end position also tend to make the boys of the Zeta Theta chapter rough contenders.

Jim Rakestraw's Doctors hold down the second place position. Their record reads as 5-1-1. One of their most important victories coming over last year's champion Pi Kappa Alpha. Jim Rakestraw, Jimmy Howell, Bob Waterman, and Mike Lay have been the stalwarts of this fearsome nine. The Doctors and Sigma Nu gridders will kick it off next week and anything could happen. Third place goes to the Pat Malone led Pika's with a 4-1-1 record. Pat Malone's passing and Paul Ard's receiving has kept last year's winners hopes alive.

Fourth place goes to the Ramblers, who are led by Robert Walkup and Lindsay Odom. With this combination the Ramblers have been in the running all the way. Their game Friday with Sigma Nu should be a thriller.

As previously stated, the end of the season is drawing near and rivalry is at its peak. Next week's games will tell the tale and everyone is urged to cheer their favorite team on.

Lettermen, Frosh Start Training

Three weeks ago the call for varsity basketball players was posted by Coach Musselwhite. At this meeting, Coach Musselwhite greeted eight lettermen from last year and three freshmen hopefuls. Returning lettermen are Seniors Paul Ard, Jack Williams, and Ernie Redd; Juniors Jimmy Rakestraw, Billy Ladd, and Jim Howell; Sophomores Joe Harvard and Jim McGuire.

The freshmen are Andy Karlson, considered by many as an outstanding prospect, Gordon Mayhugh, who played in Virginia, and Harold Holmes, a participant in the South Carolina All-Star game this past summer.

After the meeting the long grind to condition themselves for the coming season started. Practicing on fundamentals and conditioning exercises this early shows a desire by the team to improve on last year's record.

As Coach Musselwhite takes over the reigns as head basketball coach, he will attempt by all means to better the rather dismal record posted by the Blue Hose during the 1959 campaign. Experience received by team members during last season should prove to be the most beneficial factor in this year's offense. The position left open by star forward Bob Stratton, who was lost by graduation, will be the hardest to fill by this year's squad.

Marksmen Win First Encounter

The Presbyterian College rifle team won its first match of the season against Georgia State College. The score was 1380-1310 for the Blue Stocks. Firing for PC were Bill Harris, Robert St. Clair, Rollin Butler, Kent Mitchell, Don Lohman, and Ben Margolius.

The top scores for PC were fired by Harris and St. Clair. They were 286 and 279, respectively. The top scores for Georgia State were 278 and 269 fired by White and Askew.

This match was a postal match. The scores were fired on each team's home range and the results mailed.

Leland Vaughan . . .

Behind the Blues

As the Presbyterian Blue Hose returned to the gridiron last Saturday after a two weeks layoff they were handed their worst defeat since the 34-0 drubbing in 1958 by the same Citadel Bulldogs. After the Blue Hose showed much improvement in defeating rival Wofford they returned to the practice field the following week only to face three full weeks of long, dull practice sessions before returning to action. It seems only to detract from the spirit making forces which are essential for a winning team. In future years we feel that a definite effort should be made to better arrange our schedule.

Last Saturday's game in Charleston marked the end to a bitter rivalry of many years between the Citadel Bulldogs and the Blue Hose of PC. Not since 1954 when PC edged the Citadel 20-0 have the Blue Hose been able to return victorious from the Cadet-filled Johnson Hagood Stadium. Regardless of the Citadel's appearance on future Presbyterian College schedules they will surely remain rivals at mind to all that remain faithful to the home forces.

The Catawba Indians will furnish competition for the Blue Hose in Salisbury, N. C., this Saturday. PC, who will be led by offensive star Bill Hill and defensive stalwart Jon Vastine, will be seeking to even their 2-3 record to date. Catawba, playing on its home field will enter the game as 15 point underdogs, but they will furnish plenty of tough competition in seeking to better their own record.

Taking a quick look at the other Little Three Conference members we find that Newberry possesses a 3-4 record to date and will face the Elon Christians this weekend. The Wofford Terriers, who are idle this weekend, hold the best Little Three record, that being an even 3-3 mark.

The new head basketball mentor, Coach Musselwhite, gave the call to all basketball hopefuls on October 15. Eight lettermen and three freshmen hopefuls make up the squad which has been practicing daily for the past three weeks. It is reported that freshman Andy Karlson of New York City, is showing signs of being a top contender in varsity action this season.

Intramural Standings

	W	L	T	R
Sigma Nu	5	0	0	3
"Doctors"	5	1	1	1
Pi Kappa Alpha	5	1	1	1
"Ramblers"	5	2	0	1
Pi Kappa Phi	4	4	0	0
"Cyclones"	2	4	2	0
"Goof Offs"	1	5	2	0
Alpha Sigma Phi	1	6	1	0
Kappa Alpha	1	6	1	0

SCHEDULE FOR NEXT WEEK

Tuesday, 4:15—Sigma Nu vs Pi Kappa Alpha.

Wednesday, 4:15—Sigma Nu vs "Doctors."

WPCC
Your Music and News Station
Clinton, S. C.

Lindsey Odom of the Ramblers moves swiftly downfield as the KA's Bill Wilkes closes fast during intramural action.—(Staff photo by Carmichael)

GALLMAN'S BARBER SHOP
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Sunshine Cleaners
W. Florida St. — Phone 436
Quality Cleaning and Shirt Laundry
WE REPAIR SHOES
We Offer a "Fluff Dry" Bundle

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team. U.S. Air Force

MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY
AVIATION CADET INFORMATION SC910
DEPT. Dept.
BOX 7608, WASHINGTON 4, D. C.

I am between 17½ and 26½ years old, a citizen of the United States and graduate, or will graduate before I can enter flying training, from college. Please send me your booklet and application form.

NAME
ADDRESS
CITY
COUNTY STATE

Mr. L. V. Powell ended thirteen years of service to Presbyterian College as dining hall and canteen manager on November 1.—(Staff photo by Autry)

Powell Resigns Position; Bowers, Madden Will Head

The resignation of Mr. L. V. Powell as Director of College Services, marked the end of a thirteen-year period of service to Presbyterian College. Mr. Powell will take over as general manager of Buck's Restaurant and Catering Service in Asheville, N. C.

Mr. Powell came to PC after a close association with the S&S commercial cafeteria chain and with Pearce, Young & Angel, wholesale food distributors. During World War II he served as instructor in the army cooks and mess management schools operated by the quartermaster corps. He also handled mess management in the Far East.

When the Korean War broke out Mr. Powell returned to active duty as manager of the massive consolidated mess at Fort Jackson and later became steward of the Third Army Headquarters Officers Club at Fort McPherson, Ga.

During his thirteen years in Clinton Mr. Powell has been active in both civic and religious affairs. He is past president of the Clinton Exchange Club, was county drive chairman for the 1960 March of Dimes campaign and has assisted with the local United Fund for the past three years. He is a member of the executive committee of the "Foreward" program of the Baptist church.

Mrs. Mildred Bowers, who has been dietitian and assistant manager of the Dining Hall, will become manager of the dining hall. The college store will come under the management of Professor John Madden, head of the Economics Department.

Letters

Dear Editor:

What happened to senior privileges?

In the past, seniors have not been required to attend chapel services. This has been due to lack of seating facilities in the old chapel. This year we have ample room in the new auditorium and seniors are required to attend chapel. This may be all well and good, but it can be readily noted that the number of chapel cuts has diminished to an all-time low.

In the second place, there does not appear to be any superiority in class absences. Juniors now have the same amount of class absences as do the seniors. Should the amount of class cuts be increased in behalf of the senior?

In addition, there is a flaw in the classification system which is a disadvantage to the senior. In this respect, some students that are seniors by hours and QP's, but have not yet completed the sophomore or freshman requirements, are denied any part of senior activity. In order that both the student and the administration may benefit, there should be a classification every semester: this classification being based on total hours completed and NOT on required work.

—Name withheld by request

(Continued from page 2)

PAPER CUPS

stand at the door of the Greek temple just before the rites start and there will be heard the cry, "Where are the cups?"

The cup deserves to be honored. There is no greater gift than this, that one gives his life for another. This the insignificant paper cup does. Treat it kindly.

Wyatt Chapel will be open on Monday from 8:00 a. m. to 10:00 p. m., and Sunday from 2:00-8:00 p. m.

Student Poll

Freshmen Differ On Ending of Rat Season

By Bill Gillespie

During the past week The Blue Stocking organized a poll to find out the opinion of freshmen and upperclassmen concerning the ending of Rat season. Below are listed some of the opinions of our students

Hoppy Hopkins—I don't think I just function.

Bill Frye—I was glad to see it come to an end because upperclassmen were beginning to show their laziness.

John Paul Jones, Jr.—Erp!

Bill Honey—I didn't think it was over.

Arthur McQueen—Anybody want to buy a beanie cheap?

Bob Waterman—Now I can save my dime each week

Tom Williams—Now I can satisfy date Bonnie.

Brad Campbell—I ain't stopped functioning yet

DuPont Smith—DuBose has bad breath.

John Elrod—I think it should be continued indefinitely

Alex Bosserman — Due to the unanimous censorship by which I am limited, I am unable to voice an opinion.

Everett Connelly—I'm glad it's over.

(Continued from page 2)

Tradtions Die

rats were not told that rat season had been terminated. It would seem that the freshmen have overruled the upperclassmen.

What has brought about this deplorable condition which could be a symptom of the end of a great PC tradtion? Quite opposite from their performance as rats, the freshmen this year are one of the best classes at PC in recent years as far as the caliber of the members is concerned. They are a friendly and likeable group, in this are keeping up another of PC's great traditions.

Could it be that the blame lies with the upperclassmen? They are the ones who control rat season. Why did the rat rallies fade away? Was it because the upperclassmen didn't care enough to stage them? Why did the other rat customs and duties become neglected? Could it be that the upperclassmen didn't care enough to enforce them?

Don't misunderstand me and think that I hate freshmen and to make their lives miserable for as long as possible. Such is not the case, I rather believe that rat season as it used to be is an important part of PC's traditions along with its victory bell and its fine tennis teams. It is more of an exclusive tradition than most may think. For instance, some recent student visitors from Newberry marveled at one of our rat courts poor performance that it was; they only wish that they had something like it.

I would hate to see rat season go the way our tennis fame seems headed. This does not require money to keep it alive—only some effort and enthusiasm on the part of the students. And, properly carried out, this activity is immensely enjoyed by rats and upperclassmen alike. I say lets all think about this and next year give PC a rat season that will live on, and inspire future classes to keep alive a great tradition.

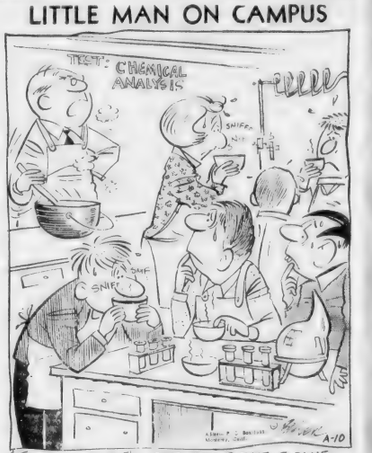
PC Sends 60

Students Attend Rally; Hear Richard M. Nixon

The activities of the "Presbyterian College Youth for Nixon-Lodge" reached its climax on Thursday, November 3, when 60 members of the student body attended the "Southern States for Nixon" rally at which Vice-President Nixon spoke.

After an introduction by ex-governor of Texas, Spivey, and James Byrnes of South Carolina, Vice-President Nixon attacked the economic policies and foreign affairs of the Democratic platform. The majority of the speech was an appeal to Southern Democrats to realize that the question was not one of the party or their fathers and forefathers, not the personalities of the candidates but the issues before the nation. Statements made by Senator Kennedy concerning policy and the Vice-President's stand were contradicted and the change in the Senator's attitude on several points as the campaign progressed were brought out.

This organization was started in late September with the election of Frank Forbes and Ben Margolius as Chairman and Vice-Chairman, respectively. Fred Meade was elected secretary - treasurer, and Jim Monroe was elected activities chairman.



Since then the organization set up a booth at the Laurens County Fair. This booth was manned by members of the organization, during which time these men handed out literature and debated points of the platforms and candidates.

In the two weeks preceding the actual elections an office is being maintained by the organization at which information may be obtained for all interested.

Class Cuts have not been obtained for all South Carolina students who wish to go home to vote due to the restrictions and regulations placed upon absentee ballots in this state.

It is regretted that there is not a similar organization for the promotion of Kennedy-Johnson. This would have stimulated student activity and competition.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"THE ONLY CLUE I'LL GIVE YOU IS THAT IT CAME FROM THE CAFETERIA."

BEA-IRC Debate

On Tuesday evening, November 5, at 7:30 p. m. the Business and Economics Association was termed "The Great Debate." The debate presented the business and economics policies found in the platforms of each of the two political parties.

There was a two-man team representing both parties. Worrel Kurts and Frank Forbes were the representatives of the Republican party. Joe Pracht and David Borland spoke on behalf of the Democratic party. Association president Doug McDougald acted as moderator.

A ten minute opening statement was heard from each party. After this, a six-minute rebuttal was aired on the remarks previously made.

The International Relations Club held a similar "Great Debate" on the foreign policies on Friday, November 4. Jim Monroe defended the Republican platform and Fred Meade defended the Democrat party platform. Ben Margolius acted as moderator.

From the "Great Debate" the members received a much clearer picture of the views of each party's platform concerning the fields of business and economics and foreign policy.

BROADWAY Theatre

Mon. and Tues., Nov. 7-8
JOURNEY TO THE LOST CITY

Wed. and Thur., Nov. 9-10
I AIM AT THE STARS

Fri., and Sat., Nov. 11-12
A DOG'S BEST FRIEND
...and...
THE RABBIT TRAP

HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Your Rexall Drug Store
ON THE SQUARE

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

Parents Day Highlights Weekend

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress
Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., November 18, 1960 No. 5

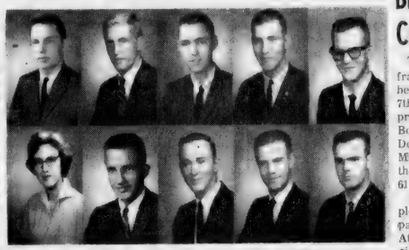
Who's Who Selects Ten Leaders

• Chosen for Work

By Byron Hollingsworth

This year, ten members of the Presbyterian College senior class have been selected to the national Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

The students recognized in Who's Who each year are nominated from approximately 700 colleges and universities. The student activities committees are instructed to consider, in making their selections, the student's scholarship, his participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities; his citizenship and service to the school; his promise for future usefulness.



The following seniors were nominated by the faculty for outstanding merit in their fields of endeavor during their respective college careers: Gay Maddox of Spartanburg; Paul Ard of Atlanta, Ga.; Rohe Eshbaugh of Louisville, Ky.; Richard Faulkner of Henderson, N. C.; Herbert Hammet of Hogansville, Ga.; Marion Lee of Hemingway; Lawton Rice of Kinston, N. C.; Maurice Schwartz of Laurinburg, N. C.; Bob Smith of Atlanta, Ga.; and Evin Varner of Bennettsville.

Gay Maddox is co-director of chapel programs for the SCA, past president of the Westminster Fellowship, past secretary of the SCA, a former member of the Sophomore Scholastic Honor Society, and a member of the PaC-SaC staff.

Paul Ard is Battle Group Commander, president of the Blue Key, commander of Scabbard and Blade, vice-president of the Business and Economics Association, was president of his sophomore class, past member of the Student Council, a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, and a former fraternity officer.

Rohe Eshbaugh is president of

(Continued on page 4)

Distinguished seniors named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" this week are, left to right: Marion Lee, Lawton Rice, Bob Smith, Maurice Schwartz, Evin Varner, Gay Maddox, Paul Ard, Rohe Eshbaugh, Richard Faulkner, and Herbert Hammet.

New Orleans Bound

Robed Choir Makes Plans For Year's Singing Tours

The Presbyterian College Robed Choir will present its first program of the season when it journeys to the Georgetown Presbyterian Church on November 20. On this same trip, the Choir will also sing in Ocean Drive and Elizabethtown.

The program for the 1960-61 season is "The Conquering Church," and is based upon scripture readings and sacred music selections. Again this year, spirituals and chorales highlight the programs.

The Choir is under the direction of Dr. Edouard Patte, who is in his fourteenth year as the conductor of the group, and will feature a double quartet which will sing three numbers, and four readers who will introduce each choral rendering with a selection from the Bible.

Thursday the Choir had its Dedication Ceremony, inducting the new boys into the Choir. This was a very solemn and meaningful ceremony in which the new members dedicated themselves to the traditions and ideals of the PC Robed Choir.

This year the Choir has scheduled trips throughout South Carolina, North Carolina and Georgia, with an extended tour through Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana. The Choir has also made a recording which is available to all. It may be purchased at the Administration.

The Robed Choir has been selected from the Chapel Choir. It includes some 29 men, including first tenors, Frank Sells, Richard McFadden, Jan Rhodes, and Tom Currie. The second tenors are Bobby Piephoff, Gary Millwood, Arthur DeYoung, Rohe Eshbaugh, John Neil, Mark Glenn, and Lewis Edge.

First basses are Dick McGaughey, Billy Piephoff, Richard Stanford, Brad Campbell, Tom Cook, Jack Greenwood, John Dickerson, Paul Layton, Buddy Varn, and Hugh Wilson. The second basses are Paul Woodall, Bob Morris, Wirt Skinner, Allen Freeman, and Wilton Hazelwood.

The readers for this season include Chief of Readers, Wirt Skinner, and Graham Edmunds, Frank

(Continued on page 4)

Pershing Rifles Bid Nine Military Men

Due to the late start of school this year, Presbyterian's Pershing Rifles unit is just beginning to get started in its actvities. Recently George Ragan represented Company A, Fourth Regiment, at the national convention in New York. He was also present at the meet at Donaldson Air Force Base.

The new officers have been chosen and they are: Harry McDonnold, Company Commander; Tommy Middleton, Executive Officer; Pat Malone, S-1; Skip Saverance, S-2; Sonny DuBose, S-3; Hexie McDonnold, S-4; Joe Davis as Platoon Sergeant; and Joe Clark as unit clerk. Cadet Master Sergeant DuBose will also serve as the Drill Instructor, and plans to drill the unit three times a week, on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday afternoons. He feels that through these drills the Pershing Rifles will soon be prepared to enter competition in drill meets which will be held periodically through the school year.

Tonight at the Parents Day game an Honor Guard selected from the Pershing Rifles will conduct the

(Continued on page 4)

Military Parade, Football Game, Drop-ins Top Schedule

Over 500 parents and other immediate members of Presbyterian College students' families arrived this afternoon to participate in the fourth annual Parents Day. They will be special guests of the College on this occasion, including a special supper in their honor and attendance at the PC-Elon football game tonight. The Parents Day program, originated at Presbyterian College in 1957, has been successfully received from the start. More than 700 persons attended last year.

Blue Key Taps Campus Leaders

The Blue Key, a national honor fraternity, tapped five new members into its ranks on Monday, Nov. 7th, during the regular chapel program. These new members are Bob Smith, Bill Ogden, Harry McDonnold, Don Dunlap, and Hexie McDonnold. The faculty advisor for the organization during the 1960-61 year will be Dr. John Stevenson.

Bob Smith was president of his pledge class as a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity. Smith is from Atlanta, Ga., and is majoring in Sociology. This year he is president of the Student Christian Association as well as Chaplain of the Ministerial Club, and vice-president of the Westminster Fellowship. Smith is Busines Manager of the Blue Stocking and a student proctor.

A native of Macon, Ga., Bill Ogden is serving as head proctor. Ogden is a member of the Junior Class. He has been on the Dean's List for the past three years, and is a member of the Sophomore Academic Honor Society. Ogden is a tackle on the PC football team and was chosen Little All-American and All-State last year.

The president of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity is Harry McDonnold, who comes from Asheville, N. C. McDonnold is S-3 on the Battle Group Staff, a Commander of the Pershing Rifles, and a member of the Scabbard and Blade. He won the Scabbard and Blade Award and the Hudson Award. McDonnold is majoring in math and has been on the Dean's List the past two years. He is a member of the golf team and Block P.

Don Dunlap, president of Alpha Sigma Phi, is a resident of Charlotte, N. C. He served in the past as an officer in the Ministerial Club and the Westminster Fellowship. Dunlap has been active in the ROTC program and held positions on the Blue Stocking.

Serving as S-1 Adjutant of the Battle Group is Hexie McDonnold from Asheville, N. C. He is S-4 of the Pershing Rifles and a member of the Scabbard and Blade. McDonnold is Military Editor of the PaC-SaC and treasurer of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. Majoring in math, he appeared on the Dean's List last year. McDonnold is a member of Block P and PC's golf team.

The Blue Key is an honor fraternity which recognizes upperclassmen for their outstanding leadership abilities, and general campus activities. Becoming a member of this organization is one of the highest honors a student can obtain at Presbyterian College. Over 120 chapters are located on campuses throughout the country.

The main purpose or aim of the

(Continued on page 4)

Chapel Schedule

Mon., Nov. 21—Devotional by Alpha Sigma Phi.

Wed., Nov., 23—Special Thanksgiving Service.

Fri., Nov. 25—Holiday.

Mon., Nov. 28—Devotional by Mr. Stallworth.

Wed., Nov. 30—Chapel Worship Service. Guest speaker to be announced.

Fri., Dec 2—Devotional by Student to be announced.

The Presbyterian College ROTC Corps of Cadets gave its first public dress parade at 5:00 p. m. this afternoon in honor of the visiting parents. Tradition was broken when the parade was held on the baseball field instead of the usual football field.

Commanding the Battle Group was Battle Group Commander Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Paul O. Ard, of Atlanta. Assisting him was the staff: Executive Officer Cadet Major Marion B. Lee, Jr., Hemingway; S1, Cadet Lt. Hexie K. McDonnold, Asheville, N. C.; S2, Cadet Lt. James G. Monroe, Jr., Latta; S3, Cadet Captain Harry G. McDonnold, Asheville, N. C.; S4, Cadet Captain Fred D. Clark, Laurens; and the company commanders.

Headquarters Company, Cadet Lt. Thomas C. Middleton; A Co., Cadet Lt. James W. Sease, Clinton; B Co., Cadet Lt. Douglas C. McDougald, Anderson; C Co., Cadet Lt. Patrick D. Malone, Atlanta; D Co., Cadet Lt. Charles H. Clayton, Marietta, Ga.

The College guests will be treated to a PC supper, after which all freshmen and their parents are cordially invited to the drop-ins held by the six national social fraternities represented on campus.

Presbyterian kicks off at 8:00 p. m. as an 18-point favorite over Elon under the lights of Johnson Field.

A special halftime show will feature the Monroe, Ga. Girls Corps, a 41-member music and drill unit composed of girls in the 6th through the 12th grades, which has received national acclaim. This group, under the direction of Wayne Shields, won the title of International Champions at the 1959 Lions Convention in New York, and has appeared nationally on television on several occasions.

Presbyterian's special drill platoon, under the leadership of Cadet Second Lieutenant John Gibson, will perform as part of the halftime program.

Battle Group Commander, Paul Ard, prepares the troops for the Parents Day parade and review. —(Staff Photo by Autry)

Activities began at 2:00 p. m. this afternoon with registration in the Douglas House and tours conducted by the Blue Key, a national honor fraternity.

The parents were formally welcomed, at 3:00 p. m. in the newly dedicated Belk Memorial Auditorium, by President Marshall W. Brown and members of the student body. Various members of the student body entertained the guests with specialty acts. This was followed by a faculty reception at 3:45 p. m. in the Douglas House.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Editorials

Smoke Gets in Your Eyes

Fraternity smokers are important! For the freshmen the absence of dates means that at least he may see the real fraternity. With the entire fraternity together, he should observe how they function as a team. The Freshman, alone, is the judge of the fraternity's sincerity. He must decide what is best for him.

It behooves the aspiring Fraternity man not to yield to pressure, but rather to picture himself as a part of the fraternity group. Only through thorough thought and analyzation will he insure himself happiness for four years of fraternity life. True, fraternities are a social organization, but more important they must be a brotherhood. Freshman pledges must become a part of this brotherhood or they will neither add to their fraternities or gain from them. Every man in your fraternity should be a close friend. Smokers provide too little time for a complete decision. Freshmen should now begin to seriously look at all the men in the fraternities which interest them.

Fraternities which use excessive pressure and emotions are only injuring themselves. It is far better to let the freshmen make a reasonable and rational decision. Remember, we are all supposedly mature men. Pressure a man into your fraternity against his will and you burden yourself with a four-year dead weight.

Music - Road To Culture

It has been called to the attention of the Blue Stocking that many students are not aware as of yet that the Community Concert Series offer each student free admission to all concerts throughout the season. By the contribution of these membership cards each student is afforded the opportunity to these presentations of fine arts series. Why not take advantage of this privilege to hear many of the world's foremost artists.

No Funds For Sports?

Speaking of emotions there was quite a bit of anger and frustration last Spring over the tennis incident.

As we remember, tennis was to be de-emphasized due to a lack of funds. However, if an alumni goal could be reached, the "Gentleman's Sport" would remain full strength at PC.

The Blue Stocking would like to print in the next issue a full report from administration officials, on the progress that is being made toward this goal.

It seemed improbable at the time that this goal would be met; however, enough interest was generated last Spring to merit a published report.

M. C.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR — JOHN CRAIG
BUSINESS MANAGER — BOB SMITH
MANAGING EDITOR — BYRON HOLLINGSWORTH
Circulation Manager — Raymond Humphries
Associate Editor — Norma Jean Weisner
News Editor — Fred Meade
Sports Editor — Leland Vaughn
Feature Editor — Howard Gordon
Copy Editor — Bob Waterman
Military Editor — Jim Monroe
Intramural Editor — Jerry Chitty
Fraternity Editor — Bill Matthews
Photographers — Roy Autry, Richard Stanford, Bill Carmichael
News Staff — Beverly Boyer, Arthur DeYoung, Rebecca Earnest, Bill Gillespie, Gerald Pitts, Dupont Smith, Tom Griffin, Raymond Humphries, Lewis Edge, Howard Bell, Tom Currie and Ford Henley

Was It Tappin' Or Just Slappin'

By Saunders Reed

Hey there Turnip-Diggers! This here is yore ole fren Kentucky Klem. At this time, an till grades is figgered, ah'm at collidge, nestled here mongst the foothills o' the Piedmont — whatever that is — a-tryin to git a edjocation, though ah doesn't really need one. Wal suh, this here edjocation stuff shore do cause a feller to lose a terrible mount o' sleep. Long bout a Friday morning a couple weeks ago, all us students was herded into the new department sto—Belk Auditorium Co., whoever Mr. Auditorium is. But this here store don't have no counters yet, cause they still ain't got the floor level. So thy's got seats a sittin in there in place o' th counters.

Anyways we was a listenin to these guys talk in there. But when they got thru, there was a few o' us kinda gittin a lil extrie sleep. Now at this time—an ah ain't akiddin so help me—them there curtains ahind them boys was rent assunder, ripped away ah tell ya. An there sat some boys a lookin out over that vast audience sembled together. They seed right off there was some people a sleepin awright.

(Continued on page 4)

Letters

Dear Editor,

An old tradition has not died! But a new tradition may have been born! I write this in defense of the 1960 freshman control board and the class of 1964.

This year rat season ran for a total of seven weeks. The same length as rat season of last year. It ran for seven weeks because the freshman control board felt seven weeks was sufficient time to indoctrinate the class of '64. The members of the board were not out to establish a time record for rat season. Our purposes were to help incoming freshmen adjust to college life, to develop in them a high sense of honor, and to create pride in their class and in this institution. It was not our purpose to enslave the freshman class to the upperclassmen.

You know, rat season actually shows us many things about the upperclassmen. It causes the upperclassmen to divide into three categories. In the first category we find upperclassmen who carry out rat season in the correct manner, a manner which lets the season benefit the freshmen as well as provide entertainment for the student body. In the second category we have the upperclassmen who do nothing but view rat season. They accept it as something that must happen, but take very little, if any, interest in what happens. The third category consists of the upperclassmen who have never had very much authority and relish having power for a change. They enjoy being "king of the hill during rat season. These are the upperclassmen who hate to see rat season end. They don't hate to see it end because of any love for the freshman, or because of any interest in the death of an old tradition dying. They hate to see it end because their days of authority are through. They are no longer "Mr. So and So" to the freshman. They are just another face on the campus. Luckily very few of our upperclassmen fall into this last category.

I don't think any tradition is dying here at Presbyterian. There is more emphasis being put on rat season as a time being beneficial to the freshman as well as harassment. No, a tradition is not dying, but instead, sir, a new one may have been born.

SONNY DuBOSE

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

ALPHA PSI DELTA

The sisters and pledges of Alpha Psi Delta met Monday after chape Tentative plans were made for the Christmas party, and plans were com pleted for the closed social at Lake Greenwood November 19.

Congratulations to new pledges Patricia Gay, Linda Traynham, an Ruby Lee Hadock.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Psi will welcome parents, freshmen and transfer students th evening at the drop-in in the fraternity suite on S. Broad St., and al following the game. A special party is planned for Saturday night.

Named basketball coach was Brit "Roundball" Spann.

Recognized recently was the Alumni Association for a furniture gi to the chapter. Announced in connection with this were planned suit improvements.

Due a round of applause were all of the "snowed" brothers an pledges.

Christmas Dance weekend plans, including a big Alpha Sig Talisma bust and the annual gift exchange party, were announced. Included i the weekend is a special dinner.

Another party for Thornwell children is being planned for the Chris mas season.

KAPPA ALPHA

Plans have been made for another big weekend by Beta Psi Chapte highlighted by a Drop-In Friday for all parents and alumni at the fra ternity house from 7:00 until game time and immediately following th game. All freshmen and non-fraternity men and dates are invited to th house Saturday night for a party featuring Sam Cooke and his combo The house will be open the entire weekend.

Congratulations are in order to the football team for their excelle playing this fall and especially to Brothers Bobby Joiner and Billy Ogde for their outstanding records. Congratulations are also extended to Broth ers Billy Ogden and Bob Smith on their acceptance into the Blue Ke Honorary Fraternity and to Billy Betchman and Doug McDougald wh were selected to the Scabbard and Blade.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Pi Kappa Alpha cordially invites all freshmen, non-fraternity me and their parents to a drop-in before and after the Elon game tonigh We also extend an invitation to our party Saturday night at the Legio Hut..

Congratulations to Harrison Clayton on his pinning Miss Judy Du ston. Brothers of the week were Kirven and Clayton. Pledges of th week were Mike Jarrett, Robert Kendall, and George Ragan.

Plans are being made for Christmas Dance Weekend and our Chris mas party at Thornwell.

Dream girl for 1960-61, Miss Liz Johnston of Columbia College, wi be on campus this weekend for the festivities.

Congratulations to Maurice Schwartz for being nominated for a Woo row Wilson Fellowship and to Paul Ard on being named captain of th Blue Hose basketball team.

PI KAPPA PHI

Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi welcomes all parents to our fraternit room for an open house from five o'clock until game time and after th game. Pi Kappa Phi has nearly 100 undergraduate and alumni chapter Chapters are geographically situated from coast to coast and from Ca ada to Mexico.

Pi Kappa Phi alumni number some 20,000 members who are loca ed in 48 states, the District of Columbia, and several foreign countries

Pi Kappa Phi was among the first fraternities to have a nationa scholarship committee. The fraternity's national scholarship averag ranks well above the all-men's average.

Pi Kappa Phi was among the first fraternities to use the system o chapter visitation by representatives of the national organization.

Monday, November 21, Beta Chapter is having an Alumni Supper create better relations between Alumni and undergraduate chapters.

Congratulations to our newest pledge, Pat Sudduth, from Greer.

SIGMA NU

The brothers and pledges of Zeta Theta Chapter welcome all paren to the campus this weekend. We are looking forward to having all fres men, non-fraternity men, and their parents at the fraternity drop-i both before and after the game Friday night.

We wish to congratulate the fraternity's football team as they fi ished first in the Intramural Football League by defeating the Doctor 21-6.

Everyone had a good time at the beatnik party that was held la Friday night. Thanks, Flash, for the decorations and poetry.

Congratulations to Mrs. Joan DuBose who was elected our chapte sweetheart for this year and to Brother Jerry Chitty who pinned Mi Verne Ray of Winthrop College last weekend.

Final plans for the closed smoker are nearing completion and tent tive plans are being laid for the Christmas dance weekend.

Congratulations also to the House Improvements Committee for t addition to the planter.

THETA CHI

On Wednesday night, Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi Fraternity ma final plans for Parents' Day Weekend. Beta Psi cordially invites all fres men and transfer students to come with their parents to an Open Hou in the Fraternity Suite in Neville Hall on Friday at 7:00 and immed ately after the game.

Plans were also made for the Smoker which will come up on Decem ber 1, and for Christmas Dance Weekend. Our advisor, Mr. Bob Hellam will return to the campus about December 1; he has been traveling f the Beta Club in the Far West and Southwest.

Leland Vaughn, of Sigma Nu, flits artfully between Rambler players during a game which helped to put the "Sigs" on top in intramural action.—(Staff Photo by Carmichael)

Season Ends

Sigma Nu Downs Doctors; Cop Intramural Football

The finish of the 1960 Intramural season proved to be an exciting one. This past week, three crucial games took place. The first game matched a flashy Rambler nine against the Sigma Nu's. The Ramblers, after a valiant display of hustle, bowed to the Sigma Nus 21-6. John McIntosh proved to be the Sigma Nu's decisive factor of the game.

Pi Kappa Alpha opposed the undefeated Sigma Nu's in the second game. A pass from Malone to Godfrey in the last 10 seconds proved to change the unblemished record of the Sigs. The Pika's, down by a 13-point margin with some ten minutes left, came from behind to be victorious 21-13.

Pressure was at its maximum as the Doctors faced Sigma Nu in the last game. Sigma Nu wasted no time shaking this pressure, with a pass from Rice to McIntosh by a lateral to Pete Yearout for the first tally. Rice then hit Yearout on a rollout to give the Sigma Nu's a 13-0 lead.

The Doctors wasted no time in the second half, with Jim Rakestraw scoring from some thirty yards out. Late in the second half Alex Bosserman snared a pass in the flat and scored the third touchdown, which clinched the '60 crown for Sigma Nu. The final score saw the Doctors downed by a 21-6 margin.

Intramural football is now officially over, and the intramural roundballers come into the limelight. Rosters for these teams are to be turned in as designated by the Intramural Council. This notice will be posted in the Dining Hall at a later date. Each group interested in entering a team is cordially invited to participate. The rosters, after being handed in, will not be changed. The notice pertaining to rosters will be up some ten days in advance of the first game. Anyone having questions or suggestions pertaining to basketball should contact Jerry Chitty or Leland Vaughn.

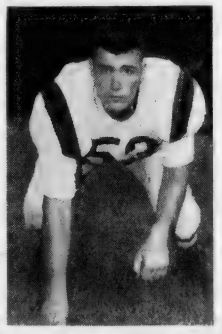
INTRAMURAL STANDINGS

Sigma Nu	7	1	0
Pi Kappa Alpha	6	1	1
The Doctors	5	2	1
The Ramblers	5	3	0
Pi Kappa Phi	4	4	0
The Cyclones	2	4	2
Goof Offs	1	5	2
Alpha Sigma Phi	1	6	1
Kappa Alpha	1	6	1

Hose Basketeers Plan for Season

The Presbyterian College basketball team will open its 1960-61 season December 8 in the Carson-Newman Tournament to be held in Jefferson City, Tenn. Two other tourneys, the Rotary Tourney at Spindale, N. C., and the Little Four Tourney at Greenville, will highlight the tough 22-game schedule which the Hosemen face this year.

In preparing for the season opener which is less than three weeks away, Coach Musselwhite has been putting the team through two practice sessions a day. The schedule for the season is as follows:



Dec. 8-10—Carson-Newman Tourney, Jefferson City, Tenn.
Dec. 16—Troy State Teachers College, Clinton.
Dec. 30-31—Tourney, Spindale, N. C.
Jan. 3—Newberry College, Clinton.
Jan. 7—Wofford College, Spartanburg.
Jan. 9—Pembroke College, Clinton.
Jan. 13—Belmont Abbey, Clinton.
Jan. 18—Mercer University ,Clinton.
Jan. 21—Belmont Abbey, Gastonia, N. C.
Jan. 28—Pembroke College, Pembroke, N. C.
Feb. 4—Georgia State, Atlanta.
Feb. 7—Erskine College, Clinton.
Feb. 9—Mercer University, Macon, Ga.
Feb. 14—Wofford College, Clinton.
Feb. 16 — Erskine College, Due West.
Feb. 17—Georgia State, Clinton.
Feb. 24-25—Little Four Tourney, Greenville.

Tackle Billy Ogden, Athlete and Scholar

An All-American football performer who makes top academic grades as a pre-medical student: that's the unusual combination found in Tackle Billy Ogden of Presbyterian College.

His precocious career is underscored by the fact that Ogden has played first-string varsity ball since midway of his freshman year while also wrapping his scholastic training here in three years. And the science courses stand as the toughest hurdles by far at Presbyterian.

Ogden made the Little All-American third team as a sophomore guard last year. Shifted to tackle at the start of this fall, he now bids strong for additional post-season honors at this position. Blue Hose opponents can vouch for the savage play of this 6-foot, 225-pounder who forms a swift-moving bulwark on both offense and defense.

BILLY OGDEN

Through the supreme effort of extra laboratory work and two summer sesions, Billy Ogden will qualify to enter medical school at the close of the current school session. He has been on the Dean's List of top scholars every semester and last spring was one of four students tapped for membership in the Sophomore Academic Society. Now, as a further mark of esteem, he has just been named to Blue Key national leadership fraternity

(Continued on page 4)

Turkey Day Classic

Blue Hose Tackles Elon Tonight; Victory Number Five Approaches

PC Scalps Indians Scuttles the Pirates

By Bill Ripley

Presbyterian, hitting on all cylinders for the first time this year, combined its rushing and passing game to amass 383 total yards rushing against East Carolina. But the 27-7 defeat was bought at the expense of hard battering to several key players. Bruises suffered then have slowed the early activity of Fullback Bill Hill, End Jon Vastine, and Halfbacks Billy Benton and Ronnie Hampton. It is hoped they will be back at full speed this weekend.

Hill added 41 yards to his rushing leadership to push his total yardage to 341 in 83 carries from scrimmage. He also made one circus catch and 4 other receptions to run his pass receiving figures to 14 for the year, covering 180 yards.

Halfback Jimmy May has moved into the number two running position with 219 yards in 53 carries and stepped one touchdown ahead of Hill as a scorer with 26 total points to date.

Halfback Hampton posted the season's most explosive PC win with his 67-yard touchdown gallop on a short pass reception from May last Saturday. He now has caught 7, carrying for 155 yards and has added 208 rushing yards on 52 carries. Halfback Benton, meanwhile, has run for 166 yards in 35 carries.

Continuing his domination of the PC aerial department is Quarterback Bobby Joiner, who now has completed 36 of 67 attempted passes for 400 total yards. His accuracy mark stands at 53.7 per cent.

The previous week, the Blue Hose chalked up another mark in the win column in their 20 to 0 win over Catawba. This encounter brought PC's record to three wins and three losses only to be changed to four wins and three losses last week.

All the members of the Blue Hose traveling squad saw action in this victory. The freshmen players on the traveling team played very well against the Indians in many of their first tastes of actual college competition.

PC has two remaining games: the Parents Day game with Elon tonight and the big Turkey Day classic with Newberry here in Clinton.

DuBose, Hill, Joiner, May Will Set Pace For Hose

By Jerry Chitty

Presbyterian College seeks its fifth victory of the fading football year when the Blue Hose entertain here under the lights tonight.

The game is a highlight attraction of Parents Day, and some 500 parents and other immediate family members of PC students will be among the spectators for the 8:00 p. m. kickoff on Johnson Field.

PC gridmen are given as much as an 18-point edge by the oddsmakers. It's based on the resurgent quality of the Blue Hose attack, which has scored 47 points in the last two encounters. Presbyterian forward momentum, however, could run head-on into an Elon team which also has demonstrated increasing strength in recent games after a slow start.

The Blue Hose can call upon one of their stoutest defensive lines in years to try to check the Christian advances. It is paced by Little All-American Billy Ogden at tackle and by End Jon Vastine and Guard Sonny DuBose.

Presbyterian, offensively, will mix the effective passing of Quarterback Bobby Joiner with the rushing onslaught of Fullback Bill Hill and Halfbacks Jimmy May, Ronnie Hampton, and Billy Benton, in an effort to keep the points clicking on the scoring register.

Big men in the Elon attack are Fullback Burl Clements, Sophomore Quarterback George Wooten, and End John Gozjack.

A special halftime show will feature the Monroe (Ga.) Girls Corps, a 41-member music and drill unit composed of girls in the 6th to 12th grades, which has received nationwide acclaim. This group, under the direction of Wayne Shields, won the title of International Champions at the 1959 Lions Convention in New York and has appeared nationally on television on several occasions.

Presbyterian's special drill platoon also will perform as part of the halftime program.

After the Elon game Friday, all eyes will immediately turn to the Turkey Day clash with arch rival Newberry. A win by PC would bring home the Little Three crown for the third straight year, but a victory by the Indians would cause a three-way tie in the conference.

The Indians will be led by Halfback Jimmy Lowder and Gael Harris who share the scoring lead in the Little Three. Fullback Richard Seastrunk provides another offensive threat although he hasn't equalled his highscoring parade of last year. Newberry, with a 4-5 record to date, entertains Carson-Newman at Newberry Saturday night.

Leland Vaughan . . .

Behind the Blues

As the leaves slowly fall from the trees and other seasonal changes are noticed we again realize that another football season is fastly drawing to a close. With only two games remaining this year the Blue Hose will attempt to extend their winning streak to five games and wrap up another Little Three Crown.

In the victories over Catawba, 20-0, and East Carolina, 27-7, the Blue Hose showed their most impressive offensive thrusts of the entire season. A very encouraging note shows that two sophomore transfers along with several freshmen have consistently proved their ability under varsity fire. This means that these boys will be around to help fill the vacancies created by graduation. Credit must be given where credit is due and the coaching staff surely needs commending for the fine recruiting job they have done in the past two years.

As the Elon Christians meet PC tonight it will be the fifth meetung of the teams. PC has won three and Elon has a lone victory over the Hose.

On Thanksgiving Day in the annual Bronze Derby classic one would be safe in betting his own derby, that Coach Howey Kirkland will attempt in every way possible, to spoil Presbyterian's chances for the third Little Three Crown in three years.

A little information as to the origin of the Bronze Derby relates that in the past a Newberry student stole a derby from a PC student. As usual this started quite an uproar between the two schools, so officials decided that a Bronze Plating would be put on this particular derby and the winner of the annual Thanksgiving Day classic would keep the derby for the entire year.

As we take a quick glance at the record of the past between Newberry and PC, we see that the teams have met 45 times. The Blue Hose have won 28, Newberry came out victorious in 14 and three ended in a tie. In the past every game in this series was hard fought until the final whistle and the majority of the games ended in close scores. The most lopsided score was way back in 1929 when PC trounced the Indians 54-0

Remaining in the shadows, so to speak, until the football season is concluded, the basketball team continues to practice daily in preparation for the season opener on December 8. Several reports from team members indicate that the team will be much improved from last year.

One of the most successful and interesting football campaigns in recent years closed last week in the intramural circuit. Rivalry was at its peak throughout the season and is expected to be even greater as intramural basketball begins in early December.

We are delighted to report that Coach Lonnie McMillian, who has been seriously ill for some time, is doing much better now and will return home from the hospital this week. To exemplify what we mean by true spirit and love for a school and football team, Coach Lonnie McMillian plans to attend the Thanksgiving Day game in a wheel chair If Coach McMillian is able to attend the game as planned, nothing short of a standing ovation would be in order for this great man of PC's history.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"OH, I THINK GOING TO COLLEGE IS GREAT—BUT DAD CAME UP LAST WEEK AN SAID IF I STAY TO HAVE TO TAKE SOME COURSES"

Tentative Plans See Zodiacs at Christmas

Rohe Eshbaugh, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, has announced plans for the Christmas Dance weekend on Dec. 9 and 10.

The weekend's activities will consist of closed fraternity parties Friday night and an IFC dance from 8 to 12 p m Saturday night at the National Guard Armory. Dress for the dance will be "PC Formal": dark suits for gentlemen and party or cocktail dresses for ladies.

The IFC has tentatively arranged to have Maurice Williams and the "Zodiacs", who recently released hit tunes "Stay" and "Do You Believe," provide music and entertainment for the dance Saturday night. This arrangement may be subject to change, however.

The cost of tickets will be determined when it is definitely known who will play for the dance. All fraternity men, new pledges included, will be assessed for tickets through their fraternities while non-fraternity men will be able to obtain tickets from IFC representatives after the Thanksgiving holidays.

BROADWAY Theatre
MON. - TUES. - WED.
November 21-22-23
Song Without End
Dirk Bogarde as Franz Liszt
With Genevieve Page
And Introducing CAPUCINE
THUR. - FRI. - SAT.
November 24, 25, 26
North to Alaska
John Wayne, Stewart Granger,
Ernie Kovacs, Fabian
And Glamorous Capucine

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night"

HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Your Rexall Drug Store
ON THE SQUARE

(Continued from page 1)

Who's Who At PC

the Inter-Fraternity Council and of the Robed Choir, past president of the International Relations Club, president of his freshman class, treasurer and vice-president of the Ministerial Club, SCA cabinet member, and spring intramural chairman, a member of Alpha Sigma Phi, fraternity officer, and Blue Key.

Richard Faulkner is vice-president of the student body, vice-president of SCA, a member and past president of Pi Kappa Phi, treasurer of his sophomore class, and a member of the Blue Key.

Herbert Hammet is editor of the 1961 PaC-SaC, treasurer of the Blue Key ,a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, and former fraternity officer, and former officer of Westminster Fellowship.

Marion Lee is the business manager of the 1961 PaC-SaC, executive officer of the ROTC Battle Group, treasurer of Scabbard and Blade, a former member of the Student Council, three-year member of the SCA cabinet, and a member of the Blue Key.

Lawton Rice is the senior representative on the Student Council, chairman of the honor court, intramural sports co-chairman for the SCA, a member of Sigma Nu, a fraternity officer and former IFC representative, and a member of the Blue Key.

Maurice Schwartz is president of the student body, a Dean's List student, IFC representative, former managing editor of the Blue Stocking, former member of the freshman control board, a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, and a member of the Blue Key.

Bob Smith is president of the Student Christian Association, business manager of the Blue Stocking, was former vice-president of Westminster Fellowship, a member of Kappa Alpha Order and the Blue Key.

Evin Varner is editor of the Knapsack, secretary of the Blue Key, a member of the SCA cabinet, a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, past editor of the Blue Stocking, and past president of IFC.

(Continued from page 2)

Tappin' or Slappin'

So one of them boys on the stage, he got up and went to th speakin podium. He slapped his hand on the top o' that stand wif a clap. But not a one awaked. So another boy, he rose up and walked down into the vast audience, to and fro he wandered mongst the rows o' seats a lookin for a sleepin student. Wal suh, when he foun one, he snuck up ahind him and slapped him on the suhloders so hard he couldn't a slept even if he'd been dead.

But that ain't all he did, no suh. He made that boy go back up on thet stage wif him, an imbarrassed him in front o' all fer gettin a lil drowsy. Wal they did this same thing five time, til they was satisfied all was awake. Ah'm a tellin ya, it's a gittin so a feller cain't even git a lil rest these days wifout the whole world a known bout it.

After thet business was done, an we was outside agin, one o' my buddies tol me what was a going on was a tappin ceremony, but ah jest looked at him and tol him thet couldn't nobody tell me thet wasn't SLAPPIN stead o' tappin.

Wal, guess ah betta stop this here letta ritin and study a lil in mah fureighn book—English For Today.

Yer good fren,
K. K.

(Continued from page 1)

Blue Key Members

Blue Key is to act as a middleman between the students and the administration, to work with the administration and faculty, and to coordinate student activities. Members of the Blue Key promote and stimulate interest for the betterment of the College as a whole.

Over the past few years the chapter at Presbyterian College has tried to better and to strengthen the relationship between our school and other schools in this area. This has been accomplished through the exchange of chapel programs and other activities.

In 1959 the proctor system was achieved through a poll of the students, which was sponsored by the Blue Key. Each year the organization joins with health and civic organizations to sponsor such things as flu shots and chest x-rays which are made available to all students.

(Continued on page 4)

Pershing Rifles

flag-raising ceremony. Also in the future plans are hopes of participating in Christmas parades, and attending drill meets held by the regiment. The Regimental Staff from Clemson, which is headquarters for the Fourth Regiment, is expected on campus during the coming week to assist the staff in fundamental details.

This week nine men were given bids to join the Pershing Rifles: They are: Bill Bartee, Alex Bosserman, Fred Brown, John Dickerson, Grif Helwig, Harold Hope, ,Lewis Powell, Paul Woodall, and Pete Yearout. These men are all sophomores with at least a 1.8 over-all average and a C in military science.

It is felt that all those receiving bids will see fit to join the unit and this should give PC's Pershing Rifles a very good boost. All these men were selected because they appeared to be excellent material for the unit. Plans are now being made to pledge freshmen after first semester.

Blue Stocks Fired Today

The Presbyterian College Rifle Team opened its home season against Wofford today at 1 o'clock. This was the Blue Stocks' second match of the 1960-61 season. They will be looking for their first shoulder match win, having fallen 1366-1389 against host Furman in the first match of the season.

In addition to the shoulder matches, the Blue Stocks also fire postal matches during the year. They won their second postal match against Westminster and Florida Southern last Friday. The score was PC—1400; Florida Southern—1387; and Westminster—1367.

Scabbard and Blade Taps Ten Cadets

K Company, Tenth Regiment of the Scabbard and Blade, the honor fraternity for advance military students, tapped nine men members into their ranks on Thursday, November 10. These men were Dick Faulkner, Herb Hammet, Wayne Godfrey, Bill Betchman, Douglas McDougald, Harry and Hexie McDonnold, Fred Clark and Pat Malone. After the formal initiation on Monday, a short meeting was held at which Billy Betchman was elected military ball chairman.

Planning has already begun on the annual Military Ball, to be held on March 3, 1961. The Scabbard and Blade are in full charge of Military Ball proceedings, but it is only through the complete cooperation of the corps that the job can be done.

This year there will be an assessment of $3.00 per man. Assessments started this week and total collections should be completed by Christmas.

Alumni Association Cites Local Leader

Hugh L. Eichelberger, Sr., Clinton business leader, is the recipient of Presbyterian College's 1960 Alumni Service Award.

He was chosen at a recent meeting of the PC Alumni Association board of directros for this award presented annually to the alumnus who has rendered outstanding service to Presbyterian College.

The directors cited Eichelberger for his long years of devoted service to the institution and more specifically for his unique role as an ambassador of goodwill in cementing the bonds of mutual esteem between Presbyterian College and the City of Clinton.

A 1921 graduate of PC, Hugh Eichelberger served the school as an assistant coach earlier in his career ,then as trustee, and has been a top-selling special agent with the New York Life Insurance Company since graduation. He was mayor of Clinton, 1955-57, and currently holds the position of executive vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce.

(Continued from page 3)

OGDEN

by the local campus chapter

A native of Macon, Ga., Ogden entered Presbyterian College as a freshman in 1958 and within two months had nailed down first-unit guard spot on the PC varsity. His stardom last year brought not only the Little All-American honor but also his selection on the All-Chemical All-American team.

Brains and brawn take equal billing in PC's Bill Ogden, who shines as brightly over a test tube as he does in jarring the teeth of opposing ball-carriers.

(Continued from page 1)

Robed Choir

Sells, and Paul Woodall. As the tradition is, the Double Quartet has some twelve members: Frank Sells, Richard McFadden, Jan Rhodes, Bobby Piephoff, Gary Millwood, Arthur DeYoung, Dick McGaughey, Billy Piephoff, Richard Stanford, Paul Woodall, Bob Morris, and Wirt Skinner. This group was heard this afternoon performing for the Parents Day program.

Dr. Patte assumed direction of the Choir upon joining the PC faculty in 1947, and since that time he has taken the group over thousands of miles throughout the Southland and has directed over 500 concerts. He has brought the PC Robed Choir to a place of eminence in the field of choral sacred music performed by college organizations.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

BEVERLY WOLFF

Mezzo-Soprano Star Here November 29

By Rebecca Earnest

The Metropolitan Opera mezzo-soprano star, Beverly Wolff, will appear in concert on Tuesday, November 29, at Belk Memorial Auditorium. This will be the highlight of the 1960-61 Community Concert Series.

When Beverly Wolff won the Philadelphia Orchestra Youth Contest in 1952, Conductor Eugene Ormandy immediately engaged her as soloist with the Philharmonic. Not only in the Quaker City, but in New York, her debut was a brilliant success, and she was instantaneously singled out as an exciting new mezzo-soprano star.

Following the example of her older brothers and sisters, Miss Wolff began the study of a musical instrument at an early age, and later added vocal lessons. In 1946, in the Atlanta Symphony, its conductor discovered her versatility, and promptly engaged her as mezzo-soprano soloist for the orchestra's Christmas Concert.

It was then that she began seriously studying for a vocal career. However, this did not take precedence over the desire for a well-rounded general education, and she won a scholarship to the University of Georgia, where she majored in literature.

In 1950 Miss Wolff went to Philadelphia to continue her studies at the Academy of Vocal Arts, helping to pay her way by church singing, sales clerking, and baby sitting. Her career started to snowball when she won the youth auditions of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Headline-making followed with the nation's top orchestras, including re-engagements and recordings with the Philadelphia Orchestra. She starred with the NBC-TV Opera Theatre, in the television premiere of Bernstein's "Trouble in Tahiti," the New York City Opera Company and the Washington, D. C., Opera Society.

Married since 1953 to John Frederick Dwiggins, a certified public accountant, Miss Wolff is the mother of two very young sons. She feels strongly that her normal family life has helped her singing, and is especially indebted to her husband for his wonderful encouragement.

During the coming season, Miss Wolff will be soloist for the orchestra of Washington, D. C., and Atlanta, and will be heard in a number of recitals as well.

Personal, warm ,intelligent, and friendly, Beverly Wolff leads a full life both in and out of music. Devoted to her family and home, she also looks forward to each singing tour as a stimulating and rewarding experience, because she sincerely believes that, among adult American listeners, there has never been such an acute interest in good music as there is today.

BSU Hears Kirby

Hugh Kirby, student at Furman University, spoke at the Baptist Student union meeting last night on "Colorful Hawaii." Kirby spent this past summer in the 50th state as a student missionary. He illustrated his talk with color slides.

Following the program a "Hawaiian Luau" was served as special refreshments.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., January 13, 1961 No. 7

Edmunds, Hollingsworth, Meade Vie For Blue Sock's Editorship

Student Body Election Slated For February

Two fraternity men and an independent will run for the position of Blue Stocking Editor for the term ending in February, 1962. The leection, set tentatively for the third week in February, will see Byron Hollingsworth, Graham Edmunds, and Fred Meade vie for the coveted position. Candidates for the office of Business Manager will be announced at a later date.

Graham Edmunds is the present Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity

EDMUNDS

Corresponding Secretary, and under past editorships, he served as columnist, feature editor, and managing editor. Mr. Edmunds has served as secretary, and presently holds the position of treasurer and reader in the Robed Choir.

Mr. Edmunds said his platform would be "to re-establish the Blue Stocking on a weekly basis, and thereby attempt to regain the All-American status that the Blue Stockings of the past have held. I will build my staff around experienced staff members as well as introducing some new blood for the future. The Sock will continue to report the facts and be the voice of the students."

Byron Hollingsworth, Jr., is a rising Senior and a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity. Hollingsworth was a member of his high school annual staff and newspaper staff and acted as publicity director for the Key Club and Saber Club. He is now serving as managing editor of the Blue Stocking.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Hollingsworth said,

"If I am elected, the Blue Stocking will continue to be the voice of the students. This voice will be as unbiased as is possible to attain. Our publications are for the students to voice

HOLLINGSWORTH

THEIR thoughts, and the Blue Sock will continue to be so. My staff will be qualified students as well as some who will learn 'the trade.' I will return the paper to its normal weekly publication and its All-American rating."

(Continued on page four)

Alumni, Friends Of Presbyterian Contribute $53,175

A new record of $53,175.91 was contributed to Presbyterian College's annual giving program by alumni and friends during 1960, President Marshall W. Brown announced today.

He said this total topped the $50,000 goal and represented a sharp increase over the previous record of $38,644 established in 1959.

The number of donors also set a new mark by a side margin as 1,122 alumni and friends joined in support. This figure brought an increase of approximately one-fourth over the 766 who had given the previous year.

Statistics show more than 26 per cent of the PC alumni (814 contributors) participated with gifts totaling $30,952.12. These compared with 1959 participation of 20.5 per cent (644 contributors) and $26,470.

Contributions from 288 friends amounted to $18,773.09, while 20 parents of current PC students gave $3,470.70 in 1960.

The major area of designated gifts to the annual program found $20,339.42 earmarked for the Walter Johnson Club, alumni athletic organization. This total and the 736 donors also represented new records. An equal number of donors contributed the remaining $32,856.39 to the 1960 program—most of this undesignated—with many individuals making duplicate gifts.

Gov. Hollings To Be Honorary Member of Pershing Rifles

Governor Ernest F. Hollings will be initiated into Co. A-4th regiment of the Presbyterian College Pershing Rifles on January 17th. The initiation ceremonies will be conducted in Columbia, and will be attended by members of the news and television medias.

Governor Hollings was selected for the leadership he has shown, and the work he has done in bringing industry and commerce to South Carolina. Governor Hollings participated as a member of a drill team in college, and rose to the rank of captain in the United States Army.

The Governor will be appointed to the rank of honorary captain. This is the highest rank that can be attained by an honorary member. An honorary member will be selected each year according to a code of high standards demanded by Co. A-4th regiment. In the event no one has attained these standards in the eyes of the Company, the award will not be given that year.

Governor Hollings will be initiated by Pershing Rifles Commander Harry McDonald. He will be accompanied by Lt. Hexie McDonald, Lt. Tommy Middleton, Lt. Clifton Severance, Lt. William DuBose, and pledge officer, Lt. Robert Beddingfield. The Governor will keep in contact with this company by mail and frequent visits to the College. The Pershing Rifles anticipate Governor Hollings' attendance at the initiation of the freshman pledges during second semester.

The Governor was officially given the invitation during the Christmas holidays by Pledge Officer Beddingfield. Governor Hollings is reported to be pleased and interested in the invitation.

Registration for Next Semester Announced

The Registrar's office announces plans for second semester registration.

Registration will be held on Friday, February 3, in the library. Students will be admitted according to the following schedule.

8:30- 9:15—Seniors
9:15- 9:45—Junior X and Sophomore Y
9:45-11:00—H-K
11:00-12:00—T-Z
1:00- 2:15—A-C
2:15- 3:15—L-Q
3:15- 4:00—R-S
4:00- 4:45—D-G
4:45- 5:00—Latecomers

Registration materials may be secured from the office of the Registrar between 3:30 and 5:00 on Thursday, February 2. Clearance slips will be mailed.

Students planning to graduate in August must fill out senior information blanks, which may be gotten from the Registrar by request, before completing registration. Those students graduating in June should already have this form on file in the Registrar's office.

The Registrar's office announces the addition of four new courses.

C. E. 302—Christian Education for children and youth.

Three semester hours credit. Three lectures each week. Elective for juniors and seniors.

This course is built on a Christian understanding of the characteristics and needs of children

(Continued on page four)

Alumni Elect New Officers; Trustees Appoint Stewart

Presbyterian College alumni have elected a new trustee representative and seven new officers to serve the PC Alumni Association for the coming year, it was announced today.

J. Wilton Stewart, of Fountain Inn, has been named one of three alumni representatives to the board of trustees, to succeed James H. Wilson, of Fayetteville, N. C., in a three-year term. A member of the Class of 1930 at Presbyterian College, Stewart is president of the Stewart Supply Company of Greenville and Spartanburg.

The mail ballot vote of former PC students also chose these men to begin serving immediately as leaders of the Alumni Association:

a partner of the H. D. Payne Company, to be president-elect. He succeeds Dill D. Beckham, of Columbia, who automatically moved up to become president of the association. Brice was graduated in the Class of 1916: Beckman, in 1930.

J. Hewlette Wasson, of Laurens, Laurens County probate judge and attorney-at-law, becomes vice-president. A 1938 graduate of PC, he succeeds Dr. Delmar Rhame '26 of Clinton in this capacity.

The Rev. Neil E. Truesdell '31, pastor of the Aveleigh Presbyterian Church of Newberry, is the new secretary-treasurer of the association replacing Brice.

Student Poll

Shall We Sacrifice Our Education?

During the past week, the Blue Stocking conducted a student poll of opinion related to the integration problem at the University of Georgia. Although many students refused to voice their opinion, we were able to secure the following statements to the question, "In the light of the recent conflict at the University of Georgia, should we sacrifice our education to keep integration?"

Billy Ogden—

"Education, to me, is of far greater value than the idealistic hope for the continuation of segregation .Yet, I can see the need of segregation for a sane south, is involved far more than just education. My vote is for sacrifice although I'm sure an education can be obtained without mixed races."

Jim Monroe—

"Thomas Jefferson stated in the 18th century that a nation of uneducated people could not exist free. By closing the educational system of our nation the problem of segregation has not been solved, but the freedom of the American people put in danger. Every man has the right to be educated to the best of his ability and should not be denied hsi right to freedom because of the color of his skin."

Alan Pitts—

"Sooner or later we are going to have to face this problem of integration. It isn't pleasant, but how many problems are? I think we must face today's problems today. Why leave a burden for tomorrow?"

Richard Ellis Faulkner—

"To sacrifice education for segregation becomes more of a lost cause every day. With the increasing need of higher education in the world, I am of the opinion that every man should have a chance to satisfy his quest for knowledge. However, I do believe the Supreme Court has overstepped its boundaries and that some action should be taken to limit to some extent the power of this the highest court in our land."

Richard Stanford—

"Integration, whether if for or against it, is a situation which is going to become stronger as time progresses. In certain Southern states it is going to be very difficult for mixing of the races to be furthered, but I do not believe that education should be hindered because of this. Our educational system is lacking too much at the present to let something else slow the mechanism of learning."

Sanders Read—

"Integration versus segregation is a subject deeply embedded in the minds of all Southerners today. Some would keep segregation even at the expense of education for our youth. Fortunately, these appear as a minority. To deprive the youth of our country of an education would be to defeat the very purose of most segregationists—to maintain higher standards among the populace."

Joe Harvard—

Above all, the education system should be salvaged, but I do believe that there is a better way that we could go about this."

Bob Smith—

"Since the only reports of the conditions at the University are received through the press, I personally have my doubts as to the serious mess of the situation in regard to the danger of violence on schools be left open. It seems sort of ridiculous to clined to believe that the majority of the students at the University had their feelings expressed

(Continued on page 4)

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Why Didn't You

This issue of the Blue Stocking is the final edition of the semester. It has been a good year and many changes have taken place on our campus, for better or for worse. We of the Blue Stocking have attempted to record accurately for posterity the events of the past semester and in doing this, have endeavored to give you the students a collegiate newspaper. Many have said that we have failed in this task; if we have, the weight of our failure lies on your shoulders as well. In the past both students and faculty members were given an open invitation to write or work for this newspaper, and yet those who are our biggest critics are the same people who have done little or nothing to help us.

We have appealed for "Letters to the Editor" and have tried to make the Blue Stocking a sounding board for student opinion; the response has not been overwhelming. We have printed many unsigned letters and articles, and not without criticism. We, however, choose to support those who wish to hide behind the cloak of anonymity because we believe that every individual should be accorded the freedom to express his thoughts without fear of incrimination and reprisal.

Our aim has been to publish a newspaper which will reflect the ideas and traditions of the student body, while giving service to the entire college community. No newspaper is any better than the students which it represents and, if apathy and lack of understanding exist in the student body, then these cannot but be reflected in the college newspaper. Perhaps the day will come when each and every student will rise up out of the dew and damp of indifference and take some active part in the college community.

Notwithstanding what has been said, the staff of the Blue Stocking would like to express its appreciation for the cooperation of the students and faculty during the semester. May next semester bring some new spirit and honor to our cherished alma mater.

Let's Think About It

Recently there has been some amount of criticism of the school dances, especially concerning the dance bands.

This criticism may be justified, but all too often those criticizing are not justified. A good dance band, or perhaps better worded to the PC students' conception of a good band, that is, a famous band, will cost in the neighborhood of $3000. Unfortunately, fraternities are either unable or unwilling to contribute for this price entertainment.

Last year the Blue Stocking proposed through an editorial that a dance committee be set up. The ideas stated in this article were somewhat impractical as later investigation by that editorial staff proved; however, the basic points stated then could prove effective. It was suggested then that a dance committee be organized, composed of two men from each fraternity and at least two non-fraternity men .For the first time this would give the independents a voice in the school dances. Technically, the term "school dance" would indicate that more than just the fraternities should have a voice on dance weekend affairs. The fact that non-fraternity men should have a voice is even more significant when it is considered that the student body is composed of at least two hundred independents.

A dance committee will in no way replace the IFC. It will only aid the IFC in accepting a specific responsibility.

Admitted this idea has gone into little detail. The basic idea, however, is due consideration, and we strongly urge the possibility of a dance committee be given research.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR JOHN CRAIG
BUSINESS MANAGER BOB SMITH
MANAGING EDITOR BYRON HOLLINGSWORTH
Circulation Manager Raymond Humphries
News Editor Fred Meade
Sports Editor Leland Vaughn

"The Moving Hand Writes"

"Drink! for you know not whence you came, nor why:
Drink! for you know not why you go, nor where."
—Edward Fitzgerald

Many years ago when I first began college teaching I made the mistake of asking my class to write a poem on a certain philosophical question which we had been discussing. Several days later, one of my students turned in the following poem. On first inspection it appears to be rather juvenile, and at best, a good attempt to shirk one's duty. However, upon clearer examination, it may be seen that this is a poem which exudes the many problems of today's college student. Here is the poem as I reviewed it . . .

"Here I sit with pen in hand
To write a simple ditty—
Inspired not, with naught to say
Ain't that an awful pity?
For now I'll burn the midnight oils
To scribble down a line
Of rot so bad a bale of it
Would bring me not a dime.
But 'Teach' has said it shall be due
Early Friday morning
So all the poets in the class
Might have their turn at scorning.
This thought in mind down goes the pen
What use to fret and toil?
O'er just a bit of useless tripe
That even time can't Spoil."

Gentlemen, rear your ugly little heads and lend me your ears, for I have come not to bury you but to praise you. In my long experience in life I have learned that the evil which you do will live after you, while the good is usually hidden by the grave. Nevertheless, I have come to save you from a horrible fate (more of this later) by bringing tidings of good cheer that among you has risen a prophet who asks nothing for himself but that you should lend him your ears and eyes.

Today we live in the status of the status quo, and you, you the members of the forgotten generation, must learn not to live and let live, but rather to stand up for what you believe is right. Take the voice of truth, and you shall hear, ah gallant patriots, of our fair college and may all your troubles be little ones. Be comforted my friends and listen to understand. Take warning, however, for should you turn the other cheek, I will be forced to slap the hell out of you, and the dogs shall eat of your flesh and the flesh shall be unclean and the earth shall be gone and all that is therein.

What of that horrible fate; there are many fates to be sure, but the menace is at hand, now and today. It has been said that there would come upon this earth all forms of being, beginning with the fishes of the sea and the mammals of the land. And now today we have evolved, and the man is woman and the fish is she-crab and all that have tasted of the sweets of happiness and sin are in danger. Whosoever has tasted of these fruits is guilty and he may be punished as Adam was punished for tasting of the first forbidden fruit of knowledge.

The beggars in the streets shall cry out: alms for the love of . . . alms for the love of . . . Be warned, oh men, that Judgment Day is near at hand and the power of the lords are great and many

The day will pass and new perils will come into our midst. Until that day arrives: "The Moving Finger Writes; and having writ, moves on: nor all your Piety nor Wit shall lure it back to cancel half a Line. Nor all your Tears wash out a Word of it . . ."

—J. Wellington Bickford
Name withheld by request

Letters

Dear Editor,

A lot has been written in the past few years about what is wrong with American Colleges and Universities. The main point which has been brought out is the statement that there is a lack of the grasp of the meaning of education on the part of the American student. This lack of understanding has been the basis given for the more advanced education level in European countries and, specifically the Communist na-

(Continued on page 4)

Looking From Chimney Heights At Collegiate Capers

By Howard Gordon

The breeze stirs up the dea leaves and a dusty haze slowly rises in the late afternoon. Th five o'clock sun puts a golde glow on the already golde leaves. And the thud of the acon hits in the dirty gray sand.

The shape of the acorn presse through the thin soles. He reluc tantly opens the old, worn doo and smells the grease. There i the clamor of pots and pans an the unintelligible sounds of th kitchen help talking. The dinin hall is empty of students. Othe students who work in the chow line carelessly grab their tray and plates and line up in th kitchen to get their food. There i the necessary joking with th

(Continued on page four)

The GREEKS . . . Have A Word

Edited By Bill Matthews

KAPPA ALPHA

KA's are all looking forward to the annual Wild West function to be held February 4. Plans for the Pledge projects are now under way. Newly elected pledge class officers are Jerry Blasingame, Chaplain, and Frank King, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Congratulations to our newest Brothers, Stewart Harvin and Doug Miller, who were initiated January 10.

Congratulations are extended to Brother Joe Harvard on his pinning of Miss Carlisle Caughman, and to Brother Pat Dorn who pinned Miss Jane Ballinger over the holidays. Congratulations also to the newly engaged KA's: Brother Bobbie Joiner to Miss Janice Martin, and Pat Kelly to Miss Tele Follin.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Plans were made for the "Roaring Twenties" dance for the new pledges February 8. Also plans were made concerning Founders Day Banquet.

We were happy to see Brothers Bob Waters and Ed Messer on their visit this week.

Congratulations to the pledges for their outstanding start in their pledge training.

Brothers of the week were Paul Ard and Walt Ferrene.

Pledge of the week was Jim McGuire for his outstanding performance in the Pembroke game.

PI KAPPA PHI

Last Tuesday night Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi elected its new officers for the coming semester. Thye were installed Wednesday night as follows:

Archon—Bill McElderry.
Treasurer—Gary Brown.
Secretary—Robert Sherrell.
Historian—Fred Brown.
Chaplain—Ken Davis.
Warden—Dick Faulkner.

Basketball started off a little slow this year, but we are looking forward to an explosive season.

At the meeting Tuesday night plans were made for a party Military Ball Weekend.

Over the Christmas Holidays one Pi Kapp Brother, Frank Forbes, was pinned to Miss Jan Donaldson.

Tom Elliott was elected as IFC alternate Tuesday night.

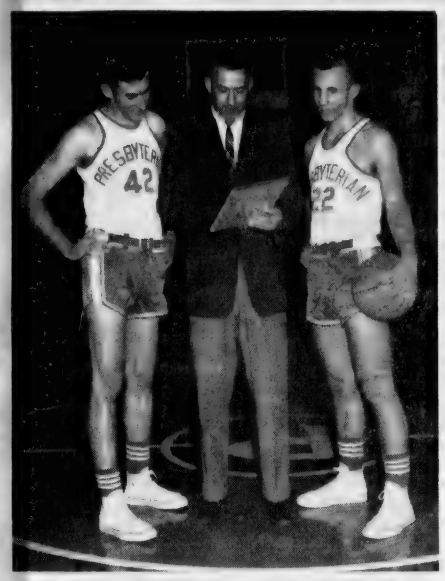
SIGMA NU

This is a very special year for this chapter as it marks the anniversary of a decade of years since this chapter was established on this campus. The anniversary date is the tenth of this month. To help celebrate this, and to continue as an annual affair, the chapter has planned a White Star Weekend to be held in April. Brother Vince Brown will head the arrangements committee.

Congratulations to the Sigma Nu basketball team on winning their first three ball games. Although the "Snakes" have gotten off to a very slow start, we expect to see an astounding comeback soon. Special mention should be made of graceful "stubby legs" DuBose for his outstanding play on the "Snakes" team.

Our new furniture was purchased this past week. We hope to have it in the house before semester break.

The brotherhood has set up a study hall for all pledges with low grades as part of the new pledge program. We hope to promote good study habits as a result of this program.



Congratulations to Raymond Humphries who was recently inducted as a pledge.

THETA CHI

Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi Fraternity made tentative plans at the last meeting for a party the weekend before Valentine Day.

Congratulations are extended to Brother Mark Glenn for pinning Miss Martha Adams during the Christmas holidays.

Officers of the pledge class were elected before the holidays. They are: George Beaty, President; David Perry, Vice-President; Arthur DeYoung, Secretary; Gary Millwood, Treasurer.

Co-captains, Ernie Redd (left), and Paul Ard (right), discuss strategy for tonight's game against Belmont-Abbey with Coach Musselwhite.

Mounting Rivalry Seen In Intramural Action

By Jerry Chitty

The 1961 basketball season is in full swing, with the offical opening Friday night of last week. Rivalry has already begun to mount, as this year's league is very evenly matched.

The first game on Friday night saw the Kappa Alpha five down Phi Kappa Phi, 48-34. Tommy Williams and Bobby Joiner led the winners, sinking 13 and 14 points, respectively. The second game matched Sigma Nu against Alpha Sigma Phi. The Sigs won this contest by a margin of 62-24. Vaughan and Chitty led the Sigs with 14 points each. Pi Kappa Alpha took the last game from Theta Chi by a 105-7 deficit.

Tuesday games were highlighted by the Sigma Nu vs Kappa Alpha. The Sigs won the contest 51-40. Bill Stone led the victors with 15 points. Bob Joiner pushed 15 through for the losers. In other games played on Monday, the Tigers downed the Riaders, 43-39, and Alpha Sigma Phi downed Theta Chi 69-19.

Action Wednesday was climaxed by a thriller, featuring Kappa Alpha against the Pi Kappa Phi. The PiKA's won out by a 40-38 margin, with Bob Collins leading the winners with 10 points. With a full slate of intramural action scheduled for next week the first Round Robin should be completed before exams.

Intramural Standings

FRATERNITY LEAGUE

Team	W	L
Sigma Nu	3	0
Pi Kappa Alpha	2	0
Kappa Alpha	1	1
Alpha Sigma Phi	1	2
Pi Kappa Phi	1	2
Theta Chi	0	3

INDEPENDENT LEAGUE

Team	W	L
Confederates	2	0
Tigers	1	0
Polecats	1	0
Raiders	0	1
Rambling Wrecks	0	1
Snakes	0	2

McGuire Shoots

Hose Get Victory; Face Abbey Tonite

By Bob Stevens

The Presbyterian College Blue Hose took their first victory of the season last Monday on the home court.

Jim McGuire, in a desperate heave from three-quarters of the court, rung the final basket to give PC a win over Pembroke 76-75. McGuire was the leadnig scorer for the Blue Hose, with 24 points. Pugh wah high man for Pembroke, with 24 also.

PC led the Indians from Pembroke the first three minutes, but Pembroke then took the lead and didn't relinquish it until the last two minutes.

McGuire, Karlson, and Hill played good floor games, with McGuire collecting the most points.

This is the first win for the Blue Hose in 15 games. They have already lost eight this season, losing two in the tournament at Carson Newman. In the Spindale Tournament the Blue Hose lost to Lenoir Rhyne and Wofford.

The Blue Hose have an 0-2 record in Little Four play, losing to Wofford and Newberry.

The Hose play Belmont Abbey here tonight.

Independent League Added to Basketball

This year's Intramural basketball league has been changed due to the large number of teams participating. The league is divided into two separate leagues: an independent league and a fraternity league, both consisting of six teams. There will be two round robins played. From the first round robin the top three teams from each league will be picked to make up teams for the second round robin. The tournament will consist of the winners league plus two from the consolation league. There will be one trophy given to the winners in the double elimination finals which will begin immediately after the regular season is finished. Intramural points will be gvien in the same manner as last year with 5 points going to the winner; 3 points for second place, and 1 point for third place.

Leland Vaughan . . .

Behind the Blues

"PC was one point behind, there were three seconds left in the game and then McGuire shot from deep back court." This statement has been the talk of the campus this week and it will remain in the minds of those who saw Monday night's game for many years to come. The last two minutes of the game against Pembroke State provided without a doubt the most exciting and unbelievable sports spectacle at PC this year. The fantastic 65-foot shot made by Jimmy McGuire was probably the longest shot ever recorded in Little Four cage action.

Aside from the thrills and excitement of last Monday night's game stands equally important the fact PC recorded its first victory of the season after taking eight straight defeats. The fine performances of Jimmy McGuire, who had 24 points, along with Andy Karlson, Bill Hill, and Jimmy Rakestraw, combined to place the Blue Hose in the victory column.

Newberry established itself as the number one team in the Little Four last weekend by defeating Erskine by the score of 73-55. Newberry has a 7-3 record compared with Erskine's 8-4, while Wofford is 5-8, and PC has sole possession of the bottom with a 1-8 mark.

NOTES OF INTEREST

The Big Gun for the Newberry Indians, Carl Short, took over eighth place in the nation this week among small college scorers. Short is averaging 28 per game and has boosted his career scoring record to 1341 points, which is the highest in Newberry's history. Regardless of the total points Short compiled in his last 17 games this year he will fall far short of the career total of PC's Dave Thompson, who scored 2195 points between 1953 and 1957.

Former PC quarterback Bob Waters visited the campus this week and looked in fine shape and condition after his first year in the pro ranks. Waters was tabbed as one of the most promising rookie quarterbacks in the NFL this year. Some kind of intramural record must have been set at PC this week when 112 points were scored in a 32-minute game, 105 of them by Pi Kappa Alpha.

Pigskin Action Brings Team Laurels

By Sonny DuBose

There were many stars among the Hose of 1960 and some of them will be missed sorely in 1961 as graduation cuts deeply into the Hose squad. One Hoseman who will be hard to replace is Jimmy Kolb of Sumter. Kolb was co-captain of the 1960 team (along with Hill) and displayed a tremendous amount of spirit and courage during his four-year stint. Although being slight of frame. Kolb was considered, pound for pound, one of the best ends in the state. Billy Benton and Hardy Ledbetter will also be missed in the '61 season as will be Hill, Vastine, Ogden, and the rest of the graduating seniors.

Despite graduation losses, 1961 appears to hold a bright outlook for the PC gridders. Although the season is almost eight months away, Coach Jones and his staff are already preparing for the '61 schedule. And there are rumors in the air that this schedule in '61 will be the toughest schedule ever faced by a PC eleven.

Our hats go off to the coaches and members of the 1960 Blue Hose team! And it was a fine team, fine enough for any PC'un to be proud of.

The year of 1960 was another good year for Presbyterian College's Blue Hose, and also an outstanding year for the Blue Hose gridders and coaches. With a dim outlook for the '60 season, Coach Frank Jones and his staff molded an experienced group of players into a smooth functioning machine.

Several outstanding transfer students and freshmen helped make this a big year for the gridders. Alvin Coley, Jerry Hammock, and Jimmy May, all transfers, proved to be worth their weight in gold, along with freshmen Paul Stewman, Randy Fitzpatrick, Art Williams, Bill Tyson, Frank King, and Louis Ridinger

There were many Hosemen present on past season honor teams, ranging from honorable mention to first string choices. Billy Ogden and Jon Vastine were chosen all-conference, all-state, and all-American, with Vastine also being named all-district. Bill Hill and Sonny DuBose were also all-conference choices as well as being chosen on the all-district and all-state teams, plus Hill being drafted by the new Minnesota Vikings of the NFL. Bobby Joiner, Keith Richardson, and John Gettys were also named to the all-conference team, along with Hammock, Hampton, May, and Bridges.

Intramural action this week saw players scramble for the ball during the Theta Chi-Pi Kappa Alpha game, while Sigma Nu's Leland Vaughn added to the defeat of the Alpha Sigma Phi team. —(Staff photo by Autry)

GALLMAN'S BARBER SHOP
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Yarborough Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
Phone No. 1

BROADWAY Theatre
Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 16-17
Psycho
Anthony Perkins, Vera Miles, Janet Leigh
Wed. - Thur. - Fri. - Sat. Jan. 18-21
Flaming Star
Elvis Presley, Barbara Eden, Steve Forrest, Dolores Del Rio

Concert Series Features Nationally Known Dancer

Paul Draper, who is recognized throughout the world as its foremost tap dancer, ranking above such artists as Bill Robinson and Fred Astaire, will appear here on February 3, at Beld Auditorium at 8:00 p. m.

For his 1960-61 tour, Mr. Draper will present a program consisting of numbers exclusively choreographed by himself which have gained him a nation-wide following. One of the highlights of the program, which has proved to hold a special fascination to the public, is Mr. Draper's "Sonata For Tap Dancer" in four movements, a dance without music in which the classical sonata form is used by the dancer with rhythmic themes taking the place of melodic ones.

Assisting Mr. Draper in this striking program will be the delightful American dancer, Miss Ellen Martin, who has appeared on television, and in shows on and off Broadway.

Mis Martin was born in Birmingham, Alabama, and attended the University of Alabama for a short time. She then went to New York and began a career in the theatrical field.

MR. DRAPER

Miss Martin became acquainted with Mr. Draper in May, 1958, and with lessons from the famed artist they began a duet. They were so successful that the Draper-Martin partnership was continued for the season 1960-61.

Mr. Draper was born in Florence, Italy, of American parents. He comes from a distinguished family of varied talents. After attending several different schools, he began a carrer as a dancer.

He began a study of ballet at the School of American Ballet, but he left his classes and went into the vaudeville circuit. He became a specialist in the art of tap dancing.

Mr. Draper met his wife, Heidi, also a dancer, during a performance of the American Ballet Company. They were married and have three daughters.

Since 1954 he has been in New York City conducting his own classes and doing concert tours across the country.

The following appeared in the New York Herald-Tribune as a short critique of one of Mr. Draper's performances.

"Paul Draper has always been able to dance circles around a goodly number of his colleagues in the entertainment field. Last night he danced circles around his previous record of dance achievement. Mr. Draper, indeed, enchanted us all with his wit and charm, caused us to marvel at his enormous technical skill, and made us gratefully conscious of his range of artistry."

When concert audiences of the current tour see Mr. Draper in his new program, assisted by his partner, Ellen Martin, they will enjoy a truly wonderful performance of tap dancing.

Collegiate Capers

cooks. The meal is eaten as a matter of habit. The checker walks out of the office and signals time for the student help to start work. Lazily the white coats and the paper hats are put on and the help walk to their places in the cafeteria line.

Some slowly, some quickly, some pleasant, some complaining, the students pass through the line getting their meal. The once empty and quiet room becomes alive with the mumble of voices, punctuated with an occasional laugh.

The last student comes through the line, and the workers walk back through the kitchen, hang up the white coats, throw away their paper hats, and walk back out through the almost deserted dining hall. The door slams shut with a loose hinge rattle.

The breeze stirs up the dead leaves and a dusty haze slowly rises in the evening. The moon, orange against the black sky, slowly rises .The leaves on the trees rattle as the breeze blows a little colder. There is the thud of the acorn as it hits the dirty gray sand.

The shape of the acorn presses through the thin soles. He slowly climbs the worn stairs and smells the slow decay and cigarette smoke. There is the clamor of the radio playing the top ten and the unintelligible sounds of the students in a bull session. His room is empty. His jacket is taken off and the chair is pulled away from the desk. Slowly the student sits down. In the distance, a clock strikes the hour as if its sole purpose was to signal the start of studying. The books are opened. The notebook is written in.

Somewhat slowly, somewhat quickly, somewhat pleasantly, somewhat begrudgingly the time passes as the courses are studied. The once empty mind now busily tries to comprehend. This comprehension is punctuated with frequent wanderings.

The last page is read. The study lamp is turned off. The student walks slowly to the shower and slowly walks back. The shirt and pants are hung and the socks are thrown in the laundry bag. The sheets are drawn up around the shoulders and the sounds of the dormitory cut off with the loose rattle of springs.

The breezs stirs up the dead leaves and a dusty haze slowly rises in the early morning. The seven o'clock sun puts a golden glow on the few remaining leaves. There is the thud of the acorn as it hits the dirty gray sand.

The shape of the acorn presses through the thin soles. He slowly walks down the steps. walks to the dining hall through the dusty leaves and sand. The grease smell is the same. The student moves through the meal with meticulous care, so as not to make any noise or to disturb himself.

Some slowly, some quickly, some pleasant, some complaining, the students pass through the dining hall getting their books. The silence of the exodus is punctuated by the slam of the loose-hinged door.

He slowly walks up the stairs to the classroom. The smell of chalk and oil meet the student as he quietly takes off his jacket and slowly sits down to be inoculated with knowledge. A bell beats itself to death signaling the beginning of the lecture. The books are opened and the notebooks written in.

The class periods press against the student. The lecture is cut off by the sound of the resurrected bell and the shuffling of feet. The pen is capped. The books closed. The notebooks put away. The student goes slowly out of class.

The breeze stirs up the dead leaves and a dusty haze slowly rises in the noon. The midday sun shines upon the brittle leaves showing their dryness. There is the thud of the acorn as it hits the dirty gray sand.

The shape of the acorn presses through the thin soles. He slowly walks to the dining hall through the dirty gray sand and dead leaves. The grease smell is the same. The students move through the chow line. They move to their tables. The mumbling rises to a dull roar. The laughter is more frequent. The pressure for a day is over.

Some slowly, some quickly, some pleasantly, some grudgingly, the students pass out of the dining hall. The hall is empty. The campus is empty. Only the beds are full.

The breeze stirs up the dead leaves and a dusty haze slowly rises in the late afternoon. The five o'clock sun puts a golden glow on the dead limbs and causes them to glow like the dying embers of a fire. There is the thud of the acorn as it hits the dirty gray sand.

The shape of the acorn presses through the thin soles. He walks slowly, he walks . . .

Twelve Hour Session For Summer School

PC will offer a two-session summer school which will run from June 13 to August 26, Academic Dean George Bellingrath announced today. A total of 12 semester hours will be available for attendance at both sessions.

This change was decided upon in view of figures derived from a student body poll. The poll showed 82% in favor of a 10-week summer school. Only 5% preferred the previous 9-week session while 13% wanted a single 6-week session.

Courses offered will be biology 101-102, Spanish 101 through 202, French 101-102 (tentatively), English 101-102, freshman mathematics, and electives in the fields of history, psychology, and economics.

Sock Elections

Fred Meade served as Member-at-Large on the International Relations Club Executvie Council and is currently vice-president. In the past three years Mr. Meade has served as columnist, associate news editor, and is presently news editor.

In entering the race Mr. Meade said,

"1. A college newspaper should bring the true story pertaining to campus news, but more than this it should reflect in its policy and attitude the feelings of the student body. This cannot be done by select polls on off-beat subjects.

2. It should at all times be on a college level.

"3. The staff should consist of those members of the student body who have a genuine interest in the paper."

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Registration

and youth, from infancy through senior high. It will seek to introduce students to an adequate philosophy of the religious nurture of these ages and will help them understand the most effective ways of using leadership and materials.

C. E. 304—Teaching Methods and Supervision of Christian Education .

Three semester hours credit. Three lectures each week. Elective for juniors and seniors.

The first half of this course will provide opportunity to develop skills in practical experience. The remainder of the semester will be concerned with administration, leadership training, and problems pertaining to curriculum planning.

P. E.—Recreation Leadership. Three semester hours credit. Three lectures a week. Elective for juniors and seniors.

This course provides the students with an opportunity for gaining knowledge of recreational resources and materials and developing leadership skills. It is directed toward those who may be using recreation in their work-community and playground recreation leaders, teachers, coaches, church workers, etc.

There will be one new course in the history department under Dr Jones. History 405. Historiography and Historical research.

Three semester hours credit. Hours to be arranged. Open only to History majors in their senior year.

Letters

tions.

Something greater is wrong with our educational system than strictly a lackadaisical atttiude on the part of students. Rather, I think that we, the students, are faced with the problem of the professors losing the meaning of education. Particularly on this campus are we faced with this problem.

Logically thinking, the purpose of going to school anywhere is simply to learn. Professors are to instruct, correct, and help the student. Examinations are to tell the professor and the student whether or not he has learned enough of the presented material to enable him to go on to a more advanced line of study.

It is not logical, that I can see for a professor to deliberately make up an examination which is designed to be above the capacity of the majority of students.

I am not speaking against a difficult examination. Definitely the test must enable the professor to see the progress of his class; and the test should be a challenge to the student. I am however, speaking against tricky questions, designed to trap the student, and tests on subjects far removed from or completely unrelated to the course. A particular objection is raised where there has been no previous class discussion or assignment on the subject matter.

If so much emphasis is to be placed on the grades of the student, I feel that he should be given a fair chance to earn that grade. Of all people to deny the student that chance, the professor who does so is a discredit to the teaching profesion. It should be the utmost thought in the teacher's mind to enlighten the students in his classroom. Outside of the classroom the responsibility, of course, rests on the student. In the classroom, however, it is the teacher's duty and should be his desire to help the student in any way possible.

There are ,of course, those who refuse to accept the help and knowledge of a teacher. These students, too, are certainly at fault. Where there is a case of over two-thirds of an entire class in the failing category, I would find fault in the professor; not the students.

Student

(Continued from page 1)

Student Poll

when a number of the student leaders presented a petition to the state legislature asking that the

"I don't think any of us have a great desire to me to sacrifice the education of thousands of students because of the unwillingness of the state to comply with the federal order. I especially sympathize with the members of the senior class who are hoping to graduate this year. To sacrifice education in order to continue segregation is living a hundred years in the past."

Bill Mathews—

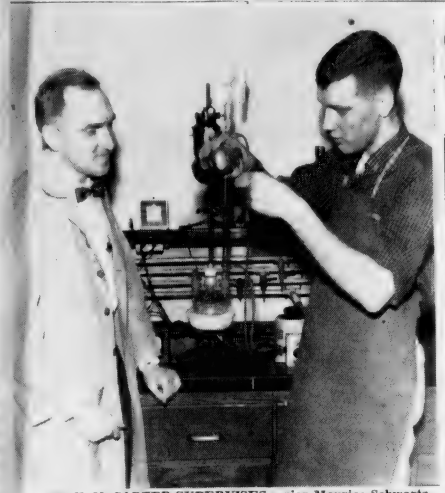
the people that do not choose to associate with have a Negro sit next to us in any of our classes. but I do not think that we would rather have such a case than not to go to school at all. A Negro interested in furthering his education at a large, all-white university could go his own way there and the people that do not choose to associate with him would not have to do so."

Norma Weisner—

"I cannot see integration in the high school. At this academic level, not only does the Negro have equal facilities, but in many cases better, particularly in the South.

"However, at the college and university level there does not seem to be many advantages for the Negro. If a Negro has the qualifications and a sincere desire for learning, I do not feel that he should be denied that right because of racial discretion.

"If there could be improvement of the Negro educational system at the college level, the situation may eventually be solved, provided the Negro is truly interested in furthering his education. The NAACP should strive in this direction."



Martin Chitty—

"These times are the most trying which America has known, not only domestically, but even more important, in foreign affairs. During the coming years we will need many scientists, engineers, lawyers, doctors, and clergymen, thus making education the most vital need of our nation For this reason I cannot see any justification for closing any educational institution."

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., February 17, 1961 No. 8

DR. K. N. CARTER SUPERVISES senior Maurice Schwartz in research on camphor derivatives. Bill Sease is also participating in the project which has already met with some success. —(Autry Photo)

Research Projects Engage Several Faculty Members

• Students Assist in Chemistry

Two of PC's faculty members are currently engaged in active research programs. The two men are Dr. John Stevenson and Dr. K. N. Carter, heads of the departments of English and chemistry, respectively.

Dr. Stevenson, who this week received a grant from the Presbyterian Church, U. S., will use his newly acquired funds to continue his extensive study of the poet, A. E. Housman. The grant will enable him to spend a period this summer at the Library of Congress, where he will have the opportunity to read and examine the original notes of Housman.

This particular poet has long been of special interest to Dr. Stevenson, who has published several articles on this subject in the South Atlantic Quarterly. Presently he is nearing completion of a book about Housman.

In the field of organic chemistry, Dr. Carter has done research at PC for several years and during the summer, except a period when he taught organic chemistry at Vanderbilt University summer school, as he will do this year.

His work, which deals with certain derivatives of camphor and the reactions they undergo, has been supported by the Southern Fellowships Fund, the South Carolina Academy of Science, and his current work is being conducted by means of a grant from the Research Corporation.

A good outgrowth of his work is that it provides opportunities for straight chemistry majors to engage in original research. Already two new, previously unknown compounds have been synthesized, largely through the efforts of such students as Ralph Chambers, now a graduate student at Vanderbilt, and Robert Almon, an August graduate of PC. Currently Dr. Carter is being assisted by seniors Bill Sease and Maurice Schwartz.

IFC Makes Plans For Dance Group

The Inter - Fraternity Council announced plans this week for a Dance Committee and listed dates for the second annual Greek Weekend.

The Spring Greek Weekend is set for May 12-13, with no all-school dance scheduled.

The dance committee will be composed of the new representatives to the council from each fraternity and three non-fraternity men. Independent men will suggest names to the IFC on Monday following chapel.

IFC president Rohe Eshbaugh explained that the purpose of the committee is to give non-fraternity men some voice in campus social life and to eventually lessen assessments on Greek-letter members.

The committee will plan the dance schedule and provide bands for big weekends. They will also work on financing plans, under auspices of the IFC.

Choir Will Sing In Clinton Sunday

Singing with the PC Robed Choir this Sunday morning at the Clinton First Presbyterian Church will be four new men. These men recently added are Dan Powers, Lynn Hudgens, Ronnie Seiple, and Alvin Coley.

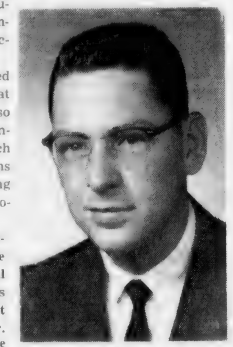
The choir season is now in full swing, with weekend trips planned for almost every weekend through the semester. This year's Spring Tour will begin on March 22 will also take the choir through South Carolina, Alabama, and Mississippi.

Graham Edmunds Wins Sock Post; Vaughan Named Business Manager

• Take Office Next Week

By Paul Ard

Graham B. Edmunds, a junior from Decatur, Georgia, won the position of editor of the Blue Stocking (for the 1961-1962 term) in a student body election Wednesday. Edmunds opposed Byron Hollingsworth of Tampa, Fla., and Fred Meade of Beaufort. Leland Vaughn of Greenvile, was unopposed in the election for Business Manager.



The election campaign marked the first time in recent years that the election season has begun so early in the spring. The campaign was an active one which saw the campus bearing signs and slogans from Judd Dining Hall to Belk Auditorium. The total vote was over 350.

Edmunds has received continuous experience on the Blue Stocking staff since his arrival at Presbyterian. He served as a columnist during the first semester of his freshman year. During the second semester he served as Feature Editor with a column devoted to current events on campus, to which he added his touch of humor.

He continued his sophomore year as Feature Editor, and became Managing Editor during second semester. During his tenure as Managing Editor, he substituted as Editor for Martin Chitty, who took a leave of absence due to illness.

Edmunds is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi and is serving as Corresponding Secretary at present. He also has served as Secretary - Treasurer for the Robed Choir.

Edmunds has named for his objective the return of the Blue Stocking to the Associated Collgiate Press Rating Competition.

Graham B. Edmunds
. . . takes Sock reins

He states that the paper will be a factual, humorous, and accurate acount of campus happenings. The paper will return to a weekly basis.

Pershing Riflemen Initiate Gov. Hollings

A delegation from Presbyterian College's unit of the Pershing Rifles initiated Ernest F. Hollings, Governor of South Carolina, into Company A of the 4th Regiment of the Pershing Rifles on February 14th in Columbia. Gov. Hollings was given the rank of Honorary Captain, this rank being the highest which may be conferred upon an honorary member.

Participation in the ceremony which took place in the conference room of Gov. Hollings' office, were Harry McDonnold, Pat Malone, Tommy Middleton, Hexie McDonnold, Skip Saverance, Sonny DuBose, Bob Beddingfield, and Captain Joseph Scott.

Plans call for the selection of new members for Company A in the immediate future, followed by practice for a Drill Meet to be held in Atlanta for all companies in the 4th regiment.

Ball Planned

The Scabbard and Blade has issued a reminder that Military Ball will be held on March 3. Non-military men who want tickets can get them from Marion Lee, Wayne Godfrey, Paul Ard, and Bill Betchman for two dollars. Dress will be military uniforms with white shirts for cadets. Non-cadets will wear "PC Formal." Dress for girls will be ball dresses.

Only S. C. Appearance

Ballet Russe To Appear Next Week

The world-famous Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, America's oldest ballet company, will perform on the Presbyterian College campus February 24.

This single performance by the incomparable ensemble of stars will mark the only South Carolina appearance of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo during its current tour of the nation.

The engagement is scheduled for 8:15 p. m. in Belk Auditorium. Tickets already are on sale at the college business office. Prices for students are $3.75, orchestra; $2.75, Parquet Circle; and $1.75, balcony.

This all-star company of 85, with symphony orchestra, is responsible for the tremendous popularity of ballet in the United States and Canada today. Annual tours have carried this troupe from coast-to-coast and into every major city.

Nina Novak—
. . . Ballet Russe star

In addition to its North and South American tours, the company has made numerous film and television appearances and has been recognized as the top dance attraction throughout this country since 1938.

A program made up of the finest ballets in the repertoire will be presented at the Presbyterian College performance. These ballets are "Swan Lake," Act II; "Nutcracker, Act II; "Pas de Trois Classique," and "Gaite Parisienne," to be performed in that order.

The Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, under the direction of Sergei Denham, is headed by these stars: Nina Novak, prima ballerina and ballet mistress; and George Zoritch, one of the most popular and well-known male dancers in America today, plus two lovely new stars, Helene Grailine and Tania Chevtchenko, direct from France.

Annual Blue Key Edition

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Waste on The Campus

The college plant is constantly growing. It is unfortunate, however, that much of the available space and facilities are being wasted.

Belk space goes unused.

The so-called "trustee" room of Belk, comprising a whole wing of the structure, is reserved for the rare meetings of the board of trustees. Its tables were taken from Neville, thereby ruining the only classroom conducive to discussion classes. This room could be effectively used as a meeting place for student groups, relieving the growing demand on the Douglas House meeting room.

The curriculum does not yet warrant complete use of the Fine Arts wing, but a single practice room should be equipped for student use.

One service to the students, which would use the auditorium more, would be campus movies. The cost would not be prohibitive and a small admission could be charged if fairly current movies were booked. A previous attempt at this, using Douglas House meeting room and poor movies proved very well attended.

An empty basement again.

The basement of the student center has made the transition from a completely useless laundry, to an unsuccessful cafe, to emptiness again. This space should be used—an additional TV room, perhaps, or an extension of the game room. The game room, housing only two ping-pong tables, is not used to the fullest extent. One use, for example, there is no place on campus for students to play a game of bridge.

Athletic plant wasted.

The college pool is often publicized, but seldom opened. Intramural teams are begrudgingly allowed to use the gym—that is, if a mill team is not playing. Students wishing to use the gym on weekends often find the building locked. The athletic plant is a fine one; and should be used to benefit all students rather than those few who are involved in varsity sports .

A study area needed.

The classrooms of Neville are locked—and wasted—most of the day. They could be made available to students for study areas. Douglas House was very considerately open late during finals and numerous students made use of this service.

The negligence of using the college plant to its fullest potential cheats everyone involved.

Handy Guide

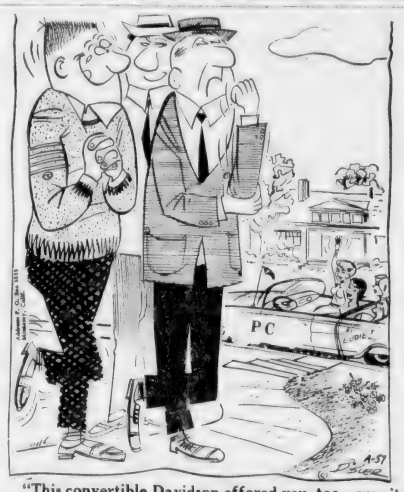
On Attending Small-Town Concerts

Concert audiences in small towns, at least in Clinton, are composed almost entirely of matrons in the upper social strata and their husbands, the latter who wish to God the conductor would drop dead. These ladies poor, blank-looking creatures enter majestically, their faces floating upon a sea of fox-fur and looking perfectly natural in that environment.

And at every concert there are about fifty people who know what's going on. The vast majority of these are retired musicians and music teachers, with a smattering of professional men and their wives. The rest are the Town Intellectuals. And such intellectuals! For instance, there is the Haughty Intellectual, who looks on the whole thnig with benign contempt and who will undoubtedly at the end say, just loud enough for everyone around the place to hear him: "Not as good as the Geneva Symphony, of course, but . . ." The matrons marvel at this and will invite him to speak at their next club meeting.

There are others, but let us enter the auditorium. Everyone sits and a loud buzzing of voices ceases when the lights dim. Then they brighten, dim, brighten, and dim again. This time for good. A man walks to the stage and places some music on the conductor's stand. Applause. The Concertmaster enters. Vigorous applause. The musicians then tune their instruments. Overwhelming applause. Then an expectant silence ,and from some unfathomable distange off-stage footsteps are heard: clip, clop, clip, clop, clop, clop, clop, and the conductor enters. Pandemonium. Then the conductor bows three times, raises his baton, and the concert begins:

1. National Anthem — starts majestically, Audience rises as a man, except for one old dowager who asks confusedly, "What, What . . .? Then she, too, catches on and rises. Patriotism gushes from everyone. The men stand with portruding chests and chins, their faces proud, yes, proud indeed to live in a land which has more meat and mashed potatoes . . . The ladies stand with moist eyes shining, O George Washington, thou are mighty yet! Anthem ends. Audience sits.



2. Concerto in A Minor—Grieg—First Movement: Lady Pianist begins to hum la da dum da da and pats her foot. Small boy wandering in the aisle comes up to you and stares into your face. Whisper: "Hsst, Johnnie, you come right back here!" Faint rustle. Small boy digs fingers into ist continues purge of concerto. Music swells. So do ladies' feet in size three shoes. Accusing your knee, then departs. Movement ends. Audience applauds.

3. Second Movement: Pianist would continue. Whisper, "But Momma, I GOT to go!" You sneeze. Hawk-faced Valkyrie turns and raises her eyebrows at you. You stare straight ahead. Men start to cough. Ladies start to whisper among themselves. Movement ends. Audience applauds.

4. Third Movement: Opening bars. Ladies whisper. Local pianwhisper: "I told you I had to go." Concerto ends. Thunderous applause. Ushers trot down aisle with huge bouquets of flowers for pianist. Conductor and pianist clasp hands and bow, then walk off. Ladies really start to murmur: your choice of comments—(1) Wasn't that marvelous! (2) Wasn't that just wonderful! (3) It was simply beautiful!

5. Symphony in E Minor—Dvorak—First Movement: Orchestra begins ambitiously, more or less gives up toward end.

(Continued on page 4)

"This convertible Davidson offered you, too—was it FULLY equipped?"

At PC Since 1932

Key Boasts Colorful Past; Stresses Leadership, Service

Blue Key has been active at Presbyterian College since 1932. In 1931, President Marshall W. Brown, then Dean, along with Col. R. E. Wysor, Jr., PMS&T, and C. W. Grafton, English professor, established an honorary fraternity on the campus called the Archons.

The Archons joined another honorary society and received a charter from Blue Key in 1932.

Fifty thousand student leaders since 1924, have been honored by Blue Key with the privilege of union for organized effort so that in American colleges and universities belief in God will be perpetuated and intensified; the United States government will be supported and defended; established institutions of society and the principles of good citizenship will be preserved.

moted.

Blue Key is a general honor fraternity for outstanding students with potential for development into active citizens, community leaders, and loyal, informed alumni.

The fraternity recognizes upperclassmen from every division of an institution for their meritorious campus performances and honors them with leadership training in a continuing program of service and public relations.

Ultimately, the Fraternity's ideals and purposes are more fully realized as the student body, through its members in Blue Key, serves as co-planner and works with the faculty and alumni on those major objectives essential to institutional progress, wholesome student-faculty inter-action, and the general academic and social welfare. Its plan of operation is approved by the college administration.

Because Blue Key is a leadership fraternity seeking the cooperation of everyone on the faculty and in the student body, it differs from the general pattern for honor societies. It has no secret work and is not a Greek letter fraternity; it is free of the sponsorship or of affiliation with any other organization.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited by Doug McDougald

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The brothers and pledges of Alpha Psi Chapter extended their heartiest congratulations to Brother Graham Edmunds on his being elected Editor of the Blue Stocking.

The pledges have been put in charge of renovating the new addition to the Fraternity Suite. The newly acquired property will serve as a game room and house the Fraternity's two pool tables.

Plans are set for an informal party to be held this Saturday in the Fraternity Suite. Festivities will begin at 8:00 P. M.

KAPPA ALPHA

Plans were completed at the meeting last Tuesday for a party which is to take place at the house this Saturday night. Military Ball Weekend, for KA's, will center around a Tea Dance that Saturday afternoon at the Mary Musgrove Hotel, to be followed by a party at the house that night. "The Hearts" will provide the music for both events.

Congratulations were extended to Brother Pat Dorn on his marriage to the former Miss Jane Ballenger of Anderson. The wedding took place on February 3rd.

Brother Ben Vincent was welcomed back to the campus after a semester's absence.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

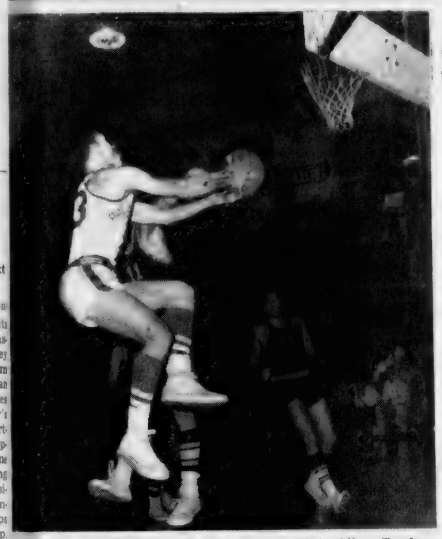
On Tuesday night appreciation was expressed to Brother Bill Russell and his co-workers for the "Roaring Twenties" party given for the pledges last Wednesday. Plans were completed for the Big Brother-Little Brother stag supper which took place Wednesday.

Brothers of the Week were: Bill Russell, Harrison Clayton, Billy Piephoff, and Don Mobley.

PI KAPPA PHI

At the last chapter meeting plans were formuated for a big weekned of the Military Ball function. In addition to the Ball itself, we are looking for two very fine parties to be held by the chapter.

(Continued on page 4)



The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR ..... EVIN VARNER
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MAURICE SCHWARTZ
NEWS EDITOR ..... PAUL ARD
FEATURE EDITOR ..... DON DUNLAP
GREEK EDITOR ..... DOUG McDOUGALD
SPORTS EDITORS ..... HARRY AND HEXIE McDONNOLD
MILITARY EDITOR ..... MARION LEE
NEWS STAFF ..... HERB HAMMET, ROHE ESHBAUGH, BOB SMITH.
SPORTS STAFF ..... BILL SEASE, BILL OGDEN, LAWTON RICE

JIM McGUIRE LEAPS high for the basket while a Terrier team member tries to play hands. The Hose fell victim of the Wofford squad Tuesday night, 65-60. The roundballers now rally for their scheduled participation in the Little Four tourney in Greenville next week.—(Autry Photo)

Hose Bow to Wofford; Sight End of 61 Season

A cold Hose basketball team bowed to the Wofford Terriers 65-60 Tuesday night. Andy Karlsons hit 16 while Jim McGuire added 13. Bill Hill did an excellent job on the boards and contributed 11 to the loser's cause.

In recent weeks the PC basketball team has beaten Georgia State while losing by close margins to Erskine, Mercer, and Wofford.

Andy Karlsons led the Blue Hose to a 69-59 victory over Georgia State, scoring 18 points. Paul Ard and Jim Rakestraw scored 14 and 11, respectively.

In a close contest the Hose stubbornly bowed to the Flying Fleet of Erskine 72-68. Tuttle of Erskine was high scorer for the game with 20, while Hill, Rakestraw, Karlsons, and McGuire all hit in double figures for the losers.

The Hose then traveled to Macon, Ga., to play the Bears of Mercer. This was perhaps one of the best efforts put forth by the team all year. The Blue Hose had a commanding lead with eight minutes remaining and hit a cold spell. This resulted in a 80-73 loss. Karlsons and Rakestraw were the high men for the Hose with 32 and 15, respectively. All of Karlsons points came on field goals.

The basketball team has five remaining games. Thursday the Hose play Erskine at Due West, and Friday they entertain Georgia State at Cinlton. Saturday the team will play Newberry at Newberry. The 24th and 25th the Blue Hose will be in the Little Four Tournament in Greenville.

Double Trouble

By HARRY & HEXIE McDONNOLD, Sports Editors

The close of this basketball season will also be the close of two PC cagers' careers. Little Four Tournament time will see co-captains Paul Ard and Ernie Redd's final wearing of Blue.

To these boys we extend a heartfelt thanks for the work and effort they've each done. Good luck to them . . . and the entire team in tournament play.

The Presbyterian College basketball team has lost games this year but have won the respect of all the fans with their spirit and determination. With a few breaks the scrappy Hose could have gone all the way. We the fans want to thank the team for their great efforts.

Early spring weather finds many students out on the tennis courts. If this weather keeps up PC will find many of its students enrolling in summer school.

The many returning lettermen and talented newcomers forecast a bright year for spring sports.

News from the grape vine: The SCA hopes to increase the caliber of its intramural referees by boosting their pay. It is hoped that payment for a sport per season plus the regular single game pay will add greatly to the betterment of our intramural program.

PC's football team will undergo a tough season next year, meeting such teams as the University of Chattanooga, Tampa, Furman, and Lenoir Rhyne. It should prove to be an exciting season.

Mural Ball in Second Robin; Tournament Play Slated Feb. 27

• Sigma Nu, Pi Kaps on Top

By Billy Ogden

Intramural basketball is at its peak, with ten games left in the second round robin. Sigma Nu, in the winner's league, and Pi Kappa Phi, in the consolation league, have the best over-all record, and are yet to lose a game in this the final round.

As of now the leagues shape up like this:

Winner's League		Overall
Sigma Nu	1-0	6-0
Kappa Alpha	2-0	6-1
Pi Kappa Alpha	1-0	4-2
Tigers	1-1	6-1
Raiders	0-2	4-3
Polecats	0-2	3-4
Consolation League		Overall
Pi Kappa Alpha	3-0	5-3
Alpha Sigma Phi	1-1	2-4
Snakes		2-6
Ramblin' Wrecks	1-1	2-6
Confederates	1-1	3-4
Theta Chi	0-2	0-7

The second round robin will be completed next week. The tournament will be between four top teams from the winner's league and the two top teams from the consolation league, with the first game February 27. It will be a double elimination tournament with seeding of teams being determined by their final standings in the league.

Who the referees will be for the tournament is a question of some concern. At a recent SCA meeting plans were discussed for obtaining a referee group to call all intramural games. They would be officials of all games and would be paid a nominal salary. These plans are tentative and the outcome will not be known until later. An alternative method of obtaining referees for the tournament will be to pay professional referees.

Busy Schedule Set For PC Racqueteers

This season Coach Jim Leighton has nineteen scheduled matches for his tennis team. The team, consisting of Elliott, Frampton, Stone, Greenslade, Caviness, Wilson, and Hope, will begin the season next month as they depart for Florida to play their three hardest matches—the University of Florida, Rollins, and the University of Miami.

Harry Hoffmann, who was number one last year, is the only player absent from the line-up. Although we did not gain any new players, it is felt that the added experience of this veteran team will aid in another successful season.

Other matches on the PC schedule are: Minnesota, Kalamazoo, Toledo, Harvard, Georgia, and Georgia Tech.

Baseballers Ready For Spring Practice

After several lean seasons, the baseball team looks to improvement this year. With lettermen returning around the infield, the question mark appears on the mound and in the outfield. With eighteen games slated between March 23 and May 12, the Blue Hose batsmen have a busy season ahead. Coach Clyde Ehrhardt and assistant coach Bill Tiller plan to start practice sessions as soon as the weather permits.

Schedule: March 23, Erskine at Due West; 25, Catawba at Clinton. April 8, Catawba at Salisbury; 11, Pembroke at Pembroke; 15, Erskine at Clinton; 18, Mercer at Macon; 20, Wofford at Clinton; 22, Newberry at Newberry; 24, Mercer at Clinton; 26, Newberry at Clinton; 29, Wofford at Spartanburg.

May 1, Pembroke at Clinton; 2, Pembroke at Clinton; 4, Erskine at Due West; 6, Newberry at Newberry; 9, Erskine at Clinton; 12, Newberry at Clinton.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

Bright Future Eyed By Hose Linksters

Under the directon of Dr. John Stevenson, PC golfers look forward to the best season in many years due to the added strength of many experienced newcomers and the return of many of last year's veterans.

Recently elected co-captains were Hexie McDonnold of Asheville, N. C., and Max Clyburn of Kershaw. These men, along with Frank Sells, Harry McDonnold, and Ken Acker, form the nucleus of this year's team.

Experienced newcomers expected to make this year's team one of the best in the state are Buddy Varn, Scott Marbut, Buddy Simpson, Charlie Clotfelter, and Bill Brown.

Athletic Director Frank Jones plans a scehdule of fifteen matches including three newcomers: Amherst, East Tennessee State, and The College of Charleston.

Gridmen Assemble For Off Season Drills

The call has gone out for Presbyterian College gridmen to assemble for the start of spring football practice.

Coach Frank Jones said he expects 45 candidates for these off-season workouts, which will start at 3:30 p. m. daily and extend to 5:30 p. m.

Practice sessions will continue for one month. The schedule calls for daily work, Monday through Friday, with an intra-squad game each Saturday. Jones pointed out that all of these plans are dependent upon the weather. He added:

"I hope we can get in a great deal more work than last spring. We need it, for we are losing some good boys."

He had refernece to such players as Little All-American Tackle Billy Ogden, End Jon Vastine, Fullback Bill Hill, End Jimmy Kolb, Guards Billy Sease and Don Bridges, Tackle Hardy Ledbetter, Halfback Billy Benton, Fullback Bruce Barnes, and Center Don Abee. All have hung up their Blue Hose uniforms for the last time.

Presbyterian will have 12 lettermen returning from the team which won six games and lost only three during the 1960 season.

YOUNG'S PHARMACY
N. Broad Street
Phone 19 - We Deliver

There's Better Service at Joe's Esso Service
Try Our Soda Fountain
Cars Greased in the Moto-Sway Way

Billy Ogden
. . . receives honors

Ogden Cops Several Post-Season Honors

Persbyterian star tackle Billy Ogden of Macon, Ga., has been named to the first team Little All-American academic eleven sponsored jointly by the American People's Encyclopedia and the College Sports Information Directors of America.

Ogden was cited for his "A" average while taking the rigorous pre-medical course at PC. Now in his junor year, he plans to finish the normal four-year course this June—after heavy work loads and summer sessions the past two years—and to enter the Medical College of Georgia next September.

Other post-season honors received by Ogden are: All-American according to the Williamson National Football Rating System; second team NAIA All-American; and third team All-American according to United Press.

Little Four Tourney Begins February 24

The annual Little Four basketball tournament, bringing all of this conference's fast cage action under one roof, will be held at the Greenville Memorial Auditorium on February 24-26.

Presbyterian College will be pitted against the forces of Erskine, Newberry, and Wofford, with the Little Four championship trophy hanging in the balance.

Two games will be played each night, with tournament book prices available for all four games of the competition. Game times both nights are 7:30 p. m. and 9:30 p. m. The final championship battle, set for 9:30 p. m., Saturday, February 25, will pit the winners of the two Friday night engagements.

PC students may obtain tickets at the special price of $1.00 each, if purchased from the Athletic Department by next Wednesday.

BROADWAY Theatre
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday
Feb. 20-21-22
The Misfits
Clark Gable, Marilyn Monroe, Montgomery Clift

Starts Wednesday, Feb. 23
For 9 Days
February 23 - March 1
Ben-Hur
11 Academy Awards—Including "Best Picture!"

10,000 Words Worth

Staff Undertakes Large Task

Leland Vaughan, newly elected Business Manager of The Blue Stocking, comes into office backed up by experience in journalism as well as other extra-curricular activities.

A junior Business Administrator major from Greenville, Vaughan has written a sports column for the paper and served for one semester as sports editor.

In addition, he has been an active participant on the Intramural Council, and has played as a catcher on the Blue Hose baseball team.

Vaughan

Vaughan will be joining hands with Graham Edmunds, newly elected editor, and their staffs, to publish The Blue Stocking each week. Getting the paper to the students each Friday is a complex task, involving many hours of work that few readers appreciate.

The business manager has to solicit ads, draw them up, and make sure they're put into type. He is responsible for all of the book work, distribution of the paper on campus, keeping the mailing list up to date and preparing the papers for mailing each week.

The editor supervises a news staff and sports staff who must turn out, by conservative estimate, 10,000 words each week. He spends—also by conservative estimate—at least twenty hours a week getting pictures taken, arranging for engravings, writing editorials, editing news stories, writing headlines, and doing layout.

And his worries are not over after long hours of work with his staff on Wednesday and Thursday nights. Friday afternoons are spent at The Chronicle, helping to put the type in the forms, proof-reading, getting it on the press and watching the clock as supper-time draws near.

Then it is Saturday and time for planning for the next issue.

Co-operation of helpful staff members and students is the keynote behind the stack of papers in the Dining Hall each Friday night.

No wonder, then, that PC journalists like to brag a little about the Sock—calling it distinguished for its progress.

Concert Guide

(Continued from page 3)

Lady recognizes "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and whispers discovery to her companions. Men are dumb by now. Movement ends. Applause.

6. Second Movement: Whisper: "Listen! That's 'Goin' Home,' isn't it?" Alto horn tootles away. Conductor becomes inspired and goes to town. Everything seems hazy and far away. You wonder if you're really dying, then fervently hope so. Movement ends. Applause, naturally.

7. Third Movement: Unfortunate. Applause.

8. Fourth Movement: You never notice it; to busy counting light fixtures, counting people, and just counting. Everyone again is becoming restless. Auditoruim is unbearably hot, even with air conditioning. Man beside you begins to snore. His wife stabs him with a needle-like elbow, and he jumps. Through the haze it seems that Valkyrie is sprouting feathers on her neck. Symphony ends. Everyone is instantly alert again. Wild aplause.

9. Tannhauser Overture—Wagner: No one knows what this one is all about, including Wagner. People do not go to sleep though. Brass section goes mad. Building begins to rock. Overture ends. Roof settles back into place. Aplause gets ridiculous.

Encore — Stars and Stripes Forever: People enjoy this more than all the rest of the concert put together. A few people leave.

Encore—Dance of the Camoristti: Audience really didn't want this one, but the conductor had gone completely beserk. Everybody leaves. You quietly get up and stagger out. Those encores could go on forever. Then out in the cool night, you look up at the stars and think maybe ha ha ha ha hee hee ha ha ha hee hee ha.

WPCC
Your Music and News Station
Clinton, S. C.

Sunshine Cleaners
W. Fla. St. - Phone 833-1492
Quality Cleaning and Shirt Laundry
WE REPAIR SHOES
We Offer a "Fluff Dry" Bundle

Applications Rise For PC Admission

Applications for admission to Presbyterian College are hitting a higher peak than ever before, but the college is still interested in top high school seniors as candidates to enroll here next fall.

Dean A. J. Thackston urges PC students to have any well-qualified friends wishing to enter in September to apply as soon as possible.

Applications are up more than one-third over last year at this time, the February 1 figure showing 182 applications as compared to 134 on the same date in 1960. Additional applications arrive daily at the admissions office, and the pace is expected to accelerate in the weeks ahead.

Col. Thackston said about 70 students already have been accepted for September admission, pending completion of high school.

The Greeks Have a Word . . .

Α Β Γ Δ Ε Ζ Η Θ Ι Κ Λ

Ξ Ο Π Ρ Σ Τ Υ Φ Χ Ψ

(Continued from page 3)

Congratulations were offered to the Pi Kapp roundball team. They got off to a very slow start at the frist of the season but due good spirit, now possess a 5-3 record.

SIGMA NU

Congratulations to Jim Caddell, Alex Bosserman, and Marsha Jones on their coming into the Brotherhood last Monday night.

Congratulations are also due Leland Vaughn on becoming Business Manager of the Blue Stocking, and Sonny DuBose on being selected to the Sigma Nu Football All-American Team.

New furniture, recently arrived, greatly enhances the chapter house. Dick McGaughey was selected to be the chapter's new alternate IFC Representative.

Plans for the "White Star" are still being worked out. The annual Pledge Party for the Brothers will be held this Saturday night.

THETA CHI

Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi is very pleased with the Pledge Project, just completed, which consisted of redecorating the fraternity suite. Congratulations to the Pledges for such a fine job.

At the weekly meeting Tuesday night, plans were completed for the party to be held in the suite this Saturday night. The chapter also began planning for Military Ball Weekend.

McGEE'S DRUG STORE
DIAL 833-0020

HOWARD'S PHARMACY
Your Rexall Drug Store
ON THE SQUARE

"Your grandchildren will grow up under Communism!" says NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV

Will the Soviet threat come true? Will your grandchildren live under Communism? Forget God? Salute the Soviet flag? "Never!" you say. But are you sure? How can you oppose Communism? One sure way is to help Radio Free Europe.

The voice is that of Nikita Khrushchev. The audience is American.
"Your grandchildren will grow up under Communism!" he shouts.
Will your children live to see the Free World die?
Forget God? Salute the Soviet flag?
"Never!" you say. But are you sure?
What can you do to oppose Communism?
There is one sure way.
Help Radio Free Europe.

What does it do?
Every day, to 79 million captive people behind the Iron Curtain, it broadcasts news of the outside world.
It helps keep these people from turning to Communism. The Poles, Czechs, Bulgarians, Rumanians and Hungarians, It keeps alive their friendship for America. It reaches over 90% of these people, despite Communist jamming. Thousands of letters echo the plea:
"God Bless You! Please keep Radio Free Europe on the air!"

These people are the buffers between Russia and the Free World.

They pose a major obstacle to the Russians starting any war. And Radio Free Europe is their strongest link with the Free World.

But Radio Free Europe depends on individual Americans for its existence. How about it?
Will you help? . . . Give a dollar?
. . . Give five dollars? . . . or more?
Surely your heart tells you to give something so that our children—and all children—shall live in freedom throughout the world.

Give Now To . . . RADIO FREE EUROPE
The American People's Counter-Voice to Communism
Mail your contributions to: Radio Free Europe Fund, P. O. Box 1961, Mt. Vernon 10, New York

M. S. Bailey & Son Bankers

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., February 24, 1961 No. 9

Miss Nina Kovac and George Zoritch are just two of the stars of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, which will make its only South Carolina appearance tonight at the Belk Auditorium. The Ballet Russe is reputed to be one of the best ballet companies in the United States.

World Renowned Ballet Company Performs In Auditorium Tonight

• Only State Appearance

Clinton will boast the only South Carolina appearance of the season for the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo when this world-famous dance company visits the Presbyterian College campus tonight.

Four of the most popular ballets in the company's outstanding classical repertoire will be performed at that time on the stage of Belk Auditorium. Curtain time for this colorful theatrical performance is 8:15 p. m.

Ticket sales have been underway for the past week and will continue through the coming week as long as reservations are available. Out of town orders are coming in directly to the Presbyterian College business office. All tickets are for reserved seats at these prices: orchestra, $3.75; parquet circle, $2.75; and balcony, $1.75.

The four colorful ballets to be presented in the PC program are: "Swan Lake," Act II, the most famous of the "white" ballets telling the fairy story of a beautiful enchanted princes and a handsome princess; "The Nutcracker," Act II, probably the best-known classical ballet, a fairy tale showing a little girl's dream adventures in the Snow Country and the Kingdom of Sweets; "Pas de Trois Classique," an excerpt from "Paquita' 'included in the repertoire as a perfect classical showpiece for three dancers with all the brilliance of the great pas de deux; and "Gaite Parisienne," a light and gay ballet set in a Paris cafe, especially noted for the can-can dance which comes as the climax.

The Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo is recognized as America's oldest and most popular ballet company. Its all-star cast of 85, with symphony orchestra, is headed by Nina Novak, prima ballerina and ballet mistress, and George Zoritch, one of the best-known male dancers of this country.

Editor Announces Top Staff Positions

Five top members of the editorial staff of the 1961 Blue Stocking have been announced this week by newly-elected editor, Graham Edmunds.

The five, who serve for this semester and first semester of next year, are as follows: Murray White of Fort Mill, Managing Editor; Gerald Pitts of Laurens, News Editor; Jerry Chitty of Olar, Sports Editor; Tom Morrison of Asheville, N. C., Feature Editor; and Bill Matthews of Macon, Ga., Greek Editor.

Serving on the Sock's news staff will be Bill Bartee, Lewis Edge, Dupont Smith, Don Kay, Tom Currie, and Robert Perry, while Sanders Read and Leon Bullard aid Morrison with the feature section. As sports writers Chitty's staff includes Loren Eagles, Bob Waterman, Eugene Goodwyn, Joe Harvard, Robert Sherrell, Gary Brown, Hondo Jackson, Bill Gillespie, and Sonny DuBose.

Business Manager Leland Vaughan has named Marshal Jones and John Craig as his assistants on the business staff. Raymond Humphries will handle this year's circulation chores.

Rounding out the staff is Roy Autry, who will continue as the Blue Stocking photographer.

The staff still has several vacancies which are to be filled in the near future.

Senior Placement

Seniors, contact Mrs. Watts, secretary to the Dean of Students, in the administration building for appointments for job placement interviews.

February 28—J. B. White Co.
March 1—Cone Mills.

Chemistry Department To Receive Equipment

An important new scientific instrument is being given to Presbyterian College in memory of R. E. Ferguson, Sr., late Clinton business leader, President Mashall W. Brown announced today.

He said the gift of an infrared spectrophotometer by the family of Mr. Ferguson brings to the PC chemistry department the only instrument of this kind to be found at a small college of this area.

The donors are Mrs. R. E. Ferguson, Sr., of Clinton, widow of Mr. Ferguson, and his two sons, R. E. Ferguson, Jr., also of Clinton, and Lawrence Ferguson, of Greenville. They are partners of Clinton's Industrial Supply Company, founded by their father.

Dr. K. Nolon Carter, chairman of the Presbyterian College chemistry department, expressed his pleasure over the new instrument in these words:

"The infrared spectrophotometer will mean a great deal to the advanced work of our department. It will be used mainly for qualitative and quantitative analyses of organic compounds. The instrument is to be operated in our regular laboratory work of the junior and senior years and in the research department, in which some students already are participating. Unlike many of the larger schools, where use of this instrument is mostly on the graduate level, the undergraduates will have an opportunity to work with it here at Presbyterian College."

Since the infrared spectrum of a chemical compound is the most characteristic physical property of that compound, infrared finds extensive application in "fingerprinting" or identifying materials. Its use in qualitative analysis gives basic information about the molecular structure of a compound, while the quantitative use determines the amount of any material present in a sample. Infrared spectrophotometry also is widely employed in the control of product purity, playing an important role through all processing steps from raw material checks to analysis of the finished product. And finally, infrared analysis gives the chemist a permanent step-by-step record of his work.

College 'N' Band Featured at Dance

Company "K," tenth regiment, of the Scabbard and Blade, is sponsoring the 1961 Military Ball which will be held Friday, March fourth. The gala affair, which is to be held as usual at the National Guard Armory, will be from eight until twelve with an intermission beginning at ten-thirty. Dress for the occasion will be a dark suit for all non-military men and the customary PC formal for dates consisting of either a cocktail dress or semi-formal evening dress. All Military men will wear class A uniforms with white shirts.

Tickets for non-military men may be obtained either at the dance or from Wayne Godfrey, Paul Ard, or Billy Betchman. The price is $2.00.

Music for the evening will be furnished by the "College N Orchestra," a group of students from Newberry College. Several vocalists will also be featured. The highlight of the evening will be the "Saber Arch." Passing through the arch will be the president of Scabbard and Blade, the Battle Group Commander, and the Military Ball officers.

Independents Name Three to Committee

During a meeting of independents after chapel last Monday, three were suggested from the group by having each person to list three names on a slip of paper to be on the dance committee. The entire dance committee will be composed of the newly appointed independents, Lyle Islely, Carter Redd, and George Reaves, plus the six inter-fraternity council members elect: Tom Elliott representing Pi Kappa Phi, Teddy Elders representing Theta Chi, Bill Bartee representing Kappa Alpha, Dick McGaughey representing Sigma Nu, and Jimmy Thompson representing Alpha Sigma Phi. The Pi Kappa Alpha representative has not yet been elected.

The responsibility of this group will be to choose the location and orchestras for school dances such as Homecoming, Christmas, Spring, and possibly another IFC sponsored dance.

Chapel Services

Monday—Chapel Devotional.

Wednesday—Chapel Worship Services; Rev. William A. McCutcheon, Assistant Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Salisbury, N. C.

Friday—Paul Woodall.

Christine Wilson and Bob Smith discuss plans for Religious Emphasis Week beginning March 7, while Frank Sells looks on.

Chapel Services Highlight Religious Emphasis Plans

Bob Smith, president of SCA, announced this week that Religious Week will begin March 7 and continue until March 10. Four prominent speakers will center their discussions on the theme, "An Unchanging Christ in a Changing World."

This year's schedule will work differently from ones previously. On Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday mornings at 10:00 there will be services in Belk Auditorium. Night services, with attendance voluntary, will take place Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. After the Tuesday night service, discussion groups will meet in the various fraternity rooms, and all are invited to any one of these.

Discussion groups will also be meeting on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. On Thursday a student can either go to drill or to a discussion group. The roll will be taken at both places.

Bible, philosophhy, and other classes will be used by the speakers for discussion groups. These classes will be open though to all who may wish to attend.

The place and time for the afternoon discussion groups will be announced at a later date.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Editor's Notebook

IN RESPONSE to last week's Blue Key editorial concerning the wasted space known as the "trustees' meeting room," we have a suggestion for its use. The tables which furnish it were taken from Neville, thereby ruining the college's only discussion classroom. Therefore, we suggest that when the classroom schedule for next semester is considered, the more advanced classes should be assigned to meet there.

SPRING will soon be here and with it comes tennis. Someone should be reminded that the first match of the season is set for March 4. Since this date is the Saturday of dance weekend, it would be nice if there were some stands to sit on. Also, since tennis is a spectator sport, the presence of garbage around the court is neither pleasing to one's sense of smell nor sight.

OUR DELAYED THANKS are extended to Professor Boyd for keeping the Douglas House open during exam week, and thereby rendering exceptional service to the student body. We wish to remind the thief who lifted his typewriter to please return and pick up its case, as it presently serves only to clutter up the office.

It is a shame that a professor who has made such a genuine effort to be a friend of the students should be repaid in this manner.

WILL THE CLASS OF '62 graduate under the major-minor system or the new 30-hour program? When will the administration decide? Stay tuned.

IT APPEARS as though Monsoon season is here again. With the recent rains we find that a study of the drainage problem on campus is vitally needed. It was also noticed that several roofs have developed leaks. However, it is felt that these will be cared for, as one of them seeps through to the Business Office.

Our Policy

As we take the helm of The Blue Stocking we realize that we are faced with a tremendous challenge.

The Sock will be published weekly as in years past. With good luck and provided the creeks don't rise we hope to return the paper to its All-American status.

Letters to the editor are encouraged on constructive matters, but are greatly discouraged concerning petty gripes. All letters must be signed. Names will be withheld upon request. The letters may be given to any Sock staff member or slid under the door of the office on the second floor of Douglas House.

We do not intend to turn the Sock into a funny paper. The humor will be confined primarily to the feature page as always; however, one may tend to denote a conservative amount in other places at convenient opportunities.

Concerning news, we plan "to give the news impartially without fear or favor, regardless of any party, sect or interest involved"—Adolph Simon Ochs, former publisher of the New York Times.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR ..... GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MURRAY WHITE
News Editor ..... Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor ..... Jerry Chitty
Feature Editor ..... Tom Morrison
Greek Editor ..... Bill Matthews
Photographer ..... Roy Autry
Circulation ..... Raymond Humphries
News Staff ..... Lewis Edge, Tom Currie, Don Kay, Robert Perry, DuPont Smith.
Sports Staff ..... Loren Eagles, Robert Sherrell, Gary Brown, Eugene Goodwyn, Bob Waterman, Hondo Jackson, Sonny DuBose, Joe Harvard, Bill Gillespie.
Feature Staff ..... Leon Bullard, Sanders Read
Business Staff ..... Marshal Jones, John Craig.

John Wilkes Booth Returns

By Tom Morrison

During the intermission period of Presbyterian College's most recent Gamal Abdel Nasser Fan Club, at which time I was indulging in a friendly game of Russian roulette, Lord John S. Charlton, the third, came staggering onto the scene. He excitedly hurried me over to an apparently special man whose very face gave me an immediate faint. Actually, this stranger's appearance was quite normal at first glance: his bushy-haired head sported a lice-laden mustache and had bloodlessly portruding from its very uppermost part a handsome dagger; in one hand he clutched a cocked revolver, in the other a marijuana cgiarette complete with uranium-studded holder; his belt held a powerful-looking horse-whip and in his pocket coiled a full grown anaconda snake; his high boots were filled with two large bottles, one of arsenic ,and the other of vodka.

Upon reviving, I was able to ask him his identity in utmost expectation that my supposed recognition of him was incorrect.

"I am John Wilkes Booth," was the terse, yet dramatic, way in which he confirmed my suspicions.

"Aren't you dead, though, sir?" came my quick and trembling reply.

"Oh, you stupid fool you, following my glorious deed for the Confederacy, when some ——— ——— ——— Yankees had trapped me in a barn after which they set fire to the structure, I was brilliantly able to douse myself with water so that the flames would not touch me, and afterwards did my make my escape. Although there was later found a charred skeleton which was admittedly similar to mine, it actually belonged to my poor old horse, Edna."

"Truly amazing, Sir." I truthfully responded.

"And would you care to favus with any timely comment the world situation of today?"

"I'm glad you asked me that he joyously said while limber jumping upon the huge bar, afwhich he threw the head wasthrough a window in order to gaeveryone's attention. "You allhe started, with expressive armovements accompanying hiwords, "let us all join forces preventing that by all meansone of the world's gravest atrocties in the history of historthere are actually some individuals demanding that my goofriend, Thomas K. Dooley, handown his head and, of all thingbe strung up from a white oatree down in some lonesome valey!" At this point he was vehemently stomping his feet whiwomen fainted and men sicwrists. "First of all, that woulbe quite impossible since Tomdecapitated himself in a brutaccident just this past Christmawhile trying out a guillotine hhad bought for his mother." Because his hair had fallen into hieyes, John W. now stumbled hanonto the floor ,but soon recoverand gracefully pointed a bonfniger at those members of theaudience who still possessed consciousness. "And, secondly, hdidn't meet her on the mountaiand there take her life, stabbinher in the gizzard with a switchblade knife. No, I did, and if anyone wants to do anything about itthey can come right ahead antry. Right? Right!!" Amid th

(Continued on page 4)

Book Review

Jews Regain Home Land

EXODUS, by Leon Uris, is an intensely gripping novel built around, and containing, one of the most interesting epochs of recent world history. This book gives an account of the Jews' return to their homeland of Palestine after nearly two thousand years in exile. In accomplishing this return, they fulfill Biblical prophecies. Moreover, many directions and tactics as recorded in the Old Testament books of history are followed by the dedicated Jews as they fight for their Promised Land. For instance, the modern Jewish soldiers follow the tactics of the ancient Hebrew commanders of some four thousand years ago.

But this chronicle includes more than the actual conquest of modern Palestine. It dates back to the latter part of the nineteenth century and traces the oppression of the Jews in Europe and Asia in the ghettos and concentration camps. This oppression, ever increasing, builds up to the mass migration of Jews to Palestine. They encounter serious opposition to their immigration in such large numbers and are forced to wage much diplomatic and physical war before they obain their free Jewish state.

Expertly woven into this history are the characters who animate the history and whose personal lives present a tense drama. There are several nationalities represented. But the focal point of the whole book is the instinctive devotion of the Jews to the tas kof regaining their homeland; they will allow nothing to stop them. Perhaps this is partly explained in the words of one of the main characters, a young Jewish girl from Germany, as she says, "I only know that I have something here that is mine . . . no one is going to take it from me." Only this fierce determination and Divine intervention can explain their victory in the face of almost impossible odds.

If it's a love story you like, you will also find this element in EXODUS. There are several young couples in the story who are in love, and their problems and triumphs are related. Some "live happily ever after" and some have their happiness taken from them by the bitter strife of war. All in all, the story is quite realistic.

This book is available in the hardback edition by Doubleday and Company, Incorporated, or in a paperback Bantam Book. For good reading this novel is hard to beat.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited by Bill Matthews

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

KAPPA ALPHA

Final plans have been made for a tea dance Saturday afternoon of Military Ball Weekend at the Mary Musgrove Hotel and a party that night with the Hearts providing the music for both functions.

At the meeting Tuesday, Brother Bill Bartee was elected IFC representative for the coming year. Miss Lou Gray was chosen KA Rose.

PI KAPPA PHI

Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi is preparing for the Military Ball Weekend by planning parties for both Friday and Saturday nights. We are looking forward to these two parties being better than the previous Military Ball Weekends.

SIGMA NU

Our deepest sympathy to Brother Gordon, whose father recently passed away.

Plans for Military Ball Weekend have been completed. The "Rockets" will play for the party Saturday night at the Fraternity House. Dress for the affair will be casual.

Brother of the Week is Vince Brown.

THETA CHI

Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi wishes to thank the Party Committee for its fine job on Saturday night's party, which was enjoyed by all. Plans are being completed for the big Military Ball Weekend.

Congratulations are extended to Brother Gerald Pitts on his selection as news editor on the new Blue Stocking staff.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Final plans were made for Military Ball Weekend which will include an intermission party on Friday night and a combo for a dance in the fraternity suite on Saturday night.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Congratulations to Bob Collins, George Ragan, and Tony Wilson on being initiated into the Brotherhood this week.

Plans have been completed for the Military Ball next weekend. Two big parties will be held at the Legion Hut; one Friday after the Military Ball and another Saturday night.

Little Four Tournament Opens Tonight

• Newberry Favored

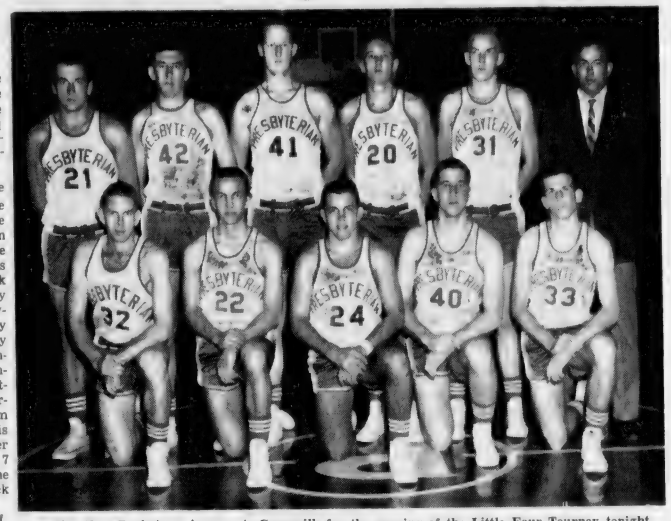
by Loren Eagles

The Blue Hose of Presbyterian College will face the Newberry Indians tonight at 9:00 in the first round of the Little Four Basketball Tournament. Wofford and Erskine clash at 7:30 in the opening game of the tourney which will be played at the Greenville Memorial Auditorium, the home court of the Furman Purple Hurricane.

In over-all play, Newberry finished on the top of the loop with a 17- record, followed by Erskine with 15-9, Wofford with 7-15, and Presbyterian with 4-14.

The Indians of Coach Tom Quinne, who were runners-up to Wofford in last year's hard-fought tournament, are led by Carl Short. Short, who is averaging 28.6 to top the state in that statistical department, along with freshman Phil Musgrave and the rest of the highly talented Newberry squad, has led the team to its most successful basketball season in the school's history.

The Blue Hose, beaten twice previously by Newberry, will be looking for the taste of revenge tonight. The Hose, who last won a Little Four Tournament in the 1955-56 season under Coach Russ Murphy ,are led by a flashy back court duo. At one guard is Jimmy McGuire, whose 12.9 scoring average leads the team, and Jimmy Rakestraw, who follows closely with a 12.2 average, is at the other guard .Fast developing freshman Andy Karlsons is also hitting in double figures. He is averaging 11.6 points per game from his forward post. At the center is Bill Hill, who is the top rebounder of the team and is averaging 7 points a game. Rounding out the starting quintet will be 6'-5" Jack Williams.



Jim McGuire
. . . High Point Man

The defending champions of Wofford College, who reached the semi-finals of the N. C. I. A. Tournament last year, lost one of their starting five from that team. The only returnee from that five is Boyce Berry. Berry, who is averaging 15.1 points per game, and freshman Buddy Cubbitt, who is also hitting in the double figures, lead the Terriers on the court.

Coach Red Myer's Flying Fleet, who whipped the Blue Hose for last year's consolation championship, are led by Bob Tuttle. He is swishing the nets at a 20.2 points per game average. He is backed up by Jim Cox, a 6'-5" center, who is averaging around 14 points per game and who is their top man in rebounding.

Due to their undefeated season in Little Four play and their fine showing elsewhere, Newberry must be installed as the favorite. It was only two years ago when the dark horse of the league, Erskine, came through with a clean sweep of the touranment. This year Presbyterian is definitely in this category.

Blue Hose Basketeers journey to Greenville for the opening of the Little Four Tourney tonight. Tipoff time at 9:00, the fourth place Hose go against Newberry's first place Indians.

Team Spirit High In Spring Workouts

"Is it my turn already?" This is a familiar phrase heard on the football practice field this spring. There are only three complete units out for spring football practice and scarcely does one get back from running a play when it is his turn to run again. Although small in numbers, the smallest in recent years at PC, the spirit more than offsets it. The spirit was boosted during the first week of practice by unusually good weather for the sport. Even though weather is not consistent, the spirits remain high.

There are 19 returning lettermen out with the rest of the squad being made up of new faces. Some of the new faces to watch include halback Strom Doolittle of Edgefield; fullback Bill Honey of Roswell, Ga,; end Sherman Porter of Columbia; tackles John Marr of Fayetteville, N .C., and Henry Rutland of Newberry; and guard Mike Lawrence of Macon, Ga.

The return of two men, Stacy Burton and Lynn Gorman, is also a bright spot this spring. Burton, a fullback, and Gorman, a hard-running halfback, will give the Blues much depth at their positions.

Weather Holds Back Hose Racket Squad

Bad weather for the past several days has set the Presbyterian College net men back somewhat since their first match is less than two weeks away. On Saturday, March 4, our racqueteers will begin what appears to be another prosperous year to add to the fine tennis tradition here at PC. Invading our campus will be the swatters from the Augusta Country Club who will contend against the Blue Hose in what can probably be considered a scheduled practice match to tune the strings for their journey south into the tennis grounds of F. S. U., Rollins, and Miami, beginning the 19th of March.

If the weather breaks, next week appears to be a busy week for Coach Leighton and his fine team in their preparation for the opening of this season which will definitely bring an array of select tennis talent to the Presbyterian campus.

Sigma Nu Remains Leader In Intramural Standings

by Joe Harvard and Eugene Goodwyn

As the intramural season hurriedly draws to a close and the post season tournament approaches, Sigma Nu and Pi Kappa Phi remain the teams to beat in their respective leagues.

Sigma Nu, still undefeated and leader of the Winners League, face their stiffest test of the season this next week when they play both Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Alpha. Kappa Alpha has lost only one game this season and that was to Sigma Nu. Kappa Alpha will be seeking revenge this week. Pi Kappa Alpha has been defeated only twice. These two losses were at the hands of Sigma Nu and Kappa Alpha. These three teams meet each other in what should be the most exciting week of the season.

Pi Kappa Phi, remaining undefeated in the consolation league, eased by Alpha Sigma Phi 32-39 to gain a tournament berth. Suddath, Ridinger, and Parrish scored in double figures. Mark Braswell with 10 points wah high man for the Alpha Sigs.

Rick Wansley, scoring 31 points, established a single game high for the current season as he led the Confederates past Theta Chi 66-41. High man for the ever hustling Theta Chi's was Max Clyburn with 13. was Max Clyburn with 13.

In other games this week Kappa Alpha defeated the Polecats 57-45. Art Williams collecting 15 and Harvey Blanchard 16 led their respective teams. Hondo Jackso nand Bob Collins both hitting for 16 points, paced the Pi Kappa Alphas to a victory over the Tigers 53-33 while Bill Rollin scored 10 for the losers.

The Ramblin' Wrecks, collecting a total of 34 points, held the Snakes to 19 in gaining an easy win and remaining in contention for a tournament berth.

STANDINGS

WINNER'S LEAGUE

Team		Overall
Sigma Nu	2-0	7-0
KA	3-0	7-1
PiKA	2-0	5-2
Tigers	2-2	7-2
Raiders	0-3	4-4
Polecats	0-4	3-6

CONSOLATION LEAGUE

Team		Overall
Pi Kapp	5-0	7-3
Wrecks	4-1	4-6
Confeds	2-2	4-5
Alpha Sig	3-2	4-5
Snakes	1-4	2-8
Theta Chi	0-4	0-10

JERRY CHITTY

BEHIND THE BLUES

In the coming year this sports staff will attempt to bring to you, our readers, a thorough and full coverage of all sports events concernnig this campus. Our purpose is that we may bring to you the sports you want to read.

* * * * * * * *

The setting of this year's Little Four Tourney is Memorial Auditorium in Greenville. The high-flying Newberry Indians are picked to win this year's Little Four. The Indians, coached by Tom Quinn and led by the state's leading scorer, Carl Short, are seeded number one and get things rolling against the Blue Hose of Presbyterian College. Erskine, number two seeded team, takes on the defending champions, the Wofford Terriers, to round out Friday night's action.

The Hosemen have the hustle and determination, but the Indians are too strong. Newberry's opponent Saturday night could be a toss-up, but I'll have to go along with Berry, Waldrop and company of the Terriers. In the second game of the final night's action, let's all turn out and hope for a Hose upset over the Flying Fleet.

* * * * * * * *

The monsoon is here and spring sports activities are suffering. Spring football, due to the continuous rainy spell, has been idle for two days.

* * * * * * * *

This past week was fatal for the Hose. They lost two games and approximately 100 pair of black-marketed athletic socks. Looks like another football scholarship, Coach!

* * * * * * * *

This year's Intramural basketball league is proving to be very interesting. The Sigs remain unbeaten, but everyone is gunning for them.

* * * * * * * *

Ernie (Jumper) Redd and Paul Ard, co-captains of this year's cagers, will hit the court for the last time in the Little Four play this week. Bill Hill will also be lost to next year's squad.

Regular Cage Season Ends As Hose Fall to Newberry

The Blue Hose basketball team concluded their '60-'61 season last week, playing three games. These included contests with Erskine, Georgia State, and Newberry.

Thursday night PC traveled to Erskine only to come out on the short end of a 78-68 score. Presbyterian was leading at halftime, 29-28, but could not manage to maintain this lead in the final few minutes of the game. Bob Tuttle led the victors with 26 points and Bill Carr also added 18 for the winning cause. Jimmy Rakestraw had 24 for PC along with Andy Karlson's 11. Erskine sank 42.6% of their floor shots compared to 38.9% for PC.

PC dominated the game Friday night, with Georgia State, leading the game all the way through until the final buzzer sounded.

Bill Hill had 20 points for PC along with Jack Williams' and Jim McGuire's 12 points each. George Gistner had 15 for the losers.

In PC's final game on Saturday night they were defeated by Newberry 80-63. Carl Short, the high scoring ace of the Newberry five, contributed 33 points for the winning cause. His percentage was 50% from the floor. Bill Scory had 13 and Joel Derkelsch had 10 for the victors.

For PC Andy Karlson had 20 points, hitting 66% of his floor shots. In double figures also were Jim Rakstraw and Jack Williams with 12 and 11, respectively.

'Operation Abolition'

College Students React

"Operation Abolition" — the widely syndicated Un-American Activities Committee film which claims that the students have been "duped" by Communists—continues to be highly controversial on college campuses.

Latest school to react is the University of Wisconsin, which saw the film several months ago. The University's Young Democrats have launched a state-aide drive among YD groups to condemn the film and the Committee.

Fifty members of Wisconsin's Young Republican Club disagreed with their Democratic counterparts and approved, by acclimation, a resolution supporting the Committee. The Republicans pointed out three areas in which the Committee had made contributions "pertinent to legislation."

The University of Washington's Board of Control voted 10-7-1 to condemn the anonymously-produced film as being a distortion of the facts. Students at Moravian College censured the film last week after viewing it on campus for the first time.

The Military students may recall that this film was shown here during an earlier drill period.

Alumni Plans Ready For Second Reunion

June 3rd has been chosen for Presbyterian College's second annual Alumni Reunion. The full program will include class reunions, the Alumni Institute, the annual Alumni Association meeting, an evening banquet, and a PC PREP meeting, designed especially for the children.

The program ties in with 1961 graduation exercises June 4, with both the baccalaureate sermon and commencement address scheduled for that day.

There will be special emphasis on reunions for the members of these classes: 1901, 1911 (50th anniversary), 1917, 1918, 1919, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958, and 1959.

Approximately 200 persons attended the first annual Alumni Reunion program last year.

Charlotte Alumnus Johnson Club Prexy

Ross Templeton, Charlotte business executive, is the new president of the Walter Johnson Club, alumni athletic organization.

He was elected at a recent club meeting to succeed J. J. Cornwall of Clinton, who has served in this capacity for the past several years.

The group also named Dr. Henry Little of Greenville, vice-president, re-elected PC Athletic Director Frank Janes as secretary and selected Al Brice of Greenwood to serve as assistant secretary. New club members chosen at this time were Dr. Delmar Rhame of Clinton, and Walter Gasnell of Spartanburg.

Honor Bestowed On Choir Leader Patte

Dr. Edouard Patte, college minister of music, has been awarded an honorary membership in the Choral Conductor's Guild of America.

A citation was recently presented him, which reads: "For outstanding work in the field of choral music and for exceptional contributions to the advancement of Choral Art."

Dr. Patte has been a conductor of the Presbyterian College Robed Choir and a professor on the PC faculty since 1947.

Harry McDonnold Reelected PiKA Prexy

Mu Chapter of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity has elected Harry McDonnold of Asheville, N. C., to continue as its president for the second semester.

Additional officers elected were: Joe Nixon of Carrollton, Ga., vice-president, replacing Billy Hatchett; Rick Saunders of Decatur, Ga., secretary, replacing Harrison Clayton; Dicky Carr of Gaffney, treasurer, replacing Hexie McDonnold; Bobby Hodge of Mullins, sergeant at arms, replacing Pat Malone; and Alan Pitts of North Augusta, Chaplain, replacing Larry Kirven.

New members of the executive council are Bland Quartz, Fred Cook, and Lovell Smith.

John Wilkes Booth

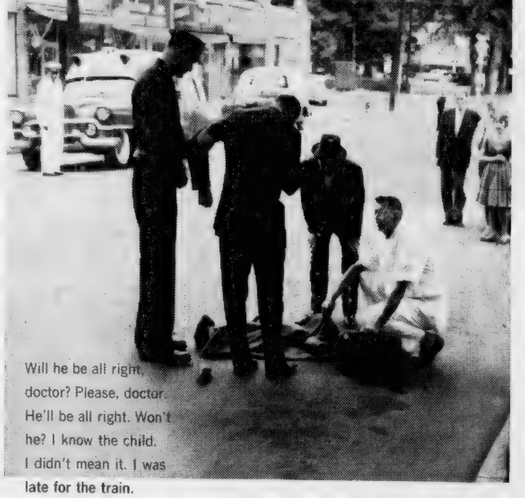
(Continued from page 2)

hectic chaos then present, he maniacally bellowed forth in a voice which shattered both my liquor glass and watch crystal, "For I'm a jolly good fellow!!!"

As Lord Charlton and I were running away, the former said to me, "Even though he is 129 years old, John's still as wonderfully spry and crazy as ever."

I had to agree.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS



"THAT'S PROF SNARF'S CLASS — HE'S ALWAYS DROPPING SOMEBODY."

Pitts Men's Shop
Style Mart Clothes — Jantzen Sportswear
Nunn Bush, Jarman Shoes

GALLMAN'S BARBER SHOP
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS

HAD YOUR MILITARY UNIFORM CLEANED AND PRESSED?
Sunshine Cleaners
Quality Cleaning
...and...
Shirt Laundry
EXPERT SHOE REPAIR

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

Will he be all right, doctor? Please, doctor. He'll be all right. Won't he? I know the child. I didn't mean it. I was late for the train. I forgot school started. Sometimes you have to hurry. What do you want, officer? I didn't mean it. Where are you taking me? Please. No, doctor. No!

Drivers Kill and Cripple More Children than Any Disease!

Yes, careless drivers kill more children than pneumonia, cancer, polio, congenital malformation, or any other cause. Drivers kill and cripple more children than any major disease. You've helped fight cancer, polio, other dreadful diseases. Now recognize the giant killer—traffic accidents! Fight it. Write your local enforcement officials. Say . . .

"I support strict law enforcement"

Let them know you are behind their efforts to protect your children. For wherever traffic laws are strictly obeyed and enforced, deaths go down! Your community can be another to prove it!

Published to save lives by
The Blue Stocking
In cooperation with The Advertising Council and The National Safety Council

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL SAFETY ORGANIZATION

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., March 3, 1961 No. 10

Featured in Religious Emphasis Week plans are, from left to right, the Reverend James G. Stewart, Peachtree Road Church of Atlanta; Dr. John H. Leith, Union Theological Seminary, Richmond; and the Reverend J. Sherrard Rice, First Church, Richmond; and the Reverend J. Sherrard Rice, First Church, burg)

Outstanding Speakers Highlight Annual Religious Emphasis Week

• Seminar Classes Featured

Religious Emphasis Week services are slated to begin Tuesday night, March 7, with the first of three vesper programs at 7:30. The annual SCA-sponsored event will include chapel on Wednesday, will be no Monday chapel. Discussion groups and seminar classes round out the week's activities.

Four outstanding speakers are scheduled to take part. They are Dr. John H. Leith, Rev. J. Sherrard Rice, Rev. James G. Stuart, and Rev. Joe Brooks.

The vesper programs are voluntary and attendance at these services counts on Fraternity trophy competition. Discussion groups on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at 2:30 are also voluntary. Military students attending the Thursday groups will be excused from drill.

Speakers will appear Wednesday night in fraternity suites for informal discussion. Certain classes, mostly in the Bible department, will be turned over to the visitors after roll has been called. These classes will also be open to students with free periods. Speakers will also be available for private talks.

Complete information on times, schedule and rooms, along with the order of worship can be found in the REW brochure which will be distributed to students Tuesday night.

Dr. John H. Leith, professor of Historical Theology at Union Seminary was educated at Erskine, Vanderbilt, and Yale. A native South Carolinian, he has held outstanding pastorates and teaching positions. He has served as president of the Presbyterian Education Association of the South.

Dr. J. Sherrard Rice, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Columbia, was educated at Davidson, Union, and Princeton Seminaries. He is author of the book, "Let There Be Light." He has held pastorates in Texas and West Virginia and was a professor at the School of Christian Education.

Rev. James G. Stuart received his theological training at Columbia Seminary. He has done graduate work in psychology at Princeton Seminary. Associate pastor of the Peachtree Road Presbyterian Church of Atlanta, Stuart did his undergraduate work at the University of Mississippi.

A native of West Virginia, Rev. Joe Brooks attended that state's university and Union Seminary. He served in two North Carolina churches before coming to Westminster Presbyterian Church in Spartanburg. He has appeared before the student body earlier this year in chapel services.

The theme for this year's Religious Emphasis Week is "An Unchanging Christ in a Changing World." The event brings to an end the activities of the current officers and cabinet of the Student Christian Association.

Department Heads Active In Conducting Research

The heads of two of PC's departments, Dr. Alex B. Stump of Biology, and Dr. Newton B. Jones of History, are currently engaged in research programs for publication in professional journals.

Dr. Stump, who has been Professor of Biology at PC since 1947, has for some time been conducting research on reproduction of micro-organisms under a grant from the Southern Fellowship Fund. He recently contributed an article on "Mitosis in the Rhizopod Lesquereusia Spiralis" to the Journal of Protozoology, an intellectual biological magazine.

The Lesquereusia Spiralis, a one-celled animal commonly known as a "shelled amoeba," is found in ponds near Clinton and is easily cultured in the laboratory. Dr. Stump is presently concerned with the growth of the cell nucleus of the animal and immediately after it undergoes cell division. He plans to expand the scope of his previous study and perhaps contribute the added material to the Journal.

Students conducting individual research under Dr. Stump's direction include Billy Ogden on venoms, Mike Brown and Sam McGee on chick embryos, and Lewis Edge on plant tropisms.

Dr. Jones, who is president of the South Carolina Historical Society, has contributed numerous articles to the Society's magazine, the most recent being an editing of the "Writings of the Rev. William Tennent," which appeared in the October issue.

Rev. Tennent was a prominent eighteenth century Presbyterian minister and member of the South Carolina Assembly whose writings and speeches culminated in the abolition of a state church by the constitution of 1788. Dr. Jones' interest in Tennent grew out of a series of related subjects which include the history of PC, Thornwel Orphanage, and the Presbyterian Church in South Carolina. Dr. Jones is currently studying the Reconstruction period of the South in connection with the course on Civil War and Reconstruction which he is teaching this semester.

Brown Reelected By College Foundation

Dr. Marshall W. Brown, president of Presbyterian College, has been reelected chairman of the South Carolina Foundation of Independent Colleges to serve for the coming year.

He was named to serve another term by the foundation's board of trustees meeting recently in Greenville.

The South Carolina Foundation of Independent Colleges is an organization of the state's nine non-tax-supported schools banded together to present a united appeal to business and industry. It has done increasingly effective work since its establishment in 1954.

Other officers chosen to serve with President Brown are: Dr. Charles Marsh, president of Wofford College, vice-chairman; and Dr. A. C. D. Wiles, president of Newberry College, secretary-treasurer.

Forty Students Named To First Semester Dean's List

Forty Presbyterian College students qualified for the Dean's List for the first semester of the 1960-61 session, Academic Dean George C. Bellingrath announced today.

He said five of the group being cited for scholarly achievement made all-A records. They are: Edward D. Johnson and Mrs. Grace Walker, both of Clinton; Brenda Gay Maddox of Spartanburg; Sanders G. Read, Jr., of McClellanville; and Mrs. Sue N. Spratt of Fredericksburg, Va.

The Dean's List, divided into three groups, lists those students making a 3.75 grade point ratio out of a possible 4.00, those making 3.50 and those making 3.20.

Eight students, in addition to the five with perfect 4.00 all-A averages, who made 3.75 or better are: Herbert F. Adair of Clinton; Marion B. Boozer of Gaffney; Ponce DeLeon Bullard of Bainbridge, Ga.; Mrs. Alice W. Clontz of Augusta, Ga.; W. Donald Kay of Anderson; William M. Littlefield of Woodruff; Robert P. Piephoff of Greenville; and Maurice E. Schwartz of Laurinburg, N. C.

Eleven students finished the semester with grade-point ratios between 3.50 and 3.75: Mrs. Jane J. Hammet and James H. Leighton, Jr., both of Clinton; James W. Harris, Martha Ann Monroe, and Linda Carol Traynham, all of Laurens; Janet E. Maddox of Spartanburg; Mrs. Doris S. Nelson of Gray Court; David L. Perry of Raleigh, N. C.; Bertrand A. Weinberg, Jr., of Sumter; and Mildred Christine Wilson of Monroe, N. C.

The remaining 16 Dean's List scholars, who made averages between 3.20 and 3.50, include: Charles B. May and William E. Tyson, both of Bainbridge, Ga.; Thomas W. Currie of Carthage, N. C.; John W. Elrod of Griffin, Ga.; Anson D. Faust of Richburg; John H. Gettys of Union; Mrs. Dixie R. Gooch of Arcadia, Fla.; Harry G. McDonnold of Asheville, N. C.; Leroy M. Madrazo of Laurens; William S. Ogden of Macon, Ga.; William H. Oliver of Valdosta, Ga.; George L. Powell of Wallace, N. C.; James R. Thompson of Manning; William F. Tiller of Mayesville; Jon W. Vastine of Danville, Pa.; and John B. Zachry of West Point, Ga.

Senior Placement

Seniors contact Mrs. Watts, secretary to the Dean of Students, in the administration building for appointments for job placement interviews.

March 9—Board of Education, Anne Arundel County, Annapolis, Md.

March 9—Riegel Textile Corporation.

Trustees to Meet

The Presbyterian College board of trustees will hold its annual spring meeting on the PC campus next Tuesday.

Members are scheduled to assemble at 10:30 a. m. in the board room of Belk Auditorium for this session.

Robert M. Vance, Clinton Banker and industrialist, serves as chairman of the Presbyterian College trustees. George Hoyt, Atlanta businessman, is vice-chairman; and J. Ferdinand Jacobs, Sr., Clinton advertising executive, is secretary.

Military Promotes Senior Officers

By order issued from the office of Lt. Col. W. W. Barnett a number of seniors received promotions for the spring semester. It is customary that all senior officers who hold a position that requires or allows a higher grade receive these promotions.

Cadet Lt. Col. Paul O. Ard, Jr., was promoted to Cadet Colonel, and Cadet Major Marion B. Lee was promoted to Cadet Lt. Colonel. Cadet Captain Fred D. Clark and Harry G. McDonnold both received the rating of Cadet Major.

The following Cadet 1st Lieutenants received promtoion to Cadet Captain: Charles H. Clayton, Patrick D. Malone, Hexie McDonnold, Douglas C. McDougald, Thomas C. Middleton, James G. Monroe ,and James W. Sease.

Promoted from Cadet 2nd Lieutenant to Cadet 1st Lieutenant were Thomas A. Collins, Micheal R. Dawkins, Walter P. Dorn, Jr., Richard E. Faulkner, Otto W. Ferrene, Jr., Herbert V. Hammett, John W. Gibson, Carlisle P. Griffin, Gordon S. Mobley, III, and John E. Parker.

Cadet Sergeants Donald T. Dunlap and Arthur L. Blackwelder were promoted to Cadet 2nd Lieutenant.

Lowry Chosen Prexy Of Alpha Sigma Phi

The Brothers of Alpha Psi Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity recently elected James "Cricket" Lowry of Great Falls, as its president

Other officers elected were: Rohe Eshbaugh of Louisville, Ky., vice-president; Bob Arrowood of Linden, N. C., treasurer; Bobby Piephoff of Greenville, recording secretary; Allen Freeman of Atlanta, corresponding secretary; Bob Bethea of Louisville, Ga., marshal; Billy Ray Ladd of Junction City, Ky., house chairman; Murray White of Fort Mill, reporter. Jimmy Thompson of Manning, was selected to be IFC representative.

The music for the Military Ball, which will be held tonight in the Clinton Armory, will be furnished by the College 'N' Band of Newberry.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Editor's Notebook

AT LONG LAST a use has finally been found for the wasted space under Belk's wing known affectionately as the "trustees' meeting room." Unlock the door, turn on the lights, sweep the floor, dust and open the heat vents, for the trustees are having a once in a blue moon meeting next Tuesday.

BELK AUDITORIUM has been open for almost nine months. Since September its use has been confined primarily to chapel services three times a week, with an occasional Community Concert or two thrown in for variety.

With the number of people who have walked up and down the steeply inclined aisle, its a wonder that someone hasn't fallen and been seriously hurt. As spring rains are upon us and everyone's shoes are slicked with water, we suggest that some type of rubber mat be put down on these aisles to keep the college from paying a liability claim.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS are extended to head football coach Frank Jones for scheduling a fine slate of opponents for next year's grid contests. After many seasons the Hosemen will finally play Tampa on the home field, while the game with the University of Chattanooga will highlight the road trips.

The 1961-62 schedule provides the administration with excellent opportunities for planning both Homecoming and Parents' Day activities.

AS WE UNDERSTAND IT, the canteen is supposed to be open every night of the week except Saturday from 8:00 to 10:00. This past week the doors were found locked and upon inquiry it was discovered that an important intramural game had begun at 8:00 It seems as though the game involved two fraternities of which the night canteen crew are members. It should be noted that not everyone was interested in this contest, and some still desired their Pepsi. Are there no substitutes available?

The Season Is Here

The season for campus elections is upon us once again. Every year at this time the outgoing student officers turn their chairs over to replacements, who are chosen by the student body. The two elections which will more nearly effect the interest of the entire student body are the SCA and Study Body officers.

We hope this spring will see colorful and active campaigning for these positions, and as a part of the campaign activities, we suggest the nominees speak in chapel. This will afford them an opportunity to present their experience, capabilities and platforms, while giving the students a chance to pick the best qualified.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR	GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER	LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR	MURRAY WHITE
News Editor	Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor	Jerry Chitty
Feature Editor	Tom Morrison
Greek Editor	Bill Matthews
Copy Editor	Bobby Piephoff
Photographer	Roy Autry
Circulation	Raymond Humphries
News Staff	Lewis Edge, Tom Currie, Don Kay, Robert Perry, DuPont Smith.
Sports Staff	Loren Eagles, Robert Sherrell, Gary Brown, Eugene Goodwyn, Bob Waterman, Hondo Jackson, Sonny DuBose, Joe Harvard, Bill Gillespie.
Feature Staff	Leon Bullard, Sanders Read
Business Staff	Marshal Jones, John Craig.

Staff Fights Torrent of Rain

By Tom Morrison

The rain was cascading in torrents as hurried people ran amid darkly cast shadows toward majestic Douglas House. Once inside that building they determinedly sped upstairs without stopping even to dry themselves off. One by one these individuals then enter a smoke-filled room which was lined on both sides with busy tables equipped for ready use by typists and other workers.

Emotional pitch ran high with a tenseness comparable to that of scientists who suddenly embark upon some life-saving discovery. There were heaps of paper scattered nearly everywhere until after Edmunds sharply ordered, "Clean up those cards and money, and let's get down to business." Obedience was displayed only after some of that unique PC hissing had taken hold for several minutes.

The editor now held conferences with those various department heads supposed to be under his sujervision. Gerald Pitts, that same news man who had broken Clinton's most talked about mystery in years (the famous third degree labor law case of 1937 in which townswoman, Miss Hortense Priddle, courageously chose to be her own lawyer and successfully incriminated herself was the first to speak: "Chief, still can't decide whether to give top billing to the story on Khrushchev's decision to enter PC next year or the other one about Russ catching the measles."

"Work the two in together somehow."

"Brilliant, Chief. But how?"

Ignoring this question, he next turned his understanding ear to Sports Editor Jerry Chitty who pleaded, "Just let me mention East Indian fly chasing briefly in the next edition—that's all I ask."

"My decision is final and absolute. Whether it's your favorite sport or not, we have to give the readers what they want—pokeracorn fighting, strip tease competition, and the like."

He then wheeled around in the opposite direction to let loose with another directive: "Edge, how many times have I told you to type only in rhythm to the tune of our beloved college song and nothing else?"

"I was just trying out a new rock 'n' roll version, but if you don't like it . . . "

The Scotch and bourbon was then brought out, inspired toasts being offered one after the other. Those journalists not having resigned as yet reminisced briefly over their respective careers, then donned trench coats with collars upturned, and went back out into the night in a never ending search for the news.

Such, reader, is the glamorous story behind this paper. Thus I emphasized the true greatness of the American society in which we should wallow with sincere proudness.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"WHY, FREDA, YOU DIDN'T TELL ME YOU HAD A DATE WITH A FRATERNITY MAN!"

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited by Bill Matthews

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Alpha Sigs will enjoy the Military Ball tonight and a sweater dance that will be held in the fraternity suite tomorrow night. The music will be furnished by Moses and the Five Disciples.

We would like to congratulate our new pledge, Thomas Herndon, and we also extend our congratulations to Paul Layton, who was recently received into the Brotherhood.

THETA CHI

Beta Chapter of Theta Chi is pleased to welcome these new pledges into the chapter. They are Ken Acker, Bob Beddingfield, and Tom Knox.

At the weekly meeting on Tuesday night, final plans for the Military Ball Weekend were settled. Also, action was taken towards obtaining new furniture for the suite.

KAPPA ALPHA

Beta Psi Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order extended warm congratulations to Brother Sam Magee on his recent pinning of Miss Mary Lee Hinson of St. Mary's in Raleigh. Old South festivities were postponed until April 14 and 15.

The Brothers and pledges are looking forward to the Military Ball Friday night. The Hearts will play at the dance which will be held at the Mary Musgrove Hatel. Saturday night the Hearts will again provide the music for a party to be held in the fraternity room.

PI KAPPA PHI

The Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi initiated nine new pledges to the chapter. They are: Ron Burriss, Floyd Fuller, Ford Henley, Richard Bulloch, Bill Rolin, Larry Poppell, James Salvo, Gordon Mayhugh, and Wayne Deas. Our

(Continued on page four)

Letters

Committee Reports Communistic Aims

All letters to the editor must be signed; names will be withheld upon request. Letters do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the editors.

Dear Editor,

Upon reading an article in last week's Blue Stocking that dealt with college students' opinions of the film "Operation Abolition. I have come to the conclusion that these students, in an effort to rationalize for those who have been "duped" by the communists have become "duped" by themselves. This film more than clearly shows the aims of the communists, and their ability to incite riots against conscientious men who are trying to rid us of the communist poison. One could almost go as far as saying that those who advocate banning the film are victims of what the film implies.

Let's hope the students of PC who saw the film will realize its value—to show the true aim of communism which is dissension within. Let's hope PC students will not be "duped" into joining the ranks of the blindly ignorant followers of the great communist father.

—Alex Bossermar

Guy Handcock leaps high to block Pete Yearout's shot in Wednesday night's intramural court activity. Handcock's efforts were not in vain, as the PiKAs defeated Sigma Nu 36-26. Leland Vaughn, on the right, appears to be afraid of the outcome.—(Autry Photo)

Regular Mural Play Ends With PiKA Taking Lead

By Eugene Goodwyn

Filled with upsets, the final week of the regular season saw Pi Kappa Alpha down Sigma Nu, the Raiders, and Kappa Alpha, to finish undefeated in the winner's league. All tournament berths are settled, with the top four teams in the winner's league and the top two teams from the consolation league being paired off for opening play. These teams, PiKA, KA, Sigma Nu, Tigers, PiKapp, and the Wrecks, will be seeded prior to Tuesday night.

Monday night's action saw Kappa Alpha squeeze by Sigma Nu in an overtime thriller, 50-48. Heyward Nettles, with 20 points, and Tommy Williams with 12, were high men for the victors. Top scorer for the Sigs with 21 points was John McIntosh, who collecting 18 in the second half. PiKA eased by the Raiders, winning 41-37. Brown, Collins, and Kolb all scored in double figures for the winners, while Holmes and Malone collected 11 and 10 points respectively for the losing cause.

Again paced by Collins and Russell, the PiKAs handed the cold-shooting Sigs their second loss in a row, 36-26. Bill Stone picked up 15 for the losers in the Tuesday night contest. Alpha Sig edged by the Confederates 39-37 in the exciting second game of the evening. Bobby Piephoff was high for both teams with 14 points, while Leon Bullard and Rick Wansley scored 11 each for the Confeds.

Thursday night saw two upsets. The Tigers led by Gordon Mayhugh's 17 points, slipped by the floundering Sigs, 42-38. John McIntosh's 15 points was high for the losers.

Collecting a total of 65 points, PiKAs rolled to its third victory of the week. The accuracy of Collins, Kolb and Russell, combined with the rebounding of Brown, accounting for the upset over the KAs. Bobby Joiner's 18 and Art Williams' 13 totaled more than half of Kappa Alpha's 50 points.

Weather Hampers Hose Cinder Squad

Track workouts have been slowed down by bad weather. Consistent rain has kept the boys inside most of the time. Also a large number of the track prospects are in the middle of spring football practice. To add to their troubles, Captain-elect Hondo Jackson dropped out of school. He was the top point getter last year and was counted on for heavy duty this year. Left to carry the load will be dash men Lynn Gorman and Bob Beddingfield, high jumper Bill Hill, hurdler Stack Burton, and middle distance man Belton Jackson.

The new man to watch is James Salvo, a distance man who transferred from Georgia Tech. He could give the team a big boost.

Hose Net Opening Postponed; Begin Season With Florida Trip

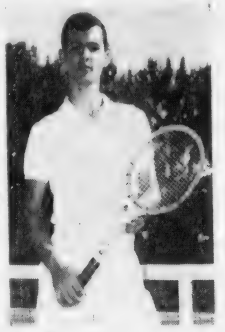
• Court Schedule Posted

By Bill Gillespie

The opening match of the Presbyterian tennis team with Augusta Country Club has been cancelled, which alters the opening date of the tennis team to their match with the powerful University of Florida team. Last year the Presbyterian tennis team defeated the University of Florida 5-4 in a hard-fought contest. Coach Leighton again expects his team to encounter a well poised opponent in Gainesville.

The only member of last year's team who did not return this year was PC's fine number one man, Harry Hoffman. Coach Leighton feels that the returning players have improved very much over last year and that Tony Wilson, last year's number two man, will make a fine number one man to follow Hoffman. Other matches on the the Florida trip will be with Rollins and Miami, two highly regarded tennis powers.

The trip south will definitely bring the PC tennis team up against three tough foes, but this will only be a sample of what is still to come. This year the tennis team has one of the best home schedules it has ever had and the PC student body will get a chance to see high quality tennis in such teams as Kalamazoo, Harvard, University of Georgia, and three newcomers to the schedule, University of Minesota, Sewanee, and University of Toledo.



The team has its work cut out in measuring up to last year's fine record of 15-5. Five of the fifteen victories were won by a close score of 5-4 while only losing one 5-4 decision. Coach Leighton thanks the student body for its fine support last year and hopes that the student body will show equal enthusiasm in the coming season.

Henry Gordon has been added to the tennis team and will make the Florida trip and Lynn Hudgins has been selected as the team's manager. Other hopefuls and possible participants in the South Carolina matches are Mike Brown, Bobby Piephoff, Tom Curry, Mark Braswell, Bill Gillespie, and Paul Layton.

Coach Leighton gives his praise aid thanks to Rakestraw and his crew for their fine job in preparing the court for the coming season.

1961 TENNIS SCHEDULE

March 13—Florida University, Gainesville, Fla.
March 14—Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla.
March 16-17—University of Miami, Miami, Fla.
March 21-22 — University of Minnesota, Clinton.
March 23 — Wofford College, Clinton.
March 28 — Clemson College, Clinton.
March 29—University of the South (Sewanee), Clinton.
March 30—University of South Carolina, Clinton.
April 3 — Kalamazoo College, Clinton.
April 4—University of Toledo, Clinton.
April 5-6—Harvard University, Clinton.
April 11—University of Georgia, Athens, Ga.
April 12—Georgia Tech, Atlanta, Ga.
April 14—Furman University, Clinton.
April 15 — Augusta Country Club, Augusta, Ga.
April 19—University of Georgia, Clinton.
April 21-22—State Meet, Clemson.

Tony Wilson . . . No. 1

Newberry Victor In Little Four Play

Last Saturday night the Newberry Indians took the Little Four Basketball title, edging Erskine's Flying Fleet 69-64.

In the two first-round games Friday night, favored Newberry beat PC 90-69 and Erskine topped the Wofford Terirers, 73-62.

Newberry beat PC 90-69 and Erskine topped the Wofford Terriers, 73-62.

The fine performance of two Newberry Little All-American candidates, Carl Short and Johnny Bauknight, plus a 55% field goal average for the first half were too much for PC's fighting Blue Hose. PC, playing one of its better games of the season, had a 42% field goal average with freshman Andy Karlsons and sopohmore Jim McGuire hitting for 25 and 11, respectively.

In the second game the Terriers first couldn't seem to get started, netting only 26 points in the first half. Erskine, taking advantage of this opportunity with the fine shooting of Bob Tuttle who collected 27 points, was never in doubt.

The Newberry Indians had to live up to their name last Saturday when they squeezed by Erskine 69-64. This closely contested game was observed by an estimated 1500 spectators in Greenville's Memorial Auditorium. After taking a commanding 42-28 halftime lead, Newberry had to hang on for dear life in the final minutes of the second half.

The Indians could only manage four baskets from the floor in the second half, and four free throws by Carl Short in the final minute were the deciding factor in the final outcome.

The Fleet outscored Newberry 36-27 in the second half but time and Short's fine 19-point first half performance were too much for the Flying Fleet.

The Wofford Teriers took third place by defeating PC 82 to 69.

Wofford jumped off to an eight-point lead before PC could score and led at halftime 46-33.

The great 28-point performance of PC's Andy Karlsons and the scrappy PC team could not contest with the height and double figures of three Wofford Terriers.

The all-tournament team is composed of Carl Short (N), Jimmy Rakestraw (PC), Bill Ohlendorf (E), Phil Muspaues (N), Andy Karlsons (PC), Boyce Berry (W), Bill Scarry (N), Ronie Russell (W), Bill Tuttle (E), and John Bauknight (N).

Fall Grid Schedule Announced by Jones

Presbyterian College will play a ten-game football schedule, highlighted by four home engagements, during the 1961 season, Athletic Director Frank Jones announced today.

Jones, who also serves as head gridiron coach, said the Blue Hose will face seven of the same opponents played last year. The University of Chattanooga returns to the PC schedule for the first time since 1948, replacing The Citadel. The University of Tampa and Appalachian are back after a year's absence, but schedule conflicts interrupt the PC-East Carolina gridiron series this fall.

Presbyterian will open at Furman on September 16 and close at Newberry next Thanksgiving afternoon, November 23. The slate will bring Wofford, Tampa, Catawba, and Appalachian here for home games on Johnson Field, while one of the road trips will be against Lenior Rhyne's number one national small college power.

The 1961 schedule for PC gridmen, who won six and lost three while posting their third straight Little Three championship last year:

September 16 — Furman at Greenville; 23—Lenoir Rhyne at Hickory, N. C.; 30—Wofford at Clinton; Oct. 14—Davidson at Davidson; 21—Tampa at Clinton; 28—Catawba at Clinton; November 4—Chattanooga at Chattanooga; 11—Appalachian at Clinton; 17—Elon at Elon, N. C.; and 23—Newberry at Newberry.

Yarborough
Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

JERRY CHITTY

BEHIND THE BLUES

Basketball drew to a close Saturday night, with the highly-talented Newberry Indians being triumphant. In the consolation game, Wofford proved too much for the hustling Hosemen. However, the Hose put up a valiant effort, hats off to these boys.

Next week will be the scene of the annual Intramural basketball tournament, featuring the top teams from both leagues. The teams are well-matched this year, and should prove very entertaining to the fans.

Monday night should also prove interesting to basketball fans on campus, as the Faculty challenges the Intramural All-Stars. Admission will be charged for the game, and it will get underway at 7:30.

Baseball practice officially got underway this week, with many new faces appearing. Adding highlight to this year's action will be the addition of Cornell to the schedule.

Congratulations to Jim Rakestraw and Andy Karlsons on their making the All-Tourney team last week in Greenville. Karlsons was also honored with being voted outstanding Freshman in the Tourney.

The track team suffered a loss this week as Hondo Jackson left school. Jackson was last year's point man and will be sorely missed by Coach Spooner's boys this season.

PC baseball fans may be in for a treat this season, as Jack Williams showed winning form last Saturday night in Greenville. Jack, with five seconds remaining in the consolation game against Wofford last week, heaved one for the goal that almost went in orbit. Coach Clyde may have another pitcher, you never can tell!

'The Nutcracker' Proves Highlight of Ballet Russe

A small but receptive audience viewed the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo last Friday night in Belk Auditorium—and saw the highlight of this, or any other season, for Clinton or Presbyterian College.

The evening went all too fast as the company masterfully performed four popular excerpts: Swan Lake (Act II), Pas de Trois Classique, divertissements on The Nutcracker and Gaite Parisienne.

There were few flaws in the performance. Although "live" music was welcome to many ears, the eighteen-piece orchestra lacked vitality and did not give the dancers the support they needed. Only not until they reached the rousing tempo of Gaite Parisienne did the orchestra show its true ability.

The poor lighting equipment of Belk Auditorium created some limtiations on the company and forced them to dance some scenes in almost total darkness. (The lack of a water fountain also created discomfort for several hundred ticket-holders)

The highlight of the evening was the breath-taking Pas de Deux from The Nutcracker by Prima Ballerina and Ballet Mistress Nina Novak and Premier Danseur George Zoritch. The style and grace with which they performed the difficult number was unequaled that night.

Swan Lake was a little slow and the corps de ballet was not in the best of form. Following this was a brilliant technical display of the dance in Pas de Classique by three accomplished dancers, Tania Chevtchenko, Meredith Baylis and Yelle Bettencourt. Baylis astounded the audience with his high leaps and excellent form.

Marlene Rizzo and Ramon Segarra sparked The Nutcracker with their interpretation of the Chinese Dance. Paula Tennyson proved to be worthy of higher billing by her performance in the Waltz of the Flowers and as The Glove Seller in Gaite Parisienne.

The colorful costumes and set was a welcome sight on the Belk stage in the rousing finale, Gaite Parisienne, which provided the audience with its happiest moments.

Richard Tarczynski as The Peruvian stole the final ballet, while James Capp as the Dance Master and Gail Israel as the Head Can-Can Dancer performed admirably. For a delicious instant, the stage was flooded with music, color and rhythm as the whole ensemble delighted the audience with the famous can-can.

We would predict that for many years, cultural life in Clinton will be dated from the appearance of the Ballet Russe.

Nina Novak
. . . Ballet Russe star

From the Past

Students Vote Dry On Drink Question

Editor's Note: The following article was taken from The Clinton Chronicle of Thursday, March 18, 1926.

Last Thursday morning the students of Presbyterian College had the opportunity of expressing their opinion on the prohibition question. A poll of the student body of the local institution was taken at the chapel exercises in conjunction with the straw vote conducted the past two weeks by The Greenville Piedmont.

The students at the college went almost altogether dry, thus following in the footsteps of Furman University and GWC, and voting opposite to Clemson.

When the final tally had been made at the college it was found that 158 of the students favored the present dry law with strict enforcement. Only nine favored the repeal of the present law and 33 favored its modification so as to allow the sale of light wines and beer.

The prohibition ballot was the second vote taken at the local institution this year to find the opinion of the students in regard to national questions. In December the students went on record as favoring the entry of the United States into the World Court.

The GREEKS
Have A Word

(Continued from page two) congratulations go out to the new pledges.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Congratulations to Andy Karlsons who was pledged into Mu Chapter this week. Pledge officers are: President, Joel Wilson; Vice-President, Bill Tyson; Secretary, Charlie May; Treasurer, Frank Branham; and Song Leader, Fred Myers. Congratulations to the pledge class on their fine scholastic standing first semester and for the successful pledge trips.

SIGMA NU

Zeta Theta Chapter is anticipating a fine Military Ball Weekend. There will be closed parties at the house after the Ball and Saturday night featuring the "Rockets."

Dance Weekend

A Missile in The Night

The phone rings; once, twice, someone yells, answer the damn phone! The phone is answered and the lucky boy goes down to spea kto his caller. Three minutes later the sounds of anger reach the room. A boy banging up the stairs, slamming his door and yelling to his roommates.

"I've been shafted." Everyone in the dorm feels sympathy for the young man because he had been planning on this date for over three weeks. Now it is too late for him to get another date, so he'll either "stag" it or study this weekend. A big weekend shot to hell!

The class bell rings and everyone rushes to Douglas House to check his mail before chapel. Those fortunate enough to receive correspondence glance through it quickly. One finds a letter with feminine handwriting other than his mother's. Tearing the envelope open, he reads the letter as he meanders down to Belk. Just in front of the entrance to Bailey Dorm he lets out such a tremendous moan that everyone around him knows what has happened—he has received a missile—right in the back.

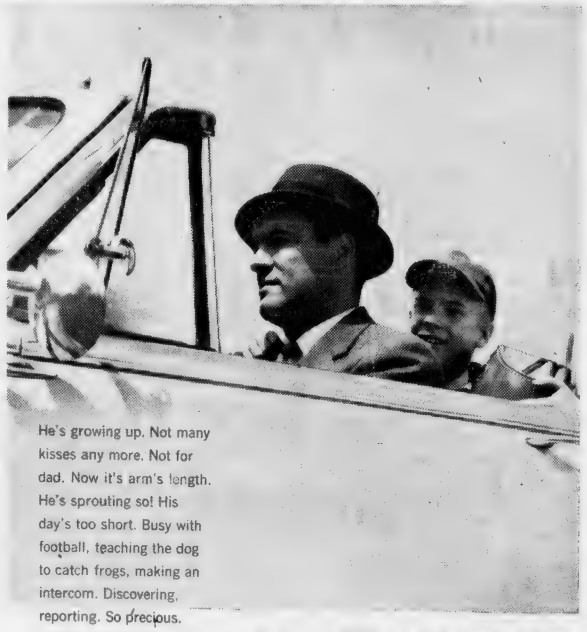
As the week progresses, more phone calls and more letters until Thursday arrives. That day the boys who still have dates are afraid every time the phone rings, and they don't have enough nerve to check their mail boxes to see if they have any mail.

Thursday night is the worst time. Most boys go to the show or some place so they can escape the missile. The worst missile comes when he returns. There is a note under the door which tells him to call Miss Picney Waite's School for Girls Missile 6-000.

This missile hits the hardest the one on Thursday night. The boy has no hope for the weekend being anything but a failure. A dance weekend spent in the dorm studying, thanks to the missile in the night.

BROADWAY Theatre

Mon.-Tues., March 6-7
FOXFIRE
Jane Russell, Jeff Chandler, Dan Duryea



Wed.-Thurs., March 8-9
THE PLUNDERERS
Jeff Chandler, John Saxon, Dolores Hart

Fri.-Sat., March 10-11
GOLIATH AND THE DRAGON

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

It's Dance Weekend!
For Fine Food, Take Your Date to the Clinton Cafe
STEAKS
SEAFOODS
CHOPS
On the Square

He's growing up. Not many kisses any more. Not for dad. Now it's arm's length. He's sprouting so! His day's too short. Busy with football, teaching the dog to catch frogs, making an intercom. Discovering, reporting. So precious. Help me protect him. Let others protect him. From drivers. Particularly now, with school open, from people who speed, or forget to look, or forget that kids dart into the street full of life, unaware. And so precious.

Drivers Kill and Cripple More Children than Any Disease!

You have helped curb pneumonia, cancer, polio, and other terrible diseases. How about careless drivers? They kill and cripple more children from 1 to 14 years than any major disease. Will you help curb careless drivers? You can. Just write to your local enforcement officials. Say . . .

"I support strict law enforcement"

When traffic laws are strictly enforced and obeyed, traffic deaths go down. Your community can be another to prove it.

Published to save lives by
The Blue Stocking

In cooperation with
The Advertising Council and
The National Safety Council

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL SAFETY ORGANIZATION

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXIX · Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., March 10, 1961 · No. 11

Cadet Sergeant Byron Hollingsworth presents a dozen roses to Miss Susan Foster, who was escorted by Cadet Col. Paul O. Ard at this year's Military Ball.—(Autry Photo)

SCA Cabinet Lists Nominations; Ballots To Be Cast On Wednesday

• Elrod, Sells, Waters Named

Nominations were made by a nominating committee selected from the SCA cabinet and was supplemented and revised by all cabinet members. The SCA nominees were announced yesterday by Bob Smith, President.

Those nominated for president are: John Elrod, Frank Sells, and Dave Waters. Vice-Presidential nominees are Jerry Chitty and Harold Hope. Two co-eds, Janet Maddox and Christine Wilson, were nominated for Secretary. Ken Davis and Griffin Helwig are the two that have been nominated for Treasurer.

John Elrod of Griffin, Ga., is active in school and church affairs, has been in charge of the chapel programs, and is a brother in the Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Frank Sells from Johnson City, Tenn., member of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, has conducted several chapel programs, is chaplain of the traveling choir, and is serving as the present secertary for the SCA. During the summer he has served as chaplain in a summer camp for boys.

Dave Waters from Charleston, has been pledge trainer and marshal in the Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity, has served on the publicity committee of the SCA cabinet, and has also been active in other student and school affairs.

Election of SCA president will be held Wednesday, March 15. Ballot boxes will be located in the Douglas House, as usual, from 9:00 to 2:00. The remaining officers of SCA will be selected at a later election, Wednesday, March 22.

Those who are chosen in these two elections will replace present SCA officers; Bob Smith, President; Dick Faulkner, Vice-President; Frank Sells, Secretary; and Jim Lowry, Treasurer.

Chapel Services

Monday—Candidates for SCA President.

Wednesday—Chapel Worship Services; Baptist Missionary Melvin J. Bradshaw.

Friday—Pat Griffin.

Trustees Reelect; Promote Professors

Robert M. Vance, Clinton Banker and textile industrialist, has been reelected to serve his fifth year as chairman of the Presbyterian College Board of Trustees.

He was named by fellow board members at their annual meeting here Tuesday. Vance, who is the president of M. S. Bailey and Son, Bankers, and of the Clinton-Lydia Cotton Mills, first assumed the trustee chairmanship in 1957.

The other officers of the PC board of trustees also were reelected to serve another term. They are: George Hoyt, Atlanta businessman, vice-chairman; and J. Ferdinand Jacobs, Sr., secretary.

The Board also listed promotions for three of Presbyterian's faculty members. Dr. Louis B. Pope was promoted from Associate Professor of Education to full Professor ,while Mr. W. S. Cannon moved from Instructor in Math to Assistant Professor; Mr. F. G. Ford rose from Instructor of Education to Assistant Professor.

Robed Choir Sings

Tomorrow the Presbyterian College Robed Choir pulls out for another weekend trip.

Saturday afternoon the Blue Throats travel to Walterboro where they will present the Sunday morning worship service. On their way back to the campus Sunday afternoon, the choir will stop over in Sumerville at the Presbyterian Home for the Aged, and sing at the afternoon vesper service.

They will return to the campus some time early Sunday night.

NOTICE

All South Carolina students are reminded to renew their driver's licenses. The present license expires June 30, 1961. After this date a driver must take the driver's test to renew his license.

ROTC Prepares For Federal Inspection

On Wednesday of next week, March 15, the Presbyterian College corps of cadets will have its annual Federal Inspection. The inspection will begin in the Military Department classroom. These inspections will be divided into two parts. The first hour will be an open ranks inspection of the corps by the visiting officials.

The cadets will be inspected on general appearance, neatness, and alertness. The second hour of drill, at 2:30 p. m., will feature a mass battle group parade. The parade, led by the battle group commander, Cadet Col. Paul O. Ard, Jr.,-will be reviewed by the visiting dignitaries.

Lt. Col. W. W. Barnett, Jr., PMS, stated that the public is cordially invited to observe the inspection.

The inspecting officers are Col. Carl R. Hill, Major D. E. Rivette, and Major Lee S. Farrell, all of the University of Georgia.

Registrar Announces January Graduates

Thirteen Presbyterian College seniors completed requirements for their degrees with the close of the semester of the 1960-61 session. The group includes:

Bachelor of Arts — William Thomas Benton, of Chamblee, Ga.; Edward Donnell Johnson, of Clinton (Summa Cum Laude); William Paul McKinnon, of Hampton; Charles Marvin Malpass, of Clinton; Thomas Carroll Ott, of Bowman; William Hascall Pattee, of Jacksonville, Fla.; James Gene Peck, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; and Lloyd Wayne Wiggins, of Fort Mill.

Bachelor of Science—William Camellus Dobbins, of Joanna; William Franklin Haselden, of Clinton; John Richard Moorer, Jr., of Dorchester; Albert Trantham Stephenson, of Augusta, Ga.; and Jon Wilson Vastine, of Danville, Pa.

College Trustees Name Three Degree Recipients

Major General Ansel B. Godfrey of Clinton, and two Presbyterian ministers, all Presbyterian College alumni, will be awarded honorary degrees at PC's 80th commencement exercises on June 4.

The ministers are the Rev. Hubert G. Wardlaw, pastor of Atlanta's Rock Spring Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. John D. Henderson, pastor of the Riviera Presbyterian Church of South Miami, Fla.

Dr. Marshall W. Brown, president of Presbyterian College, made the announcement today after action by the college board of trustees.

Godfrey will receive the honorary doctor of laws degree; Wardlaw and Henderson, both doctor of divinity degrees.

Ansel B. Godfrey has served as commander of the 51st Infantry Division, Army National Guard, one of the nation's top-ranked Guard units for the past four years. An outstanding artillery officer in World War II, who saw 602 days of combat service in Africa and Italy, his present command includes some 10,000 troops representing 8 units in South Carolina and Florida. Godfrey served for two years as commandant of the Palmetto Military Academy and is a past president of the South Carolina National Guard Association.

Hubert G. Wardlaw, 1938 graduate of PC and former member of the board of trustees, has served as pastor of Atlanta's Rock Spring Church since 1957. Prior to that he was minister to the Orangeburg First Presbyterian Church for five years and held earlier pastorates at Lancaster, Conway and Whitmire. He received his BD degree from Columbia Theological Seminary. His wife is the former Annie Lee Jackson of Clinton, and she also attended Presbyterian College.

John D. Henderson has been pastor of South Miami's fast-growing Riviera Church for the past 11 years. He spent from 1942 to 1950 as an evangelist for the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, US, after serving for 18 years in the pulpit of the Spartanburg Second Presbyterian Church He. finished Presbyterian College in 1921, received his divinity degree from Columbia Theological Seminary and has done additional graduate work at the University of South Carolina and the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. His son, John, currently attends PC as a member of the sophomore class.

In Retrospect

R. E. Week - An Evaluation

Looking back upon REW of 1961, we can see that in order to fully evaluate the effects of the week, we would have to learn from each individual student what REW meant to him personally and from these answers we would have a good indication of whether REW was a success or failure.

Since to interview each student as to his likes and dislikes of REW is almost impossible, let us review the high points of this week.

Religious Emphasis Week began on Tuesday evening, March 7, with Dr. J. Sherrard Rice of the First Presbyterian Church of Columbia, speaking on the topic, "God Is The Ruler Yet." Dr. Rice also spoke on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, using the topics, "What Is Your Image" and "Where Is Your Brother?"

Dr. John H. Leith of Union Seminary, began his morning messages using the topic, "The Quest For An Adequate Faith." He continued these messages on Thursday morning, using the topic, "The Greatest Sin On The College Campus," in which he dealt with the lack of integrity in our intellectual enterprise.

The formal services were concluded on Friday morning by Dr. Rice when he spoke on "What Is That In Your Hand?"

A part of the week which was of interest were the discussion groups. These varied from the planned afternoon discussions to the fraternity discussions on Wednesday night to spontaneous individual discussions with any of the speakers at any time. Rev. Joe Brooks of Spartanburg, and Rev. Jimmy Stewart of Atlanta, led discussion groups.

One of the speakers voiced the opinion at one of the afternoon discussion groups that he believed that this REW had been very beneficial to a great many of the students.

Bob Smith, Carter Redd, and DuPont Smith take part in a Religious Emphasis Week discussion group being led by the Reverend Joe Brooks of the Spartanburg First Presbyterian Church.—(Autry Photo)

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Lack of Support

Religious Emphasis Week has come and gone with student support lacking as usual. The SCA Cabinet worked hard this year and presented four excellent speakers and an outstanding program of activities.

There were two types of discussion groups offered, one with attendance compulsory and the other optional. When speakers replaced the regular class room lecture, they were enjoyed and well received, but when time came for optional attendance at the afternoon discussion groups, students were lacking. The exception to this, of course, was Thursday afternoon, as cuts were given for drill. What little following the evening chapel services had, seemed to be the result of the fraternity competition, as very few non-fraternity men were sighted.

The students were not alone in their non-support of this year's R. E. Week, however, as the faculty did not seem to be interested either. Faculty members were asked by the SCA not to give any quizzes during the week, and to lighten the homework load. Apparently this request did not have too much meaning, as the military department gave pop quizzes to their freshman sections. These may not have been hour exams, but students did not hesitate in preparing for them. Other departments either maintained the regular work load, met at another time, or assigned material so that the student would not get behind the other sections. The Bible Department seems to be the only exception here, as their students were not responsible for any work during the Religious Emphasis period.

From The Notebook

Tuesday, March 7, at approximately 5:00, the door of the now-famous Trustees' Meeting Room was closed and locked, probably not to be opened again until the fall Board Meeting. Our mistake—the room was used yesterday for a faculty discussion with the Religious Emphasis speakers.

While we're talking about this room, let us tell you another of its deeply hidden secrets. If one ever has the opportunity to walk into this room, he should turn right upon entering and move all the way down the wall until he comes to a window directly in front of him. On his immediate right will be a door. Opening the door, he will find a room approximately five feet wide and seven feet long. This room has a tiled floor, and the beautiful blue, grey and white tile pattern extends halfway up the walls. Other than this tile, the little five by seven contains nothing. That's right—absolutely nothing!

Our congratulations are extended to the Scabbard and Blade and the members of the Military Ball Committee for their fine work in decorating the armory this past weekend. Their efforts rendered some of the finest decorations that have been seen in several years.

The band was thoroughly enjoyed by all, much to everyone's surprise and delight.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited by Bill Matthews

ΑΔΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

SIGMA NU

After a very enjoyable Dance Weekend the Sigs are looking forward and also planning for the oncoming White Star Weekend.

Final plans have not yet been made for the Annual Beach Party.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Brothers and pledges of Mu attended the annual Founder's Day Banquet last Sunday in Columbia. This affair was held jointly with the PiKA chapters from Wofford and USC and was enjoyed by all.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The plans for the Alpha Sig beach party are progressing. Alpha Psi Chapter is looking forward to having its beach ball at Myrtle Beach the week after semester finals. Also plans were made for a party in the near future.

THETA CHI

The Brothers and Pledges of Beta Psi Chapter enjoyed, in addition to the Military Ball and a sweater dance in the fraternity suite Saturday night, a party at Lake Greenwood Saturday afternoon.

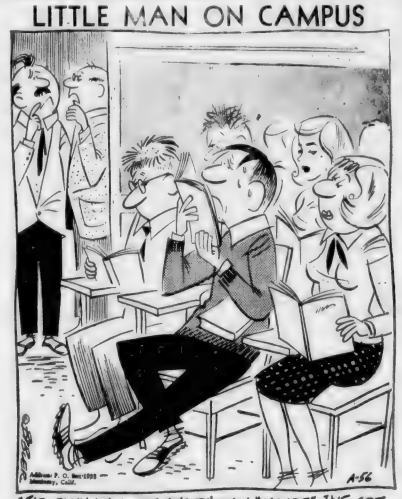
(Continued on page four)

'Come Up 'n See Me'

Handy Guide to the College Library

There is, hidden away in the building at the end of the Plaza where we register twice a year, something called a library. Besides being the location of McGill's Master Plots and a storage place for late presidents' old autographed books, it serves as a hide-out (or pad), a sleeper, and an opera house; the stacks are nice if you have something which is already stacked. My purpose is to introduce you students to the library, because it would be a shame if you all became seniors and hadn't become aware of some of the finer things in life; so move up with me to the library!

The big room without the ceiling is just beyond the swinging doors. It was many years ago given by the Octagon Soap Company, and it is not nice to turn down gifts. This rotunda is unique in that one can say something in it and have it heard anywhere in the building. Really it's there just for sonorous effect. After many years of effort the college has obtained the original pillar of salt, and it is standing majestic ..ly (if not a little embarrassingly) beside the entrance to the Men's Lounge. The propaganda desk and the local ticket window are to the right, but let's now go into the book abode.



You either have a choice of going into the North or South Reading Rooms (depending I suppose on which part of the country you're from because, of all the things done in this room, reading is not in the top ten). If you intend to drink, bring bourbon; coke bottles are not allowed on the spotless tables. If you decide on the North Room (or is it South?) I t..ust warn you about one thing—there have been reports that it is an eerie place; some say they get the feeling they are being watched all the time. (ED. NOTE: I did some investigating, and I found out these reports are well substantiated. The trouble seems to originate from a "Dilly Dali" on the wall behind the card catalogue, made in the era when it was fashionable to fold one's hands in front of one's self.) Another bad feature of this room is that the furnace keeps winding up and flying off every few minutes. The most interesting feature in this room is the enormous supply of light (and delightful) reading material found filed to the right of the z's in the waste paper file. The sales demon around the library has an extra special bonus sale on this material right now, and it is well worth the price. For those interested in current events there is the Current Events Map on a stand near the windows showing the current (so the title goes) uproar in Egypt over the downfall of King Farouk.

The South Room has the edge over the other reading room in comfortable sofas. It is said that the funds under the cushions paid for the college's academic scholarships last year, but this, I feel sure, is a far-fetched lie hatched up by a trouble-maker. From this room one can either listen to the soft melodies of Bach seeping through from the upstairs music room or one can listen to the plumbing next door. (A combination of both these sounds is especially delightful.) Both are welcome interruptions from the quiet of reading Better Homes and Gardens.

Back to the desk. Always feel free to ask the attendant for help. To get her just cough for a minute, ring the bell for two minutes, test the wind direction, and then, if the gods are with you, you'll hear the patter of black lace-ups. While waiting for this reaction to develop, you might look over the "Book of the Week." This is a book placed on a little rack each week; and each week the rack has a different punch line, such as "Try This One," "How to Do It," "A Good Book," "A Thriller," etc. Last week's selection in the "How To Do It" category was The Immortal Lovers.

As I was leaving the library the Librarian was going up to the second floor. Miss Mae Bests told me (in her own unique brand of English) to tell all of you students "to come up to the libr'y 'n see me sometimes."

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I'D FLUNK HIM BUT HE'S TH' ONLY "MAJOR" I'VE GOT ENROLLED IN THIS COURSE."

Letters

Alumni Giving Benefits Are Unequally Divided

All letters to the editor must be signed; names will be withheld upon request.

Dear Editor:

The Public Relations office recently published a piece called "Your Annual Giving Report," to alumni and friends. The report showed a substantial increase in the amount donated and in the number of donors.

The 1960 Living Endowment drive listed 696 donors with a total giving capacity of $36,450.55, which was an increase of $4,184.55 over the 1955 drive, however, the total number of donors increased only 112 over 1959.

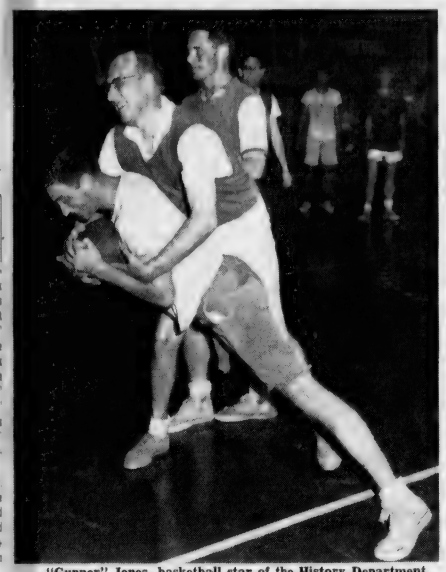
Of the 1960 donations to the Living Endowment $3,589.06 was designated for the Walter Johnson Club, or athletics. Thus the Living Endowment funds designated for school improvements, outside athletics, were only $32,861.49, or $2,463.05 over the 1959 allotment.

This year the Walter Johnson Club raised $16,750.36 through the generosity of 551 donors, while last year the club raised only $8,378.00 from 182 donors. This was an increase of 369 donors and $10,392.35 for athletics, as compared to an increase of 112 donors and $4,184.55 for the Living Endowment Fund.

It seems rather obvious that high pressure was placed upon the alumni to contribute to the Walter Johnson Club, or football would be lost. This same pressure must have retarded the growth of the Living Endowment, because alumni switched their donations from the Living Endowment Fund to the Walter Johnson Club.

It seems a pity that alumni are

(Continued on page four)



The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR MURRAY WHITE
News Editor Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor Jerry Chitty

"Gunner" Jones, basketball star of the History Department, attempts to wrest the ball away from Sid Acker during the Faculty-All-Star ball game Monday night.—(Autry Photo)

Faculty Basketeers Gain Victory With Outstanding Court Display

• Spooner Leads Scoring

The "Eccentric Eight" of faculty row took on the Intramural All-Stars in an exciting game Monday night. It was played in the Leroy Springs Colosseum, before a highly partisan crowd.

The All-Stars, who were led by Sid Acker and Mike Brown with 11 and 9 points, respectively, jumped off to an early lead. By halftime the "profs," led by Mr. Fakkema and new faculty member Mr. Neal, had managed to bring the score to 26-all.

It should be explained that Mr. Neal was given a special honorary position on the faculty just for the ball game.

It was evident throughout the game that there were no trig students playing, because Mr. Suttle was repeatedly seen picking himself up off of the floor. (We certainly hope that his hip is getting better.)

Led by the late arriving Coach Spooner, the "profs" took a commanding lead as the second half opened. They employed a new type of offense in which one man was left at his end of the court, usually seated in the stands. The tremendous coaching job done by Dr. Steve (Doctorate of Basketball Coaching) was clearly shown throughout the game, and the "profs" good training and physical stamina was shown during the latter stages of the game. The ball handling of "Dribble" Stallworth and the playing coach, Dr. Steve, had the All-Stars, as well as the "profs," completely befuddled. The Army finally arrived (late as usual) represented by Captain Hodges, who quickly entered the game to spark the "profs" on to a 51-41 victory.

The "profs" were led by their high-scoring front court trio of Spooner with 15 points, Neal with 13 points, and Fakkema with 12.

The "profs" sorely missed the services of "Sure Shot" Boyd, who was out of action due to mysterious circumstances. He did graciously take a bow while the crowd chanted for him early in the game.

This reporter feels that it is his duty to reveal to the public the following information: A very trusted source of information on "underhanded dealings" contacted me the day after the game. He informed me that he saw a very distinguished member of our Bible department and one of the "profs" consulting Mr. Rakestraw and Mr. Hyatt, the referees, after the ball game Monday night. Let everyone draw his own conclusions.

New Athletic Rules Govern Blue Hose

At the recent faculty meeting Presbyterian College, formerly a member of the Southern Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association, adopted the laws of the North State Conference to govern its athletic program. The rules of the NSC were selected, as a majority of the schools that compete with the Blue Hose are members.

Most signifcant of the new rulings are those concerning eligibility. Transfers from a Senior College must have one calendar year of residence before becoming eligible. Junior College graduates are eligible immediately, but all non-graduates must complete one year of residence. No person shall represent any institution or institutions for more than 4 years of athletic competition within a period of 5 years from the date of first registration in an institution of college rank.

The S.I.A.A. had been one of the oldest conferfences in the South when it was dissovlved shortly after this past football season.

Elements Hamper Spring Football

Spring football drills are about to come to an end, and in spite of the small number of candidates a remarkable amount has been accomplished. After getting off to a good start, the rains came to slow things down. But in the stretch there have been twelve straight days of practice which were devoted mostly to fundamentals and half-line scrimmages in which a great deal of improvement has been accomplished.

The highlight of the spring drills was the scrimmage game held last Saturday afternoon. The first team was paired against the second and they looked to be fairly equal. There was plenty of hard knocking going on, to say the least. Neither team could gain much on the ground and most of the scoring was done by air.

Some of the individual highlights of the scrimmage were the defensive line play of Jerry Hammock, Kermit Littlefield, and Alvin Cooley; the running of Lynn Gorman and Bill Rolin; and the passing of all quarterbacks.

Spirit remains high in spite of the small squad. This year's squad should be a strong contender, as in years past.

Blue Hose Diamond Squad Seeks Successful Season

By Loren Eagles

As spring arrives a little early this year, the sports spotlight on campus swings from basketball to baseball. The PC Blue Socks will be seeking their first winning season in the last few years.

With a nucleus of nine letter-men plus a host of promising newcomers, the prospects for the coming season look bright. The infield and catching departments look fairly secure. At first base, returning after a year's absence due to injury, is Jerry Chitty. On the second sack will be Wayne Godfrey, while Jimmy Rakestraw will be holding down the "hot" corner. It will be left up to one of the newcomers to take over at shortstop. Harold Raeford, who signed a professional contract with Cleveland, will be greatly missed at this position. The man behind the plate will be Sonny DuBose or Leland Vaughan, both of whom are experienced and competent.

The outfield will be looking to the newcomers to fill the positions left by the departure of Ed Jackson and Edison Fairy. Bill Sease is the leading "fly hawk" returnee along with Harvey Blanchard and Paul Love, while not doing mound duty.

The pitching was hardest hit by graduation last year. Returning fireballers will be Harvey Blanchard, Jimmy Howell, Jerry Chitty, and Paul Love, if his arm injury due to football heals satisfactorily.

Some newcomers who will be pressing for starting assignments are Tommy Williams, Fred Sanders, and Lewis Ridinger on the mound; Bill Tyson, Art Williams, and Jerry Hammock around the infield; and Joe Nixon, Paul Layton, and Billy Degner in the outer pastures.

Two things point to an improved, and interesting season for the Blue Sock nine. First, the addition of Bill Tiller, former Blue Sock catcher and semi-pro player, as assistant coach and, secondly, two home games with new foe Ivy Leaguer, Cornell, set for March 29 and 30.

Racketeers Debut In Practice Match

Coach Leighton will finally get a chance to see his racqueteers in action for the first time this spring against the Clemson tennis team today. The match with the Clemson tennis team will be considered only a practice match, but it will give the members of both teams a chance to play under pressure for the first time this spring. The match will definitely help prepare the boys for the trip south next week.

Coach Leighton definitely feels that last week's practice has helped the tennis team to improve in getting ready for the coming season. He feels as a whole the tennis team has improved as much as possible since last year and expects the team to make a fine account of themselves this season.

Howard's Pharmacy

Your Rexall Drug Store

COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE

ON THE SQUARE

Intramural Averages And Final Standings

Player—Team	Avg.
1. Fowler, PiKapp	12.8
2. Joiner, PiKapp	12.4
3. Parrish, PiKapp	12.4
4. T. Wiliams, KA	11.6
5. Rolin, Tigers	10.1
6. Wansley, Confeds	10.1
7. Acker, Tigers	10.1
8. Brown, Alpha Sig	9.6
9. McIntosh, Sigma Nu	9.4
10. Nettles, KA	9.0
11. Holmes, Raiders	9.0
12. Stone, Sigma Nu	8.6
13. Collins, PiKA	8.4
14. Salvo, Tigers	8.4
15. Piephoff, Alpha Sig	8.3
16. Powers, Raiders	8.0
17. A. Williams, KA	7.9
18. Brown, PiKA	7.8
19. Gordon, Sigma Nu	7.7
20. Mayhugh, Tigers	7.7

Minimum of 7 games

FINAL STANDINGS

WINNER'S LEAGUE

Team		Overall
PiKA	5-0	8-2
KA	4-1	8-2
Tigers	3-2	8-2
Sigma Nu	2-3	7-3
Raiders	1-4	5-5
Pole Cats	0-5	3-7

CONSOLATION LEAGUE

Team		Overall
PiKapp	5-0	7-3
Wrecks	4-1	4-6
Alpha Sig	3-2	5-5
Confeds	2-3	4-6
Snakes	1-4	2-8
Theta Chi	0-5	0-10

BROADWAY Theatre

Mon. - Tues. - Wed.
March 13-14-15
The Great Impostor
Tony Curtis, Joan Blackman

Thur. - Fri. - Sat.
March 16-17-18
Gorgo
Bill Travers, William Sylvester

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

JERRY CHITTY

BEHIND THE BLUES

This week has been somewhat lax on campus as far as sports are concerned. However, Monday night saw a very strange spectacle taking place in Leroy Springs gymnasium. The most unique sight was the basketball game between the Faculty and the Intramural All-Stars. The old saying held true, "You can't beat the Professors," as they downed the All-Stars 51-41. Acker and Brown proved very effective for the All-Stars, while Neal, Stallworth, Spooner, and Rakestraw were the big guns for the winners.

* * * * *

Next week will be the scene of the Intramural basketball tournament. The tournament was to be held this week, but due to Religious Emphasis Week, it had to be cancelled. On behalf of the entire Intramural Council, the faculty and all students are cordially invited.

* * * * *

Baseball officially gets underway March 23, as the Blue Hose tangle with Erskine. The Hose aren't near as well off in depth as in the past two years, but with a little desire and guidance, they could well be a strong contender for the Little Four Crown.

* * * * *

Although the weather may cause many readers to disagree, the spring season is drawing very near. This statmeent may be explained by the opening of the tennis season, so eagerly awaited by many PC'uns. Coach Leighton's boys haven't had much practice due to the unpredictable weather, but look forward to the annual trip to Florida, which gets underway Saturday. Good luck to these boys!

* * * * *

Presbyterian College graduate, Jake Penland, has been selected as South Carolina Sports Writer of the Year.

Alex Templeton

Famed Concert Pianist To Perform Here Friday

Alec Templeton, a unique figure in the world of music, will be the guest artist for the last in the current season's community concert series. The concert pianist will perform here on Friday evening, March 17, at 8 o'clock in Belk Auditorium on the PC campus.

Music is a natural in the life of Alec Templeton. At the age of two he climbed to the family's piano and from his memory of a tune played by an organ grinder outside he duplicated the same melody in the same key as the one he had heard played. Born with absolute pitch, Templeton has developed his remarkable accurate ear so that today, asked to identify an assortment of eight or nine unrelated notes, he can do so without hesitancy; hearing a glass thumped by a finger, he can tell how many overtones result and exactly what they are; or listening to a new piece, regardless of its length or technical difficulty, he can play it through after only one hearing.

Born in Cardiff, Wales, he began his lifelong study of music at the age of four. Unlike other children of that age, he practiced. Instead of endeavoring to evade the piano, small Alec would beg to be allowed to play at the piano "just a little longer."

Alex Templeton

. . . Concert Pianist

Letters

(Continued from page two)

friends of the school are willing to allow athletics to receive more than twice the income of any other group. Giving to the Walter Johnson Club totalled $20,339.42, while gifts designated for faculty salaries came in second with a mere $10,000, and all other groups combined barely totalled $20,000.

How do the alumni and friends and the administration expect to maintain an outstanding EDUCATIONAL institution when the athletic program seems to be singularly the most important thing? Maybe a few people have a misconception of an educational institution's purpose.

—Name withheld by request

COSTS CLOSE CANTEEN

Dear Editor,

We are delighted with the interest the BLUE STOCKING has shown in student-canteen relationship and invite any intelligent suggestions from those who are interested.

However, the editorial published in the last issue of the BLUE STOCKING demands an explanation of circumstances.

Canteen policy dictates opening only when costs are covered. Slack business during the more outstanding intramural games has caused the canteen to operate at such a loss that employees' salaries were not met. However, on the night in question the canteen was open from 8:45 until 10:15.

Constructive criticism is welcome, and the Crusaders were heroes; but then they knew what they were fighting for. A crusade founded upon misinformation is not only bad journalism; it is as distasteful as it is ridiculous.

Sincerely,
ROBERT HODGE,
WALT FERRENE,
Student Managers

EDITORIAL CORRECT

Dear Editor,

In regards to your recent editorial in last week's BLUE STOCKING concerning the closing of the canteen when only two organizations on the campus were participating in intramural athletics, I think that you are right in calling attention to how this denies the right for the other 260 or so students who were forced to take the long journey to town in order to quiet their stomachs.

On the other hand it seems that the canteen was able to open during REW night chapel activities which supposedly affected the entire student body.

—Name withheld by request

The GREEKS

Mary A. Ward

(Continued from page two)

KAPPA ALPHA

Plans are being made for the Old South Ball which is to be held in Augusta, Ga., April 14 and 15. KA's are all looking forward to a party March 13 featuring Sam Cook.

Kappa Alpha brothers and pledges enjoyed playing host to the Sigma Nu's at the REW discussions Wednesday night at the house.

Senior Placements

Seniors should contact Mrs. Watts, secretary to the Dean of Students, in the administration building for appointments for job placement interviews.

March 14—U. S. Public Health Service.

March 14—Citizens and Southern National Bank.

March 15—School District of Greenville County.

March 16 — First National Bank of South Carolina.

SCA President

Nominees Give Platforms

The three candidates for the presidency of the SCA will deliver a brief speech during chapel on March 12. They will be expected to discuss their views at a greater length than the statements given by the candidates to The Blue Stocking as appears below:

Elrod: Maintain Standards

John Elrod: "It is an honor to have been selected as a candidate for the presidency of the Student Christian Association, and I am happy to have the opportunity to compete. If I am elected, I pledge myself to maintain the standards and goals as set forth by the organization.

"I promise to dedicate myself to the efforts of maintaining the present status of the SCA, and to labor for its advancement in each of its Christian endeavors by appointing an able and qualified cabinet, by making it strictly a student organization, and by working cooperatively with the faculty and administration."

Sells: Student Organization

Frank Sells: "I feel that the SCA should be the STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION. Since every member of the PC student body is a member of the Student Christian Association, I feel that he should be able and encouraged to participate in all phases of the program, not limited to the past and present ones. Since it is a Christian organization, and everything is sacred to a Christian.

"I feel that the Student Christian Association can and should take a firm stand in its policies and seek to improve any phases of the student program. What I am saying is that it could and should be one of the strongest organizations on our campus. It should promote and do what the students want. I sincerely believe that the Student Christian Association can do unlimited things through Christ, who is our guide and strength."

Waters: Revitalize Interest

David Waters: "The SCA play a major role in the campus life of each student through its sponsorship of Religious Emphasis Week, chapel programs, intramural athletics, and service projects. The secret to its success is not just its cabinet and officers, but in you, the students.

"You are the SCA; it is your support that the cabinet and officers need to strengthen its program. If you choose to elect me SCA president, my aim will be to revitalize the interest the SCA deserves and to maintain its important position in your Christian growth and experience."

Pitts Men's Shop

Style Mart Clothes — Jantzen Sportswear
Nunn Bush, Jarman Shoes

Dillard Boland, Jewelers, Inc.

Wide Selection of
GIFTS - JEWELRY - DIAMONDS
PC Students Welcome 103 E. Pitts St.

Thirsty?

Try the New

SUN DROP COLA

A True Taste Delight

BOTTLED BY
CANADA DRY BOTTLING CO.
OF CLINTON

The Showplace Of Laurens County

MIDWAY

DRIVE-IN THEATRE

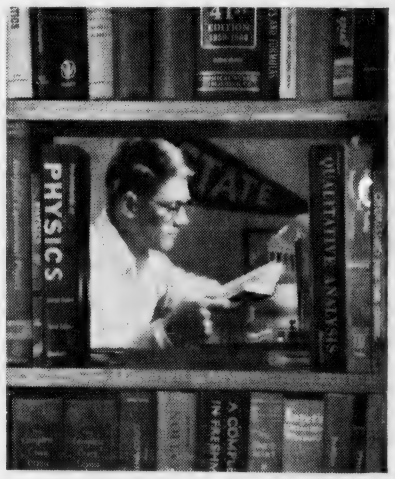
Last Times Tonight
Robert Mitchum
—In—
THE NIGHT FIGHTERS
More Action Than "Thunder Road"

SAT. ONLY MAR. 11
2 BIG HITS
THE BOY AND THE PIRATES
and
THE BAREFOOT SAVAGE

1st Run Showing!
SUN.-WED. MAR 12-15
Bob Hope - Lucille Ball
in
THE FACTS OF LIFE
It's a Hilarious Laugh Riot

Always A Color Cartoon

Money Is Powerful!



Money is the only thing that will provide the necessities of life for your family. The Prudential Dollar Guide will show you how easily you can continue to provide for your family . . . if you're not here.

See

Lawrence E. Young
INSURANCE BROKER

The Prudential Insurance Company of America
a mutual life insurance company
200 N. Broad St.
Clinton, S. C. Dial 833-2081

...This book makes his college education possible

A young man needs many books for a college education. But the most important of these is the book that makes it all possible . . . a passbook for a savings account with us. Why not open an account for your children's education? Start it while they're young and add to it regularly...it will earn excellent returns. Stop in and see us today!

Citizens Federal Savings & Loan Association
Your Savings and Home Financing Center
220 West Main Street
CLINTON, S. C.

John Elrod Elected New SCA President

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress
Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., March 17, 1961 No. 12

Presbyterian College's famous Robed Choir will leave the campus Wednesday on its annual spring tour. This year the annual tour will take the choir through Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi, before they return to campus.

Presbyterian Robed Choir Leaves Wednesday on Annual Spring Tour

Dr. Edouard Patte, conductor of the Presbyterian College Robed Choir, will take his twenty-six-man choir on the annual spring tour through South Carolina, Alabama, and Mississippi.

The tour, which includes seven performances, begins Wednesday night with a concert in Seneca. The tour then continues as follows:

March 22, P. M.—Seneca.
March 23, P .M.—Birmingham, Ala.
March 24, P. M.—Hattiesburg, Miss.
March 26, A. M. — Natchez. Miss. P. M.— McComb, Miss.
March 27, P. M.—Mobile, Ala.
March 28, P. M.—Dothan, Ala.

The well-known choir has previously presented fifteen concerts during the school year in South Carolina, Georgia, and North Carolina. Following their return from Mississippi the choir has five remaining concerts.

Using "The Conquering Church" as the theme of their religious program, the choir presents twelve numbers, most of which are sung a capello. The variety of music used is for the purpose of making each performance an experience of spiritaul meaningness in religious worship. Preceding each song is a relevant Scripture reading, done by one of the choir members.

The following music, which represents some of the finest composers known, will be used at each program presented on the tour: "Bless the Lord" by Ippolitov-Ivanov, "What You Gonna Call Yo' Pretty Little Baby"—spiritual, "Come Thou Holy Spirit" by Tschesnokoff, "In Nomine Jesu" by Jacob Handle, "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" by J. S. Bach, "God's Son Has Made Me Free" by Edward Grieg, and "Allelujah" by Jacob Handl.

Also, "Let Us Break Bread Together" — Spiritual, "Honor, Honor"—spiritual, "Somebody Callin' My Name"—spiritual, "Now Praise We Great and Famous Men" by J. S. Bach, and "Triumph, Thanksgiving" by Rachmaninoff.

These numbers feature two soloists. Bob Morris sings a solo part in both "What You Gonna Call Yo Pretty Little Baby," and "Somebody Callin' My Name," while Gary Millwood sings the tenor solo in "Let Us Break Bread Together." Readers for the choir include Wirt Skinner, Frank Sells, Graham Edmunds, and Paul Woodall.

Officers of the group are: Rohe Eshbaugh, president; Dick McGaughey, vice-president; Graham Edmunds, treasurer; Bobby Piephoff, secretary; and Paul Woodall, custodian.

The choir travels approximately 5000 miles each year and is completely self-supporting. They are well known and appreciated throughout the Southland; from Washington, D .C., to Florida, and from North Carolina to Louisiana.

Maurice Schwartz Awarded Fellowship

Maurice Schwartz has been awarded a 1961 Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship tom ark the fourth straight year that a PC man has been named to receive one of these highly competitive grants for graduate study.

The Laurinburg, N. C., senior, a top-ranking student who is also president of the PC student body, plans to continue his work in chemistry at Vanderbilt University next fall.

The Woodrow Wilson Fellowships cover the first year of graduate study and are meant to encourage the newly elected fellows to consider college teaching as a possible career. Nominations for these awards are made by the students' professors. Screening of candidates then is done by 15 regional committees, covering the entire nation and drawn from the academic profession.

Last year, George B. Telford, Jr., a 1954 graduate who already had acquired his bachelor of divinity and master of theology degrees, was granted a Wilson Fellowship to continue his studies toward his doctorate in religious ethics at Harvard.

In addition to Schwartz being selected as a fellowship winner this year, a PC classmate, Don Kay of Anderson, was accorded honorable mention.

'New Frontier' Is IRC Panel Subject

"The New Frontier" will be the subject of a panel discussion under the auspices of the International Relations Club on Wednesday, March 22, at 7:45 in the Douglas House Meeting Room.

Representing the military aspects of the New Frontier will be Lt. Col. W. W. Barnett, Jr. Dr. Neil G. Whitelaw will speak on the future of science, and Dr. Newton B. Jones will speak on the political and international aspects of the New Frontier.

The initial talks will be followed by questions from the audience and refreshments will be served.

Rhodes Selected

Jan Rhodes has been appointed to replace Robert Walkup on the Student Council, announces Maurice Schwartz, student body president. The vacancy was created when Walkup transferred to the University of South Carolina for the spring semester.

Committee Elects; New Member Added

Jimmy Thompson, newly elected chairman of the dance committee, has announced the recent appointment of Loren Eagles as Independent representative to serve on the committee. Eagles replaces Lyle Isely who lost his status as an Independent when he pledged Sigma Nu Fraternity.

The other Independents on the committee are Carter Redd and George Reaves. These plus six inter-fraternity council members-elect compose the committee.

Northwestern Prof To Speak in Chapel

An outstanding Civil War authority will address the Presbyterian College student body on Monday morning in another lecture feature of the college's fine arts series.

He is Dr. Grady McWhiney, assistant professor of history at Northwestern University, who will speak at 10:00 a. m. in Belk Auditorium. The public is cordially invited to hear this distinguished educator speak on the pressing problem of "The Recruitment of College Teachers."

Dr. McWhiney brings with him a broad educational background which includes his BA from Centenary College, master's from Louisiana State and doctorate from Columbia University. He taught at the University of California before joining the faculty of Northwestern.

The speaker edited (with Douglas Southall Freeman) the volume, "Lee's Dispatches to Jefferson Davis," and his recently completed biography of Confederate General Braxton Bragg is to be published this fall. He is a regular contributor to journals in the field of history.

Senior Placement

Seniors should contact Mrs. Watts, secretary to the Dean of Students, in the administration building for appointments for job placement interviews.

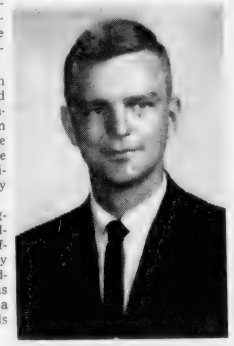
March 21—Package Products Co., Inc.

March 23—Liberty Life Insurance Co.

March 24 — Wachovia Bank and Trust Co.

March 29 — Rock Hill Telephone Co.

March 31—Clearwater Finishing Plant.



Nominees Named For Remaining Offices

John Elrod, a rising senior from Griffin, Ga., has been elected to succeed Bob Smith of Atlanta as president of the Student Christian Association.

Elrod received the necessary majority of votes cast on the first ballot in the voting held Wednesday. Three hundred and ten, or sixty-three pre cent of the student body voted in the election.

Since transferring to PC from North Georgia College in 1959, Elrod has been active in the Student Christian Association and Ministerial Club and has served on the Blue Stocking staff as news director.

Next Wednesday elections will be held to fill the remaining Student Christian Association posts. Vieing for vice-president are Jerry Chitty of Olar, and Harold Hope of Union.

John Elrod

. . . New SCA Prexy

In the race for secretary are Christine Wilson of Monroe, N. C., and Janet Maddox of Spartanburg.

Nominated for treasurer are Ken Davis of Hamlet, N. C., and Grif Helwig of Tampa, Fla.

The ballot box will be located in the Douglas House and the polls will be open from nine until two.

The new officers will meet soon after the election to appoint a cabinet for the coming year.

Community Concert

Concert Pianist Templeton Performs in Belk Tonight

Alec Templeton, "pianist extraordinary," will appear here in concert on Friday evening, March 17, at Belk Auditorium on the Presbyterian College Campus. This is the last of the season's Community Concert series.

His interest in music began at an early age and he took his first formal piano lesson at the age of four. At sixteen he entered London's Royal College of Music, not only winning a scholarship but achieveing the highest grades in the college's history. He then attended the London Academy of Music.

Templeton was first invited to appear in America by the well known British orchestra leader, Jack Hylton, in a series of radio broadcasts for the Standard Oil Company.

The pianist made his formal concert debut in the United States the following season at Chicago's Orchestra Hall.

Since then, in America and throughout the world—to such distant places as Australia, New Zealand and Hawaii—Alec Templeton has been celebrated not only on television and radio, in concert and as soloist with orchestras, but as a composer.

An American citizen since 1940, Alec Templeton lives with his wife, the former Julie Barr, in Greenwich, Conn. There, they enjoy the same hobbies: collecting records, music boxes (an interesting LP record has been made of these music boxes), chiming clocks, working in the garden, fishing, boating, and caring for two Persian Cats—and a canary named Kippi, who enjoys whistling Schubert.

Recently the Templetons opened their home to the television viewers of the nation via Edward R. Murrow's "Person to Person" show over the CBS network, and again to Dave Garroway via NBC's "Wide, Wide World."

At "Sternello," which the Templetons have named their Connecticut habitat, and on tour, Alec Templeton listens to music, makes music, thinks music, talks music, composes music, and—most especially—has fun with music.

Season after season he has remained a favorite in the top rank of pianists due to his superb musicianship, his great gift of improvisation and the warmth and good humor he imparts to his audiences.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features . : Humor

Rubber Aisle Mats

The Dining Hall administrative staff is to be congratulated for the recently purchased rubber aisle runners. These add much to the over-all looks of Judd and aids the patrons in walking, without slipping, over such items as butter and spilled milk.

It is fairly evident that the administration of the college has not eaten in the dining hall since the new mats were put down. If they had, they possibly would have come up with the idea that those mats are the very thing that is needed for the aisles of Belk Auditorium.

Certainly the incline of Belk aisles is enough to warrant rubber mats being placed down to keep high-heeled spectators of Community Concerts from falling. On a good day when the floor has just been waxed, a four-wheel drive Jeep would find it hard pulling the grade. Oh well, tonight is the last such concert of the season and if no one falls the administration will just have to worry about three chapels a week without high-heeled spectators. Maybe the Blue Cross-Blue Shield plan covers such accidents. If so, we guess it would be cheaper to let them pay for accident casualties rather than the college buy a rubber mat.

Rubber mats are definitely needed on the aisles. If they cannot be provided for the entire length of the aisles, they could certainly be placed over the most dangerous portion. Something is definitely needed, and if mats are not applied, then we suggest a hand-rail. Or how about a rope suspended from the ceiling?

This And That

SPRING HAS ALMOST SPRUNG and the trees are beginning to bud, while some green grass is beginning to sprout its shoots from the ground. With the recent good weather the landscape architects, which were 'recently' hired, should be busy soon digging and planting around the campus. Isn't the shrubbery around the Douglas House beautiful?

THE BLUE STOCKING presses roll today for the final time this month. Next week's issue will not be printed due to the absence of the editor from the campus. The next issue of the Sock will be published Friday, April 7, which is two days after Easter vacation terminates.

Critique of First Military Ball

By Tom Morrison

Presbyterian College's grand military ball having been held only two weeks ago, now might be a fitting time to relate a closely associated sidelight from history. Those details which follow were supplied by Gran'pappy Lucifer Ogleby, old-time PC graduate and current president of Clinton's Royal Gossip Society.

Our College's first ROTC dance had in attendance then the Battle Group Commander, a foreign exchange student from India, named Gung-Ho. To give some idea as to how the evening progressed with this leading celebrity and his date, a selected sample of their conversation is conglomerated below.

"Miss Squigley, would you please watch where you step—after all, I spent several days spit-shining these shoes."

The hurt look in her eyes was answered with an understanding reply: "Shape up! Learn to accept criticism, soldier — I mean Miss Quigley. One more thing, too: back up about a pace—you're getting makeup all over my collar brass."

"Let's go back to our seats."

"Sounds like a good objective to me, but the other dancers may have too much over-all mass coupled with the offensive in such a maneuver to have enough of either simplicity or security but with our superior unity of command we should be able to make effective use of both economy of force and surprise." When he had thus finished appraising the situation in relation to all nine principles of war, his date could be seen trailing into the crowd.

Upon catching up with her, he worriedly asked, "Would something be bothering you?"

"Gunga, it's just that this military has got such a hold over you,"

"But Miss Squigley . . . "

"See Gunga, you still call me by my last name."

"That's only because of the great respect involved, but to prove how much I like you, I'll have my favorite song played now in dedication to you."

"Oh, you're a darling." Her excitement dwindled for some reason, though, when she heard the first sounds of his selection, "The Caisson Song."

As they danced onto the floor he tenderly said, "I've been wanting to say something about your dress."

"Oh, really?"

"Yes. The belt to it is not lined up correctly."

Closing her mind to this last criticism, she now firmly commented, "It certainly is a beautiful night tonight."

"Yes, it is. It reminds me especially of those conditions prevalent during the first night at Gettysburg."

"Isn't it about time to leave?" she hinted.

"It's just 2300 hours. Come to think of it, though, I should be working on an attack that PC's planning against Davidson."

And so the evening ended. It is hoped from this side of the paper that whatever condition you personally may have wound up in—let-down, joyful, or otherwise—that your weekend was free and easy, at least compared to the one described above.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited by Bill Matthews

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Brothers of Alpha Psi Chapter made plans for a party to be held in the fraternity suite on April 15.

The pledges are progressing with their pledge project, which includes the remodeling of the new addition to the fraternity suite and making a TV lounge for the Brothers who are "Untouchable" fans.

KAPPA ALPHA

Kappa Alpha's are all looking forward to a big party Saturday night, with Sam Cooke providing the music.

The time for Old South is drawing near—this year it is to be held at the Bon Aire Hotel in Augusta, Ga., the weekend of April 14.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Plans were made for PiKA Weekend to be held April 14-14.

Congratulations to the basketball team for their victory last night, and to Brother Bobby Hodge on his pinning of Miss Arden Harrell of Columbia College.

Brother Rick Saunders was elected as IFC alternate to serve on the Dance Committee and set up plans for next year's IFC dances.

PI KAPPA PHI

This weekend, Brothers and Pledges thoroughly enjoyed the district Conclave Meeting in Charleston with other chapters in South Carolina. The two living founders, Lawrence Harry Mixon and Simon Fogarty, Jr., were on hand for the festivities.

SIGMA NU

Congratulations are in order for Brother John Elrod on being elected SCA President. Also the fraternity welcomes Eddie Pender and Lyle Iseley into the chapter as pledges.

Plans for the chapter's White Star Ball include invitations to our neighboring chapter at the University of South Carolina. Also a joint party with the Carolina chapter is being planned.

THETA CHI

Beta Psi Chapter is planning an Easter Egg Hunt for one of the cottages at Thornwell. We look forward to this with pleasure.

Plans are being made for a beach party after exams.

Four Nationals

Partiality Practices Put Fraternities Under Fire

Recent action on college campuses around the nation has seen four national fraternities come under fire for discriminatory clauses concerning membership.

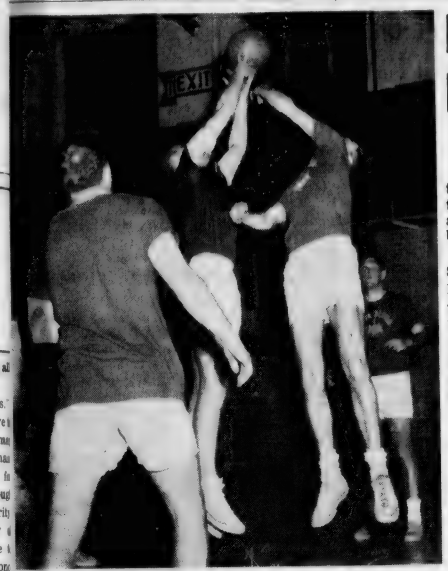
Hardest hit has been Alpha Tau Omega. The ATO chapter at Stanford recently pledged four Jewish students. That fraternity's High Council conducted closed hearings before deciding that the chapter would be ousted for its action. The chapter had unanimously voted to keep the Jewish students regardless of the consequences. In announcing the expulsion of the chapter, the ATO High Council said that the fraternity's constitution "requires allegiance to Christianity, just as a man must be a medical student to join a medical fraternity."

In answering the charges of discrimination, ATO National President Gerald Johnson explained: "We don't exclude Jews if they embrace the Christian faith. ATO is centered in Jesus Christ, its ritual is based on the New Testament, and any rushee or pledge believing in a non-Christian religion would find the ritual and some of the ATO's Christian practices offensive."

Other action involving ATO was at Washington State University, which recently announced that any fraternity or sorority denying consideration for membership to any student because of race, religion, or national origin will not be recognized on that campus after September 1, 1961.

All but three of the thirty-eight Greek organizations at WSU have eliminated discriminatory clauses. These are Sigma Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, and Sigma Nu. President C. Clement French emphasized that WSU has no intention

(Continued on page four)



The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR MURRAY WHITE
News Editor Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor Jerry Chitty

David Parrish of Pi Kappa Phi, and Heyward Nettles of Kappa Alpha, leap high for a rebound, while Bill Betchman and Bobby Joiner look on. The KA's downed the Pi Kapps 49 to 42. (Autry Photo)

Final Action Begins Next Week In Intramural Basket Tournament

• PiKAs Maintain Lead

The 1961 Intramural tournament is well underway and thrills are a dime a dozen. The PiKA's, KA's, and Sigs are the three remaining teams left in the double elimination affair with the PiKA's remaining the only team to be unbeaten.

Monday night action saw the Sigs down the Pi Kapps 41-39. Dave Parrish was high man for the losers with 12 points, while Leland Vaughan sank 12 for the winners. The second game on Monday night saw the Tigers down the determined Rambling Wrecks five 53-21.

Tuesday's action saw an overtime affair take place between the KA's and the Sigs. The Sigs won with a dramatic finish touched off by Leland Vaughan's jump shot which proved to be the deciding factor in a 44-42 win. Vaughan took scoring honors for the night as he sank 19 points. Heyward Nettles added 12 points for the losers. The Pika's proved to be too much for Gordon Mayhugh's Tigers in the second game, as they fell by a 49-29 margin. Bill Rolin collected 12 for the losers, while Brown sank 12 for the winners.

Wednesday night saw the Rambling Wrecks being eliminated at the hands of the Tigers, 37-30. In the second game of the night, Tommy Williams led the KA's to an impressive 49-42 win over the Pi Kapps. Tommy pushed 25 through the hoops, to hold an individual high for this year's tournament play.

The KA's remained hot on Thursday night as they defeated the Tigers by a 41-32 score. Joiner dropped 15 through for Harvard's boys, while Mayhugh hit 14 for the losers. In the second game, Bill Brown proved too much as the PiKA's got into the finals as the only unbeaten team. They downed the Sigs by a 49-41 score. Brown collected 21 for the PiKA's, while Lawton Rice hit 15 for the Sigs.

Monday night's action clashes the Sigs against the KA's to determine who plays the PiKa's in the finals on Tuesday night. Anything can happen, as proven this week, so let's all support our favorite team this coming week.

Hose Racqueteers Winless Against Florida Foes

By Bill Gillespie

The Presbyterian College tennis team lost its opening match to the University of Florida 5-1 in the rain. Tony Wilson defeated Jim Shaffer 2-6, 6-3, 9-7 after dropping the first set, for PC's only victory. The doubles were not played because of rain and the Florida team had already won the match with their five singles victories.

The Rollins College squad edged the Hose in their second match of the season 5-4, with Wilson again leading the way for the PC netmen in the number one singles. Wilson's win over Luis Dobrinquez was supported by Beansy Frampton in the only other singles victory. Frampton and Caviness teamed up to win number two doubles and Bill Stone and Harold Hope joined forces to win the number three doubles. Tony Wilson and Tom Elliot lost the number one doubles after coming within two points of victory which would have given the team victory.

The Hose were solidly beaten by the powerful University of Miami 9-0 yesterday in which the PC netmen did not win a single set.

Even though the tennis team has lost its first three matches, the outlook on the season is not as bad as it might seem and we can still look forward to another fine season for the netmen.

The Presbyterian College netmen will open their home tennis season next Tuesday afternoon with the first engagement of a two-match series against the University of Minnesota.

The two teams are scheduled to square off for the second clash on Wednesday afternoon.

Link Season Opens With Piedmont Win

The Presbyterian College golf team defeated Piedmont 21-6, Tuesday, in their opening golf match of the spring campaign at the Lakeside Country Club in Laurens. Max Clyburn was the medalist for PC with a 75. The scores were:

Clyburn (PC) defeated Dill (P) 2½-½. Sheets (P) defeated Harry McDonnold (PC) 2½-½. Clyburn and McDonnold (PC) defeated Sheets and Dill (P) 2-1.

Sells (PC) defeated Brumby (P) 3-0.

Hexie McDonnold (PC) defeated Sleves (P) 2½-½.

Sells and McDonnold (PC) defeated Brumby and Sleves (P) 2½-½.

Brown (PC) defeated Dudley (P) 3-0. Acker (PC) defeated Jones (P) 3-0. Brown and Acker (PC) defeated Dudley and Jones (P) 2-1.

The golf team has been bolstered by the addition of three newcomers this year: Bill Brown, Ken Acker, and Scott Marbut. The only loss was Owen Ravenel who transferred to the College of Charleston. Ravenel will meet his former teammates on the links Friday as PC takes on the College of Charleston at home. Coach Stevenson has just announced a 14-match schedule which is the largest ever for our golfers.

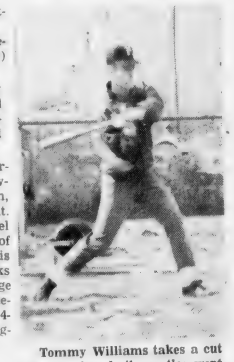
Blue Stocks Fourth In State Firing Match

The PC rifle team closes out another successful year this weekend at Furman. Under the supervision of Sgt. Barnhardt and Capt. Scott, they will fire in a four-way district match with Furman, Davidson, and Wofford.

Earlier in the year they competed in the nationwide Hearst Trophy Match, placing a very respectable 21st out of the 71 teams participating.

Last weekend PC placed fourth in the state match fired at Clemson. The first three places were taken by The Citadel, Clemson, and Furman, with Wofford and the University of South Carolina placing behind Presbyterian.

The scores were: Rollin Butler, 274; Robert St. Clair, 278; Dickie Carr, 277; Ben Margolius, 276; Kent Mitchell, 269; and Don Lohman, 261, for a total of 1374 out of a possible 1500. (The lowest score is dropped.)



Rollin Butler and Robert St. Clair are both ranked high in the district competition, with Butler having a good chance to cop top honors.

Thursday Is Opener For Hose Batmen

When Presbyterian College batters step to the plate against Erskine on Thursday, they will swing into a 20-game schedule, according to today's announcement by Athletic Director Frank Jones.

The Blue Hose, coached by Clyde Ehrhardt, have three other engagements against Erskine slated, four against Newberry, and two against Wofford as the headlined Little Four conference games. And Presbyterian will entertain Cornell University in a two-game home stand among its other opponents.

Here's the 1961 schedule ahead for the PC baseball team:

Tommy Williams takes a cut as Hose baseball practice went into full swing this week—(Autry Photo)

March 23—Erskine at Due West; 25—Catawba at Clinton; 29—Cornell at Clinton; 30—Cornell at Clinton.

April 8—Catawba at Salisbury, N. C.; 11—Pembroke at Pembroke, N .C.; 12—Pembroke at Pembroke; 15—Erskine at Clinton; 18—Mercer at Macon, Ga.; 20—Wofford at Clinton; 22—Newberry at Newberry; 24—Mercer at Clinton; 26—Newberry at Clinton; 29—Wofford at Spartanburg.

May 1—Pembroke at Clinton; 2—Pembroke at Clinton; 4—Erskine at Due West; 6—Newberry at Newberry; 9—Erskine at Clinton; 12—Newberry at Clinton.

With the recent good weather the Blue Hose baseballers were able to move into full swing on the practice field, and should be ready for the upcoming contest.

JERRY CHITTY

BEHIND THE BLUES

College basketball officially closed in South Carolina Wednesday night as the highly determined Newberry Indians lost out in the second round at Kansas City. Newberry, led by Carl Short and Johnny Bauknight, were defeated by the number one seeded, Westminster Titans, by a score of 85-73. Our arch rivals surely made a good showing this year in NAIA playoffs.

* * * * * *

Our linksters proved effective this week, in a surprise match, against Piedmont.

* * * * * *

Intramural spirit has been riding high this week. Many exciting games have been witnessed, and more thrillers are to follow. The PiKA's look like the team to beat, upon completing this week's action. Their height combined with Jimmy Kolb's smart ball-handling has thus far proved too much for Intramural opponents. The KA's and Sigs are still in there, however, and can't be counted out until the final buzzer is heard.

By the way, there was quite a bit of griping about the price being upped to 15c this week! To these chronic complainers the money taken in Monday night wasn't a sufficient amount to pay the referees and thus the price was raised 5c the following night. I assure you none of the Intramural Council has been seen at Charlie's this week flashing dimes and nickels at random.

* * * * * *

The bad weather seems to have proven fatal to Coach Leighton's netmen on their annual tour of Florida. We're still behind the boys and hope upon their arrival back in South Carolina they once again can get back into winning form. If PC wins the State's Crown again this year, it will be the 22nd consecutive title.

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

BROADWAY Theatre
MONDAY AND TUESDAY, March 20-21
Singing In The Rain
(Technicolor)
Debbie Reynolds, Gene Kelly, Donald O'Connor

WED. - THUR. - FRI. - SAT. March 22-23-24-25
WALT DISNEY'S
One Hundred and One Dalmatians

WPCC
Your Music and News Station
Clinton, S. C.

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

Today and Tomorrow

South Carolina ROTC Cadets See Army In Action at Fort

ROTC cadets from four South Carolina colleges will get a look at the U. S. Army as they visit Fort Jackson today and tomorrow.

Thirty-eight prospective officers from Furman University, 20 from Wofford College, 126 from Clemson Agricultural College, and 27 from PC will supplement their college military instructions by observing two normal duty days at the infantry training center.

Their Fort Jackson visit began this morning with a welcoming address by Major General H. D. Ives, the fort's Commanding General. They then saw the film, "Basic Training Story," which gave them an over-all glimpse of the fort and its activities.

After lunch the cadets traveled to the fort's Hilton field where they saw a demonstration of army aviation.

Immediately afterward they divided into groups and were assigned to one of Fort Jackson's training regiments. They then spent the rest of the day observing the normal training procedures of a regiment.

Saturday the cadets from Furman and Wofford will gain experience in inspection procedures as they accompany inspecting officers on their regular Saturday morning inspection.

Their fellow cadets from Clemson and Presbyterian will travel to Fort Jackson's Trainfire Range where they will spend four hours firing army weapons.

The cadets will conclude their tour at noon Saturday.

Alumnus Promoted

Daniel M. "Pete" McCormick, '40, has stepped up to head advertising and sales promotion for the world's seventh largest food store chain.

He was promoted last May to assume direction of this department for the 500-store Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc. In his duties, he will be coordinating the company's advertising efforts with the eight operating divisional advertising agencies located in major cities throughout the South of forcing any fraternity or sorority to pledge any particular individual, but only wanted to be assured that no student would be denied consideration because of his race, religion, or national origin.

Fraternities

(Continued from page two)

Phi Delta Theta has been under fire from Lake Forest College in Illinois because the national office refused membership to a Jewish student after the local chapter had invited him to join. The Dean of Students at Lake Forest charged the national fraternity with rejecting the student because of his Jewish religious background.

In other action the Sigma Chi chapter at Cornell was picketed during the recent rush season for its discriminatory clause. It is the only fraternity at Cornell with such a clause. The national office of Sigma Chi has announced that action to remove this clause will be taken at the national convention this summer.

PC Grad Is Head Of Marine Academy

A Rhodes Scholar graduate of Presbyterian College is the new dean of the United States Merchant Marine Academy. He is Dr. Joseph Morgan Stokes, '25, who assumed his duties at the Long Island, N. Y., academy on August 22.

The former president of a school in Brazil, Dr. Stokes has spent the past several years with the International Cooperation Administration as assistant director of the office of educational services to American-sponsored schools abroad.

A native of Bainbridge, Ga., Dr. Stokes attended Yale University and Oxford University after receiving his degree at PC.

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

Dillard Boland, Jewelers, Inc.
Wide Selection of
GIFTS - JEWELRY - DIAMONDS
PC Students Welcome 103 E. Pitts St.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

MIDWAY
DRIVE-IN THEATRE
Clinton-Joanna Highway
LAST TIMES TONIGHT
Double Feature Program
JOURNEY TO THE 1.08 CITY
and
HOT ROD GIRL
SATURDAY ONLY - March 2—Action-Packed Hits—2
THEODORA, SLAVE EMPRESS
(In Technicolor)
3 CAME TO KILL
Packed With Suspense
SUN. - MON. - TUES. - WE
March 19-22

THUR.-FRI. - March 23-24
Van Heflin, Charles Laughton
UNDER 10 FLAGS
Always a Color Cartoon

SENIORS!
Package Products Co., Inc., of Charlotte
Will Interview Seniors for Possible
Sales Positions on Tuesday, Mar. 21
OPENINGS FOR DESIGNERS, PRINTERS, CONVERTERS OF PAPER, FILM, FOIL Offices In CHARLOTTE, ATLANTA, BIRMINGHAM, HOUSTON, DALLAS, KNOXVILLE, MEMPHIS, NEW YORK, ORLANDO

Thirsty?
Try the New
SUN DROP COLA
A True Taste Delight
BOTTLED BY
CANADA DRY BOTTLING CO.
OF CLINTON

Money Is Powerful!
Money is the only thing that will provide the necessities of life for your family. The Prudential Dollar Guide will show you how easily you can continue to provide for your family . . . if you're not here.

See
Lawrence E. Young
INSURANCE BROKER
The Prudential Insurance Company of America
a mutual life insurance company
CLINTON REALTY & INS. CO.
104 W. Pitts St.
Clinton, S. C. Telephone 833-2061

Do all Air Force Officers have Wings?
Decidedly not. In fact most executive jobs are on the ground. Of course, all officers may apply for pilot and navigator training if they meet the eligibility requirements. There will always be a need for piloted aircraft. And it is foreseeable that in your working lifetime, there will be piloted spacecraft—piloted and navigated by Air Force officers.
But right now, there is also a big future for college-trained Air Force officers on the ground. New and exciting technical jobs are opening up. Important administrative positions must be filled as World War II officers move into retirement.
How can you—a college student—become an Air Force officer? First, there's Air Force ROTC. Then for college graduates, men and women in certain fields, there is Officer Training School. The graduate of its three-month course wins a commission as a second lieutenant. Other ways are the Navigator Training program, and the Air Force Academy.
Some benefits that go with being an Air Force officer. Starting salary plus allowances compare with the average in equivalent civilian jobs. Then there's free medical and dental care, thirty-day vacation, the chance to win graduate degrees at Air Force expense, and liberal retirement provisions.
No, Air Force officers do not need wings to move up. There's plenty doing on the ground. Perhaps you could be one of these young executives in blue. Ask your local Air Force Recruiter. Or write, Officer Career Information, Dept. SC13, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.
U.S. Air Force
There's a place for professional achievement on the Aerospace Team.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., April 14, 1961 No. 13

Artist Louis J. Martin of Charlotte, displayed his bronze bust of Dr. Marshall W. Brown. The bust was presented to Presbyterian College by Irwin Belk.

Outstanding PC Alumnus Holman To Deliver Honors Day Address

• Guest at Dean's List Banquet

Hugh Holman, noted scholar and literary critic, will speak at annual Honors Day next Friday, April 21. His appearance will highlight a program which will recognize outstandnig students. Sigma Kappa Alpha, senior scholastic honorary fraternity, and the Sophomore Academic Society will tap new members. Holman will also speak before the Dean's List banquet scheduled for that night.

A Presbyterian College alumnus, Holman is head of the University of North Carolina's English Department and was recently awarded a coveted Kenan Professorship for distinguished service.

Dr. Holman has been a successful writer of mystery novels, teacher of such diverse subjects as English and physics, a publication [illegible] dean.

[illegible] publicity director.

English, a journal of the American Council of Teachers of English. He has written a series of mystery novels that were translated into several languages. His scholarly writings include revision and enlargement of the classic Thrall and Hibbard "A Handbook to Literature," co-author-

Graduation Now One-Day Ceremony

Presbyterian College this June will start packaging its annual graduation exercises into a one-day program held on Sunday.

President Marshall W. Brown, in announcing the change today, said the commencement address and conferring of degrees previously held on Monday morning will be shifted to Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. The baccalaureate sermon remains unchanged at 11:00 a. m., Sunday. Date of these activities this year is June 4.

Placing all of the graduation program into a one-day package is being done as a convenience to graduating seniors and their parents. And since PC last year moved its alumni reunion from a fall meeting date to the Saturday before graduation, the entire program of alumni and com- tied more closely together into a single week-end unit.

Both the baccalaureate and the commencement exercises will be held in the Bolt auditorium again this year. Scheduled between

Sells And Waters Vying For PaC-SaC Editorship

On Wednesday of next week, the election for editor and business manager of the PaC-SaC will be held on our campus.

Vying for the position of editor [illegible] now held down by [illegible], will be Fr[illegible] M[illegible] and Byron Hollin[illegible] who [illegible] the post of Marion Le[illegible] edi[illegible] wi[illegible] yea[illegible]

Ti[illegible] in [illegible] the [illegible] cou[illegible] run[illegible] at Ca[illegible]

I[illegible] ad[illegible] lea[illegible] the [illegible] ute[illegible] Sutt[illegible]

Edmunds Chosen Pershing Rifles Drill Team Proxy

[illegible] Ga., was elected president of the [illegible] Eshbaugh of Louisville, Ky. As a [illegible]

Scholarship Finalists Visit Campus This Week

Fifteen topflight high school seniors have been selected as finalists in Presbyterian College's competition, Student Dean A. J. Thackston, Jr., announced today.

He said the candidates will visit the PC campus this weekend for the final round of the program which will provide ten grants ranging from $800 up to $2,000 each for the four years of college study. The finalists are:

Arthur P. Baxter and S. Michael Thurman, both of Atlanta; William R. Brownlee of Honea Path; George Carson, II, of Elkin, N. C.; Charles T. Erion of Augusta, Ga.; Jack W. Greene of Union; Mary E. Hales of Macon, Ga.; Lewis H. Hay, III, of Wadmalaw Island; Ann Kirkland of Moncks Corner; Wesley W. Lawton of Estill; Robert F. Phifer of Spartanburg; W. Warren Plowden of Bainbridge, Ga.; [illegible] Linda L. Tabor of Perry, Ga.; and Walter N. Wells of McCon[illegible]

Each scholarship will pay from $200 to $500 per year for four years to the student who qualifies on the basis of intellect, leadership and character. The finalists were selected from among a large group of candidates on the basis of preliminary tests administered at their local high schools and other material submitted.

They will attend a banquet held in their honor at PC Friday night and will participate in more tests and personal interviews Saturday morning. Scholarships will be awarded to ten of the 15 finalists.

Saverance Elected

Pershing Rifles elected their [illegible]

[illegible] of Whiteville, [illegible] sabbard and Blade [illegible] drill.

[illegible] iliate another group of freshmen. These new officers will lead [illegible] Pershing Rifles [illegible] in the Battle Group.

[illegible] ing preparations to attend their regional drill meet to be held at [illegible] McPherson in Atlanta on May 5 and 6.

Joe Davis, Bob Beddingfield, Leland Vaughan, Sonny DuBose.

Senior Placement

Seniors should contact [illegible] Watts, secretary to the Dean of Students, in the Administration building for appointments for job placement interviews.

April 18—Board of Education, Calvert County, Maryland.

April 20—McLean Trucking Co.

Life Guards Wanted

A number of students have expressed a desire for having the swiming pool made available. The pool will be open two afternoons a week for general swimming if qualified students would volunteer their services for life guarding. They must have a Red Cross Senior Life Saving Certificate. Those willing to do this are asked to contact the Athletic Office.

It is anticipated that the pool will be open on Sunday afternoon and two nights a week.

—Robert Fakkema

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Keep Off The Grass

Not too long ago, landscape architects surveyed the PC campus and outlined plans for a new landscape design. It is good to see these plans are now being put into effect.

Old ragged shrubbery is being taken up and will be replaced by fresh plants which will be set out in accordance with the landscape plan. The new shrubbery around the Douglas House and the Belk Auditorium are parts of this plan and we believe it greatly improved the looks of both buildings.

When we returned from Easter vacation, we noticed a semi-fence had been placed in the Douglas House and Auditorium areas. These obviously can mean only one thing —KEEP OFF THE GRASS.

It has been noticed that several students tend to jump the fences and take short cuts. We would have thought these fences sufficient to keep the cows out of the pasture

Keeping off the grass and not making any new paths across it aids in making the PC campus 'one of the loveliest' in the spring time.

Editor's Notebook

WHILE WE'RE ON THE SUBJECT of campus improvements, it should be noted that the horseshoe courts are in miserable condition. The boards around the clay are busted and much of the clay is dug out.

It should be remembered that horseshoes was one of the most popular spring sports on our campus last year and students pitched them almost every day until dark.

This is one type of entertainment which should be continued, however, it cannot be enjoyed to the fullest unless the courts are restored.

ONE FUNCTION of the Freshman SCA Cabinet is to publish a student directory. This is usually completed by Christmas so that students may use it in mailing their Christmas cards. This year's cabinet seems to be rather lax.

It has been four months since the usual date of publication and there seems to be no hope that our Christmas cards will be mailed on time this year. Oh well, maybe we'll have a directory shortly so that we may mail our July 4th cards out on time.

LEST WE FORGET—no aisle mats yet.

A Look at Betterment

A World of a Thousand Tongues

Anonymoulsy written by Etaoin Shrdlu

(Even though this work may seem a little incoherent, it is done consciously, and without regard to the thought that coherence must be followed — as taught by our superiors of the day.)

Part I

A look at our purposes and the thought of "Superiors" in developing them.

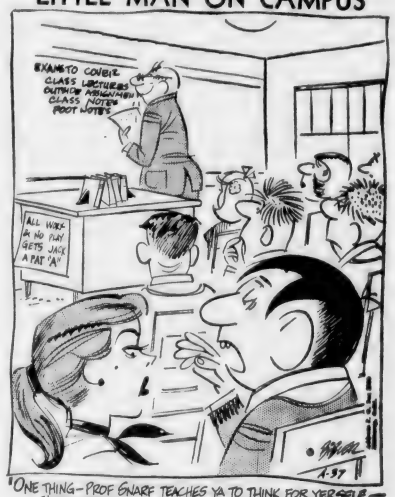
Betterment is possibly a good thing, but to follow up seemingly idealistic thinking with falsehood does not advance the betterment. In order to elaborate on this I would like to draw from a personal experience and hope that this experience is recognized and real to my readers. (Naturally one would want this step to be as subtle as possible with due time allotted for a change in thinking. This can open the eyes to the world to see what really is true. We do not want to be disappointed to find things are not true if beforehand conditioning says otherwise.)

Some time was spent on deciding at what place I would acquire the conditioning that would enable me to live my life as a freer soul. Having chosen my place of attendance and being one of very few that were lucky to be selected as members of the Pea College, began that very important phase of life (available because I am a free man) in order that I would be better able to cope with the cruel, outside world.

Per usual, an institute of merit has to advertise in order to stay in business, for that is what runs the world. The advertisement that would affect it would of course be concerned with Pea College, an excellent intellectual firm, concerned mainly in developing the perfect man through the teachings of his. This was fine as far as I was concerned, but people are so disappointde when the material does not meet the standards of the advertisement.

Again we could say this is not too bad either, but have you ever read an advertisement on the sale of functional spelling book and found that the advertisement had misspelled words? Such was the initial blow.

Thinking materialistically (something we all do) one could say my next disappointment was the condition of my living quarters. Tradition is a fine thing but not when one is faced with it in its intangible sense, when a little reorganization and prudence could make the intangible tangible. One probably should not complain about this thought when at least one will have the pleasure of integrity to satisfy an insatiable desire for brotherly love. One must not misunderstand, because all of these things are good—good when they are true.



One should not be blinded by ignorant accpetion but stimulated by conscientious reform. Surely though there are bound to be some things that are good, but I think idealism is not good without trying practical application. This is a time that the young should change.

Of course we should be conditioned to accept a change in order to accept responsibility, but who can accept a change if the mode of presentation is warped by indifferent attitude? This thought may be put off by the "Superiors," but I think it will be only because it is a rationalization to make up for inferiority. Youth has a way of rebellion, and to push high thoughts but should not have them carried out by the pushers, is the quickest way to point up deceit.

The very real thing I am trying to get across in this first

(Continued on page six)

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"ONE THING—PROF SNARF TEACHES YA TO THINK FOR YERSELF— I'VE JUST DECIDED TO DROP THIS COURSE."

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited by Bill Matthews

ΑΔΡ ΑΣΣΒΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Alpha Psi Chapter will have a party in the fraternity suite tomorrow night. The music will be furnished by the famous Collaro Changer, featuring a stack of 45's on the spindle.

This year's beach party will be at Myrtle Beach. The ten-day event will begin June 1st and will end June 10th.

KAPPA ALPHA

Newly elected officers for the Beta Pi Chapter are Bill Matthews, No. 1; Bobby Joiner, No. III; Beansey Frampton, No. III; Doug Miller, No. IV; Skip Saverance, No. V; Bob Wylie, No. VI; Bill Bartee, No. VII; Joe Harvard, No. VIII; and Grif Helwig, No. IX.

After great anticipation—Old South has finally arrived!

PI KAPPA ALPHA

An Easter Egg Hunt was held for a group of children at Thornwell Orphanage Tuesday afternoon.

Plans were made for PiKA Weekend April 14 and 15.

Bill Russell was elected to the intramural council for the forthcoming year.

Brothers of the week are Larry Kirven, Bob Hodge, and Dave Harrill.

PI KAPPA PHI

Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi at their last meeting elected Mrs Gary E. Brown as their Rose Queen.

Plans were made for a pledge party May 3.

We are looking forward to an outstanding show by our teams in the spring intramural sports.

Congratulations to Jim Ballard for being received into the brotherhood.

THETA CHI

Congratulations are extended to ten new brothers who were initiated this week. They are: Howard Bell, Marion Boozer, Bill Culp, Arthur DeYoung, George Beaty, Jim Owens, Dave Perry, Troy Nobles, Tim Calvert, and Jack Greenwood.

Brad Campbell was received as a pledge Thursday night. Plans are being formuated for the upcoming Greek Weekend.

SIGMA NU

Several of the pledges went on their pledge trips. We have bettered relationship with the other chapters.

White Star plans are rapidly being completed. Plans were made for the summer beach party.

Return From Spring Break Brings Desire For Learning

At the immediate close of Easter holidays, Dad put his hand gently upon my shoulder and understandingly said, "Make some decent grades this time and don't come back until you do!"

With these kind words speeding me on my way, I emotionally began the wearysome and sorrowful trek back to PC. This latter place which had previously offered very much pleasure in very many forms would now have to be a place of actual work!

My entrance into the dorm was greeted by the worried-sounding voice of my roommate: "You look sad—I better take you some place where you can drown your sorrows."

"No," was my defiant reply. "college is a place only for furthering one's knowledge." This answer was met both with near faint and total speechlessness (except for incoherent gutteral noises) while I headed uneasily but determinedly to my desk.

The next three minutes witnessed my courageous refusal of invitations to play cards, baseball, intellectual, throw-into-the-shower, and other such routine pastimes. Since there soon developed excessive noise without particular reason together with much commotion because of my supposed schizophrenia, I decided to take that long walk over mud, pavement, and field to the library.

Upon telling of my destination to a friend whom I saw on the way, he remarked, "You're sort of late registering this semester, aren't you?"

"Haven't you heard of anyone studying there before?" I indignantly asked.

"Who, you?" And he went away trying frantically to suppress his uncontrollable laughter.

More temptation was resisted when in front of Jacobs a fellow student asked me if I would like to accompany him to the laundry. To this suggestion I explained that I could no longer indulge in such worldly endeavors, studying being my only purpose in life now. It took a construction crew several hours to move this dumbfounded fellow's petrified form.

I was so unexpectedly success-

(Continued on page six)

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR GRAHAM EDMUND
BUSINESS MANAGER LELAND VAUGHA
MANAGING EDITOR MURRAY WHIT
News Editor Gerald Pit
Sports Editor Jerry Chit

Spring Has Sprung . . . . . .

Spring appeared as though it had set forth on the Presbyterian College campus to stay. The trees were budding . . . grass getting greener . . . there was that feeling in the air that can only bring on spring fever . . . students took advantage of the sun and began their yearly tans . . . some of the more ambitious type hit the tennis courts and kept them full till dark . . . the traditional April showers arrived . . . students were driven indoors . . . one of the two most popular spring sports was then enjoyed—sleeping—it knits up the raveled sleeve of many things . . . dreams were of those warm, lazy spring days and of the desire to return to the great outdoors . . . (one student seems to be a little over anxious here) . . . then it happened, the sun was out again . . . but this time the wind came with it . . . the sun bathers stayed inside and slept, some even broke out the sun lamps . . . those who yearned for the courts found that the windy weather hampered their play . . . they were forced to enjoy a less strenuous game . . . like marbles . . . therein lies a tale.—(Photos by Autry)

Students Fill Remaining SCA Posts; Elrod Announces New Council Members

Elections for Student Christian Association officers held Wednesday, March 22, saw Jerry Chitty, Christine Wilson, and Griffin Helwig elected to the offices of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively, John Elrod was elected president in a previous election.

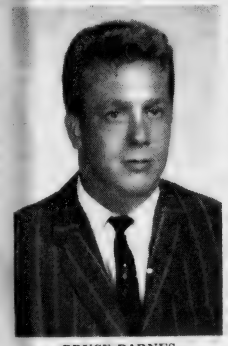
Jerry Chitty, rising senior from Olar, will succeed Dick Faulkner of Henderson, N. C., as vice-president. Chitty is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, sports editor of the Blue Stocking, a pitcher and first baseman on the Blue Hose team, and formerly SCA intramural chairman.

Christine Wilson, rising junior from Monroe, N. C., will succeed Frank Sells of Johnson City, Tenn., as sceretary. Christine is a dean's list student who has served previously on the SCA cabinet.

Grif Helwig, rising junior from Tampa, Fla., will succeed Cricket Lowry of Great Falls as treasurer. Grif is a member of Kappa Alpha Order, and president of the Westminster Fellowship.

Some two hundred and sixty-eight students, or fifty-four per cent of the student body, voted in the closely contested election.

Group president Elrod announced today the new committee chairmen for the Student Christian Association.



Heading the committee for Christian Faith and Heritage, are Harold Hope and Ken Davis, while Bill Bartee will be in charge of Personnel and Campus Affairs. Social Responsibility and World Relations chairman is Howard Gordon.

The publicity for the group is now under the direction of Jim Caddell, and Paul Woodall is in charge of Programs. Handling next year's Religious Emphasis Week Activities will be Frank Sells. Public Relations now falls under the leadership of Byron Hollingsworth.

Community and Social Activity and the Intramural Program will be headed by Mike Jarrett and Joe Harvard, respectviely. Elrod also announced that selection of a new advisor will be made at a later date.

Barnes Will Visit Europe With Baptists

Bruce Barnes, a senior from Concord, N. C., will go to Germany for three months this summer to participate in a European

BRUCE BARNES

Work Camp. The camp will be conducted under the summer missions program of the Baptist Church.

Barnes was chosen by the South Carolina department of the Baptist Student Union from among candidates from some 25 other colleges and universities.

This program includes living as the local people, performing manual labor, assisting with Bible study groups, and taking part in deputation work. He is to leave June 3 and return the first part of next September.

Upon return Barnes will be available for speeches before clubs and organizations, and will tell of his experiences among the people he visits.

Gordon Will Edit Freshman Handbook

Howard Gordon of Waynesro, Va., has been appointed as editor of the 1961 Knapsack, SCA handbook for new students. The appointment was made this week by the new SCA cabinet.

The new editor has announced his staff for the annual guide book. Byron Hollingsworth of Tampa, Fla., will take the post of Managing Editor, and Jim Caddell will serve as Art Editor.

Photography for the Knapsack will be under the control of Roy Autry. In charge of the handbook layout will be Howard Turner, and the Sports will be handled Jerry Chitty.

The Knapsack, student handbook and guide, is published in conjunction with the SCA's orientation of Freshmen and new students. The book contains campus regulations and is a guide to student activities.

Geneva President To Visit PC Campus

A former dean of the College of Theology and president-rector of the University of Geneva visit the Presbyterian College campus on April 29-May 1, it was announced today.

He is Professor Jaques Courvoisier, who comes to this country from Switzerland to deliver the A. K. Warfield Lectures on Theology at Princeton Theological Seminary. A well known church historian, he will speak at Princeton on "Zwingli, a Reformed Theologian," and will address PC students during his visit here.

Professor Courvoisier was a Geneva classmate of Dr. Edouard Patte, PC's professor of sociology and robed choir conductor.

Clyburn Reelected Theta Chi President

Max Clyburn, a junior from Kershaw, was recently re-elected president of Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi by acclamation of the Brotherhood.

Other officers elected to the Executive Council were: Gerald Pitts of Laurens, vice-president; Sanders Read of McClellanville, secretary; and Ted Elders of Valdosta, Ga., treasurer. Elders was also elected to the IFC position for the coming year.

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

Hoyt Miller Will Receive Gold P Award For Service

A distinguished foreign missionary with 41 years of service in the Congo will receive Presbyterian College's 1961 Alumni Gold P award, President Marshall W. Brown announced today.

He is Dr. A. Hoyt Miller, a PC graduate of the class of 1915, who retired last January after spending most of his adult life as a teacher, evangelist and preacher to the African people. He and Mrs. Miller make their retirement home at Athens, Ga.

The board of directors of the PC Alumni Association selected Dr. Miller for the 1961 Gold P award in recognition of "outstanding accomplishments which reflect honor" upon Presbyterian College. Presentation of the award and citation is made annually as part of the Alumni Reunion activities held in conjunction with commencement. It represents PC's highest stamp of approval bestowed upon alumni of the institution.

Dr. Miller first went to the Congo in 1919, immediately after graduation from Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, and was assigned to the Morrison Bible School. He served as teacher and acting principal of this school for a number of years before shiting to evangelistic work in another area. He and his wife returned to the school after World War II, and he was its principal until his retirement.

The work of Dr. and Mrs. Miller lives on in a very personal way in the Congo in the work of two of their children, who continue to serve there now as missionaries.

Hugh L. Eichelberger Receives Alumni Award

Hugh L. Eichelberger, Sr., Clinton business leader, is recipient of Presbyterian College's 1960 Alumni Service Award.

He was chosen at the fall meeting of the PC Alumni Association board of directors for this award presented annually to the alumnus who has rendered outstanding service to Presbyterian College.

The directors cited Eichelberger for his long years of devoted service to the institution and more specifically for his unique role as an ambassador of goodwill in cementing the bonds of mutual esteem between Presbyterian College and the City of Clinton.

A 1921 graduate of PC, Hugh Eichelberger served the school as an assistant coach earlier in his career, then as trustee, and has been a top-selling special agent with the New York Life Insurance Company since graduation. He was mayor of Clinton, 1955-57, and currently holds the position of executive vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Yarborough
Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

Thirsty?
Try the New
SUN DROP COLA
A True Taste Delight
BOTTLED BY
CANADA DRY BOTTLING CO.
OF CLINTON

"I'll tell you what we'll do, we'll come back a little later and serenade ya'all," says Guy Handcock on recent visit to Fort Jackson.—(U. S. Army Photo)

From the Past

Fees Give Revealing Graph Of Presbyterian Student Life

How time flys! And the good American dollar flies with it.

The students of Presbyterian College this year will pay a total fee of $1195. In comparison with past years, this fee is outstanding.

In 1899 the cost of an entire year at PC was only $205. This cost included forty dollars board for the nine-month period and books and laundry at about $15. The fees quoted here apply only to the students who could afford the more luxurious rooms on the campus. The charge was $120 less for the lads who boarded with the professors.

The scene changes to the year 1916, where the fee has jumped to the preposterous sum of $233. Included in this total was a medical fee of $5, a library fee of $2, and a gym fee of $2.50. An athletic fee of $5 was charged to provide a ticket to the student to all athletic events at home.

The students of the 1916 era were blessed with the comparative privilege of boarding in the six-year-old Spencer dormitory for a fee of $48 a year for two rooms, and $40 a year for "one double sized room." As the catalogue for that year states, the price actually included "steam heat, lights, water and janitor service."

It is interesting to note that the damage or breakage fee for that year, 1916, was fifty cents. Students must have become quite rowdy during the Prohibition era, for the total fee for the year, 1928, was between $450 and $475. Included in this fee was a $50 maintenance fee. The boys must have really gone wild! Individual meters were installed for each student, and the student was made to pay the light and water bill weekly to the City of Clinton.

The "golden era of the twenties" must have boosted sports, for the athletic charge for 1928 was $10. Of course, the gym fee was excluded in this prelude to the "great collapse."

The charges for 1954 more than doubled those of 1928 and amounted to a total of $848. The yearly total has gradually increased since then and in 1959 rose to $1115.

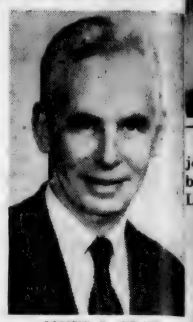
This year prosperity reigns and the fees have almost tripled the $450 figure for 1928. The one statement that remains completely unchanged every year is the one found in the Presbyterian College catalog. It states, "Presbyterian College is located in Clinton, a progressive little city of 8,000 in the heart of the South Carolina Piedmont."

Living Endowment Giving Goal Set

Sights are set toward raising $65,000 for Presbyterian College through the 1961 annual giving program, it was announced today.

That's the goal established by the alumni board of directors after reviewing the record-shattering $53,2000.91 given to this program last year. The aim is to have 1,400 donors join in the effort, compared to 1,122 who participated in 1960.

The directors met on the PC campus recently for a special planning session under the leadership of Alumni Association President Dill Beckham of Columbia.



If the $65,000 objective for this year is achieved, contributors will supply Presbyterian College with funds that represent the income at 5 per cent from an investment of $1,300,000. This principle, emphasizing the importance of smaller gifts to a total annual giving program, forms the basis for the "living endowment" approach which has proved increasingly successful at PC in the past few years.

The directors seek to reach the 1961 goal in this fashion: $36,000 from 1,000 alumni contributors for 33.3 per cent participation by the group as a whole; $23,000 from 350 "friends of PC"; and $6,000 from at least 50 non-alum-

(Continued on page six)

Studying Russian

Gray — "I Shall Return"

JAMES S. GRAY

Dr. James S. Gray, PC's professor of Philosophy, who has been recuperating from a heart ailment for the past few months, hopes to return to teaching again next fall.

Gray received his BA from Davidson College, where he was a Phi Beta Kappa, and his BD, STM, and MA from Union Theological Seminary. Though he does not hold a Doctors degree, Gray is respectfully known by students as "Dr. Gray."

Gray came to Presbyterian College in 1943 during the challenging period when the College provided its facilities for the preliminary training of pilots in the U. S. Air Force. He had assisted in Physics at Davidson earlier and helped instruct the cadets in this subject during the emergency.

Prior to his joining the PC faculty, Gray served as pastor of the Oakland Avenue Presbyterian Church of Montgomery, Ala. He also had taught for four years at Presbyterian Junior College and filled the pulpit of the Lydia Robinson Memorial Church of Charleston, W. Va.

Since Gray's arrival on the campus, he has taught French, German, History of Art, History of Music, Mathematics, Philosophy, Psychology, Public Speaking, and Sociology. Probably PC's most versatile professor, Gray's absence from teaching this semester required the faculty to make many adjustments in the class schedule.

While "taking it easy" for the past few months, Dr. Gray has procured a Russian grammar book and endeavored to learn the language.

A native of Richmond, Va., he is married to the former Miss Lura Emma Shirkey of Charleston, W. Va. They have two daughters.

"All some people want for their birthday is not to be reminded of it."

Students Choose Varied Professions, Denominations

The 495 students currently enrolled in Presbyterian College are a most diversified group. This is especially apparent in their choice of an occupation, for this student body has an eye on 29 different professions.

Business leads the list as the most popular career among students. The other preferences of the students which compose the top five choices are: Teaching, Ministry, Law, and Medicine.

A total of 82 persons plan to enter various fields of business. Education draws the interest of 71 students. There are 49 candidates for the ministry and 35 prospective lawyers.

The largest group, 158, are still undecided as to their future careers.

Among the other fields toward which Presbyterian College students are preparing for are:

Dentistry, 25; Engineering, 10; Coaching, 8; D. C. E., 6; Accounting, 5; Psychologist, 5.

Other professions mentioned were Social Work, Broker, Banking, Mathematician, Biologist, and Chemist.

Almost as diversified are the students' religious preferences. There are fourteen denominations represented in the student body.

Presbyterian led the list with 312 students. The Baptists are second highest with a total of 94, followed by 56 Methodists.

The total breakdown by denominations past the top three is Episcopal, 15; Church of God, 4; Lutheran, 4; Catholic, 2; Jewish, 2. There are one each of the following: A. R. P., Christian, Church of England, Greek Orthodox, Seventh Day Adventist, and United Church of Christ.

Geographically, the students hail from 19 states, District of Columbia, and two foreign countries. South Carolina and Georgia led with 228 and 126, respectively. North Carolina claims 64, followed by 32 Floridians. Virginia follows with 15.

There are five students from Alabama, and four from Kentucky. Three people are from Tennessee and two each from Illinois, Missouri, New York, and Ohio.

Higher Goal Set By Johnson Club

A $26,000 goal for 1961 has been set by the Walter Johnson Club alumni athletic organization now under the leadership of new President Ross Templeton of Charlotte.

Templeton, a member of the class of 1924, and now a top-producing business man as divisional manager for the Carolinas for Field Enterprises, served as campaign director of the 1960 Johnson Club. Under his guidance, the organization raised a record-shattering $20,339.42 last year.

In setting a goal of $26,000 for 1961, the Johnson Club seeks to take another big stride toward the $31.00 sum which the trustees have said the organization must raise annually. The Club was given until 1962 to reach this level of support, aimed at sharing dollar-for-dollar in the cost of the athletic grant program.

Dr. Henry Little, '49, of Greenville, is the new vice-president of the Johnson Club. Frank Jones, PC athletic director and head coach, serves as secretary-treasurer.

New!

SUNSHINE LAUNDRY
BRINGS YOU

NORGE

Self-Service Dry Cleaning!

Now...Save on Your Cleaning Costs

Sunshine Self-Service

LAUNDRY AND DRY-CLEANING

W. Florida Street Behind Post Office

Belk's

Mix 'n Match 'Em

By JANTZEN

Men's Bermudas $3.99
Sizes 28 to 40

Knit Shirts to match $2.99
Sizes S-M-L

Ladies' Bermudas $6.98
Sizes 8 to 18

Matching Blouses $5.98
Sizes 8 to 18

SPORT TOGS FOR THE LADIES by Bobbie Brooks
Paddle 'n Saddle and Webfoot

BEHIND THE BLUES

Spring Sports Underway

JERRY CHITTY, Sports Editor

Spring sports officially got underway this week as major league baseball opened its season. The close of the basketbal season saw the Boston Celtics downing the St. Louis Hawks for the professional court crown.

* * * * * *

Intramural chairman for the coming year will be Joe Harvard. Joe has selected a fine staff to assist him and with his guidance, and all the participants' cooperation, intramurals on our campus will again be among the best.

* * * * * *

To those swimming enthusiasts and those who survived the Fort Lauderdale festivities, a swimming course began this week in the college pool. The class will meet Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 3:30 to 5:00 for approximately six weeks.

Under the direction of Mr. Fakkema, those participating will be required to pass the following swimming tests:

1. Standing front dive.

2. Swim 440 yards continuously, employing a hand-over-hand stroke, a side stroke, and swimming on the back.

3. Dive from surface to minimum depth of six feet and swim two body lengths under water.

4. Tread water one minute with hands beneath the water surface.

5. Float for one minute.

* * * * * *

Presbyterian's baseball team has been having it sort of rough, as the young season progresses. After a win from Cornell, before spring holidays, the Hose have dropped decisions to Catawba and Pembroke. Faulty fielding and wildness by pitchers have been the main problems confronting the PC coaching staff.

Intramural Council Adopts Rules For Softball Action

Despite discouraging spring weather, intramural softball play is underway. The eleven teams registered have been divided into a fraternity league and an independent league. Both leagues will play a single round robin with the top two teams from each meeting in a final double elimination tournament.

Rules adopted by the intramural council are as follows:

1. Official softball rules will govern play unless otherwise stated.

2. Regular games will be seven innings.

A. Games will start at 2:30 p. m. and 4:00 p. m. with a 15-minute forfeit time allowed for each.

B. Game called because of rain or darkness or any other cause will be regulation if 5 or more equal innings have been played or if the team second at bat shall have made more runs at the end of its fourth inning or before the completion of its fifth inning than the team first at bat has made in five completed times at bat.

C. If at the end of 3 or more innings of play one team leads by 15 or more runs, it shall be awarded the game.

3. Nine men constitute the regular fast pitch team; however, a team may begin the game and continue play with 7 or 8 players.

4. Games postponed or rained out must be made up at a time agreed upon by the teams involved, preferably on a Friday or Saturday.

5. Each team must submit a list of 3 officials who will be assigned to officiate at games. Participating teams must pay a $.50 fee to one of the two officials before a game may start. Any team failing to have an umpire present for this asigned game shall receive a loss added to their standings.

6. At the end of each game, officials shall submit to the intramural chairman signed forms, including the names of all players who participated in that game and the final score.

Linksters Prepare For State Tourney

The PC golf team, with a current record of 4-3, is looking to matches next week with Belmont Abbey and Mercer University to prepare them for the State Tournament which begins on April 21.

The golf team got off to a flying start this year with wins over Piedmont College and the College of Charleston. PC next journeyed to East Tennessee College where they gained their victory, 14½ to 12½.

Our linksters then suffered two losses to Amherst, 20 to 7, and East Tennessee College, 11 to 8. The strong Southern Conference team from Furman was the next to roll over the Hose, 17½ to 9½. Frank Sells provided PC with one of its few bright spots by upsetting favored Byron Prentice 2-1. Max Clyburn and Ken Acker also turned in noteworthy performances for the Hose.

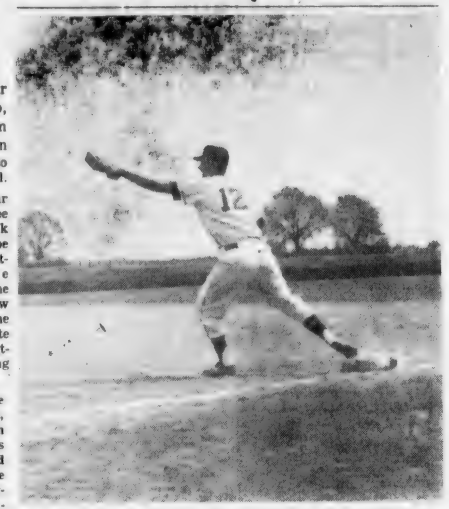
PC got back on the victory track again as they defeated Mercer University 20½ to 6½. Sells and Acker both stood out with 3-0 victories.

Hose Netmen Take Seven Straight Before Harvard Foe Stops Streak

Two Wins Gained On Georgia Trip

After losing its first four matches on its Florida trip, the Presbyterian tennis team bounded back to win seven straight matches before losing to the Ivy League power, Harvard.

Having been back from their winless Florida trip only three days, the PC netmen were quick to prove that they were not to be taken lightly by soundly defeating the challengers from the mighty Big Ten, Minnesota. The next day Coach Leighton's crew again took to the court, this time against one of our inner-state competitors, Wofford, and defeated them 8-1, with Leighton using many of his reserves.



In the next week another one of our South Carolina foes, Clemson, fell by the wayside in defeat by a score of 6-3 as Coach Leighton again used some of his reserve unit. The next PC victim was the University of the South who was impressively defeated 9-0.

With a record of five wins and three losses, Coach Leighton's racketeers went into their Easter Holiday matches well recovered from their Florida trip. Their first opponent over the holidays was our neighbor from the State capital, USC, who followed in the footsteps of its other inner-state allies down the road of defeat by a score of 9-0.

Then two outer State visitors, Kalamazoo College and the University of Toledo, took the court against the Presbyterian netmen and the only thing they could show for two days of tennis between them was a pair of goose eggs and a Carolina Suntan. The Presbyterian winning streak came to a halt at the hands of the powerful Harvard team with the Ivy Leaguers winning 8-1, and again winning the next day 7-2. Thus our netmen came out of the Holidays with a 7-6 record.

This week Coach Leighton and his team again went on the road with their first stop Athens, Ga. Presbyterian defeated the University of Georgia 5-4, winning five out of the six singles. The Presbyterian team then traveled to Atlanta to encounter Georgia Tech. In Atlanta the Presbyterian tennis team brought their record to its present state of nine wins and six losses by defeating Tech 5-1. The doubles were not played.

In summing up the tennis team's record so far this year it should be said that while playing many fine teams, the team has only lost to four different schools, twice to the great University of Miami and twice to the powerful Harvard squad. The team lost a heartbreaker to Rollins and lost their opener to Florida University.

First baseman Wayne Godfrey makes the long stretch in an attempt to throw out an opponent.—(Photo by Autry)

Errors Hamper Baseballers; Cornell Victory Is Only Win

The PC baseballers have gotten off to a slow start this year with a 1-5 record.

Prior to the Easter holidays the Blue Hose split two games with Cornell University. After dropping the first game in a slugfest to Cornell, 14-10, the Socks came back the following day with a combination of strong pitching backed up by steady fielding to win 4-3. Fred Sanders pitched good ball for the first five innings and Jerry Chitty came through with some clutch relieving to pick up the win.

Since the holidays the Hose have dropped two games on the road.

They traveled to Catawba where the Indians took advantage of shoddy PC fielding to take a 14-3 victory. The PC hurlers allowed only two earned runs in this ball game. Leading the Hose at the plate were first baseman Wayne Godfrey and outfielder Bill Sease.

Next the Hose went to Pembroke where again they were hurt by errors and walks given up by the pitchers.

Track Team Enters Piedmont Relays

The Presbyterian College track team has made a surprisingly good showing so far this spring. They have two victories over Pembroke and Lenoir Rhyne and looked impressive in a loss to powerful University of Georgia. After a slow start due to bad weather the team has finally rounded into good shape through hard work.

This weekend the team is slated to participate in the Piedmont Realy in Greenville. After that they meet Furman, Elon, Davidson, Catawba, Davidson Relays, Emory, and wind it up with the state meet in Columbia May 5-6.

Howard's Pharmacy

Your Rexall Drug Store

COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE

ON THE SQUARE

Johnson's Men Shop

...for...

Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

Money Is Powerful!

Money is the only thing that will provide the necessities of life for your family. The Prudential Dollar Guide will show you how easily you can continue to provide for your family . . . if you're not here.

See

Lawrence E. Young
INSURANCE BROKER

The Prudential Insurance Company of America
a mutual life insurance company

CLINTON REALTY & INS. CO.
104 W. Pitts St.
Clinton, S. C. Telephone 833-2081

Chapel Engagement

Unconventional Approach Gives Ullmann Victory

Pianist Theodore Ullmann met a Presbyterian College audience March 22 with an unconventional approach and went away the victor.

Sponsored by the Louis N. Grace Memorial Fund, which footed the $1500.00 bill, Ullmann appeared before a hard-boiled chapel audience. Making his audience unannounced and without the dimming of auditorium lights, the pianist presented a fairly heavy program, charply divided into classical and modern groups.

The best selections of the program came from works by Bach, Beethoven, Chopin and Debussy.

THEODORE ULLMANN

[illegible] before a chapel audi-

Living Endowment

(Continued from page four)

[illegible] in parents of current students.

Although the program does stress board participation by sending donors and all are invited to an annual Honor Roll report, two club plans [illegible] additional recognition for larger gifts. Contributors who give from $100 up to $250 are listed as Century Club members, and those giving $250 or more annually, constitute the Presidents Club.

[illegible] the [illegible] annual giving program will be [illegible] toward meeting current operating expenses of PC, such as the [illegible] to worthy students, faculty salary increases and [illegible] the annual deficiency.

During Moments of Ennui . . .

It's Spring . . . So why study?
The more you study . . . the more you know.
The more you know . . . the more you can forget,
The more you can forget . . . the more you do forget.
The more you do forget . . . the less you know . . .
So why study?

So Who Cares

Roses are not red, nor are violets blue, but purple
And grass ain't always green either because in winter, as all through the year.
My grandmother drives a Buick which is two-toned red,
And if my aunt's husband's brother reads Macbeth in March
He's my Dad.
However if the Amazon flows into the Pacific, things are pretty messed up.
Especially when you consider the fact that it's spring and nobody cares . .

And To Summer

Spring has sprung . . . Fall is fell
Summer's here . . . and it's hot . . .

Desire for Learning

(Continued from page two)

ful in discovering quietness [illegible] in the library's confines tha[illegible] stantaneous sleep could no[illegible] avoided. Upon walking (an[illegible] four or five hours later), the[illegible] the constant pinging of radi[illegible] served as a quite sufficiently [illegible] turbing factor.

Dillard Boland, Jewelers, Inc.
Wide Selection of
GIFTS - JEWELRY - DIAMONDS
PC Students Welcome 103 E. Pitts St.

Pitts Men's Shop
Style Mart Clothes -- Jantzen Sportswear
Nunn Bush Jarman Shoes

MIDWA[illegible]
DRIVE-IN THEATRE
Fri.-Sat., April 14-15
TWO BIG HITS
Both in Technicolor
The Crowded Sk[illegible]
The Unholy Wif[illegible]
Starts Sunday, April [illegible]
Limited Engagement
[illegible] HARVEY [illegible]
BUTTERFIELD 8
Regular Admission Pr[illegible]

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
It's Time That Co[illegible]

BROADWAY Special
Monday Thru Saturday
April 17-22
Gone With the Wind

One of the best investments you'll ever make...

[illegible] of a Second Lieutenant are pinned on your Army uniform . . . and deep inside the warm [illegible] in meeting expenses . . . a subsistence allowance of $535 for the two-year advanced ROTC course. Uniforms and military textbooks paid for. $117 for your six-week summer camp training, plus travel allowance. And when you're commissioned, a $300 uniform allowance.

You discharge your military obligation with the traditional rank, pay, privileges and responsibilities of an officer in the United States Army.

And later, when you're starting your climb up the civilian ladder, advanced ROTC will still be paying off. Success in the executive areas of business and industry comes earlier and more substantially to the man who can lead. [illegible] can be learned. And advanced ROTC is a great place to learn it.

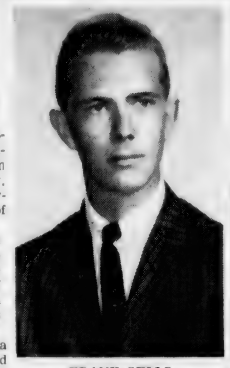
Talk with the Professor of Military Science at your school. Learn more about advanced ROTC. Ask particularly about the ROTC course in Leadership, and its practical experience in command responsibilities.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

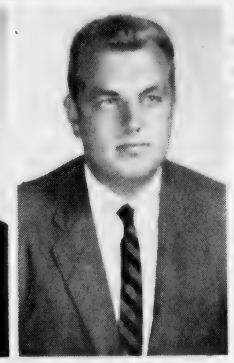
Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., April 21, 1961 No. 14

Frank Sells, Max Clyburn Head Annual



Frank Sells has been elected to the top position of editor of the 1962 PaC-SaC in elections held Wednesday. In the same baloting Max Clyburn was named to the post of business manager.

Sells, a junior from Johnson City, Tenn., defeated Dave Waters, the only other candidate in the race. Max Clyburn of Kershaw, outnumbered Byron Hollingsworth for the business manager's job.



As a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, Sells has served the group as pledge master. A three-year veteran of the Robed Choir, he has held the position of custodian and is presently serving as chaplain and reader of the singers. Sells is also an active member of the PC link squad and can be seen "swatting a few" on the plaza.

Clyburn, a rising senior, is a member of Theta Chi fraternity and has recently been reelected to a second term as president of the group. He, too, is a member of the PC golf team. This year Clyburn is the team's captain and has been medalist in many of this season's matches.

Both men will take up the duties of their office after the dedication of the 1961 PaC-SaC in the middle of May.

FRANK SELLS

MAX CLYBURN

Robed Choir Departs For Extended Weekend

The Presbyterian College Robed Choir leaves tomorrow for an extended weekend tour.

Saturday afternoon the choir travels to Johnson City, Tenn., where on Sunday they will present the morning worship service at the First Presbyterian Church.

Sunday night the choir will sing before the Johnson City Preacher's Mission which will be held on the campus of East Tennessee State College in Johnson City.

Monday morning the choir will move to Black Mountain, N. C., where they sing that evening in the Presbyterian Church.

They will return to the campus after the concert Monday night.

June 4

Wardlaw Is Speaker For Baccalaureate Address

The baccalaureate sermon at PC's 80th graduation exercises on June 4 will be preached by the Rev. Hubert G. Wardlaw, pastor of Atlanta's Rock Springs Presbyterian Church, President Marshall W. Brown announced today.

This opening service of the commencement program is scheduled for 11 a. m. in Belk Auditorium. The commencement address and awarding of degrees will follow that afternoon.

Wardlaw, one of three Presbyterian College alumni who will receive honorary degrees at commencement this year, has served as pastor of the Rock Springs Church since 1957. Prior to going to Atlanta, he spent five years in the pulpit of the Orangeburg First Presbyterian Church. His earlier charges include the Lancaster Presbyterian Church (1949-52), the Kingston Presbyterian Church of Conway (1945-49) and the Whitmire Presbyterian Church (1942-45).

A graduate of PC in the class of 1938, Wardlaw received his bachelor of divinity degree from Columbia Theological Seminary in 1941. He served on the Presbyterian College board of trustees while pastor in Orangeburg.

The speaker is a native of Marietta, Ga., is married to the former Annie Lee Jackson of Clinton, and they have two sons.

After preaching the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday morning, June 4, he will don academic regalia again that afternoon for the final commencement exercises at which he will be awarded an honorary doctor of divinity degree.

Matthews Selected New BEA President

The Business Economics Association held elections for officers for the coming year at its regular meeting on Thursday.

Bill Matthews of Macon, Ga., was elected president, replacing Doug McDougald. Bland Quantz was selected as the new vice-president, taking over the position from Paul Ard.

Teddy Elders of Valdosta, Ga., will assume the duties of Harrison Clayton, who is the former secretary and treasurer.

Col. Barnett Goes To Leavenworth Post

Lt. Col. W. W .Barnett, professor of military science and tactics at Presbyterian College for the past four years, has received orders to attend the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, next fall.

His tour of duty at PC will be completed with the close of the current session in June, and he will report to the army school on August 16.

The 18-week associate course there, extending through mid-November, will deal with the general field of command and high-level staff planning.

Col. Barnett came to PC in 1957 to assume direction of the Presbyterian College ROTC unit. Not only has he given able leadership to this work, but he and his wife have been active in the religious and civic life of Clinton. They expect to leave the city around August 1 in preparation for the new assignment.

SCA OFFICERS John Elrod, Christine Wilson, Grif Helwig, and Intramural Chairman Joe Harvard discuss plans for the spring picnic.—(Photo by Autry)

Ministerial Club and WF Are Vocations Conference Hosts

A Christian Vocations Conference, the first of its type to be held in the Presbyterian Church, U. S., will be the guest of the Westminster Fellowship and Ministerial Club on this campus April 22-23. Open to anyone wishing to attend, the conference is designed to foster an interest in full time church service as a vocation.

Registration for the conference will begin Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the lobby of the Douglas House, and activities will conclude with the Sunday morning worship service in Wyatt Chapel. There will be a charge of 75 cents for all PC students attending the conference. Students are also invited to attend the Sunday morning worship.

This project has been in the planning stage for several months, and was originally under the direction of Pat Griffin, president of the Ministerial Club However, Griffin left the campus because of illness and the work has been continued by Mike Jarrett and Grif Helwig. Dr. Gettys and Mr. Fakkema have served as advisors.

Guest speaker for the event will be Dr. Wade Huie, Professor of Homiletics, Columbia Seminary, and the Rev. James Womack, Minister of the Shandon Presbytreian Church, Columbia.

Visitation teams from Columbia Seminary, Union Seminary, the Presbyterian School of Christian Education, and the Presbyterian Board of World Missions will lead discussions relating to full time church work. Two missionaries from the Belgian Congo and one from Brazil, along with Rev. Jim Speed, of the Board of Christian Education, will also attend.

New Members Tapped By Honor Societies

• Holman Addresses Convocation

Citing new trends towards liberal arts education, Dr. Hugh Holman, speaking before the student body at the annual Academic Honors Day, called for a renewed vigor in the search for the "Unity of Knowledge."

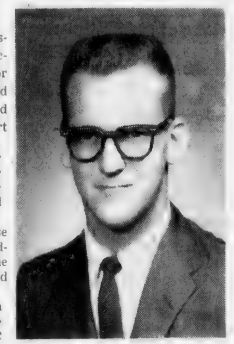
"There is a real danger in specialization," the PC Alumni said, "for we lose sight of the unit, the single body of learning." Defining education as a "search for language, a method of communication," Holman said the academic community should be "an atmosphere of ideas—rather than being departmentalized."

"Truth exists in various forms." Saying we must keep alive the Mother Language of learning, Holman challenged students not to limit themselves to a single field, but to seek knowledge.

Preceding Holman's address, Dr. Newton B. Jones, chairman of the scholarship committee, announced the new members of Sigma Kappa Alpha and The Sophomore Academic Society.

Seniors Edward Johnson and Grace Walker, both from Clinton, Donald Kay of Anderson, Harry McDonnold from Asheville, N. C., Gay Maddox of Spartanburg, Doris Nelson from Greenville, Billy Ogden of Macon, Ga., and Maurice Schwartz of Laurinburg, N. C., were selected and approved by the faculty for membership in the highly select Sigma Kappa Alpha.

These new members of the senior honor society all have a grade-point ratio above 3.2 and have shown evidence of outstanding character.



Sophomores recognized for their academic achievement among members of their class were John Gettys of Union, Martha Ann Monroe of Laurens, Robert Piephoff of Greenville, and Christine Wilson of Monroe, N. C. Scholarship, leadership, and character are the criteria for selection into this society.

Holman, Keeman Professor of English and head of the Department of the Univresity of North Carolina, is a former Presbyterian professor and Dean. An author of popular mystery novels, Holman is recognized as an outstanding critic and scholar of American literature.

Varner Named To Exchange Program

Evin Varner, of Bennettsville, has been named as the International Youth Exchange Fellow to Japan for 1961-62. His fellowship will include a six months stay in Japan and the orient and two months in Europe. His visit will mark the initial venture into Japan.

Sponsored by the National

EVIN VARNER

4-H Club Foundation, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the U .S. Department of State, the exchange is part of the "People - to - People" program will eventually come under the new "Peace Corps" program.

Varner will leave in June for Japan where he will tour, lecture and live with various families in the country. As a grass-roots ambassador, leading other peoples to better understanding of our way of life, he will travel some 30,000 miles.

He is one of 35 outstanding college men and women from throughout the United States and possessions who will participate in as many countries.

Japan has been described as a vital part of the United States' foreign relations program. There have been recent Anti-American outbursts in Japan.

After his return to the United States, Varner will go on a two months lecture tour through the southeast. He will be available to any group in this area beginning in March of 1962.

Chapel Services

Monday—Chapel Devotional.

Wednesday—Chapel Worship Services; Rev. E. Gil Clary, Jr., Pastor, Covenant Presbyterian Church, Spartanburg.

Friday—Dr. Donald Russell, former president of the University of South Carolina.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Lost: One Publication

According to last fall's Knapsack, the Literary Journal has been described as having a "spasmodic" life. This is an under-statement, for the journal has not been published since 1957.

The Presbyterian College Bulletin, 1960-61, which was mailed to all freshmen last spring, makes the following statement on page 64: "Four student publications offer excellent opportunities for self-expression and for training in this field . . . Each student receives a year's subscription to these publications through a student activities fee, which is part of the General Fee required upon enrollment . . . The student publications are: The Blue Stocking . . . ; The PaC-Sac . . .; The Knapsack . . .; and a literary journal."

Similarly, the new college bulletin for 1961-62 states also on page 64: "Four student publications offer excellent opportunities for self-expression and for training in this field." However, the publications are listed as being The Blue Stocking, the PaC-SaC, and The Knapsack. What happened to the literay journal? Has it been lost?

As we can easily see, this publication is meant to be an opportunity for self-expression and experience. Without this publication, we are getting cheated in two ways. First of all we are not getting it yearly as the catalog, under which we entered, plainly states, and secondly we are not getting the opportunity to express ourselves.

Material for a revised literary journal has been ready since early last spring, but it has never gone to press because of the lack of funds.

Last semester The Blue Stocking published a total of seven issues out of a possible fourteen. The cost of publication was accordingly reduced, leaving an excess on the college books. Could not this money, although it is merely on paper, be used to print the journal?

A literary journal, as has been published in the past, is the only means by which the students can express themselves creatively. The journal also provides a chance to see the visual results of one's work. Since the publication is not too great an expense, it should be continued and not dropped as merely a line in a catalog.

A Glimpse of the Future

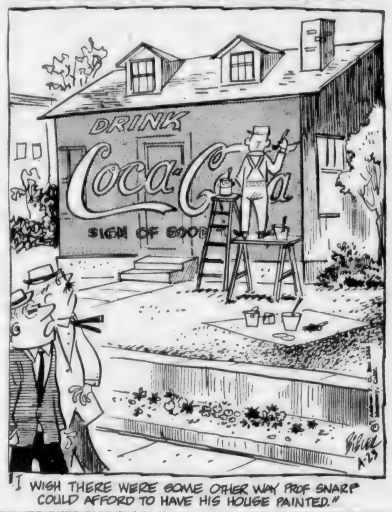
By Tom Morrison

It might be both illuminating and interesting to take a look at the PC freshman of 1999 in relation with some unbelievably drastic changes having been effected by that future year.

Upon first landing his helijet, the average student will be immediately transported via moving sidewalks to his dormitory where he will be met by a beautiful female robot (male in the case of those numerous coeds who will be attending at that time). These mechanical companions are to escort each PCun to his room while Martian slaves conquered only four years previously during Universal War II) carry all luggage.

Taking Smyth for an example, the group would then step upo or glide over, should they be possession of recently develop flying belts—a glistening mar hallway, resting far below hug impressive chandeliers.

The rooms themselves w actually be as small as in 19 but two revolutionizing factor which make for more room ness shall have emerged in t future: (1) desks become u necessary because scientifi wonders will put an end t most studying — no, not b proving its harm, but rathe through fantastic improvemen of everyone's power; and, (2 beds no longer shall be us since sleep will have long sinc been vanquished from the ear by tireless Russian researc ers.



The only food necessary years hence is to be one or t Vitamin X tablets per day, tained merely by inserting penny for each capsule in a s in the room, immediately ab which the purchase, prepared what is now our dining hall, fa through a chute directly to eater.

For each roommate, the will be a television set to r ceive broadcasts of all classe because of fuddy-duddiness on the part of many, however, e ery student shall be given a alternate choice of instead vi iting the lecture room direct if it be so desired.

Courses will include telepath communication — which s plants English by then, an int national language for use w peoples of backward countri

(Continued on page four)

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

A Look at Betterment

A World of a Thousand Tongues

Part II

Our purposes thwarted by those meeting selfish ends, and "superiors" role in second place.

One finds at all places those concerned with the art of "Joka." When they are given a little room, they take a whole house, and when the leadership is occupied by personages concerned only to meet selfish ends, then here, too, is a need for awakening.

Some people have a hard time in obtaining knowledge because of funds or brains, but these people could be helped if our "Superiors" did not allow a few people to use tremendous sums that aren't needed in one respect but are in another respect—the respect that the initial reasoning for higher learning was not intended.

To complicate things, one could say certain things are not run by those who should be running them, but by selfish ambitious persons who use deceit and demagoguery as their rod and staff. Gradually, because of the prospect of greater advancement and prestige, those whose initial purpose is to instruct in knowledge, will realize that instead of the grass being greener on the other side of the fence, there is no grass at all on their side.

Part III

Our "Aca" leaders in respect to us and their role in the life of knowledge.

Being the most important part of learning, places the "Aca" in the most serious and concerned positions, and therefore, this part should take precedence above all: the role of knowledge.

When "Superior" does not associate with "Aca," then there is room for serious revision. Our quest for knowledge is somewhat hampered by a constraining of force that one draws us one way and one the other.

When certain egomanic elements creep into this compact to disrupt the relationship of the "Aca" and S. O. K., then there we have great need for revision. Certain of these compartments are a little loose and make the compact rattle, but a little lubrication with an oil to stamp out naivete might alleviate this.

Our immediate problem is to escape from the world of a thousand tongues and establish ourselves in a world of honesty: A world that's not hampered by selfishness, naivete, deceit, indifference, and mendacity.

Part IV

Our job as informers to those interested in seeing that true reform is carried out.

Even though we may feel alone and helpless in our quest for needed reform, the "All"

(Continued on page four)

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR	GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER	LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR	MURRAY WHITE
News Editor	Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor	Jerry Chitty

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited by Bill Matthews

ΑΔΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨΩ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Brothers and Pledges made plans for "Greek Weekend." T plans will include a "Hawaiian Holiday" one night and a dan the following night. Plans were made to paint the fraternity su in the near future.

KAPPA ALPHA

New officers were installed at the meeting Tuesday night. Pla were made for practice Friday and Saturday night of Greek We end, with Sam Cooke providing the music.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Plans were made for the Beach Party at Ocean Drive to be h the week after graduation. With PiKA weekend now past, plans being formulated for a big Greek Weekend.

Brother Alan Pitts reported on the District Convention at t University of Virginia. Others who attended were Robert Mill Frank Branham, and Drayton.

PI KAPPA PHI

Beta Chapter has completed plans for the upcoming Greek We end and the parties will be held at Lake Greenwood.

We congratulate our softball team on winning the first two gam of the intramural season.

SIGMA NU

Final plans have been made for the White Star Weekend and look forward to its arrival with great anticipation.

Last night the pledges underwent final training and a Broth hood initiation will be held Monday night. Tuesday night's meeti will feature election of officers for the coming year.

THETA CHI

Beta Psi Chapter is completing plans for Greek Weekend. T plans for the weekend include a house party at Lake Greenwood co plete with a combo.

Congratulations are extended to President Max Clyburn on be elected Business Manager of the PaC-SaC for 1962.

Ronnie Seiple pulls Tom Knox out of the swimming pool during Senior Life Saving instructions.—(Photo by Autry)

BEHIND THE BLUES

Hose Teams Bring Victory

JERRY CHITTY, Sports Editor

Thursday's sports action on the PC campus was somewhat of a delight as compared to the events during the early part of the week.

The Blue Hose track team after taking a rather dismal 101-30 loss at the hands of Furman on Tuesday bounced back to defeat Elon Thursday. Richard Alderman and Bob Beddingfield continue to be stalwarts for the cinder crew.

It's always good to win for the home crowd and that's just what Clyde's Boys did Thursday against arch rival Wofford. This was the first conference game of the season for PC, which still has a chance of posting a good record after a rather slow start. Possibly the highlight of the game was the pitching of Mr. Paul Love (age not listed). He held the opposing Terriers to five scattered hits and fielded his position very well.

* * * * * * * *

The Blue Hose lost the services of ace pitcher Jimmy Howell last week due to a "slam the door on the thumb" accident. Lots of luck to Jimmy, if his arm isn't ailing, it's his finger.

* * * * * * * *

The highlight of spring sports action for the PCuns will take place at Clemson on Friday and Saturday when the tennis team defends its state championship. PC has won the state title for 21 consecutive years and is favored to make it 22 in a row. Clemson and The Citadel will be the dark horses in the state match. Much excitement grew from The Citadel's boastful statement concerning the State Match. We wish our boys luck and feel sure they can take the confident Bulldogs from Charleston.

* * * * * * * *

Intramurals this past week saw some rough and ready action. Guy Hancock, Robert Sherrell, and Tommy Singleton were injured in a softball game Monday afternoon between Pi Kappa Phi and Pi Kappa Alpha.

Enter State Meet

Clyburn Is Medalist As Linksters Down Two Foes

Max Clyburn was the big gun for the PC golf team this week as the linksters defeated Belmont Abbey and Mercer University. Over the wind-swept course, Clyburn captured medalist honors with an even par round of 73 as the Hose breezed over Abbey 14-4.

Clyburn again blazed over the course against Mercer as he shot a one under par 72 to share medalist honors with a former PC student, Sonny Bell. Harry McDonnold teamed with Clyburn, shooting a low ball total of 69 halfed with the strong Mercer 1 and 2 men. Hexie McDonnold teamed with Frank Sells to take 8 points out the final foursome to defeat Mercer 11-7.

Thursday the golf team headed for Hampton to meet head-on with Furman, Wofford, Citadel, College of Charleston, USC, and Clemson in the South Carolina State Golf Tournament. PC will be seeking to bring back Little Four honors for the second consecutive year. With the help of Charlie Clotfelter, Buddy Varn, C. J. Ray, and Scott Marbut the team has hopes of doing well.

Next week the Hose will be away for four matches, meeting Wofford, USC, Citadel, and the College of Charleston. The team hopes to extend its win record which stands presently at 6 wins against 3 losses.

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

Racqueteers Defeated By Georgia Head For State Meet At Clemson

• Aim at State Title No. 22

The University of Georgia defeated the Presbyterian netmen here Wednesday afternoon by a score of 6-3. The victory for the Georgians avenged an earlier loss to the Blue Hose in which the Hose won 5-4, winning five singles matches and losing all the doubles.

Tony Wilson started things off right for Presbyterian with his steady ground strokes and driving shots, soundly defeating the number one man from Georgia 6-1, 6-1. Ed Caviness soon followed with another impressive victory for the Hose. play singles number three.

Then Georgia scored their first victory of the afternoon with a victory over Bill Stone in the number six singles. Harold Hope lost a three-set match in the number five singles.

With the team score tied, two-two, Tom Elliott and Beansey Frampton both battled their opponents into the third sets. Frampton lost his three-set duel with the third set going into extra games. With Presbyterian one point behind in the team score, Elliott went on to win his three-set match and tie the score 3-3, going into the doubles.

The tide of events completely turned against the Hose as the Georgians won all three doubles matches to defeat Presbyterian 6-3. Playing for the Hose in the doubles were Wilson and Elliott, number one: Caviness and Frampton, number two; Hope and Greenslade, who did not play, number three.

This weekend Coach Leighton takes his team to Clemson for the State Tournament. The Presbyterian tennis team has won the State title for the last twenty-one years and the student body wishes the team good luck, feeling confident that Presbyterian will reign as South Carolina tennis champs for the twenty-second year in a row.

PC Graduate Named Basketball Head

A former star Presbyterian College baskteball player has just been named head basketball coach at Vanderbilt University. He is Roy "Skip" Skinner, who moved up from assistant coach to succeed retiring Bob Polk in this capacity.

Skinner, a 1952 graduate of PC, thus assumes direction of a cage program which has moved into national prominence in recent years. Last season, Vanderbilt finished in a tie with Kentucky for the Southeastern Conference title but lost in a playoff to determine the NCAA tournament representative.

The 31-year-old PC alumnus first joined the Vanderbilt staff in 1957 after coaching Paducah Junior College to the Kentucky championship. He served as acting coach during the 1958-59 season when illness struck Polk, and finished with a 14-10 record to rank fifth in the SEC.

In making the announcement of Skinner's appointment, Vice Chancellor John Stembaugh said the athletic committee unanimously approved the elevation of Skinner. He added: "Roy Skinner in every way demonstrated he has earned the job. He understands Vanderbilt's basic philosophy with respect to athletics. His record, although he is a young coach, has indicated he is an excellent student of the game."

He is married to the former Betty Jo Ledford of Greenville, whom he met when she taught school in Clinton, and they have four children.

Hose Cinder Squad Downs Elon Runners

PC took another track victory Thursday by edging out a tough Elon team 71½ to 58½. Elon scored heavily in the field events but not in the running events.

Going into the last two events PC was ahead by only one point, but they took a first and second in the 220 low hurdles and won the mile relay, with Bill Rolin looking very impressive. He took the baton about 10 yards back and overtook his man, and picked up a 20-yard lead.

Richard Alderman won the 100-yard dash and tied for first in the 220 dash. Stacy Burton won three second places, picking up nine points for Coach Spooner's boys.

Coach James Leighton offers encouragement to the tennis team in their match with Georgia.—(Photo by Autry)

Blue Hose Diamond Squad Gains Victory Over Wofford

The Presbyterian College Blue Hose baseball team opened their regular Little Four season yesterday with a 6-2 victory over the Wofford Terriers.

Led at the plate by Jimmy Rakestraw and Leland Vaughan, each with two singles, and on the mound by Paul Love's consistent pitching the Hose posted an impressive victory.

The Blue Hose scored two runs in the first inning on successive singles by Bill Tyson and Jimmy Rakestraw, a fielder's choice and an error. Wofford evened things up with single runs in the second and fourth innings.

In the bottom of the seventh PC broke the game wide open by scoring four runs. Paul Love allowed the Terriers only five scattered hits in going the distance to notch his first victory of the season. Witherspoon was the loser for Wofford.

The Hose dropped another game on the road to Mercer University earlier in the week. Jerry Chitty was the starting and losing pitcher and his record now stands at 1-1. Harvey Blanchard with a single and a double and Leland Vaughan with two triples led PC at the plate.

The Little Four League standings now have Newberry in first place at 2-0, followed by PC at 1-0, Erskine with a 0-1 record and Wofford last at 0-2.

The Hose travel to Newberry tomorrow to face the Indians in a non-conference game.

Bums and PiKapps Hold Softball Lead

The opening week of intramural softball proved the Bums and the PiKapps to be the teams to beat. Both clubs possess 2-0 records and are averaging almost 3.5 runs per inning as they lead their respective league. Other teams in the fraternity league which are not to be counted out are the KAs (1-0), Sigma Nu (1-1), and PiKAs (1-1).

The Confederates (1-0) and Pounders (1-1) in the independent league also appear to be contenders.

Fraternity Standings

Team	W	L
PiKapp	2	0
KA	1	0
Sigma Nu	1	1
PiKA	1	1
Theta Chi	0	1
Alpha Sig	0	2

Independent Standings

Team	W	L
Bums	2	0
Confederates	1	0
Pounders	1	1
Sharks	0	1
Snakes	0	2

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

STUDENT ASSISTANTS Elizabeth Glover and Ronald Kay look over the day's circulation at the library with Miss Marian Burts, PC librarian.—(Photo by Autry)

College Library Notes Nationwide Observance

This week is National Library Week. The Blue Stocking joins in the spirit of the week and salutes the Presbyterian College Library and Librarian Marian Burts.

The Library was moved from its previous location in Jacobs Science Hall to the present location in 1942. At present the Library contains almost 50,000 volumes, with expansion space estimated for 90,000. All patrons have access to these books, which are shelved in three fireproof stacks to the rear of the circulation desk.

The Presbyterian College Library is the recipient of several fine private collections—the McIlwain Collection, William I. Sinnott Collection, the Ellison A. Smyth, and the Dudley Jones Collection. On the second floor of the Library building is the Clinton Community Library for Children, a collection of some 2,000 books.

Nineteen hundred phonograph records, 872 LP's and 996 RPM's, are included in the Library's varied and expanding record collection. Included among these are 62 multi-record albums consisting of dramatic works, oratorios, organ recitals, and musical comedies. In addition to these albums there are 45 complete recorded operas.

The Library subscribes to some 150 periodicals including weekly news magazines, popular magazines, and scholarly journals. Many are bound, and others are available for students to check out.

All students have the privilege of requesting the purchase of books which are not in the Library, and the Librarian encourages the students to take advantage of this privilege.

Miss Marian Burts, the Librarian, urges all the students to take full advantage of the facilities available to them in the Presbyterian College Library in the pursuit of their academic goals.

This weekend, Miss Burts will attend a conference of state librarians in Rock Hill.

PC of the Future

(Continued from page two)

and interplanetary sign language; the combined science-math departments will concentrate mainly upon dyonomatric evaluations of chrystamalic hydropholis; ROTC, not unlike today, will require both drill and cleaning of all individual ray guns.

But what about today's collegegoers? Because of booming population and the resultant overcrowded conditions which will prevail in 1999, all people of our general age will be given midgetory inoculations for decreasing our size to approximately four inches square. This is indeed something to eagerly await!

Senior Placement

Seniors should contact Mrs. Watts, secretary to the Dean of Students, in the administration building for appointments for job placement interviews.

April 28—Home Finance Co.

Synodical School Schedule Posted

Presbyterian women of South Carolina will assemble at Presbyterian College on June 19-23 for the 14th annual Synodical Training School, it was announced today.

Mrs. J. Melvin Thompson of Olanta, president of the women's orgnaization of the Synod of South Carolina, serves as dean of the school which meets each June on the PC campus.

A faculty of outstanding church leaders is being secured for the 1961 session, and another large attendance is expected for this accredited school offering courses on religion. Members of the faculty will be announced later.

Classes will meet daily each morning during the week-long school, with six courses being taught for credit toward certificates and diplomas. Visiting women will be housed in one of the college dormitories and will take their meals in Judd Dining Hall. Many are expected to attend the entire session, while others will commute from neighboring cities from day to day for certain classes.

Initial notification of the 1961 Synodical Training School already has been sent out. Women seeking information about credits are requested to contact Mrs. Robert R. Glenn of Hamer, while registration details are handled by Mrs. John B. Cooley of Mountville.

WF Elects Officers; Committeemen Chosen

The newly elected and installed officers and committeemen of the Westminster Fellowship for 1961-62 have been announced, and plans are underway to map out the programs and projects for the coming year. Their main goal is to make Westminster Fellowship more central in the lives of the students on this campus.

Elected to guide WF during the coming year as president is Grif Helwig. John Henderson is vice-president, while Judy Bolton and George Reaves are secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The new committee chairmen are Jan Rhodes, Deputation; Harold Hope, Sunday School; Mike Jarrett, Attendance; and John Craig, Activities.

Paul Woodall will lead the projects committee, and Tom Griffin is in charge of Publicity. Sanders Read will head the Ecumenical Committee, while Marion Boozer is charge of the music.

A Look at Betterment

(Continued from page two)

can be of help if they are properly informed. This elite organization cannot possibly know the true facts of need, or something would be done.

Instead of assuming this fact, one would hit closer to the truth if one considered that information being fed to the "All" meets only what the "Superior" wants known. There is no ingenuity in this, so let's not precede to pin medals on anyone. It should be classified rather as extreme deceit stemming from gross negligence. There, too, is the possibility that the ranks of the "All" are not occupied by the most interested persons, but by those who find praise in one instance and expect the praise to continue for no apparent reason.

The "Superiors" in trying to keep things inside one small circle have the same success as a mole would have in digging a foundation for a modern-day apartment building. This comes about because where interest and stimulation coupled with coperation is nil, so will the ability to hide true facts be nil.

The fault of most men lies in the possibility of dreaming aspiration without laborius doing. When certain places lack both, then there's no small wonder that doing will never be accomplished.

Time will probably prove, or disprove, the argument hereto presented, but time will undoubtedly be in some agreement with the argument.

Stiff Cribbing Law

For classroom cheaters cau... in the act, the classic punishm... has always been to kick them... of school. To some members... the Pennsylvania State Legi... ture, however, even this seem... too soft. Brought before t... body's education committee ... week was Bill 698, sponsored ... four statesmen who believe t... anyone in high school or col... who uses study material of a... nature prepared by another p... son should be subject to a ... fine and/or 30 days in jail. T... proposal's chance of passag... ter tidying amendements. Fa...

—News-wee...

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 4...
"Open All Night

BROADWAY Theatre
Monday and Tuesday, April 24-25
The Sundowners
Deborah Kerr, Robert Mitch... Peter Ustinov, Glynis Johns
Wed. - Thur. - Fri. - Sat. April 26-27-28-29
All Hands on Deck
Pat Boone, Buddy Hackett, Dennis O'Keefe, Barbara Ed...

Dillard Boland, Jewelers, Inc.
Wide Selection of
GIFTS - JEWELRY - DIAMONDS
PC Students Welcome 103 E. Pitts St.

Thirsty?
Try the New
SUN DROP COLA
A True Taste Delight
BOTTLED BY
CANADA DRY BOTTLING CO.
OF CLINTON

Johnson's Men Shop
...for...
Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

Money Is Powerful!
Money is the only thing that will provide the necessities of life for your family. The Prudential Dollar Guide will show you how easily you can continue to provide for your family . . . if you're not here.
See
Lawrence E. Young
INSURANCE BROKER
The Prudential Insurance Company of America
a mutual life insurance company
CLINTON REALTY & INS. CO.
104 W. Pitts St.
Clinton, S. C. Telephone 833-2081

New!
SUNSHINE LAUNDRY
BRINGS YOU
NORGE
Self-Service Dry Cleaning!
Now... Save on Your Cleaning Costs
Sunshine Self-Service
LAUNDRY AND DRY-CLEANING
W. Florida Street Behind Post Office

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress
Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., April 28, 1961 No. 15

Lt. Col. W. W. Barnett, Dr. Brown, and Mrs. Robert E. Wysor, Jr., admire the ROTC awards display in the Douglas House. The sabre is presented annually to the best company commander by Mrs. Wysor in memory of her husband, who was PMS at PC for eight years.

John Temple Graves Will Deliver 1961 Commencement Address

• Lecturer, Author, Columnist

John Temple Graves, prominent lecturer, author and newspaper columnist, will deliver the main address at Presbyterian College's 80th commencement exercises on June 4, President Marshall W. Brown recently announced.

He said the visit will mark Graves' third appearance as a commencement speaker on the PC campus. The most recent of these was in June, 1955, when he delivered a ringing affirmation of the importance of the individual in the present complex world.

With the final exercises of this year, Presbyterian starts packaging its annual graduation program into a one-day affair held on Sunday. The commencement address and awarding of degrees, scheduled for 4:15 p.m. on June 4, will follow closely after the morning baccalaureate sermon that day. Previously, commencement had been extended over until Monday morning each year.

Graves, whose daily editorial column is syndicated and widely distributed through southern and western newspapers, will speak to member of the 1961 graduating class in PC's new Belk Auditorium.

A native of Rome, Ga., he has been editor of The Palm Beach (Fla.) Times and The Jacksonville (Fla.) Journal and is presently on the editorial staff of The Birmingham Post-Herald.

His published books include The Shaft in the Sky, The Book of Alabama and The Fighting South.

Graves has been influencial in southern political affairs through his interpretive writing for many years and is a popular lecturer on the problems of the times. A veteran of World War I, he served as an assistant on the American Peace Commission in Paris in 1919 and as an economist on the Federal Trade Commission from 1919 to 1925.

Headquarters Company Wins Field Competition

The annual ROTC Field Day event was held Thursday afternoon with Headquarters Company achieving the highest over-all score. Company A followed in second place.

Cadets competed in several contests of strength and skill, and individual's scores within the various companies were totaled. Points won on Field Day will be included in the determination at the end of the year of honor company.

Company C walked away with the first place in the tug of war while Headquarters Company pulled in second.

In the assembly and dis-assembly of the 30 cal. machine gun Dickie Carr of Company B turned in a fast score of one minute, forty seconds, to place first, while Guy Hancock of C Company finished in three minutes, fifty-eight seconds for second place.

Skip Saverance of Headquarters won in a tough elimination for Best-drilled Cadet. Graham Edmunds of D Company was runner-up. The best-drilled MS I Cadet was Randy Fitzpatrick of A Company.

Two heats were run on the assembly and dis-assembly of the M1 Rifle—one among the MS I and II cadets and one among the MS III's. Rollin Butler, representing C Company, managed the operation in forty-three seconds. Robert St. Clair, representing Headquarters Company, finished in forty-seven seconds. Of the MS III's, Saverance was the fastest. Close behind for second place, was Bob Beddingfield of A Company.

Headquarters Company again gained points when Pat Sudduth captured first place in the Physical Training test.

Mike Lay of D Company tossed his way to first place for distance in the hand grenade-throwing competition, while the most accurate was Gordon Mayhugh of Headquarters Company.

Former Carolina President Speaks for IRC Day Event

Donald Russell, former president of the University of South Carolina who once served as Assistant Secretary of State, delivered the main address at annual International Relations Day activities at PC this morning.

He spoke to the student body at 10 a.m. in Belk Auditorium.

Dr. Russell received national recognition as a lawyer and government official before he began his career as an educator. He was a law partner of James F. Byrnes in Spartanburg for a number of years, beginning in 1930, and he joined the distinguished South Carolinian in Washington at the outbreak of World War II.

Dr. Russell served first as a member of the Price Adjustment Board, then became assistant to Byrnes when the latter stepped in as Director of Economic Stabilization and later as Director of War Mobilization. He was Deputy Director of the Office of War Mobilization Reconversion for six months in 1945 before becoming Assistant Secretary of State. This office he held until January, 1947, when he resumed the practice of law.

Dr. Russell became president of the University in 1951 and rendered outstanding service in this capacity until his resignation in 1958 to make an unsuccessful bid for the governorship. Now he once more practices law in Spartanburg.

Dr. Hugh Holman, Honor's Day speaker, chats with six members of Sigma Kappa Alpha Scholastic Fraternity. Pictured, left to right, they are: Mrs. Doris Nelson, Maurice Schwartz, Gay Maddox, Dr. Holman, Mrs. Grace Walker, Edward Johnson, and Donald Kay.

Geneva Theologian To Speak in Chapel

Dr. Jacques Courvoisier, former dean of the College of Theology and present-rector of the University of Geneva, will visit Clinton this weekend to speak at Presbyterian College and the First Presbyterian Church.

He is to arrive on the PC campus Saturday morning to address the Christian sociology class taught by Dr. Edouard Patte, a cousin who was in the same gradutaing class with Professor Courvoisier at Geneva. The distinguished visitor also will preach at the First Church morning services on Sunday and participate in a panel discussion before the PC student body on Monday morning.

DR. COURVOISIER

Dr. Courvoisier came to this country from Switzerland to deliver the A.K. Warfield Lectures on Theology at Princeton Theological Seminary.

An ordained minister of the Reformed Church, he has served as professor of church history at the University of Geneva since 1939, was dean of its faculty of theology from 1944 to 1956 and became rector in 1958. He is the author of several books, including one on Zwingli and another covering a briew history of Protestantism.

Stevens Chosen New Sigma Nu Head

Bob Stevens of Orangeburg was recently elected to head the Zeta Theta Chapter of Sigma Nu. Stevens took the leadership reins from Sonny Dubose, and will serve as Commander for the 1961-62 session.

Lieutenant Commander for the coming year will be Joe Davis of Lawrenceville Ga. Davis will succeed Bob Stevens to this position.

Jerry Chitty of Olar replaces Flash Gordon as Recorder, and Dick McGaughey of Marietta, Ga., moves in to the treasurers post succeeding Joe Davis.

John Elroad was selected to be the new Chaplin, and Alex Bosserman assumes reporting duties.

Directing the pledge activities as new pledge marshall is Pete Yearout.

Students Nominate Officers on Monday

Student Body nominations for representatives to the Student Council will be held Monday, May 1, Student Body President Maurice Schwartz announced today. The nominations by ballot are scheduled from nine until two o'clock in Douglas House.

Each student who wishes to nominate will receive a ballot with spaces provided for the nomination of three rising seniors, three rising juniors, and two rising sophomores.

On Friday the six seniors, six juniors, and four sophomore nominees who receive the largest number of votes on Monday will be voted on. Three senior and three junior representatives will be chosen, with two representatives coming from the sophomore nominations.

The following Monday, May 8, the three elected senior council members will be in the race for Student Body president. The man receiving the largest number of votes will become president, and the runner-up will become vice-president.

Secretary-treasurer will be the elected junior representative with the largest number of votes in Friday's election.

Elliott New Archon Of Pi Kappa Phi

Last Tuesday night Pi Kappa Phi fraternity held elections for officers for the coming year.

Installed as Archon, replacing Bill McElderry, was Tom Elliott of St. Petersburg, Fla. Gary Brown, also from St. Petersburg, was reelected as Treasurer.

Steve Craig replaced another Atlanta boy, Robert Sherrell, as Secretary. Johnny Dickerson of Blair, replaced Fred Brown of Atlanta, as Historian, and Dick Faulkner from Henderson, N. C., was replaced by Jim Ballard of Pelzer, as Warden.

Ken Davis from Hamlet, N. C., was reelected as Chapalin. Rush Chairmen for next year are Robert Sherrell and Fred Brown.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

For What It's Worth

Spring is here and the campus is green once again . . . the grass has been cut . . . the shrubbery has been trimmed . . . the horshoe courts have been fixed . . . has anyone seen the horseshoes? Also has anyone seen the aisle mats?

We notice the wall on the lower side of the football field has been painted a lovely shade of green . . . someone must have had some paint left over . . . but it serves a good purpose . . . not only does it cover up those nasty remarks painted by other colleges . . . it also provides space for originality.

With sudden rains coming up like they do here in Clinton, we advise everyone to look out for the mud holes . . . and don't step in any of those deep water holes either . . . really, some of them are ridiculous.

The lighting system in the classrooms is not poor, but merely atrocious . . . anyone have a light? . . . It has been suggested that the blackboards are in bad need of a paint job . . . the preferable color is green . . . it matches springtime . . . Please don't eat the daisies.

The door of the Sock office had a crack around it . . . the crack was patched, but for some unknown reason it has not been painted over . . . instead of having a mere crack outlining the door, we now have a beautiful white line.

One more thing needs saying . . . "To err is human, to forgive divine."—Selah.

Well Done

Tomorrow the Presbyterian College tennis courts will be the site of a special tennis tournament. It will feature many returning racqueteers who played under Coach Leighton during their college careers at PC, and will be played as a tribute to 'Coach' and the fine work he has done.

We commend these returning netmen and their organizer, Guice Potter, for the job they will be doing in honoring their coach and ours on the courts where they served. We are sure the tournament will be witnessed by many and enjoyed by all.

After twelve years, Coach Leighton will leave PC and will be sorely missed. Presbyterian College will lose not only a fine student with an excellent record, but also a great coach, a fine gentleman, and an excellent builder of character and sportsmanship. To 'Coach' we say—well done.

A Satire

The Rise and Fall of Saint Walter

It was a quiet parish that he was born into. The people were warm, kind, and friendly. Walter, reared and nourished in the church, decided upon reaching manhood, to become a priest. After many hard, tedious years of study, he was duly ordained and sent to the parish of his birth.

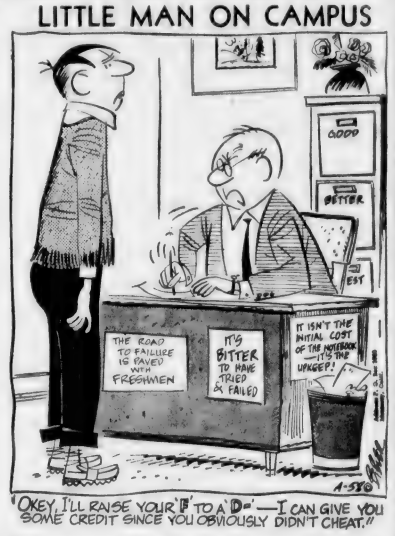
On his return, he began at once to throw his whole self into all the activities required of a good priest. Soon people began to talk of him; of his love, devotion, kindliness, and friendliness.

Serving faithfully for many years, he was called to be bishop of the whole parish. Walter, with the same vigor that he displayed as a priest, became known as one of the most devoted of all bishops, and he was even named to the Bishops Hall of Fame.

The foremost ambition of the kind old man was to devlop a well rounded program, that would appeal to all his parishioners. One innovation for which Walter was responsible was the Region Liturgical Meet, to be held each spring. Walter grew old, but the people still loved him. Walter died.

A legend was born with Walter's death. The kind bishop still lived in the hearts of the parish people. Soon they began to call him Saint Walter, for he had been resurrected in their hearts.

The parish found a new bishop, a Bishop Franklin, who came from the region of Georganis, bringing some of his own priests with him. He came with all pretense of being like Saint Walter. He was young, intelligent, and vigorous.



In many ways Bishop Franklin differed from the old saint; instead of wanting to wipe out poverty, of distributing funds to the smaller churches, of keeping a well rounded program, and of giving for the educating of new priest, he wanted to build a new Cathedral, a magnificent new cathedral with stained-glass windows and ornate statues.

The people, at first largely unaware of what was happening, were besieged to give money to the Saint Walter Fund. Help wipe out poverty. Help the small churches. Help educate new priests. Help the parish keep a well-rounded program. Give to the Saint Walter Fund."

At first the people gave. They gave and they gave. Then they discovered that the money did not go to wipe out poverty, or educate priests, or aid small churches, or continue the well-rounded program. The money went to build the magnific new Cathedral! Bishop Fra lin not only hindered the w rounded program, but he e stopped the Region Liturg al Meet,

The people in the parish w knew Saint Walter had alre died, soon began to scoff a laugh at him. The man w once was venerated, toppled fr his pedestal. Saint Walter h died.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Letter to Comrade Nikita Captured by Sock Staffer

It is the esteemed honor of this reporter now to present an epic news scoop which concerns conscientious citizens everywhere. The following epistle was brilliantly found (so the discoverer says with great humbleness) before it could leave this country.

Because of a promise, my sincere regards at this time go to a source which, as now, has oftentimes served me—Assassinations Incorporated, editing and compiling department of the linguistic division as headed by Dr. Percival Manytongues (Bachelor of Women, Master of Languages), in the Illegal Building, Office 4397, floor 213; and as checked and verified by his mighty pretender to the United States throne, P. U. Permanghide.

Dear Comrade Nikita.

During my most recent roamings for Communist betterment in the soon to be Ununited States, I discovered a true haven for our glorious cause. This place is called Presbyterian College and lies strategically at the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains.

Even a brief description, I am confidently sure, would do nothing less than completely thrill your wonderful heart. The institution could well be described as a commune with living conditions almost comparable to those of our native land.

From the talk of most students it is apparent to me that they are planning an uprising against the present regime, much dissatisfaction being evidently aroused by unfair taskmasters who force insufferable burdens. The slaves might be able to engage the aid of a current army for which every Thursday parade its strength through the camp in an apparent effort to frighten any resistance which might be simmering.

Besides the above instance there still remains a few other remnants of these despicable capitalistic warmongering dogs who still rule the regurgitation al country. I refer to such a thing as beer, which unfortunately outsells even vodka.

Another example came to my attention last Sunday when I saw a grieving bread line extending for a considerable distance. These hungry people had so much admirable pride that they wore what were probably their best suits, most of which were pitifully tight-fitting when compared to your great tailor's lean ing style.

We fortunately have some listeners to that blessed truth as is beamed from our superior Moscow transmitters, one Imperialistic leader of the school having even once practiced our own Tactics because of this. There are also posted about the various strategic places pictures of big brothers which stare hard upon their followers.

With all cheering words, I a Yours in victory. Comrade Marilynsk Monroeski

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited by Bill Matthews

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The remodeling of the fraternity suite is now near completion. The new TV lounge and the new game room, which will house the fraternity's two pool tables, has been the work of the pledges as their project.

Plans were made to take the new pledges into the Brotherhood in the near future.

The Brothers have as their project a new paint job for the fraternity suite.

KAPPA ALPHA

The Brothers of Beta Pi were entertained by the pledges at Peck's Ranch Friday with a pledge party.

Congratulations to new Brothers Frank King, Creighton Likes, and Leon Bullard on their initiation.

Plans have been made for the coming Greek weekend.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Congratulations are extended to the following new brothers who were initiated Monday night: Mike Jarett, Bill Pittard, Tom Johnston, Bill Tyson, Mark Sullivan, Robert Miller, Bill Brown, Gary Garrett, Bob Litteer, Joel Wilson, and Drayton Fowler.

It was announced this week that Pi Kappa Alpha will offer a scholarship to a sophomore next year. Brothers of the Week are Harry McDonnold and David Harrill.

PI KAPPA PHI

Beta Chapter installed new officers at the meeting Tuesday night with Tom Elliott being elected as Archon for the coming year.

(Continued on page four)

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR — GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER — LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR — MURRAY WHITE
News Editor — Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor — Jerry Chitty

BEHIND THE BLUES

Tennis Defeat, A Small Loss

JERRY CHITTY, Sports Editor

Last weekend saw Presbyterian take a loss in the State Tennis Tournament for the first time in 21 consecutive years. This string of victories was snapped by The Citadel after tremendous effort and determination on the part of the PC netmen. This loss, however, was only a small one, considering this was Coach Leighton's last look at the Presbyterian tennis team as its coach.

Hats off to this year's team and to the honor they bestowed upon our minute campus. Furthermore, we would also like to say thanks and good luck to the man who made this honor possible, Coach James Leighton.

A tennis tournament will be held tomorrow afternoon in honor of Coach Leighton. Returning for this tournament will be many of the all-time great Presbyterian netmen. Let's all go out to the courts and witness this fine tournament, not only for the entertainment, but also to pay tribute to a fine coach who has done so much for PC.

* * * * * * * *

Coach Clyde Ehrhardt's baseball team seems to have trouble being consistent. The Hose, after two straight losses, won their third game of the year, defeating Newberry.

The diamondmen are full of surprises. They lose one by a large margin and then show fine form by winning one.

* * * * * * * *

The annual intramural track meet was held this week. Pi Kappa Phi was seen taking first, being led by James Salvo. The interest this year was real encouraging, let's hope it continues.

Gibson Leads Baseballers In Third Season Victory

By Loren Eagles

The Blue Hose rallied for two runs in the bottom of the eighth inning to trip the Indians from Newberry 7-5 in a non-conference game Wednesday.

After dropping an earlier game to Newberry 7-0, the Blue Socks came back behind the six-hit pitching of John "Hoot" Gibson to take their third victory of the season.

The Hose dropped behind in the second inning as the Indians scored an unearned run. They came back in the bottom of the team scored three big runs. Each team scored in the fifth and sixth innings and Newberry tied the score at five-all in the top of the eighth. This set the stage for the Hose two-run outburst in the bottom of the eighth which sent Newberry starter, Burton, to the showers.

The Hose were led at the plate by Jimmy Rakestraw with two singles and Bill Tyson with a triple and single. Jimmy Lowder led Newberry with a home run and a single.

The improved Hose defensive play around the infield was an important factor in the victory.

In their earlier loss to the Indians last Saturday, the Hose equaled Newberry's hit production, but could not push across any runs. Sloppy fielding in the form of eight errors allowed Newberry to score most of their sveen runs.

In Monday's wild slugfest the Blue Hose were once again victims of poor fielding and wild pitheing. Harvey Blanchard led PC with two hits in the 15-7 loss to Mercer University.

The Blue Hose travel to Wofford Saturday in a conference tilt. They have four games on tap for next week; Pembroke will be here Monday and Tuesday, then the Hose go on the road to Erskine and Newberry, Thursday and Saturday for conference games.

YOUNG'S GULF STATION
Road Service - Accessories
Tires - Tubes
N. Broad St. Phone 1515

GALLMAN'S BARBER SHOP
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

Top Hose Net Graduates Return; Will Honor 'Coach' With Tourney

• Fourteen Racqueteers Pay Tribute

Fourteen of PC's past tennis stars are returning to the campus this weekend to pay tribute to Coach James Leighton, who is finishing his last season at PC. And "Old Timer's Tournament," under the leadership of Guice Potter, will be played Saturday afternoon and a banquet honoring Coach Leighton will follow at 8 o'clock.

Included among the returning players are Bill Bradley, Bill Toole, Fred Jacobs, Bill Harper, Frank Spears, Wreighton Lyndon, and Allen Morris.

Also Guice Potter, Harvey Jackson, Jim Shakespeare, Jim Peck, Warren Berry, Jerry Hunt, and Bobby Daniels.

Bradley was captain of Presbyterian's first great team. Toole, who after graduation taught at PC and is now studying for his Doctorate at Vanderbilt, was the first player that Coach Leighton brought here.

Jacobs, Harper, Spears, and Lyndon were members of Coach Leighton's first team at PC. In his senior year, Morris was ranked the number one collegiate player in the nation. Since graduation, he has journeyed to Wimbledon where he reached the quarter finals. Morris has also served as a member of the United States Davis Cup Team.

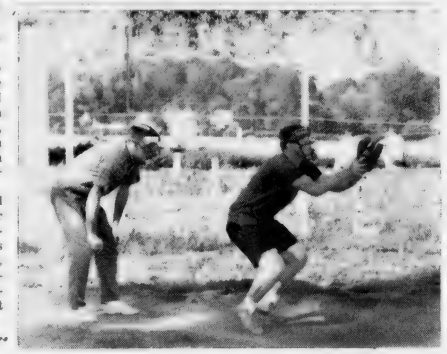
Potter, Jackson, Shakespeare, and Peck were members of the last tennis team to defeat the University of Miami. Since the lost to Presbyterian, Miami has won its last 156 consecutive matches. In 1958 and 1959, PC came close to defeating Miami again, losing both years to the Hurricanes by a 5-4 score.

Coach Leighton is quite pleased to welcome his ex-players back to the campus. "I am particularly thrilled that these boys are coming back to throw a farewell party. It means a lot to me. Some of them I haven't seen for many years, and I will be glad to see them again."

Thanks . . . . 'Coach'

"I would like to congratulate the team for its fine effort toward retaining the State Championship title. Under very difficult circumstances every member of the team did his best.

"When a bystander said to me at the conclusion of the championships last week, 'I suppose that Clemson will win next year,' my answer was, 'Presbyterian College will win again in '62.' I want to go on record here with this prediction.



"I want to express special thanks to the studenf body for its interest in the tennis program. Over the years this has meant a great deal to all of us, and I know much of our success has been due to the constant and enthusiastic support of the student body."

Cindermen Defeated In Catawba Meet

PC's cindermen went up against a tough Catawba team Wednesday and came out second best. The final event left PC with 59 points to Catawba's 78. The Hose were without the services of Bill Rolin who has a pulled muscle, but they were still outnumbered by the strength of the Irdians' distance men who made a complete sweep of the distance events, taking all places in the ½ mile, 1 mile and 2 mile runs.

Some of the bright spots of the meet for the Hose were Bill Hill's usual first in the high jump, Burton's 1st place in the high and low hurdles, Alderman's first in the 100 and the 220, and Mike Lorrance, who threw the javelin 160 feet to take a second. It was the first meet in which Mike has thrown and he will give much needed help to that department.

PC now stands 3-3 in dual meets, with one left with Emory on May 2. They go to Davidson this weekend for the Davidson Relays and then to the NAIA Meet. They will by-pass the state meet this year for the first time.

Referee Shuman Parker says, "I'll say one thing, Gregg, I think you're ready for the next pitch.."—(Photo by Autry)

Blue Hose Divotmen Down Wofford Foe

After being defeated by the Wofford Terriers in the State Golf Tournament last weekend, the Hose linkmen overcame the Little Four champions on the champs home course.

Max Clyburn, Hexie McDonnold and Frank Sells shared Medalist honors with 70's as all the PC team remained in the 70 group on the beautiful Spartanburg course.

Hexie McDonnold and Ken Acker led the team with 3-0 victories and Bill Brown teamed with Acker to defeat the Wofford two and six men 3-0.

Thursday's game with the University of South Carolina was cancelled. This morning the Link squad traveled to Charleston where The Citadel will be their host this afternoon. Tomorrow they move across town for a match with the College of Charleston.

The team hopes to do well against these very strong teams and extend its win record with stands at 7 wins against 3 loses.

Next week the Hose take on Piedmont, Furman, and Belmont Abbey.

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

WPCC
Your Music and News Station
Clinton, S. C.

Intramural Council Adopts New Point System for Sports

The Intramural Council adopted a new point system for intramural sports. The new system was presented to the SCA Cabinet at the weekly meeting and was approved. The system will go into effect next year and is as follows:

1. a—Athletic activities engaged in shall be divided into major sports and minor sports as follows:

Major Sports: Flag Football, Basketball, Softball.

Minor Sports: Volley Ball, Swimming, Tennis, Track, and Field.

b.—The intramural council may sponsor other sports which will help provide a well-rounded program and increase total student participation.

2. a.—Fifty points shall be awarded to each team entering competition in major sports and twenty-five points for those entered in minor sports.

b.—Additional points may be earned in each particular sport as follows:

	Major	Minor
Winner	5	3
Second Place	1	1
Third Place	1	1

c.—Any team entered as a second team by an organization shall be treated as an independent team. Points cannot be added to the total points of that organization.

d.—Those entering activities other than team sports (ping pong, horseshoes, etc.) shall have winner, second place, and third place points awarded to their organization on a minor sport basis. There shall be no entry points. Individuals may compete who belong to no organization.

3. Any organization entering major and minor sports and forfeiting more than 25% of its games shall lose its entry points (50 for major, 25 for minor).

4. At the end of a year's competition the organization with the highest number of points will be awarded the trophy which designates the champion of intramural sports for that particular year. This trophy shall rotate until an organization wins three consecutive years. It will then be retired.

5. The trophy mentioned in the terms of article (4) is to be awarded at the last chapel program of the school term.

Lt. Col. W. W. Barnett looks over his orders. After four years at PC, his next assignment takes him to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.—(Photo by Autry)

Four Years

Barnett's Tour of Duty Features ROTC Revisions

Lieutenant Colonel W. W. Barnett, Professor of Military Science, who will complete his tour of duty at PC at the close of this school year, has been PMS of the ROTC unit for the past four years.

During his tour of duty here, the drill and class schedule has been revised and hour long drill periods five mornings per week have been replaced with one two hour drill each Thursday afternoon, and an aditional class period per week. Last spring a Pershing Rifle unit was chartered at PC.

Despite the small size of its ROTC unit, PC has ranked consistently high among other four year college ROTC units. Last summer PC finished fifth out of thirty-three colleges at Fort Benning's Infantry School summer camp. Only The Citadel finished ahead of PC among South Carolina Colleges.

Colonel Barnett has been active on the faculty, serving on the faculty athletic and student committees and in Clinto's religious and civic life, having served as president of the Clinton Presbyterian Men of the Church and as a member of the Kiwanis Club.

He holds a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from the University of Missouri and a Master's Degree in Journalism from the same institution. Barnett had the highest average in the Business College and was a member of the Delta Sigma Pi Scholastic fraternity. He held the rank of Cadet Colonel in ROTC and was Regimental Commander.

Colonel Barnett received his commission as a second lieutenant in the Army in 1942 and served in the Second Armored Division in North Africa, Sicily, and Europe, during World War II. He did not take part in the Korean conflict, but arrived in Korea shortly after the truce was declared.

Next fall he will attend the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and after completing the course will continue on active duty for several more years until his retirement.

Chapel Services

Monday — Panel Discussion featuring Dr. Jaques Courvoisier, Theologian.

Wednesday—Chapel Worship Services; Rev. James T. Womack, Jr., Shandon Presbyterian Church, Columbia.

Friday—Chapel Devotional.

Pershing Rifles Enter Competition

The Presbyterian College Pershing Rifle company is making final plans to attend the regional drill meet May 5 and 6. It will be held at Fort McPherson in Atlanta.

There will be competition in such classes as: best individual basic cadet, best individual advanced cadet, best drilled squad and platoon, and tests pertaining to Military and Pershing Rifle material.

The new staff of the company, which was installed at the regular meeting on April 27, will attend important and informative meetings while there.

Plans have been made by the staff to take in boys in this year's freshman class who are interested in Pershing Rifles shortly after school starts next fall.

They have also made tentative plans for a smoker for freshmen of next year, at which time the aims and ideals of Pershing Rifles at Presbyterian College will be presented. By this smoker it is hoped interest will be promoted in the Pershing Rifles among many of the outstanding freshmen military students.

Letters

Infirmary Needs Schedule Change

(All letters to the editor must be signed, names will be withheld upon request.)

Dear Editor,

On several occasions I have made visits to the infirmary seeking medical treatment and have been turned away. Other students have told me of their similar experiences, but preferred to let somebody else do something about it.

I realize that any individual needs to have some kind of reasonable schedule, but when an individual takes the responsibility of caring for the sick, he—or she as the case may be—should be dedicated to his (or her) work and enjoy it. He (or she) should be glad to have the opportunity to serve if he (or she) enters that field.

Let's all try to report to the infirmary at the designated time. Meanwhile, those who care for the sick and injured shouldn't give the student the feeling that he is imposing, to request necessary medcial care at any time, day or night. A student cannot always conveniently receive an injury or become sick during the short time designated for treatment.

—Name withheld by request

BROADWAY Theatre
MON. - TUES. - WED.
THUR. - FRI. - SAT.
May 1-2-3-1-5-6
The Alamo
Starring John Wayne, Richard Widmark, Laurence Harvey, Frankie Avalon, Linda Cristal

FOR THE FINEST IN FOOD
VISIT THE
Beacon Drive-In
We Specialize in Tasty Sandwiches
and
Short Orders
WHITMIRE HWY.

The Greeks . . . . . Have A Word

(Continued from page two)

We would like to Wish Dick Faulkner a quick recovery from the injuries he incurred in a car wreck this past weekend.

Congratulations to our track team for winning the intramural track meet.

SIGMA NU

Officers were elected at the regular meeting Tuesday night. Congratulations to these men and also to the outgoing group who did such a fine job.

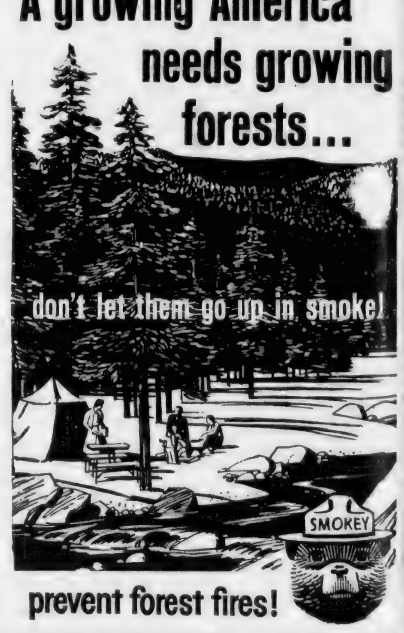
Congratulations are also extended to Robert Elrod, Frank Cooper, and Lindsay Odom on going into the Brotherhood Tuesday night.

The fraternity is looking with great anticipation to the White Star weekend which begins tonight.

THETA CHI

This week Beta Psi Chap completed plans for Greek-we end. A party is scheduled in fraternity room on Friday ni

Saturday afternoon a ho party is planned for Lake Gre wood. That night a combo be present for an informa dance.



A stag supper honoring senior members of the frate ty as well as the new pled is being planned for the n week in May.

Notice

Mr. Beatty announces th he has several umbrella which have been left arou the campus, in his office. A one who has lost an umbre is asked to see him.

Thirsty?
Try the New
SUN DROP COLA
A True Taste Delight
BOTTLED BY
CANADA DRY BOTTLING CO.
OF CLINTON

A growing America needs growing forests...

prevent forest fires!

The Men's Shop LAURENS, S. C.
J. C. Thomas Jewelers
Young's Pharmacy
Adair's Men's Shop
Joe's Esso
Yarborough Camera Shop

Money Is Powerful!
Money is the only thing that will provide the necessities of life for your family. The Prudential Dollar Guide will show you how easily you can continue to provide for your family . . . if you're not here.
See
Lawrence E. Young
INSURANCE BROKER

The Prudential Insurance Company of America
a mutual life insurance company
CLINTON REALTY & INS. CO.
104 W. Pitts St.
Clinton, S. C. Telephone 833-2061

Council Prexy Will Be Chosen Monday

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress
Vol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., May 5, 1961 No. 16

Blue Key Fraternity Names New Members In Annual Spring Tapping Ceremony Today

Nine Men Chosen By Honorary Group

Blue Key Honorary Fraternity selected nine new members at its annual spring tapping held in chapel this morning. The new members, chosen on the basis of their leadership, service and character, include: Sonny DuBose, Graham Edmunds, John Elrod, Bobby Joiner, Sanders Read, Frank Sells, Bob Stevens, Jimmy Thompson, and Leland Vaughan.

Sonny DuBose, Sigma Nu from Sumter, has served his fraternity as president. A recently tapped member of Scabbard and Blade National Military Fraternity, DuBose is presently handling the job of Sergeant Major in the ROTC Battle Group. In the voting held today, he was chosen to serve as a senior representative on the Student Council for next year.

Editor of The Blue Stocking, Graham Edmunds from Decatur, Ga., is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi. A three-year member of the Robed Choir, he serves as a reader and has been elected president of the group for next year.

A Sigma Nu from Griffin, Ga., John Elrod serves his fraternity as Chaplain. He was recently selected in a campus election to serve as president of the Student Christian Association for next year, and he has previously served on the SCA Council, being in charge of the chapel programs.

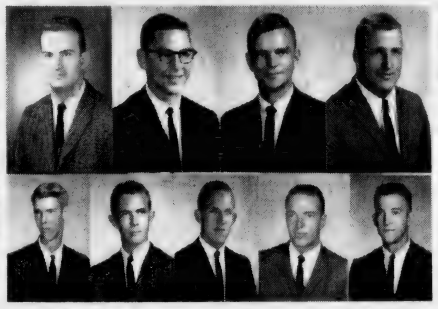
Elected No. II of his fraternity, Kappa Alpha, Bobby Joiner is from Macon, Ga. He has served the Student Council this year as its secretary.

representative of the student body next year.

A native of McClellanville, Sanders Read is an active member of the Ministerial Club. He has been chosen as secretary of his fraternity, Theta Chi. A dormitory proctor, Read is also a member of the Sophomore Academic Society.

Frank Sells from Johnson City, Tenn., will serve as Editor-in-Chief of the 1962 PaC-Sac. A three-year member of the Robed Choir, Sells has held positions as a reader and as Chaplain. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Bob Stevens is the newly elected commander of Sigma Nu Fraternity. From Orange-



(Continued on page four)

Wyatt Chapel

It has been called to our attention that the Wyatt Chapel is not being used to its fullest extent. A large amount of money has been spent in order that the students might have a quiet place, conducive to worship.

Much effort has been made to keep the chapel open for student use, and any individual or group wishing to use the chapel in a proper manner is encouraged by the SCA to do so. The chapel will be open until 10:00 p. m. daily.

—JOHN ELROD, SCA President

New members tapped today in Blue Key Fraternity include: Top row (l to r) Sonny DuBose, Graham Edmunds, John Elrod, Bobby Joiner. Bottom row: Sanders Read, Frank Sells, Bob Stevens, Jimmy Thompson, and Leland Vaughan.

Hoyt Miller Is Speaker For June Alumni Banquet

When Presbyterian College stages its second springtime Alumni Reunion on June 3, the program will feature an address on the Congo situation by a missionary alumnus who spent 41 years in Africa.

Special guests of the Alumni Association at the banquet will be the members of the 1961 graduating class. At that time they will be officially welcomed as fellow alumni.

Plans for the Alumni Reunion, announced today throw the spotlight on Dr. A. Hoyt Miller—a PC graduate of 1915 who retired last January after spending most of his adult life as a teacher, evangelist and preacher to the African people.

He will speak at the Alumni Banquet after receiving Presbyterian College's 1961 Alumni Gold P award in recognition of "outstanding accomplishments which reflect honor" upon the institution.

The occasion also will serve to honor members of the 1961 graduation class, officially welcomed into the PC Alumni Association at this time, and to bring together the alumni of 16 reunion classes.

Those classes slated to return on June 3 for special reunions are: 1901, 1911, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1951, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958 and 1959.

The Alumni Reunion is scheduled for Saturday afternoon and evening, June 3, starting with 2:00 p. m. registration and extending through the 6:30 p. m. Alumni Banquet. It is tied in closely with graduation exercises, to be held the next day, in the event persons attending wish to remain on campus for baccalaureate services and the commencement address by John Temple Graves on Sunday afternoon.

The Saturday program also calls for a thought-provoking Alumni Institute designed to focus attention on a subject of current interest, a PC PREP for alumni children over eight years of age and the annual meeting of the Presbyterian College Alumni Association.

Chapel Services

Monday — William J. McCord, Director of Alcoholic Education of South Carolina Alcoholic Rehabilitation Board.

Wednesday—Chapel Worship Services; Rev. Robert S. Woodson, Associate Pastor, Trinity Presbyterian Church, Charlotte.

Friday—Gary Millwood.

BSU Will Install Officers on Sunday

The Baptist Student Union will hold the installation of its new officers at the First Baptist Church. The PC students are invited to attend the ceremonies which will be held Sunday night at eight o'clock.

The speaker for the evening will be Rev. Byron P. Edwards. Rev. Edwards was the second president of the BSU at Presbyterian College. He graduated with a BD degree from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville. The PC alumnus is now the pastor of the Sardis Baptist Church of Rayle, Ga.

Elected as President of the organization is David Cromer of Cross Hill. Assisting him as Enlistment Vice-President will be Troy Nobles of Spartanburg. Stacy Burton from Atlanta, will be the new Social Vice-President, and Bruce Barnes of Concord, N. C., is the Devotional Vice-President.

Linda Traynham of Laurens, was elected to the Secretary-Treasurer post. The Sunday School-Training Union Representative is Copeland Whitmire, who is from Joanna. The new Day Student Representative will be Jimmy Hughes of Clinton.

Exam Schedule

Friday, May 26
9:00-12:00	MWF 12:00
2:00- 5:00	TTS 8:00
Saturday, May 27
9:00-12:00	MWF 11:00
2:00- 5:00	For. Lang.
Monday, May 29
9:00-12:00	TTS 10:00
2:00- 5:00	TTS 11:00
Tuesday, May 30
9:00-12:00	TTS 9:00
2:00- 5:00	MWF 9:00
Wednesday, May 31
9:00-12:00	MWF 8:00
2:00- 5:00	TTS 12:00

Six Students Get Founder's Awards

Six high school seniors from South Carolina and Georgia will receive 1961 Founder's Scholarships to Presbyterian College, Dean of Students A. J. Thackston announced today.

From a wide range of applicants, fifteen were selected to come to the PC campus to compete for the scholarships. Ten of those competing were eligible for the awards; however, only six accepted. They are as follows:

Arthur P. Baxter, of Atlanta:; Lewis H. Hay, III, of Wadmalaw Island; Miss M. Ann Kirkland, of Moncks Corner; Wesley W. Lawton, of Estill; Robert F. Phifer of Spartanburg; and Walter N. Wells, of McConnells.

Selection was made on the basis of character, intellect, and leadership after a series of tests and interviews. The scholarships range from $800 to $2000 for the four-year college period as long as a C average or better is maintained.

The 1961 competition marks the seventh year of the Founder's Scholarship program, which started in 1955.

Today's Election Fills Council Posts

Max Clyburn, Sonny DuBose, and Mike Jarrett were elected today in the Student Council elections to serve as Senior Representative for the coming year. These three juniors will vie in another election Monday to determine which one will be President, Vice-President, or Senior Representative of the 1961-62 Student Council.

Max Clyburn, from Kershaw, is a member of Theta Chi Fraternity, Sonny DuBose of Sumter, is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, and Mike Jarrett of Tocoa, Ga., is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Selected as Junior Representatives for next year were Loren Eagles of Florence, Joe Harvard of Columbia, and Gary Brown of St. Petersburg, Fla. Eagles was elected Secretary-Treasurer of the new council.

Jan Rhodes from Decatur, Ga., and Bill Tyson from Bainbridge, Ga., were elected Sophomore Representatives. Rhodes belongs to Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity, and Tyson is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Only two members from any one fraternity may serve on the Council, so that in a case where more than two received enough votes for election, the two with the highest number of votes were selected.

Scabbard and Blade Elects Top Officers

Leland Vaughan of Greenville, has been elected captain of Co. K Tenth Regiment of Scabbard and Blade, National Military Fraternity. He replaces Tommy Middleton of Jefferson.

Named as First Lieutenant was Heyward Nettles of Clinton, who moves up to the position occupied by Paul Ard of Atlanta. Next year's Second Lieutenant will be Bob Stevens of Orangeburg, who takes over the reins from Harrison Clayton of Marietta, Ga. Bob Beddingfield was elected to serve the group as First Sergeant. Hailing from Columbia, he replaces Tom Collins of Pageland.

Initiation for the new members was held Monday afternoon. They include: Sonny DuBose, Joe Davis, Bob Stevens, Leland Vaughan, Bob Beddingfield, Heyward Nettles, and Skip Saverance. Advisor for the group is Captain Hodges.

The old and new members enjoyed a steak supper Monday night at the Midway dining room.

With May temperatures soaring to an all-month high, sunbathers deck the PC campus in an effort to get their Vitamin D. —(Photo by Autry)

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Barbarity?

(Editor's Note: The following editorial is reprinted from the May 20, 1960, issue of The Blue Stocking.)

And across the plaza raced smiling faces.

The reason for this rush was the obvious glee resulting from the pain of first-year lettermen being forced to receive rather sadistic treatment from their fellow athletes, who have suddenly found that their hunger for revenge has endowed them with bohemian tendencies. This unmerited punishment is required of all men before they may be allowed to wear letters already earned by hard work in a varsity sport.

We ask the question. What lasting good is derived from this treatment of mature men? It is certainly humiliating to those forced to receive such physical violence. It is not an action which should take place in a school of supposedly high standing, and it certainly isn't fun for some of the participants.

Granted, tradition should be respected—sometimes. But when this tradition becomes disgusting and even vulgar, then it should be disposed of.

Perhaps this editorial is a little belated, but we urge that the new officers of the Block P Club find new and more useful methods of initiating its members.

. . . And We Add . . .

Have the new officers of the Block P Club found new and more useful methods of initiating its members, or will barbarity continue?

Editor's Notebook

AS SPRING ARRIVES, a general spruce-up has been initiated by the maintenance department. The chains, which have been added to the Neville walkways, contribute greatly to the over-all looks of the building.

Students may ask why progress is not being made much faster in the campus improvement department. The answer would come back that maintenance crews stay so busy putting screens back in windows and repairing other destructive creations of students, that they don't have time to work on much needed improvement.

THANKS for the horseshoes.

A Caterpillar . . .
. . . Flopped In The Breeze

By Tom Morrison

(Editor's Note: It has been recently announced that internationally faumous author Tennessee Karaoue Williams is soon coming out with a realistic book about life here at Presbyterian College. Since this news should be of paramount interest to all students, a pre-publication excerpt now follows).

A caterpillar flopped in the breeze. The air was warm and at the same time cold. Yokel boys, not unlike most white trash trash of the deep South, were wasting their evening upon poverty-stricken porches.

Two of these youths stood out from the rest. One was tall and skinny; he wore a ripped tee shirt and no socks. The other was very fat; he wore pants so short that they reached to above the knee. The taller degenerate spoke fir

"Durn nice weather."

"Yeah, shore is," He ejec saliva from his mouth.

"Got an extra weed?"

"Cuss it, no, there're as ma as should be." He blew a nos

"You're lookin, mighty pore health today."

"Glad you noticed it, Lit Granddad," he yawned. "Th lady doc says its some bad ca of fever. I think she calded Springitosis."

"That's the worst kind to way of thinkin,."

"Oh, I don't know. Its bigg charac.tristic is a yearnin', a of, and this kinda helps a bo to start thinkin' 'bout things t give reasons for livin' throu another day here." He chewed

"Don't that kinda hinder st ies, though, Hiram?"

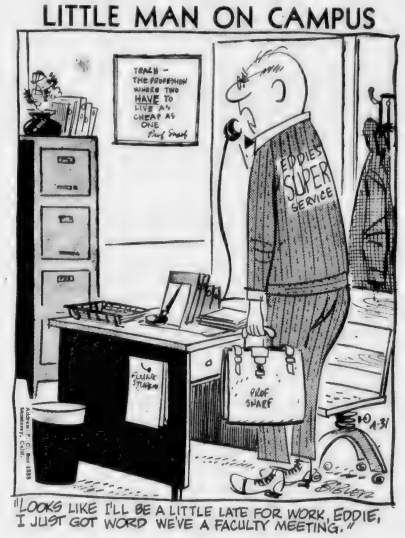
"To heck with the blast studies! If you asks me, th has no rightful place in colle life."

"But what about that child the devil they calls exams? H what about them"? He scratch his ear with a finger.

"Well, you know what you s'posed t,do with evil—resist Y You knows the best way (' n sist it, don'tcha?—pretent ain't thar nohows."

"Good golly you're smart. ram."

"Another thing, too: summer more important than any lear in' ever will be."



"Yeah, I gotta admit that and my one and onlies has got lotta lovin' to catch up on."

"And just as soon as Bet Lou gets outa grammar schoo we're gonna get married up. Thus did sex, with all its glar ing looseness and squalor, ente the sordid picture.

Then they happily knifed ea other up pretty bad, and t world was finally at peace

A caterpillar flopped in t breeze.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited by Bill Matthews

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Greek Weekend plans are now complete. The Friday night plans include the annual Hawaiian Holiday., which will be held in the fraternity suite. Moses and His Five Disciples will play for the dance. The Famous Tams will furnish the music for the Saturday night dance, which will be held at the Legion Hut.

KAPPA ALPHA

Congratulations to Bill Neely, Gene Goodwyn, Buddy Barnwell, and Harold Hope on being initiated into the brotherhood.

Finals plans are being made for Greek Weekend, with Sam Cook and his combo entertaining Saturday night.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Final plans were completed for Greek Weekend.

We wish to credit Frank Sells, pledgemaster, for conducting such a fine well rounded pledge program.

All brothers were named as Brothers of the Week.

PI KAPPA PHI

Last Wednesday night Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi had its pledge party. At the party the new pledges received their paddles in traditional form.

Congratulations to our newest pledge, Harold Holmes.

SIGMA NU

Zeta Theta Chapter of Sigma Nu enjoyed very much the "White Star" of last weekend. Things went well for the first attempt at such a big weekend. Hopes are that this will be an annual affair in which South Carolina may participate and also hopes of having it in some other city. Plans are now being made for the Greek weekend as well as plans on improvement of the house.

THETA CHI

Plans for Greek Weekend have been completed. Beta Psi plans a record party in the farternity suite on the evening of the 12th. A party will be held at Lake Greenwood the next afternoon, followed by a picnic supper. The final party will be a dance at the lake, with music provided by Moses and His Five Disciples.

As a Public Service

Spring Sports Rules Given

(Editors' Note: The following rules are published by The Blue Stocking in the interest of spring sports and as a public service.)

This game is based on the poem:

Peas pordidge hot;
Peas porridge cold;
Peas porridge in the pot;
Nine days old.

Say the poem over several times to get the rhythm. To begin with, have a couple seated, facing each other with hands on knees. In rhythm similar to that of the poem and with both hands simultaneously, pat the knees, clap one time and clap your partner's hands. Do this twice. When done in rhythm with the poem, this will get you as far as the word "cold."

Follow closely before continuing: Clap knees (peas), clap hands (porridge), clap partner's hands (hot), or in rhythm with the poem down, clap, together. Do in like manner the second line of the poem to the word "cold. Clap knees (peas), clap hands (porridge), clap partner's hands (cold).

Practice this for a few minutes and then continue to the second step.

Using the remainder of the poem, start over with clapping the knees, and clapping the hands only this time instead of clapping both of your partner's hands you will cross right hand to right hand, return with a single clap of your own hands and this is followed by a crossing of left hand to left hand with your partner. This is also followed by clapping of your own hands and a clapping of both hands with your partner. In short, the second step is: down, together, rgiht, together, left, togethre, both.

Practice the second step for a few minutes, putting in the rhythm of the remainder of the poem, "Peas porridge in the pot; Nine days old." Now put the two steps together and practice for a few minutes gradually stepping up the tempo.

For added enjoyment, this final complication may be used for an older group.

Have two couples sit in a close circle. Designate one couple as couple "one,' and the other couple as couple "two." The procedure is similar to the former game, and in the same rhythm. This time, however, instead of clapping your partner's hands you will in the first step clap the hand of each of the persons sitting to wour sides (this is done simultaneously).

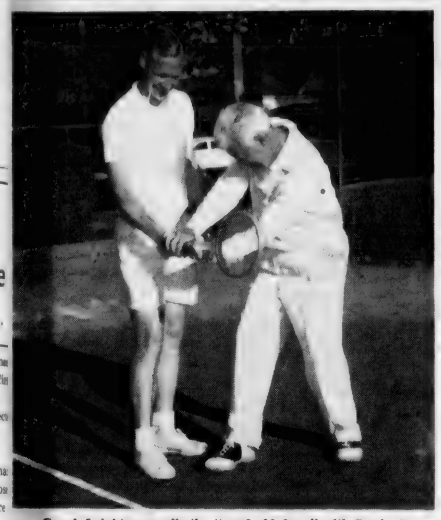
The rhythm in the first step will go as follows: Down, together, side, down, together,

(Continued on page four)

Letters

Report the Facts

Dear Editor:



It seems a reasonable requir that all trials, elections or oth matters which deal with the st dent body, should be publish and not hushed up as some sease.

When I refer to trials, speci cally, I would hope The Bl Stocking might be accurate ough to report the facts impa tially, but above all report facts.

In national elections it common knowledge as to th number of votes each candida recieves. Why are the results Presbyterian College election as to specific number not pub lished. The Student Council purpose is not to act as if it the Central Intelligence Agenc

This letter is not meant to critical in context, but rather urge the student body be ma aware of such matters.

—Charles H. Cook

Coach Leighton recalls the "good old days" with Davis Cupper, Allen Morris. Here he shows Morris the initial step in holding the racquet.

Morris Captures Singles Title In PC Old Timer's Tourney Play

• Spears Places Second

By Bill Gillespie

Al Morris defeated Frank Spears in the finals of the "Old Timers Singles Tournament" and then teamed up with Righton Lyndon to win the doubles tournament. Morris, who has served as Davis Cupper for the United States and has reached the quarter-finals of Wimbledon, was seeded number one in the tournament.

In reaching the finals the unseeded Spears defeated the number three seeded Harvey Jackson, 8-5, and defeated the number two seeded Jim Shakespeare, 8-5.

Seeded fourth in the tournament was Guice Potter who was downed by Morris in the semi-finals. All of the seeds except Morris were members of the last tennis team to defeat the University of Miami.

All of the matches except the finals were decided by an eight-game set. The finals were the usual two out of three sets.

In the doubles Morris and Lyndon teamed up to defeat Shakespeare and Harper in the finals by a score of 8-3. Lyndon and Harper were both members of the first team that Leighton coached at Presbyterian College.

Morris and Lyndon downed Guice Potter and Fred Jacobs by a score of 8-2. In the lower bracket the second seeded team of Shakespeare and Harper defeated Hexie McDonnold held down the number four spot this year.

PC has two very tough matches to close out its season next week. They are: Wofford, played at the Lakeside Country Club, and USC, played in Columbia.

Hexie and Harry McDonnold are the only four-year veterans on the team and will be missed considerably next year. Two freshmen will have a hard time filling those golf shoes.

The team wishes to express its thanks to coach Jones' efforts in getting them the caliber of matches that he has this year. Instead of ten matches the team scheduled seventeen matches this year.

Presbyterian Linksters Improve Record With Age

Presbyterian College Golf team was started several years ago. Gradually the school has taken over the financial aid of the team, which when started, was the entire responsibility of the team members. Over a four-year period the golf team has really come up from nothing. Three years ago the team had a 1-8 season; two years ago, a 4-6 season; last year, a 5-5 season, and this year it presently stands at 8-6.

In this four-year period there has been only one team that PC hasn't defeated, Furman University. Teams such as: University of South Carolina, Citadel, College of Charleston, Wofford, Augusta College, East Tennessee State College, Belmont Abbey, and Mercer have suffered defeats at the hands of PC golf teams.

This year PC has had another good team. It has defeated Wofford, College of Charleston, Mercer, East Tennessee State College, Piedmont, and Belmont Abbey.

Max Clyburn has teamed with Harry McDonnold to fill the number one foursome. Though up against very tough competition, Clyburn and McDonnold have done real well. Frank Sells and Hexie McDonnold teamed together in the number two foursome. Even though the eighteenth hole proved disastrous in one match, Sells and McDonnold have done their share at aiding PC victories. Bill Brown teamed with Ken Acker to complete PC's golf team. Their outstanding achievement came as they won the deciding points to beat ETSC 14-13.

This year Clyburn has been up to his usual fine golf. Every match he has played superbly, giving every number one man a real good match. Harry McDonnold moved from number four to number two and has held this position very creditably. Playing College of Charleston, Harry sank a 40-foot putt on the last hole to win with a comfortable margin. Sells, this year, has hit the ball much better than in the past two years, moving from number six to number three.

BROADWAY Theatre

Mon., Tues., Wed., May 8-9-10
Cry for Happy
Glenn Ford, Donald O'Connor

Thur., Fri., Sat. May 11-12-13
Atlantis
THE LOST CONTINENT
Anthony Hall, Joyce Taylor

Flying Fleet Sinks Hose Diamond Squad

By Loren Eagles

Presbyterian dropped a Little Four decision to the Erskine Flying Fleet yesterday 2-0. Losing pitcher Paul Love pitched a four-hitter and did not give up any earned runs, but the Hose just couldn't push any runs across. Jimmy Rakestraw led PC hitters with a single and double.

Last Tuesday the Blue Hose picked up their fourth victory of the season behind the seven-hit pitching of John "Hoot" Gibson. Gibson picked up his second win of the campaign as the Hose downed the Pembroke Indians 10-8.

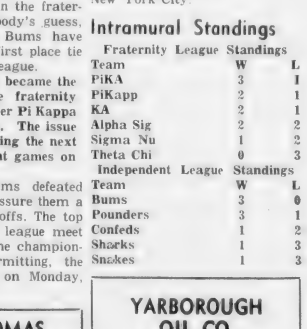
Leading the Hose at the plate in their fifteen-hit attack was hard-hitting freshman Tommy Williams with a home run and two singles. Wayne Godfrey and Jerry Chitty with two triples and three singles, respectively, added to the Indians' pitcher's woes.

The Hose game with Pembroke Monday was rained out.

Bad Luck Hampers Blue Hose Golfers

The PC golf team, plagued by hard luck, won one of the last golf matches. In Charleston last weekend Citadel defeated the Hose 21-6. The Hose then traveled across town to take a 11-7 victory over the College of Charleston.

This week Piedmont slid by the linksters over the rain-soaked Toccoa golf course 15½ to 11½. Furman Wednesday played well as they downed the Hose 20-7. Today the team traveled to Belmont Abbey to take on the Abbey linksters.



Next week the Hose end their season with two tough teams, Wofford and the University of South Carolina.

Intramural Softball Enters Home Stretch

As the intramural softball league actions enter the home stretch, and the playoffs draw near, the outcome in the fraternity league is anybody's guess, while Blackwelder's Bums have clinched at least a first place tie in the independent league.

Alpha Sigma Phi became the dark horse in the fraternity league with wins over Pi Kappa Phi and Sigma Nu. The issue will be decided during the next week with important games on tap.

Blackwelder's Bums defeated the Snakes 16-1 to assure them a position in the playoffs. The top two teams in each league meet in the playoffs for the championship. Weather permitting, the playoffs will begin on Monday, May 15.

Allen Morris shows fine form in finals of oldsters' tournament.

Musselwhite Names Court Lettermen

All ten squad members earned basketball letters at Presbyterian College during the 1960-61 season, Coach Charles Musselwhite recently announced.

He said the group includes three seniors, four juniors, two sophomores, and a freshman. They are :

Seniors—Guard Paul Ard of Atlanta; Forward Bill Hill of McKeesport, Pa.; and Center Ernie Redd of Columbia.

Juniors—Guards Jimmy Howell of Greer, and Jimmy Rakestraw of Atlanta; Forward Billy Ray Ladd of Junction City, Ky.; and Center Jack Williams of Sumter.

Sophomores — Forward Joe Harvard of Columbia; and Guard Jimmy McGuire of Washington, D. C.

Freshman—Andy Karlsons of New York City.

Intramural Standings

Fraternity League Standings

Team	W	L
PiKA	3	1
PiKapp	2	1
KA	2	1
Alpha Sig	2	2
Sigma Nu	1	2
Theta Chi	0	3

Independent League Standings

Team	W	L
Bums	3	0
Pounders	3	1
Confeds	1	2
Shacks	1	3
Snakes	1	3

BEHIND THE BLUES

Varsity Sports Drawing to Close

JERRY CHITTY, Sports Editor

Varsity sports on Presbyterian College campus are nearing a climax for the 1960-61 season. The Golf Team entertains Wofford Monday afternoon at Lakeside Country Club. This is the last match for Dr. Stevenson's linksters, who have done a good job this year on the greens and fairways. Coach Clyde's diamondmen finish their season Friday in a conference game against Newberry. Both of these events are at home, so let's get out and see these boys perform.

* * * * * * *

The Intramural sports on campus got quite a boost this week. The Intramural program for next year will have $350 to work with. This should greatly help our program and keep it at the top among Intramural systems all over the South.

* * * * * * *

John "Hoot" Gibson notched his second victory against Pembroke Tuesday afternoon. John has played baseball only one year, and in this one year he could easily set a three-year record. If "Hoot" wins Saturday against the Newberry Indians, he will tie Bill Dobbins' old record of three wins in a single season.

* * * * * * *

All the freshmen who lettered in varsity sports seemed to have a saddened look upon their faces! I wonder what could be causing this facial expression!

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

YARBOROUGH OIL CO.
415 W. Main St. - Phone 440
"Open All Night

Johnson's Men Shop
...for...
Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

Coach Leighton takes time out from the tournament to pose with the returning all-time great of PC tennis.

Notre Dame of Tennis; Leighton's Twelve Years

By Jim Peck

Last week fourteen former PC tennis stars joined with this year's team in honoring Coach Jim Leighton. In an "old timers" tournament and a banquet, Coach Leighton's twelve-year period of service at the college was remembered.

Coming to PC, Coach Leighton began a recruiting and training program that made the Blue Hose team respected and feared as the "Notre Dame of Tennis." While here, he saw victories over all the schools well known for their tennis excellence—Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, North Carolina, Duke, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Michigan State, Rollins, Florida, Florida State, and the University of Texas.

His greatest thrill, he said at the banquet, was the big win over Miami in 1957, a win that startled the tennis world. Miami's unquestioned superiority in college tennis has been marred only once in 156 matches, and that by Leighton's '56-'57 team.

Jim Leighton's most outstanding individual performer was Davis Cup star and Wimbledon quarter-finalist, Allen Morris. In a testimonial, Morris gave his coach all the credit for developing not only his tennis technique, but also his determination and life outlook. Other nationally ranking players trained by Coach Leighton include John Brownlow and Harry Hoffmann.

In recent years Coach has been a student as well as a teacher. Having completed his undergraduate work begun at Dartmouth, by correspondence and on the PC campus, he will take his degree with the class of 1961, as one of its finest scholars.

Next year Leighton will begin his masters program at the University of Connecticut in sociology, and will then teach in this field on a college level.

At the banquet, Coach Leighton presented his past and present players with handsome drinking steins bearing the PC emblem over crossed tennis racquets. On the back was his tribute to his men—"Thanks for the memories, —Coach." Together with the town of Clinton, the PC faculty, a 12-year host of tennis enthusiasts, his men answered back a-thousand-fold, "Coach, thank you for the memories."

MIDWAY
DRIVE-IN THEATRE
Fri. and Sat., May 5-6
TRIPLE FEATURE
ELVIS PRESLEY
in
"FLAMING STAR"
"JAILHOUSE ROCK"
"LOVE ME TENDER"
Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
"NORTH TO ALASKA"
and
"JOURNEY TO CENTER OF THE EARTH"

GALLMAN'S BARBER SHOP
103 N. Broad St.
THANK YOU FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Money Is Powerful!
Money is the only thing that will provide the necessities of life for your family. The Prudential Dollar Guide will show you how easily you can continue to provide for your family . . . if you're not here.
See
Lawrence E. Young
INSURANCE BROKER
The Prudential Insurance Company of America
a mutual life insurance company
CLINTON REALTY & INS. CO.
104 W. Pitts St.
Clinton, S. C. Telephone 833-2081

Student Body President

Candidates Discuss Their Platforms

(Editor's Note: Since one of the basic prerequisites to vote in any election is to be informed about the aims of the candidates, "The Blue Stocking" is printing the following statements by the three candidates for Student Council President who will be selected Monday.)

Clyburn
Uphold Integrity

First of all, let me say that I appreciate very much the honor of being nominated for Student Body President.

If elected, I will strive to the utmost of my ability to represent the students fairly, without prejudice to any group or faction, and to help any student in any way possible.

I aim to uphold the integrity of the position, always remembering its magnitude and importance in the welfare of student activities. "To tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth" in every instance and to strive for a more efficient student government will be my primary goals.

DuBose
Five Point Plan

I can't promise anything such as a "New Deal" or a "New Frontier," but I do have hopes for some changes. For name's sake we'll call it a five-point plan. It is as follows:

1. Improvement of the present proctor system — I know much has been said about the present system and I feel that improvements can be made upon the old system.

2. Revise the present constitution—The present Student Council embarked upon this, but hasn't as yet completed their new version. I think there are too many portions of the constitution which are not clear and many portions of it will soon be outdated. Working ahead with this year's plan, and plans of the new council, I am certain that a new and better version of our constitution can be drawn up.

3. Rework the honor system —The present honor system is a farce and has been for years. In an institution such as we have, there should be no real difficulty in having an honor system based on personal honor instead of proposed police systems or spy systems.

4. Improve student activities facilities—Two ping pong tables and a television set is a far cry from what we need. I feel that the Council should be able to work hand in hand with the administration and present them the problem and work out a good solution.

5. Inaugurate concert series. I know we already have a community concert series and a Fine Arts program, but I have plans for inaugurating a concert system or series consisting of performances by vocal groups (trios, etc.), bands, orchestras, and individuals. A plan which can very easily be carried out.

I am certain that with these and other improvements student life at Presbyterian will be much more enjoyable and pleasant next year.

Jarrett
Represent Students

Mike Jarrett, in stating aims if elected President of Student Council, said that if were selected he would pledge represent the student body in ery possible way before the ministration, before the fac before church groups, other leges, and high school group

Jarrett said he planned: to better relations between students and the Administra (2) to aid individuals as well student body in any way possi (3) to amend the present const tion and to bring it up to da (4) to organize the Student Co cil where it have a more defi purpose, (5) to improve co trial procedure, (6) to repres the student body in state coll legislation, (7) to keep stude informed of Student Council tions and functions, and (8) move back to the dormitor where I will be more closely ented with fellow students their problems.

Blue Key

(Continued from page one)

burg, he was recently tapped by Scabbard and Blade. Last semester he served in the ROTC Battle Group as Sergeant Major.

Chairman of next year's Dance Committee is Jimmy Thompson of Manning. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity and has served the group as House Chairman. Thompson is also a two-year member of the Student Council.

A Sigma Nu, Leland Vaughan is the present Business Manager of The Blue Stocking. Tapped by Scabbard and Blade, Vaughan was elected as the group's Captain. A native of Greenville, he is also a member of the Business Economics Association.

The annual Blue Key banquet will be held next Thursday night. The guest speaker for the banquet will be the Lt. Governor of South Carolina. Burnet R. Maybank.

Rules Listed

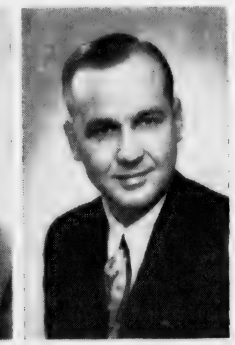
(Continued from page two)

side. This again will take you through "cold." Or, clap knees (peas), clap hands (Porridge), side clap (hot), clap knees (peas), clap hands (porridge), side clap (cold).

Practice this several times to get the rhythm. Rush out and buy buy an insurance policy and continue to the second step.

The second step is like the second step in the previous game except the people in couple one cross their right hand to the left hand of the person sitting to their left and the left hand to the right hand of the person sitting on their right.

Try putting this all together at your own risk. After you have become efficient try stepping up the tempt—GOOD LUCK.



McGEE'S DRUG STORE
DIAL 833-0020

FOR THE FINEST IN FOOD
VISIT THE
Beacon Drive-In
We Specialize in
Tasty Sandwiches
and
Short Orders
WHITMIRE HWY.

ATTENTION, STUDENTS!
Sunshine
CLEANERS AND LAUNDRY
Offers you expert Sanitone Dry Cleaning and Moth-proofing for all your woolen blankets and winter clothing.
LOOK AT THIS!
Sunshine will store your woolens and winter clothing FREE!
Insurance Fee for All Storage is 10c per Month per $100 Valuation Placed on Clothes By Customer.

The Blue Stocking
Distinguished for Its Progress
ol. XXXIX Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., May 12, 1961 No. 17

Speakers for graduation exercises and baccalaureate sermon are: (l.) John Temple Graves, graduation; (r.) and Rev. Hubert Wardlaw, baccalaureate.

Ard Will Receive Award As Outstanding Senior

Paul Ard of Atlanta, will receive Presbyterian College's "Outstanding Senior" award at the June 4 commencement, it was announced today.

He was chosen by a vote of his classmates and by a faculty committee for this honor given annually by the Charlotte chapter of the Alumni Association. The award is presented "to that member of the graduating class who, by his conduct and character, physical fitness, and mental stability, most approximates the institution's ideals for young manhood."

A member of Pi Kappa Alpha, he is president of Blue Key leadership fraternity, and is included in the current issue of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. Ard has served the ROTC Battle Group this year as its Commander, and is vice-president of Scabbard and Blade Military Fraternity.

Secretary of the Block P Club, he was one of last year's basketball co-captains. Ard is the outgoing vice-president of the Business and Economics Association and has been a proctor for two years. He was also president of his sophomore class.

As the "Outstanding Senior," Ard will receive a key award and his name will be carried on a special plaque, along with the names of previous winners.

Bill Sease Cited By American Legion

The annual American Legion award will go to Bill Sease of Clinton, at PC's 81st commencement exercises on June 4.

It is given each year by the Legion's Department of South Carolina to a graduating senior "in recognition of unusually high qualities of honor, courage, scholarship, leadership, and service."

Sease holds the position of president of the Senior class. He is also a company commander in the ROTC Battle Group and is a member of the society of Scabbard and Blade. He is also a member of Blue Key leadership fraternity.

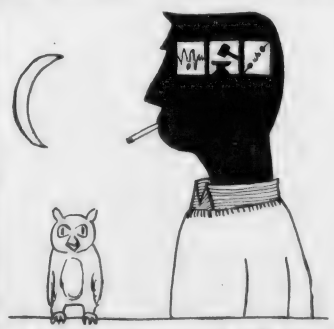
President of the Block P Club Sease is a four-year letterman in baseball and football, and was a member of the Tangerine Bowl football team of last year.

Oeland Is Tapped By Key Fraternity

Vice-President James M. Oeland was tapped Monday, May 8, as this year's faculty honorary member of the Blue Key.

Mr. Oeland becomes the ninth faculty member of the campus leadership fraternity. The others are President Brown, Dr. Newton B. Jones, Dr. John B. Stevenson, Dr. James S. Gray, and Dr. Neil B. Whitelaw, who were tapped as faculty honorary members; and Mr. G. Edward Campbell, Mr. Ben Hay Hammet, Mr. Thomas A. Stallworth, who were tapped while students at PC.

Mr. Oeland came to PC in 1957 after having served as Treasurer and Executive Director of the Darlington (S. C.) Manufacturing Company. His chief duty as Vice-President has been to direct the college development program. He was a member of the Wofford College graduating class of 1919.



Notices

Due to the congested schedule of the last two weeks of school, there will be no SCA picnic this spring. The fraternity sing will however, be held in Belk Auditorium Wednesday night.

Chapel for Friday, May 19, is cancelled for all students except seniors. Seniors will practice for graduation from 10:00-11:00 in Belk Auditorium on that day.

Miss Burts reminds students that boxes for packing are available at the library.

Final Exams: 'Tis the Season

Get out the texts, stock up on midnight oil, No Doz and coffee . . . it's exam time again. Professors turn into fiends, beds go unused and grades have a way of dropping a letter grade. The Blue Stocking staff, in order to partake fully of the season, stops publication for the year with this issue.—(Kurtz Cartoon)

Senior Graduation Candidates Prepare for June 4 Departure

• Wardlaw, Graves to Speak

Approximately 94 seniors will receive diplomas at Presbyterian's 81st commencement exercises on June 4 in Belk Auditorium. Other activities for the weekend include the Alumni banquet Saturday night, June 3, with members of the graduating class as special guests, and the baccalaureate service earlier the same day as commencement. This year will mark the first year that PC has packaged its baccalaureate and commencement exercices into a one-day event.

Dr. Hoyt Miller will speak to the Alumni Association concerning the Congo situation on Saturday night. Sunday morning the Reverend Hubert G. Wardlaw, pastor of Atlanta's Rock Springs Presbyterian Church, will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon, followed that afternoon by John Temple Graves, prominent lecturer, author, and newspaper columnist, who will give the graduation address.

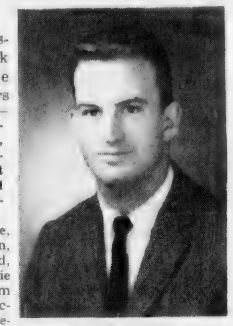
Candidates for the Batchelor of Arts Degree are:

Donald Melvin Abee, Lionel Demmjng Bass, Jr., William Pinckney Betchman, Harvey Franklin Blanchard, David Thomas Borland, Edward Dubose Brailsford, Donald Edward Bridges, Charles Vincent Brown, Jimmy Taylor Campbell, Martin Faust Chitty, Dougald Neil Clark, Jr., Robert Louis Corley, Donald Thomas Dunlap, Jr., Rohe Neil Eshbaugh.

Also Eunice Grover Fallaw, III, Richard Ellis Faulkner, Anson Darnell Faust, Otto Walter Ferrene, Jr., John Donald Fowler, Carlisle Patrick Griffin, Jr., Candler Carithers Harper, Lewis Blake Haynie, Sr., Courtney Friscckhorn Henderlite, Edsel Ray Hiatt, Robert White Hodge, John Ronald Kay, Wayne Donald Kay, Howard Sellers Worrell Kurtz.

Also Marion Barnewell Lee, Jr., James Harper Leighton, Jr., William Marion Littlefield, Harry Gruver McDonnold, Hexie Key McDonnold, John William McIntosh, Daniel Rutherford McQueen, Brenda Gay Maddox Leroy Melvin Madrazo, James Goddard Monroe, Jr., Doris Juanita Stephens Nelson, William Curtis Nichols, Jr., William Eugene Piephoff, Joseph Michael Pracht.

Also Jerry Ross Puckett, Lawton Dantzler Rice, John Kountz Roberts, III, Frances Doris Estes Salyer, Frederick Pearsall Smith, Robert Elton Smith, Jr., Thomas Marshall Spratt, James Wilburn Townsend, Evin Carter Varner, Jr., Benjamin Blakeney Vincent, Grace Infinger Walker, Norma Jean Weisner, Bobby Ansel Wesley, Robert William Wilkes, Jr.



Candidates for the Bachelor of Science degree include:

Charles Evans Alford, Paul Oscar Ard, Jr., Michael Forrest Brown, Fred Davis Clark, Charles Harrison Clayton, Thomas Albert Collins, John Edward Cornwell, III, Walter Patrick Dorn, Jr., Wilbur Simonton Douglas.

Also Ralph Anders Dunham, Frank Al Forbes, John Wesley Gibson, Wayne Edward Godfrey, Guy Edwin Haddix, Herbert Veal Hammett, Jr., William Franklin Hatchett, Albert Toy Hinson, Jr., Robert Nelson Jeanes, William Hobson Jeter, Jr.

Also Mack Colb, III, George Henry Longshore, Douglas Charles McDougald, Jr., Edgar

(Continued on page four)

SONNY DuBOSE

DuBose Is Selected Student Body Prexy

In the election Monday, Sonny DuBose was chosen as student body president, winning a large majority of the votes cast. Serving as Vice-President is Mike Jarrett from Toccoa, Ga.

Max Clyburn, who took third place in the election, will serve as senior representative along with Jarrett and DuBose.

The Junior representatives elected last Friday for the coming year are Loren Eagles of Florence, Joe Harvard of Columbia, and Gary Brown of St. Petersburg, Fla. Eagles was selected Secretary-Treasurer of the new council.

Jan Rhodes from Decatur, Ga., and Bill Tyson from Bainbridge, Ga., were chosen as sophomore representatives in the election last Friday.

Installation of officers this morning occurred in the auditorium during chapel period. Maurice Schwartz gave the oath of office.

Blue Stocking

The Blue Stocking presses stop rolling with today's edition. The next issue will be published the first week of the fall semester.

Twenty Seniors to Receive Commissions at Graduation

Twenty of PC's Senior ROTC cadets will be sworn in as Second Lieutenants in the Officers Reserve Corps at 3:30, June 4. The pre - commissioning ceremonies will be part of this year's graduation activities.

Those receiving commissions include: Paul Ard, Bill Betchman, Fred Clark, Harrison Clayton, Tom Collins, Pat Dorn, Dick Faulkner, Walt Ferrene, John Gibson, and Pat Griffin.

Also being sworn in will be Wayne Godfrey, Herb Hammett, Robert Jeanes, Marion Lee, Harry McDonnold, Hexie McDonnold, Doug McDougald, Pat Malone, Tommy Middleton, and Jim Monroe.

Earlier in the year, branch assignments were chosen and the orders have now been issued. The Infantry and Artillery will each claim six of the PC cadets. The Signal Corps has been assigned to three. One each will go to the Quartermaster Corps, the Military Police, the Chemical Corps, and the Finance Corps.

The new Infantrymen are: Paul Ard, Walt Ferrene, Pat Griffin, Bill Betchman, Pat Dorn, and John Gibson. The six going to the Artillery are: Marion Lee, Harrison Clayton, Harry McDonnold, Hexie McDonnold, Doug McDougald, and Tommy Middleton. Headed for the Signal school are: Herb Hammett, Dick Faulkner, and Robert Jeanes.

Pat Malone will be the sole Chemist in the group, and Wayne Godfrey the only member of the Quartermaster Corps. Jim Monroe will be in the Military Police, while Tom Collins heads for the Finance school. Fred Clark has been selected for the Transportation Corps.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Four Years

September, 1957, to June, 1961 . . . four years . . . not a very long time, really, but when you're young, it's almost a lifetime. And for the ninety-odd members of the class of '61 it has been a vital part of their personal history. And world history has been a parallel in its vitalness. It was not long after the present seniors had gone through perennial ratting that newspapers outside of dormitory doors carried a banner headline: Russia had launched the first satellite.

And with that, the keynote of the four years was sounded, and it was change and growth. For the world, it has been years of opening vistas . . . of wild dreams becoming reality . . . a world that would face the current class in an entirely different perspective than when they first entered college.

And with PC, change was evident. Bailey was new . . . the old SCA building withered in the shadow of Douglas House . . . the old chapel gave way to Belk. Ratting became slacker; studies harder. The faculty changed . . . freshmen came each year . . . there was death and there was birth.

. . . And the class of '61 changed. Personalities, bodies, minds grew and matured. There was change and it was good. Good because there was one thing that was constant: the spirit, character, and influence of PC. Sentimentalism? Perhaps. For four years, PC has been home, mother, teacher . . . all things at all times . . . I leave reluctantly. Things will never be the same again. And you know, that motto isn't so bad after all . . . Dum Vivimus Servimus.

—Senior Guest Editorialist

Editor's Notebook

WE ARE GLAD to hear of the improvements that will soon be made to the Douglas House. The new pool table and TV Lounge will be a much needed addition to the PC recreation facilities.

WE ARE ALSO GLAD to see such active campaigning for representatives to the Student Council. By the candidate's making an effort to appeal to the voter, the voter will be more informed, thereby resulting in a better council.

Candidates for all future offices should be careful as to where they place their campaign posters. Care should be taken to keep nail holes out of places like the front door to the Douglas House.

OUR THANKS are extended to the Bank of Clinton for supplying the Douglas House lounge with the magazine supscriptions and the covers for those journals.

Summer Is Approaching

By Tom Morrison

Our highly exiciting and tired globe, if it is still in existence now, currently serves as the scene of many colorful—mostly—scarlet—revolutions. Presbyterian College certainly is no exception to this general trend, for blood, sweat, and money have all brought about a quite significant modernizing revolution during the past school year.

Since summer is fast approaching (to the utter dismay of most newly embarking seniors; to the unparallielled relief of all lowly freshmen, and to the rather drunken anticipation of those in the middle of this educational totem pole); and since we now have time to reflect upon past happenings in the careful manner of an Egbert Q. Furrow, let us review some of our Alma Mater's greatest events of the past term.

There comes quickly to mind the internationally recognized (insofar as the college trustees are concerned, at least) erect of PC's new Belk Auditoriu The latter's glorious construct has even been perpetually obs ed ever since by a notice lengthening of Wednesday mo ing chapel programs.

To most informed observe however, an incident surpass even the one mentioned ab was that solemn visitation our gleeful student body by M USA herself. Because of pleased look on the face of escort, it was indeed disappo ing to learn afterwards that had not been won over as a member of PC coedism.

In contrast to this auspicio arrival, of course, one of institution's best loved a most respected men is leavin for other pastures; and th marks the signal for all good people — those who a bad, too, if they want to in the fight—to beware of growing evil of specializa which is persistently entrenc ing itself. It would proba sound wise now to say som thing like a well-rounded ed cation without a well-round school is like—I can't thi of a good ending to this, so l just forget it.

While we are strolling arou the topic of athletics let it be ously cried forth that our scr py basketball team gained more victory than during previous season. The PC quin was nice enough to turn arou and do this even after our bask ballers had enough bad luck lose one more contest than year before. And coming pr pects look good!

All in all, ever since invade got closely shaved by PC r until even closer shaves will produced by final exams. Schwartz regime has been a co paratively enjoyable and mem able one.

On the Beach

Klem Visits the Seashore

By Sanders Read

With the time for post-exam beach parties rapidly approaching, this letter is printed to give those planning such a party an idea of what to expect at the beach. This letter was found, unaddressed and unstamped, floating in the sea off of Myrtle Beach, S. C. The worst is feared for its writer.

Hey there Unkle Klaud and Aunt Maud.

This heah is yore ole nefew Kentucky Klem a ritin tuh yuh down on the seacoast. This is th fust time ah've evah been tuh the beech, but ah shore hopes it aren't th last. Ah'm tellin yuh, yuh ain't nevah seen nothin like it. Te watah ain't quite so clare as it is up home, an it tastes like sumbody spilled a truck load o salt lick blocks in it. But it shore is warmer.

An if yuh thinks th watah in Cousin Mandy's washing machine is agitated, yuh oughta see this heah ocean watah. It's aside itself wif joye or anger sumpin. It jus goes up an down,in an out, up an down, in an out. It jus cain't stay still fuh nothin!

An lemme tell yuh. One o them South Caroliny boys thot he was shore gonna fool me. We went tuh the beech in the mawning, an th watah was bout a hunert foot out. Wal suh, when we come back in th aftahnoon, it was brimmin high up tuh th banks (sand dunes, th boy called em). Ah tole him thet at home th watah behaves itself, an stays at th same level most o th time.

Ah figgered ah bettah git sum o thet crazy watah fuh a suvanear whilst ah was there. So ah got me a bottle an scooped it half full o watah, an put the top on tite. Then thet boy tried tuh fool me intuh fillin it up all th way, but ah wasn't fooled. No suh, ah looked him strait in th eye and tole him thet as wasn't gonna let thet fool watah swell up and bust

(Continued on page four)

Why Not?

If you don't feel just right,
If you can't sleep at night
If you moan and you sigh,
If your throat feels dry,
If you don't care to smoke
If your food makes you choke
If your heart doesn't beat,
If you're getting cold feet,
If your head's in a whirl—
Why not marry the girl?

—Bag

SHORT LINES

From University of Kans DAILY KANSAN: How big do the class have to be before t students can be reasonably cor fortable coming to class unpr pared?

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C
Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR GRAHAM EDMUND
BUSINESS MANAGER LELAND VAUGHA
MANAGING EDITOR MURRAY WEIT
News Editor Gerald Pi
Sports Editor Jerry Chi

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

Edited by Bill Matthews

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Alpha Sigs are anticipating an enjoyable time this weekend. Tonight Moses and His Five Disciples will play for the Hawaiian Holiday. Tomorrow night the Famous Tams will furnish the music for a dance at the Legion Hut. The parties both nights will be closed except by written invitation only.

Congratulations are due to Brother Jim Monroe on his recent pinning of Miss Gail Plyer.

KAPPA ALPHA

Congratulations are extended to Bill Shearer, Bill Oliver, Read Smartt, and Tommy Williams on being initiated onto the Brotherhood.

Plans are now complete for Greek Weekend. These plans include a party at the house Friday night, point party at Lake Greenwood Saturday afternoon, and a combo party Saturday night, with Sam Cook furnishing the music.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Final plans were made for Greek Weekend at the previous meeting. A "Jamaica Holiday" was scheduled for Friday night and followed Saturday night with a dance in the fraternity room. New officers were also elected. Congratulations to Brother Bill Tyson, who was elected sophomore representative, and brother Mike Jarrett as student body president.

PI KAPPA PHI

The PiKapps have made their final plans for Greek Weekend. It includes a party at Peck's Ranch Friday night and the Shipwreck Ball at Lake Greenwood Saturday night.

We would like to express our

(Continued on page four)

BEHIND THE BLUES

Spring Sports Vanishing

JERRY CHITTY, Sports Editor

Spring sports which provide much action for the participants and much enjoyment for the spectators, are again passing from the scene as the month of May vanishes and exam time approaches.

With the teaching, tennis and golf seasons completed and with only one baseball game remaining, the remaining sports action this year will spotlight the finish of the intramural season and the highly competitive action which takes place daily at the horseshoe pits.

Much could be said in reviewing the sports picture this year at PC. The football team posted the fifth best record in Presbyterian College history with their 6-3 mark. They are to be praised for their hard work on the field this year. The outlook for next season is very bright considering the returning lettermen and the fine recruiting work of Coach Jones and his entire staff.

Many will remember this basketball season for years to come. Well, maybe not the season but one game in particular. It was in the final two seconds of the game against Pembroke State that Jimmy McGuire made his fantastic 65-foot shot that won the game. This feat will be long remembered by all who saw the game.

Sports on Presbyterian College campus have again been successful this year. We of the sports staff would like to congratulate all those who participated in varsity sports and also all those in the Athletic Department who provided the know how for these participants. We're all looking forward to more winning seasons next near.

Sigma Nu Takes Early Lead In Intramural Tennis Play

The Sigma Nu's have posted five singles victories to take an early lead in intramural tennis as the singles move into the semi-finals and the doubles begin to get underway. No points have been scored in doubles yet. The Pi Kappa Alpha's, Kappa Alpha's, and an independent team, the Owls, have each posted two singles victories. The Alpha Sigma Phi's and Pi Kappa Phi's have not gained any victories yet.

Each team is allowed to enter three players in singles and two teams in doubles. For each entry a point is awarded to that team. The over-all score is then ten points for the Sigma Nu's, Pi Kappa Alpha's, Kappa Alpha's, and Owls each have seven.

Reaching the semi-finals in the singles are Bill Gillespie and Jim Rakestraw in the top bracket. In the bottom bracket there is Lindsey Odom, and the other semi-final berth will be determined by a match between Bill Tyson and Lynn Hudgins. The semi-final matches have been scheduled for today provided weather is permitting.

Those winning first round matches and scoring for the teams are as follows: Gillespie (SN) d., Powers (Owls); Hentz (KA) d. Piephoff (ASP); Nixon (PiKA) d. Salvo (PiKapp); Rakestraw (Owls) d. Ladd (ASP); Odom (SN) d. Sneider (Owls); Ray (SN) d. Layton (ASP); Hudgens (KA) d. Harrill (PiKA); Tyson (PiKA) d. Kelly (KA).

In the doubles, matches were played but no points were awarded to the victors because these matches only brought the draw up to an even round. Those posting first round victories without scoring are Ogden and Bullard (KA); Cryder and Currie (ASP); Regan and Malone (PiKA). Most of the doubles matches are expected to be played next week.

The intramural council has voted not to award points to fraternities for intramural tennis in the inter-fraternity competition.

BROADWAY Theatre
Monday and Tuesday, May 15-16
The White Warrior
Steve (Hercules) Reeves
Wed. - Thur. - Fri. - Sat. May 17-20
Cimarron
Glenn Ford, Maria Schell, Anne Baxter

Johnson's Men Shop
...for...
Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

Baseballers Sink Flying Fleet; Post 5-3 Record for Season Play

Love Is Victor Over Fleet Nine

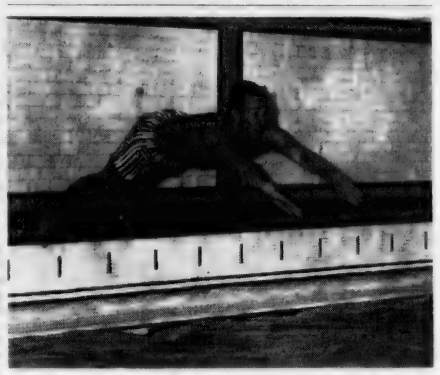
By Loren Eagles

The Blue Hose took a low scoring ball game from the Flying Fleet of Erskine Tuesday 4-1. Paul Love went all the way to pick up his second win of the season for PC, while Tyler was credited with the loss.

The Fleet got to Love for three hits and a run in the first inning, but were held scoreless for the rest of the game. The Hose got the run back in their half of the first on Bill Tyson's booming triple, followed by a single by Bill Sease.

The Hose chalked up another run in the second frame on singles by Vaughn and Williams, combined with an error by the Erskine rightfielder. PC finished the day's scoring with two unearned runs in the fifth, which were scored on walks, two errors, and a sacrifice fly. Tommy Williams led PC at the plate with 3 for 4.

Last Saturday the Hose were the victims of Newberry's hard-throwing freshman right hander, Jimmy Courts, who chalked up his fourth victory of the year. The Hose hitters collected thirteen scattered hits off Courts, but could not put them together in a big inning.



PC's attack was led by Bill Sease with 2 singles and a triple, and Sonny DuBose's towering home run to right center field. John "Hoot" Gibson absorbed this 8-4 loss for the Blue Hose.

The Blue Hose closed out this year's campaign this afternoon against the league leading Newberry Indians.

Thoughout this season the Hose have always managed an excellent game for the home crowd. They posted a 5-3 win-lost record at home and were 0-8 on the road. The Hose managed victories over each of their Little Four foes plus wins over Cornell University and Pembroke College.

The Hose mound staff has been led by two fireballing righthanders, Paul Love and John "Hoot" Gibson, with two wins each. Lefthander Jerry Chitty picked up the other win.

The Hose hitting has been of topnotch caliber most of the season. As a team, the Hose hit a very commendable .267, having 149 hits in 559 at-bats.

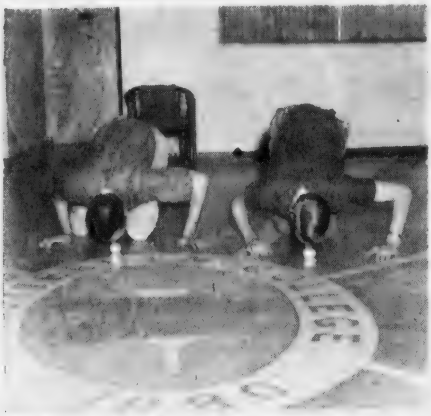
"Everybody out of the pool," as Rohe Eshbaugh practices for the coming Intramural Swim Meet.—(Photo by Autry)

Tuesday Is Opening Day For Softball Tournament

Blackwelder's Bums and The Pounders, placing first and second in the Independent League, will meet the top two fraternity teams, PiKA and Pi Kappa Phi, to decide the Intramural Championship. The PiKA's and Pi-Kapps, who are tied for first place, will play Monday at 3:30 to determine first and second place in their league.

Opening tournament play is scheduled for Tuesday, with the first place team of each league meeting the number two team of the oposing league. Winners of the opening games will play a best 2 out of 3 series to decide the championship. The losers are to play a single consolation game for third place.

Final Standings



Independent
Bums	4	0
Pounders	3	2
Sharks	2	3
Confeds	1	4
Snakes	0	4
Fraternity
PiKA	4	1
PiKapps	4	1
Alpha Sig	3	2
KA	3	2
Sigma Nu	1	4
Theta Chi	0	5

Schedule Announced For Intramural Events

Joe Harvard, chairman of the intramural council, announced the following tentative sports schedule for next year: Football, Sept. 25 through Nov. 17; Ping-Pong tournament, Oct. 16 through Nov. 3; Volleyball Nov. 6 through Nov. 17; Swiming meet ov. 19 through Nov. 30; and Soccer, Nov. 19 through Dec. 13. Basketball will be Jan. 8 through March 15; Another Fing-Pong tournament, March 12 through March 23; Softball, April 9 through May 18; Horseshoe tournament, April 16 through April 27; Tennis Matches, April 23 through May 4; and the track meet will be around May 1.

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

ATTENTION, STUDENTS!
Sunshine
CLEANERS AND LAUNDRY
Offers you expert Sanitone Dry Cleaning and Moth-proofing for all your woolen blankets and winter clothing.
LOOK AT THIS!
Sunshine will store your woolens and winter clothing FREE!
Insurance Fee for All Storage is 10c per Month per $100 Valuation Placed on Clothes By Customer.

Bad weather forced Bob Smith and Sanders Read inside to practice for the annual Blue Key Egg Roll which was held on the plaza yesterday. Read managed to nose out the other candidates for the victory.—(Autry Photo)

Letter to the Editor

Block P Club Initiation, An Embarrassing Tradition

To the Editor:

The recent Block P initiation is a spectacle of which none of us can be proud. Its being a "tradition" (sanctifying name!) here should make us the more embarrassed rather than making us excuse such thoughtless, childish brutality.

We speak glowingly of "gentlemanly conduct"; I submit that no one who participates in or condones such a revolting activity can properly call himself a gentleman. I wonder that he can call himself human at all, but of this I am certain: he is no gentleman, and he lacks some of the highest qualities of manhood itself.

Physical vigor is but one mark of a man; courage and moral fortitude are two more. Age or infirmity may diminish physical strength and agility; but courage (not necessarily measured physically) and moral fortitude are truer marks of a man, and these endure.

Several students this year have said, "Next year, things will be different," and they doubtless meant what they said. No doubt similar resolutions were made last year and in the years preceding. Still we prefer to bear the ills we have than fly to others that we know not of—and what might those other ills be? Only that we might somehow become less courageous if we change, I suppose. But submission to anything so indefensible as the Block P initiations is not courageous; it is, except at a purely physical level, evidence of weakness. Real courage would defy the old order, would call for a new one.

Already I can hear the outraged voices: "Why don't those ivory-tower people mind their own business?"— omitting the adjectives, of course. Why not, indeed? Because we are all involved. Every student who has stood by and laughed at what he saw, every teacher or administrator who has found it easier to ignore what he knew than to insist upon reform, every person involved in a system which permits such an initiation procedure to be concomitant with a student's receiving an award "from the school" (not from the Block P Club!) —everyone of these shares equally with the Block P Club the guilt. It "is" the business of the whole college, and the whole college has cause for shame.

It is not my place to speculate on why changes have not been made before now; I can only suggest that until changes are made (and are made so as to permit no sort of brutality at any time), we ought all to acknowledge our affiliation here only with grave embarrassment.

—Donald M. Boyd

Chapel Services

Monday—Chapel Devotional.

Wednesday — Chapel Worship; Rev. Ned Hollingsworth, Pastor, Second Presbyterian Church, Kannapolis, N. C.

Friday—No chapel, Seniors practice for graduation.

Read Noses Ahead; Wins Key Egg Roll

In a neck and neck race, Sanders Read crawled away with victory in the annual Blue Key Egg Roll held on the plaza yesterday. Read, thanks to his excellent physical build, managed to win by a nose.

Lagging near the rear of the rollers were Harry McDonnold, Hexie McDonnold, and Bob Smith. It was Smith who, if he had finished, would have finished last.

Due to an error on the part of Bill Ogden, he was declared the loser by acclamation. Although Ogden started behind the other participants, he managed to grab an early lead. Unfortunately for Ogden, however, his egg broke and it was discovered he was rolling a hard-boiled egg. This led to his loss by acclamation.

As a crowning feature of the whole affair, Ogden was presented with the eggs of his fellow new Blue Key members.

SHORT LINES

It is understood in otherwise confused Washington circles that Fidel Castro's real reason for visiting here is to find out why his PLAYBOY subscription hasn't caught up with him yet.

The GREEKS ... Have A Word

(Continued from page two)

appreciation to Fred Brown and Jim Ballard for the fine work they are doing on the decoration committee.

Congratulations to Harold Holmes for pledging our fraternity Tuesday night.

SIGMA NU

Congratulations to Brother Sonny DuBose on being elected to serve as Student Body President for the school year 1961-62.

Final plans were made for the Greek Weekend at which the "Hearts" will be featured Friday night. Plans for the beach party at Cherry Grove were also discussed.

THETA CHI

The members of Beta Psi Chapter are looking forward to an enjoyable weekend which will begin with a party in the fraternity suite on Friday night.

Saturday afternoon a house party is being planned at Lake Grenewood. During the afternoon we will enjoy recreation and a picnic supper. Saturday night a combo will be present for a dance at the Lake.

Kentucky Klem

(Continued from page two)

mash bottle. No suh, he didn fool me none.

Wal thets enuff bout th wate Lemme tell yuh bout th bes sand. Thet stuff wouldn't gr a weed, let alone a turnip. B when it's got its full crop blooming beauties on it, it's sho a LOT purtier th anany field ole Kentcky.

It's real colurful, too, w lots o red and blue an yello an all sorts a colurs. Sum them tho, ain't much o an color bout um, come tuh thin o it.

The beech is lots o fun, t Ah'm gonna close fuh now take a swim.

Yore lovin nefew,
K. K.

Graduates

(Continued from page one)

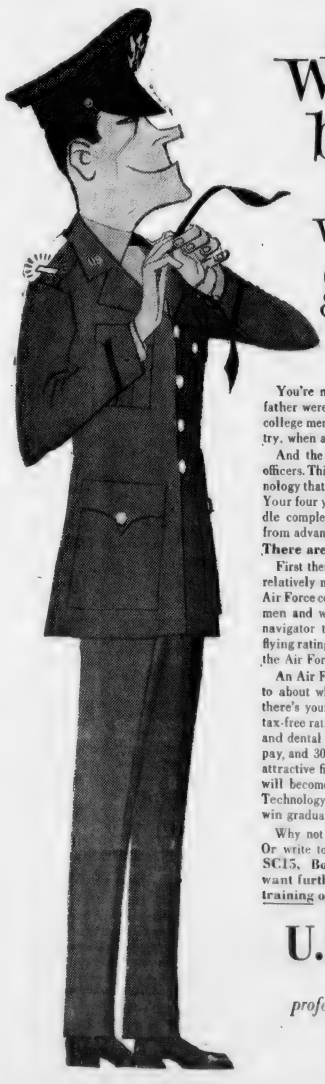
Myers McGee, Patrick Donel Malone, Thomas Clinton Middl ton, Jr., Gordon Simkins Ma ley, III, John Ellis Parker, L ins Ernest Redd, Marianne H ene Hedwig Emma Stipp Scheele.

Also Louis Michael Schneid Maurice Edward Schwar James William Sease, Bascc Arnold Sharp, Emmett Britt Spann, Gordon Lambert Stanl Jr., Charles Franklin Walk Alvin Merrill Whitmire, Har John Wilkinson, Jr.

Money Is Powerful!

Money is the only thing that will provide the necessities of life for your family. The Prudential Dollar Guide will show you how easily you can continue to provide for your family . . . if you're not here.

See



Lawrence E. Young
INSURANCE BROKER

The Prudential Insurance Company of America
a mutual life insurance company

CLINTON REALTY & INS. CO.
104 W. Pitts St.
Clinton, S. C. Telephone 833-2661

why the blue suit with the gold bars?

You're needed...just as your father and grandfather were. It's an obligation that a lot of qualified college men have to meet...that of serving your country, when and where you are needed.

And the Air Force needs college-trained men as officers. This is caused by the rapidly expanding technology that goes with hypersonic air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs. You have the potential to profit from advanced training...then put it to work. There are several ways to become an officer.

First there is Air Force ROTC. Another program, relatively new, is Officer Training School. Here the Air Force commissions certain college graduates, both men and women, after three months' training. The navigator training program enables you to win a flying rating and a commission. And, of course, there's the Air Force Academy.

An Air Force officer's starting salary averages out to about what you could expect as a civilian. First there's your base pay. Then add on such things as tax-free rations and quarters allowances, free medical and dental care, retirement provision, perhaps flight pay, and 30 days' vacation per year. It comes to an attractive figure. One thing more. As an officer, you will become eligible for the Air Force Institute of Technology. While on active duty many officers will win graduate degrees at Air Force expense.

Why not contact your local Air Force Recruiter. Or write to Officer Career Information, Dept. SC15, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.

U.S. Air Force

There's a place for professional achievement on the Aerospace Team

Blue Stocking

1961-62

Vol. 40

44952

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL — Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., September 22, 1961 — No. 1

President Brown and Spanish Department head Glover enjoy a delicious Army meal with Joe Davis and Dick McGaughey, PC cadets, at ROTC Summer Camp held this year at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

PC Enrolls 537 Students As Fall Semester Begins

Two hundred and twelve new freshmen and transfer students have joined the 1961-62 student body at Presbyterian College. With the 323 returning upperclassmen, the enrollment for the 82nd session totals 537.

Col. A. J. Thackston, Dean of Students, reports that there was a record number of applications made during the past year. Out of 3303 applicants, only 212 were allowed to enter due to limited space. This number of applicants seems almost incredible. But Thackston explains that this number is composed of all those who showed interest in PC. Of that number, many did not meet the entrance requirements, others changed their preferences of schools and entered other institutions, while others decided not to enter college because of financial or other reasons.

Despite the number of applicants, the student body falls seven short of the record 544 set for the 1958-59 session.

Boarding students for this year total 420. Of this number, 375 are housed in dormitory rooms. The Young house and Calvert house both house 14 students this year, while the gym accommodates four. Under a new policy, fourteen students are living out in town.

New Members Named For Chapel Choir

Twenty-two men were chosen for the Presbyterian College Chapel Choir this year, according to Dr. Edouard Patte, Minister of Music. These students were chosen on the basis of voice and technical tests given Monday. Dr. Patte announced that the Robed Choir, which will sing in South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida, will be chosen from the Chapel Choir.

The new First Tenors include: Julian Weisner, Court Lipcomb, Paul Conger, and Jack Green.

Brownlee Lowry, Olney Meadows, CoCroft, and Bill Bramlette are the new Second Tenor singers.

The First Bass section collected the most voices for the year. These men are: John Hemphill, Sherwood Florence, Charles Orr, William Humphries, David Mabie, Michael McKenzie, Lewis Hay, Arthur Baxter, Russell Miller, and Wesley Lawton.

New voices rounding out the Second Bass section will be: David Worth, Alex Patrick, Ed Sellers, and Robert Phifer.

The choir held its first practice last night and Dr. Patte reported that he was well pleased with the first session.

Thirty-Nine Achieve Dean's List Honors

Registrar Roslyn Martin today anounced the members of the Dean's List for last semester. Seven students received all A's or an average of 4.00. They are: David T. Borland, Jack M. Clontz, William M. Littlefield, Brenda Gay Maddox, Marianne S. Scheele, Maurice E. Schwartz, and Sue Ellen Spratt.

Those students who maintained an average of 3.75 or better were Anne M. Lee, John M. Marr, Sanders G. Read, Jr., Emmett B. Spann, and Linda C. Traynham. Students having a quality point ratio of 3.5 were Marion B. Boozer, Thomas W. Currie, Jane J. Hammet, James T. Huges, Edgar M. McGee, Janet E. Maddox, Martha Ann Monroe, Doris S. Nelson, William S. Ogden, William W. Skinner, Grace I. Walker, and Bertrand A. Weinberg.

A number of students had an average of 3.2 or higher. They were Herbert F. Adair, Michael F. Brown, Ponce D. Bullard, William C .Carmichael, Frank E. Cooper III, Robert G. DeLoach, Frank A. Forbes, Edwin C. Hentz, William F. Holderman, Martha C. Hunter, John R. Kay, Wayne D. Kay, Harry H. Nettles, John E. Parker, and Mildred C. Wilson.

Summer Camp

Twenty-six Presbyterian College cadets attended the 1961 ROTC Summer Camp at Fort Bragg, N. C.

This six week period of practical training was part of the four-year college program which leads to commissions as second lieutenants in the Reserve Officer's Corps

Bob Stevens Selected Commander Of Reorganized Military Unit

Joe Nixon Holds Number 2 Slot As Battalion Executive Officer

The Presbyterian College ROTC Corps of Cadets, led by the Battalion Commander, Cadet Major Bob Stevens, a history major from Orangeburg, officially began their 1961-62 year Thursday afternoon with an introductory meeting in Belk Auditorium.

In keeping with future Army plans, the former Battle Group has been reorganized into a Battalion composed of four companies and a Pershing Rifles Platoon. This year there will be no ROTC band; instead, there will be a Colege Band under the auspices of the school.

This year's corps is the largest in PC history, with a total of 324 cadets, 148 of whom are freshmen.

The cadet staff is composed of Cadet Major Maurice R. Stevens, Battalion Commander; Cadet Captain Joseph O. Nixon, Battalion Executive Officer; Cadet 1st Lt. Richard W. Carr, S-1; Cadet 1st Lt. Graham B. Edmunds, S-2; Cadet Captain David L. Waters, S-3; and Cadet 1st Lt. William M. Matthews, S-4. Cadet M/Sgt. James R. Thompson serves as Sergeant Major.

Company Commanders are Cadet Captains Richard L. Boland, Co. A, assisted by Cadet 1st Sgt. Jerry S. Chitty; James B. Quantz, Co. B, assisted by 1st Sgt. Benjamin W. Margolius; Robert E. Beddingfield, Co. C, assisted by Cadet 1st Sgt. Billy Ladd; Joe Ben Davis, Co. D, assisted by Cadet 1st Sgt. Harry H. Nettles.

Clifton R. Saverance is Company Comander of Co. A, 4th Regiment, Pershing Rifles.

Cadet Platoon leaders include: Albert P. Bell, Douglas F. Miller, Thomas L. Elliott, Frederick F. Saunders, Byron F. Hollingsworth, Andrew D. McGaughey, Guy D. Hancock, and James W. Rakestraw

BOB STEVENS

PC Summer Session Graduates Thirteen

Thirteen Presbyterian College seniors completed requirements for their degrees during the past summer session, Registrar Rosly Martin, announced today.

The group, including ten bachelor of arts and three bachelor of science candidates, will receive diplomas as part of the regular commencement exercises next June. They are:

Bachelor of Arts — Nathaniel R .Cole ,Leroy M. Madrazo, and Norma Jean Weisner, all of Laurens; Herbert F. Adair of Clinton; Julius A. Blake, Jr., of Belton; Roger M. Copeland of Athens, Ga.; Courtney F. Henderlite of Richmond, Va.; Henry M. Pigg of Huntersville, N. C.; Mrs. Sue Ellen Nunnally Spratt of Fredericksburg, Va.; and Ben B. Vincent of Danville, Va.

Bachelor of Science—Michael R. Dawkins of Laurens; William S. Ogden of Macon, Ga.; and Julian E. Wells of North Augusta.

Chapel Services

Monday—Chapel Devotional.

Wednesday — Chapel Worship Services; Rev. J. Raymond Lord, Milner Memorial Presbyterian Church, Raleigh, N. C.

Friday — Wofford Blue Key exchange chapel program.

PaC-SaC Editor Sells Announces New Staff

Frank Sells, editor of the 1962 PaC-SaC, announced today the new staff members for the annual publication.

Rick Saunders will be right-hand-man with the title of associate editor, while Lovell Smith serves as assistant editor.

The sports and fraternity editorships will be handled this year by Joe Nixon and Bill Russell, respectively. Bobby Piephoff is the new class editor.

Military editor for this year's edition is Skip Saverance. Paul Woodall will handle the snapshot editor's position with Guy Handcock and Tony Wilson serving as editors.

Kappa Alpha to Open Fall Social Activities Wednesday

Presbyterian College social events will get underway Wednesday, September 27, as Kappa Alpha Fraternity holds the first of six open socials to be given by the fraternities during the coming weeks.

Each Wednesday night for the next six weeks there will be a fraternity open social. All will begin at 8:00 p. m. and end at 12:00 p. m.

The purpose of these open socials is to acquaint new students with fraternity life as it is found at PC. All freshmen, non-fraternity men, co-eds, and the college faculty are cordially invited to attend these functions.

Following Kapa Alpha will be Sigma Nu on October 4; Alpha Sigma Phi, October 11; Theta Chi, October 18; Pi Kappa Alpha, October 25; Pi Kappa Phi, November 1.

The Inter - Fraternity Council has also set the fraternity smoker dates. Kappa Alpha will be first on November 29; Alpha Sigma Phi is November 30; Sigma Nu, December 1; Pi Kappa Alpha on December 4; Pi Kappa Phi, December 5; and Theta Chi, December 6

Col. A. J. Thackston, Dean of Students, greets a guest at the annual College Dames reception held for freshmen.

Blue Key Trip

The PC chapter of Blue Key national honorary fraternity will travel to Wofford this coming Thursday in conjunction with the annual PC - Wofford sportsmanship competition.

The visit will be reciprocated next Friday by the Wofford Blue Key chapter, who will entertain the PC student body at chapel period.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Information Please

Bulletin Boards are meant to be informative and provide the reader with all the latest up to date announcements.

On our campus there are all types of these places of information. There is a new one in Judd this year and it is read by almost all students every day. The military department has its own version of a bulletin board, and in the most traditional fashion, it is always up to date. Even the professors and administrative officials have their own private board in the library.

There is one more bulletin board on our campus, however, that is scanned by numerous students every day. We are referring, of course, to the Neville bulletin board. Unfortunately, the man in charge does not keep it up to date, however it is perhaps the most interesting place of information we have.

Would anyone like to go to Orlando? The First Presbyterian Church there invites all PC students to a New Year's Eve party December 31, 1959. Or are you interested in the chapel seating arrangement for first semester 1959-1960? The changes in that list are also posted and dated October 5, 1959.

Room 312 Bailey is open as of December 14, 1959. Any applicants? There is an important notice to all who plan to attend the Community Concert in Greer November 30, same year. And let us not forget the memo to January graduates dated November 30, again 1959.

Really!!

Dear Freshmen

You freshmen have now begun the most important period of your life. Just as miles are a measure of distance, the four years at PC are a measure of life.

There is much to be desired and learned within the covers of the books you carry with you, and the placement scores indicate you are capable of the work required of you. All you will have to do, therefore, is supply the effort.

We encourage each member of the freshman class to help the college, and most of all yourselves, by remembering that there is also much education, some say more, not available in any book. This "bookless" education will even be more helpful to some in this world than the standard three-R's. The type of education to which we refer is available in an unlimited number of ways. It includes participation in extra-curricular activities, getting along with your roommate and other students, and being friendly to everyone you meet: in brief, to adopt the ole PC spirit.

Let us also say that although you cannot possibly realize it, while wearing rat caps and signs, these will be the four shortest years of your life. Before you realize it, the hats and signs will turn into caps and gowns, and "Pomp and Circumstance" will be your song. No, there is not much time—make the most of it.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR MURRAY WHITE
News Editor Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor Loren Eagles
Feature Editor Tom Morrison
Greek Editor Joe Harvard
Circulation Raymond Humphries
News Staff Lewis Edge, Tom Currie, Robert Perry, DuPont Smith, Jim Barbour, Frank Hendrix, Bill Bramlette
Sports Staff Bruce Barnes, Jerry Chitty, Bill Gillespie, Bill Loeble, Glen Browder
Feature Staff Sanders Read, Notchey Maddox
Business Staff Marshal Jones, John Craig.
Typist Priscilla Blanton

The Nation's Defender

Famous Alumnus Crudely Visits Campus

by Gabriel Bradowski

Well, the dungeon has opened its doors once again and, although we've been here a week and a half, some of us still aren't unpacked. Last Thursday I was in my new room in the Bailey Hilton. Things had been rather peaceful and quiet all day long, and I was busy hanging my Playboy calendar.

All of a sudden there was a loud noise in the hall. It sounded like mass confusion. The room door flew open and in walked a freshman throwing rose petals from side to side. He was followed by three fellow new boys who held my old buddy, Percival Crudely, on their shoulders.

"P. C., old buddy."

"What do you say, G. B. Okay, freshmen, you can put me down now. Careful there new boy, you're wrinkling my seersucker suit."

With a quick clap of his hands, P. C. dismissed the freshmen.

"Gee, it sure is good to see you, P. C."

"Well, G .B., it's good to be on the ole homestead once again. How is everybody?"

"Lonely, P. C., lonely."

"Is that right?"

"Yeah, it seems as though everyone broke up with their women this summer."

"Gee, that's a shame."

"Say, what'd you do this summer, P. C.?"

"I protected the country. Didn't you sleep well?"

"Oh, where were you?"

"I was at Uncle Sam's Fresh Air Camp for boys at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, nestled at the foot of the Carolina Sandhills."

"Sounds like a nice place."

"Oh, it was. We had a blast over there. You know, one morning while on bivouac, we walked for two hours in the hot sun without even stopping."

"Gee."

"Finally, however, they did let us take a Bayer Break. But we hadn't got sat down good before some dad-blamed aggressor started firing at us. Well, being the combat-ready group that we were, we simply picked up our rusty weapons and put him in his place."

"What kind of game were you playing, P. C.?"

"I don't know. East-West German crisis or something like that."

"Did you enjoy bivouac, P. C.?"

"Yeah, I guess so. It was just like a week out with the boy scouts."

"How was the food over there?"

"Well, to be perfectly honest with you, G. B., I never ate in the mess hall."

"You didn't?"

"Nope."

"Then how did you survive? What did you eat?"

"Metracal."

"Oh."

"Well, G. B., it's been good seeing you, but I've got to go hop on the big Comet when it comes through town."

"Where are you headed, P. C.?"

"I'm going to serve my country."

"I thought you did that in the post office at Christmas time."

"This time I'm going to Ghana to serve. You see, I've decided to join the Peace Corps."

Back to the Grind

By Tom Morrison

It should be emphatically pointed out with someone's long, bony finuger that the horribly gruesome jump from vacation to college is far too appalling for one to make it in but one single bound. After all, as things in this hectic word now are, such modern diseases as neurosis, maladjustmanet, and the like, are quite easily contracted.

The first thing to get to or reacquainted with, however, bewildering your own case may be, is obviously the change in location. I therefore submit the following carefully contrived plan with approval from fellow students being earnestly awaited.

For those poor creatures who, like me, spent almost their entire summer vainly seeking a job, Neville Hall should be realistically converted into an office building with the sole purpose of issuing applications to prospective employees and thereafter disposing of them—both applications and employees, that is.

Other persons were fortunate enough to spend most of their summer in resort places as either workers or vacationers. Thus should Lake Greenwood or some such damp place be borrowed to flood the campus into an oceanic paradise.(A far simpler procedure, though one of smaller scale could be followed if only the heirarchy might somehow become convinced that our gymnasium's pool was almost undoubtedly intended for swimming purposes.)

For an idealistic completeness to this plan we will need the cooperation of neighboring schools, which should be friendly and considerate enough to furnish us with a supply of bathing beauties; these scenic donations could be further employed as curb girls when we convert Douglas House nto a drive-in restaurant for the convenience of those many PC'uns who would otherwise miss their favorite nighttime hangouts. Other possibilities along these general line sare practically unlimited, but sadly not quite so equally boundless is the space here available to concentrate thereon.

In conclusion, it must be warned that preoccupation with the college's more frivolous matters, such as education and finance, will, alas, hold up adoption of that revolutionary vision above outlined. Therefore, let us valiantly continue to struggle through this presently foggish life until our administrators finally see the light.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE HARVARD, Greek Editor

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

SIGMA NU

Zeta Theta anticipates a profitable year with revisions to cover activities more effectively. Rush and Open Social activities were disscussed as well as plans for the various dance week-ends this fall.

It is with regret that we recognize the death of Brother Odom who drowned in an accident late this summer.

Reports by Commander Bob Stevens were discussed concerning the National Sigma Nu Convention held in Lexington, Va., this summer.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Psi of Alpha Sigma Phi met on Monday night to welcome all of the old members back after the summer vacation. Plans were made for a party in the fraternity suite following the Wofford-Presbyterian football game. Plans were also made to get the fraternity suite back in shape for the fall semester.

THETA CHI

The Beta Psi chapter of Theta Chi held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday evening with 100% of its members returning for the Fall semester. The chapter is no wcompleting plans for its many activities of the semester.

Congratulations are extended to Brother Ted Elders who became pinned during the summer.

KAPPA ALPHA

The chapter extends its heartiest congratulations to Art Williams whose wife recently presented him with a baby boy. Congratulations are also in order for Pat Kelly on his recent marriage to Miss Lele Fallin.

We are looking forward to our Open Social Wednesday night.

PI KAPPA PHI

The Pi Kapps held their first meeting of the new year Wednesday night. During the summer the fraternity room's appearance was changed due to the hard work of Jim Ballard, Ken Davis, and Harold Holmes. These boys refloored and repainted the fraternity room. We would like to thank them for their hard work.

To start the new year off with a bang, the Pi Kapps have planned a party after the Wofford game Sept. 30. It will be held in the fraternity room.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity has proudly accepted the Smyth Award as number one among some 130 other chapters in the nation. Hats off to the graduating brothers.

Tuesday night our brothers will hold a supper for all freshman and transfer students. We will be looking forward to seeing you.

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

Grid Season Begins Again

INJURED HOSE FALL

"I expect to meet the best Furman team we've played since I have been coaching at Presbyterian College," Coach Frank Jones said earlier last week. He found just that as the running of fullback Tom Campbell and halfbacks Tony Carmignani coupled with the constant passing threat of quarterback Billy Cantey proved too much for the Hose.

Bright spots for the Blue Hose were the running of soph fullback Larry Madden and the passing of quarterback Bobby Joiner. Injuries to key personnel, 235-lb. tackle Sonny DuBose, 215-lb. guard Al Coley, and Dewey McReynolds, junior college recruit at center, hampered the usually sharp PC line play. Jones described these injuries as the worst since he came to PC.

SOX PREDICTIONS

The Blue Sock Sports Staff goes out on a limb today with a few football predictions around this neck of the woods—namely the ex-Little Three.

After a strong showing last week against the Lenoir Rhyne Bears Wofford entertains Elon College in Spartanburg. It looks like Wofford by 13 points.

The Catawba Indians invade Newberry this weekend. Newberry is fresh from a 27-0 victory over Frederick. Newberry over Catawba by 10.

The Hose travel to Hickory, N. C., this weekend to meet a fired-up Lenoir Rhyne team. PC to bounce back big and defeat the Lenoir Rhyne Bears by 3.

SPORTS NOTEBOOK

Frank Sells of the PC golf team won the Johnson City Tenn., Country Club Golf Tournament this past weekend . . . Bill Hill, last year's co-captain and leading ground gainer, is playing pro football in Canada for Montreal . . . Congratulations to Sonny DuBose, Joe Nixon and Bobby Joiner on being elected to captain the Blue Hose this season . . . Bob Waters, PC great of two years ago, is still with the San Francisco 49ers . . . Best wishes to Coach Gordon Warden, Jr., our new tennis coach . . . Bobby Pate, who teamed with Waters to lead PC to the Tangerine Bowl, has given up pro foohball . . . Harold "Butter" Raeford playing his second season of professional baseball hit .285 at shortstop for the Dubuque, Iowa, ball club . . . Tom Elliott, the number two man on the PC tennis team last year, won the Fort Bragg ROTC Summer Camp Tennis Tournament.

Successor to Leighton

Gordon Warden Appointed Intramural, Tennis Head

The appointment of a new coach to direct the tennis and intramural programs at Presbyterian College was announced today by President Marshall W. Brown.

He is Gordon E. Warden, Jr., who succeeds Jim Leighton as a member of the PC staff. Leighton resigned last June upon receiving his degree from Presbyterian, and after 12 years as a tennis coach, to pursue graduate work in sociology.

Warden, a native of Huntsville, Ala., and University of the South graduate, brings an outstanding background to his new position at Presbyterian College. He has spent the past three years as the tennis professional at Chicago's South Shore Country Club, the largest club in the midwest. Prior to that, he held similar positions at country clubs in Pennsylvania, Florida, and Alabama, coached tennis at Sewanee and was ranked among the ten top men's amateurs in the South.

The new PC staff member received his BA degree (with philosophy major) in 1952 from the University of the South, where he was an active student leader as a member of the choir, the honor council and number one tennis player. He later attended the Episcopal school of theology there for two years and received his divinity degree from Nashbotah House, Wis., last May.

Warden also has spent two years as a teacher in secondary schools at Orlando and Palm Beach, Fla. In tournament play as an amatuer during this time, he won numerous meets along the tennis circuits, defeating some nationally ranked U. S. players and a number of foreign Davis Cup players.

BROADWAY Theatre

MONDAY AND TUESDAY, Sept. 25-26
Raintree County
Montgomery Clift, Elizabeth Taylor, Eva Marie Saint

WEDNESDAY - THURSDAY, Sept. 27-28
The Big Gamble
Stephen Boyd, Juliette Greco

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, Sept. 29-30
A Thunder of Drums
Richard Boone, George Hamilton, Luana Patten

Hose Drop Opener to Paladins; Battle Lenoir - Rhyne Tomorrow

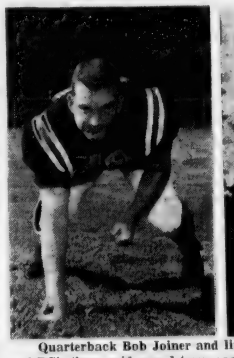
Rookies Look Good; Hose Seek Victory

The Blue Hose fell before the Purple Paladin running attack led by fullback Tom Campbell and halfback Tony Carmignani. The Furman backs rushed to a total of 307 yards against a PC line riddled with injuries.

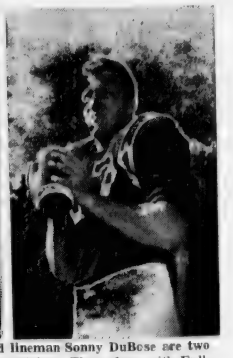
Highlighting the few Hose drivers in Greenville last Saturday was the arm of quarterback Bobby Joiner of Macon. Joiner completed 9 of 19 passes for 137 yards including a 42-yard pass to halfback Larry Madden in the dying seconds of the game.

Several of Presbyterian's rookie gridmen exhibited promising talent in last week's game and will be counted on for heavy duty this week in Hickory.

Halfback Madden, seeing his first action as a Blue Hose in the Furman game, collected 83 yards offensively—70 as a pass receiver and 13 running from his halfback slot. Tackle Jerry Lowder of Albemarle, N. C., and end Danny Ross of Augusta, stood out in line play. Freshman Jimmy Elliott of Savannah, turned in a good performance handling the punting chores.



The potential of these boys indicates that Coach Jones will continue to call on his new recruits as the season progresses.



GRID SQUAD GOES NORTH

Two strong football squads will be seeking to bounce back after poor showings last week. The Blue Hose of Presbyterian College, who fell before the mighty Paladins from Furman last week, invade Hickory, N. C., tomorrow night. They meet Lenoir Rhyne, a perennial small college power, who were tied by the Wofford Terriers a week ago.

The Bears of Lenoir Rhyne are led by hard-charging fullback Dick Kemp. Hose coach, Vic Spooner, who scouted the Wofford-Lenoir Rhyne game last weekend, tabbed Kemp as one of the best backs in the small college class.

Injuries still hamper the guard and center slots, with Al Coley of Atlanta, being the main loss. On the bright side of the scene are the return of extra-point specialist, end Louis Ridinger of Forest Park, Ga., and second-string quarterback, Art Williams of Cairo, Ga. Both have been sidelined for almost two weeks.

Quarterback Bob Joiner and lineman Sonny DuBose are two of PC's three grid squad team captains. They along with Fullback Joe Nixon will lead the 1961 Hosemen.

DuBose, Joiner, Nixon Captain Hose Grid Squad

Three of the stars who spirited Presbyterian to a 6 won-3 lost record last year have been elected 1961 football captains by the 17 returned lettermen.

This triumvirate is made up of Quarterback Bobby Joiner of Macon. Ga., Tackle Sonny DuBose, of Sumter, and Fullback Joe Nixon of Carrollton. Ga.

Coach Frank Jones expressed his agreement with the players' choices as he said: "The team has chosen three strong leaders who will serve well. They are all spirited ball players."

Quarterback Joiner, 210-pound ace passer, who already has the eye of professional scouts, led the team to a winning season last year as he completed 45 passes in 84 attempts for 544 yards. He is rated by Coach Jones as one of the South's top aerialists.

Tackle Sonny DuBose, 225-pounder, heading into his third year of stardom for the Hosemen, is PC's leading contender for post-season honors. DuBose, who has gained the respect of opponents as a first unit guard for the past two campaigns with his hard tackling on defense and crisp blocking on defense, was shifted to tackle in spring drills and continues his domineering play there. A leader off the field as well, he has been elected to serve as president of the PC student body for the coming year.

Fullback Nixon also is adjusting to a new position, having been shifted from quarterback to fullback to help solve a problem there. He ran behind Joiner on offense last year, but stepped to the fore as he starred defensively as head of the defensive backfield unit. Although a hard runner, Nixon's greatest asset is his sure-tackling ability.

PICK - A - WINNER

Try to match your skill with the experts. Pick the winners of the following gridiron battles. The winners will be announced in next week's paper—try your luck!

Name _____

Dorm _____

			Tie
Presbyterian	( )	Lenoir Rhyne	( ) ( )
Catawba	( )	Newberry	( ) ( )
Wofford	( )	Elon	( ) ( )
Duke	( )	South Carolina	( ) ( )
N. C.	( )	Wyoming	( ) ( )
Davidson	( )	Furman	( ) ( )
Wake Forest	( )	Baylor	( ) ( )
Florida	( )	Clemson	( ) ( )

I predict _____ points will be the winning margin in the Presbyterian-Lenoir Rhyne game.

RULES

1. Entries must be turned in to Bailey 216 or the Blue Stocking office before noon Saturday.
2. Entries must be on the above printed form.
3. Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4. In case of ties, the contestant most nearly guessing the winning margin of points scored in the PC-Lenoir Rhyne game will win.
5. No member of the Blue Stocking staff is eligible.

— WELCOME —
Freshmen and Upperclassmen
SUNSHINE
CLEANERS
...and...
LAUNDRY
Offers To All Students the Most Efficient Service in Town at the Most Reasonable Prices!
Located Behind Clinton Post Office

Dillard Boland, Jewelers, Inc.
Wide Selection of
GIFTS - JEWELRY - DIAMONDS
PC Students Welcome 103 E. Pitts St.

One Returns

Three New Faces On College Staff

Presbyterian College welcomes to its campus this year two new professors, Lt. Col. Richard Ulrich, military, and Mr. Paul Campbell, mathematics, and one who returns from a leave of absence, Mr. Louis "Pete" Hay, Bible.

Col. Ulrich will replace Lt. Col. W. W. Barnett as professor of military science of PC's ROTC unit. Col. Ulrich comes to PC from Fort Benning, Ga., where he has been connected with the infantry school for the past three years. He was an instructor of tactics the first two of these years and has served as commander of the 5th student battalion, Officer's Candidate School for the past year.

A 15-year veteran, Ulrich served for five years during WW II (from 1941 to 1946), returned to active duty in 1951 for the Korean Conflict, and has served actively since that date. He fought with the 54th armored Infantry in the European Theatre, and was a member of the Military Advisory Group in Korea among other assignments.

A native of Albany, N. Y., Col. Ulrich received his BA degree in History from The Citadel in 1941 and was commissioned immediately following his graduation. He is married and has two children.

Mr. Campbell comes to PC from Woodside High School near Greenville where he taught mathematics for one year. He is presently teaching remedial math, college algebra and trigonometry.

He received his BS in mathematics from Furman University in 1959 where he was a member of Chi Beta Phi National Science Fraternity, and his MA from Clemson in 1960. A native of Pelzer, he is married and has one child.

Mr. Hay returns to campus from a two-year leave of absence during which he completed his residence requirements for a Ph.D. at Emory University. He is presently engaged in writing his thesis which he hopes to complete this year.

Mr. Hay instructs in the Bible department. A former PC student, Mr. Hay received the general scholarship medal given annually to the senior who has the highest average in his class at his graduation in 1949. He received an AB in mathematics. Mr. Hay is married and has two children.

Stevenson Named Achievement Judge

Dr. John W. Stevenson, chairman of the Presbyterian College English Department, has been appointed a judge in the annual achievement awards competition of the National Council of Teachers of English.

Dr. James R. Squire, executive secretary of the council, today announced that Dr. Stevenson will judge South Carolina contestants in this effort to grant public recognition to some of the nation's outstanding students of high school English. The competition is now in its fourth year.

Dr. Brown to Attend Meet in Nashville

Dr. Marshall W. Brown, president of Presbyterian College, will leave Saturday to attend the annual meeting of the Southern Regional Education Board at Nashville.

He is one of the South Carolina representatives on this board which is meeting in conjunction with the Southern Governors Conference. It is scheduled to open officially next Monday.

Yarborough
Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

Pitts Men's Shop
Style Mart Clothes — Jantzen Sportswear
Nunn Bush, Jarman Shoes

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

Attention Students!
— See —
BOB'S
Men's Shop
SOUTH MAIN STREET
GREENVILLE, S. C.
— For —
A Complete Selection of Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

IT'S VERNON'S
For a Pleasant Place to Eat, With Atmosphere, Fine Food and a Genuine Welcome BOOTHS FOR THE CASUAL DINER
THE CANDLELIGHT ROOM
THE GREEN ROOM FOR PRIVATE PARTIES
COMPLETE CATERING SERVICE
U. S. Choice Steaks - - Sea Food
Filet Mignon - - - Shish Kabob
Rib of Beef Au Jus
IT'S NEW!
SELF-SERVICE CURB
CHARCO BURGER 19c
CHEESE BURGER 25c
12-OZ. MILK SHAKES 20c
Vernon's
Motor Lodge and Restaurant
Phone 833-2300

FOR THE FINEST IN FOOD
VISIT THE
Beacon Drive-In
We Specialize in
Tasty Sandwiches
and
Short Orders
WHITMIRE HWY.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

ONCE MORE, UNTO THE BREACH

With this installment I begin my eighth year of writing columns for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, as fine a bunch of men as you would meet in a month of Sundays—loyal, true, robust, windswept, forthright, tattooed—in short, precisely the kind of men you would expect them to be if you were familiar with the cigarettes they make—and I hope you are—for Marlboro, like its makers, is loyal, true, robust, windswept, forthright, tattooed.

There is, however, one important difference between Marlboro and its makers. Marlboro has a filter and the makers do not—except of course for Windswept T. Sigafoos, Vice President in charge of Media Research. Mr. Sigafoos does have a filter. I don't mean that Mr. Sigafoos personally has a filter. What I mean is that he has a filter in his swimming pool at his home in Fairbanks, Alaska. You might think that Fairbanks is rather an odd place for Mr. Sigafoos to live, being such a long distance from the Marlboro home office in New York City. But it should be pointed out that Mr. Sigafoos is not required to be at work until 10 A.M.

But I digress. This column, I say, will take up questions of burning interest to the academic world—like "Should French conversation classes be conducted in English?" and "Should students be allowed to attend first hour classes in pajamas and robes?" and "Can a student of 18 find happiness with an economics professor of 90?"

Because many of you are new to college, especially freshmen, perhaps it would be well in this opening column to start with campus fundamentals. What, for example, does "Alma Mater" mean? Well, sir, "Alma Mater" is Latin for "send money".

What does "Dean" mean? Well, sir, "Dean" is Latin for "don't get caught".

What does "dormitory" mean? Well, sir, "dormitory" is Latin for "bed of pain".

Next, let us discuss student-teacher relationships. In college the keynote of the relationship between student and teacher is informality. When you meet a teacher on campus, you need not salute. Simply tug your forelock. If you are bald and have no forelock, a low curtsey will suffice. In no circumstances should you polish a teacher's car or sponge and press his suit. It is, however, permissible to worm his dog.

With the President of the University, of course, your relationship will be a bit more formal. When you encounter the President, fling yourself prone on the sidewalk and sing loudly:

"Prexy is mine
Prexy is fine
Prexy has eyes
Of Lake Louise blue"

As you can see, the President of the University is called "Prexy". Similarly, Deans are called "Dixie". Professors are called "Proxie". Housemothers are called "Hoogie Mamie". Students are called "Arvine".

© 1961 Max Shulman

* * *

This unsponsored, free-wheeling column will be brought to you throughout the school year by the makers of Marlboro and Marlboro's partner in pleasure, the new, unfiltered, king-size Philip Morris Commander. If unfiltered cigarettes are your choice, try a Commander. You'll be welcome aboard.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., September 29, 1961 No. 2

Pershing Rifle Commander Skip Saverance discusses plans for this year's PR unit with the local chapter's staff members. The PC cadets will perform at halftime ceremonies tomorrow night.

Remodeled Pershing Rifle ROTC Unit Lists Plans For Year's Activities

The Pershing Rifle Company will hold an open social for all MSI students on October 2 at 7:30 in Judd Dining Hall. Invitations to membership in the crack drill organization will be issued later this fall.

With the change-over in the ROTC unit from Battle Group to Battalion status, the Pershing Rifles were incorporated within the organization as a company. Previously, the PR's had functioned as a separate drill team drilling on their own time.

They were first organized as a unit on the Presbyterian College campus in 1959 and at that time were not an integarl part of the Battle Group which contained its own Drill Platoon.

Company commander of this year's PR's is Skip Saverance, who is assisted by Joe Ben Davis, executive officer. The staff consists of Joe Nixon, S-1; Eugene Goodwyn, S-2; Dickie Carr, S-3; and Bob Beddingfield, S-4.

Paul Woodall is platoon leader and he is assisted by platoon sergeant Bill Barlee. Captain Scott is the group's advisor.

A precision drill performance will be presented at the Wofford game Saturday night by the PR's during the halftime intermission. Other engagements will include performances at the Appalachian game on Parent's Day, in the Christmas Parade and at the Regimental Drill Meet in Atlanta in the spring.

Scabbard and Blade Taps New Member

Company K, Tenth Regiment, PC's chapter of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade honorary military fraternity, tapped thirteen new members yesterday afternoon at drill period. The thirteen, all senior cadets, were chosen on the basis of outstanding leadership and proficiency in military subjects.

Those tapped by Capt. Heyward Nettles, head of Company K, include: Richard Carr, Jerry Chitty, Richard Boland, Graham Edmunds, and Guy Hancock.

Also named were Bland Quantz, Douglas Miller, Jimmy Thompson, Bill Matthews, Joe Nixon, Byron Hollingsworth, and Bob Wylie.

It was announced that formal initiation will be held Monday, October 16. This will be followed by a supper for all old and new members.

Thurmond Appoints PC Grad Assistant

Senator Strom Thurmond has announced the appointment of Edward B. Kenney of Aiken as his executive assistant, succeeding Robert O. DuPre, of Walhalla, who has been appointed assistant district attorney in the Western District of South Carolina.

Kenney, a graduate of Presbyterian College, was formerly a member of the staff of the Aiken Standard and Review.

Redd, Smith Claim Cheerleaders Posts

Carter Redd and Phil Smith were elected to the PC cheerleader squad in a special election held Wednesday. They obtained majorities over several other nominees in the election which saw 407 votes cast.

These two will join Guy Handcock, head cheerleader, Doug Miller, Dickie Carr, Tracy Jennings, Jan Maddox, and Judy Bolton, all present members of the cheerleading squad.

Student body nominations for class officers will be Wednesday in the Douglas House from 9:00 a. m .until 2:00 p. m. Also at this time, nominations will be cast for freshman representatives to the Student Council. A run-off election will then be held the following Wednesday from the slate of nominees.

Sells Announces PaC-SaC Contest

Frank Sells, editor of the 1962 PaC-SaC, announced today that his staff is opening the 1961 Miss PaC-SaC contest.

PC students knowing beautiful women, should present five by seven or larger glossy photographs of these damsels to Rick Saunders in Bailey 109. The deadline is October 21, 1961.

The PaC-Sac staff will select finalists, who will be interviewed on either the Homecoming or the Christmas weekend.

The name, age, and school of each girl, plus the name of her sponsor, should be printed on the back of her photograph.

IFC Interprets Rules For Annual Rush Event

The IFC met Thursday afternoon and agreed upon interpretations of the rush rules which will be put into effect immediately.

1. Each fraternity will be allowed only one open social and one smoker during rush season to which new men are invited.

2. New men may go to fraternity rooms at any times other than at a registered dance or an open or closed social during rush period.

3. Off campus (meaning outside of city limits), private or individual parties are not within the scope of the IFC constitution. If it becomes a problem the IFC will have the right to rule.

4. The constitution will be laid on the table during homecoming and parents day.

The above interpretations, however, are subject to rules of the constitution.

The following resolutions were also put into effect:

1. New men are not to be allowed in fraternity lodges or parties on or off campus at this homecoming dance between the hours of 8:30 and 11:00 p. m.

2. The IFC rules all fraternity parties closed for new men this weekend, September 30-October 2.

The meeting Thursday also included a drawing for locations of homecoming displays.

The Kappa Alpha display will be located on the lawn in front of the Douglas House. Alpha Sigma Phi will set up its display on the plaza, southeast of the flag pole. Just to the north of that display will be the Theta Chi project.

Pi Kappa Alpha will be located in the vicinity of the flag pole while Sigma Nu's display will be between Spencer dormitory and Jacobs Science Hall. Pi Kappa Phi's project will be somewhere in front of Neville Hall.

The IFC reminds all students that tickets for the IFC dance are now available in the Douglas House.

Chapel Services

Monday—Chapel Devotional

Wednesday — Rev. Robert Hunt, Pastor, Green Street Presbyterian Church, Augusta, Ga.

Friday—Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Committee Outlines Dress Restrictions

A report listing the modes of dress on the PC campus was submitted by a Special Student, Administrative, and Faculty Committee to the Student Body early this week. Campus and community dress consists of shoes, socks, trousers or appropriate shorts, and sport shirts with the tail tucked in.

When a student attends concerts, church functions or Sunday dinner, he wears a dress shirt with tie, coat and trousers; shoes with socks.

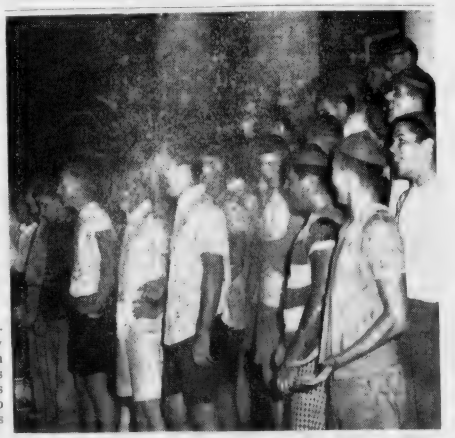
Smoking has been touched, too. It is permitted in most areas of the college. Smoking in class is at the discretion of the instructor, however, and students are expected to use ash trays. No smoking is permitted in the main gymnasium or in Belk Auditorium.

Non-Credit Courses

College Announces Evening Classes

Presbyterian College will offer non-credit evening courses beginning October 17, Dr. John Stevenson, head of the English Department and director of the new Adult Evening School, announced today.

The classes originated through the faculty Academic Advisory Committee in cooperation with the Clinton Chamber of Commerce. Courses will be offered as a community project and to make the college more available to the residents of the area for further education. Present plans call for annual renewal of the evening classes.



Classes will be held at 7:30 p. m. and 8:30 p. m., Tuesday evenings only, beginning Oct. 17 and continuing for ten weeks through December 19. Members of the PC faculty will lecture on 18 of the 19 subjects being offered. Dan Yarborough, prominent Clinton photographer, will teach the remaining one course entitled Photography. Brochures listing courses offered will be available at a later date.

All courses offered are non-credit courses and are primarily for interested people. Stevenson stated that in the future it is hoped full credit night courses will be available, however, due to lmited teaching facilities, this is impossible at the present time.

The Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, which is the eccreditory agency of the college, limits the number of hours professors may instruct, and Stevenson cited this as another reason for the non-credibility. Classes will be limited to lectures with no tests or examinations.

Stevenson announced registration will be held all day Monday, October 16, and from 6:00 p. m. to 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, October 17, in Neville Hall, room 101.

A fee of fifteen dollars per course will be charged plus an additional three dollar registration fee. A minimum of ten students is required for each course. All PC students are welcome to attend, but will be subject to the same fees.

Monsoon season once again invades the PC campus, as freshmen sing the dearly beloved "April Showers." It is expected the flowers will bloom in May as usual.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Editor's Notebook

WE EXTEND OUR THANKS to Mrs. Taylor for being instrumental in securing the new pool table and TV set for the Douglas House. These are two great assets to the recreational facilities of the building. Only through good care can we use these additions to any length of time.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS have taken place on the campus since last June. A new piano has been purchased and is presently in the Wyatt Chapel. The college has hired a regular worker who tends only to the shrubbery and flowers around the buildings. We believe this has brought an improved look to the campus plant. It is nice some of the larger bushes were trimmed; now we are able to see the front of Neville and Leroy Springs.

A combined student and faculty committee has introduced a set of rules of dress on our campus. We endorse these whole-heartedly believing an improvement will be made in the general appearance of the students and that they were long overdue.

The use of the rooms in Belk Auditorium as faculty offices and classrooms is another of the many improvements. This not only puts an end to some of our wasted space, but also relieves the over-crowded condition and shortage of class space. Who knows—maybe before long we won't have any wasted space at all.

The chairs in the Radio Forum room are another improvement. They've been re-upholstered you know—Ah, sweet mysteries of life!

THERE HAS, HOWEVER, been some destruction on our campus. If we expect to see any further improvements, we must not destroy, lest we keep the maintenance crews busy fixing up rather than adding to.

Mr. Madden reports there was considerable abuse to the soft drink machines over the summer. You who were not in summer school do not feel blameless, remember last year? Unless conditions change, the price of drinks will rise to fifteen cents. If this does not work, there will be no drink machines on campus at all.

We almost forgot—the horseshoe courts have been fixed again and are ready for another season. Has anyone seen the horseshoes?

THANKS for the aisle mats.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE HARVARD, Greek Editor

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The PiKAs planned their first party of the year with the Sigma Nu Fraternity after the football game Saturday night.

New furniture has been ordered for the fraternity suite.

Brothers of the week were Bill Russell and Robert Miller. They earned the title due to the admirers on campus.

THETA CHI

The brothers and pledges of Theta Chi are busy making plans for this year. Arrangements for the open social are now being completed. A project committee for improvements to the Fraternity suite is also hard at work.

KAPPA ALPHA

Beta Pi Chapter enjoyed its open social Wednesday night with the freshmen, transfer students, and other guests.

We are looking forward to the joint Tea Dance Saturday afternoon with Delta Chapter of Wofford. The Famous Tams will furnish the music at the Mary Musgrove.

SIGMA NU

In continuance with last week's meeting, Zeta Theta discussed more fully the plans for rush season and plans for the open social October 4th. were completed. Plans for Homecoming weekend were discussed also. A get-together with the PiKA's will follow the Wofford game Saturday night. Congratulations to Bill Stone and Howard Turner on their recent initiation into the Brotherhood.

PI KAPPA PHI

We would like to congratulate John L. Donaldson, Jim Rakestraw, Bruce Barnes, and Gordon Mayhugh on being initiated into the brotherhood Thursday night.

We wish to thank Floyd Fuller for his hard work in the fraternity room during the summer.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The chapter extends its congratulations to new pledges Loren Eagles, Carter Redd, and Sammy Rochester.

Plans were made at the weekly meeting for our Open Social to be held October 11. Plans were also made for a party to be held in the fraternity suite following the Wofford-PC football game.

Analyzation of a Poem

TOM MORRISON, Feature Editor

In order to fulfill a truly big need of the many PC English students who must obligingly study poetry analysis, a profound interpretation of this world's outstanding metrical composition will follow.

The chosen selection was penned (there having apparently been no typewriter on hand) by a Greek (as deduced from his strange name of Anonymous) who is following in the steps of Homer (last name not given), Edgar Poe, Al Tennyson, and Chauncey DePew (and I'll just insert this phrase here in order to establish a new record for the number of parentheses in one sentence). Now, town to business.

I was once walking upon a mountain top
When right in front of me a
Martian did plop.
Of height and weight and width
it had lots
And was colored purple with pink polka dots.

It can first of all be discovered through careful reading that the scene takes place on top of a mountain. This knowledge obviously raises deep metaphysical, spiritual, and immoral complexities, for who can rightly diffrentiate between the exact top of a mountain and its side? In simpler terms, an exemplificative introspection is behoovedly intoned through paradoxically sanguineous and conjectural shadings of plenipotentiaries.

We have now been put in a somber mood for the second line, which confronts us with a flashing brilliance equivalent to the naked sun beating furiously down upon a sparkling brook of pure vodka. The suspense involved at this juncture has reportedly given various readers nearly permanent convulsions.

Line three is superficially simple and yet contains such truly deep thoughts that it defies explanation. Therefore we pass to to the concluding verse.

Here we find a choice example of figurative language—which means that the poet is too ashamed, frightened, or wayout to say directly what he really means. Purple, of course, typifies royalty while pink connotes fragarance. When these inferences are combined with the fact that the word "polka dot" is strictly defined as a pattern of many round dots regularly distributed, then the conclusion must be reached that the Martian carried a kingsized smell around to all directions.

Now you have seen demonstrated the joys of figuring out a masterpiece. Details will soon be forthcoming on how to join a purely non-profit organization for poetical study. Initiation fee probably will not exceed fifteen or twenty dollars per human being. Keep posted.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I DON'T UNDERSTAND WHY I'M NOT PERMITTED TO ENROLL—THESE TEST SCORES ALONE PROVE I NEED AN EDUCATION MORE THAN THE REST OF THOSE GUYS!"

Book Review

Red Diplomacy Reviewed

by Sanders Read

Russia and the West Under Lenin and Stalin is a book every American should read, and then hope that the rest of the world will read it also. The author, George F. Kennan, had a long and distinguished career with our state department, much of it in Russia, eventually serving as the United States Ambassador to the Soviet Union. He is today one of the foremost authorities on this subject, and his book is both intelligent and objective.

Beginning with the Bolshevik Revolution in 1917, Mr. Kennan traces Russo - Western relations through the time of Stalin's death in 1953. In his account the author makes no attempt to conceal the numerous mistakes in Western Diplomacy. At the same time, he clearly illustrates Russian distoration of many of our motives. The truth as revealed in this book serves not only to enlighten Americans, but is also a valuable weapon in combatting Communist propoganda. The book also explains something of the relations of the Western allies in their dealings with Russia.

What I consider most interesting about this book is its discussion of Russian, or more specifically, Communist policy. The Communists have repeatedly altered, even reversed, their stand when it proved to their advantage. For instance, Lenin condemned annexation in 1917. In further explaining his point, he stated: "If any people is held by force within the borders of a given state, if such a people in defiance of its expressed wish—whether this wish be expressed . . . in deprisings against the national yoke—is not given the right of deciding, free of every form of duress, by free elections . . . what form of national existence it wishes to have . . . then the incorporation of such a state should be called annexation, i.e., an act of seizure and force." With this in mind, one has but to look at the crushing of the 1956 Hungarian Revolt to realize how the Communists change their tune to suit their

(Continued on page 4)

Crudely Speaking

A bird in the hand can be embarrassing.

A penny saved is not a hell of a lot of money.

If at first you don't succeed, forget it.

Evil is the root of most money.

Evolution is what makes the monkey in the zoo ask, "Am I my keeper's brother?"

Beware of other people, most of them are scoundrels like yourself.

Drinking and driving don't mix, so keep your car out of bars.

They said it couldn't be done, so I didn't even try.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR MURRAY WHITE
News Editor Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor Loren Eagles

George Lane lines up his cue for a shot on the new pool table which has been put in Douglas House. Looking on, Harold Raeford doubts whether the shot will be good.

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

One Play

One often wonders if one incident, action or play can break the spirit of an individual, group or team. It can!

The PC football team started off against Lenoir Rhyne last Saturday night with what appeared to be a half-spirited effort. They just managed to stay in the game during the first hal. and managed only a spark of offensive.

Evidently the PC coaching staff had the magic words to break the seeming spiritlessness of the players, because they came back onto the field at Hickory an entirely different ball club.

PC quickly took the opennig kick-off and drove for their first score. After holding the hard-charging Bears in check and forcing them to punt they drove once more to the Lenoir Rhyne 8-yard line.

'Then came THE ONE PLAY. With first and goal at the 8-yard line Joiner went back to pass. It was intercepted and run back 72 yards. After that the team was once again that of the first half.

The Blue Hose have proven they they can do it, so let's get out to the game tomorrow night and make sure they keep that spirit.

SOX PREDICTIONS

The Lenoir Rhyne Bears seek to complete their sweep of the ex-Little Three as they take on the Newberry Indians in Hickory, N. C. The Newberry Indians go into this game with a perfect 2-0 record. The Bears will be seeking additional vengeance for their tie with Wofford two weeks ago and will be too much for Coach Kirkland's Indians. Lenoir Rhyne by 10.

The other two members of this trio will be clashing in PC's home opener tomorrow night. By justice of their better showing against the Bears of Lenoir Rhyne, Wofford should be the definite favorite. It looks like an upset in the making with the Blue Hose taking victory number one by six.

SPORTS NOTEBOOK

Congratulations to our new cheerleaders, Carter Redd and Phil Smith . . . Our head cheerleader, Guy Hancock, has some great plans for our games, so let's all give him our support . . . Quarterback Tommy Ellis of Wofford ranks tenth among NAIA college passers, while our own Bobby Joiner holds down the sixth spot . . . Last Saturday Davidson had 12 men on the field against Furman for two plays and still could not stop the Paladins . . . Our intramural season gets into full swing this week and intramural head Joe Harvard is looking forward to another successful season . . . Former student coach for PC, Billy Tiller, is now coaching for Manning Hi . . . Last year's basketball co-captain Ernie "Jumper" Redd is now teaching and coaching at Fairforest . . . Congratulations to co-captain Sonny DuBose and his wife, Joan, on the birth of a 7-lb., 11-oz., baby girl, Saber Simon . . . End Fred Cook leads PC pass receivers with six catches for 88 yards . . . Quarterback Bobby Joiner has completed 21 of 41 attempted passes in our first two games for 317 yards and a 51.2% accuray percentage . . . The Wofford Terriers, PC's opponent tomorrow night, are ranked 10th in the NAIA small college rating this week, while the Bears of Lenoir Rhyne are 6th.

Gridsquad Loses Second Contest; Joiner, Hampton, May Lead Team

• Cook Outstanding

by Bruce Barnes

The Presbyterian College Blue Hose lost their second game of the season to the fired-up Bears of Lenoir Rhyne 28-8 last Saturday night. The Bears, from Hickory, N. C., last season's NAIA champion, started off strong. They scored in the first period on a 10-yard run by Midgett. In the second quarter Richard Kemp, one of the fullbacks in small college football, scored their second touchdown from one yard out. The Hose offense sputtered throughout the first half with the passing of Bobby Joiner being the only bright spot.

The Hose took the kickoff of the second half and began to move. With the running of Hampton and May and the passing of Joiner they moved to their first score. It came on a pass from Joiner to Larry Madden. Joiner's toss to end Donny Ross brought the score to 14-8.

After the kickoff the PC line held the Bears and forced them to punt. The big Blue then drove quickly inside the Lenoir Rhyne ten-yard line. With first and goal to go one of Joiner's passes was intercepted and run back seventy yards.

Lenoir Rhyne went on to score in the third quarter on a 16-yard pass and make the two-point extra point play. They scored again in the fourth quarter on a one-yard run, but the pass for the extra point failed. This made the final score Lenoir Rhyne 28, PC 8.

Standouts in the Blue Hose forward wall were Randy Fitzpatrick, Jerry Hammock, Kermit Littlefield, and Jerry Lowder. In the PC secondary Bobby Sherrell was the standout performer on defense. Fred Cook showed once again his outstanding pass-catching ability.

End Fred Cook stretches high to pull in a pass thrown by Bobby Joiner in last week's Lenoir Rhyne game.

Wofford Invades PC; Hose Hope for Win

This weekend will be an important one for the Blue Hose, as they take on the Wofford Terriers in the first game of the season in Johnson Stadium. The Terriers come to Clinton fresh from a 20-12 victory over the Indians of Catawaba College and a 14-14 tie with the same Lenoir Rhyne team which defeated PC last week.

The Hose are led by Bobby Joiner who ranked sixth among the nation's NAIA passers last week. End Fred Cook leads the receivers with six receptions for 8 yards. Leading the PC ground attack is halfback Jimmy May of Greenwood with 76 total yards in 23 carries.

Wofford will be sporting their own quarterback in Tommy Ellis, who after his fine performance against Lenoir Rhyne, was named Player of the Week by South Carolina writers. The Terriers have gotten fine performance from linemen Dan Lewis, George Padgett, and Wayne Rogers. Halfbacks Bob Roma and Paul Davis are the mainstays of the Wofford running attack.

Along the PC forward wall the services of Alvin Coley and Sonny DuBose will be greatly missed. Leading the Blue Hose line this Saturday will be Jerry Hammock, Frank King, and Randy Fitzpatrick. The Hose hope to continue their past dominance of the Terriers.

BROADWAY Theatre
MONDAY thru SATURDAY
October 2-7
Come September
Rock Hudson, Gina Lollobrigida
Sandra Dee, Bobby Darin
Saturday Afternoon Only
"Road Runner" Cartoon Show
Two Shows: 1:00 and 3:00 P.M.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

Intramurals

Next Week Begins Full Football Slate

Time draws near for the start of another year of Intramurals on the campus of Presbyterian College. Football heads this highly participated in program which will be followed by the rest of the major sports. The intramural program got quite a boost this year as Mr. Warden, Tennis Coach, is to supervise our program. He will be assisted by Joe Harvard, this school year's new Intramural Chairman, and by those who make up Joe's fine council.

Although one game is being played this week, next week sees the Intramural football squads swing into full tilt. Teams entered this year are seven in number. These include Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Alpha Sigma Phi, and Sigma Nu fraternity teams and The Freshmen and the Independent teams. Rivalry is keen, so let's all turn out and cheer our favorite team on.

Officials are neeeded for this year's football events. These officials will receive money for this. If anyone is interested in being a referee, please contact Joe Harvard in Smyth A.

Pigskinners List Future Job Plans

Thirteen future coaches are toiling in the pre-season training drills of the Presbyterian College Blue Hose.

A pool of the 63 gridmen now working out for this week's Wofford gridiron contest, revealed these prospective careers among the Hosemen: business administration, listed by 7 men; dentistry, 3; education, 2; the ministry, 2; and medicine, forestry, recreation, textiles, social service, civil engineering, the military, piloting, and director of religious education, 1 each. Twenty-four are undecided.

PICK - A - WINNER

Try to match your skill with the experts. Pick the winners of the following gridiron battles. The winners will be announced in next week's paper. Last week's winner was Copeland Whitmire.

Name _____

Dorm _____

			Tie
Presbyterian	( ) Wofford	( ) ( )
Newberry	( ) Lenoir Rhyne	( ) ( )
UNC	( ) NC State	( ) ( )
Maryland	( ) Clemson	( ) ( )
Citadel	( ) Davidson	( ) ( )
USC	( ) Wake Forest	( ) ( )
Furman	( ) George Washington	( ) ( )

I predict _____ points will be the winning margin in the Presbyterian-Wofford game.

RULES

1. Entries must be turned in to Bailey 216 or the Blue Stocking office before noon Saturday.
2. Entries must be on the above printed form
3. Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4. In case of ties, the contestant most nearly guessing the winning margin of points scored in the PC-Lenoir Rhyne game will win.
5. No member of the Blue Stocking staff is eligible.

Prospective College Material

A Freshman's Views of College Life

by Roothind Falenwider

Occasionally, despite girls, cars, football, and telephone, some teen-ager manages to become prospective college material. Then begins the great American ritual of choosing the proper college.

First, the applicant has several dozen heart-to-heart talks with representatives from the various institutions. Finally, after thoroughly considering the colleges' claims for several minutes, he chooses the place where his studies are the least likely to interfere with his social ability.

He sends in his application and receives a little sheet telling him to write his life history in twenty-five words or less. The applicant usually does this on his own—for his father has probably been telling him for several years that he's going to be completely liberal and wants his child to go where he will be happiest.

When the progeny announces that he will be the happiest at Harvard University ($3400 per annum), several modifications appear in father's speech. The revised standard version usually runs somthing like this, "Yes, son, I'm gong to be completely open minded. You may either go to college where I tell you to or you may go to work."

Having made his decision, the applicant will possibly want to visit his future alma mater. His school will probably possess some special atmosphere.

For instance, a traditional beautiful old Southern school will generally consist of several buildings designed to look like run-down plantation houses. Closer examination may in fact reveal that the buildings are run-down plantation houses.

The religiously spirited school's in a way terrifying. Each student seems on the verge of ascension into heaven and the applicant is never sure that one of them isn't and going to take off.

This friendly school usually catches the applicant by surprise. He arrives on the campus and sets out on a tour of inspection. Suddenly, several hundred people, crying and sobbing, their faces aglow with brotherly love, run up to him and try to shake his hand. If his shoulder is not dislocated, he may escape drowning from the "tear-fall."

In all probability the applicant will meet the campus personalities. This will be the athletes, who look like bears, or gorillas, or like they have been the victims of a head-on collision involving a bicycle and a freight train—for college football is rough. (Someone has said that home is where you hang your hat. But if you are a college football player, home is where you get hung.)

There will be the members of the rifle team, who wander around disconcertingly pointing their index fingers at the applicant and making "Bang noises" or click noises, depending on whether they're loaded.

The applicant will probably see a few married students, too —easily recognized by the dull gleam in their eyes which some poets refer to as the look of fulfillment, true love, etc. Actually, it's because they were walking baby at 3:00 a. m. that morning.

The applicant will return home and, if accepted, await entrance the next year. His ritual is over. His only consolation is that he may be able to get drunk enough to forget it.

FOR THE FINEST IN FOOD

VISIT THE

Beacon Drive-In

We Specialize in

Tasty Sandwiches

and

Short Orders

WHITMIRE HWY.

SAVE MONEY
WITH THESE LOW COLLEGE RATES!

PLAYBOY (1 yr reg $6)	$5.00
PLAYBOY (2 yrs reg $11)	9.00
TIME (1 yr reg $7)	5.00
TIME (2 yrs	7.00
US News and WR (39 wks)	3.67
NEWSWEEK (1 yr reg $6)	3.00
NEWSWEEK (34 weeks)	2.50
LIFE (1 yr reg $5.95)	4.00
LIFE (2 yrs)	7.00
Sports Ill. (1 yr reg $6.75)	4.00
SPORTS ILLUSTRATED (2 yrs)	7.50
Harper's Monthly (1 yr reg $6)	3.00
Saturday Review (1 yr reg $7)	4.00
SATURDAY REVIEW (2 years)	7.00
NEW YORKER (8 mos reg $5)	3.00
ATLANTIC MONTHLY (8 mos)	3.00
Archit Forum (1 yr reg $6.50)	3.25
Christian Sci Mon (6 mos)	5.50
ESQUIRE (8 mos reg $4)	2.00
Ladies Home Jour (23 mos reg $5)	2.85
Sat. Eve. Post (39 wks reg $4.50)	2.98
LOOK (1 yr reg $4)	2.00
MADEMOISELLE (1 yr reg $5)	2.50
Good Housekeeping (2 yrs reg $6)	3.50
READER'S DIGEST (8 mos)	FREE
SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN (1 yr)	6.00
The Reporter (1 yr reg $6)	4.50
New Republic (1 yr reg $8)	5.00
THE NATION (1 yr reg $8)	6.00
Manchester Guardian (1 yr AIR)	8.00
REALITES (1 yr reg $15)	10.00
GRAPHIS (1 yr reg $15)	11.25
NY TIMES Sunday only (1 yr)	25.00
NY TIMES Book Review (1 yr)	6.50
AMERICAN HOME (25 mos)	3.25
Amer Jour of Medicine (1 yr)	10.00
Amer Jour of Surgery (1 yr)	13.00
Art Direction (1 yr reg $6)	5.00
Art News (1 yr reg $11.50)	8.99
Arts & Archit (1 yr reg $5)	3.00
Better Homes & Gardens (1 yr)	3.00
Car & Driver (1 yr reg $5)	3.00
Changing Times (1 yr)	6.00
Downbeat (1 yr reg $7)	5.60
Electronic World (1 yr reg $5)	3.00
FLYING (1 yr reg $5)	3.00
FORBES (1 yr reg $7.50)	5.00
FORTUNE (1 yr reg $10)	7.50
GLAMOUR (1 yr reg $5)	3.00
Harper's Bazaar (1 yr reg $5)	3.00
Hi-Fidelity (15 mos reg $7)	3.75
Hi-Fi Stereo Review (1 yr reg $5)	2.50
HOLIDAY (15 mos reg $7.50)	3.75
House Beautiful (2 yrs reg $10)	6.00
HOUSE & GARDEN (1 yr reg $6)	3.50
HOME (1 yr reg $6)	4.50
Living 4 Young Hmkrs (1 yr)	2.00
Modern Bride (1 yr reg $3)	2.00
McCALL'S (1 year)	3.00
Modern Photography (1 yr reg $4)	2.00
Popular Boating (1 yr reg $5)	3.00
Popular Electronics (1 yr reg $4)	2.00
Popular Mech (20 mos reg 5.80)	2.98
Popular Photography (1 yr reg $5)	2.50
REDBOOK (1 yr)	3.00
ROAD & TRACK (1 yr reg $5)	4.00
SCIENCE DIGEST (1 yr)	3.50
The Second Coming (15 issues)	4.00
Show Business Ill (1 year)	7.00
SING OUT (1 yr reg $3.60)	2.50
SKI MAGAZINE (2 yrs reg $5)	3.00
SKIING NEWS (2 yrs reg $5)	3.00
SUNSET (2 yrs reg $5)	3.00
Theatre Arts (9 mos reg $5.65)	5.00
Town & City (22 mos reg 13.75)	8.50
TV Guide (44 wks reg 4.40)	3.37
VOGUE (1 yr 20 issues	5.00

★ORDER NOW, publisher will bill you later
STUDENT SUBSCRIPTION SERVICE
1742 N Kenmore, Los Angeles 27, Calif
Enclosed $..... Send subscription to name .....
address .....
city ..... zone .. state ..... college ..... class of '
☐renew ☐gift from .....

Howard's Pharmacy

Your Rexall Drug Store

COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE

ON THE SQUARE

— WELCOME —
Freshmen and Upperclassmen

SUNSHINE
CLEANERS
...and...
LAUNDRY

Offers To All Students the Most Efficient Service in Town at the Most Reasonable Prices!

Located Behind Clinton Post Office

Theta Chi Leads Scholarship Ratings

Theta Chi Fraternity is ranked first in the spring semester scholastic ratings of the Greek social fraternities. The Theta Chi's compiled an average grade point ratio of 2.57 for the semester.

Rated second was Kappa Alpha with an average of 2.30, and Alpha Sigma Phi finished third with an average of 2.25. Sigma Nu averaged 2.18 for fourth place. Pi Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Phi rounded out the ratings with a tie at 2.16.

The all-fraternity average for second semester was 2.27, compared with the all-men's average of 2.23. The non-fraternity average was 2.19.

Open Social

This week's Open Social will be given by Sigma Nu Fraternity. Their house is located on Holland Street, next to the baseball field.

Red Diplomacy

(Continued from page 2)

dance. And this is but one example of Communist policy.

One cannot help but have a better understanding of the world situation today after reading Mr. Kennan's book. In conclusion, I would term this interesting and important reading for any lover of freedom and the Western way of life.

(This book is published by Little, Brown and Company, Boston. For those who prefer not to purchase, our library has a copy of Mr. Kennans' book.)

PC's PiKA Chapter Is Nation's First

Mu Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha has received the Robert A. Smyth Award for the outstanding Pi Kappa Alpha Chapter in the nation. This is the second time in five years Mu has been the recipient of this honor.

The award is given for general chapter proficiency and ranks Mu number one among 118 chapters throughout the United States. Besides this award, Mu has won the Hippel Award for Campus Activities and the Lynn Award for Chapter Reporting.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf," "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis," etc.)

THE GIRL I LEFT BEHIND ME

It happens every day. A young man goes off to college, leaving his home town sweetheart with vows of eternal love, and then he finds that he has outgrown her. What, in such cases, is the honorable thing to do?

Well sir, you can do what Rock Sigafoos did.

When Rock left Cut and Shoot, Pa., he said to his sweetheart, a simple country lass named Tess d' Urbevilles, "My dear, though I am far away in college, I will love you always. I will never look at another girl. If I do, may my eyeballs parch and wither, may my viscera writhe like adders, may the moths get my new tweed jacket!"

Then he clutched Tess to his bosom and planted a final kiss upon her fragrant young skull and went away, meaning with all his heart to be faithful.

But on the very first day of college he met a coed named Fata Morgana, a girl of such sophistication, such poise, such savoir-faire as Rock had never beheld. She spoke knowingly of Franz Kafka, she hummed Mozart, she smoked Marlboros.

"You can hit me in the stomach, if you like."

Now, Rock didn't know Franz Kafka from Pancho Villa, or Mozart from James K. Polk, but Marlboros he knew full well. He knew that anyone who smoked Marlboros was modern and advanced and as studded with brains as a ham with cloves. Good sense tells you that you can't beat Marlboro's exclusive selectrate filter, and you never could beat Marlboro's fine flavor. This Rock knew.

So all day he followed Fata around campus and listened to her talk about Franz Kafka, and then in the evening he went back to the dormitory and found this letter from his home town sweetheart Tess:

Dear Rock,

Us kids had a keen time yesterday. We went down to the pond and caught some frogs. I caught the most of anybody. Then we hitched rides on trucks and did lots of nutsy stuff like that. Well, I must close now because I got to whitewash the fence.

Your friend,
Tess

P.S. I can do my Hula Hoop 3,000 times.

Well sir, Rock thought about Tess and then he thought about Fata and then a great sadness fell upon him. Suddenly he knew he had outgrown young, innocent Tess; his heart now belonged to smart, sophisticated Fata.

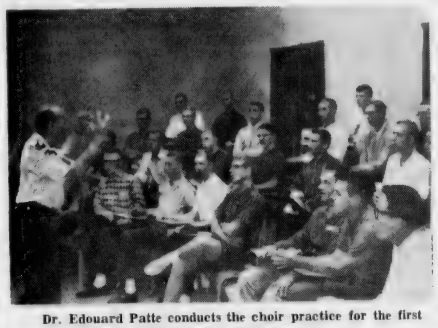
Rock, being above all things honorable, returned forthwith to his home town and walked up to Tess and looked her in the eye and said manlily, "I do not love you any more. I love a girl named Fata Morgana. You can hit me in the stomach with all your might if you like."

"That's okay, hey," said Tess amiably. "I don't love you neither. I found a new boy."

"What is his name?" asked Rock.

"Franz Kafka," said Tess.

"A splendid fellow," said Rock and shook Tess's hand, and they have remained good friends to this day. In fact, Rock and Fata often double-date with Franz and Tess and have heaps of fun. Franz can do the Hula Hoop 6,000 times.



* * *

Marlboro, in the king-size soft pack and famous flip-top box, is sold and enjoyed in all 50 States. And king-size unfiltered Philip Morris Commander, made of superb natural tobaccos, is also available wherever you travel.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., October 6, 1961 No. 3

Dr. Edouard Patte conducts the choir practice for the first concert tour November 1.—Photo by Cooper.

Council Post, Class Officers Nominated in Election Wednesday

Nominations were held this past Wednesday to select officers to represent, the freshman, the sophomore, the junior and senior classes. There are also nominations for student council representative in the freshman class. The results showed that seventy-two were nominated for the different offices that are open.

Students may only vote for classmates in class elections. However, all students may vote for the freshman student council representatives. Elections will be held next Wednesday in the Douglas House from 9:00 a. m. until 2:00 p. m. The 1961 Homecoming Queen will also be chosen during this election.

The nominations were as follows: Freshman Class: President — Glen Browder, Dewitt Hodges, Ray Summerlin, and Danny Charles. Vice-President —Wiley Jones, George Lewis, Don McInnis, and Ray Nelson. Secretary—Susanna Jeanes, Hal Zorn, David Mabie, and Sandy Hagood. Treasurer—Paul Conger, John Smith, Dennis Hill, and Lee Davis.

Nominees for freshmen student council representatives included Hal Jordan, Jere Ard, Sandy Hagood, Charlie Jordan, Bud Alford, and Susanna Jeanes.

Sophomore Class: President—Bill Tyson, Tommy Williams, Russell Strange and Gordon Mayhugh. Vice-President—Joel Wilson, Frank King, Robert Elrod and Tommy Thompson. Secretary—Bill Shearer, Tom Johnson, Bill Gilespie, Tommy Braswell, and Jan Rhodes. Treasurer—Bob Litteer, Leon Bullard, Arthur DeYoung, and Frank Cooper.

Junior Class: President—Gary Brown, Alex Bosserman, David Harrill, and Bill Bartee. Vice - President — Marshall Jones, Wirt Skinner, Mike Gryder, and Grif Helwig; Secretary —C. J. Ray, Jim McQuire, Loren Eagles, and Harold Hope. Treasurer—Kent Mitchell, Rollin Butler, Bill Bryan, John Donaldson, and Jack Crider.

Senior Class: President—Paul Layton, Leland Vaughan, Mike Jarrett, and Bobby Joiner. Vice-President—Jerry Chitty, Joe Nixon, Cricket Lowry, and Bill Matthews. Secretary—Billy Ray Ladd, Bill Stone, Alan Pitts, and Doug Miller. Treasurer—Joe Davis, Lovell Smith, Charlie Cook, and Heyward Nettles.

Schedule Posted Listing Robed Choir Concerts

The Presbyterian College Robed Choir will present its first program of the season when it journeys to the Kingston Presbyterian Church in Conway on November 19. On the same date the choir will also sing in the Lake City Presbyterian Church.

The trip to Conway and Lake City will be the first weekend trip of the season. Throughout the year the group will travel in South Carolina and Georgia on weekend tours and through the state of Florida for the Spring Tour next April.

Nineteen concerts will be sung on weekend tours. These will include trips to College Park, Ga., and Anderson on December 3, and to Abbeville and North Augusta on January 7.

February sees the choir presenting concerts in Summerville and Columbia on the 4th, and in Gaffney and York on the 25th. The weekend of February 17 will feature an extended trip to Atlanta, Marietta, and Decatur, Ga.

In March, the choir performs in Florence and Camden on the 11th, and in Newberry and Greenville on the 18th. March 31 finds the choir in Charleston before moving to Orangeburg on April 1.

April 11, the choir will embark on its annual Spring Tour. That day they will sing in Waycross, Ga. Winter Park, Fla., is the next stop on the tour on April 12. The next day they will be in Bradenton, Fla. Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., will be the spot of a Sunday morning concert on April 15, followed by a presentation in West Palm Beach that night. Monday morning, April 16, the choir turns toward home and will sing in Sanford, Fla. The last stop of their journey will be in Barnwell where the choir will present an evening concert on April 17.

The program this year is built around the theme, "The Gifts of God," and is based upon scripture readings and sacred musical selections. Again this year, spirituals and chorales will highlight the concerts.

The choir is under the direction of Dr. Edouard Patte, Minister of Music of the college, who begins his fifteenth season as conductor of the organization. In personnel, the choir features a double quartet which will sing three numbers, and four readers who will introduce each choral rendering with a selection from the Bible.

Dr. Patte reports the Robed Choir will be chosen from the present Chapel Choir probably at the end of this month. The group is in full swing practicing twice a week now, and Dr. Patte says he is well pleased with results thus far.

Pope Announces Guidance Benefits

The Presbyterian Guidance Center is open to PC students of all denominations who wish to take advantage of its testing and counseling service. Appointments can be made with Mrs. Cooper, secretary, in the general reception room from 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., Monday through Friday, and until noon on Saturdays. Time, work and interest are the only fees for tests of vocational interests, abilities and personality traits.

All test results or problems discussed with Dr. Louis B. Pope, Director of the Center, and highly confidential, are not reported to administrative officers or professors. Counseling is given in a number of fields, including business, pre-law, pre-medical, pre-ministerial and teaching. It is now possible to get the teacher certification requirements of all states.

The counseling room also contains undergraduate and graduate catalogs that are essential in planning a higher education.

Stevenson Named Blue Key Advisor

Dr. John W. Stevenson has been named faculty advisor of Blue Key honorary fraternity, it was announced today.

Dr. Stevenson is an honorary member of Blue Key. He was tapped by the Presbyterian chapter in 1956. Honorary membership in the organization was bestowed upon him for unselfish devotion to the interest of the institution aside from his official capacity.

An alumnus of Wofford College, where he received his BA, Dr. Stevenson received his MA and PhD degrees from Vanderbilt University.

Dates Listed For Annual Festivities

Homecoming weekend will be held this year October 27, 28, and 29. Saturday evening at 8:00 PC will play Catawba for the Homecoming grid contest.

Each fraternity will set up displays in various assigned spots on campus; Kappa Alpha —front lawn of the Douglas House; Alpha Sigma Phi—on the plaza, southwest of the flagpole; Theta Chi—on the plaza, northeast of the flagpole; Pi Kappa Alpha—vicinity of the flagpole; Sigma Nu—between Spencer dormitory and Jacobs Science Hall; Pi Kappa Phi—in front of Neville Hall. These displays will be judged and the fraternity with the best display will win a monetary prize.

The Alumni will be guests at the evening meal Saturday, the twenty-eighth, in the dining hall.

Parents day is November 11. The afternoon of Parents Day, there will be a faculty reception held in the Douglas House. The parents will be welcomed guests at Judd Dinling Hall for the evening meal, after which PC will play Appalachian at 8:00 in Johnson Memorial Stadium.

College Announces 1962-63 Fee Rise

The continued advance in operating cost has caused the Board of Trustees of Presbyterian College to make a change in college fees for next year, Dr. Brown announced today.

Under the revised schedule there will be added each semester $55 for tuition, $25 for room rent, and $20 for board. Thus, with the start of the 1962-63 session, a day student will pay $385 a semester, and other students will pay $697.50 a semester for tuition, room, board and college fees.

Dr. Brown stated that mounting costs have hit not only Presbyterian College but other institutions of higher education and business concerns everywhere. Hence it is essential to meet this problem in order to maintain a high quality of training for our students. Every effort is made to spend the dollar at Presbyterian College to the best advantage. Even with the raise in fees our charges remain lower than the national average among institutions of higher learning.

A student who pays full charges still represents a considerable net cost to the institution. During the past school year the college spent hundreds of dollars more per each student than was collected in college fees.

Trustees, Visitors Set Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of Presbyterian College's Board of Trustees and Board of Visitors will be held on the campus next Tuesday. Probably the outstanding topic of discussion for this first joint meet will be the college's three million dollar development program slated to begin in the near future.

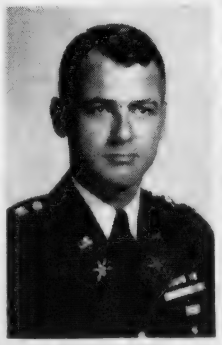
Members of the two boards, the administration and faculty will meet informally at the Douglas House Tuesday evening before adjourning to Judd Dining Hall. After the evening meal Dean George Bellingrath will be in charge of a program entitled "Knowing Our Faculty."

Wednesday morning members of the Board of Trustees and Board of Visitors will meet with the administrative staff in the south reading room of the library. At this meeting Dr. Brown will discuss plans that have been made for the raising of capital funds in the second phase of the development program. Following his talk will be a question and answer program.

Busines meetings will follow the discussion concerning the development program and it is expected the sessions will be concluded by noon.

Chapel Services

Monday—Chapel Devotional
Wednesday—Chapel Worship Service: Rev. Lucius B. DuBose, Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Mullins.
Friday—Sigma Nu.



Serves As Adjutant

Scott Promoted to Rank of Major

The promotion of Joseph J. Scott from the rank of Captain to Major in the United States Army was announced recently by the Presbyterian College Military Department.

Scott is now in his third year as an assistant professor of military science and holds the post of Adjutant with PC's Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

Major Scott has served in the artillery branch of the Army since his graduation from The Citadel in June of 1949. He went on active duty in June of the following year. His first tour of duty took him to Korea for the period from November, 1950, to March, 1952, where he saw some action in the Korean War. He was then assigned to the Heidelburg, Germany, area for 36 months.

MAJOR SCOTT

In October of 1957 he was sent to Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, where he served as assistant S-3 with the 14th Field Artillery Group prior to coming to Presbyterian College. While at Ft. Sill he completed a nine-month training course in advanced artillery.

A native of Greenwood, Major Scott was married in June, 1950, to the former Betty Youmans of Charleston. They have four children, Cathy, Sherry, Betty Carol and Jack. The Scotts are members of the Episcopal Church in Clinton.

It is reported that Major Scott introduced himself at church last Sunday as "Major Scott, proudly associated with the United States Army."

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Mostly That

That Last Game

LAST WEEK the Blue Hose dropped their third straight game. We, however, feel, as we are sure most of the student body feels, that we lost due to a lousy set of referees. We believe head cheerleader Guy Hancock was perfectly correct when he said, "Presbyterian 8, Wofford 8, referees 6."

Thursday prior to the game Sonny DuBose spoke before the Wofford student body as part of the Blue Key chapel program. During his closing words all lips were hushed and not a soul stirred, as all ears were eager for this statement. Sonny stated, "You may win, and you may have a good team; but we'll fight you to the end." We commend the Blue Hose for doing just that.

WHILE ON THE SUBJECT of the game let's us also commend the student body for the best showing of spirit since the Tangerine Bowl. We may be down, but we're not out. Let's keep it up.

THE CHEERLEADERS should also be thanked for their fine job, for they too fought to the end.

Please, Professors

RELATIVE QUIET comes to the campus as students begin studying for this week's and next week's quizzes. For the benefit of you freshmen, we might mention that all your periodic quizzes will fall within the same week. Maybe even within only a two-day period.

EVERY YEAR it seems that no matter what, somehow the week of smokers and quiz week are one and the same. Professors: While we've two months until smokers and you have plenty of time, how about sitting down and plan not to give your tests that particular week. Please, just this once? You might even be surprised at the results.

Letters

WE BELIEVE The Blue Stocking to be the voice of the student body and therefore encourage letters to the editor on constructive matters, but greatly discourage those concerning petty gripes. All letters must be signed. Names will be omitted upon request. The letters may be given to any Sock staff member or slid under the door of the office on the second floor of the Douglas House.

Linebreakers

WE HAVE NOTICED that a new rage has broken loose on our campus. It is known as line-breaking. It has been a long time since we have seen such an outbreak. Many students report they are peeved about it and would like the "breakers" to have some respect for others. You know, you "breakers" just might need someone else's respect yourself some day. Why, some of you are even running for office.

Welcome

AND LASTLY we welcome the newest member of our faculty, Coach Gordon Warden. With big shoes to fill, we wish him luck.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR	GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER	LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR	MURRAY WHITE
News Editor	Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor	Loren Eagles
Feature Editor	Tom Morrison
Greek Editor	Joe Harvard
Circulation	Raymond Humphries
News Staff	Lewis Edge, Tom Currie, Robert Perry, DuPont Smith, Jim Barbour, Frank Hendrix, Bill Bramlette
Sports Staff	Bruce Barnes, Jerry Chitty, Bill Gillespie, Bill Loeble, Glen Browder
Feature Staff	Sanders Read, Notchey Maddox
Business Staff	Marshal Jones, John Craig.
Typist	Priscilla Blanton

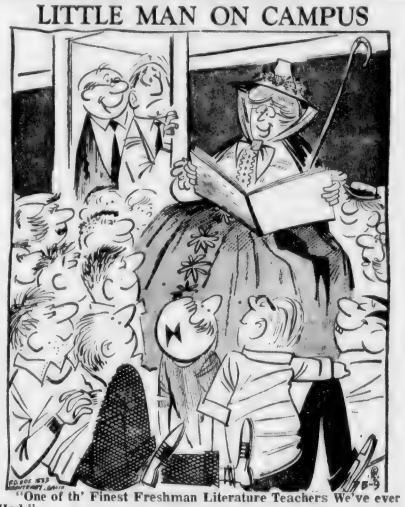
The Clintonian Concert Series

TOM MORRISON, Feature Editor

All persons living within 238 miles of Presbyterian College should definitely make it a point to patronize the Clintonian Concert Series which has been quite painstakingly arranged this year. In order to let you in on some of the fascinating programs being scheduled for future presentation, a few announcements along this line will now be given.

All the way from Heidelburg, Germany, comes the internationally famous Boozen von Stagger's troupe, which holds practically every breer-drinking championship and award available. They will perform with everything from small thimble containers to full-sized garbage cans. All participants are truly impressive.

Another superb evening will be furnished when Miss Lucille Priddle comes to read highly stirring excerpts from her latest work, Love Poems Addressed to a Blue Jay. Unfortunately, there has arisen some financial trouble that makes it impossible for bongo drums to furnish the beloved Miss Priddle with her usual accompaniment.



The world's most renowned off-key monotone, Mr. Nicholas Khruschev, has announced plans to make an appearance here. With popular selections like "I Lie Awake, I Lie Asleep, I Lie All the Doggone Time," "Murder, Murder, That's the Word!" and other such songs, all of which he sings with extraordinarily deep feeling, it should be a quite worthwhile evening. No tomatoes or eggs are to be allowed within the audience that night.

Lord Henry Adolphus Dope, the fifth, greatest singing dog of the century, has written that she (Henry is short for Henrielvisa) plans to use mainly Wagnerian arias and the like while appearing here. Her talented companion and chaperone, Mac Knife, will add background music with what has become known as "the most harmonious comb played today." Mr. Knife, as you probably know already, is an ostrich.

The cultural season is to be rounded out with one particular performance demanded by many interested persons. There will be had in that last program a burlesque show featuring Rosabelle Lee and other greats of show business.

Let us patronize this year's quite outstanding Concert Series the way we should. In other words, everyone must learn how to applaud and when to hiss and to walk out at the appropriate times. It is necessary to practice and practice hard at these various endeavors.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"One of th' Finest Freshman Literature Teachers We've ever Had."

Dear Alby

Help for Perplexed

by Anthony J. Stanley, Jr.

Dear Alby,

Being a freshman I find myself subject to obedience of the whims of upperclassmen. The other night I was compelled to carry 23 trays in the cafeterial. I find all this petty folly far below my dignity and an insult to my high breeding. What should I do?

A. Freshman

Gin, Freshman!

Dear Alby,

My parents have cut off my income because I ran my car into a tree. They think I'm careless. To add to my problem my girl just became engaged to one of my close friends, and the grief of her leaving me caused me to cut out of three of my classes. What should I do?

Desperate

Dear Desperate,

You indeed have a serious problem. Your only hope is to find someone of infinite understanding and compassion to turn to, someone to whom you can talk to freely. Have you tried Charlie's?

Dear Alby,

I am very much interested in a boy at PC, but he has never shown any interest in me. I am from a good family, have a new T-Bird of my own and last year I was voted the best looking girl at school. What can I do to win his attentions? I'll do anything you say.

Limestone

Dear Miss Limestone,

Yours is a case which will require special counselling and deep consideration. How about next Saturday at eight?

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE HARVARD, Greek Editor

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

At their regular Tuesday night meeting, the members of Alpha Psi chapter discussed plans for their up-coming open social. Plans were also made for Homecoming dance weekend. We are glad to hear that freshmen may attend the festivities.

Crude Brother of the week was Bob Bethea.

KAPPA ALPHA

The KA's played host last Saturday afternoon to the Wofford chapter of Kapa Alpha for a tea dance at the Mary Musgrove Hotel with the famous Tams providing the music.

Congratulations to our undefeated football team.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The PiKA's made preliminary plans for the Open Social which will be held the 25th of October.

The footbal team was congratulated on winning their first game of the season.

Brothers of the Week were Dave Harrill, Alan Pitts, and Tony Wilson.

PI KAPPA PHI

At the fraternity meeting Tuesday night, plans were made for a party at the American Legion Hut after the Tampa game.

We would like to thank Lawrence Young for accepting the job of Chapter Advisor. Also we would like to thank Prof. Halsall for the fine job he did as Chapter Advisor in the past years.

We would like to congratulate our football team for the fine form they have shown this year.

SIGMA NU

Rush plans and Open Social were discussed and Homecoming plans were begun.

Congratulations to brother Bill Stone on his recent pinning of Miss Dixie Crum of Converse.

Discussion was also held on the Homecoming display.

THETA CHI

Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi completed plans for its Open Social at the weekly meeting Tuesday evening. Plans were also made for rush season.

Miss Jymmie Nell Bowling was elected Chapter Sweetheart for 1961-62 by the Brotherhood. Miss Bowling is a Junior at Furman University.

Bill Russell makes an attempt to block out Jim Ballard as Jimmy Howell gets set to throw a pass in PiKA-PiKapp intramural action this week.—Photo by Cooper.

Hose Eleven Lose Home Opener To Terrier - Referee Joint Effort

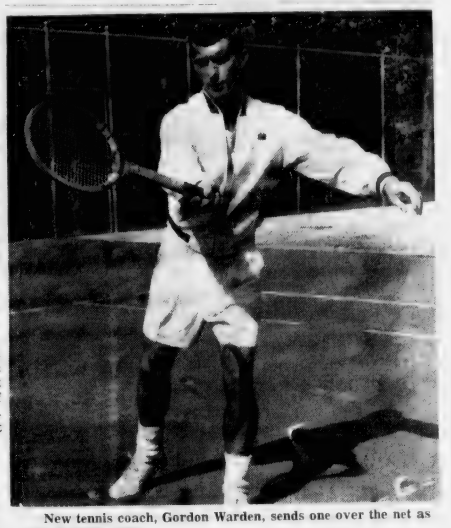
• See No Action This Week

The Blue Hose of Presbyterian College hit a welcome open date in their schedule this week as they attempt to recover from the 14-8 defeat handed them last week by the Wofford Terriers. PC supporters hope that this layoff will be the turning point in the Blue Hose season which has started off rather slowly this fall.

In their first home game of the season the Blue Hose made a good showing statistically, only to come out on the wrong end of the score again. The PC offense ground out 15 first downs to 14 for Wofford. The Hose also racked up 83 yards in the air and 176 yards on the ground, which is more than double their rushing total of the past two weeks.

Leading the Hose ground game against the Terrier line were halfbacks Larry Madden, Ronnie Hampton, and Jimmy May, along with freshman fullback Randy McCranie. Standing out in the line for the Hose were guards Paul Love and David Harrill, and tackle Jerry Lowder.

The penalties were the big call on the PC 7-yard line which put Wofford in scoring position for the deciding score.



The game which was supposed to be a passer's duel, did not turn out that way. Hose quarterback Bobby Joiner connected on 11 of 27 passes with ends Jerry Hammock and Donny Ross doing most of the receiving. The Blue Hose defensive backfield led by Joe Nixon held the heralded Wofford quarterback Tommy Ellis to 23 yards passing.

problem for the Blue Hos as they drew 107½ yards on infractions of the rules. The big blow was a pass intereference

Thirty-Five Georgians Listed on Grid Squad

Thirty-five Georgia men, more than half the team, have come from over the Peach State and are competing with players from five other states for positions on the Presbyterian College Blue Hose football team.

There are 19 South Carolina men drilling, while the North Carolina delegation totals five. Florida is represented by two ball players, and Virginia and Indiana have one each.

New tennis coach, Gordon Warden, sends one over the net as fall net drills open.

PiKAs Defeat Sigma Nu In Intial Mural Grid Play

The two top teams of last season met Monday afternoon to officially open the '61 intramural footbal season. In this game the PiKA's, led by Jimmy Howell, Tommy Singleton and Larry Kirven, defeated the defending champion Sigma Nu's by a 13-0 score. Another exciting contest followed, with the KA's defeating a fighting Pounder team 7-6.

Tuesday's action started as the Sigma Nu's hit pay dirt early and went on to defeat the Pacers by a 31-6 score. Dan Powers and Pete Yearout were the big guns for the Sigs. In other action on Tuesday, the KA's led by Buddy Barnwell, Doug Miller and Tommy Williams, defeated the Alpha Sigs 14-0.

Wednesday's games proved to be quite exciting as the Alpha Sigs broke into the victory column with a 24-0 verdict over the Pacers. The PiKapps held the PIKA's to a 6-6 tie in probably the most exciting game of the week.

The PiKapps defeated the Pounders 12-0 in the only action on Thursday. After the first week of action the KA's are the only undefeated or untied team.

Injuries plagued action this week, with several minor injuries resulting from furious action.

Hose Stock Squad Shapes Up for Year

For several years it has been noted that there are too few intramural and extra-curricular activities for our PC Coeds, but little has been done to alleviate this problem. Now, this year with an increase in the number of lovely Coeds, the Military Department has taken a step in the right direction by offering rifle instruction and practice to the girls.

The program is being conducted under the supervision of Sergeant Richard Barnhardt, R. O. T. C. rifle team coach, and Ben Margolius, last year's team captain. So far the program has met with great success and the following eight girls have signed up for instruction: Priscilla Blanton, Rebecca Ernest, Tottie Futtsle, Pat Gay, Sandra George, Elizabeth Glover, Susanna Jeanes, and Sylvia Summerville.

Last Tuesday night the girls met in the military classroom in Jacobs for their first two hours of instruction. This class consisted of a talk by Sergeant Barnhardt on rifle and range safety, correct positions, aiming procedure, and a demonstration of many different types of weapons and ammunition.

As now planned, the girls will meet two hours every Tuesday night for instruction and practice plus one afternoon during the week. While no definite plans have been made for the future, there is the possibility that an actual rifle match may be scheduled later in the year.

Oops!

In last week's sports column we mistakingly misspelled the name of Joan and Sonny DuBose's 7 pound 11 ounce baby girl. Sonny tells us it's Sabre (with an accent on the e) Simone. Sorry.

Swimming Pool Opened For Student Usage

Mr. Fakkema has announced that the pool will be open three afternoons a week: Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, from three to four-thirty. Life guards will be on duty at these times and the pool water and pool area will be heated in chilly weather.

All students are encouraged to use the pool facilities to the fullest extent. Because of the expense involved in treating the water and heating the pool area, it will become necessary to close and drain the pool unless enough students swim to make the maintenance during the winter months worthwhile.

BROADWAY Theatre

MON. - TUES. - WED. - THUR.
October 9-10-11-12

The Young Doctors

Frederic March, Ben Gazzara, Dick Clark, Ina Balin

FRIDAY - SATURDAY.
October 13-14

Cartoon Carnival

All-Cartoon Program, Featuring Popeye, Herman, Caspar, et al.

— Also —

Tarzan the Magnificent

PICK - A - WINNER

Try to match your skill with the experts. Pick the winners of the following gridiron battles and win a free pass to the Broadway Theater. Last week's winner was Chan Roberts.

Name _____

Dorm _____

				Tie
Clemson	( )	UNC	( )	( )
Citadel	( )	Richmond	( )	( )
Duke	( )	Wake Forest	( )	( )
Wofford	( )	Howard College	( )	( )
Newberry	( )	Carson-Newman	( )	( )
S. Carolina	( )	Georgia	( )	( )
Ga. Tech	( )	LSU	( )	( )
Furman	( )	Wm. and Mary	( )	( )

I predict _____ points will be the winning margin in the Ga. Tech-LSU game.

RULES

1. Entries must be turned in to Bailey 216 or the Blue Stocking office before noon Saturday.
2. Entries must be on the above printed form.
3. Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4. In case of ties, the contestant most nearly guessing the winning margin of points scored in the PC-Lenoir Rhyne game will win.
5. No member of the Blue Stocking staff is eligible.

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

Running Game Appears

The Blue Hose showed that they still possess a vaunted running attack last Saturday night in the second half of the Wofford game.

Early in the third quarter the Hose recovered a Wofford fumble on the Terrier 48. PC then moved to the Wofford 18 on runs of 9 yards by Ronnie Hampton, 5 yards by Larry Madden and 12 by Jimmy May, but were held there when they took to the air.

Again in the fourth quarter the Hose began to move on the ground again. After a 31-yard return by Hampton Joiner hit end Jerry Hammock for a short gain. Then Hampton, showing his freshman year form, reeled off two straight 18-yard gains to the one-yard line. From there Joiner bulled over for the score.

If the Blue Hose can get their ground and air attack coordinated they should develop into as big a threat as in past years.

SOX PREDICTS

Thus far throughout the football season our record as a prognosticator of football scores is not even respectable. After missing only one game the first week (the PC game) last week proved to be disastrous. The Hose let this faithful sportswriter down again (with the officials' help) and the Newberry Indians defeated Lenoir Rhyne to give us a perfect 0-2 record for the week and a 2-3 record thus far for the season.

Here is an attempt to bring my average up over the .500 mark for the season. The Terriers of Wofford College invade the campus of Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tenn. They will be seeking to remain undefeated as they send halfback Bob Roma and company against Carson-Newman.

In the other game involving a Little Three member this week the Newberry Indians take on Howard College at Newberry. It looks like two more victories for the Little Three as Wofford takes Carson-Newman by 10 and Newberry sneaks by Howard College by 3.

SPORTS NOTEBOOK

The Bears of Lenoir Rhyne will think twice before they invade the Little Three territory again as they managed only a 1-1-1 record this season as compared to a 3-0 record last year . . . Two of the three undefeated teams in the state this season are Little Three members, Wofford and Newberry . . . these two will meet next weekend in one of the top games in the state . . . Quarterback Bob Waters, former PC great of the Tangerine Bowl era, scored a touchdown on a 10-yard run last Sunday in the 49er's game . . . Davidson also has this weekend off in preparing for the Blue Hose . . . Hose practice this week has proven to be fierce and rugged, as six were injured Wednesday, with three being sent to the hospital.

Coca-Cola Replaces Beer

Patte Does Research in Anthropology

Dr. Edouard Patte, professor of sociology and conductor of PC's Robed Choir, spent three months this summer studying anthropology and music, and observing present European cultural trends.

Dr. Patte's original home was Geneva, Switzerland, and he studied at the University of Geneva for several years. He has made several other visits to Europe.

Dr. Patte's first stop was in Scotland, where he stayed at the School of Theology, University of Edinburg. He was particularly interested in the use of music in the John Knox Order of Service.

He next flew to Rome where he became the personal guest of Monsignor D. Bartolucci, the conductor of the world famous Sistine Chapel Choir of the Vatican City. During his stay there, he was a guest conductor of the choir.

Dr. Patte then journeyed to Geneva where he studied the culture of Neolythic man at the Laboratory of Anthropology, University of Geneva. He also did library research on crime and delinquency.

Dr. Patte found many striking changes in European life since his last visit. One of the most important was the high degree of American influence he found there. There were many "satellite" cities that had sprung up in three to five years to handle the increasing population around old historical towns. There were elaborate new systems of super-highways, chain grocery and drug stores, and soft drinks such as Coca-Cola and grapefruit juice were replacing the more traditional beer, wine, and tea.

In sharp contrast to the "Americanization" of many aspects of European life, there was a very noticeable difference in the feelings of many Europeans toward the United States. They no longer had the same feeling of respect for the United States as in days past, and the attitude of many Europeans was expressed in the words of one university professor who, translated literally, said, "Your dollar worship has put you out of contact with life at midcentry."

The idea of a unified church, recently a topic of much debate among American churchmen, has for some time been discussed in European church circles. There is a desire to begin thinking of one church among both Protestants and Catholics. Evidence of this is the Pope's convocation of a church council in 1963. Though Dr. Patte does not expect great steps toward church union in the next few years, he does anticipate gradual progress towards this end in the coming generation.

According to Dr. Patte, Africans and Far Easterners were numerous in Europe and showed a desire to make themselves as pro-eminent as possible. Most wore tribal and national costumes. They stayed in the most select hotels, purchasing expensive gifts and traveling first class.

The beatnik movement in Europe is almost over. There are fewer now than at any previous time in the last few years, and people are no longer impressed with them as formerly.

The last of Dr. Patte's observations was the extremely strong public finance and economy of Switzerland, and many other parts of Europe. In Geneva there were only seven unemployed workers out of a population of 300,000. There was a large surplus of government income over expenditures.

Dr. Patte found his stay in Europe, and particularly in Geneva, very profitable from his viewpoint as a sociology professor, and he hopes to make similar trips in the future.

Open Social

This week's Open Social will be given by Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity. Their fraternity room is located uptown on Broad Street directly over Ruby's Beauty Shoppe.

Sock Presses Stop

The Blue Stocking presses stoprolling with today's edition. The next issue will be published October 20 and a special six-page edition is planned for that date.

Notices

Math coaching classes are being held each Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30 for all freshmen mathematics courses in room 104, Neville.

Dr. Stevenson, Director of PC's Evening School, states that students may enroll in the school with the same $15 fee per course as area residents.

Students Attend College For Trained Guidance

by Claudius Jefferson Lee IV

Life is filled with questions and the curious so-called younger generation is constantly searching for the answers to their interrogations. Having heard from both the older generation as well as from older youth about the necessity of attending college, every young person has to make a decision concerning the matter of—should I, or will I, be brave enough to venture into the college life?

The only reason a person should attend college is to continue an education with a trained instructor's guidance. Although there are those who like to argue that college is a place for meeting people and learning to be sociably accepted, this goal can be attained without going to college.

We who have chosen to come to school at PC have a responsibility not only to ourselves but to those around us. Bishop Butler has said that, "The first thought is often the best." In accordance with this, Shenstone has said that, "Second thoughts are the very worst of all thoughts." However, students at PC should allow the better impression of the school to overrule the secondary ones.

The college will only be as strong as its weakest member and without co-operation and unity it cannot achieve its goals. As newcomers to the campus, we have noticed that students with convictions are few.

Students seem to be afraid to do that which they know they should do because of the ridicule they would receive from fellow classmates. Encouragement should be given freely to those who stand alone daring to do right.

PC is known far and wide for its friendliness. Don't let this reputation go downward. Upperclassmen, who sometimes forget how they felt when they were new arrivals in school, often do not remember that freshmen appreciate a kind word or smile from a member of the college family. On the whole, we have been impressed by the frinedliness and consideration of the faculty and students.

But nevertheless, there are some few who seemed prejudiced and unwilling to accept outsiders. There are a few who wish to make themselves feel important by deflating another's ego. We wish to emphasize the fact that it has been only a few and that most of the students have been especially considerate of the new students.

Our good impressions outnumber the bad, and we hope to be a living example as to why a young adult should attend college.

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

Yarborough Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

Dillard Boland, Jewelers, Inc.
Wide Selection of
GIFTS - JEWELRY - DIAMONDS
PC Students Welcome 103 E. Pitts St.

Johnson's Men Shop
...for...
Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

Attention Students!
— See —
BOB'S Men's Shop
SOUTH MAIN STREET
GREENVILLE, S. C.
— For —
A Complete Selection of Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

MARY MUSGROVE HOTEL
Reminds You to Reserve a Room For Your Date Early
HOMECOMING IS ONLY 3 WEEKS AWAY
A DELICIOUS BUFFET SUPPER WILL BE SERVED BEFORE EACH HOME GAME

FOR THE FINEST IN FOOD
VISIT THE
Beacon Drive-In
We Specialize in
Tasty Sandwiches
and
Short Orders
WHITMIRE HWY.

WELCOME STUDENTS
Your Philip Morris Student Representative invites you to

IN THE COLLEGE BRAND ROUND-UP
RULES AND PRIZES TO BE AWARDED WILL BE ANNOUNCED SHORTLY
SAVE YOUR PACKS

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., October 20, 1961 No. 4

Who's Who In American Colleges Selects Seven PC Seniors For Outstanding Work

• Leadership, Scholarship Cited

Seven prominent members of the Presbyterian College senior class have been elected to the national Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

The students recognized in Who's Who each year are nominated from approximately 700 colleges and universities. Campus nominating committees are instructed to consider, in making their selections, the students' scholarship; his paraicipation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities; his citizenship and service to the school; and his promise of future usefulness.

The following men were nominated by the faculty for outstanding merit in their fields of endeavor during their respective college careers: Sonny DuBose of Sumter; Graham Edmunds of Decatur, Ga.; John Elrod of Griffin, Ga.; Bobby Joiner of Macon, Ga.; Sanders Read of McClellanville; Frank Sells of Johnson City, Tenn.; and Bob Stevens of Orangeburg.

DuBose serves as President of the student body and is a former president of his fraternity, Sigma Nu. A former member of the Scabbard and Blade, he is also past chairman of the freshman control board. DuBose is also co-captain of the football team, and a member of Blue Key.

Edmunds is editor of The Blue Stocking and a member of Blue Key. A four-year member of the Robed Choir, he has served as secretary and treasurer of the group. He presently serves the choir as president and as a reader. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi.

A member of Sigma Nu, Elrod is President of the Student Christian Association. He serves the college as head proctor and is treasurer of Blue Key.

Vice-president of his fraternity, Kappa Alpha, Joiner is co-captain of the football team. He is also President of Blue Key and a past secretary of the student body.

A top honor student, Read is a past member of the Sophomore Academic Honor Society. He serves as a fraternity officer of Theta Chi. A dormitory proctor, Read is also a member of Blue Key.

Editor of the PaC-SaC, Sells is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha. He is the present secretary of Blue Key and is a past Robed Choir officer.

Stevens is this year's Battalion Commander of the ROTC unit. He is President of Sigma Nu fraternity and Vice-President of Blue Key. Stevens serves as a dormitory proctor and a member of Scabbard and Blade.

The distinguished seniors named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" this week are, left to right, top row: Sonny DuBose, Graham Edmunds and John Elrod. Bottom row: Bobby Joiner, Sanders Read, Frank Sells and Bob Stevens.

Members Named To Robed Choir

The new members of the Robed Choir were announced this week by Dr. Patte, director of the choir, which is famous throughout the southeastern United States. There were twelve new voices from the chapel choir who will join the old Robed Choir members.

New men in the first tenor section include Paul Conger and Jack Green. In the second tenor section the new men are: Court Lipscomb, Bill Frye, Bill Bramlette and Tommy Thompson.

The first bass section welcomed to its ranks Mike McKenzie, Louis Hay, Kit CoCroft, Wesley Lawton and Phil Burns. Filling the vacant places in the second bass are David Worth and Alex Patrick.

When asked his impression of the new voices, Dr. Patte said that the choir was extremely balanced this year with fifteen tenors and fifteen basses. This was a big improvement in the balance over last year's choir. He especially cited an increase in the quality of the First Tenor section.

The voice leaders for each section are: first tenor, Richard McFadden; second tenor, Gary Millwood; first bass, Wirt Skinner; and second bass, Bob Morris.

The choir has plans for travels through South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. The first trip will be November 18, when the choir travels to Conway and Lake City.

College Trustees Urge Support For Athletics

Presbyterian College trustees, reviewing the PC athletic program, urged the need for increased support from alumni and friends., and decided against seeking membership in the Carolinas Conference "at this time."

On deciding that "it does not appear wise to seek membership in the Carolina Conference at this time," the trustees acted on a faculty request which also expressed the hopes of the student body that PC seek admission to the conference recently joined by Newberry College.

Mounting defeats in the athletic program had forced PC trustees in March, 1960, to adopt a matching "dollar-for-dollar" policy to finance scholarship aid to qualified athletes. At that time, alumni and other friends of intercollegiate sports at PC were asked to provide $31,000 dollars annually, amounting to one-half of the scholarship cost, in an effort to continue operating the program.

The Johnson Club was given three years in which to hit this level of annual support. The trustee report commended the Johnson Club for raising approximately $21,000 during 1960, the first year under the new policy.

The trustees authorized the formation of an athletic council to guide the overall athletic policy of PC. It would be composed of a faculty majority and Johnson Club representatives.

SCA Adopts Project; Will Collect Clothes

The Student Christian Association has adopted as a project for this year the collection of old clothes for the needy overseas.

This drive will be conducted in two phases. The first phase will begin Monday, Oct. 23, and continue for two weeks until Nov. 3. The second phase will be conducted some time in the spring of the year.

All students who have clothes that they are willing to donate are asked to bring them by Mrs. Taylor's office in the Douglas House or give them to any member of the SCA Council. Students living off campus can leave their clothes with Mrs. Taylor also. For the convenience of the students, a room to room collection will be made on Tuesday, Oct. 24.

PC, Lander Students Injured in Accident

Six Lander College students returning to Greenwood from an approved function at Presbyterian College were injured Wednesday night when a 1951 Mercury in which they were riding collided with a 1957 pickup truck on the outskirts of Greenwood.

Highway Patrolman D. R. McColl said the pickup truck, driven by Joseph T. Fisher, improperly pulled out from a restaurant driveway and into the path of the Mercury, driven by Bob Beddingfield and owned by John Zachry.

Three of the Lander students were admitted to Self Memorial Hospital in Greenwood where their condition was described as satisfactory. Among the injuries received were a compound fracture of the upper leg, a possible concussion, a severe cut of the hand, and other lesser hurts. The other three girls were placed in the Lander College Infirmary for ireatment. One of these was reported to be under sedation for "severe nervous collapse."

Beddingfield was also admitted to Self Memorial Hospital and at last report was "doing well." His injuries were listed as a broken left wrist, a deep cut on the right hand and severe blows on the forehead and legs.

The driver of the pickup was not injured and was held under bond pending investigation into the mishap. He is expected to be charged with reckless and drunken driving. Patrolman McCall placed all liability upon him and described it as an "open and shut case."

The patrolman said the accident occurred at 10:45 p. m.

Dean A. J. Thackston, after traveling to Grenewood Thursday, announced that the victims were making a satisfactory recovery and agreed that the accident was unavoidable and in no way the fault of the PC student.

Distinguished Guitarist Appears Monday in Chapel

Alirio Diaz, the distinguished classic guitarist from Venezuela, will appear in chapel on Monday. His visit here is one in a series he is making to several colleges and universities.

Born in Carora, Venezuela, in 1923, Mr. Diaz began his studies at the Conservatory of Caracas with Professor Raul Borges. In 1950 he left for Spain to continue studying at the Conservatory of Madrid, where he was awarded not only its diploma but also the "Extraordinary Prize." After that he attended Andres Segovia's advanced courses in classic guitar at the Academia Musicale Chigiana in Siena, Italy. Since 1953 he has been assistant professor to Segovia in the same courses.

Alirio Diaz has been honored not only by an award from the Venezuelan government, but also by two grants from the Creole Foundation. His highly successful American debut was made at Town Hall in November, 1959, under the patronage of the Ministry of Education. His second Town Hall recital took place in November, 1960.

Numerous recitals have been given by Mr. Diaz in the major music centers of Italy, France, Germany, Spain, Belgium, England and South America. There, as in America, critical praise has been uniformly high.

Andres Segovia obviously believes that Alirio Diaz is destined to take a place in the company of the greatest guitarists of this century. At his debut here, Diaz was presented to the American public by the great Segovia, who wrote of him:

"This young artist is, above all, a serious and reflective musician whose deep emotion flows easily to his fingers, thanks to his excellent technique. I have the satisfaction that he has worked in Siena with me from the beginning of my courses in the Accademia and to see him now converted into a true artist, free from any influence extraneous to his own rich personality. I pray that the winds of Good Luck will blow favorably in his direction and that his career will be the uninterrupted harvest of the triumphs he deserves."

Notice

Registrar Roslyn Martin announced today that freshmen just reaching the age of eighteen may register for Selective Service through the Registrar's Office, without having to go to Laureas. All male citizens, upon reaching the age of eighteen must register for the draft within five days.

Classic guitarist, Alirio Diaz

Coca-Cola Replaces Beer

Patte Does Research in Anthropology

Dr. Edouard Patte, professor of sociology and conductor of PC's Robed Choir, spent three months this summer studying anthropology and music, and observing present European cultural trends.

Dr. Patte's original home was Geneva, Switzerland, and he studied at the University of Geneva for several years. He has made several other visits to Europe.

Dr. Patte's first stop was in Scotland, where he stayed at the School of Theology, University of Edinburg. He was particularly interested in the use of music in the John Knox Order of Service.

He next flew to Rome where he became the personal guest of Monsignor D. Bartolucci, the conductor of the world famous Sistine Chapel Choir of the Vatican City. During his stay there, he was a guest conductor of the choir.

Dr. Patte then journeyed to Geneva where he studied the culture of Neolythic man at the Laboratory of Anthropology, University of Geneva. He also did library research on crime and delinquency.

Dr. Patte found many striking changes in European life since his last visit. One of the most important was the high degree of American influence he found there. There were many "satellite" cities that had sprung up in three to five years to handle the increasing population around old historical towns. There were elaborate new systems of super-highways, chain grocery and drug stores, and soft drinks such as Coca-Cola and grapefruit juice were replacing the more traditional beer, wine, and tea.

In sharp contrast to the "Americanization" of many aspects of European life, there was a very noticeable difference in the feelings of many Europeans toward the United States. They no longer had the same feeling of respect for the United States as in days past, and the attitude of many Europeans was expressed in the words of one university professor who, translated literally, said, "Your dollar worship has put you out of contact with life at midcentry."

The idea of a unified church, recently a topic of much debate among American churchmen, has for some time been discussed in European church circles. There is a desire to begin thinking of one church among both Protestants and Catholics. Evidence of this is the Pope's convocation of a church council in 1963. Though Dr. Patte does not expect great steps toward church union in the next few years, he does anticipate gradual progress towards this end in the coming generation.

According to Dr. Patte, Africans and Far Easterners were numerous in Europe and showed a desire to make themselves as pro-eminent as possible. Most wore tribal and national costumes. They stayed in the most select hotels, purchasing expensive gifts and traveling first class.

The beatnik movement in Europe is almost over. There are fewer now than at any previous time in the last few years, and people are no longer impressed with them as formerly.

The last of Dr. Patte's observations was the extremely strong public finance and economy of Switzerland, and many other parts of Europe. In Geneva there were only seven unemployed workers out of a population of 300,000. There was a large surplus of government income over expenditures.

Dr. Patte found his stay in Europe, and particularly in Geneva, very profitable from his viewpoint as a sociology professor, and he hopes to make similar trips in the future.

Open Social

This week's Open Social will be given by Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity. Their fraternity room is located uptown on Broad Street directly over Ruby's Beauty Shoppe.

Sock Presses Stop

The Blue Stocking presses stoprolling with today's edition. The next issue will be published October 20 and a special six-page edition is planned for that date.

Notices

Math coaching classes are being held each Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30 for all freshmen mathematics courses in room 104, Neville.

Dr. Stevenson, Director of PC's Evening School, states that students may enroll in the school with the same $15 fee per course as area residents.

Students Attend College For Trained Guidance

by Claudius Jefferson Lee IV

Life is filled with questions and the curious so-called younger generation is constantly searching for the answers to their interrogations. Having heard from both the older generation as well as from older youth about the necessity of attending college, every young person has to make a decision concerning the matter of—should I, or will I, be brave enough to venture into the college life?

The only reason a person should attend college is to continue an education with a trained instructor's guidance. Although there are those who like to argue that college is a place for meeting people and learning to be sociably accepted, this goal can be attained without going to college.

We who have chosen to come to school at PC have a responsibility not only to ourselves but to those around us. Bishop Butler has said that, "The first thought is often the best." In accordance with this, Shenstone has said that, "Second thoughts are the very worst of all thoughts." However, students at PC should allow the better impression of the school to overrule the secondary ones.

The college will only be as strong as its weakest member and without co-operation and unity it cannot achieve its goals. As newcomers to the campus, we have noticed that students with convictions are few.

Students seem to be afraid to do that which they know they should do because of the ridicule they would receive from fellow classmates. Encouragement should be given freely to those who stand alone daring to do right.

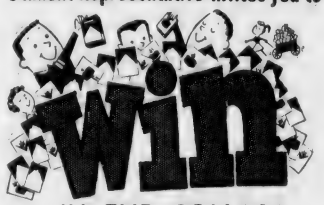
PC is known far and wide for its friendliness. Don't let this reputation go downward. Upperclassmen, who sometimes forget how they felt when they were new arrivals in school, often do not remember that freshmen appreciate a kind word or smile from a member of the college family. On the whole, we have been impressed by the frinedliness and consideration of the faculty and students.

But nevertheless, there are some few who seemed prejudiced and unwilling to accept outsiders. There are a few who wish to make themselves feel important by deflating another's ego. We wish to emphasize the fact that it has been only a few and that most of the students have been especially considerate of the new students.

Our good impressions outnumber the bad, and we hope to be a living example as to why a young adult should attend college.

Attention Students!
— See —
BOB'S Men's Shop
SOUTH MAIN STREET
GREENVILLE, S. C.
— For —
A Complete Selection of Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

FOR THE FINEST IN FOOD
VISIT THE
Beacon Drive-In
We Specialize in
Tasty Sandwiches
and
Short Orders
WHITMIRE HWY.



Yarborough Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

Dillard Boland, Jewelers, Inc.
Wide Selection of
GIFTS - JEWELRY - DIAMONDS
PC Students Welcome 103 E. Pitts St.

Johnson's Men Shop
...for...
Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

MARY MUSGROVE HOTEL
Reminds You to Reserve a Room For Your Date Early
HOMECOMING IS ONLY 3 WEEKS AWAY
A DELICIOUS BUFFET SUPPER WILL BE SERVED BEFORE EACH HOME GAME

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

WELCOME STUDENTS
Your Philip Morris Student Representative invites you to

IN THE COLLEGE BRAND ROUND-UP
RULES AND PRIZES TO BE AWARDED WILL BE ANNOUNCED SHORTLY
SAVE YOUR PACKS

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., October 20, 1961 No. 4

Who's Who In American Colleges Selects Seven PC Seniors For Outstanding Work

• Leadership, Scholarship Cited

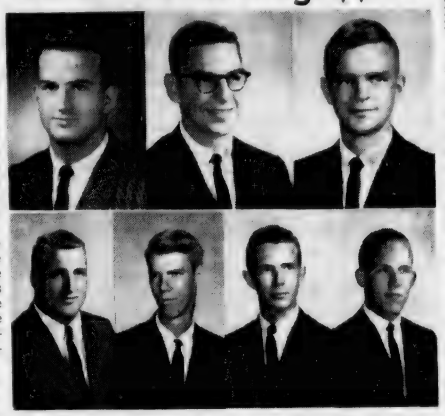
Seven prominent members of the Presbyterian College senior class have been elected to the national Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

The students recognized in Who's Who each year are nominated from approximately 700 colleges and universities. Campus nominating committees are instructed to consider, in making their selections, the students' scholarship; his paraicipation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities; his citizenship and service to the school; and his promise of future usefulness.

The following men were nominated by the faculty for outstanding merit in their fields of endeavor during their respective college careers: Sonny DuBose of Sumter; Graham Edmunds of Decatur, Ga.; John Elrod of Griffin, Ga.; Bobby Joiner of Macon, Ga.; Sanders Read of McClellanville; Frank Sells of Johnson City, Tenn.; and Bob Stevens of Orangeburg.

DuBose serves as President of the student body and is a former president of his fraternity, Sigma Nu. A former member of the Scabbard and Blade, he is also past chairman of the freshman control board. DuBose is also co-captain of the football team, and a member of Blue Key.

Edmunds is editor of The Blue Stocking and a member of Blue Key. A four-year member of the Robed Choir, he has served as secretary and treasurer of the group. He presently serves the choir as president and as a reader. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi.



A member of Sigma Nu, Elrod is President of the Student Christian Association. He serves the college as head proctor and is treasurer of Blue Key.

Vice-president of his fraternity, Kappa Alpha, Joiner is co-captain of the football team. He is also President of Blue Key and a past secretary of the student body.

A top honor student, Read is a past member of the Sophomore Academic Honor Society. He serves as a fraternity officer of Theta Chi. A dormitory proctor, Read is also a member of Blue Key.

Editor of the PaC-SaC, Sells is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha. He is the present secretary of Blue Key and is a past Robed Choir officer.

Stevens is this year's Battalion Commander of the ROTC unit. He is President of Sigma Nu fraternity and Vice-President of Blue Key. Stevens serves as a dormitory proctor and a member of Scabbard and Blade.

The distinguished seniors named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" this week are, left to right, top row: Sonny DuBose, Graham Edmunds and John Elrod. Bottom row: Bobby Joiner, Sanders Read, Frank Sells and Bob Stevens.

PC, Lander Students Injured in Accident

Six Lander College students returning to Greenwood from an approved function at Presbyterian College were injured Wednesday night when a 1951 Mercury in which they were riding collided with a 1957 pickup truck on the outskirts of Greenwood.

Highway Patrolman D. R. McColl said the pickup truck, driven by Joseph T. Fisher, improperly pulled out from a restaurant driveway and into the path of the Mercury, driven by Bob Beddingfield and owned by John Zachry.

Three of the Lander students were admitted to Self Memorial Hospital in Greenwood where their condition was described as satisfactory. Among the injuries received were a compound fracture of the upper leg, a possible concussion, a severe cut of the hand, and other lesser hurts. The other three girls were placed in the Lander College Infirmary for treatment. One of these was reported to be under sedation for "severe nervous collapse."

Beddingfield was also admitted to Self Memorial Hospital and at last report was "doing well." His injuries were listed as a broken left wrist, a deep cut on the right hand and severe blows on the forehead and legs.

The driver of the pickup was not injured and was held under bond pending investigation into the mishap. He is expected to be charged with reckless and drunken driving. Patrolman McCall placed all liability upon him and described it as an "open and shut case."

The patrolman said the accident occurred at 10:45 p. m.

Dean A. J. Thackston, after traveling to Grenewood Thursday, announced that the victims were making a satisfactory recovery and agreed that the accident was unavoidable and in no way the fault of the PC student.

College Trustees Urge Support For Athletics

Presbyterian College trustees, reviewing the PC athletic program, urged the need for increased support from alumni and friends., and decided against seeking membership in the Carolinas Conference "at this time."

On deciding that "it does not appear wise to seek membership in the Carolina Conference at this time," the trustees acted on a faculty request which also expressed the hopes of the student body that PC seek admission to the conference recently joined by Newberry College.

Mounting defeats in the athletic program had forced PC trustees in March, 1960, to adopt a matching "dollar-for-dollar" policy to finance scholarship aid to qualified athletes. At that time, alumni and other friends of intercollegiate sports at PC were asked to provide $31,000 dollars annually, amounting to one-half of the scholarship cost, in an effort to continue operating the program.

The Johnson Club was given three years in which to hit this level of annual support. The trustee report commended the Johnson Club for raising approximately $21,000 during 1960, the first year under the new policy.

The trustees authorized the formation of an athletic council to guide the overall athletic policy of PC. It would be composed of a faculty majority and Johnson Club representatives.

Members Named To Robed Choir

The new members of the Robed Choir were announced this week by Dr. Patte, director of the choir, which is famous throughout the southeastern United States. There were twelve new voices from the chapel choir who will join the old Robed Choir members

New men in the first tenor section include Paul Conger and Jack Green. In the second tenor section the new men are: Court Lipscomb, Bill Frye, Bill Bramlette and Tommy Thompson.

The first bass section welcomed to its ranks Mike McKenzie, Louis Hay, Kit CoCroft, Wesley Lawton and Phil Burns. Filling the vacant places in the second bass are David Worth and Alex Patrick.

When asked his impression of the new voices, Dr. Patte said that the choir was extremely balanced this year with fifteen tenors and fifteen basses. This was a big improvement in the balance over last year's choir. He especially cited an increase in the quality of the First Tenor section.

The voice leaders for each section are: first tenor, Richard McFadden; second tenor, Gary Millwood; first bass, Wirt Skinner; and second bass, Bob Morris.

The choir has plans for travels through South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. The first trip will be November 18, when the choir travels to Conway and Lake City.

Distinguished Guitarist Appears Monday in Chapel

Alirio Diaz, the distinguished classic guitarist from Venezuela, will appear in chapel on Monday. His visit here is one in a series he is making to several colleges and universities.

Born in Carora, Venezuela, in 1923, Mr. Diaz began his studies at the Conservatory of Caracas with Professor Raul Borges. In 1950 he left for Spain to continue studying at the Conservatory of Madrid, where he was awarded not only its diploma but also the "Extraordinary Prize." After that he attended Andres Segovia's advanced courses in classic guitar at the Academia Musicale Chigiana in Siena, Italy. Since 1953 he has been assistant professor to Segovia in the same courses.

Alirio Diaz has been honored not only by an award from the Venezuelan government, but also by two grants from the Creole Foundation. His highly successful American debut was made at Town Hall in November, 1959, under the patronage of the Ministry of Education. His second Town Hall recital took place in November, 1960.

Numerous recitals have been given by Mr. Diaz in the major music centers of Italy, France, Germany, Spain, Belgium, England and South America. There, as in America, critical praise has been uniformly high.

Andres Segovia obviously believes that Alirio Diaz is destined to take a place in the company of the greatest guitarists of this century. At his debut here, Diaz was presented to the American public by the great Segovia, who wrote of him:

"This young artist is, above all, a serious and reflective musician whose deep emotion flows easily to his fingers, thanks to his excellent technique. I have the satisfaction that he has worked in Siena with me from the beginning of my courses in the Accademia and to see him now converted into a true artist, free from any influence extraneous to his own rich personality. I pray that the winds of Good Luck will blow favorably in his direction and that his career will be the uninterrupted harvest of the triumphs he deserves."

Notice

Registrar Roslyn Martin announced today that freshmen just reaching the age of eighteen may register for Selective Service through the Registrar's Office, without having to go to Laurens. All male citizens, upon reaching the age of eighteen must register for the draft within five days.

SCA Adopts Project; Will Collect Clothes

The Student Christian Association has adopted as a project for this year the collection of old clothes for the needy overseas

This drive will be conducted in two phases. The first phase will begin Monday, Oct. 23, and continue for two weeks until Nov. 3. The second phase will be conducted some time in the spring of the year.

All students who have clothes that they are willing to donate are asked to bring them by Mrs. Taylor's office in the Douglas House or give them to any member of the SCA Council. Students living off campus can leave their clothes with Mrs. Taylor also. For the convenience of the students, a room to room collection will be made on Tuesday, Oct. 24

Classic guitarist, Alirio Diaz

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

For What It's Worth

We vowed to ourselves upon taking office, that we would keep Judd Dining Hall out of the editorial column, as it is a chronic source of complaints, however . . . We walked into the chow hall yesterday and, as we have formed certain habits during the period we have been here, we put our books on the first table as one enters the door. Now, we guess everyone has noticed the new book shelves which have been built. We believe these to be a welcomed improvement.

But we digress . . . As we placed our books down, the servers and even the administrative staff of Judd, up to and including the higher-ups, began yelling snide remarks at us and raising a high school type of commotion. They suggested we use the new shelves. The last time we had seen these one by twelves, however, there was a wet paint sign hanging on them. And, as we stated, we had formed certain habits. Well, the upshot of the thing was that we did change the resting place of our volumes.

We believe, however, that not using the book shelves is only a minor offense when compared to the fact that students may still come through the line with a tee-shirt and athletic shorts on and be served. This is in direct violation of recently set forth school rules and opposed to the principles set forth on a printed sheet signed by Judd officials and passed out in the chow hall earlier in the year.

Recent events on the intramural field have brought to light many fallacies in the program. Someone is not doing his job and showing an interest in this facet of student activity.

However, much responsibility has been put in the hands of the student. Students should be aware of the fact that the intramural program is meant to foster sportsmanship and produce gentlemen. Sports are for fun and physical development of the individual. And above all, intramural contests are meant to develop a spirit of competition which is so important in the world outside the college environment.

We welcome the newly designed college catalog. A change is always good and this time there are even a few new pictures.

The Curse . . .

. . . of Carikeeky Pinkleton

TOM MORRISON, Feature Editor

Last Friday was the thirteenth. More terrifying even than this fact, though, is the deathly information that week after next presents us with Halloween! We therefore find ourselves in the midst of an inescapably disastrous dilemma. What to do, where to run?

Unfortunately for me, I recently experienced an event which greatly added to my personal grief concerning the ominous days now surrounding us. While going through the movement of inspection arms during the latest ROTC drill period, I looked into my MI's chamber and noticed some smoke arising. As soon as the vaporous cloud disappeared, there prevailed in its place some strange sort of versification. These goblin words will follow later, but first allow me to elucidate.

That unique poetic work here under discussion could well be entitled "The Curse of Carikeeky Pinkleton" in reference to a former student of PC. Although he has not been heard of since the infamous event which is this poem's subject, Pinkleton obviously authorized the words himself. Without further interruption, here is the composition as I recorded it:

While crawling down a lonely road
I smelled a house where ghosts abode.
There came screams of terror and howls of fright
That caused me to zoom through that terrible night.

A horrible white form then sped toward me
And with all my might I began to flee.
It grabbed me tightly by the leg
And threw me in a pot of scrambled bat egg.

I then escaped to a black back room
But was quickly stopped by a witch's broom.
By this time I was so weary
That I gave up to these monsters eerie.
A nice looking skeleton took me down to the torture dungeon
But I shall not even attempt to describe this fun.
I will tell you, though, that my hair turned white overnight
And in my weight I am now lighter than a mite.

I was then directed to King Ghost's chief adviser
But I found him drunk from too much Budweiser.
And that is the gory story
Of the haunted town of Ory-Cory.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Roothkind Falenwider

Courting on the PC Campus

Not meaning to disparage our fine coeds or their close friends, we would nevertheless like to explain courting on the PC campus to the uninitiated.

To tell the truth there's not really an abundance of young love drifting tenderly about. Due to the small number of coeds and the proximity in which they live, the average PC male often feels that he's actually trying to outwit Calvert House, rather than just one damsel.

Some hardier souls do make a rather grand effort though. First of, the spiritually minded young male, not really caring whether beauty is skin deep or not, as long as its beauty, singles out the best looking coed to his eyes and proceeds to swoon. (Thus a coed can generally judge her prowess by how many people spilt their coffee when she walks into the canteen.)

If the youth swoons hard enough or long enough he may eventually bring himself to smile at the lady of his heart. Advanced cases will have worked up to saying "Hi."

The coed (using something we'll call feminine intuition just to avoid any wrathful letters to the editors) immediately perceives that the young hopeful is either a drip or a doll. (We've never quite figured out how women size up complete strangers so well so quickly.)

time the big day rolls around and will be considering whether or not he can get away with stand-

If the boy is a doll, he is rewarded with a meaningful smile. Drips only get nods of the head. If she says more than three words to him, the boy, although he may flunk several tests that day, will nonetheless be in a state of affectionate bliss.

Such enraptured souls may be seen dropping trays in the cafeteria, walking in front of moving cars, and smiling while they run tests on Hydrogen Sulphide.

After the couples have been smiling at each other for several weeks, the lad may lay his cards on the table and make a date. (It's illegal to date a coed for the fun of it—you have to be madly in love with her.)

Now begins the politics. Each becomes increasingly indifferent to the other as D-Day draws nearer. The youth, who has been peering anxiously around to see if "his" coed is near immediately plunges into a textbook upon seeing her.

The young man, if he was a drip to begin with, will generally have cracked up under the strain of the indifference game by the coed. The coed may begin to wonder if it would be better to tell him that she's got a cold or that an aunt has just died.

Those brave enough, or infatuated enough, or insensitive enough to last through this and have the date are to be congratulated.

The date usually surprises both. The nice quiet fellow may turn out to be a bear in boy's clothing or some kind of mute. The young lady's charm may extend no further than a nice smile. Romeo falls off the balcony and Juliet lands on top of him. A few instances will develop into true love, whatever that is; and some will just accept the fact that they've had a nice time with a nice person. We hope so, anyway.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE HARVARD, Greek Editor

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Final plans were made for Mu Chapter's Open Social to be held next Wednesday night in the fraternity suite.

Homecoming plans were also discussed and activities will include open house in the fraternity room after the Homecoming Dance and a party at the Legion Hut Saturday after the game, featuring the Bears Combo.

THETA CHI

Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi enjoyed entertaining the Freshmen and new students on Wednesday evening with its annual open social.

The Chapter is now working on plans for Homecoming weekend. A special committee is also making plans for fraternity suite improvements.

KAPPA ALPHA

Final plans have been made for the KA's afternoon tea dance, Homecoming Weekend.

The Brothers attending the game last weekend enjoyed the parties with Sigma Chapter of Davidson.

PI KAPPA PHI

Plans have been made for a dance this weekend at the American Legion Hut following the football game with Tampa.

Plans are also being discussed for our homecoming display and for our dance that is to be held immediately after the homecoming game.

SIGMA NU

Plans for Homecoming have been completed, parties are scheduled at the house for Friday and Saturday after evening festivities. Also the Monograms will be featured at the house on Saturday afternoon.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR MURRAY WHITE
News Editor Gerald Pitts

The Blue Stocking — Second Front
Distinguished for Its Progress
Friday, October 20, 1961 Page 3

Vaughan, Brown, Williams, Charles Voted to Class President Posts

• Freshman Councilmen Elected

Elections last Wednesday placed sixteen students into class officer positions and named two representatives to the Student Council. Student balloting selected the winners from a slate nominated by the student body the previous Wednesday.

Heading the Senior class is Leland Vaughn of Greenville. Backing him up in the vice-president's office is Jerry Chitty of Olar. The new secretary is Billy Ray Ladd of Junction City, Ky.; and Heyward Nettles of Clinton, is Senior treasurer.

The president of the Junior class this year is Gary Brown of St. Petersburg, Fla., and serving as vice-president is Grif Helwig of Tampa. Harold Hope of Union, is taking over the secretary's post, and Bill Bryan of Bainbridge, Ga., will be the treasurer for the class.

Tommy Williams of Pensacola, Fla., was elected to the Sophomore class presidency. Chosen as vice-president was Frank King of Valdosta, Ga. Filling the secretary's office is Bill Shearer of Macon, Ga. Leon Bullard of Bainbridge, Ga., won the race for sophomore treasurer.

Danny Charles of Spartanburg, was chosen to head the Freshman class. Wiley Jones of LaGrange, Ga., landed the vice-president's post. Susanna Jeanes of Lyman, was elected as secretary, while John Smith of Lincolnton, N. C., was named treasurer of the class.

Hal Jordan of Rock Hill, and Jere Ard of Atlanta, were elected in a student-wide election to the Freshman Student Council post.

Dixie Crum Chosen Homecoming Queen

In a recent election Miss Dixie Crum, a senior at Converse College, was elected Homecoming Queen for 1961. Miss Crum was sponsored by Bill Stone, a PC senior and member of Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Miss Crum is a native of South Carolina. She is majoring in music at Converse. Her chief hobby is Bill.

Improvements Begun On Library Building

The College-Community Library is being re-roofed this week, according to G. Edward Campbell, Business Manager of the college. He said a 25-year warranty roof was being put on the main two-story section of the building and also on the stack section.

A new skylight also highlights the improvements being made to the library. This skylight is of plexaglas set in an aluminum frame.

Sergeant Barnhardt Promoted to Officer

Sergeant Barnhardt, who is Rifle Team Coach and training non-commisioned officer here at PC, has been ordered to active duty as Second Lieutenant in Armor. Lieutenant Barnhardt has held a 2nd Lieutenant's commission in the reserves and will report to Ft. Knox October 29 to take his active commission. He will be taking a basic training officer course for Tank Unit Commanding Officer.

Sergeant Barnhardt has been at PC since September, 1960, after having served in Korea. He has held the position as Coach of the Rifle Team and was instrumental in forming the Girls' Rifle Team this year which he also coaches.

No replacement has been named as yet.

McGaughey Lists Plans for Dance

Dick McGaughey, President of the Inter Fraternity Council, announced today that the tickets for the Homecoming Dance will be on sale in the dining hall nightly through October 26 and also at the door the night of the dance. The tickets, which sell for five dollars, will admit one couple or one stag.

The dress for the occasion will be semi-formal. This dress includes, for the girls, a party or a cocktail dress. The PC students should wear a dark coat and tie.

The IFC is stressing the importance of the fraternities following the new rules governing them during the period of rush. On October 27, fraternity suites and fraternity parties will be closed to non-fraternity men between the hours of 8:30 p. m. and 11:00 p. m.

The dance is to be held in the Clinton armory and the music will be furnished by Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs. McGaughey stated that a large turnout of non-fraternity men and alumni is evident because of the great number of tickets that have already been sold.

Reminder . . .

Students are reminded that they are responsible for keeping their own class attendance records. They are notified of overcuts, only, after the seven-day period has lapsed in which an excuse may be turned in.

Class attendance cards may be checked with Mrs. Cromer at the receptionist desk in the Administration Building during the hours of 8:30 and 1:00, 2:00 and 5:00.

Pictured above are The Four Freshmen, Capitol Recording Artists, who will be featured in the Student Council Concert in December.

Four Freshmen To Appear For First Council Concert

The Four Freshmen, a nationally renowned singing group, will make a personal appearance at PC on Tuesday, December 12, at eight o'clock P. M. in Belk Auditorium.

This is the first of what is hoped will become a regular series of appearances by prominent entertainers at PC. Student Council President Sonny DuBose and Inter-Fraternity Council President Dick McGaughey have taken the leadership in obtaining the contract with the singing group. They also have taken full financial responsibility for the enterprise, since the school business department refused to underwrite the contract.

Tickets for the appearance, which is expected to last at least three hours, went on sale Monday, October 16 to PC students and will continue to be sold for two more weeks at the reduced price of $3.50. At the end of the two weeks, the tickets will be priced at $4.00.

The success of advance sales will be of great importance from a financial viewpoint. Tickets, advertising, and the contract fee must be paid several weeks prior to the appearance.

The Four Freshmen have achieved national fame in the last decade for their hit songs produced by Capitol Records. The group made their professional debut in 1948 in Fort Wayne, Indiana. At that time, they were earning fifteen dollars per week, per man.

In 1950, however, they were auditioned by Capitol Records, and since that time, have frequently ranked at the top of surveys conducted by Metronome, Down Beat, Billboard, Playboy, and the United Press.

Hunter Recalls

Bell Tower Boasts Colorful Past

The tall, fairly recently repaired structure that is the Presbyterian College bell tower stands its post to the side of Neville Hall and looks back on a full and colorful past.

The bell is now used to proclaim PC athletic victories and as the death knell to freshmen undergoing rat service. But it hasn't been too long—under two decades—that the same bell summoned students to classes, drill and chapel.

Mr. John Holland Hunter, former business manager of the college, a member of the late Walter Johnson's first football team, and currently serving as treasurer of the Joanna Foundation, recalls many incidents surrounding this PC tradition.

There seems to be no record of the first construction of the bell tower. Mr. Hunter, who entered PC in 1914, says he remembers hearing the ringing of the bell as a youth in Clinton.

Chapel was held then the first thing in the morning. The bell was rung five minutes, after which the student knew he was late.

Dr. John McSween, who served as president of the college from 1928-1935, personally paid for the present tower and bell which replaced a smaller structure.

No one seems to know when the tradition of the victory bell was begun, or when the bell was first used to call out the freshmen. Many humorous incidents have been related concerning the bell.

One is told of the watchless, yet precisely accurate Negro maintenance employee who rang the bell for the early morning chapel. When questioned as to his method of telling the time, he said that he started ringing the bell as Dr. Brimm, a former head of the Bible department who was noted for his methodical punctuality, turned into the plaza, and continued ringing it until the professor reached Neville, which was exactly five minutes.

A former Marine officer, who served as business manager of the school for one year, decided one day, after the installation of the electric bell system in 1941, that the bell tower served no purpose and should be removed. He gave the order and the tower would have been razed, except for the stubborn refusal of the same Negro employee.

Mr. Hunter recalls that students, given scholarships as bell ringer, varied in their degree of accuracy and absentmindedness. Classes often ran overtime, and occasionally were left out, which prompted the installation of the electric bell

Captain Heyward Nettles of Company K Tenth Regiment of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, taps new members in informal ceremonies held at drill recently.—Photo by Autry.

Since 1890

Local Fraternities Have Varied and Colorful Past

Fraternity history at PC dates back to 1890 when Mu Chapter of Kappa Alpha was founded. Except for the brief period of inactivity from 1912-1924 when there was national anti-fraternity movement, Presbyterian has had an active and vigorous fraternity system. Local chapters are proud of their histories, which we hope will prove to be of interest to all PC students.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Sigma Phi came to PC's campus in 1946, when Alpha Kappa Pi Fraternity and Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity voted to merge at their separate conventions. The AKP chapter at Presbyterian became Alpha Psi Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi. Earlier, the fraternity suite was located above Belk's, but is now located on Broad Street in a comfortable suite of rooms.

KAPPA ALPHA

Beta Pi of Kappa Alpha Order was chartered on December 29, 1929, with charter members Joe Finney Mason, P. S. Bailey, Porter H. Bomar, Benjamin F. Knowles, William O. Player, Jr., and Thomas M. Robinson. The chapter room was located on the third floor of Neville Hall, and at the close of the Second World War, the chapter was moved to its present location behind Laurens Dormitory.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Mu Chapter ranks as the oldest chapter on the campus, having first been established here in 1890. Fraternities were outlawed at PC in 1912 and Mu went out of existence since that time. Mu has continually ranked among the top chapters of Pi Kappa Alpha and three times in the past ten years it has been judged the top chapter in the fraternity.

PI KAPPA PHI

At the first meeting of Pi Kappa Phi at the College of Charleston, the first Pi Kapps set as their goal to become a national organization. Andrew Kroeg was elested the "Supreme" Archon in 1906.

At this time PC was the only school in the state that did not prohibit fraternities. By dint of much personal effort on the part of Kroeg, through contacts made by members of the mother chapter while visiting Presbyterian for athletic and forensic competition, a group of men became interested in affiliating, and on March 9, 1907, the Supreme Chapter received its first application for a charter, and Beta came into being.

SIGMA NU

Iota Chapter of Alpha Lambda Tau was organized on the PC campus in 1926 as a local club, called the Rapier Club. It affiliated nationally in 1927. The strength shown by Iota Chapter during the war years enabled it to maintain a place of leadership in the post-war period when five other fraternities were reactivated on the campus. In 1950, after again becoming a local group, Iota declared themselves a local chapter of Sigma Nu, and in 1951 were installed as a national chapter.

THETA CHI

Organized at Presbyterian College on December 4, 1942, the Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi Fraternity was chartered with twenty-two members. Prior to its charter it was known as Beta Kappa. Bill Shields served as the first president, while the alumni advisor was William P. Jacobs, III.

Banks Favorable To PC Graduates

A total of nine PC graduates are now employed in two Atlanta banks.

Citizens and Southern National Bank of Atlanta Personnel Director B. W. Caldwell visited the PC campus last spring in search of talented graduating seniors to add to the five graduates who were already employed with the bank.

They are Bennett A. Brown, '50, vice-president of the corresponding bank division; Jack B Edmunds, '55, assistant cashier and commercial loan officer; and Warren L. Berry, '55, assistant manager of Cascade Heights branch office; Edwyn B. Pyron, '56, and Don Rickett, '59, are going through the bank's training program.

At the First National Bank of Atlanta are four PC graduates: John Thurman, '51, assistant cashier of the West End branch; Joe Weingartner, '51, soon to be assistant manager of a new branch in the Atlanta Merchandise Mart; Bill Hart, '57, in charge of the account administration department; and James R. Johnson, '50, assistant manager of the office services department.

Howard's Pharmacy

Your Rexall Drug Store

COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE

ON THE SQUARE

Phil Anthrophy Speaks

About Life

by Phil Anthropy

Let me take this opportunity to welcome you to this column. You know, with a little bit of luck, feature editor Tom Morrison might ask for a short epistle every now and then. Whenever we do happen to submit something for the judgment of the public, there's just no way of telling what it will be. We might even cut down some of our fellow students once in a while.

We will be primarily concerned, however, with the betterment of mankind. This will be attempted through the use of numerous philosophical sayings, jokes, notes, quotes, anectodets and all sorts of little gems of wisdom. This week we will list little axioms about life in general and touch on the subject of making money.

A young man who had just received his degree from college rushed out and said, "Here I am world; I have my A. B."

The world replied: "Sit down, son, and I'll teach you the rest of the alphabet."

Patience is like wealth. Many talk about it, but few possess it.

A penny saved is not a hell of a lot of money . . . as most of us know.

The path to poverty is paved with procrastination.

An optimist is usually as wrong as a pessimist, but he has a lot more fun.

You can't wear loafers and expect to step into the boss's shoes.

The trouble with most self-made men is that they quit the job too early.

It has been said the only time the world beats a path to your door is when you take a nap.

Though other ways have been tried, the quickest way to get a lot of undivided attention is to make a mistake.

We can't be a howling success simply by howling.

There is one less great man in this country than you think.

Life is like a game of tennis . . . the player who serves well seldom loses.

"He who laughs, lasts."

Chapel Services

Monday — Alirio Diaz, distinguished classic guitarist.

Wednesday—Chapel Worship Service; Rev. James Womack, Pastor, Shandon Presbyterian Church, Columbia.

Friday—Theta Chi Fraternity.

For 61-62

Faculty Committees Given

The following faculty committees were released from the President's office today:

Absence—Taylor Martin, chairman; Lewis Hay and Col. A. J. Thackston.

Academic Advisory—Dean Bellingrath, chairman; Profs. Carter, Fraser, Clover, Martin, Stevenson, Scheele, and Dr. Jones.

Admissions and Scholarship—Dean Bellingrath, chairman; Ed Campbell, Dr. Pope, and Col. A. J. Thackston.

Athletic — Dr. Gettys, chairman; Ed Campbell, Kenneth Baker, James Gray, Ben Hay Hammet, Coach Jones, and Col. Ulrich.

Discipline—Dr. Whitelaw, chairman; Coach Ehrhardt, Maj. Scott, Dr. Stump, and Col. A. J. Thackston.

Graduate Study—Profs. Stevenson, chairman; Carter, Scheele, and Whitelaw.

Guidance—Profs. Pope, chairman; Baker, Hodges, and King.

Library—Profs. Madden, chairman; Erwin, Paul Campbell, McIntyre, and Prater.

Placement — Col. Thackston, chairman; Dean Bellingrath, Mr Ford, and Coach Jones.

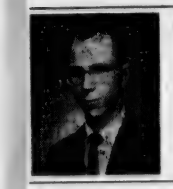
Religious Activities — Profs. Stallworth, chairman; Adams, Fakkema, Fraser, and Gettys.

Student Activities—Profs. Hammet, chairman; Ed Campbell, Clarke, Hay, and Patte.

Lectures and Entertainment—Profs. Stevenson, chairman; Halsal and Col. Thackston.

Open Social

This week's Open Social will be given by the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. Their fraternity suite is located on the third floor of Neville Hall in the South wing.



Get on the BRANDWAGON ...it's lots of fun!

PRIZES:
1st Prize —1 DECCA Stereophonic 4-speed hi fidelity console phonograph.
2nd Prize—1 POLAROID Camera Model 80/B.

WHO WINS:
1st Prize will be awarded to any group, fraternity, sorority or individual accumulating the highest number of points.
2nd Prize will be awarded to any group, fraternity, sorority or individual accumulating the second highest number of points.

RULES:
1. Contest open to all students.
2. Each empty package submitted on Marlboro, Parliament or Alpine will have a value of 5 points. Each empty package submitted on Philip Morris Regular or Commander will have a value of 10 points.
3. Closing date, time and location where empty packages must be turned in will be indicated in your campus newspaper.
4. Entries will not be accepted after closing time. Empty packages must be submitted in bundles of 50. Separate your 5 and 10 point packages.

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

"Cool" Waters Makes Good

In the October 16, 1961, issue of Sports Illustrated is an article on the new wide-open offense of the San Francisco 49ers. This offense is centered around three outstanding young quarterbacks. One of these is Bob Waters, "who was spotted by 49er scouts at South Carolina's little Presbyterian College, where he was president of the student body and an honor student.

Waters, the articles goes, can throw a good pass and is self-assured enough to have earned the nickname "Cool Waters." He is also fast enough to be used as a defensive back by the 49ers.

This sounds like the same Bob Waters who led our Blue Hose of 1959 to the Little Three Championship and the Tangerine Bowl. To "Cool" Waters all we can say is to keep up the good work and we are all mighty proud to be able to say that you played for PC.

FROM THE TERRIERS

While looking through the Wofford newspaper, The Old Gold and Black, I noticed a few quotes and comments which I felt were worth passing on to our students. For example in their write-up of the game, it was stated that "In the second half, the Hose were much improved but were still outplayed by the Terriers." Also Wofford Coach Snidow's reply to the question of luck in their win was, "We whupped 'em good and those cry-babies down there know it." I will not coment on these, but will let everyone take them for what they are worth.

SOX PREDICTS

The Wofford Terriers entertain East Tennessee State in their Homecoming tomorrow night. The Tenesseeans lost to Eastern Kentucky last week, 22-13. The Terriers will be out to get their fifth victory of the season and it looks as if they will get it by 7.

Newberry will also be celebrating its Homecoming this weekend against Eastern Carolina. Eastern Carolina dropped a close game last week to Western Carolina, 7-6. It appears that there will be another successful Homecoming in Newberry, as the Indians take their fourth win by 6.

The University of Tampa football team comes to PC seeking its fourth straight win, while the Blue Hose will be looking for win number 1. PC to finally break into the win column with a 3-point victory over Tampa.

Record to date as a prognosticator of football scores is a rather upsetting 2 right and 5 wrong. If the Hose and the rest of the Little Three will come through for us this week we will feel a lot more authoritative.

SPORTS NOTEBOOK

The PC board of trustees have decided against seeking membership in the Carolinas Conference "at this time" . . . the Hose have managed but one touchdown in each of their first four games . . . Halfback Ronnie Hampton leads PC rushing with 186 yards for a 6.4 average . . . Coach Musselwhite issued the call to all basketball hopefuls at the first of the week and 6 lettermen and 8 new prospects responded . . . The Terriers of Wofford, who defeated PC by a score of 14-8, clinched the Little Three title last weekend with a 26-6 victory over Newberry . . . there have been a number of unfortunate incidents on the intramural football field in the past few weeks and I wish to urge each participant to try to curb his temper and to remember this statement of Grantland Rice, "When the final Great Scorer comes to write about the game, he writes not that you won or lost but how you played the game."

PiKA and PiKapps Leading In Intramural Pigskin Play

Intramural football is well on its way toward another fine season. Pi Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Phi at present are the leading contenders for the title, but the other teams are by no means eliminated. Pi Kappa Alpha sports the best offensive average, with 3.6 points per game. They have also capitalized the greatest on points after touchdowns with 7 for 15 for 47 per cent.

A new rule has been adopted for play. The rule states: "The ball carrier may not stiff arm a defensive player." This rule has been put into immediate effect.

STANDINGS

	W	L	T
PiKA	4	0	1
Pi Kapps	4	1	1
KA	3	2	0
Sigma Nu	3	2	0
ASP	2	3	0
Pacers	2	4	0
Pounders	0	6	0

TENTATIVE INTRAMURAL SCHEDULE OCT. 23-26

Monday—Sigma Nu vs PiKA PiKapp vs ASP

Tuesday—PiKapp vs Pacers KA vs PiKA

Wednesday—Open

Thursday—KA vs Pacers

This schedule subject to change

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday and Tuesday, October 23-24
Two Rode Together
James Stewart, Richard Widmark, Shirley Jones

Wed. - Thur. - Fri. October 25-26-27
Parrish
Troy Donahue, Claudette Colbert

Saturday, October 28
Tom Thumb
A Treat for All!

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

McGEE'S
DRUG STORE
DIAL 833-0020

Blue Hose Tackle Tampa Saturday; Seek Win In Second Home Game

• Spartans Unbeaten

Presbyterian will battle at full strength for the first time this season when the Blue Hose entertain the University of Tampa this Saturday night on Johnson Field.

The Hosemen, who have dropped their first four games, strangely enough have been ranked in power ratings two points over Tampa, victor in all three of its contests. In the two teams' last meeting in 1959, Presbyterian knocked off the Spartans, 27-0.

Weakened by crippling injuries the first part of the 1961 campaign, PC hopes to trip the high-flying Spartans with the return to action of star Guard Alvin Coley of Atlanta, and first-string Fullback Randy McCranie, of Eastman, Ga. Co-Captain Tackle Sonny DuBose, rugged 235-pound tackle from Sumter, is ready to take charge at that position again after seeing limited action in previous games.

Still, the PC wall will need all the help it can get when Tampa Fullback Bob Moore crashes the line. He has cracked through for four touchdowns in three tilts to date, and has teamed with Halfbacks Jim Caldwell and Dick O'Brien to lead the Spartans to victories over Livingston, Western Carolina, and Elon.

Alternate Captain Tony Yelovich at center has proved the stalwart of the Tampa line and has twice been tabbed the Spartan "Outstanding Lineman of the Week." Tampa's hefty front wall outweighs the PC line by averaging 213 pounds end to end as compared to 208 for the Hosemen.

Blue Stocks Post Season Schedule

Although it is rather early to make any predictions, this should be an excellent year for the ROTC Rifle Team. With three lettermen returning and a good number of new prospects the team is hoping for a winning season. Returning from last year's team are Dick Carr, Don Lohman, and Ben Margolius, while Freshmen shooters are Sam Black, Tom Greer, Mike McKensie, Ray Nelson, John Hemphill, and Bob Phifer. The team is composed of cadets from the military classes.

This year's schedule includes 34 postal matches and 10 separate shoulder to shoulder matches. Some of the schools that will compete in postal matches are: Yale, UCLA, University of Hawaii, University of Alaska, Florida State, Mississippi Southern, Wake Forest, University of Wyoming, University of Kansas, and Oklahoma State University.

The first shoulder to shoulder match will be PC at Davidson on November 3, while others will be PC at Wofford on November 17, Davidson at PC on December 1, PC at Furman on December 8, Furman at PC on January 12, Clemson at PC on February 9, Wofford at PC on February 16, PC at Clemson on February 23, South Carolina State Match at Furman with PC, Clemson, Citadel, Wofford, Furman, on March 10, and a five-way match at Clemson with PC, Wofford, Clemson, Furman, and Davidson, on March 16.

"Ball, ball, who's got the ball," seems to be the game being played as PC's grid squad scrimmages for the Tampa game.—Photo by Cooper.

Griders Lose To Wildcats In Battle of Presbyterians

The Presbyterian Blue Hose dropped their fourth game of the season to the Homecoming celebrating Davidson Wildcats by a score of 21-7. The game was much closer than the score indicates as the Hose led in all of the statistical departments.

As the Blue Hose were moving toward the Wildcat goal in the first quarter, sophomore halfback Dave Lopp of Davidson grabbed a deflected pass and raced 85 yards for the first Davidson score. Bruce Usher converted the first of his three extra points of the afternoon to make the score 7-0 as the quarter ended.

Early in the second quarter halfback Ronnie Hampton broke off tackle and dashed 78 yards for PC's first score. Louis Ridinger added the first one-point PAT of the season for the Blue Hose to tie the score. The half ended thusly.

Although they completely dominated play in the third quarter, the Hose could not push across a score. PC at one time in this quarter had a first down on the Davidson 2-yard line, but a combination of penalties and a hard-charging Wildcat line left the Hose on the 10-yard line after four plays. Ridinger then attempted one of his two field goal attempts which were both wide.

On the first play of the fourth quarter Davidson quarterback Earl Cole lofted a pass to end Lou Zirkle which, including the suceeding run covered 72 yards for the go ahead touchdown.

Then the penalty hit PC again in the form of a roughing the kicker call on the Hose 40-yard line. It then took the Wildcats only five plays to reach paydirt with fullback Bob McAllister going over from the two-yard stripe.

Pressed for time, the Hose attempted to take to the air but the Wildcat line repeatedly pulled the passer down for long losses. Once again PC was hurt tremendously by the penalties, fumbles and intercepted passes at crucial times in their drives.

The Blue Hose line featured outstanding play by "Scrap Iron" Harrill, Randy Fitzpatrick, Jerry Hammock, and "Snuff" McReynolds. Halfback Ronnie Hampton played his usual outstanding game, and proved to be the most consistent PC back.

PICK-A-WINNER

Try to match your skill with the experts. Pick the winners of the following gridiron battles and win a free pass to the Broadway Theater. Last week's winner was Chan Roberts.

Name _____

Dorm _____

			Tie
Presbyterian	( ) Tampa	( )	( )
Citadel	( ) Furman	( )	( )
Duke	( ) Clemson	( )	( )
NC State	( ) Wake Forest	( )	( )
South Caro.	( ) UNC	( )	( )
Newberry	( ) E. Carolina	( )	( )
Ga. Tech	( ) Auburn	( )	( )
Davidson	( ) VMI	( )	( )

I predict _____ points will be the winning margin in the PC-Tampa game.

RULES

1. Entries must be turned in to Bailey 216 or the Blue Stocking office before noon Saturday
2. Entries must be on the above printed form
3. Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4. In case of ties, the contestant most nearly guessing the winning margin of points scored in the PC-Tampa game will win.
5. No member of the Blue Stocking staff is eligible

Vary in Choices

Students List Professions, Religions

The 540 students currently enrolled in Presbyterian College are a most diversified group. This is especially apparent in their choice of an occupation, for this student body has an eye on 36 different professions.

Teaching leads the list as the most popular career among students. Running second is business, ministry, medicine, and law follow respectviely to fill out the top five.

A total of 72 plan to enter teaching fields. Business fields have a total of 60, while 53 students plan to enter the ministry. The field of law claims 29.

Fourteen people plan to go into dentistry, and ten students want to be engineers. There are seven who plan to go into social work, and five each have chosen banking, accounting, coaching, public relations and mission work. Four each plan to be chemists and DRE's.

Three students are looking forward to work in the insurance field, and two aech want to be psychologist, physics, scientist, and textile worker.

The majority of the students were still undecided. This composed a total of 204 of the student body.

Presbyterians lead the religions with 325, while the Baptists are second with 110. The Methodists have 60, and the Epicopalians number 20. There are 5 Lutheran and three each Assembly of God, Catholic and First Christian Church. Two students belong to the United Church of Christ.

The A. R. P., Church of England, Christ Church, Holiness, Ohef Sholon Temple, Our Lady of the Assumption and the Seventh Day Adventist all have one each. There was only one student with no church preference.

Georgraphically, the students hail from 19 states, the District of Columbia and Bermuda. There are 246 from South Carolina and 149 from Georgia. Sixty-one hail from North Carolina, with 33 from Florida. Eleven is the total from Virginia.

Alabama boasts seven, and there are 6 from Tennessee, while five hail from Kentucky. Three each come from New York and West Virginia. Two each are from Illnois, Indiana, New Jersey and Texas.

The following states boast only one each: Colorado, Maryland, Missouri, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. The District of Columbia has one, and Bermuda boasts the same.

Final Entry Date Given for Contest

Frank Sells, editor of the 1962 PaC-SaC, stated today that final entries for the Miss PaC-SaC contest must be turned in no later than Wednesday, October 25. Entries should be given to Rick Saunders in Bailey 109. A picture of five by seven or larger should be submitted.

The name, age and school of each girl, plus the name of her sponsor, should be printed on the back of her photograph.

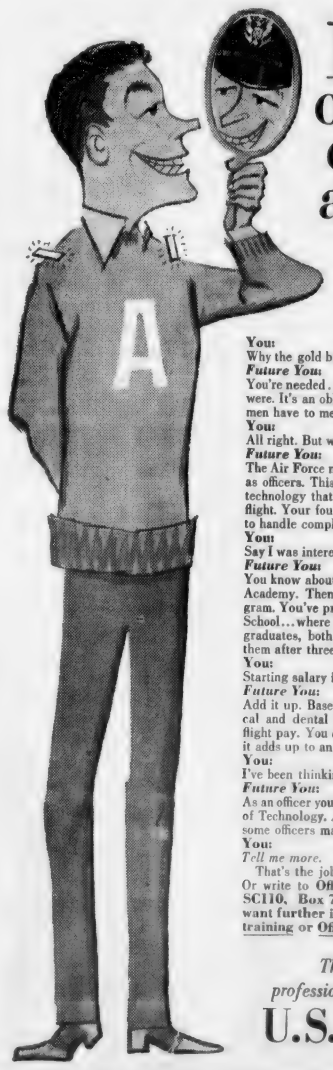
Sells said that response so far has not been good, and if it doesn't improve, there will be no Miss PaC-SaC.

New Members Chosen For Frosh SCA Cabinet

John Elrod, the president of the Student Christian Association, announced the freshman SCA cabinet for the coming year. Chosen to head the group was Ike Cobb from Decatur, Ga. Serving in the capacity of vice-president will be Dee Hodges who hails from Bainbridge, Ga. Susanna Jeanes, who is from Lyman, fills the post of secretary-treasurer.

The cabinet members named to complete the staff are: Bill Megathlin of Miami, Fla.; John Smith of Lincolnton, N. C.; Glen Browder of Sumter; Jere Ard of Atlanta, Ga.; and David Mabie, also of Atlanta.

Community Concert . . .



Programs Listed

The membership of the Clinton Community Concert Association closed on September 30, with a total of 1,198 members. This year Presbyterian College added a marked number of members to the drive. All members are assured of four outstanding concerts for the 1961-1962 season. All PC students are automatically members of the concert ossicintion.

The following attractions were chosen to be presented at Belk Auditorium on the Presbyterian College campus: The Serenaders male quartet, opening the season with a concert Friday, October 27; the Martha Beckett dance and panotmime group, Monday, November 27; the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, Tuesday, March 20; Eugene Lisst and Carroll Glenn piano and violin joint recital, Monday, April 30.

The Community Concert Association is a non-profit organization which operates solely on the membership basis. No tickets will be sold to any of the performances.

The Association sponsors a reciprocal agreement with the Community Concert Associations of Greenwood, Greer, Anderson, and Greenville(slight additional fee) whereby members may attend concerts in these cities.

had a one-man conference about your future lately?

You:
Why the gold bars?
Future You:
You're needed...just as your father and grandfather were. It's an obligation that a lot of qualified college men have to meet. If we don't...
You:
All right. But what can I do for the Air Force?
Future You:
The Air Force needs college trained men and women as officers. This is caused by the rapidly advancing technology that goes with hypersonic air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs.
You:
Say I was interested...how can I get to be an officer?
Future You:
You know about Air Force ROTC and the Air Force Academy. Then there's the navigator training program. You've probably heard about Officer Training School...where the Air Force takes certain college graduates, both men and women, and commissions them after three months of training.
You:
Starting salary is important. What about that?
Future You:
Add it up. Base pay, tax-free allowances, free medical and dental care, retirement provision, perhaps flight pay. You don't have to be an eco major to see it adds up to an attractive package.
You:
I've been thinking about getting my Master's.
Future You:
As an officer you can apply for the Air Force Institute of Technology. At no cost, and while on active duty some officers may even win their Ph.D. degrees.
You:
Tell me more.
That's the job of your local Air Force Recruiter. Or write to Officer Career Information, Dept. SCT10, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.

There's a place for professional achievement in the U.S. Air Force

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

THE TRUE AND HARROWING FACTS ABOUT RUSHING

It is well enough to sit in one's Morris chair and theorize about sorority rushing, but if one really wishes to know the facts, one must leave one's Morris chair and go out into the field. (My Morris chair, incidentally, was given to me by the Philip Morris Company, makers of Marlboro Cigarettes. They are great-hearted folk, the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, as millions of you know who have enjoyed their excellent cigarettes. Only from bountiful souls could come such mildness, such flavor, such filters, such pleasure, as you will find in Marlboros! For those who prefer crushproof boxes, Marlboro is available in crushproof boxes. For those who prefer soft packs, Marlboro is available in soft packs. For those who prefer to buy their cigarettes in bulk, please contact Emmett R. Sigafoos, friendly manager of our factory in Richmond, Virginia.)

But I digress. I was saying that in order to know the true facts about sorority rushing, one must go into the field and investigate. Consequently, I went last week to the Indiana College of Spot Welding and Belles Lettres and interviewed several million coeds, among them a lovely lass named Gerund McKeever. (It is, incidentally, quite an interesting little story about how she came to be named Gerund. It seems that her father, Ralph T. McKeever, loved grammar better than anything in the world, and so he named all his children after parts of speech. In addition to Gerund, there were three girls named Preposition, Adverb, and Pronoun, and one boy named Dative Case. The girls seemed not to be unduly depressed by their names, but Dative Case, alas, grew steadily more morose and was finally found one night dangling from a participle. After this tragic event, the father abandoned his practice of grammatical nomenclature, and whatever children were subsequently born to him—eight in all—were named Everett.)

They pledged more girls than they had room for...

But I digress. I was interviewing a lovely coed named Gerund McKeever. "Gerund," I said, "were you rushed by a sorority?"

"Yes, mister," she said, "I was rushed by a sorority."

"Did they give you a high-pressure pitch?" I asked. "Did they use the hard sell?"

"No, mister," she replied. "It was all done with quiet dignity. They simply talked to me about the chapter and the girls for about three minutes and then I pledged."

"My goodness!" I said. "Three minutes is not very long for a sales talk!"

"It is when they are holding you under water, mister," said Gerund.

"Well, Gerund," I said, "how do you like the house?"

"I like the house fine, mister," she replied. "But I don't live there. Unfortunately, they pledged more girls than they have room for, so they are sleeping some of us in the bell tower."

"Isn't that rather noisy?" I said.

"Only on the quarter-hour," said Gerund.

"Well, Gerund," I said, "it has certainly been a pleasure talking to you," I said.

"Likewise, mister," she said, and with many a laugh and cheer we went our separate ways—she to the campanile, I to the Morris chair.

© 1961 Max Shulman

• • •

The Philip Morris Company makes, in addition to Marlboro, the new unfiltered, king-size Philip Morris Commander—choice tobacco, gently vacuum cleaned by a new process to assure you the finest in smoking pleasure.

HOMECOMING EDITION

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., October 27, 1961 No. 5

Miss Dixie Crum—1961 Homecoming Queen

Alumni Returning Tomorrow For Annual Homecoming Activities

• Large Attendance Expected

Presbyterian College alumni will return to the campus tomorrow to take part in the 1961 Homecoming activities.

Hundreds of former PC students are expected back for this occasion which will be highlighted by the Presbyterian-Catawba football game on Johnson Field Saturday night.

The Homecoming program will open with a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Presbyterian College Alumni Association. This annual fall meeting of the governing group will start at 11:00 a. m. in the Trustees' meeting room of Belk Auditorium. An important part of this business meeting will be the choosing of a recipient for the 1961 Alumni Service Award.

Registration for the Homecoming activities will be held in the Douglas House lobby at 2:00. Following this, there will be an alumni reception in the main lounge at 3:30 p. m. Immediateily after the reception there will be a special program to install newly elected Alumni Association officers who will serve during 1962. Dill D. Beckman of Columbia, current president of the association, will preside over this program held in the Douglas House Assembly room at 4:30 p. m.

The schedule then calls for a 5:00 p. m. meeting of the Alumni Athletic Association, alumni athletic organization, under the direction of President Ross Templeton of Charlotte. At this meeting new officers will be elected for the coming year.

Dinner will be served in Judd Dining Hall, starting at 6:00 p. m. in ample time to make the 8:00 football kickoff.

PC's Scholarship Program Expanded

An expanded program of academic scholarships for qualified students seeking admission to Presbyterian College was announced today by President Marshall W. Brown.

He said PC's top Founder's scholarship series is being increased to provide ten grants annually for amounts ranging from $1,200 to $5,580 for the four years of study.

The revised program will be open to high school graduates planning to enter Presbyterian College next September. Each scholarship will pay from $300 to $1,395 per year for four years to the student who qualifies on the basis of intellect, leadership and character.

President Brown pointed out that these awards are competitive. Applications must be returned to the college not later than December 20 of this year, after which tests will be given to the applicants to determine a group of finalists. Those students reaching the finals will be brought to Presbyterian College for a campus visit, tests and interviews.

Rev. Charles Cousar On Campus Next Week

Reverend Charles Cousar, a professor in New Testament and member of the admissions board of Columbia Theological Seminary, will be on the campus next week to talk with students.

He will be here Tuesday night through Thursday and will talk to those interested in attending the Seminary after completion of their college work.

Appointments may be made through Mr. Tom Stallworth. Rev. Cousar will also use Mr. Stallworth's office for his discussions with students.

Notice

Tryouts for authorization to play the organ will be held in Belk Auditorium on Wednesday, November 1. The tryouts will be conducted by the committee on the use of the organ, which is composed of Mrs. Ferdinand Jacobs, Mr. Donald Boyd, and Dr. Edouard Patte.

Regulations for the use of the organ are available in the office of the Bursar. A fee of fifty cents an hour will be charged for the use of the organ.

Chapel Services

Monday—Theta Chi Fraternity.

Wednesday—Chapel Worship Service; Rev. Charles Cousar, Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, Ga.

Friday — Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Male Quartet Opens Community Concert

Clinton's Community Concert series will get underway on its 1961-62 season tonight at 8:00 o'clock in Belk Auditorium.

The first concert will be by The Serenaders male quartet, of Chicago. Popular on radio and televsiion, this singing group has been widely acclaimed.

One critic recently wrote of their appearance in an open air concert: "To lovers of quartet music, nothing can quite compare with the rich, luscious harmony conjured up by four well-matched male voices. The Serenaders are four highly skilled specialists, each a soloist of some distinction in his own right. They have accomplished much in the perfect blending of their voices."

The original purpose in forming the Serenaders four years ago, was to secure Chicago's finest male voices, then blend them into the Midwest's best quartet. That they have accomplished much in this short time is evidenced by their many radio and television network appearances.

Individually as soloists, they have appeared on practically every major network program which emanates from Chicago.

And who sings those "commercials"? Even the Serenaders sometimes make a half dozen of them in a morning.

Dr. Newton Gaston Named Alumni President - Elect

Dr. J. Newton Gaston, Jr., of Chester, has been named president-elect of the Presbyterian College Alumni Association, it was announced today.

He and other offciers and directors newly elected to serve during 1962 will be officially installed as part of PC's Homecoming day program here Saturday afternoon. Chosen by mail ballot recently distributed to all alumni, they will assume office next January 1.

Al Brice, of Greenwood, president-elect this year, will move up automatically at this time to begin serving his one-year term as president.. He will succeed Dill Beckman, of Columbia.

The alumni named A. Knox Wyatt, of Rome, Ga., as one of three alumni representatives to the Presbyterian College board of trustees succeeding A. Bynum Poe, of Rock Hill. Tom Plaxico, of Clinton, is the newly elected Alumni Association vice-president; and Douglas Patton, of Greenville, secretary-treasurer. Each trustee representative serves for three years, while the association officers hold one-year terms.

Three men were elected as new

Three men were elected as new South Carolina directors of the PC Alumni Association. Joe Kirven, of Sumter, will step in for the remaining year of an unexpired two-year term, and John H. Hunter, Sr., of Clinton, and the Rev. Cantey C. DuBose, of Seneca, wil serve for the next two years. A fourth state director, already serving' has another year to go.

The recent voting tapped John K. Thurman, of Decatur, Ga., to assume one of the two directorships from Georgia; and Herbert Lindsay, Jr., of Charlotte, one of the two from North Carolina. Both are two-year terms.

Dance, Open House Highlight Weekend

Student praparations for homecoming hit a high point today. Fraternity men have been busily preparing their displays for the weekend.

Drawings were held recently for locations of homecoming displays. The Kappa Alpha display wil be located on the front lawn in front of the Douglas House. Alpha Sigma Phi will set up its display on the plaza, southeast of the flag pole. Just to the north of that display will be the Theta Chi project. Pi Kappa Alpha will be located in the vicinity of the flag pole, while Sigma Nu's display will be between Spencer dormitory and Jacobs Science Hall. Pi Kappa Phi's project will be somewhere in front of Neville Hall.

Tomorrow someone's work will pay off as a special committee composed of members of the Alumni Board of Directors and appointed by alumni president Dil Beckman will judge the decorations. Awards of twenty-five, fifteen, and ten dollars will be made, respectively, to the fraternities having the top three decorations. The decision will be announced over the PA system at the ball game.

Highlight of the Homecoming festivities will be the presentation of the 1961 Homecoming Queen, Miss Dixie Crum, at halftime ceremonies. Miss Crum, a senior at Converse College, will be escorted by Bill Stone. She will be presented with a bouquet of flowers by Bob Stevens, vice-president of Blue Key honorary fraternity.

The Queen's court will consist of the sponsors of the senior football players. They will sit on a special platform on the sidelines behind the Hose grid squad.

Each of the six social fraternities on campus will hold open house after the school dance Friday night and beginning at 11:00. This is in accordance with IFC rules. Open houses will also be held for the various fraternities following the game Saturday night.

The annual IFC-sponsored dance will begin at the Clinton Armory at 8:30. Maurice Williams and The Zodiacs will provide the music. Dress for the occasion will be semi-formal for men and cocktail or party dresses for girls.

Bob Morris, Hal Jordan, and Jack Greene play some American rock and roll for distinguished guitarist, Alirio Diaz.—Photo by Sells.

Vary in Choices

Students List Professions, Religions

The 540 students currently enrolled in Presbyterian College are a most diversified group. This is especially apparent in their choice of an occupation for the student body has announced its recent career professions.

Teaching leads the list as the most popular career among students. Running second is business, medicine and engineering. Accounting and law follow, each with 17 on the list. The top five.

A total of 72 plan to enter teaching fields. Business fields have a total of 60, while 53 students plan to enter the ministry. The field of law claims 29.

Fourteen people plan to go into dentistry, and ten students want to be engineers. There are seven who plan to go into social work, and five each have chosen journalism, accounting, counseling, public relations and research work. Four each want to be secretaries and Dietitians.

Three students are looking forward to work in the insurance field, and two each want to be psychologist, physics, scientist, and textile worker.

The majority of the students were still undecided. The remainder showed a total of 204 in the chosen fields.

Presbyterians lead the religious with 325, while the Baptists are second with 110. The Methodists have 60, and the Episcopalians number 30. There are 5 Lutheran and three each Assembly of God, Catholic and First Christian Church. Two students belong to the United Church of Christ.

The A. R. P. Church of Elizabeth City, Central Methodist, Olin Station People, Our Lady of the Assumption and the Seventh Day Adventist all have one new fellow student each to call out the top five.

Geographically the students here come 19 states, the District of Columbia and Bermuda. There are 246 from South Carolina and 149 from Georgia. Sixty-one hail from North Carolina, with 33 from Florida. Eleven is the total from Virginia.

Alabama boasts seven, and there are 6 from Tennessee, while five hail from Kentucky. Three each come from New York and West Virginia. Two each are from Illinois, Indiana, New Jersey and Texas.

The following states boast only one each: Colorado, Maryland, Missouri, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. The District of Columbia Bermuda and [illegible]

Final Entry Date Given for Contest

[illegible] editor of the 1962 PaC-SaC, stated today that final [illegible] test must be turned in no later [illegible] Wednesday, October 25. Entries should be given to Rock Sossaman or Bailey Hill. A picture [illegible] be chosen or all get cheated [illegible]

[illegible] are and section of [illegible] with the name of her [illegible] should be pinned on the back of her photo-graph.

[illegible] and Freshman [illegible] Sossaman [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] Browder of Stanford [illegible] Ard. of Atlanta, Ga., and David Mahaffey of Miami.

New Members Chosen For Frosh SCA Cabinet

John Lynch, president of the Student Christian Association, announced the freshman SCA cabinet for the coming year. Chosen to head the group was Bo Cobb from Decatur, Ga. Serving in the capacity of vice-president will be Dee Hodges who hails from Barnwell, Ga. Sissanna Hodges, who is from Latham, Miss., the post of secretary-treasurer.

The cabinet members named to complete the staff are: Bill McGaithlin of Miami, Fla.; John Smith of Lincolnton, N. C.; Glenn Browder of Stanford; Jere Ard, of Atlanta, Ga.; and David Mahaffey of Miami.

Community Concert . . .

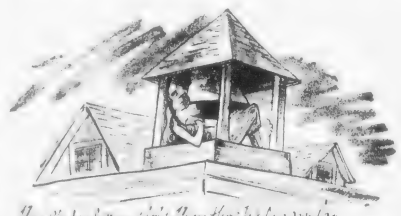
Programs Listed

The membership of the Clinton Community Concert Association closed on September 30 with a total of 1,198 members. This year Presbyterian College added a marked number of members to the drive. All members are assured of four outstanding concerts for the 1961-1962 season. All PC students are automatically members of the concert association.

The following attractions were chosen to be presented at Belk Auditorium on the Presbyterian College campus: The Serenaders male quartet, opening the season with a concert Friday, October 27; the Martha Beckett dance and panotmine group, Monday, November 27; the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, Tuesday, March 20; Eugene Lisst and Carroll Glenn piano and violin joint recital, Monday, April 30.

The Community Concert Association is a non-profit organization which operates solely on the membership basis. No tickets will be sold to any of the performances.

The Association sponsors a reciprocal agreement with the Community Concert Associations of Greenwood, Greer, Anderson and Greenville; slight additional fee whereby members may attend concerts in these cities.



On Campus with Max Shulman

Author of "I Was a Teenage Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.

THE TRUE AND HARROWING FACTS ABOUT RUSHING

It was [illegible] Morris and throughout about [illegible] and [illegible] ally wanted to know the facts, one night [illegible] Morris chair accidentally, was given to me by the Philip Morris Company, makers of Marlboro Cigarettes. They are great-hearted folk, the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, as millions of you know who have enjoyed their excellent cigarettes. Only from bountiful seeds could come such mildness, such flavor, such filters, such pleasure, as you will find in Marlboros! For those who prefer crushproof boxes, Marlboro is available in crushproof boxes. For those who prefer soft packs, Marlboro is available in soft packs. For those who prefer to buy their cigarettes in bulk, please contact Emmett R. Sigafoos, friendly manager of our factory in Richmond, Virginia.)

But I digress. I was saying that in order to know the true facts about sorority rushing, one must go into the field and investigate. Consequently, I went last week to the Indiana College of Spot Welding and Belles Lettres and interviewed several million coeds, among them a lovely lass named Gerund McKeever. It is, incidentally, quite an interesting little story about how she came to be named Gerund. It seems that her father, Ralph T. McKeever, loved grammar better than anything in the world, and so he named all his children after parts of speech. In addition to Gerund, there were three girls named Preposition, Adverb, and Pronoun, and one boy named Dative Case. The girls seemed not to be unduly depressed by their names, but Dative Case, alas, grew steadily more morose and was finally found one night dangling from a participle. After this tragic event, the father abandoned his practice of grammatical nomenclature, and whatever children were subsequently born to him—eight in all—were named Everett.

Then Mother gave birth to their fifth child, Dr. Newton Gaston, Jr.

But I digress. I was interviewing a lovely coed named Gerund McKeever. "Gerund," I said, "were you rushed by a sorority?"

"Yes, mister," she said. "I was rushed by a sorority."

"Did they give you a high-pressure pitch?" I asked. "Did they use the hard sell?"

"No, mister," she replied. "It was all done with great dignity. They simply talked to me about the chapter and the girls for about three minutes. And then I pledged."

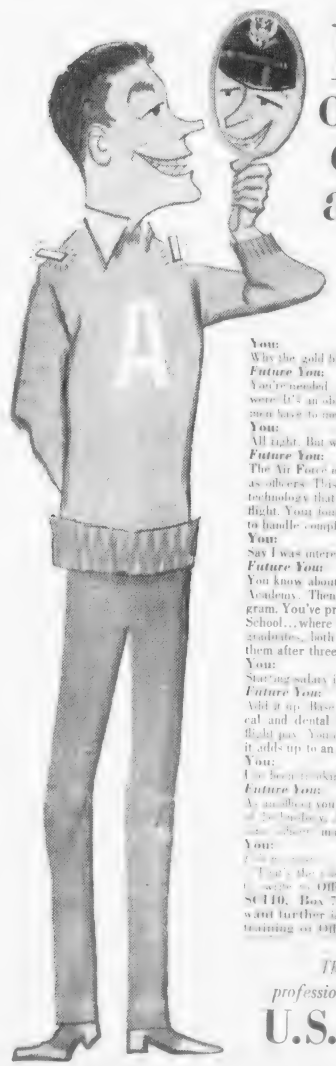
"My goodness!" I said. "Does anybody get anything for a sales talk?"

"It is about time you brought that subject up, mister," said Gerund.

"What, Gerund," I said, "is the going rate these days?"

"I have no [illegible] to [illegible] But I do know that [illegible] room [illegible] with [illegible]

"Do [illegible]



"One [illegible]

"Oh [illegible] ing to [illegible]

"[illegible] to the Morris [illegible]

• • •

The Philip Morris Company makes, in addition to Marlboro, the new unfiltered, king-size Philip Morris Commander—choice tobacco, gently vacuum cleaned by a new process to assure you the finest in smoking pleasure.

had a one-man conference about your future lately?

You:
Why the gold bars?
Future You:
You're needed . . . just as your father and grandfather were. It's an obligation that a lot of qualified college men have to meet. If we don't . . .
You:
All right. But what can I do for the Air Force?
Future You:
The Air Force needs college-trained men and women as officers. This is caused by the rapidly advancing technology that goes with supersonic air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs.
You:
Say I was interested . . . how can I get to be an officer?
Future You:
You know about Air Force ROTC and the Air Force Academy. Then there's the navigator training program. You've probably heard about Officer Training School . . . where the Air Force takes certain college graduates, both men and women, and commissions them after three months of training.
You:
Starting salary is important. What about that?
Future You:
Add it up. Base pay. Tax free allowances. Free medical and dental care, retirement provision, perhaps flight pay. You don't have to be an ace to see it adds up to an attractive package.
You:
I've been thinking about getting my Master's.
Future You:
As an officer you can attend the Air Force Institute of Technology. At government cost while on active duty you can earn more than your B.S. degree.
You:
[illegible]
"That's the gist of it," said Air Force Recruiter [illegible] Write to Officer Career Information, Dept. SC140, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.

There's no place for professional achievement in the

U.S. Air Force

HOMECOMING EDITION

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XI. Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., October 27, 1961 No. 5

Miss Dixie Crum—1961 Homecoming Queen

Dr. Newton Gaston Named Alumni President - Elect

Dr. J. Newton Gaston, Jr., of Chester, has been named president-elect of the Presbyterian College Alumni Association, it was announced today.

He and other officers and directors newly elected to serve during 1962 will be officially installed as part of PC's Homecoming day program here Saturday afternoon. Chosen by mail ballot recently distributed to all alumni, they will assume office next January 1.

Al Brice, of Greenwood, president-elect this year, will move up automatically at this time to begin serving his one-year term as president. He will succeed Dill Beckman, of Columbia.

The alumni named A. Knox Wyatt, of Rome, Ga., as one of three alumni representatives to the Presbyterian College board of trustees succeeding A. Bynum Poe, of Rock Hill. Tom Plaxico, of Clinton, is the newly elected Alumni Association vice-president; and Douglas Patton, of Greenville, secretary-treasurer. Each trustee representative serves for three years, while the association officers hold one-year terms.

Three men were elected as new

Three men were elected as new South Carolina directors of the PC Alumni Association. Joe Kirven, of Sumter, will step in for the remaining year of an unexpired two-year term, and John H. Hunter, Sr., of Clinton, and the Rev. Canley C. DuBose, of Seneca, wil serve for the next two years. A fourth state director, already serving has another year to go.

The recent voting tapped John K. Thurman, of Decatur, Ga., to assume one of the two directorships from Georgia; and Herbert Lindsay, Jr., of Charlotte, one of the two from North Carolina. Both are two-year terms.

Alumni Returning Tomorrow For Annual Homecoming Activities

PC's Scholarship Program Expanded

An expanded program of academic scholarships for qualified students seeking admission to Presbyterian College was announced today by President Marshall W. Brown.

He said PC's top Founder's scholarship series is being increased to provide ten grants annually for amounts ranging from $1,200 to $5,580 for the four years of study.

The revised program will be open to high school graduates planning to enter Presbyterian College next September. Each scholarship will pay from $300 to $1,395 per year for four years to the student who qualifies on the basis of intellect, leadership and character.

President Brown pointed out that these awards are competitive. Applications must be returned to the college not later than December 20 of this year, after which tests will be given to the applicants to determine a group of finalists. Those students reaching the finals will be brought to Presbyterian College for a campus visit, tests and interviews.

Rev. Charles Cousar On Campus Next Week

Reverend Charles Cousar, a professor in New Testament and member of the admissions board of Columbia Theological Seminary, will be on the campus next week to talk with students.

He will be here Tuesday night through Thursday and will talk to those interested in attending the Seminary after completion of their college work.

Appointments may be made through Mr. Tom Stallworth. Rev. Cousar will also use Mr. Stallworth's office for his discussions with students.

• Large Attendance Expected

Presbyterian College alumni will return to the campus tomorrow to take part in the 1961 Homecoming activities.

Hundreds of former PC students are expected back for this occasion which will be highlighted by the Presbyterian-Catawba football game on Johnson Field Saturday night.

The Homecoming program will open with a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Presbyterian College Alumni Association. This annual fall meeting of the governing group will start at 11:00 a. m. in the Trustees' meeting room of Belk Auditorium. An important part of this business meeting will be the choosing of a recipient for the 1961 Alumni Service Award.

Registration for the Homecoming activities will be held in the Douglas House lobby at 2:00. Following this, there will be an alumni reception in the main lounge at 3:30 p. m. Immediately after the reception there will be a special program to install newly elected Alumni Association officers who will serve during 1962. Dill D. Beckman of Columbia, current president of the association, will preside over this program held in the Douglas House Assembly room at 4:30 p. m.

The schedule then calls for a 5:00 p. m. meeting of the Alumni Athletic Association, alumni athletic organization, under the direction of President Ross Templeton of Charlotte. At this meeting new officers will be elected for the coming year.

Dinner will be served in Judd Dining Hall, starting at 6:00 p. m. in ample time to make the 8:00 football kickoff.

Notice

Tryouts for authorization to play the organ will be held in Belk Auditorium on Wednesday, November 1. The tryouts will be conducted by the committee on the use of the organ, which is composed of Mrs. Ferdinand Jacobs, Mr. Donald Boyd, and Dr. Edouard Patte.

Regulations for the use of the organ are available in the office of the Bursar. A fee of fifty cents an hour will be charged for the use of the organ.

Chapel Services

Monday—Theta Chi Fraternity.

Wednesday—Chapel Worship Service; Rev. Charles Cousar, Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, Ga.

Friday — Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Male Quartet Opens Community Concert

Clinton's Community Concert series will get underway on its 1961-62 season tonight at 8:00 o'clock in Belk Auditorium on campus.

The first concert will be by The Serenaders male quartet, of Chicago. Popular on radio and television, this singing group has been widely acclaimed.

One critic recently wrote of their appearance in an open air concert: "To lovers of quartet music, nothing can quite compare with the rich, luscious harmony conjured up by four well matched male voices. The Serenaders are four highly skilled specialists, each a soloist of some distinction in his own right. They have accomplished much in the perfect blending of their voices."

The original purpose in forming the Serenaders four years ago, was to secure Chicago's finest male voices, then blend them into the Midwest's best quartet. That they have accomplished much in this short time is evidenced by their many radio and television network appearances.

Individually as soloists, they have appeared on practically every major network program which emanates from Chicago.

And who sings those "commercials"? Even the Serenaders sometimes make a half dozen of them in a morning.

Dance, Open House Highlight Weekend

Student preparations for homecoming hit a high point today. Fraternity men have been busily preparing their displays for the weekend.

Drawings were held recently for locations of homecoming displays. The Kappa Alpha display wil be located on the front lawn in front of the Douglas House. Alpha Sigma Phi will set up its display on the plaza, southeast of the flag pole. Just to the north of that display will be the Theta Chi project. Pi Kappa Alpha will be located in the vicinity of the flag pole, while Sigma Nu's display will be between Spencer dormitory and Jacobs Science Hall. Pi Kappa Phi's project will be somewhere in front of Neville Hall.

Tomorrow someone's work will pay off as a special committee composed of members of the Alumni Board of Directors and appointed by alumni president Dil Beckman will judge the decorations. Awards of twenty-five, fifteen, and ten dollars will be made, respectively, to the fraternities having the top three decorations. The decision will be announced over the PA system at the ball game.

Highlight of the Homecoming festivities will be the presentation of the 1961 Homecoming Queen, Miss Dixie Crum, at halftime ceremonies. Miss Crum, a senior at Converse College, will be escorted by Bill Stone. She will be presented with a bouquet of flowers by Bob Stevens, vice-president of Blue Key honorary fraternity.

The Queen's court will consist of the sponsors of the senior football players. They will sit on a special platform on the sidelines behind the Hose grid squad.

Each of the six social fraternities on campus will hold open house after the school dance Friday night and beginning at 11:00. This is in accordance with IFC rules. Open houses will also be held for the various fraternities following the game Saturday night.

The annual IFC-sponsored dance will begin at the Clinton Armory at 8:30. Maurice Williams and The Zodiacs will provide the music. Dress for the occasion will be semi-formal for men and cocktail or party dresses for girls.

Bob Morris, Hal Jordan, and Jack Greene play some American rock and roll for distinguished guitarist, Alirio Diaz.—Photo by Sells.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Editor's Notebook

IT IS GOOD to see the Fine Arts Series beginning once again. The student body thoroughly enjoyed Alirio Diaz, the classical guitarist. We hope this year a good variety of programs will be offered. The series is off to a good start.

THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT has shown a good deal of interest in the editorial of a few weeks ago asking that quizzes not be given during the week of fraternity smokers. They seemed to believe that it was a bunch of bull. Their opinion appears, however, to be based on an essay which had just been read by their freshman sections. The name of this essay was something on the order of "Colleges are Turning into Playgrounds."

For their benefit, the only dates involved are November 30, December 1, 2, 5, 6, and 7. Those are the days following the Smokers.

Yes, you may give quizzes during the mid-semester exam period.

FOR THOSE who haven't noticed, maintenance crews have been busy this week throwing out winter grass seeds. This, of course, is an attempt to beautify the campus. It is therefore suggested that to aid these little seeds, the cows should stay out of the pastures.

RETREAT is now being held at the end of the drill period every Thursday afternoon. Retreat ceremonies are held on every Army post throughout the world every day for the purpose of paying respect to the colors.

These ceremonies are not, however, merely for military personnel, but for civilians as well. Proper procedure is for civilians to stop and face the flag with their hands over their hearts. If one is in an automobile, he should stop and get out. We hope to see this practiced in the future. Patriotism is a debt.

LASTLY we welcome to the campus this weekend many returning alumni. Make yourselves at home. You know it was once.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE HARVARD, Greek Editor

THETA CHI

Congratulations are extended to Bob Beddingfield, Todd Campbell, Tom Knox, and Max Walker, who were initiated into the Beta Beta Chapter of Kappa Sigma recently.

For pledge week, this weekend a dance will be held after the dance on Friday night. A special party is also being planned for Saturday afternoon. Saturday night there will be a party in the fraternity room after the game. All freshmen and new students are invited to attend.

PI KAPPA PHI

Congratulations to our new brothers, David Watts, Roe Callaway, and Thomas Herndon. We are also happy to welcome Hal Jordan as a pledge.

Alpha Psi Chapter invites all freshmen and non-fraternity men to the room following the school dance on Friday night. Saturday night's after the ball game party features the Famous Pairs combo.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Final plans for Homecoming Weekend were discussed. The exhibit for this weekend is taking shape through the efforts of Drayton Fowler and his committee.

The Pikes hosted the sweetheart dance Friday night in the fraternity suite. Saturday afternoon a tea will be given for friends and alumni. The weekend will be concluded by a dance at the Legion Hut Saturday night and will be open to all new men homecoming weekend beginning Friday night with a party after the game at the KA house. Saturday afternoon a tea dance is planned at the Laurens Shrine Club from 2:00-6:00, with the Tams playing.

Following the game Saturday night Drink Small will furnish the music for a party at the house. All freshmen and other new students are cordially invited to all functions of the weekend.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Congratulations to our new brothers, David Watts, Roe Callaway, and Thomas Herndon. We are also happy to welcome Hal Jordan as a pledge.

Alpha Psi Chapter invites all freshmen and non-fraternity men to the room following the school dance on Friday night. Saturday night's after the ball game party features the Famous Pairs combo.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Final plans for Homecoming Weekend were discussed. The exhibit for this weekend is taking shape through the efforts of Drayton Fowler and his committee.

The Pikes hosted the sweetheart dance Friday night in the fraternity suite. Saturday afternoon a tea will be given for friends and alumni. The weekend will be concluded by a dance at the Legion Hut Saturday night and will be open to all new men

The Evils of College Life

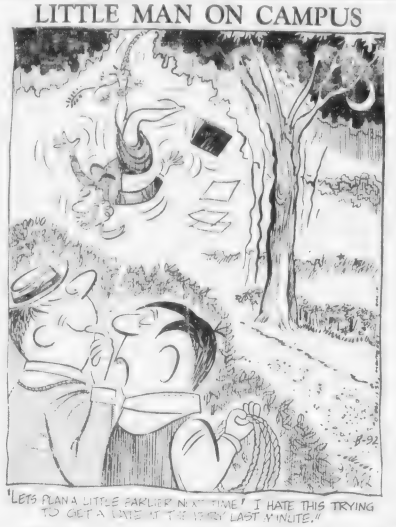
TOM MORRISON, Feature Editor

On this first day of Homecoming Weekend, some grave changes which have unfortunately invaded PC campus life during the past few years should be seriously noted. Those alumni now visiting their alma mater here in Clinton must surely shudder in terror at the many innovations just recently introduced.

It has been reported by one of my many correspondents that our school is presently indulging in the biggest waste since Venus de Milo's sculptor learned how to make arms. For some lengthy span of time now, considerable attempts have been made to adorn our tennis courts with sprouting grass: rich earth is first watered quite constantly and thereafter raked with deliberate thoroughness; all of that activity may be fine and well, but rarely has foolishness been practiced to such a glaring extent as when the same round is often sprinkled during the heat of the day, thus burning up the sod, and then smothered with a heavy steel roller.

All this is completely acceptable for Russian Twenty Year Plans and the like, but we so-called Americans should expect results quick! By the way, many students have themselves been quite detrimental to the proposed greenery by constant walking, stomping, hitting, and throwing upon the area here in question. With action like this, there can obviously be no hope whatsoever for cultivation.

Probably even more serious than the above plight, though, is the playing of popular music in the cafeteria while Sunday dinner is eaten. It has been traditional practice for PC students to contemplate upon life's many and perplexing problems during the week's first day, and modern melodies tend only to disrupt these furtive meditations.



We are fortunate enough to have many brilliant students in our midst (only modesty keeps me from mentioning their names), and they might well be able to solve the world's most pressing problems were they not disrupted in their thoughts during what is brainwise the very most productive time: Sunday dinner.

There must also be pointed out what is undeniably the worst tragedy imaginable for a college. It grieves me greatly to reveal this, but located in the basement of Douglas House is a pool hall! That vile den of iniquity would long ago have been axed to shreds, I am sure, if the decent students (let us hope that I am justified in using the plural form) knew about it.

Before any overt action is taken, however, let us wage a war of knowledge by providing information of the game's down grading reputation to all persons who lower themselves by visiting the refuge of gangsters, thieves, and—yes—even college professors.

There are many more evils be setting us, of course, but a good start for our crusade would be to take care of those three leading vices mentioned above. Take courage!

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Phil Anthropy Speaks

About Women

by Phil Anthropy

Welcome back to the column. Welcome also to the alumni. I bet you didn't expect to see me again so soon. Well, frankly, I didn't expect to be writing again any time soon either. For this week I believe a pretty appropriate topic has been selected. This being dance weekend (isn't everyone excited), I decided to relate to you a couple of lines about women (and some of them do have some good lines).

First of all let me tell you the joke of the week:

A little girl mouse and a little boy mouse were playing. Said the little girl mouse: "Let's play hide and seek. You be 'it.' If you find me you can kiss me."

Little Boy Mouse: "When I find you I'm gonna do more than kiss you!"

Little Girl Mouse—in excited whisper: "I'll be in the bread box!"

And now to our topic:

Did you know that in order to curb brutality on the screen, most movies end just as the boy and girl are about to be married.

And of course love leads to marriage. There was the unusual case of a dentist who married a manicurist. Now they are fighting tooth and nail.

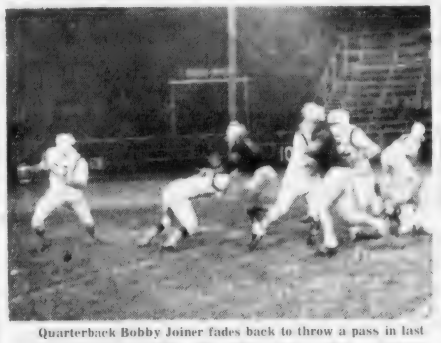
It has been said that soaking a wedding ring in dishwater three times daily makes it last longer.

Women would be the most enchanting creatures on earth if in falling into their arms one didn't fall into their hands.

Love, however, doesn't always last. Abby says that separation in love is like wind to a fire. It kindles the greatest and quenches the smallest.

The strongest man in the world cannot lift a heavy heart.

This week's thought is as follows: The real measure of a woman is her measure of other women.



Open Social

This week's Open Social will be given by the Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity. Their fraternity suite is located on the third floor of Neville Hall in the North wing.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.
Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR MURRAY WHITE
News Editor Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor Loren Eagles

Quarterback Bobby Joiner fades back to throw a pass in last week's PC-Tampa action. The efforts were in vain as Tampa squeezed by PC 17-16.—Photo by Cooper.

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

Critique

The Blue Hose have reached the halfway mark in this year's football season and we will attempt to summarize or give a resume of the team's play thus far.

In the first games of the season the Hose showed a vaunted passing attack featuring the arm of quarterback Bobby Joiner. Against both Furman and Lenoir Rhyne the pass was our main offensive weapon. More recently the passing has run into some difficulty, but at the same time the ground attack has picked up considerably with the running of halfbacks Ronnie Hampton, Jimmy May, and Larry Madden along with freshman fullback Randy McCranie.

Against Tampa the Hose gained only 24 yards in the air, while moving for 285 yards via the ground. Contrastingly the big Blue got only 52 yards rushing against Furman, while netting 127 through the air. The intercepted pass has hurt the Hose attack considerably as our opponents have pulled in ten of our passes thus far this year.

The PC forward wall has improved tremendously in each succeeding game. The Paladins of Furman managed 19 first downs and 307 yards rushing against the Hose line in our first game. Against the PC line the Tampa Spartans managed only 6 first downs (none in the second half) and 105 yards rushing. Tampa players described the PC line as the hardest hitting line that they had faced.

The defensive backfield seems to be one of the PC weak points as both Wofford and Davidson scored their winning points on the errors of our defensive backs.

Another of the Blue Hose weaknesses is their subjection to a large quantity of penalties especially at crucial points in the game. The penalty coupled with the intercepted pass has halted many of PC's drives thus far this year.

In short, if the Blue Hose can get their passing and running attacks coordinated and can find that scoring punch after they get deep in enemy territory, they should be on their way to a string of successes in the coming games.

SOX PREDICTS

If we are ever going to make a good showing at this chore of picking winners, we sure would like for it to be this week for our Homecoming game. Last week's games brought our season's record to 3 right and 7 wrong for an even .300 pct.

This week the Indians of Newberry travel to Guilford, N. C., to face Guilford College. The Indians should take this game rather handily, Newberry by 14. Wofford's Terriers play host to the Furman Paladins this Saturday. Although the Terriers seem to be the class of the Little Three this year, Furman will provide too much opposition for Wofford. The Paladins by 8.

The Blue Hose of PC face the Catawba Indians in their Homecoming game on Johnson Field tomorrow night. It looks like the long sought after win will finally be found here tomorrow night. PC to take this game by 7.

SPORTS NOTEBOOK

Basketball practice got into full swing this week as can be told by the way the players move painfully about the campus . . . Intramural football ended another highly successful season this week . . . for the benefit of our few Pick-A-Winner fans: Wagner defeated Dickinson 18-13 last weekend and Ursinus College lost to Swarthmore, 6-0.

Howard's Pharmacy

Your Rexall Drug Store

COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE

ON THE SQUARE

Presbyterian Battles Catawba In Tomorrow's Homecoming Play

• Seek First Victory

Presbyterian College's defense will be put to the test by Catawba rushing specialists before PC's Homecoming crowd Saturday night. The Hose gridmen hope to post a third straight Homecoming win for Presbyterian alumni who will gather here this week end. It also would be an opportune time to break this season's five-game losing jinx.

The Blue Hose, who have yielded an average of only 78 rushing yards in the last two games, will have a big job trying to stop the Indians' speedy ball carriers Coach Jones remarked.

"The have two fine halfbacks. That Gene Worthington is one of the fastest and shiftiest runners we've seen. And Ronnie Crouse is a very good runner, too.' Both boys broke through to paydirt in Catawba's impressive victory over Elon last week.

Jones added that the Indians run from the same type offense, the unbalanced wing, which PC has used to roll for 451 yards rush in its last two games.

Presbyterian halfbacks have made big rushing gains, too, with Ronnie Hampton of Kannapolis, N. C., churning off 312 yards in 48 attempts for a 6.7 average. Halfback Jimmy May of Greenwood, runs second with 206 yards in 57 carries for a 3.6 average.

Quarterback Bobby Joiner, of Macon, Ga., has led the Hose aerial attack against the Indians. Joiner has passed for 441 yards in PC's five games to date.

Comparative records show Catawba with two wins in six starts. Presbyterian yet to scratch in five engagements. Both teams list as mutual opponent Davidson. PC lost a 21-7 decision and Catawba 20-12. Presbyterian has taken eight of the last ten meetings between the schools, with one tie in 1953.

PiKA Champions; Annex Grid Title

The 1961 intramural football play drew to a close this week as the Sigma Nu's downed the Alpha Sigs 20-0. The game preceding this clash, saw the PiKA's down the KA's 26-7, in a somewhat defensive battle.

This year's football champions, the PiKA's, finished with a 5-0-1 record, tying only the second place Pi Kappa Phi's. Sigma Nu finished third, ending their season with a 4-2-0 record.

Action this year saw many close, thrilling games, which made the season another success for intramural enthusiasts on campus. Everyone now has basketball to look forward to, which should start in approximately eight weeks. By the time this period has lapsed, maybe some of the casts and limps will be shaken by the intramural football participants.

Freshmen, Transfers Aid Blue Hose Grid Efforts

The PC Blue Hose have been greatly aided by the addition of a number of capable freshmen and transfer students this year. They have filled in adequately when injuries left key positions under-manned.

One of the valuable new men in the PC backfield this year is freshman Jimmy Elliott. He has handled the punting chores almost exclusively this year, and has averaged 37.2 yards on 25 punts. Also capable of helping in the punting department is end Donny Ross, who is a junior college transfer. Ross has also done an outstanding job on both offense and defense at his end post.

Adding much depth to the tackle position are freshman John Edwards, and juniors Jerry Lowder and Mike Marr.

Lowder has shown himself to be one of the biggest and strongest members of the Hose and he uses this attribute in making his blocks and tackles. With injuries hampering both Frank King and Sonny DuBose these men have proven to be indispensible.

With the loss of Keith Richardson and Alex Mills from last year, the center position has been filled extremely well by junior college transfer "Snuff" McReynolds and freshman Doyle Johnson. They have both proven to be rugged on both offense and defense.

Standing out among the newcomers in the backfield have been freshman fullback Randy McCranie and sophomore halfback Larry Madden. McCranie, who has earned a starting role with his hard runing has picked up 88 yards in 17 carries for an average of 5.2 yards per attempt. Halfback Madden has netted 139 yards in 29 attempts for a 4.5 average as well as being one of the Blue Hose leading kickoff and punt returners.

PICK - A - WINNER

Try to match your skill with the experts. Pick the winners of the following gridiron battles and win two free passes to the Broadway Theater. Last week's winner was P. W. Goodwyn.

Name

Dorm

			Tie
PC	( )	Catawba	( )
Clemson	( )	Auburn	( )
Duke	( )	N. C. State	( )
Newberry	( )	Guilford	( )
Furman	( )	Wofford	( )
Maryland	( )	S. Carolina	( )
Davidson	( )	Richmond	( )
Ursinus College	( )	Wagner	( )

I predict _____ points will be the winning margin in the PC-Catawba game.

RULES

1. Entries must be turned in to Bailey 216 or the Blue Stocking office before noon Saturday.
2. Entries must be on the above printed form.
3. Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4. In case of ties, the contestant most nearly guessing the winning margin of points in the PC-Catawba game will win.
5. No member of the Blue Stocking staff is eligible.

Tampa Takes Hose Eleven

The Blue Hose lost their fifth straight game to the Tampa Spartans by the score of 17-16 last weekend. It was the second game in a row which the Hose have lost in all of the statistical departments.

PC took the opening kickoff and began to move down the field. They were stopped by an intercepted pass on the Tampa 19-yard line which was run back to the 42. The PC forward wall, led by Sonny DuBose and Kermit Littlefield, stopped the Tampa drive on the Hose 19, and Jim Neve kicked a field goal from there to give the Spartans a 3-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Early in the second period the Hose drove from their own 9-yard line to paydirt. Leading the charge were Hampton, May, and McCranie with May going over from 9 yards out. Ridinger converted the PAT and PC led 7-3.

The next time PC got the ball they were held and forced to punt. Punter Jimmy Elliott could not manage to get the kick away and was tackled, giving the Spartans the ball deep in PC territory. From there they went on to score and convert the extra point, to give Tampa a 10-7 lead at halftime.

In the third quarter the Hose moved from their own twenty to their second score. This drive was carried out on the ground with Hampton going over from the 9. The PAT was good, again making the score 14-10.

The following kickoff was taken deep in the end zone by Tampa's Bessent. He fumbled and then tossed a lateral to Bill Beaver who then scampered down the sidelines unmolested for what proved to be the winning score. The all-important extra point was good and the Spartans led 17-14.

PC drove deep into the Spartan territory in the last quarter, but could not manage to push across another score. Tampa gave the Blue Hose a safety in order to get punting room late in the last quarter.

Evin Varner on the International Farm Youth Exchange Program in Japan, looks at the Japanese farm crop of his host father.

Former PC Student Varner With Farm Youth Exchange

The following article is based on a letter from Evin Varner, former PC student and presently an exchange student in Japan, to The Clinton Chronicle. The full letter may be found in the October 19th issue of The Chronicle.

Varner left for Japan in June as a delegate in the International Farm Youth Exchange. While a student at PC Varner was editor of the Blue Stocking, a member of the Blue Key, SCA Cabinet, Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity, and was also named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

"Since the first of July, I have traveled several thousand miles in Japan. I have seen much, and it is hard to know where to begin in writing my experiences. Perhaps it is best to relate some basic facts about Japan, necessary for an understanding of their way of life.

"Japan is an industrial nation. It's economy is the most highly developed and highly industrialized in Asia. The economic wealth of Japan hinges ultimately on the nation's ability to compete in the world markets, both in selling its manufactured products and in purchasing food and raw materials.

"I am now living with a farm family on the island of Hokkaido the northern most and second largest island of Japan. The Japanese call the island 'The Frontier' and in a sense it is a frontier.

"The breakfast of hot rice cooked in the morning for the day, seaweed soup, and milk disappears quickly. The children like to get to school early for an hour's play with friends.

"I help my host father take his eight cows to pasture, and then we go up the mountainside on a horse-drawn cart to the oat field next to the corn. Only in Hokkaido is the dairy industry widespread, and only here are grains and corn grown or horses or machines used to any extent.

"Loading the wagon with oats cut by hand by the women, we return to the barn and spend the rest of the day threshing with a small electric machine, of which my host father is very proud.

HOMECOMING WEEKEND

For Fine Food
Pleasant Atmosphere
And a Genuine Welcome

— VISIT —

Vernon's

WE SPECIALIZE IN CHARCOAL
Steaks - Shish Kabob
Filet Mignon

Chops and Sea Foods

STUDENTS!
ALUMNI!
GUESTS!

MARY
MUSGROVE
HOTEL

We Will Be Serving a
Delicious Buffet Supper
From 5:00 to 7:30 Saturday

For a Delightful Weekend,
Plan Now to Dine With Us

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 30-31
Francis of Assisi

Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 1-2
September Storm

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 3-4
Flight of the Lost Balloon

Nickel, Quarter Only

Little Las Vegas

By Vigil Clairvoyant

How many of you Juniors and Seniors remember the good old days when dropping a quarter in one of the Douglas House vending machines had all the excitement and challenge of playing a slot machine in Las Vegas? They were the good old days.

Sometimes you'd get seven drinks and no change, sometimes thirty cents and no drink, and sometimes you'd hit the jackpot when the machine would jam and you'd get a case of drinks and thirty cents change.

More often than not though you'd lose your quarter to a disheartening cling followed by a low moan. In fact one of my math-minded friends figured they had an overall "take" of 43 per cent.

Those days are gone but now we've emerged into a new era, the era of the "Nickel and Quarter Only." It seems some unsporting players were filing down pennies to assimilate dimes in an attempt to lower the "take" on the machines. Now we all walk around at night with a dry palate and pocket full of dimes.

While I'm on the subject of coins, did you ever wonder why the fifty-cent piece was put into circulation? My guess would be that somebody in the Treasury Department has a warped sense of humor.

Just to prove my point, the next time someone gives you a fifty-cent piece in change study his expression. I'm sure you'll find a look of either sheer glee or the apologetic looke of one who has wronged you, but has no other recourse. On the other hand try to spend one. It's like trying to give away a litter of kittens, isn't it?

Weekly Drills Closing With Retreat Ceremony

During the second drill period September 28, PC's first retreat ceremony was performed under the direction of Col. R. W. Ulrich. Cadet DuPont Smith played retreat on the bugle as the United States flag was lowered promtly at 3:30.

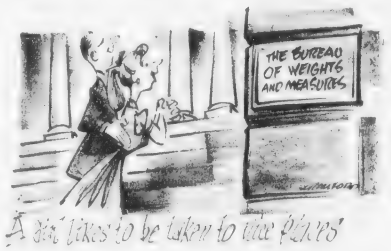
The ceremony will be continued for the rest of this year. All military personnel salute or otherwise pay respect as the flag is being lowered.

All civilian personnel should stop, remain standing facing the flag, or music if it is played, and place his hand or hat over his heart to show proper respect for the colors of our country.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

THE DATING SEASON



I have recently returned from a tour of 950,000 American colleges where I made a survey of undergraduate dating customs and sold mechanical dogs, and I have tabulated my findings and I am now prepared to tell you the simple secret of successful dating.

The simple secret is simply this: a date is successful when the man knows how to treat the girl.

And how does a girl like to be treated? If you want to know, read and remember these four cardinal rules of dating:

1. A girl likes to be treated with respect.

When you call for your girl, do not drive up in front of the sorority house and yell, "Hey, fat lady!" Get out of your car. Walk respectfully to the door. Knock respectfully. When your girl comes out, tug your forelock and say respectfully, "Good evening, your honor." Then offer her a Marlboro, for what greater respect can you show your girl than to offer Marlboro with its fine flavor and exclusive selectrate filter? It will indicate immediately that you respect her taste, respect her discernment, respect her intelligence. So, good buddies, before going out on a date, always remember to buy some Marlboros, available in soft pack or flip-top box in all 50 of the United States and also Cleveland.

A girl likes to be taken to nice places

2. A girl likes a good listener.

Do not monopolize the conversation. Let her talk while you listen attentively. Make sure, however, that she is not herself a good listener. I recollect a date I had once with a coed named Greensleeves Sigafoos, a lovely girl, but unfortunately a listener, not a talker. I too was a listener so we just sat all night long, each with his hand engaged over his ear, straining to catch a word, not talking soon after hour until finally a policeman came by and arrested us both for vagrancy. I did a year and a day. She got by with a suspended sentence because she was the sole support of her aged housemother.

3. A girl likes to be taken to nice places.

By "nice" places I do not mean expensive places. A girl does not demand luxury. All she asks is a place that is pleasant and gracious. The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, for example. Or Mount Rushmore. Or the Taj Mahal. Or the Bureau of Weights and Measures. Find places like these to take your girl. In no circumstances must you take her to an oil-cracking plant.

4. A girl likes to be well informed.

Come prepared with a few interesting facts that you can drop casually into the conversation. Like this: "Did you know, Snookums, that when cattle, sheep, camels, goats, antelopes, and other members of the cud-chewing family get up, they always get up hindquarters first? Or this: "Are you aware, Humphrey, that corn grows taller at night?" Or this: "Bottom way, Loverhead, Oklahoma was admitted to the Union on November 16, 1907, Arizona on February 14, 1912, and Alaska on January 3, 1959."

If you can supply a few interesting facts like these, preferably before dinner, your date will be a great success. Sometimes she will even let you pay for it.

* * *

To the list of things girls like, add the king-size, unfiltered Philip Morris Commander. Girls, men—in fact everybody with a taste bud in his head—likes mild, natural Commander, co-sponsors with Marlboro of this column.

Pi Kappa Alpha's Raid can takes first place in PC Homecoming decorations. It is billed as a product of PC [illegible] Yarborough.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL [illegible]

Blue Stocking Receives Rating From Associated Collegiate Press

[illegible] rated the Blue Stocking [illegible] received 665 points, the second [illegible] class to receive the first class [illegible] award.

The Blue Stocking has been [illegible]

Morrison, feature editor, and Bill Matthews, Greek editor.

The [illegible] Lou Carter, Doug Kay, Robert Perry and DuPont Smith. The sports staff consisted of Larry Hyatt, Robert Sherrill, Lawrence Goodwin, Gay, Barnes Ben Wofford, Jo Harvard and Bill Gillespie. Leon Bullard and Sanders [illegible] were responsible for the picture staff while Marshall Jones handled the business assistant [illegible] Photographer [illegible] Ray Watts [illegible] were Raymond Hourigan [illegible]

M. McCurray as founder, an now in it's forty-second year. All [illegible] follows.

Seniors Select Superlatives Today

[illegible] for Class has chosen their senior [illegible] meeting this morning.

[illegible] Personality.

Sanders Reed of McClellanville was named the Most Intellectual, while Bobby Joiner of Macon, Ga., is the Most Athletic. The Wittiest is Guy Hardwick of Rock Hill and Bob Stevens of Orangeburg was selected as the senior with Outstanding Leadership.

Pat-Sat', as the Senior Superlatives to appear in the Pat-Sat' is [illegible]

Master Sergeant Rowe Heads for Viet Nam

[illegible] science department at Presbyterian College, [illegible] He is expected to [illegible] around December 1 for Viet Nam, where he will serve for [illegible] with the U.S. Army Military Advisory Group.

College Day Programs Presently Underway

[illegible] representatives, representing twenty [illegible] Carolina, including Presbyterian [illegible] distribute such items as catalogs [illegible]

'The Gifts of God' Listed As Year's Robed Choir Theme

[illegible] great sections of the Christian [illegible] year, for the first time, the program will also include [illegible] an organ recital at the beginning of the service. The recital will be given by David Perry of Raleigh, N. C., who is in his second year as organist for the choir.

[illegible] between the stern simplicity of ancient music and the exuberant emotion of the Negro spiritual.

Also featured in the choir's presentation is the double quartet, which is composed of some 12 men. The double quartet will [illegible] three of the choir's [illegible] selections. Soloists include tenors Gary Millwood of Spartanburg and Dan Powers of An[illegible] and [illegible] Jack Morris of Charlotte, N. C.

[illegible] Graham Edmunds, Paul [illegible] and Jack Greene.

[illegible] the choir is under the direction [illegible]

Officers of this year's group are Graham Edmunds, president; Paul Woodall, vice-president; Bobby Piephoff, treasurer; Tom Currie, secretary; Wilton Hazelwood, custodian; and Dan Powers, chaplain.

Banker Charles Gambrell To Speak In Chapel Mon.

[illegible] This regular Monday assembly [illegible]

A native of Belton and graduate of Furman University and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, Gambrell has been with the Irving Trust Company continuously since 1925.

The New York banker, one of [illegible] distinguished family, is listed in Who's Who in America, along with his three brothers and his sister. Two brothers are Atlanta attorneys, one is also a bank vice-president in New York, and his sister serves as dean of Hunter College.

Parent's Day Plans Made

[illegible] This year's event will begin at 2:00 with registration in the lobby lounge of the Douglas House. Members of the Blue Key Fraternity will direct campus tours from there and will end them at Bell Auditorium.

[illegible] A faculty reception follows the student program. It will be held in the lounge of the Douglas House.

[illegible] time. Following supper there will [illegible] various fraternity suites.

At 8:00 the Presbyterian College Blue Hose football team [illegible] Carolina Conference leader, Appalachian State Teacher's College, of Boone, N. C., on Johnson Field. This game will be the third home contest for the Hose and the next to the last such grid game of the current season.

[illegible] homecoming weekend the home game, each fraternity will then hold open house in their lodges. All parents are cordially invited to attend fraternity activities regardless of student affiliation.

Chapel Services

Monday — Mr. Charles G. Gambrell, vice-president, Irving Trust Company of New York City.

Wednesday — Rev. Denny Hill, Executive Secretary, Enoree Presbytery.

[illegible] Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity.

Barnhardt Accepts Bars From Lt. Col. Ulrich

[illegible] Lieutenant Barnhardt was with the military department's [illegible] at 1:30, Lieutenant Barnhardt [illegible] to Col. [illegible] Lieutenant Barnhardt [illegible] United Corporals of Fort Knox, Ky. Saturday he will go on active duty and Sunday, he will report [illegible]

Lieutenant Barnhardt gets his bars pinned on by his wife and Lt. Col. Richard W. Ulrich, PMS at PC.

Evin Varner on the International Farm Youth Exchange Program in Japan, looks at the Japanese farm crop of his host father.

Former PC Student Varner With Farm Youth Exchange

The following article is based on a letter from Evin Varner, former PC student and presently an exchange student in Japan, to The Clinton Chronicle. The full letter may be found in the October 19th issue of The Chronicle.

Varner left for Japan in June as a delegate in the International Farm Youth Exchange. While a student at PC Varner was editor of the Blue Stocking; a member of the Blue Key, SCA Cabinet, Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity, and was also named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

"Since the first of July, I have traveled several thousand miles in Japan. I have seen much, and it is hard to know where to begin in writing my experiences. Perhaps it is best to relate some basic facts about Japan, necessary for an understanding of their way of life.

"Japan is an indusarial nation. It's economy is the most highly developed and highly industrialized in Asia. The economic wealth of Japan hinges ultimately on the nation's ability to compete in the world markets, both in selling its manufactured products and in purchasing food and raw materials.

"I am now living with a farm family on the island of Hokkaido, the northern most and second largest island of Japan. The Japanese call the island 'The Frontier'—and in a sense it is a frontier.

"The breakfast of hot rice (enough cooked in the morning for the day) soybean soup, and milk disappears quickly. The children like to get to school early for an hour's play with friends.

"I help my host father take his eight cows to pasture, and then we go up the mountainside on a horse-drawn cart to the oat field next to the corn. Only in Hokkaido is the dairy industry widespread, and only here are grains and corn grown or horses or machines used to any extent.

"Loading the wagon with oats cut by hand by the women, we return to the barn and spend the rest of the day threshing with a small electric machine, of which my host father is very proud.

HOMECOMING WEEKEND

For Fine Food

Pleasant Atmosphere

And a Genuine Welcome

— VISIT —

Vernon's

WE SPECIALIZE IN

CHARCOAL

Steaks - Shish Kabob

Filet Mignon

* * * * * * * *

Chops and Sea Foods

STUDENTS!

ALUMNI!

GUESTS!

MARY

MUSGROVE

HOTEL

We Will Be Serving a

Delicious Buffet Supper

From 5:00 to 7:30 Saturday

For a Delightful Weekend,

Plan Now to Dine With Us

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 30-31

Francis of Assisi

Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 1-2

September Storm

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 3-4

Flight of the Lost Balloon

Nickel, Quarter Only

Little Las Vegas

By Vigil Clairvoyant

How many of you Juniors and sneiors remember the good old days when dropping a quarter in one of the Douglas House vending machines had all the excitement and challenge of playing a slot machine in Las Vegas? They were the good old days.

Sometimes you'd get seven drinks and no change, sometimes thirty cents and no drink, and sometimes you'd hit the jackpot when the machine would jam and you'd get a case of drinks and thirty cents change.

More often than not though, you'd lose your quarter to a disheartening cling followed by a low moan. In fact one of my math-minded friends figured they had an over-all "take" of 43 per cent.

Those days are gone but now we've emerged into a new era, the era of the "Nickel and Quarter Only." It seems some unsporting players were filing down pennies to assimilate dimes in an attempt to lower the "take" on the machines. Now we all walk around at night with a dry palate and pocket full of dimes.

While I'm on the subject of coins, did you ever wonder why the fifty-cent piece was put into circulation? My guess would be that somebody in the Treasury Department has a warped sense of humor.

Just to prove my point, the next time someone gives you a fifty-cent piece in change study his expression. I'm sure you'll find a look of either sheer glee or the apologetic looke of one who has wronged you, but has no other recolrse. On the other hand try to spend one. It's like trying to give away a litter of kittens, isn't it?

Weekly Drills Closing With Retreat Ceremony

During the second drill period September 28, PC's first retreat ceremony was performed under the direction of Col. R. W. Ulrich. Cadet DuPont Smith played retreat on the bugle as the United States flag was lowered promtly at 3:30.

The ceremony will be continued for the rest of this year. All military personnel salute or otherwise pay respect as the flag is being lowered.

All civilian personnel should stop, remain standing facing the flag, or music if it is played, and place his hand or hat over his heart to show proper respect for the colors of our country.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

THE DATING SEASON

I have recently returned from a tour of 950,000 American colleges where I made a survey of undergraduate dating customs and sold mechanical dogs, and I have tabulated my findings and I am now prepared to tell you the simple secret of successful dating.

The simple secret is simply this: a date is successful when the man knows how to treat the girl.

And how does a girl like to be treated? If you want to know, read and remember these four cardinal rules of dating:

1. A girl likes to be treated with respect.

When you call for your girl, do not drive up in front of the sorority house and yell, "Hey, fat lady!" Get out of your car. Walk respectfully to the door. Knock respectfully. When your girl comes out, tug your forelock and say respectfully, "Good evening, your honor." Then offer her a Marlboro, for what greater respect can you show your girl than to offer Marlboro with its fine flavor and exclusive selectrate filter? It will indicate immediately that you respect her taste, respect her discernment, respect her intelligence. So, good buddies, before going out on a date, always remember to buy some Marlboros, available in soft pack or flip-top box in all 50 of the United States and also Cleveland.

A girl likes to be taken to nice places

2. A girl likes a good listener.

Do not monopolize the conversation. Let her talk while you listen attentively. Make sure, however, that she is not herself a good listener. I recollect a date I had once with a coed named Greensleeves Sigafoos, a lovely girl, but unfortunately a listener, not a talker. I too was a listener so we just sat all night long, each with his hand cupped over his ear, straining to catch a word, not talking hour after hour until finally a policeman came by and arrested us both for vagrancy. I did a year and a day. She got by with a suspended sentence because she was the sole support of her aged housemother.

3. A girl likes to be taken to nice places.

By "nice" places I do not mean expensive places. A girl does not demand luxury. All she asks is a place that is pleasant and gracious. The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, for example. Or Mount Rushmore. Or the Taj Mahal. Or the Bureau of Weights and Measures. Find places like these to take your girl. In no circumstances must you take her to an oil-cracking plant.

4. A girl likes a man to be well-informed.

Come prepared with a few interesting facts that you can drop casually into the conversation. Like this: "Did you know, Snookiepuss, that when cattle, sheep, camels, goats, antelopes, and other members of the cud-chewing family get up, they always get up hind legs first?" Or this: "Are you aware, Hotlips, that corn grows faster at night?" Or this: "By the way, Loverhead, Oslo did not become the capital of Norway till July 11, 1924."

If you can slip enough of these nuggets into the conversation before dinner, your date will grow too torpid to eat. Some men save up to a half million dollars a year this way.

©1961 Max Shulman

* * *

To the list of things girls like, add the king-size, unfiltered Philip Morris Commander. Girls, men—in fact everybody with a taste bud in his head—likes mild, natural Commander, co-sponsors with Marlboro of this column.

Pi Kappa Alpha's Raid can takes first place in PC Homecoming decorations. It is billed as a product of PC research.—Photo by Dan Yarborough.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., November 3, 1961 No. 6

Blue Stocking Receives Rating From Associated Collegiate Press

Associated Collegiate Press. The ACP is recognized as the best judge of college journalism in America today.

Out of 366 collegiate newspapers from all the nation in the 65th All-American critical service, 47 received the highest rating. Only one out of 12 in the class of schools under 700 enrollment with weekly papers made All-American. Ratings were divided into five classes as follows: All-American (superior), first class (excellent), second class (good), third class (fair), and fourth class (honors).

The criticism was dived into three general departments. They were coverage, content and physical properties. In the first division the Blue Stocking received 665 points, the second 1275 and the third 1305 points. The total needed for the top rating was 3400. The Blue Stocking's total was 3245 and was one of the 12 papers in its class to receive the frist class rating. There were two others who received a first class award.

Out of a possible 23 "superior" ratings in regard to the different aspects of publication, the newspaper did not gain a one. The next category, "excellent," had five, while the third category, "very good," had 15. There were three in the "good" category.

The judge of the 700 or under class, accorded praise to the scheduling of headlines, typography, the sports page display, the masthead and the editorial page features.

Members of the staff at the time of judging were as follows: Graham Edmunds, editor; Murray White, managing editor; Leland Vaughan, business manager; Gerald Pitts, news editor; Jerry Chitty, sports editor; Tom Morrison, feature editor; and Bill Matthews, Greek editor.

The news staff included Lewis Edge, Tom Currie, Don Kay, Robert Perry, and DuPont Smith. The sports staff consisted of Loren Eagles, Robert Sherrill, Eugene Goodwyn, Gary Borwn, Bob Waterman, Joe Harvard and Bill Gillespie. Leon Bullard and Sanders Read were members of the feature staff while Marshall Jones handled the business assistantship. Photographer was Roy Autry and circulation manager was Raymond Humphries.

The Blue Stocking originated in 1920 with the now Rev. Carl M. McCurray as founder, and is now in its forty-second year. All-American honors were won for the first time in 1941 under the editorship of Charles McDonald.

Banker Charles Gambrell To Speak In Chapel Mon.

Charles G. Gambrell, vice-president of the Irving Trust Company of New York City, will address the Presbyterian College student body Monday morning on the subject of "Free Enterprise and Individual Character."

This regular Monday assembly period will bring to the PC student body an outstanding South Carolinian who has achieved eminence in the field of finance.

A native of Belton and graduate of Furman University and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, Gambrell has been with the Irving Trust Company continuously since 1925.

Rising from clerk to assistant secretary and then assistant vice-president, he stepped into the position of vice-president in 1946. His career was interrupted by three years of service as an air force lieutenant colonel during World War II.

Gambrell is a Presbyterian deacon who serves as director and executive committee chairman of the Presbyterian Foundation of New York Presbytery. Through his interest in education, he is a trustee of Converse College and of the Edgar Tufts Memorial Association of North Carolina.

The New York banker, one of an unusually distinguished family, is listed in Who's Who in America, along with his three brothers and his sister. Two brothers are Atlanta attorneys, one is also a bank vice-president in New York and his sister serves as dean of Hunter College.

Charles Gambrell is married to the former Sarah Belk of Charlotte, daughter of the late mercantile leader, who is listed in Women's Who's Who in her own right.

Monday's speaker will be introduced by Dr. Marshall W. Brown, president of Presbyterian College. The address will be broadcast over Radio Station WPCC, starting at 10:00 a. m.

Parent's Day Plans Made

Presbyterian College will stage its fifth annual Parent's Day this year on November 11. Tentative plans have been made and letters along with reservation cards have been sent out to the parents.

This year's event will begin at 2:00 with registration in the lobby-lounge of the Douglas House. Members of the Blue Key Fraternity will direct campus tours from there and will end them at Belk Auditorium.

At 3:00 a program of welcome, put on by students and with student body president, Sonny DuBose, presiding will be the feature. A long list of entertainment will highlight The Happy Three singers.

A faculty reception follows the student program. It will be held in the lounge of the Douglas House.

Promptly at 5:15 the scene focuses on Judd Dining Hall where supper will be served at this time. Following supper there will be fraternity drop-ins held in the various fraternity suites.

At 8:00 the Presbyterian College Blue Hose football team faces Carolina Conference leader, Appalachian State Teacher's College, of Boone, N. C., on Johnson Field. This game will be the third home contest for the Hose and the next to the last such grid game of the current season.

Immediately following the ball game, each fraternity will then hold open house in their lodges. All parents are cordially invited to attend fraternity activities regardless of student's affiliation.

Chapel Services

Monday — Mr. Charles G. Gambrell, vice-president, Irving Trust Company of New York City.

Wednesday — Rev. Denny Hill, Executive Secretary, Enoree Presbytery.

Friday—Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity.

Barnhardt Accepts Bars From Lt. Col. Ulrich

Yesterday was the last day Lieutenant Barnhardt was with the military department's instructor group here at Presbyterian. At an appointment ceremony on the drill field yesterday at 1:30, Lieutenant Barnhardt was presented his bars by Col. R. W. Ulrich.

Today Lieutenant Barnhardt left Clinton enroute to Fort Knox, Ky. Saturday he will go on active duty and Sunday, he will report to the Fort.

Seniors Select Superlatives Today

The Presbyterian College's Senior Class has chosen their senior superlatives for 1961-62. Elections were held during a senior class meeting this morning.

The Best All-Around Senior this year is Sonny DuBose of Sumter and the Most Likely to Succeed among the class is Bill Matthews from Macon, Ga. Mike Jarrett of Toccoa, Ga., was voted the Best Personality.

Sanders Read of McClellanville was named the Most Intellectual, while Bobby Joiner of Macon, Ga., is the Most Athletic. The Wittiest is Guy Handcock of Rock Hill and Bob Stevens of Orangeburg was selected as the senior with Outstanding Leadership.

These Seniors will be spotlighted on a special page in the 1962 PaC-SaC, as the Senior Superlatives of the past years have been. The election of Senior Superlatives to appear in the PaC-SaC is one of the traditions that stems back several years.

College Day Programs Presently Underway

The South Carolina College representatives, representing twenty-one colleges in the state of South Carolina, including Presbyterian College, are now in the middle of their college day program series.

During this period of time, all the high schools in the state will be visited by a representative of these schools. As they meet with the high school students, these representatives provide information concerning their college and distribute such items as catalogs and bulletins. At the same time, they discuss with the students various facets of the college life.

Master Sergeant Rowe Heads for Viet Nam

Master Sregeant Shufford C. Rowe, assistant in the military science department at Presbyterian College for the past five years, has been alerted for overseas duty.

He is expected to leave around December 1 for Viet Nam, where he will serve for the next 16 months with the US Army Military Advisory Group.

Sergeant Rowe is presently on leave from the PC ROTC unit.

'The Gifts of God' Listed As Year's Robed Choir Theme

The Presbyterian College Robed Choir, widely acclaimed throughout the Southern Presbyterian Church for its sacred concerts, will open its '61-'62 season in Conway and Lake City on November 18.

The choir, which includes 30 voices, has developed its program around the theme, "The Gifts of God." The various gifts are explained by passages of scripture and interpreted by the rendering of choral pieces taken from the great sections of the Christian Church.

This year, for the frist time, the program will also include an organ recital at the beginning of the service. The recital will be gvien by David Perry of Raleigh, N .C., who is in his second year as organist for the choir.

The choral program fluctuates between the stern simplicity of ancient music and the exuberant emotion of the Negro spiritual and the Russian chant.

Also featured in the choir's presentation is the double quartet which, in accordance with tradition, is composed of some 12 men. The double quartet will perform three of the choir's 12 selections. Soloists include tenors Gary Millwood of Spartanburg and Dan Powers of Andrews, and bass Bob Morris of Charlotte, N. C.

Readers this year include Wirt Skinner, Graham Edmunds, Paul Woodall and Jack Greene.

For the 15th consecutive year, the choir is under the dircetion of Dr. Edouard Pitte.

Officers of this year's group are Graham Edmunds, president; Paul Woodall, vice-president; Bobby Piephoff, treasurer; Tom Currie, secretary; Wilton Hazelwood, custodian; and Dan Powers, chaplain.

Lieutenant Barnhardt gets his bars pinned on by his wife and Lt. Col. Richard W. Ulrich, PMS at PC.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

An Explanation

On page one of this week's edition of The Blue Stocking, there is a rather misleading headline for the lead article. It states merely that The Sock has received its rating. Now mind you, it doesn't state what the rating is. You see, you have to read to find out.

This misleading headline serves two purposes. First of all, it induces one to read the article to find out the results. Secondly, it covers up a bit of disappointment which the editor has for the First Class rating.

When I campaigned for office, my platform was, "to re-establish The Blue Stocking on a weekly basis, and thereby attempt to regain the All-American status that the Blue Stockings of the past have held."

Phase one of this platform has been carried out, as the paper was returned to a weekly basis. However, on receiving the rating, I find that I have failed in the second promise. Let me point out, however, that failure was only by 155 points.

In my editorial of the first edition last February, I made a similar statement as to returning the Sock to its All-American status. The ACP grader stated in regards to this, "I admired your forthright statement about returning to All-American. In my opinion, you are well on the way. good luck." Wonderful, wonderful!

The staff of our little publication has attempted to be impartial in regards to amount of space devoted to certain facets of the college. The grader asked, however, "Is PC coed? If it is, then the gals get pushed aside in the B. Stocking." To this I have no reply.

It is interesting to note that the graders' feelings concerning the editorial section of the Sock. He stated, "Somehow, I am not convinced the rubber mat problem quite meets these standards. I could be wrong, however." The standards referred to here were that the editorial should be a significant voice for students and should deal with real campus problems.

In closing, let me say that the staff and I will try one more time to make All-American. (The next grading period is first semester of the current year). If we fail this time, we will just quit.

—the editor

A Contribution

WE ARE PROUD that the Sock is achieving recognition all over the campus. This includes classroom activities. Perhaps some of you don't know it, but portions of the editorial column are being read in freshmen English sections and the mistakes, which are contrary to popular learned Englishmen's beliefs as to good English, are being pointed out.

We are only too glad to help in any way possible with the raising of educational standards of the college.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE HARVARD, Greek Editor

ΑΔΓΔΑΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Plans for a party for Parent's Day and our rush program were the main items discussed at Alpha Psi's weekly meeting.

Brother of the week is Tom Blackwell for the fine job he did in planning our Homecoming weekend festivities.

KAPPA ALPHA

KA's and their dates enjoyed a wonderful Homecoming weekend. It was a pleasure to entertain the freshmen and their dates throughout the weekend. Congratulations to the display committee who are to be commended for their third place win. Plans are now being made for Parent's Day.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Congratulations to Drayton Fowler and his committee that planned and constructed the Homecoming display which won first place. Thanks to Mike Gryder and his committee for the fine parties over the weekend.

All new men and freshmen are invited to an informal "get-together" every Thursday night in the fraternity suite.

Brothers of the week are "Bubba" Kirven, Rick Saunders, and George Regan.

PI KAPPA PHI

The Pi Kapps would like to congratulate Brother Lawrence Young, chapter advisor, on pin-

(Continued on page four)

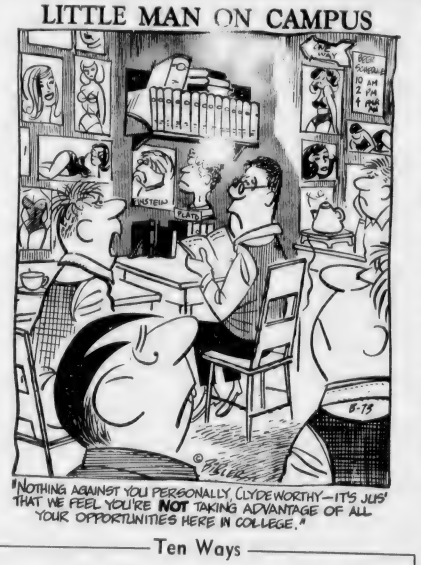
Giving PC a Claim to Fame

TOM MORRISON, Feature Editor

Many PC students, when asked which college they attend, have discovered that much information besides merely its name is necessary for an acceptable answer. The simple reply of "Presbyterian College' is usually met with ignorance in the form of far off and doubting stares. But rather than being forced to develop the troublesome habit of frequently spurting forth some sentence like "I go to Presbyterian College at Clinton, South Carolina, in the foothills of the Appalachians approximately 14 meters northwestward as the worm crawls," it would be far more profitable in the long run simply to make our school known by all.

Some schools make a name for themselves through an act like stuffing 24 or so students into a telephone booth, other places choosing to get on the map by dramatically setting the record for one person continually revolving in a clothes dryer. By tradition, however, we cannot settle for any such usual methods of receiving notice, but rather must do something which is truly unique.

True, we do have an exceptional and widely-traveled choir, a somewhat diversified athletic program, several excellent educational departments and surely an abundance of money. A delve into past history, however, proves that it takes something drastic indeed to bring about fame.



There is always the possibility that everyone could camp out en masse, like maybe in the footbal stadium. Just think of the outdoor magazine stories about us: "Small Southern College Rebels Against Conformity —Takes to Nature."

Then there is the old effigy bit, but this time with a new twist: one dark night we could hoist an image of Khruschev high into some tree and afterwards march from Clinton to Washington in protest of fallout or such. Of course, it might even make the New York papers were we able to arrange an honest to goodness hanging of the premier, but that would be somewhat more difficult.

One other possible idea is the arangement of some carefully chosen bones in such a manner as to convince evolutionists that they represent the missing link. We could call the creature something like Presbycollegia, which name would perpetuate our alma mater's fame as long as scientific textbooks are published.

Please feel free to make public any of your own thoughts on the subject of spreading dear ol' PC's name hither and yon.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Ten Ways

How To Make An "A"

Appearing in the Tennessee Tech Oracle and reprinted by Pageant Magazine—"10 ways to get through college without trying," is something everyone should know, especially the freshmen.

1. Bring the professor newspaper clippings dealing with his subject. If you don't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.

2. Look alert. Take notes eagerly. If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievably and shake it.

3. Nod frequently and murmur, "How true." To you this seems exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective.

4. Sit in front, near him (applies only if you intend to stay awake).

5. Laugh at his jokes. You can tell if he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has told a joke.

6. As for outside reading. You don't have to read it—just ask for it.

7. If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the hour. It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there, dozing.

8. Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course. If you do Math in Psychology class and Psychology in Math class, match the books for size and color.

9. Ask questions you think he can answer. Conversely, avoid announcing that you have found the answer to a question, and in your brother's second reader at that.

10. Call attention to his writing. This produces an exquisitely pleasant experience connected with you. If you know he's written a book or article, ask in class if he wrote it.

These suggestions, incidentally, were put down by a professor, Robert Tyson of Hunter College. We hope they aren't too late to do some good.

Phill-ups

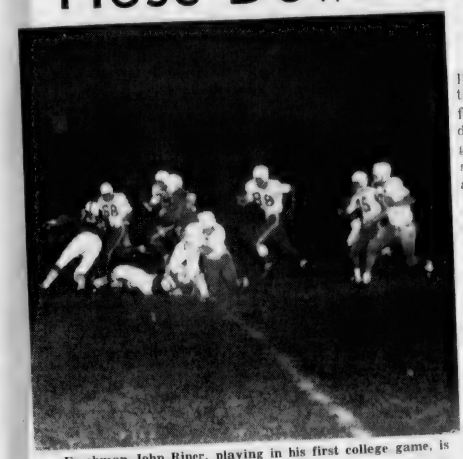
by Phil Anthony

Two young men were discussing the newly discovered fact that the human body is 92 per cent water. Just then a lovely girl walked by and conversation stopped. In a moment one lad resumed the subject by remarking, "Man, she sure did a lot with her 8 per cent."

A teen-ager remarked to her best friend: "I know he's eating his heart out for me, but I don't like the dish he's doing it with!"

To greet one you love is better for your health than medicine.

The Blue Stocking



Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR ..... GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MURRAY WHITE
News Editor ..... Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor ..... Loren Eagles

Hose Down Catawba For First Win

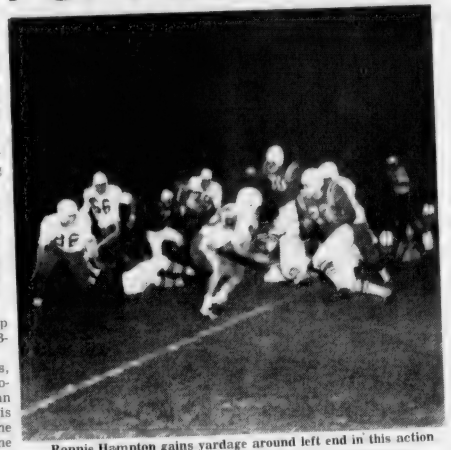
Freshman John Riner, playing in his first college game, is pulled down from behind by an unidentified Catawba player after a nice gain up the middle.—Photo by Dan Yarborough

• Hampton Paces

The PC Homecoming proved to be successful as the Blue Hose snapped a five-game losing streak and defeated Catawba 37-0. The team gave their best effort of the season and provided the gathering alumni with a real treat.

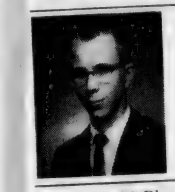
PC ran up 370 yards rushing and passing, with Ronnie Hampton pacing the attack with 119 yards in 16 carries. Hampton set up the first touch down with a 24-yard run and then scored from the seven-yard line.

End Louis Ridinger wound up the first half scoring with a 23-yard field goal.



After the halftime festivities, PC returned to the field and proceeded to run up the score. John Riner, a freshman playing his first college game, reopened the scoring with a plunge from the two-yard line. The touchdown was set up by a 34-yard pass play from Bobby Joiner to end Jerry Hammock.

Only a few moments later, PC was knocking on the touchdown door again. Fullback Joe Nixon intercepted a Catawba pass, and Jimmy May raced seven yards to paydirt.



The final two touchdowns came on a spectacular over-the-shoulder reception by Larry Madden and a five-yard jaunt by fullback Norman Snelgrove.

In spite of the offensive show, PC also played a very steady defensive game. The Blue Hose line, led by "Snuff" McReynolds, Sonny DuBose, and Mike Lay, so successfully contained Catawba that the Indians never made a serious scoring threat.

The 37 points scored by the Blue Hose against Catawba almost equalled the 45 points scored in the five previous games.

Ronnie Hampton gains yardage around left end in this action shot from the PC-Catawba game.—Photo by Dan Yarborough.

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

Chattanooga Impressive

As the PC Blue Hose invade the campus of the Homecoming celebrating Chattonooga Moccasins, they go up against one of the top small college teams in the nation. The Mocs are ranked 19th in the AP small college poll and are sporting a 4-3 record.

These three losses have been to Auburn and Tennessee, two perennial SEC powerhouses and Mississippi Southern, who is ranked 8th among the small colleges.

In their opening game the Mocs barely managed to squeak by Jacksonville 13-7. The winning TD was scored with only 89 seconds left by Carey Henley, their number one Little All-American candidate at fullback. The following week Chattanooga took a hard-fought 19-7 victory from Tennessee Tech.

The Mocs took their third victory of the season from the Bucs of East Tennessee State 27-6. Their second string quarterback, Dan Washburn, made his best effort of the season as he passed for one touchdown and ran for another. Their two fullbacks, George and Carey Henley, scored their other two touchdowns.

In playing their best game of the then young season, the Mocs dropped their first tilt to Mississippi-Southern 24-7. Their only score came on a 72-yard run around end by fullback Carey Henley. Next came the Tigers of Auburn who outclassed the Mocs 35-7. With only 5 minutes remaining in the game the score was only 14-7, but then the Tiger depth proved to be too much.

Breaking back into the win column briefly, the Mocs took down the Middle Tennessee State Raiders 25-7. Once again the speed and broken field running of fullback Carey Henley and quarterback Jim Bradshaw proved to be too much for the opposing defenders. Bradshaw had a scoring run of 19 yards and Henley hit paydirt on runs of 26 and 71 yards.

Moving once again into major college football in the form of the SEC's Tennessee Vols, the Mocs proved to be stiff competition before falling to the rugged Vols 20-7.

The Hose will be up against perhaps their stiffest competition of the season when they take on Bradshaw, Henley and company tomorrow night.

SOX PREDICTS

I hope that everyone noticed my outstanding showing for Homecoming last weekend as I made a clean sweep of Little Three games. This magnificent showing salvaged what was headed toward a disastrous season and brought my record up to 6-7.

Here we go again. The Terriers from Spartanburg entertain Catawba this weekend and should take them by 14. Over in Newberry the Elon Christians will run up against tough competition in the Indians. Newberry by 12.

PC looked like a fairly good pick against the Mocs of Chattanooga until star halback and leading ground gainer Ronnie Hampton was lost for the game. Now it looks like we will have to give a slight nod to the Mocs by 6.

SPORTS NOTEBOOK

The Carolinas Conference has as its co-leader along with Lenoir Rhyne and Appalachian, Newberry of our Little Three . . . Quoted from the Charlotte Observer, "Reports from South Carolina say that Wofford and Presbyterian will never seek membership in the Carolinas Conference as long as athletic scholarships are limited to 35" . . . Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech likes the idea to eliminate spring football practice and start fall sessions two weeks earlier. How about it, Coach . . . LR Bear coach Stasavich credits his team's loss to Newberry as having provoked them . . . Congratulations All-Stars and to "Bear" Morris and Bill Russell . . . LR Bears ranked 9th in AP poll and Chattanooga 19th, PC a chance, maybe?

Yarborough
Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

Halfback Ronnie Hampton Shows Freshman Year Form

Presbyterian Halfback Ronnie Hampton, who has greatly increased his rushing yardage in each successive game this year, seems to have regained the exciting break-away style of his freshman season for the Blue Hose.

The 185-pound junior from Kannapolis, N. C., brought his six-game total to 440 yards in 64 carries against Catawba last week. That's a superlative average of 6.9 yards-per-try.

Now that the colorful halfback is on the move again, football fans recall the mid-season flurry in 1959 when he cracked the starting lineup of a great PC team as a 165-pound freshman. He went on to prove his potential that year by scampering 122 yards in 30 rushes and was Presbyterian's top ball carrier against Middle Tennessee in the Tangerine Bowl.

Although used mostly on defense last year, Hampton averaged 4 yards-per-carry with 243 yards in 61 efforts and picked up his second varsity letter as a Hoseman.

The fact that he was used so much on defense last year underscores his versatility. Now he is being called on for almost 60-minute service as a key performer both offensively and defensively. Not only does he rank as a running threat, but Hampton is an ace punt returner and stands out among top pass receivers. He has caught seven aerials for 104 yards thus far in 1961.

Ronnie Hampton is a big cog in the Hose football machine and will be greatly missed this weekend against Chattanooga.

Football All-Stars Named Will Face PiKAs Friday

The Intramural All-Stars were named this week by the votes of the participating teams. The back and lineman receiving the most votes were named co-captains. The top lineman was Bob "Bear" Morris of the KAs and the leading backfield member was Bill Russell of the PiKAs. Due to the fact that Russell is on the champion team, Bill Canady of the Alpha Sigs, who was runner-up in the backfield voting, will serve as co-captain.

The PiKAs on the AllStar team will play for their team when it meets the All-Stars next Friday, November 10. This meeting will take place on the Intramural field at 4:00. There is also the prospect of our All-Stars meeting All-Stars from some of the nearby schools in which case the PiKAs would participate.

FIRST TEAM

Ends—Kirven, PiKA; Crider, ASP.

Interior Line—Morris, KA; Davis, Sigma Nu; Ballard, PiKapp.

Backfield — Yearout, Sigma Nu; Russell, PiKA; Williams, KA; Canady, ASP.

SECOND TEAM

Ends — Salvo, PiKapp; *Gordon, KA; *Ellisor, Pacers.

Interior Line—Quantz, PiKA; Arrowood, ASP; Pittard, PiKA.

Backfield — Howell, PiKA; Frye, Pacers; Johnson, PiKA; *Powers, Sigma Nu; *Singleton, PiKA; Barnwell, KA.

*Tied for position

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

PICK - A - WINNER

Try to match your skill with the experts. Pick the winners of the following gridiron battles and win one free pass to the Broadway Theater. Last week's winner was Chan Roberts.

Name _____

Dorm _____

				Tie
Chattanooga	( )	PC	( )	( )
Newberry	( )	Elon	( )	( )
Catwaba	( )	Wofford	( )	( )
Tulane	( )	Clemson	( )	( )
Miss. Southern	( )	N. C. State	( )	( )
Memphis State	( )	Furman	( )	( )
Duke	( )	Michigan	( )	( )
Oshkosh State	( )	Eau Claire State	( )	( )

I predict _____ points will be the winning margin in the PC-Chattanooga game.

RULES

1. Entries must be turned in to Bailey 216 or the Blue Stocking office before noon Saturday.

2. Entries must be on the above printed form.

3. Contestants are allowed only one entry.

4. In case of ties, the contestant most nearly guessing the winning margin of points in the PC-Chattanooga game will win.

5. No member of the Blue Stocking staff is eligible.

Bob Stevens, vice-president of Blue Key Honorary Fraternity, presents a bouquet of flowers to Miss Dixie Crum, 1961 Homecoming Queen. Miss Crum's escort is Bill Stone.—Photo by Dan Yarborough.

January Sees Phase Two of Development Program

Presbyterian College is engaged in a twenty-five year program of development aimed at increasing its endowment by $6,500,000 and providing plant facilities costing $4,000,000. This "Quickening Quarter Century," begun in 1955, is to be completed in the centennial year of 1980.

Phase one of this program is complete with the addition of Bailey Dormitory, the Douglas House and Belk Auditorium. Also a quarter of a million dollars has been added to the endowment.

Phase two is to begin in January, 1962, with a concerted effort in the Synod of South Carolina, to be followed by a similar drive in Georgia in 1964. The college is to employ additional staff members for this campaign. They will be specialists in the field of guiding such a program. Among the goals of this phase, to be completed in 1965, are a new dining hall, a new science hall, another men's dormitory and a dormitory for girls.

The goal for 1980 is to have a physical plant to handle 600 men and 300 women students. This physical expansion will be underwritten by sufficient increase in endowment to assure an adequate faculty and staff.

The main concern of the college is not to become a large university, but to remain a small school capable of giving the best quality education possible while retaining the important advantage of personal attention.

Vice-president James Oeland recently addressed campus student organizations, at which time he explained the aims and operations of this development program. He emphasized the importance of the present students in making this effort successful, by stating that an informed student is the best salesman a college can have.

Any member of the administrative staff of the college would be most happy to speak to any interested student groups concerning Presbyterian College's "Quickening Quarter Century."

BROADWAY Theatre
Mon. - Tues. - Wed.
Thur. - Fri.
Nov. 6-7-8-9-10-11
Fannie Hurst's
BACK STREET
Susan Hayward - John Gavin
Also Starring Vera Miles

Saturday Afternoon Only
Special for the Kids
Road Runner Cartoon Show
Programs at 1:00 and 3:00 P.M.

Phil Anthropy Speaks

About Things

by Phil Anthropy

Yes, it's me again. No, I didn't expect to see me again either so soon—but, you know how it is. This week, in an attempt to get everything published that I turn in, I'll dispense with the usual long opening paragraph.

This week's column is entitled, "About Things." Now this means things in general. You see the greater portion of this week's copy is little goodies which have been left out by the editor in past weeks. He has a nasty habit of doing such.

This week's prize joke goes thus:

Two cows grazing near a highway saw a tank truck of milk go by with a sign on the side reading, "Pasteurized, homogenized, standardized, vitamin A added."

One cow turned to the other and remarked, "Makes you feel kind of inadequate, doesn't it."

And now more about women:

Entertaining at Camp Pendleton, Marilyn Monroe looked out at the vast audience of Marines and said, a smile on her face, "I don't know why you boys are always getting so excited about sweater girls. Take away their sweaters and what have you got?"

There's nothing like a dish towel for wiping that contented look off a married man's face.

Rep. Iris Blitch of Georgia tells about the prettiest Dixie belle in Georgia, who went to college. And she did very well, adds Mrs. Blitch, graduating magnolio cum laude and winning her class's accolade as "the most likely to secede."

Corny joke of the week: Dedicated person—The guy at a ship-launching ceremony who gets beaned with the champagne bottle by mistake. See, I told you it was corny . . . you might even have to run it though again.

Definition: Yes, someone has finally done it: they have defined complete coverage for us. The city editor explained it, when a high-voltage line is down and we don't know whether it is 'hot,' we send two reporters. One touches the wire, the other writes the story.

A communist is like a crocodile. When it opens its mouth you cannot tell whether it is trying to smile or preparing to eat you up.

And here are some points to ponder:

A great deal of talent is lost in this world for the want of a little courage.

Most men are like eggs, too full of themselves to hold anything else.

Always be tolerant with a person who disagrees with you. After all, he has a right to his ridiculous opinions.

There's no need to worry about your station in life. Someone will always be around to tell you where to get off.

The thought for the week: There is no hope for the satisfied man.

The GREEKS ... Have A Word

(Continued from page two)

ning Miss Georgia Young. Miss Young is a junior at Erskine College.

We would also like to thank all the brothers and pledges who helped make our open social a real blast.

Plans are being made for Parent's Day and a party after the football game.

SIGMA NU

Congratulations to those who made possible our second place showing in the Homecoming display.

Rush is proceeding on a good line with plans for advancement.

The football team ended its season with a fine showing and intramural basketball is looked forward to. Homecoming weekend was a great success and a good time was had by all.

Plans are being made for reception of the parents on Parent's Day, Nov. 11.

THETA CHI

After enjoying the Homecoming activities this weekend, Beta Psi Chapter is now looking ahead to Parent's Day Weekend. The parties on Friday and Saturday night as well as a party on Saturday afternoon helped to make the weekend a big success for Theta Chi.

We would also like to thank the furniture committee for the additions to the fraternity suite.

There's Better Service at Joe's Esso Service
Try Our Soda Fountain
Cars Greased in the Moto-Sway Way

Sunshine Cleaners
W. Fla. St. - Phone 833-1492
Quality Cleaning and Shirt Laundry
WE REPAIR SHOES
We Offer a "Fluff Dry" Bundle

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

Attention Students!
— See —
BOB'S Men's Shop
SOUTH MAIN STREET
GREENVILLE, S. C.
— For —
A Complete Selection of Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

Dillard Boland, Jewelers, Inc.
Wide Selection of
GIFTS - JEWELRY - DIAMONDS
PC Students Welcome 103 E. Pitts St.

THIRSTY?
TRY THE NEW
SUN-DROP COLA
Nu-Grape and Suncrest Orange
A Real Thirst Quencher
Enjoy One Today

win
IN THE COLLEGE AND ROUND-UP
Get on the BRANDWAGON
...it's lots of fun!
Contest Closes — Nov. 15
Turn-in-Station — Douglas House
TV Lounge. Turn in to Paul Neil in Bundles of 50 Only
Time — 1:00 P. M. to 3:00 P. M.
No Late Entries Will Be Accepted
Marlboro Parliament Alpine Philip Morris

Fifth Parent's Day Highlights Weekend

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., November 10, 1961 No. 7

Members of Blue Key National Honorary Fraternity make plans for fifth annual Parent's Day. Blue Key will conduct campus tours and assist with the program of welcome.—Photo by Dan Yarborough.

Blue Key Adds Three In Fall Tapping Ceremonies

Blue Key Honorary Fraternity selected three new members in its annual fall tapping ceremonies held this morning in chapel. The new members, chosen on the basis of their leadership, service and character, were Joe Davis, Dick McGaughey and Heyward Nettles.

Joe Davis, Sigma Nu from Lawrenceville, Ga., has served his fraternity as treasurer and is the present Lt. Commander. A member of Scabbard and Blade National Military Fraternity, Davis serves the group as Sergeant. He is presently handling the job of Company Commander of D Company. This year's chairman of the Freshman Control Board, Davis is an English major.

President of the Inter-Fraternity Council, Dick McGaughey is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, and serves the group as treasurer. An English major, McGaughey is also a platoon leader in the ROTC. He is president of Mc-Du Enterprises, and hails from Marietta, Ga.

A major in chemistry, Heyward Nettles is from Clinton. He is a Brother in Kappa Alpha Fraternity. Treasurer of the Senior class, Nettles is also a member of Tau Phi Pi Science Fraternity. Tapped last year into Scabbard and Blade, he is Captain of the PC chapter of the National Military group. Nettles is first sergeant of Company D.

These three new members will participate in formal initiation ceremonies next spring when spring tapping is held. This will include the annual Blue Key egg roll.

Present members of Blue Key include Bobby Joiner, president; Bob Stevens, vice-president; Frank Sells, secretary; and Leland Vaughan, treasurer.

Also John Elrod, Sanders Read, Jimmy Thompson, Sonny Du-Bose and Graham Edmunds.

The three new members will assist the old members with the Parent's Day program tomorrow.

PC Military Department Releases Cadet Promotions

Promotions were announced this week by the PC Military Department. Those receiving promotions included.

Cadet Major Maurice R. Stevens to Cadet Lieutenant Colonel; Cadet Captain Joseph O. Nixon to Cadet Major; Cadet Captain David L. Waters to Cadet Major; Cadet 1st Lt. Graham B. Edmunds to Cadet Captain; and Cadet 1st. Lt. Richard W. Carr to Cadet Captain.

Also, the following have been promoted to the rank of Cadet 1st Lieutenant: Cadet 2nd Lt. Byron F. Hollingsworth, Cadet 2nd Lt. Clifton R. Saversance, Cadet 2nd Lt. Douglas E. Miller, Cadet 2nd Lt. Andrew P. McGaughey, Cadet 2nd Lt. Guy D. Hancock, and Cadet 2nd Lt. James W. Rakestraw.

According to Lt. Col. Richard Ulrich, these promotions represent the first group of cadet officer promotions to be made this year, and others are being considered for the near future. Although this list is relatively permanent, some changes may be made.

The selection for these promotions is made by the army system of recommendation whereby cadet officers are nominated by their superior officers and these nominations are approved by the military staff.

Although leadership ability is the main quality examined in consideration of a cadet officer for promotion, it is expected he will show a willingness to assume responsibility, and attain an adequate degree of proficiency in carrying out his prescribed duties, according to Lt. Col. Ulrich.

Mr. Albert Watson Will Speak to BEA

Mr. Albert E. Watson, a graduate of Presbyterian College in the class of 1951, will speak to the Business and Economics Association next Thursday.

A native of Dublin, Ga., Mr. Watson presently resides in Macon, Ga., where he is employed by the National Life of Vermont Insurance Company. His business engages him in life insurance, personal estate planning, and group and business insurance.

Formerly a top selling underwriter of New York Life Insurance Company for a number of years, he is a lifetime member of the Million Dollar Roundtable of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

Mr. Watson serves as a National Board member of the Big Brothers of America and is also a member of the state board of the American Cancer Society.

He will deliver a general talk on insurance and will also discuss careers available in the life insurance field.

While working toward his B. S. degree at PC, Mr. Watson was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity and the Block P Club. He was also captain of the wrestling team.

The speaker will be introduced by Bill Matthews, president of the BEA.

McGaughey Reveals Dance Weekend Date

Dick McGaughey, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, announced today the annual Christmas Dance will be held Friday, December 8. The hours will be from 8:30-12:30.

This year the IFC has managed to secure both a band and a combo for the one night. they will alternate playing each one playing for a total of two hours. The tempo will change every hour.

The famous Billy Butterfield and his orchestra featuring Butterfield, himself, with trumpet solos, and the Catalinas combo will be the two groups to perform.

The dance will be held as usual in the Clinton Armory. The dress for the orchestra will be coats and ties for the men and cocktail dresses for the girls.

Tickets will go on sale at a later date for the non-fraternity men.

Dr. Little Wins Alumni Award

Dr. Henry Little of Greenville, is the recipient of Presbyterian College's 1961 Alumni Service Award.

He was chosen at a recent meeting of the PC Alumni Association board of directors for this award presented annually to the alumnus who has rendered outstanding service to Presbyterian College.

The directors cited Dr. Little specifically for his service to the Walter Johnson Club, alumni athletic organization, during the past two years.

A native of Laurens, who was graduated from PC in 1949, Henry Little has been established in the private practice of dentistry in Greenville since 1953. He served as president of the PC student body while a student there and received his dental training at Emory University.

Officials Expect Large Attendance

Reservation tallies yesterday indicated that a record attendance might be reached tomorrow as parents and other guests pour into the campus for the fifth annual Parent's Day festivities.

Between 800 and 1000 people are expected to attend the program, which was inaugurated five years ago and has met with continuing success. Parents and immediate families of all students are invited to the campus as guests of the college.

Registration will begin at 2:00 p. m. in the Douglas House. All reservations will be there including football and meal tickets and also name tags. Blue Key Honorary Fraternity will direct campus tours, starting from Douglas House and beginning at 2:00.

A program of welcome by students has been planned for 3 o'clock in the Belk Auditorium with Sonny DuBose, president of the student body, presiding. Following a welcome address by President Brown, musical selections by the Challengers will be presented. Next a review of different facets of student life will be given in four parts. Joe Harvard will speak on Athletics, while Flash Gordon will talk on Activities. Sanders Read will then speak on Academics, followed by Bill Matthews who will talk on Fraternities.

David Perry, organist for the Robed Choir, will next play an organ prelude. Following him, Paul Woodall will deliver a sermon entitled "The Prodigal Son." Next there will be musical selections by the Double Quartet of the Robed Choir. The highlight of the program and the last feature will be a little singing by the famous Happy Three.

(Continued on page four)

Schedule

2:00 P. M.—Registration in the Douglas House.

2:00-3:00 P. M.—Campus tours, directed by Blue Key.

3:00 P. M.—Program of Welcome in Belk Auditorium.

4:00 P. M.—Faculty Reception in the Douglas House.

5:15 P. M.—Supper in Judd Dining Hall and Leroy Springs Gym.

7:00 P. M.—Fraternity drop-ins in the quarters of the social fraternities.

8:00 P. M.—PC vs Appalachian, Johnson Field.

10:30 P. M.—Open Houses in the fraternity suites.

Dr. and Mrs. Karl Scheele Now Citizens of the U. S.

Dr. Karl A. Scheele, German-born associate professor of economics at Presbyterian College, is now a naturalized citizen of the United States.

He and his wife took the oath of allegiance in special ceremonies in the U. S. District Court at Greenville on November 1. Dr. John L. Plyler, president of Furman University, delivered a brief address to 45 new citizens as part of the occasion.

Dr. Scheele joined the PC faculty in 1956 after ten years of service as an economist and statistician in the public administration of Germany.

He was born the son of the pastor of the Evangelical Church in Kessel, Germany, and attended the University of Goettingen before receiving his doctorate from the University of Berlin in 1936. Three years later, he was able to attend Northwestern University under the auspices of the Swedish-American Fellowship and acquired his MA in economics from this institution.

His wife, the former Marianne Stipich, of Dresden, Germany, who returned to colege and received her degree from PC last June, became a new citizen with him. They have two children—a daughter, Toni, and son, Karl, Jr.

Dr. and Mrs. Karl Scheele and their children, daughter Toni, and son Karl, Jr., are now official citizens.—Photo by Dan Yarborough.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Veteran's Day

Once again it is time to speak our gratitude to those who have worn the uniform of our country. It is fitting that we do so, for they have contributed to the preservation of our freedom. The Congress, in designating November 11 as Veterans Day, has dedicated it to the cause of world peace.

Tomorrow we celebrate Veterans Day — honoring those, the living and the dead, who have served their country in time of war that the peoples of the world might have peace. It seems a strange paradox that peace should be the ultimate goal of war, but this is our national philosophy and out of it has come the Armed Forces motto: "Power for Peace."

We have dedicated the terrible implements of war and their destructive power to peaceful purposes. Our men and women stand on the frontiers of freedom and at lonely outposts around the world not to wage war, but to guard the peace.

We unleash this terrible power and endanger the lives of all young people in the armed forces when the inalienable rights of God-fearing people are threatened by those who would destroy the dignity of man, deny the image of God, and lay waste the hard gotten liberties bequeathed to us by our forefathers.

The men behind the guns, aboard the ships, in the planes and at the controls of space vehicles are not only the symbol of our hope—they are the guardians of our peace.

Seventy former Presbyterian College students gave their lives in World War II and five in the Korean conflict. It is for this reason that the Douglas House is dedicated to these men who have protected our country.

Proper procedure for the commemoration of Veterans Day is for everyone to pause at 11:00 o'clock and offer a one minute prayer for peace.

—L. E.

The Aftermath

"Older men declare war. But it is youth that must fight and die. And it is youth that must inherit the tribulation, the sorrow, and the triumps that are the aftermath of war."

—Herbert C. Hoover
Speech, 1944

A Re-Contribution

Dear English Department,

We do not say more, lest we get ourselves in trouble.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE HARVARD, Greek Editor

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

THETA CHI

Plans were completed on Tuesday evening for Parent's Day. Beta Psi chapter extends a cordial invitation to all Freshmen and Parents to attend the drop-ins in the fraternity suite of Neville Hall before and after the football game.

Congratulations are extended to Richard McFadden upon pledging Theta Chi on Thursday evening.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

At the weekly meeting, the Brothers and pledges of Alpha Psi discussed the rush program and made plans for Parent's Day.

All freshmen and their parents are cordially invited to an open house at our Fraternity suite from 2:00-8:00 on Saturday and to a party following the game.

KAPPA ALPHA

Kappa Alpha invites all new students and their parents to be our guests at a drop-in at 7:00 Saturday evening and an open house immediately following the game. A party will follow the open house.

SIGMA NU

Plans were made for Parent's weekend. The house will be open all Saturday afternoon and immediately after the game. All new students and their parents are cordially invited to visit Zeta Theta chapter during these hours.

PI KAPPA PHI

The Pi Kapps are planning a party Saturday night after the football game. The Fraternity suite will be open on Saturday evening from 3:30 to 5:00 P. M. All parents and non-fraternity men are cordially invited. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

A Blue Stocking Exclusive

Christmas, Makes Out of Season Attack

By Vigil Clairvoyant and Ernest Lee Thinken

(Editor's Note: There follows below, as a Blue Stocking exclusive, the first in a series of important letters exchanged between two our our planet's outstanding intellectuals.)

Dear Ernie,

Last week while visiting the metropolis of Clinton I noticed that they had already launched the Yuletide season. Hasn't it always been traditional that this season begin on Thanksgiving day and end abruptly on Christmas Eve?

Could it be that this season is becoming progressively longer?

If we are to begin the celebration of the Christmas season before the Great Pumpkin has returned to his patch this year, what of next year? Perhaps then we will begin on October 13 or September 28. In fact, if we were to carry this thing to extremes it could be that over a period of years we would begin celebration of the Yuletide season on Christmas day.

This is a serious and grave problem. Think for instance of poor ol' Saint Nick. He'd have to trade in his sled for an inter-continental jet liner, his elves would have to be replaced by giant IBM machines and the North Pole would become a humdrum of mass production.

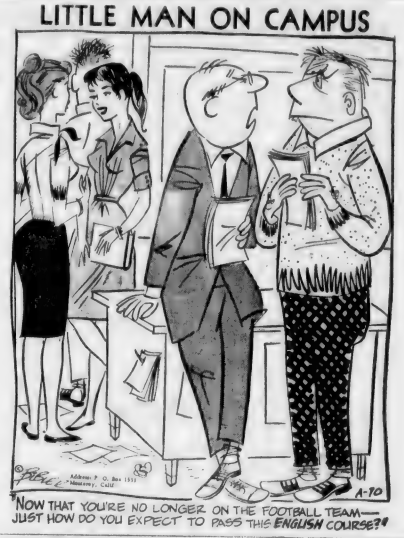
This is only one of the many problems. Little children would have nervous breakdowns from prolonged expectations, warehouses would become overcrowded with toys and whatnots, evergreen forests would become extinct and there would be no end to the problems which could arise.

Only someone of your unsurpassed knowledge, your infinite insight and abundant wisdom can help us in the midst of this crisis. What can we do? Where shall we turn? I leave it to you with these closing words, Merry Christmas—and "jingle bells."

Vigil Clairvoyant

O most unhonorable reader,

Jingle bells to you also, Vigil, and may they ring gently and melodiously not only through your hearing system but your digestive and nasal passages as well.



It troubles me deeply that you should be concerned about favorable matter like the one mentioned in your letter. For several years now I have carried about with me everywhere a singing minya bird which continuously offers forth "The 365¼ Days of Christmas." This of course helps to keep me feeling festive the year round, and everyone should obviously have a similar Chrictmas spirit always.

For exactly the same reason do I make it a special point to wear only a suit consisting of an olive green coat together with beautiful blood red trousers (with candy canes attached).

It is unfortunate that you have the entirely wrong perspective concerning the matter. Take my word for it, though, that it will save in lost effort, expense, and Christmas merriment if Clinton permanently forgets to take down tis timely decorations.

More than worthily yours.
Ernest Lee Thinken

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

As a Public Service

Seven Ways to Woo!

"Women may not be much," said Will Rogers, "but they're the best opposite sex we have." Unfortunately they know it. Your job: Make 'em feel special. All it takes is showmanship, and there are seven winning ways.

Say the right thing. Telling her she's beautiful isn't always the right approach. An 18th century connoisseur, Lord Chesterfield, in a letter to his son, pointed out that the "starry eyes, pearly teeth" gambit won't work on girls who are pretty or homely in the extreme. The real beauty knows how she looks, he said, and the homely one will know that you're lying.

Know who to woo. Pretty single girls know you're interested, homely single ones imagine that you are, and wives—pretty or not—are never completely sure. So don't worry about paying attention until after you're married; then 'steal' admiring glances at her when she KNOWS you're looking.

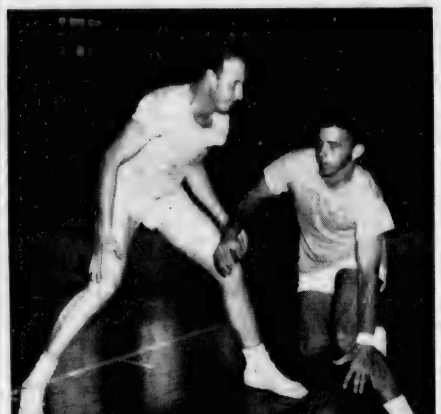
Advertise your aching heart. Get crowds of people to tell the gal how deeply you adore her. Have her hear about your love at meals, at work, on the bus.

Use dollars and cents. The dollars are yours—use them, at unexpected times, to buy her one-dollar gifts for NO reason at all. The sense is hers—her sense of song—use it by dubbing a tune "our song." Music not only soothes the savage beast, but wisely used may get you a home-cooked feast.

Put words in her mouth. To you, it's expensive cake and coffee. To her, it's a visit to a smart restaurant she can brag about to all her girl friends. If you ask her to hold the restaurant pack of matches for you—then forget to ask her for them—and she'll have heavenly proof of her "meal" (she wasn't hungry for anything else) at the posh eatery.

Be scent-sational. Anoint thy head; not just the top, but the front part, too. It may make her lose her head. When Mark Anthony called on Sleo, his hair was perfumed with majoram, his arms with mint, his jaws with palm oil, his neck with ground ivy esence. Result: one of history's spiciest love affairs.

Woo with a 'wow.' Be excited at everything about her—and surprised at nothing. This is the difficult part, as the Roman poet, Vergil (70 to 90 B. C.) wrote 2,000 years ago: Varium et Mutable semper femina (A fickle and changeable thing is a woman ever).



The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

Rated All-American by ACP

EDITOR ..... GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MURRAY WHITE
News Editor ..... Gerald Pitts
Sports Editor ..... Loren Eagles

Jim Rakestraw drives around Jack Williams in an attempt to reach the goal, as the basketeers practice moves into full swing.—Photo by Roy Autry.

Grid Squad Downs Chattanooga; Play Final Home Game Tomorrow

• Show Defensive Stamina

The Blue Hose of Presbyterian College showed their defensive stamina against the Moccasins of Chattanooga as they upset the Mocs 10-9. The Hose built up a 10-0 lead in the first and early part of the second quarter and then concentrated on holding the Mocs to 9 points the rest of the game.

In the first quarter the Hose recovered a Chattanooga fumble on the Moc 42-yard line. The Blue Hose proceeded to move down the muddy field to the 10-yard line where halfback Larry Madden drove through the line for the score. PC kicking specialist Lewis Ridinger then kicked what proved to be the winning point to give Presbyterian a 7-0 lead.

Again in the second period the Hose managed to get another drive going and moved to a first down on the Moc 6-yard line. From there the big Blue could not move any closer to the goal. On a fourth down situation Ridinger came into the game and calmly booted a 30-yard field goal to give the Hose a lead of 10-0.

The Moccasins returned the ensuing kickoff to their 40-yard line where they started their first drive drive of the game. They moved across the midfield stripe for a first down on the PC 48-yard line.

From this point the Moc second string quarterback Dan Washburn threw a long pass to halfback Ron Whaley at the PC 10-yard line. From there he was able to scamper over for the Mocs first score with only one minute and 19 seconds left in the half. The extra point was good and at the half the score was 10-7.

Throughout the third period the hard charging Hose line led by center Dewey McReynolds, end Jerry Hammock, and tackle Sonny DuBose held the Moc attack in check. PC played a strictly defensive game by mainly punting on third down and generally trying to keep Chattanooga deep in their own territory.

In the last period the Mocs mounted a drive deep into the Blue Hose territory. Their backs had to fight for every yard which they got in this drive. Their last two first downs at about our 22 and 11 yard lines had to be measured for and were on fourth down plays.

The line of the big Blue stiffened and held as the Mocs attempted to gain another first down on the PC one-yard line. Quarterback Bobby Joiner then elected to give the Mocs a safety and two points in order to obtain a free kick. In the final minutes two intercepted passes by halfback Larry Madden succeeded in holding the Mocs' backs in check.

The Chattanooga ground attack was manned mainly by their Little All-American candidate, fullback Carey Henely. He gained 95 of his team's 144 yards on the ground and proved to be the workhorse of their backfield.

The Blue Hose took advantage of 4 intercepted passes and two recovered fumbles in notching their second consecutive vistory of the season. As usual the Hose led in penalties received, 77 yards to 23.

The PC backfield was led by a host of reserve backs filling in for halfbacks Ronnie Hampton and Jimmy May. Running well from the halfback slot were senior Bobby Sherrill in one of the best performances he has ever given, freshman Bill Riner and freshman Ronnie Morris.

PC-APPALACHIAN

Six senior Presbyterian College gridmen will play their last home game when the Blue Hose take on Appalachian this Saturday night.

Making their final home appearance in the Parents Day game will be: Tackle Sonny DuBose of Sumter; Quarterback Bobby Joiner of Macon; Fullback Joe Nixon of Carrollton, Ga.; End Jerry Hamock of Moultrie, Ga.; Halfback Bobby Sherrell of Atlanta; and Guard Paul Love of York.

The senior Hosemen would like nothing better than to climax their play on Johnson Field by downing high-flying Appalachian, front runners in the Carolinas Conference. A victory would put the Hose on the way to evening up the season record, as they have snapped back with two big wins after dropping the first five games of the campaign.

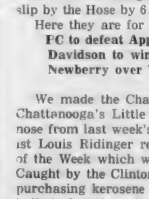
To notch a victory, Presbyterian will have to continue its touted defensive play, since Appalachian brings an 18-points-per-game average to the coming encounter. The Mountaineers have racked eight opponents for 14 points to date, dropping only one game, a 19-6 loss to Lenoir Rhyne, which earlier had scored a victory over the Hose.

Pacing the high-powered Appalachian offense will be halfback Don Gardiner, with a total of 50 points scored thus far, and fullback Jim Hayes, who has rushed 447 yards in 113 carries for an average of four yards per run.

PC's dangerous ground crew is led by elusive halfback Ronnie Hampton of Kannapolis, N. C., who piled up 440 yards on 64 rushes for a 6.9 average. Missing from last week's game with a minor leg operation, he is expected to be back in action in this week's tilt.

The Hose under Bobby Joiner will enter Saturday's game as the top-ranked passing team in the NAIA Carolinas District. Joiner has netted 664 of the 709 passing yards on 52 completions in 111 totes to lead the district among individual aerialists.

Basketball Schedule Announced By Jones



Frank Jones, head of the Presbyterian College Athletic Department, released the basketball schedule for the 1961-62 season today. This schedule shows PC with but seven home games for the season. The Hose meet each of their Little Four rivals at home along with the basketball teams from Mercer, Georgia State, and the always powerful Crusaders from Belmont Abbey.

Shown on the schedule are two extended road trips this year. One is to Florida to play Stetson and to participate in the Citrus Invitational Tournament at Lakeland. The other is into Alabama where the Blue Hose are entertained by Huntington College, Howard College and Troy State.

The schedule is as follows:

Dec. 9—Stetson at Deland, Fla.
Dec. 11-12—Citrus Invitational Tournament, Lakeland, Fla.
Dec. 16—Pembroke State College, at Pembroke, N. C.
Jan. 4—Mercer at Clinton.
Jan. 6—Wofford at Clinton.
Jan. 9—Belmont Abbey at Belmont, N. C.
Jan. 16—Newberry at Newberry.
Jan. 27—Georgia State at Atlanta.
Jan. 29—Huntingdon College at Montgomery, Ala.
Jan. 30—Howard at Birmingham, Ala.
Jan. 31—Troy State at Troy, Ala.
Feb. 3—Georgia State at Clinton.
Feb. 6—Erskine at Due West.
Feb. 8—Wofford at Spartanburg.
Feb. 12—Erskine at Clinton.
Feb. 13 — Belmont Abbey at Clinton.
Feb. 16—Newberry at Clinton.
Feb. 17 — Mercer at Macon, Ga.
Feb. 20—Pembroke State College at Clinton.
Feb. 23-24—Little Four Tournament at Greenville.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

Hats Off

TO THE "DOGS"

Each week as the Blue Hose of Presbyterian College prepare for the coming game the first three teams face the fourth team in scrimmage. This fourth team is made up of players who know that there is little chance for them to take part in the coming weekend's game. Their only incentive is to work their way up to the third team or higher. This seldom happens as is evidenced by the fact that only two, Bill Riner and Gordon Timmons, have been able to move up this year.

This team is known affectionately by their teammates as the "dog team." They got this name when they were running the plays of the Wofford Terriers against the first team and it has stuck with them ever since.

Each week the players on the "dog team" must learn new plays of the opponent for the coming week. They then run these plays, both offensive and defensive, against the first three teams in order to prepare them for the weekend's game. These are all generally younger and less experienced players who must face the best that PC has throughout each week of practice.

Only about half of these boys are allowed to dress out for the games and then they usually don't get to play. The only consolation comes when they are watching the game and see the Hose execute a good play. They know that because of their hard work during the week the Blue Hose knew what to expect and could adjust to it.

TO THE MANAGERS AND TRAINER

When the football players arrive for practice in the afternoon they find already there and working hard the managers, Jimmy Salvo and Johnny Hope, and the trainer, Bennie Crabtree. These boys attend every meeting and practice that the squad attends, and are often required to come early and remain late in order to get the equipment in readiness for the next practice.

Throughout the week of practices and right on through the game to the final horn these boys are constantly busy keeping the players in the best physical shape possible. After the game they must unbind all of the injuries which they have bound up for the game and then get ready to start all over again for the next week.

As they look up for a minute during the game and see a PC play click off for a long gain chances are that their tape job is holding some of the players involved together.

TO THE CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleaders under the leadership of Guy Hancock have done an outstanding job at all of our home games and at a number of our away from home games this year. Coach Jones commended the cheerleaders on the outstanding showing and said that this has aided the football team greatly when it needed to have its spirits lifted.

SOX PREDICTS

For six straight weeks of football I have been picking the Blue Hose even when it appeared to be a very slim chance. A large number of the student body seemed to think that this was funny and they enjoyed ribbing me about it. Finally I succumbed to the pressure of the ridicule on campus and last week I picked the Mocs of Chattanooga, who were from 15 to 35 point favoritees, to slip by the Hose by 6 points and what happens? WE WIN!

Here they are for this week:

PC to defeat Appalachian by 13.
Davidson to win out over Wofford by 6.
Newberry over Western Carolina by 15.

SPORTS NOTEBOOK

We made the Charlotte Observer this week . . . Carey Henley, Chattanooga's Little All-American fullback, is sporting a broken nose from last week's game. Who dun it? . . . PC's kicking specialist Louis Ridinger received some votes for South Carolina Player of the Week which was won by Wofford halfback Bob Roma . . . Caught by the Clinton Police Department: four Newberry students purchasing kerosene in Clinton . . . The Intramural charts on the bulletin board in the game room are an excellent addition.

PICK-A-WINNER

Try to match your skill with the experts. Pick the winners of the following gridiron battles and win one free passes to the Broadway Theater. Last week's winner was Bill "Bunky" Bryan.

Name _____

Dorm _____

					Tie
PC	( )	Appalachian	( )	( )
Clemson	( )	South Carolina	( )	( )
Wofford	( )	Davidson	( )	( )
Duke	( )	Navy	( )	( )
Maryland	( )	N. C. State	( )	( )
Newberry	( )	Western Carolina	( )	( )
Ga. Tech	( )	Tennessee	( )	( )
Wartburg	( )	Central (Iowa)	( )	( )

I predict _____ points will be the winning margin in the PC-Appalachian game.

RULES

1. Entries must be turned in to Bailey 216 or the Blue Stocking office before noon Saturday.
2. Entries must be on the above printed form.
3. Contestants are allowed only one entry.
4. In case of ties, the contestant most nearly guessing the winning margin of points in the PC-Appalachian game will win.
5. No member of the Blue Stocking staff is eligible.

Charles Gambrell, outstanding banker, and his wife pose for a picture with Dr. Marshall W. Brown, before Mr. Gambrell's speech.—Photo by Dan Yarborough.

Banker, Charles Gambrell Cites Individual Freedom

Last Monday PC was honored to have as guest speaker Mr. Charles G. Gambrell. Mr. Gambrell, an executive of the Irving Bank and Trust Co. of New York, spoke on the subject of "Free Enterprise and Individual Charter."

In beginning Mr. Gambrell spoke of the great change that this country as well as the world has seen in the past fifty years. Turning to the end of World War I when the United States was first established as a creditor nation and a world power, he showed how our nation has grown and changed through the efforts of each freedom loving individual.

In stressing the change that has occurred in this country, Mr. Gambrell pointed out the shift in population from the rural growth to urban areas, the large growth through industrialization, the increase in individual freedom, and the swing to big government.

Turning his thoughts to World War II and the era afterwards, Mr. Gambrell pointed out the great changes that have taken place in this country—new riches of life, more income, and the great increase in the purchasing power of the individual.

He pointed out how again the world is faced with two great powers representing two types of governmental beliefs. This struggle has resulted in this country's spending of over eighty billion dollars in foreign aid and the development of NATO and SEATO organizations.

Speaking of the danger yet the necessity of big government, Mr. Gambrell noted that this growth must stop; that the government must supply only those things which the people themselves cannot. We must never subordinate our individual freedoms.

Inclosing Mr. Gambrell stressed the importance of holding on to our basic belief in freedom. He said that material things will change but these beliefs must not, if our individual freedom is to survive.

He reminded the audience that this responsibility rests on the shoulders of each American citizen.

PC Giving Program Goes Over $41,000

The annual giving program at Presbyterian College soars over the $41,000 mark and toward its record goal, Alumni and Public Relations Director Ben Hay Hammet announced today.

He said almost 900 alumni and friends have contributed a total of $41,287.17 to this program so far this year. This figure puts the 1961 effort several steps ahead of the pace that produced $53,200 for a new record last year.

Gifts during the next two months are expected to push the 1961 program to its goal of $65,000. It will close on January 15.

Of the $41,287.17 given thus far $29,591.17 has come through the Living Endowment and $11,696 directly through the Walter Johnson Club, alumni athletic organization. Living Endowment gifts earmarked for the Johnson Club raise the latter's total to $14,883.

The annual giving program, an important part of Presbyterian College's financial makeup, serves to supplement the income for current operating expenses.

Parents Day

(Continued from page one)

A faculty reception in the Douglas House will follow the program at 4 o'clock. Supper will be served in Judd Dining Hall and in Leroy Springs gym beginning at 5:15. Fraternity drop-ins will be held in the quarters of the social fraternities beginning at 7:00.

The Blue Hose and Appalachian clash will follow on Johnson Field at 8:00. The parents will be given general admission tickets and will be seated in the opponents' stands. Space will be available for students to join their parents during the game. Entertaining the gridiron fans at halftime will be the PC unit of Pershing Rifles.

Open Houses in all fraternity suites will conclude the official program at 10:30.

Chapel Services

Monday—Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity.

Wednesday—Dr. Redd Turner, Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Clinton.

Friday—Student Devotional.

The Greeks . . .

. . . Have A Word

(Continued from page two)

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The Brothers of Mu Chapter wish to invite all parents and their sons to the fraternity suite for the tea before the game and an open house afterwards.

The PiKA's look forward to a victory over the All-Star intramural team.

Brother of the week was Wilson.

Dillard Boland, Jewelers, Inc.

Wide Selection of

GIFTS - JEWELRY - DIAMONDS

PC Students Welcome 103 E. Pitts St.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

POVERTY CAN BE FUN

It is no disgrace to be poor. It is an error, but it is no disgrace.

So if your purse is empty, do not skulk and brood and hide your head in shame. Stand tall. Admit your poverty. Admit it freely and frankly and all kinds of good things will happen to you. Take, for instance, the case of Blossom Sigafoos.

Blossom, an impecunious freshman at an Eastern girls' college, was smart as a whip and round as a dumpling, and scarcely a day went by when she didn't get invited to a party weekend at one of the nearby men's schools. But Blossom never accepted. She did not have the rail fare; she did not have the clothes. Weekend after weekend, while her classmates went frolicking, Blossom sat alone, saved from utter despair only by her pack of Marlboros, for even an exchequer as slim as Blossom's can afford the joys of Marlboro—joys far beyond their paltry price: rich, mellow tobaccos, lovingly cured and carefully packed, and an exclusive selectrate filter. Croesus himself could not buy a better cigarette!

However, Marlboro's most passionate admirers—among whose number I am paid to count myself—would not claim that Marlboro can entirely replace love and romance, and Blossom grew steadily morose.

"Accept these Gifts from Tom."

Then one day came a phone call from an intelligent sophomore named Tom O'Shanter at a nearby men's college. "Blossom," said Tom, "I want you to come down next week for the barley festival, and I won't take no for an answer."

"No," said Blossom.

"Foolish girl," said Tom gently. "I know why you refuse me. It is because you are poor, isn't it?"

"Yes," said Blossom.

"I will send you a railroad ticket," said Tom. "Also a hard-boiled egg in case you get hungry on the train."

"But I have nothing to wear," said Blossom.

Tom replied, "I will send you one suit of cashmere, two gowns of lace, three slacks of velvet, four shoes of calf, five socks of nylon, and a partridge in a pear tree."

"That is most kind," said Blossom, "but I fear I cannot dance and enjoy myself while back home my poor lame brother Tiny Tim lies abed."

"Send him to Mayo Brothers and put it on my tab," said Tom.

"You are terribly decent," said Blossom, "but I cannot come to your party because all the other girls at the party will be from rich, distinguished families, and my father is but a humble woodcutter."

"I will buy him Yosemite," said Tom.

"You have a great heart," said Blossom. "Hold the phone while I ask our wise and kindly old Dean of Women whether it is proper for me to accept all these gifts."

She went forthwith and asked the Dean of Women, and the Dean of Women laid her wise and kindly old hand on Blossom's cheek and said, "Child, let not false pride rob you of happiness. Accept these gifts from Tom."

"Oh, bless you, Wise and Kindly," breathed Blossom, dropping grateful tears into the Dean's reticule. "I must run and tell Tom."

"Yes, run, child," said the Dean, a smile wrinkling her wise and kindly old eyes. "And ask him if he has got an older brother."

©1961 Max Shulman

The makers of filter-tip Marlboro, who bring you this column, are also the makers of non-filter king-size Philip Morris Commanders, who also bring you this column. Have a Commander. Welcome aboard!

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 13-14

Bridge To the Sun

Carroll Baker - James Shigeta

Wed. - Thur. - Fri. - Sat. Nov. 15-16-17-18

The Second Time Around

Steve Forrest, Andy Griffith, Juliet Prowse, Thelma Ritter

Howard's Pharmacy

Your Rexall Drug Store

COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE

ON THE SQUARE

Attention Students!

— See —

BOB'S Men's Shop

SOUTH MAIN STREET

GREENVILLE, S. C.

— For —

A Complete Selection of Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

THIRSTY?

TRY THE NEW

SUN-DROP COLA

Nu-Grape and Suncrest Orange

A Real Thirst Quencher

Enjoy One Today

Rules Listed For Annual Rush Event

An extensive system of rules is provided for in the Constitution of the Inter-Fraternity Council to cover Rush Week activities. Those portions of the Constitution that pertain to rushing are printed below.

Without the permission of the IFC, no fraternity will be permitted to have any organized function during the time assigned to the fraternity giving an open social or smoker.

Each fraternity will have no smoker beginning the First Wednesday after Thanksgiving and continuing through Friday of the same week. The remaining smokers to be held, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of the following week.

Quiet period will begin at midnight of the final smoker and continue until 6:00 p. m. on Pledge Day. The last fraternity having a smoker will be granted permission to give out bids under supervision of the IFC.

Pledge Day will be Thursday following the last smoker and pledging will be from 3:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. at a place designated by the IFC.

Mid-semester grades will determine the eligibility for pledging of first year men. Three C's in three-or-four courses are required.

The Faculty Committee on Fraternities will approve at the first of each semester a list prepared by the registrar of old students eligible at any time thereafter for pledging and those who have a C average and eligible for initiation, according to rules of the constitution.

Pledges may go to the fraternity of their choice after they have cast their pledge ballot, and after casting their ballot, they will fall under the rules for quiet period established by the council.

After any pledge has cast his pledge ballot for one fraternity and after that ballot has been counted by the fraternity committee, he may not change his pledge without the written permission of the president of that fraternity to which he first gave his pledge.

Freshman means a non-fraternity man who has not been at Presbyterian College for one term.

No fraternity man is permitted to discourage any freshman from attending socials or smokers of other fraternities. He is not to carry him off or keep him in any way from another Social or smoker.

No freshman will be allowed in any fraternity room during the hours of smokers unless he does not possess a bid to the scheduled fraternity smoker.

Only brothers and pledges of that fraternity, having the smoker shall be permitted at the smoker. Brothers and pledges of other chapters of the same fraternity are permitted to attend.

No freshman will be allowed in any fraternity room during quiet period until he has cast his pledge ballot.

No fraternity man will be allowed in, on, or around the science building, Spencer, plaza, Douglas House, or Bailey between the hours of 2:0 and 5:00 o'clock on pledge day except those who have caisses or live As soon as their classes are over they must leave this area without talking to the freshmen.

No fraternity man will be permitted to have skits, stunts, or group singin, etc., outside their fraternity quiet period.

No pledges will be permitted to influence freshmen who have not signed up or cast their pledge to join a particular fraternity The fraternity shall be held responhible for the actions of its new pledges.

During quiet period no fraternity man is permitted to:

a. Eat with freshmen anywhere, including the dining hall.

b. Take a freshman to the show.

c. Take a freshman to Whiteford's, Charlies', etc.

d. Offer rides to and from town, Laurens, Joanna, or anywhere else.

e. Fraternity men shall not accept rides from freshmen.

f. Fraternity men shall keep out of freshmen's room unless he lives there.

g. In other words, do not associate with freshmen in any way.

Penalties:

Maximum — Closed for six weeks and/or $50.00 fine.

Minimum—Closed for one week and/or $25.00 fine.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., December 1, 1961 No. 8

Special favors are shown to freshmen this week as rush season comes to a close. Jim Barbour seems to be startled by the whole mess.—(Photo by Autry)

Rush Week Activities Highlighted As Fraternities Vie for Pledges

Quiet Period Begins Wednesday; 133 Men Have Grades to Pledge

Kappa Alpha Fraternity kicked off this year's Rush Week Wednesday night as they held the first of six smokers that are the highlight of rush activities on the campus. Alpha Sigma Phi followed last night as they entertained rushees.

Sigma Nu will have the third smoker tonight as they vie for pledges. Pi Kappa Alpha is slated for Monday night, and will be followed on Tuesday night by Pi Kappa Phi, and Theta Chi on Wednesday to wind up the week's affairs.

The grade list released this past week from the Registrar's office indicated that some 133 freshmen and transfer students are eligible to pledge. This group is part of the new male students on the campus this year.

Quiet period begins at midnight, Wednesday, December 6, and will continue until Thursday afternoon, December 7, at 6:00 p. m.

Pledging will take place from 2:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m. in the classroom of Kenneth Baker, a member of the faculty committee on fraternities. Men who have received bids will go to Baker's office and write on the form provided the name of the fraternity of their choice. They can go to the suite of that fraternity to be welcomed by waiting members.

Rules of the Inter-Fraternity Council state that no fraternity's membership will exceed a total number of 65. The six fraternities will, therefore, be able to pledge as follows: Alpha Sigma Phi, 25; Kappa Alpha, 30; Pi Kappa Alpha, 27; Pi Kappa Phi, 43; Sigma Nu, 36 Theta Chi, 41.

A system of strict rules governing Rush Week activities is provided for under the constitution of the Inter-Fraternity Council. These may be found listed in a separate article on this page.

Chapel Services

Monday—Chapel Devotional.

Wednesday—Chapel Worship Service; Rev. Neil Leach, Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, York.

Friday—Student Devotional.

Holidays

Announcement was made earlier this week of extended Christmas Vacation. Classes have been suspended for Tuesday, January 2, with the holidays slated to end officially on that same date at 6:00 p. m.

Classes will again begin, therefore, on January 3, with final examinations following close behind, January 22-23. Registration for the second semester will then be held Friday, February 2.

Holidays will begin officially this year Friday, December 15, at 6:00 p. m.

Hollingsworth Takes Top Prize in School Contest

J. F. Reeves, Division manager of Philip Morris, Inc., stated, in a letter to Pen Neil, that his company was very pleased with the outcome of the Save-a-Pack promotion which was closed out on the Presbyterian campus November 15.

Byron Hollingsworth's 7,200 points won the first prize Decca Hi Fidelity console phonograph, and Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity, with 7,125 points, won the second prize Polaroid camera. Pi Kappa Phi and Kappa Alpha also entered the contest.

Another contest will be held here February 12 through March 23, and will follow the same rules as the first. First prize will be awarded to any group, fraternity, sorority or individual accumulating the largest number of points. Second prize will be awarded to any group, fraternity, sorority or individual accumulating the second highest number of points. The contest is open to all students.

Each empty package submitted on Marlboro, Parliament, or Alpine will have a value of five points. Each empty package of Philip Morris Regular or Commander will have a value of ten points. Empty packages separated. The prizes to be given will be chosen by the district manager.

Choir Trip

The Presbyterian College Robed Choir pulls out tomorrow for its second tour of the season.

Sunday morning they will present a concert at the College Park Presbyterian Church of College Park, Ga. That afternoon they journey to Anderson, where they will sing at the evening worship service in the First Presbyterian Church there.

They will return to the campus after the Sunday evening concert.

Distinguished Military Students are presented certificates by Dr. Marshall Brown. They are (l. to r.) Bob Stevens, Joe Nixon, Graham Edmunds, Bob Beddingfield, Joe Davis, and Dr. Brown. (Photo by Dan Yarborough)

Six Seniors Named DMS by Military Cadre

Professor of Military Science, Lt. Col. Richard W. Ulrich, announced officially today the names of six seniors chosen as Distinguished Military Students.

They included Bob Beddingfield, Joe Davis, Graham Edmunds, Joe Nixon, Bob Stevens, and Dave Waters.

Chosen on the basis of military proficiency, a satisfactory academic record and a high rating of character, the six were recently presented a certificate, as being Distinguished Military Students, by Dr. Marshall W. Brown.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Editor's Notebook

DANCE WEEKEND will be upon us again next week as we are sure most everyone knows. Certain occurences of the Homecoming event indicate that some PC students don't know a good setup when they have it.

What we are referring to is the fact that some students were not very polite to the families in town who were nice enough to keep their dates.

One of these days people will awaken to the fact that they are cutting their own throats or the throats of their fellow students by not showing the proper respect for the free lodging.

OUR THANKS go to Miss Marian Burts and her assistants who worked during the Thanksgiving holidays rearranging the books in the stacks of the library. Due to their efforts, students can find publications much easier.

WHEN WE CAME into office we vowed that we would not enter into the national scene with our editorials. This would include such things as the ever-loving Peace Corps, the racial question and the John Birch Society. But really, The Adventures of Caroline Kennedy comic books are overdoing it.

REPORTS come in that some professors insist on giving quizzes during smokers. It looks as if they just don't want to cooperate with the students. Oh well, we came to college to get an education anyway and not to socialize.

However, there is more than one type of education, and some say other types are more important. But we digress. Maybe next year the IFC and the professors can get together.

Thanks go, however, to those who did not see fit to give a quiz.

WE COULDN'T complete the column without offering a vote of heart-felt thanks (coupled with two minutes of silence) for the one responsible for bringing the Neville bulletin board up to date. Tough luck on your lock—maybe we can get the glass door replaced sometime soon.

HELLO English Department. We haven't forgotten you.

LASTLY the editor and staff would like to thank the student body for the interest shown in the issue of The Blue Stocking which was not printed the Friday prior to Thanksgiving holidays. We didn't know we would be missed.

Pros and Cons of Scholarships

TOM MORRISON, Feature Editor

by Vigil Clairvoyant and Ernest Lee Thinken

It certainly would be interesting (though obviously of no import whatsover) to have your comment on a matter which has been disturbing me for some time. Maybe it has not been your own personal case, but I have terrifiedly noticed that teachers at college actually expect their students to take time out from the available and meaningful experiences of life to study! This is by far the most ridiculous situation which has ever ventured upon my great life.

How these professors expect one to concentrate less devotion on bull and cow sessions, games of bridge, visits up, down, or in town, and tennis sets—merely to prepare for their stupid lessons—is beyond me. Here they are paid to teach subjects of their own choosing, while we are still supposed to do work ourselves by looking over assignments and such nonsense.

As if all this weren't bad enough, they even administer brutal boom tests (the usual adjective of "pop" is much too restrained and sissified), and I have known some professors crude enough to disturb my needed sleep during their boring lectures to ask me a question. The world is crumbling indeed!

Send me a reply whenever you recover from the inescapable awe resulting from this epistle.

Ernest Lee Thinken

Dear Ernest,

I am indeed disappointed in you. I can't tell you what a shock it is to find out that my idol has clay feet.

The importance of study cannot be emphasized enough. In the immortal words of Clyde Hoffenbru, a Corporal in the ranks of the Valiant 500, "Stop and Think!"

Study is the key to success. Without trig, how could we correctly finance a car or a house. Without history how could we possibly state, "The Minoan civilization had its capital at Knossos"? Without French how could we impress our friends by boldly shouting in French, "I have two pencils, one sister and fourteen fingers!"

Without four semesters of Bible, how could we spell Habakkuk? Without biology how could we say, "I have a splitting encephalon ache"? Without English how could we cut each other intelligently?

You see, Ernest, the necessity of study is self evident. It is not just our privilege but our duty to coming generations to build bigger minds, bigger empires, bigger bombs and better Pepsi machines.

Your humble and most learned, wise and brilliant friend,

Vigil Clairvoyant

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE HARVARD, Greek Editor

ΑΔΡΦΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Smoker Club was reopened last night for the annual floor show. The "Happy Two" provided the entertainment and everyone's lungs became contaminated. The food and fellowship was enjoyed by all.

A stag supper is planned for Thursday, December 7, as a prelude to Christmas Dance Weekend.

KAPPA ALPHA

KA's held our annual closed smoker Wednesday night with former Knight Commander McLeod Frampton as our guest. A party for Saturday night of Christmas Dance Weekend has been planned with music to be furnished by Sam Cook.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Arrangements for the closed smoker which will be held on Monday, Dec. 4, were made.

Plans were also made for the Christmas Dance Weekend. Mike Jarrett was named brother of the week.

PI KAPPA PHI

This week the Pi Kapps have been making plans for the smoker to be held next Tuesday night. Featured at the smoker will be the past national fraternity president, Bernard Jones.

We would like to congratulate Brother George Lane on pinning Miss Dorothy Staton. Dorothy is presently attending Winthrop College.

SIGMA NU

At its weekly meeting, Zeta Theta made final plans for the smoker and finished business on arranging a rush tour to Columbia this weekend. It is a combined party with the Delta Chapter there.

THETA CHI

Beta Psi Chapter is completing plans for its Closed Smoker on Wednesday evening, as well as the activities for pledge day.

'Athaletic' Scholarship Winner Studies English

Usually, a student who can't keep the rules straight flunks. And despite all the dire predictions about the future of such a student, there is a degree of success in late life.

Proof of one such case was published recently in the Journal, "College English." The proof was a letter to an English teacher from a student the teacher failed.

The letter, as faithfully reproduced in the journal, follows.

"Dear Sir:

"You never past me in grammar because you was prejudiced but I got this here athaletic scholarship any way.

"Well, the other day I finely get to writing the rule's down so as I can always study it if they ever slip my mind."

Then the student who won the "athaletic" scholarship went on to report the rules so well remembered. Samples:

—"Each pronoun agrees with their antecedent.

"—Just between you and I, case is important.

—"Verbs has to agree with with their subjects.

—"Watch out for irregular verbs which has crope into out language.

—"Don't use no double negatives.

—"A writer mustn't shift your point of view.

—"When dangling, don't use participles.

—"Join clauses good, like a conjunction should.

—"Don't write a run-on sentence you got to punctuate it.

—"About sentence fragments.

—"In letters themes reports articles and stuff like that we use commas to keep a string of items apart.

—"Don't use commas, which aren't necessary.

—"It's important to use apostrophe's right.

—"Don't abbrev.

—"Check to see if you any words out.

P. S.—the report in "College English" didn't identify the institution of higher learning awarding the letter writer an "athaletic" scholarship.—The Greenville News.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR ..... GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MURRAY WHITE

A Key Member

Remember that old saw, "For want of a nail the shoe was lost"?

Here's a different version from THE PHOENIX, Our Lady of the Lake College, San Antonio:

"In this modxrn world of xlxctronic dxvicxs, it is quitx common for our littlx mxchanism to go haywirx. Takx this typxwritxr, for instancx. Thxrx arx 44 kxys on a typxwritxr, and onx littlx kxy not working should not makx that much diffxrxncx. But, onx littlx kxy DOXS mattxr, doxsn't, it?

"Whxn somxonx asks you—onx pxrson in a million—to do just onx littlx job, do you txll thxm no and pass as anothxr lax kxy in thx schxmx of biggxr plans? You might say this littlx job could bx handlxd by othxr pxoplx, biggxr pxoplx who know what to do and how to do it. But, thxrx was a timx whxn thxsx big pxoplx wxrx just littlx kxys likx you . . .

Thx nxxt timx you think you'rx too littlx to do thx job, rxmxmbxr that you arx onx important kxy—a kxy mxmbxr—to any group to which you bxlong.

A Parody . . . In the Spirit of the Season

'Twas the Night Before Pledging

by Percival Crudely

'Twas the night before pledging, when all though the dorm
Not a creature was stirring, not one single form.
The clothing was hung by the bed with care,
In hopes that fraternity men soon would be there.
The rushees were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of pledge bids danced in their heads.
And roomo in his PJ's, and I in my briefs,
Had just settled our brains for our usual short sleep,
When out in the hall there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the door I flew like a streak,
Tore open the lock and what did I meet.
The noise in the hall of the very top floor,
Gave an air of mystery to myself in the door.
When what to my wondering eyes should I see,
But a crowd of about 30 headed for me.
With a little old leader, so sleepy and barren,
I knew in a moment he must be the Rush Chairman.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled and shouted and called them by name:
'Now, Tom! Now,' Dick! Now, Harry and Stu!
On, Paul! On, Jim, and the IFC too!
In through the door, light up a smoke!
Now dash away! Dash away, and begin telling jokes!'
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So back up a floor the Chairman he went
To slide down the banister, upon this he was bent.
But into the room his coursers they flew,
With many cheery greetings and some committals too.
And then in a twinkling as they sat on the floor
Pawing and knocking was heard on my splintered door,
And when the green door opened, you see,
The only one there, was little ole me.
When the thirty had charged into the room,
I was left in the hall in the dark and gloom.
So, as I started to enter and was turning around,
Down the banister the Chairman came with a bound.
He was dressed all in Orlon from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all full of smoke and soot.
A bundle of bids he held behind his back,
And he looked like a guy ready for the sack.
His eyes, how bloodshot! His dimples, how sagging!
His cheeks were like moon-pits, his nose, it was dragging.
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke he was blowing, circled his head like a wreath.
He was chubby and plump—a right ugly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself.
A slap on the back, and a twist of his head
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And gave me a bid; then turned with a jerk,
And raising his arm, the group sang a song,
Then they all shook my hand, till it was almost gone.
He sprang out the door, to his group gave a whistle,
And away the troops flew like the down of a thistle.
But I heard them exclaim as they disappeared in the night,
"We'll see you Thursday and especially that night!"

Seventeen Cadets Promoted in Rank

Presbyterian College's ROTC Detachment this week announced the promotion of some 17 cadets of non-commissioned rank within the cadet corps. These included naming of four cadet first sergeants, two cadet sergeants first class, ten cadet staff sergeants, and one corporal.

Those promoted to cadet first sergeants included Jerry S. Chitty, Billy R. Ladd, Benjamin W. Margolius, and Harry H. Netties.

Charles H. Cook and John F. Williams were the two cadets promoted to cadet sergeant first class.

Among the ten named to cadet sergeant positions are Lorenzo D. Eagles, Jr., Robert W. Hazelwood, John D. Henderson, Jr., Raymond L. Humphries, Jr., and Paul H. Yearout.

New cadet staff sergeants also include Hugh C. Harris, Arthur L. Prickett, III, James M. Braswell, Thomas E. Williams, and Eugene R. Goodwin, III.

Promoted to the rank of corporal was Dupont P. Smith.

Sergeant Johnson Joins ROTC Staff

Recently assigned to PC's ROTC instructor group was Sgt. E-5 Paul H. Johnson who will serve as assistant instructor in Military Science, in charge of training aids.

Sgt. Johnson replaces Sgt. Shafford H. Rowe in this capacity. Rowe was recently assigned to duty in South Vietnam.

Johnson enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1950 and was engaged for one year in the Korean Conflict. He left the Marine Corps in 1953 as a corporal, attended Blanton Business College in Asheville, N. C., and worked for the A&P Supermarket in Hendersonville before enlisting in the Army in 1956.

Immediately prior to his transfer to PC, Sgt. Johnson was an Assistant Instructor in the Command and Staff Dept., Company Tacitcs Committee of Fort Benning, Ga. During this time he had the opportunity to serve as an evaluator of the Ranger Dept. of Fort Benning. The prnicipal objective of his evaluation was a study of individual, squad and platoon armaments.

Sgt. Johnson has plans at this time to continue an Army career until he is eligible for retirement.

Examination Schedule Listed For State Teacher Applicants

Only two months remain for prospective public school teachers to file application to take the National Teacher Examination, required of all South Carolina teachers.

The deadline for applications is 1:00 p. m., Saturday, January 20, at the office of Director of Teacher Examinations, 937 Main Street in Columbia. They must be properly filled out and must be accompanied by postal or telegraph money orders or cash covering the required fees. Personal checks will not be accepted.

A fee of $9 is charged for the basic examination. The fee was instituted last year to discourage curiosity seekers from taking the examinations but who had had no intention of teaching. The fee will be refunded those who teach in the public schools. Additional fees for optional examinations on subject matters are not refundable.

The basic examination will be given at centers throughout the state on the morning of February 10 and the optional examinations will be offered that afternoon. No one will be allowed to take the examinations unless the applications were received and fees paid prior to the January 20 deadline.

Dr. Brown Busy At Education Meetings

Dr. Marshall W. Brown, president of Presbyterian College, is launched upon a full week of activity involving three separate educational organizations.

After presiding as chairman over a meeting of the South Carolina Foundation of Independent Colleges held in Greenville Wednesday afternoon, he flew to Louisville, Ky., as a state representative on the Southern Regional Education Board. This latter group is meeting Thursday and Friday to hear the report of its Commission on Goals for Higher Education in the South.

President Brown then will fly to Miami for the annual assembly early next week of the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. He will be joined in Florida by Mrs. Brown, Academic Dean George C. Bellingrath, also attending as a PC representative to this regional accrediting agency, and Mrs. Bellingrath.

Christmas Parade Held

Clinton's annual Christmas parade was held yesterday by the city's merchants. The parade was led by the local Shrine motor scooter unit followed by John Mimnaugh, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Next in line was the Presbyterian College ROTC unit. Its color guard marched in front of the Drum and Bugle Corps and the battalion's four rifle companies.

The parade also contained thirteen floats, sponsored by local businesses, and six high school bands from Clinton and neighboring communities.

Bobby Joiner (center), president of Blue Key Honorary Fraternity, congratulates Joe Davis on being tapped into the local chapter. Others pictured are (l. to r.) Dick McGaughey, Heyward Nettles, Davis, Joiner, Bob Stevens, Leland Vaughan and Frank Sells. —(Photo by Dan Yarborough)

Requirements for Admission To PC Are Rising Higher

Advancing admissions requirements at Presbyterian College were underscored by President Marshall W. Brown in a recent alumni letter in which he reviewed briefly the present outlook at PC.

He pointed out that the average verbal score on the required Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Board for the 1961 entering freshman class was 21 points higher than last year's and 54 points ahead of the freshman class average four years ago. He added:

"Thus, you recognize an increased emphasis on admitting those students qualified to meet the standard of work required at Presbyterian College. As a result of this measure and a new policy on graduation requirements, the campus is being charged increasingly with an atmosphere of intellectual endeavor and at a time when our intramural sports participation has never been higher."

President Brown also touched upon recent progress, the forthcoming development program, and the rallying support of alumni and friends to the annual giving program.

He pointed out the leading states currently represented among PC's 540 students as: South Carolina, 246; Georgia, 149; North Carolina, 61; Florida, 33; and Virginia, 12. Denominationally, the Presbyterians predominate with 325 students, followed by 110 Baptists, 60 Methodists and 20 Episcopalians among the leaders.

Martin Announces Requirement Change

Professor S. Taylor Martin, Chairman of Presbyterian College's Mathematics department, announced today a change in the math department which will affect next year's freshman class as well as the present freshmen.

All students will not be required to take six hours in math. Before the new ruling, those enrolled in advanced math, as first semester freshmen, could complete their math requirements by passing the advanced course.

The new catalog for next year states: "Freshmen are expected to complete satisfactorily six semester hours of mathematics. Any two of the following courses will satisfy this requirement: College Algebra (Mathematics 101), Plane Trigonometry (102), college Mathematics (103), Analytic Geometry (201), Advanced College Algebra (205), and Introduction to Modern Algebra (208)."

Martin said the Math 208 course was being initiated next semester as part of the new program. Mr. Cannon will be the instructor for this phase of the mathematical program.

+ NOW OPEN +

BENTLEY'S SKATING RINK

If Studies Have Got You Down, and You Need A Little Exercise —

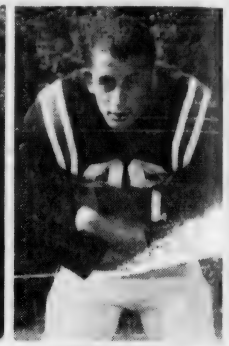
TRY ROLLER SKATING!

Hours 3 to 5 P. M. and 7 to 10 P. M.

SPECIAL GROUP RATES FOR TEN OR MORE

Located on Pitts St. Across From Bailey's Bank

JERRY HAMMOCK



BOBBY JOINER

PAUL LOVE

JOE NIXON

BOBBY SHERRELL

SONNY DuBOSE

Seven Senior Lettermen Fade Out With Season

With the close of another football season comes the realization that many of our most outstanding Blue Hosemen have completed their collegiate football careers. This year Presbyterian College suffers the loss of six lettermen of this season as well as a student coach.

SONNY DuBOSE

tackle . . . Dubose, who is one of the Captains of this year's team, came to PC by way of West Point which he attended for one year. He graduated from Berkley High School in Moncks Corner where he was an All-State lineman.

DuBose played two outstanding years at guard for the Hose before he was shifted to the tackle position because of our lack of depth there. Last year he made his fraternity's national All-American team at the guard position and this year as tackle he made the second team District 26 NAIA all-stars.

He has been one of the mainstays of the PC forward wall this year and his leadership qualities have been evident on the field. DuBose is a history major and plans to enter law school when he graduates.

JERRY HAMMOCK

end . . . Hammock is a graduate of Moultrie High School in Moultrie, Ga. He then attended Holmer Junior College in Mississippi where he was captain of the football team and a junior college All-American .

He is a solidly built, rugged ball player who has been outstanding on both offense and defense this year. Hammock is a strong player as is evidenced by the fact that he played all but a few plays of every game and the full 60 minutes in some.

He is an education major and plans to teach and coach upon graduation.

BOBBY JOINER

quarterback . . . Joiner is another of our captains this year. He came to PC from Lanir High School in Macon, Ga., where he was captain of his high school team and the Most Athletic senior in his graduating class.

He missed most of his freshman year due to injuries and had to play behind Bobby Waters and Nate Cole his sophomore year. He was given the quarterbacking job last year and has progressed greatly so that he is considered an excellent pro prospect.

He has been one of the leading small college passers throughout this season and carried the bulk of the offense early in the season.

Joiner is a Biology major and will enter Forestry School next fall.

PAUL LOVE

guard . . . Love attended high school in York where he was an All-State player and played in the Shrine Bowl. After high school he went into the service where he played service football. Upon leaving the service he entered PC where he has played guard for the last three years.

He has developed into an excellent defensive player and has been an outstandnig linebacker for the Hose this year. He has been an excellent morale booster with his hard work, timely remarks, and faith in the coaches.

Love is one of the top pitchers on the PC baseball team. He is an economics major and is planning to teach and coach upon graduation.

ALEX MILLS

center and coach . . . Mills is a graduate of Screvin County High School in Sylvania, Ga. He was selected as high school All-American and was captain of his team as well as being selected as the Most Athletic in his senior class.

He played an outstanding game at the center slot for the Hose for three years. This summer he received a shoulder injury while participating in a rodeo. Because of this injury he was unable to play this year, but he has done a good job as coach of the "dogs" this year.

He is an economics major and plans to go into business for himself upon graduating.

JOE NIXON

fullback . . . Nixon came to PC

(Continued on page five)

Christians Out Shine Blue Hose

Two weeks ago the Presbyterian College Blue Hose journeyed to Burlington, N. C., sporting a three-game winning streak. They went to take on an Elon Christian football team which had been up and down throughout the season.

The Blue Hose took the opening kickoff and fumbled on the first play. Elon's center John Dalcin recovered the fumble on the PC 38. The Christians then moved on short plunges for the score with halfback Wayne Mehanes going the final two yards.

After taking the following kickoff the Hose could not move the ball. On a fourth down situation Jimmy Elliott had his punt blocked by Dalcin and end Dan Kelly. Elon moved the ball from the PC 20 to the 3 mainly on a 16-yard run by Marvin Crowder. From there fullback Burl Clements scored and Mahanes caught a George Wooten pass for the 2-point conversion.

In the second quarter the Blue Hose drove from their own 29 deep into the Christians' territory. Louis Ridinger with Art Williams holding the ball then kicked a 34-yard field goal.

During the third quarter the Christians racked up their third touchdown. It came on the end of a 67-yard drive on a 3-yard run by Clements. Once again Wooten passed for the two-point conversion to make the score 22-3.

Elon soon gained control of the ball again and began to move. PC intercepted a pass and it took only four plays for them to score with freshman halfback Gordon Timmons scoring his first collegiate touchdown. Once again Ridinger and Williams combined to convert our extra point, making the score 22-10.

Late in the third period the Hose, led by quarterback Bobby Joiner, mounted a drive of 71 yards for their second touchdown of the night. Timmons racked up this six-pointer also.

Howard's Pharmacy

Your Rexall Drug Store

COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE

ON THE SQUARE

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "Rally Round The Flag, Boys", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

"HAPPINESS CAN'T BUY MONEY"

I have asked the makers of Marlboro—an enterprising and aggressive group of men; yet at the same time warm and lovable; though not without acumen, perspicacity, and drive; which does not, however, mask their essential great-heartedness; a quality evident to all who have ever enjoyed the beneficence of their wares; I refer, of course, to Marlboro Cigarettes, a smoke fashioned with such loving care and tipped with such an easy-drawing filter that these old eyes grow misty when I think upon it—I have asked, I say, the makers of Marlboro—that aggregate of shrewd but kindly tobacconists, that cluster of hearty souls bound together by the profit motive and an unflagging determination to provide a cigarette forever flavorful and eternally pleasing—I have asked, I say, the makers of Marlboro whether I might use today's column to take up the controversial question: Should a coed share expenses on a date?

"Yes," said the makers simply. We all shook hands then and squeezed each other's shoulders and exchanged brave smiles, and if our eyes were a trifle moist, who can blame us?

To the topic then: Should a coed share expenses on a date? I think I can best answer the question by citing the following typical case:

Poseidon Nebenzal, a student at Oklahoma A and M, majoring in hides and tallow, fell wildly in love with Mary Ellen Flange, a flax weevil major at the same school. His love, he had

"Oh, foolish reaper! Why have you not told me before?"

reason to believe from Mary Ellen's sidelong glances and maidenly blushes, was not entirely unrequited, and by and by he mustered up enough courage to ask her the all-important question: "Will you wear my 4-H pin?"

"Yes," she said simply. They shook hands then and squeezed each other's shoulders and exchanged brave smiles, and if their eyes were a trifle moist, who can blame them?

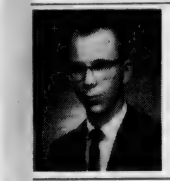
For a time things went swimmingly. Then a cloud appeared. Mary Ellen, it seems, was a rich girl and accustomed to costly pleasures. Poseidon was bone-poor and he quickly ran out of money. Unable to take Mary Ellen to the posh places she fancied and too proud to tell her the reason, he turned surly and full of melancholy. Soon their romance, so promising at the beginning, was headed for a breakup. But at the last moment, Poseidon managed to blurt out the truth.

"Oh, beloved agrarian!" cried Mary Ellen, grappling him close. "Oh, proud husbandman! Oh, foolish reaper! Why have you not told me before? I have plenty of money, and I will contribute according to my ability."

Poseidon, of course, protested, but she finally persuaded him of the wisdom of her course. From then on they split all expenses according to their incomes. Rather than embarrass Poseidon by handing him money in public, a joint bank account was set up to allow him to write checks. Into this account each week they faithfully deposited their respective allowances—35 cents from Poseidon; $2300 from Mary Ellen.

And it worked fine! They were happy—truly happy! And what's more, when they graduated they had a nice little nest egg—eight million dollars—with which to furnish a lovely apartment in Lubbock, Texas, where today they operate the local laundromat.

So you see? You too can salvage your failing romance if you will only adopt a healthy, sensible attitude toward money.



© 1961 Max Shulman

* * *

Lucre is no obstacle when it comes to popular-priced Marlboro, or to Marlboro's popularly priced partner in pleasure—the unfiltered, king-size Philip Morris Commander. Get aboard. You'll find long enjoyment for short money.

Quarterback Bobby Joiner hands off to Jimmy May, PC halfback, in recent action against Newberry.—(Photo by Dan Yarborough)

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

Rebuilding Year?

The Presbyterian College Blue Hose football team closed out another season against Newberry College last week by retaining the Bronze Derby. The final record is easily deceiving as far as the success of the season is concerned.

In their early season games the Hose had to rely almost entirely on the passing of Bobby Joiner for their offensive. As the season progressed the Blue Hose ground game improved with it. The Hose have been forced by injuries to key men in the backfield to use extensively some of the younger and less experienced men.

This hurt on certain key plays this year, but the experience that these men have gained this year makes the coming seasons look much brighter. Freshmen Gordon Timmons, Ronnie Morris, Bill Riner and Randy McCranie have gained valuable experience this year which will be most noticeable in their play next year.

In the line the Hose will lose three key men. Injuries among the linemen as well as lack of depth especially at center has brought on some of the younger men to fill in these gaps.

With this experienced gained this season at the expense of the won-lost record the Hose will have at least two lettermen returning to every line position except tackle. Thus barring some unforseen happenings (such as rodeo riders falling off their mounts) the PC line should be in fairly good shape for next season.

Also returning next year with a year's experience will be the team's two kicking specialists. The main weaknesses seem to be at the quarterback spot and at the tackles. There will be two returning lettermen at the quarterback post but they lack game experience.

If these two men can develop rapidly and IF some depth at the tackle post can be found and IF the Hose can avoid all of the bad breaks and penalties that they suffered from this year the season could be a bright one.

SOX PREDICTS

With such a fine showing over the season I have decided to name an All-Little Three Team. As usual I seem to favor the Blue Hose with 5 members. Next comes Newberry with 4, and last Little Three champions Wofford with 3.

Well, here they are:

Ends—Haley, Newberry; Hammock, PC.
Tackles—Witt, Newberry; DuBose, PC.
Guards—Lewis, Wofford; Coley, PC.
Center—Flint, Wofford.
Quarterbacks—Joiner*, PC; Gorman*, Newberry.
Halfbacks—Roma, Wofford; Harris, Newberry.
Fullback—McCranie, PC.

*Toss-up

Pro Footballer Hill Shows Versatility

Bill Hill, the leading ground gainer on last year's Blue Hose team at his fullback slot, played his first year of Pro Football in Canada this fall. He was one of four rookies who were kept on the Edmonton Eskimos for the entire season.

His versatility was the principal factor in his favor as he played at the positions of fullback, halfback, and end. While playing in five games this year Hill caught seven passes. Hill is planning to return next year and the Eskimos plan to use him almost exclusively at the end position for next season.

He appears to be another Presbyterian footballer with a bright future in professional athletics.

Annual Thanksgiving Day Classic Brings 7-7 Tie With Newberry Foe

• Bronze Derby Stays at PC

In their tradtitional Big Thursday encounter of Thanksgiving Day the Blue Hose of Presbyterian College and the Indians of Newberry College tangled in a typical encounter for the Bronze Derby. They fought fiercely to a 7-7 deadlock.

The Hose opened the scoring in the first quarter as they mounted a drive of 71 yards. It took 14 plays to cover this yardage with halfbacks Larry Madden and Ronnie Hampton and fullback Randie McCranie doing all of the carrying. Madden moved over for the score from the 6-yard line. Ridinger then booted the PAT to make the score 7-0 as the first quarter ended.

The Blue Hose continued to dominate the play until the close of the second half when the Indians mounted their first drive of any substance. This drive was killed by the interception of a Tom Gorman pass by PC linebacker "Scrap Iron" Harrill on the Blue Hose 27.

Soon after the start of the second half the Indians began to move the ball down the field with Gorman continuing to throw the ball a great deal despite the rain. This drive of 62 yards in 12 plays resulted in Newberry's only touchdown of the game. Halfback Carl Harris bulled his way over from the one-yard line for the score and fullback Bill Herndon converted the PAT to tie the score at 7 all.

During the fourth quarter both the Indians and the Blue Hose had a chance to score. Newberry moved from its own 26-yard line down to the PC 26 and a first down. There the Hose forward wall stiffened and the Indians lost the ball on downs on the Blue Hose 26-yard stripe.

From there the Hose took over and moved quickly down the field to the Newberry 11-yard line where they were halted by a mix-up on the count. Center Doyle Johnson centered the ball back to Joiner later than Joiner was expecting it and it flipped into the air. There it was grabbed off by Newberry tackle Charles Haggard.

Thus the game ended in a 7-7 tie and Presbyterian was able to retain possession of the Bronze Derby which has rested in Clinton since 1958.

The Hose showed their superior ground attack as they ground out 233 yards on the ground compared with just 99 for the Indians.

Blue Hosemen Trounce Appalachian for Parents

The Blue Hose of Presbyterian College delighted a large Parent's Day crowd in triumphing over Appalachian 21-7. The Hose used a combination of a strong ground attack and an overpowering defense to contain the Apps three weeks ago.

Presbyterian backs rushed for a total of 253 yards while the defense held the Appalachian offensive attack to a mere 23 yards rushing and 40 yards through the air. This was only the second defeat for the Apps in ten games this season, while it was PC's third straight victory after dropping their first five games.

The Blue Hose oponed the scoring as they moved down field mainly on the running of Madden and McCranie coupled with a 17-yard pass from Joiner to Madden. Halfback Madden went over from the 2-yard marker for the score. Ridinger converted his first of three straight PATs to give PC a 7-0 lead.

The Apps' big center Bill Isaac then recovered a PC fumble on PC's 17-yard line to set up Appalachian's only score of the night. App halfback Sandy Edwards went over on a one-yard plungs for the score and quarterback Mike Chandler kicked the PAT. Thus the first quarter ended 7-7.

Once again it was the running of halfback Larry Madden and fullback Randy McCranie which led the Blue Hose to their second score. They marched 64 yards for the score with halfback Jimmy May scampering over from the six-yard marker.

The third score came in the third quarter after another extended drive. It was scored on a 15-yard sweep around left end. Ridinger once again booted the extra point with quarterback Art Williams giving his usual steady performance as holder for the PAT.

The Presbyterian offensive was led by McCranie who picked up 96 yards on 15 carries, Madden who picked up 88 yards on 14 runs from scrimmage and the passing of Joiner who hit 4 of 6 for 43 yards. The defense was led by tackle Jerry Lowder, guard Alvin Coley, and end Jerry Hammock.

SEVEN SENIORS

(Continued from page four)

upon graduating from Carrollton High School in Carrollton, Ga., where he was captain of the football team. He was also Honorable Mention All-State and the Most Athletic of his class.

He is another of the captains of the Hose this year and has been the leader of the defensive backfield. Due to a lack of depth at the fullback position this year he was shifted to this position from quarterback where he proved to be a hard runner.

ROBERT SHERRELL

halfback . . . Sherrell came to PC from Atlanta where he did not play any high school football.

Sherrell is one of the best broken field runners on the team which made him an excellent kickoff and punt returner. He just reached his top potential this season in the Chattanooga game. Also in this game he injured his hand and was lost for the remainder of the season.

Highlight of the Year!

The Fabulous FOUR + RECORDING STARS FOR CAPITOL RECORDS

FRESHMEN

DEC. 12, 1961—8 P. M.

AT BELK AUDITORIUM

BUY YOUR TICKET NOW!

LIMITED NUMBER OF CHOICE SEATS LEFT

Belk's

Invites All Students To Visit Our Men's Dept. for These Christmas Specials

New Dress Shirts $3.99
Wardrobe Set
Tab or Button-Down Collar Solids and Stripes

Bulky Knit Sweaters $7.99
6-Button Cardigans - All Sizes
Ivy Shades - Olive - Grey - Charcoal - Champaign

Ivy Wash and Wear
Dress Slacks $9.99
70% Orlon Acrylic - 30% Worsetd Wool
Olive - Black - Charcoal - Grey - Sizes 28-40

New Ivy League
Socks 79c
75% Orlon Acrylic and 25% Stretch Nylon
Olive - Black-Red - White - Navy - Grey - Black-Brown

Wide Selection of
Ties and Belts $2.00
Christmas Gift Sets with Matching Ivy Tie and Belt

Shoes for the College Man
Italian Loafers ..... $9.95 to $12.95
Black-Olive - Black - Brown

Yarborough
Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

Pitts Men's Shop
Style Mart Clothes — Jantzen Sportswear
Nunn Bush, Jarman Shoes

Dillard Boland, Jewelers, Inc.
Wide Selection of
GIFTS - JEWELRY - DIAMONDS
PC Students Welcome 103 E. Pitts St.

ALASKA
Marlboro
HAWAII
Marlboro
Marlboro
Marlboro

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Support Lacking

In last year's Student Council elections, Sonny DuBose, Student Body President, had what he called a five-point plan. The fifth point of this plan was to inaugurate a concert series.

Sonny stated that he knew we already had a community concert series and a Fine Arts program, but he related in his campaign platform, "I have plans for inaugurating a concert system or series consisting of performances by vocal groups (trios, etc), bands, orchestras and individuals. A plan which can very easily be carried out."

When Sonny was elected, this was an indication students favored his platform. Therefore, he began work hunting for a good group that would come to our campus for a concert. His efforts paid off as The Four Freshmen will appear in Belk Auditorium Tuesday night.

It should be pointed out here that he and Dick McGaughey, who signed the dotted line with Sonny, hoped to make a profit from the coming concert. Now some say, "Well why didn't I think of that, it's a good way to make money." This would be the selfish approach. These two men never had any intentions of pocketing any profits. Instead, they would take the profits and put them in the student council treasury to be used toward still another similar concert next semester. Notice, these men are not doing this for personal gain, but for the benefit of the students whom they represent.

The problem arises, therefore, that the same students who elected Sonny to represent them and lead them, are the same ones who are not standing behind him by supporting the concert series about to be inaugurated.

Students are continually asking, "Why doesn't so-and-so do such-and-such for us, the students?" The answer comes back—Who wants to help the students they don't even help themselves by lending support to the giving hand.

The Mc-Du Enterprises, which is headed by Sonny and Dick, stand to lose a right healthy sum unless students rally their support. These men are trying to do a good job, but the student body won't let them.

If you, the students, do not want to stand behind these men who are putting on the concert for your benefit; if you don't ever want anything different on this campus and demonstrate it by your lack of support; if you don't care, or if you just don't give a damn, then you might as well sit back in your easy chair and enjoy your selfish world of apathy.

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE HARVARD, Greek Editor

ΑΔΡΦΚΣΘΠΟΙΚΑΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

A delayed congratulations is in order to Brother Pen Neil and his wife, Lucretia, on the recent birth of their baby girl, Mary Alice.

At long last the Alpha Sigs are looking forward to a fabulous Christmas Dance Weekend. After the IFC dance the annual visit of Santa Claus will feature Santa Redd.

Bobby "B." Piephoff was selected brother of the week, quite by mistake.

THETA CHI

The brothers and pledges of Beta Psi of Theta Chi Fraternity welcomed their new pledges with a steak supper at Smitty's.

We extend our appreciation to Brothers Bob Hellams, Tommy Hollis and Hugh Jacobs for the fine job they did at our smoker.

KAPPA ALPHA

The KA's are looking forward to a grand weekend. A party is planned for Friday night after the school dance and also Saturday afternoon. Saturday night Sam Cook will furnish the music at the KA house.

SIGMA NU

The weekly meeting was duly opened and affairs of the past weekend and in the joint party with Delta Chapter were discussed.

Christmas Dance Weekend plans were completed with a party Saturday being on the agenda.

PI KAPPA PHI

Beta Chapter is planning a big party at Lake Greenwood this weekend in honor of the new pledges. Congratulations are extended to Sonny Ross who pledged last week and to our freshmen pledges.

In the Spirit of the Season

Christmas Songs For PC Merry Makers

Selected and appropriately revised by Virgil Clairvoyant and Ernest Lee Thinken.

O Little Town of Clinton
(An awaited vacation)

O little town of Clinton,
How boist'rously ye boast
Of Presbyterian College
Where Yuletide is the toast.
While in her dark dorms burneth
The everlasting cheer
Of spirits bound together
By mellow Falstaff beer.

We Students of Old PC Are (A dating Yuletide)

We students of old PC are.
Dance and drive-in, park and pig pen,
Following many girls.
O girl of beauty, girl of mine,
Girl with curves that are real fine

It Came Upon the Weekend Glad
(An eventful season)

It came upon the weekend glad
That happy song of new
From combos playing on the stage
To touch our hearts so true.
Fun on the earth, good time for all
At PC's great Christmas dance.
The couples in mushy embrace moved
To have a nice romance.

I'm Dreaming of A Green Christmas
(A material holiday)

I'm dreaming of a green Christmas
Just to make things good and funny—
Where wallets glisten
And I do listen
To hear droppings of money.

I'm dreaming of a green Christmas
With every bill and debt routine
May all your Christmases be green
And your days be rich and serene.

God Rest Ye Tipsy Sophomores
(The 25th celebrated with a 5th)

God rest ye tipsy sophomores!
Let no one you betray,
For spirits bought at Charlie's place
Will make you very gay
And save us all from boredom's power
When we in Clinton stay
Oh, tidings of comfort and joy,
comfort and joy,
Oh, tidings of comfort and joy.

O Go All Ye Students
(An escape-from-school Christmas)

O go all ye students
Joyful and ecstatic.
O go ye, o go ye away from here
Go and enjoy it, Christmas almost here now.
O go let us enjoy it, time for fun!

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"GEE, IF YOU DON'T REALLY NEED GLASSES—THOSE THICK-MAGNIFYING LENSES MUST MAKE ME APPEAR HORRIBLY DISTORTED!"

Filter Smoking Brings New Realm to Modern Science

If "filter smoking" is such an improvement over the run-of-the-mill kind what is to prevent a stampede in the direction of "filter smooching"? Should the Madison Avenue boys put their minds on it they likely could come up with some very convincing arguments.

They could make the point that a suitable filter placed between the lips of the smoocher and the smoochee would prevent the interchange of germs and be absolutely sanitary. What a campaign they could contrive for the "kickless kiss."

And if filtering becomes more and more prevalent what is to dissuade the experts from selling us a bill of goods about "filter drinking"? The filter, you see, would remove all the alcohol and render "filter drinking" as harmless as taking a snort of branch water.

"A drinking man's filter," I can hear the pitchman declaiming, "and a choking man's waste."

"Filter Drinking" likely would have a considerable appeal for those desiring to go through the motions of tying one on without the hazard of resulting hangover or any of the other complications accompanying over-indulgence in fortified waters.

And should the public be conditioned to filter smooching and filter drinking it would be just a step short to filter eating. An expertly contrived gadget could remove not only the fat-building ingredients from food but also the vitamins, proteins, etc.

"Use Old Doctor Scrogin's food filter and starve to death while eating like a horse," I can almost hear the boys reading from the idiot boards."

The cigarette boys have certainly started something and there is no reason to believe that they have reached the limits of effectiveness in their own field. It would come as no surprise to see advertisements extolling the virtues of the "all filter" in which the sales message would revolve around the point that these smokables contain absolutely no tobacco and, consequently, no harmful tars and nicotine. Also, for all the good they would do the smoker they could be lit at either end, in the middle, or just left unlighted for maximum satisfaction.

Science does some strange, wonderful things.

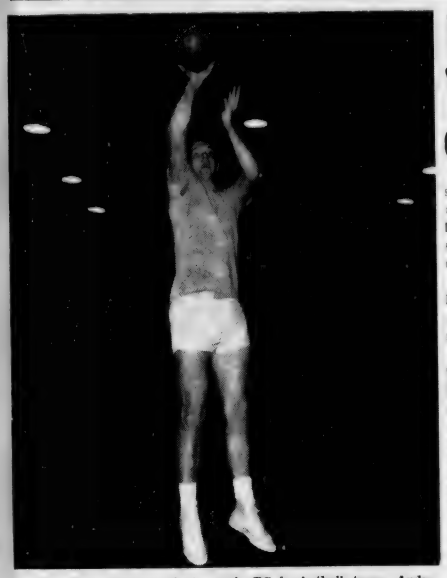
—Ernest Rogers in The Atlanta Journal

A Review

Life World Library

Interested in far away places? Then you will like the Life World Library. This is a series of high quality, attractively bound books, each presenting a panorama of life in one of the countries of the world.

Something of each country's history is given as well as a sketch of contemporary life. All is aimed at giving the reader a clear, comprehensive picture of life in the country being studied. The discussion includes the political, economical, intellectual, cultural, social and religious phases of life.



Many excellent ptotographs, some in color from the past and present files of Time, Inc., as well as reproductions of native art, accompany the articles. Each book is written by an expert on the particular country under study.

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR ..... GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MURRAY WHITE

Leading scorer on last year's PC basketball team, Andy Karlsons practices one of his favorite jump shots. He will answer the call as a PC starter tonight against Stetson.—(Photo by Autry)

Hose Basketeers Open Season With Trip to 'Land of Sunshine'

Open With Stetson

Presbyterian basketeers hope spirit and hustle will pay off with a winning record as the Blue Hose look to a long, 18-game schedule for this coming year of redevelopment.

The PC squad will travel to Deland, Fla., to open the season against Stetson this Saturday night.

The prospects for the Hosemen, entering this campaign with the haunting memory of only seven victories in the last two years, will depend a great deal on how quickly and how well seven new men develop. These players—two juniors, one sophomore, and four freshmen—pose the big question mark clouding Presbyterian's cage prospects.

Under the basket, Coach Charles Musselwhite's roundball crew is plagued with a lack of height, and pre-season drills revealed a weakness in rebounding. The average height on the 13-man squad is six feet, a definite handicap in controlling the boards.

Coach Musselwhite will start the year with almost the same team that emerged from last season's disastrous 20-game campaign with only four wins. At one forward slot will be Sophomore Andy Karlsons of New York, N. Y., top scorer from the 1960 campaign with a 14-point game average. Other probable starters back from last year will be Jimmy McGuire, of Washington, D. C., second highest point man at guard; Jimmy Rakestraw, of Atlanta, All-Little Four team guard choice; and Center Jack Williams of Sumter, the tallest man on the team at 6'-6." All four lettered last year, as did second unit men Joe Harvard of Columbia, at forward and Billy Ray Ladd of Junction City, Ky., at guard.

Most likely new addition to the starting quintet is Forward Paul Webb of Olive Hill, Ky., an All-Stater from South Georgia College, expected to step into the shoes of Bill Hill, last season's top rebounder.

The guards appear to be the strongest positions on the floor with three lettermen ready to play at those spots, while center looms as a big problem as the result of little depth.

Two of the brightest freshmen prospects, Bill Tallent of Langley, Ky., and Danny Charles of Spartanburg, come to PC with outstanding high school backgrounds. Tallent, who was picked to play for the Eastern Kentucky All-Stars, has probably the best touch on the floor. And Charles, a second team All Triple-A man, has looked sharp on outside shots and as a board man.

Mathematician Proves PC Better Than Bama

(Editor's Note: This is reprinted from the Chattanooga Times)

Don Roberts, Chattanooga engineer who likes to doodle with figures, can show you how the University of Chattanooga football team is 81 points better than top-ranked Alabama.

How? Follow this:

Chattanooga lost to Tennessee by 13 points. Tennessee beat Georgia Tech by 4 points, thus, UC is only nine points below Georgia Tech.

Tech beat rice by 24 points. So that means UC is 15 points better than Rice.

Rice beat LSU by 13 points, so UC is 28 points better than LSU. LSU, in turn, beat Tulane 62-0. Since UC is 28 points better than LSU, the Mocs are 90 points better than Tulane.

Alabama only beat Tulane 9-0, so by the same logic (?) Chattanooga is 81 points better than Alabama.

And we add:

PC appears to have been 82 points better than Alabama.

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

Basketball Begins

The PC Blue Hose basketballers get into action this weekend as they journey to Florida. Tomorrow night they are entertained by Stetson University in Deland, Florida. The following Monday and Tuesday they will participate in the Citrus Basketball Tournament in Lakeland, Florida.

Also participating in this tournament with the Blue Hose are Rollins, Sewanee, and Florida Southern. While PC has remained inactive as far as scheduled games go, both Sewanee and Florida Southern have been busy with games involving strong teams from the Southeastern Conference.

Neither showed up too well against this opposition as Sewanee dropped their game with Vanderbilt 76-43, and Florida Southern fell to Tulane 82-50. Sparky Edgin led Sewanee in their defeat as he took high point honors with 18. Leading Florida Southern in their loss were Kershner and Duncan with 17 and 10, respectively.

Our basketball team appears to be up against some formidable opposition this weekend and we wish them luck and hope that they will bring home some victories.

SOX PREDICTS

After much deliberation I have decided to make one last attempt to salvage my reputation as a prognosticator of football games Before our next paper comes out the 1962 bowl games will be history Here are my last predictions of the football season, although if these turn out as well as I expect, maybe then I will feel capable of predicting basketball games.

Orange Bowl—Louisiana State over Colorado
Rose Bowl—Minnesota over UCLA
Sugar Bowl—Alabama over Arkansas
Cotton Bowl—Texas over Mississippi
Gator Bowl—Penn State over Georgia Tech
Liberty Bowl—Syracuse over Miami
Bluebonnet Bowl—Rice over Kansas
Gotham Bowl—Utah State over Baylor

Presbyterian Blue Booters Oppose South Carolina Foe

The PC soccer team has its first match of the year scheduled for Monday with the University of South Carolina. The PC team has been practicing for the past few weeks under the direction of Mr. Tommy Stallworth, Dave Greenslade and Coach Warden. The interest has been good as about 25 boys have turned out for the practice sessions. Among these boys are a number of veterans of last year's encounter with this same USC team.

There is a return match with the Carolina team scheduled for the first part of next year. If enough student interest is shown it is hoped to schedule matches with other schools in the area. Davidson has already contacted PC about a match next spring. It is hoped that this can be developed into a regular varsity sport in the coming years.

The match Monday is at 3:00 on the practice football field across from Vetville.

Quarterback Joiner Drafted by Pro Team

This season the Blue Hose football team has turned out another outstanding pro football prospect in the person of quarterback Bobby Joiner. Joiner was drafted in the 18th round of the National Football League by the Green Bay Packers.

The Packers quickly sent a representative to the PC campus to see Joiner. He was given an extremely attractive offer and signed his contract this past Wednesday. This makes the third year in a row in which our football team has had at least one member to make the professional football grade.

In 1959 both quarterback Bob Waters and halfback Bobby Pate were drafted by the San Francisco 49ers. Bill Hill, fullback on last year's team, played Canadian pro football this year for the Edmenton Eskimos.

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

Highlight of the Year!
The Fabulous FOUR + RECORDING STARS FOR CAPITOL RECORDS
FRESHMEN
DEC. 12, 1961—8 P. M.
AT BELK AUDITORIUM
BUY YOUR TICKET NOW!
LIMITED NUMBER OF CHOICE SEATS LEFT

Yarborough
Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

BROADWAY Theatre
MON. - TUES. - WED.
Dec. 11-12-13
The Devil at 4 O'clock
Spencer Tracy - Frank Sinatra
THURS., DEC. 14 - ONE DAY
The Purple Hills
Also 1961 Football Highlights
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY,
Dec. 15-16
Everything's Ducky
Mickey Rooney - Buddy Hackett

Thirsty?
Try the New
SUN DROP COLA
A True Taste Delight
BOTTLED BY
CANADA DRY BOTTLING CO.
OF CLINTON

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

Marlboro_

campus favorite in all 50 states!

...It's a top seller at colleges from U.S.C. to Yale
...and 1st in the Flip-Top box in every single state

If you think you're seeing more Marlboro men lately, you're right. More than 25,000 smokers all over the country are switching to Marlboro every month!

You'll know why when you try them.

Marlboro is the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste. The secret of the flavor is the famous Marlboro recipe from Richmond, Virginia... and the pure white Selectrate filter that goes with it.

Try Marlboro and judge for yourself. On or off campus, you get a lot to like.

Flip-Top box or King-size pack

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

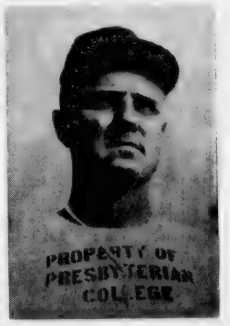
Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., January 12, 1962 No. 10

Clyde Ehrhardt, newly appointed head football coach and Athletic Director, sets up a defense with Coach Vic Spooner. —(Photo by Autry)

Jones Resigns Directorship Post; Ehrhardt Appointed to Position

• College, Pro Football Star

Clyde W. Ehrhardt was recently named to succeed Frank Jones as PC's head football coach and athletic director. President Marshall W. Brown's announcement came less than 24 hours after Jones had tendered his resignation to accept a position as top assistant coach at Mississippi State.



Ehrhardt, who has been assistant coach at PC for the past five years, has the colorful background of having been a college and professional football star, scholar, teacher, coach, and decorated soldier.

In taking charge at this time, Ehrhardt is faced immediately with the task of finding a replacement for himself as assistant coach, of completing 1962 football schedule arangements and of recruiting efforts among prospects to enter as freshmen next fall.

Ehrhardt had served as assistant in charge of the line and as baseball lcoach since coming to PC with Jones from Decatur (Ga.) High School in 1957. During the three years he was an assistant coach at Decatur, he taught mathematics and physical education and acted as assistant principal part of the time. He holds a BA degree from Georgia (1943) an da master's from Peabody College (1954).

Ehrhardt finished Georgia in three years under the accelerated wartime program. While there he played on some of Coach Wally Butts' greatest teams, going to the Orange Bowl in 1942 and the Rose Bowl in 1943. His eight pass interceptions in 1942 is still a single season record in Southeastern Colleges. His playing career was extended after World War II with the Washington Redskins from 1946 to 1949.

Army service found Ehrhardt serving with distinction as a company commander in Europe during World War II. He won the distinguished service cross, silver star, bronze star, commendation medal and purple heart for action in some of the heaviest fighting of this conflict. The Korean War brought him back into service (1950-53) to be an instructor at Fort Benning, Ga., and later as an intelligence officer on the 8th Army staff in Korea.

COACH JONES

Jones Leaves Behind Impressive Record

Head football coach and athletic director Frank Jones announced over the Christmas holidays that he would resign his position at PC to accept the backfield coach's job at Mississippi State University.

Jones was also offered the head coaching job at Colorado State, but declined in favor of the Mississippi State assistantship.

Jones came to PC in 1957 from Decatur, Ga., where he had an outstanding record as a high school coach. The Blue Hose had their finest five-year record under Jones, whose teams compiled 24 victories, 22 defeats, and three ties. After an 0-8-1 season in 1957, the Blue Hose bounced back to three winning seasons and a 1959 Tangerine Bowl appearance. His 1961 team posted a 3-6-1 record.

In both 1958 and 1959 he was named South Carolina "Coach of the Year."

Annual REW Activities Features Speaker Variety

John Elrod, Student Christian Association President, announced today that final plans have been completed for Annual Religious Emphasis Week activities. He said that this year's program would be in two phases.

The first phase will be centered around the question, "What Is the Position of the Contemporary Man?" On six consecutive Mondays lectures will be given, starting on February 5 and running through March 12.

These lectures will be given by six PC professors, attempting to answer the question in relation to their own field.

On February 5, Dr. Stevenson wil show how English relates to the question. Mr. Halsall will express his views on Economics and Political Science on February 12. Dr. Patte will discuss the music and arts on February 19 Dr. Jones will talk about the social sciences on February 26. March 5 will be the day for Mr. Tay to discuss his field of theology. Dr. Whitelaw wil conclude the lecture series on March 12 by stating his views on physics.

The second phase of the Religious Emphasis Program will start on March 16. The talents of four outstanding speakers will be employed during this time.

They include Robert Busey from Trinity Presbyterian Church of Atlanta, Reverend James G. Stewart from the Peachtree Road Church of Atlanta, Reverend Emmett Herndon, Presbyterian minister of students at Emory University, and Dr. Nealy McCarter from Columbia Theological Seminary.

This second phase will have the title, "What Does It Mean To Be a Christian, if anything, in the Latter Half of the Twentieth Century?" Each man will hold three discussion groups, and he will give one lecture only. During the week of March 13 the first question will try to be explained and answered from the answers to the second question.

Reverned Herndon will delve into the arts and various types of music. History and Political Science shall be Reverend Stewart's topic. Bob Busey will tell the students about theology. The economic status of the nation will be discussed by Dr. McCarter. The name of a man, who will discuss the natural sciences, will be anounced later. All of these six lectures will be mimeographed and made avaliable to all students.

Complete information on times, schedule, and rooms, along with the order of worship will be announced at a later date.

Chapel Services

Monday—Chapel Devotional
Wednesday—Chapel Worship Service; Rev. Emmett Herndon, Presbyterian Student Worker, Emory University.
Friday—Student Devotional
1:30 classes will be aranged by the professor.

PC Gets $2,000 Gift From Esso

Presbyterian College has received a $2,000 gift from the Esso Educational Foundation, President Marshall W. Brown announced today.

He said the funds were undesignated, to be used in the current operations of the college. The gift came as part of a national program of aid to higher education conducted annually by the Esso organization. PC has received several earlier donations from this source.

The gift was presented to President Brown personally by a representative of the Esso Educational Foundation in a visit to the Presbyterian College campus.

Announcement

Anyone having any snapshots that may be used in the PaC-SaC, is asked to turn them in to Paul Woodall before February 6.

Exam Schedule

Monday, January 22
9:00-12:00	MWF	8:00
2:00- 5:00	TTS	8:00
Tuesday, January 23
9:00-12:00	MWF	9:00
2:00- 5:00	TTS	9:00
Wednesday, January 24
9:00-12:00	For. Langs.
2:00- 5:00	TTS	10:00
Thursday, January 25
9:00-12:00	MWF	11:00
2:00- 5:00	TTS	11:00
Friday, January 26
9:00-12:00	MWF	12:00
2:00- 5:00	TTS	12:00

1:30 classes will be aranged by the professor.

Campaign Directors Begin Work on Phase Two Drive

Three representatives of Ward, Wells and Rhinehart, Campaign Counselors, a New York firm, have set up their offices on the second floor of Belk Auditorium. The three include Thomas A. Redman, Campaign Counsel; John D. Olofson, Associate; and Allan M. Herrick, Associate.

These men, who hail from various parts of the country, will assist the college in raising $1,800,000 as part one of phase two of "Presbyterian College's Quickening Quarter-Century." The over-all phase two program is to extend to 1965 and aim toward a goal of $3,000,000.

The disposition of the $1,800,000 will include a $500,000 Science Hall, and a $300,000 Dining Hall. A $300,000, women's dormitory is also scheduled to be built. The remainder of the sum will be used as endowment for strengthening faculty salaries and the scholarship program.

The firm is presently forming the initial steps of the campaign, and are contacting ministers and church leaders throughout the Synod of South Carolina. Some of these leaders will meet on the campus at an 11:00 a. m. meeting January 15, as the first official meeting of the Campaign Executive Committee. Mailings to all pastors requesting leadership lists will be completed this week.

The actual campaign, which will only be conducted in the Synod of South Carolina, is slated to begin probably near the end of March, with a local campaign in the Clinton community.

Campaign Counselors of Ward, Wells and Rhinehart discuss plans for the phase two program. They are (l. to r.) Allan Herrick, Thomas Redmon and John Olofson.—(Photo by Autry)

Col. Barnette Is Top Leavenworth Grad

Lt. Col. W. W. Barnett, Jr., professor of military science at Presbyterian College from 1957 to last summer, finished as top-honor graduate of the fall associate course of the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

He received the Gen. George C. Marshall award, presented to him by former President Harry S. Truman, as the outstanding academic student among the 44 graduates representing 19 branches of the Army.

The December 30 issue of ARMY TIMES, official service publication, carried a picture of Truman presenting the award to Barnett as part of the recent graduation ceremonies.

Col. Barnett spent four years as head of the PC Reserve Officers' Training Corps. After completing his four-year tour of duty last July, he was sent to the 16-week associate course for field grade officers at the Command and General Staff College.

The Barnetts were scheduled, after the Leavenworth session, to move back to the Southeast. He is to be stationed at Fort Gordon, Ga., near Augusta.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

McDu and You

Last week, in an effort to determine student opinion concerning a Student Council Concert Series, The Blue Stocking staff conducted a poll of the Student Body. For those of you who live off the campus, the poll was held in Judd Dining Hall.

The results of this poll may be seen on page four of this edition. They indicate that some 90 per cent of the students polled favored a concert. This all well and good, but how many of these people will support another concert. The poll tells us that only 149 students saw The Four Freshmen.

Of the 174 who did not attend the first concert (which may well have been the last), only 125 had one quiz or more. Now, we do accept having quizzes as an excuse, but this still leaves us with 57 who had no quizzes. Where were you? We guess the answer lies in the fact that either the date was inconvenient, the money not available, or you just didn't care.

Some sugested that a small fee be added to the tuition and that this be used to begin a concert series. This is a good suggestion and is worthy of consideration by the administration. However, students are not presently demonstrating that they actually want the series. We guess that everyone would support it if it was free and paid for in advance by the ole man. Who wouldn't.

Only 40 of those polled believed that PC is too small for a concert series. In a manner of speaking, we agree with this minority, but maybe it's PC's character that is too small, instead of the numerical size of the student body. Maybe the trouble lies in the fact that the students are from varied cultural backgrounds and communities, and therefore have different tastes, and are not homogeneous.

A student body of our size can have "big names" here for concerts and dances if you want. You must, however, work together and achieve total support; not 90 per cent enthusiasm with only 46 per cent actual backing. You must also be proud and willing to work for group betterment.

For the next seven days, the Blue Key Fraternity will be collecting dollar down payments toward the purchase of tickets to a concert April 14 by the Highwaymen. The total price of the tickets will be $2.50. If you are not acquainted with the Highwaymen, they have recorded "Michael" and "Cotton Fields."

The importance of the down payments is great, as $500 must be received before McDu will be assured of student support. Without this money, therefore, there will be no concert. So it is fairly evident — if you will support the Highwaymen's concert, merely demonstrate such by putting a dollar deposit on a ticket.

Be it understood that if the $500 is not raised, every last penny of it will be returned to the donors. So don't be afraid to risk the small price, which may bring better returns.

The conclusion is a simple one: If you want a concert, pay a dollar down—if not, next time keep your seat, and then when chapel is out go to your room and sit down in the rocking chair of apathy, watching the daily events pass while good ole PC sits still.

'Tis the Season

The Terror of Exams

By Vigil Clairvoyant and Ernest Lee Thinken

It's that time of year again. One week to go before (shudder, cringe, etc.) exams. Yes, now are the times that try men's souls. It's time for clear thinking, decisive action and boundless courage.

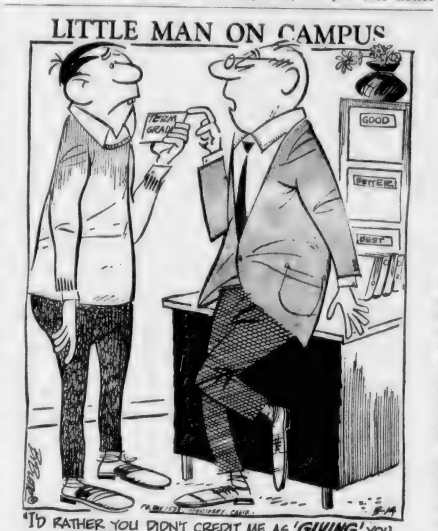
Shall we make it Ernest? Shall we rise to the challenge with valor and strength as yet unsurpassed? Shall we emerge victorious, conquerors of ignorance, custodians of truth, friends of those who have no friend, feared by the bad, loved by the good (Robin Hood cha cha cha)?

Say Ern, did you ever notice the way some of our illustrious faculty threw us tests before exams? And how about those papers we've had all semester to write. I'm still putting mine off. This whole lousy bit is fouling my social life.

Imploringly yours,
Vigil Clairvoyant

Very vividly vicious Vigil,

After careful consideration of your plight and of other similar catastrophes, I have decided to become a gallant martyr for the noble student cause.



After I finish beautifully flunking my tests (or rather "their" tests, for I certainly don't want to take personal credit concerning things so monstrous) I am going to have published throughout the world some sort of metaphysical book. On second thought, it might sell better if it were about sex.

Well, anyway, my press agent will then come out with the fantastic news that I, great author, had been failed at that college called Presbyterian. With such astounding and extensive publicity as this, I figure that the Clintonian Educational Institute would fear to get rid of anyone else and thus the way would be cleared for future PCuns to live the natural life.

By this "natural life" I do not necessarily mean to propose a nudist camp, free love, or anything quite so radical, but merely freedom from being attacked by ulcer- and neurosis-producing tests, which test bodily stamina more than brain prowess.

Until I make my heroic plunge, however, the best hope for you common students would be to raise money and engage the Foreign Legion against those conniving and sadistic professors.

Yours in persecution,
Ernest Lee Thinken

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE HARVARD, Greek Editor

ΑΒΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

THETA CHI

The pledges of Theta Chi announced the following officers of their 1961 Pledge Class on Tuesday evening: President—Bill Anderson; Vice-President — Danny Boozer; Secretary—Richard McFadden; Treasurer—Hal Zorn. The brotherhood extends its congratulations to all these men.

SIGMA NU

Zeta Theta opened its weekly meeting with a discussion of old business. Plans for Military Ball weekend were mapped out and plans for a number of parties after semester break were discussed. Congratulations to Brother Bill Stone on his recent engagement to Miss Dixie Crumm of Converse. Congratulations also to the basketball team for winning the first game of the season.

PI KAPPA PHI

At the weekly meeting, the Pi-Kapps elected officers for the coming semester. Jim Ballard was chosen Archon; Jock Donaldson, Treasurer ;Fred Brown, Secretary; Robert Sherrell, warden; Gordan Mayhugh, Historian; Bruce Barnes, Chaplain; and Johnny Dickerson, IFC representative. These new officers will become active at the beginning of the spring semester.

KAPPA ALPHA

Plans were made for our Wild West party to be held February 3. The date for Old South was set for March 16, 17, 18, in Augusta, Ga.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

By unanimous consent of the Brotherhood it was decided to reopen the fraternity lodge Monday morning at 12:01, following closure for extensive moral repairs. A grand reopening party is planned. Ya'll come. "Everyone smiles," is our motto.

Correction

In the Dec. 1 Blue Stocking in the article concerning the change in the math requirement, it was stated, "All students will not be required to take six hours in math." This statement is incorrect and should read, "All students will now be required to take six hours in math."

The Season 'Tis

Only One More Week

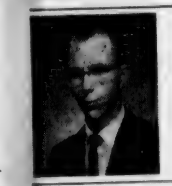
By Homer Mootley

Exams! Oh hell! Yet in all reality it is quite an adventure.

Students walk around looking like death warmed-over, in a dexadrine trance, with scaggy, scraggling, three-day beards hanging from their faces. Seniors with bags under their eyes dragging textbooks with their last bit of strength; freshmen crawling to the canteen for that one last coke before the sex life of the pine cone becomes a reality and not just a homework assignment.

Yes, it's all so gay! You can hardly wait! Oh what fun! What ecstacy! What joy! One boy studied Greek by day while a tape recorder belted out physics equations by night. Another vomited incessantly for three days while mentally dissecting the digestive system of a cat.

Smyth-B looks like a "Quiz Kid" convention and cigarette stocks go up seventeen points. The government is hurled into a five-day depression as all communication between Clinton and the outside world comes to a screeching halt. Even the janitors become neurotic as newspapers pile up in the halls by tons, and coke bottles flow copiously down the stairs. All campus life is tense and the professors are afraid to leave their humble abodes.



By Thursday though, you don't give a damn who wrote the Magna Charta. For all you care PARLEY-VOUS FRANCAIS is an East African voodoo dance. You no longer live to eat, but eat to live. By this time it all tastes like chalk anyway. After exams there is no rioting, just collapsing and fainting in the halls with muffled and mixed laughter and groaning.

"What kind of a week was it? A week like all weeks—filled with those events which alter and illuminate our time . . . only we were there."

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR ..... GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MURRAY WHITE
Feature Editor ..... Tom Morrison
Greek Editor ..... Joe Harvard
Circulation ..... Raymond Humphries
News Staff ..... Lewis Edge, Tom Currie, Robert Perry, DuPont Smith, Jim Barbour, Frank Hendrix, Bill Bramlette
Sports Staff ..... Bruce Barnes, Jerry Chitty, Bill Gillespie, Bill Loebie, Glen Browder
Feature Staff ..... Sanders Read, Notchey Maddox
Business Staff ..... Marshal Jones, John Craig.
Typist ..... Priscilla Blanton

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

Basketball Improving

The Blue Hose basketball team invades the Newberry College campus tomorrow night in hopes of remaining undefeated in Little Four comeptition and bringing their overall record up to the .500 mark.

Moving into their final game before the semester break the Hose take on a strong Newberry team which defeated Georgia Southern earlier this week by the score of 72-70. The Indians were led in this victory by junior forward Joel Deketsch with 31 points and sophomore David Hawk with 18 points. Other names which will be familiar to Blue Hose fans from last season are Crump, Musgrave and Scarry.

Leading the Hose thus far this season has been sophomores forward Andy Karlsons with a 17.7 scoring average for the seven games. Karlsons also leads the team in rebounds with 54 recoveries to his credit.

Two newcomers to the PC squad have also been giving outstanding performances at the forward position. They are freshman Danny Charles with a 12.7 scoring average, and Junior Paul Webb who has been scoring at a 12.8 clip. Webb also has 46 rebounds to his credit while Charles has been hitting at 51% from the floor with 34 baskets in 67 attempts.

Other top scorers for the Blue Hose are freshman guard Bill Tallent with 67 points, Captain and guard Jimmy Rakestraw with 50 points and 6'6" center Jack Williams with 44 points and 41 rebounds. The Blue Hose are hitting their free throws at a 70% clip with 124 of 176 attempts. Karlsons leads the team in percentage with an 84% mark on 36 made out of 43.

SOX PREDICTS

We sure closed the football season out with a bang right before Christmas with our fabulous bowl predictions. I don't know how many of you noticed how well we did but for those of you who didn't, we got seven out of eight right. Pretty good, huh? The only one we missed was the Gotham Bowl in which Utah State let us down. We managed to predict such games as the Penn State romp over the favored Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech and the Texas victory in the Cotton Bowl. We also got the Orange Bowl, Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Blue Bonnet Bowl, and the Liberty Bowl correct. That gives us an 87.5 percentage for these games which is pretty good in anybody's book.

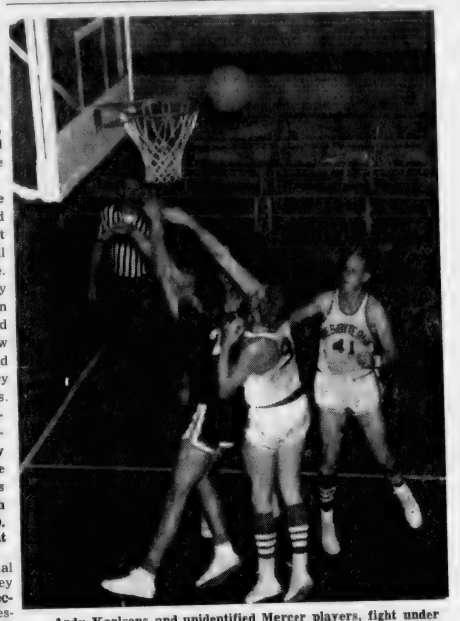
SPORTS NOTEBOOK

Belated congratulations to Jimmy Rakestraw who was chosen Captain of the PC basketball team before the holidays . . . it was good to learn that the tennis program here at PC is to be continued just as it has always been in the past . . . all you Atlanta PC'uns be sure to get out to see our basketball team in action there against Georgia State on January 27 . . . Congratulations to the PiKAs on winning the Intramural pool tournament and to the PiKapps on winning the ping pong tournament . . . Intramural bridge tournament starts soon after the start of next semester . . . Best wishes to new Coach and Athelic Director Clyde Ehrhardt in the coming seasons . . . Congratulations to Coach and Mrs. Musselwhite on the birth of a baby girl over the Christmas holidays.

Hose Basketeers Down Wofford For Home Court, Little Four Win

• Post Third Win

By Bobby Bradford



Presbyterian won its third victory of the still young season last Saturday night by downing arch-rival Wofford, 77-75. The Blue Hose salvaged the victory after trailing at one time by 15 points.

The Teriers, who wound up the game with a 49 per cent field goal accuracy, got off to a fast start and were never headed until the last two minutes of the game. Ronnie Russell and Boyce Berry were the Wofford spark plugs in the first half. But Russell ended te half with four fouls and saw only limited action in the second stanza. Both Russell and Berry finished the game with 26 points.

PC was led by Andy Karlsons, who tied Russell and Berry for top point honors. Danny Charles and Jimmy McGuire also scored in double figures for the Blue Hose, Charles with with 16 and McGuire with 10. The Blue Hose hit 55 per cent from the floor.

The Terriers played their usual confident floor game. But they appeared rattled during the second half as PC put on the pressure. The walls of Leroy Springs Gymnasium echoed as the PC student body encouraged the Blue Hose. The best defense proved to be a good ofense as PC continually scored on fast breaks, forcing mistakes from their opponents. Wofford left for intermission with 47 points, but could only salvage 28 in the second half.

With the score tied 73 all, sub Billy Ray Ladd replaced Karlsons who had left the game on fouls, and Ladd promptly tipped in the two points which assured the victory. Wofford's desperation fouls backfired as PC cashed in from the gift lane.

Andy Karlsons and unidentified Mercer players, fight under the boards for the ole roundball. Jack Williams prepares to move in. —(Photo by Autry)

Thirty-two Hose Gridmen Receive Letters For Play

Thirty-two Presbyterian College gridmen received football letters for their play during the 1961 season, Athletic Director Clyde Ehrhardt announced today.

The awards were made on recommendation of Frank Jones, former head coach and athletic director now headed for Mississippi State.

Exactly one-half of the players named for the citations received letters for the first time. They are: John H. Edwards of Washington, Ga.; Jimmy Elliott of Savannah, Ga.; Sandy Hagood of Easley; Doyle Johnson of Decatur, Ga.; Mike Lay of Winder, Ga.; Kermit Littlefield of Woodruff; Mike Lowrance of Macon, Ga.; and Larry Madden of Laurens.

Also receiving letters for the first time were: Mike Marr of Fayetteville, N. C.; Ronald Morris of Smyrna, Ga.; Randy McCranie of Eastman, Ga.; Dewey McReynolds of St. Paul, Va.; John Riner of Dublin, Ga.; Donny Ross of Augusta, Ga.; Norman Snellgroves of Raeford, N. C.; and Gordon Timmons of Clinton. Eight of these new recipients are freshmen.

Veteran players receiving an additional letter for 1961 play include: Alvin Coley, Randy Fitzpatrick and Bobby Sherrell, all of Atlanta, Ga.; Fred Cook of North Augusta; Sonny DuBose of Sumter; David Harrill of Gaffney; Bobby Joiner of Macon, Ga.; Frank King of Valdosta, Ga.; Paul Love of York; Jimmy May of Greenwood; Joe Nixon of Carrollton, Ga.; Louis Ridinger of Forest Park, Ga.; Bill Tyson of Bainbridge, Ga.; Art Williams of Cairo, Ga.; Jerry Hammock of Moultrie, Ga.; and Ronnie Hampton of Kannapolis, N. C.

Intramural Action Begun; Two Leagues Again Entered

Swish! Basketball filled the air Wednesday night as Sigma Nu and Theta Chi teams opened '62 hard court play. Barbour, Stone, Welch and Taylor each collected 8 points in outclassing the much improved Theta Chi's, 43-25. Max Clyburn's 11 points were high for the losers who may come up with surprise wins this year.

The Pounders, led by Gray and Parker, slipped by the Ramblin' Wrecks, 28-25, in a double overtime win. Bill Woods' 13 points for the Wrecks was high for both teams.

The night's third contest paired the second teams of Pi Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Phi fraternities. Nix and Lokey paced the PiKA team to a close 24-22 win. Davis and Aiken scored 9 and 7 points, respectively, in a losing effort.

Thursday night saw the Confederates squeeze by the Buckshots, 33-32, in another overtime match. Bullard's field goal in the final seconds sewed up the game, but Waldrep's 21 points made him the week's high scorer.

Defending champs, PiKA fraternity, again proved themselves the team to beat with a 42-34 victory over Pi Kappa Phi fraternity. Sharpshooters Alderman, Brown, and Johnston were too much for the hustling PiKapps. McReynolds, PiKapp center, sparkled for the losers and sank 8 field goals.

The 14 competing teams have been divided into two leagues, the Red League composed of the 6 fraternities and the 8-team Blue League. Tentative plans are to play a single round robin in each league with an 8-team (4 and 4) single tournament to decide the SCA point recipient.

Prospects Beam Bright For Blue Racquetmen

The prospects for the coming Spring tennis season look bright for the PC netters according to Coach Gordan Warden.

With the entire team from last year returning it appears that this spring will be a good one for them. The squad is well balanced with about twelve to fourteen members.

The tentative schedule shows home matches with the tennis teams of the University of Georgia, The Citadel, Florida State, Clemson, and Furman as well as two home matches with Harvard.

The Spring trip tentative has matches scheduled with the University of Florida, Florida State, and Rollins as well as matches in Florida with teams from the United States Naval Academy and Amherst who will also be in Florida for their spring trip.

Mercer Bears Bear Down, Down Hose

The Presbyterian College Blue Hose basketball team dropped their first home game to Mercer University last week by the score of 70-68.

During the first half the Blue Hose led most of the way. Just before the half ended the Bears of Mercer scored four quick points to gain a 32-30 advantage at halftime.

For the first part of the third quarter the score remained close until the Hose moved from a man to man defense into a zone. Against this zone defense the Mercer team managed to shake a man loose for a clear shot and built up a 10-point lead. Forward Jim Hearn, their high point man with 22 points was deadly from the corners at this time.

Led by two freshmen, forward Danny Charles and guard Bill Tallent, the Blue Hose closed the gap in the fourth quarter. Charles sank two long field goals in the closing seconds to tie the score at 62-all and send the game into overtime.

Mrecer jumped off to a quick lead on a three-point play by Hearn on the jump. The Hose Could not manage to overcome this advantage as Mercer continued to match PC basket for basket.

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

THE MEN'S SHOP
PC
HEADQUARTERS
Laurens, S. C.

Yarborough
Studio and Camera Shop
Phone 462
Cameras - Film - Processing

The Four Freshmen, nationally known Capitol recording stars, are shown as they appeared in the first Student Council Concert Series before the Christmas break.—(Photo by Yarborough)

Letters

There's Still a Chance

(All letters to the editor must be signed, names will be withheld upon request.)

Dear Editor:

There are two men on this campus who voluntarily shouldered a terrific responsibility in an effort to bring improvement and progress to Presbyterian College in the form of a Popular Concert Series. The response of the student body to their effort was anything but one of gratitude. A mere one hundred and fourteen PC students bought tickets.

Admittedly, there was a large conflict with quarter quizzes and other last minute work before the Christmas holidays began. But there were many more who could have attended. As a result the two men who signed the contract for the concert are now personally in debt to the school for a substatial portion of the deficit.

There is still a chance though, both to prove that such a concert series can succeed here, and to pay off the debt for the last concert. The same men are willing to sponsor another concert in April with the popular Highwaymen—on one condition, which is more than fair to everybody. A down payment of one dollar (refundable, if necessary) toward a ticket to this concert will show that the student is interested, does care about bringing a little class to his school in giving it something that most of our sister schools have, and does have faith in and gratitude toward these two men who are striving to give PC one of those "extras" which adds so much to the enjoyment of college and gives the school a little more prestige.

Let's all support this concert.

Sincerely,
Sanders Read

Blue Key to Support McDu Concert Effort

Bobby Joiner, president of PC's chapter of Blue Key National Honorary Fraternity, announced in chapel this morning that the local chapter would support McDu Enterprises in an effort for another popular concert. The first concert, which featured The Four Freshmen, nationally known singing group, ended with a considerable amount of money owed by McDu to the college.

A tentative date of April 14 has been anounced for an engagement of the Highwaymen, the vocal group which hit the musical field with "Michael."

In making the announcement that the Blue Key would support McDu, Joiner stated that in order to have the proposed concert, it is necessary to raise $500 by next Friday. This will be accomplished by the down payment of $1.00 o na ticket with an over-all price of $2.50. Joiner declared that Blue Key members will be stationed throughout the campus next week to collect the down payment.

In an exclusive interview, Joiner stated that if the $50 is not raised by next Friday, it will demonstrate to Blue Key that the students do not wan tthe proposed concert and are, therefore, not interested in a concert seris.

Space Available For Exam Studies

Miss Marion Burts, Librarian, announced today that the library will be open every night during exams until 11:00. If requested, the library will also be open from 7:00-10:00 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday preceding exams.

Miss Burts also stated that all materials charged out to students must be returned before exams begin.

Mrs. George Taylor similarly stated that the Douglas House would also remain open extra hours during the exam period. Coach Warden will be in charge in this building.

Concert Opinion Poll

Students Want Another . . . Didn't Support the Other

Last Friday, in an effort to determine how students felt toward a student council concert series, the Blue Stocking conducted a student opinion poll among students dining in the chow hall.

Results showed that 326 students cast ballots. Of this number, 310 indicated they were in favor of a concert series sponsored by the student council. There were only 16 who declared they were against such a series.

The question was posed as to whether or not the students felt that PC was too small for such a concert. To this 40 said PC is too small, while 283 said the college was not.

Of the ones polled, 149 said they did attend the Four Freshmen concert and 174 said they did not. Therefore, 54 per cent of this group was not in attendance.

Various questions were then posed and were directed toward those not attending the first concert. In this group, 60 persons stated they had one quiz, while 65 students had more than one quiz. There were 87 who had no quizzes.

One hundred and forty-four of those polled, agreed the date of the Four Freshmen concert was inconvenient. Only 57 said the date was not an inconvenient one.

An attempt was made to judge the $3.50 price of tickets for the first Council concert, and 93 persons said the price was too high, while 109 disagreed with this viewpoint. Those disagreeing said that a more reasonable rate would be $2.00-$2.50.

Sonny DuBose, Student Body President, stated there was a possibility of having a concert on a dance weekend. The student opinion poll also covered this propo-

Dr. Stevenson Named English Three Head

Dr. John W. Stevenson, chairman of the Presbyterian College English Department, is the new head of the English-Three Section of the South Atlantic Modern Languages Association.

He recently was named chairman of this section covering the period of the 18th and 19th centuries. The PC professor stepped up from his position as secretary of the section to direct its activities for the coming year.

Dr. Stevenson has served on the Presbyterian College faculty since 1950, except for one year at Millsaps College. Long active in the work of the South Atlantic Modern Languages Association, he has presented papers before past meetings of this organization.

sition and 171 students declared they were in favor of this idea. There were 132 on the opposing side A final question was included and asked if students had any suggestions for continuance of the concert series. Some students made worthwhile comments, while others stated that they could care less. DuBose, speaking in chapel last Monday, listed many of these suggestions.

Some students favored a more collegiate type of entertainment like Chubby Checker or Ray Charles. Others wanted high class performers like Johnny Mathis; this they wanted for a ticket price of $1.50. There were several who suggested that a small amount be added to the tuition each year and that this amount go for such a concert series.

The poll, over-all, proved what was already known—that student support was definitely lacking

McGEE'S
DRUG STORE
DIAL 833-0020

BROADWAY Theatre

MON.-TUES. JAN. 15-16
Romanoff and Juliet
Peter Ustinov, Sandra Dee, John Gavin, Akim Tamiroff

WED.-THUR.-FRI.-SAT.
January 17-18-19-20
Exodus
Paul Newman, Eva Marie Saint, Peter Lawford, Sal Mineo

Special Children's Program
SATURDAY AFTERNOON ONLY
Bugs Bunny Cartoon Revue

Thirsty?

Try the New

SUN DROP COLA

A True Taste Delight

BOTTLED BY
CANADA DRY BOTTLING CO.
OF CLINTON

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "Rally Round The Flag, Boys", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

IS STUDYING NECESSARY?

Once there were three roommates and their names were Walter Pellucid, Casimir Fing, and LeRoy Holocaust. And they were all taking English lit. and they were all happy, friendly, outgoing types and they all smoked Marlboro Cigarettes as you would expect from such a gregarious trio, for Marlboro is the very essence of sociability, the very spirit of amity, and very soul of concord, with its tobacco so mild and flavorful, its pack so king-size and flip-top, its filter so pure and white, and you will find when you smoke Marlboros that the world is filled with the song of birds and no man's hand is raised against you.

Each night after dinner Walter and Casimir and LeRoy went to their room and studied English lit. For three hours they sat in sombre silence and pored over their books and then, squinty and spent, they toppled onto their pallets and sobbed themselves to sleep.

This joyless situation obtained all through the first semester. Then one night they were all simultaneously struck by a marvelous idea. "We are all studying the same thing," they cried. "Why, then, should each of us study for three hours? Why not each study for one hour? It is true we will only learn one-third as much that way, but it does not matter because there are three of us and next June before the exams, we can get together and pool our knowledge!"

Oh, what rapture then fell on Walter and Casimir and LeRoy!

They flung their beanies into the air and danced a gavotte and lit thirty or forty Marlboros and ran out to pursue the pleasure which had so long, so bitterly, been missing from their lives.

Alas, they found instead a series of grisly misfortunes. Walter, alas, went searching for love and was soon going steady with a coed named Invicta Breadstuff, a handsome lass, but, alas, hopelessly addicted to bowling. Each night she bowled five hundred lines, some nights a thousand. Poor Walter's thumb was a shambles and his purse was empty, but Invicta just kept on bowling and in the end, alas, she left Walter for a pin-setter, which was a terrible thing to do to Walter, especially in this case, because the pin-setter was automatic.

Walter, of course, was far too distraught to study his English lit, but he took some comfort from the fact that his roommates were studying and they would help him before the exams. But Walter, alas, was wrong. His roommates, Casimir and LeRoy, were nature lovers and they used their free time to go for long tramps in the woods and one night, alas, they were treed by two bears, Casimir by a brown bear and LeRoy by a kodiak, and they were kept in the trees until spring set in and the bears went to Yellowstone for the tourist season.

So when the three roommates met before exams to pool their knowledge, they found they had none to pool! Well sir, they had a good long laugh about that and then rushed to the kitchen and stuck their heads in the oven. It was, however, an electric oven and the effects were, on the whole, beneficial. The wax in their ears got melted and they acquired a healthy tan and today they are married to a lovely young heiress named Gangalia Bran and live in the Canal Zone, where there are many nice boats to wave at.

© 1962 Max Shulman

* * *

In case you worry about such things, their wife is a Marlboro smoker, too, which adds to the general merriment. Marlboro is ubiquitous, as well as flavorful, and you can buy them in all 50 states as well as the Canal Zone.

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., February 9, 1962 No. 11

Heyward Nettles, Captain of Scabbard and Blade Military Fraternity, presents a loving cup to Capt. Robert C. Hodges, who leaves PC after a two and one-half year tour of duty.—Photo by Autry.

Capt. Robert C. Hodges Transferred to Viet Nam

It was announced by the Military Department last week that Captain Robert C. Hodges was to be transferred from PC to South Viet Nam. The transfer order, which was effective immediately, did not disclose the nature of the assignment except that he would be with the Military Advisory Group in Viet Nam.

Concurrent with Captain Hodges' transfer was the radio and newspaper announcement that President Kennedy encouraged sending more military personnel to Viet Nam to assist the strengthening of the South Viet Namese Army against the threat of communism.

Speculation by the ROTC Instructor Group as to when a replacement would be available placed the probable date as sometime in June.

Just prior to his two and a half year tour of duty at PC Hodges served in Germany with the 14th Cavalry Division. He was graduated from New Mexico Military Institute in 1950 with a BA in business administration and was commissioned a 2nd Lt. in Armor upon graduation.

The Korean Conflict saw Capt. Hodges serving with the 3rd Infantry Division. His medals include the Purple Heart, Bronze Star and Combat Infantryman's Badge.

He received a letter of commendation this week from College President Marchall W. Brown for outstanding services rendered.

Enrollment Totals 501

Registrar Mrs. Roslyn C. Martin stated today that enrollment for the second semester of the 1961-62 school year has totaled 501. She said that the highest enrollment for a second semester was scored with the 1956-57 term, as 511 were listed on the roster.

Smith Nominated As Sock Editor; Burnett, White Vie For Bus. Mgr.

• Election Set for Wednesday

A single nomination for the top position of editor of the Blue Stocking was the recommendation of the student newspaper staff Wednesday night. DuPont Smith was the candidate nominated. For the post of business manager of the publication, Dick Burnett and Murray White were the nominees.

Student Body confirmation of the nominee for editor, and election for the business manager will come in a student council-managed voting on Wednesday, February 14. The ballot box will be located in the Douglas House as usual, and voting will take place from 9:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m.

Smith, a rising junior from Decatur, Ga., has had newspaper experience as a member of the news staff of the past year's editions. In giving his "campaign statement," Smith stated that he had several objectives which he would strive to fulfill as the new editor. First he said he would maintain the weekly publication, journalistic accuracy and literary quality of the paper.

Another of Smith's aims is to focus attention on news which is of relevance and interest to the student body, while at the same time placing emphasis on topics of general concern. He plans to encourage more student participation in the publication of the paper to make the Blue Stocking more truly a student body newspaper rather than the product of a few. Most important of all, Smith hopes to give the students a newspaper which is truly representative of the college and student body.

Dick Burnett, also hailing from Decatur, Ga., transferred to PC this year from Presbyterian Junior College in Maxton, N. C. He, too, is a rising junior.

Burnett's opponent in the election for Business Manager is Murray White, a rising senior from Fort Mill. White has served with the Sock for almost three years and is the present managing editor.

Wednesday's election will be to fill positions vacated by present editor Graham Edmunds and business manager Leland "4-F" Vaughan. The retiring editor explained today that the paper staff serves as a nominating committee to assure choice of the best qualified candidates.

The Student Council urges all students to vote in the election for business manager and to participate in the confirmation vote for editor. Student Body President Sonny DuBose announced that the candidates will be presented to the student body Monday morning at the chapel hour.

During the interval of editorships next week, Blue Key honorary fraternity will edit and publish the Blue Stocking. President Bobby Joiner will serve as the editor.

Military Ball

Captain Heyward Nettles, commander of Company K, 10th Regiment, of Scabbard and Blade Military Fraternity, issued a reminder today that this year's Military Ball will be held Saturday night, March 10. He stated also that an announcement concerning ticket sales to non-fraternity students would be made at a later date.

Plans have already been completed for the dance and the Barons Combo from Greenville has been contracted to provide the music. Plans are also underway for the decorations, which will be under the direction of Bob Beddingfield.

Dress for the occasion will include Army Greens with white shirt and black tie for military men, and coat and ties for non-military students. Girls will be dressed in evening gowns.

Placement Service Offered to Seniors

Col. A. J. Thackston, Dean of Students and head of PC's placement bureau, announced today that Presbyterian College would again operate the placement service for seniors during the spring semester.

He stated that at the senior class meeting on Monday, February 12, he will explain the entire program to the class. This explanation will include a list of material which is available to seniors. The meeting will be held in the Douglas House Meeting Room during the regular chapel hour.

Many companies have already made contact with PC for this placement program, and others are in the process of making it. Interviews with these companies will be held in the library building on a one-half hour interview basis. Appointments for interviews can be made through Mrs. Watts, secretary to Dean Thackston.

Thackston further announced that a movie entitled "Career Calling" would be shown in the auditorium on Monday and possibly Tuesday of next week.

The first companies to interview PC students will be the J. B. White Co. on February 13, and Ivey's of Greenville on February 14.

Chapel Services

Monday—Mr. Earl Halsall, Assistant Professor of History and Political Science; second in a series of Religious Emphasis Week speakers.

Wednesday—Chapel Worship Service, Rev. Joe Everett, Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Rock Hill.

Friday—Student devotional.

Printed To Fit

The majority of the news in the Blue Stocking is printed to fit.

Sixth In a Series

Choir Presses New Album

Bless The Lord is the title of a new record album being released this month by the Presbyterian College Robed Choir. The choir, which travels throughout the southeast on its concert tours, is for the fifteenth year under the direction of Dr. Edouard Patte.

Tapes were made in December before the Christmas holiday break. Production was under the supervision of Chris Patte, in association with radio station WPCC of Clinton. The numbers were recorded in the William Henry Belk Auditorium and in the First Presbyterian Church of Clinton. Segments of the recording were also reproduced from a live concert performance in the First Presbyterian Church of Johnson City, Tenn. RCA-Victor Custom Record Division pressed the records.

Copyrights have been secured, and the record will be sold at Presbyterian book stores and record shops throughout the southeast. It may be purchased on campus at the canteen.

This sixth edition of choir recordings is the latest in a series which began twelve years ago. Dr. Patte says it is the finest.

As in past recordings and also in the hundreds of presentations under Dr. Patte's direction, the choir sings " a capella." However, to comply with church practice, in this record, two well-known hymns are accompanied, namely "A Mighty Fortress," and "Onward Christian Solders."

The newly built Reuter organ of the Clinton First Presbyterian Church was used for these hymn accompaniments as well as for the first number on the recording, the delicate "Canzona," by Purvis. The organist is David Perry, a sophomore from Raleigh, N. C.

Side one of the new release includes three numbers which are characteristic of Russian Liturgial Music of the Orthodox Church. The first of these, Bless The Lord, O My Soul, by Ippolitov-Ivanov, has been Presbyterian College Choir's radio and TV signature, and is sung in every one of its performances. The other two Russian numbers are Come Thou Holy Sprit and Salvation is Created, by Tchesnokov, and all three typify the illusion of organ accompaniment which characterizes this Russian music.

Other numbers on side one are: Lo How a Rose e'er Blooming, in the German tradition, and Let God Arise in all His Might, from 16th century France. Two Welsh pieces, Immortal, Invisible, and My Shepherd Will Supply, a choral rendering of the Twenty-Third Psalm, are also featured. The side closes with the hymn, A Mighty Fortress.

Side two opens with the hymn Onward Christian Soldiers, and is then followed by several Negro spirituals and folk songs. They include: Let Us Break Bread Together, Rock-a My Soul in de Bosom of Abraham, Wasn't dat a Mighty Day, Balm in Gilead, and the featured number, Take My Mother Home, in which John recalls the words of Jesus on the Cross, entrusting Mary to his beloved disciple.

Gary Millwood, baritone soloist (l.) and Bob Morris, basse soloist, prepare to play one of the new albums recently released by the PC Robed Choir. Millwood sings two solos on the record, while Morris is featured in one. Dan Powers, tenor soloist, was not available for the photo.—Photo by Autry.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Known Dubiously As the Editorial...

There appears in the upper left hand corner of The Blue Stocking's feature page each week that exposition known dubiously as the editorial. By definition the editorial is meant to express the editor's opinions, and to give the readers a common meeting ground outside of their variant individual personalities.

If all this is true, then I have failed to provide the students with many editorials throughout the past year, and this week's column is not an editorial either. It is more an accumulation of the thoughts that are running through the editor's mind as he realizes that this is the last edition.

An editor probably considers from the time that his first edition goes to press what he will say in the last one, when the time for saying it finally arrives. Editors have been almost unanimous in the thoughts expressed about their experiences with The Blue Stocking.

It is a privilege to become editor of The Blue Stocking. Yet as each edition goes to press the editor thinks more and more of that day when the last copy will finally pass through the black rollers. The experiences I have had as editor are some which I will surely never forget, and I wouldn't trade anything in the world for them. I am quite sure the education I have received as editor will be of invaluable assistance to me in future years.

When I took office it was on a campaign promise of returning the paper to its weekly status, striving for an All-American rating and take over in two weeks and his training will really begin as the deadline approaches every Friday afternoon. The paper failed to achieve an All-American rating last semester, but the staff and I sincerely believe there has been a substantial improvement in this semester's editions. Concerning returning the Sock to its weekly status, some disagree as to whether or not this has been done, most, however, in a joking manner. But I would argue the point with anyone.

The editorials have not been too fantastic, and about the only things we can claim even a shread of responsibility for are those ever loving aisle mats, and the fact that the bulletin boards are up to date.

Readers do not realize what a tremendous, agonizing job it is to put out a weekly poop sheet. They are not aware of the long hours put in by a staff in order to get a little four-page edition printed each week. The responsibility of trying to keep the news complete and accurate, of making the deadline and of all the thousand and one details that crop up—these are enough to discourage the strongest individual. Your editor would have long since expired under this load had it not been for the assistance of that group of faihtful individuals known collectively as the staff.

To Managing Editor, Murray White, who managed to keep me awake to as late as 3:00 a. m.; Loren Eagles, Sports Editor, who wrote training new leadership. A new editor will the sports page every week; and to Leland Vaughan, the best business manager the paper has had in recent years—the editor expresses heartfelt thanks for a year of sincere and faithful support. If this newspaper has been worth anything, and we hope it has, then the credit goes to these men.

Others to whom special credit is due include Gerald Pitts, Tom Morrison, Priscilla Blanton, Lewis Edge, Roy Autry, Stewart Johnson, Marshall Jones, the many phantom writers we've had and the English Department. And we would not forget Raymond Humphries, our circulation manager. To these and all the others on the staff, the editor can only express deepest appreciation.

To the list of those to thank the editor would also add Ben Hay Hammet, the college's Director of Public Relations; and all of the fine folks at the Clinton Chronicle—James, Cat, Lang, and Mr. Layton—their patience and assistance to your editor has saved the day on many occasions.

To Percival Crudely, Roger, Evin, and Martin, wherever you are, thanks. I could not have done it without your help.

Next week Blue Key will edit the paper and then a new staff will take over for another year. To them we say best of luck. We've had a great time—hope yours will be the same.

To all this I could only add the words of Shakespeare and say it has been "A tale told by an idiot, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing."

graham b. edmunds

Filter Traps And Other Problems

by Virgil Clairvoyant and Ernest Lee Thinken

Dear Ern,

I have been paying homage to the god of nicotine for some time now and being rather cowardly by nature, I have chosen a filter brand for its obvious clinical benefits.

Finding myself lacking the profoundity, poise, and tattoo for most filter brands, I finally decided on Winston for its 20,000 tiny filter traps. However, the other night, while studying English, I found myself idly counting the filter traps of a recently expired cigarette and I was shocked to find only 19,998 filter traps.

Since that time my life has been one of constant anxiety. After all, if you can't trust your cigarette filter, what can you trust?

Imploringly yours,
Vigil Clairvoyant

Dear Mr. Clairvoyant:

I am making this a formal letter primarily to overwhelm you with the truly grave business involved in your latest problem.

You must learn that there are literally sextillions of frustrations which beset us in life every day. Only a brief meditation on that fact brings to my brilliant mind such sad examples as flat beer, cheatful coke machnies, ect.

No you must not give up all hope because of those two missing filter traps. Not doubting your word, I ask you first of all to recount them and if the same dejecting amount should again loom into this terrible world of deceit and misrepresentation, neither sue nor commit mayhem.

Rather, merely accept the fact that you have been duped and take up some other mouth-consuming habit such as slurping candy life-savers — ejecting them from you mouth every so often and then twirling them around your finger when tension needs to be released. Don't admit utter defeat, Vigil, until you discover one of these without a hole in the middle (referring now not to the fingers, but to the life-savers).

Very helpfully yours,
Ernest Lee Thinken

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Letters

Canteen Closed

(Editor's Note—All letters to the editor must be signed, names will be withheld upon request.)

Dear Editor:

It has been said that one never fully appreciates what he has until it is taken from him. I have never been more fully aware of this fact as I was last night when one Presbyterian College Canteen did not open at 8:00 p. m. In fact, said canteen did not open at all.

With a small amount of research into the matter, it was ascertained that one of the powers was pursuing delights of love at Lander College, while the whereabouts of the other "executive" has not yet been determined.

(Continued on page four)

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE HARVARD, Greek Editor

ΑΔΓΔΕΖΗΘΙΚΛΜΝΞΟΠΡΣΤΥΦΧΨ

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Alpha Sigs look forward to a Valentine Dance on Saturday night, Feb. 10, in the fraternity suite.

Congratulations are extended to recently pinned brothers Tom Blackwell, Charles Cook, and Murray White.

KAPPA ALPHA

Congratulations to the newly elected pledge officers: Ike Cobb, president; Louis Miller, vice-president; John Sheffield, secretary; and John Morrison, treasurer.

The Rose for the coming year is Mrs. Janice Joiner.

Welcomed into the Brotherhood were Bob Morris and Welborn Gregg.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Plans were made for the annual pledge party which will be held Februray 14. The Founder's Day banquet will be February 24, with XI chapter in Columbia.

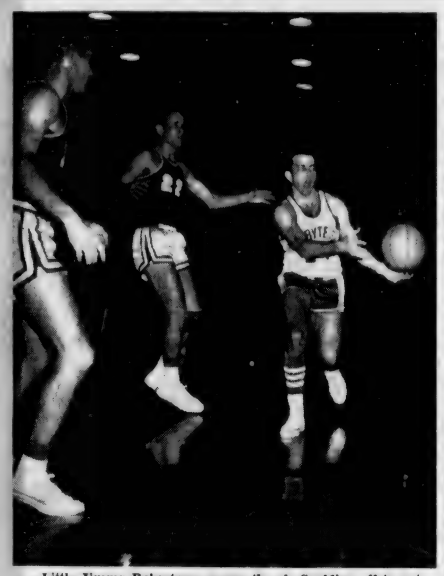
Brothers of the week were Pittard, Butler, Miller and Tom Collins, alumnus.

PI KAPPA PHI

The Pi Kapps held the first meeting of the new semester on Tuesday night, Feb. 6. Among things discussed was a party on Friday night, March 9, preceding Military Ball on March 10. The party will be held at the Shriner's Hut on Lake Greenwood and the music will probably be supplied by "The Pontiacs."

SIGMA NU

Congratulations are extended to Brother Joe Davis on his recent pinning of Miss Pattie Tulley of the University of South Carolina. Extended also are congratulations to Brothers Elrod and Clotfelter and their pledge cohort Garnett Welch.



(Continued on page four)

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR ..... GRAHAM EDMUNDS
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... LELAND VAUGHAN
MANAGING EDITOR ..... MURRAY WHITE

Little Jimmy Rakestraw passes the ole Spalding off to veteran basketeer Pete Yearout, as he drives for the ole hoop.—Photo by Autry.

PC Basketeers Hit Fine Percent For Third Victory on Home Court

The Blue Hose of Presbyterian College broke a three-game losing streak Saturday night by defeating Georgia State by th escore of 97-45. The Hose jumped off to an early lead on some fine shooting and their lead was never threatened.

Georgia State was playing without two of its top players who were in an automobile wreck coming to Clinton. The Georgia State scorers were led by guard Jim Woodall with 18 points. They lacked strength under the backboards as the two missing players were their top rebounders.

The Blue Hose hit 24 of 36 of their shots from the floor in the first half and 17 of 34 in the second half for an over-all percentage of 58.6. Forward Andy Karlsons scored 28 points for PC to lead all scorers. Others hitting in double figures for the Blue Hose were guard Bill Tallent with 14, forward Paul Webb with 13, and guard Jimmy McGuire with 12. Center Jack Williams and Webb dominated the boards for PC.

During the semester break the Hose took an extended road trip into Alabama, stopping in Atlanta for a game with Georgia State on the way down.

In Atlanta the Blue Hose got their only win of the trip, an 83-64 victory. Leading the Hose scorers were Paul Webb with 26 and Danny Charles with 18. The losers were led by Mel Burton, one of the players who missed the game here, with 23, and Jim Woodall with 19.

The Blue Hose ran up against some stiff competition in Alabama and came out the worse for it as far as the record stands. They dropped the first game to Huntington by the score of 94-73. Next Howard defeated the Hose 107-80, and finally the Big Blue lost to Troy State 86-55.

Hose 'Spalding Squad' Drops Two In League Play

The Presbyterian College basketball team lost its chance to finish the season in first place in the Little Four as they dropped their second Little Four game, 90-66, to Erskine. It was the Flying Fleet's fifth consecutive conference victory and clinched the title for them.

With the Blue Hose playing without the services of their 6'6" center Jack Williams, the Fleet controlled the boards throughout most of the game. Erskine had five players hitting in double figures.

The Flying Fleet got off to an early lead and were never seriously threatened by the Hose. The Blue Hose had fallen behind 46-27 by halftime. The Hose managed to cut the lead to 15 a number of times in the second half, but could not come any closer. Midway in the second half the Blue Hose lost the services of center Paul Webb as he fouled out.

The Hose, who got in foul trouble in the second half, were led by forward Andy Karlsons with 22 points and Webb with 14. Forward Joe Harvard led the rebounders, along with Webb and Karlsons, and scored 9 points. Erskine was led by Bob Tuttle with 30 points and had four other players hitting in double figures.

In other Little Four action Tuesday night the Wofford Terriers defeated the Indians of Pembroke, 108-71, and the Newberry Indians lost to the Bears of Lenoir Rhyne, 88-56, in a Carolina's Conference game.

PC-WOFFORD

The Blue Hose basketballers dropped their third Little Four basketball game last night to the Terriers of Wofford College, 72-50. The Hose trailed 37-23 at the half, but managed to close the gap to 7 points at 50-43 with 9 minutes remaining in the game. The Terriers then pulled away from the Hose to the final score.

The Wofford Terriers shot 46% from the floor in taking their second Little Four victory. Freshman guard Lyons led the Wofford scorers with 19 points. Leading the Hose in the scoring column were forward Paul Webb and guard Jimmy McGuire, both with 10 points.

The Blue Hose face a full schedule this week with four games. They have three home games and then they journey to Macon, Ga., to take on Mercer. Early in the week the Hose entertain the Flying Fleet of Erskine College on Monday, and the Belmont Abbey Crusaders on Tuesday night. Then on Friday the Newberry Indians invade Clinton for the Blue Hose final Conference game prior to the Little Four Tournament in Greenville February 20 and 21.

PiKAs, Pounders Undefeated In Intramural Cage Action

The week's intramural play assured four teams of tournament berths, as Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi and the Pounders gained necessary victories.

The undefeated PiKAs, with Moose Brown's 21 points, handily defeated the Alpha Sigs 54-29, and then continued their streak by downing the cold shooting Sigma Nus 40-34.

Other Red League games saw KA make 13 foul shots to beat the winless Sigs 49-43. Dewey McReynolds set a single game high of 27 points, as the Pi Kapps trounced Theta Chi 67-34.

The Blue League leader, the Pounders, became the first in their league to sew up a tourney spot by literally mauling the Confederates 30-19, and downing the Buckshots in a close one 29-27.

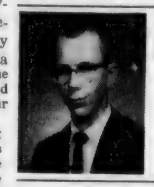
The Tigers, a strong tournament contender, stopped the second team PiKAs 47-38 to remain unbeaten. The same PiKA team won 26-15 over the Wrecks.

Other games saw the Snakes post their first victory—a 25-21 win over the Wrecks. Final action in the league saw the Buckshots down the PiKapp second team 36-15.

Springs Grid Drills Begun Once Again

Spring football practice at Presbyterian College got underway yesterday afternoon under the direction of new Head Coach Clyde Ehrhardt.

Some 50 candidates, including 24 lettermen answered the practice call. They will continue the daily pace of these off-season workouts until mid-March.



Ehrhardt assumed the reins of head coach and athletic director at PC in December after Frank Jones moved over to Mississippi State as an assistant coach. Ehrhardt had served as top assistant under Jones for the past five years at Presbyterian, so the change-over was accomplished with relative ease.

Ehrhardt yesterday saw the largest group of candidates to participate in spring practice in recent years. His main problem at present is on the staff level—through vacancies created by his own promotion and by the recent resignation of End Coach Vic Spooner.

The other assistant football coach, Charles Musselwhite, who also serves as head basketball coach, remains on the athletic staff and will help Ehrhardt with spring practice.

STANDINGS

	W	L
Red League
PiKA	4	0
KA	2	0
PiKapp	2	1
Alpha Sig	0	2
Theta Chi	0	2
Sigs	0	3
Blue League	W	L
Pounders	4	0
Tigers	3	0
PiKa (2)	2	1
Confeds	2	2
Buckshots	2	2
Snakes	1	2
Wrecks	0	3
PiKapp (2)	0	4

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

Coaching Changes

SPOONER LEAVES

Athletic Director Clyde Ehrhardt announced recently that end coach Vic Spooner had accepted a position on the football staff of the University of Wichita.

Coach Spooner will be joining a relatively new coaching staff at Wichita as Marceloni Huerta, the former head coach of the Tampa Spartans, is taking over the head coaching post there. PC students and fans will long remember the kick-off return which Huerta's team ran against the Blue Hose this past season to defeat us 17-16.

Coach Spooner will report to Wichita on February 15 and will immediately begin recruiting for them. He will be the end and defense coach for Wichita and will not have to coach any other sport or teach any classes. He will be able to devote his full time in the off-season to recruiting.

This is a big step up for Coach Spooner as he moves up to a team which had a highly successful season last year as they went to the Sun Bowl where they defeated Villanova. Coach Spooner says that from all reports he expects them to have another good team again next year. He really hates to leave PC as he has had a wonderful and valuable experience during his four years here. This is a big break for Coach Spooner and we want to wish him all of the success in the world in his new position.

REPLACEMENTS

Bob Waters, Presbyterian College's former quarterback now starring with the Professional San Francisco 'Forty-Niners,' has joined the Blue Hose coaching staff as a temporary replacement for assistant Vic Spooner. Waters will assist with spring football practice, helping Coach Musselwhite in the backfield.

He will also take over Coach Spooner's classes and later on in the spring he will coach the Presbyterian track team. Waters was an outstanding student leader while here at PC, compiling an excellent academic record while serving as president of the student body, captain of the football team and on the ROTC battle group staff. It will be good to have Bob back on campus with the athletic department this spring.

Also lending a hand with the coaching this spring will be Bill Hill, the leading ground gainer on last year's football team. He played Pro football in Canada this past fall with the Edmonton Eskimos. He will coach the ends while he attends classes this spring.

Coach Ehrhardt said that he will bring in two new coaches in June as both Hill and Waters will be playing Pro football again this year. He said that attempts are being made to hire at least one PC alumnus.

Dollar Days in Clinton
Thursday - Friday - Saturday

IN THE COLLEGE
BRAND ROUND-UP

PRIZES: 1st Prize—Webcor Stereofonic Console Phonograph.
2nd Prize—Philco (FM) Table Radio.

Who Wins: 1st Prize will be awarded to any group, fraternity, sorority or individual accumulating the highest number of points.

2nd Prize will be awarded to any group, fraternity, sorority or individual accumulating the second highest number of points.

Rules:
1. Contest open to all students.
2. Each empty package submitted on Marlboro, Parliament or Alpine will have a value of 5 points. Each empty package submitted on Philip Morris Regular or Commander will have a value of 10 points.
3. Closing date, time and location where empty packages must be turned in will be indicated in your campus newspaper.
4. Entries will not be accepted after closing time. Empty packages must be submitted in bundles of 50. Separate your 5 and 10 point packages.

Get on the BRANDWAGON ... it's lots of fun!

Marine Recruiter Will Visit Campus

Captain John B. Walker, Jr., Marine Corps officer selection officer for Georgia and South Carolina, is scheduled to visit Presbyterian College Monday and Tuesday, February 12 and 13. While at Presbyterian College he plans to interview those students interested in obtaining a Marine Corps commission. At present, vacancies exist for both ground and aviation training.

Captain Walker stated that several programs are offered by the Marine Corps. The platoon leaders class program is available to freshmen, sophomores and juniors, while seniors may participate in the officer candidate course and the aviation officer candidate course. Marine officer training is arranged so as not to interfere with your college work and all students are required to receive their degree before being assigned to active duty.

While at Presbyterian, Captain Walker and the members of his team will be located at the Douglas House. All interested students may contact him there between 9:0 A. M. and 4:00 P. M.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "Rally Round The Flag, Boys", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

THE MANY LOVES OF THORWALD DOCKSTADER

When Thorwald Dockstader—sophomore, epicure, and sportsman—first took up smoking, he did not simply choose the first brand of cigarettes that came to hand. He did what any sophomore, epicure, and sportsman would do: he sampled several brands until he found the very best—a mild, rich, flavorful smoke—an endless source of comfort and satisfaction—a smoke that never palled, never failed to please—a smoke that age could not wither nor custom stale—a filter cigarette with an unfiltered taste—Marlboro, of course!

Similarly, when Thorwald took up girls, he did not simply select the first one who came along. He sampled. First he dated an English literature major named Elizabeth Barrett Schwartz, a wisp of a girl with large, luminous eyes and a soul that shimmered with a pale, unearthly beauty. Trippingly, trippingly, she walked with Thorwald upon the beach and sat with him behind a windward dune and listened to a conch shell and sighed sweetly and took out a little gold pencil and a little morocco notebook and wrote a little poem:

I will lie upon the shore,
I will be a dreamer,
I will feel the sea once more,
Pounding on my femur.

Thorwald's second date was with a physical education major

He did not simply select the first one who came along...

named Peaches Glendower, a broth of a girl with a ready smile and a size 18 neck. She took Thorwald down to the cinder track where they did 100 laps to open the pores. Then they played four games of squash, six sets of tennis, 36 holes of golf, nine innings of one o'cat, six chukkers of lacrosse, and a mile and a quarter of leapfrog. Then they went ten rounds with eight ounce gloves and had heaping bowls of whey and exchanged a firm handshake and went home to their respective whirlpool baths.

Thorwald's final date was with a golden-haired, creamy-browed, green-eyed, red-lipped, full-calved girl named Totsi Sigafoos. Totsi was not majoring in anything. As she often said, "Gee whillikers, what's college for anyhow—to fill your head full of icky old facts, or to discover the shining essence that is YOU?"

Totsi started the evening with Thorwald at a luxurious restaurant where she consumed her own weight in Cornish rock hen. From there they went to a deluxe movie palace where Totsi had popcorn with butter. Then she had a bag of chocolate covered raisins—also with butter. Then they went to a costly ballroom and did the Twist till dawn, tipping the band every eight bars. Then they went to a Chinese restaurant where Totsi, unable to translate the menu, solved her problem by ordering one of everything. Then Thorwald took her to the women's dorm, boosted her in the window, and went downtown to wait for the employment office to open.

While waiting, Thorwald thought over all of his girls and came to a sensible decision. "I think," he said to himself, "that I will stick with Marlboros. I am not rich enough for girls."

© 1962 Max Shulman

* * *

Marlboro, however, is rich enough for anybody. It takes mighty good makin's to give you unfiltered taste in a filter cigarette. That's the flavor you get in the famous Marlboro recipe from Richmond, Virginia. You get a lot to like.

Halsall is Series Speaker for REW

The Chapel lecture phase of this year's Religious Emphasis Week program will swing into its second stage Monday. Earl B. Halsall, Presbyterian's Assistant Professor of political science, will develop the position of contemporary man from the standpoint of his field.

According to Mr. Halsall, contemporary man, especially contemporacy man in America, is involved in a veritable death struggle. The traditional American freedoms are being challenged by two of the most awesome monster-mutuants of twentieth century civilization.

On the one hand, the grasping hulk of totalitarian communism looms into sight. On the other hand, lightning advance of modern technology demands suitable assimilation by our society.

Solutions must be found to meet these critical threats—if there are any solutions. Mr. Halsall's lecture will attempt to show some of the possible solutions as well as to create an understanding of the threats involved.

Last Monday Dr. John W. Stevenson, Presbyterian College's Professor of English, presented the first of the lectures in the series. Dr. Stevenson poised the question, "What conclusions can we come to about the role and position of contemporary man as seen in the works of a range of modern writers from the existential probings of Albert Camus to the gothic contours of William Faulkner?"

Summer Job Directory Available at Library

A directory which lists summer jobs for college students throughout the United States is now available.

The SUMMER EMPLOYMENT DIRECTORY gives the names and addresses of 1,367 organizations which want to employ college students. It also gives the positions open, salary, and suggestions on how to make application—a sample letter of application and a personal data sheet.

Students wishing summer work make application to the employers listed in the directory. Employers are included at their own request, and they invite applications from college students.

ROTC Assignments Issued; Artillery Choses Ten Cadets

Nine Army branches were represented as this year's list of PC's ROTC seniors and their branch assignments were released recently. Again the three combat branches —Artillery, Infantry and Armor—took the largest number of men, taking ten, five and four men, respectively. The Medical Service Corps was also awarded four of the PC seniors. The Signal Corps was assigned three men, while the Transportation Corps obtained two. One man each was assigned to the Quartermaster Corps, Military Police and Adjutant General Corps.

Those assigned to the various branches are:

Artillery: Bob Beddingfield, Phil Bell, Jim Caddell, Guy Hancock, Bill Matthews, Joe Nixon, Jim Rakestraw, Bob Stevens, Jack Williams, and Bob Wylie.

Infantry: Charlie Cook, Gadsden Frampton, Dick McGaughey, Skip Saverance, and Donald Stewart.

Armor: Byron Hollingsworth, Dicky Carr, Doug Miller, and David Watts.

Medical Service Corps: Billy Ray Ladd, Jimmy Thompson, Gerald Pitts and Heyward Nettles.

The Signal Corps claimed Graham Edmunds, Bland Quantz, and Tom Elliott, while David Waters and Ben Margolius will head for duty with the Transportation Corps.

Of those branches receiving just one man each, the Military Police will gain the valuable assistance of Joe Davis. Jerry Chitty will wash laundry in the Quartermaster Corps and Dick Boland has been assigned to handle administrative matters for the Adjutant General Corps.

Major Joseph Scott stated that he was happy to see so many of the seniors headed for duty with the Artillery.

Southern Lit Festival Offers Writing Contest

The Southern Literary Festival, an organization of member colleges throughout the South, is sponsoring once again its annual awards for student writing in the short story, poetry, essay, and drama.

The meeting this year will be at Converse College and will be held on April 19, 20, 21. Guest speakers for the yearly meeting will be miss Eudora Welty, Mr. Cleanth Brooks, Miss Flannery O'Conner, and Mr. Andrew Lytle.

Dr. John Stevenson, head of the PC English Department, announced that he would accept manuscripts from interested students who wish to participate in the student writing competition. He stated they should be turned into him not later than March 12. A prize of $25 will be offered for the winner of each category. In addition there will be a sweepstakes prize for the winner of the best work by a student regardless of the category.

BE Assoc. to Sponsor Stock Exchange Series

Monday, February 12, the Business and Economics Association will sponsor the first of a series of five lectures on the national and local operations of the New York Stock Exchange. Mr. William McSween, son of a former president of President College and a broker with Harris, Upman & Co., will deliver these lectures which will begin with a tour of his offices in Greenville.

After the otur of the Greenville brokerage office next week Mr McSween will be on our campus for the next four Monday nights to speak at further length on these operations. Knowing that many of the PC students are interested in stocks and the operations of this complicated business, the lectures will be open to anyone who wishes to attend.

Tau Phi Pi Society Features Cosmic Rays

The Tau Phi Pi Science Society will have its first meeting of the semester Monday night at 7:00 in the Douglas House meeting room. The main feature of the program will be a film on cosmic rays.

The Society, which has just recently been reorganized, consists of interested science and math majors who have obtained a "C" average in 12 semester hours of a lab science. Notices have been sent to those students who have achieved the requirements this past semester. Anyone who thinks he has obtained the requirements for membership and has not received a notice is asked to contact John Collins.

All interested students and fac. ult yare cordially invited to attend the showing of the film.

The Greeks . . . Have A Word

(Continued from page two)

THETA CHI

The Brothers and Pledges of Beta Psi returned for the second semester looking forward to making plans to attend the annual Rebel Reunion. This year the regional convention will be held at Auburn University during the early part of April. Plans were also discussed concerning Military Ball Weekend.

Letters

(Continued from page two)

While the purpose of this letter is not to place a hindrance upon ones' life or to pry into the private life of another, it does seem that asking those in such responsible positions to execute their duty is a small and just demand Are we asking too much?

Name withheld by request

Johnson's Men Shop

...for...

Clothes Designed With the College Man in Mind

Howard's Pharmacy

Your Rexall Drug Store

COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE

ON THE SQUARE

BROADWAY Theatre

Monday-Tuesday Feb. 12-13
"THE KING AND I"
With Deborah Kerr,
Yul Brenner, Rita Morena

Wednesday-Thursday Feb. 14-15
"THE SINGER, NOT THE SONG"
With Dirk Bogarde, John Mills,
Mylene Demongeot

Friday-Saturday Feb. 16-17
"THE THREE STOOGES MEET HERCULES"

Annual Blue Key Edition

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., February 16, 1962 No. 12

Each year during the period between editorships of The Blue Stocking, the PC chapter of Blue Key National Honorary Fraternity takes over the publication for one week. This enables the newly elected editor to organize his staff, and at the same time gives the Blue Key a chance to present itself to the Student Body.

Each year students on campus are met with some strange sights, one of which is the informal initiation of the college's more prominent student leaders. They will be wearing signs fore and aft, much in the same manner as freshmen goof-offs, except that the signs will be in the shape of a key. They will be carrying a week-end bag containing gum, candy, cigarettes, and a raw egg with autographs on it.

Then, on a particular afternoon these same men line up on their hands and knees on the plaza and try to win a race by pushing an egg across the campus with their nose.

So, if you happen to see some boys dressed up in such regalia don't get excited and think they're "nuts or all shook up over something," for, if you will note, they are being initiated into the Blue Key National Honor Fraternity. This is a way of calling the Student Body's attention to one fact that they have been selected by their fellow students as outstanding.

This year the Blue Key is celebrating its thirtieth anniversary on the Presbyterian College campus. Blue Key was established here on March 29, 1932.

The work and purpose of the Blue Key Fraternity is not all as jocular as the initiation ceremonies may make it appear. Behind Blue Key is a serious and worthy purpose. The fraternity was established to foster leadership in various students in the colleges and universities throughout the country. Among its purposes are to promote high ideals, faith in God, intellectual achievement, and service to one's fellowmen.

The Blue Key of Presbyterian College strives for better relations between colleges with which we have inter-collegiate contact. Annually delegations are welcomed from Wofford and Newberry Colleges for a chapel program, with the intention of bettering relations before football games. PC's chapter sends a delegation to their schools for the same purpose.

Blue Key officers congratulate new Key members after latest tapping ceremonies.

Newly elected editor of The Blue Stocking, DuPont Smith, cheerfully accepts his position from outgoing editor, Graham Edmunds (l.), and managing editor, Murray White (r.)—Photo by Autry.

DuPont Smith Is New Sock Editor; White Named Business Manager

• Take Office Next Week

DuPont Smith of Decatur, Ga., and Murray White of Fort Mill, have been elected to the offices of Editor and Business Manager of The Blue Stocking, respectively.

In the election on Wednesday, Smith was unopposed as a candidate for editor, it was thought; however, after the balloting, it was discovered that there was an obvious write-in choice.

White's opponent in the campaign for business manager was Dick Burnett, a rising junior, also of Decatur. Both of the newly elected men won out over their opponents by nearly a three to one margin.

Smith, a rising junior, had experience with his newspaper in high school. As a member of the paper staff there, he was also a member of the Writer's Club. After coming to PC, he joined the staff of The Blue Stocking where he has been a news staff member for the past two years.

White, a rising senior, has been a member of the Sock staff for the past three years. He began his journalistic experience as a news staff member. After serving in this capacity for a while, he was named News Editor. This past year, he has served the publication as its Managing Editor.

The newly elected leaders of the paper will assume the helm with next week's edition. It is at that time also that they will name their respective staffs. Smith and White replace Graham Edmunds and Leland "I-Y" Vaughan as editor and business manager, respectively.

Semester's Dean's List Attained By Fifty - Two

Academic Dean George C. Bellingrath announced today that fifty-two students have been named to Presbyterian College's Dean's List for the first semester of the 1961-62 session.

Five All-A students were included on the list and were: Marion B. Boozer, Janet Emolyn Maddox, Robert P. Piephoff, Linda C. Traynham, and Ann M. Lee.

Those making a 3.75 average or better include Byron H. Brown, James T. Hughes, Mary Ann Kirkland, John M. Marr, Robert F. Phifer, William W. Skinner, and Dixie G. Sullivan.

Achieving between 3.50 and 3.75 were William C. Carmichael, David H. Cromer, Thomas W. Currie, Fleda K. Earle, Rebecca C. Earnest, John W. Elrod, Clara B. Fussell, and Jean L. Gettys.

Also obtaining over 3.5 were James W. Harris, William F. Holderman, Benjamin F. Jones, Wesley W. Lawton, Richard N. McFadden, Harry H. Nettles, William Oliver, John E. Settle, Olive M. Warden, and David L. Waters. All those who made better than the 3.5 mark will receive unlimited cuts for the second semester.

Those students earning between 3.2 and 3.5 include Richard L. Boland, Sarah Anne Copeland, Graham B. Edmunds, Thomas L. Elliott, Thomas A. Griffin, Jane J. Hammet, Joseph S. Harvard, Thomas E. Hearon, III, Patricia E. Hunt, and Charles M. Jordan.

Also achieving the same mark were Henry Knox, William D. Loeble, Martha Ann Monroe, Leon T. Nobles, Jr., Orion R. Perrell, David L. Perry, George L. Powell, Albert B. Pruitt, James R. Thompson, and Bertrand A. Weinberg.

Presbyterian Choir Heads for Atlanta

The Presbyterian College Robed Choir pulls out tomorrow for an extended weekend tour to the Atlanta area. Arriving in Atlanta Saturday afternoon, they will present a morning concert at the Peachtree Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

That afternoon the choir will travel to Marietta, Ga., where they will have the evening worship service at the First Presbyterian Church there.

Monday morning the choir will return to Atlanta and will be featured on the WSB-TV show, "Today in Georgia." After singing for about ten minutes on the show, Dr. Patte, conductor of the group, will then be interviewed by Miss Ruth Kent.

Monday afternoon the choir will head for Decatur, where they will sing in concert that night at the Columbia Drive Presbyterian Church, which is adjacent to Columbia Theological Seminary. They will return to the campus late Monday night.

Senior Placement

Seniors should contact Mrs. Watts, secretary to the Dean of Students, in teh administration building, for appointments for job placement interviews.

February 19—Internal Revenue Service.

February 21—Burlington Industries.

February 22—J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc.

Chapel Services

Monday — Dr. Newton B. Jones, Professor of History; Third in a series of Religious Emphasis Week speakers.

Wednesday—Chapel Worship Service; Dr. Neely McCarter, Columbia Theological Seminary.

Friday—Student Devotiinal.

DR. JOHN W. STEVENSON

Dr. John Stevenson Is Blue Key Adviser

Dr. John Weamer Stevenson, Professor of English, serves as faculty advisor for the Blue Key Honorary Fraternity. In this capacity, he has shown undying interest in student problems and has been a tremendous asset to Blue Key. He supervises the work of the fraternity and gives valuable professional advice.

Dr. "Steve," as he is affectionately known by students, was made an honorary member of Blue Key in 196. Honorary membership in Blue Key may only be held by men who have shown unselfish devotion to the interests of the institution aside from their official capacities or regular duties.

Dr. Stevenson is an alumnus of Wofford College where he received the BA degree. He received his MA and Ph.D degrees from Vanderbilt University.

He devotes much of his time to the school in his capacity of chairman of the faculty committee on graduate study.

THE BLUE KEY PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

Blue Key Means Service

In my past three and one-half years at Presbyterian College, there have been many students harboring petty complaints and gripes about different phases of the college and of college life in general. Instead of submitting their complaints to the proper person or organization on campus, so that action could be taken to rectify these shortcomings, the dissatisfied students will continue to gripe and complain.

Because of this it is my opinion that the students of Presbyterian do not realize the position the Blue Key has. The Blue Key is an agency of liaison between the students and administration.

We served the college in various ways during the past semester. For example, the Blue Key played a major role in the organization and functioning of Parent's Day, registration, the sportsmanship exchange programs with Wofford and Newberry, and other beneficial activities. As one can plainly see, these objectives were, for the most part, fulfilled by direct requests from the administration.

We as Blue Key members realize that we have a tremendous responsibliity in promoting intellectual attainment and serving the best interests and progress of the college. However, in order to accomplish this, we must be recognized as the coordinating group between the administration and the students.

If you are a "Dissatisfied Student," we ask you to submit your complaints and suggestions to the Blue Key so that we can study them, propose a solution, and submit them to the administration.

We as students of Presbyterian must realize our responsibility to the college. The college belongs to us and we must voice our opinions on matters concerning both our welfare and that of the college. The future and success of PC rests squarely upon our shoulders.

Bobby Joiner,
President, Blue Key

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

JOE DAVIS, Greek Editor

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Alpha Sigs have planned a party for Saturday, Feb. 24, in the fraternity room. Plans are also underway for the beach party at Ocean Drive.

Congratulations to newly initiated brothers Loren Eagles, Hal Jordan, Carter Redd and Sam Rochester.

Many thanks to Hal Jordan's deadbeat downbeats for last Saturday night's entertainment.

KAPPA ALPHA

KA's and their dates enjoyed their annual "Wild West" this month. Plans are being made for festivities for Military Ball. Congratulations to the Grey Ghosts who are undefeated.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The Valentine pledge party was a great success Wednesday night.

A house is being sought for the beach party to be held on June first. Brothers of the week are Pittard and Cook.

PI KAPPA PHI

Military Ball preparations have been made and everyone is looking forward to it. Plans for Greek weekend and a pledge party have also been completed.

Congratulations to Dewey McReynolds for breaking his own record of 27 points. The basketball team has been doing well, but unfortunately we lost one of our best players when Bernard West twisted his ankle. We hope he gets well soon.

SIGMA NU

The fraternity held its weekly meeting. Plans for parties the 17th and 24th were set and the date for White Star has been set for April 6th and 7th. Final plans for Military Ball were discussed.

THETA CHI

The brothers and pledges of Beta Psi chapter are completing plans for Military Ball weekend. The Rebel Reunion, to be held at Auburn University later in the semester, was also discussed.

At the pledge meeting ideas for a pledge project were discussed and work is now being done on getting the project started.

A Look at ROTC

Hawaii to Africa

By Sanders Read

Why he had selected a college with only Army ROTC, he didn't know. But he had, and the Army had made him miserable. The Navy had always been his pick of the Armed Services, and from the first day in MS 101, he had intended to transfer his commission upon graduation to the Navy

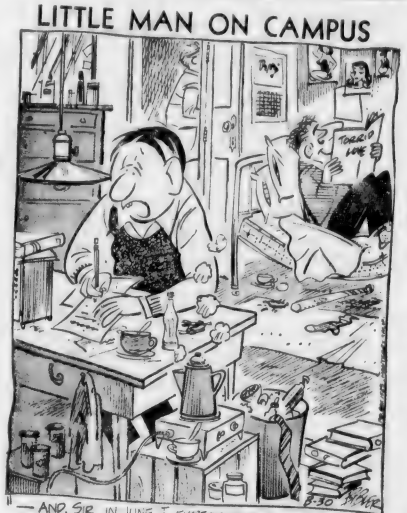
As he sat thinking about this now, he put his elbows on the desk and cupped his chin in his hands. His thoughts drifted away . . .

He was at Pearl Harbor. After a big Saturday night ashore, he was still sleeping soundly in his cabin aboard the USS ARIZONA. Suddenly, he found himself in the midst of what seemed to be hell itself. He managed to pull on a pair of shoes and his pants, and why, he didn't know, but he picked up an Army helmet he had won in a poker game the night before.

As he stepped on deck, he looked up in time to see a bomber zeroed in on his ship. He ducked, and a moment later, the ARIZONA was hit again! Something slammed into the side of his helmet, stunning him. When he came to, he took off the helmet and saw a nasty dent right above ear level. "I take back everything I ever said about the Army!" he mumbled, and put the helmet back on.

He managed to reach his gunnery station, as if through a nightmare. Most of the crew were also there. The dented Army helmet caused some wonder, but this was no place for gawking, and the crew quickly put its minds and bodies to work manning the gun. He kept his crew firing until the compartment was flooded and they had downed at least two Jap planes.

When the nightmare of the initial attack was over, he was fortunate enough not only to be alive, but to be among the first to be picked up from the water which all but covered his once proud ship. He gave the ARIZONA a respectful tip of his hat—and realized he was still wearing his Army helmet! He vowed never to part with the life-saving friend.



As the war went into weeks and months, he was in much action. He was chief gunnery officer on the proud HELENA, the "fightin'est ship in the Navy," when she went down. But he was unable to tip his helmet to her, for his old Army buddy had gone down with the HELENA.

Not long afterward, he found himself halfway across the world, serving with the South Atlantic Fleet. A short shore leave came to him while his ship was anchored at an African port, and he took this opportunity to visit a primitive native village a short distance back in the jungle. There, he witnessed a primitive tribal dance. The dancers rolled their eyes, waved their hands wildly . . .

"MR. FLORIO!" roared a stern military voice. As if in a reflex action, he sprang to his feet and snapped out, "Cadet Florio, Sir!"

"Ten demerits for sleeping in class!" snapped back the Army major.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

— AND, SIR, IN JUNE I EXPECT TO BE GRA.....G-R-A HEY, ED, HOW DO YOU SPELL GRADUATED?!

Founded 1925

Blue Key Boasts Colorful Past

In 1924, the University of Florida was bracing itself for the annual Dad's Day and Homecoming, which was expected to exceed in attendance all former gatherings at the school.

Dr. A. A. Murphie, then president of the University, called on Major B. C. Riley to correlate and coordinate all the plans for the entertainment of guests on the campus.

Major Riley, in turn, selected twenty-five outstanding leaders who held places of prominence in the student body. The Dad's Day program went off well, as was expected.

Afterwards, they decided to meet regularly and discuss other ways of improving student life. The progress and results obtained by the group were amazing. With the idea of cooperation with other schools, Riley passed the idea along, and in 1925 phenomenal growth of the Blue Key began.

Blue Key has been active at Presbyterian College since 1932. In 1931, President Marshall W. Brown, then Dean, along with Colonel R. E. Wysor, Jr., PMS&T, and C. W. Grafton, English professor, established an honorary fraternity on the campus called the Archons.

The Archons joined another honorary society and received a charter from Blue Key in 1932.

Blue Key Stresses Leadership, Service

Forty thousand student leaders since 1924, have been honored by Blue Key with the privilege of union for organized effort so that in American colleges and universities belief in God will be perpetated and intensified; the United States government will be supported and defended; established institutions of society and the principles of good citizenship will be preserved.

Through the inspiration of Blue Key, intellectual attainment and a desire to serve their college and fellows are fostered among students; student problems are studied and student life is enriched; an institution's progress and best interests are stimulated and promoted.

Blue Key is a general honor fraternity for outstanding students with potential for development into active citizens, com-

(Continued on page 4)

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR BOBBY JOINER
News Editor John Elrod
Sports Editor Leland Vaughan
Feature Editor Sanders Read
Greek Editor Joe Davis
Sports Staff Bob Stevens, Sonny DuBose
Lawsuits Jimmy Thompson
Staff Doctor Heyward Nettles
Contracts Dick McGaughey
Golf Advisor Frank Sells
Office Boy Graham Edmunds

LELAND VAUGHAN, Sports Editor

Spring Sports

"It's time for spring sports again." What a welcome thought to all sports enthusiasts. As this time of the year rolls around, the PC coaching staff, who have witnessed a rather dismal season in both football and basketball, will be trying vigorously to come up with a winning combination in baseball, golf, track and tennis.

The baseball team, who will be trying to better a 6-11 record, will face a 15-game schedule this year. Coach Charles Musselwhite, who will be head "hauncho" on the diamond, will only have 6 lettermen returning this season.

* * * * * * * * *

The tennis team in their first season under Coach Warden, will attempt to regain the state championship after losing it to The Citadel last year. It was a real heartbreaker for the netmen to lose the championship after winning it for 21 straight seasons, but with all members of the team returning, we feel sure the boys will have much to boast of after this season is over.

* * * * * * * * *

Coach Warden will also be head mentor of the golf team this year. The linksters, who were much improved last year, face a tough schedule but should prove to be a top contender in the state finals.

* * * * * * * * *

Bob Waters, former star quarterback of the Blue Hose, has returned to Clinton to temporarily fill the coaching position left vacant by Vic Spooner. Spooner recently accepted an assistant coaching position at Wichita of the Missouri Valley Conference. Waters will coach the track team this season and will seek to improve their 4-3 record posted last year. Waters, who recently finished his second successful season with the San Francisco 49ers, seems in fine condition presently, after a serious mid-season injury to his knee.

NOTES OF INTEREST

The Blue Key has four members who participated in athletics. President Bobby Joiner was the star quarterback of the Hose for the past two seasons and was recently drafted by the Green Bay Packers.

Sonny DuBose lettered three years in football from his tackle position and was named to the All-State First Team this season. DuBose was also recently chosen Little All-American by his fraternity publication, Delta.

Frank Sells, another of the sports-minded Keymen, is a standout on the golf team, and "yours truly" has been seen on occasions participating in "hard-ball" on Young Field.

* * * * * * * * *

Perfect formula for upsetting a football player during spring practice . . . all you have to do is simply mention one of the following during a nice, quiet meal . . . 'Bull in the ring; one on one; or two on one scrimmages," and if you really want to get serious just casually toss across the idea of windsprints. It has been stated by a certain football player (Name withheld by request) that a combination of the above almost made him want to forget Winstons, women and Charlie's. Hang in there boys.

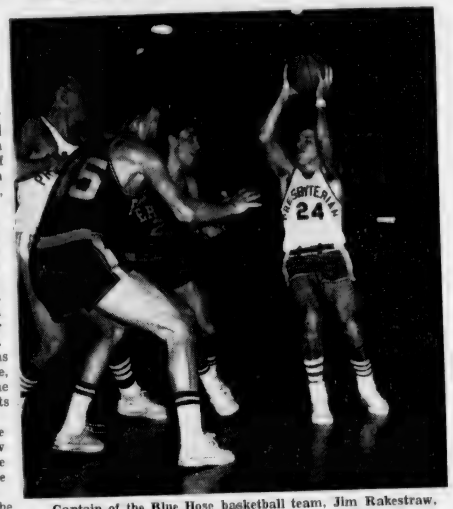
Little Four Play Slated Tuesday; Greenville Court Site of Action

• Finals Underway

by Sonny DuBose

The Little Four Tournament begins next Tuesday and will bring another not-so-bright season to an end for the Blue Hose of Presbyterian College. This has been a year of fewer victories than defeats and a year marred by sprained ankles, bad knees, and bursted lips.

Despite these facts, the Blue Hose have been very exciting to watch on the home court. The Hose are the leading offensive team in the Little Four, but the failure to develop a sound defense has placed them at the bottom of the Little Four standings on won-lost records.



PC's well balanced offense has averaged 79.8 points per game, but the defense has allowed the opponents to average 76.8 points per game.

Leading the Blues on offense are Andy Karlsons of New York City with a game average of 14.9 and Paul Webb of Olive Hill, Ky., close behind at 14.4.

There are eight men on the squad who are averaging over six points per game. Two freshmen stars, Danny Charles of Spartanburg and Bill Tallent of Langley, Ky., have been very effective for the Hose, Charles hitting with a 7.5 game average and Tallent with an 8.3.

Others averaging over six points per game are guard Jim Rakestraw, Atlanta, 7.6; guard Jim McGuire, Washington, D. C., 7.7; forward Joe Harvard, Columbia, 6.2; and center Jack Williams, Sumter, 6.1 points per game.

The Blue Hose have been a hard fighting team so far this year, but unless they can develop a sound defense within the week, we will all have a Blue weekend for the Little Four Tournament.

Captain of the Blue Hose basketball team, Jim Rakestraw, fakes a shot in court action against the Erskine Flying Fleet. An overtime period was necessary to decide the contest which ended in a close victory for the Fleet.—Photo by Autry.

Blue League Action

Tigers Defeat Pounders; Remain Unbeaten In Play

The Tigers became the only undefeated Blue League team in this week's intramural action by downing the second place Pounders, 34-28. Culpepper and Firor paced the winners' attack with 12 and 8 points, respectively, while Roberts' 9 points was high for the losers.

Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity clinched at least a third place in the Red League, as they downed the winless Alpha Sigs, 59-32. Pi Kapp center, Dewey McReynolds, tallied 29 points to set the season's single game high. Teammate Larry Poppell collected 14 points for the cause. Mainstays for the losers were Piephoff, Layton and Smith.

A 28-26 win over the Wrecks kept alive Confederate hopes of a tournament berth. Displaying a well balanced offense, the Confeds jumped to an early lead and managed to outlast the winless Wrecks. Harold Ridgon of the Wrecks was the game's high scorer with 14 points.

The Snakes slithered past the Pi Kappa Phi second team to take their second win of the season. Clowdis and Elrod, Snake stalwarts, gathered 10 and 7 points, respectively.

The Kappa Alpha vs Theta Chi game was postponed.

INTRAMURAL STANDINGS

Red League	W	L
PiKA	4	0
KA	2	0
PiKapp	3	1
Sigs	1	3
Alpha Sig	0	3
Theta Chi	0	3

Blue League	W	L
Tigers	4	0
Pounders	4	1
PiKA (2)	2	1
Confeds	3	2
Snakes	2	2
Buckshots	2	2
Wrecks	0	4
PiKapp (2)	0	5

Basketmen Drop Two at Home Face Newberry Here Tonight

By Bob Stevens

Erskine's "Flying Fleet" completed an undefeated Little Four basketball season here Monday night by downing the Blue Hose in an overtime game, 68-65.

The Blue Hose guard and team captain Jim Rakestraw was fouled with a 1 and 1 opportunity with just 2 seconds remaining in the regular game. Jim sank both charity shots to make a new game and send it into overtime.

Erskine's Mike Jordan and rangy center Hogan Hancock both scored field goals to win for the "Fleet" in the extra period.

The victory left Erskine 6-0 for the season in the Little Four and 19-4 over-all with just two games to go in the regular season.

The Blue Hose are now in a last place loop tie with Newberry at 1-4. The two teams will meet tonight to settle it.

ABBEY-PC

The Hosemen got off to a resounding start Tuesday night to take a substantial early game lead over the Abbey team.

This, however, was short lived as the superior height advantage of Belmont Abbey enabled them to soon crush this lead and go on to shatter the Blue Hose, 64-40.

At one point the Blue Hose led 11-4, but the Crusaders soon tied it up and scored 12 while the PCuns could only get one through the hoop.

Abbey led, 30-22, at halftime. Forward Joe McDermott and Jim Lytle, Belmont guard, shared high scoring honors for the event with 14 each.

Forward Andy Karlsons and guard Jim McGuire led the loser with seven points each.

The Blue Hose take on the Newberry Indians here tonight in their final Little Four encounter. A previous meeting with the Indians resulted in a Blue Hose defeat.

(Continued on page 4)

Ehrhardt Announces 1962 Grid Schedule

Presbyterian College's 1962 football team will meet ten opponents, including three of the Southern Conference, according to the schedule announced recently by Athletic Director Clyde Ehrhardt.

In returning the Citadel to the PC slate after a year's absence, Ehrhardt resumes one of the school's oldest gridiron rivalries. This team, Furman and Davidson compose the three Southern Conference foes.

The ten-game schedule, which includes four home games and six on the road, will open at Furman on September 15 and close with the annual Thanksgiving encounter against Newberry in Clin-

(Continued on page 4)

Some Blue Key Athletes

BOBBY JOINER

SONNY DuBOSE

J. C. THOMAS
JEWELER
"It's Time That Counts"

BROADWAY Theatre
Mon.-Tues. Feb. 19-20
The Underwater City
With William Lundigan and Julie Adams
Wed. - Thur. - Fri. - Sat. Feb. 21-24
Blue Hawaii
With Elvis Presley, Joan Blackman, Angela Lansbury

Howard's Pharmacy
Your Rexall Drug Store
COMPLETE DRUG AND FOUNTAIN SERVICE
ON THE SQUARE

With the old Blue Sock staff going out of office they seem to be led to learn and participate in other activities.—Photo by Autry.

Clinton Campaign Underway; Robert Vance Chosen Head

A goal of $300,000 as the Clinton area's share of Presbyterian College's forthcoming $1,800,000 capital funds campaign was suggested Tuesday at the initial planning session for the local drive.

Robert M. Vance, Clinton banker and industrialist who is chairman of the PC board of trustees, will serve as general chairman of the Clinton campaign. His co-chairman in this effort is Tom Addison, local business leader and Presbyterian alumnus.

Vance presided over the meeting, at which preparations were launched to form a city-wide soliciting organization. He pointed out that all residents will be urged to contribute to the program, regardless of religious affiliation, because of what Presbyterian College means to the business, spiritual and cultural life of the entire community.

The special gifts section will be under George Cornelson and Chairman Edward Ferguson, and is scheduled to meet this week to fill its ranks, and later in the week the general solicitations section will assemble under Rembert Truluck and Robert Hamer to continue preparations. Other leaders will be announced later as the organization develops.

After a period of information and planning, special gifts solicitations will be held here in early March. A large rally of Clinton citizens, set for mid-March, will serve as the kickoff for general solicitations throughout the area. The local campaign is expected to end the latter part of March.

As Clinton moves forward with its plans to precede all other areas in campaigning for the PC cause, preparations continue on a state-wide basis. Meetings of ministers and lay leaders continue to be held throughout the synod and enthusiasm mounts for the program designed to secure $1,800,000 for Presbyterian College before next June. The specific objectives are a women's dormitory, new science building, new dining hall and additional endowment.

Blue Key Stresses Leadership, Service

(Continued from page 2)

munity leaders and loyal, informed alumni.

The fraternity recognizes upperclassmen from every division of an institution for their meritorious campus performance and public relations.

Ultimately, the Fraternity's ideals and purposes are more fully realized as the student body, through its members in Blue Key, serves as co-planner and works with the faculty and alumni on those major objectives essential to institutional progress, wholesome student-faculty interaction, and the general academic and social welfare. Its plan of operations is approved by the college administration.

Because Blue Key is a leadership fraternity seeking the co-operation of everyone on the faculty and in the student body, it differs from the general pattern for honor societies. It has no secret work and is not a Greek letter fraternity; it is free of the sponsorship of or affiliation with any other organization.

PC Receives Gifts From Esso and Gulf

Presbyterian College has received gifts of $2,000 from the Esso Educational Foundation and $226 from the Gulf Oil Corporation, President Marshall W. Brown announced today.

He said the funds were undesignated, to be used in the current operations of the college. The contributions came as part of a national program of aid to higher education conducted annually by these two large organizations. PC has received several earlier donations from both of these sources.

Football Schedule

(Continued from page 3)

ton. Eight of the opponents are the same as last year, with Citadel replacing Catawba and Troy State of Alabama replacing Elon to round out the formidable slate.

Presbyterian's 1962 football opponents include:

September 15 — Furman at Greenville; 22—Lenoir Rhyne at Clinton; 29—the Citadel at Charleston; October 6—Davidson at Clinton; 20—Tampa at Tampa; 27—Wofford at Spartanburg; November 3—Chattanooga at Clinton; 10—Appalachian at Boone, N. C.; 17—Tryo State at Troy, Ala.; and 22—Newberry at Clinton.

McGEE'S
DRUG STORE
DIAL 833-0020

10,000 Words Worth

Staff Undertakes Large Task

Murray White, newly elected Business Manager of The Blue Stocking, comes into office backed up by experience in journalism as well as other extra-curricular activities.

A junior social studies major from Fort Mill, White has served as a news writer and later as news editor of the Sock. During the past year, he held the position of Managing Editor.

White is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity and has served this group as corresponding secretary and is presently a member of the group's Prudential Committee.

The new business manager will join hands with DuPont Smith, newly elected editor, and their staffs, to publish The Blue Stocking each week. Getting the paper to the students each Friday is a complex task, involving many hours of work that few readers appreciate.

The business manager has to solicit ads, draw them up and make sure they are put into type. He is responsible for all of the book work, distribution of the paper on the campus, keeping the mailing list up to date and preparing the papers for mailing each week.

The editor supervises a news staff and sports staff who must turn out, by conservative estimate, 10,000 words each week. He spends—also by conservative estimate—at least twenty hours a week getting pictures taken, arranging for engravings, writing editorials, editing news stories, writing headlines and doing layout.

And his worries are not over after long hours of work with his staff on Wednesday and Thursday nights. Friday afternoons are spent at The Chronicle, helping put the type in the forms, proof-reading, getting it on the press and watching the clock as supper time draws near.

Then it is Saturday and time for planning for the next issue.

Jones Is Series Speaker for REW

The third in a series of six lectures of man's contemporary position will be given by Dr. Newton Jones on Monday, February 17, in chapel. Dr. Jones will concentrate in two areas in his lecture.

Initially he will discuss present day problems in foreign policy, particularly the underdeveloped nations in the light of our past foreign policy. Foreign economic and military aid with respect to what has been achieved and what remains to be achieved will also be stressed.

He will emphasize in the second part of his lecture the domestic situation with particular emphasis on the variety in our tradition and the applicability of states rights to present day domestic affairs.

Printed copies of Dr. Jones' and Mr. Halsall's lectures will be available the first part of next week.

Another good reason for Confidence in a growing America

Time was—and not so long ago, either—when industry made little if any conscious plans for improving and developing its output. But during the past 30 years all that has changed. Most of it has happened since World War II, though its roots go back to the industrial revolution, which took burdens off the back of men and gave them to machines.

Today, industrial leaders realize the vital importance of research and development. They recognize the need for regular, systematic investment in minds and methods wholly concerned with the future.

We still have ups and downs, plateaus and "breathing spells." But the people in the "think factories" go right on inventing and improving. And the more new ways they discover, the more they find they can accomplish. Each new advance reveals many other promising possibilities.

Now it's time to accelerate again—to start up and go ahead. It's our cue to take full advantage of the opportunities they have prepared for us, which will keep us growing ever more abundantly through the years ahead.

FREE—Write for illustrated booklet, "The Promise of America." Box 350, New York 18, N.Y.

GET READY FOR AN UPSWING!

MORE PRODUCTION—U.S. production doubles every 20 years. Our annual output is due to rise $300 billion by 1971!

MORE INCOME—Today's $6500 per family represents an all-time high!

MORE SAVINGS—Now at the highest level ever—$375 billion!

MORE JOBS—There are 15 million more jobs than in 1939—will be 26 million more by 1975!

MORE EDUCATION—By 1970 we'll have 20 million more high school graduates than today, and 3 million more college graduates. They'll earn more, live better.

MORE LEISURE—40 million Americans get paid vacations, and there are 16 million people over 65, many of them with retirement income to spend!

MORE MARKETS—U.S. exports, plus output of U.S.-owned plants overseas, already account for over $50 billion in sales!

MORE NEEDS—Schools, hospitals, highways, homes—we need billions in improvements right now!

Sponsored By

Sunshine Cleaners and Laundry

SHOE REPAIR - SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY AND DRY CLEANING

Dr. James Gray Passes Unexpectedly

The Blue Stocking

Distinguished for Its Progress

Vol. XL Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., February 23, 1962 No. 13

Students crowd Douglas House TV Lounge to watch Col. John Glenn's shot into orbit last Tuesday.—(Photo by Autry)

Four Selected As Heads For Synod Fund Campaign

Four outstanding Presbyterian leaders will head the financial campaign to raise $1,800,000 for Presbyterian College in the months ahead, President Marshall W. Brown announced today.

They are:

Dr. John McSween of Clinton, retired pastor and former PC president, who will serve as honorary chairman of the satte-wide drive;

Dr. Marc Weersing, pastor of the Spartanburg First Presbyterian Church and member of the PC board of trustees, who is minister chairman for South Carolina;

Robert M. Vance, Clinton banker-industrialist and PC trustee chairman, layman leader for the state;

And Mrs. Rex Josey of Manning, prominent in the women's work of South Carolina and the Presbyterian General Assembly, who is heading the women's division.

With this drive, Presbyterian College begins the second phase of its long-range $10,500,000 development program designed to expand facilities, increase endowment and provide a women's campus. The immediate campaign for $1,800,000 in South Carolina seeks funds for these objectives: $500,000 for a new science hall, $300,000 for PC's first women's dormitory, $300,000 for a new dining hall and $700,000 for additional endowment.

Dr. McSween, honorary chairman of the campaign, served as president of Presbyterian College from 1928 to 1935. One of the most popular ministers of the Southern Presbyterian Church, his former pastorates include the Anderson Central Church, Chester's Purity Church, and the Greenville Fourth Church.

Dr. Weersing has been pastor of the strong Spartanburg First Presbyterian Church since 1956. He came to this pulpit from the Central Church of Jackson, Miss., and has established himself among the leaders of this synod and of the Presbyterian General Assembly. Dr. Weersing has been a trustee of Presbyterian College for the past five years.

Vance, in accepting the lay chairman's role for South Carolina, extends his PC activities which already include heading the board of trustees for the fifth straight year and directing the local Clinton effort in this drive. He is president of M. S. Bailey and Son, Bankers, and president of Clinton-Lydia Cotton Mills.

Mrs. Josey, long-time leader among South Carolina Presbyterian women, is now chairman of the Board of Women's Work for Genreal Assembly. She has served on this board for a number of yeas and was formerly president of the South Carolina Synodical.

Chapel Services

Monday—Dr. Edouard Patte, Professor of Sociology; Fourth in a series of Religious Emphasis Week speakers.

Wednesday—Rev. James E. Graham, Second Presbyterian Church, Charleston.

Friday—Student Devotional.

Grade System Change Proposed By Council

Two proposed grading systems were presented to the student body by the Student Council at chapel last Friday. President Sonny DuBose explained that the proposed systems would give an almost numerical grade point ratio.

According to Sonny, "These systems are not proposed to be a radical channge or to necessarily become a change at present, but to start the student body to thinking about the present and to evaluate the present and the proposed system." He also added, "I have talked to several faculty members and some have valid reasons for opposing any change."

The proposed system based on the 5.0 point ratio would allow a student with a 79 average to receive a 2.9, while a student with a 71 would receive a 2.1 ratio. Under the present system, both would have received a 2.0.

PROPOSED 5.0 SYSTEM

Grade Points	Grade
5.0	100
4.9	99
4.0	90
3.9	89
3.0	80
2.9	79
2.0	70
1.9	69

Under the proposed system based on the 4.0 ratio, a student with a 79 would receive a 2.5 while the student with a 71 would receive a flat 2.0.

PROPOSED 4.0 SYSTEM

Grade Points	Grade
90-100	4.0
85- 89	3.5
80- 84	3.0
75- 79	2.5
70- 74	2.0
65- 69	1.5
60- 64	1.0
0- 69	0.0

Although the Student Council presented the proposed changes, only the Faculty Academic Committee can make any change in theg rading system. On this subject DuBose said, "The Academic Committee will hear both sides and will try to decide for the good of the College." Continuing, he said, "I urge each and every member of the student body to have this same faith and respect for decisions of the committee whatever it may be."

It should be pointed out that any change made now in the grading system will apply only to students entering as freshmen in 1963 and thereafter.

Top Staff Positions Announced By Editor

Seven top members of the editorial staff of the 1962 Blue Stocking have been announced this week by newly-elected editor, DuPont Smith.

The seven, who will serve for this semester and first semester of next year, are as follows: Marshall Jones and Christine Wilson, Associate Editors; Wirt Skinner, News Editor; Richard McFadden, Feature Editor; Loren Eagles, Sports Editor; and Bill Bryan, Greek Editor.

Serving on the Sock's news staff will be Jim Barbour, Arthur Baxter, Bill Bramiette, Tom Currie, Dick Dillingham, Lewis Edge, Elizabeth Glover, Lewis Hay, Mike McKenzie, Robert Perry, Bob Phifer, and Jimmy Simpson.

Writing feature articles will be Ken Aiken, Leon Bullard, Ed Kidd, Notchy Maddox, Tom Morrison, David Perry, Sanders Read, and Jan Rhodes.

The sports staff will include Ed Clowdis, Bennie Crabtree, Harold Hope, Gene Goodwyn, and Bill Loeble.

Business Manager, Murray White, has named Dick Burnett as Assistant Manager, and Stewart Johnson and Don Warlick to the Business staff.

Typists will be Priscilla Blanton and Perry Finney.

Opinion Poll

Students Favor Council Proposals

The Blue Stocking associate editors recently conducted a student opinion poll to determine student response and attitudes concerning recent proposed revisions of the grading system by the Student Council.

A total of two hundred thirty-one students participated in the poll. Of this number, one hundred eighty-four, or eighty per cent, favored one or the other of the student council proposals, while forty-three students, or eighteen per cent, favored the present grading system. Four students voted for some other system.

The first proposal, for "a system which would, for example, give 2.1 QP's for a 71 average, 2.2 for a 72 average, 3.7 for an 87 average, and would follow a simliar pattern on up to 5 QP's for a 100 average," drew one hundred and forty-two votes, or sixty-one per cent of all those polled.

The second proposed system, "Which would give 4 QP's for an 'A,' 3.5 for a 'B plus,' 3.0 for a 'B,' 2.5 for a 'C plus,' 2.0 for a 'C,' 1.5 for a 'D plus,' 1.0 for a 'D,' and none for an 'F' drew forty-two votes, or eighteen per cent of the total.

One student, who favored another system, stated that he would advocate plus and minus grades as well as the straight letter. A "B," for example, would give three quality points per hour, while a "B plus" would give a little more credit than a "B" and a "B minus" a little less.

Reasons cited by those who favored revision of the grading system were numerous. There were two which appeared frequently, however.

One was that "some fairer system is needed than the present one which gives a student with an 89 the same credit as one with an 80." This opinion was expressed in other words by fifty of those polled.

Another less common reason cited was that "The proposed grading systems would raise people's grades." The validity of this statement was disputed by some other students.

The chief conclusion from the poll is that the vast majority of students would favor a more precise grading system with more grade categories.

Funeral Held Today

Professor James Somerville Gray suffered a fatal heart attack at eleven o'clock on Wednesday, Feb. 21. He was stricken at his home while preparing for class.

He had suffered an earlier heart attack which kept him from teaching for several months about a year ago, but it was thought that he was well recovered and he began teaching again this fall.

A Phi Beta Kappa associate professor of Philosophy at PC, he possessed one of the most versatile minds on the faculty.

Gray received his BA from Davidson College, and his BD, STM, and MA from Union Theological Seminary. Though he did not hold a Doctors degree, he was respectfully known by students as "Dr. Gray."

Gray came to Presbyterian College in 1943 during the challenging period when the college provided its facilities for the preliminary training of pilots in the U .S. Air Force. He had assisted in Physics at Davidson earlier and helped instruct the cadets in this supject during the emergency.

DR. JAMES S. GRAY

Prior to joing the PC faculty, Gray had served as pastor of the Oakland Avenue Presbyterian Church of Montgomery, Ala. (1939-43). He had also taught four years at Presbyterian Junior College (1935-39) and filled the pulpit of the Lydia Robson Memorial Presbyterian Church of Charleston, W. Va, from 1931 to 1935. He had continued to maintain his personal interests by serving as stated supply of Old Duncan's Creek Presbyterian Church near Clinton.

Since Gray's arrival on our campus, he had taught French, German, History of Music, Mathematics, Philosophy, Psychology, Public Speaking, and Sociology. He was probably PC's most versatile professor, and his loss will be felt greatly.

The probing nature of his mind was shown by the fact that while "Taking it easy" after his heart attack last year, he procured a Russian grammar book and endeavored to learn the language.

A native of Richmond, Va., he was married to the former Miss Laura Emma Shirkley of Charleston, W. Va. They have two daughters, one of whom, Julia, is a student at PC.

His closest friend, Dr. Neil G. Whitelaw, professor of physics, wrote several comments in remembrance of Gray which appear in the editorial column of the Blue Stocking.

Senior Placement

Seniors should contact Mrs. Watts, secretary to the Dean of Students, in the administration building, for appointments for job placement interviews.

March 1—Citizens and Southern National Bank, Atlanta.

THE BLUE STOCKING PRESENTS

Editorials : Features : Humor

New Grading System?

There has been discussion during the past week concerning the Student Council's proposed grading system revisions. The Blue Stocking student opinion poll showed that most students favored these proposals.

Students cited two reasons for favoring the revisions, one quite vaid and the other questionable. The first was that more grade categories are needed in order to give a truer picture of a student's achievement. The questionable reason was that either of the proposed systems would raise a student's grade.

A look at the systems reveals that a student's grade point ratio would in many cases be raised considerably, whereas it could not be lowered if reinterpreted under either system. But while a student's ratio might be higher, the quality of work which he is doing cannot be altered no matter what grading system is used, and his relative class standing would not be changed.

Therefore, if either grading system were adopted, the ratios required to graduate, make the Dean's List, and stay in school would have to be raised accordingly.

Even though there is valid reason to question the accuracy of the present four point system, we should remember that it takes time, effort, and good cause to revise a grading system. Such a revision could probably not be effected before the fall semester of 1963, and even then would probably go into effect with an entering freshman class. The reason that neither of the proposed systems could affect a student presently enrolled in the college is that the Registrar's Office would have to revise all his previous grades to conform to the new system, and in the present files, a student's average, or even whether a "C" was high or low is not listed.

The present seniors can give testimony to the complexities of changing from one system to another since in some cases they still don't know whether they will graduate in June or whether they flunked out two semesters ago.

Nevertheless, a new system could and should be adopted if it is superior to the present one. The problems of such a changeover would be great, but not insurmountable.

Whether or not PC does in the near future adopt either system, they represent the effort of an active Student Council to deal with the problems and meet the demands of a progressive college with a changing student body.

A Firm Friend

Dr. Neill G. Whitelaw, professor of physics at PC, made the following statement in remembrance of Professor James Gray, his best friend, who died of a heart attack Wednesday.

"In 1943 the college was badly in need of a capable man to help us teach physics to the Army Air Corps cadets then stationed at Presbyterian College. Professor Gray came to us at that time. He left a young church at Montgomery, Ala., to come.

"He has been a friend to me over the intervening years. His mind was a world of information. His manner was unfailingly modest and self-depreciating. He inspired quality in thinking and performance whenever he came in contact with students, faculty, or civic and church groups.

"He has left a permanent imprint upon the intellectual life at Presbyterian College. How can we fail to be grateful that we knew him and were privileged to be his friends?"

Neill G. Whitelaw

The Blue Stocking

Published weekly during the school year by the student body of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Clinton, S. C.

EDITOR ..... DUPONT SMITH
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... MURRAY WHITE
Associate Editors ..... Marshall Jones, Christine Wilson
News Editor ..... Wirt Skinner
Sports Editor ..... Loren Eagles
Feature Editor ..... Richard McFadden
Greek Editor ..... Bill Bryan

Marksmen of the Green Modern Army

By Rootin Tootin

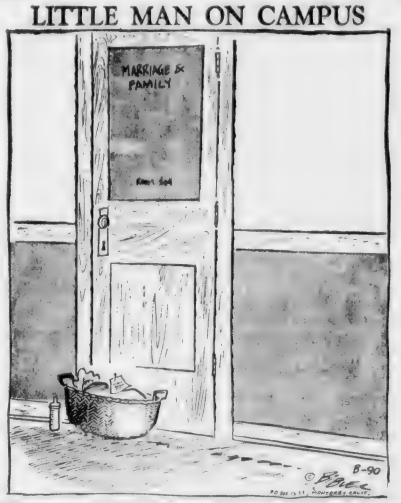
The Presbyterian College Rifle Team, as an efficient component of your Green Modern Army, has introduced several powerful innovations (gimmicks) to supplement the incredible skill of its keen-eyed members.

Before disclosing these amazing conceptions, the Plebians should be informed that a rifle match demands extraordinary powers of self-control. The firer must be completely relaxed—for the slightest tension will drop a score ten to twenty points. Most "riflemen" develop the ability to wall out every disturbance while firing.

Believing that there is always room for improvement though, your PC team has obligingly designed their new creations so as to give their opponents several little sidelights to practice walling-out while they're trying to fire.

The first stratagem centers in the tradition of serving the visiting team members coffee before the match. Special cups have been developed which dissolve within fifteen seconds after being filled with hot coffee. It is believed that scalding either of an opponent's hands will somewhat hamper his efficiency.

The rest of the treatment is administered during the match itself.



Feeling that the opponents should have more fun shooting at a moving target, the football team plans to have calisthenics on match days in the gymnasium directly over the rifle range. Seasickness tablets will be issued to squeamish firers. Hand rails have also been installed in case anyone wants to get out.

In the last five minutes of the match, when the pressure is really on, the clock will discreetly fall off the wall, at least as discreetly as a ten pound clock usually falls.

Our team, of course, will be sufficiently fortified to wall out their new innovations. The fortification material is pretty strong, too. Last week one of the members stayed walled-out for about forty-eight hours.

In conclusion, we salute the team for its new efforts and anxiously worry about the results. Take care boys, we once read somewhere that armed maniacs are considered to be dangerous.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Prophetic Visions of Pagan's Progress

"Mother of Miseries," I said to myself as I lay in bed with the Asiatic blues. "Fever in the morning, fever all through the night."

My roomo mixed me a "Terpin Hydrate on the Rocks," which I drank while crunching some of Miss Bob's delicious capsuled aspirins. Soon I was asleep and in the midst of a feverish nightmare, or maybe is was a prophetic vision.

In this dream I lay in a hospital bed, suffering. I had been plagued by attendants so much that whenever someone knocked on my door, I shouted in delirium, "Friend or Enema?"

Meanwhile, back in the dream, I was having my sheets changed by a beautiful nurse who had recently shafted me. As she pulled the sheets out from under me and stood them up against the wall, she flipped me out of the bed onto the floor accidentally.

The impact caused concussions, relapses, ruptures, and a whole bunch of ther medical terms. She wiped my blood off her hands and as I lay dying, she bawled hideously. I smiled heroically, and coolly said," You have ended my life. Go, I forgive you." Then I groaned, laughted morbidly, and expired.

After death I rode down a long narrow highway on a crowded army bus. Along the road were signs, "Jesus saved," "The wages of sin was Death," and "Eternity here!" Then there was a road marker reading, "Fort Benning one mile ahead, Hell 1½ miles ahead." Hell was across the River Styx from Benning, but actually they were incorporated. Anyhow, we went to Hell.

As we drew nearer we saw billboards along the highway reading, "Go to Hades, located in the foothills of the beautiful Appalachian Mountains," and "For the Finest in liberal sins training, attend Hades." We followed a "One Way" sign and entered.

On the left was the Administration Building, where a bald headed man stood on the steps and smiled ridiculously. Further along the divided highway that led through the institution was the Science Hole, and Spencer Inferno. At the end of a long strip (Ruth's?) of grass was Nausea Hall, with several other buildings located around it. REPENT-!!

The GREEKS

. . . Have A Word

BILL BRYAN, Greek Editor

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The Alpha Sigs will have an informal party Saturday night in the fraternity room.

We wish a speedy recovery to brother Sam Rochester who is presently in the Greenville General hospital.

KAPPA ALPHA

KA's are now making plans for the Combo Party to be held Friday night of Military Ball Weekend.

Congratulations were extended to the Grey Ghosts and Confederates—wishing both teams luck in the tournament.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The annual Founders Day Banquet will be celebrated this Saturday night in Columbia.

Final plans have been made for Military Ball.

Brothers of the week: Howell, Cook, and Russell.

Pi KAPPA PHI

Pi Kapp's from North and South Carolina will journey to Raleigh this weekend for one of the biggest weekends of the year. Several brothers from the local chapter plan to attend and are looking forward to a grand time.

SIGMA NU

Final plans were made at the last meeting for the party to be held this weekend at the house.

Various committees made reports on White Star which will be held later in the year.

Plans for Military Ball were discussed.

THETA CHI

Beta Psi Chapter of Theta Chi is looking forward to Military Ball. Plans are being made for a successful weekend with a party at Lake Greenwood on Friday night and a party after the ball on Saturday night.

LOREN EAGLES, Sports Editor

Intramurals

As the Intramural basketball season enters its final week I have a few observations I would like to make. Everyone will agree I am sure that there has been an added attraction in the independent league this year in the "Pounders." I will not comment on their methods of play, their style, or their smoothness as a team, since I am sure that everyone has already drawn their own conclusions on this.

They play hard and they play to win, but they definitely have a good time while they play. The versatility of some of their players, who are capable of playing both football and basketball, often it seems at the same time, is quite unique.

They have also gone to the trouble and expense (?) to obtain uniforms for most of their players. Also I am sure that everyone has noticed the dignified coach (?) who attends all of their games dressed in a coat and tie. He reminds one of the well dressed Frank McGuire formerly coach of UNC Tar Heels, doesn't he? Hats off to the Pounders and to the other independent teams of our intramurals.

